DAVIS IS GIVEN 20-YEAR TERM MISSING BORGER PRISONERS FOUND IN FORT WORTH EASTLAND OFFICER WOUNDED BY RATLIFF DIES TODAY

EASTLAND, Nov. 20. (P)—Deputy Sheriff Tom Jones, wounded by Marshall Ratliff, bank robber, who was lynched here last night, died in a hospital at 11 o'clock this morning.

Conscious until the end, Jones bade farewell to his fellow Eastland county officers here shortly before he died. Shortly after Jones' death, District Judge George Davenport called the county grand jury into special session to investigate the lynching. It will convene at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

After hope for recovery of the officer had been given up, county officers who had served with him grouped about his bed and grasped his hand. "I have to go now."

To Tack Kilborn, jailer, who was in the prison when Ratliff tried to escape, Jones said:

"Tack, I stayed with you to the last, but I have to go now."

The officer's 8-year-old son, Billy, also was at the bedside at the end approached. His father admonished him to be a "good boy."

The widow and mother today received a letter from Mrs. Rilla Carter, mother of Ratliff, from Houston, expressing her sympathies and regrets over the shooting.

EASTLAND, Nov. 20. (P)—Impatient at the law's delay and enraged over the condemned man's latest crime, Eastland citizens last night took Marshall Ratliff, Cisco Santa Claus bank bandit, from his jail cell and hanged him with a stout grass rope, to a telephone cable, 200 yards from the jail.

Two years ago Ratliff, dressed as a Santa Claus, participated in a bank holdup in which two officers and one of his companions were killed. Monday, after feigning paralysis and winning the sympathy of his keepers, he attempted a jail break, shooting and seriously wounding Deputy Tom Jones, veteran peace officer. Last night 200 men overpowered his jailer, entered Ratliff's cell, dragged him to a well-lighted business street and lynched him. His only covering was a bandage around his head, protection for wounds suffered Monday in his attempted break for liberty.

Feigned Paralysis
Ratliff was held in the Eastland jail pending a sanity hearing, asked for by his aged mother, who asserted her son had lost his mind while awaiting his execution in the death cell at Huntsville state prison. He seemed both physically and mentally incapable when brought here, a feigned stroke of paralysis adding to his mental disabilities. Food had been brought to his cell, and a jailer guided it to his mouth.

Discovery by the townspeople of Eastland, who still remembered the deaths of Chief of Police G. E. Bedford and Officer George Carmichael in the battle with the bandits at the nearby town of Cisco two years before, that Ratliff was pretending and biding his time for a break brought their anger to a climax.

All yesterday afternoon they gathered in little groups about the town and muttered about the injustice of Jones' shooting, which physicians said would probably prove fatal. "We've waited long enough," they said. Last night a few people in front of the jail in the early evening had swelled to nearly a thousand at 8:30 o'clock. Officers

Special Choir to Sing
at Thanksgiving
Program

A musical program for the community Thanksgiving service which is to be held Wednesday evening Nov. 27, at the First Methodist church was arranged yesterday by a committee headed by R. B. Fisher. Other features of the service were planned recently by the ministerial association of the city, which selected the Rev. James Todd to preside and the Rev. A. A. Hyde, pastor of the Presbyterian church to deliver the address.

A choir composed of representatives from the several churches of the city and the newly formed community chorus, and soloists from those groups will furnish special music. The musical program, subject to the approval of the ministerial association, is as follows:

Two hymns by the congregation.
Anthem by the community choir.
Solo, Mrs. C. S. Wortman, soprano.
Male quartet.

Serving with Mr. Fisher on the committee were: Mrs. Tom E. Rose, Mrs. W. A. Bratton, and George Briggs. John Lee Harris, musical director of the First Baptist church and secretary of the ministers organization, participated in formulating the program, by request of the committee. The meeting was held at the B. C. D. auditorium.

Music Ensemble Program Will Be Presented Dec. 6

An ensemble program presenting practically all pupils will be given by the music department of Central high school on the evening of Dec. 6. It was announced today by Thomas Fannell. The performance will begin at 8:15 p. m. at Central auditorium and no admission will be charged.

Piano and violin ensembles will be presented, and there will be numbers by the junior orchestra, Central high school orchestra, girls' glee club, girls' quartet, and boys' quartet. There will probably be no solos, since Mr. Fannell wishes to have as many pupils perform as time will permit.

"This music program is expected to be one of the feature performances of the school year."

Bride Is Freed

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 20. (P)—Reconciliation with her father and a promise to follow his orders in the future today had saved Mrs. Clyde Little, 19-year-old runaway bride, from trial on charges of bootlegging. Charges against her in federal court here were nolle prossed yesterday, cleansing the court's docket of the so-called "women bootleggers" cases. The only pending cases are women who have pleaded guilty and are to be sentenced Dec. 30, and two against whom charges have been indefinitely continued.

BELMONT, Mass. (P)—James Cash, Jr., of Omaha, student at the Harvard law school, is quite a golfer. Would an unwanted disturbance hamper his game? Well, an earthquake, the only one he has played in, improved it. Just after he walloped the ball from the tee of a par three hole at Belmont Springs there came an earthquake. Cash found his ball in the cup.

SHERIFF SAYS RETURN TO BE ON SATURDAY

Bond Today

STINNETT, Nov. 20. (P)—Mysterious maneuvers of Hutchinson county officials and their prisoners, which had kept the state guessing since last Saturday when two prisoners were spirited away from jail here and Sheriff Moore left on an unannounced errand, were partly cleared up today with the return of Sheriff Moore and discovery of the prisoners at the Fort Worth jail.

The two prisoners, Sam Jones and Jim Hoeges, were probably the most important the Stinnett county jail had held for some time, in that they were charged with the murder of District Attorney John A. Holmes, whose assassination last Sept. 13 led to martial law in Borger. Last Saturday afternoon, they were taken from Stinnett in custody of Deputy Red Burton and Officer Lee Shannon, turned up Sunday in Fort Worth, disappeared again, and only last night were discovered still in jail at Fort Worth. They have presumably been there since last Sunday.

Sheriff Moore returned after taking a dozen prisoners to the Huntsville penitentiary last week, picking up a suspect at Quanah on his way home yesterday.

Just why the two men were taken from jail, and why officers professed ignorance of their whereabouts, has not been publicly made known. It is presumed the step was taken to prevent any premature attempts to bail them out. Sheriff Moore said he expected to return "about" Saturday, the date on which a habeas corpus hearing for the men has been set.

BORGER, Nov. 20. (P)—Arrested on a charge of possessing and transporting liquor while he was still mayor of Borger, former Mayor Glenn A. Pace, who resigned under pressure during Borger's clean-up days, had made bond of $1,500 today.

The alleged crime occurred, according to the indictment, on September 1.

Last Practice of Lions Follies to Be Held Tonight

After a work-out comparable to a third degree ordeal, W. H. Aldridge announced last night that his cute chorines, who range from almost five feet to six feet five inches in height, his Spanish dancers and his Gypsies are almost ready to be presented tomorrow and Friday nights to any audience that Pampa might send to the Central gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock.

The pony chorus is especially adept in the "arty" steps, while Miss Elberta Thomas the soprano has mastered her seductive lines. The chorus of eight virgins appears in six scenes with much singing and kicking.

A gypsy camp was set up last night when dances and songs were learned. The Lions Follies, with a male cast in female hair, make-up, and clothes, is fast becoming the nifty revue that it is "cracked up" to be, was the opinion of an observer last night.

The last practice will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock and every member of the cast is urged to be on time for rehearsal.

Texas Town Makes Light Plant Pay Big Profits

By N. E. A. Service
SHINER, Nov. 20.—This Texas city of 1400 people knows all that it cares to know about the much-discussed question of the municipal ownership of public utilities.

Back in 1916 the city invested $21,000 in a run-down electric light plant and new equipment.

Today that plant is worth several times the original investment, citizens are getting better service than ever before, a fine new city hall has been erected at no cost to the taxpayers, streets have been paved out of profits and the tax rate is down to the low figure of 17 cents per $100 valuation.

The plant was bought for $8000, which was a healthy price, considering everything. It had a 60-horse-power steam engine that could just give six hours' service a day. It was housed in an old sheet iron shack that was ready to fall apart. All of the machinery was antiquated. The wires were, in many cases, strung on ordinary fence posts.

Having bought the plant, the city floated a $16,000 bond issue to provide new equipment. A new plant was built and a modern Diesel engine was bought. In a short time citizens were getting 24-hour service, and the plant's capacity was increased out of earnings.

These profits go far toward paying the city's expenses. Two years ago they provided $30,000 for the construction of a new city hall. This year they helped pay for a new sanitary sewer system. The city's streets are lighted without cost to the taxpayer. Schools receive free water and light. A new fire truck has been bought. Parks have been kept up, streets have been graveled—and much of this out of the light plant's profits.

American Legion Out for Members in Big Campaign

The American Legion regular meeting night Tuesday was well attended by a large number of local members and several out of town visitors.

A humorous reading by Buddy Speece furnished the entertainment of the evening.

A motion to purchase uniforms for the Legion band was tabled until next regular meeting night, Dec. 3.

A vote of thanks was extended H. B. Lovett for his donation to the Legion charity fund.

Elaborate plans are being made for the decoration of the city for the Christmas holidays.

The local post has launched a membership drive, which is now well under way. Every ex-service man is urged to join the Legion. "Pay your 1930 dues now, and help to make Kerley-Crossman Post to become one of the largest and strongest in the state," urge the officers.

New York Flier Killed

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (A)—Charles Reid, pilot in a private airplane from Roosevelt field, was killed when the craft crashed on the roof of a Y. M. C. A. building in West 64th street this afternoon. His passenger, Robert Baile, landed in a nearby street in a parachute, apparently uninjured.

Cheaper Turkey for Nation Seen This Season

CHICAGO, Nov. 20. (P)—A family of five can get a Thanksgiving dinner and $1.50 change from a $10 bill this year, the mercantile exchange estimated today. Last year one got only 50 cents change.

The menu includes oyster cocktail, celery and olives, roast turkey, sweet and mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, turnips or peas, rolls and butter, pumpkin pie and coffee.

The reason the cost is $1 less than last year, the exchange explained, is due mostly to the fact that turkey is approximately 12 cents a pound cheaper. Oysters are a fraction lower and the other commodities are about the same price as last season.

Sound Equipment To Be Installed at Crescent Soon

Parts are arriving daily for the installation of Western Electric sound equipment in the Crescent theatre, according to C. B. Akers, local manager for the Griffith Bros. Amusement company.

The new equipment will make possible the reproduction of sound films of any type now being distributed, including Vitaphone, Movietone, and Photophone. The sound apparatus will be completely installed by December 1.

All the best pictures are being sought by Griffith Bros., including the output of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Fox, Paramount, Warner Bros., First National, and R-K-O.

It is also announced that material changes will be made in the decorations at the Crescent. These will include the installation of acoustical drapery from the ceiling, something new in theatre design.

Teague Hunter Shot to Death

KERRVILLE, Nov. 20. (P)—Sitting in a tree, waiting for turkeys, H. F. Day of Teague, Freestone county, was shot to death yesterday, apparently by another hunter who mistook him for game.

Day for three years had used the tree as a base for his turkey hunts. He was found sitting upright, his gun, loaded, leaning in a fork, his field glasses hanging on a limb and his turkey caller on the ground. An empty rifle cartridge was located about 90 yards away in the direction from which the shot came.

GOOD TRAIN MOVING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (P)—The train bearing the body of the late James W. Good, secretary of war, left Washington at 3:15 p. m. today for Cedar Rapids, Iowa where burial will take place at 11 a. m. Friday.

Mrs. Grace Higgins returned yesterday, after spending ten days visiting and transacting business in Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, and Dallas.

Mrs. J. M. Turner and little daughter, Joyce, are visiting in Panhandle today.

JURY IS OUT SHORT TIME IN ASSAULT CASE

Verdict Is Returned at 1 o'Clock Last Night

ALIBI FAILS IN COURT BATTLE

Tom Johnson Assessed
10 Years on Same
Charge

Doubling the sentence given Deputy Sheriff Tom C. Johnson on the same charge, a Gray county jury last night found former Constable H. H. Davis of Shamrock guilty of a statutory charge on the first ballot and set his punishment at 20 years in the penitentiary.

The case went to the jury at 11 o'clock and a verdict was returned at 1 p. m. Davis' face was expressionless when the verdict was read, and two of his daughters who were present showed no signs of emotion. Both of the girls are Shamrock high school students. Davis will ask for a new trial and if one is not granted, he will appeal his case to the Court of Criminal Appeals, Austin. It is understood.

Both Johnson and Davis were indicted in April on a statutory offense, with two sisters of Chillicothe as prosecuting witnesses. The girls testified they were attacked March 17, 1929, in a pasture near Shamrock after their escorts had been jailed on charges of reckless driving and vagrancy. Johnson drew a 10-year sentence and his case was appealed. He is still deputy sheriff of Wheeler county.

Davis was placed in jail here last night and will be held until motion for a new trial is passed on, and if the new trial is denied he will be held until the criminal appeals court passes on his case. According to the statutes, a person who is sentenced to 15 years or more in the penitentiary cannot be released on bond.

Davis was a cook in a Shamrock restaurant, and is the father of several children. He was also constable at Shamrock at the time of the alleged attack. Both Johnson and Davis on the witness stand denied the charge. Davis said he was home in bed asleep and Johnson stated that he was bringing back to Shamrock an intoxicated man who testified that he had been on a "drinking party" with three other men in a pasture and the latter had gone back to Shamrock without him.

Davis was defended by Ben Allred, and prosecuting attorneys were District Attorney Clifford Braly and Walter M. Lewright. Judge W. R. Ewing delivered the charge commonly used in such cases to the jury at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Arguments ended at 11 o'clock.

Park Appearance for Cemetery Desire of Current Board

The Fairview Cemetery association has under way plans for beautifying the Fairview cemetery, north of the city on the Miami highway. Trustees have arranged to have water piped to the place by early spring, and hold a verbal agreement with the city for a certain amount of free water.

A caretaker will be employed for at least the spring and summer months. C. P. Buckler, secretary of the cemetery board, said yesterday. The trustees will take steps to encourage owners of lots to care for them and beautify them. A park-like, beautiful appearance will be sought, Mr. Buckler said.

Indictments Quashed

TYLER, Nov. 20. (P)—Because of technicalities, the perjury indictments against Mrs. Loys Wilson, J. L. Farley, and Edgar Cash or Troup, growing out of the trial of Loys Wilson for the slaying of the Rev. Fount Wallace, were quashed by Judge J. R. Warren

A McLean negro, Jimmie Arnold, is being tried today on a charge of assault. He is alleged to have used a knife in seriously wounding another negro.

Few of Liquor Cases Will Come Up This Session

It was apparent this morning as Judge W. R. Ewing set 14 jail cases for trial during the four remaining days of this week and next week that few if any of the remaining liquor cases will be tried during this term of court.

County jail prisoners, numbering 14, were marched before the judge this morning and their trial dates set. Most of them are charged with forgery and burglary. Practically all of the prohibition law violators are out on bond. The remainder of the term will be required to hear their cases, according to the dates announced by the judge.

THE DEATH OF "DOLLY" STEWART, FORMER TEXAS UNIVERSITY COACH, CAME AS A SHOCK TO MANY WHO KNEW HIM OR ADMIRER HIM.

Stewart was accidentally killed by a friend while attempting to scare up a deer for the latter to shoot. As fate would have it, the friend mistook Stewart for the deer and shot him dead.

Everyone is potentially a participant in such an accident. At least every motorist who speeds when he should not, who neglects his lights or his brakes, or who becomes careless while driving where children are playing, is running the risk of taking a life.

DR. WILLIS A. SUTTON, SUPERINTENDENT OF ATLANTA SCHOOLS, HAS FOR SEVERAL YEARS BEEN MAKING LECTURE TOURS TO EMPHASIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF CARE OF THE TEETH.

Dr. Sutton will make another tour into Texas soon. We recall having heard him at Sweetwater. He found that bad teeth created a grave "bad boy" problem in Atlanta. The lads with dental troubles were little devils, it seems, but after having the troublesome teeth removed or treated they almost became Horatio Alger heroes.

Dr. Sutton probably over-emphasizes the importance of dental health, yet it is true that more and more are physicians recommending dental work to cure general bodily ailments. Septic sources cause a large per cent of the body illnesses not associated with contagious disease. Diseased or decayed teeth poison the system. Moreover, nervous troubles from bad teeth are numerous. It is no doubt true that downright suffering causes more mischievousness than parents and teachers imagine.

Dental clinics will do as much toward solving grade and disciplinary problems as will sympathetic, skilled teaching, and infinitely more than the hickory limb. The healthy child is energetic, but not vicious, and energy is a working force much desired by any good teacher.

SCIENTISTS NEVER TIRE OF TRYING TO MAKE NATURE'S LAW OF GROWTH RESULT IN NEW CREATIONS OR TYPES.

It is not essential to scientists that any dogma be proved or even that mankind be helped by nine-tenths of their work. Truth in the abstract is all any real scientist wishes. He investigates for the love of it, and hopes that some of his work may benefit his fellows. When a great problem arises, he pieces together the sum of his random deductions and seeks to have nature produce the result desired.

By the use of radium, plants are now made to produce new species. This is change speeded up just as accidents or earth changes produce occasional new types through centuries. Some critics will say that the investigators are wasting their time. But they are not. Burbank blessed the world through his "nonsense", and others are doing similarly. There is little that is nonsensical in honest experimentation, although hairbrained would-be scientists sometimes bring reproach upon real geniuses.

TWINKLES
Sylvester, a Chicago cat, ate Matilda, a canary, and Matilda's owner was fined for plugging Sylvester to death. And right here in Pampa we offer the same fate to any marauding cat, of whatever sex or state of mind and body, who harms our Percy, the office mouse.

This Lions Follies performance will probably make mere men wonder how in the world the ladies keep from freezing to death in the garb they wear.

The most absent-minded man must be he who built an airplane in a hayloft and could not get it outside. Deliver us from riding with a man so air-minded that he is absent-minded also.

Evidently Berger is a bad place to be "from", if you are in trouble.

Heard: That quite a number of South Texas oil workers have quit their jobs and hastened back to the sticks and warmer weather.

A certain first-time father even brags about how his wee daughter breathes. Maybe she hasn't got her sound equipment all tuned up yet.

Also heard: That Bishop Moore was somewhat misunderstood while reading the appointment list. He often said "to be supplied", but a number of listeners thought he said "you'd be surprised" and wondered.

See "Kempy," Excellent entertainment.

PUBLIC FORUM

Kingsmill, Texas
Editor, Pampa Daily News:

Last week it was my good fortune to accompany the Pampa high school football squad to Perryton, where the Hinkles showed the stuff they were made of when they trounced the Rangers to the tune of 19 to 0. And I want to say that I never saw the boys as keyed up to win as they were that day, and I sure was proud of them the way they went in there and stayed in there until the last whistle, fighting as good fighters should, never letting down a minute in spite of the most miserable playing conditions. They had the heart and will and as a natural result, they won.

Those who made the trip up there were I believe as fine a crowd as any one would want to be with or associated with under any circumstances. They were all jolly, full of the best of feelings for each other and were as clean and honorable a crowd as has ever been my privilege to be with, and I was more than proud to be with them. It was a treat to see the mothers and fathers going to the game with their children and their friends and it showed a true spirit of sportsmanship on their part by so doing, and I think that Pampa is to be congratulated for having as fine a crowd as that was that day as representatives of her city.

For at no time from the moment we left Pampa until our return did I see or hear any deed or utterance that was not clean or honorable. I will admit that on our return trip there was a few men that their actions were not of the best, but it was a great consolation to know that they were not members of our school faculty or members of the students in any way. But the students all were as manly and ladylike as their parents would want them to be and I for one am justly proud of the fact that I have a son and daughter as members of the Pampa school and in addition that my daughter is a member of the Green Jacket club.

Pampa high school team and students as well as citizens should be more than proud (and I am sure they are) of those girls for their loyalty and fighting spirit for their team and school, and for their most lady-like actions in public; for they are loyal sports and clean with it. Pampans showed the proper spirit last Thursday by accompanying their boys on their way to victory. So let us keep up this good work. We have as fine a bunch of boys on our team as could be asked, and their actions last Thursday on field of battle, and on the trip up there and back, was beyond any reproach, and Pampa I know is more than proud of them, and we are going to stay with them win or lose, although we don't expect to lose. So let's all get on our old fighting clothes and sound the old battle cry and go with our boys this coming game and show them that we are with them 100 per cent strong, and should we lose this next game we will all know that the Pampa team went down to defeat fighting to the last man, and we will be just as proud of them as if we had won. So let's all go and be up and at the front with the old-time fight and pep spirit and just watch our boys bring home the bacon. Yours very truly, George E. Porter

Tomestone Slips Another Notch

TOMESTONE, Ariz., Nov. 20. (AP)—Tomestone, roaring mining center of a near forgotten past, slipped another notch toward the limbo of ghost towns today as tabulation of ballots in special election deprived it of its principal remaining glory—its position as the seat of historic Cochise county.

By a vote of 2 to 1 the electorate decided to move the seat of government to Bisbee, where a $450,000 courthouse is to be built. To the dilapidation of a handful of run-down buildings, most of them vacant and cobwebby, soon will be added the venerable courthouse, erected with great pride in 1880, vacant and silent as the rest.

Johnnie Hilliard and Ted Marten Are Tough Boys

Should there be a knockout during the first few rounds of the Luther Platter-Cyclone Bonds main go, the feature attraction of the card at the Pia-Mor Friday night is certain to be the 8-round bout between Johnnie Hilliard and Ted Marten, and it might be anyway.

Both of these males are tough boys, and that word comes from Oklahoma City, Wichita Falls, and other places where they have fought. Hilliard is an old hand at the game, he is about 25 while Marten is five or six years younger, but plenty tough. With Platter and Bonds, the pugilists have been working out in the Pia-Mor all this week. One thing certain, the fans are not going to see any boxers step into the ring out of condition. Platter and Bonds have been preparing for each other for two weeks—every day. The card has been heavily advertised in all near by towns. Perhaps half of each audience is from out of town. An add-a feature of next Friday night's entertainment will be a band concert preceding the prelims, which will be short.

Army Teams to Meet
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 20. (AP)—Army football teams from regular army posts and flying fields in six states will compete here next month in a series of football games for the championship of the sixth corps area. Teams from Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Texas are expected to compete. Arrangements for the tournament were conducted at a conference at eighth corps area headquarters last night.

Sinclair Working at Laboratory for Last Time Now

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair tinkered with the phials and retorts of the District of Columbia jail pharmacy today for the last time. At midnight he will leave all that behind, his sentences for contempt of court and contempt of the senate completed.

After six and one-half months of confinement, the millionaire oil operator is expected to go at once to his luxurious Long Island home.

Sinclair entered the jail on May 6 to serve terms of three months for refusing to answer questions of the senate committee investigating the oil scandals and of six months for contempt of the District of Columbia supreme court in connection with the shadowing of the jury when he was on trial with Albert B. Fall for conspiracy to defraud the government through the celebratory lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Portions of the two sentences ran concurrently, and with allowances for five days off each month for good behavior, his stay in the jail was reduced to six months and fourteen days.

Drug store experience gained in the early days of his career led to his assignment as jail pharmacist and assistant to the jail physician.

Harvest of Sugar Beets Is Held Up by Colorado Snow

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 20. (AP)—Snow, freezing, and even zero, temperatures, and a whistling north wind held sway over a large part of the west today from the Missouri river to the Rockies. Montana and Wyoming experienced the lowest general temperatures of the year, while from the Canadian border to Northern New Mexico the region glistened under an inch or more of snow.

Sub-zero temperatures were reported in the Judith basin, Montana, early today and at Livingston, it was three degrees above zero with no let up in the cold spell indicated. At Cheyenne 3 inches of snow lay on the ground, and Denver experienced a similar fall, the seventh snowfall of the season.

The weather bureau reported the precipitation at Denver for the first half of November was about one-half inch above normal, and the first half of the month was described as the stormiest half of the Thanksgiving month since 1922, when precipitation was an inch and a half above normal.

Throughout the region telephone service was only slightly hampered, but air mail and air passenger service was halted. Trains and buses were running on schedule.

The snow caused a further suspension of the sugar beet harvest which has been halted by previous inclement weather. Farmers saw in the storm, however, more early winter storage of moisture to benefit next summer's crops.

ABOUT FOLKS

By A. F.
There was anxiety for a moment Monday night as Charlie Duenkel's Junior climbed out of his crib about 7:30 o'clock and crashed foremost to the floor. There was one long whoop then Charlie's namesake must have decided his parents looked too worried and he suddenly changed his wail into a matter-of-fact glance.

Give this little girl a hand. She is Miss Clydean Stuckey, one of the most delectable members of the Russian (rush-in) ballet which will interpret emotion of the Cossacks and Siberian steppes at the Lions Follies Thursday and Friday night. In this impressionistic version of Miss Stuckey she has just swallowed a quart of vodka. Note the shoulders. The bumps under the sleeves are bombs which she will throw at the audience if someone dares throw a tomato at her. She goes in for art and not every yokel can appreciate it. So she carries bombs.

Uncle Cal Shepherd, 86, of LeFors came to town Monday to pay his taxes. He has wheat farms in Gray and Carson county. Last week a wildcat on his place at LeFors spouted oil. Uncle Cal, who fought in 14 battles of the Civil war through four years, including both of the battles of Bull Run, Gettysburg and Appomattox, says "this prosperity you hear so much about doesn't amount to more than people selling radios, automobiles and bootleg liquor to each other."

There was a joyous reunion between a dog and a man this morning in the sheriff's office. The man was Sheriff E. S. Graves and the dog was Pat, silky-haired red Irish setter. Pat has been out on the Furneaux ranch for about three months. Pat lay disconsolate in the office for an hour before the sheriff arrived. Then such taking on that followed. However, the sheriff was just as glad as Pat.

Ramsey Is Given Life Sentence by Second Jury Today

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Nov. 20. (AP)—John Ramsey, cowboy of the Osage hills country, was convicted the second time today of the murder of Henry Roan, Osage Indian, and sentenced to life imprisonment by a jury in federal court.

Ramsey was accused of slaying the Indian at the instigation of William K. Hale, so-called "Cattle King of the Osage Hill," so Hale might collect $25,000 insurance which he held on Roan's life.

Ramsey has faced three juries on the charge. The first disagreed. The second found him and Hale guilty, but Ramsey was granted a new trial. Hale, who is serving a life sentence for the murder, was brought from prison to testify for Ramsey.

Hope Revived for Safety of Eielson

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 20. (AP)—Radio reports saying the plane of Carl Ben Eielson, noted Arctic aviator, had been seen flying in the vicinity of North Cape, Siberia, revived hope here today he would be heard from soon.

The report, although meager, was believed to be later than that received here Monday, saying the wreckage of Eielson's plane had been sighted by natives in the vicinity of the ice bound ships Nanuk and Stavropol ten days ago.

Eielson and Frank Dorbandt, fellow pilot, had been moving passengers and furs from the Nanuk, vessel belonging to Swenson Fur company, to the Alaska mainland. Each has made one trip to the Nanuk and return and Eielson was making his second journey to the Nanuk when the report the wreckage of his plane had been sighted was received from the ship's radio.
Eielson was well supplied with food, and had a sleeping bag and a small stove.

"The Kitchen Band," high school pupils.
A large profit was made from the evening's entertainment.

Baptists to Name President at Once

BEAUMONT, Nov. 20. (AP)—With the woman's missionary union and pastor's and layman's conference winding up their programs preparatory to the opening of the Baptist general convention of Texas tonight, considerable interest was evidenced by messengers from more than 3,000 churches today in who will likely succeed former Gov. Pat M. Neff as president of the convention.

The election will be held the first thing after the convention meets. Names of three men, one layman and two ministers, were mentioned as likely to head the Baptists for the coming year. They were A. D. Foreman of Houston, Dr. J. H. Pace, pastor of the First Baptist church of Beaumont, and Dr. T. T. Andrews, pastor of the First Baptist church of Texarkana. Mr. Neff has served three years, maximum period one can hold the place under the rules. Apparently there was not "politics," Dr. George Truett of Dallas, president of the Southern Baptist convention, said he saw less "caucusing" and "talking groups" than at any previous convention.
The Rev. J. Frank Norris of Fort Worth, whose church does not cooperate with the convention, announced he had rented a tabernacle and would lecture tomorrow night.

MUSTANGS TO KEEP TEN MEN OF THIS TEAM

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest conference will be capably represented in inter-sectional play next year. Only one member of the present Southern Methodist university eleven will be missing when the Mustangs barge abroad next fall to engage Notre Dame at South Bend and the Navy at Baltimore. Captain Choc Sanders, outstanding conference guard, will be lost through graduation, but the other ten who started against Baylor last week will be in there battling the Micks and Middies. It will be a fair test of this section's football. The fact that Notre Dame accorded the Pines the privilege of helping dedicate its new stadium is proof of the respect in which Southwest conference play is held.

Out at Southern Methodist, where they lay great store in the potency of "Poruna," there is a feeling that football titles run in cycles, three years per cycle. The Mustangs won in 1924 and 1926, and they figure it is their turn again. An unusual angle to this homely philosophy is the fact that Coach Ray Morrison won both previous flags with young teams, similar to that under his expert tutelage this year. The same teams, with a year's added experience under their belts, could not repeat in 1924 or 1927. This appears to be a definite rule against any school winning two conference crowns in a row, as witness the recent decline and fall of the Texas Longhorns.

When the Frogs and Mustangs tie up a week from Saturday at Fort Worth there will be more than a football championship at stake. Fort Worth and Dallas take their athletic rivalry seriously, and this will be the first time the twin cities of North Texas have settled a gridiron dispute between them. The feeling which has enriched Texas league coffers in the past will help crowd Clark field to the gunwales on Nov. 20.

In pointing out the several factors contributing to Texas Christian's almost miraculous rise in the football firmament, too much credit cannot be given Harlos Green, the Frog's substitute fullback. He got his chance when Austin Griffith went out at the start of the season with a fractured arm and has filled the post with gusto in each of his team's eight games. His unerring toe has been of immense value. Griffith started against Texas last Saturday, but when Leland took the ball out of circulation for a 60-yard touchdown run, Green was sent in pronto to kick the extra point. The fact he sent it between the posts and later plunged across for a touchdown had more than a little to do with his team's 15 to 12 victory. Had he missed, the team would have gone into the final period deadlocked, 12 to 12, and it is very doubtful that Shelley would have contributed a safety in that event.

The unfortunate death of E. J. "Doc" Stewart Monday near Kerrville recalls that the veteran coach predicted before the season began that Bruce Kattman, Southern Methodist sophomore, would be one of the conference's outstanding halfbacks. But for the presence of "Speedy" Mason in the Mustangs' backfield the prophecy might have been fulfilled. Kattman played brilliantly against the Aggies and in the Baylor game last week got off a punt that proved the turning point of the struggle. It travelled 60 yards and rolled out on Baylor's two-foot line. Wilson kicked off poorly, and a moment later the Ponies scored.

The schedule favors the Mustangs this week. There appears little chance of their being extended by the Rice Owls. Morrison is certain to jerk his first string the moment he figures the game is in the bag. Meanwhile, the Frogs will have a real scrap on their hands at Waco. There is plenty of punch left in the Bears, even if they did hibernate prematurely last week.

PANHANDLE PRINCIPAL WILL REFEREE MEMPHIS GAME—GIRLS OF PEP SQUAD TO MAKE TRIP

Bob Vaughn, principal of Panhandle high school and former Simmons university football star, will referee the Pampa-Memphis football game at Memphis Friday, it was announced today. Vaughn is considered a very able official.

When the Harvesters clash with the Memphis Cyclone at 2 p. m., many eyes will be fastened upon them, including those of several scouts from Hereford. Hereford school officials telephoned here today to learn the time of the game.

The Pampa Green Jackets, girls' pep squad, will be on hand to boost the Harvesters, but the only other student spectators will be those taken out of school by their parents. Miss Arless O'Keefe and Miss Lucille Hill, faculty sponsors of the pep squads, will take the girls to Memphis in two school buses, and will have the assistance of one or more parents in each bus. Principal L. L. Sone said today. Supt. R. B. Fisher and Prof. J. L. Lester will make the trip, but instruction will continue as usual Friday.

The Harvesters will leave at 8:30 a. m., while the pep squad will start to Memphis at 10 o'clock.

Tickets have been received at Central high school from Memphis school officials, and may be purchased now at the local school. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for others.

Coach Odus Mitchell is making use of dry weather to perfect his team's speedy plays. The Harvesters are expecting the hardest game of the season. So far they have rarely been on the small end of the score at any time during a game, but they showed their power to come from behind and win in the difficult Canyon game. It is not their intention, however, to be behind for an instant at Memphis, for they realize that the powerful Cyclone defense may make scores scarce.

Horned Frogs in Bad Way With Epidemic of Flu

FORT WORTH, Nov. 20.—With eight victories behind them, no defeats and no ties, the Texas Christian university football team was badly under the weather today, an epidemic of influenza having struck it at the most crucial point of the season.

Two members of the squad suffered so severely they had to go to bed, and the others were barely able to show up for practice last night. Baylor, one of the strongest teams in the Southwest, must be faced Saturday, and the following week Southern Methodist university, only other undefeated team in the Southwest, is scheduled.

The malady was supposed to have resulted from the long cold ride which the team took from Austin last week after defeating Texas.

IOWA TO BE SUSPENDED BY BIG TEN SOON

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Iowa's football squad is preparing for what may prove to be its last game with a western conference opponent.

On January 1, unless the Big Ten faculty committee on athletics changes its collective mind, the ban on Iowa's competition against conference teams will become effective, as outlined last June when the Hawkeye school was charged with having failed to conduct its athletic affairs as required by conference rules. So the school that wrecked Minnesota's championship hopes for the last two years and gave the championship Purdue eleven its toughest battle of the season will be making probably its farewell appearance in the league Saturday when it engages Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The conference faculty committee will meet in Chicago December 6 and 7, to decide if Iowa has reorganized its athletic system to a point where reinstatement may be possible.

With the desire of winding up its relationship with the Big Ten with a victory, Iowa also has a revenge motive. Michigan, counted as no match for Iowa last year, arose to defeat the Hawkeyes 10 to 6, in the final game of the season, and Coach Ingwersen's team is working to be certain that does not happen this year.

KEMPY, a side splitting comedy.

Decision on Rail "War" Not Likely to Be Very Soon

Should oral arguments and testimony be taken in the Pampa-Chil-dress railroad fight, as is now being done at Washington in connection with the Texas and Pacific San Angelo-Balling hearing, an Interstate Commerce Commission decision on the Fort Worth & Denver's petition may not be made before next spring.

Chas. C. Cook, attorney for the Pampa Board of City Development, expects notification of Charles Mahaffy's recommendation concerning the testimony placed before the chairman at the Fort Worth hearing. After this notice is received, twenty days will be allowed for attorneys to file exceptions. Then a Washington hearing date will likely be set. Sometime after the Washington hearing, the Interstate Commerce Commission will announce its decision.

While the I. C. C. might depart from usual procedure and announce its decision earlier, such a course is not likely considering the sharp fight which developed between competing cities and the Rock Island and Fort Worth & Denver. Officials of the Denver road have repeatedly expressed confidence that their line would be allowed to build into Pampa. They recommended that both requests be permitted, and that joint trackage be allowed between Shamrock and Wellington.

Surveys of both the proposed right-of-way and of traffic tonnage possibilities have been completed. Should the Denver road reach Pampa, it is believed that in the future it would continue northward to join the parent system in the Middle West.

Hollywood Sights

BY ROBBINS COONS
HOLLYWOOD—The box-office apparently likes its movie heroes younger and slimmer but just as handsome as ever.

Or it may be that the youngsters just now are getting their first big opportunity.

Once upon a time a slight youngster with a boyish face was definitely typed and practically excluded from the screen's truly great stars. Today the field seems to be widening.

The big and older boys like Thomas Meighan, George Bancroft, Milton Sills, Richard Dix and Jack Holt are not suffering from the invasion, of course, but the little and younger fellows are stepping right into the thick of the stellar honors.

Some of them, at that, are not infants, but then it must be admitted that youths like Buddy Rogers, Raymond Hackett, Hugh Trevor, Robert Montgomery, Eddie Nugent and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., for examples, are far different from the brawny heroes that led the van of popularity ten years or so ago.

Silencing The Outclouds

With all Hollywood gone talkie with a vengeance, and the silent movie generally considered on the road to dodo-like extinction, there is a movement afoot to make the film city return to "silence"—but only insofar as traffic signals are concerned.

The president of the Hollywood Boulevard association has announced in favor of a campaign to replace the present bell-and-light system with color semaphores only, in the interests of quiet. Maybe the klangfilms in the theatres are responsible for the desire for more peace outside.

Concord

A few things that most film colonists are pretty well agreed upon:

That talkies are here to stay.

That westerns not only are "coming back," but are back.

That backstage talkies soon will be passe.

That one more broken-hearted clown singing and smiling to hide a tear will be one too many.

That Lon Chaney is more courageous than most in making another all-silent film.

That color photography will eliminate black-and-white almost completely, before very long.

That Clara Bow will—or will not—marry Harry Richman.

Office Boy Writes Opera

Hamilton Forrest, young Chicagoan, has written a jazz opera which will be presented in January by the Chicago Civic opera company. Forrest is only 27 years old. Mary Garden (left), prima donna, will have the title part, her first jazz role.

BY EDWARD STANLEY
(AP) Feature Service Writer

CHICAGO—Just a few years ago Hamilton Forrest was a spindling office boy. Now he has written a jazz opera of major proportions.

Mary Garden calls it "grand jazz opera." She will be its chief character when the opus has its world premiere in the new Civic Opera house here next January and it will be her first jazz role.

Its title is "Camille," but it isn't the "Camille" of novel, stage, and opera tradition. The opera is based on the life of a French woman in Chicago, a friend of Forrest's family, and so closely parallels the story of "La Traviata" and "La Dame aux Camelias" that he chose the title rather than the accused of theft.

The music is modern, in the jazz manner, the dress is modern and the speech is modern. There are no arias and the plot is unfolded in what the composer calls "song-dialog." Only once is there any individual singing. That is during a party scene when a girl sings "a naughty little French song."

Through all three acts runs a waltz theme, the sort of tune people can whistle or hum. In one place a pianist on the stage plays a tango while the orchestra plays the waltz. The orchestra includes banjos and saxophones. Its rhythms make it hard to sing, says Forrest.

A modern touch is the jangle of a telephone bell. A lover's offer is accepted over the telephone and the audience surmises the situation from the answers. The waltz ends the act with a questioning phrase.

The language is French because it is the only tongue suitable to the story, says the composer, but the rhythm is definitely American.

This is Forrest's second opera. He is only 27 years old and was writing music when he was 13. His first opera, "Yadra," he started when he was 17 and an office boy for Samuel Insull. It has never been produced in full.

When writing "Camille," Forrest got into deep water and wrote Miss Garden, asking if she would look over it.

Short Wave Radio May Put Clock Keys Into Discard

Frank D. Urie of Elgin, Ill., who hopes to develop method of regulating watches and clocks by remote control radio.

ELGIN, Ill.—Another excuse of clock-punchers seems likely to be junked by the alert fraternity of radio experimenters.

Frank D. Urie, director of research for the Elgin Watch company, thinks he is just around the corner from a practical method of winding and setting watches and clocks by remote control radio.

In asking the federal radio commission for a short wave assignment to aid in carrying on the experiment, scientists told the commissioners automatic firing of torpedoes, heavy artillery and other military ordnance could be worked out on the principle employed in watch regulation.

The watch company obtained a wave length of 62.75 meters to carry forward the research.

Radio time signals have been common for several years.

Phelan Pilots Purdue To Front

Boyish Jimmy Phelan, a Notre Dame product, after eight years as coach, has put Purdue on top in the Big Ten.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Heretofore Jimmy Phelan's chief claim for fame was as a gridiron style designer—a Jean Patou of football. But the 1929 Boiler-makers have changed all that.

Phelan's outfit is pacing the Big Ten pack and with two weeks to go had only to stop Iowa to be virtually assured of the title.

Jimmy is the man who first used silk pants as a means of giving his players the maximum of speed. He also devised a rubberized uniform for rainy days.

The recognition thus obtained is secondary to that given the Purdue chieftain this year. For his team climbed to the undisputed leadership of the conference and appeared likely to finish in front since some of the opposition wilted in the drive down the stretch.

Phelan led the "A. B. C.'s" of football at the Columbia University high school in Portland, Ore. He was an all-around athlete before he was graduated, and shipped east to Notre Dame.

Jess Harper was football coach at the South Bend school and Knute Rockne was a gridiron star. Young Phelan was on the team in his Sophomore year and captained in his senior year, 1917.

He took a reputation from Columbia and also Mrs. Phelan. Football was pretty bad at Purdue when Phelan arrived. The Boiler-makers' chief claim to glory then was Elmer Oliphant, who went from Lafayette to star with the Army.

Jimmy laid aside his cleats for hob-nails, and the two years after graduation, he was at war. He came back a captain. Phelan became coach at the university of Missouri in 1919, won the Missouri valley title that year, tied for it the next and had his team high the third.

And there were some pretty lean years before Jimmy's system began to pay dividends. First definite signs of a turn for the better came two years ago when his Boiler-makers drubbed Harvard in a game featured by some great playing by "Pest" Welch, key man of the 1929 machine.

A greatly excited youth appeared at the famous singer's apartment with a sheaf of music under his arm. Instead of the half hour she gave him three hours—all she could spare before her train left.

Her chief advice was this: "Get to Paris!"

So Forrest got four years ago, with the help of a wealthy uncle in London, Arthur Bourner. Since then he has been working steadily on "Camille" with advice and encouragement from Miss Garden.

Miami Officers Arrest Man Wanted in Louisiana Case

MIAMI, Nov. 20. (Special)—Herbert Wall, charged with double murder committed in the state of Alabama in 1926, was arrested on a ranch near Miami Sunday by members of the sheriff's department, and is now lodged in the Hemphill county jail at Canadian awaiting the arrival of officers from Alabama, who are expected here today to return Wall to the scene of the crime.

Wall, it is said, killed a man in Alabama in 1926, and when a deputy sheriff attempted to arrest him for the crime, Wall shot and killed the deputy. He escaped and has been at large until Sunday, when he was apprehended by local officers, after being notified that Wall was in this immediate section.

Wall for the last several weeks had been working for a cousin. It is stated Wall will waive requisition to Alabama.

About New York

By RICHARD MASSOCK
NEW YORK—Tales of sudden losses and rapid winnings in the frantic stock market are falling over the city as thick as autumn leaves.

A fifth avenue merchant prince saw his personal wealth shrink in a few days from $11,000,000 to about $5,000,000. A smart and canny show girl increased hers by $300,000. Actor Thomas Meighan is reported to have lost a lot; Actor Harold Lloyd, on the other hand, to have gained as much.

And in all the panicky speculation it was probably inevitable that at least one famous fortune should be involved. That fortune proved to be the many thousands—approximately $300,000—inherited by Margaret Shotwell, concert pianist, from the Reynolds tobacco millions.

Miss Shotwell's much publicized inheritance—in stock of the Reynolds company—was left her in trust by a son of R. J. Reynolds, who was a friend of her father. At that time the girl was 14 years old.

On the dividends she studied music in Europe for five years. Returning to America several years ago, she received the principal on her twenty-first birthday, placed it with a broker as security for a margin account and went ahead with her piano recitals.

Came the flop market. Miss Shotwell's personal representative said it cost her more than $400,000. With less than half of her inheritance left, and that shrinking with the market, she set about trying to recover the rest. Her representative, as this was written, said she was hysterical.

LADY LUCK COLOR BLIND

An interior decorator reports that most brokers refuse to have green rugs in their offices, considering them unlucky. Taupe is a favorite. Lately nobody has noticed what color was underfoot. Too busy watching purple fractions on the ticker tape.

THE UNCONCERNED

There are several Wall street men, though, who are unperturbed by the market's somersaults. They include the few who deal in worthless securities—frankly so—and two who handle good stocks.

The former sell certificates of defunct or moribund corporations at slightly more than waste-paper prices. People use them for padding the walls of dens, smoking rooms, or the like. Wags distribute them as gifts or bequests.

The other two men are William F. Redmond and Henry L. Peake and are partners, doing business under the firm name of Adrian H. Muller and Son. Every Wednesday noon they auction stocks and bonds for brokers, lawyers and bankers. Most of these stocks are sold on order of executors to close estates, or receivers to close bankruptcy cases. Sometimes an unusually large block of one issue is sold at auction, instead of being traded on the exchange, to prevent its affecting the market.

The securities usually are valuable and often include shares of U. S. Steel or other active stocks. Mostly they bring market prices. Each lot is advertised so that bidders are prepared beforehand.

Adrian H. Muller, who founded the firm in 1837 died 45 years ago. Mr. Redmond entered his employ as a clerk. Mr. Leake came in later. The street's only stock and bond auctioneers, they sell millions of share annually.

Of all mayors in Kansas, 23 per cent are merchants, while 23 per cent of all councilmen and city commissioners are merchants.

LYNCHING--

stood by helpless, unable to remove the prisoner, unwilling to harm the citizens of Eastland.

Overpowered Jailer
At about 9 o'clock, some 200 men led the way. They slipped into a side door of the jail and asked for the man. Jailer Gilborn refused to give him up. Then they overpowered Gilborn, took his keys, and got Ratliff.

The bandit had been stripped of his clothes when he was brought down stairs. He was dragged in the direction of the public square, but the crowd would not wait to go those few blocks. About 200 yards from a jail a strong telephone cable was pointed out. A rope was flung across it. A noose in one was put around Ratliff's neck, a dozen strong men on the other end of the rope bent their weight, and Ratliff was jerked from the ground.

The rope, grabbed somewhere on the spur of the moment, broke and Ratliff breathed again for a moment. Messengers were sent for another, and stronger rope, and again the mob set to its task. Then some one remembered that men about to die are usually given a chance to say a last word. For another moment he was lowered to the ground, but displeased at his mumbings, the crowd yelled "string him up." Many women and girls were in the crowd that witnessed his death.

Justice of the Peace Jim Steele ordered the body cut down and taken to an undertaker. An inquest was ordered for today.

To Grand Jury
Late last night, District Judge George L. Davenport indicated a grand jury would be called to investigate the mob action, and County Attorney Joe H. Jones, nephew of the seriously wounded deputy, said his office would prosecute in the event indictments were returned.

Jones, at the hospital, was told of Ratliff's death. "That's fine," he said. "I'm glad of it."

Physicians late last night held out some hope for the wounded deputy's recovery, although his condition was still said to be grave.

Ratliff's death leaves but one of the four Cisco bank bandits at liberty. Robert Hill was sentenced to 99 years imprisonment and later escaped from the state prison farm. Henry Elms was electrocuted last summer, and L. E. Davis was fatally wounded in the bank robbery battle.

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Marshall Ratliff, taken from the Eastland county jail and lynched last night, furnished a requiem for many of the condemned men who went to the electric chair while Ratliff was in the death cell at the penitentiary here.

A battered old phonograph and a record of "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder" were his only musical equipment, but he played the piece for each condemned man as the death march wended its way toward the little green door.

He was taken from the penitentiary to Eastland recently for a sanity hearing. Ratliff died with a prayer for mercy and forgiveness on his lips. Dragged and carried out of the jail he fell to the ground when the first rope broke and was stunned. He lay there murmuring: "God have mercy and forgive me."

While the mob awaited the new rope, someone tied a sack about Ratliff's loins. Before he was pulled up a second time someone asked if he wanted to talk.

"Let me down and I'll talk," Ratliff begged. The rope was loosened and he said: "Forgive me, boys." Then the rope drew taut, and he strangled, his neck unbroken.

The body swung for 15 minutes. Automobile headlights were turned on it, and the curious turned the dangling corpse by its feet so they could see the face.

Body is Cut Down
County Judge C. L. Garrett appeared and asked someone to take the body down. "Let it hang there," a member of the mob replied. Finally, Justice of the Peace Jim Steele ordered the body removed and taken to an undertaking company morgue. As the mob approached the rear door of the jail, Jailer E. P. Kilborn, his son, Ronald, and his wife and daughter guarded the entrance. Kilborn told the lynchers to let the law take its course. That remonstrance was met with cries of "we have waited long enough," "don't give him a chance to kill another good man," and "we want action."

Then a voice called "get him over there," and a group rushed the jailer, took him to the jail lawn and got his keys. Ronald Kilborn, who went to his father's aid, was overpowered.

Jailer Breaks Away
Jailer Kilborn broke away from his captors for a moment, pushed through the crowd, got back into the building and forced the invaders outside. No sooner had he done that than a larger number swarmed in, rushed to the second floor, returning shortly with Ratliff, who made no outcry although he had fought when the mob leaders entered his cell.

Old residents here said Ratliff's lynching was the first in this county since 1894, when two men were hanged on Coyote Peak, near Rising Star. One was a notorious horse thief while the second, it later developed, was an innocent youth.

Public sentiment, which yesterday criticized Ratliff because of his attack on the jailer, today was just as critical on the lynchers. Many demanded investigation and prosecution. District Judge George L. Davenport was expected to call a special grand jury session while Joseph Jones, county attorney and brother of Tom Jones, said he would prosecute vigorously should indictments be returned.
