No sign of bin Laden

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush said Friday the United States is "in hot pursuit" of terrorists behind the Sept. 11 attacks. A top Bush administration official said U.S. special forces have conducted scouting missions in Afghanistan, where suspected terrorists are hiding.

The official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said the work of U.S. and British forces is a prelude to potential military action. The official denied reports that the forces, deployed in the last few days, are actively seeking prime suspect Osama bin Laden.

In another development, a Bush Cabinet member said Reagan National Airport outside Washington will definitely reopen when a security plan is worked out despite its proximity to critical government buildings.

The rapid pace of events came as a delegation of Pakistani religious leaders and government officials pressed the ruling Taliban regime in Afghanistan — with no sign of success — to turn over bin Laden, suspected as the mastermind behind the attacks on Washington and New York.

In an Oval Office meeting with King Abdullah II of Jordan, the president said he and his military planners have taken note of lessons learned by Russia in its long, brutal struggle against Afghan rebels in the 1980s.

"It is very hard to fight a ... guerrilla war with conventional forces," Bush said. "There may or may not be a conventional component to" U.S. military action against terrorists believed to be hiding in Afghanistan, he said.

Bush refused to discuss details of his military plans, but said: "Make no mistake about it — we're in hot pursuit" of terrorists.

The president gave Abdullah a pen he used earlier in the day to sign a free-trade pact with the moderate Arab nation.

In New York, Mayor Rudolph Giuliani said it could take a full year to complete the cleanup at the site of the World Trade Center. The twin towers collapsed shortly after hijacked planes were piloted directly into the upper floors of the buildings.

A third plane was piloted into the Pentagon, which sustained heavy damage. Because of Reagan National Airport's proximity to the nation's military nerve center, as well as the White House and the Capitol, the facility has remained shut down. A fourth hijacked plane crashed in the Pennsylvania countryside, after an evident struggle between passengers and the terrorists.

Transportation Secretary Norman Y. Mineta, appearing on ABC's "Good Morning America," said the airport would definitely reopen, and said he looked for a decision from Bush as early as the middle of next week.

At the White House, spokesman Ari Fleischer said no decision had been reached on the fate of the airport, despite Mineta's comments. He said Bush is concerned about the economic impact of keeping the airport closed, but realizes there are security issues as well.

Separately, senior White House officials say there are tentative plans for Bush or Mineta to announce next week that the airport will be reopened once security issues, such as securing cockpits, are addressed.

For the first time, the FBI said Thursday that some of the 19 hijackers who carried out the attacks have been linked to bin Laden.

That revelation came with the public release of photographs of the suspected hijackers, even though authorities said they were not sure they had the suspected terrorists' real names.

Police: Man stabbed with beer bottle

Police today believe a broken beer bottle may have been used to stab a Pampa man in a dispute Thursday evening at a South Somerville apartment complex.

Donald Wayne Johnson, 51, 531 S. Somerville #7, was taken to Pampa Regional Medical Center about 6:45 p.m. Thursday, suffering from two puncture wounds and a laceration, a half inch wide by 1 1/2 inches long, to his left shoulder, according to Pampa Police Department reports. Johnson's condition was not available from hospital officials by press time today.

Carolyn Ronell Mathis, 47, 531 S. Somerville #6, remained in Gray County Jail this morning on charges of aggravated assault causing serious bodily injury. Justice of the Peace Joe Martinez set bond at $4,000 in a bond hearing this morning.

Officers Cade Logue, Sgt. Alvin Johnson, and Lt. Fred Courtney responded to a report of an aggravated assault at the apartment complex Thursday afternoon.

Mathis told officers at the scene that the victim had "got in my face" while she and a man she identified as her husband were sitting outside in chairs between the two apartments. The woman said that she broke a bottle of malt liquor on the side of her chair, the report stated.

According to the police report, part of the broken bottle was found at the scene, along with blood stains on the ground and on the woman's clothing.

Weather focus

PAMPA — Today, sunny. Highs in the lower 80s. Light southeast winds... Increasing to 10 to 15 mph in the afternoon.

Tonight, partly cloudy. Lows in the mid 50s. East winds 10 to 15 mph., diminishing late. Saturday, partly cloudy. Highs in the upper 70s. Southeast winds increasing to 10 to 15 mph.

STATEWIDE — More dry, mild weather was on tap Friday across most of Texas as a persistent high-pressure system kept rainfall away and skies clear.

The weather system was hindering the slow return of Gulf moisture into the state. But a low-pressure trough was developing along the Rocky Mountains, where a weak dry line extended down along the Texas-New Mexico border.

Early-morning temperatures ranged from the 50 to 60s across the region. Extremes were 52 degrees at Marfa and 68 at Guadalupe Pass.

Other readings were 61 degrees at both Dallas Love Field and Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport and 50 degrees at Nacogdoches.

Winds were mostly light out of the west and southwest in West Texas, with a weak northerly flow across the south and Rio Grande Valley at 5 to 10 mph. Conditions were variable elsewhere.

Meanwhile, Hurricane Juliette continued to pound the southern Baja Peninsula with winds near 80 mph and very heavy rainfall. It was centered 80 miles west of Cabo San Lucas, Mexico.

The Texas forecast through the weekend called for mostly sunny days and clear skies at night.

Daytime highs should range from the upper 70s across the Guadalupe Mountains and Big Bend area to the mid-90s along the Rio Grande.
 Lows overnight were expected in the 50s to near 60.

SENTENCE

fied by police as Harkins' son-in-law, suffered a gunshot wound to his right arm as he tried to get away from the enraged man. He was hospitalized and underwent surgery for the wound, police said.

Garner drove the truck to Gray County Sheriff's office. Harkin and his wife Johnnie also drove to the sheriff's office, where he was taken into custody and placed in jail.

Sheriff's Deputy Mark Williams said that when Harkins came in, he handed his revolver to him and told him he'd just tried to kill his son-in-law.

Harkins was then taken to Pampa Regional Medical Center emergency room complaining of chest pains. He returned to the jail about an hour later.

After further investigation, authorities charged Harkins with a second aggravated assault for threatening his wife with the gun.

In the hearing Thursday, Harkins was unable to stand for his sentencing citing "heart problems."

SHOOTING

In searching the man, officers found a Smith and Wesson Sigma .40 caliber automatic pistol containing an empty ammunition magazine, a full ammunition magazine, a wire connector from a stereo, a stereo face plate and radar detector, Morris said.

"While I was doing the paperwork on this I was dispatched to a burglary of a motor vehicle on Kingsmill," he said, adding that the person reporting the burglary identified the stereo equipment as coming from his vehicle.

Col. Terry Young of the Pampa Police Department said officers are investigating other reports of vehicles with damage from gunshots in that area at press time today.

Kelly Rushing, chief deputy for the Gray County Sheriff's Office, said that a deputy was also taking a report of a vehicle damaged by gunshots at press time today.

Officials said further charges in connection with the incident are pending.

WOMAN

know in which part of the car the photos were found.

Medrano described the pictures as "snapshots like you'd take with a regular camera, not mug shots." He said the photos showed the men "just standing around."

Frausto, when asked about the photos, quoted the woman as saying she had taken them about two years ago during a trip to New York. He said the men pictured "are not the terrorists" and said Gabrelcik described them as "friends."

Sheriff Robertson said he had notified the FBI of Gabrelcik's arrest and said an agent had talked with her.

"I'm not privy to what was said," the sheriff said. "And nobody's said anything to me about holding her except Orange County, Florida."

Making reference to the language skills and photos, Robertson said, "this could be one of those coincidence things."

Usually, Robertson said the State of Florida won't spend the money to come after people picked up locally on warrants. But in this case they are. He said the fraud charge is "minor" and said it is "about the same thing as insufficient funds in Texas."

A call to the FBI office in Amarillo had not been returned by press time today.

Economy ekes out tiny growth rate in quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. economy managed to eke out a tiny 0.3 percent growth rate in the April-June quarter, dangerously close to a recession even before the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

Many economists believe those attacks and the toll they have taken on consumer confidence will spell the end of the nation's longest economic expansion and push the country into its first recession since 1990-91.

The Commerce Department reported Friday that the gross domestic product was growing at a barely discernible rate of 0.3 percent in the spring, the weakest performance in more than eight years.

"The president remains concerned about the status of the economy," presidential spokesman Ari Fleischer said in commenting on the GDP report. Fleischer said that Bush was focused on reaching an agreement with Congress on an economic stimulus program that many expect to be unveiled next week.

On Wall Street, the Dow Jones industrial average was in positive territory in morning trading although investors remained jittery about what upcoming profit reports will show.

GDP growth had been a weak 1.3 percent in the first quarter and it has been hovering in that range since the summer of 2000, when the economy suffered an abrupt slowdown that has already cost more than 1 million manufacturing jobs.

The new second quarter figure was slightly higher than a 0.2 percent estimate of second quarter growth made a month ago, an improvement the government said came from a slightly better trade performance.

Inflation rose at an annual rate of just 1.3 percent in the second quarter, the smallest increase since early 1999. This GDP price measure was up 3.2 percent in the first quarter.

If the country does enter a recession, many economists believe it will be a brief one because the Federal Reserve, which has already cut interest rates eight times, will have room to cut rates further because inflation is not a threat.

The Fed is expected to cut rates again next Tuesday when central bank policy-makers gather in Washington for a regularly scheduled meeting.

"Thy Word Is Truth"
John 17:17

Q Can boys and girls be taught to treat each other with respect? That seems like a tough assignment!

A They certainly can! Young people are naturally more sensitive and empathetic than adults. Their viciousness is a learned response, resulting from the highly competitive and hostile world in which they live—a world we have allowed to develop. They are destructive to the weak and lowly because we adults haven't bothered to teach them to "feel" for one another.

One of the values children cherish most is justice. They are, on the other hand, uneasy in a world of injustice and abuse. Therefore, when we teach children respect for others by insisting on civility in our classrooms, we're laying a foundation for human kindness in the world of adulthood to come. It is a fundamental attitude that should be taught in every classroom and every home.

Q Do you feel that there is a kind of "blindness" that can occur when a victim of an affair denies the truth? I seemed to experience this when my husband was fooling around with my best friend. The affair went on for two years before I could acknowledge it to myself. But why would I deny the truth? Why do victims "choose" to be blind?

A That psychological process is called denial, and it is designed to protect the mind from an unacceptable thought or reality. Once a person admits to himself or herself that a beloved spouse has been unfaithful, then he or she is obligated to deal with that circumstance. The extremely painful experiences of grief, anxiety, and insomnia become inevitable once the truth has been faced. Furthermore, the injured partner fears that a confrontation with the unfaithful partner might drive the spouse into the arms of the new lover.

Given these concerns, the person consciously or unconsciously chooses not to notice the affair in the hope that it will blow over and be forgotten. Obviously, there is ample motivation for a vulnerable person to deny what the eyes are seeing.

When the evidence of the unfaithfulness becomes overwhelming, a man or woman will sometimes "ask" the guilty spouse to assist with the denial. This is done by making accusations in the hope of being proven wrong. For example, a wife will say, "Are you and Done seeing each other?"

"No, I've told you a thousand times that nothing is going on," he lies.

"But where were you until 2 o'clock this morning?"

"I had car trouble. Now will you get off my back?"

This wife knows her husband's story is phony, but she continually asks him to lie to her. And interestingly, she does not feel obligated to "blow the whistle" on him until he admits his involvement...which may never happen. These tacit agreements help her maintain the illusion that all is well, and provides a permissive environment in which the husband can play around.

Denial has many applications and uses in human experience. It will permit a woman to ignore a suspicious lump in her breast, or the drugs in her sons' bedroom, or the debt that the family is accumulating. Through this process the mind is protected for a time, but it often permits even greater disasters to gain foothold in our lives.

Q Is depression more common among men or women?

A Depression occurs in both sexes but is less frequent in men. It is also more crisis-oriented. In other words, men get depressed over specific problems, such as a business setback or an illness.

Typically, however, they are less likely to experience the vague, generalized, almost indefinable feeling of discouragement that some women encounter on a regular basis. Even a cloudy day may be enough to bring on a physical and emotional slowdown, known as the blahs, for those who are particularly vulnerable to depression. That kind of emotional fluctuation is more common in women.

West Texas A&M announces BIT playbill, fund-raiser, workshop ...

Branding Iron Theatre playbill offers variety

CANYON — Everything from fantasy to dark comedy is included in the Branding Iron Theatre's 2001-2002 playbill, "Play On," at West Texas A&M University.

This year's playbill features four different plays selected with both the theatre students and the audience in mind.

"We try to keep our audiences in mind and strike a balance between what people want to see and how to best educate our students," Perry Crafton, assistant professor of theatre, said. "Selecting the shows is a challenge because of the number of students involved. It's difficult to find four shows to represent all the talent we have."

The BIT kicks off its season Oct. 4-13 with One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. This grim, dark comedy looks at the lives and events of patients and workers in a mental institution. One new patient attempts to change the peace and routine of the ward when he begins to challenge the rigid Nurse Ratched. The 16-member cast has been selected and rehearsals are underway.

Performances for One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Oct. 4-6 and Oct. 10-13. A Sunday matinee is set for 3 p.m. Oct. 7.

The four-show schedule is a demanding pace for WTAMU students and requires hours of rehearsal and production time throughout the season. Students involved include those classified as freshmen through seniors with a variety of majors mixed in.

"They've selected us to train them so we like to put them to work," Crafton said.

In November, the BIT will present The Trojan Women. This is the classic story about the women of Troy as they are about to be auctioned off to Greek kings. The play will run Nov. 14-18.

The BIT will start its second semester with a spring musical. She Loves Me will run Feb. 13-17. This musical has all the ingredients for love with friendships, romance and secrets. Musical numbers include "Good Morning, Good Day," "No More Candy" and "Will He Like Me."

BIT will close out its season with Prelude to a Kiss April 24-28. This fantasy is a love story that involves souls swapping bodies with sometimes humorous, but eye-opening consequences.

Season tickets for this year's productions are available for $24 per person. Season ticket holders receive reminders about upcoming shows, and subscribers' names will appear on a special section of programs as members and supporters of the arts and theatre at WTAMU. General admission is $10 for each show and $7 for senior citizens and children under 12. Admission for WTAMU faculty, staff and students is free with an ID card.

For more information about BIT's upcoming season, call (806) 651-2799.

The drawing is scheduled for 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 2 at the JBK. Ticket-holders need not be present to win.

Participating fraternities are Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Alpha Order, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Nu. Participating sororities are Chi Omega, Delta Zeta and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Student organizers at WTAMU hope to raise at least $5,000 and have issued a challenge to their counterparts at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

WTAMU Division of Nursing, STT to sponsor workshop

CANYON — West Texas A&M University's Division of Nursing and WTAMU's chapter of Sigma Theta Tau (STT) will sponsor a writing workshop from 8:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13 at the Harrington Cancer Center Auditorium in Amarillo.

"The Process and Politics of Writing for Publication" will be presented by Dr. Suzanne Smith, editor of "Nurse Educator" and "The Journal of Nursing Administration."

Cost for STT members is $49, and students may attend for $10. Non-STT members who are not students will be charged $59. Lunch will be provided for all participants.

Smith has been an active workshop presenter for more than eight years, and her work has been published in more than 25 nursing publications.

Her presentations range from "The Web and Copyright: Can the Wild Web Copy (WWW) Be Tamed?" to "Fast, Flexible, Fearless: The Reinvention of Nursing."

Smith received her master's and doctoral degrees from Boston University, and STT International has honored her with "distinguished lecturer" and "writer" titles.

She is also an honorary professor at the University of South Florida College of Nursing.

'A Walk to Remember' in offing in Amarillo

AMARILLO — BSA Women's Center and BSA Hospice is urging area communities to participate in "A Walk to Remember," in honor of October National Pregnancy and Infant Loss Awareness Month, Saturday, Oct. 6 in Amarillo. A Walk to Remember is designed to ensure families receive the support and sensitivity they need and deserve.

Buttons, balloons, remembrance posters and flyers are being provided by Olivia's Angels, BSA Hospice's support auxiliary.

RRC to hold expo

AUSTIN — The Texas Railroad Commission (TRRC) will host its second annual Regulatory Expo and Commissioners' Open House Oct. 24-25 in Austin.

The event is designed to provide participants with a better understanding of TRRC forms and procedures as well as provide an overview of essential information. The expo also offers an opportunity to personally meet and interact with commission staff.

The deadline to pre-register is Oct. 15. A fee of $50 per day will cover individually selected seminars and classes as well as a continental breakfast, refreshments and luncheon with a guest speaker.

Registration will not be accepted after Oct. 15. A late registration fee of $60 per day will be available the day of the expo. For more information or to register, visit www.trrc.state.tx.us/meetings-seminars/ins-educational-seminars/psem.html on the Internet.

Area spelling bee coordinators chosen

Across the area, county spelling bee directors are being named to coordinate the 2002 National Spelling Bee, an educational program sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News and West Texas A&M University. The director for Gray County is Herman Vinson, counselor at Pampa Middle School.

The 2002 regional event to be held on the WTAMU campus will be on April 6 and the deadline for reporting all county champions to Jeane Bartlett, spelling bee editor of the Globe-News, will be March 23.

The national sponsors, the Scripps Howard Newspapers, permit students from public, parochial, charter, private and home schools to participate.

Students normally begin in a classroom competition, school competition and advance to the county level. There must be at least five finalists in a home school elimination. Scripps Howard rules state that a contestant cannot be in a grade higher than the eighth than before Feb. 1, 2002, and a speller cannot be older than 16 by the date of the national finals, May 29, 2002.

The AGN-WTAMU bee offers two levels of competition. The junior bee is for students in grades five and below. The senior bee is for grades eight and below.

Any director has the option of combining the two levels if he/she so chooses. However, each county in the AGN-WTAMU assigned area can have only one representative in the April 6, 2002, regional contest. Each county may select a junior winner in addition to the senior champion, but the elementary grade student will not compete in the area's final spell-down unless he/she wins the county's senior title.

The sponsors will recognize each county junior winner and each county senior winner at a luncheon preceding the regional competition on April 6.

The Amarillo Globe-News will provide an expense-paid trip for two to Washington, D.C., where the 2002 area champion will represent the area sponsors in the National Spelling Bee, beginning May 26.

The top prize at the national level will be $10,000. Most schools and students in the area study from the Scripps Howard booklet, "Paideia," which contains a collection of over 3,500 words grouped in 29 categories at three difficulty levels — beginning, intermediate and advanced. This booklet is available from the Amarillo Globe-News at a price of $1 per copy. To order the booklet, contact Bartlett.

Bee coordinator is Amy Gibbons, instructor, division of education WTAMU, Canyon.

Region 16 ESC to host technology conference at ACC

AMARILLO — Region 16 Education Service Center in Amarillo will host a technology conference, "Education Technology for the 21st Century — 2001," from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., Oct. 9 and 10 at Amarillo Civic Center.

Open to community participation, the fifth annual event will bring K-16 educators and businesses from around the state as well as neighboring Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas.

Opening keynote speakers will include "Three Dead Trolls in a Baggie," a Canadian-based Internet comedy troupe, and John Kuglin from the University of Montana and the executive director of NASA's EOS Education Project.

Spotlight presenter Leslie Fisher of Fisher Technologies, Inc., will lead four sessions on the following topics: "Flash," a web tool; "Photoshop," web graphics; "Creating PDFs with Acrobat"; and "Scanning and Digital Cameras."

Each day numerous break-out sessions will be offered along with two-hour hands-on labs and an Exhibit Hall with over 80 businesses represented. A $40 registration fee, for both days or for one day, includes morning snacks and lunch.

For more information or to register, visit www.esc16.net on-line and select Technology Services then Technology Conference, or call Region 16 ESC at (806) 376-5521, ext. 365.

Minister's musings ...

Lessons From Christ's Miracles

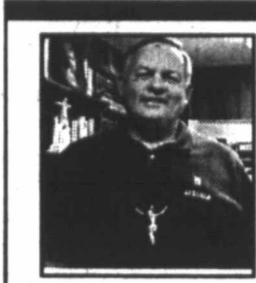

In preparation for a series of sermons on "The Miracles Of Jesus Christ" I worked on a map to mark each of His miracles. I wanted to have a one page record of where He performed all of His miracles.

What I ended up with taught me a very valuable lesson that had nothing to do with Jesus' miracles. I hope the lesson will be valuable to you too.

Depending on which list you use, you come up with between 37-40 miracles specifically described in the gospels. (This total is obviously only a tiny portion of the total number of miracles that Jesus actually performed.)

Now if on a map you mark where each miracle occurred, you end up with a lot of miracles in the northern half, but only 8 in the southern half. Why you ask? And who cares and what difference does it make?

Before we can really grasp the significance of where the miracles took place, we need to also notice one other detail about some of the miracles. Did you know that seven different times Jesus told the person He healed to "tell no man." Why in the world would He want to keep something like that quiet?

By Rev. Mike Sublett

Hi-Land Christian Church

Believe it or not, these two things are very connected and contain a very important lesson. Jesus' ministry lasted about 3-4 years. During that time He was on a timetable, the Father's timetable. He didn't run ahead of God's schedule and He didn't lag behind.

Jesus stopped telling people "tell no man" about 8-9 months before His time to die. As the timetable and schedule of God drew closer to the end, Jesus stopped silencing those He healed. Couple this with the impact that it would have had on Jesus' enemies if he had performed all of His miracles down south around Jerusalem and it becomes clear that He would have been killed long before God's appointed time. He silenced some and performed most of His miracles up north in order to prolong the time and stay on God's schedule.

What is the lesson for us? If the only begotten Son of God focused every day on God's timing and not His own, then what should we do? How concerned should we be about God's timing in our lives.

Maybe when that promotion/transfer comes, God isn't finished with what He has planned for us to do here in Pampa. Which timetable counts most? Maybe when God comes with a new place for us to serve Him, we just bought a new house. Didn't God know that?

Bottom line — STAY ON GOD'S SCHEDULE! LIVE LIFE ON HIS TIMETABLE; NOT OURS!
God bless.

Pacifist churches against military action cope with life in an America under attack

By RICHARD N. OSTLING
AP Religion Writer

America's "peace churches," with some 1 million members, are restating their pacifist beliefs but also struggling with how they and the nation should react to the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks.

Pacifists say they are confronting questions of citizenship that have been dormant for decades. The current conflict is "much more complicated" than previous ones, says a pacifist scholar, Albert N. Keim.

"These people are telling people in a particularly dreadful way. We pacifists know how to behave in war, but we're still learning how to react to terrorism. We're finding it very, very difficult," said Keim, a retired history professor at Eastern Mennonite University in Harrisonburg, Va.

Retha McCutchen, national general secretary of the Friends United Meeting, better known as the Quakers, describes what her fellow believers have been experiencing during the extraordinary days since the attacks: "Grief. Some fear. Anger, of course, and concerns for future loss of life."

Like millions, they look for ways to assist relief efforts and console the suffering, and they worry about discrimination against Arab-Americans.

Unlike millions, they hear a renewed call to oppose war. This week the Quakers urged members to recall the words of their 17th century founder, George Fox: "The Spirit of Christ ... will never move us to fight and war against any man with outward weapons."

Besides Quakers, the pacifist or "peace church" tradition is upheld by Mennonites, Amish and various Brethren groups, among others. All told, there are more than a hundred such denominations in the United States with a following of 1 million people. Though not considered strict pacifists, the 862,000 Seventh-day Adventists are asked never to bear arms, and are allowed to take noncombatant jobs if they join the military.

The religious reasoning of the peace churches is straightforward. "We believe Jesus meant what he said about loving our enemies," explains Bruce Birchard, general secretary of the Philadelphia-based Friends General Conference.

True, there's lots of warring in the Bible, but "we tend to interpret the Old Testament through the eyes of the New Testament, and the New Testament through the words of Jesus," says Ron Byler of Elkhart, Ind., associate executive director of the Mennonite Church USA.

There are individual pacifists in mainstream Christian bodies, and the peace churches are pleased at the dovish pronouncements coming from those quarters.

Top officials from some denominations in the National Council of Churches have joined several prominent Catholics, Jews and Muslims in this plea to the U.S. government: "We must not, out of anger and vengeance, indiscriminately retaliate in ways that bring on even more loss of innocent life."

That's close to what the pacifist churches have been saying. If America now carries out "widespread killing of innocent civilians," asks Birchard, "what distinguishes us from the terrorists?"

"Violent reactions to violence only produce more violence. It's difficult to understand why more people don't see that," Byler laments.

John A. Lapp, retired executive director of the Mennonite Central Committee in Akron, Pa., worries about the international impact of U.S. action. "The United States will be identified as a quote Christian unquote power and that becomes part of the Christian burden in the world everywhere."

Christian pacifists have been a distinct minority element in America's religious mix since colonial times. They've sometimes suffered for their faith. During World War I, men who refused compulsory military service were usually imprisoned and several died from mistreatment while in custody.

In 1935 the Brethren, Friends and Mennonites formed an alliance that eventually convinced the government to adopt a more sympathetic policy.

Thus, during World War II, Christian conscientious objectors were allowed to forsake military service and do conservation work with the Civilian Public Service. Some were "smoke jumpers" who parachuted in to fight forest fires. Later in the war, many helped staff mental hospitals.

When the military draft was reinstated between 1951 and 1973, the Selective Service was even more accommodating, allowing pacifists to fulfill their duty by serving with private humanitarian agencies.

Resumption of the draft would be a pressing matter for all peace churches. But even without it, many Mennonites, Brethren and Amish will confront debates about citizenship they haven't seen since World War II, says sociologist Donald B. Kraybill, author of "Anabaptist World USA" and a Brethren sociologist at Messiah College in Grantham, Pa.

For instance: Is it permissible to fly the flag? To salute the flag? To sing the national anthem or "God Bless America"? Kraybill says such issues had little pertinence during the Korean and Vietnam wars, when national opinion was divided.

But now we have what Lapp calls an outbreak of "extraordinary patriotic piety."

Pacifists love their country, church leaders insist, but singing songs and flying flags can lead toward idolatry.

"Personally, I had a problem with the president speaking from the National Cathedral," because of the symbolic mingling of church and state, says Kraybill. "It's a holy war on the other side and it becomes a holy war on this side, too."

Observers say members of pacifist churches are divided on the fundamental problem of whether, and how, America should respond.

Though nationalism and war fever are soaring, McCutchen sees positive aspects in the public mood. "The people of America have joined together in a spirit of unity and turning toward God and caring about their country and the safety of all peoples that I haven't seen in my lifetime."

Commandments typical in Kentucky's courthouses

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Nearly one-fourth of Kentucky's courthouses have public displays of the Ten Commandments despite a judge's order, The Courier-Journal reported.

The newspaper found the commandments posted in 27 of 120 county courthouses, in some cases for many years.

The American Civil Liberties Union of Kentucky plans lawsuits to remove the commandments or blend them into displays it would consider in line with the U.S. Constitution. In the past two years, two federal judges in Kentucky have ruled in the ACLU's favor three times on the issue.

Kentucky has long been at the center of the Ten Commandments display debate. In 1978, the General Assembly passed a law requiring posting the commandments in schools. Two years later, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that law unconstitutional.

Catholic diocese, Jewish groups sign agreement

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Roman Catholic and Jewish leaders have signed an agreement of cooperation and understanding, believed to be only the second of its kind in the United States.

Representatives of the diocese of Camden, the Jewish Federation of Southern New Jersey, the Jewish Community Relations Council and the Tri-County Board of Rabbis signed the document.

"Only in America can we do what we have just done," Catholic Bishop Nicholas DiMarzio told The Courier-Post of Cherry Hill.

More than a decade in the making, the agreement encourages the groups to work together to fight anti-Semitism, anti-Catholicism, racism and religious intolerance. The groups also vowed to respect each group's traditions and be accurate in teaching.

A similar agreement was signed more than five years ago between the Catholic diocese of Rochester, N.Y., and the Jewish community there.

LIKE THE OTHERS
Much about the life of Charles de Gaulle, former prime minister of France, is quite well known. What is not so widely known, is that Charles and Evonne de Gaulle were the parents of a Down's syndrome child. She was a treasure to them, as well as, a very special concern. Regardless of the affairs of state, De Gaulle arranged his life so that he and his wife would have some time almost every day with their infant daughter.

When they would put her to bed and the child had fallen asleep, Evonne would often ask, "Oh, Charles, why couldn't she have been like the others?" As had been predicted by the attending physicians, de Gaulle's daughter died in her youth. There was a private graveside Mass, and when the priest had pronounced the benediction, all present began to leave the graveside ... all except the mother.

In her grief, she could not pull herself away. Charles went back to her, gently touched her on the arm, and said, "Come Evonne. Did you not hear the blessing of the priest? She is now like the others." That's a touching, beautiful insight. Yes, people hurt and need help in our world today. Many will go to bed tonight hungry. There are parents who tonight will stand by the bedside of their deformed little child and question why or how such a thing could possibly be. Some, and you might be one of them, will ask why their child must go through life with a body that is crippled.

Yes, there is pain and many unanswered questions. There are people who are homeless. Others are deprived of any semblance of human dignity because of some circumstance beyond their control. Many may be so lonely that it can almost be felt like a presence in their rooms.

One of the promises of the gospel of Jesus Christ is that an age is coming when the problems and limitations of this life, things that hold us back, will no longer govern our existence. A time is coming when all who are members of the kingdom of God will be set free from this life's bondage. There is promise of power and freedom and wonderful restorations, and no more losses. It's a day of promise.

The songwriter summed it up when he wrote: "It will be worth it all/when we see Jesus. Life's trials will seem so small/when we see Him."

Olympics officials cancel Dead Sea Scrolls display

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Worries about the cost of transportation and securing the safety of the Dead Sea Scrolls have prompted Olympic organizers to cancel a display of the ancient religious artifacts.

Brigham Young University and the Salt Lake Organizing Committee had hoped to bring some of the scrolls to the Winter Olympics.

The scrolls, which date from about 200 B.C. to 50 A.D., were found beginning in 1947 and contain biblical texts and other Jewish writings.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the church-run university sponsored a Dead Sea Scrolls exhibit at Chicago's Field Museum last spring, and negotiations had been under way for an exhibit at the 2002 Winter Olympics.

Oklahoma City congregation quits the SBC

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma City's First Baptist Church ended its 87-year affiliation with the Southern Baptist Convention.

Pastor Jeff Zurheide said the congregation, one of the first in the state to ordain women deacons, was dissatisfied by denominational pronouncements, including restricting the office of pastor to men only and requiring wives to "submit graciously" to their husbands.

The city's oldest Baptist congregation, founded in 1889, remains a member of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma.

CROSS COUNTRY

PAMPA — Pampa High's cross country teams will be competing in a collegiate atmosphere this weekend.

The Pampa teams travel to Oklahoma State University in Stillwater, Okla. to enter the 65th annual Cowboy Jamboree. The Lady Harvesters placed fourth in last year's meet.

The meet will have major college, junior college and high school divisions.

Last weekend the Pampa team members ran at Thompson Park in the Amarillo Cross Country Invitational, which had both varsity and junior varsity divisions.

In the junior varsity division, which consisted of 170 runners, Beth Platt placed 72nd, Lindsey Narron 86th, and Meredith Fleming finished out the JV squad.

The varsity division had Class 4A-5A schools combined. Pampa had five runners competing in the girls' division with Rebecca Fatheree taking third with a time of 17:49. Andrea Holmes placed 21st, while Kori Dunn was 52nd, Jerica Timmons 58th and Randa Morris 65th.

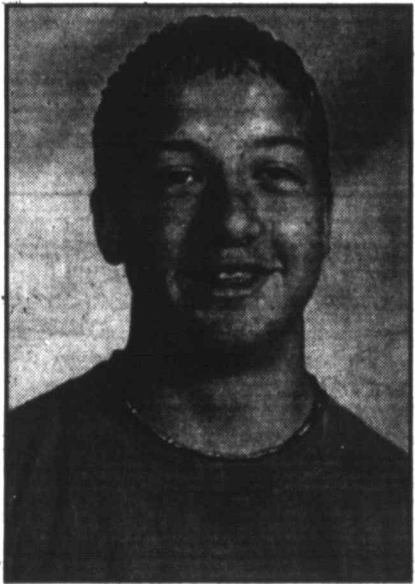

The Lady Harvesters were fifth in the overall district standings while Canyon finished first.

For the boys, Chad Platt and Dylan Whitten completed their 3-mile course with times of 19:24 and 22:59, respectively.

BASEBALL

CHICAGO (AP) — Sammy Sosa carried a small American flag as he rounded the bases following his 59th home run but he wasn't enough to carry the fading Chicago Cubs, who lost to the Houston Astros 6-5 Thursday night.

After Sosa homered to right in the first, he stopped after crossing the first base bag and took a flag from first base coach Billy Williams. Sosa waved the flag as he circled the bases, after he crossed the plate and again after coming out of the dugout for a curtain call.

Jacob Potter has been named player of the week by the Pampa coaching staff after his performance last week against Canyon in a 9th grade football game. Pampa won 31-24.

Harvesters get physical in off-week workouts

PAMPA — The Pampa Harvesters didn't have any restful moments during their open date. In fact, their workouts have been just the exact opposite the past two weeks.

"We tried a different approach this year. We had more contact and were just more physical than we've been in past years," said PHS head coach Dennis Cavalier. "There's more of a risk when you're out there banging yourselves up, but I've been pleased with our workouts."

However, Pampa's coaching staff are having to deal with a rash of injuries — not all resulting from football practice.

Defensive tackle Adam Parks and Terrell Jennings, plus backup lineman Michael McCormick, were hurt in incidents away from the football field. All three are expected to suit up Saturday when Pampa meets Palo Duro in the District 3-4A opener. McCormick was shaken up in a car wreck. Parks has sore muscles and some bruises after competing in the bullriding at a recent Tri-State High School Rodeo.

Jennings is the only who may not play. He dropped some weights on his foot in the workout room and sustained a broken little toe.

Linebacker Chris Lewis and backup defensive tackle John Knipp both suffered ankle injuries during an intrasquad scrimmage. Free safety Tristan Brown has a slight concussion and could see limited action. Andrew Curtis will start if Brown is unable to play.

Reserve linebacker Zach Cobb had a death in his family and may miss the game.

Pampa, which had an open date Sept. 21, faces an experienced Palo Duro squad at 1 p.m. Saturday in

PHS defenders Jake Bolin (50) and Curtis Pritchett (19) are on the attack against a Lubbock Estacado running back. Pampa kicks off the District 3-4A season at 1 p.m. Saturday against Palo Duro in Amarillo's Dick Bivins Stadium.

Dick Bivins Stadium. Pampa finished the non-district season with a 1-2 record while Palo Duro was 3-0.

"Generally speaking, Palo Duro has the same team they had last year. They're just a year older," Cavalier said.

Pampa's defense will be looking to stop the speedy Posey brothers, Dominic at fullback, and Terrance at tailback. They combined for over 1,500 rushing yards a year ago, and are on pace to reach that mark again.

Palo Duro's offensive line has a pair of major college prospects in C.J. Budd, who stands 6-8 and weighs 330 pounds, and 6-1, 260-pound Brian Wesley.

Defensively, cornerback Devon Hollings (160-pound senior) may be the best athlete on the team. A first-team, all-district performer a year ago, Hollings tested out as the number one player during a high school evaluation camp held in Canyon last summer.

"When a Steve Parr-coached team is good, they've always got an outstanding free safety," Cavalier said. "Johnson can really play that position."

Parr is in his third season as Palo Duro's head coach. He formerly coached at Plainview.

A familiar name to Pampans will be on the defensive line for the Dons. Tackle T.J. Nickelberry played middle school football in Pampa before moving to Amarillo.

Tiger League Raiders even record at 1-1

PAMPA — After a tough 10-6 loss at the hands of the Cowboys the week before, the Line-X Raiders got back on the winning track by blanking the Rent-A-Center Dolphins 30-0 last week.

The Raiders racked up 280 yards rushing on offense while their stingy defense pushed the Dolphins back for a minus 16 yards.

Nick Burklow was the workhorse on offense by rushing 11 times for 60 yards and two touchdowns. Ryan Malone rushed 9 times for 58 yards, 1 touchdown and 2 extra points. Hayden Skinner ran 1 time for 68 yards and a touchdown, while Heath Skinner rushed 2 times for 30 yards.

Quarterback Casey Trimble ran 3 times for 65 yards in the first quarter before leaving the game with an injured foot. John Luke Covalt ran for the other extra point.

Dakota Gilleland, Cody Wood, Kevin Kirkham and Daniel Kirkland had outstanding defensive efforts for the Line-X Raiders.

The Dolphins had good efforts on both offense and defense by Dane Howard, Dakota Gowin and Chase Wheat.

The Pampa Optimist Tiger League teams will be playing this Saturday at the middle school with starting times of 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. One third and fourth grade game will be played in Lefors, starting at 1 p.m.

Woman's Duty As Supervisor Conflicts With Role As Friend

DEAR ABBY: I am a female supervisor of a staff of 30. My friend "Diane," who is also the office manager, is my problem. She constantly entertains personal calls and is very loud. She's a smart lady, but her work isn't up to par. (She knows her job, but does it "at her convenience.") Diane is also very bitter because she hasn't received a promotion. She had been told many times by the head of the department and by me to curtail her personal calls and to be more careful with her work.

Recently I was forced to take a lengthy medical leave. Diane was wonderful, calling and coming to visit. But I have recently returned to work, and my boss has asked me to talk to her again about the antics I mentioned. I'm afraid if I do so, I'll damage our friendship. Please tell me how to diplomatically approach her.

BETWEEN A ROCK AND A HARD PLACE, BRONX, N.Y.

DEAR BETWEEN: As a supervisor, your first responsibility must be to handle the problems with the staff you supervise. While you are on duty, that responsibility must take priority over personal friendships, which are after-hours relationships.

Explain to your co-worker/friend that while you don't want to jeopardize the friendship, counseling your staff is part of your job. Tell Diane that you are calling her unacceptable practices to her attention so that she can meet company standards necessary for her to be successful. If you are tactful, she should be able to distinguish between your work relationship and your personal one.

DEAR ABBY: With the end of summer comes the time of year I dread the most — the holiday season.

It isn't the holidays that get me down, it's the prospect of visiting my husband's family with our new baby girl. They are all lifelong smokers who think nothing of holding a baby and a lighted cigarette at the same time.

My sister-in-law's kids have allergies and asthma, but she smokes around them anyway. Parties at my in-laws' are literally a cloud of smoke. When my husband's family are guests in our smoke-free home, they smoke outside. These folks think that as long as the baby is away from the smoke, it won't affect her. They don't realize the smell lingers on them — whether they're smoking in or outside.

With the colder weather approaching, all our visits will be indoors. Our daughter's pediatrician says no one is to smoke around her. My husband refuses to say anything to his parents about the smoke and insists we take our baby to their house. What can I do? Our daughter is only 6 months old, and exposing her to all that smoke scares me.

I should add that I get along well with my in-laws except for this one issue. Please tell me how to handle this.

SMOKELESS BUT OUTFNUMBERED IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR SMOKELESS: Schedule a session with your baby's pediatrician and take your husband. He needs to be told by a professional that a smoke-free environment for your infant is "doctor's orders." Once he understands the importance of a smoke-free environment for the baby's health, the two of you can restrict the family visits at his parents' house and do it with a clear conscience.

Dear Abby is written by Pauline Phillips and daughter Jeanne Phillips.

BY JACQUELINE BIGAR
 The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have:
 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult
ARIES (March 21-April 19)
  Remember when you were a kid and used to hide in the attic? You had a great time with friends or alone. Schedule a special Sunday like this, but on a grown-up level. Conversations could be a bit heavy right now. Say as little as you need to. Tonight: Play ostrich!
This week: The full moon in your sign on Tuesday throws the spotlight on you. Use your discretion if you're feeling tested. You can't take words back.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
  Friends surround you, yet you could be uptight about your finances or a partnership. Recognize how important these areas remain to you, and take action accordingly. Don't worry about a negative discussion as you take a leap of faith. Tonight: Where the gang is.
This week: If you're smart, duck until Thursday. Fireworks surround you. Choose a confidante with care.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
  Pressure builds, as you might be more negative than you realize. Friends could be controlling and could actually pull away. Make this OK, and profit from the extra time. Get together with a parent or older relative. Tonight: Get a head start on your work.
This week: You know what you want. Head in right now and make what you want happen. The full moon gives you that extra push. Check out the financial implications.
CANCER (June 21-July 22)
  Emotionally distance yourself from an already difficult situation. You also could be more tired than you realize. Don't get bogged down. Rather, use your mental facilities. Read a book. Listen to music. Have a discussion. Make calls. Tonight: Veg out at a movie.
This week: Stay on top of work, even if others tug at you. Certainly, one person will try to get your attention. On Thursday, zoom in on what you want.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

 Deal with others directly. You might feel dragged down because of a disappointment or a problem within a key friendship. Your instincts work for you. Consider hiding away with a loved one. You delight in each other's company. Bond on a new level. Tonight: Be a duo.
This week: Travel plans change. Information proves to be faulty. You're on overload. Don't rush around trying to get everything done at once.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
  You might disappoint someone or change plans when you get yet another invitation. If you're considering spending the day working, know that it is not where you need to be. Open your arms and greet the good times. Make an effort toward a newcomer. Tonight: Forget tomorrow.
This week: Money matters come under scrutiny. Don't push yourself into a defensive position. Use care with others who might also be touchy. Thursday, take an overview.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
  If plans change or you just don't feel like getting together with someone, use the excuse of work. Take some downtime close to home or get into a pastime. It also won't hurt to get into work or a project. Still, get some exercise. Tonight: Early to bed.
This week: Others challenge you. Don't worry. You have the wherewithal to handle the pressure. Thursday, indulge in a tête-à-tête.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
  With your mind and creativity, you entertain others and yourself. What seems right and is spontaneous points you in new directions. Laugh through a problem, especially if it involves an overly sensitive friend or loved one. Tonight: Express the sensual romantic in you.
This week: You discover early that your hands are full. Explain your reasoning in a way that others can hear. Even if they don't agree, they will remember your words.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
  Someone could be difficult and unwilling. You, as a result, cocoon and avoid this person. Plan on a calm day at home with perhaps a few trusted and good friends around you. Get into Scrabble or another board game. Relax. Put up your feet. Tonight: Dinner at home.

This week: Allow your creative juices to flow. Others respond to your ideas. Where problems besigue many, you find answers. Thursday, show your willingness to be part of the team.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
  Conversations add to the lively quality of the moment. Get together with friends for a late lunch. Perhaps take in a movie later. Be flexible. You could feel tired at the last minute. Also work with others, especially a co-worker who seeks you out. Tonight: Choose a restaurant close to you.
This week: Your anger surfaces when dealing with those in charge and those involved with your security. Refuse to say anything you will regret. Rethink everything from Thursday on.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
  Keep to your budget despite a child or loved one who disagrees with you and lets you know it. Avoid all unnecessary risks. Dealing with someone could be emotionally exhausting. Suggest doing something together. A walk or drive helps both of you relax. Tonight: How 'bout Chinese food or pizza?
This week: You might muzzle your phone and avoid your mailbox. Too much happens way too quickly. Get into the fast pace and you'll gain. You can handle this. You're great at this.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
  Your personality helps others approach you. You opt to camouflage strong feelings involving a family member. A relationship becomes a lot closer because you are willing to express yourself and be vulnerable. Tonight: Whatever makes you smile.
This week: Money problems could be lurking for those who aren't careful. Even those who are prudent need to practice the word no.

Fire Prevention Week longtime tradition

The history of Fire Prevention Week has its roots in the Great Chicago Fire, which began on Oct. 8, 1871, but lasted 27 hours and incurred the most damage the following day. As a result, Oct. 9, 1871, is the date most often connected with the tragic conflagration. In the end, the Great Chicago Fire killed more than 250 people, left 100,000 homeless, destroyed more than 17,400 structures and burned more than 2,000 acres. While the origin of the fire has never been determined, there has been much speculation over how it began. One popular legend was that Mrs. Catherine O'Leary was milking her cow when the animal kicked over a lamp, setting the O'Leary's barn on fire and starting the spectacular blaze. However, this was disproven a few years ago by Chicago historian Robert Cromie. On the Great Chicago Fire's 40th anniversary, the former Fire Marshals Association of North America (now the International Fire Marshals Association or IFMA) sponsored the first National Fire Prevention Day, advocating an annual observance as a way to keep the public informed about the importance of fire prevention. In 1920, President Woodrow Wilson issued the first National Fire Prevention Day proclamation, and since 1922, National Fire Prevention Week has been observed on the Sunday-through-Saturday period in which Oct. 9 falls. In addition, the President of the United States has signed a proclamation pronouncing a national observance during that week every year since 1925. Dedicated to raising public awareness about the dangers of fire and how to prevent it, NFPA has officially sponsored Fire Prevention Week since the observance was first established. Fire Prevention Week 2001 is Oct. 7-13. This year's theme, "Cover the Bases and Strike Out Fire" teaches people how to inspect their homes for fire hazards, so that they can prevent three of the leading causes of home fires — cooking, heating and electrical. It also encourages the public to develop and practice a home fire escape plan, which includes testing and maintenance of smoke alarms. "Cover the Bases and Strike Out Fire" cleverly communicates these safety messages through the language of baseball, making Fire Prevention Week 2001 fun and easy for everybody to follow.
