Northcott Calls Relatives as His Defense Witnesses
 RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 26. (AP)—Gordon Stewart Northcott scribbled notes in his jail cell here today as he struggled to break down the evidence the state has put against him in his trial for the slaying of Lewis and Nelson Winslow, brothers, and an unidentified Mexican boy.

Jessie Clark, Northcott's niece, and sister of Sanford Clark, who testified as an eye-witness to the slayings of the Winslow boys, and Cyrus Northcott, father of the accused, were among those subpoenaed by Young Northcott. Mrs. Sarah Louisa Northcott, mother of the defendant, now serving a life sentence for the murder of Walter Collins, for which Northcott also was indicted, will be another defense witness.

AGGIE FROSH WIN COLLEGE STATION. Jan. 26. (AP)—Coach Higginbotham's Aggie freshmen swept their series with the Temple high school basketball team by winning today's game, 39 to 27.

Plain 'Rithmetic Enabled Captain to Effect Rescues

NEW YORK, Jan. 26. (AP)—To mathematics—old-fashioned mathematics—the crew of the Italian steamer, Florida, owe their lives. Capt. George Fried said today as he brought them up the bay on the liner, America.
 His instruments and books having been washed away, Capt. Giuseppe Favoloro of the Florida was unable to give Captain Fried his position, but he did put on the wireless his "altitude," an observation as to how high in the sky the sun had gone at a given hour. From this information, Captain Fried was able to figure out where he was.
 "I worked out from that," Captain Fried said, "and I figured that I should be alongside the Florida at 6 p. m. Wednesday. We arrived at 6:04."

Houston Maintains Building Lead

DALLAS, Jan. 26. (AP)—Houston, which has led all cities of Texas in weekly building permits issued almost without a lapse for more than a year, kept in the van by amassing a total of $482,550 in permits the last six days.
 Following is a compilation of the state's principal cities:

Houston	$482,550	$1,663,125

Airplane Crash Victims Buried

FORT WORTH, Jan. 26. (AP)—Funeral services for all three victims of an airplane crash Thursday at San Angelo were held here today.
 Last rites for W. E. Shtyler, 32, theatre manager and World war veteran were held this morning at First Presbyterian church. Burial was in a local cemetery.
 Services for Al Henley, 33, pilot, were held at a funeral home. The body was taken to Waco for interment. Henley was an enlisted man in the army air service until 1925.

Moody Must Have Capable Leaders Soon

AUSTIN, Jan. 26. (AP)—Success to be attained by the 41st legislature, now three weeks old, depends almost wholly on administration leadership in the two houses.
 So far the sessions have not produced any leadership for Governor Moody's legislative program, is given up to be, by all law-makers, as one of the most ambitious ever laid out by a chief executive.

When the highway financing, prison centralization and reorganization, civil service and other subjects of legislation recommended by the governor in his messages get to the senate and house, it is obvious the governor must have capable floor leaders, else a slip in the form of an amendment might defeat his purposes.

Claude Teer, veteran member of the house from Williamson county, recognized as the governor's spokesman in the fortieth legislature, is not in the body now, having been placed on the board of control by appointment of his friend, Senator A. E. Wood, also of Williamson county, represented the governor on the floor of the upper house, but he has been succeeded by Senator John W. Hornsby of Austin.

It is probable that the session will develop capable leaders for the governor, and that his interests will be properly served, but so far many of the legislators have commented on the absence of administration guardians.

The legislature plainly is friendly to the governor and many members of each house gladly would espouse his cause in the legislative program he has enunciated and it may be he is biding his time in making selections.

JUDGE FEELS COLD DISMISSES COURT

DALLAS, Jan. 26. (AP)—If the poet Frost was so moved at the sight of a chilly bird that he burst into song with the query: "and what will Poor Robin do to keep warm?" had seen District Judge Charles A. Phippen yesterday he might have written an epic. Yesterday was cold.

New SUPERIOR Whippet
 with "FINGER-TIP CONTROL"

Greater Beauty, Larger Bodies Made it the hit of the New York Show

The longer bodies of the Superior Whippet, the low lines, distinctive colors, higher radiator and hood, heavier one-piece full crown fenders, are bringing to Four and light Six buyers an entirely new conception of how beautiful an inexpensive car can be.
 Mechanically, too, the new Superior Whippet is far advanced—faster, livelier, more powerful than ever. It is the lowest-priced car to offer such important features as the new "Finger-Tip Control," silent timing chain and full force-feed lubrication. And it carries on Whippet's unsurpassed reputation for operating economy and minimum service costs.

 Roomier interiors, broader seats, longer front and rear springs, snubbers and over-size balloon tires bring you the riding comfort of costlier cars.
 Be sure to see the new Superior Whippet at your first opportunity! An immediate order will aid in obtaining early delivery.

A single button conveniently located in the center of the steering wheel, controls all functions of starting the motor, operating the lights and sounding the horn.

Why Not Go to CHURCH?

If a person believes that the world needs the Church, he has but one clear, unmistakable and unanswerable way of stating his position. That is by regular church attendance. The man who goes to Church stands as for an indispensable institution, even as a good citizen stands for the state by voting.

Thoughtful persons stand for the Church, because the Church stands for the best things. The Church-goer lines up with the forces which make for righteousness. He is on the side of the people who want to live the noblest lives themselves, and who are trying to help this needy world to do the same.

The most efficient agency of human service on earth is the Christian Church. The Churchman is a sharer in all the world-wide beneficence of the organization.

They who would make their lives count should be counted among those upon whom the Church may Count.

You will find a HEARTY WELCOME and a WONDERFUL FELLOWSHIP at any of the Churches of the City.

The Pampa Harvesters basketball team, under the guidance of Coach Odus Mitchell, has had a successful season to date. The team has met some of the best high school quintets in the Panhandle and has had only five reverses in 17 encounters, including the game with Miami here Friday night.

With green material to work with, Coach Mitchell has done wonders with the boys who are playing their first year in an inside gymnasium. James and Kahl have been developed into fast-stepping, accurate-shooting forwards. Captain Troy Stalls has yet to meet his equal at the center position and Saulsbury and Walstad on defense have developed rapidly. Robinson, Lard, Cash and Thorn are the substitute forwards and English, Ayres and Willis are the defense substitutes.

The Harvesters have scored 420 points in their 17 games against 359 points scored by the opposing teams.

Team scores this season including the game Friday night:

Harvesters scalped the rivals last night in their revenge game, 27 to 16, in the gymnasium. With James Stalls at the helm, the team had nothing to fear from the opposition. The local flash scored 27 points. Stalls scored 16 points with the exception of a shot by Walstad.

A sensational Harvester forward, the toss-in from a Miami player, scored baskets. Three times stole the ball from a dribbler. He was all over the court, his accurate passes to Troy Stalls accounted for the remainder of the Harvesters' points.

Points were evenly divided between the two teams and Kivelehen showing the range in points scored. The defense was not the best and the Harvesters forwards took through single-handed efforts did the best officiating in the local floor this season.

Friday night the Harvesters will play the fast Shamrock Irishmen here. Home boys are smarting from a 47-to-12 defeat in the small rock gymnasium last week, and are out for revenge.

SPORTS FORUM

Sporting Editor, Pampa Daily News.

Dear Sir:

I am working every day on a well near LeFors and haven't had time to get to Pampa to see you, but I have learned of the wrestling war that has turned up there and want to get in on it.

Please let the people of Pampa know that I am always ready to wrestle men like Oscar Dotson and Red McKee any time and place. I don't believe that the winner of the proposed Dotson-McKee battle will wrestle me. If he will I am raring to go. I am ready to place in your hands any part of $500 that I can throw the winner.

Here is hoping that you can get them together soon and that the winner will meet me.

Yours for clean and honest sport,
LEO CHASE, Pampa.

The match has already been made and Dotson and McKee will do battle in the Pia-Mor auditorium the night of February 7. Get in condition for your battle, as I believe the winner will accept your challenge.

Refining Company Changes Hands

CORSICANA, Jan. 26. (AP)—The Central Texas Refining company, Brownwood, has acquired holdings of the Kent-Middleton Refining company, and capital stock of the concern has been increased to $1,250,000. C. A. Middleton, president and general manager of the Central Texas announced today.

Middleton and associates last week acquired G. C. Kent's interest in the company for a consideration of about $500,000.

General offices of the company will be kept in Corsicana, Middleton said, with district offices at Brownwood.

Federal Officers Will Search for Missing Reporter

LAREDO, Jan. 26. (AP)—Federal authorization for all immigration and border patrol officers to join in the search for Harry Williams, Laredo newspaper man who disappeared a week ago, tonight inaugurated one of the biggest man hunts in South Texas history.

Approximately 350 men, schooled in the ways of the border from Yuma, Arizona, to Brownsville, Texas, were affected by the order from Robe Car White, first assistant secretary of labor under whose jurisdiction the border patrol operates.

These skilled operatives will combine their efforts with those of peace officers in an effort to find the 24-year-old reporter who vanished overnight. An appeal to Secretary White was decided on only after all other means had proved unavailing. Circumstances bearing a description of the missing youth were sent over the country two days ago.

"Wings," Great War Epic, Will Be Seen Today

The greatest compliment ever given to a motion picture company by the war department has been bestowed upon Paramount for its war epic of the air, "WINGS," which will have its first premiere at the Crescent theatre today.

A memorial to cost $100,000 and dedicated to the famous Second Division will be erected in Washington. Because of their accuracy, still pictures from the photoplay are to be used as models in constructing the huge memorial.

CHARLES (BUDDY) ROGERS-CLARA BOW IN THE PARAMOUNT PICTURE "WINGS"

Paramount constructed an exact duplicate of a sector of St. Mihiel in order to obtain the spectacular battle shots which climax "Wings" and these that they asked permission of Jesse L. Lasky to model from the stills.

"Wings" was directed by William Wellman, who was a flier in the famous Lafayette Escadrille. John Monk Saunders, an instructor in aviation during the war, wrote the story. The cast includes Clara Bow, Charles (Buddy) Rogers, Richard Arlen, Jobyna Ralston, Gary Cooper, Arlette Marshall, H. B. Walthall, Hedda Hopper, Claire McDowell, El Brendel and Gunboat Smith.

PIRATES TO RETURN The Jazz Pirates will return to the Rex theatre tomorrow for another four-day engagement. Complete changes of all the programs will be made daily.

The Mahavier Sisters promise some new acts more clever than ever. Toby Nevius, master of ceremonies, will introduce new specialties at every performance.

Alice White in "Naughty Baby" is the feature picture on the screen today. Tomorrow will be "Anybody Here Seen Kelly."

Montana Man Helped to Return To Home Country

Destitute, all his friends in Billings, Montana, and unable to get work, a 65-year-old man applied to the Pampa Welfare association for aid yesterday morning. After hearing the old man's story Mrs. Downs, welfare nurse, gave him money for food and shelter while he "caught rides" to his old home.

Hearing that the Texas Panhandle was a cattle country, the old man sold what he had in Montana and started for Texas, but to his dismay he found the Panhandle the land of oil and wheat and very few ranches where cattle were raised. His money gone and no work in sight, he found a friend in the Pampa Welfare association, and today is on his way to Montana, where he says friends will care for him.

Markets

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (P)—Grain values ran up against a stone wall of profit-taking sales today. Consequent recoils from fresh returns in price went to well below yesterday's finish. Nevertheless, increased general inclination was shown to give attention to reports showing likelihood of serious damage to domestic winter wheat. Incidentally, corn today established a new all-around high price record for the season.

Closing quotations on wheat were weak, 1c to 1 1/2c net lower, with corn 1c to 1 1/2c @ 1 5/8c down, oats 1-4 @ 2-8c off, and provisions varying from 7c decline to a rise of 2c.

In the face of the fact that wheat prices are at nearly the season's best level so far, the market today displayed an early tendency to climb. Nebraska and Kansas weather and crop advances were the chief incentives to buy. Nebraska reports telling of high winds and extreme cold, with much of the ground entirely bare of snow.

On the other hand, messages from such important Kansas points as Salina and Hutchinson asserted belief that there is no more than usual damage being done to winter wheat.

Comment that the Chicago wheat market has become the highest in the world received a good deal of attention today toward the last. It was pointed out also that export demand today for wheat from North America was slow, and that total United States exports of wheat so far this season are about 55,000,000 bushels less than last year, with domestic visible supplies to 130,000,000 bushels, compared to 75,000,000 bushels a year ago.

KANSAS LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 26. (P)—(U.S.D. A.)—The week's trade in hogs was about the most erratic that has been experienced since war times. Sharply higher prices prevailed during the early part of the week with several markets reporting $10.00 and above on choice grades, and the extreme top reaching $10.30 at St. Louis. On later days a decidedly weaker undertone was in evidence and most of the advance was erased and final prices were generally 10@25c over a week ago. The late top rested at $9.60 at St. Louis. Total arrivals were 670,500 against 793,728 last week and 794,329 a year ago.

Fat lambs prices held on a strong basis throughout the week and some late trades at Chicago were quoted 10 @ 15c higher than a week ago. On Friday some choice, closely sorted lambs brought $17.45 for the week's top. Mature classes were relatively scarce and closing levels are strong to 25c higher. Aggregate receipts were 260,950 as compared with 299,198 last week and 248,856 the same week a year ago.

A weaker undertone featured the fed steer and yearling market early in the week and unevenly lower prices were effected. Toward the close lighter receipts stimulated the market and a good share of the loss was recovered. Desirable grades show only slight declines, while some of the in-between grades are 25@50c lower. Most classes of the stock closed at weak to 50c lower rates with some heifer classes 50c off $1.00. Stocker steers held mostly steady for the week but feeders moved slowly and are lower in sympathy with killing classes. Offerings for the week totaled 165,750 against 225,074 last week and 197,140 a year ago.

"It's Like This"

OIL SCHEDULES are falling. A few days ago, oil production totals in the nation showed record peaks in nearly every state. But the increases were not large in terms of thousands of barrels over the steady high average.

We were told by leading oil officials not long ago that unexpectedly great demand had developed. The predictions on January 1 were optimistic. It is rather sudden therefore, to read of what are called inevitable drastic reductions to help reduce production.

It is all the more remarkable by reason of the fact that legislatures are in session and investigations are apt to be precipitated by the cuts.

The time and amounts to cut are determined by shrewd minds and not always with reference to economic expediency. The industry has given signs of righting its problems, but manipulation of the crude oil market, unless there is ample cause for it, will destroy the cooperation that has been devised to prevent over production.

There is no doubt that potential production is alarming, but its control by market slashes is a painful remedy.

PENDLETON goes to Louisiana

Just why should the purported leader of the gang which looted a Pampa bank of $32,000 go to another state to stand trial for attempted robbery?

We do not know. We do know that $5,000 reward was said to have been offered in Louisiana. Perhaps it will soon become a custom to hold public auction for much wanted criminals.

The governor of Louisiana signed requisition papers for the noted bandit. Had it been necessary for Governor Moody to have granted the requisition, he might have been persuaded not to do so. But Pendleton, for reasons not within our knowledge, waived extradition and was spirited away from El Paso, where he was arrested when a member of his gang tipped a detective. Having gotten away from Laredo, Ark. after making $2,000 bond, perhaps the gunman thought any state safer than Texas.

The affair illustrates once more the uncertainty and difficulty of cooperation between law enforcement officers of the various municipalities and the states under the present system.

SCHOOL BUSES of the Pampa independent district reflect the increasing population of this community.

A local citizen remarked a few days ago that if any more pupils were placed in the buses he was watching they would have to be hung on nails.

Those buses were overcrowded to a degree that aroused the apprehension of all who were discussing them. It is to be hoped that this annoyance may be remedied.

Along Hoover's Trail SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—For all its European preferences, Buenos Aires is just like the other Latin American countries in preferring its movies from Hollywood.

There may be sneers from some Argentinians about the low cultural level of our films, but the people eat them up.

Your correspondent visited one of the larger movie houses on a Sunday afternoon. Instead of one main feature picture he found four or five on the program. The movie patron here buys his show in one-hour sections. He can buy from one hour of movies to five or six, with cut rates for three or five-hour tickets.

A two-hour picture is cut and then speeded up to fit into its allotted hour and how the action does whizz! Most of the soft stuff and other junk is thereby eliminated or made more bearable. Some remarkable effects are obtained from the slap-stick comedies. Instead of showing a single two-reel funny, the theater packs a half dozen of them into a single comedy hour.

American business men say the movies have been a great help in creating demand for American luxuries, for when an Argentinian obtains only a fleeting glimpse of a luxury he has to have it.

Sound movies have been tried in Buenos Aires, but the language barrier has kept the talkies away and none of the latter has been produced in Spanish.

Taking one's girl to the movies is a different process here. Especially in the middle class, it is also necessary to take along the rest of her family.

Romantic American youths confide that the best way yet found to beat this game is to pick a girl with a sister and provide another fellow for the sister. Two sisters, it appears, can sometimes break away from the house without having any of the older folks tag along, after which they can split up.

There has always been some complaint concerning a lack of social intercourse among young people, although there is more of it now. The magnificent "Gymnasia y Esgoua" (gym sports and fencing) offers a center for young men and women from the city offices to meet socially. This establishment is partially subsidized by unclaimed lottery prize money and dues are only $2 a month.

In effect "Gymnasia" is a gorgeous country club; there is nothing like it in the United States.

The splendid club house, fitted inside with dance hall, library, medical offices, restaurant and a roomful of mechanical horses and camels and other electric exercisers, is surrounded by outdoor swimming pool, roller skating rink, baseball, soccer and basket ball fields and tennis courts, of which there will eventually be 50. This is Argentina's gift to the youth of its middle class, the result of increased stress on physical health and social contact between young people.

Buenos Aires has a number of large cabarets. The most famous is Armonville, a gorgeous affair on the outskirts, as large as a good-sized theater and with outdoor gardens.

Men of Buenos Aires come here, but never their wives. One can find dancing partners from all over the world, some very beautiful.

The status of these partners is rather vague, especially in a moral sense, according to report. From any puritanical American standpoint, such a cabaret is a social phenomenon and is regarded as a show place for the visitor. The setting is more sumptuous than any American night club, eating is chaper ad so is drinking. The behavior is better.

TWINKLES

Be thinking up your best welcome for the basket ball boys who will be our guests next Friday and Saturday. This is a juvenile convention worthy of notice.

Evidently Texas is not the only Southwestern state to have a woman governor lately. But in Oklahoma it seems that the pants and skirts got switched.

An Englishman has invented a clock that the slightest wind will wind. One of the things ought to run a lifetime if you kept it in West Texas a season or two.

Shame on us. They are having "English week" in several foreign countries, and we hardly speak the language our selves.

America needed a good 5-cent cigar, and now that wicked Republican tariff on tobacco is threatening to make the things sell two-for-15.

BARBS

Senator Glass says he never knew a speech to change a vote. Oftentimes, however, a vote will change a speech.

A convict wrote a book of poems while in Sing Sing. Probably had given up all hope of parole for good behavior.

Schools are offering correspondence courses in saxophone playing and now there is a reason for shooting the mailman.

President-elect Hoover's farm produces 600,000 pounds of grapes annually. But don't be alarmed—they're table grapes, not wine grapes.

Prince Nikita, who has been receiving $60 a month as a bank clerk in Paris, has been designated heir to the fallen throne of the Romanoffs. The prince hasn't quit at the bank yet, though.

Maizie looked helplessly at her mother. "Here, you talk to them, Mrs. Ashe. You can ask things better than I can." "What do you say if we pluck a band out of the air, to welcome Little Sunshine home?"

CAPITOL News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
WASHINGTON.—By a happy circumstance, Cap'n A. L. Drinkwater, who does the coast guard and other necessary telegraphing at the remote little town of Manteo on the North Carolina coast, loosened up his sending arm and put through the Associated Press stories on the Wright brothers' memorial services at Kitty Hawk.

The world do move, but not very fast down in that part of North Carolina. It was a long, toilsome way from Kitty Hawk to the wire at Manteo 25 years ago. It is just as far and as toilsome today, the giant strides of aviation and all other transportation models in the meantime notwithstanding. It's a wagon, boat and finally a foot slogging trip through loose sand for a mile or so.

That's the way the first, history making story of man in flight reached Drinkwater for telegraphic relay. And that was just the way the stories of the celebration of that event with great bird-men of the world assembled to honor the memory and achievements of the Wright brothers reached him 25 years later.

Extemporized closer communication means fell down completely for one reason and another, but the reliable if rusty "sending" nerve in the cap'n's good right arm bridged the gap.

Mixed Greetings

From a former staff colleague, Ben Lamb, now long perched among the great ones of commercial life in the "H" street palace of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Bystander gets this Christmas story of the 1928 season. Ben has a six-year-old hopeful—Ben, junior, of course—who has a neighborhood buddy of the same non-reading, but imitative age. The buddy got mixed up with pre-Christmas festivities of the feminine small-fry of the neighborhood and decided to construct a Christmas card for Ben, Jr., in his own hand. Knowing that secrecy, somehow, was part of the Christmas game, the tot raided his mothers' desk for a suitable card to copy. The product, nicely wrapped in red tissue and tied with tinsel string, was duly delivered at the Lamb door and Ben Junior was greatly edified. He showed it proudly to Ben Senior, who saw, scrawled in gawky, childish lettering, made with much labor of licking the pencil point, this legend: "A joyous Easter to my dear daughter."

"Dry" Dialogue

Place, the senate; time, now; subject, prohibition:
McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, (very dry): "Is it not true that in the last election many of the very best people in the country voted the republican ticket . . ."
Caraway, democrat, (not so dry): "No. Possibly good people did that."
McKellar: "I think some very excellent people voted the republican ticket . . ."
Caraway (interrupting): "I accept that."
McKellar: (proceeding): ". . . because they thought they were voting the country dry."

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—T-a-l-k-i-e spells simply talkie to most people, and mis-spelled to some one-time stars now toppled from silent screen thrones. But to John T. Murray—and Vivien Oakland, Mrs. Murray in private life—it spells "home, sweet home."

A nome now going up in Beverly Hills testifies to Murray's confidence in the future of the vocalized screen—and it is one of many which may be expected here as more of Broadway's stage folk hit the trail for Hollywood.

Murray, during his career on the stage as a featured comedian and in vaudeville, and later, even after his marriage to Miss Oakland, Broadway comedienne and actress, has lived in apartments and hotels. They were "home."

Both Murray and Miss Oakland have been in pictures before, but the screen's noise era now has turned into capital their stage experience and stage voices, which hitherto had been little of an asset. They were "on the road" again in vaudeville when the talkie craze swept over Hollywood and brought them back.

JOBS APLENTY

Murray already has had parts in several talking pictures, in between times working in Gus Edwards' color-sound revues, for which he has written also several lyrics for the songs he sings. Miss Oakland, too, has been given a part in a forthcoming dialog picture.

Which now makes Hollywood, or Beverly Hills, "home." Not that this pair of troupers intend to forsake the legitimate boards for good. But "home" is here, all their own, to return to should the two-a-day sound its luring call again.

Murray, by the way, believes he must have come into the movies under a jinx—but it never "got" him.

A HARD LIFE

His first duty before the camera was to run the gauntlet through a line of pugilists, all instructed to take a punch, a real one, as the hapless Broadwayite passed. They followed instructions, but he survived.

His next picture involved an airplane ride. Two or three days later the plane used was condemned as unsafe.

Then came a riding-the-rapids exploit, so dangerous the "doubles" taken along on location balked. Ben Lyon, Victor McLaglen and Murray themselves had to climb in the frail craft, which was attached to a cable for safety. The cable broke—"of course," as Murray says—but all escaped.

STEWART HITS BACK AT SENATE ATTACKER

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (AP)—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, impudently "falsehoods" and "slander" to his accusers tonight in a statement answering the renewed charges by Senator Nye of North Dakota that Stewart had given false testimony before his senate committee.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 26. (AP)—President-elect Hoover returned here at 10:50 p. m., from his fishing trip in the Florida Keys. With Mrs. Hoover and other members of his party he drove to the pre-inaugural vacation home at Belle Isle.
