

YANKES WIN AGAIN, 5 TO 2

Sterling Obtains Injunction To Keep Ma's Name Off Ballot

Improving business: Cleveland Industrial Rayon corporation has experienced a heavy demand for rayon yarn and cloth during the last few weeks.

Strange it is, but the treasury department has refunded the Pampa a few cents over-paid on his last income tax.

And strange it is, too, how many baseball fans have suddenly realized that they were pulling for the Yankees all the time.

Now we understand why Hoover is leading in some states of the Literary Digest poll—the voters are just "natural born" republicans and can't see the light.

Over-production of oil is threatened in the face of declining demand. There are two very common ways of discouraging over-production: Curtailment agreements and price cuts.

The alternative is cutting of prices. Such a step has been rumored for several weeks. There is much empty storage.

Recently this column wrote, in part, as follows: "As a result of the recent election for Congressmen at large, three members of Congress will be from the city of Dallas."

We yield space to "State Press" of the Dallas NEWS for a rebuttal, as follows: "The three Dallas congressmen are Mr. Summers, the regular, and Messrs. Strong and Bailey, representing the state at large."

JIM DECLARES 'THINGS WILL HAPPEN FAST'

JUDGE AVERS THERE IS TO BE NO DELAY IN HEARING

WRIT ONLY TEMPORARY FERGUSON NOT GIVEN ADVANCE NOTICE OF ORDER

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Texas' complex gubernatorial race became further involved when attorneys for Governor R. S. Sterling obtained a temporary injunction early today restraining Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state and others from having the name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson placed on the November 8 general election ballot as democratic nominee.

Judge W. F. Robertson of 126th district court granted the temporary restraining order after the attorneys appeared at his home and presented their plea.

The petition cited Mrs. Ferguson, her husband, James F. Ferguson, Mrs. McCallum, the democratic state executive committee, Maury Hughes, democratic state chairman, county judges and county clerks of each county in Texas.

No Date Set for Hearing. Attorneys representing the government were General M. M. Crane of Dallas, C. Bradley of Groesbeck and Sam McCorkle of Mexia.

Should it remain in force until after the election suit is decided, it probably would result in ballots going to printers without the name of the democratic nominee for governor thereon, unless some other action was taken to insure placing such a candidate on the ballot.

It was regarded as probable that some move would be made by the Ferguson to modify the injunction so as to obviate that possibility.

Speer Demands Answer. Ocie Speer, counsel for Mrs. Ferguson in the fight involving the democratic gubernatorial nomination, later filed a formal request for state, asking her to advise him if she would or would not certify Mrs. Ferguson as the democratic nominee.

BOYS AND GIRLS ARE HOT ON TRAIL OF NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS

Little business men and women—the boys and girls of Pampa—are looking hard for persons who may not be taking THE NEWS. It is a hard task, but they are looking hard in order to earn a ticket to the great Hagenbeck-Wallace circuit coming to Pampa, October 6.

CLUBMEN TO DINE TONIGHT

Members of Three Groups Hold Joint Meeting at Baptist Church.

Rotarians, Kiwanians, and Lions will dine together this evening in the basement dining room of the First Baptist church at 8 o'clock to "get acquainted" personally and exchange programs.

Presidents of the clubs and program chairmen will take turns presiding. Rotarians will break the ice, followed by the Kiwanians and Lions with 15 minutes allotted to each club. Sarcastic broadsides at familiar leaders of the clubs will be included.

The clubs omitted their regular luncheons this week but will make up attendance at tonight's dinner. Only the men and a few guests will attend. Some new orators are expected to be revealed as the program moves toward its more serious moments.

Scout Procedure Dramatized For Court of Honor

Citizens interested in boys and their welfare are promised an entertaining public ceremony Friday evening in the district courtroom at 7:30 p. m.

The occasion will be a court of honor presided over by the Rev. James Todd Jr. Many Boy Scouts will be presented for advance in rank, ranging from first class to star classification.

The ceremony has been written by Scout Executive C. A. Clark and is in the form of dramatization of the Scout oath and law. As the candidates for higher ranks are presented, candles will be lighted and Eagle Scouts and adult Scouters will go through the ceremony.

It is hoped that a large audience will be present to enjoy the program and encourage the boys.

There will be visitors from Panhandle and Borger.

Bell Dedicates School Building

The Bell community last night dedicated a new two-room brick school house, which is one of the best equipped in the county.

Supt. John B. Hessey made the main address on relations of a community with its school. Supt. R. B. Fisher of Pampa was another speaker. Visitors were Mrs. Hessey, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas, Miss Ruby Adams, Miss Hazel Christian, and Miss Catherine Howell.

Games were played and as a climax the group mingled about tables on which were placed fifty barbecued chickens and a typical country dinner.

RETURNS FROM PLAINVIEW. C. H. Walker, district governor of Lions, returned last night from a trip to Lubbock and Plainview, where he spoke to clubs of his organization and held conferences with the officers.

While in Plainview he visited relatives, including his daughter and grand-daughter.

HAWKINS WILL GO TO TRIAL NEXT TUESDAY

CASE INVOLVES HOLDUP OF EMPLOYEES OF REFINERY

WALKER TRIAL IS NEXT CALHOUN WILL DEFEND HAWKINS, PERHAPS WALKER

J. W. Hawkins, alias Doc Holley, will go to trial next Tuesday in district court on a charge of robbery in connection with the hold-up of employees of the Danziger refinery. He will be defended by Clem Calhoun of Amarillo, recent unsuccessful opponent of Attorney General Raymond Aljred.

Hawkins was arraigned yesterday, when Calhoun was here in his behalf. Berl Walker, indicted for the same offense, appeared before Judge W. R. Ewing this morning without an attorney, but he said that Calhoun would likely represent him also. Walker will follow Hawkins to trial. Arnold Chambliss, who has confessed to participation in the hijacking, will be tried October 24. Hawkins, in addition to four robbery indictments, faces trial also on a charge of robbery with firearms, a capital offense.

Bill Mann, charged with murder, was arraigned yesterday on the indictment and his bond fixed at $2,000. A special venire was called for his trial October 31. He is charged with slaying of John Clugby.

On Monday, the bank burglary case of Frank Roddy and Bob Betty, transferred from Lipscomb county, are set for trial. District Attorney John Sturgeon was busy.

First Issue Red Cross Cloth Has Arrived in City

The first issue of Red Cross cloth for the Pampa chapter arrived yesterday afternoon and work of making clothing for the poor and needy will start this afternoon in the city engineer's room in the city hall, according to John I. Bradley, president of the local chapter.

Mrs. W. B. Henry was elected chairman of the committee in charge of making the clothing at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Red Cross rooms in the city hall. Mrs. A. Gray was selected secretary and Mrs. Al Lawson, purchasing agent.

Members of local churches and clubs who plan to assist in sewing are asked to get in touch with Mrs. Henry, phone 9042F2, and receive instructions as to hours of work. Anyone having spare buttons and thread may taken them to the workers as only the material is furnished by the Red Cross.

Making of boys shirts will be started this afternoon, Mrs. Henry said this morning when notifying her first workers. In all, 3,500 yards of material will be received by the local chapter. Mrs. W. H. Davis, representative, requisitioned 35,000 yards.

Even The Hens Have The Idea Of PAMPA DAY

Strange was the egg which Mrs. J. Smith, who lives 5 miles southeast of the city, brought to the office of Miss Ruby Adams, home demonstration agent, this morning. It had no shell, and the thin skin covering was tapered at one end slightly, with an ending like that of a toy balloon.

SEVEN BANDITS ROB BANK OF $10,000 AND STAGE RUNNING BATTLE WITH PURSUING POSSE

Hundred Shots Fired From Sub-Machine Guns

HOLLAND, Mich., Sept. 29 (AP)—Seven bank robbers armed with sub-machine guns twice eluded a posse of 100 men near here this morning and were reported in full flight through western Michigan after looting the First State bank here of between $10,000 and $12,000 and wounding two men.

The bandits were halted temporarily near Drenthe by the pursuing posse, but broke away after opening fire with their submachine guns. State police and armed citizens then pursued them to a swamp near Jamestown, west of here, but again they eluded them and sped west, closely pursued.

Nearly 100 shots were fired by the fugitives in their two encounters with the posse.

Chief of Police Peter A. Lievegne and Peter de Young, a pedestrian, were shot and seriously wounded when they attempted to block the flight of the five men who robbed the bank.

SMALL BOY DIES. Kenneth Buesterhaus, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Buesterhaus, died at 12:30 p. m. today. He had been ill since Sunday.

The boy is survived by his parents and a sister, Merthadene.

I SAW

Yesterday, as many Harvesters as I have seen since the beginning of the season, Jess Patton was filling the left-end position as ably but ornamenting it was Jess, a stalwart youngster, who no helmet, and that shows off his handsomely moulded head, black hair and elegant "profel" advantage. Besides, it gives a claim s a, the better to win favor of the feminine element in the stands.

Cal Farley of Amarillo looked the Harvesters over yesterday. He is neutral, but he lives in Amarillo. "They look good," was all that he said, but the perceptibly anxious expression on his face indicated that he thought Amarillo would think the Harvesters were looking too good.

SIMMONS AND HAS SOLD TO CHICAGO SOX

MACK HINTS ATHLETICS BECAME SATIATED WITH VICTORY

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Connie Mack, venerable pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics, has started tearing apart the great baseball machine he drove to three American League flags in 1929, '30 and '31, and the Chicago White Sox, at the same time, have thrown their resources into the market for players of proved ability.

One of the most startling deals of recent baseball history, Manager Mack announced last night he had sold outfielders Al Simmons and George (Mule) Haas and infielder Jimmy Dykes to the White Sox for cash.

The price paid for the three stars was not announced but Sox officials said it was the largest amount of cash they ever have handed out and probably the greatest sum which ever exchanged hands in the American league. It was estimated the Sox put around $150,000 on the barrel head.

Whether the sale presaged a general breaking up of the present Athletic team, Connie Mack would not say.

The 67-year-old leader, just 17 years ago, wrecked a glamorous team because it had become satiated with victory.

Where Mack contented himself with the bare announcement of the deal, Sox officials were less reticent. "It means we are through trying to develop a winning team with rookies," said secretary Harry Grabner. "This is only the beginning. We are going out to get the players we want."

While Haas and Dykes are considered valuable players, Simmons is the big gun in the deal. Possessor of a nine-year major league batting average of nearly .300, he is recognized as one of the game's greatest stars. He is one of the most feared batters in the big leagues, a ball hawk in left field and, withal, a player any manager would welcome with open arms. He fell off in his hitting the past season, finishing with an average around .323.

Hint American Gangsters Slew Havana Leaders

HAVANA, Sept. 29 (AP)—Possibility that American gang gunmen may have invaded Cuba with ultra-modern methods of slaughter was investigated by police today in their effort to clear up the slaying of five political leaders here Tuesday.

They based their theory on the fact Dr. Clemente Vazquez Bello, president of the Cuban senate, friend of President Machado and prospective presidential candidate for next year, was slain very much to the general gasp.

The slaying was by a bullet from an automobile which roared up beside the car in which he was riding. The fact more than a dozen bullets penetrated his body and more than 20 struck the side of his car indicated, police said, that a sub-machine gun was used by the killers.

The marks of modernistic crime were not so clear in the slaying of the other four opposition leaders, however. Three brothers, Gonzalo, Leopoldo and Guillermo Freyre de Andrade were slain in their residences by a gang which rushed into the house, shot them down and rushed out again. Miguel Angel Aguilar, the fourth oppositionist slain, was shot down when he went to the door of his home to meet the killers.

A second plot, which police said might have resulted in wholesale deaths of the family and friends of Dr. Vazquez Bello, as well as high government officials, was uncovered by police yesterday in the discovery of a huge dynamite bomb planted in Colon cemetery near the spot where it was originally reported. Dr. Vazquez Bello would be buried. It was pointed out that the most prominent figures in Cuban political life and many government leaders would have been gathered around the spot at the funeral.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Cotton had an easier opening today owing to Liverpool cables which came in considerably lower than due, apparently because of the British cabinet crisis.

First trades here showed loss of 11 to 13 points, December dropping to 7.22 and January to 7.28. Hedge-selling contributed to the easier opening. Later in the first hour the market rallied somewhat on fears of cold weather in the northern portion of the belt and owing to a rather firm opening in stock. December rallied 8 points to 7.30 and March, the other active month, recovered 7 points to 7.42.

Near the end of the first hour the market eased from the top on hedging and a somewhat easier basis in the spot market.

The market became decidedly easier as the morning progressed and prices dropped rather sharply. December trading as low as 7.03 and January to 7.10, or 28 to 32 points under yesterday's close. The decline was attributed to liquidation due to improved weather in the belt, and a decrease in the export demand. There also was considerable hedge-selling by the co-operatives and others. Near noon, the market rallied 2 to 4 points from the lows on covering by satisfied shorts.

GRAIN LOWER
CHICAGO, Sept. 29 (AP)—Grain prices averaged lower early today after an irregular start. Commission houses with connections east were fairly active buyers of December wheat, but at 55 cents and above there was selling which brought about setbacks.

Opening 1-4 off to 1-2 up, wheat subsequently declined all around. Corn started 3-8 lower to 1-8 advance and afterward sagged.

Scanning New Books

By JOHN SELBY
NEW YORK—If blustering, brilliant Frank Harris lives only as the subject of Oscar Wilde's perfect bonnet ("Harris is received in all the best houses—once!") he will not have lived purposelessly.

To the end that his memory shall be clarified for posterity Hugh Kingsmill has undertaken to sift together what Harris said of himself, what others said of Harris and his own first and impressions of the man, and to extract the truth as nearly as he can. "Frank Harris" is being written long enough after Harris' death for a candid view of the man to be in good taste, and is perhaps the first calm writing about him to have appeared.

It mentions, therefore, the dozens of occasions when Harris needlessly put his own head under the hammer, as well as the triumphs of his amazing gifts. The resulting picture is that of a frustrated and sad man, who paid more than they were worth for his triumphs.

Back To The Ozarks
For the first time in a long while Harold Bell Wright has written an Ozark novel. "Ma Cinderella" is the book, and the chief character is a curious woman who bosses an Ozark neighborhood. (and more) with quite astonishing efficiency.

Wright's vast army of readers should be delighted to get back to the "Shepherd of the Hills" neighborhood.

Their novel-reading antipathesis should be equally amused by "The Fanatics," Charles Bonner's first novel. It is a quite sophisticated piece about the deteriorating influence of intolerance arriving in the person of a crusading preacher.

Perhaps without realizing it, Bonner has translated the typical English vicar, country squire, tavern and life routine to Central New York—where it fits very well.

Other Books Of The Week
Novels: James Hilton's "Rage in Heaven," about an Englishman who marries a gypsy; Edith Wharton's technically brilliant "The Gods Arrive"; Phyllis Bentley's long, complicated and fascinating tale of the Yorkshire mills, "Inheritance"; Bradford Ropes' clever combination of "Burlington" and the ubiquitous "Grand Hotel" called "42nd Street"; Autobiography: "Directions and Indirections," in which Lady Duff Gordon talks about kings and folkies girls. Analysis: Paul Cohen-Portier's intelligent and readable restatement of Europe's glories, past and possible, called "The Discovery of Europe."

BUSINESS LOOKS UP WITH BETTER SENTIMENT

The large chart above portrays the long-term trend of business activity since 1920. The smaller charts show activity in individual departments of trade during 1931, and thus far this year. The general trend in August was up more than is usual at this time of the year.

By J. R. BRACKETT.
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Business improved more than usual in August, the Conference of Statisticians in industry reports.

The conference, operating under the auspices of the National Industrial Conference Board, finds that improvement continued into the first two weeks in September, and that "general sentiment continues to favor at least the arresting of the downward movement in coming months."

Some improvement is usual at this time of the year as a result of fall demands. This year, however, the improvement appears to be more than normal. It is difficult to analyze the persistence of the trend now established, because a small gain from the low levels in July still leaves business far below normal.

Arguments for continued improvement are found principally in underlying factors, such as the comparative stoppage of bank failures, ease of credit, disappearance of fear that the gold standard would fall, firming and rising tendencies in commodity prices, and more hopeful sentiment. Increases in business activity at previous periods in the depression have been more extensive than at present, but they have been short-lived because the factors mentioned here were unsatisfactory.

Automobile output declined further in August, while building and engineering construction showed continuing increases counter to the usual trend at this time of the year. The slackening in iron and steel output was contrary to the usual trend. Carloadings were up, as were department store sales.

More bituminous coal was mined, and electric power production increased seasonally, showing additional improvement in the first half of September. All branches of the textile industries showed greater gains than normal.

Many temporary plant suspensions increased unemployment markedly in July, but numerous reopenings in August compensated for that low level.

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked.

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted" That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

HARVESTERS' POWER WILL GET FIRST TEST TOMORROW

PAMPA-CLOVIS TILT TO OPEN SEASON HERE

HEAVY WILDCAT SQUAD SCHEDULED TO BE TROUBLESOME

Harvester park will be the scene of the opening football game of the 1932 season tomorrow afternoon, when the Harvesters will entertain the Clovis High school Wildcats from Clovis, N. M. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. Admission will be 50 cents with reserve seats 25 cents extra.

The Wildcats come to Pampa with a 33 to 0 win over the Hobbs high school under their belt. They have been working for several weeks and have rounded into shape early, according to word from Clovis. In New Mexico students can play football until they are 21 years old, which gives them an advantage over Texas schools.

The Clovis backfield is boasted as one of the fastest in New Mexico. It is made up of veterans and will average about 175 pounds in a veteran backfield. The line is big but a little green. The team boasts four guards and all their names start with the letter C, being Charry, Craft, Carrasco, and Cavinas. Two sets of brothers play on the team. They are W. Smith and E. Perry and O. Perry, both halfbacks.

The Harvesters scrimmaged against the Gorillas yesterday afternoon and received a real shock. They thought the little fellows could be trampled easily, but found to their dismay that Coach Warren Moore has a team started that should prove interesting to several smaller teams in this territory. Several times the little fellows held the green and gold.

The Harvesters cavorted thru the scrimmage like a bunch of fresh youngsters and Coaches Mitchell and Fox announced themselves satisfied with the team. Of course, there is plenty of room for improvements, but the boys should make a good showing against the Wildcats.

Gerdis Schmidt has been selected line captain to work with Captain Jim Pool. Gerdis is playing his last year with Pampa Harvesters. He should have a big year. He will be opposite a 170-pounder in the Clovis line. Either Hoot Fullingim or Carmen Howard will start the game at center in place of Clovis Green, out with a broken wrist. Fullingim apparently has the inside track because of his defensive ability. Harry Nelson at guard will probably be the other new-comer to the line.

The backfield has not been selected. There are so many youngsters fighting for two positions that it will be a toss-up who will get the assignment. Captain Jim Pool will be the probable starter at fullback with Dick Sullins at a halfback position. There will be Ed Ledrick, Sam Turner, Lloyd Hamilton, Bert Stevens, Preston Owens, and Robert Woodward fighting for the other two positions.

Officials for the game have not been selected. The sale of reserve seat tickets has not been large but officials believe a large crowd will see the Harvesters in action for the first time this year.

The game with the Borger Bulldogs has been advanced to Friday night instead of October 8. The game will start at 8 o'clock under the artificial lights. The Bulldogs will be the first conference opposition of the year. Coach Noble Atkins is rounding out a strong team according to word from the carbon black city.

GEHRIG'S BIG STICK WRECKS MORALE OF BUSH AND MATES

Warnekt Pitches for Cubs Today Vernon Gomez for Yankees.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Thanks to an old established act, the Yankees were booming again along the victory trail today, possessors of their ninth straight world series triumph.

Just when the skies were darkest in more ways than one, when it seemed as though Guy Bush was well on the way to breaking up an act that flourished through the post-season championship struggles of 1926, 1927 and 1928, the team of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig rose in their might, smote the transgressor and shattered the morale of the Chicago Cubs in the opening game of the world series.

At the end of a stormy day, next to the poorest in the matter of attendance a Yankee world series ever has known, the score stood 12 to 6 in favor of the American league champions. But the final score told nothing of the gawdy return to world series play of the heroes of 1927 and 1928, when the Yankees won two world titles from the Pirates and Cardinals in eight successive games.

It was Ruth, just recovered from a mild attack of appendicitis, who marched to the plate in the third inning with the Cubs leading 2 to 0, and Earle Gomb, the first Yankee runner Bush had allowed on base, resting on second through the medium of a base on balls and an infield out.

The Babe smashed a long single to right and the grey-haired Kentucky colonel raced home. Lou Gehrig tramped to the plate. The count reached three and two. He laid into the deciding pitch and belted it far on a line into the right field stands.

The Babe's home run smashed unsettled Bush, king pin of the Cub curvers, and shattered the morale of a team that had pranced into battle, cocky and confident, to grab a quick two-run lead off Burly Charley Ruffing, best of the Yankee right hand pitchers. Bush lost his control. His partner faltered behind him. And the game wore on to its inevitable conclusion.

Only 41,459 spectators braved showers to see the highly favored Yankees tear away to an impressive start.

It wasn't so much that the Yankees, famed for their hitting array, overpowered the Cubs as was expected, or that the giant headed Ruffing handcuffed the National league hitters with his fireball and cracking curve.

The Cubs, as a matter of fact, banged Ruffing the red briskly in spots, but only after the Yanks had sprinted far to the front. The Bruins picked up ten hits, among them a pair of doubles and a triple, while the men of Joe McCarthy touched Bush, and his successors, Burleigh Grimes and Bob Smith, for only eight.

Both managers nominated starting pitchers for today. Vernon Gomez, crack young southpaw, was McCarthy's choice and Lon Warneke, the sensational youngster of the Cub staff, the hope of Charlie Grimm to even the series before the two teams leave tonight to resume the battle in three straight games starting on the Chicago front-Saturday.

The probable line-ups: Yankees—Harman, 2b; Combs, cf; English, 3b; Sewell, 3b; Cuyler, rf; Ruth, rf; Stephenson, lf; Gehrig, 1b; Demaree, cf; Lazzeri, 2b; Grinn, 1b; Dickey, c; Hartnett, c; Chapman, cf; Koenig or Jurgess, ss; Crossett, c; Warneke, p.

Approved Ruling (A. R.) And Approved Ruling is an official decision on a given statement of facts. It serves to illustrate the spirit or the application of the rule. The relation between the rule proper and an Approved Ruling is analogous to the relation between statutory law and a decision of the Supreme Court.

Ball Article 1: The ball may be put in play by kick-off, scrimmage, or free kick. The ball then remains in play until under specific provisions of the rules it becomes dead.

Article 2: A dead ball is a ball which under the rules has ceased to be in play. It continues to be dead until again put in play according to rule.

Article 3: A free ball is a ball which is in play but not in the possession and control of any player.

Article 4: It is a fumble when a player in possession and control of the ball in play loses such possession and control other than by passing or kicking it.

(A. R.) Player of Team A is carrying the ball and player of Team B snatches the ball from him before it is declared dead. Ruling: Fumble.

Article 5: A muff is an unsuccessful attempt by a player to gain possession and control of a free ball, in which attempt he actually touches the ball.

Blocking Blocking is the obstruction of an opponent by a player bringing his body into contact with a player of the opposing team.

In blocking, the hands and arms may not be used except they be close to the body.

It is illegal to use a flying block in which the player dives or throws his body through the air at an opponent.

It is legal for the blocker to leave his feet at the instant he makes contact with an opponent.

ROY THROWS FARMER; MICHAEL LOSES TO CLAUSEN

Pampa Wrestling Fans Witnessed a Match at the Pla-Mor Auditorium Last Night in Which Neither Wrestler in the Main Event Could Get the Other to Pat the Mat.

Pampa wrestling fans witnessed a match at the Pla-Mor auditorium last night in which neither wrestler in the main event could get the other to pat the mat. Farmer Vance, 58 years old and tougher than Dutch Mantell, won first fall from Rob Roy, local boy, in 17 minutes with a right to the head and a smother.

The Pampa youngster gave the Farmer some of his own medicine to win the last two falls. He had Vance nearly out repeatedly but the veteran kept coming back until he had Rob dizzy looking for him.

Red Michael met more than a match in the semi-final and bowed to Henry Clausen of the House of David in 14 minutes. After Clausen started using nerve holds, the red-head lost his sense of balance and started in to get the be-whiskered boy from the north. Red pulled whiskers from Clausen's abundant beard and made him mad. Clausen used several new types of arms holds that had Michael in a daze. He was plainly too experienced for the redhead, who has been going strong.

Clausen has wrestled all over the world for the last 12 years, while Michael is just in his third year of ring work. The youngster put up a good fight but left his arms open to the veteran, who used them to his own advantage.

Vance started in to win the first fall of the main event in a hurry. He choked Roy almost into submission before Referee Michael could break him loose. He rabbit-punched Roy wherever an opening appeared and scowled to the crowd that he was going to show the younger generation how the old timers act. Roy, however, surprised him by coming back and giving blow for blow and hold for hold. The massacre went on for 17 minutes, then Vance slipped a right hook to the head and Rob took the count.

Coming back cautiously, Rob started to work the old fellow down by getting punishing holds and then letting them go to get others. Holds were exchanged that should have made any wrestler in the game pat the mat but neither Vance or Roy would give in. There were toe holds, arm holds, scissors, slams, and other holds applied with rapidity. Roy couldn't use his famous head holds on the veteran, whose head was round as a pea and with little hair on it.

The local boy finally got Vance into a punishing scissor which won the fall, assisted by a couple of nice wallops and a smother. Rob won the third and deciding fall in about 10 minutes in similar fashion. He worked the old gentleman at top speed from the opening gong, all the time staying away from haymakers that were filling the air. Rob's marvelous speed came into play in the last fall more than during the other falls.

Joe Kopecky writes THE NEWS that he wants a "crack at Roy and that he wants it now." He claims that the local flash ran out on him after issuing a challenge in Amarillo last week. The cotton picker is well known here.

TODAY'S HARVESTER

The player who has showed about the most improvement during the past week is Henry Will "Hoot" Fullingim, 16 years old, who is making a good job at filling the center job in place of Clovis Green, who is out with an injured hand. Hoot is 6 feet, 3 inches tall and weighs 178 pounds. He is playing his third year of football, one with Deatur and last year a Gorilla letterman end. He has been in Pampa two years, living with his brother Archer Fullingim, city editor of THE NEWS.

Your guess is as good as mine when it comes to the starting line-up tomorrow afternoon. Those coaches sure are secretive fellows. I slip up behind one of them sudden-like and say "What's your starting line-up?" The quiet response is "I don't know." It sure is maddening. I tell you anyway. I have my team picked. It may not agree with the coaches selection but I bet I don't miss it more than one position. Here is it, take it or leave it—Patton and Kelley, ends; Walker and Powell, tackles; Schmidt and Nelson, guards; Fullingim, center; Ledrick, quarterback; Sullins and Hamilton, halfbacks; Pool, fullback. Any one disagree?

district member. He has not viewed the world from the parish berry. He has, on the other hand, had the national outlook. He had the courage to vote against the soldier bonus, which in itself proves the width of his view. So did the Fort Worth congressman, Mr. Latham, and so did the tall cypress of the Senate, Senator Tom Connally. If the people of Texas want courageous statesmen, let them continue to come to Dallas for them, or go to Marlin. All this is apart, however, from the question of redistricting. The next legislature should run new district lines and add three districts the state is entitled to. It should be done even if some members of the legislatures are thrown into districts from which it would be difficult or impossible for them to go to congress. But until the new districts are ordered, the people of Texas could do no better than to keep the two extra members from Dallas.

INJUNCTION--

ceive it tomorrow, Mrs. McCallum said.

Judge Robertson asked them if attorneys for Mrs. Ferguson were in town and if they had been notified. She said they had asked for an opportunity to be heard before any injunction in the case was granted.

"We object to giving them any advance notice, whatever," Bradley declared.

Ferguson Is Vehement.

Judge Robertson set 2 p. m. today for a conference with attorneys for Governor Sterling and Mrs. Ferguson to ascertain "what they were going to do" about trying the election contest suit filed by Governor Sterling.

Judge Robertson said he wanted to make sure there would be no delay in trying the suit, in which Governor Sterling is seeking to have Mrs. Ferguson ousted as the democratic gubernatorial nominee and himself certified as the legal nominee. His suit alleged he received a majority of the legal votes cast in the August 27 primary election.

James E. Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Ferguson and her chief political advisor, was asked what he intended to do about the injunction, granted early today by Judge Robertson, in which Mrs. Jane Y. Callum, secretary of state, was restrained from certifying the name of Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee to the county clerk.

"We intend to fight them from hell to hog river," he replied vehemently.

"There will be no quarter. We'll fight them as hard as we can in every way we know how. We'll fight the devil with his own fire."

Alfred Gives Opinion.

Ferguson said "30 minutes delay in certifying the nominee would tie up the election machinery," adding that the suit had the election machinery "all balled up now."

The former governor went to the courthouse in person today to obtain a copy of the injunction. Leaving the courthouse, he went into a conference with his attorneys, Luther Nickels of Dallas and Otis Speer of Austin, to plan their next move.

Nickels said the Ferguson's answer to the governor's suit was virtually finished. Nickels anticipated that the time of filing the answer of the defendant was one of the things Judge Robertson wanted to discuss at the conference. He did not comment on what it would contain.

The Ferguson's were served with citation in the governor's suit last Friday. Nickels said he believed the defense would have ten days from the filing of the suit to file an answer.

Speer said he was not surprised at the injunction and predicted things would "happen pretty fast around here in the next few days."

The attorney general's department had handed Mrs. McCallum an opinion late yesterday which held that she should certify nominees for state and district offices before October 1 "or at least within sufficient time to permit county clerks to perform their statutory duties," in preparing the ballot.

Only indirect reference was made to certification in instances where a contest of the election had been filed and that question was not discussed in the opinion. It was a conference opinion, prepared by Homer de Wolfe, assistant attorney general.

Shackleton, Heir To Land Owned By Grandfather

E. A. Shackleton, Pampa farmer and long time Gray county resident, received word yesterday that he, as an heir of John P. Shackleton, his grandfather, was now part owner of one-half acre of land in Wapakoneta, Ohio.

The message stated that in Nov. 15, 1888, John P. Shackleton donated the half acre of land for a school and that it had been used for that purpose until recently, when the building was razed. The land reverted back to the heirs.

Besides Mr. Shackleton, living heirs are his sister, Mrs. Treva Money of Salmu, Ohio, and two aunts, sisters of his father, Mrs. Minerva Crawford of Wapakoneta, Ohio, and Mrs. Emma Cutler of Curtis, Ark.

A Wapakoneta man desires to purchase the piece of ground and this morning Mr. Shackleton received papers to sign for the sale of the property, which is described as being nine perches square. Not knowing what nine perches square of land constituted, Mr. Shackleton consulted the county engineer's department. It was found by a diligent search that land was measured by perches years ago and that a perch was about a rod.

Mr. Shackleton's grandfather died in 1870.

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom 'n Pop) And It Grew and Grew! By COWAN

NEW EVIDENCE THAT GARRETT ALLOWED BILLY THE KID TO ESCAPE IS 'NOT IMPOSSIBLE'

ODESSA, Sept. 30.—Twenty-one men say that Billy the Kid, notorious New Mexico outlaw is dead, and that a stone marks his grave. Of these 21, only one or two ever saw him. Their story is based upon what history of this outlaw tells plus their belief.

The report that circulated in Mentone, a small town west of Odessa, that the kid was still alive, an old white haired man, no longer fearing the law, but the vengeance of the friends of those he killed, still prevails.

An old ex-rancher, quite familiar with the facts about the outlaw, is positive that the erstwhile bad man lives. Other ranchers in that section claim that it is "not impossible for the kid to be alive." He escaped from closer calls than the brush he hid with the law. Sheriff Pat Garrett did not kill Billy the Kid, the ex-rancher asserted, although he reported it to be the case. He and the kid were good friends.

It is recorded that the fatal shooting occurred in a room at night, and no one actually witnessed it. A hurried burial was had, and the body of "someone" was placed under the ground. One rancher in Mentone related that a personal friend of Sheriff Garrett, asserted that the person Garrett shot was a Mexican and that he (Garrett) gave the kid money and let him go free.

A Fort Worth resident who claimed to have once sold drinks to the youthful outlaw believes him to be dead, although he stated he did not see the outlaw in death but has talked to many southwesterners who did. The ex-rancher from Mentone is positive that Billy the kid lives.

Jesse McKee, Mentone business man for a number of years doubted the truthfulness of the report, but stated that he had talked to this ex-rancher who claimed to have believed Billy the kid the night he was reported killed by Garrett.

Strong supporters of the claim that the outlaw died under the sheriff's gun are not wanting. Captain James B. Gillett, who served as Texas Ranger in this section for almost a quarter of a century said:

"I am surprised that any one should doubt the death of Billy the kid, when there are so many facts to prove he is dead."

Captain Gillett, now living in Marfa, was familiar with all of this section and was intimately acquainted with Garrett and Billy the kid. He declared the "kid" was killed at Old Fort Sumner, New Mexico, about midnight July 14, 1881. Gillett says the kid was shot in the breast by Sheriff Pat F. Garrett "in the discharge of his duties."

The former Ranger captain submitted a copy of the report of the coroner's inquest held at that time, which reads:

"We, the jury, unanimously say that Wm. Bonney came to his death from a wound in the breast in the region of the heart, fired from a pistol in the hand of Pat F. Garrett, and our decision is that the action of the said Garrett was justifiable homicide; and are united in opinion that the guilt of all the community is due to said Garrett for his action and that he deserves to be compensated."

'The Decameron' Isn't Immoral, U. S. Decides

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The United States government, which first had contended otherwise, upbent far enough in its surveillance of national morals to admit that "The Decameron," repository of fourteenth century Neoplatonic philosophy, wit and gaiety, is not obscene and immoral.

The admission, made yesterday by Oswald A. Blanchard, assistant United States district attorney for Minnesota, eliminated the necessity for a jury trial, as had first been planned, to determine the book's moral qualification.

Two sets of two volumes of the literary work together with a more modern tome, "Married Love," by Marie Stopes, were included in a shipment seized by federal customs officials here last spring for violation of federal tariff regulation forbidding importation of "obscene matter."

Dr. Mabel Ulrich, Minneapolis bookstore proprietor, to whom the volumes were consigned, hired counsel to prevent destruction of the books as demanded by the government in a libel proceeding. Her attorneys found citation in New York and Pennsylvania federal court records holding that the book, "Married Love," is not immoral, and found further citations in support of their claim that "The Decameron" is a recognized literary classic and has been sold publicly in the United States many years.

Walker Named To Set Pampa's Welfare Needs

C. H. Walker of Pampa has been designated by Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the West Texas chamber of commerce, to serve as Governor R. S. Sterling's representative in the preparation and submission of Pampa's application for funds out of the $300,000,000 provided by the federal emergency relief and construction act of 1932.

The West Texas chamber of commerce has been charged by the governor with the responsibility of naming the chairmen in each town and county in its territory and assembling the applications from the towns. The directors of the affiliated towns have been named as chairmen. In unaffiliated towns, the chamber has named others as chairmen.

Already application blanks and instructions have gone out to the 200 towns, cities, and 130 counties in West Texas from the office of the West Texas chamber of commerce at Stamford.

Assistance in making out the applications is to be given by the regional organization, General Manager D. A. Banden, at Stamford, will devote most of his time during the next two weeks in assisting towns and counties in that part of West Texas in making the applications. The same assistance will be given to the Panhandle-Plains cities; by Assistant Manager Maury Hopkins at Plainview. Jack Hoti, manager of the Fort Worth chamber of commerce, will assist at Fort Worth, and Captain E. H. Simons, manager of the El Paso chamber of commerce, in that part of the territory.

Applications for the relief must be made through the West Texas chamber of commerce and must be filed by October 13 in order to give the organization time to transmit them to the governor before October 15. The governor will make application for the State of Texas on October 15.

The funds to be applied for now are for the months of October, November and December. The amount will be based upon the amount that has been spent for relief and relief work by the respective applicant cities during the past twenty-one months, or since January 1, 1931.

Texas Forecasts Resubmission In Next Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Submission of the prohibition issue to the people during the next session of congress is favored by Chairman Summers of the house judiciary committee.

The Texas democrat, long a prohibition supporter, announced his position in a statement issued last night. At the last session, the committee he heads voted down a proposed home-rule amendment to the eighteenth amendment.

Summers said: "Regardless of attitude towards the liquor question, the position of the major political parties and the other indications of public attitude and purpose, establish that it is a fact that the resubmission of the eighteenth amendment, as it is usually stated, is a foregone conclusion."

"Quite probably that issue will be submitted during the next session of congress. It is my purpose to favor such submission. The question is ripe. The national campaign will be over and it would seem as good time as any to get this question back to the people for the expression of their attitude and judgment with reference to it."

Youth to Make Parachute Jump

Eddie Whitfield, who was scheduled to jump at the airport yesterday evening, was forced to postpone his performance until this evening because of the lack of any spectators at the field.

In his jump this evening he will free fall 1800 feet before opening his parachute and in case he has not a sufficient crowd will not appear at the Pampa airport again. He plans on going up to 3,000 feet and falling over half-way to the ground before opening his chute, and landing as close to a prearranged spot as possible.

He has often jumped and fallen several thousand feet before opening his chute and holds several world's records because of such free falls. The jump is to take place at 6 p. m. and in case he is not able to jump at that time, for any reason at all he will not make another jump at the field. Another interesting feature of the jump is that he may make the leap on the first flight of Raymond Bartig's new Swallow, which is completed and ready to fly.

SNOWDEN QUILTS LONDON, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who was denounced by his labor party colleagues when he formed his national cabinet to face the British financial crisis last October, stood firm today despite the resignation of his colleagues of 40 years, Philip Snowden, and several Liberal cabinet members.

PLUMBS SEA'S DEEPEST DEPTHS

In this curious bathysphere, which looks so much like the gondola of Prof. Piccard's stratosphere balloon, William Beebe (center) and Otis Barton descended farther into the sea's depths than man ever went before. They dropped about half a mile, doubling their former depth record. Strange headlight-bearing fish swam in a cool green world of water remote from the world of men. They made valuable scientific observations in their test, made off Bermuda.

Border Revolt Makes Russo-Jap Situation Tense

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Difficulties of Russia and Japan on the Manchurian border were revived today by the revolt of the Chinese general, Su Ping-Wen, whose troops seized the key border town of Manchuli and a considerable part of the surrounding area of Manchukuo.

A large number of Manchukuo troops were killed when General Su's artillery destroyed four barracks at Manchuli and seized a number of towns and villages in the vicinity, reports said.

Manchukuo authorities appeared unable to proceed against General Su's men and the possibility of Japanese military action was complicated.

Four Tennis Stars In Quarter Finals

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Four international net stars went into the quarter-finals of the Pacific coast tennis championships today as the field of contestants narrowed.

Fred Perry and Henry "Bunny" Austin of England, Jiro Satoh of Japan and Giorgio de Stefani of Italy scored victories in third round play yesterday.

As a quarter-final opponent, Perry drew Lester Stofen, Los Angeles. Satoh meets Bryan Grant, Atlanta, Ga. De Stefani tests his skill with Ed Chandler, a former national intercollegiate titleholder. Austin faces Gerald Stratford of San Francisco.

CLUBS BRING PLEASURE TO SCORES OF BOYS AND GIRLS

LEARNING ALSO ACHIEVED THRU ORGANIZATIONS

DIVERSIONS PROVIDED SEVERAL HUNDRED CHILDREN

Mother has her study club, father has his civic club, and many parents believe that is where club activities end. But no. The children also have clubs, and the membership is numbered in the hundreds. The membership is larger than the combined federal study clubs—larger than all the civic clubs combined.

taken seriously. It is a source of taken fun, and it is also as much a part of a child's education as is the class lesson.

Drums, songophones, bells sticks, xylophones, triangles, snap-pers, tambourines—these are a few of the many instruments that are used in the three rhythm bands for little tots at Woodrow Wilson school. And in the Woodrow Wilson orchestra are violins, saxophones, trumpets, cornets, a piano, and other instruments. The school also has two glee clubs, one for boys and one for girls.

The club is planning to organize a harmonica class this week and may begin an oil painting class and a sewing club in the near future. Literary societies will be organized this week. These societies have their officers just as any other organization, and present weekly programs.

The children also are interested in the various Mothers clubs which were to be organized this afternoon.

Horace Mann school has a harmonica band of 45 members, a glee club of about 50 members, and rhythm bands. Literary groups are in the process of organization.

Sam Houston school is giving instruction preparatory to organizing a harmonica band, and is making plans for a glee club. It also will have a band under the direction of Mr. Denton, experienced director, and may, at a later date, organize literary societies.

Baker school will have chapel this year for the first time. It also will have musical organizations, literary societies, and other groups.

All schools are devoting much attention to the Junior police and a safety program sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

Olive Joyce Oswalt Has Birthday Party

Little Olive Joyce Oswalt was complimented on her fourth birthday at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Clyde Oswalt, yesterday afternoon.

Childish games were enjoyed and pictures were taken. Balloons were given as favors.

At the close of the afternoon refreshments of chilly bears and devil's food cake were served to the following boys and girls: Raymond Lewis Wilson, Joe Pafford, Barbara Morrow, Junior Duenkel, Willa Dean Dean Ellis, Mary Maude Rutherford, Billie Nell and Clarence Rice, Jean Ann and Sandra Ferris, Glen Carey, Elizabeth and Esther Millinax, Bobby Roy Dyson, Bobby Neal Johnson, Patsy Dunninger, Doris Davis, James Kinzer, Hansel and Gloria Kennedy, Ottalean and Jean Patton, Jack Peddicord. All brought attractive gifts to Olive Joyce.

Clara Hill Class Meets Wednesday

Plans for the coming year were made by the cabinet of the Clara Hill Sunday school class, First Methodist church, yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Carl Sturgeon, president. Mrs. Roy Kretzschmar, historian, Mrs. J. R. Evans, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. W. V. McArthur, vice-president, were in attendance.

Means of increasing the membership were discussed, and a social event for each month was arranged.

Favorites To Play In Quarter-Finals Of Women's Meet

PEABODY, Mass., Sept. 29 (AP)—The guffing galleries will demand usages for their money probably would find today's women's championship play at the Salem country club a tame spectacle, for the quarter-finals lineup promised but little in the way of surprising reversals.

The eight survivors of the two rounds of matches appeared on the brink of taking another step toward the logical international final between Glenna Collett Vare, about the best on this side of the water, and Edith Wilson, the brassy British champion.

Mrs. Vare had to overcome Peggy Wattles of Buffalo, to qualify for the semi-finals and Miss Wilson faced opposition from Charlotte Glutting, the long hitter from Short Hills, N. J.

Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N. J., had an engagement with a worthy opponent, Ada MacKenzie of Toronto. The other clash on the card pitted Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, against Rosalie Knapp of Glenwood, N. Y.

'PUT SAFETY FIRST' ADVISES JUDGE WILLIS IN CHAPEL TALK

Judge Newton P. Willis addressed pupils of Pampa high school yesterday, using safety as his subject, and Supt. R. B. Fier spoke briefly on the same subject.

The devotional period was led by Jesse F. Wiseman, minister of the Church of Christ, who made a short talk based on the Bible. Entertainment was furnished by Miss Eleanor Fry, who gave two violin selections, and Mrs. A. N. Dilley, Jr., who presented an impersonation of a freshman practicing a vocal lesson.

Following is a synopsis of Judge Willis' address:

"You have no doubt often pondered upon the question what is the greatest force in the world. We all know that dynamite and TNT are powerful; explosives could destroy cities, in fact whole areas of our globe. Some would answer that steam, electricity or compressed air are the mightiest powers on earth. These physical forces are in deed potent. But I advance the proposition that intellect, ideas are the most cogent influences that we know.

"The history of the human race is the history of the evolution of the human mind. Thought, awakened, alert, triumphant has swayed the destinies of mankind. In this present power of mentality no thought force has ever been lost through the trail of years. Omnipotent and transcendent it has entered tribunal halls to subvert the rule of emperors and nations. It has swayed the destinies of kings. It has reached the borders of the universe on airy wings. It has searched all space and distance in its never ending quest.

"When we pause to think that mankind was created into this world absolutely void of every thing except the rude and crude forces of nature which strove against him, we realize the power of education and what it has done in the evolution of science, comfort, convenience, machinery invention.

"Ignorance," said the immortal Shakespeare, "is the curse of God; knowledge the wings whereon we fly to Heaven."

"Think of the evolution of ideas in the marvelous inventions that constitute our every day necessities: The invention of fire, gunpowder, the printing press, the steam engine, the telegraph, the telephone, the automobile, the radio, liquid air, dry ice and all the countless machines that take the place of sweating toil.

"We of Kiwanis come to you today to present to you the force of an idea, the thought of Safety First. On the threshold it may seem to you of little moment, but by analysis it assumes huge proportions. Resolved that by thought and practice we can overcome the menace of the automobile which kills yearly more than thirty thousand of our population, among them last year were 22,000 school children, and also each year more than one million of our population are being injured thereby.

"The Bible propounds the question 'Who by taking thought can add one cubit to his stature?' It is the thought we can increase our physical dimensions, merely by imagining we are larger than we are, but we can increase our bodily security from harm by thought and practice.

"Thirty years ago the railroads of our country, particularly the new systems of the west were considered the most dangerous agencies in the world; insurance companies hesitated to include passenger travel in their policies. Twenty-five years ago the railroads organized to promote the idea of safety first against accidents and personal injuries. So completely did they achieve their purpose that today a railroad train is considered the safest place in the world and all insurance companies give double indemnity for loss of life thereon.

"We propose to organize the schools of this city, the parents, the pupils and the police; to appoint junior police to enforce traffic signals, both for pedestrians and motorists, the junior police to be selected from students and to cooperate with the city forces; and thereby to achieve what we did last year in Pampa—a scholastic year without a single accident from motor cars."

My Beauty Hint

By KAY FRANCIS

When tanned or sunburned, I use rouge and powder sparingly. The tint the sun gives one is color enough, I think, although if one insists on rouge, an orange shade is better than a bright pink or red. Powder base looks artificial over tan, and the powder should be used only to take off shine rather than to cover up blemishes.

As to lipstick—emphatically yes! Carefully applied, in a dark red to blend with my brownness; I find in my own case it centers the attention and forces the lighter red or the sunburn into the background.

JAYSEES AND PHILLIPS WIN

NEWS Loses 13 to 4; Rose Building Defeated Six to Three.

Two postponed games in the City Playground ball league were played yesterday afternoon with the Jaysees defeating the Rose building 6 to 3 and Phillips downing the NEWS 13 to 4. The games were previously called off because of rain.

The Jaysee youngsters played the best ball of the season against the veteran Rose building team. They made only one bobble during the entire game, while the Rose boys defense cracked under the strain of a 3-all tie for several innings. The Jaysees scored three runs in the seventh when Nicholson, Berry and Adair crossed the plate after one man was out.

Hits were scarce on both sides. Marshall and Crites of the Rose building were the only players to get two hits. Berry of the Jaysees and Miller of the Rose building tangled in a pitchers' duel with Berry pitching his best ball of the season. Cahill committed three lobbies to hurt the Rosemen's cause. The fielding plays of the day went to White and Nicholson.

The NEWS infield cracked to let Phillips get a big lead in the game played at Danziger. Drain out-pitched Hieronimus throughout the game but his support was nil. He struck out 13 of the Phillips batters including Red Weathered, Kirkpatrick and Christian twice. Ray Acklam of the newsmen was the only player on the field to get two hits, one going of a double to be the only extra base blow of the game.

The Phillips bunched their hits and coupled with nice baserunning scored repeatedly. Fielding was not as tight as usual. The umpiring was protested by the newsmen several times during the game.

Donations for Luncheons at School Needed

An urgent need was expressed by Principal Josephine Thomas this morning for donations with which to buy food to feed hungry children in Horace Mann school.

The charge for luncheons at the cafeteria is at the minimum, only 15 cents. Miss Thomas said. That amount will make the cafeteria self-sustaining but it will not bring any extra money with which to feed the needy of the school. Some of the children require help this year who never before accepted charity. Miss Thomas said, and the Taylor Farm Dairy has volunteered to provide milk without charge for each child given free lunches.

Tomorrow's menu, all for 15 cents, is as follows: Roast beef and brown gravy, creamed potatoes, apple pie, and milk.

SYNOPSIS: Out of a whirl of muddled attempts on his life, of conflicting tugs at his emotions, Jervis Weare emerges with but one clear impression. His wife Nan, whom he had thought married to him coldly, to advance her position, had some deeper reason. Was it love? He is awakened in the middle of the night to find her terrified by a grisly dream that he is dead.

Chapter 34

A VOICE FROM THE DARK

Jervis wished he had not asked Nan whether she would mind if he were dead. When he had been wishing it with all his heart for a quite long time, she drew a sobbing breath.

"I'm sorry," he said. "I'm not used to anyone—minding about me."

She looked round at him then with something in her eyes which blotted out everything that he had thought or believed about her before this night. It was something quite impossible to mistake. There were tears in her eyes, and behind the tears a shining.

He got up in confusion, went over to the bed table, poured out a glass of water, and came back with it in his hand. Nan took it gratefully, but her hand shook. He found himself guiding it. She drank about half the water and gave him the glass again. When she spoke, it was in her natural voice.

"Thank you, Jervis." Then, after the slightest pause, "I'm all right now—it's gone." She threw out her hand with a childish gesture. "Oh, isn't it lovely when bad dreams go like that?"

"It's quite gone?"

"Yes."

"Can you go to sleep again?"

She said, "I'll read."

"Have you got a book?"

"Yes."

He stood there, not knowing quite what to do. He felt as if he had never seen her before, and yet as if he had known her all his life.

He said, "Nan," in a tone which she had not heard from him before.

She pushed back her hair and smiled at him.

"I'm really all right now. I'm dreadfully sorry I woke you."

"Would you like me to leave the door open?"

"Oh, no—I've got Bran."

A perfectly absurd answer flared up in him. She had Bran, had she? Well, let her have Bran! He certainly hadn't the slightest desire to force himself upon her. He frowned, said good-night in a stilted polite voice, and strode to the door. As he shut it, he caught a glimpse of her settling herself against her pillows.

His room seemed very dark. He went over to the bed and sat on the edge of it, watching the line of light under the door through which he had just come. His spirit of anger died. He was moved and puzzled.

He could not remember anyone having cried for him before. It moved him a good deal that Nan should have cried for him this afternoon. She had sat on the dusty grass and cried because she thought he was dead. It was an astonishing thing to have happened; and yet it was less astonishing and less moving than the look which she had given him just now.

When he thought about that look of Nan's, a sort of piercing sweetness and warmth penetrated to the very depths of his consciousness. He was quite unable to think clearly about it, or indeed to think about it at all. The whole experience was as yet a matter of feeling; it had not been transmuted into thought.

He sat quite still for a long time, watching the line of light beneath the door. When at last it went out he got up, stretched himself, and got into bed. He lay on his right side and watched the moonlight. The moon was not full and the light was pale, not bright. The window framed it, and one black bough of the tall cypress at the corner of the house; the bough crossed the window like an outstretched arm.

He lay looking at it, and all the time that warm sweetness pierced deeper and deeper. He began to slip away from the moonlight into a more enchanted place. There was a dream waiting for him—a warm, sweet dream, full of color and light. But when he had almost reached it, something pulled him back.

He woke with one of those violent starts which come on the edge of sleep. In a moment he was out of bed and at the door between his room and Nan's. It opened on a dark room peaceful with sleep. He said her name under his breath, but there was no answer except the faint thudding of Bran's tail upon the floor. He frowned in the dark and shut the door.

As he turned and stood for a moment facing the window, something came through it and hit the floor with a sharp rap. It sounded like a pebble.

He went to the window and looked out. It faced towards the drive. The curving belt of trees took the moon. The sky was luminous over them, the moon itself unseen. The shadow of the cypress was black upon the house. The blackness made a pool beneath him as he leaned out.

Out of the blackness someone said: "Jervis—"

Jervis stared into the black pool of shadow under the window. Instead of waking up he must have walked straight into the maddest dream. He said:

"Who's there?"

"Jervis," said Rosamund Carew. It was Rosamund—of course it was Rosamund. But it could only be Rosamund in one of those dreams which hurry you from one absurdity to another.

"Rosamund!" he said.

"For the Lord's sake don't go chattering out my name like that!"

"I wasn't shouting."

He could just see her now—or rather, not her, but a shadow that moved, amongst other shadows that were still.

"Jervis—I'm in a hole. Can you come down?"

(Copyright, 1932, Lippincott)

What will be the result of this mysterious call from Rosamund?

No wonder! Wolverine Shell Horsehide has an extra-wearing surface. Secret tanning makes this double-strength leather almost glove-soft, scuff-proof and acid-resisting. Evolution Takes Its Time In The Hawk's Family

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The skull of a bird whose family might well have invented the slogan "what was good enough for granpa is good enough for me" was added today to the story of evolution by the Smithsonian institution.

The skull, which belongs to the hawk family, reveals that these birds were conservatives in the process of evolution. The skull is 60,000,000 years old, but shows that in all that time hawks have changed very little.

Discovery of the skull was considered an important addition to knowledge of the distant past, for fossil remains of birds are much more rare than bones of extinct animals which lived at the same time.

The skull and a lower jaw of the same type of bird were brought to their final resting place at the Smithsonian by Charles W. Gilmore after a summer of fossil-hunting in Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

Bones of many extinct animals also were unearthed by the expedition. Among them were "dwarf" camels, which stood only two or three feet high, giant pigs far larger than any modern pig and tiny hornless deer only two feet tall with leg bones more slender than a lead pencil.

Thirty-seven skeletons of the little three-toed horse, ancestor of the modern horse, were found by Mr. Gilmore.

Melba Ivy of Kingsmill underwent an operation at the Worley hospital last night for appendicitis. Her sister, Hazel, is recovering after an operation on September 6.
