Names in the News...

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Hope, who's recuperating at home after a recent bout with pneumonia, is glued to a TV set for the latest developments in last week's terrorist attacks.

"He's absolutely devastated by it. The country is in his heart. I know of no more patriotic person than Bob Hope," spokesman Ward Grant said Thursday. "Like the rest of the men and women and children in the United States, he's glued to the television set and the news."

The 98-year-old entertainer, who made a career of entertaining troops during times of war, was hospitalized 12 days at Providence St. Joseph Medical Center in Burbank. He returned to his Toluca Lake estate on Sept. 6.

"He's doing fine," Grant said. "The pneumonia's gone. They are building him up little by little."

Meanwhile, Hope and his wife, Dolores, watch for updates on the Sept. 11 attacks.

"In the back of his mind is, 'What can I do about this? A benefit or something?' He's dumbfounded by the situation," Grant said, adding the only help the entertainer can offer now is a bit of advice: "It is time to hug your neighbor and embrace your nation."

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Alagna and Angela Gheorghiu have withdrawn from their appearances at the Metropolitan Opera this season, including Alagna's performance at Saturday's benefit for victims of the World Trade Center attacks.

The pair did not want to travel to New York from Europe, according to Met general manager Joseph Volpe.

"They were very concerned about flying," Volpe told The New York Times in Tuesday's editions.

The Met has raised more than $2 million for the relief effort, which includes Saturday's sold-out benefit performance, a celebration of Giuseppe Verdi that contains the same program as its opening-night gala on Sept. 24. Placido Domingo and Deborah Voigt are among those scheduled to perform.

Alagna, who married Gheorghiu at the Met five years ago, was to have sung Rodolfo next month in five performances of Puccini's "La Boheme" opposite his wife, who was to have sung Mimì.

He also was to have sung the Duke of Mantua in Act III of "Rigoletto" at the World Trade Center benefit and on opening night. Gheorghiu previously had withdrawn from singing Gilda in "Rigoletto" on opening night.

Levon Sayan, the representative for the couple, was traveling in Armenia and did not immediately return a message left on his cellular phone on Thursday.

Roberto Aronica will replace Alagna for the benefit and on opening night, and Marcello Giordani and Frank Lopardo will replace him in "La Boheme." Hei-Kyung Hong will replace Gheorghiu in "La Boheme."

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — A year after cancer interrupted Heidi Heitkamp's unsuccessful campaign for governor, she's adjusting to the role of a private citizen who's still very interested in public issues.

"It has been kind of fascinating for me, because you, in some ways, have all of the ability to be involved and interested in these issues, with none of the extras that come with being a public figure," the former attorney general said this week. "That's been very rewarding."

Her race against Republican John Hoeven was interrupted last September by her disclosure that cancer cells had been discovered in lymph nodes under her right arm.

Subsequent tests disclosed that she had breast cancer, and she underwent surgery for the removal of her right breast. Heitkamp was not able to resume campaigning for two weeks during a crucial time in the contest.

Hoeven eventually pulled away, winning 55 percent of the vote in the November election.

Heitkamp, 45, finished chemotherapy and radiation treatments in August. Tests in July and August did not find any evidence of cancer.

While cautioning that "no one really knows whether they are cancer-free," she adds: "I've crossed the bridge from treatment to recovery and survival."

Heitkamp was appointed state tax commissioner in 1986, and served in the job until she was elected attorney general in 1992. She ran for governor at the close of her second term as the state's chief law enforcement officer.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rapper-producer Dr. Dre contributed $1 million to Los Angeles radio station KPWR-FM's fund-raising campaign for the victims of last week's terrorist attacks. The station is hoping to raise $1.6 million for the American Red Cross.

The 36-year-old rapper made the donation on Monday.

Other stars who are donating to relief efforts include Britney Spears and Jim Carrey.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Napster Inc. has hired a former Netscape executive to oversee membership initiatives as the song-swap company prepares to launch its subscription online music service.

Claire Hough will serve as Napster's vice president of engineering, a newly created position, the company announced Wednesday. Hough will manage the ongoing development of Napster's membership service and will report to the company's chief executive officer, Konrad Hilbers.

Hough spent five years at Netscape Communications, most recently as the vice president and general manager of the directory and security division.

Stocks twist and turn on economic uncertainty

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks fluctuated in turbulent trading Friday as Wall Street contended with political and economic uncertainty, as well as technical factors that can make the market volatile in the best of times.

The Dow Jones industrials had several big swings — falling 313 points in the opening minutes of trading, surging to a gain of more than 50 points an hour later and then falling back to another loss of more than 200. The Dow has already declined more 1,229 points this week and without a huge rally Friday would set a record for a weekly point drop.

Analysts said the volatility could be explained only in terms of how scared investors are right now. The market was clearly uneasy as it awaited the United States' anticipated retaliation for last week's terrorist attacks. Wall Street is extremely nervous about the economy and national security.

Psychologist testifies Yates made decision to drown children

HOUSTON (AP) — Andrea Pia Yates has been considered a suicide risk every day since June 20 when police say she told them she had drowned her five children, a nurse who has cared for her at the Harris County Jail told jurors in her competency hearing.

Yates has improved but her mental condition remains questionable, nurse John Bayliss testified Thursday. "There's a lack of luster in her eyes," he said.

During two days of testimony in the hearing to determine if Yates, 37, is fit to stand trial for two charges of capital murder for the deaths of three of the children, her mental dexterity continues to come into question. Closing arguments are expected Friday after testimony from one prosecution witness.

"You have basically given a warning to the courts and the lawyers to watch out for her during the course of trial," defense attorney George Parnham said to psychologist Steven Rubenzer, who has concluded Yates is competent to stand trial after visiting with her eight times since June.

Parnham says two psychologists have warned that Yates could slip back into a psychotic state when she hears details of her children's deaths.

Search continuing in Padre bridge collapse; state plans repairs

PORT ISABEL, Texas (AP) — In the depths below Texas' longest bridge, divers fighting poor visibility have found the jagged wreckage of vehicles beneath tons of debris.

But they're still searching for three people missing in the weekend collapse of the Queen Isabella Causeway, which was struck by a string of barges. Five deaths have already been confirmed.

Divers on Thursday found the wreckage of the last two vehicles that tumbled 80 feet from the bridge into a Laguna Madre channel that is part of the Intracoastal Waterway. But they weren't immediately able to determine if the missing victims were inside. The search was to resume Friday.

The wreck last Saturday closed the only vehicular link from the mainland to the South Padre Island resort and the channel connecting the Texas Gulf coast with shipping commerce on the Mississippi River. The waterway has since reopened.

Gov. Rick Perry on Thursday issued a disaster declaration, clearing the way for money to repair the 2.37-mile-long bridge. Repairs could take about four months and cost as much as $5 million.

Five of the eight vehicles that tumbled into the 50-foot-deep channel have been recovered.

Island economy reels from causeway collapse

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — It's like a hurricane hit. But worse.

Several gas stations on this sunny Gulf Coast barrier island have closed, unable to get fuel. McDonald's, Whataburger and Taco Bell are closed; T-shirt joints are dark, and scores of laid-off waiters and chambermaids are waiting for word someone's thinking of them.

Hundreds of abandoned cars are all that's left of what had been a thriving late-summer tourist season a week ago.

"A hurricane, it's four days. You're in, you're out," said Osiel Perales, a taxi van driver who now meets his passengers at fishing wharves and the hastily built ferry landing.

Perales has played mailman and newspaper carrier since a barge collision collapsed a section of the only bridge to the island, the two-mile Queen Isabella Causeway, the longest bridge in Texas.

The barge hit the bridge in the pre-dawn hours Saturday, and two 80-foot sections of concrete and rebar plunged 80 feet into the bay below. Twelve hours later, a third 80-foot section broke off. Five motorists are confirmed dead; three are missing.

Cornyn entering race for U.S. Senate seat

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Attorney General John Cornyn is running for the U.S. Senate, becoming the first Republican to enter the race for the seat Phil Gramm is vacating.

Cornyn's "statement of candidacy" was filed with the Federal Election Commission on Sept. 14. Because of the terrorist attacks in New York and Washington, he postponed plans last week to formally announce his political intentions.

"Out of respect for the families and the victims and in recognition of the national trauma that we have experienced, I felt that it was only appropriate to delay any announcement of that nature," he said.

On Thursday, Cornyn told reporters that he filed the FEC document indicating his run for Senate but said he would wait until Friday to make further comments.

Cornyn, 49, was elected attorney general in 1998 as a Republican, led by then-Gov. George W. Bush in his re-election campaign, took over all the statewide elected offices in Texas.

Cornyn was a Texas Supreme Court justice from 1991-98. He was a state district judge in San Antonio before that.

His potential Republican primary opponents — U.S. Reps. Joe Barton of Ennis and Henry Bonilla of San Antonio — also delayed announcing decisions about the Senate race because of last week's tragedy.

American Airlines parent laying off 506 pilots

DALLAS (AP) — American Airlines' parent company plans to furlough 506 pilots as part of its plan to eliminate 20,000 jobs, the pilot's union at the world's largest carrier said Thursday.

In a message to members, Allied Pilots Association president John Darrah said the company used language in the union's contract that allows furloughs in a "national emergency."

The furloughs by Oct. 1 include 386 American pilots and 120 TWA Airlines pilots.

AMR owns American, TWA and the American Eagle commuter line.

Darrah said he was upset American management did not work with the union to find alternatives to the furloughs.

Announced layoffs by American Airlines' parent company are pushing industrywide job cuts since last week's terrorist attacks to nearly 70,000.

Fort Worth-based American also warned investors in a legal filing Wednesday that it faces huge potential liabilities from its airplanes that hit the World Trade Center and the Pentagon.

Unless Congress agrees to limit American's exposure to lawsuits, the potential liability "may exceed American's financial resources," the company said.

Two Corpus Christi natives witnessed terrorist attacks

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — Two Coastal Bend natives — one in New York, the other in Washington — were eyewitnesses to the nation's deadliest terrorist attacks.

Erin Chisholm, a marketing consultant who lives in an 18th-floor apartment two blocks away from the World Trade Center site, was packing her bags for a business trip on the morning of Sept. 11 when American Airlines Flight 11 crashed into the north tower.

"There was just this buzzing noise and it was really low," Chisholm, 24, told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times on Thursday. "It was enough where I literally stopped what I was doing and just started listening."

The 1995 Carroll High School graduate said when the plane hit, her apartment building shook and a stiff breeze blew through an open window in her bedroom. Eighteen minutes later, United Airlines Flight 175 flew into the second tower.

"All of a sudden, I heard the same noise," she said. "And that was the scariest thing because I knew what was coming."

At about the same time, Jose B. Leal and some co-workers watched news coverage of the Trade Center attack from a work trailer outside the Pentagon.

Baylor student's mom to stay in Middle East 'til daughter freed

WACO, Texas (AP) — Nancy Cassell is living a mother's nightmare.

She flew to Southwest Asia 32 days ago, hoping to see her daughter released from an Afghan jail. Instead, terrorists attacked New York City and Washington, rousing a worldwide campaign of retribution with guns pointed at the country where her daughter is trapped.

Twenty-nine-year-old Baylor University graduate Dayna Curry is detained in Kabul, Afghanistan with seven other aid workers accused of preaching Christianity.

Cassell saw her daughter four times before she was forced to flee to Pakistan in response to the terrorist attacks.

"Be strong," Cassell wrote to her daughter. "We love you. We'll be waiting in Pakistan."

Saturday, mostly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms. Highs around 88.

Saturday night, mostly cloudy with a 40 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms. Lows around 60. Sunday, partly cloudy with a 40 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms. Highs in the mid 70s.

Sunday evening, mostly cloudy with a slight chance of showers and thunderstorms.

STATEWIDE — Showers and thunderstorms moved southeast of San Angelo and into the Dallas-Fort Worth area overnight following the passage of a cool front.

A narrow line of showers and thunderstorms also extended across the Permian Basin near the Midland-Odessa area early Friday.

Most rainfall in North and Central Texas was west of a line from Graham to Temple.

Elsewhere in Central Texas, only a few isolated showers fell. Skies elsewhere were mostly partly cloudy.

Early-morning temperatures ranged from 53 degrees near Muleshoe in Bailey County to 75 at Fort Stockton. Other readings were 64 at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene and 73 degrees at Denton.

Winds were generally southeasterly at around 10 mph in the west, with light and variable conditions elsewhere.

In West Texas, a slight chance of thunderstorms was forecast in most areas through Saturday.

A chance of storms was also possible in North Texas through the period.

Daytime highs should range from the 80s to lower 90s except for 70s in the Guadalupe Mountains and near 102 along the Big Bend.

Lows overnight were expected to remain in the 60s to lower 70s, except for 50s in the southwestern mountains.

Helping each other

(Pampa News photos by Dee Dee Laramore)

cord on the pole. At right, Clifton employees Bill Terry, Jimmy Hampton, Mel Manhart and Joe Bob Kinnaman, unfold the flag and attach it to the cord. After the pole had stood unused for many years, the recent terrorist attacks spurred the company's decision to display this symbol of national unity and patriotism.

tion cannot administer sales tax generated for a town's economic development. "This whole situation just blows me away," she said. "I don't want Pampa to whither away. The PEDC has brought 270 jobs to this community. I think the 4B would be good for Pampa because the PEDC would not be so limited." "They have had problems," she said, "but this isn't the answer." Local resident Jim Terry said, "It seems the city officials and PEDC still haven't gotten the message. We want the PEDC out." He urged the officials to "put it out of its misery" and for the commission to not consider a 4B EDC. "Arrogance - pure arrogance - has led to this," said Terry. He alluded to a power struggle within the community. "What is right or wrong is difficult to say," said Keitha Davis. "We have to learn to work together." A longtime Pampa resident, Jim Braxton, said the PEDC should be kept, but restructured. "Pampa has to keep the PEDC, in some form, to have any chance of survival," he said. "The current PEDC has made some mistakes, but there are also some successes." "We need to continue to solicit all types of businesses to relocate or build their expansion facilities in Pampa." He said the community needs a new full service motel, a family restaurant and a major outlet/discount store. Braxton said the proposed 4B EDC would fulfill the requirements the community needs. He charged the mayor and city commission members with the duty of informing the citizens about a 4B city. If not informed with correct information, he said, the town will suffer the effects of "coffee shop gossip" and stagnation.

Among the suggestions he offered to the city commission were requesting the resignations of the PEDC Board and Executive Director, but also suggested the commission offer Tripplehorn a job as director if the community voted a 4B measure in for the PEDC.

He suggested salary changes of a PEDC director and that no board member serve consecutive terms.

"Let's restructure our PEDC, not bury it, and keep Pampa alive," said Braxton. "We don't really have any other choice."

Also, Braxton said no board member should serve more than one three-year term. Pampa Chamber President Chuck White said a meeting would be held Oct. 4 to neutrally describe all sides of the dissolution of the PEDC.

board member, Joe Mullenax, who recently was appointed to the PEDC board, was submitted after Stowers'.

It reads: "At this point, having listened to the negativity that has polarized factions of the community against the PEDC Director, the Board and their hard work to help the community.

"I must admit that I am shocked at the amount of false and unfounded accusations and innuendo that the Board and the Director have had to endure. I have seen a shocking and disappointing side of Pampa that I truly did not expect to see from the 18 months that we have lived here.

"I recognize that there are those in the community that do support this Director, the Board and their efforts, but they have not been willing to stand against the vehemence of those who are negative. Without that visible support for the efforts of the PEDC, I must in good conscience also offer up my resignation for your consideration.

"It is difficult for me to continue to voluntarily devote my 'free time and energy' to a community that stands by and allows this type of thing to continue to happen. Although I have only been involved with this group a short time, I can assure you from past experience in another community, that you have a dedicated, hard-working and active group on the PEDC who are, and have been, much more proactive in bringing business to this community than any I have seen in recent years.

"I have a list of contacts for other businesses that I had planned to begin contacting to develop relationships for potential interest in the Pampa area that I will leave with the remaining board members and the director to use as they see fit."

TALIBAN

They will hand over the terrorists, or they will share in their fate," Bush said. "Our war on terror begins with al-Qaida. ... It will not end until every terrorist group of global reach has been found, stopped and defeated."

In Islamabad, Pakistan, Taliban ambassador Abdul Salam Zaef said Friday he is sorry people died in the attacks, and appealed to the United States not to endanger innocent people in a military retaliation.

Zaef said the Taliban would not hand over bin

Laden without evidence, and called for an investigation by the United Nations, telling reporters that Bush's ultimatum poses great danger for Muslims.

A White House spokesman Friday morning reiterated the passage in Bush's speech that stated, "These demands are not open to negotiation or discussion."

Bush was sitting down Friday with insurance industry executives for more assessments of the body blows that the attacks dealt to an already weak-kneed U.S. economy. The House also was poised to approve a $15-billion plan to prop up the nation's airlines, so devastated by the attacks that they began laying off thousands of workers.

Q My little girl, Tara, is sometimes sugar-sweet and other times she is unbearably irritating. How can I get her out of a bad mood when she has not really done anything to deserve punishment?

A I would suggest that you take her in your arms and talk to her in this manner: "I don't know whether you've noticed it or not, Tara, but you have two personalities. A personality is a way of acting and talking and behaving. One of your personalities is sweet and loving. No one could possibly be more lovable and happy when this personality is in control. It likes to work and looks for ways to make the rest of the family happy. But all you have to do is press a little red button, 'ding,' and out comes another personality. It is cranky and noisy and silly. It wants to fight with your brother and disobey your mom. It gets up grouchy in the morning and complains all day.

"Now Tara, I know that you can press the button for the neat personality or you can call up the unpleasant one. Sometimes you need help to make you want to press the right button. That's where I come in. If you keep on pressing the wrong button, like you have been today, then I'm going to make you uncomfortable one way or the other. I'm tired of the cranky character, and I want to see the grumpy one. Can we make a deal?"
 When discipline becomes a game, as in a conversation such as this, then you've achieved your purpose without conflict and animosity.

Q Many of our friends have begun to home-school their children with seemingly positive results. My wife and I are considering this possibility as well, but aren't quite sure. What are your views on this education option? What would you do in my shoes?

A This is a subject of which my minds has changed dramatically over the years. There was a time when I subscribed wholeheartedly to the notion that early formal childhood education was vital to the child's intellectual well-being. That was widely believed in the '60s and '70s. I no longer accept that idea and favor keeping kids with their parents for a longer time.
 Dr. Raymond Moore, author of "School Can Wait" and an early leader of the home-schooling movement, had a great influence on me in this regard. The research now validates the wisdom of keeping boys and girls in a protected environment until they have achieved a greater degree of maturity. Not only do they benefit emotionally from that delay, but they typically make better progress academically. That's why home-schooled individuals often gain entrance to the most prestigious universities and colleges in the country. What their parents can teach young children in informal one-on-one interactions surpasses what their little minds can absorb sitting among 25 age mates in a classroom.
 You asked what I would do in your shoes? If Shirley and I were raising our children again, we would home-school them at least for the first few years.

Q Would you speak to the impact of what has been called "the absentee father" -- especially during the tougher years of adolescence?

A It is stating the obvious, I suppose, to say that fathers are desperately needed at home during the teen years. In their absence, mothers are left to handle disciplinary problems alone.
 This is occurring in millions of families headed by single mothers today, and heaven only knows how difficult their task has become. Not only are they doing a job that should have been shouldered by two; they must also deal with behavioral problems that fathers are more ideally suited to handle. It is generally understood behavioral problems that fathers are more ideally suited to handle. It is generally understood that a man's larger size, deeper voice and masculine demeanor make it easier for him to deal with defiance in the younger generation.
 Many mothers raise their teen-agers alone and do the job with excellence, but it is a challenging assignment.

Local Subway franchisee celebrates 10th anniversary of first store location

Milton Cooke began his business career in Subway Sandwiches 13 years ago, May 1989.

Milton attended Texas Tech University starting in 1987, to pursue a degree in restaurant, hotel and institutional management. As a degree requirement, he needed some work experience in the fast food industry, so he got a job with the local Subway Sandwich shop in Lubbock. He began as a counter attendant, and within a couple of months he was promoted to assistant manager. The Subway owner, Bill Butler, was also a development agent for Subway. Within a few months, Milton also began working as a field consultant for Subway. He was responsible for opening new stores with franchisees as well as inspecting existing stores in West Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas's area.

Milton graduated from Texas Tech in May 1991 and with the financial help of his mother and stepfather, Bettye and Richard Jones, he opened his first Subway franchise in Pampa, Texas, October 1991. His second location opened in Dumas December 1992. The Subway franchise system had been successful for him and in the spring of 1995, he decided to branch out into another franchise. In August of 1995, he opened a CiCi's Pizza franchise in Auburn, Ala. After one year of the pizza business, he and his wife Julie longed to return to Texas, and back in the sandwich business, so back to Pampa they came.

In addition to his experience in Subway and CiCi's Pizza franchise systems, he worked two years in institutional food service, while attending Texas Tech. He also worked as a waiter in the university-owned full-service restaurant, "Skyviews." A part of his work experience included numerous catering events for guests and staff of the university. In addition to his course work for R.H.I.M. program, he studied meat science, learning how to process beef, pork and lamb into retail cuts and offering these products for sale to the public under meat science teaching laboratory.

Prior to attending Texas Tech University, he gained a wealth of knowledge by experience in the full-service restaurant industry working for his aunt and uncle in their restaurant, Big Bubba's Famous BBQ. He learned a great deal of information that he still uses today, along with some family secret recipes he uses in his latest venture that opened in March, Cattle Exchange in Canadian, Texas.

His first knowledge of cooking began as a child, when he was a 4-H club member. While in 4-H, he learned about cooking, nutrition and food safety by competing in food shows. This eventually led him to compete at the state level. As a 4-Her, he raised sheep, swine and poultry. This process allowed him to learn every aspect of the animal industry, judging team, competing on state and national levels. As you can see, he has a vast knowledge of the entire restaurant industry — from production, processing and institutional food service to retail food service.

Milton was awarded Subway Franchisee of the Year in 1998 and has received outstanding recognition for sales volume his stores have achieved since he became a franchisee. Milton says, "I enjoy working within a franchise system as well as owning my own concept. There are pros and cons to both. Subway has an excellent program and with hard work and commitment, Subway opened doors for me that I never had expected."

UW check-in luncheon

Katrina Bigham, executive administrator of Pampa United Way, reported turn-out of over 100 agency representatives at the local UW kick-off event held recently in conjunction with a recent Harvester football game.

In the Major Firms division, National Oilwell has indicated it will join the fund-raising effort and SPS, Wal-Mart and Williams Energy Service have all launched campaigns. United Supermarket has already completed employee pledges, at an increase over last year. UPS also finished its campaign.

The first check-in luncheon is scheduled at 12 noon Tuesday, Sept. 25 in the Large Meeting Room of Pampa Community Building, 200 N. Ballard.

Sponsors for the luncheon will be: The Salvation Army, Tralee Crisis Center, Samaritan Pastoral Counseling and Southside Senior Citizens Center. Participants who are unable to attend the luncheon are encouraged to bring their cards and pledges to the local UW office at their convenience.

The goal for volunteers working cards for Commercial, Special Gifts or Professional is two weeks.

First Presbyterian planning 75th anniversary

First Presbyterian Church of Pampa will hold a special worship service at 10:45 a.m., Sunday, Nov. 18, to celebrate its 75th anniversary.

Former pastors Don Hauck, Marty Hager, Joe Turner and John Judson will participate in the service, followed by the annual Thanksgiving dinner prepared by the men of the church. The community is invited to share in the celebration.

The first actual service of First Presbyterian Church here was conducted in the fall of 1926 at the Pampa High School auditorium. Both the American Legion Hall and the old Rex movie theater also served as temporary homes until the new congregation constructed a building at the corner of Browning and Frost streets. Only Mrs. E.L. (Virginia) Green survives of the 75 charger members.

Rapid growth of the church during the oil boom necessitate the creation of the current modern Gothic brick building at 525

N. Gray.

Topped by a French copper spire, the church's sanctuary features a vaulted beamed ceiling and a stained glass rose window.

Throughout its 75 years of ministry, First Presbyterian Church has built an impressive record of community service. Through the efforts of the Rev. Martin Hager, Genesis House and a suicide prevention/crisis intervention hot line were begun. The Rev. Joe Turner instituted the hospital chaplaincy program and the Satellite School for the Mentally Retarded housed in the church until the Pampa Sheltered Workshop was built.

Dr. Ed Cooley, current pastor, has been deeply involved in uniting the Pampa Ministerial Alliance and in fostering interdenominational programs that serve the whole community. Under his direction, the church adopted the LOGOS ministry to youth, a weekday after-school program combining Bible study, music and worship skills, and a shared meal. The program is staffed by adult Presbyterian volunteers. The Rev. Robin Gantz, Palo Duro Presbytery parish associate, assists Dr. Cooley in his ministry.

All members of First Presbyterian Church will share their memories of the church's 75-year history through displays of photographs, artifacts, and video tapes and will participate in a rededication of the church building which is in its final phase of restoration and remodeling.

Church briefs...

Church of God to host tent revival

A tent revival of the Church of God is planned at Pampa's Recreation Park, Sept. 23-30.

Services are scheduled nightly at 7:30 p.m. Two services are set for Sunday, Sept. 23, at 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Free transportation is available. For more information, call 669-7727.

Revival services begin Sunday at First Pentecostal

Revival services at First Pentecostal Holiness Church, 1700 Alcock, begin Sunday, Sept. 23 and conclude Friday, Sept. 28. Sunday morning services will start at 10:45 a.m., and the evening service at 6 p.m. Services are scheduled at 7 p.m., Monday-Friday.

Guest evangelist will be Dr. Bill Hail, a 34-year veteran pastor in California's capital city, Sacramento. Dr. Hail also served as Superintendent of the Arizona Conference and has conducted numerous tours of Israel.

Recent events in our nation have awakened in many people an awareness of the need to turn to God. Times of earnest prayer and seeking God's presence will be characteristics of this revival effort.

Pastors Albert and Mary Maggard along with the congregation of First Pentecostal invite all-comers to pray for and attend this revival campaign.

Jesus' parables reflect judgment

By Pastor Mike Sublett
Highland Christian Church

Are you old enough to remember when many/most sermons on Sunday were described as "hellfire and brimstone preaching"?

There was a time when "hell" was talked about a lot on Sundays. Of course, it has been a long time since that has been true in most churches. Now most churches focus on the "positive side" of the scriptures. In fact many believers now think that the "negative side" of the scriptures is an Old Testament thing. In fact when most believers are asked, "To whom should judgment be preached?" they reply, "Judgment is something that the unbeliever needs to hear, not the believer."

Let's see if that's true.

In preparing a 16 week series of sermons on "The Parables of Jesus" back in 1996, I began by making a computer file with all of the texts of the parables. Using a "Times New Roman" size "12" font, the file filled 14 pages.

As I began reading and/or examining book after book on the parables, I noticed many themes: the kingdom, God's grace, Christian Character, God's Love, Faith, etc.

After examining over 20 different books on the parables, I only found one book that listed "judgment" as a major category.

As an experiment I decided to read all of the parables and remove every verse from each parable that spoke of judgment. To my amazement I ended up with only 7 pages of text left.

Do you see what that meant? That made it clear that 50%, half, of the text of the parables of Jesus are about judgment. Wow! That blew me away.

Now what should that mean about preaching on the parables. If a preacher is going to preach on all of the parables, how many of his sermons should be about judgment.

That's right, 50%, half!

Back in 1996 I announced to my church that we were going to examine every parable and that we would be spending 16 Sundays doing so. Then I broke the news that 8 of those Sundays would be spent on judgment.

I alternated the judgment sermons with the others so that no two judgment sermons were back-to-back. I'll never forget that after the third sermon on judgment, one of our ladies said, "I don't know if I can make it through 5 more sermons on judgment."

What is the lesson here? Jesus preached judgment to his disciples and to those who followed after him. If Jesus thought that his followers needed to hear about judgment, then what about believers today?

Do believers today need to hear about judgment? Yes! Yes! Yes!

I guess that it will be up to us preachers and Bible teachers and Sunday School teachers to decide if we will follow in the steps of Jesus.

How often does judgment come up at your church? 50%? Think about it. God bless.

Tragedies topic of series by pastor whose church was scene of shootings

On Sept. 11, more than 5,000 innocent people died in terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon.

On Sept. 15, 1999, a gunman barged into a youth rally at Wedgwood Baptist Church in Fort Worth and killed seven young people.

Dr. Al Meredith, pastor of that church, will speak about these tragedies in a series of meetings Sept. 23-26, at Calvary Baptist Church, 900 E. 23rd.

On Sunday, Sept. 23, the meetings are scheduled at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, Sept. 24-26, the meetings begin at 7 p.m.

Topics include dealing with crisis, why crisis happens, and recovering from crisis.

Lunch meetings are also scheduled from 12:10 p.m. to 12:50 p.m., Monday through Wednesday. A lunch will be served for $2 per person: ham on Monday, lasagna on Tuesday, and barbecue sandwiches on Wednesday. During lunch, Dr. Meredith will speak on "Answers to Life's Deepest Questions."

A nursery for children through age 3 will be provided for all of the meetings. The public is welcome.

FIRST TIME?

While there is a first time for everything, homebuyers want experience on their side the first time they purchase a home. First-time buyers will want to enlist the help of their agents to avoid potential pitfalls. For instance, an experienced agent will point out the importance of paying the market value for the house, not the neighborhood. Agents will also help their clients avoid buying the most expensive home on the block, only to see the rest of the neighborhood lower the property values. It is important to realize, too, that a buyer is not going to purchase a new home with all the extras exhibited in the model without negotiating for them. Experience counts for a lot.

Whether you are looking for a home for the first time, or have experience in real estate dealings, at CENTURY 21 - PAMPA REALTY INC., we can help you consider your options and decide on the best one for your future. Call us with any questions at 669-0007. Located at 312 N. Gray Street in Pampa, we are an independent, locally owned agency serving the people of the Pampa area and Gray County. We are available to our customers 24 hours a day.

Fourth-ranked Nebraska rolls over Rice, 48-3

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska coach Frank Solich wasn't quite sure what to expect from the fourth-ranked Cornhuskers.

A 12-day layoff and the terrorism that overwhelmed the country last week apparently didn't keep their minds off football.

The Huskers (4-0) scored on their first three possessions and turned in their most dominating performance of the season, beating Rice 48-3 Thursday in a game rescheduled because of the terrorist attacks.

"We haven't been in this situation before, and we just didn't know," Solich said. "When it was time to play football, they played with great effort and great intensity."

"Nobody played better than quarterback Eric Crouch, who snapped out of a three-game funk with three touchdown passes and two more scores on the ground.

Crouch, who had just two rushing touchdowns and one passing TD in the first three games, looked more like the player who carried the Huskers' offense the past two seasons.

"I felt very comfortable out there. I knew this was going to happen," said Crouch, who ran for 97 yards on 12 carries and passed for 165 yards — going 9-of-11 in less than three quarters.

"The first few games were a little tough for me. Obviously, the statistics weren't there, but that didn't bother me. We're 4-0, and we're getting better each week. You can't ask for more than that."

The game had been scheduled for last Saturday, but was postponed along with most other sporting events last weekend.

After an emotional pregame ceremony that included a videotaped message from former Huskers coach and current U.S. Rep. Tom Osborne, Nebraska came out with its most dominating game of the season.

"Obviously, what happened in the last week and a half has affected everybody," Crouch said. "We came out and honored American in a way everybody could be proud of and the state of Nebraska could be proud."

Nebraska nearly topped the 500-yard mark for the first time this season, finishing with 497 after losing 3 yards on the final play.

"They deserve their ranking. It was very, very hard getting off their blocks," Rice linebacker Rashard Pittman said. "We were expecting them to run, and they did." Nebraska's defense allowed more than 200 yards for the first time this year, but nearly got its first shutout.

Rice (2-1) didn't score until Brandon Skeen kicked a 25-yard field goal with 7:49 left. Greg Henderson was 5-for-13 for 108 yards and two interceptions for the Owls, who finished with 365 yards of offense.

Henderson relieved starter Kyle Herm, who was 3-for-12 for 61 yards.

Pampa freshmen remain unbeaten

PAMPA — Pampa's freshmen team remained unbeaten, holding off Canyon 31-24 Thursday at Harvester Stadium.

Q.B. Cobb opened the scoring for Pampa with a 1-yard run and Seth Foster helped give his team a 14-0 lead when he picked up a Canyon fumble and raced 22 yards to the end zone.

The Shockers also scored through the air as quarterback Tyler Doughty threw to Shea Brown on a 5-yard TD play.

Pampa's defense scored again when Arron Hunt tackled a Canyon runner in the end zone for a safety.

Tailback Mark Williams ended the Pampa scoring by breaking five tackles on a 45-yard touchdown run.

Doughty also scored on a conversion run and Foster kicked three extra points.

Shea Brown continued his outstanding play on defense for the Shockers. Last week against Borger, Brown intercepted two passes. Brittin East also played defensively against Canyon.

On the offensive line, Chris Veal and Matt Mears threw some big blocks for the Shockers.

Pampa travels to Amarillo next Thursday to play Tascosa Black at 4:30.

GOLF

PAMPA — Hidden Hills Ladies Golf Association is hosting a scramble at 5:30 p.m. Monday at Hidden Hills. Entry fee is five dollars. Carts and green fees are extra.

FOOTBALL

MCLEAN — McLean visits Silverton for its next game at 7:30 tonight.

The Tigers are still seeking their first win after two setbacks while Silverton is unbeaten at 2-0.

Last weekend, McLean lost to Floyd, N.M. 50-6. The Tiger touchdown came on a pass from Chris Sparling to Terrence Fite.

WHITE DEER — White Deer goes to Panhandle for a non-district clash tonight.

White Deer has a 2-0 record while Panhandle is 0-1.

BASEBALL

PLAINVIEW — The Coast to Coast Baseball Stars are now recruiting 11-18 year-old players from Texas who would like the opportunity to represent the United States in overseas tournament in Australia, Puerto Rico and Europe.

The tryouts will take place at Wayland Baptist University in Plainview on Oct. 6, starting at 12 noon.

"If selected, players have the chance to choose which country they would like to visit as they compete against some of the world's best teams, explore famous sights, and learn about a different culture. Tours last 7 to 14 days and take place during spring and summer school breaks," said organizer Kevin Ritter.

Ritter said the squads will be led by top college coaches and pros.

For more information, call 740-373-4455.

FLAG FOOTBALL

PAMPA — Pampa Kids & Youth Club is currently having signups for flag football involving both girls and boys, K-12th grades. The signups will be on Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

If more information is needed, call 835-2906, 665-0335, 665-3927 or 669-2458.

HUNTING

AMARILLO — Texas Parks & Wildlife Department is sponsoring a Hunter Safety Course next month at the Lake Meredith recreation area.

The course will be held Oct. 6 from 8 to 5 and Oct. 7 from 1 to 5 at the National Park Service's gun range, which is located on the north side of the dam.

Students must attend both days.

Cost is ten dollars for course materials.

Interested persons can register by contacting Game Warden Win Bishop at 806-857-2541. They are urged to register as soon as possible.

BASKETBALL

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Donna Anderson, a single mother of five, didn't have money and couldn't give blood because of her health but wanted to help people stricken by the terrorist attacks.

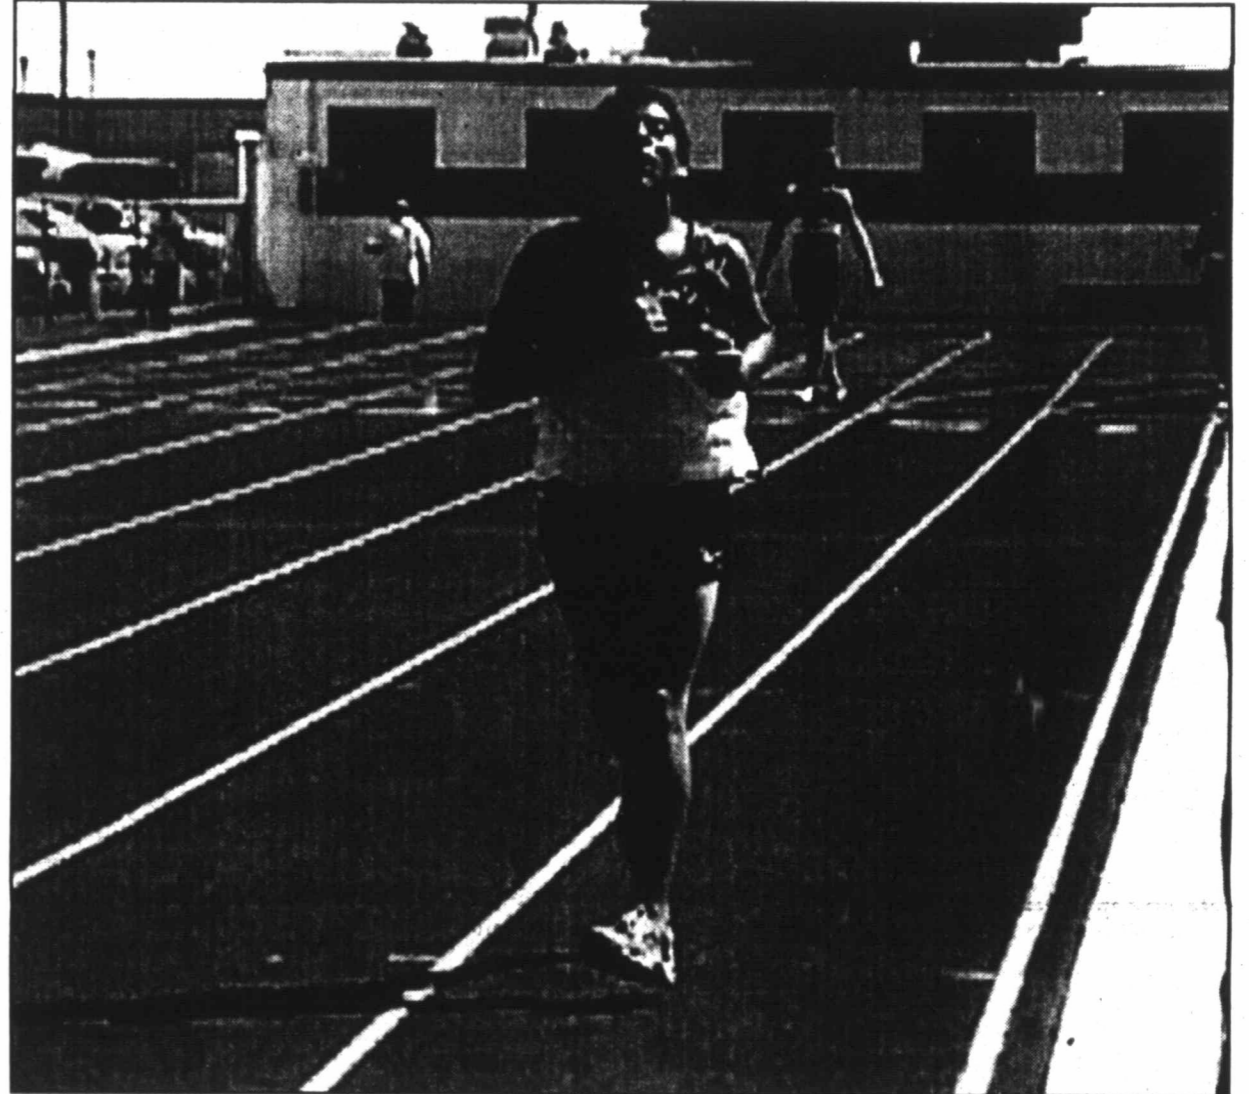

So she took a prized possession to a Red Cross blood center on Tuesday: A basketball signed by the 1988 University of Arizona men's Final Four basketball team.

Richard White, executive director of the Red Cross in southern Arizona, said he had planned to auction the basketball and give the money to disaster relief.

Instead, an unidentified donor who learned of Anderson's gift and situation, gave Red Cross $1,000 on condition that Anderson get her ball back.

Steve Kerr, a member of the 1988 team who returned to Tucson last weekend, also heard the story. Kerr, 35, has played for the NBA's Chicago Bulls and San Antonio Spurs but recently was traded to Portland.

Carlos Solis of Pampa nears the finish line at the Cow Patty Classic last weekend at Dumas. Both the Pampa boys and girls cross country teams are in action Saturday in Amarillo. Starting time is 11:15 a.m. at Thompson Park.

Texas A&M, Oklahoma State ready to resume playing

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — When Texas A&M got around to thinking about football again after the terrorist attacks, the team discovered an angry R.C. Slocum.

"I've seen him upset but not like this," safety Jay Brooks said. "That was a different coach Slocum. He made it clear he was upset that we were not playing Wrecking Crew football."

Slocum and the Aggies (2-0) return to football Saturday in a more security-conscious Kyle Field against Oklahoma State (1-1) in the Big 12 Conference opener for both teams.

The Aggies had an open date last week. Slocum understandably kept football in the background during the days following the terrorist attacks on New York and Washington.

Then, after studying game film, he let his defense know exactly how he felt about their play, despite opening with victories over McNeese State and Wyoming.

"I have not been pleased with the way we have played, and do not think they are either, particularly the older guys," Slocum said. "The starting point is to recognize what a good performance is."

The Aggies had struggles on offense and defense in winning against underdog opponents and Slocum was particularly pointed with his defense for not playing with intensity and emotion.

"I have coached football for a long time and I know what it looks like when a player is not playing the way he should be," he said. "I have watched the tapes all week and it doesn't require someone to have to tell me when we do not play well."

Brooks thinks the defense got the message. He's certain that he did.

"He wants eleven guys out there and I want to be one of those guys," Brooks said. "You're going to see a different player in me and you will see other players different too."

Oklahoma State's game last week against Northern Arizona was canceled as were all major college games, leaving coach Les Miles with less game experience to get his team ready for the Aggies.

"I honestly want it to be college football, just exactly how you might expect it, no different," Miles said. "I don't want there be any other worries."

Some will be worried about security so Miles just hopes that over time the atmosphere will change.

"There's some thoughts that I'm sure everybody in this room and I are having around whatever the next contest brings," Miles said. "Is there any more terrorist-friendly environment than a full stadium? I don't know."

Kyle Field will have added security, including a beefed-up police presence from university and local law enforcement agencies.

A&M students organized a plan to turn Kyle Field into one giant sea of red, white and blue instead of the solid maroon that usually blankets the seats.

Fans on the upper deck will wear red, those in the middle will wear white and those on the lower deck will wear blue.

Slocum likely had heightened concerns about his defense because of the challenge it will face from Cowboys quarterback Aso Pogi, who is rapidly climbing the school passing charts.

"I was shocked last year at how good he was, before we had not seen him," Slocum said. "Once I got on the field I was amazed at how big he is. He is like a defensive lineman.

"He is difficult to take down. He is way bigger than any of those defensive backs and maybe even our linebackers... He is someone to be reckoned with."

The 6-foot-4, 225-pound Pogi already is 13th on the all-time Cowboys passing list in only his sophomore season.

Miles also knows to expect his defense to be tested by quarterback Mark Farris.

"He's an awfully talented, big, strong-throwing guy," Miles said. "It seems like to me they want to throw the ball with him more than they have wanted to in the past."

"They're throwing for just under 300 yards a game... That's awfully good."

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Except for the last time they played at Texas Stadium, Texas Tech has never had an easy time against North Texas.

North Texas followed that 30-0 loss in 1998 with a 21-14 victory over the Red Raiders the next season. Last year, Tech escaped with a 13-7 win only after safety Kevin Curtis stripped UNT receiver LaDarrin McLane and the Raiders recovered the football at the 2 with less than two minutes left.

Since becoming a Division I-A team in 1995, the Mean Green (0-2) are 2-12 against Big 12 teams, the only wins coming against Texas Tech (1-0) in 1997 and 1999.

The two teams play Saturday night, again at Texas Stadium in a home game for North Texas.

"Neither team, in my opinion, has trouble getting ready to play," said UNT coach Darrell Dickey. "Every game we've played has been intense, emotional, hard-hitting. I know that when we've won, people have said, 'Tech's flat.' I haven't seen that."

The Mean Green — just 19-49 overall since moving up to I-A in 1995 — are playing for another upset.

"We take pride in playing bigger schools and hopefully, sometime soon, we'll win those games with more regularity," said senior linebacker Brad Kassell, whose 23-yard interception return accounted for the only UNT touchdown in last year's game.

One concern for both teams is coming back after the unexpected layoff. All Division I-A games were postponed last week after the terrorist attacks on New York and Washington.

"Our worst practice was probably the one after we discovered we weren't playing at all," said Tech coach Mike Leach. "Up until that point we really did practice well. Our whole team was looking forward to a game."

Tech hasn't played since winning its season opener 42-30 over New Mexico on Sept. 8. The Mean Green at least got to play two games before then, losing 37-10 at No. 3 Oklahoma after a 19-5 opening loss to TCU.

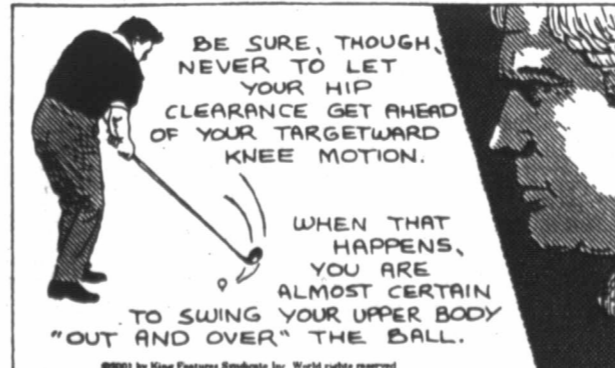

Texas Tech's game at Texas-El Paso, first pushed back from Thursday to Saturday and then postponed, hasn't been rescheduled. The North Texas game at Arkansas from last weekend is still pending, and word is that both teams will instead get new opponents rather than make up their game.

North Texas also has an uncertainty at quarterback since sophomore starter Scott Hall has been limited in practice because of a bruised calf. That could lead the way for Richard Bridges, the starter he replaced, to get playing time Saturday.

Martial arts students Brian Bogges (left) and Dakota Gowin of Pampa competed in the 2001 Amarillo Open Invitational Tae Kwon Do tournament held earlier this month. Brian placed first in forms and first in sparring. Dakota placed first in fighting and third in forms. Bryan competed in the Brown-Black Belt division and Dakota in the Yellow Belt division. They are entered in another tournament next month in Edmond, Okla. Brian is the son of Cotton and Juanita Bogges and Dakota is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sharron and Charles Gowin. Both are students with T&W Martial Arts at 312 N. Ballard.

After long wait, OU eager to play again

E NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — If nothing else, No. 3 Oklahoma should be well rested for the start of Big 12 play.

The Sooners have played three games this season — but the last one was Sept. 8. Oklahoma will have been off three weeks by the time the 12th-ranked Wildcats visit Norman on Sept. 29.

Coach Bob Stoops dismissed the suggestion that such a long break could be a problem.

"We've had plenty of practices, and the extra practices will help us, and we'll be just fine with it," Stoops said. "I think it's good we've had three games already under our belt, to have a good feel for the direction we were heading and what kind of team we could be."

Oklahoma beat North Texas 37-10 in its most recent game, and was supposed to play Tulsa on Sept. 15 before having an open date this weekend. But the terrorist attacks resulted in all Division I-A football games being postponed or canceled that weekend.

That left Oklahoma with two straight open dates, a rarity.

"We could either be really sharp or really dull," quarterback Nate Hybl said. "We missed a game, but we're getting in a ton of practices. We may be really sharp, I don't know."

Their last game gave the Sooners plenty of incentive.

Despite winning handily, Oklahoma played one of its sloppiest games in Stoops' two-plus years as coach. The Sooners committed 13 penalties, including one that wiped out an interception return for a touchdown. Five times, the offense had the ball inside the North Texas 35, but came away with no points.

The kicking game, usually sharp, was not good — one field goal was blocked, two others were missed, one punt was botched and an extra point was missed. The missed extra point was kicked from 35 yards away, the result of back-to-back penalties against the Sooners.

There were some highlights. The offense gained 538 yards.

Hybl, still growing comfortable at quarterback, was 28-of-40 for 350 yards and two touchdowns. Tailback Quentin Griffin caught 10 passes for 111 yards, ran for 71 yards and scored twice.

Even so, offensive coordinator Mark Mangino vowed that players would be held accountable.

"If we want to be a great football team, we can't have lapses or lose our mental edge or let down against anybody," Mangino said. "Great teams don't do that."

Hybl hasn't made anyone forget Heisman Trophy runner-up Josh Heupel, but he has played well enough to win. Tentative in the opener against North Carolina, he wound up 20-of-29 for 152 yards.

He started slowly on the road against Air Force, but played well after that. He was solid against North Texas, although a poor throw resulted in an interception that led to a touchdown.

Hybl is getting plenty of help from Griffin, who is emerging as one of the top running backs in the Big 12. Griffin ran for a career-best 201 yards in the 44-3 victory over Air Force, and his 18 receptions put him 10 ahead of anyone else on the team.

"We've evolved and certainly are a team that I hope when defenses defend us, they have to deal with the run game," Stoops said. "That's what we hope we're getting to, that our run game will be a major factor for us."

Oklahoma began its run to the national title last year with an October stretch in which it beat Texas, Kansas State and Nebraska. After playing Kansas State, the Sooners travel to the Cotton Bowl to play Texas, with Nebraska down the road.

Stoops said Oklahoma planned to use the early part of this week practicing against Texas' schemes, then would switch to Kansas State later in the week and all next week.

"That's what we do this time of year, we practice and then we go play," he said. "So we are anxious to play. I'm sure by the time Kansas State week comes, we'll be chomping at the bit."

Diaz shoots 67 to take lead in LPGA tourney

NORTH AUGUSTA, S.C. (AP) — Laura Diaz has earned the respect of the tour's biggest stars without winning a tournament.

Within a half hour of each other, Karrie Webb and Annika Sorenstam talked about the 26-year-old Diaz as being ready to become a topflight player.

Diaz showed Webb and Sorenstam might be right, firing a 5-under 67 to share the first-round lead in the rain-suspended Asahi Ryokuken International on Thursday.

Marianne Morris and Vickie Odegard also had 67s. Rookie Beth Bader was 5 under through 11 holes before poor weather stranded 71 golfers on the Mount Vintage Plantation course.

They returned this morning to finish the round, but thick fog continued to cover the course.

Forecasts say the area will be mostly sunny and pleasant by noon. Although at 9:30 a.m., it was impossible to see balls hit down the practice range.

The delay means the tournament's second round at the season's last full-field event will go until Saturday.

Webb didn't hesitate when asked about up-and-coming players. "You all know Laura Diaz," Webb said. "She hasn't won this year, but she's been close."

Sorenstam also spoke of Diaz's potential.

And why not? The third-year pro has four seconds this season and is seventh on the LPGA money list with $701,895.

When told of the remarks, Diaz looked away, stunned and excited.

"I feel honored, definitely," said Diaz, who had a bogey-free round. "Those are the top two players in the world. ... That's great, but I still have to go out there and win."

Diaz's strong iron play got her going. She made putts of less than 5 feet for three of her birdies. Her longest birdie putt came on a 12-footer on the par-5 16th.

Diaz might have had the short putts, but Morris and Odegard definitely had the longest drives.

Morris traveled 42 hours in a minivan from Portland, Ore., to make it to Mount Vintage, only about an hour up the road from her alma mater, South Carolina.

Odegard, her husband and mother took 41 hours to go from the Safeway Classic to here.

"Who did that?" said Diaz, who took Delta Airlines home to Florida. "By no means was I happy getting on the plane, but I didn't want to make a four-day trip either."

Morris said because she went to South Carolina, the Asahi Ryokuken "was pretty important, so my only option was driving."

Soon, Morris found another road warrior, passing Odegard and her family near Denver.

"So all the players that took the charter, I'm sorry. It must have been the way to go was to drive," said Odegard, chuckling.

Safeway officials chartered a flight for about 130 players and caddies heading to Mount Vintage. Bader said she took that flight.

Kris Tschetter, Grace Park and Nancy Scranton were a stroke back at 68.

Sorenstam, the tour's leading money winner, shot a 71. Webb also was 1 under through 14 holes.

Athletics defeat Rangers, move step closer to clinching wild card

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Oakland Athletics are ready for a postseason preview.

After moving a step closer to clinching the AL wild card with a 7-2 win at Texas on Thursday night, the Athletics play six of their next nine games against AL West champ Seattle.

"They are the best team in baseball and you'd like to see where you are at," said A's third baseman Eric Chavez, who drove in four runs in the series finale against Texas. "It will be interesting to see how we play."

While Seattle has a 17-game lead over Oakland in the AL West, the A's have been the better team in the last three months. Oakland is 54-18 since June 27, while Seattle is 50-22.

The two teams play three games this weekend in Oakland, then meet again the following weekend in Seattle.

"Both teams are trying to get themselves prepared for the postseason," A's manager Art Howe said. "Obviously, both teams would like to win the series and maybe subconsciously send some kind of message that they know we can play with them and we know they can play with us."

Oakland has won 16 of 18 games to build an 11-game lead over Minnesota in the wild card race. The magic number is five.

Barry Zito (14-8) overcame a kink that forced him to rush his stringent pregame routine, allowing just two runs and six hits in six innings to win his sixth straight start.

"I didn't feel as good as I usually do. My pregame routine was thrown off a little bit," said Zito, who wasn't able to find his throwing partner. "That threw me off, so I think a lot of it was mental."

The Rangers took a 2-1 lead, but the Athletics led 4-2 when Zito left the game — his first start in 10 days after baseball took a week off following the terrorist attacks.

During his career-long winning streak, Zito has a 0.86 ERA, allowing just four earned runs in 42 innings. He is 9-1 in his last 10 starts.

"He's just been solid for us, almost a lock," Howe said.

Miguel Tejada hit a two-run single in the fifth off Darren Oliver (11-10) to put Oakland up 3-2.

Chavez had a run-scoring single after Olmedo Saenz doubled in the sixth and hit a three-run homer in the eighth off reliever Mark Petkovsek to give Oakland a 7-2 lead. Chavez has a career-high 27 homers.

Oliver gave up four runs and eight hits in six innings and is 4-8 in his last 14 starts.

"I made a few mistakes and got the ball up. You can't afford to do that against them," Oliver said. "They've got a good team over there and they are playing well."

Oakland had a 1-0 lead after Tejada walked in the first and scored on Jermaine Dye's sacrifice fly. The Rangers went ahead 2-1 on Rafael Palmeiro's 42nd homer in the second and Ruben Sierra's run-scoring single in the fourth.

Notes: Chavez is hitting .373 (23-for-65) with eight homers and 27 RBIs the last 15 games. ... The Rangers were 6-0-1 in their seven series since mid-August before losing two of three to Oakland. ... Palmeiro's 442nd career homer tied him with Fred McGriff and Dave Kingman for 25th on the career list. ... The Rangers are 39 games behind Seattle, their largest deficit in the standings in team history. ... Texas had 36 homers this season against the A's, its most against one team in a season. ... Oakland 2B Frank Menechino missed the game because of food poisoning.

Dodgers work overtime to get needed win in NL West race

By JOSH DUBOW
AP Sports Writer

It sure took a long time for an NL West contender to get a win.

After Barry Bonds' 64th homer wasn't enough for San Francisco, the division's other contenders — Arizona and Los Angeles — took 13 innings to decide the opener of their four-game series.

Shawn Green hit his 47th homer with two outs in the 13th as Los Angeles defeated first-place Arizona 3-2 Thursday night to snap a five-game losing streak. The Diamondbacks and Giants have each lost three straight.

"The goal is to win these big games so we have a chance to play for bigger games later," Green said. "It's going to be a battle this whole series."

The Dodgers' first victory since baseball resumed Monday moved them within three games of the Diamondbacks in the NL West. Los Angeles remains four behind St. Louis in the wild card race.

The Giants remained two games behind Arizona despite losing 5-4 to Houston on Lance Berkman's RBI double in the 10th inning.

With 15 games left, Bonds is six homers shy of the record Mark McGwire set three years ago. Bonds' 64th came in San Francisco's 147th game, eight games fewer than it took McGwire to hit the same number, but his mind is still on last week's terrorist attacks.

Bonds announced that starting with Thursday's homer, he would donate $10,000 for each homer he hits to the United Way for the relief fund.

"It's hard to refocus when you're noticing those things out there," Bonds said about the reminders of the tragedy on the video scoreboard at Pacific Bell Park. "We try to perform and put it on the back burner for those few hours we're out there on the field. But it's tough to do."

In other NL games, it was Atlanta 5, Philadelphia 1; Chicago 6, Cincinnati 1; St. Louis 9, Pittsburgh 1; and Montreal 8, Colorado 3.

Dodgers 3, Diamondbacks 2

Green went 4-for-6, including an RBI triple in the first inning and his game-winning homer in the 13th off Greg Swindell (2-5) at Dodger Stadium.

Luke Prokopec (8-6) earned his first victory since Aug. 25 and also his first win this season as a reliever.

Luis Gonzalez tied the game with his 53rd homer, a two-run shot in the eighth inning off Jesse Orosco.

"This is a tough loss for us, but we can't dwell on it because tomorrow's game is just as big as this one," Gonzalez said. "But it was hard to swallow because we tied it late in the game and went into extra innings."

Astros 5, Giants 4

Houston led 4-2 in the fifth when Bonds homered on a 1-0 count off Wade Miller. The ball cleared the fence beyond the reach of center fielder Richard Hidalgo.

Bonds rounded the bases to chants of "Barry! Barry!" and high-fived teammate Rich Aurilia, who also scored, and Jeff Kent, who was waiting on deck.

With the score 4-all in the 10th, Jeff Bagwell walked with one out, stole second and scored on Berkman's RBI double down the right-field line off Robb Nen (4-5).

"We've been scrappy, and I like that," Berkman said. "Even in adverse situation, we feel like we can come back."

Octavio Dotel (7-5) pitched the ninth for the win and Billy Wagner worked the 10th for his 36th save in 38 chances.

Houston remained 4 1/2 games ahead of second-place St. Louis in the NL Central.

Braves 5, Phillies 1

Javy Lopez drove in three runs and Kevin Millwood (6-6) pitched six shutout innings as visiting Atlanta beat Philadelphia to open a 1 1/2-game lead in the NL East.

The Braves avoided a four-game sweep and headed to New York with a 5 1/2-game lead over the Mets.

Cubs 6, Reds 5

Fred McGriff hit a three-run homer, and Jason Bere (11-9) pitched seven shutout innings at Cincinnati.

God Bless America

Americans in Pampa and across the country are proudly displaying their patriotism by flying the U. S. flag since the Sept. 11, 2001, tragedy.

The Pampa News is providing the flag information due to the many questions which have arisen about the proper flag etiquette. The following flag laws and regulations are contained in the Public Law as amended July 7, 1976, by the 94th Congress of the United States. They set forth the existing rules, customs and etiquette pertaining to the display and use of the flag of the United States of America.

Section 174. Time and Occasions for display; hoisting and lowering.

(a) Display on buildings and stationary flagstaves in open; night display

It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaves in the open. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed twenty-four hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.

(b) Manner of hoisting

The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

(c) Inclement weather

The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all weather flag is displayed.

(d) Particular days of display

The flag should be displayed on all days, especially on:

- New Year's Day, January 1
- Inauguration Day, January 20
- Lincoln's Birthday, February 12
- Washington's Birthday, third Monday in February
- Easter Sunday (variable)
- Mother's Day, second Sunday in May
- Armed Forces Day, third Saturday in May
- Memorial Day (half-staff until noon), the last Monday in May
- Flag Day, June 14
- Independence Day, July 4
- Labor Day, first Monday in September
- Constitution Day, September 17
- Columbus Day, second Monday in October
- Navy Day, October 27
- Veterans Day, November 11
- Thanksgiving Day, fourth Thursday in November
- Christmas Day, December 25
- and such other days as may be proclaimed by the President of the United States
- the birthdays of States (date of admission)
- and on State holidays

(e) Display on or near administration building of public institutions

The flag should be displayed daily on or near the main administration building of every public institution.

(f) Display in or near polling places

The flag should be displayed in or near every polling place on election days.

(g) Display in or near schoolhouses

The flag should be displayed during school days in or near every school house.

Section 175. Position and manner of display

The flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be either on the marching right; that is, the flag's own right, or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.

(a) The flag should not be displayed on a float in a parade except from a staff, or as provided in subsection (i) of this section.

(b) The flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides, or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or a boat. When the flag is displayed on a motorcar, the staff shall be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the right fender.

(c) No other flag or pennant should be placed above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America, except during church services conducted by naval chaplains at sea, when the church pennant may be flown above the flag during church services for the personnel of the Navy. No person shall display the flag of the United Nations or any other national or international flag equal, above, or in a position of superior prominence or honor to, or in place of, the flag of the United States at any place within the United States or any Territory or possession thereof: Provided, That nothing in this section shall make unlawful the continuance of the practice heretofore followed of displaying the flag of the United Nations in a position of superior prominence or honor, and other national flags in positions of equal prominence or honor, with that of the flag of the United States at the headquarters of the United Nations.

(d) The flag of the United States of America, when it is displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

(e) The flag of the United States of America should be at the center and at the highest point of the group when a number of flags of States or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from the staffs.

(f) When flags of States, cities, or localities, or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above the flag of the United States or to the United States flag's right.

(g) When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above of another nation in time of peace.

(h) When the flag of the United States is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony, or front of a building, the union of the flag should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half staff. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.

(i) When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left. When displayed in a window, the flag should be displayed in the same way, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

(j) When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

(k) When used on a speaker's platform, the flag, if displayed flat, should be displayed above and behind the speaker. When displayed from a staff in a church or public auditorium, the flag of the United States of America should hold the position of superior prominence, in advance of the audience, and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. Any other flag so displayed should be placed on the left of the clergyman or speaker or to the right of the audience.

(l) The flag should form a distinctive feature of the ceremony of unveiling a statue or monument, but it should never be used as the covering for the statue or monument.

(m) The flag, when flown at half-staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day. On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon only, then raised to the top of the staff. By order of the President, the flag shall be flown at half-staff upon the death of principal figures of the United States Government and the Governor of a State, territory, or possession, as a mark of respect to their memory. In the event of the death of other officials or foreign dignitaries, the flag is to be displayed at half-staff according to Presidential instructions or orders, or in accordance with recognized customs or practices not inconsistent with law. In the event of the death of a present or former official of the government of any State, territory, or possession of the United States, the Governor of that State, territory, or possession may proclaim that the National flag shall be flown at half-staff. The flag shall be flown at half-staff thirty days from the death of the President or a former President; ten days from the day of death of the Vice President, the Chief Justice or a retired Chief Justice of the United States, or the Speaker of the House of Representatives; from the day of death until interment, a former vice president, or the governor of a state, territory, or possession; and on the day of death and the following day for a member of Congress.

As used in this subsection—

1. the term "half-staff" means the position of the flag when it is one-half the distance between the top and bottom of the staff;

2. the term "executive or military department" means any agency listed under sections 101 and 102 of title 5; and

3. the term "Member of Congress" means a Senator, a Representative, a Delegate, or the Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico.

(n) When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union

Boy Scouts display their patriotism as they raise the flag at Travis Elementary School daily prior to the beginning of school each day. The boys have studied and learn the proper flag etiquette in their scout group.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave or allowed to touch the ground.

(o) When the flag is suspended across a corridor or lobby in a building with only one main entrance, it should be suspended vertically with the union of the flag to the observer's left upon entering. If the building has more than one main entrance, the flag should be suspended vertically near the center of the corridor or lobby with the union to the north, when entrances are to the east and west or to the east when entrances are to the north and south. If there are entrances in more than two directions, the union should be to the east.

Section 176. Respect for flag

No disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America; the flag should not be dipped to any person or thing. Regimental colors, State flags and organization or institutional flags are to be dipped as a mark of honor.

(a) The flag should never be displayed with the blue field down, except as a signal of dire distress in instances of extreme danger to life or property.

(b) The flag should never touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, the floor, water, or merchandise.

(c) The flag should never be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free.

(d) The flag should never be used as wearing apparel, bedding, or drapery. It should never be festooned, drawn back, nor up, in folds, but always allowed to fall free. Bunting of blue, white and red, always arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle, and the red below, should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping the front of the platform, and for decoration in general.

(e) The flag should never be fastened, displayed, used, or stored in such a manner as to permit it to be easily torn, soiled, or damaged in any way.

(f) The flag should never be used as a covering for a ceiling.

(g) The flag should never have placed upon it, nor on any part of it, nor attached to it any mark, insignia, letter, word, figure, design, picture, or drawing of any nature.

(h) The flag should never be used as a receptacle for receiving, holding, carrying, or delivering anything.

(i) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard. Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff of halyard from which the flag is flown.

(j) No part of the flag should ever be used as a costume or athletic uniform. However, a flag patch may be affixed to the uniform of military personnel, firemen, policemen, and members of patriotic organizations. The flag represents a living country and is itself considered a living thing. Therefore, the lapel flag pin being a replica, should be worn on the left lapel near the heart.

(k) The flag, when it is in such condition that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, should be destroyed in a dignified way, preferably by burning.

Section 177. Conduct during hoisting, lowering or passing of flag.

The ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present except for those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military
