STANOLIND TO START 20 NEW TESTS IN AREA

HUTCHINSON HAS 18, GRAY 11, AND MOORE 3

The Panhandle oilfield re-acted boom days last week when companies registered 33 first intentions to drill at the local office of the Texas Railroad commission. The Stanolind Oil & Gas Company startled the oil industry with the announcement that they would immediately drill 20 wells in Gray and Hutchinson counties.

Hutchinson county led the parade of locations with 18, followed by Gray with 11, Moore with 3 and Wheeler with one. With the exception of the W. H. Taylor Oil company's No. 1 W. H. Taylor in section 24, block B-2, H&GN survey, Gray county, the locations were made in proven territory.

The Taylor test will be about four miles southeast of production in the Davidson ranch on the south edge of the Bowers pool, and about six miles northeast of production on the Taylor ranch south of the granite ridge.

Intentions to drill: Drilling & Expl. Co., E. E. Watkins No. 12, 990' from north line, 330' from west line of N/2 of section 13, block M-12, TC Ry. Co., Hutchinson county.

MEXICO-TO-CARLSBAD HIGHWAY IS PLANNED

AUSTIN, July 31 (AP)—Texas highway officials hope to meet those of New Mexico on the state line some time in September and put in operation plans for a modern road between El Paso, Texas, and Carlsbad, N. M.

The Texas Highway commission announced today it would ask officials of New Mexico to cooperate in which 50 miles, including 28 in Texas were unimproved.

Chairman R. L. Bobbitt said Texas had made a number of unsuccessful attempts to agree with New Mexico on betterment of the road but all had been unsuccessful.

He cited a recent statement by Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico that that state was prepared to carry its share of the responsibility, and added Texas would have definite facts and figures at the September meeting.

Harry Hines, a member, said the Texas commission had shown a liberal disposition toward paving a half dozen routes across Texas to the caverns.

Famed Aerialist And Wife Die in Double Shooting

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 31 (AP)—Double tragedy wrote an epitaph today over the ruined career of Alfredo Codona, 43, once world-renowned master of the flying trapeze.

His divorced wife, Vera Bruce, 32, also a famed aerialist, died of pistol bullet wounds he inflicted yesterday afternoon just before shooting himself to death. They were at a lawyer's office to discuss a division of property.

Twice even before his divorce, tragedy struck at Codona, the one-time star performer of "The Flying Codonas," family troupe which several times toured the world.

In 1931 his internationally-noted second wife Lillian Leitzel Codona, plunged to her death, when an aerial ring broke while she was performing at Copenhagen. Two years later, his shoulder was so badly injured in a fall during his act in New York that he was never able to make a comeback.

Codona who was the only circus aerialist ever to make a successful routine of the triple somersault, married Miss Bruce some 19 months after Miss Leitzel's death and succeeded the latter as a member of the flying Codonas.

Miss Bruce divorced him a month ago charging cruelty and jealousy.

Codona died immediately after the shooting. His ex-wife lingered on in Seaside hospital until 10:30 a. m. today when she succumbed despite repeated operations and blood transfusions.

BOWERS WILL CARRY SUIT TO HIGHER COURT

J. Tom Bowers, who suffered a jury reversal in his district court lawsuit for $200,000 against Aurora, John and Joe Bowers, his nephews, here last month, plans to carry the fight into the higher courts again.

In one of the closing acts of the 31st judicial court term here, Judge W. R. Ewing refused to grant a motion for a new trial of the case in Gray county.

Counsel for Mr. Bowers, who is seeking $200,000 for services he claims to have performed for his brother, the late Joe Bowers, on the Bowers' oil leases, immediately notified the court of an appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo.

Three weeks ago a Gray county jury decided the plaintiff was not entitled to any claim against the Bowers' estate.

Mr. Bowers had claimed in his petition that it was his services as a geologist that aided materially in the development of the Bowers' oil and gas interests.

Everybody Talks About It, So Here's A 'Hot Line' On Hot News Here

By THE ROVING REPORTER Sent out by the city editor to dig up a feature story of some kind Saturday afternoon, I got to thinking about that recent national survey in which it was discovered that the thing that interests the greatest number of Americans is news about the weather.

So I decided to write about the weather. And, then, I got to thinking about the weather in Pampa. And the more I thought about it, the more I was convinced that 50 million Americans can be wrong.

A Hot Argument It has been so hot for so long, that there doesn't seem to be much news value to it at this late date. Day in and day out, the Pampa thermometer has been hanging right on one side or the other of 100 degrees in the shade.

What's news about it? Everybody knows that yesterday was hotter than a 100 degree, and, by the same token, they are just as downright certain that the same thing will be true today and tomorrow and the next day—right up until that time of the year when the first "another" swoop down and knocks the mercury galleys west into a cocked hat.

So— Okay By You, Eh? If it's news to you that the maximum temperature in Pampa Saturday was 101 degrees AGAIN, it's okay with me and the city editor can consider that his feature story is practically finished, except to say that the day's minimum reading was 72 degrees at 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

And, there's another thing. The minimum reading on the government gauge in Pampa always comes at 6 o'clock in the morning before I am out of bed. And, when it always falls at that hour, it ceases to be news.

They tell you that when the same thing happens over and over, it is

IOWA BEATS WISCONSIN IN TALL CORN CONTEST

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 31 (AP)—Iowa's reputation as the state of the tallest corn remained intact tonight.

Wisconsin, the challenger, didn't come within peering distance of the top of the Hawkeye sample.

Even the Badger state's governor, Philip LaFollette, acknowledged to his host and rival, Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel, that "You have us back ed off the map when it comes to corn."

Iowa's guinea in the corn tournament was a stalk measuring 16 feet, five and one eighth inches. Wisconsin's measures but 13 feet, one and three-eighths inches.

TWO TRUSTEES WILL EXECUTE LAST BEQUEST

DESCENDANTS, FRIENDS ORPHANS HOME REMEMBERED

Detailed distribution of the estimated $750,000 estate, left by Mrs. Phebe Worley, of Pampa, Panhandle ranchwoman who died here last Thursday morning, is contained in her last will and testament which was filed for probate Saturday in the Gray county clerk's office by Atty. S. D. Stennis, in whose custody the will was left.

In the distribution of the approximately three-quarter million dollar estate, Mrs. Worley's business associate, Albert Combs, and her two daughters, Mrs. Inez Carter and Mrs. Amanda Reynolds, both of Pampa, and their children are made the principal beneficiaries.

Trusts Established In addition to immediate cash payments of $15,000 each to Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Reynolds, two separate trust funds are set up for the daughters under the terms of which the trustees of the estate are to pay from the income of the trusts, beginning in February, 1938, the sum of $1,000 monthly to each of them.

In the event of the death of either of the daughters before the trust terminates in 1948, the payments are to be made as provided to their heirs.

The trust funds for the daughters are to be comprised of two equal portions of the residuary estate, and they are to be known as Phebe Worley Trust No. 1 and Phebe Worley Trust No. 2.

Combs Bequest All lands and property in which Mrs. Worley owned an undivided one-half interest with Mr. Combs, under the will, are bequeathed to him in his life estate, including the Worley Ranch home, southeast of Pampa, and all personal property connected with it. The lands so involved, under terms of the will, are not to be partitioned during Mr. Combs' lifetime.

Mr. Combs and John R. Roby, of Pampa, are named trustees and executors of the will, without bond or surety, and in the event of the death of one of them, J. E. Murfee, Jr., is to serve as an executor.

The trustees are empowered to take possession of all property to make up the residue of the estate and are empowered to "alienate, sell, collect interest, re-invest, change the form of investment, and to otherwise deal with the said property as in their judgment they may deem proper for the lifetime of Mr. Combs, who owns the other half-interest. The document also directs that John R. Roby be manager of the building.

ELDERLY MAN KILLED IN DOUBLE SHOOTING

ATLANTA, July 31 (AP)—The body of Bud Blackwell, 66, a shotgun charge in his right temple, was found today about 10 hours after a double shooting at the home of Herman Thomas, six miles south of here, early today.

Thomas, father-in-law of the slain man, was shot in the left leg with a .16-gauge shotgun. Thomas' daughter, Pauline Blackwell, wife of Bud Blackwell, also was wounded with a shotgun.

Officers were investigating the shooting of Thomas and his daughter when Blackwell's body was found a few hundred yards from the Thomas home. Residents told officers they heard a shot fired in that area about an hour after the shooting at the Thomas home.

Blackwell, who had been away from home several weeks, had returned yesterday.

Wage-Hour Bill Pushed Thru Senate 56 To 28

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Administration forces pushed the revised Black-Connelly wage and hour bill through the Senate today, overcoming defection in Democratic ranks.

A long day of debate and roll calls on amendments heard an end when the senate defeated, 48 to 36, a motion to send the bill back to the labor committee for further study.

This move was quickly followed by another roll call which passed the bill to the house by a 56 to 28 margin.

Twenty-two Democrats and 14 Republicans voted to recommit the measure, a move which would have ended its consideration for the session. One Republican and three Independents joined 45 Democrats in defeating that effort.

The measure would give to an administrative board power to fix minimum wage and maximum hours for industries engaged in interstate commerce. It also would outlaw child labor in trade crossing state lines.

Board's Limit Set The board could not fix a minimum wage higher than 40 cents an hour or a maximum work week shorter than 40 hours.

A much more drastic bill has been drafted by the house labor committee, permitting the proposed labor standard board to fix minimum wages as high as 70 cents an hour and a work week as low as 35 hours.

Opponents forced more than a dozen successive roll call votes on amendments, the longest series of votes the senate has taken on any measure since the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill was enacted.

Among major amendments adopted was the substitution of the Wheeler-Johnson child labor bill for the child labor provisions in the bill.

CUPID HAS EDGE OVER DIVORCES IN COUNTY

Cupid had a bit of an edge in the Gray county race between marriage and divorce during the past 60 days, according to records on file at the courthouse.

Since June 1, when the summer term of district court opened, there have been 47 divorces granted by Judge W. R. Ewing.

Records in the marriage license bureau show that 55 licenses were issued here within the same period, giving Dan Cupid an 8-point lead in the scoring.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Buyers put their shoulders to the market and stepped in today's final July market and selected issues were pushed up fractions to 2 or 3 points.

The steady boosting of bids for the leaders enabled the majority to close at the best levels of the day.

The rally was checked off by the automatic group following announcement Ford had jumped prices of his cars.

Weather conditions over the cotton growing region remained favorable and Liverpool was closed for the bank holidays. No pertinent factor developed to indicate orders on either side.

Opening trades were slightly lower but the market recovered later on covering and a little trade buying. In final trading, however, there was additional week-end liquidation and profit-taking.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, July 31 (AP)—Evening trading in the cotton market today and at the close active months were about 50 cents a bale net lower.

There was little incentive to trade. Weather conditions over the cotton growing region remained favorable and Liverpool was closed for the bank holidays. No pertinent factor developed to indicate orders on either side.

Opening trades were slightly lower but the market recovered later on covering and a little trade buying. In final trading, however, there was additional week-end liquidation and profit-taking.

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Cotton slid down to new lows in steady deliveries on the last day of the season today under hedging. Wall street selling and liquidation, December eased from 10.79 to 10.69 and closed at 10.70, with final prices generally 5 to 8 points net lower.

The opening was 4 to 7 points lower under weekend liquidation, influenced by generally favorable crop advice, but the initial offerings were not heavy and prices soon turned upward.

In quiet trading, prices had worked up to or slightly above the previous closing levels toward the middle of the session. Buyers were cautious, however, with a tendency to await further crop estimates which are expected from various sources next week. There was a renewal of selling in the late trading which carried prices to new lows for the season.

Sleep while your want-ad works.

That prices of stocks today exceeded the trading pace was shown by the turnover of 89,000 shares compared with 505,700 last Saturday. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up 6 of a point at 62.5.

Gems Scorned

While Mrs. William Deering Howe (above) and her husband slept at their Brookville, L. I., estate, a burglar evaded the watchman and two dogs, clambered up a ladder to the second floor of the house and looted their rooms of $1900 cash and three cigarette cases but scorned $10,000 worth of jewels.

DUNCAN WINS 7-3 GAME IN DENVER MEET

DENVER, July 31 (AP)—Leslie Munns, former Brooklyn Dodger right-hander, pitched six-hit, 14-strikeout ball as the Duncan, Okla., Fallburtons, national semi-pro tournament champions, defeated Minnesota Mines of Empire, Colo., 7 to 3, in a fast game today.

The Pampa Oilers, with "Slowing Sammie" Baugh wielding an effective stick, walloped Kansas City Union Pacific, 15 to 6, in the second game of a Denver Post tournament doubleheader. The nightcap was called after seven innings.

Today's games ended the first round with eight teams on the victory side—three from Oklahoma, two from Texas, one each from Colorado and Illinois and the negro all-stars. The eight losers will be matched one against another with a second defeat bringing elimination.

Rogers Hornsby's Denver Bay Refiners will clash with Grover Cleveland Alexander's Springfield, Ill., team in the first game of tomorrow's two game program. The Pampa batsmen pounded Clarence Hand, Kansas City left-hander, for 20 hits, including four doubles, three triples and a home run by Dutch Prather with one man on in the sixth.

Prather had a big day, notching four hits and a walk in five times up, and driving in five runs. Baugh, ex-Texas Christian forward passing star who played shortstop for the Oilers, connected for three hits, including a three bagger, and scored three runs.

Mills, Pampa pitcher, allowed only four hits until his mates had piled up a big lead.

Phillips Beats Stanolind 4-3

Phillips got revenge on Stanolind, who knocked them out of an Industrial league playoff berth last week, by taking a 4 to 3 thriller at Road Runner park last night in a Pampa-District softball tournament fixture. Smith Brothers of McLean won a 19 to 12 slugfest from Coltezo "B" of LeFors in the other game.

Dewey and Chewning were nicked for 6 hits while Chisum allowed only four. Two of them, however, were home runs by J. Dewey and Haddock. Chisum and Worley bagged two hits each for Stanolind.

Smith Brothers got their runs on 17 hits off Phillips while Coltezo worked Mantooth for 12. McLean hitters blasted four home runs. McMullen was their big hitter with four runs and four hits, one a homer and two doubles, on four times at bat.

No information could be learned regarding games at Recreational park up to midnight. The operator of the score book and the score book could not be located.

CROONING QUARTERBACK TO WED VERNON GIRL

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 31 (AP)—Lloyd Russell, youthful shortstop for the Knoxville Smokies, said today he and Mary Wilson of Vernon, Texas, will be married here next Saturday.

Russell, who was left behind with a badly spiked right arm when the Smokies went to Little Rock Thursday, said he and Miss Wilson, his "college sweetheart," had planned to be married in Little Rock.

Known as the "crooning quarterback" during his football days at Baylor University in Waco, Tex., Russell was sent to the Knoxville club by the Cleveland Indians after finishing his college work.

He also said he would return to Baylor this fall to coach the freshman football team.

MISSISSIPPIS TO SEE FRONTIER FIESTA

China's Finest Into Field Against Japs

Crack troops of China's new well-trained, well-equipped army went into action against the Japanese as sporadic battles flared into war in the Peiping sector. Units, such as that shown above drilling within the shadow of the Tartar wall of the ancient capital, are China's hope against further division of her territory in the newest Sino-Japanese crisis.

Japanese Troops Exult After Chinese Clash

Japanese troops, in full battle equipment, are shown here in an exultant and jubilant mood after one of the numerous clashes with Chinese troops which have occurred along the line from Tientsin to Peiping. This is one of the first such pictures to reach the United States since the beginning of active friction in the present North China crisis.

JAPS CONTINUE MASS BOMBING

TIENSIN, July 31 (AP)—The Japanese army announced today its air force had carried battle against the Chinese further southward with the bombing of troop concentrations at Paotingfu, 85 miles southwest of Peiping.

The bombing of Paotingfu carried the zone of hostilities well beyond the Peiping-Tientsin area, over which the Japanese claimed to have established almost complete military domination, with only minor mopping up operations continuing.

Japanese army spokesmen said their troops controlled all of Hopeh province north of a line from Tangku on the seacoast, running through Tientsin and thence generally following the railway west-northwest to beyond Peiping.

Japanese units were reported in control of part of the Peiping-Suiyuan railway, outlet for Mongolia and China's northwest.

Japanese infantry, having captured the important railway town of Changsientin, 15 miles from Peiping on the west bank of the Yungting river, were reported to have advanced seven miles further to Liang-siang.

The conquests of the last few days have placed the Japanese army astride of China's two main north-south railways and in control of a section of the Peiping-Suiyuan link with the northwest.

For the third day Japanese artillery pounded native sections of Tientsin as the effort went on to drive all armed Chinese out of the area around the Railway stations.

Rickey Thinks He Knows What Ails Dean's Pitching

St. LOUIS, July 31 (AP)—General Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals turned practical psychology on Paul Dean today.

"I'll let you pitch five balls to me," Rickey suggested to young Dean during a practice session, "and I'll catch you with my bare hands. If I drop more than one of the five, I'll give you $100. If I catch four of the five, you give me $100."

In other words Rickey offered to wager Paul couldn't "burn him out." But the idea didn't work—Paul explained he didn't want to throw that hard.

"He has not yet shown the speed that was his when he was a great pitcher, but I think he can throw with his old speed whenever he gets back his confidence," Rickey added.

PLENTY VERSUS MORE

There probably has been more confusion in the last few years on the word 'plenty' than any other word in the English language.

Those people who have produced the most are sure that there is no possibility, even in the distant future, of there ever being plenty, produced for all. It is true that there possibly could be plenty of food and shelter produced for the present population to keep people from suffering.

It is only natural when people believe that there is plenty, or could be plenty, to demand the comforts of life. And why not? If there could be plenty, then there is someone to blame for there not being plenty and there should be some method devised by those who do not have what they regard as plenty to force the standing in their way to desist and let them have plenty.

It is true that there could be a great deal more of the comforts of life. If things were managed properly and properly distributed, but there is no reasonable ground for belief that there could be plenty of all the comforts of life—plenty of beauty, plenty of art, plenty of culture, plenty of leisure, plenty of understanding, plenty of intelligence. It is simply absurd to make a statement that there could be plenty; especially of the finer things of life.

Then for any man or group of men to be spreading the erroneous idea that this could be a land of plenty, is to do about as great harm as can be done. This is true because, as stated above, it causes discontent and a feeling of envy and hate which causes people to blame their fellowman for something that cannot be remedied. We can have more but we cannot have plenty for all.

How is it possible for people to be living in the most comfortable, beautiful and pleasant places on the earth? The great mass of people will have to live in places that are not so beautiful and not so comfortable as to tempt them. If we had plenty, all the people could live in the most beautiful and comfortable spots of the earth.

Every good citizen should challenge the careless, loose talking of people when they say that there could be plenty if things were properly managed. It shows that the person who makes such statements has not thought things through; has not really made an analysis of how our wants increase much more rapidly than our ability to supply these wants increases.

Washington Letter

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Right at the time congress was so embroiled over the court issue a situation developed in the Kentucky court of appeals which for sheer novelty far outdistanced the proposal to put "new blood" on the U. S. Supreme Court. Yet it made few national headlines. Kentucky became only mildly excited.

Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler recently sponsored a state income tax law which was designed, among other things, to tax state office holders. It was promptly upheld by state district courts.

In the course of time the test came on the tax was carried to the circuit court of appeals, the highest court in Kentucky. It was a ticklish situation for the court, since the members themselves are salaried state officials, subject to such a tax.

Now there is precedent for courts to act on questions of public policy vitally affecting the members. State judges have been called upon to decide the validity of acts affecting the method of their election to office.

Judges have upheld or rejected various sales taxes, which, of course, apply to them with the same force as to others. In turn, courts have upheld the validity of income tax laws which tax the general public while exempting judges and other public officials.

Nevertheless the Kentucky court considered it unwise this time to pass on an act affecting its own members' salaries. Instead, the court advised the governor to appoint a special court of rank equal to the court of appeals to give the final ruling on the income tax.

That course was taken by the governor. He appointed a substitute court of appeals to pass

Not being up on our wrestling, we hadn't noticed that there had been no Greeks doing grunt duty out at Mr. Chambers' House of Horrors. . . . We will have to agree that Mr. Totalloss' point is well-taken in some respects, although, likely as not he is ad-libbing for some wrestler he hopes to slide in on a local card so that he may get in on his sponge-eared friend's earnings, if any. . . . But, the Greek boys do have something when it comes to wrestling. . . . From here on out, Mr. Totalloss, you'll have to talk with Mr. Chambers.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

More than 1,000 gallons of home brew were destroyed in a raid in the oil fields south of Pampa. Some of the persons said they did not know it was against the law to make the ale.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Eight negro women and two negro men had been arrested for drunkenness and vagrancy. All pleaded innocence, but one woman admitted she chased another around the house with a revolver.

on the tax. Its members were not subject to approval by the state senate. They were to serve only one purpose—to decide the validity of the tax.

Among the judges named by Governor Chandler were several who had been in state employ in one capacity or another, one as special counsel in the attorney general's office.

They upheld the constitutionality of the tax.

The sequel is that quite a number of people of Kentucky could not keep up with the pace, and decided to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. Salaries of the U. S. Supreme Court are paid only in part by Kentucky, and that part so indirectly that the state tax won't affect the members.

The attorney petitioning the appeal is Charles I. Dawson, who was a federal district judge in Kentucky when President Roosevelt came into office. He spent a year or two battling down New Deal laws with almost unbroken regularity. A year or so ago he resigned to take up private practice.

NEW YORK—Down the aisle and into the orchestra pit with Ted Lewis:

"Well, well, back on Broadway, after four years. . . . And it doesn't mean a squashed fig, really. . . . I was dying to get back to town, but I hadn't unpacked before I was ready to leave again. . . . That's what 30 years of sleeper-jumping does to you. I suppose. . . . You jump from town to town, you meet nice people, then you get away from them and want to go back.

"Out there it's different, no flueys and phoney—why, let me tell you a right now that out in San Antonio the people are taking the afternoon breeze, children are playing in the shady parks, and the doves are whistling home to the trees.

"When I think of Indianapolis, I think of the Old Soldiers' monument, and of James Whitcomb Riley, my favorite poet. . . .

"In Omaha I played golf with E. J. Brandies. . . . E. J. owns the town on the seventh green I said, 'E. J., when are you going to give Omaha back to Omaha?' . . . That startled him so much that he sliced a drive into the rough, and I won the match.

"Miami gets me excited because of the hours I battled with those leaping, tackle-smashing swordfish. I've never landed one, but I bet you I get one this winter. . . . I've got a fishing date right now for February with Mayor Fossey.

"When I think of Circleville, Ohio, where I was born, I think of Columbus, a suburb of Circleville. . . . You can make a lot of money in those suburbs, which enables you to return to the city, I mean Circleville, and acquire your mother around. . . . In San Diego I met a couple of sailors and they turned out to be Circleville boys grown up and seeing the world.

"I like Minneapolis because Detective Cooch always gets me a police badge when I go there. . . . In Oakland, Calif., I had plenty of fun dancing at the Athletic Club after playing a show at that beautiful theater there where the pictures of the stars are inlaid in the tile.

"I wouldn't dream of going to Texas without hopping down to Galveston and drowsing awhile by the old sea wall. . . . Fort Worth is a great place for livestock auctions. . . . I saw them trade away 500 mules one morning. . . . One day in Portland, Ore., a drummer came up and shook hands. . . . We became friends and have remained so for 18 years. . . . You know him; too; his name is George Olsen.

"That's the way it is—here today and gone tonight. . . . We'll be on the Astor roof here a month, and then I'm off again. . . . Where to? . . . What does it matter? . . . Any of those towns I've mentioned, and a thousand others, will suit me fine. . . . I never was much struck at being a New Yorker anyway."

Boy's Saving Bank In Car's Gas Tank BLACKSHEAR, Ga., July 31 (AP)—A youth told his parents he was saving money for the tobacco season. He didn't reveal where he was depositing it. Today the family car refused to work. Cause—$51.50 in change in the gas tank, most of it in 50-cent pieces. The United States exported 6,702,000 bales of cotton in 1936.

Beverly Mae, the filly that broke her right leg at the shoulder during the horse races, has perked up since her owner removed her to the stables at the park. She can lay down and get up; she hobbles around, and the dull pain in her dark, lovely eyes is flecked by sparks of the old fire. . . . This one did not mean to insinuate four days ago that Beverly Mae had not been given the best care her owner could give her. Nobody ever loved a horse more or cared for one more tenderly and solicitously than Mr. Shellabarger, her owner. She was kept in a trailer and was held suspended in a swing to allow the fracture to knit together. Mr. Shellabarger bought her through sympathy after she had been at the race track two days. The trailer was padded, and an electric fan was turned on her every night. Three nights straight her owner sat up with her all night. Dr. Werrell came out to give her hypodermics. Quarts of liniment were rubbed on her. Her shoes were taken off and she didn't even feel it.

Book a Day

By BRUCE CATTON

Once in a great while comes the book that carries you behind the scenes in that most poignant of human experiences—a murder trial. Such a book was "We Who Are About to Die," David Lammson's story of his conviction and eight months in the Condemned Row of San Quentin after he was sentenced to hang for the murder of his wife. Lammson's conviction was reversed and after two more trials he gained his freedom. Now he comes forth with a new book in the same vein as his first, "Whirlpool," (Scribner's Sons, $2.50).

"Whirlpool" is the story of Hannibal Norfolk, who struck down his brother in a fit of jealous anger when he discovered him with his wife alone at the rear of their little farm. Subsequently the brother disappeared and three years later a skeleton was found on the same farm. So Hannibal Norfolk was tried for murder.

Certainly there has been no more frank indictment of small-town politics and small-town trial by jury than this book. As in "We Who Are About to Die," Lammson portrays the sensations of an innocent man in the death house, the psychology of the victim and the devious workings of the net of circumstantial evidence.

One feels, on the whole, that Lammson has repeated a great deal here and the effect is nullified somewhat by the earlier book, a greater story simply because it was essentially fact. But "Whirlpool" is no less vivid and it is decidedly readable.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GILDSTON for New York Academy of Medicine

It is not certain that we have isolated all of the vitamins that are of importance in human life. Nor is it certain that we know all we should know about any one of the vitamins already isolated.

We know that the fatty acids contain some substances necessary to health and life and that a deficiency in these substances may result in certain symptoms related to the skin, in hemorrhage and in similar conditions.

One of these particularly is the substance known as linoleic acid, which has also been called vitamin F. Fortunately this vitamin is present in milk and milk products, eggs, the leafy vegetables, olive oil and similar oils, and is therefore not likely to be missed in most well-balanced diets.

We know that there are 12 mineral elements at least that are necessary for the normal human being. They include calcium, chlorine, copper, iodine, iron, magnesium, manganese, phosphorus, potassium, sodium, sulfur and zinc. Other elements as well are sometimes found in the body, but whether their appearance is necessary has not yet been determined.

We know that the human body has to have oxygen and water. Here again however the effect is not like that of the vitamins.

We know that the human being must have in his diet some of the anti-anemic factor, which is found in the liver, in the kidney, and in the wall of the stomach. We do not know, however, the exact nature of this anti-anemic factor.

We know merely that when people have pernicious anemia that this factor seems to be absent from their bodies and the giving of this factor in the form of a medicine, an improvement in the formation of red blood cells and thereby provides a control of the anemic condition.

Because our knowledge of the vitamins is only beginning to be developed and because the public has not been fully informed concerning these substances, many promoters endeavor to fool people by making claims about new vitamins and urging people to use, internally or externally, preparations alleged to contain these new vitamins.

Nowadays one hears of soaps, creams, ointments and similar materials said to be enhanced by the content of some new vitamin, when actually there is no vitamin present. Furthermore, there is no evidence that any of these vitamins will be absorbed through the skin, or that they will affect the body in any way when applied in this manner. Before spending money on vitamins, be sure, first of all, that they are recognized as vitamins; second, that they are actually in the preparation you buy in the quantity necessary to have an effect.

Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—The Massachusetts legislator who wants to make actors and entertainers use their right names has something there. . . . Only in Hollywood some of us wish there were a law to enforce name changes in certain cases. . . . Personally I think Olivia de Havilland would get farther with half as many syllables. . . . I always get a callous on the typing finger when I have to spell it out. . . . And Sonja Henie is famous in spite of it. . . . And Gale Sondergaard. . . . But on the other hand, how far would Apollonia Chaluppe have gone if she hadn't bobbed it to Pola Negri? Or Lucille Langhanke (Mary Astor) or Violet Krathoff (Marion Marsh) or that Gustafson girl from Sweden? . . . Felt a bit and began tugging at his line, drew it in slowly, leaned far out. . . . Appeared on the surface the face of a "sheephead" fish. . . . Lane yelled. . . . "He's made up to play a part!" and threw his catch back.

Martini Preferred Romance department: Elissa Landi is a frequent visitor to the Nino Martini set. . . . Wayne Morris is calling up Alice Faye. . . . One of the town's legends is that all the restaurants are full of beautiful waitresses. . . . But you don't find the dance directors recruiting their choruses on the march from the kitchens and it's been a long time since a restaurant has had a waitress for stardom, even in a publicity yarn.

Fashions-for-men notes: Lloyd Bacon directing in a brown-checked coat, coral shirt, flowered necktie. . . . Sidney Lanfield juggling in a yellow suit with polka-dot shirt. . . . But Boris Morros still holds the record for sarorial splash.

Bedlam On the Lot Things looked serious for a while on the 20th Century lot the other day. . . . Cantor and "All Baba" were in a row with polka-dot shirt, adjoining the exterior set of "In Old Chicago," and between the two in an old-fashioned wooden stage, unproofed for sound, was Shirley Temple's "Heidi." . . . The camels of "All Baba" would sound off when old Chicago wanted silence, and between the two of them Heidi got no peace. . . . Alvan Dwan, with Temple in tow, threatened to knock off for the day unless things were done about it. . . . The studio cops were helpless, caught between three directors. . . . So the studio manager went down in person, and worked the sets in shifts.

FOUR REVOLTS AGAINST REBS NOW CLAIMED

Mainly About People

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish border, July 31 (AP)—The Spanish government asserted today revolts had broken out at four points in insurgent-held territory.

The reports brought emphatic denials from the headquarters of Generalissimo Francisco Franco. Government communiques declared outbreaks occurred at the old southern city of Granada, on the Santander front in the north and at the southern coastal cities of Malaga and Motril.

Two thousand government soldiers surrendered near Epiepi, in southern Cordoba province, while Franco's troops in eastern Spain crossed the border of Cuenca province in their march southward toward the Madrid-Valencia highway, the link between the old and new seats of government.

Government sources gave these accounts of the Granada revolt: Spanish insurgent soldiers in Granada rebelled when they were told to move out of their barracks to make place for Italians fighting for Franco and when Italian officers were placed in high positions. Bombs were loosed within the city to crush the uprising.

On Madrid's very edge insurgents clung to the positions they have held since November. The government offensive to the west, designed in part to dislodge them, had failed in that.

WAGE-AND-HOUR BILL PROVISIONS LIMITED

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Should the House quickly pass the administration's wage and hour bill, considerable time may elapse before the man-in-the street feels its effect.

In the first place, 120 days must elapse before any wage or hour order could become effective.

Even then, some time probably would be required for the proposed labor standards board to study each industry and establish appropriate minimum wages and maximum hours. Until the board has made such a study and issued an order for each industry, there will be no compulsory increase in wages or reduction in hours.

Before issuing any order, the board would be required to hold a public hearing and consult an employer-employee committee representing the affected industry.

Because of various exemptions and because the board could deal only with workers receiving 40 cents an hour or less or working more than 40 hours a week, many workers will feel no direct effect even when the bill is in full operation.

It also would not directly affect any farmer worker or any one employed in a purely local business.

Employment of children in industries operating in interstate commerce would become illegal 120 days after the bill becomes law.

FOR WILL SPEAK FOR MONUMENT DEDICATION

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—President Roosevelt will join President LeBrun of France tomorrow in dedicating America's monument on the French soil to the soldiers of the two nations who fell in the Meuse-Argonne offensive of the World War.

The memorial, the first of 11 battle monuments to be erected in Europe to honor the dead of the world war, is at Montfaucon, France, overlooking the area over which approximately 1,000,000 American troops fought in the great drive which finally ended the war.

Both President Roosevelt's address and those of the speakers in France will be broadcast in this country and Europe over an international radio network.

The program in America will be over WJZ-NBC and WABC-CBS at 8 a. m. central standard time.

With President Roosevelt on board the Potomac was a group of friends, including Governor Murphy of Michigan, who had been mentioned in speculation over the Supreme Court vacancy.

MRS. WORLEY EULOGIZED BY TOM BRABHAM

A beautiful bronze and silver casket, banked with hundreds of floral offerings, was the resting place of Mrs. Phebe A. Worley, 79, as friends gathered in First Methodist church Friday afternoon to hear Dr. Tom W. Brabham, president of McMurry college, Abilene, and Dr. Will C. House, pastor, pay tribute to her useful life.

"I think of her as three persons, the pioneer, the community builder and the church and character builder," Dr. Brabham said. "A monument should be erected to the pioneers who made everything we have possible and Mrs. Worley was one of those pioneers."

"Some of Pampa's largest buildings tell the story of her building," he said. "Most of them were constructed during the depression when men were out of work. And in the building contract would be found a clause that local labor was to be used wherever possible."

"She helped build beautiful Methodist church, she constructed Worley hospital and I never had to ask for money for a worthy cause, I just told her the needs of the church and she wrote a check."

said Dr. Brabham, a former pastor. Music was by the Methodist church choir and a male quartet.

Following services the remains were taken to Amarillo where burial was in Llano cemetery.

Surviving Mrs. Worley are two daughters, nine grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, and a brother.

Senate Refuses to Add Lynching Bill To Labor Act

WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—The senate refused again today to attach the Wagner-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill to another piece of legislation.

By a vote of 48 to 39, virtually the same margin recorded earlier this week, it defeated a proposal by Senator Copeland (D-N.Y.) to add it as an amendment to the wage-hour bill.

Copeland told newsmen later that the action meant the bill had "no chance" for enactment as separate legislation. Other champions were more optimistic, however, and planned to bring the proposal up again at the first opportunity.

NO AGENCY CREATED TO HANDLE TENANT BILL

DALLAS, July 31 (AP)—Tenant farmers anxious to obtain loans under the recently enacted Bankhead-Jones bill for buying of farming lands were advised today by the resettlement administration that no agency has been created to handle the new activities.

Paul V. Maris, acting for the regional director, said "it is useless for farmers to write or call upon the administration at this time."

"The bill provides for a farmers home corporation to carry out provisions of the act," Maris said. "Until this corporation is set up and has been established its own personnel or has designated some agency of the Department of Agriculture to execute this program, it will be impossible to refer farmers to anyone who has any authority to give them detailed information."

It was pointed out however, that the Resettlement Administration is taking applications from would-be purchasers for a few farms which already have been put under construction or completed. A hearing will be held Monday and Tuesday at McGregor, McLennan county, to hear applicants for 18 farms of approximately 100 acres each on which buildings have been completed.

Later in the summer a hearing will be held for purchasers of 64 farms at the Sam Houston farms, Harris county, on which bids for construction of buildings were received last Thursday.

15 Stock Cars To Race Today

Fifteen cars had entered up to last night and more were expected from nearby cities and from two or three towns in Oklahoma for the 100-mile stock car race at recreational park track this afternoon.

Time trials will start at 1 o'clock with the 12 speediest cars in the trials competing in the 100-lap race. The 100-mile grind will begin at 3 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for both trials and race.

"The track will be in excellent condition," declared Captain Billy Sink, former Hell-Driver ace, who is staging the race. "The city grader will clear the track of loose soil in the morning, leaving a hard, even track for the boys."

Various types and colors of flags will be used by seconds and timers during the race. Each has a meaning which the drivers must know to follow instructions. Here are the flag meanings: Green flag—start; coast is clear. Yellow flag—Caution; watch out for conditions ahead. Hold position. Red flag—Stop. Race is halted. White flag—Stop next lap for consultation to driver designated.

Orange flag with blue circular center—Competitor is trying to overtake you. King blue flag—You are entering your last lap. Checkered flag—You have finished.

Names of judges of the race will not be announced until post time. They will be three local men. Individual checkers will keep track of each car in the race so that any minute of the grind the standing of each car will be available.

Only standard model stock cars can be used in the race. Entries to date have Ford leading the list with Chevrolets and Pontiacs next.

Captain Sink said that should rain fall before post time, that it would make a lot of moisture to necessitate calling off of the race. He declared that he could take a few cars and pack down the track in an hour's time.

Among the entries from Tampa are Larry Eagan, Albert Bearden, Wesley Lewis, W. M. McCovey, Grover Lewis, L. D. Hartwell, G. T. Loran, Hill Auto Salvage, Henry Kolb, and others.

DIMAGGIO HITS 30th

NEW YORK, July 31 (AP)—Despite Joe Dimaggio's 29th and 30th homers, the latter of which came with two out and two aboard in the ninth inning to tie the score, the St. Louis Browns defeated the Yankees 9 to 6 today on Sam West's circuit blow with two on base in the tenth inning.

'IRON LUNG' PRISONER OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP)—Fred B. Snite, Jr. celebrated his 27th birthday today as a "very cheerful" prisoner in the "iron lung" which has kept him alive for 16 months.

The only guests, in addition to members of the family, were the Chinese nurses who accompanied the young snite on his long journey from Peiping, China. The youth, then 25, was stricken with infantile paralysis while on a vacation trip in the Orient.

The nurses shared Snite's birthday cake, gaily decorated with candles which his father lighted, and ice cream.

One of the youth's pleasures, his father said, has been placing small wagers on horses.

The young man likes to read and play bridge, with a nurse handling the cards. He also plays chess with his father.

Paralyzed from the neck down and encased in a large barrel shaped machine which helps him breathe, young Snite reads by having the book placed on a glass over his head and looking straight toward the ceiling.

IN THE NATIONAL

CUBS STRETCH LEAD

CHICAGO, July 31 (AP)—The Cubs stretched their National League lead to five full games today by whipping the New York Giants 7 to 1 behind the great pitching of Tex Carleton.

While the Cubs were landing on Carl Hubbell for 12 hits to make it two in a row over the second-place New Yorks, Carleton allowed only three safeties.

So perfect was his flinging that not a Giant batsman reached base from the first inning, when Jojo Moore doubled, until the ninth, when he eased up and Blondy Ryan and Burgess Whitehead hit two baggers to give the Giants their only run.

From the second through the eighth the Giants went down one-two-three, and were so completely baffled by Carleton's elbowing that only two balls in that seven-inning stretch were hit out of the infield—a pair of flies in the fifth inning. Otherwise, the Giants were helpless.

New York ... 000 000 001-1 3 1
Chicago ... 010 030 12x-7 12 0
Hubbell and Danning; Carleton and Harnett.

MAYO'S SINGLE WINS

PITTSBURGH, July 31 (AP)—Pinch hitter Eddie Mayo came through "in the clutch" today and hammered out a single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to give the Boston Bees a 9-7 victory over the Pirates. First baseman Elbert Fletcher of the Bees rapped a circuit clout in the third with three on base.

Boston ... 104 000 022-9 13 2
Pittsburgh ... 203 200 000-7 9 0
Fette, Lanning, Gabler, Smith, Hutchinson and Mueller; Bowman, Weaver, Brown, Swift and Todd.

CARDS WIN FIRST

ST. LOUIS, July 31 (AP)—The Cardinals nosed out the Dodgers 4 to 3 in their series opener today as old Jesse Haines stopped the Brooklyn Braves with tight pitching with men on base. He was touched for a dozen hits, compared to the eight the Cards collected off Fred Fitzsimmons.

PHILS WIN SLUGGEST

CINCINNATI, July 31 (AP)—Knocking Bill Hallahan from the box with a five-run spurge in the fourth inning, Philadelphia turned loose a barrage of extra-base blows today and defeated the Cincinnati Reds 10 to 8.

no longer news. Well, the sun shines every day, so that isn't news; it falls to rain every, so that isn't news.

So, if you can tell me what's news about the weather—50,000,000 Americans notwithstanding—I'd like to hear about it.

Anyway, I have been told there is nothing new under the sun, so I guess I may as well get out of the news business and open a peanut stand.

WHEN IN DOUBT THEY SEND FOR MAYOR HUMPHREY

PATCH GROVE, Wis., (AP) — If it is a civic problem, a birth, a family fight, illness or approaching death, the residents of Patch Grove have one solution — "Call Mrs. Humphrey."

Mrs. Evert Humphrey is about everything to Patch Grove. She is serving her fourth term as mayor; as practical nurse she has attended the birth of most of the residents for two generations; she has settled squabbles and listened to the last words of the dying.

"I help them into the world, try to make them behave while they are here and help them out, Mrs. Humphrey says.

A new couple moved into Patch Grove recently. Neighbors heard them fighting and called Mayor Humphrey. She waded right in, told the husband "you can't beat your wife in this town while I am mayor," and that was that.

Mrs. Humphrey has just celebrated her 35th wedding anniversary. She serves on the county board of supervisors, is secretary of the local parent-teacher organization and runs a boarding house.

Snake Story BIXBY, Okla., July 31 (AP)—A rattlesnake poked its head out of a dresser drawer in the M. A. Combs farm home near here when ten-year-old Imogene Combs opened the drawer. The child screamed and ran to her mother. The father and others were called, gingerly carried the drawer outdoors and killed the snake with a hoe.

First mentioned in the will is the Presbyterian Orphans Home, at Amarillo, to be paid $5,000 within the next year. To each child and grandchild of her deceased son, Sam B. Worley, Mrs. Worley gave $2,000.

Marion Blasigame, for many years a worker on the Worley ranch, is bequeathed $25 a month as long as he lives and permission to live in the ranch home. Mrs. Minnie Mahan, Mrs. Worley's housekeeper, is to get $2,000 for faithful service.

A similar amount also goes to Crawford Brewer, another faithful worker at the ranch.

Mrs. J. S. Blair, next-door neighbor of Mrs. Worley in Amarillo, to receive $25 a month as long as she lives.

In addition to the trust fund arrangement for Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Reynolds, the daughters, and the immediate payment of $15,000 to each of them, Mrs. Carter also is bequeathed the home now occupied by her.

Grandchildren Get Share Ruth Reynolds, a granddaughter, receives $5,000. To Henry Reynolds, a grandson, is bequeathed the home in which he lives. Noel Reynolds and Frank Carter, grandsons, are released of all indebtedness, and Wiley, Albert and Burton Reynolds, grandsons, each is bequeathed $5,000 payable to each at the age of 21 years.

Mrs. Worley's largest diamond ring is bequeathed to her granddaughter, Ruth Reynolds and the remainder of her diamonds are left to her two daughters, Amanda Reynolds and Inez Carter, jointly, as well as all of her personal wearing apparel.

Life estate in four sections of oil and gas lands in Gray county are bequeathed to Albert Combs, exclusive of the mineral rights.

At the termination of the ten-year trusts for the two daughters, the executors of the will are directed to transfer to each of the daughters the property included in the trusts, and if they are not living, it is to go to their children.

For the purpose of more clearly setting forth the property owned by Mrs. Worley, she gives the following general description of the principal part of her estate:

Bank deposits, approximately $170,000; certificate of deposit, $50,000; approximately 800 head of cattle, farm machinery and equipment, office furniture and equipment, and various notes receivable, aggregating approximately $106,000; various stocks and bonds, real estate in Pampa and Amarillo; oil, gas and ranch lands in Gray and Roberts counties, as well as diamonds set in rings and earrings and other items not listed.

Chairman Ralph H. Smith, youthful Allegheny county judge, opened a five-day series of hearings in Philadelphia with this question: "Are gasoline prices in Pennsylvania fixed in a game of blind man's bluff or one of follow the leader?"

Yeager told the commission it was a case of follow the leader. And the leader, he said, was Atlantic.

A parade of 75 witnesses ranging from oil company presidents to operators of individual service stations agreed, with few exceptions, that this was true.

Two independent dealers told the commission that the price in Philadelphia was fixed by Albert A. Fish, president of the Independent Oil Dealers Association.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

When the spirit falls and dinner looms ahead as an insuperable task, try something that seems brand new. For those days of despair, here is a dinner suggestion full of inspiration. It consists of Veal Pie with Cheese Biscuit Crust, Tomato Aspic Salad with Celery and Horseradish Dressing, Green Peas and a simple dessert of fresh pears, a mild cheese and coffee.

Veal Pie with Cheese Biscuit Crust (Serves 8)
One-half cup sliced green pepper, 2 slices onion, 3 tablespoons butter, 6 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 3 cups milk, 2 cups cooked veal cut in fairly large strips, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Melt butter, add green pepper and onion and cook until soft. Add flour and stir until well blended. Add salt; add milk slowly, stirring constantly, until thick and smooth. Bring to boil and boil 2 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into large baking dish and cover with Cheese Biscuits.

Tomato Aspic Salad with Celery and Horseradish Dressing (Serves 6)
Two cups flour, 4 teaspoons tartar baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 3-4 cup milk, or half milk and half water, few grains cayenne, 1 cup grated cheese. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and cayenne; add shortening and mix in thoroughly with fork. Add cheese; mix well. Add liquid to make soft dough. Roll out on floured board and toss lightly until outside looks smooth. Roll out 1-2 inch thick. Cut with small floured biscuit cutter. Place biscuits on top of creamed mixture in baking dish. Bake in hot oven at 450 degrees F. for about 30 minutes until browned.

Celery and Horseradish Dressing (Serves 6)
Three-quarters cup mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons chopped celery, 2 teaspoons horseradish. Heat 1 cup tomato juice to boiling. Pour over salad gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add 1 cup cold tomato juice. Stir again. Pour into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold and serve on lettuce with Celery and Horseradish Dressing.

Special Fashion Newscasts To Be Aired by KPND

Daily cables from the Paris fashion salons will be added to Betty Dunbar's KPND newscast "For Women Only" at 8:45 every day, beginning Monday. It was announced last night by Sid Patterson, station manager. Mrs. Dunbar's program has been a popular feature over KPND under the title of "Shopping with Sue." Just recently the "News for Women Only" was made a feature of the broadcast and with the addition of the Transradio fashion news from Paris, this program is expected to carry an exceptional appeal to women listeners. The news will be cabled direct from five Parisian fashion shows to be held daily in five different salons this week. After the Paris showings, two Transradio style reporters plan to remain a short time to report fashion innovations at Deauville and other famous resorts. This news at 8:30 will be included on Mrs. Dunbar's daily newscast.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES
Jehovah's Witnesses meet Sunday evening in the commissioners' room at the city hall. Beginning at 8 p. m. will be a Bible lesson on the subject of modern religious racketeers and racketeers, based on the text found at Jer. 5-25-31. "For among my people are found wicked men: they lay wait, as he that setteth snares; they set a trap, they catch men. As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit; therefore they become great, and waxen rich."

Don't Dress For Dinner

Molyneux's "don't dress for dinner" gown is black crepe with vestee and pockets of silver lame embroidered with rhinestones. The chorister cap is trimmed with the same type of embroidery and a glamorous net veil.

PARIS—Midsummer . . . Bosky shadows in the Bois . . . Blazing sunlight along the Champs Elysees . . . Cafe terraces bright with sheers . . . coolest things—in costumes as well as glasses. Fashion creators are busy behind locked doors, frenziedly working with shears, tapes, materials . . . Once in a while a whisper of the autumn styles-to-come leaks out through a key-hole . . . Alas, how fleeting, how inconstant is the mode! So short a time ago, "Wallis blue" was everywhere. Now it is as conspicuous by its absence as the lovely Duchess herself. As fashionable Chantilly ritziest of race meetings near Paris, the very "dernier cri" was the white crepe dress. Among the arbiters of style who wore it were Madame Martinez de Hoz, Princesse de Faucigny-Lucinge, Madame Revel, Madame Achille Fould. Prints are conservative. Vionnet's bias-cut dresses have that inhibiting touch in the form of drawthread work or expert "façonnage" rather full umbrella skirts and elbow-length full sleeves, some with dropped shoulders. Prints are very conservative, mainly small designs in white on black or vice versa. Polka and other dots follow the same rule, with quite a few navy dotted in white sunbonnets and a good deal of black and white. Flower prints discreet, though multi-colored and in crepon rather than crepe de chine. White suits, whether in silk or linen, are completed by black silk net or lace blouses and black or black-trimmed hats. The triumph of the wide-brimmed hat is definitely established. Smaller varieties divide between flower and ostrich-feather trims. Very few trailing frocks of the "garden-party" persuasion. Those which graced the beautiful race-meetings were much more tailored than in former years and seldom longer than just below the ankles. Latest craze: Lunching and dining at the Paris Exposition's Italian restaurant, in the Italian Pavilion, frocks, or suits, completed by sash-like hats, with high-flying trims turned up on one side. Dinner is preface for the new an-

P-TA WILL AID IN CHILD WORK

"One of the goals for which the organized parents and teachers of Texas had worked a long time was realized in 1931 when the 42nd Legislature passed a bill creating the Division of Child Welfare in the State Board of Control," said Mrs. M. A. Taylor, of Bonham, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. "It is our pleasure now to cooperate with the Division for the good of the children of the State."

Several provisions of the Social Security Act have given additional money and enlarged opportunity for the Division to serve the children of Texas. One of the Amendments to the State Constitution which the people of Texas will vote on August 23 is the one, which if passed, will afford help for the care of dependent children in their own home rather than in institutions. Letters show that parent-teacher members are eagerly supporting this amendment.

"We find, however," declared Mrs. Taylor, "that many of our members are not familiar with the work of the Division of Child Welfare and in order to make the services more generally known and to promote the work of the Division we are sending out our 200 Councils a program outline designed to be presented at a meeting early this fall which will explain and set forth the principal duties that the Division performs. "Every county in the State should avail itself of these services and use to the fullest extent every resource that the State and Federal government set up for the promotion of child welfare," declared Mrs. Taylor. "This cannot be done unless such resources are known. Therefore I am urging the members of the Parent-Teachers Association in Texas to study how every county can participate in the program of the Division of Child Welfare, and further that they see that their county does participate. This is one way that we can help along the program of child welfare in the State."

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

Several authorities claim that the normal foreshortening of the neck muscles which occurs in maturity causes wrinkles and deep lines in the throat. If this be true, then exercise to prevent the foreshortening ought to be well in order.

Anyway, foreshortening or no, one who exercises her neck is likely to have excellent head posture, a smoother throat, fewer headaches and to walk and sit more gracefully. To begin, simply set your head full backward as far as it will go, at the same time allowing mouth to open. Do not force head so far back that neck hurts or feels too uncomfortable. Now slowly close mouth and raise head, making muscles at sides of the neck do the work. Repeat 5 times.

Sit erect, and without raising chin, turn head to the right as far as it will go. Then to the left. Do this slowly at least five times a day. Practice thrusting chin forward until you feel a strain on the back of your neck, bringing it back to shoulders. Learn to relax your neck, too, sitting in a low chair with knees apart and bending forward until head hangs—rag doll fashion—between them. Swing head up and down three times, feeling a tugging pull along spinal column as you do so. Feet and swimming are excellent for neck muscles, too. Both of these summer exercises tend to make the throat more swanlike, carriage more statuesque. When you apply night cream, put generous quantities on throat, tip head backward slightly, then massage upward, using both hands. Do not, however, massage without first smoothing on cream.

come awaits you at this church. Morning service at 11 o'clock, evening service at 8 p. m. Ernest Fletcher will conduct the music in the absence of Mr. Miner, who is away in a meeting with the First Baptist church, Littlefield.

HOPKINS DEMONSTRATION CLUB SEES KITCHEN ACHIEVEMENTS

Kitchen Achievement for Hopkins Home Demonstration club was held in the home of Mrs. R. T. Davis Tuesday afternoon. Nine members answered the roll call, telling of improvements and additional equipment added to their workshop during the year. Mrs. C. P. Coult, chairman of recreational committee, gave a report on recreational activities for 1937. Mrs. B. V. Brummett, chairman of expansion committee, reported on expansion work. As pantry demonstrator, Mrs. Brummett also gave a garden and pantry report. Mrs. Jim Hopkins gave a report for the educational committee. As kitchen demonstrator, Mrs. Davis completed goals and kept her reports up to date. The refinishing of walls, floors and woodwork was the first goal. Mrs. Davis decided to re-paper walls and ceiling and repaint the woodwork of her kitchen. To make the room as light as possible she chose paper with a cream background and small green figures. Her woodwork and built-in cabinet were cleaned, sandedpapered and painted a light green. The floor is covered with linoleum which blends with the color scheme of cream and green. To make the room complete, white curtains with a touch of red in the border were hung, and a stool of proper height was added. Several members demonstrated their pet gadgets from their kitchen, one of the most interesting being an automatic clothes sprinkler shown and demonstrated by Mrs. Ernest Vanderburg. As a result of the year's work members report that five refinished walls and woodwork, four secured new refrigerators, two replaced stoves, one a cabinet, 11 purchased new equipment; seven curtained windows; two got new pantries and two improved floors. The total cost was $615. Cookies and punch were served to nine members, Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, and the following visitors: Meses. H. H. Keahey, Olla Berry, Cap Byars, J. O. Campbell, Floyd Lewis, Jr., Floyd Lewis, Sr., J. C. Richey, L. L. McCool, Thos. O. Kirby, Turner Kirby, Ross Nix, Orville Franklin, C. A. Holmes, and Misses Louise, Nan and Nell Brummett, Martha Anne Hopkins, Patricia Fae Franklin, Cleo Lee, Frankie Jean, Betty, Carol Jo, and Joyce Elaine Byars; Rochella Rhea Smith, and Gwendolyn Coult, and Don Byars.

Mrs. Morris was well-known here, where she was employed for several years as nurse in a local hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Morris' son, Jack, are now living in Santa Monica, California, where he is employed. She reported that both she and Jack are enjoying the California weather and swimming in the ocean. Sugar made from raisins is prized by Arabs for their coffee.

Cool, Attractive Frocks

Fashionables keep cool in white frocks, both of which will look cool and crisp when the thermometer has soared unbelievably high. The trimly tailored model at the left is of russet red lace with white buttons and belt. The other (right) is diagonal cross-barred net with a navy blue background. This, too, has white accents and would make an excellent travel as well as street outfit.

8 OIL WELLS AND 3 GASSERS COMPLETED IN PLAINS FIELD

TESTS SHOW POTENTIAL OF 4087 BARRELS

Eight oil wells and three gassers were completed in the Pampa field last week. Staking of new locations reached a new high for recent years when 33 first intentions to drill were filed with the local office of the Texas Railroad Commission. Stanolind led the parade with 20 of the new locations.

Previous high for any one week in at least five years was reached in April when 32 intentions to drill were filed.

Eight new wells were tested by commission employees and given an open flow potential of 4,087 barrels. Gray county registered six of the new wells which were good for 2,806 barrels. The Kewanee Oil & Gas company completed four tests during the week for total production of 1,665 barrels. Three were in the West Pampa pool with the other southwest of LeFors in central Gray county.

The Kewanee No. 12 Morgan in section 149, block 3, I&GN survey, was the field's best producer of the week, capable of making 823 barrels daily. This well is in the center of a well drilled area and continues to prove that the area is not being drained despite intensive drilling.

Three gas wells, two in Moore and one in Hutchinson county had a total open flow of 263,348,000 cubic feet with the Moore county producers each being good for more than ninety million cubic feet daily.

The 33 new locations for the week were divided as follows: Hutchinson 18; Gray 11; Moore 3; Wheeler 1.

An interesting wildcat will be the W. H. Taylor Oil company's No. 1 W. H. Taylor in the northeast quarter of section 24, block E-2, H&GN survey, Gray county. The test is on the 24,000 W. H. Taylor ranch in south central Gray county. The location is about six miles north-east of other production on the ranch and about four miles south-east of production on the Davidson ranch on the south edge of the famous Bowers pool. A producer at the particular spot would open up thousands of acres of possible oil land.

Stanolind's score of new locations is divided between Gray and Hutchinson counties with Hutchinson county getting 14 of the tests. All are in proven territory with four in the Ware leases, four on the Watkins leases and two on the Hale leases in Hutchinson county, near Stinnett and Berger. The six locations in Gray county are on the Cobb, Culler and Binkley leases in

King's Dream Of Great Ranch 'Empire' Becomes Reality In Texas Wilderness

The Kennedy ranch-home, whose ranges adjoin the King ranch, and are under its influence

The castle-like main ranch house of the vast King ranch, headquarters of the Kleberg interests.

Mrs. Henrietta King, in the days when as widow of the founder of the great King ranch, she administered its affairs.

(This is the second of four stories) telling the true western adventure story that lies behind the mystery of the King Ranch, vast Texas cattle domain where two men entered and never reappeared.

BY GORDON TURRENTINE
NEA Service Correspondent
KINGSVILLE, July 31.—Steamboat Captain Richard King wanted an empire in Texas so wide that a man riding in a straight line on a good horse couldn't cross it in a week. He wanted a home for himself and his bride, set on a land heritage which would last a hundred years or more.

He founded the great King ranch, which covers or laps into eight counties in south Texas, and whose sprawling miles would founder the strongest horse. It has lasted since 1854 and shows few serious signs of disintegration.

Runaway Goes To Sea
Richard King was born in Orange county, N. J., in 1821, found himself apprenticed at 10 to a jeweler, didn't like it and casually ran away.

He stowed away on a vessel bound for Mobile and, with something of the luck which pursued him throughout his life, happened to find one of the few kindly men who in those days went down to rough seas on rough ships. The captain liked the boy, sent him to school and later taught him the trade of steamboat captaining and how to trade shrewdly.

King fought in the Seminole War and the Mexican War and became acquainted with that unbelievably sluggish and unattractive Rio Grande, with its sagebrush borders, its quicksand and its preposterous meanderings. He met seahorers at captaining was too lonely, and one day he rode away with a young army officer named Robert E. Lee. After several days through chaparral and mesquite, road runners, armadillos, and flat-headed rattlesnakes, they came to a gently rolling country on the coastal plains. King looked about him.

"We've come far enough," he said. He bought his first land—75,000 acres—in 1852 and soon thereafter married Miss Henrietta.

Realizes 80-Year Dream
King had an idea. First he wanted a home. Then he wanted to acquire all the land from the Nueces river to the Rio Grande, quite a sizeable tract. On that land he wanted to raise cattle and become rich. He knew nothing about cattle, nothing about ranching. But he had an idea that cattle would thrive on the brushland. The flesh of animals meant nothing to him. He wanted their hides and their tallow for profit.

He built his first home in 1854 on the acreage he had bought, and he dated his empire from that time. He called his first home Santa Gertrudis and now, more than 80 years later, Santa Gertrudis stands for the largest ranch in the world, for a magnificent new breed of cattle and for a private empire.

War Brings Profits
King kept his steamboat as a sideline and made a fortune during the war between the states by running hides, tallow, and cotton into free Mexican ports where they were re-shipped by eager British vessels.

He bought more land—the highest at 5 cents an acre, the lowest at 1 cent. He fought rustlers and ticks, armed expeditions after bandits, increased his herds, hired more riders—and bought more land.

He took another steamboat captain, Milton Kennedy, into partnership and they began grading their herds, fencing the land. That partnership later broke up and now the Kennedy ranch, King-controlled, comprises Kennedy county, a kingdom within an empire. Kennedy county for years defied the state, and only within the last year has permitted a

ALL-STAR ZANNIES TO RUN RIOT AT LANORA THEATER TODAY

MARX IDIOTS SPEND 'DAY AT HORSE RACES'

The big show in town today will be the three Marx brothers in "A Day at the Races." The picture is calculated to throw the audience into hysterical laughter. The Marx zannies are the greatest idiots the world has ever seen on the screen.

At the Crown today will be the "Yodelin' Kid from Pine Ridge," starring Gene Autry, Smiley Burnett and the Tennessee Ramblers. Mountain music will be supplied plentifully.

At the Rex, Bing Crosby, Bob Burns and Martha Raye will return in "Waikiki Wedding."

"A Day at the Races" brings the Marx Brothers—Groucho, Harpo and Chico—to the Lanora screen starting today in what is described as the maddest, merriest, most amusing piece of Marxmania that these inimitable comedians have ever delivered to an expectant public.

Directed by Sam Wood, who filmed the last Marx Brothers triumph, "A Night at the Opera," the new picture boasts a stellar cast of supporting names, including Maureen O'Sullivan in the feminine lead, and Allan Jones, who sings several new songs hits, among them "On Blue Ventian aWters," "Tomorrow is another Day" and "A message from the Man in the Moon."

Also prominent in the cast are Margaret Dumont, who has taken a lot of "punishment" from the Marx lunatics in previous pictures, Leonard Ceeley, Douglas Dumbrille, Charles Trowbridge, Esther Muir, Sigfried Rumann and Robert Mid-

The plot of "A Day at the Races" which shifts from a sanitarium to a race track, introduces Groucho Marx as "Dr. Hugo Z. Haackebush," a horse doctor who takes charge of the sanitarium. Harpo Marx is seen as a jockey, and Chico as a race-track frequenter who sells good ice cream and bum tips on the races. Miss O'Sullivan plays the girl who is trying to keep the deep-eyed-villain, Douglas Dumbrille, from foreclosing on her sanitarium. Jones plays the struggling singer who owns a race horse. Miss Dumont, enacting the type who likes to talk about her operations, is all for Groucho because he has told her that she has double blood pressure. Esther Muir is the sly vampire who tries to "frame" Groucho but who gets pasted to the wall by Harpo and Chico, posing as paper-hangers.

so well-known by millions of Mulford readers that great care was necessary to find a prototype that would be acceptable to them. Boyd's choice has met with the approval of the Mulford readers as well as those of the movie fans, judging by the success of these popular Western stories.

In the eleven pictures thus far made Boyd has been called upon to contribute nearly every shade of dramatic portrayal known to the art. His present adventure, in which he and his two partners, "Windy," played by George Hayes and "Lucky," played by Russell Hayden, hunt down the killers of his younger brother and put them to rout is totally different than any which has gone before, and yet the two main characters "Hoppy" and "Windy" retain much of the personalities which they have built and in which they have become as much a part of the general pattern as the rugged scenery, fast action and stirring drama of the old West.

Midnight Taxi
The toughest man on the "quicker money" squad and the lovely queen of the counterfeit ring he was sworn to bring to justice—to these fearless, relentless enemies love comes to a halt. The romance of the running boards in "Midnight Taxi," Twentieth Century-Fox film opening Wednesday at the Rex Theatre, with Brian Donlevy and Frances Drake in the featured roles.

With his cap drooped wide open and tires screaming, Donlevy enacts a stirring portrayal as a Federal man in disguise who chases desperate trigger men and crimes into romance with Frances Drake, a lovely girl in a man's world of crime.

From the original Argosy Magazine story by Borden Chase which excited all lovers of red-blooded fiction, director Eugen Fode has created a thrilling screen play of Federal activity against counterfeiters, based on actual records of the Treasury Department.

Because they use taximen as a front in their distribution of the contraband, secret agent Donlevy becomes a convincing caddy, is installed into the organization, which is led by Alan Dinehart. Sig Rumann and Gilbert Roland, and proceeds methodically to bring them to justice. The romance which lovely Frances Drake, also a gang member, injects unexpectedly into his plans creates unusual suspense before the law wins.

"Midnight Taxi" was produced for Twentieth Century-Fox by associate producer Milton H. Feld.

LA NORA
Starring Hugh Herbert
Echoes of sprightly music, madcap fun and lively laughter have reverberated by way of movie scouts, all the way from Hollywood to this city, where the Universal musical, "Top of the Town," crystallizes these desirable qualities on the Lanora Theatre screen starting Friday.

The breezy story concerns a millionaire with a lot of batty ideas that have three strikes on them. The energetic dame, portrayed by Doris Nolan, has plenty of curves in the right places. Her charms, as well as her ideas, keep a handsome young orchestra leader swinging. Appropriately, he is a swing band leader. This role is played by the dancing wizard of Broadway stage hits and of the screen, George Murphy. In the picture, George is about to open a modern swanky night club for Doris Nolan's uncle, when Doris coaxes her uncle to let her manage the showplace.

She drives George frantic with her ideas. The moonbeam moon op-ens at last and Doris springs a mixture of high hat monkey-shines on an unsuspecting audience.

The performers include Gertrude Niesen, exotic star of the Ziegfeld Follies, recently popular on the radio; Ella Logan, another national radio favorite; comedians of note, Hugh Herbert, Gregory Rattoff, Henry Arnetta, Mischa Auer, the Three Sailors, Jason Robson, and Blue; Ray Mayer, Richard Carle and Jack Smart. The twelve-year old dancing discovery, Peggy Ryan, is also featured. There are 200 beautiful dancing girls and two choral groups numbering more than 150 singers who chant the seven song hits in the picture. Ralph Murphy directed the movie.

masters in hill-billy melody of the square dance.

Only one of them hails from Tennessee, but they're all as Southern as corn pone. They may be seen locally when Gene Autry's newest Republic western, "Yodelin' Kid from Pine Ridge," opens today at the Crown.

Dick Hartman, the lone Tennesseean from Hartman Junction. He has been singing over the air waves as early as 1922, and is now one of RCA-Victor's popular songsters.

W. J. Blair hails from Martinsville, West Virginia, where clan spirit runs high. He grew up during one of the most widely publicized feuds in Southern history.

Elmer Warren is from Mt. Airy, North Carolina, and another North Carolinian is Curly Campbell, who worked in the tobacco fields and wrote a song called "My Little Hut in Caroline."

Happy Morris comes from Carroll county, Georgia. He hoed corn, ran an elevator, and eventually turned to music as a career.

Pappy Wolf—known by his family as Kenneth L. Wolfe, was born in the blue ridges of Leechburg, Virginia. He boasts that he was able to call square dances at the tender age of seven.

With the Southland well represented in this delegation, Gene Autry has plenty of atmosphere for his backwoods role.

BURNS, RAYE RETURN
Bing Crosby, Bob Burns and Martha Raye, the trio who made "Rhythm on the Range" one of last year's outstanding comedies with music, are together again in "Waikiki Wedding," a gay comedy of love and music under tropical skies which opens today at the Rex Theatre.

Beautiful Shirley Ross, who was with Bob and Martha in "The Big Broadcast of 1937," carries the feminine romantic lead of the new comedy. The cast also includes George Barbier, Leif Erickson, Miri Rei, the Tahitian dancer who was the sensation of the Ziegfeld Follies recently; Kaula and Nalani De Clero, native Hawaiian dancing team, and over two hundred native dancers, musicians and other performers.

"Waikiki Wedding" is the story of a press agent, played by Crosby, whose job it is to keep Miss Ross from falling in love with the glamorous Hawaiian. He does a thorough job of it, falling in love with her in the process and it is when he is forced to extricate himself from an entirely synthetic Hawaii that he had created for the comedy which his spoils are reached.

Bob Burns and Martha Raye also have a romance very much like the one they had in "Rhythm on the Range," and Miss Raye sings a number of "swing" solos in the picture which has lifted her from obscurity to fame in less than eight months. The music is by Robin and Rainger, the team which provided the music for "The Big Broadcast of 1937," "College Holiday," "Champion" and other recent outstanding musical hits.

The barbaric "drum dance," once practiced by the Polynesians before making a human sacrifice, is performed by Miss Rei in "Waikiki Wedding." It is the first time a famous dance has been recorded by the motion picture camera. The story also contains a native Hawaiian wedding ceremony, performed just as it is in the South Seas.

"Waikiki Wedding" was directed by Frank Tuttle who directed "College Holiday."

Best-Dressed Woman

BY HELEN WELSHIMER COPYRIGHT, 1937, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday: Fearfully certain that Phil is in love with Marta, Judith proposes a week-end at Phil's lodge to talk things over. But words will not come to voice "that something."

Chapter III
Phil put down a magazine which he had picked up casually, as Judith paused. She noticed that his eyes had been resting on a picture of her, clothed in purple crepe pajamas, lounging on a divan in their sun room. Odd she thought that she should be wearing those pajamas now.

She could not mention Marta's name to Phil, although he had given her an opening. He himself went on, "Judith, what's happened to me? He takes his voice. 'What's happened? You ought to know? You're a woman! You're my wife! It's your business to know.'"

"Tell me about it." She dropped on a hassock at his feet.

The mood passed. "You'll think I'm an ass. I'm not certain of myself, my feeling of anything any more. Not even of my love for you, Judith." She remembered a favorite little brother who had come to her when their father had been drunk and unkind long ago, as she met the puzzled blue eyes. Life was being together again in "Waikiki Wedding," a gay comedy of love and music under tropical skies which opens today at the Rex Theatre.

Beautiful Shirley Ross, who was with Bob and Martha in "The Big Broadcast of 1937," carries the feminine romantic lead of the new comedy. leave when she was summoned to the telephone by her maid.

"You never reported on the play," Bruce's voice said. "Let me come to tea and tell me where I bungled my lines."

"You couldn't bungle them. But I can make a better suggestion. Why not bring Millicent and come to the lodge for the week-end? I'm going out in the morning and most of the guests will come later in the day. Come out after the night performance. We'll be swimming late in the pool and having supper around its edge."

When he had accepted and promised to tell Millicent he'd drive her out, he said:

"That makes us even."

"Even?"

"Yes, Judy. For going back on the invitation in Pittsburgh a dozen years ago."

"But what invitation?"

"Umm-hummmmm! I gave your mother a message to give you one day soon after I'd taken you home that night on that mining trip and you never replied. I supposed you had changed your mind."

"I never got the message," Judith said quietly, knowledge coming years too late. "It was my stepmother and she did things like that. I'm sorry!"

"So am I!"

For a moment they were back once more in the city of smoky hills, their visions yet unclouded in the gray skies that covered the great mills and the three dark rivers. For a moment anything was possible. Then they were adults again.

"Did you know me at once?" Judith asked.

"Not until someone called you 'Judith'."

"Why didn't you remind me?" she asked, then answered her own question in the rich, throaty tones that were always honest. "I know—you doubted me as I doubted you. You thought I had turned you down and when I didn't seem to recognize you, you wondered if I was keeping Judith ad. The odor of food came from the kitchen and from somewhere, not too far away, the radio found a melody of old songs and brought them into the house.

Judith was wearing green tweeds with a rust sweater and matching oxford. She went to the terrace to greet her husband and the two airdales followed her.

"Hello, Judy dear," Marta's fluted tones called from the depth of the car. "It's sweet of you to let me come."

"You're an angel to come," Judy lied with perfect grace.

"Hello, Darling," Phil flung out carelessly. "This child was relying on trains and you know how they run up here."

"Oh, my dear, you should have called one of us," Judith reproved, never disclosing by so much as a flicker of an eyebrow that she knew that was just what Marta had done. "It was thoughtless of me not to suggest getting you this morning."

"I had to give up my car. Dick was sort of forgetful about allowing Marta explained with the air of a martyr who does not censure but accepts life with its reverses.

"How lovely you look," Judith went on, talking against time.

More cars were coming now. Guests rooms to prepare for dinner. Laughter and gay voices went drifting down the halls. Judith did not change except to add a small strand of pearls to the turtle neck of her sweater as a dinner gesture. They had been a gift from Phil a few months before. When Phil went into his den she followed, determined to make no mention of Marta. Love, faith, devotion were intangible substances that could not be touched, or they would move away. Quicksilver stuff. You couldn't pick them up. You knew, though they were there so long as you did not touch them with words. Here in the out of doors she sensed the old truth again.

"A good day, Phil?" she asked.

He turned slowly and when she saw the haggard look on his face, read the suffering in the blue eyes, her heart turned over and didn't move again. So this was the way women felt when their husbands came to say goodby.

It was very still in the den, just the snap of a twig as the breeze found it, and the showering raindrops on the window.

"Judy," he began and paused.

Washingtonians Soured Over Moans Of Congress

By RODNEY DUTCHER Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, July 31 (AP)—Now that the court plan is no longer a bitter partisan issue, the native Washingtonian may be permitted to speak his piece about "the perils of the summer heat to members of Congress." The weather has been used as a large argument in favor of prompt adjournment. There are 625,000 residents here in addition to the 531 members of Congress. The natives have no vote and all they can do is beef. Most of them regard the Capitol Hill gentry as members of the elite who are paid $10,000 a year to sit in air-conditioned chambers and listen to other members talk, while the natives, poor simple creatures, bear the heat and the heat. But it is Congress that does the moaning. Old General July It is perfectly true that the local Board of Trade temperature statistics which compare August temperatures with those of Point Barrow, Alaska are not to be relied upon. On the other hand, any congressman or citizen who takes adequate care of himself—with special reference to food, alcohol and bouncing around or working too hard in the heat—is as safe as he would be in most other places. Old Doc Copeland, the senator and former Tammany health commissioner from New York, gave grave public warnings about the danger of staying on the job just as the 625,000 must do, at a time after Joe Robinson's death when good propaganda for the anti-court plan groups. Frantic telegrams from the beaches, mountains and homesteads both cool and hot poured in, sent by the anxious wives and families of Congress. The Doc went around in the cloakroom, buttonholing senators and beginning his dire warnings invariably with: "I told Joe Robinson three days before his death—"

All this helped encompass the merciless death of the court plan, but it soured the District of Columbian, who dwell in a constant state of sourness at Congress anyway. Taxes for the D. C. Lately Congress has been trying to decide between an income on the District citizenry—which would be additional to the federal income tax paid by all federal employes and others except Supreme Court and other justices—and a real estate tax which past experience indicates would be used by landlords to pyramid rents. The House refused to accept the income tax because it could do so without taxing itself. The city is resigned to being taxed but meanwhile complains at the dilatory, indifferent way in which Congress legislates the city's municipal problems, since the local government is about to go bankrupt. There's about $800,000,000 of federal and other non-taxable property here and taxable local property of $1,144,000,000. Federal government has steadily grown and acquired the city's real estate (limited because the District is legally but 10 miles square) while demanding more and more of the city's services. A few years ago the government paid half the city's expenses. This year Congress voted to contribute only five millions to a $46,000,000 budget. Points of Friction So natives hate those many congressmen who argue that all employes here (except their own appointees) are parasites on tax-payers back home. Citizens dislike the familiar congressman who is forever making derogatory comparison between Washington and his own backwater, the southerner who deplores the lack

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, July 31 (AP) — Visitors from all sections of Texas and many other states are streaming through the capitol daily, the height of the tourist season, apparently, having been reached.

In two weeks recently, 1,680 names of Texans were registered in the "visitors' book" of the House of Representatives along with those of 149 persons from other states. It is not improbable, also, that many persons passed through the capitol without registering.

Of those from outside Texas Oklahomans were in the lead with 39. Other states and their registration included Louisiana 20, Mississippi 16, Minnesota 12, California 11, Missouri 10, New York 9, and Tennessee 8.

A contest which furnished considerable reading matter for the public last year and consumed quite a bit of time of the House of Representatives is due to be renewed in the primaries in 1938.

Passing through Austin, E. E. Hunter of Cleburne said he planned to run against Rep. J. K. Russell at the first opportunity, and in fact, never had "stopped running."

Russell was seated by the House in January despite Hunter's claims that some votes cast in the election last summer were illegal. Hunter especially attacked the legality of voting at a box near Cleburne, charging it was allowed after 7 p. m., the legal time for closing boxes, to accommodate Seventh Day Adventists. "I think I will get enough votes next time and there won't be any room for an argument," Hunter said.

The "fat boys" in the Senate still are climbing the stairs to reach their offices on the second floor, and it appears they may be doing so for a long time.

It's all because the House of Representatives won't agree to an appropriation to construct elevators in the east and west wings of the capitol, which the Senate long has favored. Several times the Senate has tried to obtain such an appropriation and each time something, usually the opposition of the house, prevented.

Two years ago the Senate decided to go it alone, appropriating about $15,000 from its contingent, or personal fund to finance the elevators. Unfortunately, it made many other appropriations from the fund and toward the end of the year when all the bills came in it was found not enough money remained to care for the elevator proposal.

Then, at the regular session of the legislature, concluded in May, the Senate approved an appropriation of $35,000 for elevators in the general departmental bill, but when the measure returned from conference committee the item has been deleted. The House members of the committee had demanded its removal.

"It looks as though the only thing we can do is give all the overweight boys offices on the first floor," said a Senate employe. "The House members don't have to worry. They don't have offices anywhere."

Ernest O. Thompson, member of the railroad commission, had just returned from attending the World Oil Congress in Paris, France, and a press correspondent was waiting to interview him. A member of the Senate also was waiting.

"What," asked the Senator, "are you going to ask Thompson?" "I want him to review the world oil situation, telling all and leaving out nothing," said the correspondent. "Well," said the Senator, "I'll just wait. That won't take Ernest but two or three minutes."

The national forest system now contains 170,000,000 acres.
