SHANGHAI, Mar. 6. (Sunday) (AP)—Skrimishes occurred today between the distant lines of the Chinese and Japanese armies, but foreign military observers said there was no general conflict on this Sunday morning, the first in five weeks without a battle.

Chinese newspapers accused Japanese military forces of attacking Chinese in the vicinity of Nanking, northward toward the Yangtze river.

"The boots of 60,000 invaders crush hopes for the war's end," they said. The Japanese apparently intended to occupy Kunshan and Soochow, further westward along the Shanghai-Nanking railway, the newspapers said. Artillery and infantry thrusts, the Chinese said, "were being repelled."

The Japanese troops continued to consolidate their positions, indicating an indefinite occupation although General Yoshinori Shirakawa, their commander, had insisted they were planning to depart at the earliest possible moment.

Chinese casualties during the engagement in the Chapel, Kiangsu, and Woussing areas reached a total greater than 20,000, the Press Union estimated today.

This total, according to the Press Union estimate, was about ten times greater than Japanese casualties, and it included approximately 7,000 killed.

TOKYO, Mar. 5. (AP)—The League of Nations Manchurian Investigating Commission was informed by War Minister Sadao Araki today that Japan has no intention of invading Russian territory but is prepared to defend Manchuria in the event of Soviet threats.

GENEVA, Mar. 5. (AP)—Spokesman of the smaller nations, which have no material interests in the far east, pronounced before the special assembly of the League of Nations today their public condemnation of Japan's invasion of China and urged that all the league's resources be employed to end the struggle.

All during the morning and afternoon Tsunen Matsudaira and Naotake Sato, the Japanese representatives, listened while European and South and Central American speakers denounced armed intervention by a strong state in the territory of a weaker state, and while they called for the early withdrawal of Japanese troops from Chinese soil.

The discussion, unfinished after a morning and afternoon session, will be resumed Monday.

Nearly $500 Added to Lions Club's Fund to Give Children Treatment.

More than one thousand Pampa residents attended the Lions Club Musical Revue and Minstrel show on Thursday and Friday evenings, a check of receipts yesterday disclosed.

As the result of the benefit performances, the crippled children's fund of the club will be increased by between $400 and $500. The expenses of the show had not been tabulated last night.

The big cast, played to a responsive audience of about 350 persons Friday evening despite the storm. C. H. Walker, president of the club, issued the following public statement concerning the project.

"I believe I speak for every member of the Lions Club when I say that we deeply appreciate the manner in which our show was received and the numerous compliments that have come to the members of the cast. This approval by the public is repayment to us for the hard work done in rehearsals and other preparations for the presentation of the minstrel."

"We are grateful to them other civic organizations for their cooperation, and to numerous individuals who assisted with the show, without whose help it could not have been the success it is acclaimed to have been."

"The receipts, with very little deduction for expenses, will be used for surgical attention and hospitalization of crippled children of Pampa and Gray county whose parents are not financially able to have it done. This very worthy activity has been adopted as the major project of the local club. So, we feel that all who attended our show and all who took a part in it have contributed to a most noble cause."

Lion John Sturgeon, whose capable direction made the show possible, spoke similarly and added his personal appreciation of the loyalty of the cast.

AUSTIN, Mar. 5. (AP)—Politicians and candidates for state offices are looking forward to a "big session" at Fort Worth next Wednesday when the Texas democratic executive committee plans to select a site for the May 24th state presidential convention and fix the status of numerous aspirants to the three places of congressman-at-large.

There are not less than twenty congressman-at-large candidates already with almost that many more contemplating the "plunge." Questions arising at the state committee at this time is whether the three big men in the first primary shall be declared the party nominees or whether the candidates shall be required to run for places.

The two receiving the highest number of votes in each to enter the August run-off.

F. O. Fuller of Houston had already given notice that unless the state committee adopted a rule that candidates be required to file for places 1, 2 and 3, he would apply to the Supreme Court for a mandamus to force such action.

Files Protest
Don H. Biggers of Lampasas, another aspirant for one of the three at-large congressional places created by the state's gain in population as of 1930, increasing its representation in the national house from 18 to 21 members and the Texas legislature's failure to redistrict the state to make room for the newcomers, has filed with the committee a protest against the proposed rule of requiring candidates to file for positions.

Those who had announced their candidacies with still others on the verge of coming in, included Oscar Holcombe of Houston, Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, R. B. Hood

MARTIAL LAW REGIME IS HIT

Six Federal Injunctions Are Granted in East Texas on Saturday.

TYLER, Mar. 5. (AP)—Six federal court injunctions issued here today by Judge Randolph Bryant of Sherman struck a heavy blow to military administration of proration in the big East Texas oil field.

The orders, mailed by the judge from Sherman to J. R. Blades, deputy court clerk at Tyler, restrained Governor R. S. Sterling, Adjutant General W. W. Sterling and Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Walter from enforcing any of their "so-called" military or executive proration orders against properties of the plaintiffs, pending final hearing of the suits.

Although the original petitions of the plaintiffs for injunctions against the Texas railroad commission also, the injunctions granted today failed to place any restraint upon the commission.

Plaintiffs granted the restraining orders were the Imperial Oil Corporation, A. A. Palmer and Artions R. Frazer et al. The Bill & Dave Oil corporation, Alfred McMillan et al, and the North Star Oil corporation. Similar injunction orders were granted earlier this week to Eugene Constantine and J. F. Wraether on an amended petition to the Peoples Petroleum Producers, Inc.

No date for final hearing on the suits or of the state's cross action against the Constantine and Wraether and the Peoples Petroleum producers has been set but it was believed Judge Bryant would confer soon with Circuit Judge Joseph C. Wraether of Houston to set the hearing date.

Shell Employee Is Critically Injured

Ernest Scott, employe of the Shell Petroleum company, suffered critical injuries in a tank explosion at the Shell gasoline plant nine miles south of town yesterday afternoon. He was taken to Worley hospital in a Stephenson ambulance.

He suffered a fractured skull and burns on the face. His eyes were also badly burned when the tank of hydrochloride of lime exploded. Cause of the explosion had not been determined last night. Physicians believed he would recover.

Total Reaches $3,400
Yesterday morning, a number of workmen were not given checks by County Treasurer Mabel Davis Friday called for and received them. The total amount of the bills would be approximately $3,400, Mr. Cox said.

Earlier in the week a motion was made by Commissioner Cox and seconded by Commissioner John E. White. Commissioner H. G. McCleskey voted against the move. Commissioner M. M. Newman was absent. Judge S. D. Stennis dissented "because when presented in lump sum under claim 7121 the bill was approved by the county auditor for $2,908.30 and the bills now aggregate $3,370.12 and I feel that there is some error about these bills. I am advised that more bills are to be presented which increases the discrepancy." The judge's dissenting opinion was written on the docket.

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA, NOTED BANDMASTER AND COMPOSER, DIES FOLLOWING BANQUET

Grand Old Man of Music Spent a Lifetime Giving Melodies to People.

READING, Pa., Mar. 6. (AP)—John Philip Sousa, famous bandmaster, died suddenly early this morning at the Alhambra Lincoln hotel, less than two hours after a banquet in his honor, given by the Ringgold band, this city. The band, celebrating its 80th anniversary today, had invited Sousa to be its guest conductor. A service he had rendered it on a number of previous Ringgold anniversaries.

He delivered a speech at the dinner, but appeared very weak. A heart attack is ascribed as the cause of death. His home in Washington, D. C., was immediately notified by order of Dr. W. H. Ammarell, coroner. Sousa would have been 78 had he lived until November.

Before the dinner he had conducted a rehearsal of the band. He was apparently in good condition on his arrival shortly before 6 o'clock on a Pennsylvania railroad train.

A career of more than 50 years before the public during which he composed more than 300 works and had directed his famous band in all the principal cities of the world, made Sousa one of the most widely known of contemporary American musicians. Although an accomplished musician early in his teens, it was his work as director of the United States Marine Corps band that served as the stepping stone to a position of prominence in the musical world.

GRAVEL PAYMENTS ARE MUCH HEAVIER WHEN PAID THROUGH INDIVIDUAL CLAIMS BY COUNTY

TOTAL FOR HAULING IN THIS PRECINCT IS OVER $3,400

COUNTY JUDGE DISSENTS

M'CLESKEY ALSO IS ON
PAYMENT

County commissioners ordered payment Friday afternoon of individual gravel bills which totaled an amount approximately $500 higher than the original bill filed with the court in a lump sum by Tom Jackson earlier in the week.

The bills were presented by 27 truck drivers and as many assistants for graveling railroad approaches on the Pampa-Kingsmill road, and for filling in washed-out portions on the Pampa-LeFors road.

Mr. Jackson's bill was in the amount of $2,908.30, and the sum paid out by the court for the same work was over $3,370.12. Payment of the Jackson bill was denied by the court Thursday, when a motion that every person performing work upon the job be requested to make out a bill for the work done by him and present it to the county auditor for the latter's approval, was passed by a majority of the members of the court. The motion stipulated that if the bills were approved by the auditor they would be presented to the court for action.

Change Wage Scale
The difference in the amount of the Jackson bill and the sum paid by the commissioners was due to a raise of one dollar in the wage scale paid to the laborers who assisted the truck drivers in hauling the gravel. Commissioner Lewis O. Cox said that he hired the laborers and gave the truck drivers the privilege of fixing the daily wage.

This was $3 per day in the Jackson bill. When the men presented their individual bills they fixed their wage at 45 cents per hour, or $4 per day, the amount said to have been paid similar laborers for road work in all precincts of the county.

The motion to pay the claim was made by Commissioner Cox and seconded by Commissioner John E. White. Commissioner H. G. McCleskey voted against the move. Commissioner M. M. Newman was absent. Judge S. D. Stennis dissented "because when presented in lump sum under claim 7121 the bill was approved by the county auditor for $2,908.30 and the bills now aggregate $3,370.12 and I feel that there is some error about these bills. I am advised that more bills are to be presented which increases the discrepancy." The judge's dissenting opinion was written on the docket.

POST OFFICE RULING MADE

Saturday Afternoon Closing
Is to Be Effective Next
March 12.

The Pampa post office will line up with many others throughout the nation on March 12 when the service windows will be closed during Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock.

There are two important reasons for closing the post office on Saturday afternoon. Postmaster D. E. Cecil said. In the first place it is believed that better service will result from five and one-half days per week than from six days with only five and one-half days of actual service. A law passed by congress allows each employe one-half day off each week. Under the new plan, all the employes will work until Saturday afternoon, whereas under the present system the postal clerks will rest off on the various days of the week.

The other reason for closing the post office, Mr. Cecil said, was to assist the post office department in reducing the deficit under which it is now operating. The department has suggested that postmasters may close up on Saturday afternoon since clerks can work only five and one-half days, but left it optional with the postmaster.

Before Mr. Cecil decided to close the office on Saturday afternoons, he obtained approval of the new arrangement from many local citizens. All mails will be placed in boxes, dispatched, and special delivery service will be continued as it is now. The only difference is that stamps and money orders must be purchased before one o'clock Saturday. Cecil invited discussion of the proposed change.

Within a short time, city delivery will be extended and more post office boxes will be available to those who desire to receive mail at the office, the postmaster announced. Over 60 postoffices in the state have been closing Saturday afternoons since July 1, Mr. Cecil said.

Home owners will be allowed to use 7,000 gallons of water for $3 under the summer rate. The price for each additional 1,000 gallons will be 20 cents. It will be necessary to call at the water department office in the city hall and sign up for the service. Forms will be available Tuesday morning.

Many hundred owners took advantage of the lowered rate last year to raise beautiful lawns and gardens. The present rate of water is $2 for the first 3,000 gallons and 50 cents for each additional 1,000 gallons. The offer will not be open to business houses, offices or manufacturers.

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 6. (Sunday) (AP)—Two men were designated by Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh early today to meet "go-between" in a new plea for negotiations with the kidnapers of their baby son.

A statement signed by the Lindberghs and telephoned from their home here to state police at Trenton said:

"If the kidnapers of our child are unwilling to deal directly with us we fully authorize 'Salvy' Spitalo and Irving Bitz to act as our go-between. We will also follow any other method suggested by the kidnapers that we can be sure will bring the return of our child."

Major Charles A. Schoeffel of the New Jersey state police gave out the statement from the Lindbergh home, but a spokesman there said he never had heard of either Spitalo or Bitz.

New York newspaper files showed a Salvatore (Salvy) Spitalo had figured in police investigation of the shooting of the late Jack (Legs) Diamond in the Hotel Monticello in New York Oct. 12, 1930. No one was convicted of the shooting.

Irving Bitz was convicted in 1926 of violating the Harrison narcotic act and sentenced to a year and a day in Atlanta penitentiary.

TEMPLE WILDCATS NOSE OUT HOUSTON TEAM FOR TITLE

VICTORS HAVE EDGE IN FINAL SCORE 30-23

SAN ANTONIO FIVE IS WINNER OF THIRD PLACE

AUSTIN, March 5. (AP)—Temple high school tonight was crowned the 1932 champion of the Texas interscholastic league, succeeding Athens.

In a typical tournament final thriller the Temple Wildcats clawed the fur from the Golden Bears of San Jacinto high of Houston to win 30-23.

There was no doubt about the superiority of the Wildcat quintet. Temple leading throughout the game despite desperate efforts of San Jacinto to overtake them.

Lee Tynes, captain and forward on San Jacinto, played herculean ball although lately recovered from an illness. Tynes scored 16 points on seven from the field and two free throws, but his teammates could not hit the hoop with any consistency.

Brackenridge of San Antonio won third place, defeating Dallas Tech, 24-23, in a hot contest preliminary to the championship game.

While Tynes was the whole show for the Golden Bears, the team work of the Wildcats was the outstanding feature of Temple's play. It would be hard to pick an individual star from the Temple five. Lange, forward, led the scoring with five field goals and one foul. K. Clark, guard, scored three fielders and one foul and D. Clark three field goals. Bonner, Temple forward, played a smashing floor game and Harrison, guard, played stellar ball until he was ejected on personal fouls.

Tynes ran his tournament scoring total to 60 made on 26 field goals and eight fouls. D. Clark opened the scoring with a beautiful side shot. He was followed by Lange with another. Eaton, Houston guard, dropped in a foul and Lange made another field goal. Tiger, Houston guard, slipped in a crisp shot, and D. Clark looped in another two pointer.

MIAMI, Fla., March 5. (AP)—The world champion Cardinals put on an exciting finish today to pull the opening game of the spring "world series" out of the fire and beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 5, in 10 innings.

A home run drive over the right field fence in the first extra frame by Jim Collins, first base under-study, settled the issue in favor of St. Louis after a three-run rally tied the score in the ninth. The big blow in the ninth was delivered by Lee Cunningham, rookie third sacker, whose double brought in two runs, with two out, and sent the game into overtime.

A crowd of 2,000 fans, including President William Harridge of the American league, turned out for the opening exhibition game of the Florida training season.

The weather man stepped in and caused postponement of the football game scheduled for Friday afternoon at Harvester park. The game will be played at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, weather permitting. Coach Odus Mitchell will be in charge of the fleet-footed boys, while Coach Argus M. Fox will be at the helm of the football regulars. Both squads will have a sprinkling of lettermen mixed up with ex-Gorillas and newcomers who will be eligible for football this fall under the one-year residence transfer rule.

Details for the Horned Toad race and dance are being perfected by a special Legion committee and the date and place will be announced soon. Funds raised from this unique event will be added to the Legion Service fund.

More than one hundred dashing "steeds" are expected to face the barrier carrying the colors of local business houses. There is much speculation as to whether the world's record of ten seconds for the twenty-five foot dash; made last August at Loveland, Colo., will be broken. Following are some of the early entries in the derby for toads:

"Doll Up. This is the entry of Voss Cleaners at 312 South Cuyler. Ernie Voss, official trainer, is giving the toads racing togs the cleaning and pressing that will make this alkali duster look like a million on derby night. The lady toads will have to watch out or they will fall by the wayside looking at this sheik. A spotless appearance gives confidence and that is the major requisite for every racer.

"Helpy-Selfy. This froggy will carry the colors of the Helpy-Selfy Grocery and Market. After a grueling workout, his trainer, Grover Price, feeds him out the best groceries the store has to offer. When he gets tired of the red ant diet offered at training quarters, he runs off down to the store and invades the meat market for the delicacies his heart craves. Unless the overalls and has a bad case of acute indigestion he's apt to, upset the racing dog.

"Opaline. Training hard to bring home the blue ribbon to the Sinclair Refining Company, is "Opaline." "Opaline" is being trained on H. C. gas with Ethel to prevent carbon, and believe me, she has plenty of pep and pick-up. Don't forget about this pick-up; its apt to mean the winning of the race.

"Dining Room. This fastidious entry is the property of the Schneider hotel at 121 South Russell, and it was stated that he would enter the race. The announcement caused cold chills to run up and down the backs of several trainers, since this popular entry is feared in racing circles, so great is his fame. "Dining Room," as he is called because he is so fond of that part of the hotel and never fed on a carefully prepared diet so that when the barrier breaks he will be in the best possible racing condition.

"Willard Batteries." "Willard Batteries" is the fast stepping entry of Mark Long Electric; 111 East Kingsmill. When he first came into the shop a few days ago he didn't look or act much like a racer, but since then his electric wiring has had a complete overhauling and he has been equipped with a new Eiseman Magneto. Just before the race they are going to put in a new Willard battery so there won't be any trouble starting if his cold weather. "Willard Batteries" is a hot shot and a red hot racing tip.

SHIRES IS GOOD. ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5. (AP)—Arthur (the great) Shires played his first game as a Brave today and helped his side win a practice game between two line-ups of Tribal warriors, 3 to 1. He singled once and handled 11 chances at first base without a slip-up.

Joe Moody, Aggie forward, led the scoring with 10 points. The opposing captains, Charlie Bears for the Aggies and Bull Elkins for the Longhorns, played sterling games. Lester Veltman, Aggie guard, also turned in a good performance.

Each side presented a strong defensive front, but even then a little luck would have added to the scores of each team, as many shots were left in the nerve-wracking kind that rolled off the hoop.

With Moody and Elkins sharing the scoring spotlight, the teams battled on even terms through the first half, the Aggie leading 7 to 5 at the half. Kubright, Steer center, sank a field goal with two minutes of play left in the second half to end all scoring.

Highly Interesting Trip to Old Mexico Is Available to Pampans

Pampans and people in the surrounding territory will have an opportunity to visit Mexico for Easter with a party of Texans under the direction of Fred L. Hasket, 623 Adolphus hotel, Dallas, Texas.

The party will leave Dallas at 11 p. m., Wednesday, March 23, in special standard pullmans over the Katy railroad. A special breakfast will be served in San Antonio the next morning at the Plaza hotel.

Continuing on to Laredo, the party will enter Mexico and will arrive at Mexico City at 9:40 p. m. Friday, March 25. The party then will be transferred to the Imperial hotel, where double rooms with bath have been reserved.

The six full days to be spent in Mexico City will have plenty of entertainment, yet there will be sufficient time for individuals to arrange visits not specially outlined.

To see Famous Trees
Mr. Hasket will conduct the party by motor to Tacuba, where the members will see the Tree of the Dismal Night, beneath which the brave Cortes sat in 1520 and wept as the straggling remnants of his army crept by in their retreat from the Aztec capital.

A trip will be taken to the famous Floating Garden at Xochimilco. On this trip also will be seen Cortes' old palace at Coyacan. The largest artificial mounts in North America will be seen at San Juan Teotihuacan, 30 miles from Mexico City. These are called the pyramids of the Sun and Moon. They are connected by the Highway of the Dead, so termed because of the tunnel which flanked it.

To Ancient City
A delightful 50-mile motor drive over picturesque mountains from Mexico City will take the party to the resort city of Cuernavaca, which was a sizeable place when captured from the Aztecs in 1521. This trip will be unusually delightful because of the ancient setting.

The many days in Mexico City will be especially delightful. Mexico City is considered one of the world's most beautiful cities and the mild summer weather will be appreciated by all the Texans. The mighty cathedral with its magnificent high altar supported by marble columns, its elaborately-carved choir surrounded by tumbago railings from Masco will interest everyone. The National Palace and the Old Museum and numerous other places will be visited.

The finest spring operas, bull fights, theaters and carnivals may be visited for special entertainment. Tickets for these events may be obtained from the local guide.

Reservations may be made with Mr. Hasket, Room 623 Adolphus hotel, Dallas. Details about the trip, together with the fees for the various classes of reservations desired, may be obtained from Mr. Hasket. Special round trip rates to Dallas to join the party may be obtained by writing Mr. Hasket.

People of the Panhandle may be assured of first class treatment during this trip, for Mr. Hasket is an authority in conducting tours. He managed a special train to Washington for the inauguration of Mr. Hoover. Two years ago he took a large party to Europe, and he is now making plans for another European trip. On his next trip to Europe he will take the University of Texas band.

Hoover to Sign Wheat Measure

WASHINGTON, March 5. —The only measure passed at this session calling for direct federal aid to the needy—the bill to distribute 40,000,000 bushels of farm board wheat for relief—will be signed by President Hoover.

Although the legislation providing for taking the grain from the elevators where it has been stored since it was purchased by board agencies has not yet reached the white house, word came today the president would approve it. It has passed both houses.

Mr. Hoover's opposition to direct relief is well known. In administration quarters, however, it has been represented that in view of the fact a commodity rather than money is involved, he felt he should do his part in making the wheat available for food.

The grain will be distributed by the Red Cross which already has expressed willingness to take the job.

C. Bascom Slempp Will Retire Soon

BRISTOL, Va., March 5. (AP)—C. Bascom Slempp, Virginia republican national committee man, praised and commended at two separate mass meetings today, said tonight he would not be a candidate to succeed himself.

He said his decision was reached after "mature thought and serious consideration not only of my own personal business interests but the party's interests in Virginia as well."

His statement came after a republican mass meeting in his home county of Wise had attacked him, while nearby his name was being endorsed by seventy county republicans. Resolutions were adopted by the Wise county group, after a turbulent session, instructing delegates to district and state conventions to "use their full influence and strength" for Slempp's defeat.

Former Collector Is Under Charge

WAXAHACHIE, Mar. 5. (AP)—C. I. Jones, until recently county tax collector, today was charged with misapplication of $4,850.67 in public funds.

The complaint was filed after a court of inquiry in which Moore Lynn, state auditor, and George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, participated. Justice W. E. Cox presided over the court. Jones, who worked in the collector's office several years, was charged with misapplying $4,850.67 from the county road and bridge fund.

IN NEW YORK

By WILLIAM GAINES
NEW YORK—Walls movable on tracks, to enable the householder to increase or reduce the size of his rooms, according to the requirements of the moment, are advocated by Raymond Hood, the architect.

This principle, affording space where needed and when needed, could do away with the necessity of building a big house with a lot of rooms seldom to be used, says Hood. He told me he would like to try it in a home for himself.

Suppose you had a long, rectangular room as the main part of your house. This would have one or two partition walls, with wheels at each end and maybe on a center track. One of the divisions of your room would serve as party quarters. If too many people crashed your party and you needed more elbow space, you would just press a button. Presto—The wall would roll back, temporarily shrinking the den, or whatever happened to be on the other side.

Hood says such gliding walls could be proofed against sound. As for your furniture, I suppose Hood will work out a way to put the pieces on rollers, so that you can just press another button and the chairs and bookcases will waltz out of the way of the wall.

Slow Motion Pictures
Gladys Rice, the soprano, really did sleep in a tray of her mother's trunk backstage when she was an infant. Her parents were Sally Cohen and John C. Rice, a well known comedy team a generation ago.

Jack Kuehne, a newsreel aviation editor, started out in a plane on a clear, warm day to get some aerial shots of New York. Up 14,000 feet, Kuehne began to freeze.

The crystal of his watch contracted and fell out. When he came down he had to take his frozen hands to a hospital. But the worst thing, says Kuehne, the filter on his camera was destroyed and the low temperature froze the gelatin so that it crumbled into powder.

The stakes were $50, and Lopez asked a stranger to hold his overcoat. Lopez won the race, but the stranger ran the other way with his coat, which cost more than fifty.

MRS. MOONEY IN PLEA

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—An aged and frustrated mother—Mrs. Mary Mooney of San Francisco—today poured into the ear of one of the president's secretaries her often and fruitlessly voiced appeal for freedom for her son.

President Hoover, they told her at the White House, was engaged. So she pleaded her cause before a secretary—asking that the president free Thomas J. Mooney from his conviction for the preparedness day bombing.

"WILD MAN" KILLED

LONG LAKE, N. Y., March 5. (AP)—The "wild man of the Adirondacks" was killed today in a gun fight with officers in the rugged region he terrorized for several days. State troopers, game wardens and trappers said the "wild man," a large negro, garbed in tattered furs, defied them to the last and died in a last stand at an abandoned lumber mill.

Connally Raps Republican Rule

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—The republican administration was described as drifting "aimlessly and blindly" by Senator Connally (D., Tex.), speaking to the national convention of the young democrats club today.

The Texan said: "In the coming campaign a united and brilliant democracy will triumph." He pleaded for party harmony and said the young democrats could help toward this.

"Truth demands that it be known that democrats are responsible for originating the most constructive part of that so-called program," Connally said. "Democrats have cooperated with the administration. They forgot partisanship in order to rescue the country from republican misfortunes.

"Now that the republicans have secured what they think they want they are willing to declare the truce at an end and make war upon the democrats and their leaders."

Hyde Strikes at "Pork Barrel" Idea

WASHINGTON, March 5. (AP)—Engaging again in a dispute with a democratic senator, Secretary Hyde today hurled back a charge of "pork barrel" legislation at the $132,000,000 highway construction bill approved by a democratic house.

Hyde's original statement saying the bill had been "railroaded" was sent through the mails under government frank, and drew from Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader, and accusation he was misusing public funds.

"The pot calls the kettle black," the agriculture secretary, staunch defender of President Hoover said today. "How many reams, bushels and bales of simon-pure political dope has the senator himself sent out to the country under his frank during his long but sterile public service?"

"How many acres of pure white paper has the senator covered with 'political pizen' and adorned with his flowing signature?"

"Nobody but the senator can answer. Even the speech of the senator yesterday cost the government more money to print and to frank than my statement about pork barrel legislation. The only difference is that I discussed the legislation while the senator 'cussed me.' I charged that organization," he said, "with insincerity in cutting $10,000,000 road money off the regular budget and railroading an additional $132,000,000 through separate guise. I reiterate that statement."

Ward Morehouse has sold an original scenario at a price that makes all the depression tales seem like a bad dream. News like that travels fast. Immediately the Georgia boy was set upon by all manner of salesmen.

Nation-wide survey of land values conducted by the federal division of agricultural statistics shows percent land values only six percent above the 1912-14 average. Farmers have agreed to a 10 percent reduction in wages.

KIDNAPED BOY IS RESCUED AND TWO MEN ARE JAILED AFTER POLICE ARE "TIPPED"

James DeJute Jr. Held Captive in Abandoned Gambling Resort in Niles, O.

MILES, O., March 5. (AP)—Twelve-year old James DeJute, Jr., was safe at home tonight and his two alleged abductors were in jail. Trembling and afraid but still keeping up his boyish courage, Jimmie was found unharmed today hidden in a secret tunnel in an abandoned gambling resort and liquor storehouse near Youngstown. He was rescued just 76 hours after two men spirited him away from Niles street while on his way to school Wednesday. Authorities said the two men arrested with him, Jean Demarco, 30, and Dowell Hargraves, 27, both of Youngtown, admitted they were the kidnapers.

A strange message—"Go to Scotty's place and you will find that DeJute kid from Niles"—and a lucky circumstance involving Jimmie's school-book, combined to bring the boy's release. The message was received by Mahoning County Detective W. J. Harrison of Youngstown. He refused to divulge the source of the tip. Officers surrounded the house, kicked in the door and rushed in, but found it apparently empty, although there was a fire in the kitchen stove. It looked like another false clue until Harrison saw Jimmie's fifth-grade arithmetic text book, his name on the flyleaf, lying on the floor.

"Jimmie," he called, and a muffled cry came: "Yes sir, here I am." Harrison and Risher kicked in a flimsy, false wall and found Jimmie, white-faced and trembling, between two men, one of whom held a revolver. The boy was standing on packages of liquor labeled "bonded whiskey."

ROCKY MOUNTAIN COLD WAVE SWEEPS OVER ALL OF TEXAS

By The Associated Press. Most of the state shivered under heavy wraps Saturday as low temperatures were experienced from the Panhandle to the Gulf of Mexico. Two deaths were attributed indirectly to the storm, which blew in from the Rocky Mountain area, but losses to fruit and livestock, at first feared as probably considerable, were believed small.

High winds, hail, sleet and snow visited parts of south Texas. At San Antonio, two buildings were damaged. In the vicinity of Uvalde, a number of goats were killed.

A. M. Justice, a barber, was found dying at San Antonio, apparently from exposure, after becoming entangled in a barbed wire fence. He had been unable to free himself.

Paul M. Barron, former policeman of Dallas, was found in a cotton field in a dying condition near Stockard. He had gone to Henderson county in search of work.

Hail still was visible on the ground in San Antonio Saturday after the high winds of the previous night, which blew down a tent in which some 3,000 persons were witnessing a wrestling match. It was estimated wind attained a velocity of 60 miles an hour.

The same disturbance felt in San Antonio apparently was responsible for the losses among goats around Uvalde. It was estimated several hundred goats were killed, and it was possible the number would be even larger.

The coldest weather of the season gripped Dallas and vicinity, where the mercury dropped to 23 degrees.

At Lubbock, a minimum of 16 degrees was recorded Saturday.

Fire Losses for Last Year Small

Pampa's fire loss during 1931 was $7,800 according to a report just completed by Clyde Gold, inspector and fire chief.

Of that amount, $4,300 loss was in business houses and $3,450 in residences. There were only 33 fires during the year, 30 in the residential section and the balance in the downtown district.

The largest loss of record was the fire at Kraft's Mint store when $4,000 worth of damage resulted from water and smoke. During the month of November, there were only four calls and no losses. October's loss was only $10.

Fruit trees in that area were believed badly damaged. At Abilene the low was 23 degrees, and the forecast was for a rising temperature. Pampa had a temperature of nine degrees, the coldest of the winter.

A minimum of 31 degrees was reported from Waco, with no damage to fruit. The low at Temple was 30, at Paris 28. Slight damage to fruit in that area was feared.

Longview and east Texas expected to be covered by the heaviest frost of the winter Sunday morning. The forecast was for a reading of 26 to 27 degrees by morning. No damage to crops was anticipated.

Keith for a permit as a contract carrier from Dublin to De Leon, Desdemona, Eastland, Cisco and Gorman, was submitted for consideration. The application of J. E. Martin, Jr., for a permit to operate as a contract motor carrier to all points

WOMAN SENTENCED

DALLAS, Mar. 5. (AP)—Mrs. Anna

the charge at her trial several days ago. Judge W. H. Atwell ordered her to serve her sentence at the industrial institution for women at Alderson, W. Va.

Independent, But Still Fighting

Madera Springs Is Given $15 by Highway Body

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—Former State Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas befriended Madera Springs before the Texas highway commission and obtained an appropriation of $15. Madera Springs is an important town in Jeff Davis county, but just a trifle off the beaten highway towards the West. Madera Springs is either the highest point or the second loftiest pinnacle in Texas, Senator Love isn't sure which. What it wanted was some road signs along the trans-continental highway traversing Texas to point the way to Madera Springs. It was estimated three five-dollar bills would do the work. "More than glad to authorize that piece of work," W. R. Ely, chairman of the commission, told Senator Love. There is a recreation club at Madera Springs with a membership of several hundred from all sections of Texas. Senator Love is one of them. Former Governor W. P. Hobby's infant son was born on Robert E. Lee's birthday, on Joan of Arc's birthday and on Mrs. Hobby's birthday. In addition to all that he has been named William Pettus Hobby, Jr. and commissioned a colonel on Governor R. S. Sterling's personal staff. He ought to be a political personality some day. His father was lieutenant governor and governor. His mother was parliamentarian to the speaker of the Texas House of Representatives for several terms. Also, the lad might turn out to be a newspaper personage. His father is editor of the Houston Post at this time, after having spent a lifetime in the newspaper business, part of the while at Beaumont, and Mrs. Hobby's father dabbled in the newspaper business extensively for a period.

Talk as to the probability that Pat M. Neff, railroad commissioner, may accept the presidency of Baylor university, and of his likely successor on the railroad commission, is rife around the capital. There is a possibility that Neff will take the Baylor presidency with a proviso that his appointment shall not become effective until the university's next term opens in September. That would create an interesting situation. The governor is directed by the constitution to fill the vacancy existing before election of an incumbent at the first general election. That general election will be in November. The July primaries will have passed and since there was no vacancy there would have been no candidate for the nomination. In that contingency the state democratic executive committee would be asked to pick a nominee for the November general election ballot. L. W. Kemp, who has contributed service extraordinary through his historical research work concerning early-day Texans, has been searching for the grave of Mrs. Angelina Eberley, who operated a hotel in Austin during republic of Texas days. It was said of her that she gave the alarm when Sam Houston, then president of the republic, sought to have the government records transferred to Houston in an effort to re-establish the capital there. Kemp, in charge of locating the burying places of Texas heroes and transferring their bodies to the state cemetery in Austin, failed to find Mrs. Eberley's grave, the storm of 1875 having effaced it, apparently. He found her daughter's burying place and has not abandoned his effort to identify the other grave. The story is that President Houston had sent his emissaries to Austin for the records. Mrs. Eberley saw a light in the land offices and gave the alarm. She fired a cannon that was on the hill near the office, kept ready to protect the community from hostile Indians. Houston's men fled with some of the records. A posse of Bastrop citizens overtook them, however, and brought the records back.

SPORT GOSSIP

Stories of Steve Harry Hillman, track coach at Dartmouth, kindly sends along a copy of a bulletin recently published by the Association of College Track Coaches of America, in which some of the romantic deeds of derring-do of good old Steve Farrell are recounted. Steve is the former Yale-Maine-Ohio-Michigan track coach, who retired a year ago, but who, at 69, retains the appearance and condition of a man many years younger. Two of the most interesting highlights in Farrell's story are concerned with animals. One, a horse, gave Farrell international fame; the other, a dog, put an end to his track career. More years ago than Farrell cares to remember, Steve went to see a Barnum & Bailey circus at the Hippodrome in New York. One of the events was a race between a horse and a man, open to all comers, with handicaps awarded the man. Farrell entered the race, refusing any handicap—and made the horse eat his dust. During the first half of the circus performance Steve raced the horse and later donned ancient garb, climbed on the horse's back and took the part of the courier in "The Fall of Rome." They put Steve on the circus payroll after that. Steve tells many interesting tales of his circus days. Once, dressed as an English gentleman hunter, with plug hat and knee breeches, he took part in the parade which had to pass through the toughest part of the old Bowery. As if on signal, when Steve appeared, a shower of bricks, over-ripe tomatoes and dead cats filled the air. It took him two days to recover his horse. NEW YORK, Mar. 5 (AP)—Reggie McNamara, Newark, iron man of the track, and his Canadian partner, William (Torchy) Feder, tonight won Madison Square Garden's 52nd international six-day bicycle race.

J. C. Yates of Miami shopped here yesterday.

VESSELS ARE WARNED

HAVANA, Cuba, Mar. 5. (AP)—Storm warnings for vessels in the Gulf of Mexico were issued today by the National Observatory, which reported a disturbance moving over the gulf toward Florida out of Arizona, where it formed. Intensity of the disturbances had increased, the observatory said.

Borger Plans Biggest Birthday Celebration on 6th Anniversary

BORGER, Mar. 5.—Borger, which will be six years old on March 8, and on that date, as on every birth anniversary in the past, the city will celebrate.

The birthday celebration this year is to be on a record-breaking scale, according to officers of Hutchinson county post of the American Legion. The post has staged some of the big birthday celebrations of the city and knows how Borger and her friends like their celebrations arranged.

Rodeo, parade and dance will be among the items on the program. Bill Heskew, a Legionnaire, who is chairman of the rodeo committee, will round up the cowboys riding the ranges of this section and have them in the show competing for fancy prizes. In the vicinity of Borger, Heskew said, are some real cowboys surviving in one part of the country where that feature of the old West still lives.

Bands, cowboys and floats prepared by merchants of the city will compete for prizes in the parade. What is planned to be the longest and most interesting procession in the history of the city will be followed by a program of speaking to include Josh Lee, noted Oklahoma humorist.

Hugh Miller of Phillips is in charge of preparations for unveiling in connection with the celebration of a monument to honor the dead of Hutchinson county post, "those who have served."

YOUTH RULES IN CHINA, SAYS NANKING BUREAU

NANKING (AP)—The Kuomintang, the governing body in China, is essentially a "youth" organization.

The government's bureau of statistics discovered that the average age of members of the party's executive and supervisory committees, including branches abroad, is 40.

Out of about a thousand members of these committees, twenty are under 25, the majority being between 30 and 40 with just enough "elder statesmen" to bring up the average.

POLITICS at random

By BYRON PRICE (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

Whatever specific issue may lie on the surface, one deep-flowing current promises to dominate the coming presidential campaign: The republicans will appeal for a drawing together of Americans behind the president in time adversity, but the democrats will reply that the best machine for the adversity would be a change in the White House.

Already abundant signs are appearing. Lincoln's birthday, marking the unofficial beginning of the republican offensive, saw republican orators the country over comparing Mr. Hoover's trials and labors with those of the great emancipator. Immediately the democrats protested in indignation, some of them even in anger.

This is a form of political disputation well known to American history, and the results in the past have been various.

In 1916, for instance, the call of pure patriotism was credited with having greatly helped Woodrow Wilson toward re-election, but in 1918 the reaction from his appeal for re-election of the democratic congress, on patriotic grounds, was credited with having contributed heavily to democratic defeat.

Democratic Ranks Change William G. McAdoo's enlistment in the John Garner-for-president movement furnishes one more proof that democratic ranks are reforming on a sweeping pattern, which has very little relation to the past.

For a decade the split between McAdoo and Alfred E. Smith appeared almost as definite and dependable as did the friendship between Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Now it seems McAdoo and Smith are on one side of the fence and Roosevelt on the opposite side.

McAdoo's chief strength has been in the West and South. Now so many of the leaders in those sections are committed to Roosevelt that the Roosevelt campaign often is spoken of as a rally of the old McAdoo legions.

McAdoo was widely supported as a distinctly dry candidate; in fact, a group of prohibition leaders have talked long and earnestly about bringing him out as the dry candidate this year. Although Garner has voted for enforcement legislation, he voted against the prohibition amendment.

Whoever undertook to figure this out and compute the net effect on the June convention would require more complicated formulae than any known to calculus, and then the answer probably would be wrong.

Few Speeches Planned No extensive speech-making is planned for President Hoover during his campaign for re-election. When he does appear on the platform, he is likely to speak primarily as a president, with only passing recognition now and then that he also is a candidate.

Thus in his Lincoln day address Mr. Hoover indulged in but one fleeting reference to partisan politics.

"Lincoln was the leader of a party whose traditions and tenets are precious to all of those who adhere to it," he said. "But we do not celebrate the birthday of Lincoln as a political event."

This keynote probably will be found echoing through more and more of his public utterances from now on, with purely political declarations kept to a minimum.

Campaign Expenses Lavish national spending has been so publicized that many believe all politics is a matter of money, and no candidate can be elected without obligating himself to wealthy contributors.

The cynics should meet Carter Glass of Virginia. For thirty-five years he has been politically active. Sixteen times he has been a successful candidate for public office.

The other day in the senate he read a telegram from a complaining constituent, who seemed to feel the senator was under special obligations to him.

"Neither this man nor any other," said Glass, "ever spent a dollar on me at an election, nor have I ever spent one myself."

Coldest Weather of Winter Felt Pampa witnessed the coldest weather of the year at 7 o'clock yesterday morning when the mercury dropped to nine degrees above zero, according to the reading at the Santa Fe depot. Previous low of the winter was 16 degrees. Two hours after the sun began to shine the temperature started rising until it was about top freezing at noon.

It is believed that the heavy frost injured fruit in this territory. The freeze was not so great at McLean and the damage may not be as great there as estimated. Blue grass in this vicinity was set back after a strong growth.

What also was affected by the freeze but in the end it will be benefited rather than damaged, farmers say. The crop was growing top rapidly and taking all the moisture from the ground, they added.

Bootlegged Fuel Is Under Probe

DALLAS, March 5. (P)—Investigation to determine the amount of gasoline being "bootlegged" over Texas as from refineries believed to be located principally in East Texas probably will shift to that section as a result of a court of inquiry here today.

George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, and R. V. Nichols, special investigator for the comptroller's office, assisted Dallas county officers in questioning seven witnesses. Accurate estimates were not available but the opinion was expressed by officials that 300,000 more gallons a month of the tax-free fluid were being sold in Dallas.

Death Sentence Is Overturned as New Trial Given

WACO, March 5. (P)—A new trial today was granted W. C. Beck, former University of Texas student, sentenced to death for murder of O. L. Jones.

L. A. Coleman, one of the jurors in the 19-year-old Willis Point youth's trial, and George B. Butt, son of Constable R. H. Butts, were placed under $100 bond to answer contempt of court charges Monday.

Testimony in support of the new trial motion was that J. J. Coleman, father of L. A. Coleman, was drawn as a special venireman for the Beck trial after George Butts had told L. A. Coleman he would "fit it so you can get on some jury." The younger was said to have expressed a desire for jury service.

When J. J. Coleman was subpoenaed, testimony continued, his son took the matter up with Butts and Butts said "I'll fix it." L. A. Coleman reported to J. J. Coleman and was accepted as a juror and paid in his father's name, witnesses stated.

Classes Held at Kingsmill School

Eighteen men, 16 women, and practically the entire Ingemille school attended the night classes conducted at the school on Thursday.

The class for women, taught by Mrs. J. L. Lester and Mrs. J. K. Burke, spent the first part of the evening studying two subjects, the establishment of health habits and the beautification of school grounds and home yards. The men, under the direction of Mr. Lester and Mr. Burke, studied the feeding and brooding of chicks.

Following the classes, a program of entertainment was given for the entire group. The high school boys' quartet, composed of James Groom, Dick Benton, Jack Benton, and Ice Kahl, sang three songs, and Dick Benton, playing his own accompaniment on the guitar, sang two other selections. An interesting play, "Thrift," was given by a group of Miss Burke's pupils before the closing songs.

The certificates, paying two per cent interest, redeemable on 90 days' notice, and backed by the federal government, were designed as the perfect investment for the over-cautious. They range in face value from $50 upwards and go on sale in thousands of banks throughout America March 14.

Labor's Head Is Silenced by Boos at Mass Meeting

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 5. (P)—An attack on the administration by Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, for failure to provide direct federal relief for the unemployed and a chorus of boos and hisses which silenced William Green, president of the American federation of labor, enlivened a mass meeting of labor leaders at convention hall today.

Green could not be heard for several minutes as the crowd of men and women hissed and booed and shouted for him to sit down.

Police removed eight persons and ring-leaders.

Green continued after expressing his dislike for "boos that moo and snakes that hiss." The crowd booed when Pinchot quoted Mayor James J. Hampton Moore as saying "there is no distress in Philadelphia."

"Concentrated wealth," Pinchot said, controls the government in Washington and was responsible for defeat of direct relief legislation. He charged "there are no party lines in Washington any more," and that Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democrat, is a stand-pat Republican "in everything but name" and "goes to the White House for orders more often than the Republican leader of the administration forces."

STOCKS ADVANCE

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Stocks blossomed out with a fresh crop of advances today and ended the week in new high average ground for the year.

The market's indifference to general dividend cut yesterday gave bullish professionals promising material to work on. They made the most of it from the opening! Although the most vigorous push was reserved for the last half hour. Turnover in that period approximated 800,000 shares, or about half the morning's total of 1,149,626 shares.

Advancing tendencies were broad, but chemicals, rails and utilities showed to particular advantage. The last named group broke through their previous high, while the industrial division duplicated its 1932 peak. Ninety stocks averaged just 2 points higher, closing at 71.3 against last month's top of 70.8.

News on which to base a rally was meager; but with the bull party ascendant it was not hard to capitalize bold arguments of better sentiment, a stronger banking position, and a bond market that has been acting well for about a month.

STORM HIKES WHEAT
CHICAGO, March 5 (AP)—Bulges in grain prices today marked the upward sweep of a cold wave threatening damage to the United States winter wheat crop.

Eastern buying, a further stimulus to wheat upturns, was associated with strength of securities. There were also indications of a better export trade developing in rye, and of decided improvement in central demand for rye flour.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1/4 to 1/2 above yesterday's finish, corn and oats also 1/4 to 1/2 up, with rye 3/4 to 1 1/4 advanced, and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a gain of 2 cents.

Oats and corn were also strengthened by prevalent stormy weather. Provisions held about steady in line with the hog market.

Closing indemnities, Wheat—May 61 1/2 @ 1 1/2, 62 1/2 @ 1 1/2, 64; Sept. 64 1/2, 65 1/2. Corn—May 40 1/2 @ 1/4, 40 1/2 @ 1/4; July 42 1/2, 43 1/2; Sept. 43 1/2 @ 1/4, bids.

COTTON STEADY
NEW ORLEANS, March 5 (AP)—The short Saturday session in the cotton market today was only moderately active and prices developed no special trend. While the opening was fairly steady despite lower Liverpool cables than due, prices lost 3 points in the early trading, but later rallied 5 to 7 points on straddle trading and on trade buying. Prices eased off 4 to 6 points in the late trading despite a strongness in stocks due to rather liberal hedge selling and the market closed steady showing net declines for the day of 1 to 4 points.

The market opened fairly steady although Liverpool came in 7 to 11 penny points worse than due, but sterling exchange was higher.

May closed at 7.11, down 1 point net for the day, July at 7.26, down 1 point net and Oct. at 7.44, down 4 points net.

Port receipts 35,713, for season 3,598,727, last season 3,184,453. Exports 36,266, for season 6,018,895; last season 4,984,224. Port stock 4,751,924, last year 4,080,496. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston, and Houston 178,046, last year 99,839. Spot sales at southern markets 20,731, last year 8,397.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, Mar. 5 (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Cattle trade during the week under review was slowed down by a sluggish and lower dressed beef trade. Fed steers and yearlings, the fore part of the week advanced 25-50 but late Wednesday packers wiped out the early gains. Better grades of steers and yearlings at some points are as much as 25 lower than a week ago. Most markets report light yearlings and she stock values firm to 25 higher for the week. Country demand for stocker and feeder classes was of sufficient breadth to move the light to moderate supplies on a steady to 25 higher basis. Aggregate receipts

WHEAT CROP LESS

Buenos Aires, Mar. 5 (AP)—Argentina's wheat production for the 1931-32 season was forecast today in crop estimates of the ministry of agriculture at 6,148,000 tons, a decrease of 173,000 tons from the preceding crop.

unanimously passed that in the future no contracts over $500 be let without competitive bidding.

Commissioner Cox said the motion compelled him to lay off 30 men who were constructing grades in lake bed roads in this precinct. The work had been under way for two months and should have lasted two months longer, it was said. The men worked in shifts during the week. Twenty-two of the men were welfare board cases before they were employed by Mr. Cox. Board officials announced again yesterday that another welfare drive would be necessary if the men remained jobless, relying upon the Board for groceries.

SOUSA--

years conducting theatrical and other orchestras and giving violin lessons. His first engagement of importance was in 1877, as first violinist he toured the country with the orchestra of Jacques Offenbach, composer of "The Tales of Hoffman."

One month before his 25th birthday, Sousa returned to the Marine band as conductor and remained with the organization 12 years. During that time he developed the organization to a high standard of proficiency and placed it in the front rank of military bands. However, the musicians were poorly paid and Sousa had made considerable financial sacrifice to remain as director.

Helped Music
In 1892 an opportunity came to the bandmaster to carry out a plan he had had in mind for a long time—the organization of a band of his own to represent the works of great composers before audiences which operatic companies and symphony orchestras could not hope to reach. The annual tours of his band created a familiarity with and an appreciation for good music throughout America and this is regarded by many as Sousa's greatest service in the field of music. The band has played in every city of size in the United States and has made several tours of Europe, one started late in 1910 being extended to a tour of the world which continued until the early part of 1912.

Making up his concert programs Sousa did so without regard for its musical merit. At the same time he endeavored to present numbers in which the public was most interested. His musical library was one of the most complete in the world.

According to the wishes of his audiences, Sousa was one of the first famous bandmasters to introduce popular music as encore numbers at his concerts. He always believed that if a melody had merit it was worth dressing up sufficiently to be made part of a concert program and his experience was that the public responded warmly to his efforts along those lines. In recent years his programs included a fantastic jazz made up of half a dozen first-class jazz compositions. The approval expressed by the audiences, he said, vindicated his judgment in doing that.

Great Composer
It would be difficult to say whether Sousa won greater fame as a bandmaster or a composer. In the latter role he was prolific and seemed to have a new thought and melody. His music is of the stirring kind with a marital swing and nearly all of his compositions have enjoyed unusual popularity.

Sousa's musical works include ten operas, many songs and suites, more than 100 marches and "The Last Crusade," perhaps his most pretentious work for orchestra, organ and choir. His marches, however, are the best known of his works. As far back as 1885 a foreign musical journal in an article on marital music, bestowed upon Sousa the title "March King" and it became known throughout the musical world as a synonym for his own name.

The question "What do you consider your best composition?" was often put to Sousa. Invariably he replied: "In that respect I fell like the woman with several babies; there is some good in all of them." And as frequently he expressed his pride in his famous "The Stars and Stripes Forever," which he believed to be his most popular march with the American people.

Among other of Sousa's marches that were popular favorites were "The High School Cadet," "Semper Fidelis," "The Washington Post," "King Cotton," "El Capitan," "Liberty Bell," "Manhattan Beach," "The Thunderer." In fact nearly every one of his marches was regarded as a favorite by a certain following. His operas included: "The Smugglers," "Queen of Hearts," "El Capitan," "Bride Elect," "The Charlatan," and "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp."

Also Was Author
In addition to musical composition Sousa was author of several books among them "The Forth String," "Pipetown Sandy," "Dwellers in the Western World," "The Transit of Venus."

The famous bandmaster had the distinction of service in three branches of the governments military forces. His first was his long service in the Marine corps as director of its band; his second was as musical director of the Sixth Army corps to which he was appointed for the war with Spain, and the third,

Crude petroleum imports into the United States totaled 47,250,000 barrels last year as compared with 62,129,000 in 1930.

House Reverses Itself on Salaries
WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The House reversed itself today on previous decisions that there would be no salary increases for government employes next year, the vote being the first defeat for the bipartisan economy program and the Democratic leadership.

Speaker Garner made the question a test of strength, and on a roll call vote, the House decided, 180 to 155, that the treasury—postoffice departments appropriation bill should not include a section to prevent pay raises for federal workers.

That prohibition was agreed to earlier in the session by all leaders of both parties who hoped to cut expenditures. It was included in all other regular appropriation bills approved by the house this session.

When Representative La Guardia (R., N. Y.), yesterday moved to strike it out of the treasury-postoffice bill, Speaker Garner moved to retain it. ## Pampa Has Busy Saturday as Big Crowds Assemble

Saturday was a notable day in Pampa from a shopping standpoint despite the cool weather.

Many stores were found to be experiencing difficulty in finding standing room for the shoppers wishing to take advantage of bargains. The sidewalks and streets likewise were jammed until late in the evening.

The NEWS was much in evidence, and out-of-town shoppers seemed to be using the newspaper as a shopping guide for even their smallest purchases. This newspaper goes out all over this territory but it comes back with the shoppers. The ads loosen the dollars.

officers in a prolonged grilling. Two possible links in the case were made public by officials as a partial basis for detaining Johnson, a friend of Miss Betty Gow, the child's nurse.

One of these clues was a milk bottle cap, dated Wednesday and apparently used by a New Jersey dairy, found in Johnson's green coupe in which he said he arrived at a brother's home in West Hartford at 1:30 a. m. that day.

The other was the disclosure that the ladder used by the kidnapers was of the same type and kind of wood as those used in a Bronx shipyard in which is kept the yacht of Thomas W. Lamont, New York banker and Pohnson's former employer.

The milk bottle cap, said an official who would not permit the use of his name, would indicate that Johnson could not have arrived here at the time he gave. The caps, the official explained, are dated a day before their use.

Alcorn and Hickey would not discuss the result of their questioning of the sailor other than to indicate

BUSINESS WOMEN'S WEEK IS OBSERVED THROUGHOUT NATION

Shop in Pampa with Mrs. Pampan

An Opportunity
Diligent efforts on the part of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's club will result Wednesday evening in the showing at LaNora theater of carefully selected spring costumes, each being typical of the season's fashions. It will behoove every North Plains person who values the prestige which fashion brings to be present at the showing.

Arriving for Easter
Among the very loveliest of the style show garments will be those from DOAK'S. Mrs. O. L. Doak is now at the New York markets and is sending home the most fashionable and the most attractive dresses, coats, and hats that expert stylists have to offer. There are chic knit frocks for sport wear, and there are after-noon dresses for every occasion.

Easter is the time for lovely clothes, and this year they may be had at Doak's for prices that are astonishingly low. The time when an "Easter bonnet" represented months of saving or the emptying of father's pockets is gone, and there is no excuse for a girl or woman to fail to look attractive.

Two types of hats are finding favor. One is the sailor, from the regular shape to the little breton with brim turned up. The other is the close-fitting chapeau, such as the turban, toque, or beret.

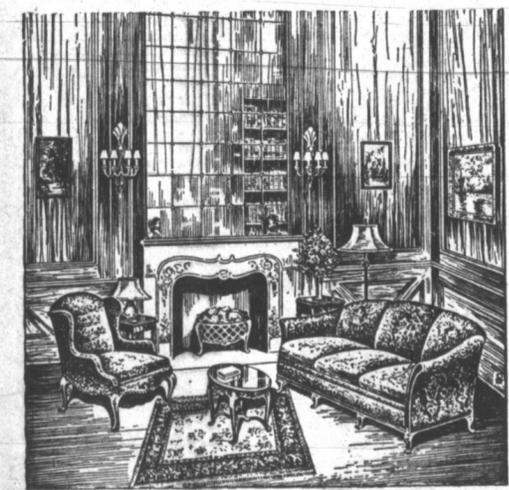

Look at Your Heel

Run-down heels are not being worn this year. Neither are punctured soles. They are, however, being speedily and inexpensively mended by the CITY SHOE SHOP.

Make sure now that your feet will look "just right" for Easter by having your shoes put in first-class condition. The CITY SHOE SHOP is conveniently located, 104 W. Foster.

There is a distinct tendency toward mannish lines in the new spring costumes for women.

The ascot tie is much in favor. Red, brown, and white make an attractive color combination.

Luxurious furniture! You'll agree when you visit PAMPA FURNITURE STORE. The store is going out of business, yet practically every piece of furniture in the store was bought this spring, and much of it remains to be had by people in this territory at ridiculously low prices. Long after the store is gone, we will look at furniture in Pampa homes and wonder how it could have been secured so cheaply. The price of every item is slashed! Such bargains cannot last long. Take advantage of them now.

From Pampa Hardware company comes the following message:

Congratulations, business women! Today's special edition of the Pampa NEWS, made possible by your efforts, and the style revue next Wednesday, which doubtless will be the culmination of many weeks of preparation, accent the reputation you have always had as being one of Pampa's most progressive organizations. You are to be commended also for the modern club rooms which you maintain.

The Business and Professional Women's club is composed of wide-awake progressive business women and its financing is accomplished by thoroughly business-like methods which reflect initiative on the part of members. Big things in the future are expected on your part by the PAMPA HARDWARE COMPANY.

PROGRAM AND SPRING TOGS IN READINESS

FASHION REVUE TO BE BRILLIANT EVENT AT LANORA

Pampa, always a favorite shopping place of the North Plains, will be doubly attractive Wednesday evening, as the public take pride in fashionable clothing. On that evening, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, will be presented at La Nora theater a revue of spring clothing for both men and women that is style-perfect. An annual event, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club, the showing is the most ambitious undertaking ever attempted by that group of women, but with the experience received during other years, they are able to carry out their preparations on to a successful climax Wednesday evening. To Mrs. Glen Pool, general director, will go much of the credit for success. Her assistants include Mrs. Jack Dunn, director of models; Mrs. Lillian McNitt and Mrs. Charles Woolley, advertising; Mrs. McNitt and Mrs. Olin E. Hinkle, publicity; Mrs. Frank Foster and Mrs. Ernest Gee, back-stage properties; Mrs. R. A. Webb, music.

The entire event, including a lively program, is limited to 45 minutes. The program will include a tap dance by Joyce Smith, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Webb, a vocal solo by John Sturgeon, accompanied by Miss Jackie Jones, and a tuba solo by R. E. Smith, accompanied by Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker.

Another interesting promise has been made by members of the club. In addition to the modeling we have secured the services of one of a noted style expert, who comes from one of the largest style centers of the country, and is touring this section of the country. Henri Andre is considered one of the cleverest style critics in the world. What he doesn't know about styles would fill a book but he knows plenty about looking girls and good looking clothes and he will be worth the money. We guarantee the most unique Style Show Review ever given in the Panhandle and satisfaction is guaranteed or your money back and who ever heard of a B. & P. W. club ever refunding any money?

The same ticket will cover both the style revue and the regular theatrical entertainment. Local merchants have been generous in their cooperation with the club, both from the standpoint of advertising and from the standpoint of providing models for the revue.

Mankins will include the following: Violet Shoppe—Miss Lois Hill, Miss Aurelia Miller, and Miss Mildred Haggard. Gordon's—Miss Florita Freeman and Mrs. Luke Mitchell. Mitchell's—Mrs. N. A. Heistand, Miss Bernice Chisholm and Mrs. Jack Dunn.

Levine's—Miss Etha Jones and Miss Viola Haggard. Montgomery Ward—Mrs. Jewell Wiegman and Miss Lucille Kentling. Penney's—Mrs. John Beverly, Miss Juanita Holmes, and Miss Maxine Aggers. Doak's—Miss McKhryn Vincent and Miss Lee McConnell. Murfee's—Miss Wilma Singletary, Miss Dorothy Doucette, and Miss Dorothy Jane Adams. Carter's—Ray McNeill and Joe Jahl. Kees and Thomas—Jack Stiles and Ned Thompson. Hayer Brothers—Jack Dunn, Frank Hill and Earl Isley.

Mrs. LeFors Is Dinner Honoree

Yellow snapdragons centered the table, and pale green and yellow were featured throughout the 4-course birthday dinner given to honor Mrs. Emma LeFors Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. LeFors' daughter, Mrs. A. H. Doucette, was hostess, and guests included two sisters of the honoree, Mrs. Alex Schneider Sr. and Mrs. Henry Thut Sr., as well as Mrs. Henry Thut, Jr., Mrs. C. P. Buckler, and Miss Moira LeFors. Lovely gifts were presented the honoree. Other relatives called after dinner.

Mrs. Frank Bain, of Silverton, the district chairman of the division of poetry, is trying to get at least one club in every town to sponsor an exhibit of Texas and American Pottery. Clubs interested in this very old and interesting form of art can get information concerning the exhibits from the chairman.

Mrs. O. Tresize returned to Los Angeles, Calif., yesterday after visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. D. Keys, for two months.

DIRECTORS

—By Fred's Studio.
Mrs. Glen Pool, above, is general chairman for the style revue which will begin Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock at LaNora theater, and Mrs. Jack Dunn, below, is director of models. Mrs. Dunn, charter member of the club, is district clerk for Gray county.

Rules Must Be Adhered to by Club Members

The only club in Pampa to maintain its own rooms, the Business and Professional Women's club, has made of those rooms, located in the Rose building, a place of beauty. The rooms have proved useful not only as a meeting place for the club but for special gatherings of other organizations and for entertainments of individual members.

The attractive furnishings were selected by Mrs. Frank C. Allison, Mrs. Audrey Fowler, and Mrs. Forrest P. McSkimming.

Club room rules have been announced as follows:

1. All club members shall be free to use club rooms, when it does not conflict with rental dates.
2. When using club rooms, individually, each member shall ascertain that all lights are turned off, windows down and door locked when leaving. When having a club meeting, it shall be the duty of the hostess at that particular meeting to take care of these duties.
3. No intoxicants shall at any time be brought to the club rooms.
4. Playing games for money will not be permitted in the club rooms; this does not mean that playing for prizes is prohibited in the rooms.
5. No club member shall take male guests to the club rooms, except when social functions are being held.
6. Any club member may use the club rooms for the entertainment of her guest, provided, however, that if at any time one club member or two or more club members entertaining together has as her or their guests more than four persons who are not club members, she or they shall pay into the treasury of the club 25 cents per couple for such guests.
7. Mrs. F. C. Allison, or the chairman of the finance committee, will have charge of renting the club rooms. A flat charge of $2 will be made for non-members entertaining at bridge parties, or any other entertainment.
8. Club rooms must be engaged in advance at least two days. All engagements must be paid for in advance.
9. The club rooms shall be closed between the hours of 12:30 a. m. and 8 a. m.
10. No club member shall use the club rooms in any way that will reflect on the reputation of the club.

RUSSIAN WOMAN IS SECURED AS SPEAKER AT BANQUET TO BE GIVEN BY BUSINESS CLUB

CIVIC LEADERS TO BE SPECIAL GUESTS FOR THE EVENING

Mrs. Sam Kruger, a native Russian now living in Wichita Falls, will be principal speaker at the public relations banquet to be given by the Business and Professional Women's club the evening of March 29. Mrs. Kruger, a popular speaker, is recognized as an authority on the 8-year plan. She spent her girlhood years in Russia, and speaks from experience.

Many articles brought to this country from Russia will be on display. A Russian dance will be given, and Mrs. A. N. Dilley will sing a Russian song, "Volga Boatman."

A large group of civic leaders will attend the banquet as guests of club members.

Pageant Shows Texas History at Banquet Session

A pageant depicting the history of Texas under six flags was an entertainment feature of a banquet held last night at the high school cafeteria by the superintendents and principals of the county.

The pageant was written by Mrs. Earle Ellis, Mrs. Ann Louise Jones, and Emmitt Smith. It was presented by 40 teachers in the Pampa school system. The pageant detailed with fleeting emphasis important historical events in the history of Texas. The program opened with selections by the glee club of junior high school. A trio of junior high students, including Norman Carl Johnnie Gillespie and Louline Conklin sang several selections.

The banquet was originally set for March 2, Texas independence day, and was postponed so that it would not conflict with the Lions minstrel and revue. The program celebrated the 98th anniversary of Texas' declaration of independence from Mexico. R. A. Selby, principal of junior high, was in charge of the program. A roundtable discussion of school problems and plans was held after the program was given. Plans for the county interscholastic meet to be held last Saturday in March and April 1-2 at LeFors were also discussed. Superintendents and principals from every school in the county were present.

Stirring Message Is Sent to Women by National Head

"The business women of America are on the firing line. It is time for them to show their mettle," says Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman, of Richmond, Virginia, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs in a Business Women's week message issued to the 60,000 member of the organization today.

"Periods of emergency are the real test of quality. Many a soldier in the war swaggered when he was under the fire of the enemy's machine guns. These are the periods that war and peace alike test our characters; that build up our spirit and our confidence; that make us men and women of mettle; that make us men and women of faith or serene assurance."

"The answer depends in large measure, I believe, on how we have built our business lives. Have we bulwarked ourselves with the steadfast knowledge that we are qualified for our daily tasks? Have we learned to adjust ourselves to others so that we can work without inharmonious friction? Have we the spirit of fair play?"

"Above all, have we learned the value of solidarity? Do we believe in other women? Are we ready to make common cause with them when they are discriminated against?"

"In other words, have the difficult experiences of the past few months quickened our sympathies and clarified our spiritual vision?"

"Those who can answer in the affirmative have learned to wrest triumph even from adversity. Upon them rests the responsibility of holding up the torch to their fellows. For America today needs spiritual leadership. The women of America need quickened courage and faith. And leadership comes only from those who have first conquered themselves."

Mrs. Will Brady and Mrs. Hugh Edwards of White Deer were Pampa shopping visitors yesterday.

SELL ADS

—By Fred's Studio.
Advertising was sold and other preparations for today's special edition of The Pampa NEWS were made by Mrs. Lillian McNitt, above, and Mrs. Charles Woolley, below. Mrs. McNitt also aided in preparing a distinctive scrap book, which is a choice possession of the club. She is employed temporarily as office assistant to Dr. T. R. Martin. Mrs. Woolley formerly was connected with the Burlington HAWKEYE, Burlington, Ia., and she also was secretary to Arthur Swanson of the Cabot company for a time.

Clean-Up Alley Contest To Be Sponsored Here

A contest in which every Pampa family may participate was planned yesterday afternoon by the Pampa Art club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Arthur Swanson. For the neatest, cleanest, and most attractive alley, the club will give a prize next fall. The club is of the opinion that an alley need not be the unsightly, neglected spot that it often is, and urges that each family beautify that part of the alley back of its own property. The planting of flowers behind the back fence was suggested.

A lesson on Frans Hals was given under the direction of Mrs. T. W. Sweatman, who told of the man's life and discussed the rise of painting in Holland.

Pictures were discussed as follows: The Laughing Cavalier, Mrs. I. Baum; Officers of St. Andrew's Company, Mrs. T. B. Solomon; The Nurse and Child, Mrs. C. L. Craig; La Bohemienne, Mrs. T. W. Jamison; Hille Bobbe, Mrs. O. H. Booth. Lovely refreshments were served to Mesdames G. H. Booth, C. L. Craig, T. W. Jamison, Jack Mason, T. B. Solomon, T. W. Sweatman and the hostess.

Scrap Book Prized By Business Club

A convention in Richmond, a benefit bridge tournament for business women's aid given in canning project, plans for a style revue, unique hobbies of club members, presentation of food to school cafeterias, wedding of a club member—those are just a few of the subjects included in the treasured scrap book of the Business and Professional Women's club. The book was prepared by Mrs. Lillian McNitt and Mrs. Frank Lard.

The book contains newspaper clippings, post cards, booklets, and suitable magazine clippings. The social meetings and the bi-monthly bridge parties are remembered not only by clippings but by tallies and favors as well.

Faculty Group Is Favored at Party

Mrs. M. K. Griffith, Mrs. C. R. Cobb, and Miss Violet Durrett were hostesses recently to the Horace Mann faculty club, the event being held in the home of Mrs. L. H. Greene.

Mrs. E. Ewing Leach made a talk on George Washington, and games of domino were played. A salad course was served to two guests, Mrs. Leach and Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, and to Mrs. George Clark, Miss Claude Ivey, Mrs. T. A. Cox, Mrs. E. A. Stover, Miss Clara Brown, Miss Loma Groom, Miss Frances McCue, Miss Wilma Chapman, and Miss Josephine Thomas.

"WE GIVE" IS TO BE SLOGAN OF ALL CLUBS

MORE THAN THIRTEEN HUNDRED CLUBS IN OBSERVANCE

The business woman's responsibility as a citizen will be the keynote of the annual observance of national Business Women's week, which opens today. More than thirteen hundred business and professional women's clubs in as many cities, stretching from coast to coast, will inaugurate the week's program with an open forum discussion of what business women can do to better the communities in which they live. This will be followed in some communities by a "Better Government" day in which women will temporarily take over the reins of government and draw up a platform embracing the policies they would like to see inaugurated in local government. In other instances the outstanding feature will be a forum on the causes and cure of unemployment.

The observance is under the auspices of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the largest national organization of business women in the world, with which the local business and professional women's club is affiliated.

"We give" is the slogan adopted for the week, and through posters, automobile windshield stickers, correspondence seals and many other devices it has been impressing itself upon public consciousness for several days.

"Give Civic Enlightenment" is the slogan adopted for a day set aside to honor the women who have held or are holding public office throughout the United States.

On another day "Give Philanthropic Service" will be the keynote and luncheons will be held in hundreds of communities honoring a woman—to be selected by general vote of the service and civic organizations—who is considered to have rendered the greatest service to the community along welfare, educational or philanthropic lines.

"Give Security" will be the slogan of Education Day. Plans for old age and unemployment insurance and for community betterment will be investigated that day. Emphasis will also be laid upon the type of adult training available in various communities which enable the middle-aged worker to keep pace with the accomplishments of youth.

Each of the 1,325 business and professional women's clubs will set aside a day to give to unemployment relief. Other phases of the program will vary in different communities, but in each community the business and professional women's club will hold a public relations dinner, to which representatives of all the service, philanthropic and welfare organizations will be invited, where plans for community betterment will be discussed. One civic project, which the club will pledge to carry out during the year 1932, will be announced at that dinner.

National Business Women's week, first inaugurated in 1928, has proven progressively popular. Last year the observance had the approval of President Hoover, the official endorsement of 21 governors and of more than 200 mayors.

County Health Nurse Is Urged

A plea that county commissioners obtain either the full-time or part-time services of a county health nurse was made at a meeting of the court Friday by Mrs. Myra Cloudman of St. Louis, field representative of the national Red Cross. She was accompanied by Pampa by Mrs. L. Silgar, T. A. Landers, and Reuben R. R. Cook, all of McLean. Mrs. Landers is editor of the McLean NEWS and Mr. Cook is vice-president of the American National bank.

Every child who repeats a grade in school on account of some physical defect that retards his progress costs the county from $65 to $105 annually," Mrs. Cloudman said. "Any number of cases which I have referred to physicians for correction during the last year would have been repeating grades had it not been for the public health work. There is no doubt but that many children will suffer all through life because of uncorrected defects due to the lack of a public health nursing service."

After Mrs. Cloudman left, Judge E. D. Dennis said it was his opinion that it was the business of the school districts to furnish a health service. He mentioned that Pampa and the Hopkins schools hired school nurses this session.

Mrs. W. H. Caldwell of Canadian visited in Pampa yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Huffmaster of Spearman made a trip to Pampa Saturday.

Hollywood Stars Sounds

BY ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—It may be that the answer to the leading lady problem for Charlie Farrell has been found in the new Marian Dixon.

Whenever the studio has decided to separate Charlie from his original co-star, Janet Gaynor, the resultant picture hasn't approached the success of the Gaynor-Farrell combination.

They've tried Rose Hobart, and Laureen O'Sullivan, and even Bessie Lind, who made her Hollywood debut with Farrell. But the Marian Dixon in "After Tomorrow," her first screen work in many months, has the fragility and winsomeness of Janet herself, and I for one never noticed those qualities in her former screen appearances.

Because she appears in a role that might have been written for the red-headed Gaynor, the conclusion is inevitable that the Farrell-Dixon team will be used again.

Show Stealer The real sensation of the picture however, is Josephine Hull, stage actress from the original cast of the play. As Farrell's mother, a middle-aged buxom matron of the proverbially maternal type, she steals one scene after another.

Miss Hull, who remains under contract, too, used to write and direct as well as act, and has had her own stock companies.

Among her recollections is directing Ann Harding and Kenneth McKenna, now a Fox director, in stock in Denver.

Made To Order An abandoned manufacturing plant of a defunct aircraft corporation fits in well with Hollywood's economy ideas.

The script of "Sky Brides" calls for a set portraying such a factory. To build it would have cost plenty, but the one already standing contains all the props necessary, including planes in course of construction. To top it all, the factory is at the airport where they're making aerial scenes.

Looking backward with the prosperous Spencer Tracy, now doing well by himself, recalls his term with a Brooklyn stock company a few years ago when he made $75 a week and had to buy his own wardrobe. There was no show Sunday nights so Tracy and his wife cruised the neighborhoods in search of the more reasonably priced movies where Tom Mix and the heroes of melodrama ruled.

Back Schedules can give the time-lapse addicts in picture entertainment a run for their money. It's only February and already he's making "April Fool."

The husband of a well-known actress who endorsed a cigaret has received some fan mail on the subject. The writers disapproved of their favorite's smoking, and wanted her spouse to reprimand her.

Mrs. Porter Beck Hostess to Group For Bridge Games Mr. and Mrs. Porter Beck entertained Thursday evening as a courtesy to the Play-a-While Bridge club.

Among members, score awards were as follows: High for women, Mrs. Fred C. Fischer; low, Mrs. Robert Montgomery; high for men, Mr. Fischer; low, R. H. Baxter. For guests, the awards were as follows: high for women, Mrs. W. M. Murphy; low, Mrs. J. E. Weeks; high for men, Mr. Weeks; low, Mr. Murphy.

The following attended: Mrs. J. E. McCall, Mrs. L. G. Rittenhouse, Doyle Ward, R. H. Baxter, and Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Montgomery, Fred C. Fischer, Bert Wilhelm, Porter Beck, W. M. Murphy, and J. E. Weeks.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, THE NEWS: Both gold and silver was the unit of value in this country from 1803 to 1873, when silver was demonetized. Since then gold alone has been the measure of value of the products of labor, and of labor itself, and everything. The monetary question was kept before the country by the Hon. Richard Parks Bland in the lower house of congress until 1896, when the question became a national issue, and the late and much lamented W. J. Bryan, then a young man, captured the democratic convention at Chicago. He very ably carried the proposition to the people, but lost. Then gold was discovered in Alaska, and elsewhere, the dog sleds were put to work, and soon the circulating medium was very greatly increased, thus proving the quantitative theory of money as being correct.

T. J. ALDREDGE.

March 5th, 1932.

Editor, THE NEWS:

In your issue of March 4th, I note the following statement: "Commissioners John R. White, N. M. Newman, H. G. McCleskey, Judge S. D. Stennis, and Auditor R. C. Wilson declared yesterday that Mr. Cox acted within his legal right in letting contracts for over $500. Please permit me to correct that as I was not asked for, and made no statement on the subject of the legality of the contract except to say that, regardless of the legality of the contract, I was then and always had been in favor of competitive bidding for such contracts. I further said that I was favorable to putting a clause in contracts for similar work that the contractor be required to employ 100 per cent local labor. And for contracts requiring no technical skill or ability, I think the court would make no mistake in limiting bidders to bona fide citizens of our county."

In following that plan, we would never be confronted with a situation where we were presented with a bill for $2.50 per yard for gravel and some man then presenting an affidavit that he offered to do the same work for $2 per yard. His bid would be a matter of public record.

The handling of public money, which represents an involuntary payment, is a public trust and that the breaching of this trust is a serious matter.

My position is not based upon the fear of "adverse criticism by certain groups in the county" but rather upon the ground that I think it is a duty we owe to the people who furnish the money and to the people who are to do the work. I do not like criticism but I recognize the right of citizens to investigate our facts and point out what they may deem errors. Their complaints will be considered and without resentment.

I know of no reason why the action of the court in letting contracts to the lowest responsible bidder should stop any work in the county. It was my understanding that the court merely decided to use the system of competitive bidding in the expenditure of public money—not stopping work.

Yours very truly, S. D. STENNIS, County Judge.

Business Women Experiment With Unique Employment Plan; Pampa Members Provide Work for Many

Climaxing during Business Women's week is an experiment made by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs to help solve the unemployment problem by the contribution of 60,000 hours of paid work a week to unemployed women.

Between Jan. 20 and Feb. 20 more than thirteen hundred business and professional women's clubs throughout the country have participated. Each club was assigned a quota of work hours to furnish equivalent to its employed membership. Business and professional women were asked to provide work for other women by employing them for sewing, mending, cleaning, laundry work, cooking and various forms of personal service. The plan is based upon the assumption that every woman actually employed can without serious sacrifice spend at least 50 cents a week in helping an unemployed woman.

LOCAL WOMEN HELP

Calculation was made at Federation headquarters that if every one of the 60,000 members of the national federation to whom Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman, national president, appealed for support of the plan contributed a single work hour weekly, an aggregate of $120,000 would be spent during the four weeks of the experiment.

In proposing this plan to 1,325 business and professional women's clubs, Mrs. Bowman stated frankly that she was making the experiment in her own organization with a view to recommending it to other women's organizations if it was practical. Reports have been flooding in to Mrs. Bowman with information as to how individual business and professional women's clubs have co-operated.

GIRLS' VOLLEY BALL TEAM IN TWO VICTORIES

Six straight games went to the Pampa high school girls' volley ball team in LeFors Friday afternoon. It was a return game, the LeFors girls having won three out of five from the Pampa girls here earlier in the week. The Pampa second string lost two straight to the LeFors second string.

Coaches J. L. Lester and Fio Perry divided their squad Friday afternoon for the first time this season. The first string appears to be another winning combination.

Members of the first squad are Opal and Marjorie Enloe, Jack and Joe Pool, Evelyn Patrick, and Opal Whittell.

CUDE FOR WORLD'S ILLS PHRASED BY MUSSOLINI

Rome (AP)—Mussolini's slogan for putting the world crisis under six feet of sod is simply: "Where there's a will there's a way."

His words, set before the public on posters throughout the country, are: "The world crisis, which is no longer only economic but is now above all spiritual and moral, should not bring about a state of inertia. The greater the obstacles, the greater must be our will to overcome them."

NOTICE—It is not the intention of this newspaper to cast reflection upon the character of anyone knowingly and if through error it should, the management will appreciate having attention called to same, and will gladly and fully correct any erroneous statement made.

PAMPA LIONS ARE GENUINELY GRATEFUL for the public's support of and appreciation for their revue and minstrel—not for themselves primarily, but for the sake of the crippled children who will benefit.

The NEWS was glad to go of assistance in giving publicity to the benefit performance and assembling the crowds. Such home talent performances should be patronized, with or without the benefit factor.

Mrs. Glen Pool, general chairman of the event, promises an entirely "different" program in this year's spring revue. In addition to a pleasing display of well-modeled spring garments, there will be a musical program by well known local performers.

Gray county commissioners are attracting an ever-increasing amount of public attention. Their efforts to control work under county contracts are not always satisfactory, even to themselves.

It is a good public principle to submit work to competitive bidders. There never was a time when contractors were more eager to cut their margin of profit.

Letting contracts by competitive bidding, however, necessitates the cooperation of the entire body. Budgeting of needs and group buying would be necessary to keep each precinct supplied with necessities.

An illustration is the obvious need for providing men with work in the various precincts. Let by contracts, the jobs must be done as largely with labor as possible.

The NEWS is not convinced that contractors cannot be tied to agreements much more satisfactory than have been obtained in the past. Conversation with contractors has shown that they are eager to make concessions.

Cities troubled by delinquent taxes are in many instances raising their rates to provide necessary income. And a number are adopting means to collect those taxes.

There are some taxpayers in every community who absolutely cannot pay their taxes unless they find work. Some cities are providing such small taxpayers with work enough to pay their taxes through civic employment.

The system might have an application here should such work be available, although jobs to provide food are necessarily more in demand than those to pay taxes.

One of the commonest American beliefs is that most criminals are mentally defective, and that the crime wave would ebb into a ripple if only some way could be found of putting a serviceable mind into the head of each crook.

Now, however, Dr. Ames T. Baker, psychiatrist at Sing Sing prison, comes along to tell us that we're mistaken. Addressing a session of the American Orthopsychiatric association in Baltimore the other day, he declared that the mentality of most criminals compares favorably with that of law-abiding citizens.

Most criminals, he said, go wrong because of unfavorable home conditions and not because they are mentally deficient. Heredity has little to do with filling prisons. Environment is all-important.

It would be more pleasant, possibly, to stick to the older idea and blame it all on heredity. That would relieve us of all responsibility. But we can't do it, and Dr. Baker's remarks ought to make us stop and do a bit of thinking.

That expression, "unfavorable home conditions," can cover a whole lot of ground—and society as a whole has a

Irving Berlin's new daughter arrived just four days after his hit show. Bryant park sun bathers look more sour than ever, since the decision to make the park the center of the city's Washington bi-centennial observance.

Somehow or other, the possibilities of this space west of the public library, between Fortieth and Forty-second streets, never have been realized. At one time it accommodated the Crystal palace, that glass and iron exhibition center which was wrecked by fire before the Civil war.

Its surface has been rudely disheveled by subway diggers on two occasions. Barracks were thrown up on the spot for Union troops when the states were at war, and during the world rumpus it was the scene of a demonstration vegetable garden.

Even in times of bull markets, it has been the principal hangout of deadbeats in the midtown section. Going far, far back it was a potter's field. It has figured in fiction, to be sure, but when you gaze at it, you are not inclined to remark on its being a romantic looking place.

Yet the park was named after William Cullen Bryant, who loved beauty above all else. The poet's ghost should see it today, littered with yesterday's newspapers.

No community of Sabbatarians keeps the quiet on a Sunday any more religiously than does the usually seething Ghetto on a Jewish holiday. Elmer Rice, the playwright, soon will be off to Russia, where he is "in good" for "The Adding Machine."

Negro publications have their own night life columnists in Harlem. Norma Talmadge and George Jessell, seen together often, were side by side at the Motion Picture ball.

The Abilene Morning News which, like The Morning Avalanche, is faithfully urging nomination of John N. Garner, prints another item of comment which we believe worthy of reproduction here. The News points out again that the Texas speaker of the house of representatives believes in finishing one job before starting out on another—a talent we believe would serve him well in the presidency.

Under the caption "Can't Budge Him," The News declares: "When a newspaper correspondent asked John Garner if he approved the joint statement of Senators Sheppard and Connally in endorsing him for the presidency, the speaker of the house said, amiably: 'How can I okay it when I haven't even seen it? I don't give a damn.' Then, as if to remove any possible sting from his refusal, the speaker added: 'That's about all I can say, old chap.'"

"While Mr. Roosevelt writes magazine articles (ably abetted by his wife, who also writes magazine articles, and by his daughter, who appears on a commercial radio program); while Mr. Murray travels extensively and advocates his candidacy assiduously; while Mr. Smith throws a monkey-wrench into party harmony with a 'willingness to serve' statement; and while various and sundry other candidates leave no stone unturned to advocate their cause, John Garner sticks to his knitting and refuses to take any part in the movement to nominate him on the Democratic ticket.

"That gentle expletive which Mr. Garner gave to the newspaper correspondent just about sums up his attitude. If the Democrats want him, well and good. Meantime he has a job of work to do, and he is doing it with extraordinary success and attention to details—as the smooth-working machinery of congress will attest. And this attitude, perfectly natural to John Garner, is the strongest of all arguments in his favor. The country can use a man who refuses to go after the office of president as one would go after the office of mouse trap inspector."

The Morning Avalanche is for John Garner for the presidential nomination. We have been for Garner ever since his actions first stamped him as a leader and we intend to be for him until nomination is made at Chicago. We aren't trying to ride the Garner bandwagon into any local, minor office. We have no idea of being favored in any way because of our support. We're for him because we think he's the best man for the job and we hope a large number of Lubbock and South Plains citizens will be on hand Saturday at the organization of the "Garner-for-President club" here.—AVALANCHE, Lubbock.

BOY CRAZY

Chapter 23 "I HAVEN'T ANY PRIDE" In a desultory way Hope began to buy her own trousseau. Occasional pieces here and there. But the shopping lost all tang as Mama Ross and Goody began to take it over in an experienced manner, running all out of bounds with their ideas.

Yet Hope was happier as days went by. With a safe feeling. A quiet satisfaction in Rusty's tender possessiveness. A strange comfort in the thought that she was being owned and taken care of.

Her engagement was officially announced in September, just a few weeks before Judy's wedding was to be performed. And Hope went about with a flashlight on her finger at last, a new diamond brooch at her bosom, and a strange buzzing in her head.

And all would have been well. Very well indeed. Were it not for another newspaper announcement right alongside of her own in the Times. Another announcement that caused Hope to go weak with panic, with a painful flash of hot excitement through her blood.

Eileen Argyle, her picture beside the announcement (a nice picture of a nice, paddy-cake face), admitted that her engagement to Richard J. Hickson Dale was postponed indefinitely.

Now what difference would that make to Hope? None at all! None whatsoever! What possible concern could it be of hers? And yet...

There was a sharpness in Rusty's voice when he called up an hour later and asked Hope to luncheon. There was an unhappy questioning in Rusty's eyes as she sat opposite him and avoided his direct glance, smiling broadly and chatting continuously.

"Poor Rusty! She mustn't let him be hurt. Desperately Hope forced herself to be in love. Earnestly she set out to prove to everyone how truly happy she was with Rusty. Until the worried light died down from the eyes all around her that had seen the two announcements side by side in the Times...

"I haven't any pride," she kept telling herself. "But I don't care. I have got pride. Too much pride not to make one big whale of a whack for love."

With her last bellowing blast of the ship's siren, Hope left Judy gave her one last hug of good-bye blessing. But she didn't get off the boat. Small matter how her heart was beating. She just wouldn't get off the boat.

Hope caught sight of Dickey. He was looking at her with a queer expression. "You're looking nice," he said. "That new dress suits you."

And suddenly, just when she least expected it, Hope caught sight of Dickey. Right in the center of the grand salon, which was crowded with excited voyagers and their friends, she caught sight of him and stopped short. Stared over at the tall, erect figure, the unmistakable broad shoulders, the sternly cut profile of the tanned and handsome face, the smoothly combed shock of curly hair...

She did feel the same—only more so! Still she stared, unable to move, until as if drawn by a magnet, Dickey glanced about and recognized her. She saw a jagged scowl across his right cheek and jaw and wondered if it were the result of a football accident...

"I haven't any pride," she kept telling herself. "But I don't care. I have got pride. Too much pride not to make one big whale of a whack for love."

With her last bellowing blast of the ship's siren, Hope left Judy gave her one last hug of good-bye blessing. But she didn't get off the boat. Small matter how her heart was beating. She just wouldn't get off the boat.

Hope proposed an amazing plot to Judy tomorrow, and the campaign is under way...

Direct responsibility in it. It covers, for example, homes in city slums, where health conditions are bad, food is poor and the street is a child's only playground.

Notes for the use of students on the debate subject in the Lions tournament held here last week, contained the statement that lobbyists are able to control newspapers by the use of large advertising contracts. This is misinformation that should not be tolerated and if the writer would specify some particular newspaper, he would probably have a healthy lawsuit on his hands.—McLean News.

And this is true. Newspapers are so rarely controlled by the advertising they get that such a statement is pure propaganda. Politicians may put things over and lobby things through, but when it comes to the press, one glance at the office waste basket is surely convincing to those of up and dressed. After a brisk walk, Hope was bundled up in a deck chair in the sun by eleven o'clock. A book was in her hands. Upside down. While Hope let her thoughts parade through her mind, she kept her bright eyes alert for any glimpses of those who paced the deck in front of her.

And they came! She saw them as they first rounded the starboard side of the deck in the wind. Dick and Hickey, coated and capped, marching around the deck. Hickey talking earnestly.

Neither saw her as they passed, and breathless she watched their backs and waited after they disappeared from sight.

Around they came again, and Hope simply could not keep her eyes on the upside down book. Both saw her that time. One grim embarrassed glance, and Dickey lowered his eyes, a flush gathering under the swarthy tan of his clean-shaven face.

But Hickey didn't look away. Hickey, with his gun-powder hair sticking out like tufts under his cap, and his gray-white mustache that was a new acquisition since Hope's day. With brusque dignity Hickey acknowledged the mute appeal of Hope's wide-eyed stare with a stiff bow and a mumbled word.

Shortly after she met some of her old high-stopping friends, who gabbled uproariously at the sight of her on the boat. All afternoon she spent with the Carter family, playing bridge. And not a sight of the Dales crossed her vision.

Late in the afternoon she retired to take a nap, and give the little school teacher some tart advice on men. Heading Millie, as a result, off to the barber shop for a haircut. Immediately she was gone, Hope sent a note over to Judy's room.

"I quite understand your complete absence at breakfast and luncheon. Nor will I care if you don't come down to dinner. But do you mind looking through your luggage for two suitcases of mine, and sending them over to Room 217? Love to you and Tom, and my blessings. Hope."

"P. S. The weather out on deck is grand. You shouldn't be missing it." As she expected, twenty minutes later Judy herself appeared at Room 217, a porter beside her carrying the valises.

"Hope, for the love of my sainted Aunt Amelia, what are you doing on this boat—and in such a cabin?" "Judy darling! Don't you make a sweet married woman!"

"Judy," said Hope slowly. "I'm rotten. A complete and utter no-good. I've ditched Rusty. For good. In a very inexcusable way, and I certainly have done him mean!"

"Gee—the poor kid! But why, Hope?" "I've never loved Rusty, and he knew it. I guess everybody knew it. But I do love somebody else. You certainly ought to know how much. And Judy—he's on this boat! And that's why I'm here!"

"Well, of all the forms of insanity! Hope, you're just asking for punishment!" "I've had some already. Dickey wouldn't look at me this morning. And his father barely bowed. But, Judy, you must help me. You must. It's so important!"

"Darling, I'll do anything. Didn't you help me land Tom? I'll go talk to Dick right now." "No! You're not to do that. Don't you dare say a word. Promise me, Listen, Judy, I'm perfectly willing to make an idiot of myself, but I don't want Dickey to know what a perfect fool I am. I don't want him to know I'm chasing him. See?"

"Well, then, what can I do?" Hope leaned back and fixed her lifetime friend with a probing stare. "Did you really mean, Judy, what you said—that you'd do anything?"

"Why, Hope, you ought to know! Good grief, haven't you done everything for me? Haven't you made it possible for me to—"

"Never mind," Hope shrugged, and tossed her cigarette energetically out the porthole. "Listen, Judy. If you really want to help me, you can lead me your husband!"

"What—what?" "Let me be the bride instead of you," Hope explained glibly. "I'm on the boat married, and not just alone, unmoored and unescorted, and not even on the passenger list—well, Dickey couldn't suspect me of running after him. Could he? And I could talk to him as Mrs. Post much better—oh, so much better!"

With her unexpectedly acquired "husband," Hope sets the stage for Dickey tomorrow.

The trouble with subjects of this kind is that copy furnished for coaching purposes is not fully understood by the student mind and errors of fact get by and statements are made that are half baked and often untrue. Newspapers today are not purely political organs as they once were. The daily and country weekly value advertising patronage and must have this patronage in order to function, but just try to influence these papers with a bribe of increasing patronage and see what happens. Politicians know better than to try such a thing. And the big advertisers value space enough to pay a big price in order to put their goods before the public. Though a paper may be in great need of patronage, selling space is a business. As a business such patronage is very acceptable. As a thing of any other nature, patronage with a string tied to it is abominable in the sight of newspapers. If you doubt it, try it out. It would be valuable experience—but one trial would be sufficient. NEWS, Higgins

Hope caught sight of Dickey.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Sam Rayburn of Texas, veteran in politics that he is, in all probability during the next few months will learn some entirely new things about the game he has played almost since the time he was old enough to vote.

In charge of sponsoring John Garner for the democratic nomination for the presidency, the sturdy Texan is running into much the same things that the manager of an aspiring champion in sport encounters.
