SPECIAL TRAIN TO BE CERTAIN

HUNDREDS TO SEE NEW ROAD ON FIRST RUN

ROUND TRIP TICKET IS TO BE PRICED AT DOLLAR

PLAN AN EARLY START

LUNCH FOLLOWED BY PROGRAM TO BE PROVIDED

Hundreds of Pampa residents are expected to leave here at 6:30 a. m. Friday on a Denver Northern special train to Childress, where other hundreds of people will be gathered for a trip to the famous salt opening and celebration here. The arrival in Childress is expected to be 8:15 a. m. Tickets, priced at only $1 for the round trip, will go on sale at the Board of City Development tomorrow.

The train will meet a special from Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, carrying railway officials, politicians and business men from those cities.

Pampa visitors to Childress will have breakfast before leaving on the round trip at 9 o'clock. Stops will be made at Wellington, Slacks, Rock, LeFlore, and intermediate points either coming to Pampa or on the return trip. The first train will arrive in Pampa at 1:30 o'clock, and the other train or trains will follow. They will be met by a band, welcoming committee and citizens.

A parade will form and everyone will march uptown. Visitors from other cities will attend a barbecue at the high school gymnasium. Immediately following the lunch, which will be by invitation to visitors only with a few Pampans as hosts, an interesting public program will be given in the auditorium of the First Methodist church. The hour of the program has not been announced, but it will be about 3:30 o'clock.

Included in the list of speakers will be Governor Ross Sterling, C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railway commission; Col. Ernest Thompson, member of the Burlington Railway system; Ralph Budd of Chicago, president of General John A. Hulen of Fort

RELIEF BILL IN HOOVER CARE FOR HIS VETO

Compromise Will Be Approved By Garner

WASHINGTON, July 9. (P)—With President Hoover's veto message awaiting it at the White House, the $2,100,000,000 unemployment relief bill emerged from congress today bearing the controversial provision for loans to individuals.

Final congressional approval was given the measure when the senate adopted the conference report by a vote of 43 to 31 after little more than an hour's debate.

Senate democrats rallied to the support of their vice-presidential candidate, Speaker Garner, in his conflict with President Hoover over whether loans should be made to individuals, but prepared to give way for a compromise bill after the veto.

A high administration spokesman said it would recommend the adoption of a substitute measure, with the much fought over provision.

Duncan Recalls Growth of Pampa In Many Phases

Judge Ivy E. Duncan, Pampa attorney and candidate for state representative of this district, yesterday issued the following statement: To the Citizens of Pampa and Gray County:

I feel some hesitancy in making an announcement through the press of a few Pampans who are in the county in behalf of my candidacy for state representative, feeling that there is nothing that I can say concerning myself that you do not already know. Having been a resident of Pampa since childhood, you should know more about my character, my childhood and my manhood which has been molded in

A visiting candidate declare that he gave away 2,500 cards yesterday. Pampa's streets were crowded with shoppers from early morning to late at night. Pampa is the best little city in the nation today, the candidate declared.

Zeno Ingram says that Pampa was the oasis in a desert as far as he was concerned when he returned from a business trip last week. "There is more doing in Pampa in one day than in any other place I saw in a week," Zeno declared.

J. M. McDonald says that he saw a young lady with blisters on her thumb from hitch-hiking back from East Texas where she spent the holidays.

W. C. T. U. CHIEF FINDS "MANY COURDS" PRESENT

DALLAS, July 9. (P)—Militant opposition to repeal of the 18th amendment or the weakening of the enforcement laws enacted under it was expressed here today at a meeting of dry leaders gathered from over the state.

Included in the group were many who refused to vote for the democratic presidential nominees in the 1928 election and aided in the bolt which placed Texas in the republican column for the first time since reconstruction days.

An organization to be known as the Texas League of Dry Democrats was formed. Resolutions adopted declared the league was opposed to resubmission of the 18th amendment and called on voters to support "only militant dries whose lives have proved them as unquestionable dries."

"Irresponsible." The meeting by resolution termed the referendum on resubmission ordered recently by the Texas democratic state executive committee an "irresponsible nature." At the same time it urged "people to go to the polls and vote against the resubmission" wherever this is submitted.

Evidence of disagreement among the dries as to what course to pursue with reference to presidential candidates of the democratic and republican parties was evident from while eloquently speaking 4 speeches. While unanimous in seeking some means of upholding the 18th amendment and the pro-al drys.

Borger's Recall Election Up Again

AMARILLO, July 9. (P)—Borger's proposed recall election is before the seventh court of civil appeals again.

Chief Justice R. Walker Hall granted a rehearing today and reinstated an order against District Judge E. J. Fickens of Borger restraining him from enforcing writs of mandamus ordering the mayor and city commissioners to call the election in compliance with a petition signed by Borger citizens.

Similar action was taken by the Borger officials several weeks ago, but the higher court threw the case out because of a technicality.

The city officials first complied with the mandamus and called an election for June 11. But on June 9 they appealed to the higher court.

STATE AUDITOR SPIKES JIM FERGUSON'S FRAUD CLAIMS

DALLAS, July 9. (P)—State Auditor Moore Lynn issued a statement here today denying that there was a hundred million dollar shortage in funds of the state highway department. He also denied the claim that an audit of the department had been suppressed.

"The audit," he said, "has disclosed no wrong doing on the part of the commissioners or of the general management of the department."

ABILENE, July 9. (P)—W. R. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission, today replied to a charge by Jas. E. Ferguson that the department is $100,000,000 short with the counter charge that "the only waste and extravagance I ever heard of that could be charged to any highway department was the under the control of Jas. E. Ferguson during the years 1925 and 1926, when federal aid was withdrawn from Texas and where the contracts were so obnoxious to public decency that numerous Texas juries set them aside after hearing the evidence."

Ely continued: "It may be said in passing that that particular highway department was short $6,500,000 in January, 1927, and that the poor laborers working on the highways of Texas had gone for three months without receiving a pay check. Jim Ferguson's charge of shortage against the present commission is so ludicrous that I hesitate to notice it."

WELFARE BOARD IS VIRTUALLY WITHOUT FUNDS THOUGH NEEDS CONTINUE—REPORT IS FILED

Unpaid Pledges Of Record Total $1,783

The financial report of the Pampa Welfare Board for the first six months of 1932 has just been completed by Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager. Working on the monthly budget plan, Mrs. Davis spent $49.88 less than her budget called for, during the six months.

Not much money remains in the bank with which to operate the rest of the year.

Many Pampa citizens have not honored their pledges and as a result the board has little or no funds with which to operate. There is $1,783 due the board that has not been paid.

The board has taken care of 223 families or 1,004 persons since the first of the year. A total of 1,077 orders of groceries has been given out. Mrs. Davis has made 2,945 visits and interviews.

Receipts. Balance on hand Jan. 1, 1932, $234.15. Elks club Christmas baskets, 75.00. Transferred from community chest, 21.80. Budget, 1,098.16. Red Cross, 243.03. Refund from county on hospital case, 18.00. Refund on shoes for client, 3.80. Sale of bicycle, 5.00. Total receipts, $2,288.74.

Expenditures. Groceries, $1,293.74. Milk, 62.64. Medicine, 64.44. Clothing and shoes, 69.98. Assistance to families leaving city, 33.38. Transient meals, 42.65. Petty cash, 5.70. Administrative, 62.88. Office supplies, stamps, printing of forms, etc., 65.17. Telephone and telegraph, 8.77. Miscellaneous, 8.77. Boy Scouts, due from 1931 community chest, 177.00. Balance, $49.88.

New Production Nearly Thousand Barrels In Gray

Two completions were reported for Gray county during the past week with a total production of 388 barrels. There was also a new location. The two wells just finished were the first this month. There were six completions in June.

The Warren Oil company's No. 3 Chapman in section 69, block 26, was completed for an initial production of 488 barrels natural flow. More than 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas was encountered with the oil. Total depth was 2,718 feet.

The Danciger Oil and Refining company also completed its No. 9 Powell, Block in section 28, block E-2, for 480 barrels on the gas lift. Total depth was 2,901 feet.

JURY FINDS HUTTON GUILTY AND GRANTS WOMAN $5,000

LOS ANGELES, July 9. (P)—The jury considering the damage suit for breach of promise by Myrtle St. Pierre against David L. Hutton, husband of the Angelus Temple evangelist, Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, today brought in a verdict for the Pasadena nurse in the sum of $5,000.

The verdict was voted unanimously by members of the jury of seven men and five women reported, although in California a verdict may be returned by a majority of not less than 9 to 3 in civil cases.

The jurors disclosed that at the time they adjourned deliberations or lunch shortly after noon, they voted seven to five in favor of Hutton. Shortly before the verdict was announced, several members switched their ballots and finally an unanimous verdict was agreed upon.

Mark Jones, attorney for Hutton, was not in court but he announced through an associate an appeal would be taken.

Miss St. Pierre, attractive brunette nurse, had asked for damages of $200,000 claiming Hutton betrayed her under a promise to marry and later jilted her, marrying the evangelist.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, July 9. (P)—The reparations agreement calling down Germany's bill from an original $64,000,000,000 to approximately $712,500,000 was finalized today by delegates of the leading powers and almost before the ink was dry reparations were started for the world economic conference authorized in the treaty.

Convinced that a great stride had been made toward putting Europe's economic house in order, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, whose indomitable determination was largely responsible for the agreement, turned his attention to adjusting the agreement of Lausanne to world problems. That means bringing in the war debts of $11,000,000,000 owed to the United States.

At the ceremony of signature the prime minister made a speech in which he declared in effect that the

A. P. I. Audience Will See Film On Tractor Use

A six-reel film by the Rumley Tractor company will be shown at the regular monthly meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute in the hall auditorium Tuesday night. The picture will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

The picture will deal largely with the use of tractors in the oil field. The picture will be explained by Fred E. Cooper and L. R. Martin of Tulsa, representatives of the Rumley company.

There will be no entertainment as the picture will take nearly two hours to be exhibited. President Ed Warren will preside.

Kennedy Brings Big Plane Here

One of Pampa's first aviators and also one of the youngest pilots in the country holding a transport license, arrived in Pampa late Friday afternoon flying a six-passenger Travelair monoplane. The plane is equipped with a 300 H. P. Wright Whirlwind motor.

Boyd Kennedy, the pilot of the ship, came to Pampa with Ray Shiflett from Mangum nearly five years ago. After instructing for a while, he became pilot for the Pampa Refining company, flying a Ryan monoplane. When the company sold out to the Wilcox Oil & Gas company, he went to East Texas, where he has been flying for oil companies since that time.

He hopes to remain in Pampa for some time before starting out on a barnstorming trip. He has passed 3,000 hours in the air. He will carry passengers at the local airport today.

THE PERSPIRING CANDIDATES, as the McLean NEWS remarks, are almost uniformly optimistic and are shedding a bit of needed good cheer.

At any rate, they are trying to appear cheerful and most of them are pretty good actors. Considering how fickle are the voters this year, many candidates are enormously optimistic about it.

To many of them, professional hand-shaking is an ordeal. Some of the back-slappers are not good at remembering faces. We know one man who was solicited four times by the same candidate in a fortnight and received a card each time.

We present here for study a table showing the electoral and popular vote for president in the elections of the last 32 years, the winning candidate in each being denoted by an asterisk:

Table with columns: Year, Electoral Vote, Popular Vote. Rows include 1900 (McKinley, Bryan), 1904 (Roosevelt, Parker), 1908 (Taft, Bryan), 1912 (Wilson, Roosevelt, Taft), 1916 (Wilson, Hughes), 1920 (Harding, Cox), 1924 (Coolidge, Davis, LaFollett), 1928 (Hoover, Smith).

Several things are obvious in these records. One is the mounting total of votes occasioned by women's suffrage and population growth. Another is the long period of years the democrats have been away from the pork barrels, excepting the Wilson tenure.

Supplant These Parties?

There has been a noticeable breaking down of party alignments because of sectional differences. Senator Robinson has been accused of following Hoover, and numerous republicans have listened to the monied east in import matters, getting away from the high tariff idea.

"We are on the eve," Congressman LaGuardia of New York said recently, "of the last democratic-republican election. If the republicans triumph, of course we shall have four more years of G. O. P. conservatism. If the democrats come into power there may be a slight trend toward a perfunctory sort of liberality, but nothing fundamental."

"Real republican and democratic liberals will unite of necessity. Too few conservatives of the beaten old line group will be left to maintain an organization. They simply will be absorbed by the dominant conservative party. Thus we shall be re-aligned as conservatives and liberals."

Chance for Democrats

LaGuardia, the Manhattan radical, is likely right, but he has his time wrong and some of his names. The entire country will not change so rapidly. A little prosperity would delay the metamorphosis of political thought remarkably. There is a possibility that the democratic party, if successful in November, will be liberal enough to satisfy the country for two or more administrations—

if prosperity is general. Without normalcy of economics, neither old party can satisfy the country. All the vaunted principles of Jefferson, effected through the concentration of power advocated by Hamilton, could not withstand the present unemployment situation indefinitely.

The way out. The south and west, rapidly climbing into the political saddle, may hold the balance of power in party alignments. These sections, traditionally those of farmers and

ABOUT NEW YORK

By William Gaines.

NEW YORK—There's a little shop on Forty-seventh street, half way between Fifth avenue and Broadway, that specializes in rolling cigarettes with initials or monograms on the wrappers.

I stopped in there the other day and asked from which direction trade was holding up best. I was told that the Broadway customers had been more faithful.

Now it's up to you to figure out whether it's the prosperity or vanity of Broadway that outlasts Fifth avenue's. Carman Barnes has pictures that make her look like Jean Harlow. Wonder why the movie cameras couldn't do as much for her?

Still fresh in memory are the observations of certain police officials that picking pockets was passe. These astute criminologists asserted that there were so many other more lucrative rackets, that crooks just wouldn't waste their time any more on such small scale business. Remember?

Well, the pickpockets are back with us again, doing business on the wholesale plan. What they find in the pockets they pick, I don't know.

Slow Motion Pictures

Irving Berlin has written more than 2,000 lyrics. Clifton Webb is a writer—that is, he writes things because, he says, he likes to write. The musical comedy favorite doesn't submit his stuff to editors.

A New York producer once argued with Miss Bankhead that "Tallulah" was too long and fancy a name to get into electric lights.

Whenever Owen D. Young has an idea that something consequential is going to happen, he describes it as "A feeling in the seat of the pants."

Kate Smith's family expected her to become a trained nurse.

Jimmy Johnston, the master mind of the heavyweight boxing business, weighs only 150 pounds.

Sharps And Flats

A sample of the sort of thing that breaks my heart: Having to turn down an invitation to a party at the cool and slick Westchester Country club, on a hot night when Manhattan wears its smothering cloak of humidity.

Elizabeth Carfare, the author, says her chief ambition is to own a seaworthy cruiser and pilot it herself. What could be a more appropriate name for a society bud than June Blossom? She's one of the prettiest of the current crop.

Alice White was born in Paterson, New Jersey. And the White house is there still.

Nicholas Dondolas, the celebrated gaming man, better known as Nick the Greek, speaks four languages—English, Greek, Italian and French. And he knows most every game they play wherever any language is spoken.

Rupert Hughes was born in Lancaster, Missouri.

A young lady who writes for a living had an apartment immediately beneath the one occupied by Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne.

Every Sunday morning, she tells me without any particular enthusiasm, her slumbers were terminated by some one above her dutifully fingering out old church hymns on a piano. A favorite rendition was "In the Sweet Bye and Bye."

stock men, have changed to adopt some of the industrial policies of the eastern seaboard—policies formerly distrusted. They have, moreover, grown large cities with the views of the proletariat. Strangely enough, the darlings of the eastern cities and Tammany-Cox, Davis, Smith—have been the pick of the democrats in recent years.

Note the changes now. Roosevelt (pronounced Roosevelt), is at outs with Tammany. He is more popular in the west than in the east. John Garner draws popularity from the far west as well as the southwest and south, in addition to the following amassed during 30 years in Washington.

What will be the result of this ascendancy of south and west? How liberal will this leadership be? Can the democratic party become the liberal party and force the republicans to be even more conservative? Part of the answer will be written in the ballots next November. This writer does not look for a change as radical as LaGuardia predicts, but a long step will be taken. And as previously mentioned, success by the democratic party is vital not only to the party but to the nation. It is hard to outline a major political change, but one is in progress and there is room for skepticism about the ability of the old parties to meet changing needs of the country along social lines. The best thing we see to do right now is to work for the success of a liberalized democratic party. This editorial would probably be a great deal clearer if read a decade hence.

Amendments Necessary.

It should be obvious that constitutions must be altered to permit adjustments to changing social and economic conditions. Texas will vote on nine proposed constitutional changes in November.

One would prohibit future issuance of bonds against the University of Texas permanent fund. The bars let down by the regents are now desired by them to be replaced. Other amendments are:

To permit redemption of tax-sale lands.

To permit liquidation of uncollectable delinquent taxes so as to clear titles.

To permit military officers and enlisted men to vote and hold office.

To allow coast cities to levy and collect taxes for sea walls.

To confine voting in bond elections to persons who own taxable property which is actually rendered for taxation. (At present anyone can vote if he owns property that is subject to taxation, in any amount, whether rendered or not.)

To exempt residence homesteads to assessed value of $3,000 from all state taxes. (Actually, a homestead worth $6,000 or more is often rendered for $3,000 or less.)

To permit the state to participate financially in the Texas centennial.

To combine the office of tax collector with that of tax assessor.

These proposed amendments demand much study. Some are possibly bad. Opinions alone are dangerous. Civic clubs should ask their citizenship committees to promote debates on the amendments.

Gambler's Throw by Eustace L. Adams.

SYNOPSIS: Ashwood, unusual gang leader, Emory, and the men Ashwood holds prisoner have been defending his home from his gang, now turned against him. Emory's friend, Jerry Colburn, has closed by police gangsters who captured his wife and has rescued her. Jerry's return could save the best of men from the gang's attack.

Chapter 36 THREE SHOTS LEFT

LISTEN, you little fighting cock," Emory said, hitching himself closer to the other. "There's only one thing that'll keep me from kicking off with a smile on my face."

"And that is?" invited Ashwood, quietly.

"I'm so curious about you that I'm itching all over. Since we'll probably both be bounced off in the next twenty minutes, won't you tell me what turned you from a good drinking partner, as you were back in London, to a hard-boiled egg such as you are now?"

The cripple glanced over the table top, then turned his vivid blue eyes toward Emory.

"I owe you something," he acknowledged slowly, "so I suppose I may as well tell you. Forgive me if I spare you the details. I'm an American. Enlisted in the Royal Flying Corp. in Canada. Sometime before I ran across you in London, Ashwood fired slowly, carefully, wasting not a single shot.

I met a girl who drove an ambulance for the Overseas club. Saw quite a bit of her. Asked her to marry me. Two nights after that evening of ours which ended in the fight with the military police, she stole some important papers from the pocket of my tunic.

"Some days after she took the papers, a British push was smashed to bits by the Germans. My fault, you see. On that same day, a German Fokker crooked me over the lines. Our men hoisted the engine off my leg and took me to the hospital. But that didn't prevent them from cashiering me. At the trial they blamed me for other things—things I hadn't done. I felt so low that I guess I didn't put up a decent defence. Spent a year in the Tower of London, expecting to be shot any day. Six months after the armistice I was pardoned. My friends had forgotten me, but had remembered to drop my name from my clubs.

"I drifted about like a parish. Needed excitement. Had no respect for justice, hence none for the law that administered it. War taught me the real value of human life, which is less than nothing. Turned to crime for excitement and to keep me off the benches on the Thames Embankment. Played the 'Lone Wolf' racket for a while. Came back to America. Saw in some of the Chicago gangs that were just beginning to lift their heads a possibility for organized crime that would be highly diverting and exceedingly profitable. I recruited my own mob—who, by the way, are beginning their attack."

He turned abruptly and fired three shots as fast as he could pull the trigger. Emory, getting into action, saw two men stumble and fall.

The battle became general, but to Emory it was a matter of himself, alone, against half a dozen. He was conscious that the fighting was sweeping toward and around the house like a prairie fire. That was incidental. The only matter of importance was his own individual effort to keep that little group of men from reaching the porch. The leader charged desperately, zigzagging as he galloped ahead of his comrades. Emory wished to stand up and shoot it out with him but from the shelter of the palms the machine-gun sprayed his widow with bullets. It was almost suicidal even to raise his head for a quick pot shot. A dozen more steps and that chap with the contorted face and staring eyes would be able to dodge behind the overhanging ledge of the porch. Now! Emory's gun smacked against the palm of his hand. The fellow crashed full against the porch.

Emory heard Mallory cursing in a monotone, on and on, endlessly, flatly, interrupted only by the heavy bark of his automatic. Ashwood was silent, his mouth set in a twisted grin, firing slowly, carefully, wasting not a single shot.

Running men were falling in the sand, some to get up and resume the charge, others to drag themselves away. The two machine-guns hammered relentlessly, monotonously. Their whining bullets irritated Emory like persistent mosquitoes on a hot, sleepless night. It would be, he thought, those two machine-guns that would eventually turn the tide of battle against the defenders. Their slugs splattered through the thin sides of the house. Only the heavy barricades stopped them.

He glanced again at Ashwood. The cripple grinned, pointed at his automatic, then to the door.

"Now we're even!" he called. "Much obliged, old top," roared Emory, but the other seemed not to hear. He was using his last remaining shot to stop a man who would have reached the barricade in another five steps.

Above the all-pervading roar of the airplane engine, Emory could hear the steady hammering of its machine gun. Then he saw the plane, as it dived through his range of vision. For an instant he thought it was falling, that it would crash headlong into the clump of palms which sheltered the nearest enemy machine-gun. But just as the propeller seemed about to cut a swath through the leaves, the nose lifted and the plane zoomed clear, up and up until, whirling around on one wing tip, it dropped again to the attack.

Beer Claimed To Be In Demand

Beer peddlers are in demand this summer, according to a woman arrested by city police Friday night. "I've done more business already this summer than I did last, and I've got money to pay this fine, and plenty more," she said as she exhibited a roll of bills. She paid a fine for vagrancy in justice court. She was also charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale and released under bond. Officers seized 14 bottles of beer. She has averaged paying a vagrancy fine every 10 days since June.

Since no funds to pay for a chemical analysis of the beer have been authorized, it is likely that the felony charges will not be brought to trial. Gray county juries have not in recent years found a defendant charged with possession of malt liquor for the purpose of sale, guilty. When an analysis of beer is not made soon after a raid, defendants usually plead that the beer was home brew and not intoxicating, and if an examination is made subsequent to the raid they claim that the home brew became intoxicating after officers seized it. An analysis of beer for alcoholic content costs $5. Only a few such analysis have been made in recent years here.

Mrs. E. H. Schrimshire of Miami shopped in the city yesterday. Mrs. Warren O'Coil of White Deer visited briefly here Saturday.

Walter Abernathy of Hickory, N. C., is visiting his uncles, J. E. Yoder and L. P. Yoder. He is on his way home from Rotary convention in Seattle. Eusey Turner was in Turkey over the week-end visiting relatives. C. E. Stewart of Miami was shopping in Pampa Saturday afternoon.

To The Voters of Commissioners Precinct No. 2, Gray County, Texas:

On the bottom of this message you will find my announcement as it appeared in the Pampa Daily News, June 5th, also in the Advocate. Since entering the race I have made a careful study of what a commissioner can do and should do.

I would like to have had a personal talk with all the voters that they might better understand what I stand for and will do in the event of being elected.

I find it a bigger job than a man would think for and I am taking this means to talk to you. I am asking for one of the most important offices in the county as the commissioners are custodians of all county affairs and upon them depends both present and future welfare of the County.

I would not like to be called a pessimist. I would rather be called an optimist. However, we are going through a depression that it will behoove all of us to economize in our affairs and the same should apply to county affairs that we may be able to reduce our taxes to where we can pay them.

I would do everything I can to have harmony in the board and would ask every citizen to cooperate and help us to make Gray County a good place in which to live. Together we will stand, divided we will surely fall.

If elected I consider myself a public servant and want every citizen to feel free to come to me and tell me what they think would be of best interest to the County and I assure you it will have due consideration.

I am for good roads and would go over all the roads in my precinct; have work done where needed and see to it that it is done in a workmanlike manner at a reasonable cost to the taxpayer. I would see to it that all road machinery is well cared for, which is a big item in itself.

I would give county affairs a careful study and, with the citizen's co-operation, much can be done to pull through the present depression until better time do come—and they will surely come.

Announcement as it appeared in the Pampa Daily News and the Advocate: To the voters of Precinct No. 2, Gray county, I wish to announce that I will be a candidate for the office of county commissioner of Precinct No. 2, subject to the democratic primaries. In announcing for this office I wish to state what I stand for should I be elected.

It is my belief that no commissioner should let any contract to exceed $10,000 without the permission of the other commissioners and that all work let by contract should specify that the work be given to citizens of Gray county, and that they should be paid an adequate wage for their work and all those doing the same class of work being paid the same wage.

It is also my belief that in making the annual budgets, funds be provided wherever possible to care for any unemployment situation.

I pledge the citizens of Gray county that in the event of my election to the office I will earnestly and sincerely devote my entire time and attention to the duties of the office, for the benefit of the taxpayers as well as the county as a whole, giving you an economical administration wherever it is possible to be the best interest of the district.

As to my qualifications for the office I submit the following: I have had two years experience as county commissioner for Gray county. I have had past experience as school trustee before coming to Texas and have since served six years on the Pampa school board.

I have lived in Gray county for the last 24 years and if elected I promise to show every citizen an equal courtesy. Your support and vote will be greatly appreciated. NELS WALBERG.

To the above I might add: I was director in the Gray County State bank for several years, also a director in the Pampa Grain company for a number of years, and before coming to Texas I was Tax Assessor for four years. I was one of the first ones to undertake to raise wheat in Gray county. I sold the first threshing machine ever sold out of Pampa 23 years ago. And I have been farming an selling farm machinery every since.

When a young man I did most all kinds of work. I worked on farms, in lumber woods, in saw mills, in Round House and got up to be assistant machinist. I later worked for the Huber Manufacturing company, as service man then as traveling salesman. I ran a threshing machine for many years. I have been in 14 states and Canada.

I believe with the experience I have had I am qualified for the office I am seeking. I leave it to you. And if elected I will work for the County as I would like others to work for me. I will devote my whole time to the duties of the office. I have sold out to where I have no other business now.

PRESIDENT POST OF KIWANIS CLUB SAYS CONVENTION SHOWED MONUMENTAL WORK BY MEMBERS

"The civic organizations have played a great part in keeping our country together," said A. G. "Pete" Post, president of the Kiwanis club, in giving a report of the International Kiwanis convention at Detroit.

President Post introduced a resolution at the convention to have the Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada sponsor the Justice Police movement which is under the supervision of the Pampa club here.

Mr. Post's report showed that the 1,200 Kiwanis clubs were taking care of thousands of underprivileged children in a very efficient manner.

The program Friday included a scout program by Berton Doucette and Wilks Chapman and songs by Misses Virginia Rose and Dorothy Doucette.

A report on the attendance of all the Kiwanis clubs showed that the Pampa club ranked sixth.

THURMAN HILL ASKS NEW CUT IN OIL TOTAL

TOPEKA, July 9 (AP)—In an effort to bring about further curtailment of oil production in the midcontinent area, Thurman Hill, member of the Kansas Public Service commission, is on a long tour for series of conferences with Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas producers.

"If the United States production," he said, "can be cut to 2,000,000 barrels daily, I have been assured it would logically follow that producers would be entitled to a price increase which I insist would be 25 cents a barrel."

He said his plan called for a cut of 90,000 barrels daily, most of which would be made in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. California, he said, already had made cuts.

"The plan would require," he said, "a production cut of about four per cent, and would result in a 15 per cent increase in petroleum prices."

Denying recent production curtailments had resulted in higher gasoline retail prices, the Kansas commissioner quoted figures showing the average service station price during April, 1932, was 13.17 cents a gallon, against 24 cents in 1923, for "white" gasoline. The averages did not include taxes.

Hill said he would confer with Capt. J. F. Lacey and Judge Cullen P. Thomas, Texas member of the oil advisory committee, in Dallas Tuesday and that he possibly would go to Austin Wednesday.

Decrease Found In Oil Production

Panhandle daily oil production went back to normal last week with the new schedule posted by the oil and gas division of the railway commission July 1. Production was 51,326 barrels or 97.2 barrels under the previous week.

Gray county decreased its production 2,314 barrels. Other counties showed slight declines.

There were two competitions during the week. The Warren Oil company completed its No. 3 Chapman in section 69, block 25, for 488 barrels. The Danciger Oil and Gas company's No. 9 Powell-Back in section 28, block B-2 was completed.

Tax Dodging In Illinois Charged

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—Four men who admitted they conspired to dodge the state gas tax, and deprive the Illinois treasury of $80,000 to $90,000 were sentenced to county jail terms here.

Louis A. Weiss, former inspector for the state department of finance and regarded as the "fixer" in the case, was sent to jail for six months and fined $3,000.

Ben Politz, oil man, was given three months and a $2,000 fine; Max Glasser, three months and $3,000; Daniel Lavin, on month and $2,000.

All pleaded guilty before Judge Walter P. Stanton. The indictment charged that 400 cars of gasoline were brought here from the Texas and Oklahoma oil fields from Aug. 1, 1929, to June 4, 1930, on which no gasoline tax was paid in Illinois. The prosecutors said in court today that tax evasion has decreased 75 per cent since stringing enforcement of the law was begun.

Mexicans Will Be Sent Home

AMARILLO, July 9 (AP)—Community Chest officials said today they had completed arrangements to send 137 Mexicans, all of whom are now depending on charity, back to their native land.

They will leave here Tuesday for El Paso. Arrangements have been made for the Mexican government to take charge of them there and place them on government lands.

City and county officials agreed to pay the expenses of transportation from Amarillo to El Paso.

Another consignment will be sent out later, relieving local charity organizations of a total of 300 dependents. All were American citizens, but agreed to return, although some of them had lived here 20 or 25 years.

There were 24 individuals in one of the families, the oldest 70 years, and the youngest a baby one year old.

Clues to Western Civilization Found

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Two possible new clues to the mystery of how long man has lived in North America were made public here by the Smithsonian Institution.

One lies in the ruins of a real "lost civilization" of the middle west, whose people raised crops on the prairies before the days of the buffalo-hunting Indians.

The other is the reported discovery of a flint arrow buried under a bone of a mammoth. A Smithsonian expedition led by Dr. William D. Strong already is following up both clues.

If the arrow was buried at the same time as the mammoth's bones, it would indicate men lived here perhaps 20,000 years ago. Dr. Strong reports the bones were so disarranged, however, that the find is not certain evidence of that. Location of the find was not made public.

The mystery of the "lost civilization" is heightened by the fact that its creators were seen only by white men just before they disappeared. This was in 1841, when Coronado's expedition of Spaniards penetrated far into the west.

After the Spaniards left something happened to this civilization and it disappeared.

THIEVES ARE ACTIVE

Gasoline thieves prowled in Pampa Friday night. They emptied the tanks of Gray County Creamery trucks in the barn at the creamery, and took gas from two cars parked on the streets.

At Almarred, chicken thieves stole 37 fryers and mixed chickens from J. J. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace O'Keefe, Mrs. C. O'Keefe, her daughter, Ella Payne, and son, Ralph, all of Panhandle, were visiting and shopping here Saturday.

Two sisters, Juanita and Sylvia Kilne of Skellytown, underwent operations for appendicitis at Pampa hospital yesterday.

A. B. Martin

Present Associate Justice, Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo, Appointed April, 1932.

Candidate to Succeed Himself at the Coming Democratic Primaries.

His recent appointment was unopposed and was made in recognition of the distinguished record he made as an Appellate Court Judge at Austin. He lives in the southern part of the Judicial District which contains more than one-third of the population. It has been the custom to select the three judges of this court from different parts of the district, which comprises forty-six counties.

The following are excerpts from some of the newspaper comments made at the time of his recent appointment:

"... his decisions in style and texture and force win for him a high place among the lawyers and litigants of Texas. In his boyhood he branched his way through the snow to the little red school house from his home where he obtained the rudiments of an education and at a time became one of the scholars and successful lawyers of the land that was a wilderness when his father first invaded it to wrest from nature's virgin soil and to build a home for his dependents and those who came after him."

"When he moved to Austin he resigned from the board of regents of the state teachers colleges, on which he had served for ten years. He brought to that board a broad understanding of the problems of the boys and girls from the homes of the common people of Texas."

"His struggle for an academic education and for preparation for the profession of law was not forgotten by him while he served the state on the board of regents of the teachers colleges. In 1920 he created a leave fund at West Texas State Teachers college for the use of poor boys and girls, retaining supervision of the fund during his life time. It has grown to approximately $3,000, has aided more than a hundred boys and girls."

"Selection of Hon. A. B. Martin of Plainview, as associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals of the Seventh Texas District at Amarillo, is a pleasing one to South Plains people. A former commissioner of Criminal Appeals at Austin, as a practicing attorney and a prominent citizen of Plainview and this area, Mr. Martin has made an enviable record. He typifies the right kind of man for the post to which he succeeds."—The Lubbock Avalanche

L. W. Hendrix Is Back In City As Santa Fe Agent

O. T. Hendrix is the new Santa Fe station agent here. He succeeds L. W. Klein, who is ill at the Santa Fe hospital at Clovis, N. M.

Mr. Hendrix is well known to many citizens of this community, having worked here from 1924 to 1928. That year he was station agent at Shattuck, Okla. Mr. Hendrix received his appointment, June 28, and began his duties here this week.

Mr. Hendrix is married and he and Mrs. Hendrix have one boy and two girls. The family has already moved to Pampa.

Mr. Klein is still confined to bed at the hospital. He was stricken several months ago. Mrs. Klein, who visited here July 4, said her husband had improved some.

Catcher Dickey Fined Thousand Then Suspended

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—Catcher Bill Dickey of the New York Yankees must park himself on the bench until August 4 and pay a fine of $1,000 for landing that jaw breaker on Carl Reynolds, Washington outfielder.

The penalty, one of the heaviest ever assessed on a major league player for fighting, was announced today by President, Will Harridge of the American League.

The assault occurred in the first game of the Washington-New York doubleheader, July 4. The suspension went into effect after the battle.

Cuban Sleuth Is Shot To Death

HAVANA, Cuba, July 9 (AP)—Captain Miguel Calvo, head of Cuba's secret police, who has been particularly active in uncovering conspiracies against the government, was killed today by 36 shotgun slugs fired by five assailants who attacked him in one of Havana's main streets. Two policemen with him also were killed.

Immediately after the assassination the city was put under military control, the police department being placed at the disposition of the army.

over the state will be present. Senator Tom Connally will also deliver an address.

The conference round-table discussions will be conducted by persons possessing actual and theoretical knowledge of welfare work. The conference will be held in connection with the annual college short course.

Glenn Powell of Enid, Okla., is visiting friends in Pampa this week-end.

Phases of welfare work to be discussed will include the back-to-the-farm movement as a remedy for unemployment in the cities, best methods of handling welfare cases and of collecting funds to finance charity work. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Violet Greenhill, director of the state department of child welfare; Dr. J. W. Slaughter of Rice Institute, internationally known authority on social problems and sociology. Welfare workers from all grand jury who through carelessness or purpose are guilty of any such act. This is not, strictly speaking a part of the charge; it is a comment I feel constrained to make, in the presence of this situation, in passing. There should be no guessing on the part of even grand juries, and still more important upon the part of trial court and juries as to the guilt of any citizen charged with crime."

After delivering the foregoing portion of the charge, Judge Wilson instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty against Mr. Pipes and it was accordingly done. It would appear to me that your editorial department could make splendid use of practically everything that Judge Wilson said, as quoted above, in commenting upon innocent men being indicted and subjected to the ignominy and expense of a criminal trial.

Yours very truly, W. M. LEWRIGHT.

"Gentlemen, I unhesitatingly say that it is unfortunate and it should strike every citizen and every public official with a sense of fear when we realize that such a man is included in an indictment charging such a grave and serious offense as felony for the commission of which upon conviction he could be sentenced to the penitentiary. I sometimes doubt if the stain of such a charge can ever be entirely removed, as affecting the reputation and character of a man, before the public, despite the rectitude of his life in after years. Such a thing constitutes a crime against any private citizen. It is even worse when it involves public officials for the reason that it naturally generates in the mind of the public, or tends to do so, disrespect for government.

There is nothing more dangerous or striking more directly at the very foundation of the government than corrupt public officials, and no character of ordinary criminal should be more loathed than such. On the other hand, it is a most serious thing in this country of ours that public officials can be indicted and no evidence of an incriminating character whatsoever offered against them on the trial of their cases. I wish to say that I condemn with all my soul the act of any government representative or any

TRADES HIS LIBERTY

HOUSTON, July 9 (AP)—Charles Ford, 45-year-old ex-plasterer, this afternoon traded his chance for liberty in order to free his 16-year-old daughter from the city jail.

The two were arrested while picnicking on the east beach at Galveston.

Ford promised police to help them "work up" their cases of hold-ups against him if they would release the girl. They agreed, six charges of robbery by firearms were filed against Ford.

WOMEN OF PAMPA SHOW MUCH INTEREST IN FLOWERS

FLOWER PARTY HELD ON LAWN OF HOME HERE

MRS. W. PURVIANCE IS FRIENDSHIP CLASS HOSTESS

Mrs. W. Purviance entertained on the spacious lawn of her home with a flower party for members of the Friendship class, First Methodist church, Friday afternoon.

Games pertaining to flowers were played, and refreshments of sandwiches, tea, and cookies were served.

Following is the guest list: Miss Carol Moore and Mesdames Joe Shelton, M. A. Graham, F. M. Culbertson, C. A. Burton, G. A. Long, Sherman White, Luther Pierson, Earl Boston, R. W. Spangler, L. P. Duvall, Al Lawson, W. E. Shore, Tom Cook, R. B. Thompson, B. G. Harris, J. R. Miller, W. B. Hamilton, B. F. Brown, R. D. Morris, Martin Harris, Fred Cary, Robert Elkins, B. W. Ferris, Jim Collins, Jack Mason, J. M. Turner, W. T. Moss, Clifford Jones, Ina Barker, J. M. Saunders, Roger McConnell, Edwin S. Vicars, Roy Bourland, S. A. Hurst, Frank Murry, M. H. Clary, and F. H. Sifton.

Club Members, Husbands Attend Party Thursday

Linger Longer club members entertained their husbands with a party Thursday evening in the apartment of Mrs. Tex Berry, Haggard apartments. Green and gold were stressed in all appointments.

At the close of the games, a glad course, followed by an ice course, was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Hollis Rabb, E. J. Pafford, Clyde Cexwall, Jimmy Hopkins, Jack Baker, Raymond Brumby, E. P. Hollingshead, and Tex Berry.

Mr. Berry was awarded for high score among the men and Mrs. Hollingshead for high among the women.

Children Best Library Patrons

Go into the city library any afternoon in the week and take a look around. You'll see children, mostly Mrs. James Todd, Jr., librarian, says ten children visit the library to one adult.

One might think that the unemployed would go to the library to read magazines and newspapers, but they don't. The reason why so many children are always in the library is probably because of the large number of children's books on the shelves. The number of books for adults is small in proportion, but the good books for adults are not read nearly as much as the good books for children.

The children like Mrs. Todd. That much is apparent in a casual glance. Glancing through the open door, one usually sees a half-dozen around her desk. Next to children, the next most numerous class at the library are high school and college students. Mrs. Todd suggested that the weather may be too hot for adults; that the adult patronage in winter is much greater than in summer. She also said that many grownups don't have the reading habit—that is, they read not because they particularly enjoy reading but because they want to "keep up." The library has many good books for adults, but few of the "best-sellers."

Miss Gay Fager Weds In Sayre

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Gay Fager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Fager, and Fred Bozeman, the ceremony having been read July 4 in Sayre, Okla.

The couple is residing at the Magnolia lease, southeast of Pampa, where Mr. Bozeman is employed.

The bride was graduated a year ago at Pampa high school. She is popular among the younger people of Pampa and is a member of the No-Trump Bridge club.

Mr. Bozeman has been catcher for the Magnolia baseball team for the last three years.

Banquet Held By Young Men Here

The Young Business Men's class of the First Methodist church spent Wednesday evening around the banquet table at the church. Serving was done by the Mother's class. Those attending were the Rev. James Todd, Jr., J. O. Gillham, Arthur M. Teed, M. V. McArthur, Roy Bourland, G. C. Williams, Francis Oden, Joe Gordon, H. T. Wohlgenuth, Elcie L. Turner, H. L. Wallace, J. B. Bourland, John Barnhart, William T. Fraser, Jack Mundy, Bob Watson, and Jim Collins.

GARNER'S MOTHER IN LITTLE TEXAS HOME

Far from the turbulent convention hall where her son was honored with the Democratic nomination for vice president of the United States, Mrs. Sarah Garner, 85, is pictured here resting contentedly in her cherry little cottage near Detroit, Red river county, Texas. It was by this fireside she taught John Nance Garner to read and from here he set out 40 years ago, a young farmer with a smattering of law, to enter politics which carried him finally to Congress, into the speakership of the House and then to the vice presidential nomination of his party.

FAREWELL IS SAID AT PARTY

MRS. ELBERT THOMAS WILL LEAVE ON MONDAY

Mrs. Paul Hughey was hostess in her home on East Browning Friday afternoon to honor Mrs. Elbert Thomas, who will leave Monday with Mr. Thomas to reside in Chicago. Mr. Thomas plans to study there.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were active in the work of the First Christian church, where both were members of the choir.

A shower of linen was given the honoree at the party Friday, and games were enjoyed. The colors green and yellow were featured throughout.

At the close of the afternoon an ice course was served to Mesdames Roy McMillen, F. W. O'Malley, H. J. Lippold, H. H. Isbell, B. G. Gordon, C. W. Stowell, Elbert Thomas, F. S. Meskimen, J. B. Townsend, Weldon Wilson, Carl Brashears, Ivy E. Duncan, C. E. Hutchins, and Ramon Wilson.

Watermelon Is Served on Lawn

A watermelon feast on the lawn of the First Baptist church was enjoyed Friday evening by the Senior Prep union of the church.

Games were played and watermelon was served to the following: Aldena Pulliam, Vivian Baker, Marjorie Tucker, Jean Hollenbeck, Myrtle Brown, Hazel Baker, Richmond Eastup, Lafon McKenzie, Ray Eldridge, Finley Barrett, W. J. Brown, Reginald Brown, Chester Yanke, Hershell Long, Revista Harven, and the leaders, Mrs. John Ryan and Miss Cornelia Barrett.

Outing Held By Baptist Class

Patrons of Public Library Increase Rapidly

BOOKS CHECKED OUT DAILY ARE 137 IN NUMBER

MANY MAGAZINES ARE PROVIDED FOR READERS

The month of June and the first days of July have seen a continued steady increase in readers of Pampa public library books, bringing the total number of patrons to 983. The number, said Mrs. James Todd, librarian, is about 50 per cent larger than that representing the readers in January.

Mrs. Todd attributed the increase partly to the fact that since the city assumed control of the library in January there has been no charge to local residents who desired book cards.

Interest in the library is evidenced by the fact that an average of 137 books daily were checked from the library during June. This does not include the large number of books and magazines which are read at the library tables.

Zane Grey Popular
The most popular books during June were those by Zane Grey, and this author also promises to be the favorite for July, for the library has just received a large number of Grey's books. The volumes are now being placed on the shelves.

Books by Edgar Wallace, Mary Roberts Reinhart, and Margaret Fiedler also were very popular among Pampans during June.

The boys have received much pleasure from the Boy Scout books, the Bomba series, Tom Swift, Bill Bruce Aviator series, Tom Sawyer, and Huckleberry Finn. Favorites among the girls have been the Alcott books, Billy Gordon series, Ruth Fielding series, and The Little Colonel. Little tots have delighted in the Bedtime Stories, Billy Whiskers, Mary Jane series, and The Bobsey Twins.

Magazines Read
One of the most popular spots in Pampa during the summer is the magazine division of the library.

"All of the magazines are well-read," said Mrs. Todd, "but there are three for which there is a grand rush every month. These are Good Housekeeping, Cosmopolitan, and Modern Mechanics. These magazines are used so much that to keep the shelves on them is a real task."

"And it is surprising," said the librarian, "how many people read."

Modern Women of Brilliance Differ In Opinions Regarding Marriage; Interesting Ideas Are Expressed

PAMPA BEAUTY

Marriage, a career, or both— which of the three possibilities is best? What should be a woman's attitude toward her husband, children, and home? What can a couple do that will make for harmony in marriage?

Women of brilliance and achievement differ widely in their opinions regarding the above stated topics of timely interest. Here are a few of their ideas on the subject of marriage:

"The plainest home gives ample space for the resources of college-trained women, remarked Alice Freeman Palmer, president of Wellesley college.

"If a woman's ideas conflict with her husband's, she must never tell them publicly."

—Mrs. John Garner.

"The woman who regrets having given up a happy marriage for a career may be sighing for what would never have been."

—Mary E. Woolley.

"A caress is better than a career."

—Elizabeth Marbury.

"Alice Longworth's talent is not being wasted, as many people think, but is used in the nursery of her home, where Paulina makes the difference between just being alive and living."

—Isabel Leighton.

"Women were not meant to squeal at mice and make themselves a joy for men to walk on."

—Mary Garden.

"The supper hour—a magnet drawing home the ones who have the need of food and rest! All women know this hour of day is best."

—Grace Noll Crowell.

"Women must make their husbands interest their own interest if they want to keep them from joining the revolt of husbands. For man's definition of a good wife has changed."

—Dorothy Dix.

"No marriage alliance can be expected to turn out right unless the spirit of good sportsmanship enters into the terms of the contract."

—Judge Jean H. Norris.

"I continue to wonder how the intelligent woman can be so indifferent to the outcome of her own marriage."

—Grace Adams.

"The happiest young couples I know are those where the wives are sharing their husbands' economic burdens."

—Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson.

"The paramount duty of woman is to rear a family. The training and rearing of one child to ideal citizenship is the finest contribution any one can make to the race."

—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen.

"In the midst of two crowded lives, we have set our hearts firmly on the necessity of keeping at ease of peace and privacy for and with each other, not as a duty, but as a pleasure."

—Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

"Excepting those with large families and little money, I believe that it is up to all of us to spend at least a half a day working outside the home. It will pay to hire a maid as a replacement. Besides giving employment to others, this will widen our contacts, give us new enthusiasms, and make us infinitely more interesting to our husbands and friends."

—Mrs. Charles Carey Rumsey.

BABY VERY ILL
Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Walker left yesterday afternoon for Plainview, where their little grandson is critically ill. The baby was born Thursday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Gibbs and was named for Mr. Walker.

STEPS TAKEN TO BEAUTIFY LOCAL HOMES

GARDEN CLUB WILL BE FORMED; DISPLAY ARRANGED

Never before have Pampa women shown so much interest in flowers and their use in beautifying lawns, front and back. This interest has been evidenced not only by private beautifying of yards, but also by organized efforts to learn more about flowers and to increase their use.

The latest move having yard beautifying as its goal was the decision of the Arno Art club to sponsor a garden club in Pampa. Detailed plans regarding the new organization will be made at a meeting of the art club next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the home of Mrs. O. H. Booth.

Enter Contest
Several more entries have been reported during the last few days in the Arno Art club's alley beautifying contest. The contest will continue throughout the summer, and in the early fall a cash prize will be presented to the person whose alley plot is cleanest and most attractive.

Judges in the contest will be Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent; Mrs. Charlie Thul of El Progreso club; Mrs. William T. Fraser, representative of the Twentieth Century club; Mrs. Roger McConnell of the Child Study club; and Mrs. Katie Vincent of the Civic Club.

Still another move to encourage the raising of flowers will be the flower show sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church July 27 in the church annex. Possibilities for raising flowers in this section will be shown in concrete form at that time. Mrs. Charles Todd, chairman, Mrs. Tom Clayton, and probably several others will be in general charge of the show.

RAINBOW GIRLS ARE INSTALLED

PUBLIC CEREMONY IS ATTENDED BY 50 PERSONS

Officers of the Order of Rainbow for girls, sponsored by the Order of Eastern Stars, were installed in a public ceremony Friday evening.

The new officers are: Mother advisor, Mrs. W. A. Seydler; worthy advisor, Dorothy Jane Adams; worthy associate advisor, Ruth Reynolds; charity, Mildred Haggard; Hope, Margaret Beck; Faith, Lorraine Noel; recorder, Martha Jones; treasurer, Mattie Lee Clay; drill leader, Walden Dickinson; chaplain, Ethel Hamilton; red, Harriet Hunkapillar; orange, Helen J. Laugherty; green, Willie Isbell; blue, Dorothy Brumley; indigo, Bernice Lyon; violet, Christine Dickinson; confidential observer, Mary Louise Adams; outer observer, Etha Jones; musician, Marie Tinsley; choir director, Dorothy Shilling; choir members, Phyllis Smith, Albetine Schuitkey, Catherine Snell, Pauline Noel, Ruth White, Velma Long, Lucille Coie, Florida Freeman.

Members of the advisory board are M. P. Downs, O. M. Anderson, Mrs. Katie Vincent, Mrs. J. A. Pearson, Mrs. Dan McIntosh, Mrs. Hodge Murphy, Mrs. O. K. Gaylor, Mrs. Roy Sewell, secretary; Mrs. W. A. Seydler, mother advisor; Dr. W. A. Seydler, chairman. Installing officers were Dr. Seydler, Mr. Downs, Mrs. Sewell, and Mrs. Vincent.

The program preceding the installation included a piano solo by Miss Tinsley, a reading by Mrs. Carson Loftus, and vocal numbers by Miss Kathryn Vinson. About fifty guests were present, and a number of them made short congratulatory talks.

Canning To Be Done By Women

An extensive canning program is well under way for the home demonstration clubs of Gray county, and will feature the meetings of the coming week.

Following is the week's calendar: Monday—Merten women, meeting with Mrs. R. B. Nash. Tuesday—Hopkins 2 and 1 girls. Wednesday—County council in the home of Mrs. J. T. Blackney of Alamored. Thursday—Eldridge girls, meeting with Jaunita Gilbreath; afternoon, Alamored women. Friday—Morning demonstration for people of Magnolia lease in the home of Mrs. D. H. Pounds; afternoon, Priscilla club, Mrs. W. D. Benton.

Miss Ruby Adams, home demonstration agent, will attend the above meetings, and will remain in her office at the court house on Saturday.

BRYSONS VISITING HERE
Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bryson of Tyler are visiting in Pampa. They formerly lived here. Mrs. Bryson was named guest of honor at a recent party for the Tuesday Night Bridge club.

Bridge Prizes Will Be Sold

As a help to those planning bridge and other parties during the hot summer months, the Business and Professional Women's club has arranged for a service which it believes will be appreciated.

A number of hand made silhouettes, framed in attractive frames, which will make beautiful bridge prizes will be sold. They will sell for $1.00 and $1.25. They are in black and white and also in pastel colors. They will be on display in the lobby of Combs-Worley Building.

Another feature of the service given to hostesses by the club will be the furnishing of fresh garden flowers for decorations. These will be provided for 50c for enough to properly decorate for a party.

These flowers and silhouettes may be had by telephoning 744 or 1093.

RESIDENCE OF W. M. LEWRIGHT HAS FLORAL SETTING WHICH IS PROFUSE IN FLOWERS, SHRUBS

Kingsmill Nine In Victory Friday

The residence of W. M. Lewright, local attorney, is a fitting illustration of the belief that the grounds surrounding a house should be as beautiful, or more so, than the structure itself. Significant people possessing civilized taste would not build a fine house in a spot where neither fauna nor flora would flourish. Medieval lords, it is true, built picturesque castles on crags, rocks, peaks, but no one will say that the taste of the Dark Ages man was civilized.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewright is in the northwest corner of the Cook addition, the house in Pampa fartherest north. It is a comparatively new house—something like a year old. Its style is modified English with a touch of New England colonial manor house, and the perfectly landscaped grounds, shaped by a landscape architect, form a capital frame for the building. The lines of the house are simple and plain but the architect could afford to be frugal because the plan of the front yard, the back garden, the flowers, trees and shrubs in them provide sufficient adornment.

Both the front yard and the garden at the rear are terraced and they slope gently to the south. The two kinds of flowers most profuse at the Lewright home are petunias and cosmos. That sounds simple enough, but it is the arrangement of the cosmos and petunias that makes the plan of the front yard and the garden, dividing the front yard from the rear garden. There are twice as many cosmos growing in graduated sizes against the fence in the garden than there are in the front yard.

This garden is a joy. Half of it is lawn and that half slopes to a lily pond which has lilies that really bloom. The turf is of grass and clover. The walk to the pond consists of rocks imbedded in the turf. The other half of the garden is rather level. It contains a rose garden which had red, yellow, white, pink roses blooming yesterday. A casual examination of the bushes revealed their aristocracy. The white fences surrounding the rear garden was almost hidden by various forms of vegetation—mosses, ferns, clematis, hollyhocks whose blooms looked like roses. The north boundary of the lawn consisted of a spruce hedge with cornflowers. Canterbury bells blooming in neat rows and clumps.

Trees in the garden included popular sycamores, and elms were tall enough to make some shade next to the sidewalks. There were several other varieties of flowers in the garden, including four o'clocks. There were other flowers blooming next to the foundations in the front yard, including burning bush and tube roses, but there were not too many to detract from and to obscure the symmetrical and well-chosen shrubbery. Another thing the lawn, not a place for flower patterns and trees, was an unobscured surface of smooth, green turf. The garden of the Lewright home must be a spot which the owners enjoy as much as they enjoy the house, and that is as it should be. The front yard is well landscaped, has a properly shaped and kept lawn, sufficient flowers for color and greenery, but conventional withal; whereas the garden is a personal joy, shaped to suit civilized tastes.

CLIFF SUTTER PINS
MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 9. (P)—Cliff Sutter, New Orleans, won the men's singles championship of the southern tennis tournament today, but Bryan "Biscay" Grant, Atlanta, went down to an honorable defeat.

Their play was a duel of pure nerve and brought out a sportsmanship that sent a great cheer from the gallery as Sutter crashed down with an overhead shot to win, 7-5, 3-6, 1-6, 6-1, 6-4.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 9. (P)—One man was killed and eleven persons were injured tonight as a tornado swept across the southern outskirts of Sioux Falls.

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Farley Can't Lose.
If Franklin D. Roosevelt should be elected president, in the interests of good clean fun he ought to set up a new cabinet portfolio—Secretary of Cauliflowers—and appoint his campaign manager, James A. Farley, to the job.

The country would forget all about the depression then. Reading the edicts of the secretary of cauliflowers would keep even the farmers laughing for the next four years.

Better Than Vaudeville.
With Commissioner Farley as the dominating influence, the New York State Athletic Commission has provided the country with one happy chuckle after another ever since Farley was appointed by Al Smith back in the days when Dempsey was champion.

Even Dempsey, you remember, was barred by the New York commission. It was held that in not meeting Harry Willis, Dempsey was avoiding the most formidable challenger. As a result, two of the greatest boxing games in history went to Philadelphia and Chicago.

The Risko Edict.
One of the most hilarious pronouncements of the commission under Farley was the decree made public that Johnny Risko could not fight Victorio Campolo in New York because Risko was "too small."

Risko and Campolo took their fight to Florida, where Risko outfought the Tall Tower of the Argentine. Then the fight actually was brought to New York. In Manhattan Campolo really beat Risko, but the snail baker boy was handed the decision.

Then, you remember, of course, how the New York commission, acting after a number of bouts had ended in fouts, decided that in the future there would be no such thing as a foul blow in New York state. What could be simpler? It would be perfectly okay should one fighter concentrate his attack on his adversary's ankles.

But this rule was lifted for the duration of the first Sharkey-Schmeling fight. Nobody ever could find a satisfactory reason why—just probably lifted itself, that's all. And Sharkey fouled out, leaving Schmeling sitting on the floor holding his groin.

The commission promptly banned Schmeling until such time as he should meet Sharkey again.

Restoration of Primo.
The Farley-ized commission banned Primo Carnera after that odorous affair with Leon Chevalier in California. But the suspension against Primo was lifted later, to allow the Gondola to fight Jack Sharkey.

The Sharkey influence incidentally seems to have been quite prominent in many of the strange decisions of the commission. Mickey Walker, who was under the New York ban for several years, finally was restored to grace so that he might fight Sharkey two years ago.

Max Schmeling was not recognized by the commission as champion, even after he had knocked out Double Yell Stribling in Cleveland. But he was accepted as champion when he agreed to a return fight with Sharkey this year.

Jack Gets It.
New Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's

manager, is officially under the Farley ban. Joe so much forgot himself as to squawk into a microphone for the nation to hear that his man had been jobbed out of the title. Joe says his fighter will not appear in New York until the ban has been lifted.

It would be in keeping with the orderly direction of affairs if the ban should be lifted so that Schmeling could fight Sharkey.

Oddly enough, all the ridiculous rulings of the commission, wrong though they seemed to be, have not seemed to hurt boxing in New York, but rather to help it. If other conclusion is possible, taking the half million gate of the last Schmeling-Sharkey fight as the gauge. The customers, verily, forget easily.

Aged Negro Held For Killing You

AUSTIN, July 9. (P)—An aged negro, about 80 years old, was in Travis county jail tonight charged with killing Albert Allison, 18, white youth of Corsicana.

The negro, Charles E. Johnson, admitted in a statement to Sheriff Coley C. White that he fired the shot that resulted in Allison's death late last night.

Young Allison was driving about 40 miles in an automobile with youthful companions, when fast shots by Johnson, the negro, from his automobile into the car occupied by the youths.

The youths said they threw out of the negro's vehicle and that it left, to return later and fire shot that killed Allison and wound Woodford.

TARRY COOPER WINS CANADIAN OPEN AS WATROUS BLOWS

THREE BLOWS AS MARGIN IN OTTAWA MEET

ALTER HAGEN THIRD AS THE DEFENDING CHAMPION

OTTAWA, Ont., July 9. (AP)—Tarry Cooper, who was expected to start from Chicago on a galloping finish to win Canadian open golf championship with 290 strokes today.

Following Al Watrous, Birmingham, by four strokes after the first round this morning, Cooper won the three strokes for the and tricky layout of the Ottawa Hunt and Golf club on his second round, posting a 71 that gave him the title by a margin of three strokes.

Cooper, leader at the end of 36 holes and again at 54 holes, blew a hole-in-one bang on the first of his final round and definitely lost all chance for the title won in 1922. His total of 78 for the day gave him nothing better than runner-up honors.

The defending champion, Walter Hagen of Detroit, finished third with 295.

Cooper's victory marked the 14th successive year the title has gone to a player from below the border. A Canadian has won it since Karl Offer turned the trick in 1914. J. Douglas Edgar of Atlanta began the American sweep in 1919 when the championship was resumed after the war.

Five players from the United States tied for fourth place. Olin Dutra, Ed Dudley, MacDonald, Phil Horton, Smith and Leo Scott all finished with 296.

All by himself at 297 was Tom Kerrigan, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., while another stroke behind were Mortie Mura, Johnny Farrell and the young Canadian, Andy Kay, Lamb-Ont.

Mitty Cox wound up with 300, by Cruickshank with 301, George Von Elm and Billy Burke 302, Joe Kirkwood, 304; Tony Sero, Tom Creavy, American associate champion, and Jose delo, Argentina, 307; Phil Perido with 308, and Tomekichi Miyawo with 313.

BEAUMONT SHUTS OUT SAN ANTONIO INDIANS, 6 TO 0

Shortstop Clifton dislocates bone in right leg in sliding into second.

SAN ANTONIO, July 9. (AP)—Unable to bounce their hits off Jelly Collier, the San Antonio Indians were shut out 6-0 in the opening game of the Beaumont series here today as the Exporters knocked Fabian Kowalik off the hill in the second round in a four run lead on as many hits.

In the fourth-inning Shortstop Clifton was carried off the field when he dislocated a small bone in his right leg below the knee while sliding into second base as Benton grounded to Schofield for a double play, bringing Tauby into the lineup while Benton was shifted to short.

Six double plays were made in the game, two unassisted by Greenberg and Holley.

Of four strikeouts among the Exporters, Greenberg fanned three times in a row, once by Chief Moore and twice by Cy Smith.

PANTHERS TAKE FAIR

FORT WORTH, July 9. (AP)—The Fort Worth Panthers took both ends of a double bill from the Tyler Sports here today. Heavy hitting gave the Cats a 11-4 victory in the first game and a three hit game by Paul Gribble gave the McCabe men the second, 3-1.

The Panthers collected 15 safe blows off Charley Biggs and McPhaul in the first game and led after the third inning. The Sports got to Steingrafe for 12 blows that they well scattered.

Gribble buried great ball in the second and would have had a shut-out but for errors by his mates.

Berkeley Bell Loses To Gledhill

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 9. (AP)—Brilliant tennis today gave Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, Calif., his second successive Rhode Island singles crown when he defeated Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, in the final of the men's singles on the turf courts at Agawam Hunt.

Gledhill and Joe Coughlin, Los Angeles, national intercollegiate doubles champions, paired to win the New England sectional doubles title while Gledhill and Ellsworth Vipes won a year ago. Today Gledhill and Coughlin defeated Bell and Jake Hess, Fort Worth, Texas, in a five set match 5-7, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

The "Lumbering Texan" showed plenty of fight in the final set to stave off defeat three times in the seven games, when Gledhill had match point at hand. Again in the fifth game Bell rallied to fight off two match points but succumbed to the third one.

BUFFALOES WIN

GALVESTON, July 9. (AP)—The Houston Buffaloes hopped on Hank Thormahlen, Galveston's star south-paw hurler, for ten hits and chalked up a 5-3 victory behind L. L. Stoner. The defeat was the fourth in a row for Galveston.

Gene Rye, stocky Houston outfielder supplied what proved to be the winning margin when he hit a home run in the fourth with a man aboard. Bean Bell hit a home run for Galveston.

MY LIFE and the OLYMPICS

Marvelous physique which enabled Paavo Nurmi at 35 to demonstrate record-breaking marathon form the other day is shown at left. The Finn is confident his amateur status will be cleared for the Olympics. Modest kitchen of the Nurmi family home at Turku, Finland, is pictured at center, and at right is Paavo garbed for the winter sports which have helped him keep in condition through the years.

(Written For The Associated Press)

HOME CONDITIONS.

The small town of Turku, where I saw daylight first, is situated in the south western part of the country, on the coast, and on the banks of the river Aurojoki's mouth. This town was formerly the capital of the country, here the first Finns were baptized early in the 12th century. In my home town is an old castle which was built in the 13th century, a cathedral from the year 1300, and the town itself celebrated a couple of years ago its 700th anniversary. Turku is called the cradle of Finnish culture.

The history of centuries lies asleep in the parks and peaceful backstreets of this little town. On Sundays, the church bells call for the people to worship. But on weekdays life goes on. In the harbor are steamers whose cargoes come from Brazil, Chile, the States, from the countries along the High Seas and the Mediterranean, and so forth. The town lives its modern life, it is true, but there is always the stamp of its old history all over.

My Early Childhood.

In this little town I was born and grew up. My father was a carpenter, prominent in his trade, spiritually and intellectually a full-weight man, but not very strong from a bodily point of view. So he died fairly young, 50 years old. He was a true believer, and took me with when I was a little boy every Sunday with him to church.

Everyone who remembers his childhood knows how frightfully tedious it was to sit for two hours in church on a lovely Sunday morning, and to know that all the other boys were out playing. He was in other respects as well a severe man. The slightest fault would procure you a good thrashing. I am of the opinion that I was brought up in far too hard a school.

My mother was when young extremely fleet of foot, and even now that she is 69 years old, she is very quick at her work. We have always found some difficulty in understanding one another. For instance, in those days when I had the fad to eat only vegetables, there were often words between us. Nor could she in those days manage to swallow that I went to take a swim with a boy of my own age early in the spring among the melting ice. I could not stand and only look on, when others dived under the icicles. But otherwise we agreed, and which we still agree very well. Mother has grown used to see her boy do athletics "like mad," and she takes his wet clothes and hangs them up in her kitchen to dry.

Present Home Life.

It is about 30 years since my late father bought a flat in a wooden house at Jarrumiekatu (Brakeman street), and we still own the house.

Candidate for Representative of 12nd District

I FAVOR:

- Leaving the Gasoline Tax in county to apply on road bonds, to be used in building hard-surfaced highways. City school privileges for every child, economy in government, tax reduction and exemption of home-owners from State ad valorem. I promise to support measures advocated by State and County Taxpayer's Associations. I favor payment of the Soldiers' Bonus.

I OPPOSE:

- Bureaucracy in all forms, and I am opposed to the state bond issue, class legislation, and I am especially opposed to anything that will make the rich, richer and the poor, poorer. I oppose the present truck law.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Bachelor of Science Degree from East Texas State Teachers College and twenty-eight years experience as a farmer. I propose to work for the people rather than the special interests. They need a new deal at Austin—somebody who understands the problem of the common people, as a permanent recovery can come to this country until the thirty-million people who live on the farm have their buying power restored. It will be my purpose to join with those who are working to solve this problem of problems.

This is the first time I have ever asked for a public office, and I will appreciate your consideration.

MEMPHIS AND PAMPA CLUB WILL BATTLE

Visitors Will Have Many Excellent Players For Event Here Today.

Pampa and Memphis golfers will battle over the Country club course here this afternoon in a scheduled game of the Cap Rock league. The first foursome will tee off at 1 o'clock sharp, and Dr. H. H. Hicks, chairman of the tournament committee, is anxious that every one intending to participate be on time.

Foursomes will be sent over the first and last nine holes at the same time so that every player will get away within the least possible time. Memphis boasts some of the best golfers in the Panhandle. Several Memphis players were well up in the list at the Clarendon tournament last week-end.

Pampa golfers had tough luck playing over the Memphis course, but hope to turn the tables this afternoon. The country club course is in the best condition of the year. Fairways have been mowed and greens renovated. The new drains have been working perfectly, making excellent surfaces.

One hundred fourteen boys entered the St. Louis district junior golf tournament this year.

TIE BIG RECORD

PITTSBURGH, July 9. (AP)—Scoring seven times in the ninth inning when the Pirate defense fell apart, the Brooklyn Dodgers broke a tie and defeated the Pirates, 9-3, in the series opener.

Vance allowed only six hits, five of which came in the last three innings, and struck out six men to record his ninth win of the season. In addition to leading the Pirate attack with two hits, Grace equaled the major league record for playing errorless ball when he completed his sixty-third game without a mis-play. During his present run, the sensational young Pirate catcher has accepted 226 chances without a miss.

SUCCESS OF SAFETY WORK IS TOLD AT MAGNOLIA BANQUET

Members of the Magnolia petroleum company attended a safety banquet in the Schneider hotel dining room Friday night. There were 115 members present. Musical entertainment was furnished by Miss Virginia Rose and Miss Dorothy Doucette.

Supervendent A. G. "Pete" Post presided and spoke on safety in all departments. He reported that there had not been an accident in the production department since the safety league was organized.

F. D. Breedlove talked on safety around tank batteries. He stressed the need for cleanliness and the necessity of keeping away from the tanks. V. L. Dickinson spoke on danger around boilers. He urged all firemen to look to the condition of the boilers and not to depend altogether on gauges.

Danger of handling gas was discussed by Jack Holland. He said that many fires were caused from friction sparks. M. J. Sayer also spoke on the same subject. C. L. Kurtz and W. F. G. Stin discussed the dangers of carbon black gas and first aid remedies and care for the person gassed.

W. S. Norman told about the newly organized Silver Dollar club. Every member carries a silver dollar in his pocket and displays it when discussing the depression.

Gym Work Aid to Golfer's Health

By JOHNNY FARRELL (As Told To Artie McGovern.)

From my experience in teaching golf, I know that many players suffer from intestinal disorders and faulty elimination. I had some difficulty in this respect during my earlier days.

Golf with its walking, bending, and stretching movements offers excellent exercise for arms, shoulders and legs, but unless a player has firm abdominal muscles it has a tendency to force the internal organs downward, thus giving rise to many intestinal ailments.

At present time I perform daily a series of exercises designed to strengthen the muscles of the abdomen, and they offset the effects of exercises done in an upright position. While lying flat on my back I raise first one leg then the other, then both together, do the same exercise with the knees, sit up and touch my toes, and other similar movements.

and applause was frenzied and frequent.

Keeps the Faith. "I could have taken an easier route after I took the oath of office, and I would have no opponents. There would have been no suits filed, but I chose to keep faith with the common people of Texas who elected me."

Every attorney general who ever tried to sue the Standard Oil company was defeated. A lobbyist, a paid lobbyist, came to my office and pointed to portraits of past attorneys general of Texas hanging on the walls of my office at Austin and said, "Look at those men. They were destroyed because they tried to do what you are trying to do."

"My enemies accuse me of being a politician—did you ever hear of a politician that tried to fight the moneyed and vested interests, the influential financiers of Wall Street?" he asked. "No. The politician takes the easiest path which consists in getting acquainted with the so-called big men."

"The paid agents of the monopolies who are trying to defeat me can utter more lies in an hour than I could explain in ten years," he charged.

Refers to Opponent. Mr. Allred referred to one of the two other candidates in the race for attorney general as the "candidate of the Standard Oil company and the Texas Gulf Sulphur company."

"I think the people of Texas are intelligent enough to realize the sinister influences that are behind the circulation in wholesale quantities of thousands of slanderous, yellow sheets about me. These have been strewn all over the state and it is my understanding that they expect to continue this character of campaign with renewed vigor during the next two weeks. It takes money to print these documents and circulate them all over Texas—more money by a hundred times than can be legally spent in the campaign for attorney general. I submit to you that it is a poor charge against a public official that can only be made just before an election."

On Small Land Bill. Allred said, "Something has been said about the attitude of the attorney general's department with reference to the Small Land Act. Here are the facts: A suit was filed by Attorney General Pollard, attacking the constitutionality of that bill. The case was prosecuted by Attorney General Bobbit. Before I ever became attorney general a writ of error had been applied for and the case was in the supreme court. After I got in the office the claimants, for whose benefit the suit had been originally filed, came to me and wanted me to let them take $50,000 from the oil companies and drop the case without the state receiving one dime. I took the position that since the case was pending in the supreme court, it ought to be settled there. If I had not done so those who are now criticizing me would be saying that I had given away the rights of the state. Furthermore, if the case had been dropped without a decision by the supreme court, the titles of our West Texas pioneers would still be clouded and they would have been subject to suit in the future. As it is, now have a decision from the supreme court, upholding the validity of the bill. My personal sympathies were in favor of the Small Land Act, but I felt that since the case was pending in the supreme court, it ought to be settled there regardless of how I felt about it generally."

The attorney general refused to discuss the merits of his pending prosecutions against certain major oil companies. He called attention to the fact that the legislature had passed a bill instructing him to investigate and to file suit. "I have no apologies to make for it and all I ask is that this case shall be tried in the court house and settled according to law. Something has been said about the charters of these companies being forfeited. That is a matter entirely for the court to

GRAINS COLLAPSE

CHICAGO, July 9.—A sharp break in Liverpool wheat prices, with much enlarged official estimates of Germany's 1932 breadstuff crops, gave grain values here a black eye today.

Nearly all the wheat consuming countries of Europe were reported as preparing to start using their new domestic wheat as soon and as long as possible, and keep the import of foreign wheat down to a minimum.

Wheat closed nervous, 3/4-1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn 1/4-1/2 down, oats also 1/4-1/2 off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1/2 cents.

Adding to the downward pressure on wheat were advices that despite Lausanne developments, which it was asserted should improve credit conditions, overseas importers were buying very sparingly.

Spring wheat reports were less unanimously bearish today, some observers indicating a decided change for black rust developments.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Export sales of corn limited by lack of offerings, demand being confined to white corn.

Wheat—July 47 1/2, 48 1/2; September 50-50 1/2 51 1/2; December 53 1/2-54, 54 1/2-55. Corn—September 21 1/2, 22; December 31 1/2-32, 31 1/2-32.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, July 9.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Livestock trade during the week under review was featured by an unevenly higher market on most classes of cattle with demand for strictly grain-fed steers and yearlings very active.

The week's advance of 50-100 on better grades of fed steers and yearlings placed quotations around $1.75 higher than the low spot in May. Aggregate receipts at eleven markets for the week which included a holiday totaled 107,400 as compared with 745,176 last week and 749,946 the corresponding period a year ago.

Hog prices are unevenly steady to 40 higher as compared with a week ago. On Friday Chicago had a top of $5.50. Total offerings were around 276,400, a decrease of 26,000 from last week and 87,000 short of a year ago.

Port receipts 4,968, for season 9,945,429, last season 8,946,127. Exports 15,226, for season 8,328,552, last season 6,613,229. Port stock 2,563,648, last season 2,932,309. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 50,568, last year 58,934. Spot sales at southern markets 1,334, last year 888.

COTTON LOWER

NEW ORLEANS, July 9.—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Cotton prices developed a decided downward trend in quiet trading today.

WAR DEBT--

United States would have to re-consider these debts.

REPEAL--

Libertarian laws, they differed as to the best methods of obtaining this end.

"We're going to do our duty," Thomas B. Lowe of Dallas, former state senator, former democratic national committeeman for Texas and one of the Hoover democratic leaders four years ago, "I don't think we know yet just what our duty is going to be."

Some thought drys ought to vote republican, although sentiment against that party's stand for re-approval was evident. Others thought they should vote democratic and the group declared itself devoted to that party's principles and traditions, while disgusted with its stand on repeal and the repeal attitude of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates.

Urges Independence. Some expressed opinion the drys should leave both major parties and act independently. One of these was George W. Armstrong of Fort Worth, who said he was so opposed with the democratic repeal plank he had decided to run for governor as an independent. Another was Dr. J. B. Cranfill of Dallas, who announced his support of William D. Upshaw, presidential nominee of the prohibition party. Dr. Cranfill was the vice-presidential nominee of that party many years ago.

Mrs. Claude de Van Watts of Austin, state president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, lauded the group with the cry "there are too many cowards among us."

B. D. Sartin of Wichita Falls, democratic candidate for congressman-at-large, also challenged the meeting not to fear defeat "because there aren't enough wets in Texas to beat us only half organized."

The resolution, which went over until Monday under the rules, declared that congress alone had the power to modify the debt agreement and it had "officially declared its unwillingness to further reduce the indebtedness."

Administration senators also expressed opposition to any further reductions of the $1,000,000,000 obligations owed this country, and indicated no such move was contemplated by the administration at this time.

your presence and by your presence, than I can tell you.

When we came to Pampa there was nothing much here but wide-open spaces, a blue sky, plenty of sunshine, and a citizenship determined to build an empire. This was the environment that I was schooled in; how apt a pupil I have made, you are the better judge.

Not so long ago Pampa was a little village with nine hundred people. In the last few years we have built a city of ten thousand people out of this little village. We have brought in the C. & O. W. railroad, the new Denver railroad, have built public highways and modern the conference report was adopted, because they believed its defeat would result in a prolonged deadlock between house and senate that would jeopardize plans for early adjournment.

Fourteen republicans voted with 29 democrats to adopt the report. Five democrats, 25 republicans and shipstead, the lone farmer laborite, opposed it.

As finally approved the bill carries $300,000,000 for emergency relief loans to states, a public construction fund of $222,000,000 and authorization for the reconstruction corporation to borrow an additional $1,500,000,000 for public and private loans to increase employment.

Congressional leaders considered attaching the new bill to another $300,000,000 relief measure which has already passed the senate and is now pending before the house banking committee. This would speed up procedure.

Senate leaders were elated that afternoon. "Pampa citizens will want to be the first over the scenic route of the new railway. The line passes through some of the most interesting and picturesque country in the Panhandle."

Keen interest is being shown in Childress, where plans for bringing hundreds of citizens to Pampa July 15 will be completed Monday.
