'Demoted'

A new battle of stamps has arisen in Washington, this time over the "demotion" of Gen. Robert E. Lee on the new 4-cent army stamp showing the Confederate commander and Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson. Only two stars of a Civil War lieutenant general, instead of three of a full-fledged general, appear on Lee's collar, as this picture of a part of the new stamp reveals. It's a rank outrage, say admirers of Lee, to "break" the great general on a stamp that's supposed to honor him.

OIL ENGINEERS OF PANHANDLE WILL CONVENE

A postponed meeting of the Panhandle Petroleum Engineers association, organized three months ago, will be held in the recreation hall at Phillips camp in Whitehouse tomorrow night. The meeting was scheduled for last week but was postponed because of dust. Completion of wells will be the subject discussed at tomorrow night's meeting which will be open to petroleum engineers and anyone in a supervisory capacity working for oil companies and connected with the production of oil and gas.

TAX OFFICE TO REMAIN OPEN UNTIL MIDNIGHT

Gray county tax office will remain open until midnight Thursday for the sale of 1937 auto licenses. It was announced today by Ewing Leech, tax collector. Thursday midnight is the deadline for obtaining tags and there will be no extension of time. It will be a violation of the law to drive your car with 1936 plates after midnight Thursday. The tax office will be open until 9 o'clock this evening and Wednesday evening. A last minute rush from tag-buyers is expected. Long lines were forming in the tax office to buy tags this afternoon.

Windsor Seeks To Be 'Forgotten Man'

ST. WOLFGANG, Austria, March 30 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, seeking the role of a "forgotten man," settled a domestic conflict in his new home today by banishing a Tyrolean cat for an assault on his new Cairn terrier pup, "Schmooki." This was one of his first acts as he settled down in Appelsbach villa for a month's stay and having quieted that situation, he took steps to assure himself greater privacy. He sent an aide to a nearby village to learn how many visitors were there. Then he instructed people to clear letters from the road passing the villa.

I Heard...

John Pafford, former Harvester football star, telling friends about town this morning that he was sorry about all the dust storms he caused here last week. When questioned, John admitted that he had been digging ditches near Dumas and that the dust had apparently sifted over Pampa.

Deafening applause as Miss Dorothy Southard and Dave Turcotte won the sack race at the square dance last night. Last to come in was Miss Leora Kinard. The prize was a dollar each.

60 BOYS ARE HONORED AT SCOUT COURT

TROOP 80 WINS FIRST IN ACHIEVEMENT AND VISITORS

Inclement weather cut attendance of Scouts and visitors at the monthly Boy Scout Court of Honor held last night at the district courtroom, but despite sloppy streets and a snow-covered ground, more than 125 boys and visitors were present. A total of 49 merit badges were awarded, and 21 boys were advanced in rank. Troop 80, sponsored by the First Methodist church, won the Court. Troop 16 was second, troop 4 third, troop 14 fourth. Other troops represented in the Court were troops 22, 70, 21, 23, 22. Troop 80 members were awarded 28 of the 49 merit badges and eight of the 20 advancement. In the number of badges and advancement awarded, the Court was the smallest in several months, excepting the last Court. Four applications for the rank of Eagle Scout were made by Doyle Aulds, Ray Boyles, Fozzy Green, Keaton Rhoades, all of Troop 80. The first advancement award, the Court, was the smallest in several months, excepting the last Court. Four applications for the rank of Eagle Scout were made by Doyle Aulds, Ray Boyles, Fozzy Green, Keaton Rhoades, all of Troop 80. ## More Moisture Still Needed In Dust Bowl

GUYMON, Okla., March 30 (AP)—Record-breaking wheat prices and snow in the nation's dust bowl—the high plains wheat lands of the southwest—brought renewed hope today to veteran grain growers of the "black blizzard" area. The snow came wheat prices at Chicago to tumble after hitting a high yesterday of $1.50 for immediate delivery but at the same time a decline was noted in this country's visible supply of wheat and market indications pointed to a shortage of all surplus world stocks. The opinion of county agents and agricultural experts differed widely as to the snow's benefit to the crop. Some in Texas and Colorado termed it of great value. Others in Texas and Colorado said more precipitation was needed. Don L. Jones, state experiment station manager at Lubbock, Texas, said the snow would be of great benefit to that section's wheat and give added subsoil moisture. He said the precipitation would range from one-fourth to one-half inch in that area. H. C. Hyer, Texas county (Okla.) farm agent, viewed the snow as insufficient. "Unless it is followed by more snow or rain," he declared, "the dirt storms will blow again in a few days. Much of the crop west of here already was lost, blown out by "black blizzards." Farmers in the Colorado edge of the dust bowl were more optimistic because of recent rains and snows.

LATE NEWS

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—Representatives opposing the large raise in the natural gas tax recommended by the natural gas tax commission today gained a decided advantage today when the House adopted an amendment calling for an increase of only 25 per cent. The amendment, which might be changed in future deliberations, would make the tax 3 1/2 per cent of value instead of the present 3 per cent.

TUCUMCARI, N. M., March 30 (AP)—Sheriff Fred White, who arrested and held Vern Charlton of Washington in connection with the kidnap slaying of Charles Mattson, said today "we expect that this thing will clear up by tonight."

PINE BLUFF, Ark., March 30 (AP)—Burns Mitchell, Lubbock, Texas, bank employee, pleaded guilty today and was held for federal grand jury action under 10,000 bond on charges of embezzling $9,200 from the First National Bank of Lubbock.

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—House members from gas producing counties lost their first effort today to lower the proposed increase in the natural gas tax when Speaker Robert W. Calvert broke a 67-67 tie. The vote was on an amendment by Rep. Max W. Boyer of Perryton, one of the representatives from the Panhandle gas area, to make the tax 3 1/2 per cent of value. The present levy is 3 per cent. Proposals which would more than double the impost were pending.

LOVETT NAMED DEFENDANT IN LEASE ACTION

Suit for $18,500 commission for oil and gas leases on 240 acres of land in block B-2, H&GN RR Co. survey in Gray county has been filed in district court here by Ivy E. Duncan, Pampa broker, against H. B. Lovett. The plaintiff charges the defendant with a breach of contract after it is alleged they entered into an agreement on May 15 when Mr. Lovett leased his land with Mr. Duncan for lease and drilling contracts. The petition also charges that with seven days after the agreement was made the land was sold to the Champlin Refining Co. for drilling oil wells and that sale and production from the land has entitled the plaintiff to the $18,500 commissions which he says were agreed upon. The petition also charges that within one week after the agreement was made the defendant was in breach of contract in that he notified the plaintiff that he wished to consider the contract no longer binding.

ELKS CHARITY BALL TO BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY

The public is invited to attend the dance by Exalted Ruler Lee McConnell and his fellow members.

Many Foreign Merchants Expelled From Ethiopia

ROME, March 30 (AP)—The Giornale d'Italia disclosed today that the Mohammed Ali, head of Ethiopia's largest chain store organization, had been expelled from the country by Italian Viceroy Rodolfo Graziani on charges of spying for the British intelligence service. At the same time the French merchant, Besse, director of Besse and Company, also a large commercial house with many branches, was fined 1,500,000 lire (about $75,000), placed in jail and then expelled for allegedly having engaged in the arms trade during the Italo-Ethiopian war. He also was accused of currency speculation following the Italian occupation. The Mohammed Ali, said the newspaper, had placed the headquarters of all the branches of his organization, largest commercial house in Ethiopia, at the disposition of British agents. His employees, it was charged, were active spies. The Mohammed Ali's headquarters have been in Addis Ababa but he has general stores in all principal Ethiopian towns. These are run by subjects of British India. Many of his agents, Il Giornale d'Italia said, also were British consular agents. (The Mohammed himself is a British subject.) Denying at the same time any discrimination toward foreign merchants in Ethiopia, the newspaper said of 870 commercial licenses renewed by Italian authorities in January, 390 were for foreigners. The Stefani (Italian news agency) reported coincidentally that Viceroy Graziani, wounded when Ethiopian planes, advancing as if to receive gifts, threw hand grenades at him in February, was completely recovered.

PIONEER BALL ATTENDED BY 530 PERSONS

The largest attendance at an old time dance in Pampa enjoyed hours of dancing in the high school gymnasium last night when the Panhandle Centennial committee sponsored another of its big dances. The floor of the gymnasium was packed with dancers from the first dance, soon after 7 o'clock, until the "wee small hours" of the morning as the seats around the floor were filled with spectators who stayed until the last strains of the final dance. Sponsors this morning announced that 530 persons had paid admission to dance or watch. Youngsters almost outnumbered the old timers and the kids apparently enjoyed themselves as much as their elders. The snow of yesterday failed to keep dancers from over the entire north plains from driving to Pampa. Hosts and hostesses said they enjoyed themselves and were assured by everyone present that the dance was "the best yet."

MANY PAMPANS ATTEND FUNERAL AT ELK CITY

Many friends from Pampa attended funeral services yesterday afternoon in Elk City, Okla., for Miss Doris Hammons, 26, stewardess who lost her life in the crash of a giant air liner last week near Pittsburgh, Penn. Miss Hammons formerly resided in Pampa where she was a nurse at Worley hospital. She left here more than a year ago to become an air hostess. Attending the services from Pampa were Mrs. T. K. Gage, Miss Daisy Jim Daugherty, Miss Ellen Mason and Miss Bess Mason.

EL PASO, March 30 (AP)—Deputy sheriffs were checking today to determine whether a camera found in the baggage of a vagrant arrested here Sunday night is one of three owned by Robert M. Miller, 23, Safford, Ariz., Boy Scout executive, who has been missing since last week. Deputy Sheriff Thornton Coleman, who came here Monday from Safford to question the man, wired a manufacturing company last night for information as to what dealer the camera was shipped to for sale.

CLIPPER FLIES FROM U. S. TO NEW ZEALAND

AUCKLAND, N. Z., March 30 (AP)—Australia hailed the flight of the Pan-American Clipper today as bringing it within four days air travel of the North American mainland. Captain Edwin C. Musick and his crew of six completed at dusk the 6,820-mile flight here from Alameda, Calif., exploring airways that never had known before the sound of a plane's motor. The trip was a survey of flying conditions preliminary to the establishment of a commercial airline. The clipper will return to Alameda by approximately the same route. DOCTOR IN JAIL OKLAHOMA CITY, March 30 (AP)—Dr. J. W. Eisinger, 55-year-old Oklahoma City osteopath, was in the Oklahoma county jail today, waiting to begin a life sentence at McAlester penitentiary for the abortion death of Miss Virginia Lee Wyckoff, 21-year-old former University of Oklahoma co-ed. He pleaded guilty yesterday to a murder charge and was sentenced by District Judge Ben Arnold, who ordered he be held in the county jail two weeks before being taken to the penitentiary.

Italians Are Put To Death By Own Allies

(By The Associated Press.) Reports of disaffection and executions within the ranks of Spain's insurgent armies came simultaneously today with government claims of advances on three fronts. Antipathy to the Italians who have played an important role in the insurgents' fight to win all Spain, said reports reaching Bayonne, France, caused plotting within the insurgents' own ranks. Widespread executions were said to have followed discovery of the plots, which were believed directed not at insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco but against Italian influence in Spain. Insurgent sources in France denied the reports as "fantastic." Reliable informants at Bayonne declared, however, it was certain there was serious dissatisfaction among the insurgents. Even Italian volunteers were reported to have been executed upon suspicion of implication in a conspiracy at the southern seaport of Algeciras. The Spanish government announced new advances on the Guadalajara front, the Cordoba front to the south of Madrid and the Avila front to the west. Insurgents disputed some of these. An insurgent force massed simultaneously at northwestern Leon preparatory to striking at government troops in the Asturias region—"to wipe out that red spot" and drive the Asturian miners "into the Bay of Biscay." Official sources in London, replying to Spanish insurgent assertions that Spanish government vessels were using the British flag to protect themselves, declared "no interference with British shipping on the high seas will be tolerated." Spanish ships are using the Union Jack as a disguise. It is permissible under international law, they said. The situation on the major war fronts: MADRID—The government declared its troops had weakened insurgent positions on the northwestern and western edges of the city. CORDOBA—The government declared its troops battled insurgents near Alcaracejos, about 30 miles north of Cordoba, and drove ahead along the Pozoblanco-Villaharta highway in that region. ## WELL SHUT IN WITHOUT TEST BEING MADE

LOCATED ON STEPHENS LAND SOUTHEAST OF KINGSMILL A wildcat oil test south of what is known as the "Granite Ridge" in Gray county struck oil suddenly last night and was shut in without a test being made. The well was the Empire Oil & Refining company's No. 1 Jack Stephens in section 187, block B-2, H&GN survey. Without tanks on the ground or pipe line connections, it was necessary to shut in the test before an estimate of the flow could be determined, company officials announced this morning. Moving in of tanks was begun today and a test will be run later in the week, it was said. The bit apparently dropped into a pay pocket while drilling was at 3,161 feet. Oil was forced from the hole by a sudden flow of gas. First oil showing was at 2,106 to 3,168 feet. Another pay was encountered at 3,145 feet as deepening proceeded slowly. Both shows of oil were in the granite wash formation. The wildcat test is located about 10 miles southeast of Kingsmill. It is six miles northwest of proven territory in the Taylor pool and the same distance southwest of the famous Bowers Pool south of Pampa. A previous test was drilled on the Stephens land but it was not completed. A test was also drilled three miles from the new test but it was not completed. Operators and scouts who visited the well this morning would not say whether a new pool had been opened by discovery of oil in the Empire test or whether it was a "pocket" well. They apparently were reserving their decision until a test can be run and further development made in the area. No lease changes were announced but it was rumored that such activity along that line was planned.

ADDED CONSERVATION PROGRAM IN OFFING

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Farm officials looked to the budget bureau today for a signal to start an added soil conservation payment program for drought-afflicted dust bowl farmers. They and a congressional group from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico expressed hope they could obtain a ruling permitting the department to use unexpended balances from the $500,000,000 Congress appropriated for the general program in the dustbowl area. Administrative details of the new scheme, intended to provide additional payments for certain practices particularly adapted to the sector will be ready shortly but the department said it could do nothing until funds became available. They have said money must reach the pockets of these farmers quickly if the program is to be effective.

Pampa Impresses Santa Fe Official

C. W. Lane, head of the public relations department of the Amarillo division of the Santa Fe Railroad, was a Pampa visitor today. ## FEDERAL JUDGE PAID FEE, CLAIMS SOLON

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Representative Kelly (D-Ill.) told the House today that Federal Judge John P. Barnes of Chicago received a $35,000 fee from the Chicago Title and Trust Company while sitting on the bench. A special house committee which has investigated real estate bondholders' protective committees, said Representative O'Malley (D-Wis.) knew about the fee. The Chicago Title and Trust company, O'Malley said, had handled a large number of real estate reorganizations, cases in Chicago, most of which he said they way before certain Federal judges. A member of the committee, O'Malley had risen to defend it and Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) against charges raised against them in the House Thursday by Representative Chertoff (R-Ill.). Earlier, Sabath asserted that a judicial committee hearing that disinterested judges had admitted a "racket" existed in the courts in connection with handling real estate reorganizations.

I Saw...

A letter to the NEWS from Supt. J. W. Dillard of Almarred that was nine feet and nine inches long. It was about the County Inter-scholastic meet that will be held at Almarred. A startled, amazed look on the face of Principal L. L. Sone last night at the old-time dance at the gym. Mr. and Mrs. Sone had walked out on the floor and had taken a few steps. Mr. Sone found out he couldn't manipulate. He looked at his feet and saw the trouble: he was wearing his rubbers.

You've Heard Of Torch Singers—Alfalfa's A Torture Singer

Of all the nation's warblers, probably not one—as you can see above—takes greater pains with his singing than does Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer, vocal prodigy of "Our Gang" comedies. It is his painful technic, in fact, that has captured the fancy of film fans and made him one of Hal Roach's outstanding personalities. His peculiar talents first became known when he serenaded his love with "Object of My Affection" in a recent picture. While rendering that song, his agony over the change in his complexion was reflected so faithfully in his expression, as shown above, that a torrent of tears trickled down fans' faces, and thousands of sides ached.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Service Staff Writer

A stag dinner will re-establish a man's self-esteem. Sturdy fare, some of his old friends, no women of the family visible—and it's always fair weather when good fellows get together. Funny, more well-intentioned wives don't understand the uses of the stag dinner. Music may charm the savage breast but such a womanless feast will do it even better.

What do the "brutes" want? Wait—let's ask a Beverly Hills bachelor. Nelson Eddy is famous for his stag dinners. In fact, an invitation to one of Mr. Eddy's "dinners at eight" is rated among the male stars of Hollywood almost as highly as a bid to dinner at the White House.

Listen to this—Not Nelson Eddy's music, but the melody of his skillet.

Simmer until slightly thickened, then reduce heat and add milk and cream. Heat but do not allow to boil. After cream is added add wine and remove from fire at once. Dinner has begun.

YOUR CHILDREN

With young children, most mothers know now that it is well to let them alone when they are busy working out their little ideas.

There is, of course, a long psychological name for this, called "uninterrupted impulse," but here we will just call it finishing what they've begun.

This doesn't wash out in childhood, adolescence or maturity, either. Nothing irritates any of us so much as being called away from something we are engrossed in and want to complete.

Our irritation depends on the amount of interest and concentration we are putting into the bridge, the knitting or the accounts, at the moment.

But while this "finishing" business must be encouraged in all children, because the habit of completing anything once begun is so very important and leads to all sorts of good habits and industry later, yet, there is a side to it that puzzles many mothers.

Johnny concentrates

Johnny is building a sky ship, perhaps, and it is going to take him days to do it. In the meantime, we can't get him to meals without pulling him by the ear, he won't go to bed and he doesn't want to study his lessons. He is so irritable while he's constructing anything, that his mother hates to see him get out the materials.

The worst of it is that as soon as he finishes his airplane, he'll be making a bird-house, or inventing a carrier for his bike.

Three cheers for Johnny, but he can't go barging through life absolutely unconscious of the clock, and the hundred multiple demands of an average day.

He has other things to do, besides carry out the big idea of the moment. So he has to get accustomed to interruptions.

"But won't it discourage him, and make him lose interest?" asks his mother. "I am so afraid he will learn not to finish jobs he has begun, if he is being called away all the time. It is terribly hard to get children to finish tasks.

I'm never so happy as when the boy holds up some completed object before me, his eyes shining, and says, "What do you think of that, mom?"

To work out the delicate balance between the urge to finish and the demands of life that step in and interfere, we must do some thinking.

Make Him "Time-Conscious" The basis is "time." If Johnny knows ahead just how many minutes he may work, and this is important—can be made to fix his attention on that spot of the clock, he will be more willing to take the breathing space, lay aside the glue brush, and stack away his interest also pro tem in a little pile in the back of his mind.

This, however, only pertains to routine calls. How about other unavoidable interruptions, such as errands? These are the things that will enrage him most. And this is precisely the hardest thing almost any Johnny or any of us has to learn. To put away cheerfully what we want to do, to take up something of an emergency nature.

A child understands more than we think. A boy or girl can be made to see many things, if we talk to them at a time when they are not engrossed or outraged.

Explain that everyone must learn how to give up momentarily, and then go back and pick up where he left off. We complete by singleness of purpose, but the purpose must permit of unavoidable interference at times.

Cage Practice Is Delayed Until After Grid Workout

Track Field Practice At Standstill Here

Spring basketball practice will have to be delayed until after the second period of football practice which will end early in May, Coach Ochs Mitchell announced today after he found it impossible to get the gymnasium for practice periods. The weather was blamed. It drove tennis practice inside and volley ball and other activities, kept the building in use.

Track and field practice is also at a standstill because of the weather. With the district meet less than two weeks off, the Harvester thinclads have yet to hold a workout. A few of the boys ineligible for football did get in a few days of limbering up work before the "freeze."

Coach Mitchell will assist Coach J. C. Freeman with track and field work since abandonment of basketball practice—that is when the weather takes a notion to turn spring-like.

"What have you in the way of track and field prospects?" Coach Mitchell was asked on the street the other day.

With a shrug he replied, "I don't know, we haven't been in uniform this season. Your guess is as good as mine. I'll tell you, though, that we have only one letterman back and no big fellows for field work."

GRANT AND RIGGS HEAD FOR DAVIS CUP CLASH

ATLANTA, March 30 (AP)—Bryan and Bobby Riggs headed today into second round opposition that seemed unlikely to check their drive to the finals of the Atlanta invitational tennis tournament—and a possible hint on Davis Cup lineups.

Grant, diminutive Atlantan who is a veteran at 26, said yesterday he figured the teen-age national clay courts champion from California would fight it out with him and Frank Parker for the Davis Cup singles berth not pre-empted by Don Budge.

Grant set the tone for the eight seeded entries yesterday by blasting Burtz Boulware of Georgia Tech, 6-0, 6-0. Today he faced seasoned Vernon Marcum, of Lakeland, Fla.

Riggs breezed through Dr. Glenn Dudley of Atlanta, 6-0, 6-0, and played Malcom Courts, Atlanta veteran, today.

Only seeded entry forced to three sets was Wayne Sabin of Hollywood, who had a tussle with Preston Chambers of Atlanta before winning 7-5, 6-6, 6-4. He drew Red Enloe of Atlanta next.

LINDYS AT RHODES. ATHENS, March 30 (AP)—Col and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived at the Island of Rhodes last night. They were expected to continue here today.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

Chapter VI
By Nard Jones © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

When Martha awakened, raised herself slowly to the window, the bright yellow sun of Santa Barbara was high overhead. To her embarrassment, cars were parked all along the block which had been so deserted only a few hours before. The snow-white sand of the beach was dotted with bright bathing suits and multi-colored sun-umbrellas. Offshore a dozen small sailing craft played about, and as Martha gazed from the window a smart speedboat dashed by, tossing spray high above its sedan top.

But as Martha watched she was possessed of only one thought—how Betty would have enjoyed the movement and color of such a scene. Hurriedly she dashed her face with cold water, made a slapdash attempt to fix her hair presentably. Across the street was a little cafe and she decided it would be quicker to breakfast there.

Returning to the trailer after a brief breakfast which she hardly tasted, Martha confronted a pleasant-looking motorcycle officer in uniform. He smiled and touched his cap. "Sorry, miss. We don't allow trailers to park on this street, but you can find a place."

"I'm leaving right away, officer," Martha interrupted and climbed into the coupe. So quickly did she suit the action to the word that the officer stared open-mouthed.

The pleasant officer scratched his head, uttering a puzzled and audible comment.

And despite the trailer in tow, Martha did hurry. At all times she held close to the maximum speed limit, and on the long straight-aways she took a chance against the law. One thought kept dawning in her brain: she must reach the Palace Hotel in San Francisco and contact Betty Haynes. At every little town she paused at gasoline stations on the main highway, asking for information as to a dark blue roadster. But none had any help to give.

"If just came on duty, lady." "I wasn't here last night." Or "No, ma'am, I don't remember any dark blue roadster at all." In Santa Maria, in San Luis Obispo, in Paso Robles, in busy King City, it was the same. But still Martha kept grimly on, holding to her faith in the mysterious telegram she had received at Long Beach.

And then, late that afternoon, she reached Salinas. Weary, she drove into a gasoline yard and asked the same question once more.

"Dark blue roadster?" the attendant said. "Y-yes, there was one in here."

CHAUFFEUR IS QUESTIONED IN SLAYING OF 3

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Detectives pieced together today the fragmentary record of a grotesque melodrama known as the triple killing of Beekman Hill and for a public accustomed to glib third act solutions, it may make sense.

Three persons were slain in a crowded block where apartments tower over tier. Hundreds slept within hailing distance.

The clues: a few short, gray hairs and some infinitesimally small bits of flesh.

At police headquarters a heavy-set, muscular chauffeur and handy man answered questions hours on end as detectives sought to shed some light on the Easter morning murder of Veronia Gedeon, artist's model, her mother and a roomer.

Police said the man, Geo. Gueret, 46, apparently had an airtight alibi. In a police laboratory an expert blend over vials and microscope slides to study the hairs and flesh scraped from beneath the polished fingernails of the 20-year-old favorite of painters and photographers.

The bodies of the shapely model, her mother, Mrs. Mary Gedeon, and the roomer, Frank Byrnes, were found in an apartment.

Gueret at one time lived in a rooming house operated by Mrs. Gedeon. He explained two blood stained handkerchiefs found in his room with the statement he suffered a nosebleed.

He was taken into custody after police said they learned he had inquired Saturday night at the Gedeon's former address as to where they could be located.

ARLINGTON DOWNS TO OPEN ON WEDNESDAY

ARLINGTON DOWNS, March 30 (AP)—Everything was in readiness today for the opening tomorrow of the 28-day spring racing meet at Arlington Downs. Twenty-five thoroughbreds were listed for the inaugural handicap, feature of the first day's program.

The starters include C. E. Davidson's Navanon, winner of the $15,000 Waggoner handicap last fall, and Wilkey Way Farm's The Fighter, which won three stakes, including the inaugural handicap and the Texas derby last spring.

The race will be over the six and one-half furlong route and carries a value of $1,500 added. Prospects were that a heavy course would greet the field.

Because the earth is not a perfect sphere, it wobbles on its axis.

(By The Associated Press)

LAKELAND, Fla.—Manager Mickey Cochrane hopes his star rookie pitcher, Paul (Diszy) Trout, will head his counsel.

The talkative Trout tried to badger the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday, in one inning the Gas House gang routed him from the mound.

Cochrane gently reprimanded Trout yesterday, telling him "You've got a chance to make good in the major and don't miff it because you want to be like Diszy Dean."

Miss Ann McMechen of the Red Cross earlier had said that organization's survey showed 455 dead.

Duran explained that while there was an accurate list available it was almost impossible to check at the time because dead and injured were taken to ten or fifteen different places, parents quickly came and got their children to give them burial or treatment and in other ways a resume was made difficult.

He pointed out that in instances the same child may have been listed twice because of initials used in one place, full names in another and shortened first names in another.

Duran said 104 high school students and teachers had been killed so far as he was able to determine. F. F. Wagner, elementary principal, said his checkup showed 187 students dead.

At an assembly yesterday, teachers called the roll and students assisted in determining whether the others were dead or alive. The officials said about 160 students did not report.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—The Cards really should play "tight" baseball. Frequent cleanings have shrunk their gray uniforms to the form-fitting stage.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—Bucky Walters and Wayne Lamaster, who shut out the Boston Red Sox last Thursday, were assigned by Manager Wilson to pitch today for the Phillies against the Detroit Tigers in a return exhibition game at Lakeland.

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—As a reward for polishing off the Cubs and Los Angeles in a row, Manager Jimmy Dykes gave his White Sox a holiday today.

SANTA MONICA, Cal.—The Pittsburgh Pirates, still puffing from the base running they did yesterday, lined up today against the Seattle club with Jim Weaver and Bill Swigun on the mound. The Cubs made 24 hits but lost to the Chicago Cubs yesterday, 23 to 14.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 30 (AP)—Prince Yasuhito Crichton, eldest brother of the emperor of Japan, extended the hand of peace and friendship to Canada today as he paused on his way to the coronation of King George VI of Great Britain.

"It is our firm conviction the relationship between Canada and Japan which exists at present will continue in the future in a more and more friendly as the years go by," he said.

Crowds of Canadian Japanese and Canadians swarmed the wharf and streets during a drizzling rain last night while officials boarded the liner Heian Maru and welcomed the prince and princess to Canada.

WOODCLIFF, N. J., March 30 (AP)—Even Champion James J. Braddock was lost today in the confusion of the heavyweight situation. Facing court action for his avowed intention of ignoring a contract to fight Max Schmeling, the champion clings somewhat pathetically to the outmoded idea that a fighter should fight.

"I don't know anything about this law business," he said, "but I'd sorta like to fight again."

He is credited with all sorts of fabulous things. "Braddock Dodges Schmeling" reads one headline. "Braddock Threatens to Quit Chicago Bout," screams another. "Braddock Going To Berlin," announces a third.

Braddock himself does none of these things. Joe Gould, his manager, does them all.

Yesterday, however, the champion found one job his manager could not do. Madison Square Garden was calling Jimmy into federal court to show why he should not be forced to meet Schmeling in New York, June 3, before meeting Joe Louis in Chicago on June 22. The champion went to Newark and calmly accepted the papers.

She brought the coupe back to the trailer and climbed stiffly out. She had not tasted food since earlier in the day at Santa Barbara, yet the only thought in her mind was to gain just enough rest to make the remaining miles into San Francisco. Forlornly she started toward the Airspeed trailer, and was startled to see a man standing near its door. At first Martha could not believe her eyes. Her sudden fright gave way to anger as she realized that the man was Gerry Neal.

SCHOOL DEAD ESTIMATED AT 350 STUDENTS

NEW LONDON, March 30 (AP)—London school authorities today expressed doubt the total number of students killed in the March 18 explosion would be more than 325.

Troy Duran, high school principal, said that while earlier estimates had placed the number at 455, he believed this would be reduced because of duplications, confusion of names and the general confusion that resulted when the blast occurred.

Miss Ann McMechen of the Red Cross earlier had said that organization's survey showed 455 dead.

Duran explained that while there was an accurate list available it was almost impossible to check at the time because dead and injured were taken to ten or fifteen different places, parents quickly came and got their children to give them burial or treatment and in other ways a resume was made difficult.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY STATES' SAFETY CODES

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—A committee of the legislature investigating the terrific New London school explosion will study the safety codes of other states in efforts to prevent another similar disaster in Texas.

At its first hearing last night, the committee of four senators and four representatives, ordered the attorney general's department to prepare a digest of safety regulations elsewhere for presentation at the next meeting, possibly next week.

L. B. Denning, president of the Lone Star Gas company, E. F. Schmidt, engineer of the company, E. P. Schoch, professor at the University of Texas, and Walter Woodward of Coleman, president of the state bar association, were witnesses.

Prior to the meeting, Governor Allred received the report of Dr. David J. Price, chemical engineer for the U. S. department of agriculture, who suggested the use of gas detecting appliances among other precautionary measures. Price said the appliances were being used in several industries.

Architects and building engineers may be called before the committee at its next session to contribute building safety suggestions toward formulation of legislation.

Denning said gas purchasers should be made to observe safety regulations, relating company employees were told to "mind your own business" when they pointed out dangerous conditions to consumers.

He said an odorant in the gas, in his opinion, would avail little in an area such as New London "because the people were deadened to the smell of 'gasoline gas.'"

Rep. Roy I. Tennant, Jr., of Longview asked Schmidt if it were practical to odorize gas lines serving public buildings outside of cities, such as the New London school. Schmidt replied it was.

Prospects For Baseball Team Here Grow Brighter

MAN FROM MARS

A worm's-eye view by the distortograph camera makes John Bassler, catcher of the Seattle Indians of the Pacific Coast League, look like a man from Mars or a robot.

Prospects for a good baseball team here this summer appeared a little brighter after a Board of City Development committee appointed last week by President Jim Collins met yesterday afternoon and asked for another day in which to finish its work.

Committee members would not say definitely whether or not they have a working plan ready to submit but they did say that they were optimistic that Pampa would have the type of baseball fans wanted.

Clyde Fetheress was ill in bed and unable to attend the meeting. Jake Garman and L. L. Molin were present, however.

The plan being studied is to have a town team with a name suitable to all persons or companies who employ players. The Danziger interests, who hold the lease on the park, and the ball players of the former Danziger Road Runner team, feel that a stronger nine can be fielded with cooperation of the city and other oil companies.

RESETTLEMENT CASE RECORDS

The Resettlement Administration, with its broad-gauged program designed specifically to rehabilitate and restore the confidence and integrity of the low income farm worker, is using the far-famed "cow, sow and hen" idea, as a basis for the long-time program of farm rejuvenation. This idea is the fundamental basis of a soundly planned foundation for a live-at-home program that makes the farm family self-sustaining and largely independent of the price fluctuations of commodities.

The "cow, sow and hen" plan is being put into practice on thousands of farms in the Panhandle-Plains of Texas, eastern New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, etc., where this federal agency has had to step in and offer a substantial loan service to farmers whipped by dust and wind and drouth. That this help is appreciated is evidenced by the many stories of rehabilitation told by county supervisors, and by the farmers themselves, who pay tribute to the faithful work of Resettlement advisers. The cooperation between farmers and Resettlement workers will pay its dividends now and in the years to come in a higher type of agriculture everywhere.

To the farm and home management specialists of the Resettlement Administration is due the credit for the rehabilitation of many of these farmers who saw their future blasted by the scourge of drouth. Their work is to guide and advise the farmer in the best type of crops to be raised, the best manner in which to handle his soil in order to maintain its maximum fertility, and advise on all farm problems. The home management specialist helps the women to solve the problems of the home, helps her to plan a garden, aids her in canning food that ordinarily might go to waste for winter consumption and in many other ways does her bit by giving advice that makes the farm home a happier and more wholesome place to live.

In addition to these aids, the county supervisor studies the needs of his clients and recommends them for loans or grants with which to carry on a program. The home management supervisor surveys the needs within the home and suggests loans or grants to enable the mother to build a happier and a more substantial home life for her family.

The successfulness of the program is not based on hearsay evidence; it is tabulated in the records and reports of the county and home management supervisors. The records are cold statistical reports, but when broken down they show how great has been the service.

Business for the most part is lauding this program because business knows the value of a prosperous agriculture. Thus it seems that the work of this agency will continue for a long time, for its earnest workers have placed the feet of thousands of families on the sure road to economic independence by giving them a broader vision of the future, by giving them help at a time when they were lost, and by working with them until they were financially able to stand on their own efforts.—The Amarillo News.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By PRESTON GROVER WASHINGTON—Once more it has become Joseph P. Kennedy's lot to act as contact man between purity in government and the corrupt outside world. Ever since 1929 when the rough sliding took the pants off many persons, including members of congress, there has been in certain congressional circles an abiding distrust of business men, both individually and in the mass. These congressional minds were deeply pained when they discovered that the ocean-mail subsidy had not built as many merchant vessels as they looked for and instead had gone in part at least into comforting profits. They were zealous to see that no such thing should happen again.

So they wrote into the new direct ship subsidy act a provision that no person who had been connected with the marine business within three years should be permitted to sit on the maritime commission, whose job was to deal out the subsidy.

Who should President Roosevelt nominate as the first permanent chairman of the commission but Kennedy.

Now Kennedy is one of that limited number of government officials who can honestly say they are losing money every day they stay in office. Kennedy can prove it. His reorganizing and managerial ability are sufficiently in demand that in the brief few months after his retirement from the Securities and Exchange Commission he made more money than his government salary would have amounted to in several years.

Kennedy has always been looked upon as sort of special in the New Deal set up. He came not from Columbia or sequestered Harvard, but from the sordidness of Wall street to administer the securities act, which was intended to impose on the stock exchange an air of almost Christian benevolence.

Kennedy knew Wall street and at the same time shared the prophylactic intent of the securities act. The result was a performance that the stock exchange came to respect and the administration almost to adore.

Yet when, after a year's absence he was in-

Word has just been received by the State Department of Health that Mr. and Mrs. Mosquito and Mr. and Mrs. Fly, with their kind-folks, are on their way to Texas for the summer season. They state that, although many had died since last summer, they would soon have large families. Mrs. Mosquito raises from fifty to three hundred children at one time and only takes around two weeks to have full grown children. Mrs. Fly admitted that she and her husband could be ancestors to a million flies in one season.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, stated that Texas hospitality could be refused the Fly and Mosquito families if Annual Clean-Up Week from April 4 to 11 is used to begin a thorough campaign to eliminate the breeding spots of these pests. . . Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue, and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the anopheles or malaria mosquito.

Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes Aegypti or Tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy breeding places of the mosquito. They breed in standing water, therefore, you should drain, ditch or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, too, or stock the water with surface minnows as they will eat the wiggle-tails. Houses should be screened. . . Flies help spread typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They breed, live and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies so that their number is an excellent index to the sanitary conditions.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Stanley Walker, imaginative, author-hater, literary beachcomber, fun-poker and sometime city editor of two metropolitan daily newspapers, bobbed up again recently with a pie he tossed back in his city editor days splattered squarely over his good right eye.

He has been sitting in Bleek's (pronounce Blake's), a favorite hangout since early prohibition days, his cronies say, brooding into his stout and beaming the signs of his literary youth, which have come home, not only to roost, but to jaw at him and poke sad fun as well.

To understand the Walker dilemma (but save your tears, for this dilemma is paying him plenty of hard cash) one must dip back a few years and bring up Walker's book, "City Editor."

In it he belabored and reviled a certain morning tabloid, wondering if it could possibly be raised to the level of its most illiterate readers' contempt, and giving it a beating such as one would hesitate to give the dirty linen on Wash Monday.

Having castigated the sheet in this way, Fate proceeded to hand Walker an ironic deal. It severed his connections with the sedate morning newspaper he served as city editor and flung him in a similar capacity, smack into the middle of the editorial room he had dealt with so ungenerally.

That was pie No. 1. Pie No. 2 in Writer Walker's eyes dates from this same book. Having chastened the tabs, he pointed out how unnecessary women reporters were in his scheme of things. One got the impression from reading the book that the fewer sob sisters he had to contend with the better he would like it. Meanwhile, with new deals coming up every now and then, the Walker fortunes assumed various twists, and he went from his "favorite" tabloid to a smart magazine, contributed industriously on nightclub and theatrical subjects to various publications and wound up—as you know by now—as editor of the New York Woman, newest femme mag on the stands and written almost entirely by women.

The retiring editor, Mrs. Haydie Yates (she's the vice-president now) gave Stanley a party recently at the Sherry-Netherland, at which some two dozen guests dined and felicitated the new chief for two or three hours.

However, he doesn't mind long dinners. What bothers Walker at the moment is whether that book he wrote is really a Frankenstein that is set on giving him the works.

"If I had a million dollars I'd buy every kid in town a tennis racket," one of the two boys said as they sat talking. "I'd buy me a lot of rackets more than anything else. In the last few weeks he's decided that nothing is as worthwhile as tennis; that few things are as important as tennis. He'll tell you any time he'd rather plan tennis than eat. At sunlight hours that are not spent at the court are wasted, that's all. And the tragedy of it is that he has to borrow a racket. 'Well, if I had a million, I know what I'd do,' the other boy said. 'I'd buy me a lot of rackets. All kinds of horses. (He still likes horses; it's been a year and a half since the horse craze got him. He used to want to ride and see if he could not stop horses, as he rode in a car on the highway. Nowadays, he keeps his passion for horses to himself because he's growing up but he thinks about them just the same. He doesn't want to fish, swim or play tennis if a horse is within a mile of him.)"

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDFSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

EVEN YOU MAY HAVE T. B. "IT CAN'T HAPPEN TO ME." Yet tuberculosis did "happen" to John, freshman law student, crack orator and the picture of health. It happened to Betty, just turned 18, vivacious and carefree.

In fact tuberculosis shadows the lives of more than 100,000 young American men and women between the ages of 15 and 25. About 12,000 in that age group will die of the disease this year, many will be obliged to quit school or work and some shall have to give up cherished plans for a life career.

The evidence that tuberculosis can lurk in a strong young body is now complete. It is all too common to find young football and basketball players with hidden tuberculosis. The disease may hide in the lung for months without a telltale symptom.

Quietly it digs in like a treacherous enemy. Suddenly it may show itself by a hemorrhage from the lung. Or it may only hint at its presence by a cough that hangs on, loss of weight, indigestion or unexplained fatigue. By that time serious damage has already been done.

But it need not happen to you! You can take advantage of ways of discovering tuberculosis while it is yet in the "silent" or relatively harmless stage. Should the evidence show that danger is ahead, prompt action will in most cases head off the disaster of serious tuberculosis.

There is a way to find out if silent tuberculosis lurks in the body. It is to have a tuberculin test made. This test, simple and harmless, shows whether the germs of tuberculosis have invaded the body.

If it is positive, take the next step—have an X-ray picture taken of the chest. This penetrating ray reveals on the X-ray plate damage that may have been done in the lungs by the invaders.

In some high schools and colleges all students are offered the tuberculin test and X-ray—an excellent plan. The cases of serious tuberculosis discovered by these tests are fortunately few. But for these few, the gain is great. The others are given the assurance that for them, tuberculosis, the disease that wrecks careers, does not threaten.

Remember, it can happen—but it is not likely to do so if you uncover tuberculosis by modern methods.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS ADDED TO WHEAT CROP

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—Increasing prices and better growing conditions, grain traders estimate, are adding millions of dollars daily to the value of the 1937 American wheat crop.

With a billion dollar wheat harvest now considered a possibility, traders said American farmers for the first time in many years were favored by steadily improving crop conditions without sacrificing prices.

Ordinarily, market authorities said, one factor would offset the other to some extent. But this year a growing demand for European nations has accompanied the increasing wheat crop supply prospect.

Snows in the dust bowl and beneficial moisture in other sections of the wheat belt have enlarged the potential domestic crop, traders said.

World wheat prices have risen much faster than domestic values, a favorable condition for the re-entry of the United States into world export trade after four seasons as an importer.

WINDSOR PARES LIVING EXPENSES $1500 MONTH

ST. WOLFGANG, Austria, March 30 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor entered today upon a more frugal mode of life—one which his majesty-dome said would slice more than $1,500 monthly from his previous cost of living at the Rothschilds Enzesfeld castle.

The former British monarch, his personal secretary, Sir Godfrey Thomas, and his adjutants went early to bed last night at Appesbach Villa, a modest, secluded yellow house with green shutters which became his new retreat yesterday after a 184-mile motor trip from Enzesfeld.

The chief servant computed the prospective household costs here as compared to Edward's expenses at the Enzesfeld chateau which Baron Eugene de Rothschild and the Baroness had placed at his disposal.

Moths In Furniture

Moths are bad enough when they get into clothes, rugs, carpets, and the like, but they are at their worst when they infest upholstered furniture.

And every housewife should know that government experts say there are moths in practically every house, always a menace, a source of worry, and a cause of serious money loss.

Valuable furniture can be preserved against these pests if the suggestions in this official government bulletin are followed intelligently.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

The public is always anxious to know what some celebrity thinks about a certain matter. As a result of this general curiosity about what the great people believe on subjects of universal interest, the various newspaper reporters scramble all over the country trying to get a few minutes interviews with some noted person. Certainly the famous must be consulted if we are to know the result of a cross section of public opinion, but I wonder if we do not confine too much of our analysis to the group of the renowned.

We must never forget that there are those whose notions on any and all subjects are as sound and profitable as those of the noted, yet they are seldom sought for questioning in regard to vital issues of the day. Just because some one, by some particular incident, has become world renowned, is no sign he holds more valuable ideas than the fellows who never get into print.

It is a very effective policy some radio stations have of obtaining a correct sounding of public opinion by taking the broadcasting facilities down to the street and promiscuously interviewing the people as they come along.

Q. Please tell when and how Honey Grove was named.

A. On his way from Tennessee to join the Texas revolution in 1838, David Crockett camped at a spring in a grove of locust trees close by the present town and spent several days hunting. He found honey in one of the trees and named the place "Honey Grove," which became the name of the town and postoffice.

Q. Where was the Bullock Hotel at Austin located in 1840, when the ill-fated feeling between Bullock and Salinger began, and what started it?

A. The hotel was at the northwest corner of Pine (now Sixth) street and Congress avenue. Salinger came to Austin to secure passage of a bill providing for a French loan of $5,000,000 to the Republic of Texas, and boarded at Bullock's. He gave George Bullock New Orleans bank notes in payment of his hotel bill and the notes proved to be counterfeit. Bullock demanded that Salinger take up the counterfeits and pay cash, which the Frenchman refused to do, saying he had received the bills from Americans and American would have to accept them. This resulted in the well-known pig incident.

Q. Where is the "Rabb Plantation" and for what is its forestry noted?

A. It is near Brownsville and has on it a native palm forest, scientifically interesting because the palms are a western variety surviving the Caribbean species of ages ago.

Q. What is believed to have inspired most of the military activities of Santa Anna?

A. Historians see in his military course inordinate aspirations to eclipse the spectacular career of Napoleon, whom he greatly admired.

WAGE DECISION PUTS JUSTICES IN SPOTLIGHT

FRIENDS AND FOES OF FDR CAPITALIZE ON RULING

(By The Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Both sides in the judiciary reorganization dispute endeavored today to capitalize on the Supreme Court's elimination of what President Roosevelt once called the "no man's land" on minimum wage legislation for women.

Senator Minton (D., Ind.), an advocate of the Roosevelt bill, contended the court's 5 to 4 decision yesterday upholding the Washington wage law and reversing its previous position "showed it is a human institution and proves what the President has been talking about."

Senator Burke (D., Neb.), a leader of the opposition, drew different conclusions from the minimum wage decision and the unanimous approval of the revised Praster-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium and the railroad labor act.

He said "the rulings illustrated the present court can and will interpret the constitution liberally in the light of modern conditions."

Resumption of hearings on the administration bill provided a forum for some disputants to take up where they left off in a spirited five-hour Senate debate yesterday. The first witness was Prof. Erwin N. Griswold of the Supreme Court and thus agreed with Roosevelt supporters the Supreme Court had at times taken a "too narrow" view of the constitution, he said the proper corrective method was by constitutional amendment.

"Break down the barriers which have protected the independence of the Supreme Court," he said, "and the way will be broad and open for the first man-who-would-be-dictator."

In effect, Griswold seconded objections to the administration proposal made last night by Senator Glass (D., Va.) in a radio address.

"No threat to representative democracy since the foundation of the republic," said Glass, "has exceeded in its evil portents this attempt to pack the Supreme Court and thus destroy the purity and independence of this tribunal of last resort."

Several members of the judiciary committee obtained copies of the latest Supreme Court decisions in preparation for the second week of testimony by opponents of the measure to enlarge the court unless older justices retire.

Mr. Witt was born June 27, 1863 at Three Springs, Ky., and came to Texas at the age of 19 years. He was married to Paralee London in 1889. They moved to Wheeler county in 1900 and filed on land here.

He is survived by his widow and three sons and six daughters. They are Mrs. Eugenia Chandler, Enid, N. M.; Mrs. Sarah Smith, Amarillo; C. B. Witt, Wheeler; G. S. Witt, LaFors; Miss Lita Witt, Dallas; Mrs. Bonnie Ging, Mrs. Stella Carver and Mrs. Margaret Arnett, all of Amarillo, and Dr. John L. Witt, Groom. A nephew, Dr. J. V. London of White Deer, who was raised in the Witt home, also survives. Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Julia Wooten, Bowling Green, Ky., and Mrs. Mattie Harper, Denton; and one brother, E. J. Witt, Amarillo; and eighteen grandchildren.

Pall bearers were W. L. Williams, Zack Coleman, G. W. Forter, W. M. Hampton, Willard Ingram, Fred Farmer and Dick Craig.

'Dungeon' For Prisoners Defended By Aroused Officials Of Tennessee

By NEA Service

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 29 (AP)—Tennessee, already famous for its evolution trial and recent child marriage, has received another load from indignant persons came protests against the unique new above-ground dungeon or "stand-up cell," in use here. A widely circulated picture of the contraption brought remonstrances streaming into the offices of civic authorities.

"I'm ashamed that Tennessee is still in the Union," wrote one irate New Yorker. A Chicago lady called it "outright barbarism." From Des Moines, Iowa, came the comment: "There must be something to that monkey theory, after all."

One Man Prison

The dungeon is a tall concrete affair, standing about 10 feet high and about four feet wide. It resembles nothing more than an oversized electric refrigerator. Its walls are six inches thick.

The cell stands behind the county workhouse. When a recalcitrant prisoner refuses to work or grows sullen, he is slapped into solitary confinement.

The dungeon has two doors. The first is heavily barred and screened. A small amount of light filters through. It has three holes through which the prisoner can eat.

If he persists in his rebellion, the prisoner finds the outer door clanging shut in his face. It excludes every particle of light. The only air available comes through three holes in the top and six in the outer door. The cell has no seat, no cot. Thus, in complete darkness, standing or sitting on the cold concrete floor, the prisoner contemplates his future. He is released whenever he yells out to guards that he is over his miniature rebellion.

In no case, officials pointed out, is anyone confined longer than three days and three nights.

A Defender

"It's mighty tough sleeping in there, though," officials admitted. Corn bread and water are passed to prisoners three times a day through the grilled slots of the inner door. But, while the protests and charges of "inhumanity" mounted, County Engineer E. G. Murrel, who has charge of county penal institutions, stoutly defended the cells.

"Our law doesn't permit whipping of prisoners and when they get mean, something has to be done with them," he declared. "We've found that about eight hours in the cell puts them straight again."

"There's nothing very inhumane about the treatment. It's just like putting a bad child in a dark closet without his supper."

"And only the worst prisoners are put in there. We have a dark room inside for the others who misbehave."

Brief Triumph

The inside of the white-washed cell is scrawled with witticisms of prisoners.

"Abandon hope, all ye who enter here," reads one. Others comment on the lack of comfort.

The cell is heartily disliked by prisoners. It is proverbial among them that a first offender enters the dungeon in high spirits, looking forward to a leisurely vacation.

But before long he is anxious to get out. Even a hard day's work in the fields or on the roads seems preferable to the silent, black life within the dungeon.

"I'd rather work a week, one day in George Washington's monument," that's what they call the cell.

Civil authorities promised to "look into the matter." There was a well-founded report that the grand jury would make an investigation.

MRS. SIMPSON MAY NOT WED EDWARD, SAYS PAL

NEW YORK, Mar. 30.—Inferences that Wallis Simpson may never really have been in love with the abdicated King of England and will probably never marry him, are given support today by Helen Worden, noted society writer who was in close touch with Mrs. Simpson's friends throughout the association of Edward and Wallis.

The writer reveals in the current Liberty magazine that Mrs. Constance Coolidge, an intimate of Mrs. Simpson, surprisingly declared recently that "Wallis" is definitely not in love with the ex-king, never was.

The writer states that Mrs. Simpson begged Edward not to abdicate, and raises the question of whether Wallis will go through with the marriage.

According to the article Mrs. Simpson was never in love with any man, and that includes the ex-king. Despite the fact that the way will be clear for Wallis to take another husband after April 27th, Helen Worden declares it is still doubtful that this historical match between the English nobleman and the American society woman will happen.

This is how the prisoner sleeps in the "dungeon." On outer door, right, are seen the air holes and a chain that fastens to the hasp at extreme left. Only the inner door, with handle, is closed unless prisoner is too unruly.

It may be midday, but darkness is falling for the prisoner inside as the outer door, which shut out light, is swung shut. It will be double locked and the chain will be drawn around as a triple safeguard against escape.

'POURED ADOBE' IS PRAISED AS EXCELLENT BUILDING MATERIAL BY ALLISON MAN IN INTERVIEW

BY LULA MAE FARLEY.

WHEELER, March 29.—A revolutionary building material for this section has been adapted by R. E. Lee of Allison from the architectural material of the Southwest. It is called "poured adobe."

"Poured adobe" makes excellent walls for buildings of every kind. It is made with earth mixed with water, much in the manner of cement, and poured into forms and left to dry. Naturally it is "dirt cheap."

This new type of adobe is similar to the adobe which one sees so often in the southwestern part of the United States. These buildings are made of adobe bricks of various size. Of course the adobe bricks are made of mud. That this material is durable is attested by the fact that many adobe buildings have been standing for from one to three centuries.

"I first got the idea for 'poured adobe' from a newspaper article which I read seventeen years ago," Mr. Lee stated when asked about the origin of this new material. "It dealt with making walls of earth tamped in strong forms. I was greatly interested, and from that time on 'mud buildings' have been my hobby."

"I was very fortunate to be able to spend a great deal of time in the next ten years traveling in the southwest and studying first hand the construction of adobe. I visited many of the old Missions in New Mexico, Arizona, and California. I read everything I could find on the subject of adobe in the large libraries in California."

"After I had studied the subject for some time I concluded that it would be cheaper and more durable to make the adobe in large blocks rather than in the usual adobe bricks. Of course, this was just a theory, but I determined to test it, and prove it if possible.

"Eight years ago my family and I moved to Allison, Texas, in the extreme northeastern part of Wheeler county. There I began my experiments with poured adobe. The first building was a cow shed which we made five years ago. We made our walls two feet thick and from six to eight feet high. We dug to solid ground and poured adobe for the foundation the same as for the walls.

"The kind of dirt we used was a weak form of caliche from our outside yard. I feel certain that any dirt that forms hard in roads and is not too clayey or does not crack too much while drying will make very good 'poured adobe.' Neither sand or clay would be suitable but they could be combined to good effect. Almost every locality has suitable soils for 'poured adobe.'"

"This is the way we constructed our 'poured adobe' buildings. For forms we used rough 6-inch fencing

GRISWOLD AND GLASS ATTACK COURT CHANGE

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Prof. Erwin N. Griswold of Harvard law school followed Senator Carter Glass, 79-year-old Virginia Democrat, in lambasting the Roosevelt court bill today as dictatorial and autocratic.

Griswold recommended to the Senate judiciary committee, as did Glass in a caustic radio address last night, that a constitutional amendment was the proper method to obtain desired judicial changes.

"Break down the barriers which have protected the independence of the Supreme Court," Griswold said, "and the way will be broad and open for the first man-who-would-be-dictator, whatever his name may prove to be."

Glass, denouncing the measure as "abominable" and "utterly destitute of moral sensibility," declared: "The men and women of America should . . . protest to Congress against this attempt to replace representative government with an autocracy."

"No threat to representative democracy since the foundation of the republic has exceeded in its evil portents this attempt to pack the Supreme Court and thus destroy the purity and independence of this tribunal of last resort."

Talk of party loyalty being involved in the court issue, he declared is "sheer poppy-cock."

He asserted that with private property "seized at will" and government "pleading with mobocracy instead of mastering it, we seem to have reached that period of peril which Governor Roosevelt visioned seven years ago."

CONSTIPATION IS A MISERABLE THING!

It takes the pep right out of you—makes you feel tired and irritable—ready to worry over the slightest thing.

Yet it can be corrected in most cases so easily. Common constipation is usually caused by lack of "bulk" in the foods you eat.

Millions of people have learned that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN ends constipation by putting "bulk" back in the diet. Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass and gently sponging out the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines and iron for the blood.

Two tablespoons daily as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes, are sufficient. Three times daily in severe cases.

Sold at all grocers—and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

GAS COMPANY ORDERED TO CUT DENTON RATE

AUSTIN, March 30 (AP)—The Railroad Commission yesterday ordered the Community Natural Gas Co., a subsidiary of the Lone Star Gas Co., to reduce its domestic rate in Denton 13 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

The present rate is 75 cents less 10 per cent for prompt payment of bills while that fixed by the commission is 84 cents with a penalty of one-tenth to be added if payment is not prompt.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, said the new rate would yield a fair return on the property investment.

He also said the reduction was due in part to the big industrial load in Denton, the lowering of the city's gate rate, the fact the lost and unaccounted for gas was excessive and the further fact the claimed expenditure for plant maintenance was not justified.

boards ripped in half and nailed about one-half inches apart to allow air to circulate—and hasten the drying process.

These boards were nailed to upright 2x4's which were spaced two feet apart. The forms were held in place by heavy No. 9 wire.

"We mixed the dirt with nothing but water in a cement mixer and poured it into the forms. The dirt was conveyed to the mixer by a horse drawn scraper. Making the walls in a day or two caused an enormous pressure especially at the base where needed. The moist 'puddled' soil settles together becoming very compact."

"On top of our walls we placed a 2-inch cap of reinforced concrete three or four days after pouring the adobe. We allowed the forms to remain for three to four weeks until the walls were dry enough to stand alone. One must be careful not to remove the forms too soon or the walls will fall while green. I believe in the hot, dry regions a week to two weeks would be plenty of time to keep the forms on the walls. Within a month after removing the forms our walls were hard and compact. Our 8-foot walls settled about three inches during the first two days after pouring. After that they settled very little. Walls should be erected only during the spring and summer months. 'Poured adobe' walls would not have time to dry out if erected in the fall. There lies the secret of 'poured adobe' walls. Once the walls are thoroughly dry and with a good roof or rein-

WAITING.

For four specific reasons professional traders are cautious in making commitments these days: 1. Key industries have failed to hold the business recoveries made over the past two years; 2. the constant increase of labor problems; 3. profit margins have been narrowing down due to greater operating costs; 4. continued uneasiness in bond prices.

Active traders say that they will not assume enlarged constructive positions until these four points are estimated.

REASONS.

Floor brokers attribute the slipping of share prices to the following causes: 1. Europe is out of the market for the time being; 2. the short interest is unusually small; 3. over-hanging labor difficulties have reduced corporate profits for the first quarter.

INVESTMENTS.

Bond dealers specializing in governments and prime issues regard the sharp dip in prices as the by-product of the Federal Reserve Board's action. Adjustment of bank portfolios in preparation for meeting the increased bank reserve requirements caused the downward movement of prices. While the decline was more rapid around the other credit securities ready to be used to counteract such a tendency. Prime investment issues are expected to "settle" of their own accord with yields running better than they were a few months ago.

Bond dealers warn investors that this is the time to look around and see what issues should be bought when the market does settle. They also urge investors who are not under the necessity of immediately making purchases to wait for bond price stabilization. It is admitted that while these investment may not benefit from a price rebound from the low points reached they will at least have greater assurance of their investment positions.

RADIO.

Radio Corporation of America is again a trading favorite in speculative circles. The buying is based on the belief that the company is actually going to do something about television. Reports are current that since television receiving sets are costly to manufacture and sell to the public the sets will be rented. Those taking the shares believe that rental receipts will increase the earnings of the organization.

What is being overlooked—according to insiders—is that the rental receipts will have to run for a long time before the manufacturing costs are offset. That is why these interests have not been buying the shares.

INCREASE.

Wire flashes from East Texas are that a premium of 10 cents a barrel is being paid for crude oil. The news is being spread through speculative circles that this is a forerunner of a crude oil price advance which will also affect Mid-continent and California fields. The inside news is that the price will be advanced within the next 10 to 20 days.

BENEFIT.

An investment account manager is urging his clients to sell out other steel shares and switch into Bethlehem Steel. This because he regards the organization as a "triple threat" in the industry. The company not only gets its share of commercial business but also is in a position to benefit from increased armament sales and has excellent ship building facilities. The ship building item is regarded as this manager's main sales point for urging the switch.

He points out that Mr. Joseph Kennedy "plays back" with private business interests. Mr. Kennedy is expected to be approved as chairman of the new maritime commission. That is construed to mean that government ownership of steamship lines isn't to be recommended and that private ownership will be encouraged—which calls for increased ship construction. On that score Bethlehem Steel is in a position to benefit.

RUBBER.

In order to curb wild speculation Amsterdam cables report that crude rubber production restrictions will be removed. But professional traders aren't worried. They say that the current tight situation can't be relieved for months. They anticipate higher spot quotations over the next six to ten weeks. It is admitted, however, that the rubber prospect for the close of 1937 isn't so bullish as the outlook for immediate deliveries.

Better Be Safe

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles on safety written by high school journalism students in connection with the Kiwanis club's safety campaign.)

BY ADOLPH DUCKWORTH.

In the past we have had wars which cost the lives of many men and much money, but at the present time there is another war being carried on—a struggle that parallels in many respects with that mad, gruesome game the world loves to play. A mobilization of the efforts of an entire people are now being made ready for an attack. The new offensive must be sustained on every sector, of the accident front, not only for "all summer" but for all year, and for each succeeding year, until safety has been achieved. Then we can say, "here is a land of peace," the normal and happy estate of mankind.

Now to win any war we must first know just where and what the enemy is; and then we must attack him on all fronts. Surprise assaults may bring local or temporary success. It is true; yet all wars are won only through constant, unyielding pressure all along all fronts.

So it is today's war on traffic accidents, which I fervently believe is now entering a new and constructive phase that will mean success. We now know what the enemy is: an unwholy alliance of ancient and inadequate highways; automobiles that are too old for safe use, or that have been allowed to become old before their time; antiquated and conflicting laws; drivers and pedestrians who do not know—and all too often do not care whether they know—how to conduct themselves safely, considerately and courteously.

We have learned that there is no single cause of accidents, but many causes. No victory is to be won by debating whether the chief hazard of the highway is liquor or excessive speed, or carelessness or bad breaks; but rather, by recognizing that all of these and many other hazards combined to increase our casualty lists, and that not any one of these dangers but all must be done away with.

We believe that an essential part of the new war on accidents is to arouse and sustain the interest of all the people all the time. We most gratefully acknowledge in the increasing efforts of the newspapers and the radio, which are doing so much to make the man on the street realize his individual accountability for safety.

It is not alone sufficient that the driver and pedestrian possess the desire to be cautious on the streets; they must know what care consists of, and the specific things they must do—and not do—if they would avoid disaster. The new safety program must instruct both young and old in the simple, yet vital art of driving and walking on our streets.

FUNCTION OF SALVATION ARMY'S ADVISORY BOARD IS OUTLINED

(Editor's Note: The following article is one of a series written by Captain Herman Lambrecht of the Salvation Army post, entitled, "What is the Salvation Army? An Introduction to its Aims, Methods and Activities.")

The subject matter given in the previous article of this series dealt with the general plan or organization, which has been applied with only modifications in a few instances in the eighty-eight countries in which The Salvation Army is at present operating.

An additional element, peculiar to the plan of administration in the United States, is the Citizens' Advisory Board. It is the function of these boards to assist in maintaining sympathetic relations with the public. They help in interpreting the aims and purposes of The Army to the people, and in turn advise The Army officers on matters of service to the community.

That it will be a Salvation Army Board in every sense of the word and work as a unit in the Army's interests.

That the members will have confidence and faith in The Salvation Army itself and believe in the integrity of its officers, both local and headquarters.

That each member and the Board as a unit will give friendly advice and counsel to the Army.

That naturally these Advisory Boards have the right to expect from The Salvation Army and its officers certain things. Outstanding among the things which might be expected from the organization are the following:

a. That the Board will endeavor to understand and sympathize with the Army's aims, purposes and spiritual motives and not regard it only as a relief agency.

f. That the Board will properly interpret these aims and purposes to the public at large.

g. That the regular meetings of the Board will be well attended.

h. That the members of the Board will be free to express their views on the Salvation Army and its officers certain things. Outstanding among the things which might be expected from the organization are the following:

i. That the Board will endeavor to understand and sympathize with the Army's aims, purposes and spiritual motives and not regard it only as a relief agency.

j. That the Board will properly interpret these aims and purposes to the public at large.

k. That the regular meetings of the Board will be well attended.

l. That the members of the Board will be free to express their views on the Salvation Army and its officers certain things. Outstanding among the things which might be expected from the organization are the following:

ADVOCATES OF MINIMUM WAGE LAW HUSTLE

MANY STATES PUSHING ACTS TO FIX PAY

WASHINGTON, March 30. (AP)—Advocates of laws setting minimum wages for women declared today their intention to seek new acts in many states to conform with the Washington state statute upheld by the Supreme Court.

Government attorneys said they believed the decision called to life a District of Columbia law invalidated by the high court 14 years ago. That decision was overruled by yesterday's majority opinion in the Washington case.

Both Senator King (D. Utah) and Rep. Norton (D. N. J.) said they were ready to introduce new bills for the District if necessary.

Governor Herbert Lehman of New York said the decision clears the way to prompt enactment of a similar law there.

Bills covering minimum wage and other provisions "to make strikes unnecessary" will be introduced in the Michigan legislature soon, said Governor Frank Murphy at Lansing.

Sponsors of minimum wage laws prepared to seek their enactment in Colorado, Texas, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Maryland, and Pennsylvania. A Nevada bill setting an $18 wage for women, became law yesterday with Governor Korman's signature.

In announcing the 5 to 4 decision in the Washington case, Chief Justice Hughes said the interest of many states in minimum wage legislation and economic conditions justified reviewing the arguments.

"And if the protection of women is a legitimate end of the exercise of state power," he said, "how can it be said the requirement of the payment of a minimum wage fairly fixed in order to meet the very necessities of existence is not an admissible means to that end?"

Justice Sutherland, who wrote the majority opinion 14 years ago, spoke for the minority in declaring that the minimum wage law might be matched by a maximum wage law and thus "the right to make any contract with respect to wages will be completely abrogated."

AH, VANITY, VANITY! PHILADELPHIA. (AP) Pat Chonin, manicurist extraordinary as well as so keeper, said it is about time for the spring debut of Lizzie, four-ton elephant.

He got out his manicure instruments—a file and a hacksaw. "Lizzie's 45 years old, but she's vain," said Chonin. "She's so vain she lifts each foot and holds it still while her nails are filed."

MARKET RABBITES NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The stock market shook off some of its lethargy today and leading issues got back on the recovery van for gains of fractions to 1/8 of a point.

Trading here, although still somewhat limited, was cheered by another batch of cheering statements and the belief that the Chrysler labor controversy will be settled in the near future. A list was entitled to at least a moderate climb after its recent dilatory backslide.

While the volume was far from satisfactory to the commission brokers, it was better than yesterday's smallest turnover for the past six months. Transfers were around 400,000 shares.

HIGHEST COURT HAS REVERSED SELF BEFORE

FAMOUS MONEY RULING BACK IN 1870 RECALLED

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Records disclosed today the Supreme Court has reversed itself only a few times on important decisions. Its action yesterday in overruling previous opinions and upholding the right of a state to fix minimum wages for women was one of the major reversals.

By a 5 to 4 decision it sustained a Washington state statute requiring a Washington state law against a similar New York state law last June and 5 to 3 against a District of Columbia statute 14 years ago.

Perhaps the most famous case reversed involved the legal tender act passed to provide money for conducting the Civil War. By a 4 to 3 vote the court in 1870 held the legislation partially unconstitutional.

The same day President Grant sent to the Senate nominations to fill two vacancies. Soon after the new justices were confirmed, the court ordered a new argument and the law was upheld, 5 to 4.

CHICAGO GRAIN CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—Wheat prices here tended downward early today, despite Liverpool quotations slightly better than day. For at least the time being, most Chicago traders showed a disposition to avoid the buying side of the wheat market until after April monthly uncolored crop estimates are issued Thursday.

Monday evening March 22, the Board of Review for Troop 4 met in the Scout room to examine the boys on their advancement.

Only three boys appeared before the board. They were all applicants for second class Scouts. Chris Martin Sr. ask most of the questions for the Board of Reviews. He was really in a questioning mood and the boys seemed to have an answer prepared for every question.

The Scout oath was led by Richard Dotson. Roll call showed there were seventeen boys present.

While the roll was being called Scout Executive Fred Roberts burst in on a big cloud of New Mexico dust. Before he got out he probably thought he had stepped into a mud puddle.

After answering all the questions, foolish and otherwise, Mr. Roberts led the boys in some games, which caused a lot of hilarious entertainment.

Janet Gaynor says: "Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies"

"I live at the beach most of the year and there is hardly a weekend that a number of friends don't drop in. Naturally, I keep several brands of cigarettes on hand for guests, but the Luckies are always the first to disappear. I suppose it's just natural that Luckies would be the favorite brand because most of my friends in pictures have discovered that the long hours of rehearsing and shooting at the studio place a severe tax on the throat. Leading artists of the screen prefer Luckies because they are a light smoke that sympathizes with tender throats."

Janet Gaynor FEMININE STAR OF DAVID O. SELZNICK'S TECHNICOLOR PRODUCTION OF "A STAR IS BORN"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke. Miss Gaynor verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
