All Plans For Cashing Soldiers' Bonus Killed by House Group

FOES TO KILL ANY MOVE TO FORCE A VOTE

CAN'T BRING ISSUE TO A VOTE BEFORE JUNE 13

SPECIAL RULE PROPOSED

PLAN FOR DISCHARGE PETITION VOTE IS HALTED

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—All plans for cashing the $2,000,000,000 soldiers' bonus were rejected today by the House Ways and Means committee on a 15 to 10 vote.

The committee further voted to report the new-money bills to the house adversely.

This action creates a parliamentary situation that will delay any effort to force a house vote through a discharge petition.

Acting Chairman Crisp announced the committee action but declined to give out the individual vote of members. All the 26 members were recorded, some by proxies.

Representative Patman (D., Tex.), chief bonus advocate, has opposed the committee action making an unfavorable report to the house. Under the rules, Patman says June 13 would be the first day on which a vote could be forced through a petition signed by 146 members.

Representative Rainey of Illinois, the democratic leader, was designated by the committee to make the discharge report to the house.

The course now open to bonus advocates is the introduction of a special rule to give the bonus bills a preferred legislative status. Such a resolution would go to the rules committee and should this committee fail to act after seven days a discharge petition would be in order.

Twenty Colts In Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6. (AP)—Twenty thoroughbred three-year-olds were entered today for the 58th running of the Kentucky Derby tomorrow afternoon at Churchill Downs.

Among them were the favorite, Tick On, owned by Mrs. G. Kaufman of New York, quoted at two to one odds, and the E. R. Bradley entry, Brother Joe and Biggo King, second choice at four to one. The race will be run over the mile and a quarter about 5 p. m., central standard time.

Probably only 15 will face the barrier tomorrow, however, since four are doubtful starters, Crystal Prince, Thistle Ace, Our Fancy and Oee Tee.

Derby scratches cannot be made after 7 o'clock of the morning of the race.

Among the entries was Hoops, Chestnut Gelding, which put himself into derby class by his sensational time of 1:37 3-5 in winning a mile race yesterday.

Liberty Limited, of the Thrice D's stable at Arlington Downs, Texas, was quoted at the probable odds of 12 to 1. M. Garner was named the jockey.

Bank Robbed And Employee Kidnaped

PAOLA, Kan., May 6. (AP)—The Miami County National Bank was robbed this morning of currency estimated at $10,000 by four men who shielded their escape by kidnaping four of the institution's employees.

The robbers' car was driven thru the streets of Paola with the bank employees held on the running board to prevent the fire of vigilantes who were mobilized hastily by Sheriff Joe Achey.

When the sedan bearing the robbers cleared the business section it slowed down momentarily to permit the hostages to leap from the automobile.

Needs Mother Nature

Man was not made to be cooped up in offices and to bend over desks wrestling with figures by artificial light. Man, like plants, needs the sun's rays. He needs to have fresh air forced into his lungs by outdoor exercise. He needs to unbend and to escape the bad effects of bad postures at his work.

Play A-While

In short, most of us really and even actually need to play. Play accomplishes the physical results in a pleasurable manner. And pleasure is what makes exercise palatable. The first result of play when just begun is exhilaration, then fatigue, then soreness and stiffness. After a week or so of play, these symptoms disappear because the body has accustomed itself to the change—has become "toned."

Yes, Teachers Play

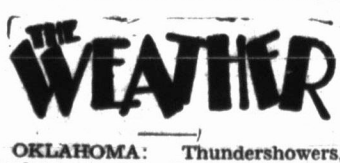

There are some folks who look with disdain upon playground baseball, golf, and other forms of outdoor play. We would like for these critics to watch, for example, the Faculty ball team in its vigorous, well-timed play. The teachers, practicing often, are perfectly conditioned and would if examined prove to be far better off physically than most business men. We grant that work is necessary, but we dispute that it is necessary, or even advisable, to stay indoors as much as many men and women habitually do. "As we journey through life, let us live by the way."

Popularity Explained

There is an instinctive spirit of play in old and young. Frontier Days appeals to all alike because it awakens this latent impulse. People like the odd, the unusual, the spectacular, the hazardous. Frontier Days can be made, by adding pageantry in future years, a most attractive celebration. Since Pampa started the promotion of the idea, leaders of many cities have regretted their not having originated it in this territory themselves. But Frontier Days can succeed as the event should only when and if the citizens catch the spirit of the occasion and instill that spirit in the visitors.

FINALS HERE TONIGHT

BATHING GIRLS ARE LOVELIER THAN IN PAST

"MISS NORTH PLAINS" WILL BE SELECTED AT LA NORA

Sixteen bathing beauties, mostly of high school age and type, delighted a packed house at the La Nora theater last night with their fresh beauty and charming personalities. The occasion was the beauty contest held by David Dallas, director of the beach revue contests, to determine which of the Pampa girls shall enter the North Plains contest at the theater tonight as "Miss Pampa."

The winner of tonight's contest will receive a free trip to Roswell, N. M., where the "Queen of the West" will be chosen.

The most striking aspect of the contest this year was the youth of the entrants. Most of the contestants were high school girls. There too, the number of redheads, blondes and brunets was about equal. There were no strong contrasts as far as beauty is concerned.

The names of six of the 15 Pampa girls who competed last night will be announced before the finals this evening, and the six will compete in the finals with "Miss Canadian," "Miss Clairemont," "Miss White Deer," "Miss Carson County," "Miss Panhandle," "Miss Skellytown."

The beauty of the Pampa girls was on the whole more striking than that of contestants in previous years. Mr. Dallas said he was thoroughly satisfied with the quality of feminine pulchritude displayed last night.

Police Officer Suspended After Shooting Youth

FORT WORTH, May 6. (AP)—Lonnie Wilkerson was suspended from the police department today pending a grand jury investigation of his shooting of Buster Grimsley, 17, at Ridgela golf course last night. Walter Grimsley, father of the youth, said he would prosecute the policeman.

The youth, with a bullet wound in his back, was in a critical condition today and physicians held little hope for his recovery.

He and two other youths had been hunting for lost golf balls at the edge of Ridgela. C. M. Jones, course manager, complained to police and two officers, Wilkerson and Roy Montgomery, were detailed. When they called to the boys, they ran. Several shots were fired. One struck Grimsley in the back, narrowly missed his heart and plowed down through his chest.

EDITOR URGES PUBLICATION OF EXPENDITURES AS METHOD OF REMOVING CORRUPT OFFICERS

AMARILLO, May 6. (AP)—"The best method of exposing and removing inefficient and spendthrift politicians is through the publication of public expenditure," said W. A. Halcomb, of the Moore County News, Dumas, in addressing the Panhandle Press association this morning.

DOUMER MIGHT DIE FROM TWO GRAVE WOUNDS

"WHITE" RUSSIAN FIRES FOUR SHOTS AND HURTS THREE

IN CRITICAL CONDITION

PARIS, May 6. (AP)—President Paul Doumer, 74-year-old head of the French republic, was critically wounded today by an assassin identified as a "white" Russian.

Two blood transfusions and a trepanning operation were performed immediately and the doctors held out some hope that the president might recover.

The police hammered at the assassin until they learned that his name is Paul Gougouloff, that he had come here from Monaco especially to commit this crime and that his motive was revenge for the French refusal to intervene in Russia against the Bolsheviks.

This evening the ministry of the interior issued this statement:

"Today at three o'clock President Doumer, during a visit to an exhibition by war veteran writers, was the victim of an attempt on his life by a Russian anarchist who appears to be not in full possession of his faculties.

"The president was struck by a bullet in the head and another in the shoulder which caused a flesh wound. He third wound in the leg hospital where he received the attentive care of leading surgeons."

THIRD TRANSFUSION

PARIS, May 6. (AP)—At 8:30 o'clock tonight, President Doumer underwent a third transfusion. Loss of blood from a severed artery under his arm was causing the doctors considerable concern.

PARIS, May 6. (AP)—At Beaujon hospital this statement was issued at 5:30 o'clock by the physicians attending President Doumer: "The president was struck twice by bullets, once at the base of the cranium and the other just under the right shoulder-blade.

"There was extensive hemorrhage and a pronounced state of shock.

"Two transfusions have been made.

"The situation is very grave."

It was signed by nine doctors.

Reported DEAD

LONDON, May 6. (AP)—The press association reported this afternoon that it had learned in well informed quarters in Paris that President Doumer had died in a hospital of wounds inflicted by an assassin.

Later the association said the

The definition of a trepanning operation, or what is known in this country as a tre-phine operation. A French surgeon performed such an operation on President Doumer this morning after he was shot in the head. A tre-phine operation is where a small hole is drilled into the skull for probing purposes and to study the brain. Two bullets entered President Doumer's head but neither of them penetrated the brain.

Anti-Tammany Crowd Divided

AUSTIN, May 6. (AP)—The Anti-Tammany Democrats of Texas who stood together so solidly in the revolt of 1928 against the election of Alfred E. Smith to the presidency of the United States seem to be out of step this presidential year.

Former State Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, one of the prime movers in the successful plan to have Texas cast its vote for the Republican nominee, has advised the party Democrats to take the party fealty pledge and participate in the precinct presidential conventions next Saturday.

Love tried in the supreme court to compel the state Democratic executive committee to rescind a fealty pledge it ordered taken by precinct convention participants.

"There never was a time when the votes of dry Democrats were so badly needed by the Democratic primaries," he said.

Moody counseled the Anti-Tammany element of the party to refuse to submit to the fealty pledge by remaining away from the precinct conventions.

"Where coercion begins, Democracy ends," Moody stated. "There remains but one course for men and women who are determined to repudiate the alien Tammany-like machine control of their national party—that is to remain away from these Texas presidential precinct conventions," he said.

The other Moody-former Governor Dan Moody—who remained true to his Democratic faith in 1928 and voted the ticket, although he was displeased with Smith's nomination, will take the pledge next Saturday and again stand by the party nominees, whoever they may be, he said.

Husband of Ann Harding Is Ready To Seek Divorce

RENO, Nevada, May 6. (AP)—Harry Banister today was eligible to seek a Reno divorce from his actress wife, Ann Harding, but Hollywood dispatches said Miss Harding would file suit for the divorce.

Banister arrived here March 23, after he and Miss Harding announced in letters to the press they planned to end their marriage. His six-week residence, required by Nevada law, is completed.

Though he denied reports his wife planned to come to Reno, Hollywood dispatches quoted her representatives as saying she would file here today.

Nevada's divorce laws permit either party to file suit, regardless of which has established the required residence. Miss Harding would be permitted to file suit on her arrival. It is also possible the suit may be heard and decided immediately after it is filed.

Miss Harding's representatives in Hollywood gave no reason for the plan under which she would sue for the divorce instead of her husband.

In their letters to the press, Banister and Miss Harding said they both desired he re-establish himself in the acting profession and no longer be a "mere background for her activities."

They said Banister had become known chiefly as "Ann Harding's husband."

Fraser and Mrs. Paul Kasinik presided at the tea table, which was centered with a beautiful floral arrangement, on either side of which was a lighted green taper. The table was covered with lace over green.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Tom E. Rose, president, Mrs. Ivy Duncan, Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald, and Mrs. I. B. Huhghey.

Program Given

Mrs. Rose gave the introductory remarks and introduced Mrs. J. Porter Malone, who was in charge of the program. Mrs. May Foreman Carr played two piano selections, "The Dance of the Witches," and as an encore, "To Spring." Then the seventh district octette of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs sang its winning selections, "Water Lilies" and "Will of the Wisp." Miss Loma Groom was director and Mrs. Carr pianist. The octette is composed of the following: First sopranos: Mrs. W. R. Chafin and Mrs. W. A. Bratton; second sopranos: Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Mrs. A. H. Doucette; first altos: Mrs. Raymond Marshall and Mrs. Tom E. Rose; second altos: Mrs. A. W. Mann and Mrs. Charlie Thut.

Mrs. Malone gave a brief summary of the year's sociology study, explaining that programs had been given on the family, social pathology, health and disease, and race problems. She introduced Dr. Dufort, who said in part:

A Recent Science

"The control of environment is the aim of all mankind. Primitive man developed 'magic' by which to obtain the object of his desire. We have gone further than this. We have done wonderfully well in the development of industries, but there is one thing we have not learned to control—human nature. Much has been done in the field of sociology, however, within the last ten years.

"We are born animals. We become human. When children live among the lower animals without contact with other human beings, they become like those animals. Human beings are born with instincts which will react in certain ways to certain environment.

Why Criminology

"We've attempted to account for criminals or great men by inheritance, but there is not sufficient proof to substantiate the theories that such qualities are inherited.

"A person inherits a tendency to act. The raw material is the impulse, which is a rambling, vague, undefined something, ready to be stimulated by environment. The social order can make of incoming generations anything it wants to if it understands human nature. We are going to learn to control human nature as soon as the leadership of the country becomes familiar with the sociological principals which have been worked out by specialists.

Group's Importance

"Attitudes, habits, wishes, and behavior are the results of the interaction that takes place between persons or groups.

"A mother can direct the energy of her child in any field of endeavor.

"An individual acquires the thing called 'self' when he begins to respond to his own behavior in the same way that he responds to the behavior of others. It is in times of crises that we acquire such characteristics.

"We fall out with children because we expect them to act as grown-ups. We forget that habit formation takes a long time.

"A person tends to measure in intelligence to that imputed to him by others, and his trend is downward if the attitude of others toward him is adverse. Status in the group must be maintained, or an individual will become disintegrated, insane."

Three Country Highway Planned

BROWNSVILLE, May 6. (AP)—Prospects of an important three countries highway linking Canada, Mexico and the United States thru Brownsville appear much brighter in view of recent developments in road projects.

Following decision of the state highway department of Texas to recommend extension of U. S. highway No. 77 from Dallas to Corpus Christi comes the further announcement that the state is prepared to pave through Kennedy county, just north of Brownsville, if the right-of-way can be secured.

This matter is expected to be arranged, and would result in the extension of highway No. 77, which starts at the Canadian border, on to Brownsville.

Then from Mexico comes the announcement that the federal government of that republic is contemplating taking over the present state highway from Victoria, capital of Tamaulipas, to Matamoros, just across the border from Brownsville.

Part of this road has been approved, and a federal appropriation of 600,000 pesos for the construction of bridges on it has been made. If the Mexican federal government takes it over the road will become a part of the Pan-American system of highways in the republic, and will be paved, the same as the Laredo to Monterrey road.

This will make Brownsville the gateway on this important international highway, starting in Canada, and extending on down through Mexico City and on to the Pacific coast.

Valley people and other South Texas interests are working now to get the Kennedy county road paving carried through, while powerful influences are at work in Mexico, to get the designation of the Victoria to Matamoros highway.

Randolph Field Just Too Small

SAN ANTONIO, May 6. (AP)—Randolph Field, the largest flying field in the United States, is too small for Lee Chang, Chinese student flier.

Chang took off from Randolph Field recently on his first solo flight with every intention of circling the field and landing. But he became lost.

An hour and a half later he came down at Kelly Field, just as his gas supply was exhausted.

At Kelly Field he told of the mysterious disappearance of Randolph Field. For an hour he searched for the flying field and San Antonio, he said, and finding himself over a lake and river, picked up a highway that led him to San Antonio. As he approached the city he saw two airplanes and followed them. They landed and he followed—for his first visit to Kelly Field.

Examination revealed that the last drop of gas had been exhausted by his motor.

Chang was unwilling to take off for Randolph Field alone after his ship had been refueled for fear he might not be able to find it and a Kelly Field plane escorted him to his home hangars.

Mrs. P. R. Pond returned yesterday from Winfield, Kan., where she spent the past two weeks with relatives.

SAN ANTONIO SETS RECORD FOR ONE-RUN CONTESTS

FOOT WORTH'S LUCK TURNING BACK TO WINS

HOUSTON IS VICTOR AS SPUDS FAIL TO BINGLE

BY BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer The San Antonio Indians have registered something of a record in the Texas League even if they are in fifth place. Last night when Dallas beat them, 4 to 3, it made their seventh straight one run ball game and three were extra inning affairs. Of the seven games, the Indians won two and lost five.

The league leading Fort Worth Cats returned to winning from yesterday by beating Beaumont, 11 to 7. George Grant started for the Cats but the Exporters got to him for four runs and five hits in 2-3 of an inning. Clarence Pickrel relieved Grant and stopped the Exporters without runs for the next six innings while his mates proceeded to drive Luke Hamlin to the showers, treated Guy Green rough and took kindly to Schulz's mound offerings. Baker, Fort Worth third baseman, connected with one in the fifth and rode it out of the park with the bases loaded.

Roy Moss, pitcher, and Joe Medwick, slugging outfielder, co-operated yesterday to give Houston a 13 to 1 victory over Wichita Falls. Moss held the Spudders to six hits, struck out four and pitched eight consecutive innings of shutout ball. Joe Medwick went to bat five times, made three hits, drove in five runs, scored a run and topped the day off by getting in his collection of three hits, a home run and double. It was his tenth home run of the season.

The scheduled game between Shreveport and Galveston was postponed because of Wednesday's fire at Shreveport where the ball park burned.

OLYMPIC HOPES

Off his 1931 record, and what he has shown in the current outdoor season, lanky Bill Graber of Southern California must be considered a possible winner of the Olympic pole vault championship. The Trojan vaulter is the one outstanding bet to crack the official world record of 14 feet 1 1/2 inches between now and the close of the international contests at Los Angeles. Graber fractured the intercollegiate record a year ago as a sophomore, clearing 14 feet 1/2 inch. In early season he injured his leg, but of late has returned to competition completely recovered. In one of his first efforts since his injury healed, he cleared 13 feet 8 inches, which is evidence that he will soon reach, and perhaps surpass, 1931 form.

KENTUCKY DERBY, WITHOUT FAVORITES, LOSES MUCH OF ITS OLD APPEAL FOR FANS

Outsiders Given Chance To Win, but Tick On is Wagering Tip Now. By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6 (AP)—It's still the one horse race in America that really grips the imagination of the sports-following public. This Kentucky derby, but its 58th running tomorrow around the picturesque oval at Churchill Downs lacks much of its customary glamour, and most of its usual thoroughbred class.

For the very reason that the field is more wide open than in years it may be a better and more exciting race, even if no more than a dozen or so go to the barrier, but the uncertainty and unrest of the times has unquestionably struck this classic of Old Kentucky.

Within four days this week, the great filly Top Flight, winter book favorite; Burning Blaze, western star; and Universe, winner of the Wood Memorial, all were withdrawn. And just as though the "gate" had not already felt the blow coming, the weather man says it looks like rain for derby day.

Tick On, the handsome black son of On Watch and star of the Loma stable, owned by Mrs. Louis G. Kaufman of New York, is the nearest thing now to a standout, at odds of 2 to 1. Perhaps this eastern colt is the best of a sub-normal field but there are plenty of experts who want to see it demonstrated before they will agree.

Run earlier than usual, the derby may develop a new three-year-old sensation but the railbirds do not look for anything approaching Twenty Grand's record performance of 2:01 4/5 last year.

While surprises are being considered it may be well to keep an eye on Hoops, a chestnut gelding owned by W. F. Knebelkamp. This horse, not previously considered in the pre-derby calculations, came tearing down the stretch at his Downs yesterday to win a claiming race at a mile, in the starting time of 1:37 3/5. Immediately its owner announced Hoops would be entered in the $50,000 classic, along with Adobe Post, owned by C. H. Knebelkamp and Richard Morris.

The consensus, however, is that the derby winner likely will be found among these four entries: "Tick On"; Burgoon King, paired with Brother Joe as Col. E. R. Bradley's entry; Economic, the speedy property of J. H. Louchéim; and Stepenfitch, coupled with over time of the entry of Mrs. John Hay Whitney, the former Mary Elizabeth Altamus of Philadelphia, whose colors appear in the classic for the first time.

The Three D's stable of Fort Worth has a long-shot contender in Liberty Limited but this bay colt's chances cannot be overlooked, despite uncertain workouts and tender feet. It has the speed to beat any horse in the field, is sustained over the full route of a mile and a quarter, but hasn't won a race since derby day of last year.

NO HITS—NO RUNS SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 6 (AP)—The first no-hit, no-run game of the 1932 Pacific coast baseball league season is credited to Tony Freitas, a left-hander, of Sacramento.

Freitas blanked Oakland last night and won 2 to 0. No Oakland batter reached first until the seventh and then on a walk. Another pass was given in the ninth. Freitas fanned five.

FERRELL HAS LOST CONTROL OF ATHLETICS

LASTS SEVEN INNINGS BUT IS NICKED FOR 12 HITS

By GAYLE TALBOT Associated Press Sports Writer Wesley Ferrell won more games than any righthander in the American league last season, 22 of them, but he still is just a "cousin" to the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Cleveland ace started against the Mackmen six times last year, was knocked out of the box twice and charged with five defeats, almost half his total of reverses against all clubs. He didn't win one.

When he finally threw in the sponge in the seventh inning he had been raked for 12 hits and the score was 11 to 2. The final count, after the A's had finished up on Pete Jablonowski, was 15 to 3, and the Indians had slipped from second place into third, behind the idle Detroit Tigers.

Lefty Grove held the invaders to six hits, struck out five and didn't allow a blow until the seventh.

In the only other American league tussle, St. Louis rallied to score nine runs in the sixth and seventh rounds and defeat Boston, 11 to 3. Bump Hadley held the Red Sox to seven hits.

Thanks to two errors by their opponents, Brooklyn opened their western tour with a 2 to 1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Moore's wild throw from the outfield gave the Dodgers their first run off Charley Root in the sixth, and Stan Heck's fumble put Lopez on base with the winning run in the seventh.

Ernie Lombardi, big catcher, returned to the Cincinnati lineup to knock in a triple and prove a big factor in the Reds' 9 to 6 defeat of Boston.

MAGS GO TO SKELLYTOWN NEXT SUNDAY

Local Team Practices Daily To Bolster Defenses for Next Contest.

The Magnolia "Mags" will do their ball playing in Skellytown Sunday afternoon when they meet the fast Skellytown town team that has yet to lose a game this season. The Skelly team is composed of veterans who worked together all last season.

Voss or Casey will get the call to hurl for the Magnolia boys, with Freddy Bozeman behind the bat. Carroll of no hit, near run fame, will be in the box for Skellytown with Bryant behind the bat.

The "Mags" have been practicing every afternoon this week in an effort to bolster up their defense which cracked last Sunday afternoon to let the Texaco Stars of Amarillo win. The Pampa boys committed eight errors behind the good pitching of Rayburn Burke.

The Magnolias and Skellytown were rivals last year in the Gray-Carson league and it was Skelly that gave the "Mags" nearly all their trouble in winning the pennant. The game is set for 2:30 o'clock. Many Pampa fans plan to accompany the team to Skellytown.

MAY MOVE CLUB TOPEKA, Kan., May 6 (AP)—A proposal for transfer of the Joplin club of the Western Association to Topeka was up for decision today at a meeting of club owners at Independence.

The session was called late yesterday by Dale Gear, president of the association. Requests for permission to make the transfer came from William Fleischaker, president of the Joplin organization.

Other teams in the association are Springfield, Mo., Independence, Kan., Fort Smith, Ark., Bartlesville and Muskogee, Okla.

The Finn has sired two Kentucky derby winners, Zev in 1923 and Flying Ebony in 1925.

Burleigh Grimes refuses to throw his "splitter" for photographers fearing lest he disclose the "secret" of his preparation of the ball.

1932-33 BASKETBALL SQUAD PUTS HOPE AND PRIDE INTO MINDS OF COACHES DAILY

LETTER MEN SHOWING MUCH SPEED IN PRACTICE

Pampa's 1932-33 edition basketball team is looking better every afternoon. The boys are going through a three-week training period. Coaches Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox have 15 boys out for spring practice.

The first spring squad appears to be fast and accurate already this season. Captain Robert Woodward and Miles Marbaugh are being used on forward positions. Foot Fullingim is doing the jumping at center. Wayne Kelley and Jess Patton are the guards. All the players are letter men from last season.

Lettermen substitutes who are making things interesting for the squadmen are Bill Kelley, Jim Pool, Gerdis Schmidt, and Dick Sullins. Members of last season's Gordias who are out for spring practice are Carmen Howard, Lloyd Hamilton, Orville Heiskell, Ernest McDuffie and Shorty Combs.

Billy Martin, a nephew of Pepper Martin, is a track and field star at an Oklahoma City grade school.

Joe Dawson, Kansas City Blue hurler, spent two years out of baseball in the aviation game.

Dick Hartman, a Nashville, Tenn., bowler, flagged 18,641 pins in 16 hours of bowling.

A son of Fritz Pollard, famous negro All-American football player at Brown in 1916, is a star hurler of Senn high school, Chicago.

Charley Jamieson, ousted by Joe Vosmik from the outfield at Cleveland, is third base coach when he is not pinch hitting.

Two former Indians of Cleveland who played on the world championship team of 1920 are tutoring college nines. They are "Smoky" Joe Wood at Yale and Larry Garner at Vermont.

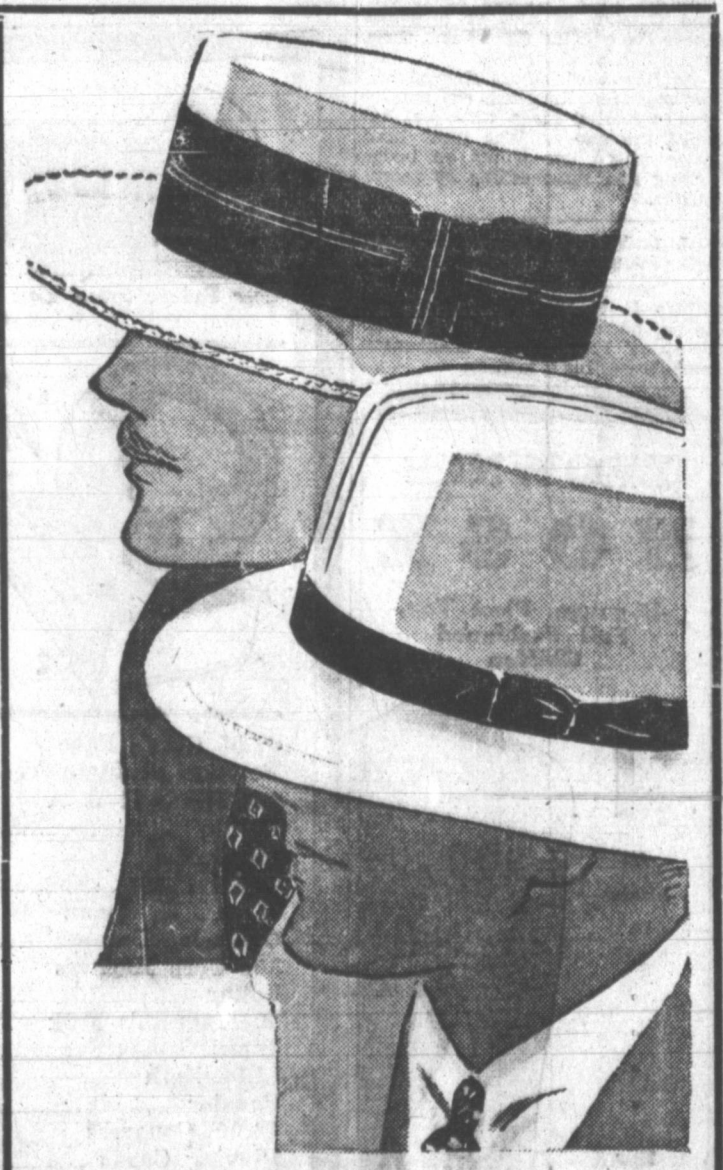

KERVILLE, May 6 (AP)—The wolves and mountain lions that used to steal the ranchmen's calves have been supplanted by the bullfrogs that steal their turkeys. John Henderson, Honey Creek ranchman, saw his flock of 30 infant turkeys diminishing at a rapid rate. He loaded his shotgun and stood watch for the prowler. A bullfrog leaped from the creek and made off with a turkey. Henderson waited and killed the frog on his next appearance.

GRID STAR KILLS SELF PANOLA, Ala., May 6 (AP)—William S. "Country" Oliver, 23, former University of Alabama football star, shot and killed his sweetheart, Miss Lottie Simmons, 21, critically wounded his brother, Clate Oliver, 45, and killed himself here today. There were no witnesses and a motive for the shooting was not determined.

The Virginia baseball team has made its best record this year since 1924.

Cocklebur Bill Halts Drilling Wells In City

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 6. (AP)—Governor William H. (Alfalfa) Bill Murray today drew his much-used weapon—the state's military arm—to halt the march of oil derricks into Oklahoma City.

Declaring property and lives were endangered by oil development inside the city, the chief executive invoked martial law to prevent further drilling operations within the capital's limit.

The order did not include the U-7 drilling zone, in which development has been allowed by city ordinance.

Pointing out that wells are being drilled within a few blocks of the city's wholesale and business district, Governor Murray said any further extension of the drilling zone would create fire hazards which would send insurance rates soaring.

"Back to Farm" Move Is Opposed

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—Wholesale "back-to-the-farm" movement of industrial unemployed is opposed by the national advisory and legislative committee on land use, created under the direction of Secretary Hyde.

Citing personal tragedies and group distress attendant on such efforts in the past, the committee has requested congress to give the agriculture department authority to guide the movements now taking hold in many large industrial centers and which may react against farmers.

There is need, the committee said, for a public policy in guiding and directing them and in preventing exploitation, resulting in the adoption of unwise types of land settlement.

Efforts to promote colonies on unemployment on undeveloped lands was frowned on by the committee.

The advisory group said in its opinion the best opportunity of aiding the jobless is through providing some of them with land near large cities on which they can raise sufficient food in gardens to tide them over.

Dress Uniform May Be Changed

STEPHENVILLE, May 6. (AP)—By their own choice, ceeds in John Tarleton College will continue to wear blue chambrays, but will change their dress uniform next year.

A committee of students elected by the girls conferred with Miss Mary Hope Westbrook, dean of women, in regard to changing the uniform, and plans were approved at a mass meeting of the women students.

The chambray—so practical for wearing in chemistry and food labs, and so convenient for getting on in the rush of meeting an eight o'clock class—has won a place in the girls' affections from which it will not be ousted. The navy flat crepe dress uniform, on the other hand, has failed to prove its specific use, according to the girls' vote, and it was given the go-by.

In place of the navy crepe, the girls will have a dress uniform of white cotton pique, made by the same pattern as their chambrays, to wear on special occasions such as at football games, Armistice Day programs, and other daytime functions when an artistic effect may be created by uniform dress.

Black oxford ties with flat or Cuban heels will be worn, with gum-metal or black hose. A uniform wrap and hat were also adopted, a short black leather jacket and a black felt beret, to be worn with the uniform except in very cold weather when special permits may be granted for woolen dresses and heavy coats.

Defendants Win in School Ouster

LAREDO, May 6. (AP)—Defendants in the Laredo school trustee ouster case gained a victory here when District Judge J. P. Mullally sustained their plea of abatement. The case was dismissed.

Plaintiffs then asked for and were granted permission to file separate spits against the four trustees, touching on the same cause. Defendants in the case were President Joe C. Martin, Ben C. Salinas, Fred H. Ligarde and M. S. Ryan.

The plaintiffs immediately filed the four separate suits and the defendants in open court accepted service. The cases probably will come up for hearing Friday.

Political opponents of the trustees were seeking their removal on the ground that each holds another civil office beside the school board position.

Lavender Stages Comeback In Golf

DALLAS, May 6. (AP)—After two years of mediocre golf, Dennis Lavender, 1929 Texas amateur champion and 1927 Texas municipal champion, went out after the Dallas city golf championship today. His opponent in the 36-hole finals was Jack Jackson. Both entered the tournament as municipal players.

Featuring yesterday's semifinal round was Lavender's 2 and 1 victory over Gus Moreland, Texas amateur champion and candidate for the United States Walker cup team. It was the first time since 1929 Lavender and Moreland had met in a tournament match and when the former won, it made his fourth consecutive win from Moreland. Lavender, also a former West Texas champion, has never been runner-up in a tournament. He was favored to beat Jackson today who entered the finals by beating David Clark, Oak Cliff (Dallas) high school star, 7 and 5.

Lavender's victory over Moreland was Gus' first defeat this year by an amateur.

Policeman Shoots Boy on Golf Links

FORT WORTH, May 6. (AP)—Buster Grimsley, 17, was in a hospital today suffering from a bullet wound inflicted yesterday as he fled from a golf course where he had been discovered picking up balls.

The bullet was fired by Policeman Lonnie Wilkerson who said he shot at the ground to stop Grimsley and his two companions, the pellet striking a rock and rebounding to hit Grimsley.

Grimsley said he didn't think he was "stealing" the golf balls he was picking up around the edge of the course. "I don't know what I ran for," he added. "I just got scared and ran."

Grimsley's young companions were taken to the police station.

Bank Guaranty Passage Seen

WASHINGTON, May 6. (AP)—The prediction that the Steagall billion dollar bank deposit guaranty bill would "pass the house" was made today by Representative Bankhead of Alabama, one of the democratic leaders.

Bankhead made his prediction just after the rules committee had concluded hearings at which Representative Hancock (D., N. C.) had said the "effect of the bill would be to put a premium on incompetence and irresponsibility." The committee declines to give the bill legislative right of way but Bankhead expected that to be done later.

Representative Shallenbeger (D., Neb.) endorsed the measure, recalling that in 1907 he was elected governor of Nebraska on a platform containing a pledge to support a state bank deposit guaranty fund.

Fred Sington, former Alabama football star, is playing first base with the Columbus, Ga., Foxes of the Southeastern league.

Austrian Cabinet Resigns In Body

VIENNA, May 6. (AP)—The Austrian cabinet, headed by Chancellor Karl Buresch, resigned today.

The resignations, presented to President Miklas by Buresch, were accepted but the chancellor continued to the president's request that he continue in office until a new government is formed.

The resignation followed a clamor for dissolution of the parliament and a call for new elections as a result of the provincial voting April 24 in which the Fascists showed spectacular strength.

The chancellor resisted the demands for dissolution, pointing out the disadvantages of calling an election in these critical times.

MUCH IN CANTALOUPE Pecos, May 6. (AP)—A total of 2,500 acres is to be planted in cantaloupes in the vicinity around Pecos this season, a survey among growers and prospective growers shows.

There will be about a thousand acres around Pecos; about a thousand at Balmorhea and Saragosa; and about 500 acres at Fort Stockton.

Most of the farmers have arranged to market through the Pecos Cantaloupe association.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: ESAU SELLS HIS BIRTHRIGHT. (Temperance Lesson.)

Scripture Lesson: Genesis 26:27-34.

27. And the boys grew; and Esau was a skilful hunter, a man of the field; and Jacob was a quiet man, dwelling in tents.

28. Now Isaac loved Esau, because he did eat of his venison; and Rebekah loved Jacob.

29. And Jacob boiled pottage; and Esau came in from the field, and he was faint:

30. And Esau said to Jacob, feed me, I pray thee, with that same red pottage; for I am faint: therefore sell me thy name today.

31. And Jacob said, Sell me first thy birthright.

32. And Esau said, Behold, I am about to die: and what profit shall the birthright do to me?

33. And Jacob said, Swear to me first; and he swore unto him; and he sold his birthright unto Jacob.

34. And Jacob gave Esau bread and pottage of lentils; and he did eat, and drink, and rose up, and went his way: so Esau despised his birthright.

Gold Text: Every man that triveth in the games exerciseth self-control in all things.—I Cor. 9:25.

Introduction

We have now come to the third of the great patriarchs, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. "In Jacob we have contrast, not only to the greatness of Abraham, but to his godliness; and to the godliness of Isaac too. When we read the life of Jacob, the first idea we get is the exceedingly painful one that, occupying such a position as he does in the kingdom of God, he should seem to be so unworthy of it. Yet on second thought, we see how much there is to be learned from this very thing. In the first place, it strikes us how faithful the Bible is; how honest in telling us exactly what the man was, and not setting before us what he ought to have been. It is a most healthy contrast to the style of biography where men's virtues and excellencies only are held up to view, and nothing said about their faults. And then there is this special value in a life like Jacob's, that it shows how much God's grace can make of the very poorest material. The man Jacob became the mighty Israel, a prince with God."—Rev. John Monro Gibson, D. D.

This is especially suited for a temperance lesson, because it exhibits so strikingly the harm that comes from yielding the sensual appetites to that of Esau, we see the desire for intoxication, and at the same time, as we bear in mind the character of Jacob in such a strong way out of the mire of intemperance.

Rebekah, the Mother

From the glimpses which come to us of Rebekah, she was a woman of unusual energy; she was much like her wild son Esau. And as those things come to pass frequently, the quiet, gentle father selected his wild son as his favorite, and the energetic mother took as her favorite the gentle, home-loving Jacob. Opposite often attract in a strong way.

Nowhere does the Bible sanction the lying deception which Jacob practiced in the matter of securing the blessing of his father; nor does it condone the shrewd practice of taking advantage of Esau when he was hungry and tired and thus securing the birthright for a mere nothing.

Jacob the Supplanter

The world is full of Jacob's, of suppliants, of those who crowd others out of their place and seize it for themselves. We call the process competition, and we glorify those who are successful at it. It is a process precisely opposite to the Christian conception of life, which care for the weaker and exalts the humble. Christianity, of course, does not teach that a strong man shall fall to use his strength, that a progressive man shall hold himself back, a man of ability curb his ability; but Christianity teaches that none of these things shall be done at the expense of the weak, the timid, the underprivileged, or the stupid, but that every man shall have a fair chance, and no man be tripped up in his honest efforts to reach his goal.

Esau the Hunter

"And the boys grew." The principle of growth implanted in man by his Creator will never let him alone. He must move somewhere, either forward or backward. He must be making something of his life, something sublime if something ignoble. So the growth of John the Baptist is related: "The child grew, and waxed strong in spirit." So the growth of Jesus is set forth twice: "The child grew, and waxed strong, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him." And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men." But no two boys grow just alike, not even twins, the sons of Isaac and Rebekah, grew up in very different fashion. Esau was a man for this world; a man addicted to his sports, for he was a hunter, and a man that knew how to live by his wits, for he was a cunning hunter; recreation was his business, he studied the art of it, and spent all his time in it.

Jacob, Lover of Home

"And Jacob was a quiet man, dwelling in tents." Let not this description imply that Jacob was less enterprising than Esau; he was far more enterprising, but in a different way. His was enterprise of the study, Esau's of the fields. His enterprise was thoughtful, Esau's was vigorous. His enterprise was of the brain and heart, Esau's was of the hands and feet. Their characters were still further different. "Esau is the man of the present; Jacob is the man of the future. Esau is never able to look beyond the hour; Jacob has his thoughts always on the morrow. Esau is absorbed in the pleasures of sense; Jacob is intent on the pursuit of gain. Esau cares for nothing but a merry life; Jacob is willing to endure laborious days in the acquisition of it, whatever miseries may have tion of material wealth. Esau has the disposition of a spendthrift; Jacob has the nature of a miser."—Rev. George Matheson, D. D.

Sold His Birthright

"And he sold his birthright unto Jacob." "What was this birthright, and was Jacob justified in securing it as he did? In patriarchal times the first born succeeded his father as head of the family, inherited a double portion of his father's goods, and had the right to act as priest for the family and tribe. But the promise to Abraham declared, 'In thee, and in thy seed, shall all the families of the earth be blessed,' and therefore the birthright in the chosen family constituted its possessor the father, after the flesh, of the Messiah who was to come. Now Jacob believed this; believed, too, the revelation made to his mother, 'the elder shall serve the younger,' and he coveted the blessing."—Rev. F. A. D. Launt, D. D.

Jacob took a bad way to get a good thing. God designed the good thing for him, and best deserving of it; and if Jacob had allowed God to take his own course, doubtless he would have received the birthright without sinning against his brother. But, like many of us, he was too impatient to bide God's time.

"We should never take advantage of another's weakness or stress of any kind to drive a sharp bargain with him. If a man is compelled to sell a piece of property to raise money to meet an urgent need, an honorable neighbor will not use the other's misfortune to get the property at less than its true value. One who has money to lend should not take advantage of another's necessity to exact usurious interest. No one should take advantage of another's ignorance to impose upon him or to deceive him."—J. R. Miller.

Self-Indulgence

Self-indulgence is one of the giant sins of twentieth century America. One recalls as typical the cry, "We want beer," with which a shallow-thinking group tried to drown out arguments for prohibition at a recent American Legion convention. "Whatever may have been the history of the liquor traffic, whatever may have been the moral, economic and political fruits been caused by drink, may be entirely forgotten, since we want beer!" If we want it we ought to have it, even if it wrecks homes, crushes individuals, endangers life, corrupts legal-ures, and sows the seeds of national disaster! "We want beer" is the modern cry of Esau, who was ready to sell his birthright for a mess of pottage. It speaks volumes for appetite, nothing for manhood.

Cost of Sinful Pleasure

The lesson furnishes a fine opportunity for emphasizing the price that some people pay for the gratification of their fleshly desires. Esau's folly is being committed before our eyes every day. For the sake of a piece of fruit, Adam and Eve sacrificed their inheritance and spiritual death to the world. Lot's wife must take one long look back upon Sodom, and a pillar of salt is the monument to her folly. For the sake of a woman's caresses, Samson lost his hair, his strength, his sight, his all. David indulged a forbidden love for Bathsheba, lost his communion with God, and left an ugly blot upon his name and his posterity. And Judas, for thirty pieces of silver, betrayed his Master, and left the blackest name that ever marked the pages of history.

Two solemn warnings we cannot forget in connection with this lesson: (1) Never sacrifice spiritual interests to the appetites of the flesh. The Spirit and the flesh are contrary the one to the other, the flesh pulling one way and the Spirit the other. (2) Never sacrifice the future for their present. Immediate enjoyment must not outweigh future blessedness.

"Whenever a man lets go his hold on a higher, greater good, in order to match at a lower, he repeats poor Esau's stupid blunder."—Rev. George Jackson.

"We barter life for pottage! sell true bliss, For wealth or power, for pleasure or renown. Thus, Esau-like our Father's blessing miss, Then wash with fruitless tears our faded crown."—John Keble.

Bob Fuss, right fielder for Wichita Falls, in the Texas circuit, set a league mark last year with out one error in 146 games.

Are you hand-capped at the office?

To put in a full day's work, you need a full man's strength. A man, half-sick from constipation, has less chance to succeed in today's keen competition.

This insidious condition often causes headaches, loss of energy, sleeplessness. It takes the edge from your working hours.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also has iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it becomes a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. How much better than using pills and drugs—so often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Wheat Conditions Poor, But That Should Mean Better Prices Soon

KANSAS CITY, May 6 (AP)—Plotted by Wiley Post of globe-circling fame, J. F. Kroulil, president of the Yukon Mill and Grain company of Oklahoma City and a member of the Chicago board of trade, completed an aerial inspection of wheat conditions in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas in slightly less than a day.

"I saw the wheat roots everywhere we went," Mr. Kroulil said when his plane landed here Tuesday after hedge-hopping over three states.

"I saw no water, absolutely no indications of water," Mr. Kroulil continued, "at least, not until we had passed Wichita and moved northeast."

"Dry," said Post, who has had his experiences with water.

Here is Mr. Kroulil's summary of wheat conditions in the vast south-west belt:

From Oklahoma City to Elk City, fair to good; from Elk City to Amarillo, Tex., very poor; From Amarillo through the Panhandle, terrible; from the Panhandle to Dodge City, poor and from that last zone on into Kansas City gradually improved by comparison to the first zone.

CONCERT DATE SET

CANYON, May 6 (AP)—The annual concert of the Canyon Madrigal club which was postponed from April 26 will be given May 17 according to Mr. Wallace R. Clark, director of the club. D. A. Clippinger of Chicago, director of the Chicago Madrigal club, will be guest conductor for the concert. Invitations have been extended to all music teachers and music lovers throughout the Panhandle to attend the concert.

"Cut-Out" Water Analysis Received

Water from a "cut-out" water line in the southeast part of the city, sent to the state health department at Austin for analysis, showed contamination, according to a report received yesterday by Dr. V. E. von Brunow, county health officer.

Worms found in the water by a resident of that part of the city were not identified by the department because the letter asking classification of the worms was received too late.

It is Dr. Brunow's opinion that the water system is free from contamination except in the cut-out lines. "These cut-outs are placed in the line to be of use in freezing weather the beyond lines at the houses will not freeze," he said. "When the cut-out is left open, forms of contamination may enter.

KING GEORGE NAMESAKE WILL HAVE DUCAL RANK

LONDON (AP)—Prince George, the handsome 4th son of King George may be created a duke in the king's birthday list on June 3.

The prince will be 30 in December and since he is already older than any of his brothers when they were made dukes, it is not expected that the title will be withheld much longer.

The Prince of Wales is Duke of Cornwall, Prince Albert is Duke of York and Prince Henry is Duke of Gloucester.

May Brings Many Developments In Troubled Crude Oil Industry

DALLAS, May 6 (AP)—The Polychromatic chronicles of the East Texas oil field were further enlivened at the advent of May with charges of theft of a million barrels of petroleum.

More than a score of men were arrested for theft or conspiracy. Grand juries were convened in two counties. Members of the state railroad commission went to the field to assist in the inquiry. The million barrels were only an estimate. In none of the cases were precise figures offered.

The supreme court of the United States agreed to decide finally if Governor R. S. Sterling acted within his authority when he enforced proration in the field by proclaiming martial law. Though a federal court long since had enjoined proration by military power, national guardsmen were still in the area as agents of the railroad commission. Soldiers, it was revealed, took a leading part in uncovering the asserted thefts.

The railroad commission, at successive meetings, had reduced the allowable in the field to 61 barrels per well daily, with a still lower figure to prevail in the latter half of May. The progressive decreases in the per well output were necessitated by continued drilling of new wells.

Early in April the price of crude was raised 15 cents per barrel over most of the midcontinent area. The East Texas price went to 98 cents, with $1 posted in many sections. Several companies met the advances reluctantly, protesting that general economic conditions did not justify an increase. President W. S. Farish of the Humble company con-

ARSON PLOT NIPPED

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—An arson plot that would have destroyed a huge garage and 92 trucks and passenger cars was nipped by the quick action of an employe early today. Five men, after kidnaping two employes of the garage, pumped 52 gallons of gasoline on the floor and automobiles and had lighted a newspaper as a torch to set flame to the place when another employe changed by. He turned in a police alarm and fired through the window.

The Texas courts upheld legislation designed to give the state its share of the East Texas oil by allowing leases of the Sabine river bed. The law permits agreements to be made between the state and owners of adjoining land by which the state may receive a share of the oil without actual drilling in the river bed.

SKILLED RIDER HERE TO ENTER RODEO EVENTS

Jonas de Armand, one of the best known riders in the southwest, arrived in Pampa yesterday with his pet horses and will remain until after the Frontier Days celebration May 26-28. Jonas says he is all set to take some of the prize money if not a large amount of it.

His brother will arrive later for the big rodeo events in connection with the celebration. Sheriff Lon L. Blanscet, in charge of the celebration, is receiving letters daily from some of the best known rodeo stars and trick performers in the country asking for information about the celebration. Letters were received this morning from Velda and Louis Tindall of Fort Worth, Tad and Buck Lucas of Fort Worth, and Herb and Betty Meyers of Okmulgee.

Sheriff Blanscet left this morning for Alice to contract for a bunch of Brahmas for the rodeo.

You Can't Marry

by Julia Cleft-Addams
SYNOPSIS: One day with Garth Avenue, whom she loves, although she thinks he likes her, Jennie goes to see him. She is going to see him before she goes to see her father. She is going to see him before she goes to see her father. She is going to see him before she goes to see her father.

THE DOCTOR SCENTS MYSTERY

GILL continued to look steadily at Jenny.
"Maybe he's awkward, for instance, if that gentleman in the car outside was to be told that you'd got married when you hadn't," he said and Jenny saw for the first time that his eyes were very wise and kind.

"He is very early," she said half to herself. "It isn't nearly ten."
She moved to the door and Gill stood aside. Gill—oh yes, of course Gill had very decently asked her if she would object to his telling people that it was she who was Mrs. Townsend.

"You may tell people it was I," she said—"after today. Today is going to be mine."
Gill grinned. He, too, was staring out at the car under the portico. He opened the door for Jenny to pass out—and still he stared.

As she stepped out on to the pavement she saw that Gill had seen—that Garth Avenue, with a sudden shrug and a jerk, had switched on his engine again and was driving away.

"Praps the gentleman has mistaken the time," suggested Mrs. Bigger. She had joined them in the doorway. "How would it be if Mr. Gill was to holler after him, dearie, and let him know you're here?"

Jenny shook her head and moved away. She felt cold in the blazing sunshine and most utterly forlorn. Gill and Mrs. Bigger might watch the slowly retreating car until it turned the corner, but she could not.

Gill was walking at her side. "No sense in letting anyone think you're married when you aren't," he commented in his abrupt way. "I shan't say nothing, one way or the other—takes a lot of questions, to get anything out of me. But there's no sense in your letting Miss Revell—"

"I'm very glad to let Miss Revell say anything she likes," said Jenny as he paused. "I'm most awfully glad she can make use of me. You needn't consider me, Gill. Thank you, though, all the same."

Gill grinned. Arveney's care had disappeared; the street was empty. Jenny crossed back to the hotel and went inside. The lounge was cool and held very few people. An intricate gilt clock on the mantelpiece showed ten minutes to ten. She sat quietly down by the window.

It was, after all, reasonable to suppose that Garth had found himself ahead of his appointment and had only gone for a few minutes and would return. Reasonable to sit and wait while the gilt hands sluggishly moved to ten o'clock.

Nevertheless, she knew quite positively that he would not come. He had not been at a loss as to her whereabouts. It was simply that he had arranged to take her motor and had got as far as her door and then had decided that he could not, honestly, face the prospect of a whole day in her company. Later on, no doubt, he would send some formal excuse.

Why should he bother about George's cousin—when it was George with whom he had fallen in love? "It says here—about that firm man Townsend—" suddenly remarked an old lady in a corner, refolding her paper—"that he had only just got married when he had that accident."

"Yes," nodded the slightly younger lady near her. "I remember him. He had dreadful dyspepsia; that accounted for his temper, people said. I remember his wife, too, poor little soul."

"I didn't know he had one." "She died . . . She was a very beautiful girl. Very fair and timid. Quite unable, I should say, to stand up to him. If you have finished with that illustrated paper, may I have it?"

Man's Viewpoint To Be Stressed By Cooking Expert
Much study has been devoted to the art of cookery. The governing rules are economy, artistry, labor-saving and taste. But it has developed upon Mrs. Leona Rusk Irlig, home economics expert, who will conduct the NEWS Cooking School at the city auditorium May 17-20 to find out just what men think about food and how far they go toward developing several innate likes and dislikes in his everyday meals.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer
With waistlines and elbow sleeves, taking their places in the fashions again, many a woman is longing for a suggestion of a curve or a dimple in her elbow. Of course she who has kept herself "slyph-like" by means of rigid dieting will have little difficulty in adding her pounds as she will, but the girl who is just naturally too thin has a different problem to solve.

Underweight is seldom altogether a matter of diet, although the other causes usually go hand in hand with faulty food habits of some sort. The person who is too thin because of some obscure physical disorder, mental conflict or over-work, faces a different problem than the one who is underweight on account of faulty food habits.

The underweight who has no appetite should select foods which will stimulate a desire for food. Lack of appetite and small consumption of food usually goes with small stomach capacity. As the appetite increases and the amount of food eaten each meal increases, the capacity of the stomach for food increases with inevitable reaction of a natural desire for food.

Rest May Be Needed
The person who is thin due to an inordinate amount of activity in proportion to his physical ability to hold sufficient food to maintain the activity and at the same time gain in weight must increase his sleep and rest periods.

Then there are the underweights who have the appetite and desire to gain but who do not eat the right foods. There are the persons who will find it easy to gain if they follow the rules.

The following suggestions are specific and will form a working basis for the underweights whom the dietitian can help.
Fruits, succulent vegetables, yeast breads and meat broths stimulate the appetite. These foods make for perfect elimination which is essential for good health before a gainful diet can be considered.

Plenty of good wholesome food normally required by everybody must be supplied before adding the so-called "fattening" foods. The excessive use of weight-gaining foods alone would do more harm than good. The following general menu for a day should be kept in mind.

Tomorrow's Menu
Breakfast: Stewed fish, cereal, cream, broiled cottage ham, creamed potatoes, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon: Baked spinach and cheese, icebox rolls, lemon chiffon pie, milk, tea.

Dinner: Broiled hamburger steak, hot horseradish sauce, twice-baked sweet potatoes, new cabbage with hot dressing, cream puffs filled with strawberry stuff, milk, coffee.

Breakfast: Fruit, cereal with cream, eggs or their equivalent, toast, coffee.
Luncheon: Cream vegetable soup, croutons, fresh fruit or vegetable salad, bread or rolls with butter, rice pudding, tea.

Dinner: Consomme, meat, potato cooked vegetable, raw vegetable or salad, bread and butter, dessert.

After this diet has been provided the reinforcement can be brought in. However, in the rest to add fats and carbohydrates to one's diet, care must be taken to prevent stomach upsets. One of the safest ways to add fats is in the seasoning of vegetables, serving cream with the breakfast cereal, using desserts which contain cream with fruit and using extra bread and butter. Milk and eggs are fattening and if plenty of fresh vegetables are used, can be included lavishly in a gaining diet.

A quart of milk a day for an adult in place of his usual pint, an extra egg, cheese, salted nuts, a piece of candy after luncheon or dinner—these together with larger portions of food generally will effect an appreciable gain in weight for the too-thin person.

Exercise in the fresh air and plenty of sleep will insure good healthy flesh under a clear complexion if the background of a correct diet has been provided.

weeks later Mr. Curran, to whose association Mr. Raskob has been one of the heaviest contributors, described the Byrd plan as a political trick full of evasion and delay.
Nearly every responsible leader of the anti-prohibitionists has said repeatedly that he does not favor restoration of the saloon. In other words, the position has been that mere repeal, and a return to the old days, never would do; that some less sweeping plan of control must be substituted.

Curran says his association will stand for "straight repeal," presumably with nothing but state control substituted. How many of the anti-prohibition leaders who are committed against the saloon, will see in this plan the best prospect of rallying a majority to overturn the present regime?

And if any substitute at all is to be submitted, which shall it be? A hundred have been proposed, ranging from licensed manufacture of beer and wine only, or a complete system of governmental liquor selling. Each has its partisans, and no wide agreement ever has appeared in favor of any single one.

PLENTY OF OBSTACLES
The longer you speculate on this situation, the more numerous appear the obstacles in the way of immediate action.
How long will it take the drys to agree on any single plan? How much longer will it take to find a formula that any considerable number of wets also will accept?

And after that, how long will it take to get a resubmission proposal past the barrier of legislative red tape in congress and in three-quarters of the states?
Whoever can see the answer to these questions will be able to forecast accurately when—if ever—wets and drys will agree to rest their case before the great jury of the American electorate.

MEANTIME, the prohibition amendment remains.
TO CUT LINDY'S TIME
HAVANA, May 6 (AP)—Lou Reichers hopes to cut in half Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's flying time from New York to Paris when he hops off from Newark airport on his proposed two-stop flight to the French capital.

Before leaving here this week after a test flight from Montreal, Reichers told his hopes to fly the route in half of Lindbergh's 33 hours, 24 minutes time.

CO-EDS WIN ELECTION
AUSTIN, May 6 (AP)—Co-ed students made a clean sweep in the election of officers to serve next year's junior class at the University of Texas. Co-eds were elected the officers of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

Annabel Murray of Austin was elected president; Julia Brown of Orange, vice president; Margaret Grasty of Austin, secretary and Floriene Hopkins of Austin, treasurer.

"Hobo" Carson, pitcher for the Kansas City Blues, is also coach at a San Antonio, Tex., high school.

DELAY FOR M'GANEAL
FORT WORTH, May 6 (AP)—Barney McGaneal, 38, and two others with a continuance of their robbery case in criminal district court today because of the absence of a witness relied on by the defense to prove an alibi.

Henri Bishop, attorney for McGaneal, presented the motion, stating his client had been held incommunicado at the Eastman prison farm, on a 30-year sentence for murder, and therefore could not prepare his defense.

POLITICS at random
By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of the Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington.)
Predictions that a show-down on prohibition would be found just around the corner appear now to have been premature.

Despite all the noise and commotion of recent weeks, many thoughtful politicians are asking themselves whether any appreciable progress has been made toward a solution.

It is true that the controversy has, so to speak, changed its base. For a long time, opponents of the dry laws have led the agitation for a resubmission to the people, and the prohibitionists have been objecting. Now some of the drys are willing, but the form and conditions of the referendum have started a new dispute.

At first hurrah after hurrah went up from the ranks of the modificationists as an imposing succession of dry leaders, democrats and republicans, declared that under certain circumstances they would agree to a vote.

But now that the anti-prohibitionists have examined these various proposals in detail, they are going their exuberance. Henry H. Curran, chief of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, goes so far as to pronounce the whole batch of prohibitionist-sponsored referendum proposals a snare and delusion; designed to befog the issue and delay decisive action.

Whether Curran is right or wrong, it is important politically—particularly to straddlers—that the ancient enemies still are far, far apart.

NEITHER SIDE UNITED
Neither is this a matter on which there is unanimity among the wets or the drys.
Former Gov. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia wants to amend the constitution so as to make a referendum legally possible in case one should be decided on at some future time.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., endorses that in principle, with certain important reservations. Charles M. Hay of Missouri, long a political ally of anti-saloon league, also endorses it, with other important reservations.

Claudius Huston, former chairman of the republican national committee, favors giving physicians control over liquor dispensation. Senator Smith Brookhart of Iowa, proposes resubmission only after two-thirds of the States have asked for it.

Some drys will agree to submit a substitute, but not a flat repeal. Others oppose any resubmission at all. And there you are.

OPINIONS DIFFER
A single illustration will show how difficult it is going to be, on the other hand, to bring anti-prohibition leaders together behind any one scheme.

In the first blush of enthusiasm over the Byrd plan, Chairman John J. Raskob of the democratic national committee declared the proposal better than his own. Two

Tick On Favored As Derby Winner

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 6 (AP)—Rail birds at Churchill Downs registered the opinion that Tick On is "the horse to beat" today as they watched workouts of other Kentucky derby candidates, including a disappointing move by Liberty Limited.

The Three D's Stable's Liberty Limited, considered a strong contender for derby honors, performed in almost sensational fashion over five furlongs and then began to finish the mile and quarter derby route in disappointing fashion.

Liberty Limited covered the quarter in 23 2-5, three eighths in 35 2-5, half in 1:17 3-5, and five furlongs in 1:50 1-5 over a track that was cummy. Here Liberty Limited began to sulk and reached the three-quarter mark in 1:14 flat after permitting Sanfil, which was working with him, to pull ahead. Downer J. Mooney, who was riding Liberty Limited, applied the whip and the mile was completed in 1:52 4-5. Again Liberty Limited sulked, however, and refused to run the last quarter. He jogged past the mile and quarter mark in 2:12 1-2.

Handlers of Liberty Limited, however, were no less enthusiastic than before and maintained he would run "the race of his life" in the derby.

Husband Arrested For Killing Wife

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 6 (AP)—Police cast discredit today to Staley A. Puryear's account of his wife's and daughter's death and retained him in jail on a charge of murdering a negro he claims invaded their home Monday and killed them with an axe.

His version was that his wife's screams waked him and he fatally wounded the negro in an exchange of shots.

A negro named Will Johnson was found stumbling along the street near the Puryear home. He died later, after accusing Puryear of luring him to his house to move a cache of liquor and shooting him without reason.

After examining photographs of the bodies of Mrs. Puryear and her daughter, Aurelia E. Puryear, Sergeant William Lemmer said today he was convinced the blows on their heads precluded possibility of an entry from either.

WOMAN IS SENTENCED

CONWAY, Ark., May 6 (AP)—On her plea of guilty to a charge of robbery before the fact of robbery, Mrs. Mae Jolly was sentenced in circuit court today to four years in prison for her part in the theft of $1,000 of hidden cash from her brother-in-law, William Abrams, a farmer.

Roy DeWitt and Bye Sewell, arrested with her in St. Louis soon after the robbery, pleaded guilty and were given five years sentences.

Too Much Fire Fighting Is Enough

CHICAGO, May 6 (AP)—The fire men of suburban Forest Park don't mind a little work but there is such a thing as overdoing it.

Every time a two-story, dilapidated abandoned brick building caught fire they would run and put the blaze out, but it got to be a tiresome process, so they quit.

Three times last Tuesday, they extinguished fire at the building. Yesterday afternoon they were called on to repeat.

Last night they got another call, but they only stood by and let the building burn.

Fire Chief John Priest said possibly residents of the neighborhood, displeased with the appearance of the structure, were responsible for the fires.

In pre-prohibition days, the building housed a saloon.

Russia Said to Be Taking Wheat

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—While having no authentic reports, agriculture department grain officials said today it is quite likely that Russia has entered the world wheat market as a buyer and may take quantities of North American stocks.

They point out that the Soviet had a short crop last year and that rationing has been resorted to to provide seed for new planting and some wheat for export.

From press dispatches, officials have been wondering if the Russian purchases are not for the army in Siberia. It might be cheaper to buy wheat in Canada and ship it across the Pacific than to bring it up from Russian points.

It was held probable that Russia is buying western Canadian wheat because it is cheaper, and that may be the means of removing a large part of the North American wheat surplus.

KILLS MEXICAN

HOUSTON, May 6 (AP)—City Detective Angus W. Morrison early today shot and killed Federico Valdez, 27-year-old Mexican, as he pursued the Mexican into a street and tried to arrest him.

Morrison said Valdez turned in the course of the chase and advanced on him with a long-bladed knife.

Morrison was charged with murder and released on $1 bond.

GLUM SPRINGS IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Because of the crisis growing out of the Kreuger fair, students of the universities of Lund and Upsala abandoned for this year their annual celebration of the return of spring.

Battleships Use Smaller Guns

WASHINGTON, May 6 (AP)—Changes in the size of fighting ships have revised the war department's views on what is necessary for coast defense.

Major-General John W. Gulick, chief of coast artillery, made this known to the house appropriations committee before it suggested today that $2,334,816 be spent next year on seacoast defenses in the United States, Hawaii, and Panama.

While the army used to have to figure on defending the coast from attacks by battleships carrying 14 and 16-inch guns, General Gulick said, it now can expect a good portion of the assault from the lighter cruisers carrying only 8-inch guns.

Consequently, he added, fewer large weapons are needed. He insisted, however, upon remembering the merit of a 16-inch gun that can shoot "23 miles with very satisfactory results" as against an 8-inch gun that shoots a mere 19 miles.

The army is equipping these long range guns with firing control equipment that huris a shell every minute, very accurately, at a target out of sight. It also is developing a new mechanical detector that points anti-craft guns at airplanes without much help from man.

WOODWARD PUZZLED TOO

AUSTIN, May 6 (AP)—State Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, chief confidant of Governor R. E. Sterling, has not been let in on the chief executive's plans for the impending political campaign.

"I am puzzled as much as any one," Senator Woodward said today after an automobile trip, with the governor and himself, the sole occupants of the automobile, when asked if the governor intended to seek a second term.

WANTS RUSSIAN TRADE

BUENOS AIRES, May 6 (AP)—Argentina, which last fall raided and expelled the Yugoslavs, South American "trade organization" of Soviet Russia, was asked today to resume trade relations with the Soviets for the benefit of its own trade.

Augusto Bunge, independent socialist member of the chamber of deputies, introduced a bill last night calling for a renewal of trade relations. Discontinuation of commerce with Russia, he said, had had "deplorable effects" on Argentine economy.

FRENCH RELISH GRAMMAR

PARIS (AP)—The French Academy's recently completed grammar has become a best seller. Within a month 80,000 copies were sold. Special editions were sent to the president and members of the cabinet.

This Game of GOLF

Here is another one for the book, which I gleaned from Bill Rollow, baseball writer and golf addict of The Nashville TENNESSEAN, recently when Mr. Rollow was in Atlanta for the opening of the Southern league baseball season.

"Believe it or not," Mr. Rollow was saying, with no startling originality, "in the southeastern P. G. A. championship of 1929 at Nashville's Belle Meade Country Club course, one competitor played the eighth hole par 4, in just that many strokes, and his ball was never in the fairway, or in the rough, or in a hazard of any kind."

I pondered this one and, not naturally, gave it up. Try it on your own golf course.

"Don't keep me in suspense, Bill," I adjured him.

Bill grinned.

Tees For Two

"I thought that would stump you," he said. "You remember the layout of the eighth hole at Belle Meade? You know the fairway bends sharply to the right, bounded on that side by a stream and trees and things, and the big hitters like to shoot over the angle and leave themselves a medium pitch to the green instead of a big iron or a spoon, if they drive straight out past the angle or hit too far to the left.

"Well this player hit a long drive, a lot too far to the left. The ball bounded and rolled to the third tee, some 40 yards from the fairway for which he was aiming, and stopped there. He was a long spoon shot from the eighth green, and he hit a whale of a spoon. The ball carried over the green—and bounded up on the ninth tee, about 40 yards beyond the green. He played a neat pitch back to the green and holed the putt for a par 4."

This Belle Meade course appears to lend itself to quaint accomplishments, in golf. Mr. Rollow's demonstration of his apparently absurd statement reminded me of the performance by Mr. Allen Brown, brother unto Emmis Brown, of The American GOLFER, in the qualifying round of a tournament of some importance at Belle Meade, some years ago.

One At Bill

This, too, involves a trick statement which you are not normally inclined to believe at first hearing. Mr. Brown playing the 13th hole at Belle Meade, hit two shots out of bounds and finished with a par 4.

It was this way.

The 13th is an acute dogleg to the right, the boundary line being a macadam roadway with stone gutters. Mr. Brown hit a very long, high wind and handsome slice from the tee and the ball landed out of bounds on the farther side of the roadway, struck the stone gutter, and rebounded well inside the course—in the fairway.

Emboldened by this smile of providence, Mr. Brown then walloped a mashe shot which he intended to go toward the green, but which was shanked so emphatically that it flew off to the right, out of bounds, across the same road—now swerving sharply to the right. There it struck in the same gutter, and rebounded back into a large pot-bunker by the green.

It being clearly shown that nothing Mr. Brown could do would run him, he chipped out and holed a ten-foot putt for a par 4.

BELGIANS HOARD CASH

BRUSSELS (AP)—Belgian bankers estimate that hoarding of bank notes in this country has reached a total of about $130,000,000, or more than four billion Belgian francs.
