And still they arrive—the pencils for Baker school and Horace Mann school. Lions yesterday carried pencils to their luncheon. These were supplemented by a bundle sent in by Nellie Ford, 642 N. Banks. Many thanks.

We were wrong about Bullington democrats not knowing anything about the republican nominee. Frank Keim knows Orville well. Most of the Bull-o-crats, however, confess that they really are "agin" Ma. Some of the Bull-o-crats are former Hoover-crats and some are folks who thought it was wrong to boot in 1928. An other political species in our midst is the Bull-o-vet, or a republican who is bolting his party nationally.

While it is not hard to find a thoroughbred democrat or a dyed-in-the-wool republican, the hybrids are especially vociferous this year. We have Jackson-o-vets headed by George Armstrong of Fort Worth. There are few bolters, however, in the ranks of the socialists and communists, and the Rose-o-lists and Communio-bulls are comparatively rare. Texas people, having failed in two attempts to name many of their officials, are quite naturally temperamental about the third.

San Braxwell, Jr. of Clarendon has moved to Fortney, which is fortunate since the Clarendon Buildings came so near defeating the Harvellers. Young Sam, sports writer for the Clarendon NEWS, likes nothing more than to "pout it on" the Mitchell-coached Harvellers.

Clarendon, by the way, takes justifiable pride in the accomplishment of Joe Bourland, who has been elected colonel of the United States Naval Academy, midshipman—the highest student honor.

A few Texas counties, hearing of Jim Ferguson's claims of illegal voting, threaten to take him before their grand juries. And thus the grand old game of political ballgame continues merrily.

An apple a day would certainly help the apple industry. Consumption of apples has dropped from an annual per capita figure of 100 pounds to less than 30 pounds. Reason: The orange industry has diverted its way to a consumption increase of from 18 to 30 pounds, and the apple declined. Advertising can take the almighty dollar on new trails or hold it to the old ones. But the apple isn't advertised.

Carson county, having lopped a dollar off the tax rate, is seeking new industries because of that fact. It is pointed out that big industries would pay hundreds of thousands of dollars more in other counties, where tax rates are higher. It remains to be seen how Carson can keep her rate down. And it is a fact that industries do not mind paying reasonably high taxes if the money is well spent. Gray county should effect all reasonable economies and spend wisely. The fundamental error in county economy is the large number of offices created by law.

Disabled American Veterans of the World War are organizing to secure their rights in competition with the efforts of many veterans who are receiving benefits because of non-service injuries. Future governmental financial history will show the enormous waste of current veterans administration. Politics and the pension system must be divorced before justice can prevail. If all the demands for veterans benefits were granted, the cost would equal the other costs of the world war every few years. The veterans who are really entitled to benefits are not always the ones

MARSHALL, N. C.—A dog attacked the driver of an automobile which struck and killed its little master. Five-year-old Charles Davis started to follow his pet across the road and an automobile driven by Harry Tucker of Hammond, Ind., struck him. When Tucker got out of the car the dog sprang at him and finally was beaten off.

Little Theater To Present Play At The LaNora

The Little Theater's first play of the season will be presented at 8:15 o'clock, Wednesday evening, November 3, at the LaNora theater. It was announced today after a conference between Little Theater members and George Limerick, manager of the LaNora and Rex theaters here. There will be no matinee performance at the LaNora during the afternoon preceding the production of the play on Wednesday night, and the entire evening will be devoted to the presentation of the drama.

Rehearsal has been underway for two weeks, and Mrs. Julian Barrett, chairman of the play-reading and casting committee, and Miss Arless O'Keefe, director of the play, expressed satisfaction with progress made by the players. The cast will include about 50 persons. Rehearsal of the first and second acts will be held in the carpenter shop at the basement of the Brunow building tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The play was one of the most successful ever produced on the stage and screen. It had a momentous run on Broadway with Ann Harding in the title role. On the screen, Norma Shearer interpreted the character.

GUARD 'TRYING TO KILL HIM' WITNESS SAYS

TESTIMONY THAT BOY WAS STARVED IS DISPUTED

DENY ACQUITTAL MOVE

FOY DECLARES HE SAW COURSON FLOG PRISONER

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 14. (P)—Judge George C. Gibbs today denied a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal for Solomon Higginbotham, one of two former prison guards charged with murder in the sweat box death of Arthur Mallefert, young convict from New Jersey.

A rebuttal witness for the state testified today that George W. Courson, of the two former prison guards on trial for the sweat box death of Arthur Mallefert, beat a prisoner last May 25th, "like he was trying to kill him."

The witness, R. J. Foy, said he was engaged in helping clear the right-of-way for a highway on which convicts were working when he saw Courson flogging the man. He testified after Courson denied he whipped a prisoner May 25th, but he admitted he beat Mallefert "some time around April 16th."

Starvation Theory Denied At the resumption of the trial this morning Durrance asked Courson whether the former guard had ever told Perry Blount, a grocer, that Mallefert may have died from starvation. Courson denied saying it.

RESPONSE TO WELFARE DRIVE GRATIFYING BUT LATENESS OF REPORTS HINDERS CHECK TODAY

High Percentage Paid In Cash—Some Big Gifts

Workers in the welfare drive this afternoon had passed the $1-500 mark in their receipts of pledges and cash, but admittedly faced the larger part of their task in reaching the goal of $3,500.

Good progress—as far as reported—has been shown by the committees soliciting funds for welfare work and unemployment relief, but in the absence of a majority of reports Chairman Jack Cunningham issued no totals today.

AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION

In the 142 years that the constitution of the United States has been in existence there have been 25 constitutional amendments submitted, of which five failed, 19 have been adopted, and one is pending.

Any change in the constitution is legally an amendment, whether it be to strike out the eighteenth amendment, or to change its terms, or to substitute some other provision for it.

Anywhere from eight months to four years may be required for an amendment to be ratified. The eighteenth amendment itself required one year and one month for ratification.

The proposals for amendment originate in congress and submission must be authorized in each house by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting.

The president's approval of the proposal is not required by the constitution and he has no constitutional power respecting amendments.

After an amendment is proposed by congress, it goes to the states for ratification.

Congress decides whether the ratification shall be by the state legislatures, or by state conventions chosen for that purpose.

Congress may fix a reasonable time limit for ratification. A fair guess is that the time may be from four to seven years.

Congress may submit not one but several proposals on the same subject, leaving the choice to the states.

If the state convention system of ratification is prescribed, the state legislatures provide for the holding of state conventions, the delegates to be elected by the people.

The requirement of a two-thirds vote relates to the vote in Congress proposing an amendment. The requirement of a three-fourths vote applies to the ratification by the states and denotes the number of states whose approval is required.

Finally, an amendment proposed by congress becomes a part of the constitution if ratified by thirty-six of the forty eight states within the time prescribed by congress.

sources in proportion to population, can afford to be wasteful—for a time. But America has no more frontiers and her population has increased to the point where unemployment is a burden.

Spending and not saving is a national trait. Food is wasted, and time, effort practically everything, has been good to the American people. The result is wastefulness to a criminal extent.

A new country, with a frontier and almost limitless natural resources in proportion to population, can afford to be wasteful—for a time.

"Did you talk to Courson?" asked Durance. "I told him I heard a man had committed suicide and Courson said: 'Well, I guess he was weak. He hadn't had anything to eat in two or three days.'"

Archie, in cross-examination, tried to draw from the witness an admission that Blount was "sore" because the camp did not trade at his store and because Courson would not hire him as a guard. Blount denied that.

of program, and will act as joint hosts. Several score former service men have already registered. E. C. Kuykendall, general agent for the Denver lines, chairman of the arrangement committee for the local post, predicts a registration of 600 for the convention.

The morning of the opening day will be devoted to registration of guests. At 3:30 p. m. the Amarillo and Pampa "40 and 8" veterans will start what they say will be a memorable "wreck."

Dance at Close A dutch lunch for visitors will precede an athletic program late in the evening and a dance will close the day's program.

A school for service officers will open the second day. Advice and instruction will be given service officers and others who wish to attend. The Legion's state service officer, representatives of the U. S. Veterans Bureau from Dallas and Muskogee, Oklahoma, and efficient service officers of the local posts will lead the discussion which will pertain to details of all forms of veterans' relief work.

At noon a barbecue will be served. The Legion auxiliary will hold its convention concurrently. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college of Lubbock, will address the Legion members and the public at 1:30 p. m. Reports from the national convention at Portland, Ore. will be given and the business of the convention transacted under the leadership of G. Ward Moody, of Perryton, district commander.

ANSWER--

sophies stand out the one against the other in bold relief. On the one hand is the progressive, on the other, the ultra conservative. "I am a progressive republican; Mr. Hoover is not. He has justly earned the title of ultra conservative. The difference between the two may be described in a generalization, and could be particularized in a hundred acts of the existing national administration.

No Standpatter The progressive believes this government belongs to all its people, not to a favored or privileged few, and that it should be administered equally and impartially for all, high and low, rich and poor alike. The standpatter, paying lip service to common humanity, makes a mock of his words, by his court of special classes, and his subservience to special interests, and his indifference, as in the instances of the power trust and the sale of foreign securities to trusting American investors by international bankers, to the ruthless exploitation of our people.

The progressive thinks in terms of human beings; the standpatter has little thought or concern for them. When Mr. Hoover became president, his philosophy of government became apparent. Before that we knew little or nothing of his policies or politics. My views are those of a long life time. He has been acquired in the very brief period he has resided among us.

Party Not At Stake In your telegram, apparently, you stress party regularity. In this crisis, I stress loyalty to the American people. You say you are the representative of seventy southern California newspapers. If you were the representatives of seven thousand newspapers, or just one ordinary American citizen, my answer would be the same.

The republican party is not at stake in this campaign. It is only the ambition of one man who but a little more than a decade ago did not know which has his party, and who before that had no American party at all.

CONSTABLE--

change by any legislature is not, however, indicative of a substantial, steady income from the duties of the office. The income from fees varies from month to month and in the precincts of small population is meager. On the other hand, constables and their deputies in the bigger cities are apt to be as busy, as deputy sheriffs.

The Texas statutes provide that: "The qualified voters of each justice precinct at each general election shall elect a constable for such precinct for a term of two years.

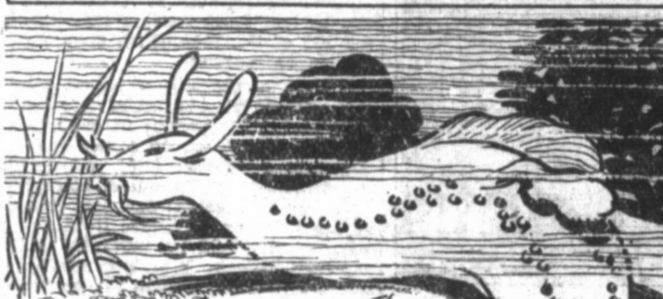

"When in any such precinct there may be a city of 8,000 or more inhabitants, such constable may appoint no more than two deputies who shall qualify as required of deputy sheriffs;... In such justice precincts which do not contain a city of 8,000 or more inhabitants, said constable may appoint no more than one deputy who shall qualify in such manner as required by law.

"Each person who may be elected to the office of constable shall, before entering upon the duties of the office, give a bond with two or more good and sufficient sureties to be approved by the commissioners court of his county, for such sum as said court may direct, not less than five hundred nor more than fifteen hundred dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties required of him by law; and shall also take and subscribe the official oath; which shall be indorsed on said bond, together with the certificate of the officer administering the same.

"Each constable shall execute and return according to law all process, warrants, and precepts to him directed and delivered by any lawful officer, attended upon all justice courts held in his precinct, and perform all other such duties as may be required of him by law.

"When any constable shall meet with resistance in the execution of any lawful process, or in the arrest of offenders, he may call to his aid any citizens of the county who may be convenient; and any person who shall fail or refuse to obey such call

Standard Opposes Raise. CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Standard Oil company of Indiana issued a statement today announcing the company cannot advance its posted price for crude oil "despite the recent action of certain oil companies."

"Conditions do not warrant even the present prices, and will not give necessary support to an increase," the statement said. "Everyone in the industry knows that with consumption of gasoline falling off enormously, price cutting is rampant throughout the oil business. Although producers are making commendable efforts to control their problems, crude still is being produced in excess of demand.

"Some of it is being run illegally and sold at prices jeopardizing the posted price structure. Refineries are producing more gasoline than is needed. Many are dumping at cut prices.

"The Indiana company is sincerely desirous of seeing producers receive a satisfactory price for crude. But it is convinced an advance in the face of present conditions would simply provide leeway for further abuses and delay progress toward permanent recovery." The statement also said gasoline tax evaders were ruining retail markets in some areas.

'Texas' and 'General' to Re-enact Immortal Race of Civil War Days

ATLANTA, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Texas and the General, two pudgy old wood-burning locomotives that raced through fire and water to immortality during the war between the states, may run again to settle forever their issue of superiority. The Texas ran down the General on that dreary, rainy day in 1862 and postponed collapse of the confederacy. But Mayor Ed Bass of Chattanooga, Tenn., where the General stands all shiny and proud, said the Texas couldn't do it again. And Mayor James L. Key of Atlanta, where the Texas is stored in a basement, accepted the challenge today. The Georgia public service commission will be asked for authority to re-enact the dramatic race from Big Shanty, Ga., to Ringgold.

Key suggested the drama be staged in replica with the principals wearing costumes of that day when Texas frustrated a bold attempt of federal spies to steal the General and break the back of the confederacy's communication lines in the southeast. Federal spies known as Andrews raiders stole the General as it puff-ed at a siding in Big Shanty in 1862. Its crew was eating breakfast at a nearby tavern and the General was away before the southerners missed it. Conductor Fuller, who was responsible for the general, followed on a handcar until a twisted rail upset him. He ran miles and commanded the Yonah, an old freight engine, and tore after the General, which already was panting over the north Georgia hills toward Chattanooga.

Finally in desperation, the fed-

The rails were slippery and the grade was steep, but Fuller opened the throttle of the Texas and tore over the burning bridge. Andrews realized all was lost. He put the General in reverse and sent it straggling back toward the Texas while he and his men fled for the woods. Fuller reversed the Texas in time to save his train from colliding with the General. His men scattered after the fed-erals and all were captured. Man, were shot as spies.

3 big "FIRSTS" to Phillips

Phillips was FIRST to offer a high gravity, premium quality gasoline without the usual extra charge of 3¢ more per gallon

Phillips was FIRST to publish the simple definite gravity figures of its gasoline every month. It's high test plenty—right now 63.4° to 70.6°

Phillips was FIRST to offer a gasoline with Controlled Volatility, a gasoline scientifically matched to your weather when you buy it

"HIGHEST TEST" at the price of ordinary gasoline

Thanks to you, Mr. Jones, in your Ford . . . To you, Mr. Smith, in your Cadillac . . . To you, Mr. Brown, in your Buick.

To all of you, and every one of the 7,000,000 motorists whose friendly and loyal patronage has swept Phillips 66 gasoline to the front, in the race for outstanding position in sales, we are sincerely grateful.

The world's greatest laboratory for testing gasoline is the city pavement and the open road. The world's greatest testers are the experienced drivers of new cars and old.

You, Mr. Motorist, and millions like you, are the practical, work-a-day scientists whose judgment determines whether a product measures-up in quality and value.

Phillips 66 . . . the greater gasoline . . . did not win your favor with clever words, exaggerated claims, or ballyhoo.

You heard of Phillips' three big "FIRSTS." You were open-minded enough to try a tankful. And the finer performance, the dramatic difference which you actually felt in your motor—this is what convinced you that Phillips 66 high test, with Controlled Volatility, at the price of low gravity gasoline, is the unsurpassed value in motor fuels.

After your first trial tankful, you came back for more. You told your friends about the sweeter, quieter operation . . . the sharp improvement in pick-up and get-away . . . the longer mileage . . . the split-second starting on days of freezing cold. In turn, these friends spread the good news about this greater gasoline. And thus swiftly, Phillips developed into such a sensational success, that it is still the talk of the entire petroleum industry.

We 11,000 members of the Phillips Organization appreciate, beyond what any words can say, the priceless word-of-mouth advertising which you have given our product.

We take this opportunity to assure you that the quality of Phillips 66 gasoline will continue to be ever high and ever constant—that at its price it will always offer more value for the money—that its extra high test will not cost you a penny of extra price, at any orange and black 66 shield.

NEAR HUNDRED DOLLARS WILL AID CHILDREN

MANY PRIZES OFFERED THURSDAY NIGHT AT SCHNEIDER

One big step toward providing luncheons for Pampa's needy children was taken last evening when a bridge tournament, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, was held at the Schneider hotel.

One hundred twenty persons attended the event and proceeds came to an estimated total of one hundred dollars. All proceeds will be used, through the school cafeteria, to feed hungry boys and girls who have no food or money.

The high school orchestra, directed by R. E. "Pop" Fryaser, furnished music for the occasion and was highly commended by Fred Cullum, chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Eighteen prizes, all donated, provided added interest.

Those in charge of the tournament were Fred Cullum, chairman, J. H. Hulme, J. L. Nance, Ben Reno, Paul Hill, Glen Pool, E. H. Hamlet, and Lee Waggoner. Others assisting the committee were Chris Martin, R. W. Lane, and Bill Lang.

Both contract and auction bridge were played.

Thousands of Chinese Slain in Jap Offensive

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Oct. 14. (AP)—Japanese headquarters here announced today that airplanes had dropped leaflets printed in English over a number of points in the area west of Mukden, where an offensive against Chinese insurgents is under way, warning all foreigners to withdraw or concentrate in one city.

It was estimated the area contains twenty foreigners, including eight American Catholic missionaries from the Maryknoll Mission headquarters at Osining, New York.

Most of these were believed to be at Fushun, inside the Japanese lines, and out of danger.

The Japanese said the drive against the insurgents was proceeding according to schedule.

You must do everything you can to prevent exposing yourselves to danger, the leaflets dropped from the Japanese planes read.

Advancing with unexpected speed in a sweeping enveloping movement from every direction, the Japanese announced they already have captured half of the Tungpian bandit zone which covers 20,000 square miles.

There were heavy engagements at various points in other areas. The Japanese said the Chinese dead were so numerous that they could not count the bodies. Prisoners are executed where they are taken.

Political agents of the Manchukuo government are following the Japanese troops, explaining to the natives the meaning of the new regime and establishing local governments.

Today Japanese army pigeons, flying 250 miles across the snow-capped mountains, brought the first news of a fierce battle at Santai, near Taohozu, in which 2,000 Chinese insurgents were said to have been killed.

In a telephone message from Fushun, Monsignor Lane who is in charge of twenty American Catholic missionaries in southeastern Manchuria, reported that all his men were safe and well.

Pair Posed as Dry Agents Held in Shooting Case

DENTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Two men who allegedly tried to kill Eugene Smith, a farmer living near Little Elm, last night were charged with attempt to murder today.

The men drove up in front of a farm house and fired a shot at Smith through a window, but it went wild and they left. Half an hour later, the two men again appeared at the house. Neighbors aroused earlier by the shot, had hidden and seized the two men, holding them until officers arrived.

Tully and Taylor, protested they were innocent, asserting they saw two men drive away from the house after the shooting.

Eugene Smith and his brother, George, were robbed last May 13 of $2,600 by three men who told them they would return and kill them if officers were notified.

DALLAS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Claude Cooper, administrator of prohibition enforcement for the northern district of Texas, said today that two men giving their names as Morgan Tully and Lee Taylor, who were charged with assault to murder after a shooting near Denton last night, were unknown to his office.

He expressed doubt that any prohibition agent had any connection with them.

Don Three Way Outfit—Be Beautiful

NEW COSTUME IS CHIC ON STREET, AT TEA OR AT DINNER

By DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Editor)

PARIS (AP)—Three-way costumes, ready for street wear, tea or dinner, are the outstanding winter fashion offering for the "girl who goes about."

They are simple sleeveless frocks of dark wool or velvet having skirts six or seven inches from the ground accompanied by removable under-blouses or bolero jackets, and topped by three-quarter length fur-trimmed coats.

When the entire costume is worn, it is suitable for the street, when the coat is removed it is ready for tea, and when the little blouse or bolero comes off the frock becomes a dinner gown.

One of these new three-way costumes has a sleeveless princess frock of sheer black wool, which is worn with a little puff-sleeved blouse of white crepe and three-quarter length black wool coat colored in silver fox.

Others are made of velvet in henna, dark blue or brown, and accompanied by boleros and coats to match.

Dark velvet suits worn with light blouses promise to be another favorite costume this winter for tea-time and restaurant dinner wear.

Their jackets are hip-length or three-quarter length, designs, richly trimmed with furs, while their blouses may be tucked-in models of lame, sliver cloth or light blue crepes, or hip-length tunics of white satin.

One chic velvet ensemble is designed of black velvet with a jacket trimmed in black fox and a tucked-in blouse of tangerine and gold lame.

Heim designs this three-way costume to be worn with a three-quarter length coat on the street, with the white blouse for tea-time and without it for dinner. It is made of black wool and dull white crepe.

The central figure is to typify compassion, mercy, care and the other attributes of nursing. To Weinman's insistence there should be a nurse in uniform, the country's nurses answered:

There were too many kinds of uniforms and obtaining a composite style agreeable to all was impossible.

MEN TO SERVE MEAL TONIGHT

BUT WOMEN MAY FILL COFFEE CUPS AND BREAD PLATES

Not dinner and not luncheon, but just plain supper will be served to the Business Men's Bible class this evening at 7:10 o'clock in the church dining room—and it will be served exactly the way the men like it and the work will be done by the men themselves.

So insisted members of the class in announcing their plans for the evening. However, they will allow some of the women to be present to "fill the coffee cups and bread plates" and the men have been seated, again carrying out their wishes to remain seated once they have taken their places at the table.

The men have not announced their menu, but it was hinted that such homely, but none the less delectable, dishes as beans and cornbread would be included in the meal.

To get acquainted is one of the chief objects of the supper, and the program will be formulated with that idea in mind.

My Beauty Hint

MR. HOPKINS Cleanliness is important in keeping the hair healthy and attractive. I do not believe in too many washings, but a dry shampoo will keep the hair moist-free.

When my hair becomes difficult to manage before the next wash shampoo is due—I have one every other week—I try an egg-white remedy.

The whites of two eggs are beaten until stiff. The mixture then is applied to the hair and scalp and rubbed in. After the egg-white dries for 20 minutes, the hair is brushed and combed vigorously. As the dried egg-white flakes off, it carries with it the surplus dust and oil and leaves the hair clean, fluffy, and still curly.

Old-Time Hickory Stick Suggested By Professor

DENTON, Sept. 14.—"Instead of appealing to the child of today by means of the hickory stick, both parents and teachers attempt to appeal to him through his interests and when this method fails they often just let him alone" was the main theory recently advanced by L. H. Moore, professor of psychology at Texas State College for Women.

Moore said that the crime wave which has enveloped the country in the ten years following 1912. Dr. Moore finds two outstanding faults with this modern method of handling children. First, it has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Second, it is at odds with the fundamental principles of psychology.

"Human nature," Dr. Moore says, "is like any other nature. It must be harnessed, controlled and disciplined. Without discipline, chaos reigns and the results. Any individual no matter how well bred he may be will be a social criminal if his natural desires are not controlled. All good citizens are made, not born."

"Citizens are made good by making to them and by making the wrong kind of conduct unpleasant. Many a mother has wondered why it is that her son does not come when she calls him. The answer is simple. He doesn't come because she has not made it unpleasant enough for him when he refuses."

If every parent and teacher should set out at the beginning of this school year to make every child suffer when he fails to respect the rights of others or when he fails in other ways, and if they would do this forthwith and immediately without any argument or hesitation, much trouble would be avoided.

John Lamond of Oklahoma City was a visitor in the city yesterday.

CROWD OF HUNDRED FIFTEEN PERSONS ATTENDS MEETING OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS

HALLOWEEN TEA GIVEN AS COURTESY TO INSTRUCTORS

Mrs. W. Purviance, president of the Junior high school Parent-Teacher association, was principal speaker at a Halloween tea given yesterday afternoon to honor teachers of the school.

The gathering, attended by 115 persons, was opened with music by Vern Springer's orchestra, followed by the singing of America, led by Miss Helen Martin, with Mrs. A. M. Teed at the piano, and prayer by Supt. R. B. Fisher.

Mrs. Purviance said: "The major task of the Parent-Teacher association for 1932 is the safeguarding of childhood through the present crisis. No mother should hesitate to attend the association's meetings even if she is unable to pay the 35 cents for dues. Every parent is welcome."

"Duties of a Parent-Teacher member include attendance at meetings and willingness to accept responsibility, take part in discussions and activities, and offer constructive suggestion. Ideal Parent-Teacher work goes hand in hand with the work of church organizations. It is a privilege, as well as a duty of every parent to become a member of the Parent-Teacher association."

Principal R. A. Selby gave a welcome address on behalf of the teachers, speaking also on the needs of the school and how they are met.

Mrs. Carson Loftus entertained with a reading. Then Mrs. V. E. Fatheree addressed the group. She expressed delight because of the large attendance. She stated that she helped to organize the association three years ago and that in addition to teachers, only five persons were present. "That shows," she declared, "how large oaks from little acorns grow."

Supt. Fisher and Mrs. J. B. Townsend, city Parent-Teacher council president, spoke briefly, and the program was closed with music by Vern Springer's orchestra.

Mrs. G. C. Malone and Mrs. C. G. Malone were present.

democratic ranks in 1928 by the narrow margin of 7,071 votes.

The large republican vote in that year followed a campaign of unusual intensity in which Senator J. Thomas Heflin led an active campaign against his party's nominee, Alfred E. Smith and his views on prohibition formed the major issue in pre-election debates.

Senator Heflin was barred from the party primary in 1930 for his activities in support of Herbert Hoover, and as a candidate for reelection on an independent ticket, opposing John H. Bankhead, was defeated by a majority of 50,633 votes. Heflin charged election frauds. His contest was defeated in the senate.

The prohibition planks of the two major parties again form a major issue in this year's campaign. Alabama long having been considered among the staunchest of dry states. Interest in this issue, however, seems to be equalled by interest in the opposing programs for dealing with the country's economic situation.

Sizable as was Herbert Hoover's majority in 1928, it fell somewhat short of that given Calvin Coolidge, who received 874,831 votes against 152,238 for John W. Davis.

In the state elections of 1930, Wilbur M. Bruckel (R), defeated William A. Comstock (D), by a vote of 483,990 to 357,664, and in the same year Senator James Couzens (R.) was re-elected by a majority of 464,820.

Prohibition has been an issue of major interest in the current campaign, and the state is to vote November 8 on a proposed constitutional amendment which would wipe out existing bone-dry legislation.

In the primaries this year more than 300,000 votes were cast for the democratic candidates for governor. This was more than 40 per cent of the total cast in both primaries and was halved by democrats as an encouraging sign. Republicans, however, held that a contest for the gubernatorial nomination had brought out the democrats' full party strength.

Michigan has 19 electoral votes this year, instead of its former 15.

State Testimony Refutes Arnold's Insanity Plea

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 14. (AP)—State's attorneys today continued rebuttal testimony designed to refute a defense plea of insanity in the trial of Doye Arnold on a charge of stabbing his wife fatally on a street here.

Dr. Grover C. Wood of Breckenridge testified he had observed Arnold since the slaying and believed him of sound mind. He related that a list of food Arnold had eaten daily revealed a normal appetite and said his pulse always was normal.

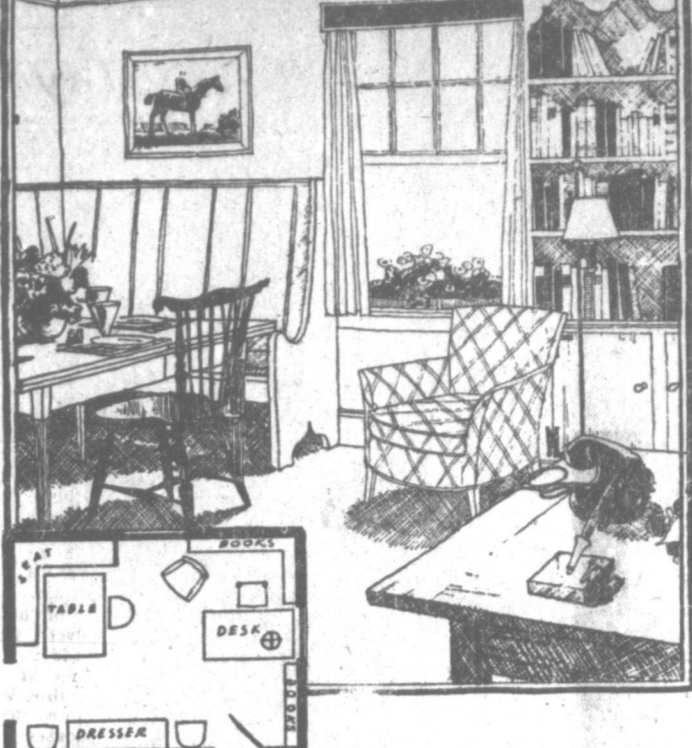

Others who testified they had observed the defendant for four or five years and believed he is sane included Ray Hickey, a deputy sheriff; Jack Ellington, a deputy constable; G. H. Deason, a tax collector and a former peace officer; John Kelly, chief of police, and Sheriff J. W. Morrow.

The defense recalled Mrs. C. L. Martin to the stand for cross-examination during the morning session. She again testified she did not know whether a signature appearing on a divorce waiver was that of the defendant.

Indications were that arguments of attorneys would be completed this afternoon and the court's charge to the jury would be prepared tonight.

DINING ROOM PAYS ITS 'RENT'

Right furniture makes many-purpose dining room.

Because the dining room is used only about 8 per cent of the time, many families have supplanted it with the living room dining room combination.

The latest trend, however, is to keep the dining room—while making it pay its own rent in usefulness.

Willard Is 'Bouncer' In Meat Market

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14. (AP)—The former heavyweight boxing champion of the world and man of wealth, Jess Willard, today, according to his own admission, is "bouncer" in a meat market. His salary, he said, is $15 a week.

Willard was in court to explain his failure to pay $292.10 which a plumbing company official said he owed him. He explained his job unusual for a meat market, by saying: "They have a lot of hard boiled market men out there."

W. E. Bosche of Amarillo is here on business today.

By cleverly choosing the right type of dining furniture and cleverly arranging it with other pieces, the room can be used for many family activities.

As it is, in many homes the living room becomes "overcrowded," what with father trying to read the paper while the younger set entertains or the son of the house trying to do his homework while mother has a committee meeting.

Each of these activities and many others can be provided for with the right furniture in the dining room. There can be a game corner with a bric-a-brac set in harmony with the room and always ready. And many a dining room has been comfortably transformed into a home-movie theatre.

There can be a work corner with a practical desk or side-table for studious activities. And a comfortable chair, reading lamp and footstool can make up father's sacred corner.

Cabot Company To Give Safety Program Sunday

The Cabot carbon black company will close Fire Prevention week Sunday afternoon with a fire fighting and safety program sponsored by the safety department under Don M. Conley, safety engineer. The program will be at the Bowers plant south of the city and will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

A band and review stand is being erected at the rear of the office. Contests will be held in a natural amphitheater and there will be plenty of room for spectators.

The program will open with music by a string band with "Raw-bone" Keplinger, the old maestro, conducting. Songs by the Kingsmill Scouts and Scout sweethearts will follow. R. C. Allen, superintendent, will then say "Howdy" to the gathering. A physical training demonstration by Scout Troop 17, with Scoutmaster Bill Peacock in charge, will be next on the program.

The first contest will be a hose stringing contest with teams from Bowers, Schafer, and Kingsmill plants participating. Judges will be City Manager C. L. Stine and Fire Chief Clyde Gild. A fanatical generator demonstration will be given by the team winning the hose stringing contest.

The first aid team of the Schafer plant will follow with a demonstration. Ladies of the Bowers plant will then serve luncheon.

The meeting will close with dancing by girls under 12 years old. The judge, the board of appeal from the judges decision, and the presentation of awards will all be in the hands of C. L. Woolley, so that there will be no argument.

The master of ceremonies will be Reno Stinson.

One Sentenced In P. O. Robbery

AMARILLO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Donald I. McCormick, the only one of four men originally indicted for robbery and conspiracy in connection with the robbery of the Bowers postoffice two years ago, was sentenced to three years in the federal penitentiary today, with an additional five years suspended.

McCormick was convicted on the strength of a statement made to federal officers regarding the robbery. The statement involved two of the other three defendants, but was not admissible against them, McCormick said he was under conditional parole from the Kansas penitentiary for theft of an automobile, a fugitive from Rusk county on a liquor charge, and wanted at Pawhuska, Okla., for robbery with firearms.

A jury was selected for the trial of James Leland and E. R. Annis, charged with burglary of the Lelia Lake post office last August 13.

UNIFICATION URGED

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 14. (AP)—A resolution urging unification of the Methodist Episcopal church and Methodist Episcopal Church South, was adopted today by delegates to the annual meeting of the Holston conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. GRINS from the GRID

By O. W. "RED" SEVERENCE (Written For The Associated Press)
The Army football team prides itself on being a tough, hard-driving outfit but Major R. I. Sasse, head coach at West Point, tells a head porter on a humble porter on an overnight Pullman made the squad feel like a group of playful high school boys.

During an overnight rail trip for one of the big games in the 1931 schedule one of the players slipped from his berth in the street shoes of the entire team. Hiding them, he turned in again and was sleeping blissfully next morning when the shoe-less team awoke.

Shouts, complaints and threats went up as the hunt began, and it was toward noon before John, the pullman porter, located the hiding place. Meanwhile there had been a continuous uproar as the disgruntled players turned the car inside out in their search.

Impressed by the noise and bustle, one of the younger players said to the porter, "Gee, John, this Army crowd is a pretty tough bunch, isn't it?"

"Ah, no sah," Major Sasse heard the veteran porter reply "last week I carried the Notre Dame team on this car, and dey collected the shoes, too."

"But dey didn't hide 'em, no sah, dey threw 'em off the train."

Texan Denounces U. S. Bureaucracy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Representative Hatton W. Summers of Texas, today told the American Bar association that in the operation of "our economic and political government, as a people we are making a terrible mess of it, a colossal failure."

"There is no mystery about why we are in the condition in which we find ourselves," the chairman of the house judiciary committee said. "We have jazzed off into the jungles. We have lost our way."

Summers said that "all about us is success and progress" except in economics and government, but that "here we register the colossal fail-

RYAN AT LIBERTY

EL PASO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Frank J. Ryan, president of the Frank J. Ryan Investing company of San Antonio, was at liberty under $3,500 bond today after a 24-hour stay in the El Paso City jail on charges of being a fugitive from justice.

Ryan and R. M. Palmer of San Antonio, an associate, were arrested Wednesday night at the request of Otero county, N. M., authorities, who said the two men were wanted in Alamogordo, N. M., on swindling charges. Palmer has not had a hearing yet.

"We are reducing the governmental capacity of the private citizen, destroying his self-reliance, his consciousness of responsibility, his pride of position, and making him a mendicant at the door of the federal treasury."

NICARAGUA

The PICTURE on a POSTAGE STAMP SHOWING THE NICARAGUAN VOLCANO, MOMOTOMBO, IN ACTION, INFLUENCED UNCLE SAM NOT TO BUY CANAL RIGHTS THROUGH NICARAGUA. HE BOUGHT THE INCOMPLETED PANAMA CANAL INSTEAD.

PHILIPPE BUNAU-VARILLA, a representative of the French government, wanted the United States to buy the Panama canal rights from France, instead of building a canal through Nicaragua. He insisted that the Nicaraguan location was dangerous because of active volcanoes. The Nicaraguan government denied this, saying that there had been no active volcanoes there for years. M. Bunau-Varilla then secured 90 Nicaraguan postage stamps, 1900 issue, showing the volcano Momotomba in violent eruption. He mailed these to United States senators who were voting on the canal question. The Panama location won by the narrow majority of eight votes.

HARVESTERS IN SAVAGE MOOD FOR PLAINVIEW TOMORROW

SHOW VICIOUS TEMPERAMENT IN SCRIMMAGE

TEAM IN DESTRUCTIVE HUMOR AFTER GAME WITH CLARENDON

With the memory of the Clarendon game still stinging their pride and ranking in their minds, the Pampa Harvesters will meet the Plainview Bulldogs tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock bent on making up for the 7-6 decision over the Bronchos.

As the Harvesters crashed thru the most savage and the longest scrimmage of the year, yesterday afternoon, their manner indicated that they were straining at the leash, and were anxious to get into the Bulldog battle with a vengeance.

Coach Mitchell shifted his men from position to position yesterday with abandon, and the line-up may see some changes tomorrow. The scrimmage lasted an hour and a half, and when it was over the boys said they played the toughest game of the year in that work-out.

Unable to break into the win column to date this season, the boys of Coach Frank Kimbrough, former Wayland college coach, are coming to Pampa primed for a big battle.

The game should not be the runaway kind like last year's, since the green and gold boys have not been showing the promise expected in their last two starts. Coach Kimbrough has a fairly heavy team built around five lettermen.

The Plainview coach witnessed the game against the Clarendon Bronchos here Tuesday afternoon and went home with many heavy vestiges in his mind. Local coaches have been drilling their boys in shortcomings of Tuesday and hope to have the old fight back to entertain the Bulldogs.

Tuke Sautsbury, second string fullback, will probably be lost to the team for the rest of the season. He is walking around on crutches with a badly torn knee and bruises received in the Clarendon game. H. L. Ledrick, regular quarterback, is also hobbling around with a badly sprained ankle received in the game with Borger last Friday night under the lights. He will not be in uniform tomorrow and may be out for several weeks as the injured member is not responding to treatment.

Lloyd Hamilton, substitute quarterback also injured in the Borger game, was in uniform yesterday but still limping. He will probably get into the Plainview game. The rest of the squad is in good condition for the second conference game of the season.

Probable Starting Lineups.
Pampa—Post, Plainview; Walker, LE, Mabry; Schmidt, LC, Davis; Green, C, Lanning; Nelson, RG, Farmer; Powell, RT, Malsler; Kelley, RE, Thomas; Turner, QB, Vance; Sullivan, LH, Sherley; Ziegler, RH, Covington; Peole, Capt. FB, Lundy; Officials—Hill (WTSTC), Vaughn (Simmons), Hicks (Baylor).

Bowling League to Be Formed Tonight

The City Bowling league will be organized tonight at 8 o'clock at a meeting in the Schneider hotel. Officers will be elected and the opening date of play set. At least six teams will enter the league and there was a possibility this morning that eight teams would constitute the league.

Teams already entered include two from the Kiwanis club, the Texas company of Kingsmill, the Phillips Petroleum company, south field, and either the Lions or the Fire department. The Knights of Pythias and the Rose building were considering teams this morning.

Captains of teams and team representatives are urged to attend the meeting.

Gorillas Play Groom's Tigers This Afternoon

The high school Gorillas are in Groom this afternoon playing the fast Groom Tigers. Coach Warren Moore took his full team to the Carson county city for the second game of the season.

Fanhandle's high school Panthers that defeated Dahlhart, runner-up in the bi-district race last year 19 to 0 last Friday, downed the scrapping Gorillas 25 to 0 in Panhandle early last week. Coach Moore uncovered a new punter and backfield player in a boy named Slocum who appeared on the field in uniform Thursday afternoon.

The coach had not selected his starting line-up before leaving at noon. He has 36 willing boys, but most of them are small and green. They are willing and learning fast, which goes a long way, however.

Groom's team had no other team with little regard to age limit and size. A game has been scheduled with White Deer for some afternoon-next week. The game will probably be played at Harvester park. The date will be set early in the week. Coach Moore said yesterday.

Kid Chocolate Now Champ of Featherweights

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—His third successive victory over Lew Feldman has gained for Kid Chocolate, Chicago, negro flash, a piece of the more or less vacant featherweight championship.

Chocolate hammered Feldman into decisive defeat before a sparse gathering of 7,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden last night. Chocolate, the New York youngster, in the 12th round of what was to have been a 15-round bout. Chocolate weighed 125 3-4 pounds; Feldman 125 1-2.

To the winner went recognition as featherweight champion in the eyes of the New York State Athletic commission which has ignored the title claims of Tommy Paul of Buffalo, winner of a National Boxing association elimination tournament to find a successor to the 126-pound crown vacated by Chris Battalino.

Mule Skinner and Saxophone Player Want Howley's Job

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 14.—(AP)—Sidney Weil, president of the Cincinnati Reds, began to wonder today whether the sign outside the door really reads: "Manager wanted. No experience necessary."

Since the word went out that Dan Howley had directed his last game for the Reds, Weil has been swamped with applications for the job. Even a saxophone player and a mule skinner have offered their "expert" services.

One devoted student of the heavens wrote suggesting that his knowledge of the stars might be just the thing necessary to produce a winning team next year.

Well, however, wasn't prepared for the application of a self-styled retired Mississippi planter, who recommended himself on grounds that "having handled mules all his life, etc." However, Weil saw certain possibilities here.

Fortunately, such real experts as Honus Wagner and Donie Bush, former Pirate manager, are also among the applicants, and both have Weil's serious consideration.

NINETEEN CLASS 'A' GAMES TO BE PLAYED DURING WEEK-END

Pampa-Plainview Tilt Only Game Scheduled for This District.

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Oct. 14.—Nineteen class A district championship games will be played today and Saturday in the Texas Interscholastic league football race.

Several districts have started their races. District one started last week when Pampa defeated Borger, 19 to 0. District two will remain idle another week before starting its games. In district three, the race started last week when Colorado whipped McCamey, 21 to 6. District five started last week when Wichita Falls defeated Electra in a well played, 7 to 0, game.

The Sherman Bearcats opened the district six race with a 31 to 0 victory over the Dallas Highland Park Highlanders. District seven is well under way. Central, Masonic Home and North Side, all of Fort Worth, are leading the race with a victory each. Stripling holds down the next position with a victory and one defeat. Last week, Masonic Home beat Weatherford, 62 to 6, and North Side stopped Stripling, 6 to 0.

Brackenridge and Alamo Heights of San Antonio, and Tivy of Kerrville are leading in district twelve. Brackenridge has two championship wins against one each for Alamo Heights and Tivy. In championship affairs last week, Kerrville

COACH STAGG WILL RETIRE DURING JUNE

METCALF SELECTED AS HEAD COACH AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Amos Alonzo Stagg will retire as director of athletics and head football coach at the University of Chicago next June.

The grand old man, Chicago's college athletic director and head gridiron teacher, must step aside under a university rule providing that seventy shall be the age limit for members of the faculty. And Stagg will make way for Thomas Nelson Metcalf, now director of athletics at Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., only because of the rule. He became 70 years old last August 16.

In yielding, Stagg, clear-eyed and looking not more than 50 of his 70 years, said he was "frankly, not going to do it," that he felt he is good for 15 or 20 more years of active service.

In announcing the retirement of Stagg, the board of trustees of the university said a new post, chairman of the committee on intercollegiate athletics, had been created for him. Stagg, however, has not accepted the place.

Stagg has become almost as much a part of the University of Chicago as its Gothic buildings. He came in with its founding 41 years ago, becoming its first athletic director. The old man's notice of retirement comes just when a football revival seems certain at Chicago. This year's team won its opening game and tied Yale, 7 to 7, last week, and with improved material appears set for the best season the Maroons have had since 1924. The present freshman squad promises that Chicago will be right near the top next year.

Over his long span of service, Stagg has set up a great record. In 49 seasons his teams have won 243 games, lost 104 and tied 28.

In his early days at Chicago, he was a better football player than many of his boys, and on occasions played with the Maroons, the rules at that time permitting the coach to play. For many years he captained his men by personal example on the practice field, and only in recent years, ceased participating in scrimmage.

Tulane Team Loses Its Star Fullback

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 14.—The Green Wave from Tulane which has smashed everything in its path in the Southern conference for three years must roll on in the future without the services of its captain and star fullback, Nollie G. Felt.

Charges of professionalism on grounds he played professional baseball in the Cotton States league in 1927 were upheld last night by the Southern conference executive committee in a unanimous vote. Removal of Felt from the lineup leaves the Green Wave without two of its best backs. Francis Payne recently suffered a broken collar bone and is out with that injury.

Tomorrow, Tulane, bidding hard for conference title, faces Vanderbilt, probably the most formidable foe of its schedule, at New Orleans.

Mrs. Tom Duvall and infant daughter, of Tyler, left the Worley hospital this morning. They are at the home of Mrs. Duvall's mother, Mrs. Overall, a Pampa resident.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY CONTINUES SENSATIONAL WINNING STREAK

Grover Austin Wins 3 and 2 Over Tom Perkins in Latest Victory.

Grover Austin, 17-year-old high school golfer, continues to burn the Country club course in the invitational tournament now in progress. Austin topped a week of sensational performances yesterday afternoon with a 3 and 2 win over Tom Perkins, runner up for the city championship last year. Austin defeated Marvin Harris Tuesday after he had won from City Champion Tommy White.

The youngster had to shoot a 75, three strokes over par, to defeat Perkins yesterday.

Upsets also appeared in each of the other three flights yesterday. R. C. Sowder won a surprise 3 and 2 game from Hamp Brown.

doped to go to the finals in the second flight. Earl Talley, shooting the best golf of the year, won an unlooked for 2 and 1 game from C. T. Hunkapillar in flight three.

The fourth flight witnessed two surprising upsets when Dr. R. M. Johnson defeated Jimmie Weir, the favorite, 3 and 1, while Dan McGrew of Kingsmill won over C. Thomas 6 and 5. The win put McGrew in the final flight Sunday.

Play in all flights will end Sunday when prizes will be awarded the winner and runner-up in each flight and special events.

SEVEN TEAMS IN SOUTHWEST RENEW FEUDS

GAMES AT AGGIELAND AND DALLAS HOLD INTEREST

By BILL PARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

A program studied with two conference games and three inter-sectional struggles will attract Southwest western conference football followers tomorrow. Holding the prominent spot on the program will be the Texas Christian university and Texas A. and M. game at College Station. The other conference match will be at Little Rock, Ark., between the University of Arkansas and the Baylor university Bears.

Inter-sectional affairs brings the University of Texas and the University of Oklahoma to Dallas as a feature attraction of the Texas State fair program. The Southern Methodist Mustangs, 1931 conference champions, are at Syracuse to battle Syracuse university, and the Rice Owls, one of the favored teams to win this year's conference crown, remain at Houston to entertain Loyola from New Orleans.

Texas Christian hasn't lost a game to the Aggies since 1924, and the Christians are favored tomorrow when they put ten seniors, each a star, and a sophomore fullback who is also a star, on the field to battle the fighting Aggies. Inspired by their 34 to 12 conference win over Arkansas last week, and with the return of Madison Pruitt, all-conference wing, to the lineup, the Christians are at the pinnacle for their all-important game. "Red" Oliver, who scored two touchdowns against Arkansas, is suffering from minor injuries, but is sure to see some action. It is doubtful if Charlie Malone, Aggies all-conference end, will play because of injuries, but the flashy Frenchy

Domingue, halfback, and Jimmy Aaton, back, will be in there to deal the Christians misery.

The Texas and Oklahoma combat will bring together Ernest Key, the Texans' powerful fullback, and Bill Panze, the brilliant Oklahoma broken-field runner. Key is the leading conference scorer with six touchdowns and two points after touchdowns for 38 points. He scored four touchdowns in Texas' 65 to 0 victory over Missouri last week. Playing opposite each other in this game will be Orville Corey, 225-pound Oklahoma lineman, and Claude "Oz" Blanton, 200-pound Texas lineman. Texas won last year's game, 3 to 0, but on the eve of this year's game, the critics have ranked it as a toss-up. Both clubs rely on power plays.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: THE HOME AND THE COMING GENERATION.
Scripture Lesson: Gen. 18:17-19; Deut. 6:4-9; Mark 10:13-16.

17. And Jehovah said, Shall I hide from Abraham that which I do?
18. Seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be blessed in him?

19. For I have known him, to the end that he may command his children and his household after him, that they may keep the way of Jehovah, to do righteousness and justice; to the end that Jehovah may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him.

Deut. 6:4. Hear, O Israel: Jehovah our God is one Jehovah:
5. And thou shalt love Jehovah thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

6. And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be upon thy heart;
7. And thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thy house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

8. And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thy hand, and they shall be for frontlets between thine eyes.
9. And thou shalt write them upon the door-posts of thy house, and upon thy gates.

Mark 10:13. And they were bringing unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples rebuked them.

14. But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me: forbid them not: for to such becometh the kingdom of God.

15. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

16. And he took them in his arms and blessed them, laying his hands upon them.

Golden Text: Traif up a child in the way he should go, and even when he is old he will not depart from it.—Prov. 22:6.

Introduction
The child's conceptions of right and wrong, heaven and the heavenly Father, which last on through all the years of life, are strongly influenced by his impressions of home and the earthly father. The family is the most striking cause of solidarity and forms the chief source of contentment for the majority of men and women, and, when conspicuously successful, wins the spontaneous tribute of reverence from all right-thinking persons.

Our lesson this week emphasizes three things that should renew the sense of parental responsibility and draw out the hearts of parents to their children. First, the fact that home life is a true test of parents as well as the first school of the child; secondly, the duty of the religious training of children in the home; and, thirdly, the estimate which Jesus put upon childhood, as revealed in his attitude toward them and his defense of their rights.

And our topic reminds us that the home ideals of today will furnish the basis of life tomorrow.

God's Confidence in Abraham
"When God was about to visit judgment upon the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, he took Abraham into his confidence. Why? To answer in business parlance, it was because Abraham had established credit with him. He had proved himself worthy of that confidence by the way he had accepted the call of God and proceeded upon the revelation which he had received. It will be recalled that Abraham had left Ur of the Chaldees and made his way by faith toward the land of Canaan. Not for a day did he turn his heart or his face to the old ways. He had been faithful, cherishing the dream that God had given him, and proving day by day his devotion to the high-born for himself and his household."

God said of Abraham: "I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him." v. 19. There was no uncertainty about that; the answer of Abraham to the revealed purpose of God removed all doubts.

Learning God's Word "By Heart"
"Hear, O Israel: Jehovah our God is one Jehovah." v. 4. "These verses constitute the Shema, so called from the beginning Hebrew word 'Hear.' It was, and is today, the confession of faith of the Jewish religion; comparable to the Apostles' Creed, or the Moslem 'Call to Prayer.' Together with verses 13-20 of chapter 11, and Numbers 15:37-41, it was the one great 'Sunday school lesson' of Jewish children. Throughout life the pious Jew repeats the Shema. In his reply to the lawyer (Matt. 22:37, 38) Christ made its affirmation and command also one of the fundamentals of our gospel."

It is a strong assertion of monotheism, formulated in an age when polytheism was the rule. "Our Lord alone is God"; "The only real god is our Lord." This credo and these few other elementary religious principles, A. B. C.'s of their faith, are to be fairly ground into the minds and hearts of the children, and in various ways are to be kept constantly before all Israel. It is of tremendous advantage in the spiritual education of the individual to have important religious truths and laws thus stamped upon the mind. They silently mold character, sweeten and purify human life. There are few people who have not seen delivered from an order and held to Christ and the right by remembered verses of Scripture or sacred song.

The Authority of Parents
The word used concerning the relationship between Abraham and his children is "command." "He will command his children and his household." Nature and reason give to parents the headship of the home. They are responsible for their children in the years of their unfolding life. It is for them to set up and maintain an order and discipline, that minister to life and character. To be sure, this ought not to be done in the spirit of a ruler, but in the affection of a father and mother, creating a mutuality of love and respect, that will generate obedience in the children, and in the parents, consecration to the children's welfare. Only as this is done can a manhood and womanhood be produced that will warrant any optimism concerning the future.

The Home Training of Children
Another fact to observe in God's thought about Abraham in relation to his children is the distinctly religious and moral note. "They shall keep the way of the Lord to do the same thought finds eloquent expression in the second paragraph of our lesson also. The teaching of religion—religious truth and religious conduct—is an essential part of true home life. The Hebrew parents were commanded to teach the unity of the true God, and duty of entire devotion to him: "The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might." Deut. 6:4, 5. This part of the child's education the parents cannot give over to another, neither can they make it secondary. The responsibility of the religious training of the young can never be shifted from parents to strangers, . . . and no other work that God gives a man to do is so important, so sacred, so far-reaching in its influence. The parent is the child's first and best teacher, whose duties can never be done by a substitute.

Children Brought to Jesus
That lovely incident, Christ's blessing the little children, took place during the closing three months of our Lord's earthly life, when he was in Perea, the country east of the Jordan. The story is told by all the evangelists except John.

"And they were bringing unto him little children, that he should touch them." They were children of various ages, brought to Jesus for his blessing, symbolized by laying his hands on each of them. It was the custom of parents to bring their children to the presidents of synagogues, who would bless them and pray that they might grow up to be truly religious men, learned in the law of God, faithful to their families, charitable to the poor.

"And the disciples rebuked them." Our Lord was in the midst of a very important and impressive discourse to adults (Mark 10:1-22), and the disciples thought it improper that those mothers and their children should interrupt Christ's teachings. But those teachings gained much from the interruption. Christ, like all true teachers, was ever ready for an interruption if it grew out of life.

Jesus and Little Children
The disciples of Jesus little understood the attitude of Jesus toward little children and his estimate of their worth. When the parents pressed forward through the crowd toward the Master, the disciples rebuked them. Were they trying to save Jesus from annoyance? Did they fail to see what need the children had of him, since they did not need healing and were too little to be taught? Whatever their reason they were wrong, as wrong as adults are today who pass by little children in their spiritual concern. When Jesus saw it, he was much displeased and said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God." v. 14. He was the friend of little children, and his arms were always ready to receive them.

Special Lesson
All that has been said means that if we are to secure the coming generation, we must utilize the spiritual agencies at our command today for making our homes veritable nurseries for the principles that produce moral leadership, leadership that has high moral character behind it. And we are to remember that there can be no true character, except that which is formulated by the incarnation and the imitation of Jesus Christ. Love to Christ is the essence of morality. To under take to build character in people without Christ, is like trying to fashion a tree by gathering a bundle of limbs. Faith in Christ is the seed-corn of character. We grow to noble manhood and womanhood by growing like him.

Now's The Time For Young Writers To Prove Ability, Says H. Mencken

(Editor's Note: H. L. Mencken, author and editor, gives his views on the literary state of the nation in the following article.)

By H. L. MENCKEN
There never was a better time than this for young authors of any talent to get on their legs, but they seem to be coming forward very slowly. That a dozen first books of excellent quality have come out during the past year, but certainly there has been no such upsurge of really first-rate newcomers as we saw in the first years of the century, and again in the first years of the war. No "Main Street" has been heard of since Lewis, and no "Spoon River Anthology" since Masters. The American novel in fact, is in a very flabby state, and American poetry is almost dead. I remember when Miss Harriet Monroe in Chicago used to discover a new poet every month or so, but now it is two or three years since she found her last.

'It's Not The Hard Times'
The hard times have nothing to do with the matter. Just as many good magazines are in being as ever before, the mortality has been mainly at the other end of the line. And the publishers, after a had scare, have begun to pour out books again. Most of these books, unhappy as they are, but that is surely not the publishers' fault. They would print better ones if they could. But the supply seems to be small. A magazine editor's job, in these days, is very onerous. He has to hunt down most of his more competent authors, and drag them in by the heels. Of the stuff that comes to him unsolicited, not one per cent is fit to print.

There is an immense amount of writing in the United States, but all save a minute portion of it is imitative and conventional, and wholly lacking in ideas. It is a rare day which sees a really first-rate manuscript come in from a stranger—that is, a manuscript done by someone who has something new to say, and knows how to say it in a plausible and charming manner.
Now and then, of course, it happens, else suicide would be as common among editors as it is among high grade investment bankers. But it surely doesn't happen often.
I spend long hours in a dark and sound-proof room, trying to figure out why this should be so. One of the guesses I often return to is that correspondence schools of authorship are to blame.
Before there were any such schools the novice got his training by reading his betters. Now he gets it mainly from quacks who can't write themselves, and are bent upon fitting him for the hack work of the cheap magazines. Many young authors believe that they can do that hack work for a while, and then escape to better things. It is a delusion.

Give a youngster two years in the pulp magazines, and he is ruined forever. There have been a few exceptions, but they do not run one to a thousand.
Another thing that works against a steady supply of competent novices is the change that has come over journalism. Most American authors, in the old days, began in time they got a good training there.
Today most of the newspapers sacrifice every other quality to speed. The reporter no longer writes his own story; he telephones it to a rewrite man. To the rewrite man it is simply so many words. He has not seen it, and so his account of it is bound to be more or less flat and stale. Thus the impulse to write well fades out, and good manuscripts come from newspaper offices only rarely. They used to come in a flood.

Business Men Turn Literary
Perhaps somewhat curiously, some of the best writing I have seen of late has been done by business men. In these days they have plenty of time on their hands, and most of them are full of indignation, and eager to unload it. This combination of leisure and strong feeling is very favorable to literary exercises.
So far these business men seem to have escaped the racketeers who profess to turn anyone into a Kipling. When they are rounded up they will be ruined, just as all the literary drummers, clergymen, schoolmasters, letter carriers and farmers' wives have been ruined. Pedagogues are all alike. Whatever they touch they spoil. My belief is that those operating in the public schools have pretty well finished the United States, intellectually speaking. But that is something else again.
"Hippo" Howell, Oklahoma athlete, raised money for his fare home from the Olympics by working as a movie extra.

Grain Samples Sent To U. S. Capitol
LUBBOCK, Oct. 14. (P)—Four samples of south plains grown grain sorghum have been sent to Washington, D. C., to be used as standard testing samples for the new U. S. department of agriculture standards for the electric moisture testing machine, E. R. Stuart, federal grain inspector here, said.
The machine, if adopted by the department of agriculture, will be used in the testing of grain sorghums and will require a standard of content. Grath from this area will be used to establish this, according to Mr. Stuart.
TOURNEY ANNOUNCED
SHAMROCK, Oct. 14. (P)—Checker players of western Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle have been invited to bring along their boards and participate in a checker tournament to be held here Oct. 14 and 15. Cash prizes will be awarded.

RACE MEET SOON
PANHANDLE, Oct. 14. (P)—Improvements are being made at the grounds of the southwest race meet and stock show incident to the annual meet to be held October 18 to 21. Three dozen new stalls have been built to accommodate horses which will be brought here for the races. Vacant garages nearby may be converted into stables on short notice if they are needed, sponsors of the show announced.
BIVINS IS JUDGE
AMARILLO, Oct. 14. (P)—Cal Inzer, manager of the Julian Bivins ranch, north of Amarillo, has been selected as judge of the breeding classes at the 50th anniversary show of the American Hereford Breeders' association at Kansas City November 2 to 19. The show will be held in connection with the American Royal exhibition and sale. It is advertised as the biggest show of its kind ever held by any branch of the cattle industry. Prizes will total $75,000.

SPINACH GROWS
CANYON, Oct. 14. (P)—A stalk of spinach that grew 26 inches in one week during the recent heavy rains was exhibited here by E. T. Johnson, farmer, living near Canyon.
Johnson said his land was so dry before the rains set in that turnip seed planted July 6 did not come up until the recent rains.

SKUNK EXPERT REMOVES BEAST FROM QUANAH DISTRICT COURT BY TAIL—RESULT: NO SCENT

QUANAH, Oct. 14. (AP)—A skunk invaded the courthouse and threatened to disrupt a session of Judge Stokes district court one day last week. It had come to rest under the furnace.

Bob Moore, line foreman for the Northern Texas oil company, possessed considerable knowledge of the strength and weakness of the animal, reached under the furnace and yanked it out by the tail, and held it helpless in the air.

Such dismay registered by those present that Bob suffered no injury for his daring. He said the skunk was really not a trick for when it was held by its hind feet off the ground it is powerless to use its musk gland—believe it or not!

Moore stated he learned the correct approach to a skunk from men who had spent years working on pipelines. When a segment of pipe is laid on the ground in a skunk's neighborhood, the animal is sure to enter it. The pipeline men get down and handle them without the animal ever throwing its protective musk. Moore said this could be verified by any one trying his method. But it was stated that all present when he rescued the animal from the courthouse furnace were willing to take his word for it.

Combines Will Be Abandoned In Hardeman

QUANAH, Oct. 14. (AP)—Many farmers of Hardeman county have announced this would be the last year they would harvest their wheat with combines, as these machines waste too much wheat. Practically every wheat field harvested with combines this year has a heavy stand of volunteer wheat growing, and in fields not desired to stand for pasture farmers are finding it necessary to plow and reseed to rid the ground of the growth from the wasted grain.

Thousands of acres of the volunteer wheat will be allowed to grow for winter pasture, and with the abundance of feed stuffs grown in the county will practically assure all stock coming through the winter in fine condition.

Thinks Heroics Are Foolish Now

HOUSTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Fourteen years ago an American army captain made his way in the face of heavy fire to barbed wire entanglement in France to rescue one of his men.

The other day the officer, Captain Archie W. French of Houston, received from the war department the distinction of membership in the Order of the Purple Heart, originated by George Washington.

The captain, smiling, said the award was given "because I made a fool of myself."

Big Cattle Deal Made at Dalhart

DALHART, Oct. 14. (AP)—Dalhart's biggest cattle deal in recent months was completed within a week when Charles Featherstone of Wichita Falls bought a trainload of cattle from Jim Lutes, rancher of west of here. A check for more than $24,000 was given for the 25 carloads.

The cattle hereofore went to the Featherstone ranch at Truscott, Tex. Mr. Featherstone is re-entering the livestock industry after quitting it about three years ago.

Old Tests for Toadstools Fail; Twelve Are Ill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—August Magni has this measure of consolation—he proved false the old theory that toadstools growing in a pot will turn a silver quarter black.

August and his wife, Eva, thought perhaps the fear of their boarding house might be enhanced by such out-of-the-ordinary delicacies as mushrooms.

Armed with a basket and aided by two boarders, who said they could tell mushrooms from toadstools—the Magnis admitted they couldn't—they picked nearly a bushel.

The "mushrooms" simmered on the stove when August, to make sure they were what he thought them to be, observed:

"If silver turns black, we'll know they are toadstools!" They didn't, so the mushrooms were eaten.

Shortly afterward, 12 of the diners went to the hospital for toadstool poisoning treatment to remain overnight in what doctors said was "resting comfortable" stage.

Miss Vera K. Charles, mushroom authority of the agriculture department, learned of the incident and remarked there was "an old, old theory about silver turning black if there are toadstools in the pot—but it's nothing more than a theory."

Would Throw Dice To Circumvent 'Stupid Voters'

OSKALOUSA, Kan., Oct. 11. (AP)—E. Haldeman-Julius, socialist candidate for United States senator, offered today to throw dice with two of his opponents, Sen. George McGill, democrat, and Ben S. Paulsen, republican, to decide who should take a seat in the senate.

"Instead of letting the stupid voters decide on one of the two wrong candidates," Haldeman-Julius said in a statement, "let's agree to throw dice, with the winner entitled to the seat in the senate. The dice are to be played according to the latest, approved rules of the Afro-American school of craps shooting."

"By this economical and sensible throw of the dice the nitwit voters stand a chance of getting a real statesman like myself in Washington."

Puna Killed With 22-Calibre Pistol

KERRVILLE, Oct. 14. (AP)—Killing a 160 pound American lion or puma with a 22-calibre pistol was the recent experience of J. L. Masters, foreman of the Geo. Dryden ranch about thirty miles west of Kerrville. The animal had been treed by a pack of dogs, and the small gun was the only weapon Masters had. He took a chance and hit it in the eye the first shot. It fell out of the tree, but it took ten more bullets to kill it. The dead animal was exhibited on the street of Kerrville and attracted great crowds.

One of approximately the same size was killed in the same territory a year ago.

Hoover Admits B. E. F. Group For Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—President Hoover today received personally a delegation from the B. E. F. group, after the leader, Hose Smith, had conferred for more than an hour with one of the president's secretaries.

Frank T. Hines, director of veterans affairs, stood beside the chief executive's desk as the B. E. F. delegation filed into Mr. Hoover's private office. Those in the lobby outside could hear the president say: "Well, gentlemen, I am glad to see you."

Mitchell County Rapidly Adopting Diversification

COLORADO, Tex., Oct. 14. (AP)—Mitchell county, which a few years ago, was devoted almost entirely to one crop, is now rapidly taking on the diversified farming program.

Seeded ribbon cane is now being included in the regular crop assortment by many of the farmers. This is a direct result of the live-at-home idea which was sponsored by the Colorado chamber of commerce agricultural committee a few years ago. This commodity is not only being raised in the Seven Wells community where it appears to have had its beginning, but in many other places.

The cane is being made into ribbon cane syrup by the producers. Most of it is mainly for home consumption, but some is for sale. Sweet potatoes are another new article being produced successfully by a large number of Mitchell county farmers also for home consumption.

Museum Erected On Historic Site

CANYON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum, under construction here, is being erected on a site that once was crossed by the old trail over which supplies were hauled from Amarillo, and still earlier from Kansas points, to the south plains before the advent of railroads.

Further recalling early Panhandle history, pioneers remember that construction of the museum building began on the fiftieth anniversary and on the site of one of the largest cattle roundups in the history of Randall county. It was a roundup of T-Ancor cattle, La Cough of Amarillo, who participated in the event, was present when ground was broken for the building.

Farmer Finds His Sacks But No Wool

ABERNATHY, Oct. 14. (AP)—Two months ago Roland Albers, a farmer north of town, reported theft of 2,000 pounds of wool he had stored in a barn near a vacant house a mile from his farm. No clues were obtained at that time.

Recently Hale county officials asked him to come to Plainview to see some sacks that fitted the descriptions he had given of those containing his wool. He did so and found they were the same ones. The sacks had been returned from Boston where the contents had been sold.

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

The Little Fellows Sport knows no thrill that compares with that of the underdog who suddenly scores a smashing triumph. Like a Pomeranian chasing a mastiff off the premises, Bates walked up and smacked the Yale bulldog between the eyes for a scoreless tie; William and Mary sank the Navy; Virginia Poly garroted Georgia; and Big Red Cornell missed by a scant touchdown the ignominy of defeat at the hands of Niagara.

The custom of major schools opening the season with "practice games" against the little fellows who are supposed to take it on the chin is well established. The big fellows polish up their style on the weaker elevens. The suffering that the players on the minor institutions undergo could very well be written into a book that would surprise many people who are unfamiliar with what a young man in a football suit has to be prepared to put up with.

Scrambled Weights The big eleven runs rampant over the setup. Players on the smaller teams take all kinds of physical abuse in these games, and are fortunate to come out with whole skins. The same idea would be carried out in boxing if a heavyweight picked on a lightweight for his first fight of the season in order to "warm up."

That makes the victory of a small school in one of the early season games a wonderful triumph.

Yale has been looked upon as one of the great teams of the east this year. An offense has been built around Bob Lassiter, just as the previous Blue teams were constructed around the prowess of little Albie Booth. An injury kept Lassiter on the sidelines during the game with Bates, and the Eli attack bogged down.

The little Maine school team, coached by Dave Morey (Major Frank Cavanaugh's former assistant at Fordham), found the Yale weakness and actually put the Yale on the defensive during part of the game. A scoreless tie was the result.

But Where Were They? It is a compliment to the brilliance of the Bates eleven when experts insist that Yale is several touchdowns better than the team appeared to be against the Maine men.

The Navy ran into the same kind of a tatar. Rip Miller's boys spent the afternoon trying to figure out which was William and Mary and which was Mary, and finally floundered.

Georgia, without the stars of last year, bowed to Virginia Poly, a team that was not expected to give the Bulldog a tussle.

Cornell displayed its need for a healthy Gil Dobie. The coach, in bed suffering with sciatica, has been drilling the players by remote control. The magic touch of the great teacher was not there.

Army Not So Hot The West Pointers did not show the strength expected of them against Furman. Major Sasse is looking ahead with foreboding to the visit of the powerful Pitt Panthers that smashed out a decisive victory over West Virginia.

Unexpected opposition has cropped up on all sectors. Santa Clara looked upon Oregon as a pushover after defeating California, but the Oregonian spanked the bruisers from the grape country.

Dr. Spears discovered that he would have to give his Badger squad drastic attention after Marquette held the Wisconsin boys to a 7 to 2 score. And Minnesota's two-touchdown victory over South Dakota State indicated that Bernie Bierman has some hard work cut out for him before the Gopher goes anywhere in the Big Ten.

Garner Denies He Is Muzzled Speaker John N. Garner hastened back to New York today after what he called a "nice social chat" with his running mate, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Arriving yesterday, he ridiculed republican assertions that he had been "muzzled."

"Did you ever hear of any one muzzling me?" he said, when the subject was mentioned.

He said he was still considering what further campaigning he will do and declared the decision "has been left to me."

The vice-presidential nominee said he would be happy to see Alfred E. Smith at New York should occasion arise. Asked if the itinerary for Mr. Roosevelt's trip was completed, he said he thought it was. It was believed the governor might release it today.

The relief speech for which Mr. Roosevelt was preparing yesterday concerns a field with which Speaker Garner has been in close contact in his congressional work. Mr. Roosevelt will speak at 10 o'clock eastern standard time, tomorrow night.

Calvin Coolidge's speech in New York last night was not heard by Governor Roosevelt and Speaker Garner.

During the speech Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner, his guest for the evening, were witnessing a motion picture in the miniature theater in the mansion. The governor often relaxes from official duties in this little theater.

Eight football captains of Washington university were in the line-ups in the 1932 alumni-varsity game.

FINAL ATTACK IN 6 STATES

Both Parties Concentrating In Three Eastern and 3 Central States.

By BYRON PRICE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The presidential war of 1932 is entering its last phase with the drubbing continuing energetically all along the line, but with the heaviest artillery moving into position for one final, concentrated bombardment on two important salients in the east and middle west.

During the present week the action has been scattered and various, and only a foretaste of what is to come. Governor Roosevelt has spoken from Albany, outlining his views on relief. Former President Coolidge, in Madison Square Garden, asked for the re-election of President Hoover. Former Senator James A. Reed, chosen by the democrats to reply at Des Moines to Mr. Hoover, asked for the election of Mr. Roosevelt.

All of this time, in the political dug-outs further back, the high commands of the two parties were taking stock of the situation at the long-awaited turn of mid-October, and planning in detail the last head-long dash toward their November 8 objective.

Enough of these plans are known to indicate with some definiteness where the pressure will be applied from now on. They point especially to the eastern states of New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, and to the mid-western states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

President Hoover will speak tomorrow night in Cleveland. His plans beyond that are not definite, but it is likely he will go even further west a week later, swinging through Indiana and Illinois to St. Louis. Still later he will be in the east—New York certainly and perhaps New Jersey and Massachusetts also.

Governor Roosevelt leaves Albany Tuesday for his extended campaign tour. He will speak as far west as St. Louis, and travel through the border states and south to Atlanta before he returns to wind up his campaign in New York.

Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith is expected to put much of the democratic emphasis on the east during the last days of October. Tentative plans route him through New York, New Jersey and New England, starting early next week.

Speaker John N. Garner speaks tonight from New York in his first major address of the campaign. He plans to deal "in a general way" with criticisms of democratic congressional leadership that have been voiced by President Hoover and former President Calvin Coolidge.

Tom Mix Riding At Rex Today

Smashing Tom Mix and his newest action-bombshell, "The Fourth Horseman," will come to the Rex theater today with darkeyed Margaret Lindsay, scowling Fred Kohler and imitable Raymond Hatton in the film's principal supporting roles.

The story of a rearin', tearin' cowboy who saves an entire town in real estate from bold, bad bandits for the girl he loves is said to bring the famed Western star to the Silver screen in the true, old-fashioned fashion that has won him world popularity.

Such players as Buddy Roosevelt, Edward Cobb, Paul Shawhan and Rosita Marstini are also included in the picture's roster. Several were screen stars in their own right.

Nina Wilcox Putnam, the distinguished novelist, wrote the story especially for colorful Mix, and his imitable equestrian companion, Tony, is ever on hand in the exciting narrative.

Interest Rate Is At Lowest Level

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Money is literally begging for a chance to work, and will do so cheaply if given complete assurance of safety.

Interest rates are now at or near their record low levels for many years. The call money rate, which serves as an index for the general money market, was reduced this week to 1 per cent—a quotation at which it has been renewed on the New York stock exchange on only rare occasions. The rate was posted at that level, but with those two exceptions it had not been posted at so low a figure since 1908.

PORT ISABEL, Oct. 14 (AP)—It once was said that everything in Texas had horns.

While this is no longer generally believed there was almost revival of the belief when Dr. J. A. Hockaday killed a young cotton tail rabbit with what appeared to be a horn growing out of the top of its head. Dr. Hockaday preserved the head of the rabbit. The "horn," a bony growth, projects five eighths of an inch above the head.

HUDDLE ARRANGED

PARIS, Oct. 14 (AP)—The foreign office announced today that Premier Herriot and Prime Minister MacDonald, conferring in London had invited Germany and Italy to participate in a conference at Geneva in an effort to straighten out the tangled situation of the world disarmament conference.

BULLINGTON ACTIVE

HARLINGEN, Oct. 14 (AP)—Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls attorney, planned today to shift his campaign as republican nominee for governor to Kingville. Robstown, Corpus Christi, Taft, Sinton and Bayville, after a two-day tour of the lower Rio Grande Valley.

WHO ARE THEY

Three guesses who these movie stars are. No, not Mary Carr and Lionel Barrymore. No, not Alice Joyce and Hobart Bosworth. That's right! Norma Shearer and Clark Gable. Here's how they appear, their hair grayed, in the elder roles of moviedom's version of "Strange Interlude."

CIVIC CLUBS AND PUBLIC ARE TO ASSIST CAFETERIAS OF SCHOOLS

More than one hundred Pampa school children are not only undernourished, but are without noon meals, according to a survey just completed.

Of these, about half are at Baker school and the rest at the Horace Mann school and Junior high school. The problem of furnishing them nourishing noon lunches has been tackled by local civic clubs, the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, and Business & Professional Women's clubs. The cost will be about $225 a month, it is estimated, and the clubs will endeavor to provide part of this. The public will be asked to supplement the funds and make the three cafeterias possible. Meals will be sold at near cost to pupils able to pay for them.

A conference on the problem was attended yesterday by John Sturgeon, Lions president; A. G. Post, Kiwanis president; Tom E. Rose, Rotary president; Mrs. M. P. Downs, representative of the B. & P. W. club; J. A. Meek, principal of Baker school; Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of Horace Mann school; R. A. Selby, principal of Junior high school; Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager of the Welfare Board; and Olin E. Hinkle, editor of The News and Lions director.

Proposals made at the meeting will be placed before the boards of directors of the four clubs.

POST SHIP MELONS

POST, Oct. 14 (AP)—Five car loads of watermelons grown in the cross roads community, have been shipped so far this season. George Sampson, secretary of the Post chamber of commerce reports. This does not include the number sold in Post. Approximately 225 truck loads have been hauled to nearby towns.

IRON INNARDS?

SYDNEY, Australia—John Pugh put his razor blade in his mouth while he whipped up a lather. When he got ready to shave he had no blade—he had swallowed it in a fit of forgetfulness. Pugh streaked to a hospital, where amazed physicians found that the blade had apparently not even nicked Pugh's insides. Last reports were that the blade was still in him, and he was feeling practically no pain.

PIERROT RUCHES NEW EVENING WRAPS

PARIS (AP)—Pierrot ruches are offered by one Paris designer as the fast word in "little wraps" to wear with evening gowns this fall.

He makes them of bright hued velvet loops or chiffon circles edged in feathers in designs exactly like those associated with the European clown.

Mannequins wore them draped softly about the shoulders.

BANK ROBBED

SKIATOOK, Okla., Oct. 14 (AP)—Two men robbed the Exchange State bank here today of approximately $3,000 and escaped, kidnaping D. W. Lucas, cashier, and releasing him unharmed about two miles north of town on the Pawhuska highway.

MRS. SCHREINER DIES

KERRVILLE, Oct. 14 (AP)—Mrs. L. A. Schreiner, 57, died at her home today. She had suffered a heart attack ten days ago. She was the wife of Louis A. Schreiner, banker and son of the late Capt. Charles Schreiner, and was raised in San Antonio.

"Corner Drug Store" Just Opened By Fatheree Firm Very Beautiful

The Corner Drug Store, beautiful new establishment at the northwest corner of the intersection of Foster and Cuyler, has been opened by Fatheree Drug company.

The store is owned and will be operated by the partnership of V. E. Fatheree and Clyde Fatheree, which was formed here in 1920. The same firm also owns No. 1 and No. 4 in Pampa and No. 3 in LeFors.

The new store was named Corner Drug store because its location is familiarly known as "the corner". The general management of all the stores is under the direction of Clyde F. Fatheree. The personnel of the new store includes E. L. Turner, manager and registered pharmacist, who has been with the firm more than 3 years; J. D. Cash, registered pharmacist who comes from Hereford to take charge of window and interior displays;

Gene Fatheree, junior member of the firm, who will be in charge of the soda fountain and confectionery department; and Miss Dary Mesdor and Miss Eula Johns, fountain and sales assistants.

The Corner Drug store will feature the Rexall merchandise, for which the Fatheree Drug company has become one of the largest retail agents in the country on a per capita population basis. During 1931, Pampa ranked tenth in Texas for sales of Rexall merchandise, and at the Texas Rexall convention Clude Fatheree was elected first vice-president of the association. The store has a complete line of drug store merchandise including drugs, prescription department, toilet articles, sundries, tobacco, and confections. A luncheonette department is included.

In beauty and sanitation the new store takes rank with the best drug stores in West Texas.

HYACINTHS ORNAMENT GOWN OF SAME COLOR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hyacinth-blue, with ornamentation of the flowers whence it took its name, is the new color note struck by Mrs. Edgar Rickard, close friend of Mrs. Hoover. The blue, close-fitting gown, is made distinctive by a self-color mesh underbust with bell sleeves. Artificial hyacinth clusters at the throat, matching a large cluster at the back of the small blue hat.

ADOPT 5-DAY PLAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Socoy-Vacuum Corp. today announced that beginning November 1 operations of the company would be placed on a five day week with a corresponding reduction in pay. So far as practical, the announcement said, "job-sharing" will be put into effect for all employees, numbering more than 30,000. Workers whose earnings do not exceed $10 a month will be unaffected by the pay cut.

VELVET RUCHES WORN FOR EVENING

PARIS (AP)—Big velvet ruches, inspired by Pierrrot's costume and launched by Worth, are making their appearance for evening wear. One smart actress wears an evening frock of pale blue crepe roman with a big looped ruche of sapphire blue velvet.

The ruche, worn close about the throat and standing as high as the ears, is fastened to the frock with silver clips.

JEWELLED CLIPS FIND NEW FAVOR IN PARIS

PARIS (AP)—The most elaborate and glittering clips which Paris has yet devised brighten the evening mode this year. The new designs, made of genuine jewels, are worn in unexpected places. They swing suspended from the middle of an intricate cross-strap back decollete, they nestle in the folds of material, over one hip, or they gleam in the flat folds of a girdle. Occasionally they are clamped to one side of the front decollete.

Nothing Venture

by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Jervis Weare, left to drown in a tidal cave by Robert Leonard, gains a respite from death by swimming to a ledge above high water. Leonard demands $100,000 to release Jervis. Rosamund Carew, Jervis' former fiancée, is in league with Leonard, but when Leonard tells her Jervis probably has drowned she rushes into the cave to aid him.

Chapter 47
A GHASTLY TEA PARTY
 Rosamund's footsteps woke Jervis, who lay asleep in his soaked clothes on the high ledge.
 He shot out a hand and caught her by the wrist as she leaned forward and called his name. He felt her stiffen and fall back. His grip tightened. She began to try to wrench herself free. He got her other wrist with his left hand and pulled her down on her knees. She kept her hold of the torch.
 After a moment Rosamund laughed.
 "You needn't hold me so fiercely!" Jervis' grasp relaxed. He drew his hands back through the bars and was humiliated to find that they were shaking. Rosamund flashed the light on his face and exclaimed, "Are you all right?"
 "That comes well—from you," said Jervis.
 "What's the matter?"
 "Nothing. I'm thirsty."
 "Damn!" said Rosamund.
 The torch swung round in an erratic circle as she jumped up. Next moment she was round the bend. He could hear her running. The dusk went black.
 Robert Leonard heard sounds in the kitchen and went in, to find Rosamund coming out of the pantry with eggs in one hand and a jug of milk in the other. She had set a kettle boiling on the oil stove. She turned on him in a cold fury.
 "I didn't say you were to starve him!"
 "Dead men don't eat."
 "Don't push me too far!" said Rosamund. "I got him out of the house for you, and you went back on me by hitting him over the head. I could have brought him here, and you could have drugged him—but, no, you must behave like a savage and risk killing him! I won't have

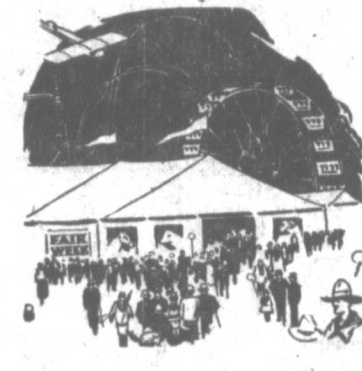

"Wasn't it one?"
 "Leonard tried to do me in."
 "Who told you?" said Rosamund.
 "Nan. She saw him. I didn't believe her."
 "No—you wouldn't!" said Rosamund. There was a bitterness in her voice. "Well, Robert had to get out of the country. He went to South America, and I didn't know whether he was dead or alive for eight years. Then he wrote to me, and last year he came back."
 "None of this explains why you should have gone out of your way to get engaged to me."
 "It was Robert's idea. Uncle Ambrose was dying, and Robert thought he'd settle a good bit on me if he thought I was going to marry you. Like another cup of tea? And then you'd better get those wet clothes off. I've got a blanket for you to put on."

That anger came up in Jervis again. He jerked away from her.
 "Stay wet if you like! Now look here—are you going to be sensible and pay up?"
 "No," said Jervis.
 "Not very grateful—are you? I've really been rather nice to you—much nicer than Robert—and the least you can do is to be friendly. What's he asking you now?"
 "One hundred and fifty thousand."
 "Well, it'll be two hundred thousand tomorrow and two hundred and fifty thousand the day after. I'm holding Robert back, but I can't go on holding him back. We've been pretty good pals, and why shouldn't you settle one hundred and fifty thousand on me? You'll be rid of us. Come—let's go."
 "Is it a deal?"
 "I'll see you both a good deal farther than Peru before I give you a penny!" he said.
 Nan slept, and as she slept she dreamed she was in a dark place, weeping bitterly. Then there was light. It shone through her hands, and through her closed lids, and through her tears, and she looked and saw what she had been once before in a dream.
 She saw wet stones, and Jervis lying on them, his head back and his eyes open as if he were dead. A wave of agony broke against her heart. She cried out in her sleep and woke, shuddering from head to foot.
 Nan got out of bed. She had dreamed that dream twice, and the first time Jervis had come to her. Now she must go to him. She was quite sure of this. Her fatigue was gone, and the trouble in her mind was gone.

 She had gone to bed crushed down by the thought that Jervis and Rosamund were together. This had gone too. She only knew that she had to find Jervis. She dressed herself, putting on a thin dress and a rain coat over it.
 She had unlatched the window, when a sudden thought turned her back to the writing-table. She found paper and pencil and wrote, "I'm going to look for Jervis. I'm going to Leonard's house first. I am quite sure he knows where Jervis is." She folded the sheet and addressed it to Ferdinand. Then she picked up an electric torch that was lying at the back of the table and went out of the long window.
 The thunder set her running. It was like a door banging behind her. She ran, and the wind that was blowing off the sea came up and carried her along. It was all like a dream. There was the same certainty, the same consciousness of something with which reason had nothing to do. Nan had not thought of where she was going. She had known.
 She came out of the lanes and began to climb the road along the cliff, and here the storm caught her like a leaf. One vesting gust flung her against the bank and held her there bruised and impotent. Spray drenched her. She fell twenty times. She was near the sheer drop over the cliff, again and yet again, and then, just as she could fight no more, the wind would lift and carry her along.
 She came to Robert Leonard's front door, felt for the handle, turned it and knew at once that the Texas Company Hikes Oil Price In Gray County.

HOUSTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Texas company was in line today with oil purchasers who have hiked the price of oil in Mid-Continent fields to more than $1 a barrel within the last few days.

Magnolia Petroleum company, the Humble and the Gulf were the principal Texas purchasers who had not met the increase. Officials of those companies said no action had been taken.

The Texas company Postings sent East Texas crude up 12 cents to $1.10, West Texas (Winkler, Crane and Upton counties, Texas, and Lea county, N. M.) up 10 cents to 75 cents; Darst Creek up 10 to 85 cents; Smackover, Ark., up 12 to 75; North Louisiana, up 12 to a top of $1.12; North Texas and North Central Texas up 12 to $1.12; Gray county, up 11 to 99 cents; Carson and Hutchinson counties, up 9 cents to 87 cents; Gulf coast up 10 to $1.

An important contribution to the movement to boost prices throughout the Mid-Continent area was given by the Texas company action. The upswing was started Monday by the Sun Oil company at Dallas.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer.

In spite of the universal popularity of fruit, new family dietaries contain enough. Usually it is served only at breakfast and its possibilities for salads and desserts in other meals are overlooked.

Children ordinarily are fond of fruit salads, which are a wholesome and thoroughly satisfactory concoction for juniors. Care should be taken that any inedible portions, such as the seeds of grapes, and raisins, are removed. Otherwise children need not be given special consideration in the preparation of a fruit salad.

Very often a salad can be made up of odds and ends of fruit that otherwise might go begging. One orange, one banana and two pears or any equal quantity of some other fruit will furnish enough salad for four persons, but used alone the fruit would be inadequate for a meal.

Always be sure to include one tart fruit in the salad combination. This prevents a tasteless uninteresting mixture and insures a pleasing, piquant and appetizing salad.

The dressing is of utmost importance. Delicacy of flavor is essential in order not to overpower the taste of the fruits. The dressing must be tart enough to blend with the flavor of the fruit, the salt and sugar definite enough to bring out the distinctive fruit flavor, the fat light and pleasingly noticeable, and pepper and mustard used sparingly. Special dressings can be made of whipped cream used with standard dressings to gain the blandness so desirable. The custom of combining whipped cream with a mayonnaise or rich cooked dressing makes a dressing that is exceedingly rich.

Tomorrow's Menu.

BREAKFAST: Baked apples, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, cornmeal pancakes, sirup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Creamed oysters with pimientos on toast, date and orange salad, brownies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Meat loaf with boiled rice border, cauliflower in cream sauce, beet and cottage cheese salad, mixed fruits in lemon jelly with whipped cream, milk, coffee.

While suitable for a luncheon salad it's a bit too heavy for the dinner salad. French dressing made with lemon, orange or grapefruit juice in place of vinegar is always delicious over fruits.

The following rule is for a dressing especially adapted to fruit salads. It uses the juice from canned fruit to advantage with lemon juice added for piquancy. Slightly salted whipped cream can be added as a garnish when the salad is ready to serve.

Fruit Salad Dressing.

Four tablespoons pear, peach or pineapple juice, 4 tablespoons lemon juice, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs.

Beat eggs just enough to blend whites and yolks. Add sugar, salt and fruit juices. Cook in double boiler stirring constantly, until thickened. The mixture should coat a metal spoon. Remove at once from heat and cook quickly in a pan of cold water.

Registrations of Unemployed Lags

Unemployed men and women from Pampa and the immediate territory are not registering at the Welfare board office in the basement of the city hall as fast as expected, and as a result the registration period will close with not all the names on hand.

When the federal relief money is received, only those who register will be given work, officials report.

Registering will continue until Wednesday of next week. Only 30 persons had given the necessary information to Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager of the board, up to noon today. Unemployed men or women not registering will be considered as not desiring work.

The Welfare Board will not be as frantic this year as last because of lack of funds and only persons who appear to desire work will reap the benefits this year, Welfare Board officials declare.

URNS BACK ON MILLION

Dolores Rey, movie player, turned her back on a million dollars when she left Larry Funk, orchestra leader, in a divorce action in Cleveland. Funk's petition said his wife was "money-mad and wouldn't go with anyone unless he had a million." Then Funk revealed that his wife lacked foresight, for he has inherited "enough to put me in the millionaire class," he said. Miss Rey and the back she turned are shown above.

Auto Races and Roosevelt Tour Feature LaNora Theater Newsreel

The breath-taking crash in which Ken Douglas, New York auto racer, nearly lost his life in the 50-mile motor-car speed classic at Langhorne, Pa., is thrillingly shown in the current issue of the Pampa Daily NEWS-Universal Newsreel, and graphically described by Graham McNamee, leading radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter, at the La Nora theater.

Douglas, speeding in the wake of Will Bill Cummings of Indianapolis, the final winner, skids on one of the turns and plunges into a ditch, almost plunging into a group of spectators perched along the eight-foot embankment. The luckless driver is thrown into the air and lands on the rear of his machine. His life is despaired of but after being examined at the hospital it is found his injuries are not fatal.

Billy Arnold, one of the favorites, is forced out of the sweepstakes when his eye is cut by a flying stone thrown up by one of the cars ahead. Cummings wins by a wide margin, taking the lead after the fifth mile.

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's hearty reception in Los Angeles, where 300,000 people turned out in that Republican stronghold to cheer the Democratic candidate, is an interesting feature in the newsreel. At the depot and along the route to his hotel, the crowds almost overwhelm him. McNamee reports many other outstanding and novel events in the reel, including the celebrated society sports event, the 34th running of the Meadow Brook steeplechase, with its spectacular tumbles and its colorful gallery, on the Long Island estate of F. Ambrose Clark.

Also, the talking reporter conducts theater-goers on an air-tour over the Chicago World's Fair grounds, pointing out the remarkable architectural features of the various buildings already completed or nearing completion.

Scenes showing an artist who "paints" pictures with colored salt, views of the final steel installation in the new West Coast hangar for the airship Macon, novel shots of a garter-snake enmeshed in a spider's web, and glimpses of various factories which have taken on em-

Common Law Wife Is Held in Hammer Slaying

HOUSTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—John Harvey Bailey was slain by the blow of a hammer at his home here early today, and his common law wife was charged with his murder.

The common law wife, Kathryn Livingston, 39, said in a statement to sheriff's deputies, "I just wanted to bruise Harvey's face one time, because he'd bruised mine so much."

The killing of Bailey came as the end to a night of wrangling between the pair which started after they had returned home from a beer party.

They quarreled over Mrs. Livingston's desire to visit her sister, who lived nearby, the woman told officers. She and Bailey, an oil field worker and musician, had been visiting her niece and had been drinking beer, she said.

Merten Orchestra To Play at Berger

Sid Merten and his Texans will play at the American Legion hall in Berger tonight after the Berger-Canyon football game. The Texans have become the leading dance orchestra in Berger.

The boys will make their initial appearance in Pampa within the next two weeks. The eight boys read music and have harmony and rhythm.

John Kramer of Skellytown, employee of the Cabot company, was admitted to the Worley hospital Wednesday for treatment for an eye injury. He was dismissed this morning.

"We returned home about 10:30, and then I told him I wanted to go and see my sister for a little while. Harvey got mad and jumped all over me. He said I just wanted to get out and see some one else. He choked me, scratched me and kicked and beat me."

McLean Grants Gas Franchise

M'LEAN, Oct. 14. (AP)—A 25-year franchise to serve McLean with gas has been granted to D. W. Humphreys, who agreed to have gas in the city mains by October 31.

The domestic rate will not exceed 30 cents a thousand cubic feet, the manufacturing rate will be not more than 10 cents, and churches, schools and the city will be furnished gas for 12 cents. The old domestic rate was 50 cents for 1,000 cubic feet.

AUDITORS TESTIFY

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 14. (AP)—Auditors who have examined the books of companies controlled by the late Ivar Krueger testified today before a board of inquiry that Krueger started 15 years ago to manipulate the accounts of the Krueger & Toll company to give a false impression of its position.

Denver Increases Childress Payroll

CHILDRESS, Oct. 14. (AP)—Since completion of the Childress-Pampa branch of the Fort Worth and Denver in July, officials of the company have been centralizing their operations in this city with the result that the local payroll of the railroad has been increased more than $1,000 a month.

J. Pfeiffer, superintendent of motive power, from Fort Worth, and O. R. Bodeen, chief dispatcher, from Amarillo, head the departments which recently have been located here.

Childress is 220 miles from Fort Worth, 234 miles from Texline, 111 miles from Pampa, 148 miles from Dimmitt and 140 miles from Lubbock, extreme points on the division operated from Childress.

Malon Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harris, has enrolled in the Chillicothe Business college in Chillicothe, Mo., for the complete business course.

Kiwanis Safety Program Explained

The Kiwanis safety program was explained to high school students this morning by Justice James Todd Jr., who was introduced by J. H. Hulme, another member of the club.

A group of Kiwanians has appeared at many Pampa schools this week to explain the Junior police movement.

Today's chapel was opened by the high school band. The Rev. C. A. Long was in charge of the devotional. Samuel Fendleton, piano teacher with studio in the Strickland apartments, played solos.

TRY THIS, MOTHERS

DALLAS (AP)—Here is a tip for mothers harassed by ardent suitors of their daughters who insist on staying around until early morning hours. A Dallas mother filed charges against the young man for trespassing. However, when the case was called, she asked Judge Clavin Muse to dismiss the case, saying the young man had promised to take leave earlier.
