Friday night activities geared to ages 12-20

Young people, ages 12 to 20, are invited to Friday Night Live!, a free series of games and activities set each Friday, June 15 to Aug. 17, from 9 p.m. to midnight in the 300 block of North Cuyler. Activities include street basketball, sand volleyball, music and food, plus a different special event each Friday night like mechanical bull riding, a portable climbing wall, 3-on-3 basketball tournament and air glove boxing. For more information, contact Pastor Paxton Whatley or Jeremy Farmer at Trinity Fellowship, 665-3255.

Three die in house fire

HOUSTON (AP) — Three people died and a fourth was critically burned Wednesday when a pre-dawn fire swept through a wood frame house where windows had been blocked with burglar bars, authorities said.

"We know that people put burglar bars on a home to keep bad people out, but this time it kept the good people in," Assistant Fire Chief Rick Flanagan said. "This tragic incident that took place could have been avoided."

Names of the three people killed were not immediately released. They were identified, however, as the 65-year-old woman who owned the southeast Houston house, a paralyzed uncle who was found in a hallway and the homeowner's 40-year-old son.

A 37-year-old woman found in a back bedroom was in critical condition at Ben Taub General Hospital.

PISD board mulls major roof job

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Roof repairs and improvements to several school facilities were discussed Tuesday night at the Pampa Independent School District Board of Trustees meeting.

Board members approved a bid from Parsley's Sheet Metal for $137,600 to repair the roofs of the Pampa Middle School and Wilson Elementary School.

Bids were solicited for roof replacement at Travis Elementary, Wilson Elementary and the middle school. The total bid for all three projects was $246,800.

Business Manager Mark McVay said he recommended only the Wilson campus and middle school campus roofs be repaired because they have the most need. Operations Manager Denver Bruner said his budget didn't allow for the larger amount to be spent.

Bruner said the middle school roof has never been replaced since the school was built approximately 50 years ago. He said numerous repairs and leaks make it necessary to begin a systematic replacement of the roofs. He said the first phase would replace the main hall at PMS and the wings of Wilson which were not replaced during the consolidation project.

Crawford Roofing informed the school they would not bid because their schedule would not allow them time to do the job.

Bruner told the board that Johnson

Control in Lubbock had recently toured several school campuses to make an estimate on needs for the campus. He said the project which is estimated to be a total value of $627,000 would provide comfort and additionally needed efficiency in several areas.

John Rudy and Philip Lowry of Johnson Control in Lubbock presented project and financial information to the board to improve school facilities.

Transfusions vital for boys

By DEE DEE LARAMORE
Staff Writer

Braeden King and Caleb Phillips can't imagine life without blood transfusions, breathing treatments, frequent hospital stays and medicine — lots of medicines.

That's all they've known all their lives. And they're both just 18 months old.

On Friday, June 22, Coffee Memorial Blood Bank of Amarillo will host a blood drive in honor of these two Pampa toddlers at Hi-Land Christian Church, 1607 N. Banks.

Donors to the blood drive will help replace the more than 100 pints it takes to provide Braeden and Caleb with immunoglobulin transfusions they must have every three weeks.

The two boys suffer from Genetic Immune Deficiency and Critical Lung Disease, a diagnosis that means they are susceptible to most common viruses and bacteria, causing pneumonia and constant infection.

A blood drive honoring Braeden and Caleb is set for 1-7 p.m., Friday, June 22, at Hi-Land Christian Church, 1607 N. Banks

Braeden is the son of Brienna Taylor and Ryan King. He is the grandson of Dale and Joann Taylor and Bill and Sherry King. In his 18 months of life, he has been hospitalized 18 times.

Charlie and Stacy Phillips are the parents of Caleb. His maternal grandfather is Bill Riley.

Caleb hasn't been hospitalized as often as Braeden, but once he

The new style red, white and blue bunting rodeo banners are hung from businesses and local organizations to celebrate the upcoming Top O' Texas Rodeo in July. A fundraiser for the Miss Rodeo Top O' Texas Rodeo Pageant, the banners are available by calling the rodeo office, 669-0434. Deadline for ordering the banners has been extended to Friday, June 22. Banner prices range from $16 to $54.

Survivor still cancer-free following chemotherapy

Editor's Note: This is the third in a five-part series about cancer survivors.

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Dorla McAndrew went to get a mammogram in January 1998 at Pampa Regional Medical Center. She wasn't having any symptoms of breast cancer. It was just routine. She didn't realize at the time how important that effort was going to be to her.

When the screening results came back a few days later, Dorla learned there was a suspicious spot on her breast. A cancerous spot in a milk duct had apparently infiltrated to the breast tissue.

Her doctor recommended she have a mastectomy. She said many of her friends and acquaintances were urging her to go to Cancer Treatment Centers of America in Tulsa, Okla.

Dorla McAndrew

"I heard so many positive aspects about the program," she said. "I decided I'd just go and get a second opinion."

"I was extremely impressed with the medical facilities, the staff and the program they offered," she said. "The doctors

'Relay for Life' begins with a Survivors Walk Friday, June 22

Cancer survivors wanting to participate in the Relay for Life Survivors Walk Friday should be at the Recreation Park area at 6 p.m. Friday to preregister for the walk at 6:30 p.m. It is sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Following the lap, a Cancer Survivors Celebration will be held. Snacks will be provided by the Circle of Friends.

All survivors of cancer are encouraged to participate. A survivor is anyone who has been diagnosed with cancer—whether it be one day or 80 years, said Pam Dalton, Relay for Life chair.

PEDC board discusses sales tax, dairy outlook

By DEE DEE LARAMORE
Staff Writer

Members of the Pampa Economic Development Corporation (PEDC) met primarily behind closed doors Tuesday as they discussed legal and economic development matters, but open session topics focused on the city's strong sales tax figures and a positive outlook on more dairies for the area.

No action was taken following the two executive sessions, officials said today.

While looking over the treasurer's report Tuesday, Board President Richard Stowers pointed out an increase in city sales tax revenues. In May 2000, Pampa had received $58,553 in sales tax revenue. This year's May payment totaled $82,210.

Local 2001 sales tax revenues total $519,120 to date, compared to $476,129 for 2000, according to the report provided to the PEDC board.

"Most people look at Amarillo as the standard," Stowers said, adding that Amarillo's sales tax increase was far less than Pampa's approximately 12 percent boost in sales tax revenues.

"It's much better than what I had budgeted," said Susan Triplehorn, PEDC executive director.

PEDC's new board members, Darville Orr, Lee Porter and Joe Mullenax, reported a recent dairy seminar in Lubbock, sponsored by the High Ground regional dairy association, educated them about the dairy industry and recruitment.

"As a new board member, I found it educational and enlightening," said Orr.

"I learned more about the dairy industry and how it works," Porter added.

"The only thing I regret is not being able to be there for the tour," Mullenax said. "It was very educational, a worthwhile trip."

"It makes me feel better to hear you say that. You bring things to (the city commission) and a lot of the time we are flying by the seat of our pants," City Commissioner Faustina Curry who attended the PEDC meeting.

Most Rapists Know their Victims, So Be Careful Whom You Trust

DEAR ABBY: I dated a childhood friend for five years, and I felt very safe with him. However, last December, he drugged my wine and raped me. I am 24 years old and would have been careful around someone I didn't know so well, but I never suspected anyone I knew would do such a horrible thing.

His mother still refuses to believe he raped me. Rather than doubt that a son could do such a thing, a parent should encourage the young man to get counseling. Rape is not a harmless "boys will be boys" game — it is violence.

There are two things I would like to say. To other women: Be very careful of whom you are alone with no matter how well you think you know the man, and watch your drink at all times.

To friends and parents of the rapist: When a woman says she has been raped, please believe her. Most women will not put themselves through the painful experience of telling people they have been raped unless it is true.

Abby, I don't blame myself for what happened, but I wish I had been more aware and less trusting.

SURVIVOR IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR SURVIVOR: Having known the man since childhood, there was no reason not to trust him. You could not have foreseen that he would criminally violate you. According to studies cited by Gail Abarbanel, president of The Rape Foundation in Santa Monica, Calif., 80 percent of rapes are committed by someone the woman knows. Although acquaintance rape is often questioned, women must report such crimes to the authorities. A woman has a right to say no to sex, and when a man denies her the right to say no by slipping her drugs or forcing her, he is committing a criminal act. If the victim doesn't report him, he will be free to rape again.

I urge you to report your childhood friend's crime to the authorities to stop him from violating another woman as he did you.

DEAR ABBY: I am disturbed by the way some people categorize others. I will use myself as an example.

I have eight piercings in one ear — none in the other — and a tongue ring. (I also have a couple of tattoos, but they are not visible.) Right away, people put me in the "freak" category. What they do not know is that I am the mother of a beautiful

5-month-old girl. I am totally responsible for her and work very hard to give her a "normal" life without a father.

I need a job, and when I am on interviews, everything goes great until they notice my tongue ring. Then the interviewer's attitude changes completely.

People have different ways of showing their individualism, Abby. For some, it's through art, clothes, hairstyles, etc. I won't say I never "judge a book by its cover," but I try not to. I wish employers would take the time to get to know people before they judge them.

OUT-OF-WORK MOM

DEAR OUT-OF-WORK: First impressions do count. Most employers are conservative and expect a certain amount of conformity from prospective employees. Before your next interview, remove the tongue ring. In time — once you've proven yourself to be a valuable employee — perhaps you can start revealing more of your individualism in stages. Good luck.

Dear Abby is written by Pauline Phillips and daughter Jeanne Phillips.

SPCC to host concert with Grammy-winning vocalist

AMARILLO — Samaritan Pastoral Counseling Center (SPCC) will present Sandi Patty in concert at 7:30 p.m., June 22 at San Jacinto Baptist Church in Amarillo.

Sandi Patty has to her credit 39 Dove Awards, five Grammy Awards and four Billboard Music Awards — the most awarded female vocalist in contemporary Christian music history. Her 22 albums have sold more than 11 million units including three platinum and five gold recordings.

"We are so excited about the opportunity to bring Sandi Patty to Amarillo," Vicki Sivally, fundraising chair for SPCC, commented. "Sandi's trademark of bringing encouragement to the church through emotion-laden melodies and incredible lyrics fits perfectly with Samaritan Pastoral Counseling Center's primary purpose of expressing the love of God through the Church's ministry of helping people in distress."

Tickets are available at San Jacinto Baptist Church, High Plains Book Store, A&D Bookstore and various local churches.

SPCC is a non-profit organization offering a team of trained and experienced professional counselors. Services include play therapy for children, individual counseling, marital and family counseling and group counseling. Currently, 39 percent of individuals receiving counseling from the Center receive financial assistance from Samaritan Pastoral Counseling Client Assistance Fund. All proceeds from the concert will go to benefit SPCC which is a partner agency of Pampa United Way, Inc.

Scholarship recipient

Altrusan Pat Johnson, Vocational Scholarship chairman, recently presented Karen Gordy with the 2000-01 Geraldine Rampy Adult Vocational Award. The scholarship is in the amount of $500. Gordy is currently pursuing a degree in social work at West Texas A&M University in Canyon.

WT summer enrollment up

CANYON — The number of West Texas A&M University students attending classes during the first summer session increased by 74 students over the same period in 2000.

Dr. Duane Rosa, director of planning and analysis, said the University had 2,506 students enrolled as of Thursday, June 7, the fourth class day. That figure is three percent more than on the fourth class day during Summer Session I in 2000, when WTAMU had 2,432 students enrolled.

The fourth day of classes is when the University takes its official summer-semester census. This figure is what is reported to the state.

"I'm pleased with the continued positive increase in our enrollment," Dr. Flavius Killebrew, provost and vice president for academic affairs, said. "It's a pattern of slow and steady growth that we hope to see continue."

Q Are adopted children more likely to be rebellious than children born to biological parents? If so, are there any steps I can take to prevent or ease the conflict? My husband and I are thinking about adopting a toddler, and the question has me worried.

A Every child is different, and adopted kids are no exception. They come in all sorts of packages. Some boys and girls who were abused or unloved prior to the adoption will react to those painful experiences in some way, usually negatively. Others, even those who were not mistreated, will struggle with identity problems and wonder why their "real" mothers and fathers didn't want them. They may be driven to find their biological parents during or after adolescence to learn more about their heritage and families of origin.

I must emphasize, however, that many adopted kids do not go through any of these personal crises. They take root where they are replanted and never give a thought to the questions that trouble some of their peers. As with so many other behavioral issues, the critical factors are the particular temperament of the child and how he or she is handled by the parents.

I hope you won't be reluctant to adopt that child because some special problems might -- but probably won't -- develop. Every child has his or her own particular challenges. Every child can be difficult to raise. Every child requires all the creative energy and talent a parent can muster. But every child is also worth the effort, and there is no higher calling than to do that job excellently.

Let me add on more thought. I knew a man and woman who had waited for years to adopt a baby. When a female infant was finally made available to them, they were anxious to know if she was healthy and of good heritage. They asked if her biological parents had used drugs, how tall they were, whether or not they had attended college, etc.

Then, the father told me later, he realized what he and his wife were doing. They were approaching the adoption of this baby much like they would the purchase of a used car. They were "kicking the tires" and testing the engine. But then they thought: "What in the world are we doing? We have been given the opportunity to mold and shape her as a child of God, and here we are demanding that she be a high-quality product." They repented of their inappropriate attitudes and embraced that child in love.

Adopted children, like all children, are a blessing from God, and we are privileged indeed to be granted the honor of raising one of His precious kids.

Q Since you disapprove of public school sex-education programs as currently designed, who do you think should tell children the facts of life, and when should that instruction begin?

A For those parents who are able to handle the instructional process correctly, the responsibility for sex education should be retained in the home. There is a growing trend for all aspects of education to be taken from their hands (or the role is deliberately forfeited by them). This is unwise, particularly in the matter of sex education, the best approach is one that begins casually and naturally in early childhood and extends through the years, according to a policy of openness, frankness and honesty. Only parents can provide this lifetime training, being there when the questions arise and the desire for information is evidenced.

Unfortunately, moms and dads often fail to the job. Some are too sexually inhibited to present the subject with poise, or they may lack the necessary technical knowledge of the human body. Another common mistake is to wait until puberty is knocking at the door and then try to initiate a desperate, tension-filled conversation that embarrasses the kid and exhausts the parent. If this is the way sex education is going to be handled, there has to be another alternative to consider.

PPHM to exhibit 'Dunbier Paints the Southwest'

CANYON — Beginning June 23, 2001, the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon

Known as a colorist, his paintings are characterized by assertive, contrasting colors and bold brushwork. His landscapes were both realistic and capturing of intangibles such as season, temperature, time of day, atmospheric light, and impending weather.

will feature the work of artist Augustus Dunbier. This exhibition will include some 50 paintings from the estate of the Nebraska artist who painted all over the United States, Europe and Mexico.

Augustus W. Dunbier (1888-1977) was a prolific oil painter, well-known for his colorful landscapes, still life, portraits and figures. At age 16, Dunbier studied at the Royal Academy in Dusseldorf and associated with many noted artists working in Europe at that time. In 1915, he returned to the United States and served in the U.S. Army Camouflage Corps. After World War I, he spent a year on the East Coast, painting at the artist colony in New Hope, Pa.

Dunbier visited and revisited every corner of North America, painting the mountains of Montana and Colorado, the coasts and harbors of Massachusetts and Oregon, and the deserts of New Mexico and Arizona. From 1953 until 1970, he spent all but two winters painting landscapes in and around Tucson and Phoenix.

Known as a colorist, his paintings are characterized by assertive, contrasting colors and bold brushwork. His landscapes were both realistic and capturing of intangibles such as season, temperature, time of day, atmospheric light, and impending weather. Dunbier completed most of these landscapes "en plein air," entirely out-of-doors, taking no more than several hours for each work.

During his 62-year professional career, painting several paintings a week, he held to his own course, undistracted by fads and progressing steadily from canvas to canvas portraying what is now, in retrospect, a quite marvelous variety of subjects and styles.

"Dunbier Paints the Southwest" will be on exhibit at the museum June 23 - Aug. 18 in the Main Art Gallery.

Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon will showcase the work of artist Augustus Dunbier beginning June 23. Above is a sample of Dunbier's work entitled "Sunday Afternoon," (oil on canvas, 1925).

Water Garden Tour

Las Pampas Koi and Water Garden Society will hold its annual Water Garden and Koi Home Tour from 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Saturday, June 21. This year's fund-raiser will feature 15 yards. Proceeds from the tour are used to finance such projects as the "Book of Knowledge" fountain donated to Clarendon College-Pampa Center by the Society. The water-scape, designed and built by local contractor and club member, Paul Coronis, includes a patio, benches and landscaping. Above: (left-right) Coronis, Loyd Waters, Society President Sharon Andrews, Past President Lance Defever, CCPC Director Joe Kyle Reeves, Pampa Foundation Chairperson Don Lane.

Beef Certificates

Kay Stiles, president of Top O' Texas CattleWomen, recently presented Kenny Bredecko, Wheeler County Extension agent, with a Beef Gift Certificate in appreciation of his participating in the judging of the 2001 CattleWomen scholarship contest. Also shown are Liz Austin, Bredecko's secretary and a member of Top O' Texas CattleWomen, and Bredecko's daughter, Madalyn.

Cyber Net, Glo-Valve advance in city tourney

Notebook

BASEBALL

PAMPA — Pampa Cyber Net downed Duncan, Fraser & Bridges 5-3 Monday in the Cal Ripken 11-12 Tournament at Optimist Park.

Starting pitcher Sameer Kelley picked up the win, giving up one run on four hits while striking out seven and walking one. In relief, Shavious Kelley came on in the fifth and gave up two runs on two hits while striking out three and hitting one batter.

Jacob Jenkins knocked in two runs with a pair of doubles to lead the Cyber Net hitters. Kyle Wheat had a triple and RBI and Sameer Kelley had a double. Jenkins, Wheat and Sameer Kelley each scored a run.

Jad McGuire had three singles to lead DFB. Colby Copeland had two doubles and an RBI, and Tanner Dyson had a single. Dyson also scored a pair of runs.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Cal Ripken Jr., who broke Lou Gehrig's record of 2,130 consecutive games, will retire after his 21st season with the Baltimore Orioles — the only team he ever played for.

The 40-year-old third baseman made the announcement at a news conference Tuesday, which would have been Gehrig's 98th birthday.

Ripken, a two-time Most Valuable Player, said it was the start of another phase in his career, one that will include more time with 11-year-old Rachel and 7-year-old Ryan.

Ripken played in 2,632 straight games, from May 30, 1982, to Sept. 20, 1998, when he voluntarily ended the streak. At the time, Ripken said he chose to sit down because he feared his Iron Man run was a distraction to the Orioles.

PAMPA — Pampa Cyber Net surprised Celanese Corporation 5-3 and Glo-Valve Service had 10 different players score runs to defeat Duncan, Fraser & Bridges Insurance Agency Monday night in the Final Four of the Pampa Optimist Cal Ripken 11-12 City Tournament.

Sameer Kelley was the winning pitcher for Pampa Cyber Net. He allowed three hits and one unearned run in four innings pitched. Sameer Kelley struck out seven and walked one. Shavious Kelley was credited with a save in pitching the last two innings for Cyber Net. He gave up one earned run and three hits. He struck out two, hit one batter and issued no walks. Colby Copeland and Tyler Hall pitched for Celanese.

Cyber Net came out swinging as four of their first five batters recorded hits. Shavious Kelley beat out an infield single and Ryan Adams popped a Texas Leaguer just over shortstop. Jacob Jenkins lifted a fly ball just out of reach of the right fielder for a two-run double. One out later, Chase Wheat chased him home with a slicing double down the left field line. DFB scored its first run in the third inning. Tanner Dyson was safe on an error.

He went to second on a passed ball, to third on a ground out and scored on a throwing error. DFB narrowed the lead to a single run in the bottom of the fifth.

Michael Davis was hit by a pitch. Dyson forced him at second and raced around to score on Colby Copeland's second double of the game. Cyber Net led 3-2 going into the sixth inning.

Sameer Kelley started things for Cyber Net in the top half of the sixth inning with a double to left field. Kyle Wheat followed with a triple and scored on an infield out.

DFB got one of the runs back in the bottom of the sixth on a single by Chad McGuire. He went to second on a passed ball, to third on an infield out and scored on a throwing error.

Glo-Valve showed a total team effort as Robbie Dixon and Brett Ferrell led the offensive effort. Dixon knocked in three runs with two hits and a run scored. Ferrell had two triples, a run scored and two RBI. Ten different Glo-Valve hitters scored runs.

Glo-Valve got on the scoreboard first in the second inning. Jaron Clark walked and Craig Crowell was hit by a pitch. The runners moved up on a wild pitch. DFB turned a 5-3-5 double play from Chase Harris to Luke Raber, and all the way back across the diamond to Harris to end the inning. Clark scored on the play to give Glo-Valve a 1-0 lead.

The winners scored four times in the third inning. Garrett Eggleston hustled to barely beat out an infield hit. Jonathan Carr was safe on an error and Ferrell plated both runners with his second triple. Dixon singled up the middle to score Ferrell. Clark singled Dixon to second and both runners moved up on a passed ball. Dixon scored on a wild pitch making Glo-Valve's lead 5-0.

Harris opened DFB's half of the fourth inning with an infield single. He went to second on a ground out. A Glo-Valve error on a ball hit by Matthew Trusty led Harris get to third. Trusty was permitted to take second base. Josh Mulkey singled past a diving Jonathan Carr to score Harris as Trusty stopped at third. A strikeout followed. On the next pitch, Glo-Valve's catcher, Dixon, caught Mulkey trying to steal to end the inning.

In the bottom of the fourth inning, LeKeith Towels led off for Glo-Valve with a walk. Travis Marsh was safe on an error and the runners moved up on a wild pitch. After two strikeouts seemed to cool the rally, Dixon delivered a single up the middle to score both runners.

Glo-Valve ended the game in the bottom of the fifth inning. Bobby Sikes was safe on an error. Andy Parker and Aaron Carr walked. Travis Marsh was credited with one RBI when he also walked. Jonathan Carr singled home Parker and Aaron Carr with Marsh going to third. Marsh scored on a wild pitch ending the game by the 10-run rule.

Ferrell allowed one unearned run on two hits. He walked one and struck out five in four innings. Jonathan Carr pitched the fifth inning and dispatched three batters on ground balls with only five pitches.

Glo-Valve turned a double play from pitcher Ferrell, to shortstop Aaron Carr to first baseman Bobby Sikes. Crowell made a good running catch of a fly ball in right field for another outstanding defensive play for Glo-Valve. Sikes, Ferrell and Aaron Carr made excellent plays on ground balls to get outs for Glo-Valve.

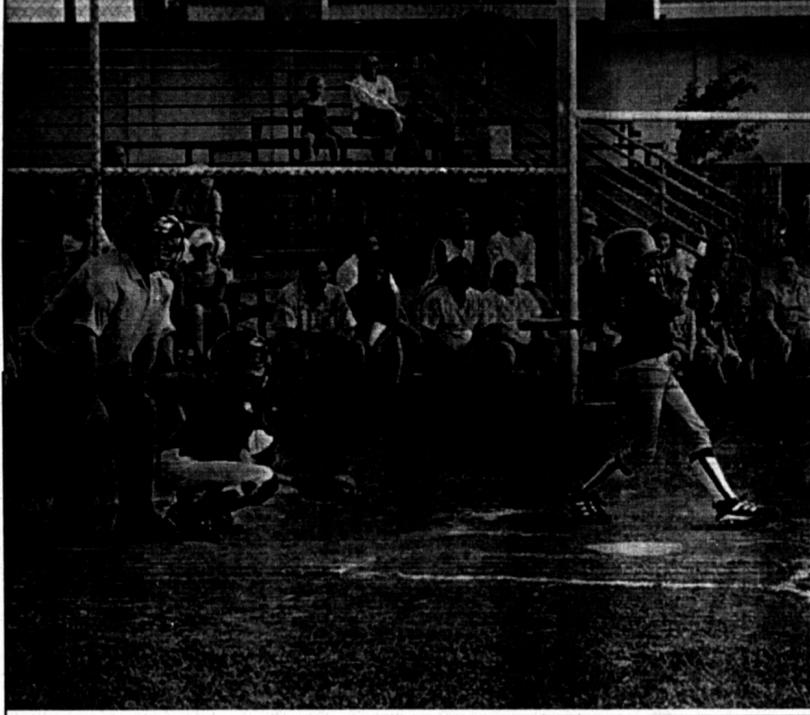

Glo-Valve's record for the year is 20-2.

PAMPA — Colden Fortenberry and Jake Diggs combined to pitch a four-hitter as Triangle beat Cabot 10-4 last weekend in the Cal Ripken 11-12 Round-Robin Tournament at Optimist Park.

Fortenberry held the Triangle hitless for three innings, giving up four runs while striking out three, walking seven and hitting a batter. Diggs relieved in the fourth and gave up four hits while striking out six and walking two.

Diggs was also Triangle's top hitter with two doubles and a single. Fortenberry had a double and two RBI; Matt Furgason, home run and two RBI; Billy Bryan, double; Chad Griffith and John Maciel, one single each.

Dakota Gowan had a pair of singles and an RBI to lead Cabot. Shane Davis and Bradley Johnson had one single each.

No baseball player served the game better than Ripken

By JIM LITKE
AP Sports Writer

Nobody served baseball better than Cal Ripken. He made it a better place. He was very good when times were good, and when they were tough, he was tougher. Letting go will not be easy.

"The reality," he said Tuesday, "is that players can't play forever."

Ripken picked the day Lou Gehrig would have turned 98 to make it official. It linked him one more time with the brave Yankees first baseman whose record he eclipsed. Within hours, Gehrig's old team sold its remaining 19,600 tickets for Ripken's final regular-season game on Sept. 23.

Assuming Ripken's not too hoarse by the end of the farewell tour, the same joint that heard Gehrig call himself the luckiest man in the world might hear Ripken pronounce himself the most embarrassed.

He isn't the type to call in markers, to ramble on while gifts are stacked on top of home plate. Ripken has already had to explain to his 7-year-old son, Ryan, that retirement means he won't be appearing in MLB PlayStation 2003. He probably wouldn't mind if that was the last speech he gave on the subject.

"If you want to set out to write an ideal story for a baseball player," Ripken said, "I think my story would have to be considered."

He became a star on the team he grew up rooting for and never left. He's 40 now. It will be 21 seasons come fall. Ripken played for his dad and alongside a brother. But mostly, he just played.

When he cracked the lineup in Baltimore in 1982, teammate Eddie Murray passed along the old-school code: If you're good enough to earn a spot every day, you owe it to yourself and everybody else to play. For the first five years, Ripken played every inning of every game. He didn't get into baseball with a number in mind, but soon enough he owned one of the most important.

On a warm September night in 1995, with the game struggling to recover from a devastating strike, Ripken played game No. 2,131 and passed Gehrig.

Three seasons later, he glued himself to the bench for an entire game. Sitting down with him was the most honest record in baseball, 2,632 consecutive games without a day off.

Flashback

1965 — Ruby Husted had a two-round total of 168 (81-87) to win the City Women's Golf Championship held at the Pampa Country Club.

Placing second was Mary Myatt, four shots back at 172.

Low net honors in the championship flight went to Dottie Freeman, who posted a 150 score.

Baylor's Shoppach wins Johnny Bench Award

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Kelly Shoppach, who led Baylor in hitting all season and had a .998 fielding percentage behind the plate, was honored Tuesday night with the Johnny Bench Award as the nation's top collegiate catcher.

Shoppach was chosen by a panel of sportswriters, sportscasters and Division I coaches. Jeremy Brown of Alabama and Casey Myers of Arizona State were the other finalists for the award, presented by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission.

Bench, the Hall of Fame catcher from the Cincinnati Reds, presented the award to Shoppach at a banquet Tuesday night.

Shoppach was the Boston Red Sox's top selection in the 2001 Major League Baseball draft last month. Boston selected him with the 48th pick in the second round.

For Baylor, Shoppach committed only one error in 406 chances this year and finished with a .397 batting average.

Celanese slips by Rotary 7-6

PAMPA — Celanese edged Rotary 7-6 last weekend in the Cal Ripken 11-12 Round-Robin Tournament at Optimist Park.

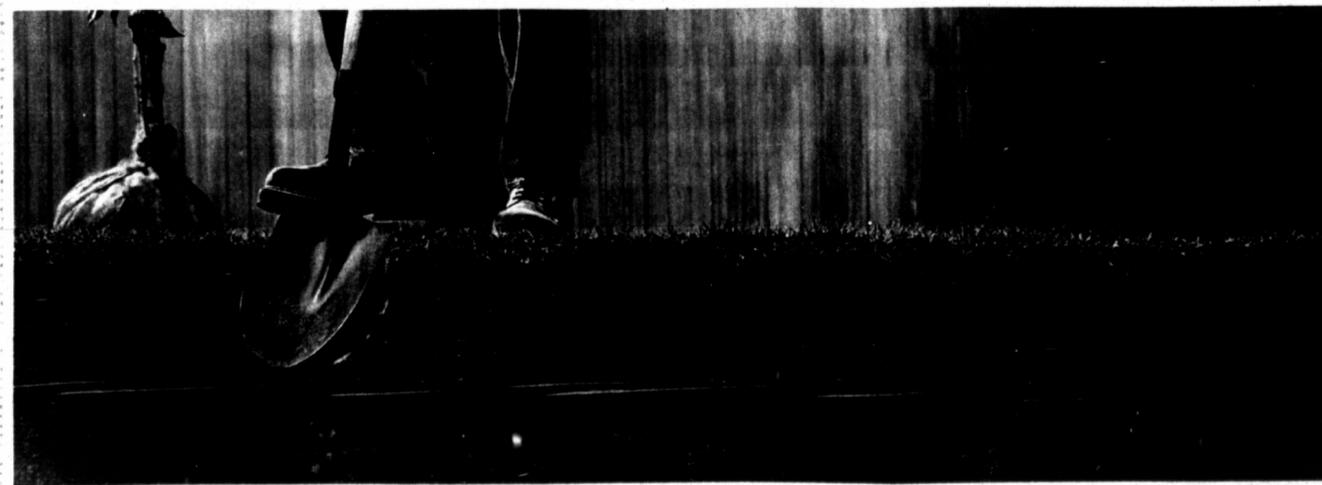

Winning pitcher was Colby Copeland, who gave up three runs on two hits while striking out five, walking four and hitting two batters in three innings. Tyler Hall also pitched three innings and gave up three runs on three hits while striking out five and walking two.

Taylor Smith and Tanner Dyson were the leading hitters for Celanese.

Smith had a double, single and an RBI while Dyson had two singles. Dustin Forney had a double and two RBI and Josh Rios had an RBI. Tyler Hall, Jad McGuire and Copeland had one single each. Hall and Copeland each scored two runs. Smith, Dyson and McGuire each scored a run.

Michael Robinson led Rotary at the plate with a double, single and RBI.

Marcos Campos and Daniel Heare each had a triple and Mark Stone had a single.

Astros' rookie develops strategy for Enron Park

HOUSTON (AP) — Rookie Roy Oswalt has developed a strategy for pitching in hitter-friendly Enron Park, and perhaps the veterans on the Houston Astros should consider it.

"I try to get them to hit it toward the middle of the park because I know we have a short porch in left," Oswalt said after pitching 6 2-3 strong innings Tuesday night.

Before leaving with a bruised right forearm, Oswalt helped the Astros beat the Colorado Rockies 6-4.

Oswalt (5-1) allowed three runs and three hits, striking out eight. He left in the seventh after being hit by Ben Petrick's line drive. X-rays were negative.

Oswalt has a 1.03 ERA in five games at Enron Park. The remainder of the staff has a combined 5.10 ERA at home.

"I try to make them hit the ball on the ground. I've always been real aggressive and I try to stay aggressive here," Oswalt added.

"I pitch the same on the road, but here the crowd gets behind me and gives me a lift. It's fun to pitch here."

Oswalt earned the respect of Colorado's Todd Walker.

"He was outstanding. He hides the ball well and he throws the ball 93 (mph), and the best part is that 65 mile per hour curve ball," Walker said. "It's his change in velocity that is going to make him and outstanding pitcher."

Billy Wagner, activated from the disabled list earlier in the day, pitched a perfect ninth, with two strikeouts, for his 14th save in 15 chances.

Wagner was also impressed with Oswalt.

"He pitches like a veteran. I can't tell he's a rookie. I'm a nervous wreck when I'm out there. For him, it seems like just another day at the park," Wagner said.

Lance Berkman drove in two runs and Moises Alou hit his 12th homer of the year for the Astros.

Shawn Chacon (4-4) gave up five runs and seven hits in seven innings. On June 7 against Houston, Chacon struck out 13 in eight innings at Coors Field and lost a 2-1 decision.

"Every time we get something going, something stops us. We can't continue to play like this," Rockies manager Buddy Bell said. "We may need to make a change here and there."

Houston scored first when Alou homered on the first pitch of the second inning.

In the third, Berkman's broken-bat single drove in Craig Biggio from second after Biggio was hit by a pitch and Jeff Bagwell walked. Biggio scored on a passed ball by Petrick before Richard Hidalgo hit an RBI double to make it 4-0.

"The third inning is what killed me," Chacon said. "I hit a guy, then gave up a walk and a bloop single before the double. That double was the story of the game."

After allowing a first-inning single, Oswalt retired 10 straight before Todd Helton hit his 25th homer in the fifth.

Berkman's RBI double made it 5-1 in the bottom half.

The Rockies loaded the bases in the seventh and scored on Petrick's line drive off Oswalt's forearm. Reliever Jay Powell allowed a walk to load the bases again, and Juan Pierre's single drove in Jeff Cirillo to make it 5-3.

Cirillo's RBI single in the eighth closed it to 5-4.

An error by Cirillo gave the Astros an insurance run in the eighth inning.

Notes: Biggio had his 18-game hitting streak snapped. ... Biggio got hit by a pitch for the 12th time this season, second in the NL. He leads active major leaguers with 181 HBPs. ... Colorado's Neifi Perez extended his career-best hitting streak to 17 games, longest on the team this year. ... Helton has an 11-game hitting streak. ... Oswalt is 3-0 with a no-decision in four starts.

DFB outlasts Cabot, 14-11

PAMPA — Duncan, Fraser & Bridges defeated Cabot 14-11 last weekend in the Cal Ripken Round-Robin Tournament at Optimist Park.

Pepper were Cabot's leading hitters. Johnson knocked in two runs with a double and single while Aaron Pepper had two singles and two RBIs.

Others with hits were Shane Davis double and two RBI; Chito Holguin and Nick Dudley one single each.

Trusty and Crook saw action the mound for DFB with Trusty starting on the mound and gave up seven runs on two hits while striking out nine, walking six and hitting one batter. In relief, Crook gave up four runs on five hits while striking out three and walking three.

Eight players had at least two hits for DFB. Jerrod Bivins had a home run and a double, while Chris Smith had two singles, Drew Williams two doubles, two RBI; Matthew Trusty double and single; Mitch Kelley two singles, two RBI; Brandon Crook two doubles, two RBI; Josh Mulkey two singles, two RBI; Chase Harris double and two RBI.

Knuckleball pitchers have big night

By JOSH DUBOW
AP Sports Writer

Tim Wakefield and Steve Sparks showed how devastating a knuckleball can be.

Wakefield came within three outs of pitching Boston's second no-hitter this season, losing his bid on Randy Winn's broken-bat single in the ninth inning as the Red Sox won 5-4 at Tampa Bay on Tuesday night.

"What did Willie Stargell used to say about Steve Carlton's slider? 'It's like trying to drink coffee with a fork,'" Red Sox pitching coach Joe Kerrigan said. "That's about what it was tonight, trying to hit that baby."

Sparks didn't flirt with history, but was just as effective as Wakefield with that slow, tantalizing pitch. Sparks pitched a three-hitter as Detroit beat the New York Yankees 7-1 at Comerica Park.

"It was ridiculous," Detroit catcher Brandon Inge said of Sparks' knuckleball. "It wasn't only the movement, he was changing speeds so well. They didn't have a chance."

In other AL games, it was Baltimore 5, Toronto 1; Minnesota 10, Cleveland 9 in 12 innings; Seattle 8, Oakland 7; Texas 7, Anaheim 5; and Chicago 5, Kansas City 3.

Wakefield (5-1), who twice flirted with pitching no-hitters for Boston in 1995, was trying to duplicate the feat of teammate Hideo Nomo, who held Baltimore hitless on April 4.

In the ninth, speedy Jason Tyner led off with a slow bouncer that second baseman Jose Offerman charged. Offerman's hurried toss was high and pulled first baseman Brian Daubach off the bag.

Official scorer Jim Ferguson reviewed it on the replay and ruled it an error on Offerman. The crowd of 12,950 cheered when the ruling was posted.

But Winn broke it up for good, lining a 1-2 pitch over third baseman Chris Stynes for a clean single. Tyner, who had advanced on a passed ball, scored on the hit.

"I'm not disappointed I gave up the hit. I'm more mentally and emotionally drained right now to take a no-hitter into the ninth," Wakefield said.

Wakefield retired Greg Vaughn before walking Fred McGriff. Derek Lowe gave up Aubrey Huff's RBI single and Steve Cox's two-run double before holding on for his 11th save.

Horoscope

THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 2001
 BY JACQUELINE BIGAR

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19) *** Today's solar eclipse could unnerve even the best of Rams. Pressure in the next few weeks comes from left field. Prioritize your goals before the tension and demands begin. You will be able to respond spontaneously as a result. Listen to feedback. Tonight: Hide out close to home, and play it low-key.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) **** Conversations energize you and others. Trust that what someone says is the truth as he knows it. Make decisions that involve better communication. Do not close the door on someone who cares a lot, even if you get fed up. Tonight: Take a walk and calm down.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) *** Today's solar eclipse functions as a red flag on spending for the next few months. This planetary event doesn't have to be negative. In fact, it could prove to be quite bountiful, and you'll discover that a conservative approach will lead you in the right direction. Tonight: Pay bills first.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) ***** You're in an all-or-nothing mood. Careful! By pushing another too hard and too fast, you'll get results you would prefer to avoid. Make decisions for or about yourself, not for others. Claim your own power. Make a long-overdue resolution. Tonight: Use your magnetism!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) *** You could definitely feel less than your sunny self. Sometimes even the Lion needs to pout here and there. Take some time off if you can, or close your door at work if possible. Consider taking a yoga class or scheduling a vacation in the near future. Tonight: Break time.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) **** You will get what you want, though it might take as long as a year. Stay on top of meetings right now. Network with friends and business associates. Decide to make a dream a reality rather than putting it off any longer. Ask questions. Tonight: Don't worry about a change of plans.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) *** Career demands commitment in the next few months. Do your soul-searching, and be sure of what it is you want from your work and public lives. Others might have great ideas, but ultimately, you need to satisfy yourself. Count on change. Refuse to react under pressure. Tonight: A must show.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) **** Start planning a vacation or special retreat. You might want to open your mind to different possibilities. Understand that everyone filters information. Brainstorming might be the best way to open doors. Consider signing up for a class. Tonight: Hop on the Net.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ***** Dealings with partners and associates could transform your perspective over the next few months. Right now, avoid making commitments that touch money or emotions. Others might be somewhat weird as the result of today's solar eclipse. Let it be. Tonight: Togetherness works.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) **** Let others' games play out. Meanwhile, sit back and be an observer. If you aren't comfortable with your immediate circle of friends, consider transforming your relationships. Sometimes a relationship will change in its significance. Tonight: Go along with plans.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) *** Listen to others, but know what must be done. Though you might feel sluggish, you can still get your work done. Consider dietary or health changes in the next few months. Be honest with yourself about your work, a well. Is it replenishing you? Tonight: Early to bed.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) **** Allow your imagination to speak, especially with children and loved ones. You are about to greet substantial changes involving your love life, if single. For those who are artistically inclined, your creativity surges in the next six months. Tonight: Just be yourself.
