LINDBERGH TOWED INTO QUIET SPOT

Perilous Night Aboard Craft in Ketoi Currents Described by Colonel; Fog Still Heavy.

ENGINE FAULTY

Japanese Mechanics Ordered to Assist Fliers; Dinner in Their Honor Announced by Wakatsuki.

NEMURO, Japan, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Lindbergh monoplane progressed a short distance toward Nemuro today—at the end of a tow rope.

After having been stranded since early Wednesday because of fog and motor trouble off Ketoi island, the "black hole" of the Kurile Archipelago, Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were forced to accept the aid of the government steamship, Shimushu Maru, in getting their helpless plane to an anchorage safer than the wild little island 410 miles northeast of here.

They reported by wireless today they were being towed to Muroto Bay, Shimushu island, 15 miles southwest of Ketoi. A later message announced the arrival. Colonel Lindbergh said he would spend two or three hours working on the motor and then test it.

His Worst Night. Incidentally the colonel, who never has said much about the perils of his (solo) flight—New York to Paris in May, 1927—disclosed that his first night aloft in his plane in the treacherous currents off Ketoi was "the worst I have ever experienced."

Mrs. Lindbergh shared that experience with him. They remained throughout last Wednesday night in the cramped quarters of the plane, a few hundred feet from the rocky shores which doubtless would have ground their plane to pieces had it got within reach.

They had been forced down by fog as they flew toward Nemuro on their way to last hop from the United States to Tokyo, the first major city they hoped to visit in their vacation flight to the Orient.

At Colonel Lindbergh's request, the department of communications announced that Japanese mechanics were to start from Tokyo tonight to aid in repairs to the big monoplane at Muroto Bay. However, the flier's message appeared to indicate the motor trouble was not of a serious nature. Why he would ask the aid of Japanese mechanics was not clear here.

Fog Still Thick. That motor trouble was not the only reason for the Lindberghs' acceptance of the Shimushu Maru's aid, however, was generally acknowledged here. Heavy fogs continued to enshroud the central Kuriles and the seas were roughening.

TOKYO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Invitations were today issued by Premier Kakaizumi to a dinner in honor of Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh and her famous husband, to be given after their arrival in Tokyo.

The dinner will be private. Kakaizumi made the acquaintance of Dwight Morrow, now senator from New Jersey, when the latter served as a member of the American delegation to the London naval conference last year; Wakatsuki headed the Japanese delegation.

Men and Women In Airplane Race Starting Sunday

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 21. (AP)—A starting signal, flashed by wireless from the airport here Sunday, will start 18 women and 37 men from Santa Monica, Calif., on the 2,400-mile transcontinental sweepstakes air derby to Cleveland.

The race marks the first time men and women pilots have completed jointly in a major transcontinental air duel in the United States.

Twenty-five thousand dollars in prize money awaits the winners arriving here Aug. 30, the second day of the national air races. The eight day flight will carry the pilots over eight states.

The derby is a handicap event in which contestants stand equal chances despite wide variations in speed of their planes.

The first overnight stop is scheduled at Calexico, Calif. From there the route is:

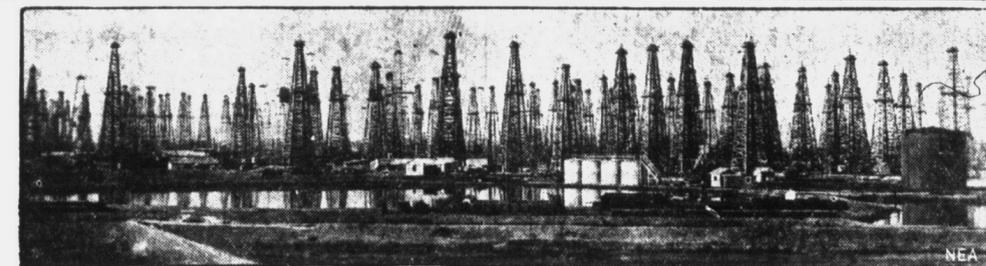

Phoenix, Ariz., Tucson, Ariz., (overnight), Douglas, Ariz., El Paso, Tex., (overnight), Enid, Okla., Bartlesville, Okla., (overnight), Jefferson City, Mo., East St. Louis, Ill., (overnight), Terre Haute, Ind., Dayton, O., (overnight), Akron, O., and Cleveland airport.

One Arrest After Local Burglary

A man is being held in the county jail in connection with the burglary of the Quick Lunch cafe, 300 S. Cuyler, last night. Officers of the sheriff's department are investigating.

The sum of $1235 in money was taken from a secret hiding place. The sum on the rear door near the latch was cut several inches.

Special Election to Decide McLean Mayor's Race

The contested mayoralty election was settled in county court today when the litigants, D. N. Massey, and the present mayor, Jot Montgomery, agreed to hold a special election in the near future to decide the issue.

Testimony of a dozen witnesses was heard yesterday afternoon and this morning. The plaintiff, Mr. Massey, and the defendant, Mr. Montgomery, agreed to pay half of the court costs each.

Mr. Massey alleged that a number of the 137 votes received by Mr. Montgomery were illegal. The plaintiff polled 155 votes in the election.

Clerk Calhoun represented Mr. Montgomery, and A. A. Ledbetter, Mr. Massey.

Farm Board to Trade Wheat for Brazilian Coffee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—An agreement was signed today between the Brazilian government and the Federal Grain Stabilization corporation for the exchange of 1,950,000 bags of coffee for 25,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat.

The agreement, the culmination of negotiations which have been conducted quietly here and in Brazil, was signed at the Brazilian embassy by Ambassador de Lima for his government and George Milnor, head of the wheat stabilization agency.

In addition to the coffee involved in the actual exchange, it was understood an additional quantity of coffee would be used in paying a New York concern for grading and grainery services. It was understood the coffee would be released to consumption channels in monthly allotments, but not until after a year has elapsed.

Details of the agreement were to be made public by the farm board later in the day.

FARM YOUTH SHOTS TWO BOYS NEAR MELON PATCH

STOCKTON, Kas., Aug. 21. (AP)—Two youths were dead, a third slightly wounded and Arthur Merriwether, farmer's son, was charged with murder today as the result of a watermelon patch shooting near here.

The dead: William Francis, 17, and Jack Screen, 16. Leland McCall, 19, was wounded in the leg.

Merriwether, son of J. C. Merriwether, admitted firing on the three youths as they approached the watermelon patch near the Merriwether farm last night. Merriwether used a shotgun. The victims were not armed.

McCall said the trio was fired on without warning. He admitted he and his companions were headed for the watermelon patch which Merriwether was guarding.

Merriwether told officers he fired three shots.

New Laws Are to Take Effect Next Midnight

CIGARET TAX DRIVES MANY INTO STORES

Gas Levy, Truck Regulation and State-County Budget System Are Included in List of Measures.

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—Texans will wake tomorrow morning with a set of new laws hanging over their heads.

Approximately 200 laws passed at the regular session of the 42nd legislature will become effective at midnight tonight, 90 days after the adjournment of the law making body.

Citizens will be only vaguely aware of many laws that will be a part of the statutes. But the average citizen will or is likely to be affected by a considerable number of the new laws.

Perhaps the law that will be the most keenly felt by the largest number of persons is the one levying the tax of three cents per package on cigarettes. This tax alone is expected to raise between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 for the benefit of the general revenue and school funds.

Other new tax laws include the peddler's tax, levying a tax on the itinerant peddler of farm and other products; the natural gas tax, levying a tax of two per cent on the value of the gas; increasing the sulphur tax to 7 1/2 cents per ton; a cement tax of one and one-fourth cents per 100 pounds; and an occupation tax on dealers in pistols.

One-fourth of these taxes also will be placed in the school fund. Among the bitterly contested laws that will become effective is one placing all trucks operated for hire under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

Enforcement of a companion law has been temporarily enjoined in the federal court. The enjoined law places limitations on the weight, width, length, and height of trucks. The load is limited to 7,000 pounds.

Among other laws that will become effective at midnight tonight are: Authorizing judges to suspend for two years the driving rights of persons convicted of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Permitting assessment of suspended sentences on liquor law violators over 25 years old. Giving incorporated cities and towns the right of local option on

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21. (AP)—Attorneys expected either a hung jury or a verdict of guilty today in the trial of David H. Clark, former deputy district attorney charged with murder.

As the hours dragged by without any word from the jury room, Clark's counsel said a hung jury was likely. Special State Prosecutor W. J. Ford took the view the prolonged deliberation presaged a guilty verdict. The jury took the case at 3:13 p. m. yesterday.

Clark admitted the slaying of Herbert F. Spencer, editor of a political magazine, and Charles H. Crawford, politician, but testified he shot both last May 20 in self-defense.

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—Capt. J. P. Lucey, a leader of the East Texas oil curtailment fight, said today he would recommend that the railroad commission, in its meeting Aug. 25, designate the allowable production of the East Texas field at 300,000 barrels daily.

Such an allowance would be equal to about 150 barrels daily for each well in the field and would insure $1 a barrel posted prices, he said.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—Governor Murray expressed belief today that major oil companies would agree by Monday to pay $1 a barrel.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Opposing counsel in the extradition case of John Factor, wanted in England on charges of a stock swindle conspiracy, found themselves ranged side by side in U. S. Com. Edwin K. Walker's court yesterday as attorneys for a 17-year-old orphan charged with transporting a stolen automobile from Texas.

The youth, whose name was given as Wayne Rogers Sweetwater, Texas, wanted to waive his removal hearing. Walker, however, insisted he have the benefit of counsel. Attorneys G. Gale Gilbert for Factor and Franklin R. Overmeyer for the British crown asked leniency for the youth who rented a car and came to Chicago looking for work, intending, they said, to pay for the car as soon as he obtained the money.

The case was continued until Aug. 25. The lad was released on his own recognizance.

GRAY COUNTY TOP PLACED AT 58 CENTS

Flat Rate of 30 Cents Raised and Differential Basis Adopted; 46 Cents Below Gravity of 35.

TEXAS CO. MOVE Oklahoma Gets 70-Cent Top as Governor Murray Is Waiting for Dollar He Still Predicts.

HOUSTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Texas company Friday announced advances in crude oil prices, covering Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico fields, ranging from 11 to 30 cents a barrel. The new postings are effective Saturday.

North Louisiana, North Texas, North Central and Central Texas crudes were advanced from 11 to 30 cents a barrel. Below 29 gravity, with a 2-cent higher differential for each degree of gravity up to and including 40 gravity, topped at 70 cents. Thirty-six gravity and above was formerly posted at 40 cents.

Gray county crude, formerly posted below 35 gravity, 46 cents, with a two-cent higher differential for each degree of gravity up to and including 40 gravity and above, topped at 58 cents.

Hutchinson up to 53 cents a barrel. Carson and Hutchinson crudes, formerly posted at a flat rate of 37 cents a barrel, now carry a price of 41 cents for below 35 gravity, with a two-cent higher differential for each degree of gravity up to and including 40 and above, topped at 53 cents.

Gulf Coast crudes were advanced 15 cents a barrel. Below 25 gravity, formerly posted at 35 cents, with an added one-cent differential for each degree of gravity up to and including 40 and above, topped at 71 cents.

Winkler, Crane, Upton counties, (Texas and Lea county (N. M.)) crudes, formerly posted at a flat rate of 25 cents a barrel were advanced to a flat rate of 35 cents, up 10 cents. Darst Creek crude was hiked 15 cents to 37 cents, as were Markham, Texas, and Smackover, Arkansas, crudes.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 21. (AP)—The first major increase in the price of midcontinent crude oil since the Oklahoma and Texas shutouts were made effective came today when the Texas company posted a top price of 70 cents a barrel for high gravity Oklahoma oil.

The company's new schedule ranges downward to 46 cents a barrel for oil of 29 gravity and below. It represents an increase of 30 cents a barrel for high gravity oil. The company's former prices were 35 cents for oil below 36 gravity and 40 cents for oil of 36 gravity and above.

The new prices, effective at 7 a. m. tomorrow, apply to Oklahoma only.

The company made no comment in announcing the higher prices. The new schedule:

Gravity	Price

Missing Girl Is Seen at Clovis On Last Friday

CLOVIS, N. M., Aug. 21. (AP)—Officers worked today on the theory that Margaret Locks, 15-year-old Plainview, Tex., girl, was kidnaped by Santa Fe railroad ticket agents, after a check, said they were certain the girl alighted from a west-bound train at Fort Sumner Friday night.

A Mrs. Taft living near Clovis told officers yesterday a girl fitting Margaret Locks' description came to Clovis from Plainview Friday afternoon. The woman said the girl gave her name as Margaret Stovall.

She said the girl told her that her father had served as jailer at Plainview for a number of years. J. H. Locks, the missing girl's father, formerly was county jailer at Plainview.

Speed Ships In City Last Night

While en route to Los Angeles for the airplane races, two speed ships, a Sesna from Wichita and a Monococh from Enid, stopped here last night.

R. W. Dutchy Bartgis is overhauling his Ryan B-7's Waco motor and installing rings. It will be ready to take the air again by Saturday. Mr. Bartgis will fly the ship from Los Angeles to Cleveland in the handicap if he can get a load.

The race will start Aug. 29 at Los Angeles. Fast ship rates will be held at Cleveland the following week.

Every day this week, Miss Amy Smallwood, Pampa's flying nurse, has gone up in Dr. J. C. McKean's Stearman biplane without a pilot. She made her first solo flight Monday.

This morning she was in the air an hour. She hopes to receive her pilot's license next month. She took her instruction from Mr. Bartgis.

Teacher Is Found Dead At Sulphur

ALTUS, Okla., Aug. 21. (AP)—L. C. Shelton, 37, vocational agricultural instructor in the Olustee school system, was found dead yesterday in shallow water at Turner Falls, near Sulphur.

Shelton, who accompanied a group of Olustee boys on a camping trip to the Falls, was believed to have suffered a stroke and to have collapsed in the water where the campers were swimming.

Bell Community To Have Exhibit

The Bell community will have an exhibition booth at the Gray county fair to be held here Sept. 10-12, citizens of that section decided last night when they met with Geo. W. Briggs, chamber of commerce secretary, County Agent Ralph R. Thomas and Miss Myrtle Miller, home demonstration agent. A representative group of citizens was present.

Every community in the county visited by fair officials this summer has made plans to have a booth exhibition.

Mrs. J. F. James was taken to her home at LeFors from Pampa hospital yesterday.

CREDIT DUE AMERICANS

An article in a recent issue of Liberty Magazine by Jay Franklin, the extremely critical and iconoclastic Washington publicist, calls attention to a factor in the present depression that has got far less attention than it deserves...

Franklin points out something that everyone knows—that the depression is highly painful and a trying experience. Then, reminding us that our highbrow writers have spent the past decade calling the average American a colossal dumbbell, he adds: "You'd expect a bunch of morons like the American people to turn in a riot call, barbecue their politicians and take the bankers for a ride. But they didn't."

With a minor exception or two, the gentleman is right. We have a bad coal strike on our hands these days, and the textile trade has had labor troubles here and there. For the rest, however, his statement holds good.

All in all, it is a remarkably encouraging record. The American workman has had plenty of excuse for falling for various "isms" if he cared to, but he hasn't done it. Instead he has simply said, "Let me have a job again and we'll call it quits."

Fiction is turning to idealism. And just when the kids were getting a working knowledge of racketeering.

Sterling Paroles Gassed Veteran

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Magistrate Michael Ford today fixed $7,500 as bail for Ruth Jayne Cramer, held in connection with the shooting last Friday of State Sen. Roy T. Yates of Paterson, N. J. Cramer for Miss Cramer indicated that bail would be posted.

Sept. 11 was set as the date for Miss Cramer's trial on a charge of felonious assault. The magistrate, who twice before has held the young woman without bail on the grounds he did not know how serious was the condition of the state senator, made his decision after receiving a certificate from Yates' physician, Dr. Carl Burdick. The certificate said that Senator Yates' condition had improved to such an extent that he now can say definitely that he will recover, unless complications set in.

Yates was shot in Miss Cramer's apartment early last Friday as the climax of a drinking party.

Longview Lease Dealer Is Killed In Fistic Battle

LONGVIEW, Aug. 21. (AP)—O. Herbert Bennett, 52, prominent oil lease dealer, died here today from injuries allegedly received Wednesday afternoon in a fist fight with J. Paul Flannery, an oil operator.

Flannery was free today under $5,000 bond on a murder charge in connection with Bennett's death.

The men were allegedly in a dispute over a commission on an oil sale. Bennett had filed suit against Flannery for collection of the account.

Witnesses to the fist fight said Bennett was felled by a blow from Flannery's fist. Flannery weighed 240 pounds. Bennett's chin struck marble stairs and he received a fracture at the base of the skull. He failed to regain consciousness after his injury.

Bennett was known to the oil fraternity as the "Boss of Tullos," a mushroom oil field town in Louisiana which he ruled in its boom days. He was a recognized leader and a member of the town council.

Among those to make the trip tomorrow are Mr. and Mrs. Al Lawson, W. E. de Cordova, and C. C. Alexander.

Mrs. Van W. Stewart of Perryton will be hosted by the eighteenth district, of which Pampa is a member, for state president of the American Legion auxiliary. She has been eighteenth district committeewoman during the last year. Mrs. F. H. Carpenter of Sour Lake is state president of the organization this year.

Of special interest to this section is Amarillo's bid for the 1932 convention. Placards, banners, tags, and literature advertising this bid were taken to El Paso yesterday. Amarillo's Legionnaires will parade Sunday morning at 8.15 o'clock in El Paso, marching behind the 142nd Infantry band. This will be only one of a series of demonstrations to be given by Amarillo's delegation.

Ex-service men throughout the Panhandle are expected to leave Amarillo on a special train Saturday evening at 9.15 o'clock. El Paso is planning to care for more than 9,000 persons during the three days of the convention, Aug. 24, 25, and 26.

In addition to routine business, there will be a bull fight and baseball game in Juarez, dances, banquets, and other entertainments.

O. D. O. BRIDGE CLUB FAVORED IN HOME HERE

A color scheme of green and yellow was used by Mrs. H. B. Martin when she entertained the O. D. O. Bridge club Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. P. J. Landry made high score in the games and Mrs. W. A. York, low.

Watermelon was served at the close of the afternoon to Mesdames Raymond Bos, R. F. Montgomery, L. G. Rittenhouse, J. H. Dehnert, W. A. York, P. J. Landry, George E. Nix, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. L. G. Rittenhouse.

MANY COLLEGE STUDENTS ARE AT DANCE HERE

Banners of many colleges and universities were displayed and students of the schools represented when the Fraternity club of Pampa entertained with a farewell dance Thursday evening from 12 o'clock at the Schneider hotel. Many of the students will be leaving for college again in about two weeks.

Characteristic of college dances, the event was semi-formal, and all dances were "tag." Stafford's Rhythm Kings furnished lively music for the occasion.

T. F. Duncan, Clyde Fatheree, and Clifford Braly II made up the committee in charge of the dance.

Among the many schools represented were Harvard, S. M. U., Texas Technological college, Oklahoma A. & M., Cumberland university, Vanderbilt, and the state universities of Texas, Oklahoma, California, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, and Washington.

There are about fifty members of the Fraternity club. A number of special guests also were invited, however.

VISITOR GIVEN PARTY IN HOME OF MRS. ELLIS

Mrs. N. B. Ellis entertained a few friends with a bridge party Thursday afternoon as a courtesy to her visitor, Mrs. Truitt Butler of Amarillo.

At the close of the games, played in rooms prettily decorated with garden flowers, Mrs. John Glover was favored for high score. Miss Euritha Henry for low, and Mrs. Butler was given a guest prize.

An ice course was served to Mesdames John Glover, R. L. Champion, Tom Morris, Tom Henry, W. F. Sumner, Miss Euritha Henry, the honoree, and the hostess.

Into Her 20's

Nothing less important than her twentieth birthday anniversary could interrupt Elinor Smith in her preparations for a trans-Atlantic flight. Here you see the girl pilot taking time off to cut a birthday cake at her home in New York. She expects to hop off soon on a solo flight to Europe.

MANY OTHERS TO BE GIVEN BY FOLKS HERE

As the week draws to a close, small, informal parties are still being given for the benefit of the Pampa public library. The chain of entertainments is expected to continue throughout the coming week and perhaps even longer.

Calling the event their "poverty" party in order that all money in connection with their party might be given to the library, Mrs. J. Powell Wehrung and Mrs. J. T. Morrow joined in entertaining at the home of Mrs. Morrow's mother, Mr. Olive Williams, 400 N. Somerville, Thursday afternoon. The hostesses made the tables for the occasion, and drinks were furnished by the Coca Cola Bottling company.

Those attending were Mesdames E. L. Anderson, Clyde Oswald, Fred O. Penn, N. B. Cota, Preston Briggs, O. L. Beatty, H. B. Griffith, E. T. Wood, W. S. Kiser, Misses Esther Conley of Lubbock, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. R. L. Champion, Mrs. H. D. Keys, and Mrs. E. M. Conley.

When Mrs. John Glover was hostess Thursday evening, the following women attended: Mrs. A. B. Conley and daughter, Miss Frances Conley of Lubbock, Mrs. Owens, Mrs. R. L. Champion, Mrs. H. D. Keys, and Mrs. E. M. Conley.

Mrs. A. B. Conley Jr. won high score in the games, and at the close of the evening ice cream and cake were served.

In Stowell Home Mrs. C. W. Stowell entertained with one table of bridge for the benefit of the library Thursday afternoon in her home on the Berger road. Her guests were Mrs. Harry Grove, Mrs. Harry Marbaugh, and Mrs. J. B. Austen.

At the close of the games, Mrs. Grove was favored for high score and light refreshments were served.

Two Entertainments Mrs. C. Herbert Walker and Mrs. Clifford Braly joined in entertaining with two tables of bridge Wednesday evening.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the games. Sewing Enjoyed An afternoon of sewing and conversation was enjoyed by Mrs. F. W. Sweatman, Mrs. A. A. Hyde, Mrs. Hugh Isbell, and Mrs. F. Ewing Leech Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Tom Clayton. "Some of us sewed on articles we had not touched for a year," declared Mrs. Clayton.

Orange ice was served to the group.

Mrs. John V. Andrews was still another hostess Thursday. She entertained Mrs. T. D. Hobart, Mrs. Claude Ledrick, Mrs. Dave Pop, Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, and Mrs. J. E. Corson with an afternoon of sewing. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Approximately 100 million acres of former virgin forest and farm land in the United States have come back into public ownership in the last few years as a result of tax delinquencies, poor farm practices and agricultural depression.

Wall Brackets Bring Garden Inside

By MARGERY TAYLOR Interior Decoration Editor, McCall's Magazine. Written for Pampa Daily News

Wall brackets for plants have at last come into their own in design and decorative value—and the very latest have even achieved period style.

They've broken away from the tradition that hanging plants had to be in wire contraptions lined with moss and made them lively possibilities for every room.

The new wrought iron brackets are really designed, not just made. There is, for instance, an urn effect perfect for the Spanish patio—and so, too, would be the holders in a combination of antique rusted iron and tiles.

There are a number of brackets for rooms where Directoire designs would be appropriate.

One with two pot-holders is shaped like a lyre, combined with an arrow, while another shows how delightful a conventional how-and-arrow design can be.

Because of the growing interest in the Colonial interior, some of the latest wall brackets are designed to be at home there. The admirable combination of colored glass containers in iron supports features them.

Charming also is a witch bowl in green, amber, amethyst—or blue, filled with drooping ivy—or a banjo bottle in green bubble glass.

There is variety in the new brackets—from the one-plant holder to brackets which are really trees, supporting ten or 12 plants. And for windows there are low standing racks.

Beginning in the hallway, the visitor may be welcomed by green plants on each side of the mirror. In the living room they make a striking scheme over the fireplace. If you are tired of the conventional vase and clock effects.

In the dining room they can give the same fresh effect as flowers—two or three brackets between double windows, and the trick is done.

And, naturally, the sunroom, terrace and porch are ideal places for the little hanging gardens, or even the elaborate "tree" stands.

From the front door to attic, there seems to be a "just right" bracket for every room. And, if you're a bit grudging, you needn't limit yourself to ivy, of course.

BIG PLANE MOVING SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Aug. 21. (AP)—The seaplane DO-X, which arrived here yesterday afternoon on the way from South America to Miami and New York, took off early this morning for Antilla, Cuba.

Mrs. W. Eatchelder and daughter, Marcia, and Mrs. W. Mateer, all of Canyon, were recent visitors of Mrs. H. P. Larsh and family, 518 N. Faulkner.

H. P. Larsh is visiting in Norman and Oklahoma City.

BRIDGE PARTY IS GIVEN FOR AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY BY PRESIDENT ON THURSDAY

Members of the American Legion auxiliary were favored with a bridge party by their president, Mrs. Al Lawson, following the regular meeting of the organization Thursday evening at the Legion hall. Mrs. C. M. Carlock was favored for high score, and refreshments were served.

During the business meeting it was decided to "adopt" one of the men in the veterans hospital at Fort Stanton, N. M. He will be provided with cigars, reading material, gifts on his birthday, cards, and other things. It was also voted to send sheets to the children's home at Kerrville.

One new member, Mrs. E. O. Smith, was received.

The following attended: Mesdames Carl Taylor, F. L. Dodson, Larry Spicer, O. K. Gaylor, S. A. Eurns, Roy Sewell, Ray Anderson, E. S. Hogsett, J. A. Pearson, C. W. Hester, J. G. Osgood, C. M. Carlock, W. S. Greene, O. E. Smith, Al Lawson, and W. C. de Cordova.

RAIN CHECKS GIVEN OUT IN THREE CITIES

Galveston and Dallas in Mound Duel With Latter Winning.

By The Associated Press. Rain checks proved popular in the Texas league yesterday where all except the Galveston-Dallas contest were rained out.

Thurman of Galveston and George Murray of Dallas, mixed curves in a mound duel with Thurman the winner, 3 to 2, dropping the Steers with four hits.

Murray was even better in this department, stopping the Buccaneers with three hits but had one bad inning, the second, when Galveston batted three runs on a walk, two singles and a double. Dallas scored two runs in the ninth, the result of two errors after two were out. The game was played on a muddy field.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Babe Ruth, Yankees: his 34th homer with bases filled in ninth provided winning margin against Browns, 7-4.

Benny Tate, White Sox: clouted Athletic pitchers for five straight hits including two doubles.

Earl Averill, Pirates: collected two doubles and 27th homer at expense of Senator hurling.

Art Herring, Tigers: stopped Red Sox 7-2, with nine scattered hits.

Ed Brandt, Braves: held Pirates to four hits in first game to win 2-1 in 10 innings.

Pie Traynor, Pirates: his double in seventh drove in two winning runs against Braves in second game.

Babe Herman, Robins: doubled with bases filled in eighth to give Robins 4-1 victory over Cubs.

Carl Hubbell, Giants: allowed nine hits but scattered them to beat Reds, 3-1.

ED BRANDT OF BRAVES IS ONE OF LEADING HURLERS

Turns in Sixteenth Win When Mates Pound Out 2 to 1 Victory Yesterday.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer. Ed Brandt, who has been pitching for the Braves several seasons without threatening the 500 mark in the averages, has made himself one of the best southpaws in the National league.

Brandt turned in his 6th victory of the year yesterday when the Braves downed Pittsburgh, 2 to 1, in the ten-inning first game of a doubleheader. He has lost eight contests, giving him an average of .697. The Boston club held the Bucs to four hits in ten frames. Walked only one man and finally scored the winning run himself.

The Pirates came back strong against Bill Sherdel in the second game and won 5 to 4. Timely hitting behind Carl Hubbell gave New York a 3 to 1 victory over Larry Benton and the Cincinnati Reds, putting the Giants a full game ahead of Chicago and 81-2 behind the league leading St. Louis Cardinals, who were rained out in Philadelphia.

The Cubs could make no headway against Watson Clark and Brooklyn until the ninth inning and by that time Brooklyn had come through with an eighth inning rally against Charley Root that netted them four runs and a 4 to 1 victory. Heavy hitting again played the big part in the American league program and with it came the broken record that has become almost a daily occurrence in the junior circuit.

Earl Averill, Cleveland slugger, crashed his 27th home run of the year as the Indians made it three straight over Washington's second place Senators, 10 to 8. The homer broke the Cleveland record set last year by Eddie Morgan. This defeat, the fourth in succession, left Washington only 31-2 games ahead of New York who used the home run route to a 7-3 victory over St. Louis. Lou Gehrig hit his 33rd of the year, then Joe Sewell hit for the circuit, and finally Babe Ruth crashed out his 34th four-bagger with the bases full in the ninth to provide the winning margin.

Misses Cleo and Mary Helen Snodgrass of Amarillo, and Mrs. E. B. Gardner of Jericho, are at the McFullen ranch, Taos, N. M., on a two-week vacation.

Wichita Falls Man Is Champ Of Electra Now

ELECTRA, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Electra Country club crowned a new golf champion yesterday. Bob Peck of Wichita Falls defeated S. J. Barnett of Eastland, two up, in the 36-hole final match to win the club's second annual invitation tournament. Loss of his tee shot on the 36th hole accounted for Barnett's defeat. He was the medalist.

Cuban Federals Tightening Grip

HAVANA, Aug. 21. (AP)—An outbreak of fighting in Havana in which one man was killed caused the government today to tighten its grip for a showdown with the rebels.

Insurgent leaders said the revolution was hanging in the balance and that the issue would be settled in a few days, while official sources clung to their contention that the movement had been thwarted except for isolated uprisings.

Spasmodic firing between bands of rebel sympathizers and loyal soldiers occurred yesterday. An attempt also was made to burn the house of Sen. Wilfredo Hernandez, close friend of President Machado.

The gunfire was variously credited to members of the "Porra", a group of pardoned prisoners who have been attempting to aid the government, and to police who were forestalling a purported plot by students to seize the Havana police station.

Col. Roberto Mendez Penate, rebel chieftain, was reported to have notified Miguel Mariano Gomez, former mayor, from Santa Clara to carry the battle to the capital, holding that the revolt's success hung by a thread.

A communique from army headquarters said federal troops had defeated a force of 200 rebels near Gibara, scene of bitter and prolonged fighting the first of the week. More than 30 insurgents were said to have been killed, 20 others wounded, many prisoners taken and the remainder dispersed.

MAY INCREASE OUTPUT
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21. (AP)—Members of the Pennsylvania grade crude oil conservation board met here today to decide whether the production schedule of production in the Pennsylvania grade oil fields may be increased.

They said there was an increased demand for Pennsylvania oil products, but they were not certain whether the increase would warrant a rearrangement of the schedule. The Bradford-Allegheny fields are prorated at fifty per cent of capacity and the other fields are reduced 30 per cent.

"VULTURE" IS CAUGHT
BIRMINGHAM, Aug. 21. (AP)—Daisy Simpson, 36, described by the police as "the worst in Birmingham", appeared in police court today for the 102nd time.

The magistrate, sentencing her to six months' at hard labor for picking a truck driver's pocket, called her a "vulture who lurks in the darkness to rob drunken men".

JUDGMENT FOR PLAINTIFF
Judgment for the plaintiff, the Panhandle Lumber company, was returned by a jury in 114th district court yesterday against J. G. Gantz. Judgment was in the amount of $750.

The Lumber company's suit was for an alleged account.

The firm of Cook, Smith, Teed, Sturgeon & Wade represented the lumber company, and Ben Baldwin the defendant.

BACK FROM VACATION
Miss Dorothy Mullen, assistant to Mrs. W. H. Davis at the Welfare Board office, returned yesterday from a 10-day vacation spent at Mountainair, N. M.

Mrs. E. W. Bartgis and her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Pendery, who have been visiting the Bartgis here, left Wednesday for Fort Worth, where Mrs. Bartgis will visit her mother, Mrs. A. J. Calloway, for about two weeks.

DARE ARCTIC AIR TRAIL

Undaunted by the mysterious fate of Parker D. Cramer and Oliver L. Paquette, who were lost on what is considered the earliest leg of the proposed "Trans-American" airmail route to Europe, these two fliers have left Detroit to make the same trip to Copenhagen. They are Edwin L. Preston, left, veteran airmail pilot, and Robert M. Collignon, radio operator and relief pilot.

TO PROTECT CHINESE
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—Pres. Ortiz Rubio today promised Chinese merchants of Mazatlan guarantees for protection of their lives and businesses which they had claimed were menaced by an anti-Chinese campaign in the States of Sinaloa and Sonora.

Reports from Sonora said 150 Chinese business establishments had been closed by state inspectors for alleged violation of the local labor law requiring that 80 per cent of their personnel be Mexicans.

Hoover to Fish and Study Over Jobless Problem

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—In the quiet of his Virginia mountain fishing camp President Hoover will weight and discuss the unemployment problem over the week-end with Walter S. Gifford, newly appointed director of relief activities.

In addition to discussing plans and policies for the new organization, the president, with the advice of Gifford, will select a member of additional names to be added to the list of the advisory committee announced yesterday.

Mr. Hoover reached into all walks of life to pick a group of three score men and women on whom he and Gifford will depend for advice the coming winter. The names of labor leaders and social service workers were alongside those of former public officials and heads of great industries.

The burden of organizing relief, however, will fall heaviest on Gifford. The president has informed him that the whole force of the administration will be at his disposal and has let it be known at the White House the telephone man will have a completely free hand. The advisory committee will be exactly what its name indicates, the White House said. The entire administrative function will rest with Gifford and with Fred C. Croxton, whom the president has chosen as assistant director. Croxton has been acting chairman of the president's emergency committee which will be absorbed by the larger Gifford organization.

No announcement has been made as to how the Gifford group will be financed.

Magnolia Walks Out at Contest

The Magnolias walked off the field at the beginning of the third inning yesterday afternoon and forfeited a game to the Dixon Creek sluggers. The game was broken up when the umpire that their catcher dropped a ball.

When the game came to an end, the Mags had five runs and Dixon Creek had two runs, one out and two on bases. It was not a scheduled game of the Gray-Carson league.

ACCEPTS PRESIDENCY

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—John G. Barry has accepted the presidency of the College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso, officials of the University of Texas have announced. Dr. Barry's acceptance of the position took the school from under supervision of Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the main university. The College of Mines and Metallurgy will open this fall as a four year university.

Another Merger In Oil Rumored

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Dow, Jones & Co. says active negotiations are taking place in California looking to a merger of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey and Standard Oil Co. of California, and that official announcement regarding plans may be forthcoming soon.

"Walter C. Teagle, president of Standard of New Jersey," Dow Jones says, "arrived in California Thursday, it is understood, and will confer with officials of the California company soon. Legal representatives of both companies now are in San Francisco and will be present at the conference."

"C. O. Swain, director and general counsel of Standard of New Jersey, who has been in California for the last few days, would not admit his presence on the coast had any bearing on the merger."

BURNED BY VOLTAGE

RICE, Aug. 21. (AP)—Virgil McDowell, 41-year-old gin employe, suffered severe electrical burns today when he fell and came in contact with a high tension line. His hands caught the wires, but the weight of his body pulled him free. He was treated at a Corsicans hospital.

Priest Conducts One-Man Drive On Racketeers

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—An ecclesiastic fist is making a lot of bad boys good over on the West Side.

It is being swung by the Rev. Matthew Canning, new pastor of the St. Charles Borromeo Catholic church, who earned his way through college by giving boxing lessons. He has been conducting a one man clean-up of the district, it was learned yesterday, visiting speak-easies and other places alone late at night. In a number of instances he has had to demonstrate his pugilistic skill, but he got results. "Getout—and don't come back," Father Canning told the hoodlums of his parish soon after his appointment two months ago, and many of them have obeyed.

HIS ARM WENT DEAD

CHICAGO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Hal McKain, young White Sox righthander, whose pitching arm went dead early in the season, has been sent to his home at Council Bluffs, Ia., for the rest of the season. He will report to the Sox again next spring.

CRIME COSTING THOUSAND MILLIONS, REPORT REVEALS

Wickersham Commission Reveals Statistical Findings in Latest Release.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Wickersham commission places the annual cost of crime in this country at beyond a thousand million dollars.

Its latest report reached no lump-sum estimate but contained a series of staggering statistics which even in their conceded incompleteness showed a tremendous toll taken yearly by criminality.

Prohibition was named by the 657-page document, made public today after resting for at least a week on President Hoover's bookshelf, as a heavy contributor to this high cost.

It was estimated that $34,828,550, or two-thirds of all the government funds appropriated for the administration of federal criminal justice during the year 1929-1930, were expended toward prohibition enforcement alone.

Certified Figures
Studding almost every page of the report were scores of other certified and estimated figures dealing with both the annual direct and indirect cost of crime. Totalled, they reached well above the $1,119,790,000 mark, or more than $3,000,000 a day.

Here are some of the major findings:
Hundreds of investigators, delving into the records of 300 cities of more than 25,000 population, found annual expenditures to combat crime were more than $247,000,000.

Investigation into the activities of the states found expenditures of approximately $1,720,000 annually upon penal and correctional institutions and parole.

The federal government was shown to contribute about $52,786,000 annually to criminal justice, of which prohibition gets 66 per cent, the anti-narcotic and motor vehicle theft laws 10.8 per cent and all other criminal laws but 23.2 per cent.

Many Forgeries
More than $10,000,000 is paid each year in the larger cities for crime protective services; more than $68,000,000 is lost annually through known fraudulent uses of the mails; known forgeries account for another $40,000,000; theft of insured property annually totals more than $47,747,000 while $108,000,000 more is contributed for crime insurance. In addition, indirect costs estimated to run into the hundreds of millions were noted, even where actual figures were unavailable.

Gaidthwaite H. Dorr, and Sidney P. Simpson, of the New York bar, who engineered the study for the commission, asserted, these figures were but fragmentary.

Figures Too Small
It was pointed out that the limitations of time and funds had balked even an estimate upon such huge levies as those extracted by organized bootlegging, extortion, racketeering, thefts of uninsured property, fraudulent bankruptcies, buckshops, and confidence games, ranging from the sale of "gold bricks" to fixing fights and races.

The 11 members of the commission made clear they did not advocate a reduction in the cost of crime through closing the cost of law enforcement agencies. The commission asserted these costs were "of less economic importance than the losses inflicted by the criminal, so that it is much more important from an economic standpoint to increase the efficiency of the administration of criminal justice than to decrease its cost."

Negro Protests He Is Innocent
M'ALISTER, Okla., Aug. 21. (AP)—Protesting his innocence, Benie Nichols, negro, was electrocuted early today for the murder of Jack Horton, Ada Watchman, who was beaten to death in a 30-cent robbery, May 13, 1930.

When Warden Sam Brown asked Nichols if he had anything to say, instead of thanking the Warden for kind treatment while in the prison, the usual custom, Nichols burst into protestations of his innocence.

"Mr. Brown, I am as innocent as you are. It is a dirty shame that I am to die, an innocent boy. That woman I lived with and that man went out and did it and laid it on me."

He did not name the couple he asserted "swore my life away".

At an auction of farm equipment in Virginia the other day a buggy "in good repair" went for 40 cents.

Sterling Devotes Little Time to East Texas Oil

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling was back at the capitol today after a two-day business trip to Houston.

Indications were that he would continue to leave details of the East Texas campaign entirely in the experienced hands of his field commander Gen. Jacob F. Walters. The governor spent most of his time this morning considering other matters. The governor had not intimated when the process of diminishing the approximately 900 militiamen in the oil are would be started.

Approximately $5,000 which would have come to the railroad commission for enforcement of the new oil conservation law will not be received as a result of the shutdown this week. The tax for enforcement purposes is one-tenth of a cent per barrel. The production this week probably would have been around 800,000 barrels a day so the tax would have been approximately $800 a day.

However, the other fields of the state are producing almost 600,000 barrels a day, and that means nearly $600 a day accruing to the commission's enforcement fund.

Miss Geneva Allen of San Angelo is visiting relatives here.

VOTE SUNDAY MOVIES
COMMERCE, Aug. 21. (AP)—At an election yesterday it was decided by a majority of four votes to permit Sunday movies in Commerce. Heretofore it has not been possible to hold them.

Under the provisions of a new legislative measure it is optional with the various city governments to permit or prohibit Sunday shows.

HANGED FOR MURDER
FLORENCE, Ariz., Aug. 21. (AP)—Herman Young of Tucson was hanged at the state prison here today for the murder of John Dye, Tucson, during a holdup. The condemned man walked to the scaffold unaccompanied and refused to make any statement.

TRIAL MOVED FAR
HARLES, E., Aug. 21. (AP)—William M. Burnett, charged with fatally shooting Deputy Sheriff Jesse Face in April, will be tried in Montgomery county in November, 150 miles from the scene of coal field labor disorders. Judge D. C. Jones of Harlan circuit court ordered the transfer after selection of a jury had been begun here.

TWO DIE IN WRECK
ROLLA, Mo., Aug. 21. (AP)—Two men, believed to be Howard Bone and Carl Plummer of Springdale, Ark., were killed and a third was injured critically when a large truck plunged off highway 66 at a bridge at Arlington, near here, at 2 a. m. today. The third man, unconscious here in a hospital, was not identified immediately.

Dr. Wallace Is Praised in Session

The Gray County Medical society in a meeting held this week passed resolutions memorializing the personal and professional qualities of character possessed by Dr. Geo. H. Wallace who died here last week.

Messages of respect and sympathy will be mailed to the family of Dr. Wallace and will be sent to the State Medical association.

Dr. H. H. Latson of Amarillo read a paper on "Acidosis". Dr. H. L. Wilder read a paper on "The Ammonia Content of Urine". Amarillo physicians present included Drs. Lumpkin, Latson, Crume and Vinyard. Pampa physicians present were Drs. R. M. Bellamy, C. C. Wilson, A. B. Goldston, V. E. Brunow, J. H. Kelley, A. Cole, Wilder, Martin, Hunter.

A motion to invite the Wheeler county physicians to attend the next meeting of the society and with the Gray county doctors organize a two-county association was passed.

The next program will be in charge of Drs. J. C. Wilson and J. C. McKean.

The meeting was held in the city hall. Refreshments were served by Miss Grace Russell and Miss Dot Payne, Amarillo nurses, who are visiting Dr. Brunow.

barrel for oil in Oklahoma.
"I have underground information that some big deals, including mergers, have been made between some of the big companies and I think they'll be in by Monday," Murray said.
He reiterated he would decline to lift martial law from oil fields and companies operating in the same lands agree to a unitization plan and proration.
"Hog Each Other"
"Texas, Oklahoma, and Kansas must get together and not let this thing get away from them when the fields are opened again," he said. "We can't trust the oil men with it. They would hog one another."

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—Plans for conducting a series of mass meetings in South and East Texas to protest declaration of martial law in the East Texas oil field, were made at a meeting of a group of East

Texas independent refiners here today.
The first of the series of meetings will be at Woolridge Park, Austin, Monday night. Col. Alvin Owsley, Dallas attorney and C. C. McDonald, of Wichita Falls, will be principal speakers.
The refiners said they had "called the bluff" of the so-called East Texas steering committee headed by E. A. Guiberson, who had been quoted as saying the situation of the independent refiners had been exaggerated and that there were more than 300,000 barrels of oil available to them at 50-cents a barrel.

Waiting Contest
KILGORE, Aug. 21. (AP)—The troublesome mid-continent oil situation seemed to be settling into a contest today between militiamen of Oklahoma and Texas and the companies who control the area's crude prices.
Critics of the martial law regime in East Texas received a sharp answer from Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters last night. Somewhat irked by reports the shutdown had caused a grave unemployment situation, General Wolters issued a manifesto in which he said an investigation by military authorities disclosed "little, if any, unemployment."
Oklahoma's fight for higher prices, enforced for more than two weeks by Gov. William H. Murray's militiamen, brought more predictions from oil men that higher prices throughout the mid-continent area were inevitable. Cicero I. Murray, the governor's cotin, forecast a $1 per barrel posting for Oklahoma, probably today.

Some Wish "Cease"
NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—A movement has been started on the part of certain independent oil interests for the appointment of a "Cease" as an adviser to the oil industry under whose authority regulation of oil output can be placed.
The campaign was disclosed in pamphlets distributed in Wall Street which mention Robert W. Stewart, former chairman of the Standard Oil company, of Indiana, as a likely appointee.
TULSA, Okla., Aug. 21. (AP)—An increase of two cents a gallon in the retail price of the so-called "competitive" grade of gasoline, the low priced fuel recently put on the market by most companies, was posted here today by independent marketers and the Sinclair Refin-

Where Men and Women Pilots Will Race in Derby

For the first time in aviation, men and women pilots are going to compete in a free-for-all cross-country race from Santa Monica, Calif., to Cleveland, Ohio. Two score pilots have congregated at the west coast ready to make the first lap of their race on Sunday, Aug. 23. This map shows the cities where they will stop. The flyers are due in Cleveland the following Sunday, second day of the National Air Races.

Wiley Post Must Find Employment

EL PASO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Wiley Post, who with Harold Gatty, circled the globe in less time than any other human being, plans to hunt lions in Arizona.
He came to El Paso from Sweetwater yesterday with Gatty and Mrs. Post. They probably will continue a trip to San Francisco tomorrow.
Post said that after a two weeks' tour of Pacific coast cities he would accept an invitation of the Arizona state game commission to go on a lion hunt.
"Then it's back to work," he said. "I have no definite plans."
Gatty likewise was undecided as to his future.
"But I've got to go to work," he said. "Who for? Anybody with a job."

Callison-Seydler Clinic Has Large Suite in Building

The Callison-Seydler Clinic in the Combe-Worley building occupies suite 203 and has six rooms, two private treatment rooms, reception, laboratory or clinical diagnosis, convalescing room, and dressing room. A corridor connects all departments with the reception room. Modern equipment throughout facilitates diagnosis and treatment in all types of cases.
Dr. C. P. Callison is a graduate of the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and surgery and a former member of the staff of that institution. He earned the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the Northeast Missouri State Teachers' college and Bachelor of Science at Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, School of Applied Science. Before coming to Pampa, Dr. Callison engaged in general practice at Bartow, Fla.
Dr. W. A. Seydler also is a graduate of the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, with preliminary course at Rice Institute, Houston. Post-graduate certificates were earned at the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery and at the Denver Polyclinic and Post Graduate college. Following graduation, Dr. Seydler served an internship at the Laughlin hospital, Kirksville, Mo. Before coming to Pampa last December, he had engaged in general practice at Loveland, Colo., for a number of years.
The Callison-Seydler Clinic is a polyclinic prepared to serve the people of this community in the treatment of all diseases by all modern methods: osteopathy, use of drugs (that have specific action, physiotherapy, colonic irrigation, and surgery; and maternity cases. For major surgical cases, the clinic has hospital connections. For surgical cases handled in the clinic the convalescing room affords comfort for the post-operative period.

GETS 70 CENTS TODAY
TYLER, Aug. 21. (AP)—Seventy cents a barrel was a top price paid for crude oil here today. Pete Burton, East Texas operator, said he sold 40,000 barrels at that price.
CONVICTS CAPTURED
WOBURN, Mass., Aug. 21. (AP)—Two youths, identified as Patrick McCarthy, 23, of Boston, and Robert Austin, 23, Galveston, Texas, escaped convicts from the state prison at Thomaston, Me., were captured here this afternoon. Three prisoners escaped early this week after slugging a guard.

Election On Gas Franchise Is Set
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Oklahoma City council today set Oct. 27 for election on an amended gas franchise proposal of the Oklahoma Natural Gas corporation, which provides the city may buy the Oklahoma natural plant at any time before the present franchise expires in October, 1934.
Delay in the gas election, originally set for Sept. 22, had been asked by W. P. Canavan, vice president of the O. N. G., which recently reduced state rates to 45 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Vote on the amended gas election ordinance was unanimous.
DEGREES TO 187 STUDENTS
COMMERCE, Aug. 21. (AP)—The East Texas State Teachers college awarded bachelor degrees to 187 students at commencement exercises today. The graduating address was delivered by Judge Royal R. Watkins of Dallas. The senior class was the largest in the college's history.

Tyler Suspect In Swindle Released

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—A man arrested in Tyler yesterday and returned to Dallas as a suspect in an attempted $50,000 oil lease swindle was released today after investigation had proven him the wrong man.
P. T. Flynn, charged with forging a lease assignment, failed to identify the man as his accomplice in the deal. Flynn was arrested at Love Field here yesterday as he prepared to board an airplane for San Antonio after collecting an advance payment of $4,500 from Charles Pettit, the intended victim of the swindle.

Flynn had $2,500 in his pocket. He made a statement in which he said a man named Dick Askew was in the deal with him. He said he had divided the $4,500 with Askew. A forgery complaint was sworn out against Askew, but he has not been arrested. The man arrested at Tyler had the same name, but different initials.

Tyler Suspect In Swindle Released

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—A man arrested in Tyler yesterday and returned to Dallas as a suspect in a attempted $50,000 oil lease swindle was released today after investigation had proven him the wrong man.

P. T. Flynn, charged with forging a lease assignment, failed to identify the man as his accomplice in the deal. Flynn was arrested at Love Field here yesterday as he prepared to board an airplane for San Antonio after collecting an advance payment of $4,500 from Charles Pettit, the intended victim of the swindle.

Flynn had $2,500 in his pocket. He made a statement in which he said a man named Dick Askev was in the deal with him. He said he had divided the $4,500 with Askev. A forged complaint was sworn out against Askev, but he has not been arrested. The man arrested at Tyler had the same name, but different initials.

'First in Pampa'

MAGNIFICENT COMBS-WORLEY BUILDING OPENS SATURDAY

Visitors Day Will Bring Hundreds to Pampa for Auctions and Stunts

FARMERS TO TRADE WHAT THEY DESIRE

Public Sales and Exchanges May Become Regular Events in City.

Visitors' day in Pampa Saturday will greatly increase the number of persons who will attend the formal opening of the new five-story Combs-Worley office building.

The big pair of elevators will enable an unusually large number of persons to go through the beautiful structure. It is virtually full on every floor, and the tenants will be glad to welcome out-of-town guests.

The first feature of Visitors' day will be a free farm auction near the Schafer hotel on West 6th street at 10:30 o'clock. Any article may be offered for sale or trade at this event.

The final auction at 3 o'clock will include sale of produce which visitors have not otherwise traded or sold. It is suggested that produce men trade their products to wheat farmers if they need grain.

The Pampa band will play a public concert at the city hall at 4 o'clock.

Can Save Money Merchants have been asked to cooperate by offering bona fide money-saving bargains for Visitors' day only.

The city will be in gala dress for the occasion, and its spirit will be enlivened by beginning of construction of the Pampa-Childress railroad.

Insurance Firm In New Building Is Well Known

"Insurance for Everything" that is the slogan for a progressive business firm, the Panhandle Insurance agency operating in the new Combs-Worley building in connection with the Western Building and Loan association.

The agency has been a leading firm here since the fall of 1928, when it was moved from Panhandle.

B. Earl O'Keefe is president of the Building and Loan association and manager of the insurance agency. He is assisted in the Building and Loan by J. B. Bourland, while W. A. Meyers and Farris C. Oden are connected with the insurance agency.

The insurance agency specializes in fire, tornado, and casualty insurance, but it also writes life insurance.

Harvester Drug Store Is Fully Equipped Firm

The Harvester Drug store is one of the newest business places in the city. It occupies the corner space of the new Combs-Worley building and is owned by F. O. Conwell and H. C. Reynolds.

Conwell was formerly pharmacist for the Pampa hospital and has lived here several years. He is in charge of the prescription department and is assisted by D. B. Stewart. Both of the men are registered pharmacists with degrees from the University of Texas.

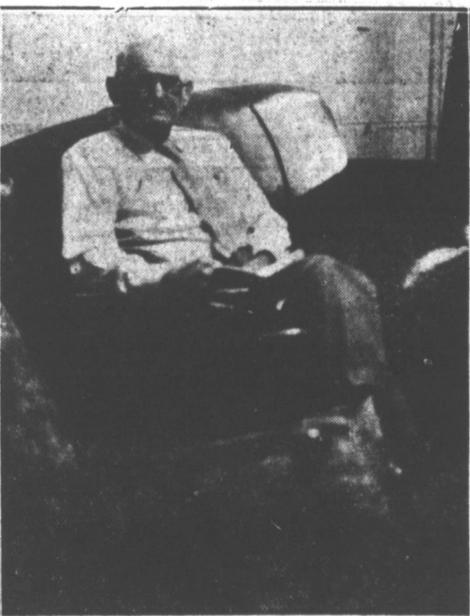

Reynolds is the grandson of Mrs. Phoebe Worley and is in charge of the fountain and sandwich department of the drug store. Jess Steals is an assistant at the fountain.

The drug store has a full line of drugs, tobaccos, and magazines.

Gave City Biggest Structure

By Fred's Studio.

Mrs. Phoebe A. Worley and A. B. Combs, above, have turned their flowing rolls into an office building of beauty and utility—Pampa's largest building. The city congratulates and thanks them.

MANY OFFICES PLANNED TO SUIT PARTICULAR NEEDS

Leases on New Combs-Worley Building Signed Before Interior Completed.

Most of the offices in the Combs-Worley building were leased long before work was begun on the interior of the building.

For instance, after Chas. C. Cook decided to lease offices on the fifth floor, the builders followed his suggestions as to the number and location of the offices in the suite.

Mr. Kaufman has three rooms on the fifth floor. Other suites built-to-order were those of Dr. E. A. Webb, Dr. W. B. Wild, Dr. H. H. Kicks and Dr. C. C. Wilson on the third floor Dr. Wilson's suite has three rooms, Dr. Webb's suite, Dr. Wild's a reception room, X-ray room, dark room, two treatment rooms, business office and a retiring room. Dr. Kicks' suite has a reception room, retiring room, two operating rooms, a laboratory, dark room and a business office.

PIONEERS OF AREA BUILD BETTER CITY

Pampa's Biggest Structure Is Lasting Contribution of Ranch People.

Mrs. Phoebe A. Worley, co-builder of the Combs-Worley structure, has been a pioneer on three front-Texas, in 1874, the Indians were still moved from Stealing City, Brown county, Ill., to Moravia county, Texas, in 1874, the Indians were still making raids and gathering scalps in North Texas.

Mr. Worley's parents pitched their tent near Montague bluff. A little later she moved over on the bluff. Her husband assisted in the organization of Clay county and was the first county treasurer. In 1891, the Worleys and A. B. Combs filed on three sections each in what is now Deaf Smith county, just south of Wildorado.

When Mr. Combs and Mrs. Worley moved to the Panhandle, the buffalo hunters and the Indians had just left. The first time they were in Amarillo that now thriving city had no store—no more. Mrs. Worley has maintained a residence in Amarillo the last 28 years.

In 1913, Mrs. Worley and Mr. Combs sold their Deaf Smith county holdings and bought a 9,000-acre ranch southeast of Pampa.

Mr. Combs will always be a cattleman at heart, and horses and cows and fruit and flowers will always be the loves of Mrs. Worley. "Oil wells are greedy," she said. "A horse and a cow mean something—they get next to you. Cattle's just about all I know anyway." Proof of their love for cattle is a good-sized herd of Herefords of the Domino strain from the Osborne ranch at Miami.

Terra Cotta Is Largely Used In Office Building

Citizens regard the new Combs-Worley building as real monument to beauty, chiefly for the reason that it expresses the spirit of modern American architecture in "the Panhandle manner."

W. R. Kaufman, architect, has a penchant for using terra-cotta to give a straight, flat wall color and expression. He is fond of terra-cotta. Designs on the terra-cotta on the new building are distinctly modernistic. One thinks of lightning and sky-scrapers, and the building seems much taller than it really is.

Surmounting the top of the building are cubes, cones and many futuristic figures of terra-cotta. This terra-cotta trim, combined with the light gray brick give a light, bright, airy effect. A close observer, a stranger to the city, remarked that the building "actually shines."

In explaining why he chose terra-cotta for the city hall, he said that it was especially adapted to the Panhandle climate, first, because there is little smoke here and what little there is the wind blows away. In the case, terra-cotta is used little because in a few years it becomes covered with smoke, and needs a bath every few months.

The feeling that the building expresses the "Panhandle Spirit" is enhanced by the cattle brands used on the Combs-Worley ranch, which are cut in the stone, above each of the two entrances to the building.

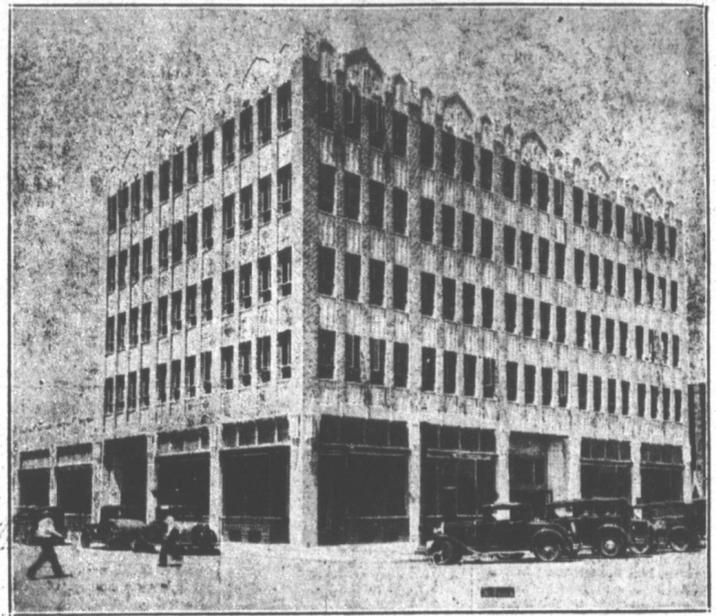

Walls of the building are covered with a tannish cream plaster. Gray marble five and one-half feet high forms the wainscoting in the main lobby and in the halls through the building.

The hall floors are laid with terrazzo, a hard composition made principally of gravel chips. Covering for all the office floors is Mosaic tile. One good thing about this composition, Mr. Crawford said, is that it is durable enough to withstand lighted cigarettes thrown on the floor.

BOARD WILL MEET DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—T. C. Gardner, general director of the state Baptist Young People's Union convention, announced that the executive board of the Baptist general convention of Texas would meet here Sept. 22. District organizers and the promotion committee will meet on the preceding evening.

A Texas Baptist rally with all district and associational workers present will be held at the First Baptist church on the morning and afternoon of Sept. 22. The board will meet after the Texas Baptist rally adjourns in the afternoon and night.

City Is Proud of This Fine Office Building

This beautiful office building, owned by Mrs. Phoebe A. Worley and A. B. Combs, will be formally opened Saturday. It is Pampa's largest building and one of the most beautiful. It is the loftiest structure in "Million Dollar Row," for which this city is famous.

Offices Reveal Progress

Local Supply Firm Plans Furnishings to Give Harmony and Comfort.

Officers of the new Combs-Worley building radiate the progressive attitude of Pampa's business and professional men and women, who have seen the relationship between the success of a business and the conditions under which it is conducted. The building was furnished largely by the Pampa Office Supply company.

No longer will any walled-off corner suffice for an office, and noise, inadequate light, poor ventilation be accepted as inevitable. Details of furniture installations in this building, like the building itself, mark an epoch in modern equipment. Perhaps of greater interest is the value of expenditures for more suitable and comfortable furnishings in the office.

The office expresses the personalities of its occupants and reveals far more about them than many realize," according to Paul M. LeBeuf, business office engineer of the Pampa Office Supply company. "Thinking men and women want backgrounds that interpret them to their friends; that defer weariness and that eliminate depressing effects of shabbiness in equipment and in surroundings; that bring inspiration and elevation of mind that come with the pride of being in an admirable setting. It is for this reason that so many occupants in this building have taken a change of heart, if such it might be called, and given up the search for furniture at the lowest possible price under the yardstick of cold dollars and cents, and have measured by the yardstick of utility. Do not construe this as an argument for costly furniture irrespective of circumstances. Good design and durability are not necessarily dependent upon cost, though one receives the values for which he is willing to pay."

In the make-up of the efficient office of the Combs-Worley building there is more than the psychological effect of its furniture. Filing equipment and record-keeping systems are up-to-date. The people of Pampa and vicinity can well take pride in pointing to the faith exhibited by business and professional men who have so modernized their offices as to create such favorable comments from visitors.

ROAD PROJECT READY LUBBOCK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Preliminary work on the slab on state highway No. 9 south from Lubbock to the Lynn county line, is to be started about Aug. 25. Guy R. Johnston, division construction engineer at Lubbock has announced.

"Unless there is an unexpected delay from weather causes, we should finish the slab by Thanksgiving day," Johnston declared. "If we get good weather this fall there is no reason why the road should not be ready for traffic all the way by the last of November."

SCHOOL LEVY SET VERNON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The Wilbarger county board of education has placed the administration levy on rural schools for expenses of the county superintendent's office at 50 cents per capita for the 1931-32 term.

Russell Street Has Become Among Busiest of Local Thoroughfares

Professions Are Grouped In New Office Building

Conforming to the plan of larger, modern office structures, the offices in each floor of the Combs-Worley building will be occupied by one profession, as much as possible.

The fifth and top floor has been leased by attorneys. The single exception is the office of W. R. Kaufman, located on the top floor. The fourth floor will also be occupied by lawyers. John R. Roby, manager of the building, will have an office on this floor.

Physicians, surgeons and dentists have leased the third floor. On the second floor will be represented a miscellany of professions and businesses. A firm of attorneys, an osteopath, a beauty parlor, a dentist and a real estate agent, also possibly an insurance agent will have offices on this floor.

The first floor will contain a drug store, a men's clothing store, and other retail establishments.

LOWER RATES DEMANDED

SANTA ANNA, Aug. 21. (AP)—Joining the state-wide fight for lower utility rates, the city commission here has served notice on the Coleman Gas and Oil company demanding lower rates, by passage of an ordinance fixing the maximum rate at 50 cents per thousand for the next 10,000 feet, 45 cents for the next 10,000, 40 cents for the third 10,000 and 35 cents for the next 45,000, applying to domestic use only.

CAREFUL WORKMANSHIP IN NEW OFFICE STRUCTURE

Contractor Praised by John Roby, Business Manager of Big Project.

The Combs-Worley building was erected by C. L. Boyington at a cost of $135,240. The heating and plumbing contract, awarded to Glen Regsdale, amounted to $22,000. Electrical fixtures were installed by Pampa Electric company, owned by T. H. Barnard. The total cost was $164,740.

John R. Roby, yesterday, praised Mr. Boyington's craftsmanship. "We have found no fault in its construction. The hand of a master conscientious builder is seen in every detail," Roby said. "We are completely satisfied with his work. He is in complete sympathy with the purpose of the architect and builder. He erected us the kind of a building we wanted, regardless of cost. He used only the best materials."

In less than a year, Russell street has become one of the chief thoroughfares of the city for the reason that the four largest and costliest buildings in the city face it. They are, namely, the Schneider hotel, city hall, courthouse and Combs-Worley building. The entrance to the high school is at the end of the street on Kingsmill.

At the beginning of 1930, a half-finished courthouse and the hotel were all that Russell street could boast. Albert Square was a grass plot. In addition to the buildings already named, there have been built in the last year, the fire station, W. C. Mitchell's beautiful structure.

Russell street from the railroad to the high school is one of the narrowest in the city, except on the east side of the city hall. The city cast off a good slice of Albert Square to widen the street.

COMPANY REUNITED

BIG SPRING, Aug. 21. (AP)—The first reunion of Company D, 117 Supply Train, Rainbow division, was held here recently, celebrating the fourteenth anniversary of the mustering of the company in August, 1917.

Judge James Brooks commanded the company through its major engagements on the Western Front. A barbecue was the feature of entertainment. Of the 75 men composing the company at full strength, 55 were enlisted here, of that group 32 attended the reunion.

TRADES HOUSE FOR WHEAT

DALHART, Aug. 21. (AP)—Many deals have been made here whereby wheat was taken in payment for goods but the latest and biggest was made by H. L. Adams of Dalhart, who will trade a house and lot for wheat at 35 cents per bushel.

Office Building Windows New In This Community

Windows in the new Combs-Worley building are something new in Pampa.

In the first place they are constructed in order to provide 100 per cent circulation of air, minus a steady draught. The panes are of wire-glass; the glass may crack but it won't shatter or break. The wire, although visible is covered by glass.

Each window is in three parts. The glass is set in metal. The bottom pane opens and shuts, flap-wise, while the two top panes open door-wise. They can be so adjusted that the wind can be turned and a minimum amount of atmosphere but no wind will enter the room.

OIL WEALTH IS TURNED TO FINE BUILDING

Many of City's Prominent Firms Occupying Luxuriously Furnished Suites.

The bright, graceful, and mildly modernistic edifice that is the five-story Combs-Worley building, which will be formally opened tomorrow, represents $165,000 worth of liquid gold that flowed from oil wells on the builders' ranch southeast of Pampa.

Part of what Gray county earth yielded in crude oil was put back on the good and beloved soil in the shape of Pampa's tallest and largest structure. With this, Mrs. Phoebe A. Worley and Albert Combs regarded it fitting that their cattle brands, the "Rafter T-Bar" which is burnt into the hide of all Combs cattle, and the "9-46," brand on Mrs. Worley's cattle, are carved above each of the two entrances to the building.

In such a manner they memorialized the ranch and extolled the beneficence and kindness of the earth which gave life to their cattle and to themselves long before the driller's bit probed its depths.

Nearly finished The building was completed six weeks ago sufficiently to allow tenants to occupy its many offices. Only a few of the rooms were unoccupied yesterday.

The first tenants to move in was Chas. C. Cook, dean of Pampa lawyers, and his partners, William Smith, Arthur Teed, John Sturgeon and Tom Wade. This firm of attorneys occupies 12 rooms on the fifth floor. These rooms are elaborately furnished with heavy oak desks, luxurious chairs, rich draperies.

For one time in his life, Mr. Cook has enough space to house his books. On the same floor, W. C. Kaufman & Son, architects, have four rooms. Mr. Kaufman designed the Combs-Worley building. Curtis Douglas, attorney, has three rooms, and Will R. Saunders, attorney, has four rooms, all on the same floor. Mr. Cook's suites occupy the east half of the floor. Mr. Saunders' the northwest corner, and Mr. Douglas the southwest corner.

Many Occupants On the fourth floor, Judge S. D. Stennis, Ivy Duncan, Neal Powers, J. V. Osborne, all attorneys, have five rooms. C. G. Alexander, F. M. Dodson, H. E. and Guy Saunders, and E. E. Reynolds have offices in five rooms. The M. P. Downs Insurance Agency on this floor occupies three rooms. C. L. Boyington, contractor who erected the building, has two office rooms. A suite of three rooms is occupied by John R. Roby, manager of the building, and Mr. Combs and Mrs. Worley.

The builders' room is not an office in the popular understanding of the term. It is a place where the owners may read their mail when they come to town; where they can talk business with Mr. Roby or anyone else. It is furnished with easy arm chairs, a red-leather divan, a expensive Persian rug, framed pictures of prize cattle. However, Mr. Combs and Mrs. Worley will spend little time at the office. They like the ranch. One of the finest homes in Amarillo is owned by Mrs. Worley, but she spends less than a month out of the year in it. She considers the ranch her home.

On the third floor, Dr. W. B. Wild physician and surgeon has a suite of six rooms. Dr. H. H. Kicks, dentist, also has a six-room suite. Dr. T. B. Martin, physician, has a three-room suite. Dr. R. A. Webb, physician and surgeon has four rooms, and Dr. C. C. Wilson, east eye, nose and throat specialist, has three rooms. Thus the third floor

Penthouse May Top Structure People who don't know what O. O. McIntyre means when he refers to "penthouse" only have to look at the top of the Combs-Worley building for an explanation. For the little house on top of a building that is more or less a skyscraper is a penthouse.

However, the penthouse on the Pampa building is not like the ones on top of New York skyscrapers and Col. Ernest Thompson, on top of the Herring hotel, Amarillo, The Combs-Worley penthouse is occupied by the elevator motors and machinery.

Some day, the building may have a real penthouse. John R. Roby said there is space for an ideal apartment on the roof of the building. Penthouses bring the largest rent because they are the most inaccessible. New Yorkers, McIntyre says, never use the word "penthouse" unless they say "party" after it.

The two Otis elevators will transport 12 passengers at a time. Both are in continuous use. The metal cabs are finished in blue, green, and copper.

Carburetor Is Lindy's Trouble

TOKYO, Aug. 21. (AP) (Friday)—A message to the department of communications from Flight Lieut. Yoshio Tanaka at Nemuro today said a combination of carburetor trouble and unfavorable weather probably will keep Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh at Ketchikan, in the central Kuriles for some time.

Lieut. Tanaka messaged "there is very little hope of repairing the Lindberghs' motor in a short time."

The flight officer did not state the origin of his information, but presumably it was given him by the government steamer Shimushiro Maru, which has been standing by the plane since 12 hours after it was forced down late Wednesday in the "Black Hole" of the Kurile Archipelago.

The communications department also was advised today a dense fog continued to cloak Ketchikan and the central Kuriles. "The seas were reported roughening."

Girls Entertain Lions Club With Building Table

Two Grandview 4-H club girls, Misses Opal and Fae Davis, demonstrated one of their projects by illustrating how simple yet attractive and serviceable articles may be made without cost at the Lions luncheon yesterday.

The girls showed the construction of a dressing table made of two orange crates and a board, which were stained, lined, fitted with shelves, curtained, and topped with a large mirror. They dramatized the explanations. These girls took the 1930 short course at A. & M. college.

Rotarian Frank Foster presented the club a miniature lion and announced the Rotary club's intention to defeat the Lions in the baseball game at Magnolia park this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Judge Newton P. Willis made a short address.

It was announced that 11-2 acres of turnips had been planted by Lions near the water wells of the city. The turnips will be harvested by the club and given to the Welfare board.

Lion Ralph Thomas announced that nurseries and landscape firms would give trees and shrubs as prizes in the Lions yard contest, details of which will be announced in a few days. The value of the prizes will approximate $125.

Visitors included John R. Edmonds of College Station and E. O. Fisher of Waynes, Okla. Howard A. West, superintendent of the Humble Pipeline company, was announced as a new member. He formerly headed the Nocona Lions club, and is well known in Lions International circles.

C. H. Clark has returned to his home in Wichita Falls after a business trip here. He owns a ranch near Pampa.

Officers Probe Death of Importer

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Federal investigators announced today their conviction that Hisashi Fujimura, wealthy Japanese importer, who was missing when the liner Belgenland docked here Friday morning, had been thrown into the sea.

They expressed confidence they will get clues as to who was responsible for the killing when they Belgenland returns tomorrow from another cruise.

Members of the crew will be questioned and the radio operator will be ordered to produce his file of messages sent and received by the missing man.

Assistant District Attorney Lumbard tonight announced he would question Jan Ribas, an artist, who made the cruise on the Belgenland to draw sketches of passengers.

Miss Mary Reissner, former show girl who was traveling as a guest of Fujimura, told officials that when a steward rapped on the importer's door at the ship near New York she heard Ribas say Fujimura was missing.

The assistant district attorney said no suspicion was attached to the artist, however, since his business made it necessary for him to call on passengers in their staterooms and he may have discovered the absence of the importer when he received no reply to his knock on the door.

Gwin Leaves For New Mexico Resort

Acting upon the urgent advice of local physicians, City Manager F. M. Gwin left yesterday morning for a stay of at least 10 days at New Mexico health resorts. Mrs. Gwin accompanied him.

Mr. Gwin has been in poor health the last month. Physicians said that a nervous breakdown was imminent unless he took a vacation and forgot business for a while. Mr. Gwin was confined to his bed part of last week. The city manager did not think his condition was as bad as the diagnosis indicated, but decided to leave after physicians and city commissioners urged him to leave his office for a time.

Change Of Venue Granted In Trial

HARLAN, Ky., Aug. 21. (AP)—An abrupt end came to the trial of William M. Burnett, 36, miner charged with murder in connection with Harlan county coal field disorders, when Circuit Judge D. C. Jones ordered a change of venue yesterday on motion of the commonwealth.

After the commonwealth had accepted a jury and the defense had rejected seven of the 12 tentative jurors, Commonwealth Attorney W. A. Brock surprised defense counsel by moving that the defense's previous request for a change of venue be granted.

The case was transferred for trial to Montgomery county and will be called Mount Sterling Nov. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Powers and son, Billie Neil, left Wednesday for a visit in Wichita Falls. They also will visit the East Texas oil fields before returning in about ten days.

Cricket Plague at San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 21. (AP)—The upper Middle West may have its grasshoppers. West Texas now has its crickets, and in equally pestilential quantities in some places.

Queries on extermination of the chirping insects have been coming to W. I. Marshall, county agent, he said. He is working on a more individual antidote but at present suggests the same poison bran mash used to fight grasshoppers.

Clothing and other household articles rather than field crops are being damaged by crickets.

Both city and county are affected. Under some street lights one imagines he hears the popping of a machine gun when driving his automobile over the massed crickets late at night.

Cigaret Tax to Become Effective Today at Midnight

Tonight at midnight the state 3-cent tax on packages of cigarettes will become effective.

Sales of cigarettes today here are expected to break all records. Not a few smokers who have puffed the machine-made things since World War days have sworn not to pay the tax and have turned to pipes. Others will roll their own.

For several weeks merchants have been reporting heavy sales of pipes and pipe tobacco. But there are many predictions that the higher cost of cigarettes will only make them in greater demand. This will give rise to the "cigaret bootlegger." Smokers' main objection to the tax is that no other commodity has so many levels upon it.

Yangtze River Is Slowly Receding

SHANGHAI, Aug. 21. (AP)—Waters of the Yangtze river dropped a bit today at Hankow, center of the flood disaster, but from further up the river came a Kuomin news agency dispatch telling of severe flood damage along one of the Yangtze's tributaries, the Li Ho.

Relief for the 30,000,000 persons left homeless by the record high waters was being organized under the leadership of the Nationalist government.

Announcement was made of progress in negotiations with the United States arm board for purchase of 15,000,000 bushels of American surplus wheat on credit, to be used to ward off the worst of the famine certain to follow the flood.

All available boats on the Yangtze and Whangpoo rivers were pressed into service for rescue of persons left after the Yangtze's swelling tide. The government's airplane survey party, lying this week from here to Hankow along the 600-mile winding course of the river, observed many refugees camped on the dykes between Nanking and Kiating.

These the steamers will take to some safer ground, for the past few days have revealed many dykes undermined and so weakened they may break at almost any time.

OFFICES OF TOMORROW ARE HERE TODAY

Private office of Chas. C. Cook, prominent attorney and oil operator

Much of the office furniture and many accessories in the up-to-date offices in the Combs-Worley Building were furnished by us.

Office men know that good equipment makes for real efficiency, and that it is poor economy to stint oneself in those things that add to the convenience and dignity of the office.

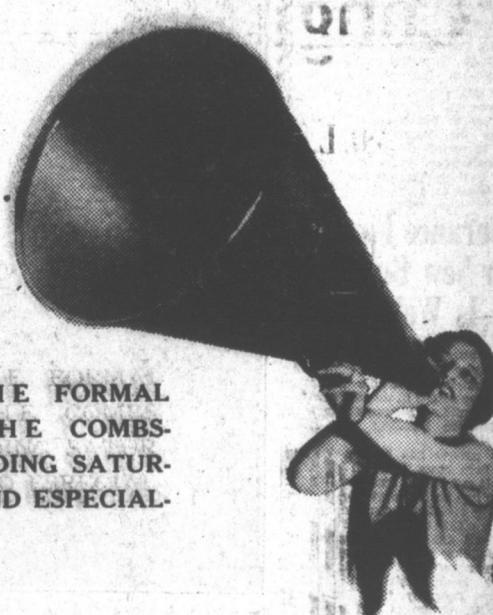

The modern office engineer's duty is to improve the general atmosphere of the working space in the office building. This we undertook to do in the magnificent Combs-Worley Building. How well pleased customers and the general public to we have succeeded is left for our answer.

Our congratulations to Mrs. Worley and Mr. Combs on their enterprise and far-sightedness, and to the office men and women whose good judgment and aesthetic taste have added materially to the general appearance of Pampa's finest office building.

Mass Feeding Will Be On Larger Scale

MOSCOW, Aug. 21. (AP)—Mass feeding of Russia's workers on a much wider scale is arranged for in a decree issued today by the central executive committee of the Communist party.

Present facilities for this work are inadequate, the decree said, although they care for approximately 12,000,000 workers and their families, who also fed collectively at factory kitchens, public dining halls and feeding stations for children.

Meals are served in these establishments at nominal prices ranging from 13 to 40 cents. The recent drive to attract more women from their own kitchens to industry has raised the capacity of the "social feeding" facilities, especially in large cities.

Coal Industry Is Opposed To Hike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—An increased use of substitute fuels and the possible installation of pipe lines to transport pulverized coal to markets were predicted today by shippers opposing, before the interstate commerce commission, the plea of the railroads for a 15 percent rate increase.

Most of the session which brought hearings in Washington to a close was devoted to testimony in opposition to any increase in coal rates. Sidney W. May, representing the New York State Travelers association, and Frank Carnahan, traffic manager for the Northeast Retail Lumbermen's association, were the final witnesses.

AGENT IS RESTORED
CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 21. (AP)—A protest by farm women has brought a restoration of the salary of Nueces county's home demonstration agent.

Recently the county commissioners' court reduced the salary of the agent, Miss Lillian Carmichael, from $1,300 a year to $1,000. At its August session the court was besieged by 100 members of women's home demonstration clubs who protested the cut, saying it would cause the county to lose the services of the agent. The court then voted to place the salary at the former figure of $1,300.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

Saturday Will Bring Visitors

Visitors' day in Pampa Saturday will be what the designation implies—a day or out-of-town people to bring their produce and other articles for auction and for them to enjoy the bargains and entertainment especially provided.

A space on West Foster avenue near the Schafer hotel will be used for the public free auctions of anything the visitors care to bring for barter or sale. It is suggested that visitors from the fruit and vegetable area to the south bring their produce to exchange with wheat farmers for grain they need.

The general auction will be at 10:30 o'clock, and at the final auction at 3 p. m. the produce not otherwise disposed of may be put up for sale. Produce buyers will be present at that time. Oldtime auctions are well known to most farmers and many city residents. Their popularity with rural folk exceeds that of almost any other kind of gathering. If the auctions prove to be helpful, they will be repeated at regular intervals.

At 2 o'clock Saturday will be the terrapin race at the auction grounds, followed by other entertainment features to be arranged. Those wishing to participate in the race for cash prizes are requested to bring their terrapins. The Pampa Legion band will play a public concert at 4 o'clock at the city hall.

Visitors will be particularly interested in attending the formal opening of the Combs-Worley office building, which is the highest point in the Pampa skyline. It was constructed by Mrs. P. A. Worley and Albert Combs, who are longtime ranch residents.

Merchants will do their part by offering unusual bargains for Saturday only. The NEWS-POST will list many of these in the advertisements. This newspaper also will give a year's subscription to THE NEWS or THE POST in exchange for 10 bushels of wheat brought in sacks or in the form of elevator slips. The wheat will be given to the Welfare board. A bushel of wheat will admit anyone to the Pampa theaters.

SELL OIL

DALLAS, Aug. 21. (AP)—The East Texas steering committee today advised Gov. Ross S. Sterling it had made arrangements to furnish independent East Texas refiners 200,000 barrels of oil at 50 cents a barrel. S. A. Guberson, chairman of the committee, declined to name the company which promised to furnish the oil.

Mrs. James L. Van Pelt and mother, Mrs. George P. Grout of Pampa, were guests Wednesday of Mrs. J. Fred Curry who lives on the Dixon Creek lease.

Big Merger Report Is Made Premature

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Prospects of an immediate completion of the long discussed merger of Sinclair Consolidated Oil Co. and four other companies, including Tide-Water associated Oil Co. clouded somewhat yesterday.

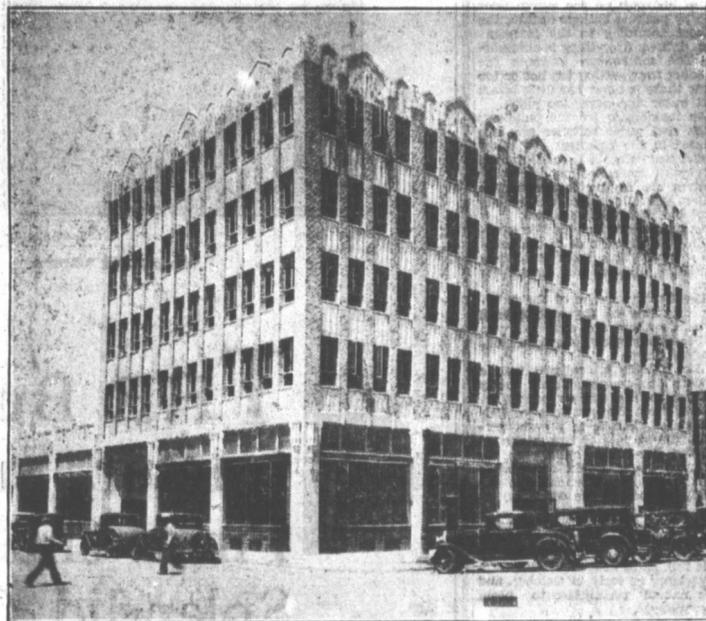

Arthur J. Byles, president of the Tide-Water Associated, in a statement, said while appraisal of the properties had been going on some time, no conclusions or agreement had been reached and the matter has not been submitted to the board of directors on any committee of the board for consideration.

Demonstration Club Women Enable Their Families to Live at Home

(By The Associated Press) Panhandle-Plains farmers are going to live at home this winter. And they may be able to feed some of their destitute neighbors.

The acreage of gardens in this section has been increased 60 per cent, according to estimates made by farm agents, and everything is being canned for winter use. There will be less waste of foodstuffs grown on the farm than in any former year.

There has been no slump in the demand for fruit jars, lids, caps, cans, rubbers, cooking utensils and pressure cookers in the average town in this territory. On the other hand, merchants report a "land of flee" business, and in some instances they have been taxed to meet the demand.

Retail merchants in Floydada have sold 85 steam pressure cookers this season and they are still getting calls that are not being filled in spite of their efforts to rush incoming shipments, according to the Floyd County Hesperian. A dozen sealers have been sold there, and one merchant reported the sale of 1,300 cans of the No. 2 and 3 sizes in one day.

Fourteen Floyd county 4-H club pantry demonstrators have canned approximately 4,000 quarts of vegetables, and Miss Martha Paulkner, home agent, has received as many as 25 calls a day for canning information. Similar operations are under way in Wheeler county.

The chamber of commerce at Paducah, foreseeing a shortage of canning equipment in Cottle county, bought a big pressure cooker that has a capacity of 60 No. 2 cans. Its use is offered free citizens of that county, and the Paducah Post reports that a waiting list is kept for a week in advance, so great is the demand.

Although all garden vegetables are being canned, Cottle county farmers are taking advantage of the big corn crop especially. Meats and fruits, where available, also are being canned.

Plainview merchants have reported a big turnover in canning accessories and attachments for old fruit jars, but they also have sold 10,000 cartons of new fruit jars of a dozen each, and the demand for tins has been equally as great.

Lockney citizens are taking advantage of the big gardens in that vicinity to prepare food for the needy this winter. Under a plan sponsored by the American legion post, the citizens are putting up 4,000 cans of vegetables, 5,000 pounds of beans, and are grinding 1,200 bushels of wheat into flour, bran, and breakfast foods. They expect to have enough food for 100 families.

"We do not expect to feed everyone who drops into town," said H. M. Mason, commander of the legion post, "but we will feed those who work. We can use them to clean up the town and the cemetery, and to keep the streets clean. Those who don't work can move on."

The canning program began with the bumper wheat crop. Home demonstration agents proved to the farmers that they could can part of their cheap wheat to be eaten as a cereal this winter. The idea to can and preserve for the winter became popular overnight, and, as a result, little food will be wasted from Panhandle-Plains farms and gardens.

SEEK LEGION MEETING

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 21. (AP)—Letters have been sent to all American Legion posts in Texas inviting the Legion state convention to Corpus Christi in 1932. This year's meeting is to be held at El Paso Aug. 24 to 26, and the local post will be well represented in an effort to obtain next year's convention. Sufficient answers have been received from throughout the state to make Corpus Christi confident of obtaining the 1932 meeting, according to Dr. W. L. Rhodes, local convention chairman.

Kaufman Designs Many of City's Best Buildings

The Combs-Worley building is W. R. Kaufman's third architectural achievement on Pampa's "million-dollar row."

The architect designed and supervised construction of the courthouse, opened April, 1930, and the city hall, finished this year. Each of the three buildings represents a different style of architecture. The courthouse is Georgian, the city hall, French, and the Combs-Worley, modern American.

Because brick used in each of the three buildings is light-colored, and because the shape of each is more or less rectangular, there is no conflict in the architectural style. For standing at the end of North Russell at the east end of the Schneider hotel one becomes aware of an unusual harmony in the style of the buildings on Russell street. The brick used in the Schneider is tanish gray in color, a darker gray in the city hall, tan in the courthouse and a different shade of gray in the Combs-Worley building.

In fact one of the many tedious jobs performed by the builders was the selection of a brick that would be different but still would harmonize with the other buildings facing Russell street.

Basement Houses Modern Plant

The basement of the Combs-Worley building houses the necessities of life.

In it are the great electric transformers, the automatic heating system, the Frigidaire equipment for providing cold water for fountains that are located in the corridors on every floor.

The heating plant is the last word in modernism. It is called the Dunham differential steam vacuum system. There is no steam pressure. J. R. Roby, building manager, can sit in his room on the fourth floor and by pushing buttons operate the system according to the temperature desired. Everything is automatic. The mechanism prevents the building from getting too hot or too cold; there is never too little steam and water and never too much.

An incinerator for the building's trash and water softener are also located in the basement. All water is softened before it is cooled by the Frigidaire system. The hot water heaters are in the basement. The boiler and all heaters are heavily insulated with white asbestos.

An amusement club may be located in about two-thirds of the basement space. This room is already ventilated, finished and lighted for use.

The lighting system of the building conforms to the architectural style. Corridors are equipped with amber-colored globes of special modernistic design.

The building is equipped with a modern fire-escape system. Doors leading to the escapes cannot be opened from the outside once they are closed. This is to prevent persons who in case of fire might get on the fire-escape but seeing the distance below would attempt to turn back. Fire-hose cabinets are easily reached in the corridors.

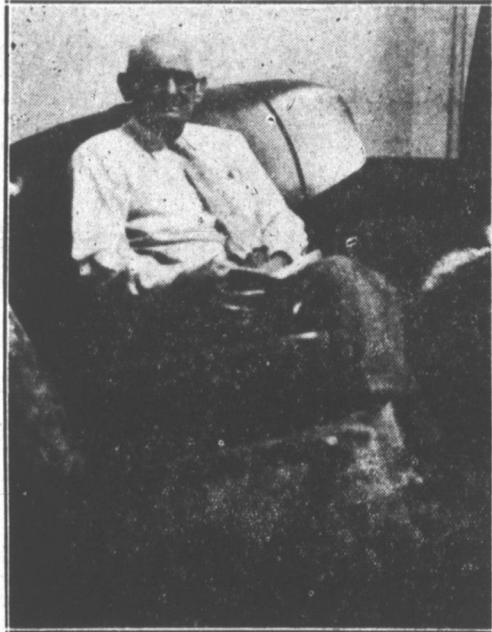

LAMESA, Aug. 21. (AP)—The chamber of commerce here has decided to sponsor a Dawson county fair this fall, to be held probably late in September or early in October, and has named committees to begin preparations.

Best Little City In The U. S. A."

Mystery of Lost City May Yet Be Solved Through Old Relics

Cigaret 'Legger' Newest Violator

BEAUMONT, Aug. 21. (P)—A new kind of bootlegger looms for Beaumont—the cigaret bootlegger—and officers are making plans to combat the new illegal peddler, due to make his appearance in dark alleys and other out-of-the-way spots on Aug. 22 or shortly after.

Although Beaumont is only about 30 miles from the Louisiana line at Orange, it is expected that distance will prove a little too far for smokers to drive for cigarets. On the other hand, this proximity will be tempting to the bootleggers, causing a great influx of smuggled, tax-free smokes.

Orange authorities are not worried over thoughts of cigaret bootleggers, since only the Sabine river separates smokers there from tax-free "ready-mades," and there are bound to be First and Last chance cigaret emporiums just across the stream.

Frank Carter grandson of Mrs. Worley, is the owner and manager. Mr. Carter believes the simple sign is sufficiently modest to indicate the quality of his merchandise. Exclusive men's clothing establishments in New York, London, and Chicago are similarly unpretentious in the matter of signs.

Charges Dismissed In Accident Case

Charges against R. A. Vest and T. A. McIntyre, filed in connection with the death of Mrs. Vest, were dismissed in county court by Judge S. D. Stennis upon motion of County Attorney Sherman White.

Mr. White explained that the Gray county grand jury returned indictments against the two men, which were based on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Such a charge is a felony and not a misdemeanor, he said, and should be tried in district court. Only misdemeanors may be tried in county court, he explained.

Mrs. Vest was fatally injured when she fell from a moving automobile, occupied by Vest and McIntyre, at a bridge in the north part of the city.

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 21. (P)—The mystery of a lost city has arisen like a specter from the past to terrify the people of Brownsville.

The story of this city is told in old sword handles, with names carved on them; pieces of human bones, children's toys, remains of houses, a woman's riding spur and a thumb nail, cannon balls, old musket-loading bullets, and flint arrowheads.

These and other remains of the past were brought to Brownsville by Charles Hardin, aviator and parachute jumper, now with a land development company.

He found them and many other remains of what appears to be a "lost city" on Padre Island, about 45 miles from the southern tip.

There he found remnants of what must have been a city or village. The village covered what would be about five blocks of a city today, Hardin said.

The recent high tide along the coast washed away the sand from old piling on which the buildings stood, and left many of the remains of the old city, or village, exposed.

Hardin brought the relics to Brownsville and is making efforts to have them identified as to date.

The village must have been a warlike colony, if one may judge from the swords and bullets left there, including some cannon balls. There were half a dozen swords, practically all rusted away except the handles, which were of carved bronze and brass and did not rust.

There were marbles and other toys, indicating that children's feet ran about where now the silent piling stands.

A Belgian coin, in fine state of preservation, dated 1848, was picked up. The coin appears to have been circulated very little and apparently was left on the island soon after it was moulded.

A piece of mould for making chips, dated 1776, also is in the lot. Other articles include a piece of plate, made in Germany, U. S. uniform buttons, hinges, brass nails, and other such paraphernalia.

Several pieces of human skeletons were found. These and the large number of articles apparently abandoned indicate that the city came to a sudden end.

The find set loose a flood of speculation and brought out all the legends of pirates along the coast of Padre Island.

It was considered possible that could have been the old Slinger estate, where that hardy seaman, whose descendants became famous through manufacture of the sewing machine which his genius conceived, established his family and maintained a regular fort in 1848, a day before the Civil War.

A union sympathizer, he left at the outbreak of the war.

The presence of the United States soldiers, as shown by the army sabres and the large number of bullets, etc., is difficult to explain in that connection, however.

Historians are being checked to determine if any army forces ever built a permanent camp on Padre Island in that section. Local historians were positive that no army camp was established.

CHICK HAS 3 LEGS
CHILDRESS, Aug. 21. (P)—James Henry Rule is displaying a chicken with three legs which was hatched several days ago by a hen in his flock. The chick, a brown feathered Bantam, appears to be normal in every respect excepting for the third appendage. The third leg is slightly shorter than the other two and appears useless for walking. However, Rule says it may come in handy later for scratching.

MOON of DELIGHT

by Margaret Bell Houston

SYNOPSIS: Juanita surprises the marquis in the act of ransacking chests and drawers of Kirk Stander's home and knows them. That her chaperone is to blame for robberies among their friends. Without a farewell to their host or Nelly Bell-shy, his grandmother, Juanita, whom Kirk knows and loves as Sen-crita Flores, returns with the mar-quesa to Divitt's gambling house. Divitt who had forced Juanita, his cigarette girl, into the deception, hears her threat to expose his and the marquesa's robbery scheme. They he tells her that she is not Juanita, but Bertha Mataga, of Vera Cruz (sought for a crime.) her son, wait upon her and upon Miss Ill, and Conchita and Gabreau, her son, wait upon her and upon Molly, Divitt's wife, also ill at his resort, adjoining the Hotel Tizon.

Chapter 33
A NOTE FROM MOLLY
 All that she could lose was lost, Juanita reflected. The burden that remained—faintness and foreboding, the black night, terror, love and heart-ache—the river would devour it all. Brown, sluggish waters that never told their secret . . .
 Juanita started, opened her eyes. Gabreau, who had often sat beside her bed as the day ill, had drawn closer to her, was speaking more softly than before.
 "I know some'n else," and as Juanita looked at him, "Meester Stander come to do de Tizon—many time. He telephone, too. One day when he come I am in de lobby, wipin' de tiles. He asked where you are and dey tell him you and de marquesa have go away. He say 'Where? Dey tell him dey not know, but mebbey you will come beck in lit' while. Dey say dey will tell you he call—when you come. He say, 'Let me know instead dat she is here.' He turn round, and look at me and say in low voice, 'Do you know where she is?' Now why he ask me dat?"
 "I don't know, Gabreau. Perhaps you looked as if you knew."
 Gabreau looked hurt. "I neviar look like dat way."
 "What did you say," she asked.
 "I shek my head, and he go away. I am, fool, yes, but all day I am sorry I shek my head."
 "Gabreau! Juanita half rose. "You wouldn't tell him where I am!"
 "No. De marquesa here too. I not even tell dat. But I am sorry I shek my head. He look so worry and he come so mooch . . . He love you, Juanita? Yes? . . . And as Juanita turned her face away to hide the tears, "I know he love you. Ah! you love him, you love his name when de fever burn you. You say too you will go police station and give yo' self up. You say mooch things, Juanita—but n't say cry his name. An' so I know you love him. Dat is mebbe why I am sorry I shek my head. I wish mebbe he would find you, and tek you way."
 "He must never find me here."
 "Why? Ef you are here he cannot find you somewheres else."
 "He would not understand, Gabreau, I know what he believes of women in places like this. I know what he would believe of me."
 Gabreau nodded. "I know. Like Fifi. But me, I know when I see you. I not know sooch womens like you was in de worl'. I have only know like Fifi. But I know you when I see you."
 "Dear Gabreau!" she said, and laid her hand on his. "But there are other reasons, too. I must never see him again, and since I have gone-out of his life, I'd rather go without his knowing—this."
 It had grown dark in the room. Gabreau, with her hand on his, did not stir. His eyes were closed, yet light seemed all about him, a strange and holy flame enfolded him. Her hand on his, yet still he seemed to feel it there. Always he would feel it there.
 He wondered if she still wept. She wept so silently, not like Conchita's weeping. Presently her voice came.
 "I'm going down tonight, Gabreau. I'll have to dress."
 "You—go down?"
 "Yes—Molly's note. I'm better now. And I want to see Molly."
 When he had gone Juanita rose, getting slowly into the black costume with its spangled veil. Slowly she went down the stair, wondering what Molly had to tell her. The parlor doors were just opening. There was time to go in and see Molly now. Conchita came out as Juanita knocked on Molly's door. Juanita saw Divitt sitting in the dim room beside Molly's bed. He looked up and, seeing Juanita made a dismissing gesture, shook his head.
 "She too sick now," Conchita whispered. "Tomorrow, mebbe."
 Juanita went into the parlors. Not many were there. The crowd was not the same. She and Gabreau were like ghosts revisiting a changed scene. At ten o'clock Conchita appeared in the parlor door, signaled to Juanita.
 "Molly. She ask fer you again." Conchita was sobbing as they went through the court. "Many time she have ask fer you. Divitt say no. But now—anything she say."
 Divitt stood by the window, his back to the bed. Molly lay white and small on the great pillow. Her eyes were closed. Conchita went to her side.
 "Juanita have come, bebbey. . . . Conchita's earnest words. . . . A faint movement of Molly's eyelids.
 Juanita drew nearer the bed as Conchita beckoned and made room

Dog Battles Shark to Save Pals

Among the courageous, loyal and beloved heroes of canine his quarry, a 300-pound shark. for her at Molly's side.
 Juanita bent over the bed. "Molly," she whispered.
 Molly's blue eyes opened slowly. Something like a smile vanished from her face. She tried to lift her head. Her lips moved.
 Juanita leaned closer. "What is it, Molly?"
 Such trouble in the great blue eyes. Molly pointed to the old bureau. Juanita glanced about. Conchita touched a drawer. Molly shook her head. Conchita touched the second drawer. The third. Molly smiled.
 Conchita opened the third drawer. A white silk shawl, embroidered in whiter roses. Conchita took the shawl out, held it up that. Molly might see.
 But Molly did not see.
 Rain falling in the court. Rain all day, all night. Breaking clouds. A filter of sunlight. More rain.
 Somehow the parlors went on. Still Juanita, veiled and silent, moved about in the changed crowd. The little note from Molly—Molly's last message to her—had begged that she return. Molly had wanted to say more but all she had had time to convey was her wish about the shawl. Conchita knew already what Molly wanted with the shawl, having heard her say. But apparently Molly desired that Juanita should know too. Together they had folded it about her as she lay asleep, Molly looking all seraph at the last.
 Juanita knew now that she would stay until the end, since Molly had wished it. But the end was not far. There was a new chief of police. Places like Divitt's were being closed daily under his regime. This would not happen to Divitt's unless it happened soon.
 The parlors would die of themselves, now that Molly was gone. Divitt's heart was not in them. He had come in but once in the five days since Molly died. If they revived it would be in the form of Divitt's Dive. Divitt would not need her—Juanita—then.
 He had said nothing about her going again with the marquesa. Now that he knew she was aware of the role in which he had cast her, he had said no more. Release would come to her in some way before long. Divitt, if she knew him well, would pay her for her services in the parlors. She would go far away, even as Kirk thought already that she had gone.
 Rain falling all day, all night. A filter of star light. More rain.
 The marquesa sat in her room, listening to its drone on the balcony, its drip from the eaves. Divitt would not let her go down into the parlors. Divitt would not let her go out into the town. She and Juanita were supposed to have left New Orleans. "For your own protection," Divitt had said. "What with you and Juanita taking French leave of the Stander."
 The Tizon had explained that Juanita had been taken ill that night, and that the marquesa had brought her home. Later the marquesa had written a note to Kirk had written also to Mrs. Belaise under Divitt's direction. Juanita, wrote the marquesa, after being suddenly very ill, was able to travel. She—the marquesa—was taking her to a higher altitude. Where this higher altitude might be the Tizon was not instructed to say, nevertheless, they were gone to it and the marquesa must not appear on the streets.

 The marquesa would not ordinarily have submitted to this cloistering. She would have withdrawn to free air, if not indeed to higher altitudes. There were reasons, however, for her lingering and lingering peacefully.
 (Copyright, Dodd, Mead & Co)

Will the marquesa's plan work? Perhaps the note the police get tomorrow suggests an answer.

Financial Moves Are Obstructed

LONDON, England, Aug. 21. (AP)—The government's efforts to overcome the financial crisis and bumped into several obstacles, chief among them being apparent failure of opposition leaders to fall in with plans of Prime Minister MacDonald and Chancellor of the Exchange Snowden.
 In addition, it was reported the trades union council, after hearing an explanation of the government's program from both the prime minister and the chancellor, was dissatisfied and would ask for another interview.
 The attitude of the opposition, and the reported attitude of the trades union council, had the effect of subduing the optimism which had prevailed earlier in the day in political London.

ADD HEALTH TO HOT BREADS

Hor breads are tempting. But often they lack roughage. The absence of bulk from foods often results in constipation.
 But now you can have hot breads with roughage. Simply add a cupful of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to the recipe. This delicious cereal furnishes the bulk needed to assure proper elimination. You will find many appetizing recipes on the red-and-green ALL-BRAN package.
 Equally tempting as a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream. Two tablespoonfuls daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In severe cases, use with each meal.
 ALL-BRAN also furnishes needed iron for the body. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Bell Community Discusses Exhibit

A meeting was held last night at the Bell school house, 14 miles southwest of Pampa, to make plans for exhibits to be made by that community in the Gray county fair Sept. 10-12.
 George Briggs, chamber of commerce secretary, and Herbert Walker, agriculture chairman of that body, attended the meeting with Ralph Thomas and Miss Myrtle Miller, county agents.

FISH ARE HUNGRY

QUANAH, Aug. 21. (AP)—A two-pound bass and a five and a half pound blue catfish apparently struck at the same artificial bait at the same time, and both fish were landed by Hugh Porter, while a group of Quanah men were fishing on Groesbeck creek. The catch was witnessed by Stanley Claiborne and E. H. Kirkland.

Railroad Groups Are Very Busy

This week-end will be a very busy one for members of the railroad committees along the route of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern, and likewise for the Denver officials.

Howard H. Dunston, executive general agent, was here yesterday conferring with Chairman Mel B. Davis of the right-of-way committee. Mr. Dunston said that he would help the local group acquire right-of-way until Saturday, when he would have to go to Fort Worth to confer with General John A. Hulen, vice-president and general manager.

Judge J. H. Barwise, general solicitor for the system, is working on the project during week days and on week-ends will visit Mrs. Barwise, who is ill in a sanitarium at Colorado Springs. An intensive effort to purchase the necessary right-of-way is under way all along the line.

The contractors are moving into Wellington and Shamrock, and a camp will be located here within a few days. The Denver engineers on the project will number 80, of which about 16 will make headquarters here. They already are renting houses and buying supplies, Mr. Dunston said.

A rail celebration which will be attended by all rail committees and high officials of the Denver will be held Sept. 12. It was originally scheduled for tomorrow, but postponed to enable committees to devote full time to their tasks. The fête will be on the last day of the Gray county free fair, and will precede the Harvesters' first football game—with Clarion junior college.

The local committees must have funds at once with which to purchase right-of-way. Additional pledge payments follow:

Pro Enforcement Cost Per Capita Is Now 32 Cents

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—A per capita expenditure by the people of the United States of $32 was estimated today by the Washington report on "the cost of crime" to be the price of federal prohibition enforcement efforts.

Selecting the fiscal year ended June 30, 1930, for study, the report showed federal expenditures for prohibition amounting to 1.03 percent of its total expenditures for all purposes.

The report estimated state by state the cost to the government of enforcing the dry law. Leaving out of consideration all expenditures by the states themselves, and also the $9,000,000 appropriation for the prohibition bureau, it split up the costs of marshals, prosecutors, courts and criminal enforcement as follows:

Texas $247,428; Arkansas, $79,564; Kansas, $21,443; Louisiana, $93,969; Mississippi, $72,145; New Mexico, $59,671; Oklahoma, $114,668.

ON TRADT EXCURSION TERRELL, Aug. 21. (AP)—W. J. Davis, city commission chairman, and H. W. Petty, chamber of commerce president, headed a trade excursion to 12 East Texas cities today. The Terrell municipal band and 150 business men were in the party.

McLarnin Beats Petrolle In Bout

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer.

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Aug. 21. (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, the baby-faced brawler, wiped out any question there might be of his supremacy over battle-scarred Billy Petrolle last night by pouncing on a one-sided victory over the Dakota veteran in an exciting 10-round engagement.

Fortified by all the knowledge he gained of Petrolle's slugging offensive in one match where he was almost knocked out and another where he won a slow decision, McLarnin came back tonight to batter Billy's face out-box him, out-general him, and do everything else one warrior can do to another without exactly knocking him down and out. McLarnin won the unanimous decision of the referee, Patsy Haley, and the two judges.

Coming in at 146 pounds, more than he has ever before scaled for a bout, McLarnin gave a masterful boxing exhibition as he reared steadily backward from Petrolle's forcing, free-swinging offensive, dodged under Billy's heavy guns, and puffed his face with a steady stream of short cutting left hooks and heavier right crosses.

McLarnin, white and calm, and with the placid face of an Irish choir boy under the glaring lights, was a cherubic contrast to the dark, skinned, black thatched and battle marked veteran from Fargo, N. D., but of the two the killer instinct was raging in McLarnin. Desperately he tried to batter Petrolle to the floor, but Billy took all the searing punishment that came his way, wobbled occasionally, but always came back for more.

OFF TO CONFERENCE

AUSTIN, Aug. 21. (AP)—Edgar E. Witt, lieutenant governor, left by plane at 7 o'clock this morning for the New Orleans cotton conference called by Gov. Huey Long of Louisiana.

Witt did not plan to make the trip but the Louisiana executive was insistent and offered to send a plane. "I couldn't turn that down," Witt remarked as he prepared for his first air journey.

MAN FOUND DEAD

BRYAN, Aug. 21. (AP)—Efforts to identify the body of a man found dead on the highway south of Milligan yesterday have been unsuccessful. No papers were found in his clothing. He apparently fell from a truck and struck his head on the pavement. He was about 50 years old, weighed 100 pounds and was five feet eight inches tall.

We wish to join Mrs. Worley and Mr. Combs in inviting you to attend the FORMAL OPENING OF THE COMBS-WORLEY BUILDING, SATURDAY and also invite you to visit us in our offices.

Graduate School at Canyon Closing Initial Session

CANYON, Aug. 21. (Special)—Another week will see the first session of the graduate school of the West Texas State Teachers college draw to a close, with 41 mature men and women well started on their road toward the Master Degree and 22 more embarked in studies they feel will increase their personal and professional capital.

"I am sure no graduate school ever started with a more favorable outlook so far as quality of students and earnestness of purpose are concerned," said Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the college and ex-official member of the graduate council.

Well Prepared Twenty-seven of those working for advanced degrees received their undergraduate training the local college, the University of Texas, North Texas State Teachers college, the College of Industrial Arts, Abilene Christian college, Simmons university, Baylor university, and Montezuma college being given as the undergraduate alma maters of the students.

At present, all students enrolled for graduate work are majoring in education with minors in other departments of their choice. This plan will be followed until the work can be extended to other departments, according to Dean R. P. Jarrett, chairman of the graduate council.

Students enrolled in the graduate school and working for the Master's degree are: Stella Mae Adkins, Viola Ballard, William Brune, Jermine Rowan, Mabel Rowan, Jane Singleton, Vera Fry, Carmen Uhn, M. B. Vaughn, and J. N. Weaver of Amarillo; Sam Cleland, H. Acton Danner, Mrs. Virgil E. Dodson, Virgil E. Dodson, Byron Durham, Marie Fromberger, Vera Beth Harris, Wilhelmina Obst, Ruth O'Donald, Mrs. Myrtle F. Shepard, and Lorna Stock of Canyon; Elizabeth Leonard of Bronte; Mrs. Ruth Dyson of Dalhart; Mrs. Wm. M. Bralley, Wm. M. Bralley, and Marie Miles, of Tullis; Charlie Card of Fort Worth; Mildred Chapman, Lancaster; Dot Harris, Texline; Silas Hart, Decatur; Gilton Hathorn, Eads, Colo.; S. J. Lyell, Robert Eber, Grace Chapman Martin, Eogger, Law Spn, Fanhande, Mr. Ego, F. Sullivan, Mountainair, N. Mex.; Kate Talley, Clarendon; Nell Tracy Teaf, Merkel; Hubert Thomson, Paducah; Amos M. Walker, Hartley; and W. L. Wallace, Muleshoe.

Students who are enrolled in the graduate school but who are not yet working for the advanced degree are: Mrs. Howard Golden, Lillian Donnell, Ruth Strain, Alta Williams, and Carl York of Canyon; Mattie Gray and Nannie Andrews of Dallas; Elizabeth Tolk of Amarillo; Eugene Wood, Earth; Lewis Ward of Kaufman; J. W. Tidwell, Silverton; Alwina Bonike, Littlefield; Adeline Bird of Stratford; Betty Nelson of Goodwell, Okla.; Mary Mag Smith of Guymon, Okla.; Clarette Lewis, Mayfield, Ky.; Ila Lasetz of Spur; John Bope Jr., Hart; Carroll M. Jones of Olton; Bernice Lash of Pampa, and Mattie Lou Harrison of Howard.

During the 1930-31 session several young women managed to get along on as little as $80 for a three-month period. Prices, Dr. Hill pointed out, are somewhat lower than they were at that time.

The summer session of the West Texas State Teachers college is just closing, with the attendance ahead of any year recently, despite the financial stress which prevails.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Fisher and children of Waynoka, Okla., are visiting here as the guests of Supt. and Mrs. R. W. Fisher. The visitors came to Pampa with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fisher when they returned this week after an extended vacation trip. They spent most of their time at Yellowstone Park, but also visited Mrs. Fisher's father, J. V. Allen in St. Joseph, Mo., and Mr. Fisher's father, H. U. Fisher, of Aline, Okla.

College Costs to Students Lower

CANYON, Aug. 21. (Special)—Hard times need not keep young people from going to college if they can secure a small amount of money, according to Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the West Texas State Teachers college. It is entirely possible for a young man or woman to go to college three months, or during the fall quarter for as little as $96, if the money is carefully budgeted, Dr. Hill found after a study of the living expenses of a number of stu-

Sale of Wheat To China Near

By MELBOURNE CHRISTERSON
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The sale of 15,000,000 bushels of stabilization wheat for the relief of Chinese flood sufferers seemed in prospect today with an announcement that the farm board had authorized negotiations to that end with the Hanking government.

Chairman Stone said the board, in response to an informal inquiry, had informed the Chinese government that the grain stabilization corporation, owner of more than 200,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat, would be glad to discuss the proposed transaction with Chinese officials.

The question of payment has not been considered but Stone said he assumed it would be on a long term credit basis backed by direct governmental obligations. The sale price is to be the market price at time of shipment.

Stone today predicted extensive Chinese acreage reduction next year would result from the board's recent suggestion that one-third of the current crop be destroyed.

Although the plan has apparently been rejected by the southern states, he added its proposal had revealed the seriousness of the situation and had set the farmers to thinking.

Some 200 counter plans have been received and are now being analyzed by the board's experts. From them a new plan may emerge. In any event, Stone said, "strange reduction must be done by the people of the south themselves."

Nanking's inquiry on the possibility of the wheat purchase was referred to the White House as well as to the board.

An agreement for the sale may be reached within a week. Much wheat already is stored on the Pacific seaboard. The board, to obviate any protests from grain traders such as were raised against sale of cotton to Germany, Stone said, would probably stipulate the wheat is to be used in the flood areas only.

Religious Crisis in Spain Feared

MADRID, Aug. 21. (AP)—The controversy between the government and the church was brought to a new crisis in Spain today when the government published a decree prohibiting the sale of church property and Cardinal Primate Pedro Segura y Saenz, from exile, issued a pastoral letter to Catholics calling on them to unite in defense of the church legitimate interests.

The government's decree, which was proposed shortly after the burning of religious houses last May, was believed to have been decided upon at a cabinet meeting last Tuesday.

It was understood on good authority that several socialist ministers had counseled an immediate rupture with the Vatican, but today's decree did not go that far.

The pastoral letter of the cardinal primate, which was issued shortly after the announcement of the decree, was promulgated from Fellic, France, where he has been living since he was ordered out of Spain. The letter was directed to "the Spanish clergy and the faithful."

Movable, immovable, royal concessions, and benefits of Catholic church orders, institutes, and establishments can not be sold, transferred or alienated," the decree states.

It prohibits notaries from authorizing or registering any legal instrument pertaining to sales of church property. Commercial agents are prohibited from effecting sale transactions and Spanish or foreign authorities from authorizing withdrawal of church stocks or funds.

Although it places an embargo on all church deposits and properties, the decree, effective tomorrow, contains a clause allowing clerics the privilege of carrying on small accounts to conduct daily business.

Cardinal Primate Pedro Segura y Saenz declared it to be the primary duty of all bishops to maintain unviolated "all the rights of the church, and to instruct the faithful in their maintenance."

"In these moments," he wrote, "Spanish Catholics are being fought by God's enemies. Our rights are being violated.

"The rights of the church are divine, according to the encyclicals of the Pope Plus IX and Pope Leo XIII. During these days of persecution, the church has still its right to respect.

Murray Defends His Late Enemy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 21. (AP)—Defending the action of Governor Sterling in shutting down oil wells with military force, an Oklahoma, Governor Murray late today issued a statement attacking critics of the Texas chief executive.

"I observe the chairman of the oil and gas committee of the Texas house of representative wants to offer a resolution to investigate Governor Sterling's military shutdown order," he said.

"It would occur to me that members of the house of the Texas legislature who are not employed by any oil corporation should make an investigation to determine when the chairman serves as attorney or agent 'on the quiet' while he is ostensibly serving his district.

"The shutdown order was just and right. Sterling had the power to do it under the constitution, and his reasons therefore are his own concern as a part of the executive branch of government and not of the legislative branch."

The called meeting which was to have been held by the Amman club this week in the home of Mrs. J. M. McDonald has been postponed.

Wilhelm Studies Ancient Olympics

DOORN, The Netherlands, Aug. 21. (AP)—Wilhelm II, former emperor of Germany, has been immersed several months in the study of the ancient Olympic games, it was learned today.

The exiled ruler has prevailed upon Gustav Oberlander, Reading, Pa., philanthropist, to donate funds for the construction of a model of ancient Olympia. Hans Schief, Berlin engineer and architect, has been commissioned to rebuild the sacred vale in miniature exactly as it looked 2500 centuries ago when the Olympic games flourished.

Fences Keep Out Wolves for Sheep, Goats

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 21. (AP)—The state of Texas, the federal government and rangelandmen of West Texas are spending approximately $170,000 a year in what is "preventive medicine," according to Roscoe Runge, Masco, attorney for the Texas Preventive Animal Eradication association.

This "preventive medicine" consists of capturing wolves and bobcats in territories other than those of the sheep and goat country where these animals once caused heavy damage. In many of the ranch counties of Texas, today wolves are so scarce that some have no more than two or three which come from territories where they have not been trapped. Some ranches have had no wolves for ten or 12 years in spite of the general belief that they are numerous.

The coming of wolf-proof fences now in the twenty-fifth year, has enabled the sheep industry to expand and each year it pushes westward, putting up new fences and scattering the wolves to new points. However, a smart wolf can climb over or dig under the fences, and efforts are being made now to capture wolves in those territories where sheep do not range and where cattlemen, unbothered by wolves, permit them to propagate.

The West Texas sheep country is the only ranch area in America from which wolves are kept by fences, but trappers are necessary to keep the range pests under control, Runge says.

It is not the first wolf that is hard to catch but the last one, and skilled trappers who know wolves often work as long as one to two years to catch one marauding wolf.

J. M. Cox, superintendent of the Coltexo Corporation, was taken to his home at the No. 1 camp near LePors yesterday following recovery from a major operation in the Worley hospital.

Donley Melons to Serve Market at Middle of Season

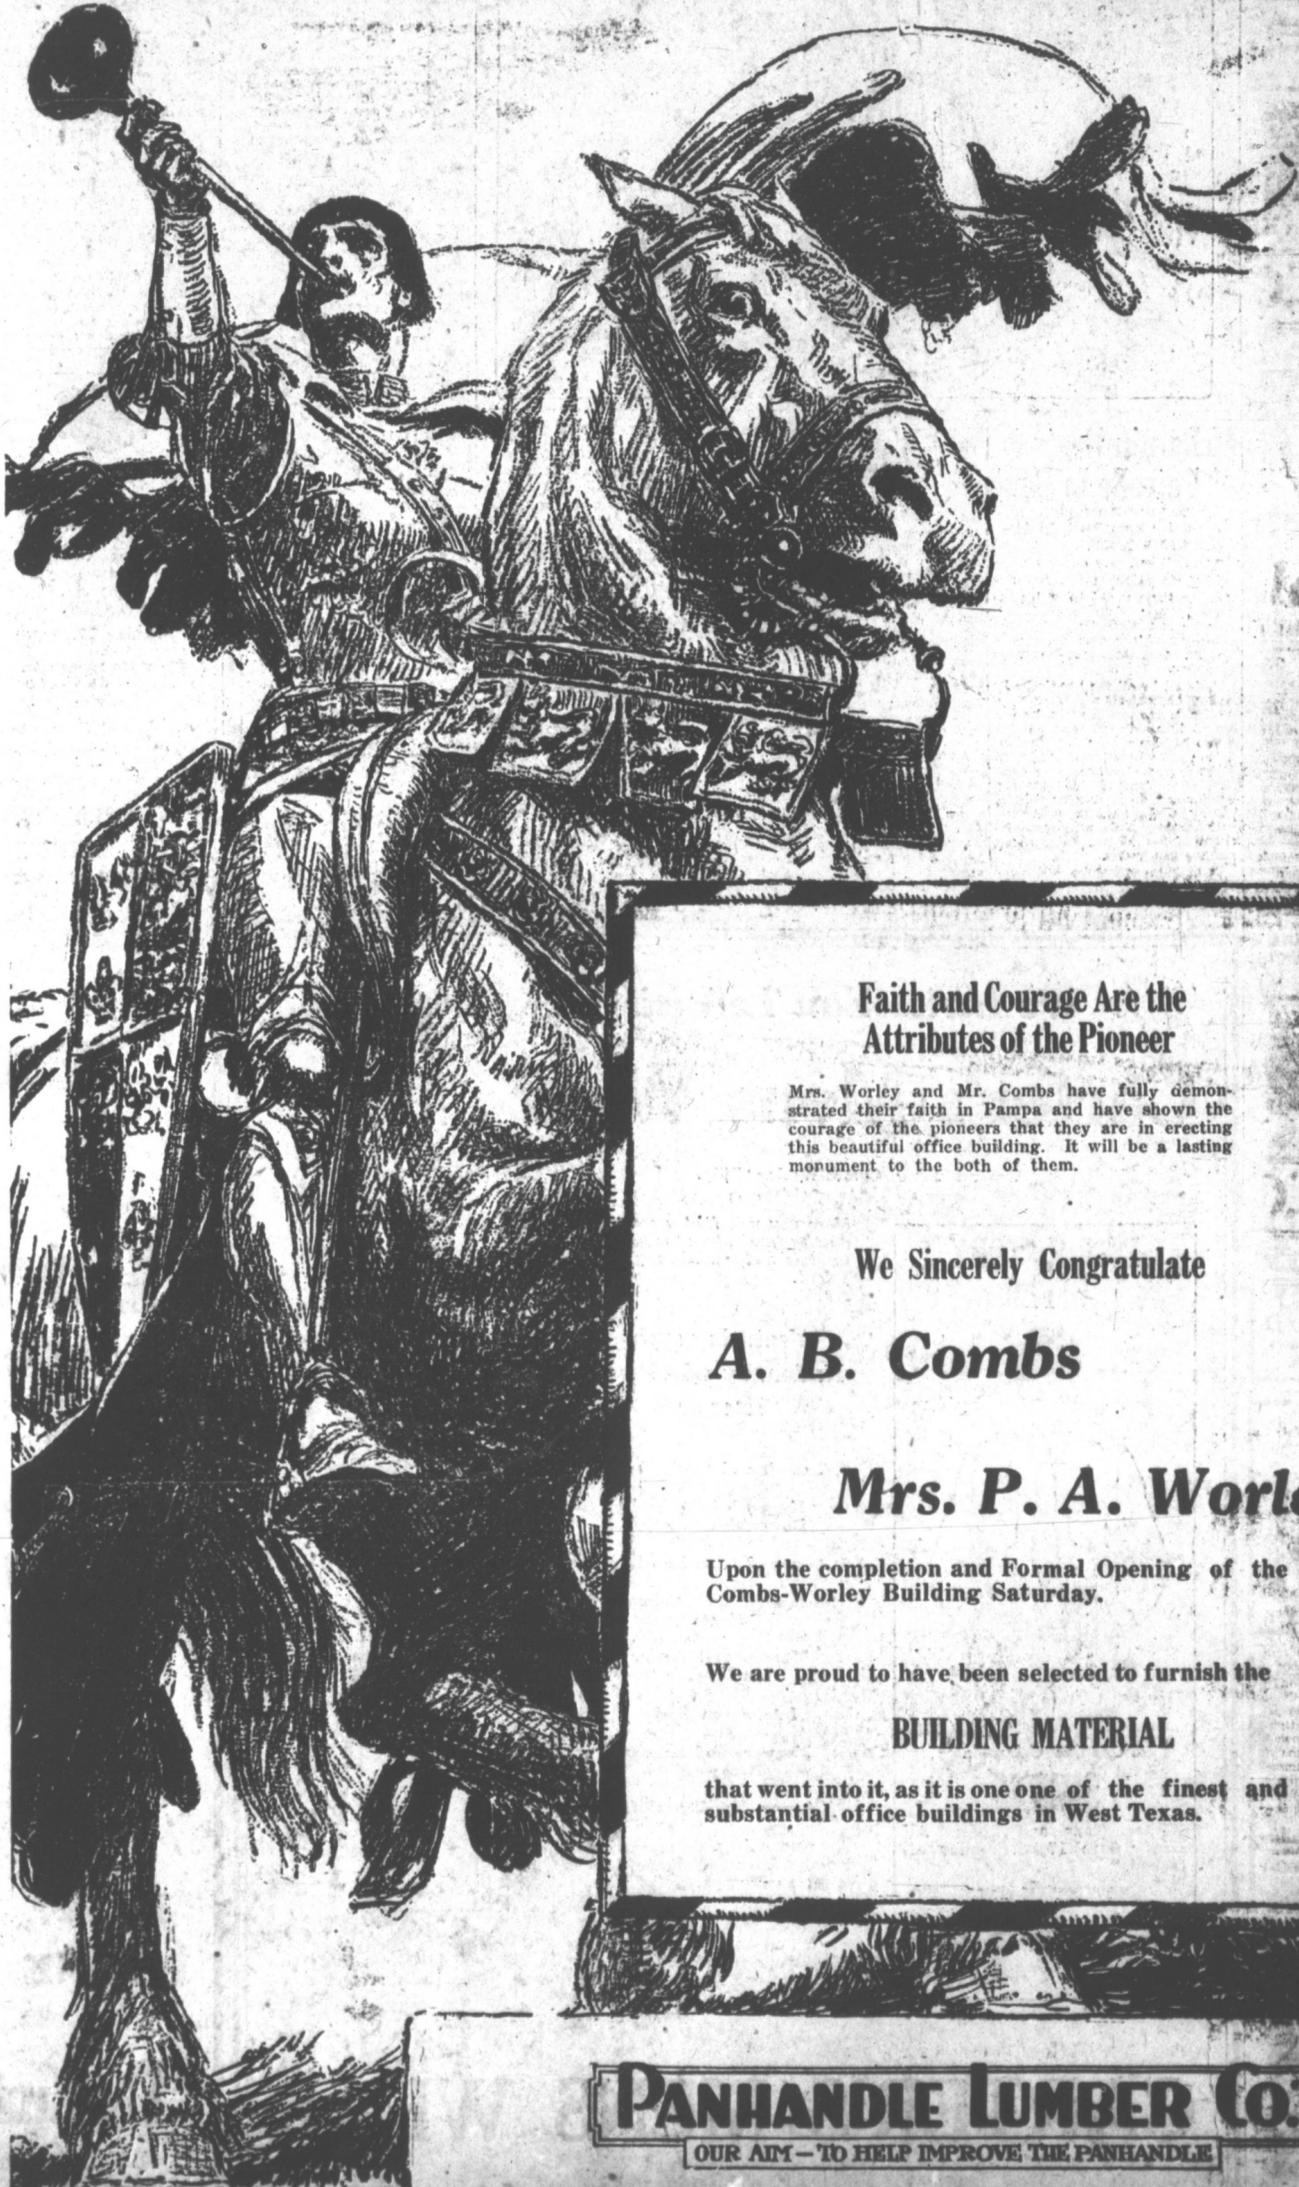

CLARENDON, Aug. 21. (AP)—The West Texas chamber of commerce has been called on to help find a market for the Donley county cantaloupe crop.

This county is so situated that it can supply cantaloupes at a time when no other district can meet market demands, according to C. L. Boush, secretary of the chamber of commerce. The early season melons come from the Rio Grande Valley, and that is known as the second crop from the vicinity of Donley, Boush said. Clarendon, then, is in a position to supply the market before the Colorado crop comes off, he said.

Chicago buyers have agreed to enter the field if they can obtain melons in carload lots. An increase in the crop is seen for next year on the strength of this offer.

MEXICAN GOLD MOVING

LAREDO, Aug. 21. (AP)—Bars of refined Mexican gold valued at approximately $13,000 each, and weighing from 600 to 650 ounces, or about 82 to 83 pounds, are passing through Laredo. During the first 10 days of July a total of 10 bars passed, representing a total valuation of about $100,000. This is the first refined gold coming out of Mexico to the United States in some year.
