

Three Prominent Texans, Stricken Suddenly, Are Taken by Death

BONUS SUBSTITUTE ADVOCATED

Get ready for something good. Not a Doubt When this column recommends something, it's bound to be worthy and worthwhile. We are careful about what we endorse. Happily, there isn't a doubt in the world about the subject of the moment. We refer to "Adam and Eva", the Little Theater's biggest and latest offering.

Very Humorous
Tonight is the night and the time is 8 o'clock in the city auditorium. An admirable cast has been working faithfully for weeks under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Hicks. The comedy has been proved as one of the best laugh getters of recent years. It's high class.

For the Children
Aside from the merit of the performance, remember the cause. The proceeds will benefit the Baker school cafeteria. You know, if you read this column, of the wonderful work the cafeteria has been doing. The play tonight will enable the children to receive their free meals for the rest of this school term. It is without apology, but with our sincere interest in your personal enjoyment that we invite you to join us tonight at the city auditorium to see "Adam and Eva".

Al Smith in 1928 was the "Happy Warrior". And he's still a warrior.

Talk It Up
Lon Blanscet, chairman of Frontier Days of May 26-28 in Pampa, gives us disturbing news. Lon says that the celebration is being talked more outside of Pampa than in this city. The idea has gripped the imaginations and appealed to the fancy of people all over this territory. The event has big possibilities. Thousands of persons can be brought here for the three days.

"Big Hat Day"
Verily, it is time for Pampans to start "talking up" the biggest outdoor event of the spring and summer season. Do you know where you can get a horse, a buggy, or a covered wagon for the parade? If you do, you are fortunate and you should without fail plan to be "colorful" and truly western on Frontier Days. You can at least don old time garb. Before long a "Big Hat Day" will be announced. Take it from us, a lot of these moderns do not seem to be profited right for ten-gallon hats, but all must get under the big lids to conform to the frontier scenery.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, possibly frost in the Panhandle tonight; Wednesday generally fair.
—AND A SMILE
NEW YORK (P)—A bridge game with cards 20 feet high is one of the things Promoter James Johnson plans to put on in a 80,000-seat stadium here. The players would press buttons and a derrick would play the cards in such a way that the lads in the back row could see them.

HAL RANDOLPH OF AMARILLO IS ONE VICTIM

JUSTICE BUCK ALSO IS DEAD IN FORT WORTH

SUPT. MARRS SUCUMB

NOTED EDUCATOR DIES IN COLLEGE STATION HOSPITAL

HOUSTON, April 19. (P)—Charles Shaver of Huntsville, a former state representative, probably will be appointed by Governor Ross S. Sterling to succeed the late S. M. Marrs as state superintendent of public instruction, it was learned today. Plans were completed to have Marrs' body lie in state in the Texas senate chamber of the Texas capitol tomorrow afternoon. Funeral services at 10 a. m. Thursday were announced for a funeral home. Burial will be held in a plot in the state cemetery, where Texas heroes are interred. A place in the state's burying ground was offered by the board of control as a tribute to Mr. Marrs' long service to the state.

AMARILLO, April 19. (P)—Hal C. Randolph, 71, veteran associate justice of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals, died in a hospital here early today after a sudden attack diagnosed first as severe bronchitis. Randolph was stricken suddenly late Monday while at his work. He had been a member of the local court since 1923, when he was appointed by former Governor Pat M. Neff to succeed Judge E. L. Klett, resigned. Two years previously Neff appointed him to the appeals commission at Austin. He had been reappointed to the commission of appeals here, but resigned to come to Amarillo. He was a candidate for reelection this year in the Democratic primaries.

Randolph was a native Texan, born at Austin September 22, 1861. His father a native of Alabama. (See DEATHS, Page 2)

Senator Small To Talk Monday

Senator Clint C. Small will be the speaker of the evening at the chamber of commerce and Board of City Development banquet in the basement of the First Methodist church Monday night. C. H. Walker, president of the B. C. D., will be toastmaster.

Ladies are invited to attend the banquet. A charge of 75 cents a plate will be made. The Rev. C. A. Long will pronounce the invocation. A report on the activities of 1931 will be made by Mr. Walker. Travis Lively will tell of plans for this year and of activities already underway. Senator Small will be introduced by John Sturgeon, member of the entertainment committee. Senator Small will talk on "Community Building."

TWO ROBBERS ARE CAUGHT IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, April 19. (P)—Four men robbed the Brotherhood State bank here today and escaped with $6,000. Deputy sheriffs shortly afterward arrested two men and recovered $4,712 of the loot. They said one of their prisoners tossed a sugar sack containing the money away a moment before his capture. Two of the robbers herded bank employees and customers together and guarded them while two others picked up the available money. Someone sounded a burglar alarm and the robbers fled. Apparently they sighted approaching officers, for they fled on foot, not attempting to escape in a new sedan parked outside the bank in which they arrived. A sawed-off shotgun was found in the rear seat of the car, which was stolen.

LITTLE THEATER'S LAST AND BIGGEST PLAY OF SEASON TO BE PRESENTED THIS EVENING

"Adam and Eva" Is Sophisticated Comedy Staged by Brilliant Cast—Curtain to Rise Promptly at 8:30 p. m.

LIKE FATHER

It was the father of Mlle. Jacqueline Michau, above, who endowed one of France's largest hospitals for disabled soldiers. Now she has carried on the spirit of his work by employing 30 crippled veterans as servants in her chateau at Alpes Maritimes.

The Little Theater's last offering of the season, "Adam and Eva," sophisticated comedy in three acts, will be presented at the city hall auditorium this evening beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Little Theater officials emphasized this morning that the curtain would rise on the first scene promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Reserved seats have been on sale at the DeLuxe Cleaners, and approximately 200 had been sold early this morning. Tickets will be on sale at the door also.

Scene of the first two acts is the living room of the King home, and the third will take place in the backyard of a farm house. Never before has the Little Theater members been able to obtain as appropriate and realistic scenery and stage properties as they have for "Adam and Eva." It was said this morning Mrs. H. H. Hicks, director of the play, said that she has been able to procure everything she wanted for scenery.

Realistic Scene
The properties for the third act are particularly realistic, it was said. (See THEATER, page 8.)

NEWS FLASHES AT PRESS TIME

DALLAS, April 19. (P)—John N. McCommas, Dallas bank messenger who was robbed of $34,000 last week, today failed to identify either of two brothers arrested in south Texas as the man who held him up as he was transferring the money from the Dallas Federal reserve bank to the Mercantile Bank and Trust Co. He said both of the men were larger than the robber.

DALLAS, April 19. (P)—The murder and assault cases against L. C. Smith and N. D. Heaton, suspended federal prohibition agents, were transferred today to federal court jurisdiction. The agents were charged with killing a country grocer, Marion McClinton, and wounding his wife in a shooting which resulted from their efforts to trap a bootlegger.

KILGORE, April 19. (P)—A compilation at military headquarters today showed total production in the East Texas oil field for the first day under the new reduced allowable was 4,864 barrels greater than the figure desired by the state railroad commission, or 325,000 barrels daily.

AMARILLO, April 19. (P)—Seventy-five per cent of all failures in the hardware and implement business last year were caused by the dealers failing to understand the consumer's viewpoint, Charles F. Nelson, secretary of the Oklahoma Hardware and Implement association of Oklahoma City, told Panhandle hardware and implement men in annual convention here today.

No Contacts in Kidnaping Made

HOPEWELL, N. J., April 19. (P)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh says he has been unable to re-establish a definite contact with kidnapers of his 21-month-old son. "We are extremely anxious to re-establish contact with the kidnapers and while we sincerely appreciate the cooperation we have received from many press associations, our attempts are still greatly hampered or made impossible by press activity," said a statement he issued last night. "Up to the present time we have been unable to re-establish a definite contact."

FRONTIER DAY LETTERS SENT TO PIONEERS

DELEGATION HAS GONE TO CHEYENNE ON MISSION

CHAMBER IS VERY ACTIVE

TICKETS FOR BANQUET ON MONDAY WILL BE SOLD

Six hundred old-timers have been sent letters of invitation to Frontier Days, May 26-28, and many have replied enthusiastically. It was reported by Lon Blanscet, chairman of the celebration, to the Junior chamber of commerce last night.

Mr. Blanscet and a delegation including George Briggs, Harry E. Hoare, Siler Hopkins, Paul Crossman, G. C. Hubbard, and several other went to a celebration in Cheyenne, Okla., today to advertise the local event and to obtain ideas. Dressed in cowboy regalia, the local men looked like riders of the range. They will return tonight after inviting the Oklahoma old-timers to attend Frontier days.

In an election last night, Dr. C. H. Schulkey and Jack Vance were added to the board of directors and Jim Collins and Clarence Kennedy were made alternate directors. A number of new members were introduced by Mr. Vance, chairman of the membership committee.

The group voted to attend the B. C. D. banquet Monday and to sell tickets to the dinner at the First Methodist church. Jack Cunningham, heads a committee in charge of ticket sales.

An enjoyable program of entertainment was presented by L. R. Bruner after a sing-song led by Mildred Humphrey. Miss Dorothy Doucette sang two vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Jackie Jones at the piano. Then little Miss Patsy Ann Kelley delighted the group with her dances, accompanied by her instructor Miss Kathryn Vincent. Mr. Humphrey sang tenor solos, accompanied by Miss Inez Barrett. The Junior chamber will have a dinner meeting two weeks from last night.

ROOSEVELT ANSWERS SMITH'S CHALLENGE WITH DENIALS OF ANY CLASS VS. CLASS WAR

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 19. (P)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York has picked up the challenging gauntlet hurled at him by former Gov. Alfred E. Smith. Addressing a St. Paul audience last night, he denied vehemently the inference of Smith that he proposed "to set class against class" to further the ends of his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In a voice that was carried by radio to the whole American Northwest and resounded in the nation's press, Gov. Roosevelt declared himself pledged to a program calling for a national "community of interests" as espoused by his party's founder, Thomas Jefferson.

"If this be treason," he said, "let us make the most of it." And though his rejoinder to Smith was emphatic, Gov. Roosevelt took the occasion a few minutes later to praise his "distinguished predecessor, Gov. Smith" for his part in preserving New York's power resources for the people of that state.

The Smith speech to which Roosevelt replied was made at a Jefferson Day address at Washington last week and dealt with a radio address which New York's present chief executive delivered two weeks ago on the subject of water power, tariff and other questions.

The statement of the 1928 Democratic standard-bearer, which was immediately construed as an attack on Roosevelt, was: "I would take off my coat and vest and fight to the bitter end any candidate who persists in any demagogic appeal to the masses of the working people of this country to destroy themselves by setting class against class and rich against poor."

"I would take off my coat and vest and fight to the bitter end any candidate who persists in any demagogic appeal to the masses of the working people of this country to destroy themselves by setting class against class and rich against poor."

DISCOVER COTTON HAS FEVER

Cotton plants affected by root rot, prevalent in Texas, develop a fever so pronounced it can be measured with an ordinary thermometer. Dr. J. J. Taubenhaus, left, and Dr. Walter N. Ezekiel of the Texas A & M. college experiment station have discovered in their research to determine the nature of this baffling plant disease and develop control measures. Temperature of fevered plants runs around 100 under a summer sun, while normal plants register about 95. The disclosures make it possible to diagnose plants about to give way to the disease.

"ACTUAL ISSUES IN THE OIL INDUSTRY" TO BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING OF OIL MEN HERE

J. R. Parten, President of Independents, Is Coming Tomorrow—Claud C. Wild, Vice-President, Is Here

J. R. Parten of Shreveport, La., president of the Independent Petroleum association of Texas, will deliver an address "of interest to every citizen of this community" at the city hall auditorium tomorrow night, beginning at 8 o'clock. Claude C. Wild, vice-president, announced this morning. Mr. Wild arrived here today.

Mr. Parten will arrive tomorrow morning on his first visit to the Panhandle. The subject of Mr. Parten's address will be "Actual Issues in the Oil Industry." He will explain in detail his understanding of present tendencies toward federal control of the production of oil. Mr. Wild declared that the real issue facing independents now is the movement started by several major companies for federal control. The states of Oklahoma and Texas have frustrated efforts of these companies to control the industry, and now certain groups want the power of the state voided and are advocating federal control, it was said.

Many independent operators are unaware of these tendencies which have been looming on the horizon of the oil picture recently, and they are especially urged to attend the meeting here tomorrow night. Mel Davis, vice-president of the association for the Panhandle, will preside. Mr. Wild will also address the meeting.

Mr. Patson will include a discussion of the oil excise tax in his address. It is expected that operators from all over the Panhandle will be present. Mr. Parten succeeded Tom Granfill as president of the association. He is also president of the Woodley Petroleum company.

Witnesses Missing For Negro's Trial

Not a single state nor defense witness could be found among the negro population of the city yesterday morning when the case of Pat Fisher, negro charged with murder, was called for trial in 31st district court. There was only one thing District Attorney Raymond Allred could do—postpone the trial.

Three negro murder trials are set for this term of court. Tomorrow, J. C. Cozart is scheduled to go to trial. Arthur Johnson is the third negro charged with murder. Officers of the sheriff's department were cruising in the "flats" looking for witnesses.

INSURANCE FOR JOBLESS USED BY OPPOSITION

REP. LAGUARDIA RAPS FULL PAYMENT PROPOSAL

EMPLOYED WOULD PAY

EX-SERVICE MEN ARE PRESENT TO HEAR ARGUMENT

WASHINGTON, April 19. (P)—Full payment of the soldiers bonus was assailed on a wide front today by members of congress who fought during the world war. Johnson (R., S. D.) and Sirmmon (R., Neb.) said there should be some changes in the laws but there should not be full payment of the bonus now. Sirmmon said he favored payment of the present value of the certificates but did not believe veterans could equitably ask for payment now of the 1945 value of them.

WASHINGTON, April 19. (P)—National unemployment insurance offered today by Representative La Guardia (R., N. Y.) as a counter proposal to cash payment of the $2,000,000,000 soldiers' bonus.

LaGuardia, himself a veteran, made known his views as he took the witness stand as the first to put his opposition to full payment of the bonus before the house ways and means committee.

Advocates of payment through a two billion dollar currency inflation concluded the presentation of their case yesterday.

Under LaGuardia's unemployment insurance proposal, an unemployment commission would be created to maintain an unemployment insurance fund by a welfare tax on employees and employers, including a special tax on all incomes.

Before the hearing opened today, Representative Mapes (R., Mich.) announced his opposition to full (See BONUS, Page 8)

BAKER RECORD BOOK IS AMONG STATE'S BEST

From the scores of publicity record books prepared by Parent-Teacher associations throughout Texas, that of Baker Parent-Teacher association of Pampa was selected one of the eight best and will be sent to the national convention to be held in Minneapolis the first week in May. It will also be on display at the state convention in Galveston the third week of next November.

The book contains news stories based on the organization which were printed in The Pampa News, and pictures of executive board members which have appeared in the paper. There were also invitations and various other things suggestive of the work done by the organization. Attractiveness of the book was due to the artistic arrangements by Mrs. B. H. McFarling. Mrs. Claude Lard is president of the association.

BASKET DINNERS AT SCHOOLS HARD ON SUPT. HESSEY, WHOSE AVOIRDUPOIS IS QUITE AMPLE

McClelland, Eldridge, and Grandview Will Have Picnics—Most Terms Are of Nine-Month Duration

Miss Corrie Lee Newman of McLean, daughter of Commissioner M. M. Newman is the teacher of the McClelland Creek school. This school was cited by the school inspector last winter for outstanding advancement made this year. The McClelland Creek, Eldridge and Grandview schools are the only 8-month schools in the county, Mr. Hessey said. All other rural schools have terms of nine months each. It is Mr. Hessey's purpose to make it possible for every rural school in Gray county to last for nine months during the 1932-33 term. Other rural schools will close in May. By that time, Mr. Hessey will have lost the weight he will gain this and next week, but there will be more picnics and more food, he pointed out ruefully but brightly.

General March Answers Pershing

WASHINGTON, April 19. (AP)—General Peyton C. March, chief of staff of the American army during the world war, has written a book of memoirs, answering his critics with "gloves off."

This phrase in regard to his treatment of wartime controversies and the men involved in them was used in advance notices of the volume, a 95,000 word manuscript entitled "The Nation at War," now in the hands of publishers.

March is the last of the important war leaders to put his own story on paper. It is a story he had not intended to write until he read recently published memoirs of General John J. Pershing.

marked that Al Smith disliked for Mr. Roosevelt to make promises to the "little man". Every good politician wants that right reserved to himself.

Our luck in avoiding nails on the dirt highways has been singularly good in the last year, but we are never-the-less interested in the fact that the state highway department has picked up over 3,400 pounds of nails on 82 miles of dirt road in Gray county.

Hard to Believe: Now if someone will invent a way to pick up all the tin cans which are tossed on the countryside within sight of the main highways.

Insanity Claim to Be Developed When Alienists Testify

HONOLULU, April 19.—A double prop for the defense contention that Lieut. Thomas H. Masnie was insane when he allegedly held the pistol that took the life of Joseph Kahahawai was brought forth today by Clarence Darrow.

The aged attorney for the four persons accused of the lynching called four witnesses for this effort. Two Los Angeles alienists, Sherman Miles, former army colonel with whom Lieutenant and Mrs. Masnie lived for a time after the attack on the latter the night of Sept. 12, 1931, and Beatrice Nakamura, Mrs. Masnie's maid, were summoned to testify.

Masnie's repeated reference to his mental unrest after the attack and to his lapse of memory which began with the firing of the fatal shot in the home of his mother-in-law and co-defendant, Mrs. Granville Fortescue, was expected to get some support from the alienists, Dr. James Orison and Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, who came here just before the trial opened.

Each day for a week they have occupied court room seats. Miles and Miss Nakamura were expected to testify that Masnie was in a highly nervous state after the attack.

Accused Slayer Boasts of Ability To Evade Search

HOUSTON, April 19. (AP)—R. E. Lee, 69-year-old accused slayer, sat in Sheriff T. A. Binford's office today and boasted of his ingenuity in leading officers on a three-day chase before being caught.
 Lee, a former convict guard, was charged with shooting and killing Mrs. Beulah McGiboney and wounding her husband, Charles McGiboney, last Saturday at the McGiboney's suburban strawberry patch, which Lee worked "on the shares."
 He was captured late yesterday in the densely wooded region near Huff man, in northeast Harris county. He refused to make a statement about the killing today. He told Binford he threw his shotgun into the weeds so he would be certain to avert any gunfight with officers.

Advertising Said To Be Effective In Aiding Business

NEW YORK, April 19. (AP)—Newspapers are called the dominant advertising medium in the United States by Kenneth Collins, executive vice-president and advertising director of R. H. Macy and company, in his book, "The Road to Good Advertising," published today.
 "Few business ventures in America requiring the stimulus of advertising could live without the newspaper," said the department store executive.
 "In it we spend more than one-half of the entire budget for all forms of publicity. We do so rightly."
 He held that advertising could help greatly in ending the business slump by the use of absolute frankness as to conditions and showing how values are the greatest in many years.

Excerpt from a letter to the Citizens Reconstruction Organization:

"February 27, 1932. . .

"The right thing to do is to put money to work. The people can do this if they want it done. If they will not save themselves, no one can save them. The time has come for the people to take charge of their own affairs. They should use their own money for their own benefit by putting it into circulation."—Signed CALVIN COOLIDGE

foolish KING TUT

KING TUT figured everything would be safe. All his diamonds and jewels (including his wife) he stipulated in his will, should be sealed up in his tomb; and nobody was ever to know where the stuff was buried. And they wouldn't have, if some curious archeologists hadn't got to pecking around—and let the cat out of the bag.
 Foolish King Tut! BUT remember that King Tut was king. It was HIS property . . . and even in those days the king could do no wrong.

Today every American is king in his own home . . . at least he's supposed to be; and if we want to bury our money—that's our business. But, after all, IS it? Let's look at Tut's own land of Egypt. Tut hid his money—instead of spending it on irrigation and waterways—instead of investing it in his country's future. And look at Egypt now.

Scattered throughout America today are thousands of modern King Tuts. Folks who don't realize that hidden, IDLE money can cripple the progress of a great nation—can, if carried on long enough, destroy the very safety they are seeking!

At the same time millions are awakening to this fact—and have ACTED. They are pouring their hidden money back into circulation at the rate of millions of dollars a day!

Behind this new wave of confidence stands the might of the United States Government. Through legislative and executive action, the government has helped us to help ourselves. And we'll be helping ourselves and neighbors too, whether we put our dollars back into the banks, into sound securities, or buy with them the needed things we've been hankering for so long.

No matter how your money gets back into circulation, it will stimulate credit, turn business wheels, speed Prosperity.

As for the King Tuts, who haven't yet seen the new light . . . poor, timid souls! Even they can do their bit toward better times and also know that their money is even safer than it was in hiding. For they can now buy U. S. Reconstruction Bonds, issued by Uncle Sam. While these bonds only yield 2% interest, they're every bit as safe as the United States Government itself.

for Stubborn Dollars—these new U. S. Reconstruction Bonds—in small denominations, $50, $100 and $500—short term, maturing in one year—yielding 2% interest—readily redeemable in cash at par, upon 60 days notice by the holder—non-taxable—for sale at your home town bank—and the money from the sale of these bonds will stay right in your own community. Remember—it is not helping the situation to disturb any sound investments or to take money out of a bank to buy these bonds. They are for only one purpose—to put idle dollars, reachable in no other way, back to work.

You Can't Marry

by Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: Georgie Revell is in love with Eddie Townsend, but can't decide to accept him because her employer, Mr. Aveney, has an unbreakable rule of firing any woman working for him who marries. She hates to tell him, she says to her cousin Jenny whom she is supporting. Jenny appreciates Georgie's kindness, but is indignant because Georgie treats her like a child. Georgie gives her a silver dress on her twenty-fourth birthday, but continues to dominate her. The two girls are going out to dinner with Ryder Vale and a friend of his, and Georgie sends Jenny on ahead to find the strange man, Jenny dislikes Vale's friends, and has no hope of approving this one. She is met, however, by a man who instantly holds her attention. His intense gaze leaves her confused. She is not the Miss Revell, she explains. "She's just behind me," she says. "I'm only Jenny."

CHAPTER 2
HIDDEN LAUGHTER
JENNY felt color creeping into her face and added, goaded by shyness:
"My name is Jenny Revell."
"Jenny Revell."
He repeated it softly. He was perfectly grave, not even in his voice was there any tremor of amusement. But when he moved to meet Georgie and Ryder Vale, now within a few paces of them, Jenny was left with the echo of laughter all about her—and with the sound of her own name spoken softly, as though it were a song. . . .

"Always prefer a party when the host is unpunctual," Georgie was announcing. "Gives the guests at least a few minutes to enjoy themselves." She laughed at the tall man, who laughed back at her.
"Garth Aveney," said Vale, introducing him. And the four of them moved into the restaurant.
Whenever Jenny went out with Georgie and one or more of her "stalwarts," as she called them, she felt like a little girl included in a grown-up outing. Tonight she was not actually at the tail of the procession, for Ryder was at her shoulder, but she had the sensation of lagging slowly behind it. Over her head Vale was teasing Georgie about her lateness and she, unheeding, was listening to something Garth Aveney was telling her. Jenny sat rather blankly down at the glittering little table that had Ryder's name on it. While he became occupied with the waiter, she looked at the man on her left.
He was tall and slim and he sat in the easy pose of tall, slim men, with a hand on his hip and his long legs carelessly disposed. He was not tanned, but he had an out-of-door look and there was a tinge of blue in his very smooth black hair. Jenny thought his eyes were blue, too, until he glanced her way and then she thought they were gray. She could see that Georgie was rather liking the look of him.
And he, of course, was liking the look of Georgie; that rich, generous splendor, that suggestion of the peony in flower. Wonderful Georgie, of course he wanted to monopolize her. Many men did—it was natural. . . .
"I beg your pardon," stammered Jenny.
"I asked you, Miss Cinderella," grinned Ryder, "whether your fairy godmother will let you stay later than twelve tonight?"
"You must ask Georgie," she said shyly. "She gave me this frock."
"People don't have a birthday every day of their lives," cried Georgie, breaking off her vivacious chatter. "Twenty-four today is that or because it suited him to let his other two guests entertain each other, he directed himself to Jenny. This, he insisted, was her party. Presently, when he had cajoled the orchestra into playing one of her favorites, she found herself dancing with him.

"It's like a stretcher case," Vale said.

"Looks like a stretcher-case," he remarked, jerking his head towards Garth Aveney's dark head, still near the reddish gleam of Georgie's. "Time that Townsend chap turned up again, what?"
"I don't think Georgie is specially interested in Eddie Townsend," said Jenny mechanically. "Georgie had told her long ago to stave off enquiries with this kind of thing. An acknowledged engagement to Eddie was the last thing Georgie wanted."
"Seems not," admitted Ryder. He puckered up his rather fat face into the grin that always made Jenny think he was going to cry! "Odd chap, Aveney evidently seen Georgie before somewhere, though he says not. Asked me two or three times to arrange a party like this so that he could meet her."
Jenny, telling herself that she was not interested, let her eyes wander to the table where the others sat. There was a big mirror behind it and for a second she believed that while he talked and listened to Georgie, his eyes were upon the reflected dancers, upon one dancing silver figure moving in the mirror. . . . She frowned the fancy out of her mind. At that distance it could only be her fancy. She said casually:
"Is he a great friend of yours?"
"Who, Aveney? No. Know nothing about him, really, though I've a notion I ought to. Met him—forget where. He seemed keen to have a drink with me, but that's explained now." Again his head and his grin indicated the table in the recess.
"Yes," said Jenny firmly. She thought it time to be firm with herself. That softly spoken "Jenny Revell"—she closed her ears and tried to forget it.

"Don't you want to dance with me?" Aveney asked Jenny tomorrow. Her heart and her pride battle to answer.

CADIZ, O., April 19 (AP)—Three strike-ridden bituminous coal mines in the Eastern Ohio field resumed operations today without any disorder, as national guardsmen stood by ready to protect the workers against violence.

WOULD STABILIZE DOLLAR

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A bill to direct the federal reserve board to stabilize the dollar on the basis of its 1926 values was introduced today by Senator Fletcher (D., Fla.). Fletcher called attention to house hearings on a similar bill by Representative Goldsborough (D., Md.). "It is well to define the national policy and make it the duty of government agencies to carry it out," Fletcher said, urging expansion of credit and stabilization of the dollar.

GRAINS DECLINE

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—Jarred by stock market downturns and by bearish effects of rain over part of the winter wheat belt, grain values underwent fresh early declines today. A statement by Chairman Stone of the federal farm board that he expected steady strengthening of the wheat market and a rise of around 10 cents a bushel was without any immediate apparent influence. Opening 1/4-3/4 off, wheat afterward sagged further. Corn started 1/4-1/2 down and continued to weaken.

STEADY OPENING

NEW ORLEANS, April 19 (AP)—The cotton market had a steady opening today as Liverpool cables came in much better than due. First trades showed gains of 3 to 4 points with May at 6.11, July at 6.23 and October at 6.51. As the stock market again opened easier prices soon lost the initial gain. May dropping back to 6.07 and July to 6.23, or 3 to 4 points down from the opening and even with yesterday's close. Near the end of the first hour the market was rather steadier and had recovered 1 to 4 points from the lows.

Help Home Folk First, Curtis Says

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A policy of attending to domestic needs before aiding foreign nations in difficulties was advocated by Vice-President Curtis last night in an address opening the Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.
"Provided we are not drawn into political quarrels of other nations," he said the American people were ready to help other countries in every way possible, but:
"Our first concern should be, and is, the welfare of our own people. We are anxious about our own depression, our own unemployment. Our troubles will be solved by our own farmers, our own business men, our own laboring men and our own financial and industrial leaders."

TEACHER IS KILLED

AUSTIN, April 19 (AP)—W. H. Avery, about 45, agricultural instructor at Luling high school, was killed instantly and J. D. Seav, 17, Luling student, was critically injured when Avery's automobile turned over on the Austin-Houston highway 25 miles east of Austin shortly after noon today.

the of taken bucket, a fence, possibly a chicken. A honey looked said. These will include a well with ing dog will lend realism to the rustic setting.

The plot of the play deals with what happens to the sister, two daughters, a son-in-law and two fortune hunting suitors of the unmarried daughter, when the father a tired, wealthy business man, takes a vacation and leaves a clever, rather hard-boiled young man at home to succeed him as father and custodian of the purse.

The play is a comedy, but it is neither burlesque nor farce. It has been described as a "civilized comedy of manners." Mrs. Hicks spent several days before she found personalities that could reflect the spirit of the play.

Capable Father

I. A. Freeman will interpret the role of the father. He has one of the leading parts in the play, and he develops all responsibilities of humor in a capable manner. Mrs. James Tod Jr., will assume the role of Corin this, the maid who has been with the family a long time, but know her place.

Other characters in the play are as follows:
Julie De Witt, the married daughter, Mrs. E. M. Conley; Clinton De Witt, her husband, Jack Kretzinger; Eva King, the head-strong daughter, Mrs. Don Conley; Uncle Horace Pilgram, the complaining relative; Dick Hughes; Adam Smith the young man who succeeds Mr. Freeman as father, Julian Barrett; Dr. Delamater, society physician who is after Eva's fortune, Ray Weedman; Lord Andrew Gordon, English fortune hunter, Jack Foster, and Miss Abbey, Miss Arless O'Keefe.

This season, the Little Theater has presented "Dulcy" and "The Crisis," both before large audiences. A packed house saw "The Crisis," and Little Theater members predict that a full house will see "Adam and Eva" tonight.

for better taste

CIGARETTE smokers owe a lot to Turkish tobacco, for it was cigarettes made out of Turkish tobacco that first became the vogue in this country.

Then it was found that a blend of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos was better than either kind of tobacco, straight. It takes just the right amount of the right kind of Turkish tobacco to give a cigarette better taste. For Turkish tobacco is to cigarettes what seasoning is to food—the spice—the sauce. You want enough but not too much.

There is just enough Turkish in CHESTERFIELDS to give them a better flavor, a more pleasing aroma; to make them taste better.

Turkish tobacco must pay an import duty of 35c a pound; but cost doesn't count when it comes to making CHESTERFIELD the best cigarette that science and money can produce.

FROM Xanthi and Cavalla . . . Smyrna and Samsoun . . . the finest Turkish tobaccos travel 4,000 miles to add flavor and fragrance to CHESTERFIELD.

TURKISH tobacco is strong leaf-by-leaf and hung in long strands to dry and cure in the sun. In every important tobacco-growing center of Turkey, CHESTERFIELD has its own tobacco buyers.
