BANK CLOSING RESULT OF SHORTAGE OF CASH

AMARILLO, Sept. 23. (AP)—Continued search in Amarillo has failed to reveal any trace of H. C. Doherty, missing bank president of Burlington, Okla., who is reported to have mailed a letter here Sunday night to his family. Officers scoured the countryside north of here for information about a mysterious note mailed from Amarillo to the Oklahoma highway department. The note, signed "A Hoover Bug," was addressed to car license No. 24867, issued for Doherty's car. "Be sure to look on the northeast side of the Santa Fe highway and find what I saw north of Amarillo," read the note in part. Search in the vicinity of all underpasses north of the city failed to reveal any clue.

Jurors Return 25 Indictments

Twenty-five indictments, with charges ranging from murder and hijacking to swindling, were signed by J. L. Stroope, foreman of the grand jury, today and delivered to the district clerk. Most of the accused were in jail, but several were to be arraigned. Papers had not been completed at press time and the names of those indicted were not available for publication at that time.

GANDHI AGREES WITH HINDUS ON PLAN TO IMPROVE VOTING PRIVILEGES OF UNTOUCHABLES

How's your democratic fervor? If it needs a stimulant just write to B. Underwood at Amarillo—he's been made chairman of a campaign committee in this area. Let Maine go as it will. Texas democratic leaders are going to campaign just as if the opposition were worthy of hard work.

The nerve of them—these folks of the little white pill fraternity who are ridiculing the game of knocking around a soft baseball!

Crops may be spotted this year, but exhibitors at the Tri-State fair certainly picked their products from the right spots.

"Shant the work" is to be the slogan of those trying to help the unemployed this winter. But far from being the slogan of the winter, it is apt to become the slogan of the decade, if not the century.

The state democratic convention and the state democratic committee favor an appropriation for the Texas centennial. That doesn't make it unanimous, but the amendment may have a chance with Ferguson's behind it.

Many persons do not know that the Communist party has a Texas gubernatorial candidate. He is Dr. Howe of Lynn county, we are informed, and was nominated at a Houston convention attended by 70 persons. He is making an active campaign. When he spoke in Dalhart recently, he was asked by John McCarthy, editor of THE TEXAS, what would happen to newspapers if communism were installed. Dr. Howe declared that practically all existing newspapers would be confiscated and turned over to the government to run. They would print what the government wanted them to print and propaganda would largely take the place of news. The communistic theory, according to Dr. Howe, is that in a workers' government there would be no corruption, hence no need for any checks in the form of news. How change in government could change human nature was not explained.

Many things must happen to democratic government in the next half century, and will happen, but we do not believe communism will be adopted. Americans are too liberty-loving, too much afraid of a crowd of the opportunity of receiving extra reward for extra work, to adopt an initiative-killing and soul-smothering system like Soviet Russia is trying. We do believe, however, that the Soviet experiment will have tremendous influence on social and governmental tendencies in this country. This influence does not mean that any similar movement will be attempted in America, but that political thought will revolve about the Russian experiment.

In this connection we quote the French writer Andre Maurois: "Real revolutions are time bombs which explode when their causes have reached into the past." He adds that "there are times in the history of mankind when man no longer understands his ancestors, his father, himself."

HUGE THROUNGS CHEER TALKS OF ROOSEVELT

PREDICTS PARTY LINES WILL BE BROKEN IN NOVEMBER

REPUBLICAN IS PRAISED

CALIFORNIANS ASKED TO CAST ASIDE PARTY ALLEGIANCE

By WALTER T. BROWN, Associated Press Staff Writer
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23. (AP)—With a prediction party lines would be broken more than ever before in history in the November elections, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today carried his presidential campaign to within 35 miles of the legal residence of President Hoover, whom he hopes to succeed in the White House.

The democratic nominee's statement that liberal republicans were giving a "remarkable response" to his plea to forget party lines, was coupled with praise for Senator Hiram Johnson, California independent republican who has often clashed with President Hoover.

Shortly before he was welcomed by great San Francisco throngs last night, the New York governor in Sacramento—the state capital—described Johnson as "long a warrior in the ranks of true American progress" and endorsed his most recent criticism of the administration.

Earlier in the week Johnson had told the state federation of labor a government which "thinks only of a favored few is unworthy of the name and unfit to govern."

CHICAGO, Sept. 23. (AP)—Corporation Securities company and Insull investment trusts, Inc., the two Insull investment trusts in which the public had $300,000,000 invested, were adjudged "trusts" by federal Judge Walter C. Lindley. The decrees, which Judge Lindley had indicated last night he would sign, were filed with the clerk of United States District Court during Judge Lindley's absence in Danville, his home.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23. (AP)—The last slender hope of stockholders of the American Commonwealth Power corporation would "make every effort to force an acceptable settlement with the receivers."

Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley, who appointed receivers for the Insull Utility Investments, Inc., and the Corporation Securities company, the deposed utility king's most ambitious projects, has decided the best course open was to institute bankruptcy proceedings against both concerns.

Churches Advancing Despite Hard Times

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (AP)—The Christian church, which made its early gains during a period of "hard times", is increasing its membership as a direct result of the depression, Dr. G. L. Kieffer, president of American religious statisticians, believes.

CITES GROWTH

Local churches, disorganized by the influx of new peoples and the necessity of providing larger auditoriums and Sunday school plants, have gone forward magnificently during the last three years, it was pointed out. The number of churches has multiplied, many lay projects have been organized, successful and frequent revivals have been held, beautiful structures have been erected, inter-church fellowship has been mutually inspiring.

No Pampa minister is more enthusiastic about the way local churches are progressing than the Rev. F. W. O'Malley, under whose pastorate the fine new edifice was erected by the First Christian church.

The hardest work I ever did was during the so-called boom days," Rev. O'Malley said. "But since I have been in Pampa the quieter days have come. The depression has in a sense been a god-send to us, for we advanced our building program several years to take advantage of the cheaper materials."

COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW CITED IN PETITION

AUSTIN, Sept. 23. (AP)—Trial of Governor R. S. Sterling's suit contesting the democratic nomination of Mrs. Miram A. Ferguson for governor of Texas was set today for October 3 in the district court of Judge W. F. Robertson, vice.

Papers preparatory to obtaining service on Mrs. Ferguson were being made out by the district clerk's office. Governor Sterling filed the suit last night, alleging that 55,000 persons had been permitted to cast illegal votes in the runoff primary of August 27 between him and Mrs. Ferguson. Mrs. Ferguson had been declared the party nominee by the state democratic convention a week ago on September 13. The official canvass showed she received about 4,000 more votes than Gov. Sterling.

Governor Sterling asked the court to order the secretary of state to certify him as the democratic nominee in the general election after a hearing had been held on the allegations of the suit.

He proposed that the ballot boxes in certain counties, where irregularities were alleged, be brought into court and opened to substantiate charges made by him.

state to certify the ballot not later than thirty days before the general election. The election will come on November 8th this time.

Governor Sterling filed a court contest of Mrs. Ferguson's nomination the day the convention declared her the nominee but his attorney yesterday had it dismissed and decided to file a new suit. Both petitions were placed in the court of Judge W. F. Robertson.

Attached to the suit petition were approximately 1,300 pages of exhibits, including the names of the voters it was alleged cast illegal ballots.

The suit contended that all votes cast for Mrs. Ferguson were illegal, "in that she was ineligible to become a candidate of the democratic party at the general election and ineligible to the office of governor."

Violates Constitution
The petition recited that Mrs. Ferguson was ineligible to hold the office of a senator because she was the wife of James E. Ferguson, a licensed attorney, and entitled to a share of his earnings under the community property law.

The petition asserted that during Mrs. Ferguson's administration Ferguson became the attorney in fact and agent of various large interests, thereby increasing the community earnings of himself and wife.

Sterling alleged in his petition that each year of Mrs. Ferguson's tenure her earnings were increased to more than $50,000 above the salary paid her by the state. These earnings were described as "compensation, rewards, fees, secured by her for the practicing of law through her husband as her marital partner, and by the services which he rendered to various interests and corporations."

It was contended that was in violation of a provision of the state constitution which prohibits the governor from practicing any profession or receiving any reward, fee or compensation.

One allegation was that more than three hundred persons in a certain county obtained poll tax receipts without paying for them, and their votes counted for Mrs. Ferguson.

At this half way point of his 8,900-mile campaign swing, Governor Roosevelt was almost next door to the Palo Alto residence of President Hoover.

Before he leaves tonight, Mr. Roosevelt will have made two speeches here. The first at noon before the Chamber of Commerce, and an organization of leading business and professional men, was non-political.

route from Portland, Mr. Roosevelt said "prominent members and thousands of the rank and file of the other party have declared their belief that the principles I stand for are the principles of genuine American progress."

G. O. P. Leaders Assailed
"I invite them; I welcome them, and I pledge my faith to the principles that have brought us together."

At virtually every stop in his trip down the Sacramento valley, Mr. Roosevelt appealed for republican support. He depended upon the declaration that the democratic campaign was against the "republican leadership."

William G. McAdoo, senatorial candidate, following Roosevelt's Sacramento talk, said "California never did a grander thing than to go to his (Roosevelt's) assistance in the Chicago convention."

It was California's and Texas' swing from Speaker John N. Garner to Roosevelt on the fourth ballot that assured the New York governor's nomination.

Harmony prevails in democratic ranks in California, said McAdoo, and he was echoed by Julius Wardell, whom he defeated for the senatorial nomination.

The scope of women's activities in local churches has broadened immensely during the depression. Always at their best when combining welfare work with their Bible studies, the women have turned their societies into work-clubs and have cooked, canned, sewed, and nursed to relieve the sick and the destitute.

Are Pampa churches being whipped by the depression? Preposterous, say the pastors! And the statistics here bear out the observation that nationally the churches are meeting a test which proves that man does not live by material things alone although they are important and the church is playing leading role in welfare work.

whom he sought to befriend. Brother Called Search for the banker revealed two mysterious telephone calls had been made to his brother in Wichita, Kan., adding to the apprehension for his safety. The calls were made Tuesday night. The first, investigators said, told Doherty's brother, "I phone bad news. Henry won't return. Don't tell anyone but your son and daughter. God bless you."

The second, 30 minutes later, said, "The call a while ago was a farce." Officers have been unable to trace the calls.

An automobile identified as Doherty's was found abandoned on the Newcastle road in Cleveland county, Oklahoma. Deputy sheriffs said two discharged pistol shells were found in the rear seat of the car.

An anonymous note, mailed from Oklahoma City and addressed to the Oklahoma highway commission, added to the mystery. It gave the number of Doherty's automobile license and read further:

"Be sure to look on the north-east side of the Santa Fe overpass and find what I saw north of Amarillo. He should have hit the gun. I was sure scared. A Hoover Bug."

Texas officers investigated but found no clues. The last word of Doherty's whereabouts was a letter he mailed his wife from Shamrock, Tex., last Sunday.

Doherty Believed Seen
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 23 (AP)—A man resembling Henry C. Doherty, banker, was reported today to have engaged a farm woman in conversation near the point on the Newcastle road where the banker's motor car was abandoned Monday.

Deputy Sheriff W. T. Egan said a man answering Doherty's description had a conversation Tuesday with a Mrs. Sawyer, whose farm is 100 yards from where the automobile was left.

Investigators said they had reason to believe Doherty was an amnesiac victim.

"The stronger went up to a Mrs. Sawyer's house and began a conversation without giving any reason for his appearance," Egan said. Mrs. Sawyer said his actions were peculiar and caused her some fright.

The deputy said Mrs. Sawyer told him the man pointed to the abandoned automobile and remarked "there certainly must have been some foul play there."

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Where Men Are Men
The Pitt Panther has been sharpening its claws in the woods near Windber, Pa., in preparation for what appears to be the hardest schedule a major university team ever attempted.

The 60 stalwarts upon whom Doctor Jock Sutherland bases his hopes for victory over Notre Dame, Stanford, Ohio State, Army, Penn, Carnegie Tech and others have lived outdoor life for two weeks in the rugged hills 20 miles from Johnstown.

Work and Sleep
To reach the camp a visitor must take a dirt road through the wilderness. Farmers tell you it is "a couple of miles down the holler."

During the summer an engineering school is held there. The camp, consisting of a row of wooden shacks and a mess hall, is turned over to the football heroes for two weeks.

It should be an excellent engineering camp, because a man almost had to have a theodolite to find it.

The young men who will battle in ten hard games that take them all the way from Morgantown, W. Va., to Lincoln, Neb., emerge from a heap of blankets at 7:30 o'clock in the morning. They are back under them at 9 each night, meanwhile having packed in about 14 hours of climbing hills, scrambling and packing in the food at intervals.

Call of the Wild
The camp is for men only. Probably the only danger Jock's footballer is an occasional bear. The woods are wild, and Sutherland hopes his young Panthers catch some of that spirit because he needs wild men to carry out a schedule that the coaches view with alarm.

Dinner in the mess hall, around 6:30, is a noble institution. It is much like an army grub room, with long tables flanked by benches. The lads park there for their biscuits. Naturally full dress suits are not worn.

Many of the players wear shorts all day long. Some, stripped to the waist, wear only duck pants. All of them eat like majors.

Young collegians bear plates to the diners, and this correspondent finds his loaded with a huge chunk of meat loaf and a baked potato. There is a heap of toast, as hard as zwieback, on the table, and plenty of butter. One long dish contains celery and stuffed olives. The dessert is a starry pudding.

Huge pitchers, containing milk, buttermilk, coffee, cocoa or water, are placed before the diners. The cocoa is excellent, but the coffee is milder than the kind served by most restaurants.

Spills the Seasoning
There is a din of conversation, clattering of dishes and an occasional prank, such as when a 190-pound tackle playfully drops a pepper cellar into his pal's buttermilk. Then there are guffaws all around.

In the evening, some of the boys gather on the gridiron that has been planned off between the towering hills and kick the ball around until dark. Sutherland, wearing a wind-breaker to keep off the keen evening cold, looks on, delivering new and then some shouted instructions in a voice that retains a faint Scottish burr.

The coach was born in Scotland, by the way, and did not reach America until he was 18 years old. He is tall, slender and with a determined jaw. He looks like a football coach, and the players tell you he is one. The man is rugged, like the rocky hills around Windber.

He is not the kind of teacher you'd thing a youngster would talk back to. But they swear by him as a faithful friend.

Pampa Red Cross! Quota Set at 750

The Pampa Red Cross quota has been set at 750 members, according to a lengthy telegram received this morning by John I. Bradley, chairman of the Pampa chapter.

The young men who will battle in ten hard games that take them all the way from Morgantown, W. Va., to Lincoln, Neb., emerge from a heap of blankets at 7:30 o'clock in the morning. They are back under them at 9 each night, meanwhile having packed in about 14 hours of climbing hills, scrambling and packing in the food at intervals.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, Sept. 23 (AP)—Seventy-two Bolivians were slain in a battle in the Chaco, which Paraguayan troops captured nearly 100 yards of Bolivian trenches, an army communique said today. It was the first announcement of definite casualties in the battle which has lasted nearly two weeks.

Former Sunday News-Post Run 'Radio Station' Is Being Constructed

Ban on Broadcast and Slash In Admission Prices Is Sad Error

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dr. R. N. Blackwell, former Southern Methodist university athletic business manager, is convinced the Southwest conference is making two mistakes this season. They are the ban on broadcasts and the slash in admission prices.

Blackwell was the man behind the gun in mapping out major inter-sectional schedules for the S. M. U. Mustangs—schedules that brought the Mustangs national recognition.

Seated in the press box last Friday night at the Jefferson university and Durant Savages game, he discussed the ban on broadcasts, and the cut in admissions.

"The conference made a grave mistake in announcing a ban on the broadcast of games. Big newspapers, who own most of the large broadcasting stations, are not going to like the conference ban and I certainly think they have a protest. There isn't a university in the world that doesn't need newspaper publicity from the athletic end, and how they intend to get it by going against newspaper-owned radio stations is more than I can understand. Football broadcasts not only help the schools but creates an interest for games. It looks like the boys are cutting their throats for no reason whatever. If I was still connected with a conference school, not only would I fight the ban, but I would broadcast my home games whether the conference liked it or not."

Of the cut in prices, he said: "That was a mistake. The usual football crowd does not change from season to season. The conference should have retained last year admission prices and centered all the high prices in the middle of the stadiums. After that they could have sold the seats for a dime or a nickel if their idea is to fill the stadium. Football has a hard time of it, and with lower prices, the going will be tougher. Give any fan a little worth while game and he will give you a fair price to see the contest. However, I am out of the conference now and what I think does not matter, but I would be willing to wager that the ban on the broadcast will be lifted next season. There is one thing you can't do successfully—that's fight the press."

GOOD GOLFER

SHAMROCK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Billy Holmes, 19-year-old Shamrock golfer, has added the crown of the Cap Rock golf tournament to his growing list of titles. Holmes won the championship of the Green Belt league at Elestra early in the summer. Prior to that time he had been declared the champion golfer of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, and city champion at Shamrock. The youth won his last victory at Childress, defeating C. P. Sanders Jr. of the same age, 7 and 6. The field included many veteran golfers of the lower Panhandle.

EAGLE PASS, Sept. 23 (AP)—Nine cartloads of radio material, representing the "latest of modern inventions being transported by one of the most primitive methods," according to Dan Homer, supervisor of station XEPN, wound their way this week out to the site of the "largest commercial radio station in the world." The station is being constructed nine miles north of Piedras Negras, Coah., by W. E. Branch, noted radio engineer of Fort Worth, Tex., and C. M. Bres, capitalist of Piedras Negras.

When completed Oct. 1, when its first program is scheduled to be broadcast, XEPN will have a power capacity of 75,000 watts. It will broadcast on a frequency of 885 kilocycles.

Except for three transformers which are on the way by railroad, the mule-caravan that wound its way to the completed station building this week was the last shipment of apparatus for the transmitter. Although they have been delayed by the recent high rise in the Rio constable put several helpers of the railroad surveyor who came through that place laying out the Houston East & West Texas railroad, in jail on charge of being drunk, the engineer reported the route impractical. The road went five miles to the west, and the village of Lufkin in an old field became the county seat.

For many years Milan was the capital of Sabine county, but in 1857 the village of Hemphill, twelve miles to the south, came into existence and an election being held, to decide on moving the capital to the new place, Hemphill won.

Pennington was once the county seat of Trinity county, but it was moved to Trinity, and later to Groveton.

Moscow used to be the capital of Polk county, but when the Houston East & West Texas railway built through the county in 1882 the county seat was changed to Livingston.

Town Bluff was the original capital of Tyler county, and was succeeded by Woodville, in 1860. Town Bluff was on the Sabine river.

Burkville was for many years the county seat of Newton county,

Many changes have taken place in the various county seats of East Texas counties.

Shelbyville was the original capital of Shelby county. In an election held in 1857 the people voted by a majority of six to move it to Center, six miles to the west, because Bob Parker, surveyor had proved that spot was the center of Shelby county.

It also developed that he owned the land in the center of the county. Opponents of the move sought an injunction, but before it could be served, Parker with a negro man and yoke of oxen moved the iron safe that contained the county records to Center, and the matter was dropped.

Believe Cosgrave May Face Arrest

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Sept. 23 (AP)—A possibility that former President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish Free State may be arrested and tried for his platform attacks on the De Valera government was predicted today by Cosgrave's supporters.

A speech which he made recently in Galway especially angered the government, these sources said, and [ex President] De Valera's newspaper, the Irish PRESS, to warn the former president if he repeats the charges he may be tried before a military tribunal.

The military tribunal mentioned was set up by Cosgrave himself while he was head of the government, to try cases of sedition under the national safety act. The practice was suspended by the De Valera government when it came into power, but the legislation setting up the court has not been repealed and presumably it could be made operative again.

TAX LEVY CUT

TULIA, Tex., Sept. 23 (AP)—Although Swisher county did not profit from recent action of the Texas legislature in authorizing the state to take over road bonds, the county tax levy was cut 12 cents to 76 cents. Together with the five cent reduction in the state levy, the total state and county tax rate has been reduced 17 cents, while valuations were reduced $600,000.

Mrs. W. B. Murray, Mrs. Ellis Young, and Mrs. Cecil Fitzgerald, the latter of Miami, went to Amarillo yesterday.

Eye Witnesses of Jungles Reports War Not Likely

BOGOTA, Colombia, Sept. 23 (AP)—Official sources said today the $10,000,000 defense loan proposed following the demand for war with Peru over the Amazon port of Leticia was oversubscribed. (The Peruvian congress approved a defense loan of $5,000,000, to be used at 6 per cent a year.)

ENVIRONMENT OF YOUNG FOLK DECLARED EVIL

SWIMMING POOL, JOY RIDE, MOVIES, AND DANCE SCORED

In spite of the stormy evening, Evangelist B. B. Crimm addressed another large crowd Thursday, his sermon dealing with the picture show, joy rides, swimming party, and dance. He discussed the effect of environment on the human family and stated that there were 1,000 people in and around Pampa who had been Christians but who had been affected by evil environment.

"The curse of this age," he said, "is the social sin. The tribulations that feed the stream of population are as follows: 1. The picture show, which I am against for the following reasons: Producers thought more of American dollars than they did of American morals; actors and actresses are not worthy of being the heroes and heroines of the youth of today; the evil picture show is a sin against the unborn child; it is laughed out of court, the ideals of true love, and courtship; it has ridiculed the old-time religion; it has sought to bring about social equality with the negro. 2. The joy ride, which is damning many of the youth of today. The highways are filled with unchaperoned couples who evade conventionalities in the darkness of the night. 3. The swimming pool, which is indecent, immodest, and beneath the dignity of any people. 4. The dance, character-despoiler, virtue-wrecker, and hell-filler. The evangelist then discussed the old-fashioned home, relating the story of his early childhood in a home where family prayer was held and hymns were sung. The audience stood as a means of endorsing the sermon and of pledging itself to help make Pampa a better place.

Mobeetie Couple Wed 50 Years Is Honored Tuesday

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Roberts, 70 and 69 years old, respectively, was celebrated Tuesday evening in Mobeetie at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Roberts. Fifty-two persons were present, including 23 grand children. Four great-grand children could not attend. A cake with 50 candle adorning it had been prepared by the daughters-in-law of the couple. The children present included Oscar, Lee, and Mrs. Marvin of Mobeetie; Jodie, Ernest, and Tom of Pampa; Mrs. S. B. Rose, Pampa; and Mrs. A. E. West of Hereford. Arthur of Enigma, N. M., and Mrs. Allie McCormick of Snyder.

Young People To Have Social Hour

Persons who have been attending the young people's revival, held each evening preceding the B. B. Crimm revival service, will have a social hour beginning this evening at 6:15 o'clock in the W. Kingsmill tabernacle. H. M. Powell is in charge of the young people's services.

Director 'Back Street' Expert On Domesticity

The film director who "shoots" scenes of perhaps the greatest average length in Hollywood is a firm believer in short scenes. But circumstances, he points out, often alter cases. John M. Stahl, former producer, is this paradoxical individual, who has established an outstanding reputation as a director of domestic dramas, and it is the particular type of stories which he usually films that causes him to proceed in a manner of which he does not thoroughly approve. His latest picture, "Back Street," the Universal production of the widely read novel by Fannie Hurst, comes to the La Nora theatre on Sunday, with Irene Dunne and John Boles in the leading roles, and Stahl's opinions on film making should prove especially interesting to local theatergoers who intend to see the screen-play.

"In making screen plays from stage plays," says Stahl, "or from novels which depend mainly on dialogue, the director is dealing with stories which are carried forward by the speech rather than the action of the characters—with stories which are structurally built for dialogue. To divide a play into a multiplicity of short scenes, then, interrupts the flow of dialogue to such an extent that the screen story slows up and stagnates, and the original play is ruined. And so though as a producer I would not permit my directors to film such long scenes as a general practice, I try in this way to preserve the smooth flow of such stories in the only way possible.

"In the long run, the production of a dialogue drama is the most difficult of a director's tasks. Since the interest must be maintained almost entirely by the speech of the characters, the screen play must have many ingredients to intrigue the attention of the audience. "The so-called 'chase' pictures need have only one ingredient, and that is action. The screen may show, or a chase picture may show, a thief running into that house, and with no assistance from dialogue the interest may be maintained for all of three reels, with the gathering of the police and all the attendant excitement of a manhunt. "The most painstaking care must be lavished on the production of a domestic drama, and I think that 'Back Street' will be found to give unmistakable evidence of this quality."

The cast of "Back Street," in addition to Irene Dunne and John Boles, includes June Clyde, George Egan, Zasu Pitts, William Bakewell, Arletta Duncan, Doris Lloyd, and many others. Fannie Hurst's story was adapted for the screen by Gladys Lehman who has written the screen versions of many successes.

Old Man River To 'Go Straight'

VICKSBURG, Miss., Sept. 23. (AP)—Father Mississippi, a genial old reprobate except when he gets full up north and staggers home to track up the place with mud, is going to follow a new path in his wanderings around the bluff country.

His only master, the United States government, has decided the old man will behave better if he detours at Diamond Point. So engineers will build him a straight road there and try to make him follow it. The Mississippi river commission offers here announced the plan yesterday and said work on the cutoff will begin immediately. Diamond Point is south of Vicksburg and is separated from the river by Davis Island on which stood the home of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy. The detour will shorten the navigation route by 10 miles and will lower the backwater flood area, engineers said. The new channel will be two miles long and its construction will require removal of about three million yards of earth.

Pampa Musicians To Give Program At Fair Today

The Pampa high school band went to Amarillo by car and bus today to broadcast at the Tri-State fair and to play in the grandstand at the rodeo. This project was part of the observance of Pampa day at the fair. Tonight from 9 to 9:30 o'clock there will be a Pampa program in which Supt. R. B. Fisher, tenor; Mrs. May Foreman Carr, pianist; and Miss Eleanor Carr, violinist, will participate. George Briggs, manager of the B. C. D. accompanied the Pampa group.

Youth Held For Follett Parents

City officers are detaining a boy who declares he is 19 years old, but who appears to be about 14, until word is received from his parents in Follett. After more than an hour of questioning by Chief John Andrews last night, the boy admitted that he had run away from home. He didn't know where he was going. He was picked up on the streets last night by local officers. At first he refused to talk. The officers arrested two on vagrancy charges. Two women were arrested by county officers last night for disturbing the peace while intoxicated.

Wilson Auditing Gray Bond Issues

County Auditor R. C. Wilson was busy today on an audit of Gray county bond issues with the specific purpose of determining what part had been used in the construction of paving on state highways. Within 30 days, County Judge S. D. Stennis must make a report to the newly created Board of County and District Indebtedness. This board is headed by State Engineer Gibb Gilchrist, assisted by the comptroller and treasurer. The state body will have power to assume such of the specified indebtedness as it may decide Gray county is entitled to under the new legislation, and its decisions are not subject to review by any other body. The new bill, a copy of which has been received by Judge Stennis, reveals that the state has adopted as a permanent policy the plan of not requiring counties to aid in financing hard-surfacing of designated roads. The state will make no refund for right-of-way purchases.

Love Birds Cause Of Parrot Fever, Says Specialist

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, whose 1929 campaign against Psittacosis resulted in clamping down a strict parrot import quarantine, today warned that that method can not be expected to check new appearances of "parrot fever." He said cases now arising are being traced almost invariably to domestic love birds, believed by physicians the source of Mrs. William E. Borah's illness. Last night Dr. Cumming dispatched to Boise via airmail a packet of "parrot fever" convalescent serum for treatment of the Idaho senator's wife. "The only case arising from an imported bird since we started the quarantine was a customs officer at San Diego who went out to a ship and brought a bird ashore," said Dr. Cumming. "All the rest arose from domestic birds, and all thus far have been from the west coast."

Extensive investigations of the disease by the service led to the system of treating it with convalescent serum which now has been invoked for the treatment of Mrs. Borah.

BANK ROBBED REDWOOD FALLS, Minn., Sept. 23. (AP)—Six bandits kidnaped the cashier and assistant cashier of the State Bank and Trust company today and fled with about $35,000 of the bank's funds. The two victims were released about two miles out of town, unharmed. Five of the men invaded the institution and flourishing pistols, carried out sacks of currency and gold to an automobile, in which the sixth member of the band sat.

Newsreel Shows Speed Race At LaNora Theater

The walk-away victory of America's speedboat ace, Gar Wood, holder of the Harmsworth Trophy, over Kaye Don, the British challenger in the annual water classic, staged this year on Lake St. Clair, Detroit, is vividly shown in the current issue of the Pampa Daily NEWS-Universal newsreel. Graham McNamee, world famous radio announcer and the screen's Talking Reporter, covers the event for film fans of the La Nora theater.

With 200,000 spectators lining the shore or in the myriad of small and large boats, the aquatic speedsters groom their respective craft, Miss America X and Miss England III, in the early morning hours and with a terrific burst of speed cross the starting line shortly after daybreak. Bow to bow they skim down the straightaway for the first lap. But Don plays in his usual ill-luck and a balky motor soon puts an end to his cup aspirations and robs the contest of its final thrill.

Troops Reported In Mobilization Dry Amendment In Court Again

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 23. (AP)—Reports from Mangos, in western Brazil, today said Colombia was mobilizing troops and airplanes in the Putumayo district, near Leticia, over which there recently has been a clamor for war with Peru. Six airplanes have been sent to La Chorrera, on the Putumayo river, the dispatch said, and the Colombian garrisons at Popayan, San Miguel and Puerto Assis were proceeding toward the lower Putumayo and probably would concentrate at La Chorrera, from where they would embark for Leticia. It added that 2,000 Colombians soon would pass through Brazilian territory to retake Leticia, which was seized by Peruvian civilians recently. Leticia is a Colombian river port.

Large defense funds have been authorized in both Colombia and Peru this week and in the capitals of both the people have clamored for war. Large sums have been pledged to the Colombian government by private individuals and organizations to swell the "war chest."

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 23. (AP)—The argument that the eighteenth amendment is invalid because it never was submitted to the states for ratification was prepared to be submitted to the United States district court here today by local attorneys defending an alleged dry law violator. The attorneys, Morris S. Snyder, John S. L. Yost and Joseph McCormick, have filed a demurrer and motion to quash indictments against their client who is charged with sale and possession of liquor and maintaining a nuisance. In their brief it is asserted the eighteenth amendment has been void since Jan. 17, 1928, because section 3 of the amendment reads: "This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified by the legislatures of the several states, as provided in the constitution, within seven years from the date of submission hereof to the states by the congress."

This procedure, they contend, never was literally followed. John Echols of Quanah is a Pampa visitor today. E. A. Anderson of El Paso is visiting friends here for a few days.

'Suicide Schedule' May Engulf Tech

LUBBOCK, Sept. 23. (AP)—Big time football looms for the Texas Tech Matadors, this week as they launch into a "suicide schedule" of contests never before attempted by the seven-year-old institution. The first of three Southwest conference teams faces the Matadors next Saturday at Amarillo in the Tri-State fair feature. The Southern Methodist university Mustangs, supported by the S. M. U. band and a special trainload of rosters, come to Lubbock October 1. Baylor's Bears trouble the Matadors here November 11. In addition to the Southwest conference eleven, three other more or less widely advertised clubs appear on Tech's schedule. The Matadors play as members of an organized conference for the first time this season, meeting the University of Arizona and the University of New Mexico in Border Intercollegiate Athletic conference games.

Hunk Anderson sends his Notre Dame "B" team to Lubbock October 28. The Colorado College of Mines, Austin college and Simmons university provide a sprinkling of "breathers" during the week of the Matadors topped off the first week of practice with the season's opener against the Panhandle Aggies of Goodwell, Okla., Saturday. Coach Pete Cawthon sent nearly all of his 54 candidates into the field in the new substitution rule to its limit in testing out three complete teams and a squad of reserves.

New Deep Sea Diving Record Set By Beebe

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Sept. 23. (AP)—A new deep sea diving mark of nearly a half mile was added to the world's records today. Dr. William Beebe, New York scientist, and Otis Barton, inventor of the "bathysphere," a newly devised diving apparatus, descended 2,200 feet below the surface of the Atlantic here yesterday and broadcast their impressions over the radio from the depths. The 2,200 feet was several hundred feet farther down than Dr. Beebe, noted as a deep sea explorer had ever been. The "bathysphere" protected them from a pressure of 4,900 tons, enough to have flattened both of them if the apparatus had failed. The experiment was made seven miles off Nonsuch Island, Bermuda, from the tug "Freedom," which rode in glorious sunshine atop a heavy ocean swell. Dr. Beebe hoped to reach 3,000 feet but was prevented from doing so by leakage of the sea water in a stuffing box through which the electric light cables entered the diving apparatus. The scientist said they had seen many ocean marvels of great scientific value.

Scout Board of Review Is Tonight

Boy Scouts eligible for advancement in rank or for additional merit badges will come before a board of review headed by the Rev. James Todd, Jr., at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the basement of the First Methodist church. The boys will receive their honors at a Court of Honor in the district court room one week from tonight. One of the largest classes of the year is scheduled to go before the board tonight, according to C. A. Clark, executive of the Adobe Walls council, who will assist in the work. Adult leaders in the various types of work in which the Scouts are advancing will examine the applicants. They will be questioned on their activities and their knowledge on the various subjects. Scout leaders urge parents to attend the Court of Honor and know scouting better. They would like the parents to become more interested in the boys who will do better work when they know others are taking an interest in their work.

TRUCE SUGGESTED WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. (AP)—Francis White, chairman of the neutral commission negotiating for peace between Paraguay and Bolivia, has called on both countries to cease hostilities immediately. White asked the two Southern American nations to initiate negotiations for settlement of their differences by arbitration without reservation.

RALLY CALLED DALLAS, Sept. 23. (AP)—An effort on the part of a group of democrats to defeat Mrs. Miran A. (Ma) Ferguson for governor in the Nov. 8 election has resulted in the calling of a state-wide mass meeting at the Dallas city hall tomorrow morning.

Two Film Stars Seek Divorces

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23. (AP)—The call of the troupers was blamed today for one of Hollywood's latest broken romances, that of Vivian Duncan, portrayor of the role of Eva in the stage and screen version of "Topsy and Eva," and her husband, Nils Asther, Swedish born film actor. Announcement Miss Duncan and Asther separated 10 days ago was followed by revelation of a domestic split between Greta Nissen, blonde screen actress, and Weldon Hayward, actor and former Alabama and George Washington universities athlete, because they don't see things "in the same light."

Miss Duncan's attorney said divorce proceedings probably will be started by the actress. She married Asther secretly in Reno, Nevada, in August, 1930. "They like different things," C. O. Bacon, Miss Duncan's attorney stated. "She is a trouper by nature. She loves to go places and do things."

B. L. Irving, attorney for the Swedish actor, added: "Mr. Asther is just the opposite. He is almost a recluse." Miss Nissen explained her split with Hayward, whose real name is Weldon H. Franks, as follows: "We found after six months of sincere effort to make a go of married life that we did not regard things in the same light. We couldn't agree about things that you can get along without agreeing about. Consequently we have repudiated the decision that we must separate, which we have done, with great fondness, mutual respect and regret."

CASES DISMISSED Judge W. R. Ewing had under advisement today testimony which resulted in two previous hung juries. The case, finished yesterday, was that of T. K. Manley vs. W. B. Wild and Harry McCauley, for debt. The plaintiff was represented by E. Fred Gray and the defendants by W. M. Lewright. Judgment will be entered probably tomorrow.

STEP-FATHER CAPTURED HARRISBURG, Ark., Sept. 23. (AP)—Herman Ledbetter, 31-year-old farmer, was captured today and charged with the murder of his two-year-old stepson who was beaten to death near here Thursday. Scores of citizens joined the search for him after the issuance of a first degree murder warrant on the complaint of his wife whom he married a year ago. H. J. Clark of Dallas arrived here on business last night.

Robert F. Furthinger of Dallas was here on business yesterday.

CUB INFIELD SLUGGERS CAN'T COMPARE WITH YANKEES

BRUINS STACK UP FLASHIEST HITTING MARKS

TWO EX-YANKEE STARS NOW IN CHICAGO LINEUP

NEW YORK, Sept. 23. (AP)—The infielders of the Chicago Cubs hold the edge over their Yankee rivals in most everything except the art of slugging baseballs out of the park.

Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri, and Joe Sewell, a newcomer to this feature of the business, all pack the kind of a batting punch that breaks up the ball game. Man for man, however, the Cub combination can point to more robust-looking hitting marks for the 1932 season. The Bruin infielders, besides, can claim the distinction of being younger than their rivals, faster on the bases and quicker at the vital task of pulling double plays.

Apart from the color added to the world series by the comebacks of Tony Lazzeri and Mark Anthony Koenig, one-time "keystone kids" of the Yankees now turning up as rivals, the two infields are closely matched in all-around ability.

Both Lazzeri and Koenig are expected to start the series, although they have been out of commission recently. The former was injured for the Yankees and the latter at shortstop for the Cubs. Bill Jurges is ready to step in if Koenig can not go the series route. Otherwise the only question in either lineup is whether Frank Crosetti, the slender Yankee recruit, will hold down the shortstop post or yield to Lynn Lary or Dr. Eddie Farrell.

Whatever Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs lacks in clouting ability by comparison with larrying Lou Gehrig, the Yankee "iron man" first baseman, he makes up for in general standing.

Lazzeri's harder hitting ability and longer experience, providing he is in shape, gives him a distinct shade over Billy Herman, the 23-year-old Cub keystone star.

Koenig's return from the minors was simultaneous with Chicago's pennant rush. Grimm was insistent in getting him and credits the former Yankee with a big part in the team's winning drive. Because of his hitting and experience Mark has the edge on any one of the three Yankee shortstop possibilities.

Edward English is a better hitter than his average of around .270 for the season indicates. He is nine years younger and considerably faster than Joe Sewell, the veteran Yankee third sacker, but no steadier in the field nor as consistent at bat.

Slacks To Big Four
CHICAGO, Sept. 23. (AP)—Nothing has happened during the relaxation process of the Cubs to alter Manager Charley Grimm's decision to stick to his "big four" pitchers in the world series.

The Cub hurling quartet of Guy Bush, Charlie Root, Lonnie Warneke and Pat Malone was expected to start in that order against the Yankees with the burden of relief, if necessary, falling mostly on the shoulders of young Bud Tinning.

Malone was cuffed around by Pittsburgh Wednesday. But every Pirate hit was music to Manager Grimm's world series ear. The Altoona, Pa., fireman always has been an in and out, with one "good game and then a bad one." So Grimm stacked his last start with the bad collection and was happy about it.

Except for Root's innings, Root was to be allowed a good rest before his start in the big show.

Bush and Warneke were slated for their final tune-ups tomorrow and Sunday in closing series against Cincinnati.

Coach Substitutes Skull Practice For Scrimmage
Harvesters Confident That Clovis Will be a Hard Team To Beat.

Skull practice replaced a hard scrimmage for the Harvesters yesterday afternoon. Coaches decided the indoor practice would be more beneficial than putting the boys through a hard workout in the cold at Harvester park.

The coaches reviewed plays with the boys and had an interesting blackboard talk. Conditioning and what is expected of every member of the team was discussed at length. Injuries have been few during training season, due largely to good condition. The boys are looking after themselves this season and few have been noticed breaking training.

Clovis high school will be here Sept. 30 with one game already

TODAY'S HARVESTER

The fleetfooted boy in the Harvester backfield this season will be Dick Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Sullivan. Dick came to the Harvesters last season from Pricer Memorial college at Amarillo and developed into an understudy of Joe Kahl's. Dick is only 17 years old but is a senior. He weighs 160 pounds. He is fast, shifty and when once past the line of scrimmage looks like a scene-stealer. Last year he played one year of football, at end, before coming to the Harvesters. He has lived in Pampa 13 years. Fans are looking to Dick to gain many yards and score plenty of touchdowns this season. Tacklers have a hard time of sliding off as he carries the ball.

Don Saulsbury, one of the greatest high school bullbacks in the state in several years, left yesterday for S. M. U., where he will enroll. Don will be out for football on the freshman squad and Pampa fans are looking for him to make good. Albert Lard, sensational Harvester quarterback two years ago, is in Louisiana State university at Baton Rouge as a freshman. Joe Freeman, last year star, is with T. C. U. freshmen this year. So is Paul Hill. Joe Kahl is at Tulsa university and Durwood Matindale at Oklahoma City university. John Pafford has started out well with Amarillo College. Ralph Poe enrolled at W. T. C. and Lloyd Moore at Texas Tech.

More football information? SIDE LINE COACHING
Coaching from the side lines is prohibited in the rules because it is considered an unfair practice. The game is to be played by the players using their own muscles and their own brains. If an onlooker, having seen all the hands in a game of cards, undertook to tell one of the players what card to play, the other players would have just cause to object.

The committee by its ruling has tried to prevent as far as practically possible the sending in of substitutes for the mere purpose of giving information as to the following play, which removes the chief incentive for sending in information.

"BEATING THE BALL"
"Beating the ball" by an unfair use of a starting signal is nothing less than deliberately stealing an advantage from the other side. An honest starting signal is good football, but a starting signal which has for its purpose starting the team a fraction of a second before the ball is put in play, in the hope that it will not be detected by the officials, is nothing short of crookedness. It is the same as if a sprinter in a hundred-yard dash had a secret arrangement with the starter or to give him a tenth of a second's warning before he fired the pistol.

TALKING TO YOUR OPPONENTS
Talking to your opponents if it falls short of being abusive or insulting is not prohibited by the rules, partly because it ought not to be, and partly because no rules can make a gentleman out of a mucker. No good sportsman is every guilty of cheap talk to his opponents.

HUGE THROG MEETS CLUBS

Chattanooga and Beaumont Square Off Today For Third Game.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 23. (AP)—The Chattanooga ball club was at home today to continue the quest for Dixie's baseball supremacy. The path was blocked by the Exporters of Beaumont, champions of the Texas league, and the teams will meet again at 2:30 p. m. today for the third game. Each has won one game.

Bert Neihoff, who manages the Chattanooga club for Joe Engel, says he will send Leon Pettis to the box today. Leon is a lefthander. And Del Baker, who bosses the Texas team, says he will work either Luke Hamlin, his ace in the hole, or Schoolboy Rowe, giant 19-year-old sensation.

This city was prepared to entertain one of the largest crowds ever to visit in these parts since the confederates and federals squared off for a fight around Lookout and Chickamauga. The stadium will seat 22,000 and Colonel Engel has all kinds of plans to bring out the customers.

The two clubs arrived last night from Texas and were met by a throng of approximately 30,000 persons. Chattanooga has waited a long time for a championship club and was making the most of its fun. Baker said Fox, leading hitter of the league, would take the place of Fred Tauby who was injured in Wednesday's game. Tauby is an outfielder. Fox has been out of play because of an injured leg.

PHILLIPS WIN FROM DORGOS IN DULL GAME

VALUED PLAYERS ARE NOT IN DANCIGER LINEUP

Phillips defeated Danciger Dorcos 9 to 0 in the only game played in the City Playground ball league yesterday afternoon. The day was unfit for ball of any kind but Phillips, the home team, announced ready and Danciger appeared with a weakened lineup, several players not being at work yesterday because of the weather. Other games were postponed.

The Phillips boys got to Geppelt for 11 hits while the Dorcos made six bingles off Carter. Phillips sent three runs across in the first to take the lead. They added five more in the sixth on five hits and an error. Carr hit a triple to send in three runs in that eventful inning. Herring, Phillips catcher, hit safely on three trips to the plate. Kirkpatrick got two safe bingles.

Not a Dorco got two hits off Carter who pitched his best game of the season. Riley and Miller connected for doubles but in different innings and they were wasted as Danciger lacked the punch to score. There was no spectacular fielding in the game, due largely to the weather.

Other games scheduled for yesterday will be played some time next week when the teams can get together.

Vines Is Victim Of Jap Net Star

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23. (AP)—Ellsworth Vines, Jr., had to watch the semi-finals of the Pacific Southwest men's singles championship from an unaccustomed position in the stands today because he was a better prognosticator than he knew.

The Wimbledon and national champion said a week ago that Jiro Satch, Japan's leading star, is destined to become one of the great tennis players in the world, so that nonchalant Japanese net man went out yesterday and made good the prediction by defeating Vines, 6-4, 6-4.

Two of Great Britain's best players, Henry (Bunny) Austin, and Frederick Perry, gained the semi-finals by eliminating John Van Ryn, Davis Cup player from Philadelphia, and Keith Godhill, Santa Barbara's national doubles champion with Vines. Giorgio De Stefan, Italian champion, won unexpectedly from Wilmer Allison, another of America's Davis cup stars.

Second Place In American To Be Decided In Three-Game Series.

By GAYLE TABOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Most of the excitement to be cleared from the closing days of the major league pennant races is wrapped up in the final three-game series between Washington and Philadelphia starting today in the capitol city.

Second place in the American league, with its attendant "cut" of the world series money, is at stake, with Walt Johnson's Senators needing to sweep the series to win runner-up honors.

Jimmie Foxx, mauling first baseman of the Mackinnon, cracked his 35th and 56th home runs of the season yesterday as the Athletics dropped a 10-inning struggle to the champion Yankees, 8 to 7.

The Senators remained in the scrap for second by beating Boston again, 4 to 2.

In the National league, Pittsburgh continued to pour it on the cham-

QUALIFYING TO CONTINUE FOR ANOTHER WEEK
DRAWINGS TO BE HELD NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

On account of inclement weather of the last three days, qualifying for the Country club open invitation tournament will continue one week more and play will not start until Oct. 2.

Drawings for opponents will take place Thursday night and the names will appear in The NEWS Friday and Sunday so that every player will be familiar with his opponent in the first round. Match play will continue through Oct. 9.

The fairways have come to life and look green and promising after the recent rains. They have been dry and powdery but in good condition. The tee boxes and greens are in excellent condition.

A valuable prize list will give prizes to the winner and runner-up in each flight. Other valuable awards will be made.

About 20 players have qualified, according to Dr. H. H. Hicks, chairman of the tournament committee. The tournament officials are hoping that 100 golfers will qualify by Thursday.

Roy Challenges Joe Kopecky, The "Cotton Picker"

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

Pampa wrestling fans may see the "match of the year" at the Pio-Mor auditorium Wednesday night. Roy Roy, local favorite, went to Amarillo last night to look over Joe Kopecky and after seeing him in action against Doc Mueller, he used him a challenge to come to Pampa and do business before Pampa crowd.

Joe defeated Mueller last night but he had to drape ropes around his neck and then drag his heels through them before he pinned Doc for the third and deciding fall. Roy is sure that Pampa referee won't let the cotton chopper from East Texas get away with anything like that if he comes over.

Joe is the star of the case in Amarillo and the light-heavyweight division in this section—all but Roy Roy, who stands in his way. Both boys hold decisions over Doc Mueller, who was undisputed head of the challenger class.

Pio-Mor promoters are looking around for a good boy to meet Roy Michael in a second main event. Red has improved until he is one of the fastest in his class. He showed fans plenty of speed and ability last Wednesday night.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (P)—Upturns in grain values predominated early today owing to relative firmness of securities. Argentine reports said some wheat harvest been irreparably damaged by locusts. Opening unchanged to 1/4 higher, wheat afterward scored additional gains. Corn started at 1/4 off to 1/2 up and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1/4-1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn also 1/2 down, oats 1/4 off to 1/2 up, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents lower.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23 (P)—Cotton opened rather easier today as Liverpool cables were not as good as due. First trades showed losses of 7 to 9 points and the market continued easy after the start under pressure of hedge selling. October dropped to 7.16, December to 7.29 and January to 7.35, down 17 to 18 points from yesterday's close.

Later, prices rallied on a firmer opening in stocks, recovering 9 to 10 points from the initial lows. The market was rather nervous owing to uncertainty as to what the census bureau's report on ginnings Sept. 16 would show. Trading was fairly active.

The market ruled quieter during his hitting and experience mark the greater part of the morning. The census report on ginnings prior to September 16 showed that 2,636,530 ginning bales had been ginned, and was rather smaller than private estimates had indicated and was therefore considered mildly bullish.

This report, coupled with firmer stocks, caused prices to rally on short covering and December advanced to 7.31 and January to 7.55, or 20 to 22 points above the early lows and 2 to 4 points above yesterday's close.

Later in the morning, profit-taking and some hedging caused prices to ease 7 to 12 points from the top. December declined to 7.39 and January to 7.48.

At mid-session the market was quiet and steady, weekly statistics

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The QUEEN of the THOUSAND ISLANDS

IN 1838, BILL JOHNSTON, PIRATE OF THE SEAWARD, SET UP A KINGDOM OF HIS OWN ON THE THOUSAND ISLANDS AND DECLARED WAR ON CANADA. HIS DAUGHTER KATE, SO FAITHFUL AND DEVOTED TO HER FATHER THROUGHOUT HIS "WAR," CAME TO BE KNOWN IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA AS THE "QUEEN OF THE THOUSAND ISLANDS."

MAN HAS DONE MORE IN THE LAST FIVE THOUSAND YEARS TO ALTER THE EARTH'S SURFACE THAN NATURE HAS DONE IN FIVE MILLION YEARS.

The CULLINAN DIAMOND, VALUED AT $750,000.00 WAS SENT FROM AFRICA TO LONDON BY ORDINARY REGISTERED MAIL!

IN SPITE OF the fact that Kate Johnston was an outlaw, in that she assisted her father in a rebellion against his own country, she nevertheless won the hearts of all who knew her. For months at a time Bill Johnston hid away in caves and lived on food brought to him by his daughter. So clever was she at handling a canoe and a gun that those who attempted to follow her were never successful. Later on, Kate made good use of the country's admiration for her, and not only did she win her father a pardon, but got him a government job.

Senators Don't Mean Much They Say—Apparently

By R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, Sept. 23. (AP)—Texas senators always weather the severest debates still good natured. They talk about one another outlandishly in the heat of controversy on the floor...

There is plenty of outwitting on the floor at times, all good natured. Senator George Furr of Dallas often is on the receiving end of some keen taunt.

The other day Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogata was talking seriously for a bill, when another senator gained recognition:

"I object to the senator from Bogata stealing thunder from the senator of Dallas," said the other senator.

"I'm not stealing the Dallas senator's thunder; I wouldn't do that for anything, because if I did there wouldn't be anything left of the senator from Dallas," Senator DeBerry replied.

On still another day, the senate had invited to appear before it a proponent of eight years, who wanted the strongest thing in him.

"O lonely tomb in Moab's land! O dark Beth-peor's hill! Speak to these curious hearts of men And teach them to be still:

God hath his mysteries of grace, Ways that we cannot tell; He hides them deep, like the secret sleep Of him he loved so well."

NEW DISCOVERIES CONFIRM VIRTUES OF BRAN IN DIET

Supplies "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

For ten years, now, millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, pleasant way to overcome common constipation...

Recent laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron, by weight, as beef liver.

"This 'bulk' in ALL-BRAN is much like the 'bulk' in lettuce. Inside the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently cleans the intestines of wastes.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, sweeter, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Think how much better it is to enjoy this delicious cereal than to take endless pills and drugs, which often lead to harmful habits.

Two tablespoons daily—in serious cases with every meal—are usually sufficient. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. Appetizing recipes on the red and green packages. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

to prove he could answer most any question put to him.

He told the number of acres comprising Texas, gave the governor's name, the lieutenant governor's name and supplied other information in reply to questions shot at him by senators.

"Who is the senator from Dallas," someone asked the lad and he was stumped.

He looked puzzled at his father, sitting near him. "Papa never told me that one," he replied.

"Don't you ever tell him; refrain from putting trash in your boy's mind," dryly remarked Senator C. S. Gainer of Bryan.

The Dallas senator doesn't permit the friendly banter to ruffle his disposition.

He merely awaits his turn and usually he gets revenge in worth-while fashion.

R. A. Vannett of Chicago is looking after business here for a few days.

number of Commerce Groups To Ask Reduction In Appropriations

STAMFORD, Sept. 23.—The West Texas chamber of commerce, headed by the East Texas and South Texas chambers, will march on the state legislature and board of control on a united front, resisting appropriation measures calculated to not in line with reduction of public expenditures an conducting campaign for reduced budgets in state departments.

The West Texas chamber, although its 99 federated public expenditure committees over the territory, will be represented by a steering committee of three. C. M. Howell, Abilene, is chairman; other members are Otis Coles, El Paso, and J. O. Jones, Lubbock.

A statewide committee of nine being formed for the job, each regional chamber naming three members. The committee will have services of the industrial, commercial and agricultural conferences, Dallas, of which G. A. Jay is executive vice-president, for research and secretarial work. The completed set-up, evolved by the West Texas chamber, was approved by Jay and the other regional chairs in Fort Worth this week.

The committee has issued this statement:

"It is not the fault of the legislature and board of control that state expenditures since 1926 have increased approximately $8,000,000, and that in 1931 the cost of state local government in Texas was $1,000,000 more than the combined value of our oats, corn, wheat and cotton crops. The fault rests with a public in demanding more and better services from public officials.

A correlated campaign of this nature never before has been attempted in Texas. The 99 West Texas committees this year have obtained reductions of about $20,000 in 1933 budgets for city, county and school governments.

Similar organization, on a statewide basis, has been achieved in a campaign directed at reorganization of county government, which the West Texas chamber calls "a cumbersome, ineffective and expensive piece of governmental machinery whose possibilities for cost reduction and keeping in tune with economic conditions are remote because of statutory and constitutional limitations."

A committee of nine members is being formed, representing the three regional chambers of commerce, to draft a constitutional amendment. West Texas members of the commission are: A. H. Britain, Wichita Falls, chairman; Walter Beck, Fort Worth, author of the home rule amendment before last year's legislature; and E. B. McClintock, county judge of El Paso county.

In addition, the West Texas chamber has asked three members of the legislature to consider themselves a committee to work with the taxpayers' commission. These are: Rep. R. M. Wagstaff, Abilene, chairman; Senator Clint Small, Amarillo, and Rep. A. B. Tarwater, Plainview.

The West Texas chamber of commerce has announced that its central public expenditure committee, Van Zandt Jarvis of Fort Worth chairman, is asking its 99 affiliated local committees to oppose the constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to make an appropriation for a Texas centennial. The amendment will be voted upon in November.

The central committee says: "Although the Texas centennial is a worthy and patriotic project, your committee nevertheless feels that in view of present economic conditions, and due to the present plight of taxpayers, this proposed state expenditure should be opposed."

By BYRON PRICE

No campaign in many years has seen quite such a season of grim republican cogitation as that which has set in during these latter days of September.

It does not adequately describe the situation to say merely that party leaders were astonished at the democratic victory in Maine. They were so astonished they did not even attempt to disguise their feelings under a cloak of light words.

Almost without exception republican spokesmen openly accepted the Maine verdict as meaning two things: A widespread dissatisfaction with the administration, and a corresponding prospect of hard sledding everywhere for the republican ticket.

President Hoover himself expressed it in his telegram to Chairman Sanders—a telegram which marked a sudden departure from the plan to have the White House remain largely silent on political subjects.

"Our fight is a hard one," said the president, asking for renewed efforts to put the republican cause before the people.

What Chairman Sanders and his lieutenants will do about it must await still further cogitation.

Some are urging that the whole republican plan of campaign be revised; that Mr. Hoover take the stump very actively, and reply more directly to democratic attacks.

Some are counseling a greater concentration of pressure on the states where republican prospects are best.

It goes without saying that the party organization at least will throw in every last available ounce of effort.

Renewed attempts will be made to draw former President Coolidge more actively into service. Will H. Hays has been commissioned to take matters in hand in his home state of Indiana. Postmaster General Brown is asked to do something about Ohio.

All down the line, no republican who might conceivably swing a single vote over to Hoover will be deprived of the opportunity.

The call for help has gone out, urgently, insistently.

Maine Speaks Out

Nothing like it has happened since 1912, and even that year presents no exact parallel because with the Roosevelt bolt, many party workers realized the cause was utterly hopeless and just curled up and quit.

In 1916 republican anxiety was largely allayed when it became virtually certain, before the election, that the east would go for Hughes. The leaders were unworried, and were surprised out of their skins when the republican west re-elected

Wilson.

Through 1920, 1924 and 1928 a feeling of supreme confidence, despite adversity, has taken increasing hold on the republican organization.

"There are millions more republicans than democrats in the country," the republican leaders have said, "and although there may be defections, in the very nature of things we are destined to win."

Now republican Maine has spoken on that subject. One high republican official said that when he first saw the returns, he thought the republicans must have stayed at home; but on investigation he found they did not, but went out and in great numbers and voted the democratic ticket.

Good Fight In Prospect

In the midst of a surging pean of democratic exaltation, including predictions of a tremendous democratic landslide, the republicans fall back on the reminder that national elections take place in November, not September.

The democrats themselves realize that many a fighter has been engaged into a supreme effort by a hard jolt in the first round. So they will do whatever they can to see that the jolting continues.

All of which, considering the present psychology on both sides, insures an exceptionally good show for the cash customers.

Nothing Venture by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Rosamund Carew, Jervis Wear's former fiancee, demands $100,000 from him, offering sinister hints about "bad luck" when he refuses her. Jervis and his young wife Nan are at luncheon with the Tetterleys, where Nan and Ferdinand Francis prove to their own satisfaction that Rosamund's friend, Robert Leonard, weakened the bridge that almost plunged Nan and Jervis to their deaths two days before.

Chapter 29

"ARE YOU HURT?" Nan got up to say good-bye to a quarter to three. Her heart was like a hot burning coal. She had had to sit by Robert Leonard, to take her coffee from his hand, and to listen while he talked. Her burning anger lit a bright spot in her cheeks and made her eyes brilliant. She felt as if anything she touched would be liable to scorch or go up in a little puff of smoke. It was a dreadful feeling of course, but it made her very sure of herself.

When she got up to go, Leonard looked at his watch and exclaimed, "I'd no idea it was so late! I ought to be attending to my incubators at this very moment. Give me a light as far as my gate, will you Jervis? My car's dead till I can get someone out from Croyston."

Impossible to refuse of course, Nan wondered whether Jervis would like to be refused.

He said, "As right," with an air of complete indifference.

At any rate she wouldn't have rather childish contour of her face were as complete a contrast as could be found to the charms of his cousin Rosamund. His gaze dwelt upon his wife with approval.

"They began to descend the hill, and before they came to the steep part he put the car into low gear. For a couple of hundred yards the gradient was about one in seven, and the surface bad. They had on their right a high bank out of which the road had been cut and on the left a narrow strip of rough grass with an occasional scrawny bush, and beyond that a low parapet of loose stones which defended a sheer drop to the sea below.

Jervis had scarcely shifted down, when amongst his other thoughts there slid into his mind a conviction that there was something wrong with the car. The convention became a certainty and took entire possession of him. The steering was bad; the wheel wobbled, and there was a drag to the left.

A drag to the left was a drag to the cliff. The wheel kicked in his hands. He wrenched it over and jammed on the brakes, and as he did so a number of things happened all at once. The left front wheel came off and went bounding down the hill, its scarlet and black catching the sun. The front axle came down with a heavy bump on the left.

The car swung round, slid, tilted, and fell over with a crash. Robert Leonard heard the sound of it as he walked up the path from the gate to his house. He stood still. Then he walked on again.

Of the three people in the car, two were taken entirely by surprise. Ferdinand had a moment of wondering why the road should be so much rougher going down than it had been coming up. Then he saw the black and scarlet wheel go bowling down the road like a child's hoop gone crazy. And then the car turned over and threw him clear.

Nan did not see the wheel or notice the jolting. She was looking over the steep edge of the cliff. She had never seen anything so blue in all her life. The tide was high, and the water came up to the foot of the cliff.

The first thing she knew of the accident was a violent jolt, and then the side of the car dropping away from her on her left. She gave a little cry and put out both her hands. Something struck her right shoulder. Then the car turned right over with a sound of smashing glass, and she was on her hands and knees on the rough grass with the leather seat pressing down upon her back.

Ferdinand poked himself up out of the dust of the road. He felt rather dazed. He wasn't sure whether he had been thrown clear or whether he had jumped, but he was in the middle of the road with the knees of his trousers torn and the car across the road, very neatly upside down, her bonnet hitched, up on the stone parapet.

He couldn't see Jervis, and he couldn't see Nan. He felt grateful for the parapet because if it hadn't been there, the car wouldn't have been there either, but at the bottom of the cliff like a smashed egg. He came out of his daze with a jerk and ran forward just as Nan crawled out from under the front seat. She pulled herself up by the wall and said,

"Where's Jervis?"

Ferdinand ran round to the other side of the car.

She said, "Where's Jervis?"

She couldn't run, because her legs didn't feel as if they belonged to her. She crawled round the car, holding on to it. It looked so odd upside down. The sides were smooth; her fingers slipped on the paint. She got round to the other side and saw Ferdinand dragging Jervis clear.

Jervis did not move or help himself at all. Then she saw his face. And when she saw his face, she forgot all about her legs not belonging to her, and she let go of the car and ran to him.

There was a most dreadful moment. Was he dead?

Everything stood still, her thoughts wouldn't move. She couldn't draw her breath, and a blackness like the shuddering darkness of a nightmare made a wall around her. It was light being buried alive; her mind switched crazily back to that incredible stage hypnotist she once had seen—to him and his bedraggled subject whom he "buried alive" in a dirty white robe.

She didn't know how long it lasted. At last Ferdinand's voice came through the blackness. He shook her arm.

"Nan! Nan!"

Ferdinand turned back to Jervis. He had dragged his inert body to the roadside, and now was bent over him, his hand to Jervis' heart.

"Is he—dead?" asked Nan in a curiously small voice.

Ferdinand did not answer; he signalled her to come, and when she had sat down with the wall at her back he lay Jervis' head in her lap and quickly scaled down the cliff to the sea. He came back with his hat full of cold salt water. Nan wet Ferdinand's handkerchief, and bathed his face. There was a smear of blood mixed with dust.

"Oh, Jervis!" she cried.

His eye lids fluttered. He sighed, and was still.

Ferdinand Francis does some reasoning, tomorrow, that influences several lives.

BUFFALO BONES FOUND

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 23. (AP)—Early surveyors used many unusual objects as markers in West Texas. On the Glass ranch in Sterling county there was a pile of buffalo bones which served as a marker. The bones now are gone and in their place is a pile of rock but occasionally fragments of buffalo bones or horns are found near the spot.

Similarly, on the 7D ranch in Reagan and Irion counties a pile of buffalo bones also served as a bearing for surveyors.

FARMER SENTENCED TO DIE IN CHAIR

ARDMORE, Okla., Sept. 22. (AP)—A death sentence faced Albert Ellis, young tenant farmer, today for robbery of the family of John Weber, Fort Worth bond broker, near here Aug. 28.

A district court jury, after deliberating ten hours, returned a verdict last night convicting Ellis of robbery with firearms and condemning him to die in the electric chair.

Ellis and his brother-in-law, Oscar Brandon, were accused of robbing the Weber family on a highway and assaulting 18-year-old Joan Weber. The girl was abducted and left bound in a cemetery. Brandon has not been tried.

FISH BARKS

CURBRIDGE, Eng., Sept. 23. (AP)—Amusement struck this Hampshire village when a big fish in the shallows of the local stream began to bark like a dog. Ten men pulled it out with a loop of wire and three shots killed it. They think it was some straggler from the ocean deeps.

SHOT BY DOG

MESA, Ariz., Sept. 23. (AP)—Shot by a dog, Zedo Ishikawa is dead. The youthful Japanese saw two dogs fighting. To part them he pushed the butt of a rifle between them. One dog clawed the trigger, sending a bullet into Ishikawa's chest. Among the mourners are many football fans, for the lad was a high school quarterback.

WILDCAT WELL IN OKLAHOMA DRAWS ATTENTION OF OILMEN

By WILLIAM VOIGT, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 23. (AP)—Mid-continent oil men were particularly alert today, dividing their attention between important developments in Texas and the most interesting wildcat well in Oklahoma since the discovery test at Oklahoma City was drilled in 1929.

Oil company attorneys sought eagerly the exact wording of the new law passed by the Texas special legislature defining theft of oil, and hailed the measure as a long step toward ending the legal dispute over whether an oil operator could be prosecuted for over-production of oil from his own property.

"Texas lawyers have contended that theft of one's own property is impossible," said E. B. Reeser, former American Petroleum Institute head. "This act clarifies the situation in that it declares running oil in quantities forbidden by the Texas regulatory body does constitute theft."

Reeser reminded that the crude situation still is tense, due to the supply of distress and other cut price oil in Texas, but professed little concern over the sharp increase last week in Texas production. The output ran well over 925,000 barrels daily.

New proration schedules, of the railroad commission did not go into effect until September 15. There should be a reaction in next week's reports, when slightly reduced allowances in East Texas and curtailed operations in the Gulf coast region will be reflected in oil and Gas

Journal and A. P. I. reports.

The wildcat test that drew Mid-continent eyes is on a unitized block in southwestern Noble county, 15 miles from Perry, Okla.

Drilled by Lew H. Wentz of Ponca City, the well is in the center of a large block held by a dozen major companies and large independents, that has been thoroughly geologized by virtually every known modern method.

It is the extensive work preceding drilling of the well as well as the possibility of discovering a new oil field that has drawn attention to the test. Scouts have been on the scene constantly and almost hourly reports have been sent by them to home offices.

LONG FELLOW, SHO!
JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Sept. 23. (AP)—Lon Morris college claims to have "the long of it" this season in Daniel Waller, a freshman from Mt. Enterprise. Waller is 17, weighs 196 pounds and is 6 feet 9 inches tall. Football fans see in him a future star.

Chapple Throws Atheism Charge At LaFollette

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 23. (AP)—Wisconsin's major political offices, barring an unusual political upset, appeared destined today to rest in the hands of a young editor and a middle aged manufacturer.

The editor, John B. Chapple, Ashland, seemed destined to enter the United States senate and former Gov. Walter J. Kohler, head of a manufacturing firm, to return to the governorship. Both are conservative republicans.

The electorate gave them decisive victories over Senator John J. Blaine and Gov. Philip LaFollette, progressive republican incumbents, in Tuesday's primaries.

With only a few precincts missing, Kohler had 404,935 votes to 312,401 for LaFollette, a majority of 92,534.

Chapple led Blaine by 17,932 votes, polling 334,267 to his opponent's 316,325.

Statements issued by Chapple and Kohler after the primary furnished an insight into their personalities and revealed in part arguments they used to bring about the defeat of LaFollette and Blaine, whose faction has been dominant in Wisconsin politics for 40 years.

"It is far more than a Wisconsin issue which we have decided here in Wisconsin," Chapple said. "With what I believe to be divinely inspired clarity of vision, the people have glimpsed the pathways ahead; the one strewn with glittering promises asking a program of destruction; the other built on the rocks of American principles."

While Chapple, during the campaign, had a definite national program to which he pledged himself, including payment of the soldiers' bonus and repeal of the prohibition laws, he devoted much attention to discussion of what he termed the "LaFollette political racket."

Kohler, meanwhile, appealed to voters with pledges of cutting government costs and spreading employment through encouragement of industry.

Many Predatory Animals Slain During August

AUSTIN, Sept. 23. (AP)—During August 966 predatory animals were slain in Texas by 58 men operating under C. E. Landon, leader for the Bureau of Biological Survey of the U. S. department of agriculture in cooperation with the live stock sanitary commission of Texas and the Texas predatory animal control association.

Coyotes, 758 of them, were taken in twenty counties, and 388 of them with sanctioning teaching of "un-Christian principles" at the state university.

Kohler, meanwhile, appealed to voters with pledges of cutting government costs and spreading employment through encouragement of industry.

in Webb county alone.

Webb county also supplied all of the thirteen mountain lions officially exterminated in August.

There were 150 bobcats removed and the work was completed by accounting for 45 red wolves. Webb county saw 17 of the bobcats slain. H. B. Baker was high man for the month with a catch of 14 bobcats and 61 coyotes, while T. D. Parker was second on the list with 5 bobcats and 66 coyotes. The total catch of the 13 men employed in Webb county is 518 predatory animals, consisting of 117 bobcats, 388 coyotes and 13 mountain lions.

In West Texas Pat Foster led with a catch of 29 coyotes, while Charlie Stone accounted for 15 coyotes. John Ligon in Upton county also trapped 15 coyotes.

In North Texas Tom Fowler working in Collingworth county, made a catch of 21 coyotes. E. Brumbelew trapped 1 bobcat and 7 coyotes in Potter county.

In the red wolf area two Palo Pinto county trappers, E. L. Baker and W. F. De Long, 5 and 3 red wolves, respectively, while Joe Snelson, employed in Montgomery county, accounted for 7 of the animals. Ross Graves in Titus county trapped 4 red wolves while the two Bexar county trappers also accounted for a like number.

R. H. Blaylock in Jim Wells county succeeded in trapping 1 bobcat and 22 coyotes in the 18 days he worked there. In Zavalla county E. M. Wallace and Cob Carpenter caught 4 bobcats and 35 coyotes, while W. S. Youngblood and Earl Henning working in the adjoining county, Mareick, accounted for bobcats and 32 coyotes.

BONDS CANCELED
MEMPHIS, Sept. 23. (AP)—Hall county commissioners have issued an order canceling $200,000 of the $1,000,000 road bond issue voted in 1929 to construct a paved highway from Memphis west by way of Lakeview to the Mulberry bridge. The road was built without aid from the state, since it has not received state designation. The cost of materials declined enough during the period of construction that a 20 per cent saving was effected.
