OTHER CRIMES ALSO GROWING

Says Individual Not Privileged to Evade Laws

NEW YORK, April 22. (P)—President Hoover, in an earnest appeal to his fellow citizens to observe the law, declared here today that life and property in the United States "are relatively more unsafe than in any other civilized country in the world."

In his first address since his inauguration, delivered at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press, the chief executive said he was wondering whether the time had come "to realize that we are confronted with national necessity of the first degree, that we are not suffering from an ephemeral crime wave but from a subsidence of our foundations."

"In order to dispel certain illusions in the public mind on this subject," Mr. Hoover said, "the use of force alone, while violations of law have been increased by inclusion of crimes under the eighteenth amendment and by the vast sums that are poured into the hands of criminal classes by the patronage of illicit liquor by otherwise responsible citizens, yet this is but one segment of our problem."

He explained that he cited the extent of murder, burglary, robbery, forgery and embezzlement because only a small percentage of these could be attributed to the eighteenth amendment, and he asserted that of the total number of convictions for felony last year less than eight per cent came from the source of the dry law.

"What we are facing today is something far larger and more fundamental—the possibility that respect for law as law is fading from the sensibilities of our people," he continued.

"No individual has a right to determine what law shall be obeyed and what law shall not be enforced. If a law is wrong, its rigid enforcement is the surest guaranty of its repeal. If it is right, its enforcement is the quickest method of compelling respect for it."

Mr. Hoover said there were two immediate problems before the government: to investigate the existing agencies of enforcement and to recognize the system of enforcement in such manner as to eliminate its weaknesses.

Besides his parents, he leaves two sisters and five brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Brown returned yesterday from New York, where they have been visiting. They visited in New York before coming to Texas with Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

They will be welcomed by city officials and members of the Board of City Development.

Building Permits For Week Reveal Brisker Activity

Spring building activities have increased during the last week, according to building permits issued at the city hall. During the last week $33,900 in permits have been taken out by local building contractors. That amount brings the total for the month to $42,750 and the amount for the year to $445,300.

Included in the permits issued last week was one for the erection of the two-story Smith building at the corner of Foster avenue and Russell street. The permit was for $18,500 and included only the building, not the plumbing, electrical work or painting. The H. L. Case Construction company will erect the building.

Other permits were for residences. George Sawyer will build a $3,000 home in the West End addition; Wm. F. Jordan will erect a $3,500 residence in the North addition; Stewart Miller has a $5,000 home under construction in the Buckler addition, and H. E. Johnson will build a $3,400 home in the North addition.

Road Delegation Goes to Austin

A delegation of Pampa men composed of County Judge Ivy E. Duncan, Commissioner Lewis O. Cox, G. L. Haste, resident engineer, and Scott Barcus, chairman of the highway committee of the Board of City Development, left yesterday for Austin to appear before the state highway commission. They were to meet a delegation from Roberts county in Austin.

A map showing why highway 33 to Miami, Canadian, and points north-east should be continued was in the hands of the delegates. Other road matters pertaining to this section of Gray county will also be taken up with the state commission.

GENEVA, April 22. (P)—Hugh S. Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, presenting an eagerly awaited American thesis before the preparatory disarmament commission today, appealed for a fresh examination of the entire problem based on the idea that all nations are going to be friends and settle their difficulties by peaceful means.

Through Mr. Gibson's address, President Hoover is generally deemed in Geneva to have launched an important move to place the relations between the United States and Great Britain on a firm foundation of collaboration and friendliness.

Mr. Gibson's declaration of American policy, in brief, was a statement to the world that the United States was ready to make substantial reductions in naval strength and sought a common sense naval agreement based on the idea that nations are going to be friends.

Spartan Plane Is Flown Here

I Van Natten, local pilot, and Ray Maurice, factory representative of the Spartan Aircraft company of Tulsa, landed a new Spartan bi-plane on Ayres field yesterday afternoon. The plane will be used for training and commercial purposes. Mr. Maurice will remain here for a few weeks, the local pilot said this morning. Maurice is one of the oldest pilots in the United States.

The Pampa man has secured the agency for Spartan planes in West Texas and New Mexico. He expects to have several planes here for demonstration purposes. He is seeking a more satisfactory landing field before building hangers. Material for the hangers is expected this week.

The plane which has been brought to Pampa took first prize at the Airplan exposition in Detroit last week. Mr. Van Natten flew the ship to Detroit and remained there during the show.

It is a blue and gold bi-plane equipped with a 9 cylinder Walter motor made in Czechoslovakia. It will develop 120H-P and 1,550 revolutions a minute. Its cruising speed is 105 miles an hour. The ship's commercial license number is C-8062.

Ag Students Will Attend School at B. C. D. Thursday

Students of Prof. J. L. Lester's agricultural class at the high school will attend a school on dairying and poultry raising at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday. The school will be in charge of Prof. R. C. Mowery and Prof. K. M. Renner of Texas Tech.

The agricultural committee of the Board of City Development will offer two prizes to the members of the agricultural class who turn in the best essays on any of the subjects discussed. There will be three lectures on poultry raising and the same number on dairying.

The first class will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and will last until noon. The afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock. Letters have been mailed to everyone in this territory urging them to attend the free school to be conducted under the auspices of the agricultural committee of the Board of City Development.

REFINERY IS DAMAGED

BIG SPRING, April 22. (P)—Fire in the control room of Cooden and company, Inc., refinery here today caused $5,000 damage.

The blaze was started by ignition of gasoline and was extinguished by chemicals.

No one was injured, and the plant will be shut down for 36 hours.

LEEVE BREAKS DESPITE WORK OF MANY MEN

People Escape But Many Farms to Be Covered

MISSISSIPPI IS NEAR NEW MARK

Illinois Militia Is Ordered to Quincy District

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 22. (P)—Lacoma Circle levee in Arkansas crumbled today and water was reported sweeping through a gap 50 feet wide and broadening steadily.

The crash came unexpectedly and many families in the path of the on-rushing waters hurried to places of safety.

The break, it was believed, would result in a vast acreage being covered and several villages, including Snow Lake, Ark., being inundated. It was expected also that the Missouri Pacific railroad line between Memphis and Natchez, Miss., would be closed to traffic.

QUINCY, Ill., April 22. (P)—The Mississippi river here was today within a foot and a half of its highest mark in history, recorded in 1851.

At 7 a. m., the stage was 21 feet with the river still rising.

Reports of breaking levees at Gregory, Mo., Canton, Mo., and Marks, Mo., were received, thousands of acres being inundated.

The state militia again was ordered to the South Quincy Gardens where several hundred men were re-enforcing levees to save 5,000 acres of truck farms.

Reports from the Lima Lake district north of Quincy, embracing 20,000 acres, were the levee could stand but very little more rise.

Commissioners of the various districts said the situation was graver than at any time since last month's floods.

Plumbing Exams Will Be Given

An examination for all plumbers who wish to work within the limits of the city of Pampa will be conducted by the city plumbing board Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. F. E. Townsend, plumbing and electrical inspector, said this morning. The tests will be taken at Glen Ragsdale's plumbing shop at 614 East Foster avenue. Those taking the tests must have their tools with them.

The examining board has been selected from local plumbers who have certificates from the state examining board.

Mr. Townsend declared that there has been some first-class plumbing work done in Pampa. He says there had also been some work done that was inferior.

"I have come across some plumbers who seem to believe a trap is a mechanical device under a sink to keep rats from crawling up and eating the soap," the inspector declared this morning. "The examination we are holding is essential and according to state laws," he says.

Guggenheim Heiress a Secret Bride

All the Guggenheim millions and the reported opposition of the Guggenheim family didn't make any difference in the story-book romance of 18-year-old Natalie and the son of a small-town freight agent. For the pretty heiress, pictured above, and Thomas M. Gorman, young real estate and insurance broker of Fort Washington, Long Island, were secretly married weeks ago and there seems to be nothing that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond A. Guggenheim, can do about it. Gorman, whose father for years was a railroad freight agent, denied Mrs. Guggenheim's quoted statement that he had been ordered from Natalie's home by the copper magnate and scoffed at reports of annulment of the marriage.

SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO RECONSIDER VERDICT—HOPE OF SINCLAIR NOW PARDON

WASHINGTON, April 22. (P)—The supreme court ruled today that Harry F. Sinclair, unless pardoned, must serve three months in jail for refusal to answer questions before the senate Teapot Dome committee.

Sinclair had appealed from a decision of the court which upheld the sentence of three months in jail imposed upon him but the highest court today refused to reconsider that opinion.

Sinclair's sentence calls for him to serve the sentence in a "common jail." It has been expected he would be committed to the District of Columbia jail here, although there has been some speculation as to whether he might be sent to the workhouse at Occoquan, Va., a few miles from Washington.

Policeman Gains in Bunion Derby

EFFINGHAM, Ill., April 22. (P)—John Salo, New Jersey policeman, is moving up in the trans-continental bunion derby.

Leading the field through wind and rain in the arduous 52.4 mile jog from Marshall, Illinois, to Effingham yesterday, Salo jumped from third to second place. Today, he was but three hours, 48 minutes and 10 seconds behind the leader, Pete Gavuzzi of England.

Salo covered the Marshall-Effingham lap in seven hours, 11 minutes and 45 seconds yesterday, jumping 46 minutes and 33 seconds ahead of Ed Gardner of Seattle, Wash., who had held second place. Gavuzzi tied for fourth place with Phillip Granville of Hamilton, Ont., in the lap.

It was announced today that Jim Thorpe one time Carlisle Indian football star, would join the caravan at St. Louis to serve as master of ceremonies.

FLEXIBILITY IN DISTRICT COURT WORK SOUGHT

Handling of Prisoners Also Suggested by Governor

CIVIL SERVICE AGAIN IS GIVEN

Concentration of Texas Penal Structure Included

AUSTIN, April 22. (P)—Governor Moody added laws with reference to the handling of prisoners in the state prison and enactment of statutes to reform methods in which the district courts shall function to prison concentration, civil service and educational subjects in his message to the special session of the legislature.

The house and senate met promptly at 12 o'clock and a committee from the house notified the governor the session was ready for business. They found the chief executive adding the finishing touches to his message.

"It is my desire to first submit for your consideration subjects under which I believe legislation may be passed that will improve departmental economy and efficiency," he said. "Therefore, the following subjects are respectively submitted for your consideration:

"The enactment of laws providing for the concentration of the Texas prison system, and the improvement of said system along modern and scientific lines.

"The enactment of laws with reference to the handling of prisoners confined in the state penitentiary, including the adoption of an adequate parole law.

"The enactment of laws carrying into effect the amendment to section eighth or article VII of the constitution.

"The enactment of laws to place the selection of subordinate employees of the state government upon a merit basis.

"The enactment of statutes to abolish the terms of the several district courts of the state and to provide that such courts may hold sessions in any county of their several districts at any time to be determined by the judge of such court, and to otherwise simplify and reform the procedure in civil cases."

One hundred and eighteen of the 150 members of the house answered roll call and 29 of the 31 senators were present. Senator Eugene Miller of Weatherford was elected president pro tem of the Senate.

W. L. Simmons and Frank McNeill, officials of the Shell corporation in the Panhandle district, have made an extended trip of inspection in the Tulsa and Kansas City areas. Mr. McNeill returned this morning and Mr. Simmons is expected to return the last of the week.

"It's Like This"

PAMPA CITIZENS are to be congratulated on the way they cooperated in entertaining the delegates and visitors to the Panhandle Press association here last week.

It was a meeting of considerable importance to the city, for the editors saw for themselves the recent Pampa growth. They had read much of the New Pampa, but only actual sight could produce in their minds the impressions which are eloquent and lasting.

Contact with the friendliness of local people also was important. There is no substitute for good will that grows out of friendly handclaps. There are no strangers among the editors, and they are prepared to make new friends as perhaps no other organization in the Panhandle can do.

The growth of briskly moving little cities in this section is relatively new. Last year Childress entertained the Panhandle Press association, and it was the first time in seven or eight years that the meeting had been outside of Amarillo. This year Pampa was selected on the theory that she might repeat the good work Childress did.

YOUNG WOMEN of New York City, inspired cigarete manufacturers or perhaps by their self-styled spirit of freedom, walked in an Easter parade with great jauntness and much smoke making.

play of freedom in a crowded parade, refers to the flags as "torches of freedom."

We are expected to wax eloquent over this display of feminine courage. But we cannot. Has anyone in New York forbidden the young ladies to so display their freedom? The New York Times in reporting the occurrence does not mention any arrests, nor even a snicker from the sidewalks.

So we refuse to rush to the aid of young ladies who are in no way troubled by cops or blue laws. If it were in Boston or Nashville, it might be different. We will not even encourage the cigarete manufacturers by complimenting the spirit or the means of showing desire for feminine freedom. It seems a rather silly symbol of woman's attitude toward the inequalities which vex them.

Telling What to Think

After eight years of progress, the workers' education movement in the United States is lagging because effort is being made to teach students what to think, rather than how to think, it declared at the national convention of the Workers' Education Bureau.

The purpose of education, generally speaking, is to teach students to think, to develop the mental capacities. However, one might well be excused for drawing the conclusion that schools are designed for no other purpose than to impart a given number of facts to the students.

Liberal conceptions of ideal educational institutions vision the students and instructors mingling together in a cultured atmosphere, seeking basic truths together, with the teacher leading to the extent of offering suggestions where needed. However this conception is hardly compatible with the practices and methods of the modern educational institutions.

The atmosphere is not conducive to profound thinking. It is flavored to extensively with routine, as is the entire educational system.

Where the underlying purpose of education should be development of mental capacities by teaching and encouraging the student to think, professors are mere instructors and are satisfied with imparting a routine manner their knowledge of facts and figures. Those back of the workers' educational movement need not be discouraged unnecessarily, for the faults in their methods pervade the entire system of education.

The next question is, will all this discussion make the Panhandle open-minded?

PAMPA TO SEEK 1930 MEETING OF FEDERATED CLUBS

Four Local Clubs to Send Delegates to District Meeting

Four of the five federated women's clubs of the city will send delegates to the eighth annual convention of the seventh district Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be in session in Snyder, April 25, 26, and 27.

In addition to the delegates, the alternates, and the several club women who plan to attend as visitors, Pampa will be represented by two divisional department chairmen, Mrs. R. R. House of the American home department and Mrs. I. B. Hughey of the Americanization department. Mrs. House is a member of El Progreso club, and Mrs. Hughey of Twentieth Century club.

The delegations are as follows: Coler, Mrs. G. H. McConnell and Mrs. Roger McConnell; Child study, Mrs. T. H. Barnard and Mrs. Roger McConnell; Twentieth Century, Mrs. W. A. Bratton and Mrs. R. W. Mitchell; El Progreso, Mrs. James Todd and Mrs. Wm. M. Craven.

The majority of these will leave tomorrow morning for Snyder.

University and College Women to Honor Senior Girls

A dinner honoring the senior girls of Central high school and their mothers will be given on the evening of May 2, by the Pampa branch of the A. A. U. W. and College club. Miss Hatlie M. Anderson, president of the Canyon branch of A. A. U. W. and professor of American history in West Texas State Teachers' college, will make the address of the evening, speaking to the girls on "Preparing for Flight."

Entertainment features are being planned for the affair and there will be a question box in which the girls and their mothers may put questions concerning colleges and college life. These questions will be answered, so far as possible, by Miss Anderson and members of the hostess club. The dinner will be given in the basement of the Methodist church and will be informal.

This will be the second social gathering of the club members with high school girls, the club having given a tea last spring for members of the graduating class and their mothers. These social courtesies are only the beginning, however, of the benefits the club plans for Pampa girls.

The promotion of education is the foremost objective of the local organization of university and college women, as it is of the national body of the A. A. U. W. The latter body has a large number of scholarships and fellowships, maintained by the efforts of its many branches, through which this great part of its program is carried on. The Pampa group has decided to concentrate its efforts for the time on scholarships and has definitely determined to award a scholarship to a local girl.

Exactly how the scholarship is to be awarded has not been decided. Miss Fannie Florence Sims, chairman of the committee on fellowships and scholarships, will make recommendations at the final business session of the year, which is to be held following the dinner. She will also present tentative plans for raising the fund. A president will be elected in the same meeting. Mrs. F. M. Culbertson having recently resigned.

P. T. A. Council Plans Summer Round-up and Future Work

With a summer round-up for children of school and pre-school ages planned as the outstanding project for the summer months, the City Council of Parent-Teacher associations will direct attention in the next few weeks to plans for a uniform program of work for the five P. T. A.'s of the city, to be taken up with the opening of school next fall.

Mrs. Joe Smith, president of the council, is enthusiastic over prospects for a year of unusual accomplishments. Indications are that through their combined efforts and with the aid of the council, each of the associations can become a standard P. T. A., carrying out each of programs recommended by the national, state, and district boards. New officers will be installed by each group at the first meeting in May.

Snyder Plans Entertainment for 300 Club Women of Panhandle Expected for Seventh District Annual Convention

All Snyder is ready to entertain the club women of the seventh district federation at their eighth annual convention, which will be held there Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. The churches, organizations of the public schools, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Lions club have joined the club women of the city in preparing entertainment for the meeting. An enthusiastic welcome has been extended through newspapers throughout the Panhandle, as well as in letters from officials of Snyder clubs and district officers.

A program of exceptional interest is planned. The meeting opens Thursday evening with a fine arts program in which Miss Dorothy Greathouse, concert singer and light opera star, will be presented as the visiting artist. This opportunity to hear one of the most popular singers on the American stage will be sufficient incentive to the majority of delegates and visitors to arrive in Snyder in time for the evening session. An additional feature of the fine arts program will be a one-act play presented by a Snyder club.

Convention sessions will begin Friday morning, with Mrs. F. T. Collins of Amarillo, district president presiding. Reports will be made by district officers and committee chairmen. A luncheon will be given Friday noon, honoring the official staff and district chairmen. Mrs. W. F. Averitt Lamesa, chairman of the department of citizenship, will preside. An address by Dr. L. F. Steffy, head of the history department of W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon, and reports from department heads will make up the Thursday afternoon program.

The annual president's dinner will be given Friday evening by the Lions club and the Chamber of Commerce. A musical program will be given. Mrs. R. R. House of this city will preside at the "Every Woman's Breakfast," which will be given Saturday morning. Fellowship is the theme of the breakfast program. Reports from the department of fine arts will be heard in the Saturday morning session and prizes will be awarded. The convention will close at noon, with a luncheon for the junior members of the federation. The Scurry county Federation of Women will give the luncheon.

It is expected that selection of the 1930 convention city will be made in a post-convention board meeting, which probably will follow immediately after the Saturday luncheon. Mrs. Phoebe E. Warner of Claude and Mrs. Maggie Barry of College Station will be among the speakers at the convention.

Business and Professional Women May Form Club

Mrs. Ercell Middaugh, president, and other members of the Amarillo Business and Professional Women's club will be in Pampa this evening to assist in the formation of a local unit of the organization. A meeting of the women who are interested in becoming members of the organization will be held at 8 o'clock in the home of Dr. A. H. Mitchell, 704 North Gray street.

The Amarillo club recently assisted in organizing units in Shamrock and Wellington, both of which have entered the national federation. The Business and Professional Women's club of Lubbock entered the federation last winter, making the fourth new federated club in this district for this year.

Central High Wins Federation Prize; Tries for Another

Vivian Vickers, junior of Central high school won first place in the district on her essay, "Why Should I Vote," in a contest sponsored by the several study clubs of the city. She was given a cash prize by the local clubs. The contest was a state and national event, and the district winner's paper has been submitted for state competition.

The school has entered another of the contests being conducted by the federation. Jacqueline Jones and Cornelia Barrett wrote papers on "Why We Should Prefer American Art to that of Foreign Countries." Their essays were sent to Mrs. Sam Isaacs, chairman of fine arts and will go to the University of Kansas for final judging. Miss Bernice Whiteley, head of the high school English department, believes that these two papers will give Pampa a very good chance to win the district prize.

WHEAT RALLY FAILS
CHICAGO, April 22. (AP)—Fresh breaking of season low price records for wheat took place today, accompanied by general selling and lack of demand. Predictions were current the year-end carry over of wheat in the United States July 1 would approximate 350,000,000 bushels.

Opening 5-8 to 3c off, wheat lates showed little power to rally. Corn and oats were relatively firm, corn starting 5-8 of the 1-2c up and afterward scoring slight general gains. Provisions went lower.

Century Group to Have Shower of Library Books

Twentieth Century club will institute, on May 28, a most delightful annual event, a book shower for Pampa public library combined with a social meeting. Each member of the club will invite two guests to the meeting, and each of her guests contributing a book to the shower. The place for the first of the parties is to be announced later. It is expected that through this and each of the succeeding events of the sort 50 books will be added to the library.

Members of the club are the following: Mrs. R. C. Campbell, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, Mrs. C. C. Dodd, Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah, Mrs. H. H. Hicks, Mrs. I. B. Hughey, Mrs. H. D. Lewis, Mrs. G. C. Wayside Club to Compete for 1930 Federation Trophy

Wayside club will compete for the 1930 seventh district federation prize for the best club yearbook. It was announced following a meeting Friday afternoon, at which president-elect, Mrs. Thomas Clayton, appointed a yearbook committee. This committee, composed of Mrs. W. R. Morrison, Mrs. L. R. Taylor, and Mrs. Hugh Isbell, will plan programs for the entire year and prepare the book for publication before the opening of the new club year in September. Neatness and general attractiveness of appearance are points that score in the judging, in addition to the content of the book.

Wayside, a 12-month club, hitherto counted its year from January to January, but recently voted to adopt the federated clubs calendar, in which the year is from September to September. Programs for the months intervening between the old and the opening time were planned by last year's committee. Among them are included studies on historical subjects, international relationships, public and child welfare, legislation, and religion.

The program of Friday afternoon was on scholarships and loans, with special attention to those offered by the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Thomas Clayton was in charge. She spoke briefly but with emphasis of the duty of parents to patronize the schools of their own district.

El Progreso, Oldest Federated Club of City, to Send Sixth Delegation to Seventh District Annual Convention

El Progreso, now six years old and the oldest of Pampa's federated clubs, is preparing to participate for the sixth time in an annual convention of the Seventh district Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. Wm. M. Craven, president, and Mrs. James Todd, president-elect will represent the club at the eighth annual convention in Snyder, April 25, 26, and 27. Mrs. Todd was elected delegate and Mrs. Craven alternate. Other members plan to attend the meeting, among them Mrs. R. E. H. district sub-chairman of citizenship.

Each year since its organization and federation in 1923, El Progreso has sent a representative to the annual convention. As the senior club of the city, it delivered an invitation from five federated organizations to the Seventh district, at its convention in Dalhart last year, for the 1930 meeting to be held in Pampa. Mrs. Craven voiced the invitation.

Other members of El Progreso who attended the Dalhart meeting were: Mrs. Dave Pope, Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. H. L. Ledrick, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar and Mrs. R. R. House.

The course of study for the year, developed in semi-monthly programs, was opened with three studies in drama, ancient, medieval and modern. Eugene O'Neill was taken as one of the foremost exponents of the modern, and his "Lazarus Laughs" was read. Several programs were devoted to a study of international relationships; one to election laws; and one to the personalities of the presidential candidates and their wives.

In the field of fiction, the club members have studied "The Bellamy Trial" by Frances Noyes Hart; "Honore Willette Morrow's 'Forever Free,'" and Willa Cather's "Death Comes to the Archbishop," "Red Rust" by Cornelia James Cannon and Fannie Hurst's "A President is Born" will be reviewed before the close of the year in May.

Of particular interest were two groups or series of programs. An exhaustive study of George Dorsey's "Why We Behave Like Human Beings," with much correlative material, was made in three programs. The two much discussed and vastly different pictures of modern India, Katherine Mayo's "Mother India" and Ranga Iyer's "Father India," were bases of interesting programs and comparative discussions. The books used in the programs are donated to the public library.

Social activities of El Progreso usually include two open meetings in the year. In addition to the regular events of last year, the club joined Child Study club in entertaining in honor of Mrs. F. T. Collins, president of the Seventh district federation, upon her winter social was given at the home of Mrs. I. B. Hughey. A mid-winter this year was given at the home of Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar. The spring social meeting is scheduled for May 14, at the home of Mrs. H. L. Ledrick.

Members of the club are as follows: Mrs. John V. Andrews, Mrs. C. M. Bryson, Mrs. C. P. Buckler, Mrs. A. Cole, Mrs. Wm. M. Craven, Mrs. Siler Faulkner, Mrs. M. A. Finney, Mrs. T. D. Hobart, Mrs. R. H. House, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. H. L. Ledrick, Mrs. Carson Loftus, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. Dave Pope, Mrs. W. Purviance, Mrs. James Todd and Mrs. George C. Washard.

Officers for the present club year are: President, Mrs. Wm. M. Craven; vice-president, Mrs. W. Purviance; secretary, Mrs. C. M. Bryson; treasurer, Mrs. Siler Faulkner; parliamentarian, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar; reporter, Mrs. Carson Loftus.

Those newly elected are: President, Mrs. James Todd; vice-president, Mrs. John V. Andrews; secretary, Mrs. Charles Thut; treasurer, Mrs. J. M. McDonald; parliamentarian, Mrs. Wm. M. Craven; reporter, Mrs. C. M. Bryson.

Club Council Sponsors Plan to Invite Session

With the sixth annual conference of the eighth district Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations but three weeks in the background and the delegates to the Panhandle Press association convention hardly out of the city, Pampa is preparing to make her bid for a third—the 1930 convention of the seventh district Federation of Women's clubs.

Sponsoring the invitation will be the initial project of the newly organized Council of Clubs, which represents the five federated clubs of the city; the City Council of Parent-Teacher associations, and the Pampa branch of the American Association of University Women and College club. This invitation, first presented by the local federated organization to the seventh district at the Dalhart meeting last year, will be advanced again at the convention in Snyder, April 25, 26, and 27—this time by all of the club women of Pampa as represented by the council. Mrs. W. A. Bratton was chosen to deliver the invitation and bid the club women of the Panhandle welcome the oil city of the Plains.

Happy in the knowledge that the local program and entertainment features of the Parent-Teacher and Press association conventions were appreciated by the women who attended, the women of Pampa feel a double assurance in offering hospitality to the district federation, first because instead of merely co-operating in their efforts the clubs will be ideally as one in playing hostess and assembly because of the able leadership and personality of the council. The organization, composed of the president and two delegates each from the seven units, is headed by Mrs. G. E. Hutchins, who served with distinction and notable success as general chairman of the steering committee of the P. T. A. convention. As president, she will again be in charge, in the event Pampa's invitation is accepted.

Mrs. M. L. Dowd Thursday was elected president of Coterie club for next year, succeeding Mrs. Tom Eller, who is completing her second year in office. Other officers for the coming year are: Vice-president, Mrs. Lundy Stalls; secretary, Mrs. Tom Eller; treasurer, Mrs. J. G. Wears; press reporter, Mrs. G. H. McConnell. The new administration is to assume its duties with the opening of the year in September.

The election took place at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Roger McConnell. The program of the afternoon was a study of the life and literary works of Nathaniel Hawthorne. Roll call was answered with quotations from the author. A social hour followed the program and the hostess served a prettily arranged plate luncheon.

Mrs. F. E. Percival of Lawton, Okla., was special guest for the afternoon. Members who attended were Mrs. G. H. McConnell, Mrs. Lundy Stalls, Mrs. J. G. Wears, Mrs. Nicola, Mrs. Stowers, Mrs. Ollie Smith, Mrs. G. W. Nicholson, Mrs. M. L. Dowd, and Mrs. Tom Eller.

The membership of Coterie club is 15 and includes, in addition to the members who attended the Thursday meeting, the following: Mrs. W. E. Cobb, Mrs. G. G. Fraisher, Mrs. Charles Hodges, Mrs. Charles Mullen, and Mrs. Roy Sullivan.

Child Study Club Postpones Annual Election to May 3

The election of officers of Child Study club for next year will be held at the next regular meeting, which is scheduled for Friday, May 3. The meeting was postponed from the regular date, April 26, because Mrs. T. H. Barnard, president, and Mrs. R. S. McConnell will be absent at that time, attending the seventh district convention in Snyder.

A calendar committee already is at work on arrangements of next year's work. The Child Study program is fully outlined in a course by Dr. Beryl. The committee assigns parts and arranges homes for the meetings.

Officers of this year are: President, Mrs. T. H. Barnard; vice-president, Mrs. S. A. Hurst; treasurer, Mrs. B. E. Finley; reporter, Mrs. Floyd McConnell, and secretary Mrs. Roger McConnell.

Other members of the club are as follows: Mrs. W. A. Crawford, Mrs. J. M. Turner, Mrs. T. W. Brabham, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Mrs. H. W. Johns, Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, Mrs. Lee Harrah, Mrs. Tom E. Rose, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. James Todd, Mrs. Ivy Duncan, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, Mrs. A. Cole, Mrs. C. B. Barrett, Mrs. G. C. Malone, and Mrs. H. D. Lewis.

Miss Fannie Florence and Nettie Sims spent the week-end at their home in Clarendon. Miss Mary Schell also was a guest in the Sims home.

Grove Has Better Luck in Yankee Tilt This Year

By WILLIAM J. SHIPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer. Robert Moses Grove of the Philadelphia Athletics already has won as many games from the Yankees as he won all last year. He was combed hard at times at the stadium yesterday in the 7-to-4 triumph of the Mackmen, but he accomplished what he failed six times last year to accomplish.

It was the first Yankee Sunday at home in 1929, and 40,000 fans paid to see a game which was terminated by rain at the end of the fifth inning.

The Athletic success was all but clinched in the first inning. Young Henry Johnson walked four of the Macks and permitted two others to collect safe hits before the Veteran Tom Zachary was summoned to the rescue. The net result was four runs, and almost the ball game. Jimmy Dykes put on the finishing touches with a home run in the fifth with one Athletic aboard.

Almost everything happened in the 16-to-9 triumph of the Tigers over the Browns at St. Louis. O'Rourke, Alexander, and Whitehill hit home runs and Richardson, rookie shortstop of Detroit, permitted the Browns to work the hidden ball trick at his expense.

The rest of the American league program succumbed to the weather, as did the first scheduled championship game in Boston in the history of baseball. The Giants sat idly about the lobby of their hotel as a wind-driven storm of rain played about Braves field.

The National league Sabbath campaign was confined almost exclusively to the repulse of the Cardinals by the Cubs, 4 to 0, for the third Chicago victory in four attempts. Guy Bush led the National league champions down with four hits as Rogers Hornsby collected one more than that for his own personal account. Some 50,000 fans turned out for the festivities on Wrigley field.

The Flatbush fusiliers repaired to Flatbush yesterday for an unofficial game which the Phillies obligingly won by a score of 4 to 1 in seven innings with a rainstorm threatening every moment. More than 15,000 of the Flatbush faithful contributed to see the Robins lose their fifth straight.

Waco Cubs Set Dizzy Pace for Texas Ball Clubs

(By the Associated Press.) All clubs that bloom in the spring are wilted and gone to seed when blistering August days have rolled on, but the fact remains that the Waco Cubs have won their first five in this Texas league campaign. Led almost unanimously to finish speaking distance of the cellar, Del Grant's hustling aggregation has set a dizzy pace from the drop of the barometer and shows no inclination to let up. Given the sort of pitching they have had so far, the Cubs might prove to be the greatest sensations of the circuit in recent years.

The latest victims of the fast-traveling Cubs were the champion Houston offaloes. Just to prove they had not coked on a cripple in smearing San Antonio four straight, the Cubs took a 3-to-2 decision from the Bisons, with Sowell holding the Snydermen to one blow. It was Caldwell's second try.

San Antonio finally achieved a victory, nosing out Beaumont, 3 to 2, in the fifth. Kott, the Indians' rookie left baseman from Coleman, drove in winning tally with one of his three as Andy Messenger was the winner.

He climbed into second place by his second straight from Shreveport to 5, in a dizzy contest. Three runs paraded for each side, the Wacos finally playing in the last two legs to take the verdict. For the third consecutive day both Starr and man hit homers for the Sports.

Whitworth held Wichita Falls tight hits and Fort Worth squared series with the Spudders, 6 to 2. They led the attack on three Spud runners with a trio of singles. Sullivan, Wichita gardener, gauged Whitworth for a double and two singles.

Jacinto day will be observed as doubleheaders today. Wichita opens its first series at Dallas, reports invade Fort Worth for the time, San Antonio plays again at Beaumont and Waco at Houston.

Eight Harvester Athletes Will Go to State Meet

Although out of competition because of a fractured arm, John Willis will be taken to Austin with Pampa high school's track and field entrants in the state meet there May 3 and 4. Willis sustained a compound fracture of his left arm and a sprained wrist in winning the pole vault in Canyon Saturday. His loss will be felt because he was expected to win that event at Austin.

The Harvesters won five first places, four second places and the relay at Canyon Saturday to take the district 1 championship for the first time and to take that honor from Amarillo for the first time in 10 years. Amarillo had never been beaten since district 1 was organized.

Archie Walstad was the high-point man of the meet and a sensation in the low hurdles. He won easily in that event. Showing sportsmanship in the high hurdles, the Pampa boy almost lost out. He picked a soft lane for that event and when told to change with Kahl so that he could clinch the event Walstad refused and as a result Kahl took second place, losing to Walstad by one yard.

Willis won the pole vault and Stalls was second. Willis had cleared 11 feet, 6 inches when injured. Stalls failed to reach that mark in his last jump.

Morgan ran a nice race in the quarter mile and only for have won the event handily. He was also a sensation in the relay, running away from Travis of Amarillo.

Weedman ran a nice race to place third in the mile event. In the half mile event only a missed stride lost the race for James. The Pampa boy showed up better than in any previous race.

The Harvesters' relay team won easily after Amarillo had dropped a baton. At the change, Morgan was less than 8 feet behind and was on even terms with Travis after he had recovered the baton. Believing he could show up the Harvester, Travis elected to run the quarter against Morgan, but the Pampa boy left Travis so far behind that he quit after running little more than half the distance.

Mitchell Hits Well to Assist Cabots to Win

With Odus Mitchell's big bat the big factor, the Cabot company's nine won out from the Shell Production company's team at Magnolia park yesterday afternoon, 9 to 4. Until the seventh inning the Shell boys were in the lead 4 to 3, but in the lucky seventh Gober's team started to work on Range who relieved Edwards and hit him for four runs.

Good Pitching Is Encouraging Cubs in Eastern Games

CHICAGO, April 22. (AP)—For the first time since he picked up the managerial reins of the Cubs, Joe McCarthy does not fear an Eastern invasion.

"We shove off on our first invasion of the East tomorrow night and this time I'm not afraid of a losing jinx because we've got the pitchers," McCarthy said. "Just look at our record in four games against the Pirates and Cardinals. They got just 20 hits in those games or an average of 1.63 combined. Everyone knows we have the hitters."

For the past three seasons, the Cubs have lost the pennant in the east. Despite inclement weather, the Cubs have made a running start toward a new National league attendance mark for Wrigley field. In four games, they have attracted 116,000 fans. Yesterday on the opening day, they drew a full park of 50,000.

Pond of Waco, superintendent of evangelism in Texas, here to deliver the sermon.

MILDRED LAWRENCE, stenographer at the Judson Hotel, has her fox fur snatched from her in a crowd, but STEPHEN ARMSTRONG catches the thief and returns the scarf. He asks to take her home. Not wishing to seem ungrateful, she invites him to dinner. Their evening is spoiled when PAMELA JUDSON, daughter of her employer, phones Mildred to return to work. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII

Time and time again he had passed her desk with Pamela hanging on his arm, and her eyes had followed them. "Come on; we'll play three-handed bridge." Mrs. Lawrence smiled apologetically at Stephen while he doffed his eyeglasses. "I can't seem to learn how to play bridge," she said; "else we could have a regular game." Stephen made a quick mental computation. Three players meant there was a fourth person about and it hadn't occurred to him there might be anyone to see him kiss Mildred. The kid sister, of course. Mrs. Lawrence's next words upset his conclusion. "Connie's out," she said. "Of course I don't like to have her stay up late for cards and Mildred says she talks too much."

Amarillo Groceryman Now Gives Endorsement

Says His Wife Had Suffered for Twelve Long Years — Troubles Overcome by Orgatone.

Edwin Morley, well known groceryman, whose store is located at 1408 East Third street, Amarillo, Texas, and who resides with his family at 803 Mirror street, is enthusiastic in his praise of Orgatone, the medicine that is accomplishing such remarkable results throughout the South and West.

Mr. Morley, in conversation with the Orgatone representative a few days ago, said:

"I'm convinced from the great benefits my wife has obtained from the use of Orgatone that it is without an equal. Mrs. Morley suffered for twelve long years, and found nothing in all that time that would give her any permanent relief. In fact, her condition kept getting worse until she began taking Orgatone. She couldn't digest anything she would eat and the gas forming on her stomach caused her to have sick dizzy headaches, and fainting spells. She suffered about all the pain and distress indigestion can cause and was so nervous she could sleep but little. Her kidneys bothered her a great deal and she had severe pains in the small of her back and was so tired and worn out from one day's end to the other she did not feel like doing her own housework.

"She had almost lost faith in all medicine, as she tried so many and got no relief. But after reading and hearing so many good things about Orgatone, she asked me to get it. She started taking it several weeks ago and she has had the most gratifying results. Mrs. Morley can now eat and enjoy her food for the first time in many a day, and she has no gas on her stomach or dizzy headaches. She is not nervous now, and her sleep is sound and refreshing, and she is like a different woman. We'll take pleasure in telling anyone what we know by actual experience about Orgatone."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment and is sold in Pampa, exclusively by the City Drug store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative.

School Measure Interests House

AUSTIN, April 23. (P)—Rural school aid, civil service and a bill establishing a nine-member state board of education, held chief interest for the house today.

Three other measures, written by Representatives W. T. Graves of Stephenville, would provide for election of a state superintendent of education quadrennially and change provisions for naming school trustees.

The rural aid measure has for its purpose provision of a nine-month term for common schools. The state textbook commission and the office of state superintendent of public instruction would be discontinued through enactment of the educational board measure.

The civil service bill, a principal administration measure, would place practically all state workers on a graded scale. Exemptions would include employees whose posts must be confirmed by the senate, teachers in state schools, secretaries of department heads, the judiciary, professional workers and members of the ranger service and national guard.

The school trustee bill calls for election on April 1 of three trustees who would serve one, two and three-year terms, the length to be determined by lot. All would be required to read and write and possess a comprehensive knowledge of the school laws of Texas.

The bill designed to remove educational affairs from city politics, specified aldermen who have had charge of shaping scholastic policies may continue to function if a board of seven trustees is appointed. If 25 per cent of the population of the municipality calls for an election by petition to name the trustees, the mayor must perform this duty.

HOOVER WILL GIVE HIS AID IN LAW WORK

Assumes Leadership in Enforcement of Amendment

UNFIT OFFICERS TO BE YANKED

State and Local Officers to Be Used Under Plan

WASHINGTON, April 23. (P)—President Hoover has swept state and local as well as federal enactments into the already broad compass of his law enforcement campaign.

In doing so he has stated the enforcement of those laws concern the president of the United States both as a citizen and as one upon whom rests the primary responsibility of leadership for establishment of standards of law enforcement in the nation.

In employing this language in his address yesterday at the annual luncheon of the Associated Press in New York City, Mr. Hoover makes it clear that one of his purposes is to give assistance to crime commissions in the several states which long to have been studying methods of reducing crime.

To this extent, at least, he went further than he did in his inaugural address, the keynote of which was law enforcement. His belief is the states themselves can materially assist in the general movement for suppression of the crime wave which is giving him more concern than any other problem.

His own appeal to the conscience of America for law observance has been accompanied by a statement of the purpose of the administration to strengthen its law enforcement agencies by steady pressure exerted day by day with a constant if undramatic persistence.

There were two things in this statement which has attracted more than passing interest in political Washington. One was the declaration for the weeding out of all incapable and negligent officers no matter what their status. This process already has been started in the case of district attorneys, and there is conjecture as to the extent of changes that may be made over the country. The other was the promise of the most rigid scrutiny not only of the records of all persons suggested for official appointment in the entire law enforcement machinery, but also a check of their attitude toward the enforcement of all law, which, of course, includes the eighteenth amendment.

ANTI-PRO BILL PASSES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 23. (P)—The Weber-O'Grady bill to repeal state prohibition enforcement laws passed the Illinois house of representatives today. It procured the exact number of votes necessary for passage, 77 to 65. Should it be passed by the senate it will be subject first to the governor's approval and then a referendum vote of the people.

MAN AND WIFE ARE JAILED IN GOSSIP CASE

E. C. Scott Is Held on $10,000 Bond at Stinnett

WOMAN'S BAIL FIXED AT $3,000

Stories Started Which Result in Death of Mrs. Turner

BORGER, April 23. (P)—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Scott were in the county jail at Stinnett today awaiting the approval of their bonds by the sheriff. Scott's bond of $10,000 and his wife's bond of $3,000 have been approved by the county judge.

Scott was charged with shooting to death Mrs. Barney Turner on the streets of Borger April 15 in Borger's celebrated gossip case.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Turner were said to have met on the streets of Borger the morning of Mrs. Turner's death and quarreled over gossip. Mrs. Turner was accused of starting stories about Mrs. Scott. The name of Mrs. Turner's husband was mentioned.

Later in the day, Scott met Mrs. Turner as she started to get into her automobile. The shooting followed.

Revenge Plot Is Barely Failure

DAVENPORT, Okla., April 23. (P)—A twisted trail that led from the walls of a Tennessee prison toward vengeance for the slaying of his father, was ended for "Young Bill" Tighman as he began today the return to his cell—his quest for revenge lost by a scant 15 minutes.

Bill Tighman, known as one of the most fearless peace officers of wild west days, died with his boots on nearly five years ago after a skirmish in the oil town of Cromwell in which the then city marshal of Cromwell, was slain by Wylie Lynn, a federal prohibition officer. Lynn, who killed the aged peace officer, was tried for the slaying, and acquitted.

Saturday Marvin Roberts, chief of police, approached a stranger at the bus station. The stranger, "Young Bill" Tighman, son of the noted peace officer, turned a smile.

"All right, chief," he said. "I'll go. You'd better take my guns."

"Young Bill" had been serving a sentence in Tennessee for attempted robbery of a bank. He escaped, however, and officers had trailed him across Tennessee, Texas, and back into Oklahoma.

At the police station, Roberts turned to Tighman. "What made you stop here, buddy?" he asked. "Didn't you know folks would recognize you?"

"Wylie Lynn, the man who shot my father, was on that stage that arrived a few minutes after you picked me up," Tighman answered. "I thought perhaps I'd get a chance to meet him."

The statement was made in connection with the report from Chicago that a contract for the use of the stadium had been prepared.

Wichita Boosters Make Merry Here During Noon Hour—125 Men on Trip

Accompanied by the Wichita American Legion band and a quartet that sang itself into the hearts of Pampa's music lovers, the Wichita Boosters arrived in Pampa this morning at 11:45 and remained until 1:15 p. m. Led by the Legion band playing popular music, the boosters paraded Cuyler street and distributed souvenirs.

The band gave a concert at the corner of Cuyler street and Kingsmill avenue and the corner of Cuyler street and Foster avenue. Hundreds of citizens met the train and listened to the music on the streets. City officers and officers of the sheriff's department were called to direct traffic during the stay of the visitors.

The trip is an annual affair sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Wichita business men. There were 125 men on the trip this year. Bells, whistles, caps, rulers and other souvenirs were given away to old and young.

The boosters were welcomed at the Santa Fe depot by city officials and directors of the Pampa Board of City Development and hundreds of citizens.

The trippers left Wichita yesterday morning and visited all towns between that point and Spearman yesterday. To day the route was to Amarillo, where the night will be spent. Tomorrow the boosters will reach Roswell, N. M., and the following day will visit Carlsbad Cavern. The return to Wichita will be made from Sweetwater by way of Altus, Oklahoma.

"It's Like This—"

GOVERNOR MOODY suggests that district court schedules be left to the discretion of the presiding judges. This would allow court to be called when and where it was in greatest demand in a district, and would tend to relieve congestion and prevent waste of time.

There are objectionable features in that judges could misuse their authority and that counties could not be certain when their terms of court would convene. It would be possible, in all probability, to reach a compromise agreement which would remove many of these features.

Modern government is more efficient in administration where it is left to the initiative of experts. There is a big gulf between this ideal and that of the initiative of politicians who must find rewards for their supporters.

"NO INDIVIDUAL has a right to determine what law shall be obeyed and what law shall not be enforced. If a law is wrong, its rigid enforcement is the surest guarantee of its repeal. If it is right, its enforcement is the quickest method of compelling respect for it."

Exactly. And while we stand for the continuity of the prohibition laws, the idea advanced by Mr. Hoover as to the repeal of a law is sound. Because a law is passed is no sure sign that it is right, but enforcement and observance is the only honest way to consider it.

That dictum strikes home—to officers, judges, citizens, you and me. One does not have to look up to Washington to get examples of what the president is talking about.

We have taken up the matter of "it" with Clara Bow, and if there are any local it-ers who have the secret, please communicate with us forthwith. Meanwhile, we plan to suppress that "it" song which was directed at us.

The state highway commission seems to have heard not enough of Gray county—or too much.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON — Perhaps nothing in President Hoover's first message to Congress was more interesting than the fact that it contained nothing startling, nothing new and nothing calculated to arouse congressional opposition.

The message carried every indication that Hoover was emphatically averse to letting his administration in for a row with Congress at the outset. The president feels that there is no need for such a squabble; that it would merely clog up the machinery and would be only so much grief for everybody.

His disposition is to let the members fight the farm relief and tariff problems out among themselves, to judge from the message. Thus, although there may be some complaint about a lack of specific recommendations—on the theory that a president should tell Congress just what he wants—there can hardly be any complaint that Hoover has shown a lack of discretion.

One Unexpected Point
The proposal to strengthen and speed up the Tariff Commission was the one recommendation that may not have been expected. But presumably no one is going to object to that.

There were three main phases to this very brief message: agricultural relief, tariff revision and remarks on restriction of matters to be considered at this session. Partly because of his anxiety to limit the program and partly because he had no new sweeping suggestions to make, President Hoover was able to outdo Coolidge himself on verbal economy in such a message.

On agriculture, he simply touched on the causes of agricultural distress, discussed the need and possibilities of a federal farm board such as has been repeatedly proposed for many years, praised the cooperative movement and predicted the dawn of a new day for the farmers.

On the tariff, he laid down a general principle for duty revision, mildly warning against a general raid. There was no pronouncement from which any intimation might be drawn that he would veto this or that kind of a bill. In effect he said that an industry seeking higher duties should be able to prove that it had been really hurt by foreign competition to the extent of reduced operation and reduced employment. The actual effect of this suggestion will depend on how liberally Congress cares to construe the principle and whether it will be willing to take the word of those who want higher duties as to just how disastrously they have been hit.

"It would seem to me that the test of necessity for revision is in the main whether there has been"—introducing his tariff suggestion with those words, Hoover hardly sounded like the dictator some have predicted he would be. It does not yet appear whether or not he is toting a big stick, but at this time the president is speaking softly.

Take this paragraph in which he said: "It is my understanding that it is the purpose of the leaders of Congress to confine the deliberations of this session mainly to the question of farm relief and tariff. In this policy I concur." It sounded as if Hoover meant that Congress, and not he, was taking the lead in policies of legislation.

It was a good convention of ye editors, but Twink was accused by one of the lady visitors of not having any "it". And what does it profit one if he has everything else nearly, and no it? However, we were ranked with Lyman Robbins of Memphis, who replies that he can prove he has it, and will divide the proof with us.

Considering the publicity

Mary Garden gave Amarillo, many towns will be seeking down-and-out celebrities to criticize.

Tropical earthworms grow to be three feet long. Why doesn't some enthusiastic fisherman import that variety for commercial use?

Well, if they make the planes silent we suppose they will have to install horns to honk a mile away—or we poor pedestrians will have to improve our jumping.

Some of these spring moths are said to be gorgeous, but the temperature recently in the wee hours has not been conducive to comfort of those changing tires. And some of these detours remind one of the peak of boom days—boom expected every time you hit a bump at 50 per.

A real politician is one who doesn't give you a cold stare along about this time of the year.

Hydrocycling is growing popular, but out here on the dry plains we won't have much opportunity to take up H2ology.

Texas Leaguers Split Twin Bills; Waco Loses One

(By the Associated Press.)

Eight Texas league teams won a game each in four twin-bills reeled off in celebration of Sam Houston's victory over Santa Anna's team on the San Jacinto 93 years ago. It fell to the lot of the Houston Buffaloes to stop the winning streak of the Waco Cubs at five straight. The Buffs took the first game by a margin of 6 to 3.

The Cubs resumed their winning ways in the nightcap, in which Thurman held the Buffs to four hits and no runs in seven innings, while the Cubs pushed three markers across the plate. The victory gave the Wacoans two out of the three-game series.

Milt Stock's Steers maintained their place as runners-up by getting an even break with Jim Galloway's Wichita Falls Spudgers. The Steers were decisively outbid in both contests, but the wildness of Spudger moundmen and bunting of his allowed Stock's men to top the opener, 9 to 2. Dickie Shuman was blasted off the mound in the nightcap, which the Spuds took, 5 to 1.

Vincent Devaney, former Cat bat-boy, pitched Fort Worth to its victory over Shreveport, 4 to 1, in the second game, after the Sports had taken the first contest, 2 to 1, in 10 innings. The Sports got 11 hits in the opener, but Walkup kept them scattered and forced the game to go overtime.

The Indians and Exporters put on a rough-and-tumble fight for possession of the cellar, but when darkness settled over the field the issue was still undecided. They split the day's games, and remained tied for last place with exactly 286 each. The Indians made 13 hits count for 10 runs in the first to win, 10 to 6, while the Shippers took the second, 4 to 5, when Easterling hoisted over second to score Lamb with the winning run.

"TOO YOUNG" SAY OFFICIALS; BUT HAL, 9, TRIES FOR TITLE

Diving is just one of the things, Hal Benham, age 9, does well. He also wears collegiate clothes.

By TED VOSBURGH
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK (P)—A Lilliputian mite of a lad just nine years old, four feet tall and 65 pounds in weight has taken New York followers of aquatic sport by storm.

Hardly big enough to bend a spring board, little Hal Benham of Indianapolis finished third in the national junior high board diving championship and on the following night made a surprising showing in the senior event in which he was by far the tiniest tot ever to participate.

The brilliant diving of the intrepid nine-year-old and his 12-year-old pal, Frank Fehsenfeld, proved to be one of the big features of the title competition and more than vindicated the judgment of their coach, Richard O. Papenguth of the Indianapolis A. C., who was advised by the chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union Swimming Committee not to bring them because they were "too young".

Papenguth, who wears the emblem of Michigan where he was a diving and swimming star up to his graduation three years ago, said neither one knows the meaning of fear.

The young coach started out with a big class of boys, but as the dives grew harder they dropped out until only Hal and Frank remained. Every day after school in Indianapolis they dive for two hours or more.

"The Little One", as Papenguth calls him, has been diving off the high board—ten feet above the water—less than a year, but he has mastered all the intricate aerial feats of the experts.

Little Hal is a winning youngster with a ready grin on his baby face, but when doing his stuff he is all dignity. On land he affects a collegiate sweater and knickers. His water garb also runs to colors.

The most fun he had in New York he thinks, was when he was watching a 250-pound local diver in the junior championship who persisted in smacking the water with his broad-beamed back.

"That tickled Hal and he wiggled with glee."

WOMAN'S GOLF TOURNEY WILL BE PROMOTED

CHICAGO, April 23. (P)—The Women's Western Golf association has decided to sanction an international women's golf championship, the derby, at the Flossmoor Country club, September 9 to 12.

Under a special ruling of the association, any woman golfer in the world will be permitted to compete in the event, which will be 72 holes with medal play. It is hoped to have the event reach the importance of the national open for men.

Chicago Cubs Are Having Good Hurling Along With Hits

By HERBERT W. BARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The time seems to have come for the experts to grant that Joe McCarthy's Chicago Cubs have something more than uniforms to prove they're baseball players.

Pre-season forecasts all stressed the fact that if the Cubs were in the running all year they could give the credit to their capabilities at the bat rather than in the pitcher's box.

But the first week of the season has revealed not only a tremendous batting punch in the Cubs' line-up, with Rogers Hornsby acting as the "Big Bertha," but a surprising and unexpected strength on the "pitching mound" as well.

Facing the St. Louis Cardinals at Chicago yesterday, the Cubs played bang-up ball behind Pat Malone's great pitching and won, 3 to 0, for their fourth victory in five starts. Holding the slugging Cardinals to five hits for his second victory of the season, Malone stretched the Cub pitchers' scoreless inning streak to 26.

"Old Pete" Alexander puzzled the Cubs until the fourth when Hornsby connected for a home run with the bases empty. After that they pecked away at the veteran with enough effectiveness to score single runs in the fifth and sixth innings.

After holding Cincinnati scoreless for six innings, Carmen Hill, bespectacled star of the Pittsburgh Pirates, blew up with a loud report in the seventh and the Reds scored six runs before Kremer could halt the carnage. The Reds added three more in the eighth to bring the final score to 9-4.

In the American league, George Uhle pitched Detroit to a 1-to-0 shut-out over the St. Louis Browns, but he had some help from his rival, Jack Ogden. Jack's talk in the first inning coupled with two singles allowed

In the only other major league game of the day, Al Thomas gave the Cleveland Indians nothing they could hit and the Chicago White Sox galloped away with a 10-to-0 decision. Thomas was touched for seven hits but he scattered them in such fashion that the Indians never got around to scoring a run.

Sande May Not Be Active Now

NEW YORK, April 23. (P)—Earl Sande, owner, trainer and jockey, may not be seen in the saddle on tracks of the New York racing circuit this season which opens today.

A rule of the New York Jockey club prevents a jockey from having any interest in horses he rides. The same condition existed in Maryland, but the racing governors rescinded a rule and Sande went out and won his opening race with his 3-year-old Hermitage, candidate for the Preakness and the Kentucky derby.

Sande has not yet made any application for a jockey license in New York but will probably do so at the completion of the Maryland season. There is little chance the Jockey club will amend its rules.

Thirty-Two Men to Play Handball in Tourney Tomorrow

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, April 23. (P)—Play in the National A. A. U. senior handball championship begins tomorrow night with the champion, Clifford Kauling, and 31 others in the field.

Handball handball is the ancient Irish type of game, played with a yarn ball covered with horsehair, something after the manner of a baseball.

Kauling's chief opposition is expected to come from the 1926 champion, Trygve Tholfsen, and from Jim Kelly, many times American titleholder. Kelly is a detective on the New York police force.

MAY BE NINE CREWS IN FOUGHKEEPSIE REGATTA

NEW YORK, April 23. (P)—Whether the Foughkeepsie regatta will have a record number of nine starters this year hinges to a great extent on whether Massachusetts Institute of Technology's varsity oarsmen can defeat Princeton on the Charles river on Saturday.

An invitation to compete against Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Columbia, California, Navy, Washington, and Wisconsin at Foughkeepsie is under consideration at M. I. T., but no definite decision is expected until it can be determined what chances the Engineers have against such competition.

CHURCHES

GREEN IS LAUDED

Col. Guy W. Green, who will come to Pampa for a revival service at the Presbyterian church May 29 to June 9, is described as follows by a newspaper writer at Princeton, Ky., where he recently closed a successful meeting.

Gripping! Winsome! Genial Gracious! Wholesome! Genuine! The foregoing explanations are the consensus of opinions of those who have heard Colonel Green speak at the Central Presbyterian church, Butler St., and the Kiwanis club. A hackneyed advertising phrase best describes him—"He's different." His mastery of language, his familiarity with poetry, his understanding of human nature, his sincerity of purpose, his loyalty to the Bible and his Lord ingratiates him with his audience, and sends them away captivated. At his first service on Tuesday evening he was narrating an interesting story from the poet, Lowell, an illustration of his theme, and as only a master can, he had the rapt attention of his audience, when suddenly there rang out on Main street, just in front of the church the bang, bang, of a cold auto. The audience was startled by the suddenness of it, but Colonel Green briefly paused, and with a merry twinkle of the eyes humorously remarked: "Fourth of July? No, too early for that," and ere the reverberation of the back-firing auto had ceased Colonel Green had taken up his narrative where he had left off, with the audience not missing a word and as deeply engrossed as before the interruption. To hear him once prompts one to hear him again. His message last evening (Wednesday) on the subject "The Right Side of the Ship" will be long remembered by those who heard it.

Chicago Postal Inspector Shoots It Out With Gunmen

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—Evan Jackson, an ace among Chicago postal inspectors, and four men he sought for an $18,000 postoffice robbery fought with guns in a room at the Hawthorne Arms hotel today.

Jackson was shot three times, and may die. Clyde Mackin, one of the suspects, was slightly wounded and was captured. A woman companion of the four men, Marian Courtney, leaped from a first floor window and was found, painfully hurt, on the pavement below. The other three escaped.

With the help of Morris Stein, in whose room the gun fight took place, Jackson had lured the suspected robbers to the hotel. The inspector and a secretary concealed themselves in an adjoining room, taking down the conversation between Stein and the others.

Becoming suddenly suspicious, the four men and the woman started to leave. Jackson was confronted with the necessity of attempting the arrest single handed. He stepped into Stein's room and ordered the men to surrender. In stead, they drew guns and opened fire.

Jackson, with a reputation in the postal service for daring, tossed a pistol to Stein and told him to defend himself. He then opened fire, dropping Mackin before three bullets brought him down.

Oakland Car Does Fast Time Driven by Jack Calloway

Pampa Motor company, Oakland-Pontiac agency, received a telegram this morning from the Harmon Motor company of Amarillo, announcing that Jack Calloway, racing driver, had made a speed test drive in an Oakland from Oklahoma City to Amarillo in 5 hours, 1 minute and 30 seconds...

Calloway abandoned his original plan of making the trip through Pampa because of the numerous detours on the road, and went by way of Jericho over highway 66. His drive was made for the Harmon Motor company, which last night staged an automobile show in its building and the adjoining block, observing the spring showing week sponsored by General Motors...

V. D. Prewitt, salesman of the Pampa Motor company, attended the Harmon Motor company's show and was enthusiastic over the exhibit of new models and the record set by the Calloway drive.

Sargon Brings Him Gain of 15 Pounds

"If my friends hesitate to buy Sargon because so many other medicines have failed them, I offer to pay for it if it is not all that is claimed for it. But they have all come back and thanked me in every case, and say that Sargon

M. D. ABBOTT is all that I told them it was. "I had headaches and severe pains across my back and shoulders. I lost weight and was rundown so I hardly was able to work. My kidneys were in bad condition also. I was able to eat only a little food as I had suffered with indigestion for two years. I spent sums of hard earned money for medicines and treatments that did me no good, until I began taking Sargon. This medicine suited my case just like it had been made for it.

"My kidneys have improved a hundred percent; I am not bothered with biliousness; no more headaches and pains in my back and shoulders; I sleep sound at night and feel better from head to foot. I can now eat hearty meals every day and never have a trace of indigestion or heartburn. When I began taking Sargon I only weighed 125 pounds, I now weigh 150 which is a gain of fifteen pounds. At sixty eight years of age I am on the job every day.

"Sargon is as far ahead of other medicines as day is ahead of night. My wife has just begun the Sargon treatment, and I am sure it will benefit her as surely as it did me." The above statement was made by M. D. Abbott, well known contractor of 600 East Hattie St., Ft. Worth. Sargon may be obtained in Pampa from Fatheree Drug Co., and in McLean from Erwin Drug Co. ADV.

Says Shirley Pump Is Sure to Succeed I have had the pleasure to inspect the pump designed and built by A. L. Shirley and I can say that I never before saw anything that equals it, said G. A. Hackworth, chief engineer Gulf Pipe Line company, Panhandle station, and formerly with the bureau of tests and experiments at Washington.

"It is built on one of the oldest principles of hydraulics and is as near self-operating as anything I have seen," he continued when interviewed as to the value of the pump. "It is mechanically perfect and 67 per cent efficient. This pump has great possibilities and will no doubt take the country by storm on account of its efficiency and low cost of operation. During my time with the Bureau of Tests and Experiments at Washington, D. C., I had an opportunity to inspect a great number of pumps of various kinds from the compound pumps to the single piston pump and never before have I ever had the pleasure of viewing a pump as simple and efficient as this one, built and designed by A. L. Shirley.

"Mr. Shirley should be complimented upon having built such a pump and as soon as he gets it on the market it will be a great success financially to Mr. Shirley." (Adv.)

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED MILDRED LAWRENCE, stenographer at the Judson Hotel, has her fox fur stolen from her in a crowd in STEPHEN ARMITAGE catches the thief and returns the scarf. He asks to take her home. Not wishing to seem ungrateful, she invites him to dinner. Their evening is spoiled when PAMELA JUDSON, daughter of her employer, phones Mildred to return to duty. Stephen escorts her to the hotel where Pamela recognizes him as the salesman who had sold her a car. She grabs Mildred and tries to lure Stephen away by pretending she wants to buy another car. Then she meets HUCK CONNOR, who becomes infatuated with her, and she amuses herself by playing with both men. When Stephen favors Mildred the manager asks her to be careful or Pamela will have her discharged. But this may not be so easy as her brother, HAROLD, is in love with Mildred. He is a weakling and Mildred permits him to call to keep him from Huck's scolding sword. However, he suspects that she cares more for Stephen than for him and refuses to stay one evening when he calls. As the weeks pass Mildred realizes that Harold is becoming hopelessly involved with Huck's gambler and that Pamela is winning Stephen.

IT came to Mildred as a distinct shock that Harold was looking like a ghost. She'd been too greatly preoccupied with her own troubles to notice the change in him before it became pronounced. But one day he stopped at her desk as usual and started his unending plea for a date and Mildred saw that the hand he put over the sheet of paper in her typewriter to make her stop working was decidedly unsteady. "She looked up at him then in swift alarm. His face confirmed her fear that something was wrong with him. There were shadows around his sunken eyes and his skin was devoid of color. But it was the haunted, desperate expression of his eyes that startled her. "Harold," she cried, and then hastily lowered her voice. "What is the matter?" Harold was surprised, taken off his guard. "Nothing," he stammered. "What do you mean?" "The way you look!" Mildred exclaimed. "Has anything happened to you?" Harold had regained his poise. "Nothing has happened to me," he said doggedly, "except that I'm in a fever over you, as always. If you've any desire to help me let's have dinner together tonight and"

Mildred put a hand on his arm in an entreating gesture. "You'd better see a doctor," she said pleadingly. "You look terrible." Harold covered her hand with one of his own. "You're all the medicine I need," he declared. "If you'd give me a chance to tell you how I need you, Mildred..." "Please, Harold. People are looking." "Let 'em look. Unless you're afraid Stephen Armitage might happen along and get an eyeful," he said caustically. "Don't be absurd," Mildred retorted—too quickly. "Still thrilling to that poor animal cracker's love song, are you?" Harold pressed, made unpleasant with his biting jealousy. "Well, from all the observation points I've occupied, it looks like he's picked a balcony close to the dear old home ave. home for his love scenes. Thought he had better judgment. Nothing but a Johnny, after all, trailing a girl like Pam."

"YOU'RE her brother," Mildred reminded him sharply. "All the better to know her," Harold asserted. "But I'm not criticizing Pam. She can't help it if her aura is golden and..." When Harold looked at her

"Perhaps you're right," she said in answer to his last remark. "No one having Old Man Gloom to come sit on your chest. Where shall we go for dinner?" "Let's drive up to Westchester," Harold suggested happily. "The Bronx River Parkway is a regular stretch of fairland now." "You'd better run along now and let me finish my work," she told him, cheered to know she had the power to make someone happier. "Be ready on the dot," Harold said before he left. Promptly when her day was done she was ready to go with Harold. There was just one thing she had to do—telephone to her mother. She picked up the instrument on her desk and gave the number: "I'm going up to Westchester with Harold Judson," she said when Harold Judson's mother called. "Tell Connie answered her call. 'Tell mother I'll be home late maybe.'"

HAROLD came up in time to hear the last words. Mildred felt a little guilty over his exuberance. She had made up her mind to get the truth about Huck Connor if she could and she was prepared to stay out late to do it. "Looks like the beginning of a happy evening," Harold told her. "I was afraid you'd want me to take you home when the curfew rang."

"It all depends upon you," Mildred warned him. "Don't make love to me and I'll be a regular Cinderella. Except that I haven't a ball dress." "Want to stop at your place and change?" Harold asked. "I'd like to, if you don't mind waiting, but there aren't any ball dresses in my wardrobe." "You don't need fine feathers." "That's a married man's line, Harold."

"But I'd like to dress you in..." "I know; it's sweet of you," Mildred interrupted. "Come on; you know what's ahead of you before you get to Westchester." "Folkmen," Harold roared, "on every corner." But in spite of the impediments to their progress they both enjoyed the drive to Mildred's home, and Harold got only one ticket. "Wait down here; I'll be just a minute," Mildred said at the entrance to her dwelling. Her minute grew into 10, 15, and then Harold went up to remind her that he was waiting. At first no one answered his ring at the door. He pressed the button again, beginning to entertain a vague uneasiness. Presently he heard someone fumbling with the double lock; then the door was thrown open and Connie stood there in the hall with a white, frightened face and shaking hands that she put out impulsively when she recognized him. "Oh," he cried, "we forgot all about you. Come in, please. Mother's had an accident."

She stepped back and Harold entered the hall. "Where's Mildred?" he asked. "Have you called a doctor?" Connie nodded. "Mildred did. She told me to go down to you, but mother was suffering so it slipped my mind." "Can I be of any service? Get anything from the drug store?" Harold inquired. "You might try. It's a very bad burn. We've put oil and flour on it and Dr. Brill will be here soon, but maybe the druggist could give you something to relieve the pain a little."

Harold was turning away when Mildred cried out in terror from her mother's room. (To Be Continued)

Clashes Expected Soon as Rebel Army Is Nearer

MEXICO CITY, April 23. (AP)—Newly expected today of initial clashes near Masaca, Sonora, between the principal rebel army entrenched there and advancing federals.

Last reports from General Talamante, commanding 2,000 federal cavalry several miles in front of the main army said he had advanced as far as Luis, 12 miles south of Masaca, but had found no enemy.

He was advised to be careful of ambush and not to move too far ahead of the main army, lest the 6,000 or 7,000 rebels at Masaca and San Antonio cut his horse to pieces before reinforcements arrived.

Moving of the principal federal column, containing more than 8,000 men with artillery and baggage was proving slow work, with further trouble on the newly constructed bridge over the Rio Fuerte, north of San Blas, Sinaloa causing some delay.

With the outposts of the two armies so close to each other, however, long delay in initiating the clash—in which General Calles hopes to repeat the devastating victory over the army of the north at La Forma, Chihuahua—was not believed probable.

General Juan Andru Almazan, hero of La Forma, sent word to Chapultepec castle he was beginning the movement of his 10,000 troops through Pulpitico Pass into Sonora, and would shortly be in a position to attack the rebel army at its rear.

Noted Doctor Orders Autopsy of Himself

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Because he desired that his labors in the medical field should not end with his death, the body of Dr. Daniel Smith Lamb, veteran curator of the army medical museum, was subjected to an autopsy today under the direction of his friend Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, curator of anthropology of the national museum.

Dr. Lamb's instructions for the post mortem, which he hoped would reveal new secrets to his profession, suggested that Dr. Hrdlicka perform the autopsy, but the noted anthropologist refused because "Dr. Lamb was too dear to me." So Dr. G. R. Callender of the army medical corps operated.

FAILURE OF REPARATIONS CONFERENCE IS ANNOUNCED

PARIS, April 23. (AP)—Reparations experts of seven nations in an official communique issued today announced their failure to reach an agreement on a settlement of what Germany owes to the Allies.

A committee composed of the chiefs of the various national delegations has been appointed to draft a report surveying the work which has been done and notifying the governments of failure to reach an accord.

The door was not closed to further negotiations.

Several Members in Family Benefited by It, Says Letsinger

"ORGATONE IS THE FINEST THING I HAVE EVER SEEN," SAYS PLEASANT VALLEY MAIL CARRIER

"There are several of us at home who have taken Orgatone and it hasn't failed to bring good results in a single case," said J. H. Letsinger, the well known Pleasant Valley mail carrier, Amarillo, R. I., recently.

"As to my own case," Mr. Letsinger continued, "Orgatone is building up my health after several years of suffering. When I began taking it my stomach was all out of order and my appetite was very bad. I was troubled with constipation and bloating after eating and had that tired, sluggish feeling all the time. Nothing I would eat seemed to agree with me and I was really discouraged trying to find anything that would help my case."

"Finally I began reading in the papers about Orgatone and decided to try it. It sure has been a wonderful thing for me. My appetite is fine now and I eat three good square meals a day. My bloating and indigestion pains are entirely gone. I sleep like a log, and all my sluggish depressed feeling has left me. I recommend Orgatone every chance I have because it has done me so much good. It has helped our whole family and we are all boasting it. It certainly is the finest medicine we have ever had in the house."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called secret or patent remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Pampa exclusively by the City Drug store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative who is meeting the public daily. Out of town customers are being supplied promptly by mail upon receipt of price, one bottle, $1.25, or six bottles, $6.25.

Other agents are City Drug Co. at Borger.

Long Is Accused of Being "Crazy"

BATON ROUGE, La., April 23. (AP)—Charges, denials and challenges are flying thick and fast in the Huey P. Long impeachment controversy in Louisiana.

The house of representatives has come back in session for further evidence on the charge, among others, that Governor Long diverted state funds.

The house committee of the whole which has indicted Governor Long on two counts of the impeachment for trial before the senate had before it today a resolution demanding that he furnish to it not later than 12 o'clock noon April 24 the names of thirty odd members of the house the newspapers quoted the governor as saying had been bought against voting for his occupational tax on oil.

Representative Gilbert Dupre of St. Landry parish, 70 years old and deaf, got up before the body last night while the governor was speaking over the radio at Shreveport and told his contemporaries:

"That man Long is crazy. I don't know whether he should be in a lunatic asylum or the penitentiary. No sane man would come to my town and say I was dishonest. They all know there that I am truthful."

WHEAT AVERAGES HIGHER

CHICAGO, April 23. (AP)—After an irregular start with May delivery touching a new low price record for the season wheat averaged higher today. Rallies were ascribed to unfavorable crop reports from Europe and to emphatic denials of dissent in the Canadian growers' pool.

Opening 7-8¢ off to 1-2¢ up, wheat later showed general gains. Corn, oats and provisions also were firmer, with corn starting at 1 1-8¢ decline to 1-2¢ gain, and subsequently scoring some advance all around.

Oil Production Is Much Lower

TULSA, Okla., April 23. (AP)—Regaining a loss of 44,736 barrels registered during the week ending April 13, oil producing areas of the United States during the week ending April 20 showed a total increase in daily production of 33,510 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal says today.

The total estimated daily average production for the week ending April 20 was 2,669,592 barrels as compared to 2,616,082 for the week ending April 13. Light oil production alone increased approximately 57,015 barrels, heavy oil having dropped off slightly to decrease the total.

Oklahoma's greater Seminole area contributed the major portion of the increase with approximately 25,000 barrels with California adding 15,000. Heavy oil in general fell off approximately 4,000 barrels daily.

Other fields either were constant in production or reported slight decreases. Oklahoma's increase was due chiefly to fluctuations in pro-rated production in the greater Seminole area.
