Six Men Trapped In Collapse of Viaduct---Likely Are Drowned

DAM BROKEN BY PRESSURE FROM FLOOD

SEVERAL SAVED FROM THE RIVER

Swollen Water Threw Man Clear of Wreckage

LANSING, Mich., April 12. (AP)—Believed to have been caught in the collapse of a coffer dam at a viaduct here today, four men are missing and two others are thought to have been drowned.

The missing men, all members of a crew of eight working below the dam, are:

H. Kramer, Isaac Helman, Frank Harris and Fred Heck, all of Lansing. Two others of the crew were rescued.

The river, swollen by recent rains, placed tremendous strain on the dam and caused the collapse without warning. The workers were caught under an avalanche of crashing timbers and water.

The men were working on the footings of the viaduct. An emergency call was broadcast by police who rushed to the scene.

Two of the eight men were rescued, but the other six were believed to have perished.

The tremendous weight of the swollen river crushed in the sides of the dam with such force that one man was thrown entirely clear of the wreckage into the river. He was one of the two rescued.

Childress Man Will Not Become Principal Here

W. C. Davis of Childress did not accept his election as principal of Pampa high school. Mr. Davis decided to remain in Childress, where he was elected principal last week after an absence of two years while he was in business for himself.

No action was taken yesterday at a board meeting to elect another man. Miss Leadys Moore was selected as head of the home economics department of the high school, replacing Mrs. Harriet Gould, who has resigned.

Miss Dorothy Pollard and Miss Josephine Cariker were transferred to the high school teaching staff.

Junior Play Will Be Given Tonight

"The Patsy," a three-act comedy that has proved popular with audiences of amateur theatricals throughout the country, will be presented at Central auditorium this evening by the junior class at 8 o'clock.

The story is that of a girl whose charms are hidden in order that an older sister may have the limelight. Patsy finally reaches happiness, thanks to the courage of her father who leads a revolt against "Ma."

This rebellion furnishes an interesting plot. Miss Velors Reed, teacher and coach of dramatics and public speaking, directed the play.

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS: Increasing cloudiness tonight and Saturday; somewhat warmer in east portion tonight.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice Harlan Fiske Stone, who once played football for Calvin Coolidge's alma mater, has lots of stuff at sessions of the medicine ball cabinet, as Mr. Hoover and Hugh Gibson can testify. The story is that one Stone toss affected the presidential seat and another marked up a diplomatic nose.

PAMPA BOY IS BADLY HURT IN POWDER BLAST

Ollie Hollis Puts Out Fire in Garments by Rolling

Ollie Hollis, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hollis is at his home in South Pampa in a serious condition from shock and burns received yesterday while playing with a quantity of blasting powder.

The little Hollis youth, a pupil at Baker school, and some other school boys had found a quantity of blasting powder and dynamite sticks in an abandoned building on Brown street.

Children had been playing with the powder for several days before it became known. Traffic Officer J. W. Turpin this morning found 24 sticks of dynamite under a shed at the rear of a South Pampa home, where it had been stored by boys who planned to use it for fishing.

When the powder exploded, the Hollis' boys clothing caught fire. He had the presence of mind to roll in the dirt and with the aid of a neighbor smothered the fire, but not before he was badly burned about the face and legs.

It is believed that there is more dynamite and powder scattered about South Pampa and city officers are anxious that anyone knowing the location of explosives notify them before any further damage is done.

Allied Reparations Plan Is Finished

PARIS, April 12. (AP)—The allied powers reparations experts have agreed to terms which will be submitted to Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the German delegation, tomorrow.

It was taken for granted that Dr. Schacht, at tomorrow's plenary sessions, when the terms are presented, will ask time to consider them, but the general expectations among the experts seemed to be the negotiations with the Germans would not be very long.

FARM BILL COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—The new farm relief bill drafted by a house agriculture sub-committee was presented to President Hoover today by the five members of the sub-committee which worked out the legislation. SANTA FE OFFICIALS COMING SATURDAY FOR CONFERENCE ON PROPOSED GRAY COUNTY LINE

Pampa's objections to the building of a spur line into Central Gray county from the C. & O. W., which was partly financed by local donations, will be heard by Amarillo officials of the Santa Fe at a meeting here at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

This session has been called at the request of the railroad men, who are coming at the suggestion of President Storey of the Santa Fe system. Members of the city commission, Board of City Development, and transportation committee of the B. C. D., have been asked to be at the conference.

Intervention before the interstate commerce commission has been proposed here, and the Saturday conference will probably determine what steps are to be taken in the matter.

Tommie Lyons Is Freed of Charges

Lack of identification and verification of his actions were among factors which led a jury to return a verdict of not guilty against Tommie Lyons, charged in 31st district court with theft. The jury was out two hours.

Lyons was alleged to have participated in the theft of a quantity of pipe from the Jarecki Supply company last fall. It was shown that on the night in question young Lyons was visiting at a home on the Berger road and spent the night there.

A hung jury resulted in his first trial last week. Judge Ben S. Baldwin represented Lyons.

If any more Americans are captured with the rebels, they will be treated as enemies of Mexico, Almazan told Rawlinson to tell Americans. Almazan agreed his life, he declared, but announced that in the future others in his situation would receive no consideration from American consuls.

He was bound hand and foot and left in prison for two days after his capture, he said. Almazan then gave him a "good-bye" and sent him to the border.

"They threatened to court martial me," he said. "It was given to rank as a flier with Escobar, but was made a number of promises many of which have never been fulfilled. Almazan is a fine fellow, since he decided not to shoot me."

A battery of field artillery was en route from Fort Bliss, El Paso, and two 3-inch field pieces were on the way from Camp Jones, Douglas, Ariz.

Menus of the Day

By SISTER MARY

There's an old saying, "a pint's a pound the world around," but when the house keeper goes to market she finds its fallacy.

More and more we find food being sold by weight rather than measure and many housekeepers are confused by the change.

The following table has been worked out for average servings of four persons:

Beets, diced and buttered to serve four, 1 bunch or 1 1-2 pounds.
Cabbage, raw, 1-2 pound.
Carrots, creamed, 1 bunch 1 1-2 pounds.

Cauliflower, 2 to 2 1-2 pounds.
Peas, buttered, 4 pounds unshelled.
Spinach, 1 1-2 to 2 pounds.
String beans, buttered, 1 1-2 pounds.
Tomatoes, sliced, 1 pound.

One head of lettuce weighing 1 pound will serve four persons if cut in quarters. One and one-half pounds of apples should make enough apple sauce for four people. This is also enough for one pie.

Asparagus is usually sold by the bunch and the bunches usually weigh 1 pound, although in different localities the custom varies. However, 1 pound of asparagus should serve four people if creamed on toast and three if served buttered. Much depends on the amount of tough end which is wasted.

With these quantities in mind the needs for more or fewer persons can easily be calculated. Individual appetites and likes must also be considered and the part the vegetable is to take in the meal.

Four hard-boiled eggs, 1 bunch of asparagus, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1-2 cups asparagus stock, buttered bread crumbs.

Cut eggs in half lengthwise. Trim and wash asparagus and cut in inch lengths, discarding tough ends. Cook 15 minutes in boiling water. Drain and save stock. Butter a baking dish and put in half the eggs yolk side up. Add asparagus and cover with remaining eggs, yolk side down. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add asparagus water, stirring constantly. Cook until thick and smooth and pour over mixture in baking dish. Cover with crumbs and bake 15 minutes in a hot oven.

This makes an excellent luncheon dish served with a green salad.

Parents Blamed for Misfit Children

NEW ORLEANS, April 12. (AP)—The vicious effect of nagging parents on their children and home and educational subjects were discussed today at the final session of the American Association of University Women.

A discussion in the conference which started out with the personal adjustments of young people as its subject ended in a warm exchange of views on "parents as a menace." Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott, clinical psychologist for the Judge Baker Foundation, Boston, led.

"Over one-half of the unhappy, misfit youngsters in the world have their parents to blame for it," said Mrs. Abbott. "This doesn't mean the parents are neglectful. What happens so often is the kind of training the parents had in their youth is reacting in them and making them behave badly to their own children. It is a vicious circle."

The dominant, the nagging and the over-ambitious parents, the latter who "insist on sending their sons and daughters to college whether they are fit for it or not," should mend their ways, Mrs. Abbott declared.

Mrs. Tom W. Brabham, Mrs. W. Purviance, Mrs. J. E. Ward, and Mrs. W. Mullinax are in McLean today to attend a zone meeting of the Methodist Women's Missionary society, Clarendon district.

I. R. Culberson, who was seriously ill during the first days of the week, is much improved. He makes his home with his son, F. M. Culberson.

SPRING

O Beautiful Spring!
Of thee we would sing.
Fairy queen of nature thou art.
Welcome, lovely guest,
Clad in season's best.
Come to gladden with cheer each heart.

Cold winter is past
And its icy blast
Has returned to its home in the north.
The tiny buds swell
Beneath the sun's spell
While Earth's robe of emerald springs forth.

The first bluebird's note
Gushes from his throat.
Calling to blossoms "neath snow;
"Springtime is now here,
So please do not fear,
You're tired of winter, I know."

The birds are, now here,
Without thought of fear,
Of the premature days of spring.
Cool days may still come,
To chill their joy some.
Yet, sheltered they'll twitter and sing.

List to the trickling
Of waters bick'ring
As their prison of ice they break,
Rushing with gladness,
Joy kin to gladness,
While their course to the sea they take.

In the warm-lit sky
Wintry clouds seud by,
Casting threats, continuous mid-air;
But Spring bears a smile
Useless to beguile
So to climes more genial they repair.

Now nature gives more,
Her gifts of love's store,
Blessing earth, with beauteous delight.
In pink and white hues,
Sweet blooms in the dews
With tiny green fruitlets in sight.

Hail our pageant new;
Beauties grand review;
In gala array of ev'ry hue;
Croscus in green,
White snowdrops between,
Then roses follow violets blue.

Deep peals tell the hour
Now due for a shower
Heavy clouds fast darken the sky.
Quick gashes of rain;
Hail pelts windowpane!

An Airplane Oil For Tractor Use

West Texas (Near Vega) From a Phillips Airplane

IMAGINE driving your automobile 100 miles an hour for 16 hours without stopping. That's what an airplane engine must do. Only the finest oil can be used or the motor will go to pieces quickly.

The Phillips Petroleum Company uses Phillips tractor oil in their own airplanes which are used by Mr. A. M. Hughes and other company officials. These men have the same confidence in this oil that they want you to have. It's exactly the same oil that is ready for your car or tractor at any Phillips station. It warms up quickly, and fully lubricates in both hot and cold weather.

The picture at the top shows E. H. Simpson, H. B. Hill, O. D. Frasier, Geo. J. Rempel and their boys all seated on their farm machinery. These men all live in the neighborhood of Vega and Hereford, Texas. All of them use Phillips products.

This spring E. H. Simpson broke 220 acres of land with a gang plow. All of this land was worked over 3 times and 30 acres 4 times, ready for the drill. His total fuel and lubricating cost was 30c an acre. He used Phillips kerosene and oil. Many other west Texas farmers report great savings and complete satisfaction in using Phillips products. Write or talk to the Phillips agent when you need oil, kerosene or gasoline. They are quality products.

Meetings of Women's Church Societies Hold Interest Wednesday as Members Meet for Regular or Postponed Sessions

Missionary societies and auxiliaries of six churches held meetings Wednesday afternoon, each with an exceptionally good attendance. Several of these organizations which regularly meet on alternate weeks were holding sessions postponed from last Wednesday because of the district Parent-Teacher conference in session here, and these will meet again next week.

The Baptist Women's Missionary Union and the Methodist Women's Missionary society each met Wednesday in unit sessions. The Altar society of Holy Souls church had a business session at the home of Mrs. Lynn Boyd. Mrs. Joe Smith and Mrs. Roy Vaughn were co-hostesses to members of the Presbyterian Women's auxiliary at a meeting in Mrs. Smith's home. Mrs. F. M. Perry was hostess to members of the Episcopal Women's auxiliary. The Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church met at the educational building, with Mrs. A. Cole and Mrs. E. B. Guber hostesses. Social meetings followed each of the programs and business sessions.

ALTAR SOCIETY ADOPTS CONSTITUTION

A permanent constitution and by-laws were adopted by the Altar society of Holy Souls church. Announcement was made that Mrs. Lynn Boyd's team had won the attendance contest which was carried on during Lent. Mrs. Zahn and members of her team will entertain the winners with a social affair, the place and date of which will be announced later. Each of the 30 members present at the meeting drew the name of a secret "forget-me-not" friend, whom she will remember during the coming two months with small gifts and little services. Mrs. Floyd A. Smith, president, was in the chair for the business session.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN STUDY BIBLE LESSON

Mrs. George Briggs directed an interesting Bible lesson at the meeting of the Presbyterian Women's auxiliary. She was assisted by Mrs. T. D. Holbert, who presented the life of Joseph with excellent detail. A short business session included reports from chairmen of several committees. Twenty-five members were present.

MRS. HUGH ISBELL DIRECTS PROGRAM

The Women's Missionary society of the First Christian church had two program topics for the program of Wednesday, which was given under the leadership of Mrs. Hugh Isbell. Talks on Africa were made by Mrs. Isbell and Mrs. C. M. Bryson. Mrs. J. H. McNeill discussed "The Youth of Today."

EPISCOPAL WOMEN ADOPT NEW STUDY

Final chapters of a missionary book,

"The New Africa," were the basis of an enjoyable program given at the meeting of the Episcopal Women's auxiliary. Mrs. F. M. Perry, as leader, was assisted by Mrs. C. P. Buckler and Mrs. W. M. Craven in presenting the lesson topics. Mrs. Craven conducted the devotional, reading the twelfth chapter of I Corinthians.

A new study, which promises to be equally as interesting as the one just completed, will be taken up at the meeting next Wednesday. It is "The Church's Work in Liberia." Mrs. Buckler will be in charge of the first program.

The Good Friday and Easter offerings of the several members, totaling a gratifying sum, were given the treasurer. The first of these offerings goes to further the work of the church in Palestine, while the Easter offering is to the national treasury for general church maintenance.

METHODIST W. M. S.

STUDIES BIBLE TOPICS "Jesus, the Ideal Young Man" was the theme of the program for the Methodist Women's Missionary society. Three circles met for the study. Circle No. 1 convened at the home of Mrs. W. Purviance. Mrs. Horace McBee conducted the study, and special topics were presented by Mrs. Fannie Hardin, Mrs. Guy Manning, Mrs. Purviance and Mrs. W. Mullinax.

Circle 3 met in the home of Mrs. J. D. Sackett, with nine members present. Mrs. R. W. Lane was program leader. ### "Why Don't You Get Married," Say Letters to Curtis

WASHINGTON, April 12 (P.—P. S.)—Why don't you get married?

In the hundreds of letters which poured into the office of Vice-President Curtis during his controversies with the state department over the social status of his sister and hostess, Edward Everett Gann, this naive suggestion was found more than once. The idea always struck the broadly developed sense of humor of the vice-president, but his only response was a chuckle and an occasional reflection that marriage was one of those things that was easier said than done.

Now it is all over and he has won for his sister equal recognition with himself at official dinners, which was denied her by ruling of former Secretary Kellogg, the usually quiet Charles Curtis is realizing his first declaration as vice-president created a real stir, and is now wondering if the publicity will ever end.

At the first official dinner affected by the situation, Mrs. Gann last night was accorded the precedence she would have received if she had been the wife of the vice-president. This was in accordance with the provisional arrangement worked out by the diplomatic corps.

Mrs. Hanna is also a specialist with children, and will conduct special work for the children during the meeting.

ING the TS TRAIL

Washing-
George Mike Murphy, University of Wisconsin.
There are a flock of other Washingtonians doing short turns and encores at the coaching game, as assistants, but this is the golden half dozen right now. All six pulled a capable oar for Washington before stepping out to show the rest of the world how it is done.
Leader, first to come east, immediately turned out triumphant crews at Yale. His second varsity product, in 1924, was the world's championship eight by virtue of a clean sweep at home and abroad in the Olympics. Four years later, the pupils of Ebricht, rowing for California, performed the same feat.
Callow, successor to Leader at Seattle, came to Pennsylvania in 1927 for a salary understood to be around $15,000, the largest paid to any crew coach in the country.
Ulbrickson, one of the greatest of Husky stroke oars, and Callow's prize pupil, picked up where his teacher left off at Washington in his first year out of college. Ulbrickson paced Poughkeepsie winners in 1924 and 1926, losing a great battle to the Navy, stroked by Tom Eddy, in 1925.

The Glendons, father and son, form the only combination that has threatened the onward sweep of Washington coached teams in the past few years. "Old Dick" Glendon, after many years of success at the Navy, let a young Washingtonian, Bob Butler, take the helm for a year or two, but he was recalled last year by Annapolis.
"Rich" Glendon, the son, performed miracles at Columbia. The Blue and 1927 crew lifted the Poughkeepsie blue ribbon and failed to repeat last year by the margin of less than a length in a record-smashing duel with California.

Jim Ten Eyck at Syracuse is dear of the old guard, twice the age of any Washington coaching product, but like Old Man River, he has yielded the sceptre of the sea to a new dynasty.

Fast Gober Nine Will Play Borger Team on Sunday

The Cabot Co. Baseball team under the management of the veteran E. B. Gober will play the Borger American Legion team there Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Gober has assembled a fast bunch of boys that should play fast baseball for Pampa this summer.
The team won a 5 to 3 game from White Deer last Sunday.
Slim French, elongated pitcher with the Grays in the Amarillo tournament last year, will arrive here from Florida next week. Mickey from Turkey got in yesterday and looked good in a workout last night. Odus Mitchell, on first, is a flash and a heavy hitter.
Included in Gober's list will be Mitchell, Hickey, Whitehead, Morrison, Christensen and Lassiter, infielders; Sullivan and McCoy, catchers; Tunnell, Hudson, Reynolds, Brown and Fairless outfielders, and Verden, French and Ward, pitchers.

Sam Rice Looks Fit to Resume Outfield Post

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—Although official sources refuse to comment the gossip is out that the Veteran Sam Rice will be back in the Washington outfield in place of West when the season opens. West has failed to bang the ball as expected, while Rice seems as good as ever. Two rookies, Liska and Brown, set the Giants down with two hits and one run yesterday.
Boston's two major league ball teams were given a cold reception when they got back to their home city. There was snow on the ground in the suburbs and cold chills playing around Fenway park and Braves' field.
Belief that Pie Traynor will be able to get into the Pirates' opening game next Tuesday was strengthened today. The Buc captain gave his injured hip a thorough tryout in the game against Memphis yesterday and today he reported a slight stiffness of the muscles was the only difficulty he experienced.
Manager Dan Howley worked a pair of hurlers who played with Tulsa against their former team yesterday and the St. Louis Browns scored their first shutout of the season, pounding three pitchers for 15 hits and 14 runs, including two homers. Recruit Outfielder Tom Jenkins got his second homer in two days as well as a single and a double.

The Cincinnati Reds' out-of-town training season ended in Indianapolis yesterday when the Indians sent them home with a 10-to-4 beating. The Reds had only a workout on their schedule today, but tomorrow and Sunday were to meet the Cleveland Indians.

The worst baseball the Cleveland Indians have furnished this year was behind them today in their second game with the Birmingham Barons, who took the Tribe yesterday, 8 to 5, in a wierd exhibition which went along at a fast rate on errors, bad pitching and freak runs.

Back home with a practice scheduled for today and the city series opening tomorrow, Manager Billy Southworth was confident over the chances of the St. Louis Cardinals. He said he was especially pleased with Jim Bottomley's batting and also that of Eddie Delker, who has been the hitting sensation of the training trip.

Group Funerals for Storm Victims Will Be Held

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 12. (AP)—Three group funerals of victims of the tornado which Wednesday swept sections of North Arkansas taking a toll of life which stood at 50 today, were to be held this afternoon at Gulon and Swifton, two villages which bore the brunt of the storm.

Two small rural cemeteries near Swifton each are to receive the bodies of 11 victims, while at Gulon, six of those who lost their lives in the storm which razed the entire town, are to be buried.

Meanwhile, rehabilitation was going forward under direction of Red Cross workers, and Maj. C. R. Barham and Capt. Lee V. Casey of the adjutant general's staff, dispatched to the area by Governor Farnell.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Our Spiritual Resources
How great is our heritage! We have entered upon large possessions! Will we be true and faithful stewards in our Master's house? We can do all things "through Christ who strengthens us." Our sufficiency is of God. Our responsibilities are great but we are of good courage for God himself has said "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." We have:
God Most High, possessor of heaven and earth, as our own Father;
Jesus Christ His Son, as our own Lord and Savior; and elder brother;
The Holy Spirit as our Helper, our Comforter, and our Guest.
God's Holy word "as a lamp to our feet, and a light to our pathway";
The greatest message that ever graced the lips of man—a living message to a dying world—the good news of the kingdom—the gospel of our salvation.

The church of the living God—with her ever-increasing fellowship, spiritual worship, mutual edification, loving service and sympathetic ministry to the needs of others, all in hallowed association with the sacred feast of the "Lord's Supper" which we celebrate "In Remembrance of Him," "Proclaiming His Death," "Till He Comes." What a sweet Memorial! What a wonderful proclamation! How fortunate we are to begin every week in such close communion with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ!

And we have prayer. "What a privilege to carry everything to God in prayer." Let us take as our Golden text the words found in Phil. 4:6,7 and by the grace of God, make it our own rich experience.
Brethren in the Lord, partakers of the divine nature, those of you who have tasted of the good word of God and the power of the age to come (yet some of you have become careless and neglectful of your Christian duty). Let us work faithfully together for the building up of the Lord's kingdom here.

Subjects for next Sunday: "The Whole Counsel of God" and "They Watch in Behalf of Your Souls."

Marion Talley to Retire From Stage—Action Puzzling

NEW YORK, April 12. (AP)—Marion Talley, youthful Metropolitan opera star, whose phenomenal career brought her a fortune in three years, has decided to retire to a farm. Estimates are that her golden voice has made $500,000.

Since she is only 23 and presumably in years to come would earn hundreds of thousands more, she has amazed her concert manager and friends with the statement:

"I have made up my mind to retire from the professional stage. By this I mean all operatic appearances as well. My retirement will be permanent."

KANSAS CITY, April 12. (AP)—Decision of Miss Marion Talley, youthful prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company, to retire this spring, surprised not only friends here, but her father.

"It was a complete surprise to me," Charles M. Talley, the father, a telegrapher for the Missouri Pacific railroad, said today. "I don't know what her plans are except that she has expected to spend at least part of the summer at her home here."

"Heliplane" Copies Swallow

A "heliplane" designed by A. L. Hackenberger (inset) of San Antonio, (artist's conception shown), seeks to adapt to airplanes the principles of flight employed by the swallow.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A "heliplane," whose inventor claims it will double present airplane speeds, has been built by A. L. Hackenberger of San Antonio. The craft, designed to operate on the principles of flight employed by a swallow, embodies the development of an idea many years old. In test flights Hackenberger hopes to demonstrate the machine's ability to take off and land without runways.

Unlike orthodox airplane designs, the heliplane's top surface resembles a huge heart, measuring 14 feet from wing tip to wing tip, and 18 feet from nose to tail. It will be propelled by two 25-horsepower engines of French design.

A gondola-shaped cockpit is constructed under the top wing for pilot and passenger.

Range Conditions Greatly Improved

AUSTIN, April 12. (AP)—Rains and warm weather during March have improved range conditions and assured good spring and summer grazing in most sections, according to the April livestock report of H. H. Schutz, statistician with the U. S. department of agriculture.

"New vegetation has made excellent growth and plenty of feed is available generally," he stated. "Cattle are putting on flesh. Calves, lambs and kids are growing rapidly. Sheep and goats are in much better condition than a month ago. Goat shearing is about over and sheep shearing will be at its height in two weeks. Mohair sales have been inactive, and little spring wool has been contracted."

Bridge Hearing Is Postponed One Day

SHERMAN, April 12. (AP)—The case of the State of Texas against the Red River Bridge company, set for hearing here today, was postponed until tomorrow on the plea that J. W. Bailey, attorney for the company was in court in Tulsa, Okla.

The suit involves efforts of the state to have rates on a toll bridge over the Red River between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Texas reduced. The bridge is owned by the Red River Bridge company.

Recently the war department ordered a lower schedule of rates put into effect, but the bridge company secured an injunction restraining the war department from carrying out the order.

BANDITS ROB BANK

Girl Robber of Denver May Have Been Young Man

DENVER, April 12. (AP)—An attractive brunette, who police say may have been a man dressed in woman's clothes, was sought today as the bandit who obtained $5,000 in a single handed hold up of the Colorado State bank here by threatening to blow up the teller's cage with nitroglycerine.

In the course of yesterday afternoon's business, C. E. Kenney, a teller, noticed a young and pretty woman approach his counter, apparently to cash check. Instead, she handed him a note, which said, "Give me all the bills you have in the cage or I will touch off this bottle of nitroglycerine, and blow you through the window."

Kenney hesitated. The customer looked suggestively at her brown paper parcel, with a fuse protruding from one end and at a match which she began tracing lightly on the counter. Kenney hastily scooped up a bundle of bills and pushed them through the window.

After warning the teller not to say anything "until I get outside," the robber walked from the bank.

Road Dispute Is Narrowed by Garfield

DALLAS, April 12. (AP)—James R. Garfield, chairman of the federal mediation board hearing testimony in the dispute between the Texas & Pacific railway and representative of 4,000 of its employees, announced today that "the question of the removal of the home terminal of the road to Mineola need not longer be considered."

"It seems to the board that we have not yet heard what schedule rules are not being complied with," he said. "There does not seem to be any contention over the fact that the operations board is placed in Mineola. That fact is accepted by the men and is in operation. The question of seniority rights should be worked out by the two different parties. What the board now desires is an explanation of operation in and out of Mineola."

J. A. Somerville of Dallas, vice-president of the road in charge of operations, in compliance with the suggestion, immediately began an explanation of operations.

The board was appointed by President Hoover after a strike had been called by the four brotherhoods of railway employees. The strike was ordered at the culmination of a long dispute between the railway and its employees which centered on contentions of the latter that they should be reimbursed for losses on property when moved from Longview to a new division point at Mineola.

Briggs Back From Executive's Meeting

George W. Briggs, manager of the Board of City Development, returned last night from Dallas, where he attended a joint convention of the Texas Commercial Executives' association and the Southern Commercial Executives' association. Some of the best speakers of the country made addresses, Mr. Briggs says, and the entertainment was above the average.

"Specialists in every line made talks and much good was derived from the session," Mr. Briggs said this morning. "Not only matters pertaining to executive work but road questions, railroads, and community enterprises were discussed at length."

WOMAN IS CHARGED IN EXTORTION AFFIDAVIT

CHICAGO, April 12. (AP)—Miss Helen M. Carr, 39 years old, former justice of the peace of Galesburg, Ill., whose marriage to George Lewis after she had fined him for intoxication was the subject of news stories two years ago, is accused of extortion in an affidavit filed here by D. W. Sullivan.

Madam "X" Will Tell of Carmel

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 12. (AP)—The mysterious "Madam X" in the Almee Semple McPherson abduction case declared today that the evangelist was the companion of her radio operator, Kenneth Ormiston, on a romantic visit to Carmel, Cal., three years ago at the time Mrs. McPherson said she was in the hands of kidnapers in Mexico. ### Impeachment Work Rests Until Monday

BATON ROUGE, La., April 12. (AP)—The house of representatives reconvened today to continue investigation into impeachment charges against Governor Huey P. Long, agreed after adjournment today to reconvene Monday night. It was agreed no charges would be voted upon until that time.

The house recessed for 20 minutes while the impeachment board of managers presented to the senate the count voted by the house yesterday charging the governor with attempting to bribe two representatives.

The entire subject of the legality of the house proceedings was finally laid over to be referred to the rules, and the senate adjourned to meet at 8 p. m., Monday.

R. H. Joyce and Mann Kell of Wichita Falls arrived yesterday for a short visit at the Kell-Joyce ranch. They left today for Gladstone, N. M.

Woman Kills Her Husband and Self

FORT WORTH, April 12. (AP)—Mrs. M. F. Hendricks shot and killed her husband and then killed herself today at their farm at Reno, three miles northwest of Azle, according to an inquest verdict by Justice of the Peace I. O. Pain of Springtown.

They were about 56 years old and had been married for 35 years.

In a telephone conversation with the Star-Telegram, Justice Pain said Dr. S. I. Sturgis, Springtown, testified that Mrs. Hendricks was mentally deranged. Doctor Sturgis testified he examined Mrs. Hendricks Thursday but her condition did not indicate she was dangerous.

Justice Pain said neighbors of the Hendricks noticed the latter's dog coming to their houses this morning and acting strangely.

Both bodies were found in the yard of the Hendricks' home. The top of Hendricks' head had been blown off, and Mrs. Hendricks was shot through the breast. A shotgun was about eight feet from her body.

Dwight Price Dies Here Last Midnight

Dwight Price, 16 years old, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Price, last night at midnight. He had been in failing health for more than a year. He was the grandson of the Rev. and Mrs. D. D. McSkimming and had lived here with his parents for the last three years.

He was noted for his musical ability. Although only a boy, he has composed several pieces of music that have received mention by critics. He was a lover of music and was always foremost in offering his services for entertainments and recitals.

Surviving the young musician and student are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Price, and two sisters, Doris, at home, and Irene of Topeka, Kans.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

REVOLUTION—

From Agua Prieta, Sonora, east of here, came a report that a Mexican federal troop train was enroute from El Paso to Naco, to reinforce the loyal garrison of 1,800 men.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 12. (AP)—United States infantrymen numbering 1,500 were ready to leave Fort D. A. Russell today for Bisbee, Ariz., within a short distance of Sonora, Mexico, where a major battle between Mexican federalists and rebels is expected.

Orders to move the troops were issued at San Antonio by Major General William Lassiter, commander of the United States eighth corps area. Movement of troops at Fort Bliss, El Paso, was also ordered.

Troops On March

EL PASO, April 12. (AP)—Approximately 500 soldiers from Fort Bliss here were on the march to Hachita, N. M., today to protect American lives and property on the Arizona-Mexico border in the event of battle in the Mexican revolution.

The troops, who departed yesterday, included two battalions of field artillery and the remainder of the seventh cavalry. A detachment of cavalry dispatched to Hachita several days ago, belong to that unit.

Two Racketeers Are Killed in Detroit

DETROIT, April 12. (P)—Two racketeers started out, apparently unarmed, to "get" the man who hijacked their blind pig at 4 a. m. today and were slain by the hijacker.

The men killed were Earl Remington, 33, and Gordon Teter, 30. Both had police records.

Remington and Teter found the gunman, whom they apparently accused of hijacking their blind pig of $400, an argument followed, and one of the men suggested they "settle it in the street."

Residents of the district heard three shots fired and saw the gunman bending over Teter's body on the sidewalk. He fired two more shots into the body, and then chased Remington, who fled down an alley. One more shot was fired. Remington's body was found on a nearby street.

The slayer returned to his parked automobile, wiped his pistol carefully, placed it in the seat beside him, and drove slowly away.

Several Members in Family Benefited by It, Says Letsinger

"ORGATONE IS THE FINEST THING I HAVE EVER SEEN," SAYS PLEASANT VALLEY MAIL CARRIER.

"There are several of us at home who have taken Orgatone and it hasn't failed to bring good results in a single case," said J. H. Letsinger, the well known Pleasant Valley mail carrier, Ansonville, N. C., recently.

"As to my own case," Mr. Letsinger continued, "Orgatone is building up my health after several years of suffering. When I began taking it my stomach was all out of order and my appetite was very bad. I was troubled with constipation and bloating after eating and had that tired, sluggish feeling all the time. Nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me and I was really discouraged trying to find anything that would help my case."

"Finally I began reading in the papers about Orgatone and decided to try it. It sure has been a wonderful thing for me. My appetite is fine now and I eat three good square meals a day. My bloating and indigestion pains are entirely gone. I sleep like a log, and all my sluggish, depressed feeling has left me. I recommend Orgatone every chance I have because it has done me so much good. It has helped our whole family and we are all boasting it. It certainly is the finest medicine we have ever had in the house."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Pampa, exclusively by the City Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative who is meeting the public daily. Out-of-town customers are being supplied promptly by mail upon receipt of price one bottle, $1.25, or six bottles, $6.25.—(adv.)

Talks To Parents

"YOU MUST SLEEP"

(By Alice Judson Peale.)

"For the last three weeks Jane has not dropped off to sleep until after 10 o'clock, and she never sleeps during her nap hour at all," complained a troubled mother.

"I cannot understand it. I am perfectly firm with her; I never allow her to miss her afternoon rest and she is put to bed at night by the clock. I tell her, 'Jane, you must sleep,' and she knows, I mean it, but she is restless and tosses about and talks to herself. I'm worried because I can see she has been losing weight and she is nervous, but I don't see what I can possibly do about it."

No one can will himself to sleep—the more he concentrates on trying to sleep the more wakeful he becomes. When a child has for one reason or another developed the habit of sleeplessness it does no good to command sleep; indeed, if the command to sleep is given in tones which betray worry and fear of failure on the part of mother or nurse, it is worse than useless.

The best which can be done in such instances is to see that the child is put to bed in a quiet, happy frame of

Bigamist Confesses Killing Woman He Intended to Defraud

ELIZABETH N. J., April 12. (P)—Henry Colin Campbell, 60-year-old civil engineer and bigamist, was in jail today as the confessed slayer of one of his wives whom he shot and set afire.

The arrest and confession, police said, cleared up the mystery of the killing of a middle-aged woman, whose body, with a bullet wound in the head, was found blazing by the roadside near Cranford, N. J., on the morning of February 23.

Campbell was arrested as he was about to enter the apartment where he lived with his first and legal wife and three children. He was taken into custody a few hours after the body of the victim had been identified as that of Mrs. Benjamin S. Mowry of Greenville, Pa., a nurse.

In his confession he said he became acquainted with Mrs. Mowry through a matrimonial agency in Detroit. He said he had been in financial difficulties and hoped to clear up his affairs by another marriage.

He said that after a brief correspondence they were married August 28, last.

mind; that the whole process of going to bed be made thoroughly pleasant and reassuring. When he protests that he can't sleep, he should be told in a voice which carries no suggestion of concern that he doesn't have to, it will do him good just to lie still and rest and that sleep will surely come to him by and by. Such a course of treatment will relax the nervous tension in the child. He will be freed of the worry which his mother's distress communicated to him, and before long will re-establish his reputation as a good sleeper.

About New York

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

NEW YORK.—Boom, ta-ra; boom, ta-ra; Boom, ta-ra; Boom, ta-ra, Sweet Marie. Boom, ta-ra. Spring is here.

The blood leaps, and jumps, and spurts through one's veins as he steps into the workshop of Evaristo Bona over by the East river and listens to a private carnival-organ concert. Stirling notes crash against the walls, impatient to spend themselves on the summer air of straw-littered midways.

Mr. Bona is testing the notes before he sends them out to make gay the warm nights when country folk go to tent shows and city couples to Coney Island.

Mr. Bona is too busy to talk much, so one stands by while he works on hurdy-gurdies and carousel organs, building them, repairing them, and fitting them with magic rolls of perforated paper. He and Ambrogio Comazzi, an employe, are the only two persons in the United States, he says, who can make the originals of those rolls.

It seems to be a mysterious art. They scan an ordinary sheet of popular music and as they do so, make pencil marks on a roll of blank paper. Ten songs are marked on a roll. Then the marks are punched out and the master roll is ready to be copied indefinitely.

HAND-ORGANS IN HOMES

It was Mr. Bona who supplied new songs for Alfred E. Smith's hurdy-gurdy when the former governor tired of those he had playing in his Billmore hotel apartment. Among the new ones were "La Gitana" and "When You Were Sweet Sixteen."

Al Smith is not the only private citizen in New York who has a hand-organ. Just the other day Mr. Bona delivered a couple to the fashionable Plaza hotel. They were of the small, portable, stick variety, which nearly everybody has seen, a monkey perched on top. That type, explains Mr. Bona, is most popular with society folk who so in for quaint things. "One lady," he said, "asked me for a monkey to go with the hand-organ, but it's against the law to carry monkeys in New York." His assistant spoke up.

"I told her, 'If you want me for a monkey, I'm afraid I'm too big.'" He thought it a good joke.

HURDY-GURDY BLUES

Mr. Bona, who came over from Italy in 1902 and has been in the organ business 17 years (his father was in it before him), also supplies the movies with his instruments, and the broadcasting studios. It is said (but not by him) that a picture producer once sought high and low for a hurdy-gurdy player. Finally one was found on an East side street and offered a job. His understanding of English seemed limited, however, and the interview was unsatisfactory. But a few days later his lawyer appeared at the magnate's office with a contract calling for a salary of $25,000!

It may be a true story. For although the carousel business is good—there are many horse-drawn merry-go-rounds on the city streets in summer—the hurdy-gurdy business is bad. Only a few of the instruments now appear in the spring.

Just to look at this new-type tire is to know it is better.

"It's Like This—"

WASHINGTON DISPATCHES say that Texas prohibition enforcement has undergone a thorough investigation. Undercover men sent from the national capital have been making an enforcement survey...

Very likely so. Federal enforcement is admittedly inadequate. It has been declared by the pro agents themselves that they operate only against notorious offenders and where their services are specially asked.

There have, moreover, been charges that protection has been given in return for political assistance. Whether this is true or not perhaps will be disclosed in the report of the undercover men.

Should the efforts be changed from the treasury department to the department of justice, where it belongs, and should Hoover actually put efficiency methods into the service, the results may be interesting, and more effective than in the past.

REBELS IN MEXICO will blame, and rightly on the whole, the United States government for the failure of their movement. Their inability to secure recognition and the right to purchase arms, ammunition, and other war supplies, handicapped them in their movements and prevented many Mexicans from joining their cause.

The attitude of the United States was clear enough from the start. We had hoped for continuation of an era of peace. The Calles government had proved friendly, and the Morrow ambassadorship appeared to be a happy circumstance. To have recognized the rebels would have been to wreck the good will obtained in official circles.

from the state had been with the federals.

Can Mexicans learn to fight their internal battles through the ballot box? Rebel sympathizers will tell you that you cannot fight Calles with any weapon other than the sword.

To remove the efficacy of the ballot box is to incite to revolution, yet Mexico, as long as she looks to the military to solve her problems, must expect rivalries, banditry, and revolution.

Truly, those who live by the sword perish by the sword.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON — Reports from London of a "world oil trust" to control the world supply of petroleum are interesting, if true, and not at all surprising.

The tendency toward international combinations in production and distribution of minerals and other raw materials seems to be one of the most important factors among recent developments in world history.

American and British oil interests have been fighting one another for markets and reserves for many years. But each has proved too powerful to be permanently defeated.

Just as industries have organized nationally, many of the larger ones are now beginning to organize on an international scale. When business becomes international and foreign markets become an important consideration, overproduction and price-cutting in foreign lands become just as ruinous as they have often proved in our domestic economic situation.

Unless the producers of one nation have a near-monopoly of a commodity they cannot set their own price when a surplus exists. They must accept the "world price" just as the American farmer must depend on the price of wheat as fixed in Liverpool.

Now, if the oil kings of the world have organized to control prices they are only following the lead of other producers along the road to profits. Cuba has attempted to organize a world sugar trust to beat up the price of sugar now kept down only by overproduction. An international arrangement on copper has already proved successful in driving up prices; there is a tin monopoly and either a projected or achieved international agreement by the zinc interests. And quite a few more.

Europe has been forming its own cartels in much the fashion of some of our own domestic industries. But American interests have often been parties to them and will continue to furnish new and important examples of combination. Our industrial interests are in with Great Britain, Spain, Belgium and Jugoslavia on the copper arrangement, with Germany, Great Britain and half a dozen others on electric bulbs, and with Britain, Germany, France and Austria on borax. No complete list of any of these international agreements is available because in many instances the interests involved have refused to acknowledge them.

Our own official worries about such agreements between other countries have only become acute when they involved some commodity important to us which we did not produce, as in the case of rubber. In such instances, of course, our government officials have shouted because none of our own interests was in on the squeeze.

The consumer is the goat, whether American companies are in on an international combine or not. The Department of Commerce estimated that Americans paid half a billion extra dollars through the British rubber restriction scheme and attacked that along with the sisal coffee, potash, guano, nitrate and other "squeezes" in raw materials, which the United States does not produce.

HOLLYWOOD—The studio cutting room is frequently, if not a short cut to a movie director's job, a preparatory school from which many of today's picture makers have been graduated—if the change in position can be so termed rightfully.

For it is an axiom in the industry that upon the skill or lack of it demonstrated by the "cutter"—the highly important individual who takes the reels and reels of film, eliminates excess scenes and combines the remainder into the final product that is flashed on the screen—depends the success of many a costly picture.

The latest such "graduate" in Hollywood is Ralph Dawson, who as a result of his prowess at cutting now is directing Loretta Young and Carol Nye in his first picture, "The Girl in the Glass Cage."

SCISSORS TO MEGAPHONE

The man who sits in those unpretentious little cubbyholes where the important work of cutting is done has the opportunity, says Dawson, to profit directly by any mistakes made by the director whose picture he is editing. By the time he has thrown away thousands of feet of celluloid representing superfluous scenes grinding, he has more than a fair idea of what really should go into a picture, knows what "shot" to take and what to avoid. Frequent conferences with the directors during the cutting process also are helpful.

Dawson, a former newspaper and movie publicity man, went into the scenario department of a local studio thence to the cutting rooms of others. His cutting of the "Singing Fool," "The Desert Song" and other recent pictures earned him his "break" as a director with another studio.

SAVING THE MOVIES

Instances are numerous of pictures being "saved" by an unassuming cutter's prowess. A rather unusual case, however, was that of Stuart Heisler, who was given the film product of a well-known director to whip into shape. After struggling with it for a time, Heisler went to the studio powers and asked to be allowed to insert a few more sequences. Permission was granted, and he himself took the megaphone and directed the additions. That completed, he returned to the cutting room and more scissors wielding. When the picture eventually was shown in the studio projection room it was agreed that he had turned what appeared a certain flop into a better than fair box office attraction.

MILD BAD MAN

"Pleasing?" echoed Bets doubtfully. Then he heard and saw himself for the first time on a talking screen. That tough, hard countenance of his was still vicious enough, but from it issued a voice that was really "pleasing," mellow—and not at all villainous.

Now, nearly three months later, Bets is playing in his first talking picture. And he is using a voice which he has been studiously engaged in hardening to make it fit his screen make-up of wickedness.

INNOVATION

Previews conducted in neighborhood theatres of Los Angeles, or in the case of extra special attractions, sometimes in towns 40 or 50 or more miles away, in order to give producers a "typical audience" reaction to their new pictures before they are released generally, soon may become less frequent.

They will, that is, if the method employed by Dr. William M. Marston, Universal's movie psychologist, should supplant largely the present form of preview, which he believes not entirely satisfactory in results. He has instituted a system by which the reactions of invited special groups, as of students, professional men and women, laborers and so on, can be ascertained. The groups, in numbers ranging from 20 to 50 and as high as 200, come to the studio projection room, view the completed picture or even parts of it during the filming, and then give their personal opinions as to its effectiveness. Results, says Dr. Marston, have proved helpful.

Meanwhile, however, the regular previews are being continued, and those who enjoy the hopeful search about the city for interesting new pictures still may "catch" Universal's products as well as others.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:—Hezekiah Leads His People Back to God.
Scripture Lesson:—2 Chronicles 30: 1-9, 25-27.

1. And Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim, and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of Jehovah at Jerusalem, to keep the passover unto Jehovah, the God of Israel.

2. For the king had taken counsel, and his prince, and all the assembly in Jerusalem, to keep the passover in the second month.

3. For they could not keep it at that time, because the priests had not sanctified themselves in sufficient number, neither had the people gathered themselves together to Jerusalem.

4. And the thing was right in the eyes of the king and of all the assembly.

5. So they established a decree to make proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beersheba even to Dan, they should come to keep the passover unto Jehovah, the God of Israel, at Jerusalem: for they had not kept it in numbers in such sort as it is written.

6. So the posts went with letters from the king and his princes throughout all Israel and Judah, and according to the commandment of the king, saying, Ye children of Israel, turn again unto Jehovah, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, that He may return to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hand of the king of Assyria.

7. And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, who trespassed against Jehovah, the God of their fathers, so that He gave them up to desolation as ye see.

8. Now be ye not stiffnecked, as your fathers were; but yield yourselves sanctuary, which He hath sanctified for ever, and serve Jehovah your God, that His fierce anger may turn away from you.

9. For if ye turn again unto Jehovah, your brethren and your children shall find compassion before them that led them captive, and shall come again into this land: for Jehovah your God is gracious and merciful, and will not turn away His face from you, if ye return unto Him.

25. And all the assembly of Judah, with the priests and the Levites, and all the assembly that came out of Israel, and the sojourners that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Judah, rejoiced.

26. So there was great joy in Jerusalem: for since the time of Solomon the son of David king of Israel there arose and blessed the people: and their was not the like in Jerusalem.

27. Then the priests the Levites took the ark, and their prayer came up to his holy habitation, even unto heaven.

TIME: Hezekiah was born (Beecher) B. C. 747. The great passover, B. C. 722. The final downfall of Samaria, B. C. 718.

PLACE: Jerusalem.
GOLDEN TEXT: Jehovah your God is gracious and merciful.—2 Chron. 30:9.

INTRODUCTION.
"In direct contrast to his father, Ahas, who had zealously favored everything Assyrian, Hezekiah gave himself passionately to whatever was national, and devoted his life to the restoration of the worship of Jehovah and the purification of the land from the heathenism which Ahas had introduced." Geikie.

"The reform was a recognition that the new and higher religious conceptions of a people must link themselves with the religious forms of their past."
—Barton, "The Religion of Israel."
"The first step that separated brethren should take toward revival is to get together." Snowden.

King Hezekiah.
Hezekiah, the son of Ahas, was the noble son of an evil monarch. Ahas was incapacitated for ruling during the closing years of his reign, and Hezekiah became regent when quite young. Ahas was an idolater, even offering some of his own children in sacrifice to the awful god Moloch; but Hezekiah, was a true worshipper of Jehovah, being led into this pure faith we may believe, by the prophet Micah. As soon as he came to the throne he put the temple of Solomon in order, repairing and cleaning it, and reorganized the services there, which had fallen into neglect. Our lesson finds him in the midst of this great reformation.

Meaning of Passover
Every year the Jews celebrated three great religious festivals which required the presence in Jerusalem of every male citizen. The first and most conspicuous of these was the passover, which began in the evening of the fourteenth of the month Abib, our April, and lasted seven days, though attendance was not compulsory after the first supper. The institution was established in Egypt just before the exodus, and was for the purpose of commemorating that great event, the passing over by the death angel of the houses of the Hebrews protected by the blood of the sacrificed lamb, as he was on his way to punish the Egyptians by slaying all their firstborn sons. Under Ahas, the noble commemoration had been neglected. Hezekiah wisely determined to restore it, as an important part of his general reformation.

The King's Message
"And Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, that they should come to the house of Jehovah at Jerusalem, to keep the passover unto Jehovah, the God of Israel." Jehovah was the God of Israel, the Northern Kingdom, as well as of Judah, in spite of Israel's apostasy. It was Hezekiah's hope that the passover would bring about a reunion, if not politically, at least in good feelings.

"From Beersheba to Dan."
Beersheba was a town in the extreme south of Judah and Dan a town in the extreme north of Israel, so that this phrase, found so often in the Bible, signified all Palestine. "That they should come to keep the Passover unto Jehovah, the God of Israel, at Jerusalem." A reminder, in the terms of the proclamation, that the nation was a unit, having only one God, Jehovah, and only one great historic capital and seat of worship, the Holy City, Jerusalem. The Passover was to be kept in obedience to Him, and not to any earthly monarch. The passover, if observed at all, had not been celebrated on a national scale, or in the manner prescribed by the law of Moses, but had been observed by only a scattered few and in irregular fashion.

"God is Gracious and Merciful."
"For Jehovah your God is gracious and merciful." He was not like the cruel and revengeful gods which the people of the north had been worshipping ever since their separation from Judah. "And will not turn away His face from you, if ye return unto Him." Hezekiah's entire message, so gentle yet so firm, so solemn in its warnings yet so alluring in the hope it extended, was a most statesmanlike and noble document, worthy of a far better

Looks Thirty Years Younger to Friends

"I am eighty years old—and just think—I have actually gained eight pounds since I started the Sargon treatment. Not only that, but it has given me new life and strength so that no one would hardly take me for being eighty now because I am on the go all the time. Never a day passes that I'm not down town and all around to see my friends.

"The other day when I stopped by the drug store to get another bottle of Sargon, some women were there and they talked so much about the Sargon treatment that I couldn't get a word in edgewise. But I knew just how grateful they felt because Sargon certainly put me back on my feet and restored me to good health.

"I suffered with stomach trouble for ten years. I had indigestion all the time and everything I ate disagreed with me. I had heartburn all day long.

"My liver was sluggish, my intestines were clogged with poisons, and I suffered terribly from constipation. I took all sorts of strong purgatives but they gave me no permanent relief. I could hardly sleep at nights.

"Sargon is different from anything else in the world, and as a strengthening, invigorating tonic it has no equal. It just made my stomach like new with its soothing effect and I don't have an ache or pain in my body. My nervousness is gone and my sleep is sound and restful. The Sargon Soft Mass Pills were just the thing to tone up my sluggish liver and put it back to work. Their laxative action is gentle but thorough and I am entirely relieved of constipation. "Everybody says I am looking thirty years younger and I'm feeling as young as I look."

The above statement was made a few days ago by W. M. Blow, well known retired farmer who lives at 2708 Avenue F., Ft. Worth, which has been his home for the past 18 years.

Sargon may be obtained in Pampa from Fatheree Drug Co.; and in McLean from Erwin Drug Co.—(adv.)

RIGHT TO SELL LIQUOR ON SHIPS IS CONTESTED

WASHINGTON, April 12. (AP)—The question of the right of American vessels to serve liquor as a beverage at sea is regarded by officials and observers here as almost certain to be brought vigorously to the attention of the new congress when it meets in special session next week.

The promoters with which wet and dry organizations, and spokesmen for the prohibitionist viewpoint expressed themselves on the decision of the Levisathan's new owners to abandon the dry policy which governed the liner under the shipping board made such an outcome a forgone conclusion.

Daily News' want-ads bring results.

TROTSKY WILL WRITE

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 12. (AP)—Leon Trotsky, bitterly disappointed at Germany's refusal to admit him, reluctantly today began to unpack his boxes and trunks to settle down in the tiny white house in the outskirts of the city he longed to quit.

He has engaged a stenographer and it was said he would concentrate his energies in the writing of his autobiography.

The Norwegian steamer Ena ran out of fuel in stormy seas off Scotland, so she burned ninety-five barrels of dried fish to make port.
