Pampa Special Train May Be Run Over New Railroad Next July 15

LOW RATE TO BE AVAILABLE FOR OCCASION

OTHER TRAINS ARE TO ARRIVE HERE AT NEAR NOON

WILL SERVE LUNCHEON

PROGRAM WILL BE AT CITY HALL IN AFTERNOON

The proposed plan for a celebration July 15 in connection with the entry of the Fort Worth and Denver railway from Childress, became a reality last night when the board of directors of the Board of City Development met. H. H. Durston, general executive agent, met with the board.

If plans materialize, a special train will leave Pampa about 6 a. m. July 15 and go to Childress over the new line. At Childress the Pampa delegation will meet special trains with visitors from Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, and Childress and will then return to Pampa, stopping at Wellington, Shamrock and other points. A stop will be made at LeFors on the return trip.

Mr. Durston told the board that he believed the special rate between Pampa and Childress would be little more than one cent per mile.

The special trains would arrive in Pampa about 1:30 p. m. It is planned to give the visiting railway officials and trippers on the special trains a meal. Admission will be by invitation only. Following the luncheon, it is planned to have a public program in front of the city hall.

The entertainment committee of the B. C. D. will meet later to plan the program.

Wheat Cutting Is Delayed by Rain

Approximately six car loads of wheat were received at Pampa elevators yesterday. The grain was tough and tested between 50 and 60 pounds. Top price was 28 cents for 60 pound wheat.

Cutting will be delayed a day or more by the half-inch rain which fell in this territory this morning. A cloudburst inundated farms in the Big Lake area, it was reported.

Yesterday was the first day farmers could get into their fields since the grain started to ripen. More than seven inches of rain has fallen in the Pampa territory this month.

Several farmers reported signs of rust in their grain.

I HEARD--

That F. A. Peck, assistant cashier at the First National bank, will leave Friday on his vacation. He will go from here to Reno, Nev., where he will see King Levinsky and Max Baer box July 4. From there he will go to California.

That Clyde Fatheree won first prize in a game of human ten pins following the Presbyterian Brotherhood meeting last night. Frank Foster was the head-pin.

The whistle of the first Fort Worth and Denver railway train over the new line last night, it surely was a welcome sound.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Thursday.

OKLAHOMA: Generally fair, tonight; Thursday partly cloudy.

—AND A SMILE—

BRISBANE, Australia—A round by round account of a redback spider's victory over a ten-foot snake has arrived at Queensland museum. Ascending a post, the snake made an error—he broke the spider's web. Whereupon the redback, pouncing on the reptile's head, bit him and clung until the thrashing snake died of the poison his foe injected.

NEED FOR ACTION ON HIGHWAY 88 TO CLINCH DESIGNATION IS UNDER DISCUSSION HERE TODAY

When summer comes, fall cannot be far behind. And with the coming of cool weather will arrive King Football and his ebullient cohorts.

Odus and Football

And that reminds us that Coach Odus Mitchell is in California absorbing Old Sol's healthful rays and getting ready to study football as it should be taught. Odus writes this column as follows:

"Just a line to say I am enjoying the Pampa NEWS and am leaving my present address (Berkeley) and my new address will be 1115 Bush St., Santa Ana, Cal. I am seeing a lot of interesting things. I saw Ben Eastman break two world records in one day. Next week I shall see the L.C.A.A. A.A. (whoa there Odus, we are limited on As) track meet here. The best boys of east to west will compete.

"I shall then leave for Southern California where I plan to attend a coaching school and see the Olympics. I expect to gather enough information and inspiration to carry on next term at school. BOY, HOW I WOULD LIKE TO SURPRISE AMARILLO NEXT FALL! And say, I am big enough to do it. I weigh 172 pounds and am still gaining.

"Good luck, and thanks for the paper."

Inspiring Thought

And is that footballistic? We can almost hear the thud of toe against leather. Pampa will be behind Odus to the last man, AND IT BEHOOVES THE HARVESTERS TO KEEP IN CONDITION FOR FOOTBALL.

Next season is going to be one of the hardest in the history of this district. Some of the smaller schools are going to have good years. It will ill behoove any team to think it has easy games in prospect.

Lend An Ear

We turn now to give ear to Ensign J. F. Kirkman, head of the Salvation Army work here. And when we say work, we mean that in the fullest sense. The Army has about 70 families to care for right now and even when the Welfare Board is functioning there is plenty to do. Ensign Kirkman has won many friends to the cause, but the point of this discourse is that one specific need stands out for attention.

Building Offered

The organization needs an auditorium for its religious services and adequate quarters for the staff. Ensign Kirkman has the offer of a two-story frame structure in Panhandle which can be moved here. He has about twenty truck drivers lined

State Funds Likely To Be Limited In Future

A possibility that the state highway department will not build highway 88 from Pampa to Clarendon as now planned if the county waits until late this year or next year to buy the wider right-of-way was expressed by several local citizens this morning.

This fear is based upon the belief of influential citizens throughout the state that next year the legislature will reduce the income of the state highway department, and distribute the proceeds of the gas tax. It is their opinion that the department will not spend half the money next year that it will spend this year, and that that being true, the department will build the most valuable and most-needed roads first.

Highway 88 is designated from Clarendon to Pampa. Road advocates of this section have hopes that when the Pampa-Clarendon stretch is paved, the road will be designated northward and paved, thereby enabling the residents of a rich section of the north plains to establish Pampa as their trading point.

Those who are anxious about the Pampa-Clarendon road believe that the department would take the attitude that the road would not be needed as badly as other in the state and would postpone its construction, perhaps abandoning the designation. However, most enthusiasts are of the opinion that the designation would not be abandoned, and that construction would be merely postponed.

At a recent meeting of the county commissioners, the court approved a resolution that the appointing committee to obtain right-of-way for the highway be deferred. Commissioner Lewis O. Cox voted against the motion.

The belief that the department would order construction of the road as soon as right-of-way is obtained, was expressed.

Street Crew Is Annoyed by Rains

George Latus, street maintenance superintendent, is almost losing his temper. Five times this month the city street department had put the unpaved streets in good condition only to have a rain follow either before the last street was worked or on the day the work was completed.

Every street in the city has been graded or dragged at least once since the rain last Saturday. Another rain fell this morning to make necessary another session of dragging and scraping. The crawling tracks is out of commission, and all the work has to be done with a shortage of equipment.

Much difficulty is being encountered in keeping the detour on Barnes street passable following the heavy rains. Unpaved streets leading into the city from highways are also rough.

Denebeim Funeral Held Last Night

Funeral services for Ralph A. Denebeim, 43, local merchant, who died from the effects of poison yesterday, were held last night at the O. C. Malone funeral home by the B'Nai Israel temple before the body was sent by train to Kansas City. The entire congregation of B'Nai Israel attended the service, and men of the group acted as pallbearers.

Funeral services will be held at Kansas City, where the body will be interred. Mrs. Denebeim, the widow, her two daughters, Flora Lee and Lela Mae, and Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Freeman and Miss Marjorie Modgling, a nurse, left on the same train for Kansas City. Among the survivors are 12 brothers and sisters and his father, A. Denebeim of Kansas City, who has frequently visited in Pampa. Mr. Denebeim was a brother of Mrs. August Gordon, now of Wichita, Kans., but formerly of Pampa, and J. J. (Doc) Denebeim who formerly lived here.

Mr. Denebeim was part owner of Gordon store. He moved here about two years ago.

The first paid shipment of freight over the Fort Worth & Denver Northern railroad was received here this morning. It was shipped from Fort Worth June 27 and arrived here yesterday. It was delivered this morning to the consignee, Ponca Wholesale company.

The shipment included three cases of cigars, White Owl and William Penn brand. It weighed 167 pounds. The Denver agent delivered the shipment in person to W. W. Waldron, manager of the Ponca Wholesale company.

Mr. Waldron pointed out that the merchandise arrived here a day after it was shipped.

Light and Power Rates Discussed in Commission Session

Electric rates in Pampa and means taken by other cities to get cheaper rates were discussed by city commissioners in regular session yesterday afternoon.

City Manager C. L. Stine made a report on the budgeting meeting held in Lubbock last Friday. He told the commissioners of the methods adopted by several cities. Tax Collector J. H. Blythe made a report on delinquent taxes.

The commission plans to purchase a second hand car for the water works department; also to buy summer uniforms for the police department. Officers are still wearing the heavy serge uniforms.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Seitz were given a permit to sell milk in the city.

Sheriff Is Slain By Crazy Negro

OPELIKA, Ala., June 29 (AP)—A crazed negro running amuck with a shotgun and razor here today killed his wife and Sheriff W. S. Jones, wounded two negroes and finally was slain by a posse.

The sheriff went to the home of the negro, Charles Taylor Matthews and his wife. A volley of shots fell on the officer as he entered the door.

Miller fled but the posse overtook him in a cornfield three miles away and shot him.

Thousands of Acres of Farm Land Near Sweetwater Now Under Water

ABILENE, June 29 (AP)—Flood waters of the Clear Fork of the Brazos, fed by heavy rains in the headwaters of acres of rich farm lands in the river bottoms north of Abilene. The town of Hawley, 15 miles north of this city and in the heart of the "shimmer," was marooned as the river swept out to a maximum width of one mile, causing a complete tieup of traffic on highway 4-30.

A motorboat trucked out from Abilene by members of the fire department chugged up to the front door of the Harlan Fields home, one fourth mile from the south bank of the river, and removed A. F. Fields and his wife, an expectant mother, to the home of A. F. Young, on the opposite bank.

In some fields near Hawley children were swimming in water four or five feet deep. Crop damage was reported to be heavy.

Burglars Ransack Offices Here Last Night But Obtain Nothing

Burglars learned last night that there are "poor pickins" on East Tyng street.

First they broke the lock off the door of the Continental Oil company at the corner of East Tyng and Starkweather, searched the place and left without any loot.

A shoplifter at the Army store was equally unsuccessful this morning. J. M. Stein caught him with a pair of pants and jumped on him, pinning his arms. Ben Reno of the NEWS went next door to call the police, but before officers arrived the man begged for and got his freedom.

Hayter Bros. Is Sold To "Louie"

A twenty-six year record as a merchant has been closed by W. T. Hayter, of Pampa and Clarendon, with the sale of stock and leasing of fixtures of Hayter Bros. clothing store here to Louis Kirsch of Amarillo.

Mr. Hayter opened a store in Clarendon in 1906 and another in Pampa at the beginning of the oil boom. He sold the Clarendon store some time ago, and will now devote his time to other interests.

Mr. Kirsch and his stores are widely known as "The Louie." He expressed appreciation of the fact that he found Hayter Bros. store filled with high class, standard brand merchandise, which his staff is marking down for a big sale to be announced soon.

Fergusonism To Be Opposed Here

That Fergusonism shall not thrive again unopposed in Texas politics has been determined by a Panhandle-wide organization being set up for the purpose.

Judge Newton P. Willis of Pampa will again head an organization here, assisted by a county-wide committee to be named soon. C. H. Walker and Olin E. Hinkle of Pampa have been named to assist him locally.

Governor Ross Sterling will be supported as the candidate with the best chance to defeat Fergusonism. Rallies will be held near the first primary.

COMMITTEE IN WARM SESSION BEFORE ACTION

GENERAL MEETING WILL BE HELD AT 7 O'CLOCK

REVENUE TARIFF DEBATED

SILVER CONFERENCE IS FINALLY PUT IN DOCUMENT

CHICAGO, June 29. (AP)—After five hours of wrangling over the next democratic campaign document, the democratic resolutions committee today adopted a prohibition plank committing the party in favor of repeal of the 18th amendment and immediate modification of the Volstead act.

This declaration was put into the democratic platform by the resolution committee after the majority report of the subcommittee for a submission plank, which did not commit the party, was rejected 35 to 18.

The surprised advocates of submission were undecided momentarily whether to carry the cause to the convention floor, but it was predicted they would make a minority report tonight.

The plank says in its first paragraph: "We favor the repeal of the 18th amendment."

The prohibition dispute reached after the committee had waded through extended disputes over the silver and tariff declarations the party would take to the people in the coming election.

It worked throughout the day while the convention was idling to await its report.

Vote is 35 to 17.

The vote on the prohibition plank was adopted 35 to 17.

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 29 (AP)—Its platform committee deadlocked over the prohibition plank, the democratic national convention killed time with odds and ends today, listened to an hour and a half of stump speeches and wise-cracking, and then recessed until 7 o'clock tonight.

The session which was to have begun at noon transacted no business. It did not actually come to order until nearly 1 o'clock, and then only for a moment, to stand in recess while a long succession of spellbinders and professional entertainers did their stuff for the waiting and restless delegates.

An hour and a half later, Chairman Walsh again called the convention back officially into session, but only long enough to announce that the platform committee could not report for at least several hours.

Bill Ridner driving a tractor and Jim Bodkins operating a combine in a field northwest of Pampa late yesterday. Because we like to see and hear wheels go round, wheat fall before a sickle, my young brother, "Hoot," my sister, Virginia, and I, followed the combine twice around the big field, relishing the whirl, the buzz, the swish, as we used to on our own farm. "Hoot" was disappointed because the sickle did not pick up any rabbits.

Let's of snut in the wheat in that field and others nearby on account of the big rains. Weeds also proved aggravating. Mr. Ridner said they couldn't begin cutting wheat until about 10 or 11 o'clock and they had to quit soon after sundown on account of the dampness.

INVESTIGATOR SAYS CURTIS HINDERED HIM

FLEMINGTON, N. J., June 29. (AP)—Frank J. Wilson, a federal operative who investigated activities of John Hughes Curtis, on trial for hindering capture of the Lindbergh baby kidnapers, testified today he had no way of knowing that Curtis knew the whereabouts of the kidnapers.

Wilson was a prosecution witness and was under cross examination this afternoon by Lloyd Fisher, chief counsel for Curtis. He expressed his opinion that Curtis' activities had interfered, to some extent, with the search for the kidnapers.

"Do you know who kidnaped Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.?" Fisher asked suddenly. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh eyed the witness steadily from the prosecution table. "No," Wilson answered.

Wilson, a special agent of the revenue department and one of the investigators whose work sent Al Capone to prison, refused to give the name of a mysterious man he said he had interviewed because of information given by Curtis.

PLANS ARE MADE TO HOLD EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS

MARKERS MEET FOR ALL-DAY SESSION HERE

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN
Sister Mary's cakes suitable to serve with fruit and ice cream during the summer months, sponge cake in many forms is the most popular and satisfactory. Its lightness and tenderness make it desirable for hot weather when heavy, rich cakes are particularly appealing as an accompaniment for fruit flavors. Children, too may enjoy this type of cake since it contains no butter to make it too rich and indigestible for small persons. A fine sponge cake contains no leavening such as soda or baking powder. Eggs alone are depended on for leavening. A small acid in the form of cream of tartar or acetic acid (vinegar) is added for the purpose of stiffening the albumen of the egg and to help keep the mixture from becoming too heavy. The choice of ingredients, manner of mixing and temperature of baking are very important factors in making a perfect sponge cake. The procedure is as follows: Beat the eggs until stiff once before leavening should be used. Chill Eggs Before Beating. When day eggs will beat better than winter ones. If the eggs are not chilled before beating they will be soft and the heat of the kitchen will have more effect on the white than it would if the eggs were of the same temperature as the room. The same principle of heat expansion the air beaten into the eggs tends to the baking of the cake. The steam which permits the expansion of the air to expand before the batter begins to bake, is the most satisfactory. In mixing the cake, care must be taken that none of the air which has been beaten into the eggs is lost. The ingredients must be thoroughly mixed, but the mixing must be done with a folding movement which does not break the air bubbles. Rough handling when

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker left this morning for their home in Pasadena, Cal. They have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wheeler of Pampa.

Put yolks into mixing bowl and beat with a rotary beater until thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in sugar. Add boiling water, 2 tablespoonsful at a time, beating with egg beater continuously. Beat hard and stir in flour which has been sifted six times after measuring. It's a good idea to sift the sugar, too, before combining it with the yolks of eggs. Add salt to whites of eggs and beat with a wire whisk until frothy. Sift over cream of tartar and beat until the whites stand up in peaks but are not dry. Fold into egg yolk mixture, using the wire whisk or a spatula. Turn into an oiled tube cake pan and bake one hour in a slow oven 330 degrees F. Turn cake upside down to cool in the pan. Invert on a rack to make an air space between the cake and melting board.
A lemon sponge cake is made by omitting the cream of tartar and adding two tablespoons lemon juice and the grated rind of one-half lemon to the egg yolks and sugar.

Mme. Lebrun, First Lady of France, Makes Modern Home in Huge Palace

By ADELAIDE KERR

PARIS, (AP)—The historic old mirrors of the French presidential palace reflect the image of a modern French woman, now that Mme. Albert Lebrun has stepped into it as first lady of the land.
The new hostess of the palace, in which the glamorous Empress Josephine once presided, keeps house by modern methods. She refuses to devote her entire day to problems of the menage, for she has kept abreast of affairs since the day she left the National School of Mines, which her father directed, to marry the future president of France.
She speaks English and is fond of both British and American literature. She maintains a wide interest in archaeology which she studied at the School of Mines. She loves music and slips away to a concert whenever she has the chance.
Between times she finds a few hours for charitable undertakings and to keep up with educational affairs.
Her 8-months old grandson, Pierre, and 3-year old granddaughter, Anna Marie, are her delight. They spent hours at the Luxembourg Palace when their grandmother presided there as wife of the president of the senate. Friends predict that the youngsters will be seen frequently in the imposing salons of the Elysees Palace.
Their mother is Mme. Pierre Freysee-Linard, daughter of President and Mme. Lebrun. The Freysee-Linard home is on the "left bank."
The presidential family circle is completed by Jean, son of the chief executive. He is an engineer and maintains a small apartment near his office.

TEAM UNABLE TO WIN THOSE CLOSE GAMES

BUT BILL HALLAHAN IS ANOTHER REASON FOR LOSS

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Probably the most cogent commentary on the tense character of the National League race lies in the fact that Cincinnati, with the best defensive record of any team in the circuit, cannot get out of eighth place.

The figures prove that Dan Howley's troupe has allowed opponents fewer runs per game than any team in either league, that its starting pitchers have more complete contests to their credit than any mound staff extant, yet they consistently come up with the wrong end of the score.

The secret of Cincinnati's misfortune lies in its inability to win the close ones. Eighteen times the Reds have been beaten by a single run, most of them well pitched, tightly fought affairs.

No explanation is necessary of the Reds' latest loss. They ran into Bill Hallahan yesterday and got only four hits. The score was St. Louis 6, Cincinnati 2.

Young Bobby Brown in another fine game as Boston defeated the Phillies, 5 to 2, and went into a virtual tie with Chicago for second place. New York and Brooklyn divided a pair, the Giants winning the first, 7 to 3, and the Dodgers the second, 5 to 3.

The Yankees demonstrated why they are kings of the American league in trimming Washington, 5 to 3. They made only four hits off Al Thomas, but two of them were homers by Lazzeri and Sewell and another was a single by Earle Combs with the bases laden.

The 19-year-old Lewis Krause made his first start of the season for the Athletics and granted seven hits in beating Boston, 5 to 2.

Hooks and Slides

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
Aftermath
The wise guys were right on that smelly Sharkey they well-nigh all "at noon" on the day of the fight. Broadway tipsters telegraphed their clientele to parlay the horse, Cutie Face, with Sharkey... and play both the horse and the fighter on the nose.

During the day before the fight, the office of Jimmy Johnston, the Boy Bandit of Broadway, promoter of the affair, became the meeting ground of a pretty well-nigh sword of newspaper men, fighters, light managers, lingers-on and disciples of the creed that everything is "in the bag"...

What! No Tickets!
Some of the visiting firemen became incensed at the Boy Bandit, arguing they had been double-crossed on legitimate press requests, like many who couldn't tell you a difference between a typewriter and a screw machine held choice bits in the working press section.

Called It

ix Can Take It
Not only can Max Schmeling, the voted incumbent, take a good stonk on the chin, but he can take tick in the pants, too, my friends. It proved that, and won a million admirers when he went over Jack and slapped his back and put his hands after being balloted out of the championship...

Guessing Is Poor
An essayist picked Schmeling for the next fight that is held under the auspices of the New York athletic commission will find this a hard nut to crack. The winner will be the third race at Saratoga. Bet money on the horses, boys, because you've got a chance to guess once in a while!

This Game of GOLF

Out in the great open spaces, where men are men and women are golfers, there is a Mrs. Walter Beyer, of Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Beyer, a pretty little woman of say 26 years of age, is not at all as robust-looking as most of our female champions. She has played the game three years.

Mrs. Beyer nevertheless set out after a two-weeks' record this summer with only four holes to play, was stopped, the last match of the last tournament was on the last green, and the last putt—just two yards—hit the cup, not perversely, stayed out.

Mrs. Beyer went to Hot Springs, Ark., as Oklahoma state champion, and played in the Trans-Mississippi championship late in May. The tournament is one of our better and faster events.

In the semi-final round Mrs. Beyer suddenly found herself 4 down with only four holes to play, to Miss Hilda Urbank of Austin, Texas. The Tulsa player then won the next extra one, and the match.

She won her final bout rather easily. This was on Saturday, May 26, on the course of the Hot Springs Golf and Country club. Monday, May 30, the women's southern championship started, at the same course. Mrs. Beyer started with it.

Second Big Try
Mrs. Beyer went straight through to the finals in a qualified division of 32 players, and there she met Mrs. Ben Fitzhugh of Vicksburg, Miss. The little Tulsa woman went after her more powerful adversary so vigorously that she was 2 up at the end of the morning round.

The Oklahoman obviously tiring as they went into the second half of the long match.

Turning Point
The turning point probably was at the long thirteenth, thirty-first hole of the match, where Mrs. Beyer, slowly yielding to a great rally by Mrs. Fitzhugh, still was 1 up, and with three fine shots to the green was stone dead with her approach put for a par 5. Mrs. Fitzhugh got a 4 and a squared. She won the next hole, and Mrs. Beyer laid an iron dead for a duce, to square at the fifteenth. Mrs. Fitzhugh went up one more at the sixteenth; and a stymie cut down Mrs. Beyer's bid at the seventeenth, and she putt stayed out at the last hole.

This was on the next Saturday. Two pretty fair weeks of competitive golf, for a 120-pound lady. She was bid that near to winning two important championships in a fortnight.

GOING GREAT

A TERRIBLY SLOW STARTER - HE WON SIXTEEN GAMES LAST SEASON

THE CHICAGO GUY SMELL'S SOMETHING GOOD !!

Sport Slants

By ALAN GOULD

Americans tennis fans who read the papers, and especially those fans around New Orleans, Memphis, Cincinnati, Chicago and Milwaukee, are beginning to believe that at least one Bill Tilden spotted an infant phenom who will live up to all advance bluffs.

A couple of years ago Tilden was quoted as saying that Frankie Parker of Milwaukee was the most promising player for his years that he, Tilden, had ever seen. That was when Parker, a 14-year-old lad of barely 100 pounds, had yet to win the national boys' title that came to him last summer.

Tilden has carried the torch for other prodigies of the courts, and has personally sponsored several, but none save Junior Coen has really rung the bell in top flight tennis and even Coen has not developed as sensationally as he started.

In the National play court meet at Memphis, the Tri-State at Cincinnati and the Western at Cincinnati his play was the talk of all galleries. He became an objective of autograph-seekers almost overnight following his great five-set final battle with Lot at Cincinnati, and his victory over the same player at Chicago four days later.

Galleries In Trance
Tennis devotees who watch the boy in action are enthralled by his workmanship and his unhurried, smooth stroking. As one galleryite in Chicago expressed it: "He hits every shot, no matter where or in what position, as though that particular shot were the one he had specialized in for years."

He's still not a big fellow by any means, but he's in rare good health and his 135-pound physique is well knit, which could not be said for "heshawny, 65-pound Frankie Parker who six years ago began lugging a cast-off battle torn racket into kid tournaments in Milwaukee.

Beasley The 'Clumbus'
Tilden, though, wasn't the real "discoverer" of Parker. Mercer Beasley, tennis coach of a Milwaukee club and at Tulane university, first detected Frankie's talent, interested a wealthy Milwaukee tennis fan in the boy, and this changed the whole course of his life. He was put in a country boarding school (his parents were not well off), given a set of body-building exercises and regulated diet, and a tennis tournament schedule was mapped for him. This included four successive starts in the National boys' meet at Culver, Ind., where he was a popular figure for three years before achieving the crown last summer.

Frankie's assortment of strokes is probably as complete and finely polished as any of the lesser internationalists, his temperament, on the court, and off it, is ideal, and his stamina is all that could be asked. If he has a weakness it is only that of lack of experience. And he's getting that, this summer.

LOCAL ROSTER WILL INCLUDE MANY STARS

COUNTY TEAMS WILL BE MERGED TO ENTER TOURNAMENT

The Pampa 66 ball club will enter the Amarillo tournament with one of the finest rosters since the old Pampa Grays won the championship two years in succession. Manager Eddie Pulliam has gathered several well known stars about him for the big event which opens Saturday.

There will be five pitchers on the top with the team that has been organized from Pampa, LeFors, Cotto, and Phillips teams, and a few outsiders. Several of the players have seen service in the big leagues. Others have played ball with fast professional teams.

Money to send the team to the tournament is being subscribed by local fans. More than $100 had been raised up to noon today. Several of the players cannot leave their jobs unless substitutes are hired. Some of the money will be used to employ the men. The rest of the money will go to defray expenses. The team will come back to Pampa each night.

Manager Pulliam is well known in baseball circles. He has played fast ball in his day. Fowler, who is in patrol the outfield, played with the Bivins Bulldogs in the tournament last year. He is a slugger and a fast fielder. Rusty Cahill, the veteran, will be on second base where he is at home. Bryan, Skellytown, will occupy first base. W. B. "Red" Weathered will be shifted to the outfield where he will be more at home.

Williamson at Third
Al Williamson, well known from the days of the Pampa Grays, will occupy his usual place on third base. Williamson is recognized as one of the fastest third basemen in this section. Freddy Newsome, the LeFors slugger, will be the other man in the outfield. He is also a hitter of ability. Jimmie Baldwin of LeFors, small and fast, will be shortstop.

The pitching staff will include two lefthanders and three righthanders. W. A. "Lefty" Freshour, Dallas Indian now with LeFors, will be one of the chief hopes of Manager Pulliam. Freshour spent two seasons with Baltimore in the International league. Lefty Finken, well known in these parts, or George Ketchum, Tulsa Indian, last season with Tulsa in the Western league, will also be available.

The righthanders will include George Meek, formerly with Milwaukee in the American association, Weathered of Kirkliland, brother of W. B. Weathered, and Clemons, 17 year old LeFors boy who will include Wyatt, an outfielder who spent one year with the New York Yankees, and Leo Shiver, Magnolia slugger. Freshour can take his place of first base or in the outfield. Fowler is also recognized as a first string catcher.

One or two changes may be made in the line-up before Thursday night, Manager Pulliam said this morning.

Practice Habit Offers Menace

By JOHNNY FARRELL
(As Told To Artie McGovern)

WAIT 'TIL I GET THIS DRIVE STRAIGHT!
YOU'RE LEAVING YOUR GAME HERE!

You often hear a remark to the effect that a prize fighter has left his stamina in his training quarters, and this same theory applies to the golfer who wastes his best shots on the tee.

Some practice is necessary, of course, but hitting balls off a practice tee for several hours at a time is not going to improve your game. Ten minutes each with the woods, the irons and the putter, is a fair amount of practice, but more than half an hour only brings about unnecessary physical exhaustion, blistered hands, and the realization that your game is far from perfect.

Yesterday's STARS

By The Associated Press
LeFors, June 28 (AP)—Made his first start and beat Red Sox on senior's list.
Tony Lazzeri and Joe Sewell, Yankees—Their home runs beat Senators, 5-2.
Johnny Frederick, Dodgers—Beat Giants in second game with eighth inning home run with one on.
Bobby Brown, Braves—Held Phillies to four hits and fanned six. Bill Hallahan, Cardinals—Stopped Reds with four hits.

Montana's fire loss in 1931 was slightly more than two million dollars, or three-quarters of a mill more than in 1930.

BEAUMONT TO PUT UP FIGHT IN LAST HALF

GEORGE SISLER GOING BACK TO BUSINESS IN ST. LOUIS

By The Associated Press
The Texas league embarked on the second half of the 1934 season today. Beaumont, winner of the first half race, enthusiastically set about annexing the championship of the second. The other clubs hoped to accept a reduction in salary. The new deal was the showing of Beaumont, rated at the start of the season as a comparatively young team.

The final standings showed the clubs finishing after the Exports in this order: Houston, Dallas, Longview, Galveston, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Tyler. Perhaps the biggest surprise of the first half was the showing of Beaumont, rated at the start of the season as a comparatively young team.

Tyler started the new race under a new leader, George Sisler, manager, having resigned when asked to accept a reduction in salary. Sisler planned to return to his business in St. Louis, while Walter Morris, business manager, assumed active direction of the club.

For the first day of the second half Dallas was matched with Fort Worth, Tyler with Longview, Galveston with San Antonio and Beaumont with Houston.

In final games yesterday, Houston defeated Dallas, 5 to 2. Heuser, holding the Steers to five hits, Galveston won from Longview, 3 to 2. Fort Worth stopped Beaumont, 5 to 4, scoring all its runs in the sixth inning.

TO TEACH LIFE SAVING
CANYON, June 28 (AP)—Canyon will be visited July 20 by Ned Campbell, special life saving field representative of the American Red Cross, who will assist in a series of first aid and life saving talks and demonstrations. These are being put on by the co-operation of the Randall county chapter, American Red Cross, co-operating with the West Texas State Teachers college physical education department, and the Canyon Rotary club.

A large class of young people will take the tests to qualify for the Red Cross life saving badge.

INVITATION IS DECLINED
SAN ANTONIO, June 28 (AP)—An invitation from Amarillo to shift San Antonio's baseball games to that city from July 26 to August 28 has been declined by President Homer Hammond of the Indians.

He pointed out, in the first place, that Amarillo is "off the beaten path" of the Texas League and transportation costs would be too high.

OIL HEARING IS SET

Texans Still at Work for Garner

CHICAGO, June 29. (AP)—The Texas delegation to the democratic national convention stepped firmly today by its plans to win the presidential nomination for John W. Garner of Uvalde, speaker of the house of representatives.

Undismayed by the series of Roosevelt victories in organizing the convention, leaders of the Texans moved about among other delegations, seeking support for the man who they said loomed stronger than ever as a presidential candidate.

Their efforts were bolstered actively by the delegation from California, which, like that from Texas, was instructed to vote for Speaker Garner. The Californians and Texans joined in lively pep meetings, diffusing enthusiasm with a heartiness unexcelled by rival delegations.

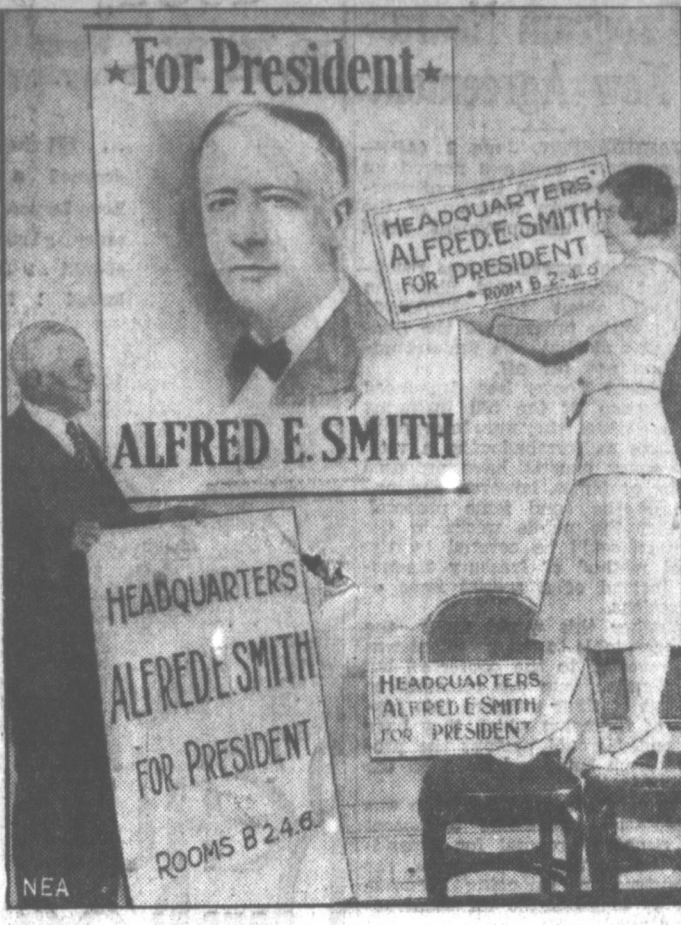

While it was reported advances had been made to Speaker Garner and the Texans, looking toward throwing support to some other candidate, there was no outward evidence such advances met with warm responses.

Congressman Sam Rayburn of Bonham, leader of the Texas delegation, said the speaker's chances "look better and better." Amos C. Carter of Fort Worth, another leader, said "it looks increasingly like Garner."

The Texans appeared to take heart from the result of the organization contests, which while they showed Governor Roosevelt apparently in control of a majority of convention votes, likewise indicated at those stages of the convention he did not have the two-thirds strength necessary to win the nomination.

Bodies Hunted In Wreck of Train

CASTLE ROCK, Colo., June 29. (AP)—Rescuers today continued their search in the twisted debris of a wrecked Santa Fe freight train for victims; they reported three known dead with the possibility five others may have been killed.

The three dead were identified as Everett Knox, Colorado Springs, a 17-year-old youth named Coburn, Ashland, Ky., and an unidentified youth of about 20, also believed to be from Ashland.

Collapse of a flood-weakened bridge over an arroyo caused the wreck yesterday. Eighteen cars of the train piled up within four car lengths, creating a jumble of twisted metal and splintered wood.

School Girl Is Killed In Crash

FORT WORTH, June 29.—Miss Mattie Alvina Jimeson, 16-year-old North side high school senior, was killed and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tolman and two of their children were injured when a truck hit the rear of their wagon east of Roanoke last night as they were en route to Roanoke from the Tolman home.

Miss Jimeson, with her sister, Edwina, 14, had been visiting her grandfather, Uriah Castleberry, a neighbor of the Tolmans, for two weeks. She died at 9 o'clock in a Roanoke physician's office. The body was brought to Pampa.

Legion Broadcast Will Be Heard On Memberships

A gigantic American Legion radio program, a "Victory Membership Broadcast," in which the Legion posts of Pampa and surrounding communities, simultaneous with all the posts of Texas and other states and departments throughout the world, will have a definite part, will be held April 18, according to an announcement of preliminary arrangements just completed by national headquarters of the Legion in Indianapolis, Ind.

The program will be in celebration of the successful work done on membership and as the climax to weeks devoted to honoring all Past Commanders, national, state or department, and post, in which one week has been set aside for each particular administration named in honor of the Past National Commander in inverse order.

Time Definitely Set

Details of the great broadcast are being worked out. The time has been definitely set for the national radio part of the big program. The broadcasting will constitute one-half of the program and will last one hour, from 10 to 11 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. The program in its entirety will last two hours, either the first or the last half of it being radio of a national nature, and the other half of it a local and state-wide program, but not radio. The first forty-five minutes of the broadcast will be over the coast-to-coast N. B. C. "red" network, and the last fifteen minutes over both the "red" and the "blue" coast-to-coast N. B. C. networks.

The 10,000 posts of the Legion will be in public meetings at the same time.

BROTHERHOOD MEETS

An excellent chicken dinner served by women of the Presbyterian church was enjoyed last evening by the Men's Brotherhood in connection with a short program.

It was a coats-off occasion, with Frank Foster leading a short program in which John Sturgeon, local attorney, sang to his own accompaniment.

Several Rifle Teams Will Be Formed In Club

Several teams will be organized among members of the Pampa Rifle club and matches will be held each Sunday afternoon and maybe during the week. It was decided at a meeting of club members in the Schneider hotel last night.

Four teams have already been started. They will be the doctors, the volunteers, fire department, the oil men, and a supply house team. First matches will be over the 200 yard range. The matches will go on the record list for ammunition issues next year. Each member must shoot for record to be eligible to receive free ammunition the following year.

Plans are under way to have the first match Sunday afternoon starting at 1 o'clock. The range is still a half mile east of the Bell refinery between the Santa Fe and C. & O. W. railway tracks.

Tractor Will Be Purchased By City

City commissioners will open bids for a 35 h. p. crawler tractor, Hillside special, 18 inch track shoes, with top and 2-2 foot blade extensions at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of July 19. The commission decided to purchase the tractor during a regular business session yesterday afternoon. Bids will be P. O. B. Pampa.

If the contract is let, the commission plans to issue interest-bearing time warrants for all or part of the payment not to exceed $4,500 with interest at 6 per cent per annum. This total amount of the warrants to mature not later than 1938.

The tractor now in possession of the city has become useless. It has been in use for several years and is worn out.

Bids will be mailed to C. L. Stine, city manager, and will be accompanied by a certified check for 5 per cent of the amount of the bid.

Closing Red Entry Must Be Written

WASHINGTON, June 29. (AP)—One day more and the closing entry of the darkest financial chapter of this, or any other peace-time nation, will be written—in red.

When the clock strikes 12 tomorrow night the United States will close its fiscal year, wipe its slate clean and embark on a brand new period with additional revenue-producing machinery, together with an auxiliary economic program, which promises to produce sufficient income to keep the treasury in order.

The books for the year will be closed with about $2,900,000,000 on the wrong side of the ledger. Today the deficit was $2,837,644,914 as of June 25; last year it was $902,716,000. The year before a $183,000,000 surplus was established and then ended eleven consecutive years of profitable operations.

The fiscal year 1933 will be different, however, government officials aver. With the new revenue bill of 1932 as the spearhead, there is expected to accrue $3,261,000,000 in taxes, a sum sufficient, says President Hoover, "improbably to establish the credit of the federal government."

A total of $1,118,500,000 is added to revenue by the new tax provisions which will supplement $2,143,000,000 accruing from the 1928 measure. The government's original program of spending amounted to $4,113,000,000 or $851,500,000 more than the revenues now believed possible. To bridge this gap, $426,000,000 originally allocated to this sinking fund will not be covered by current receipts, while the remainder will be saved through curtailment of expenditures.

The huge deficit was accumulated by a 33 per cent decrease in receipts and an increase of about 20 per cent in expenditures.

GIVES SAND AND GRAVEL

CANYON, June 29. (AP)—The building fund of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society had an unusual addition this week when the Western Sand and Gravel company of Amarillo donated $75 worth of sand and gravel to be used in the construction of the museum. The gift was made through S. F. Sullenberger, president of the company who is much interested in Panhandle history.

L. P. Sheffy, who is in charge of the building campaign for the Historical society, states that he expects many contributions of material when people are certain that the building is assured.

Organ Music Is Tuned To Politics

By L. A. BROPHY

CHICAGO, June 29. (AP)—High up in the rafters of the Chicago stadium, bespectacled, nimble-fingered Al Melgard regulates emotions of the volatile delegates to the democratic national convention and thick easily swayed thousands of spectators who sit perched around the galleries.

His magic wand is the full-throated great stadium organ and his musician's sixth sense tells him what to play to move the immense throng to tumultuous enthusiasm, sympathy, or demonstrative action.

For 25 years, Melgard has pulled the stops of a pipe organ, in theaters, in churches and before the attentive gaze of students of his own school.

No musical assignment, he said today, has thrilled him as much, or given him the opportunity to demonstrate the power of music as has the task of tapping the wells of human emotion during the national conventions.

Melgard has gratuitously given the democratic convention a theme song, whether the delegates know it or not.

At the intervals, throughout the convention sessions, he weaves it in, and the multitudes hum and shuffle to its catchy strains.

Melgard has prepared in one master sheet of music, every known song of the states and his quick thinking in peeling forth the right tunes many of the democratic demonstrations owe their origin.

Scout Drive To Be Continued With Additional Help

Workers on the drive to raise funds for the organization of Boy Scout work in Pampa will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms this afternoon to make plans for finishing the drive. More than half the amount necessary to keep on a cash basis for the rest of the year has been raised.

O. H. Walker, chairman of the drive, is anxious to finish the drive this week. Many workers have been idle and will be replaced for the rest of the drive.

Similar drives are under way in other cities and towns in the Adobe Walls council. Headquarters of the council is in Pampa.

Former Manager Dies

FORT WORTH, June 29. (AP)—J. Bevette, 60, former city manager of Denton, died at his home here today after a three-year illness.

Bevette, a native of Canada, came to the United States in 1869 with his parents, who settled in Missouri. A few years later the family moved to Denton. There Mr. Bevette was in business for many years before he moved to Fort Worth in 1919. Elected city manager of Denton 15 years ago, Bevette served two years.

Lack of Gasoline Is Halting "Army"

DALLAS, June 29. (AP)—Lack of gasoline prevented California's contingent of 1,200-odd bonus seeking war veterans from continuing their jaunt to Washington today, as had been planned.

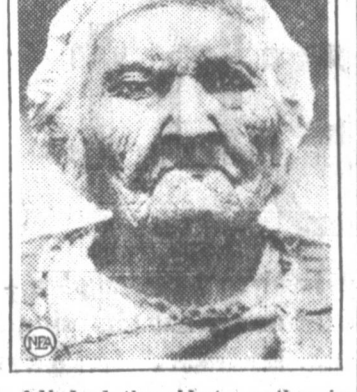

Royal W. Robertson, commander of the impromptu army, said that until Dallas furnishes 1,000 gallons of gasoline and some motor oil he will be unable to move his 50 trucks and automobiles out of town.

Although only part of the contingent is travelling by motor vehicle, Robertson intimated the rest would not board their usual conveyances—fright trains—until supplies for the motor unit had been assured.

He declined to name the next stop of his itinerary.

The California veterans, accompanied by 50 or so women and children, drifted into Dallas Sunday night. Since their arrival, they have constituted a charity problem which has severely taxed the ingenuity of charity and veterans organizations alike.

Miss Jacobs Wins Over French Girl

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 29. (AP)—Helen Jacobs, powerful California girl, swept over Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, 7-5, 6-1, today to win her semi-final match in the women's tennis singles and all but guaranteed an all-American final.

The Berkeley girl was the first to reach the final round but tomorrow Mrs. Helen Willis Moody will meet Mary Heesey, British, who won the title in 1928, in the second semi-final.

Victory for Mrs. Moody tomorrow will duplicate the final round of 1929 when the four-time Wimbledon singles champion conquered Miss Jacobs in straight sets.

The women's singles final will be played Friday.

Wimber Allison and John Van Ryn, American Davis cup doubles team, defeated Richard Menzel of Czechoslovakia and J. S. Olliff of England in four sets, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6, 6-3.

Sidney Wood and Gregory Maghit were eliminated in the men's doubles by the strong British combination of Fred Perry and George Patrick Hughes. The Americans failed to win a set as Perry and Hughes romped through the match 7-5, 7-5, 6-3.

Like 'Em Tough

Lippman specializes on "tough customers," those notoriously difficult to persuade to pose. George Arliss, first of all, he has nerves, believes there should be a reason behind every picture taken. Lippman agreed with him, and returned to the studio with all the pictures he wanted besides those Arliss wanted.

Once Constance Bennett had Lippman chased off her set because a picture idea of his displeased her. Lippman came back to that set and got the picture anyway—ed him to laugh outright—which and Connie, when she saw it, Richard Barthelmess was "difficult" until Irving won his friendship and now Dick does all the "stunts" freely. John Barrymore once refused to smile for him, and Lippman's amazed expression caused him to laugh outright—which made a better, more unusual portrait.

R. G. Pope of Amarillo is in town today.

Mrs. H. Otto Studer was in Amarillo yesterday.

R. E. Heath of Amarillo was in Pampa yesterday afternoon.

Hollywood Signs Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—They are the most popular peats on the movie lots. They have bulldog tenacity, bizarre inventive genius, oratorical persuasion, and Royal Northwest Mounted persistence—sooner or later, they always get their picture.

They are peats—because they pop in and out of sets in pursuit of their business; directors dread their appearance and stars frequently, actively, resent the requests they make of them. But they are popular, these peats, because (aside from the admirable personal qualities they may possess) everybody, not excepting Garbo, likes to see photographs of himself or herself, preferably in magazine or newspaper.

Adventurous Fellows

These "still men" lead adventurous lives. They are paid to take pictures of the studio's personalities and it is their business to get those pictures. They sometimes are defeated, when their ideas don't click with those of the stars, but they have ways and means of getting around objections, and nine times out of ten they return with not only the picture they want, but a dozen others.

Besides ability as a photographer, the chief requisites of a studio "still man" are nerve and resourcefulness. Let's take Irving Lippman, one of them, as an example. Able first of all, he has nerves, resourcefulness, and a thick skin.

Or every lot it is regarded as a major sport to make the stillmen as miserable as possible. A thick skin is a necessity. It enables them to rush in and set up a camera where studio bosses would dread to tread.

Public Works Program Nears New Agreement

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Congressional conferees neared an agreement today on the controversial public works program of the $2,300,000,000 unemployment relief bill.

No formal agreement was reached, but conferees said discussion centered about the $600,000,000 public works program of the Senate bill and that an understanding was not far off.

President Hoover has denounced this section of the bill in terms so harsh that they were interpreted by some as foreshadowing a veto. Treasury experts have proposed to the conferees, however, elimination of the bond issue proposal, so that the public works in the measure could be covered by the usual method of treasury financing instead of a special issue of obligations.

Whether this would make the bill acceptable to the president was not revealed to the conferees, but the Senate group was reluctant to cut out of their measure this feature of financing which they have contended would prevent the program from being a burden on the treasury.

The conferees reported there was a tentative agreement to accept the Senate's proposal for expanding the borrowing power of the reconstruction financing corporation to $1,500,000,000 for construction loans.

Senate conferees have agreed to the broad proposition of liberalizing their bill to allow loans to private industry under strict regulation but the exact terms of a compromise on this feature have not been worked out.

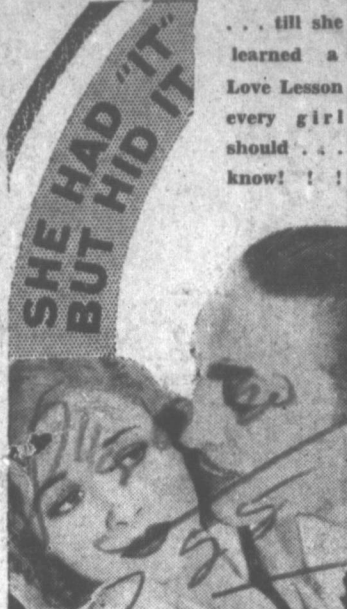

The administration has sought power to make loans to private industry and this was allowed under the House bill, but the Senate measure strictly limited loans to self-liquidating projects of a public character.

Gambler's Throw by Eustace L. Adams

SYNOPSIS: Ashwood, the "gentleman gangster" who is entertaining his "guests" on an island while he collects ransom, has sent for a minister to marry him to Nancy Wentworth, one of his prisoners. But Jerry Calhoun, who with Stevens and Emory battles to try to outwit Ashwood, intends to marry Nancy himself.

SECRET MARRIAGE

ASHWOOD rose abruptly. "Unless I am too optimistic," he chuckled, "another guest is arriving, one who will be glad to give spiritual comfort to those who desire it."

He looked point blank at Lucci, who cursed him.

Ten minutes later, the affable host presented the Rev. Dr. Llewellyn Titherington to his guests. The minister was a short, thin man with a bass voice which, being out of proportion to his stature, started those who heard it for the first time.

Ashwood regarded him with ill-restrained delight. It was evident that Dr. Titherington had read the fulsome accounts of the spectacular kidnappings and recognized the victims as they were introduced. By the time the smiling cripple presented "One-shot Lucci, Flower of Chicago Gangdom," the minister trembled, naturally.

"And now," suggested Ashwood suavely, "I must insist that you rest. Your journey has, no doubt, been fatiguing. Alfred, show Dr. Titherington to his room."

The minister turned and followed the steward.

"Sort of too bad," ventured the detective mildly, "to make sport of the little fellow like that. I'm going in to see if I can make him feel a little easier in his mind. He's probably all upset."

Ashwood bowed sarcastically.

"Peace be with you, brother," he pronounced blandly, the drawn-down gravity of his mouth belied by the scoffing twinkle in his eyes.

Stevens turned abruptly and left the room. Walking through the long hall of the guest's wing, he knocked at the door which he guessed would be the minister's. There was no answer, so he entered without invitation. Dr. Titherington was seated on a straight-backed chair, anxiously looking out of the window into the fast darkening twilight. His face was pale, his eyes large and round, but he was in full control of his emotions.

"Well, Reverend, how goes it?" Stevens seated himself on the edge of the bed and studied the other for a moment before broaching his subject. "See here, Reverend, you may have forgotten who I am, amongst all the introductions of a few minutes ago. I'm Stevens, an operative of the United States Treasury department."

The little man looked at him dully.

"What are you doing in this den of thieves, then?" he inquired.

"Trying to get away and put the leader of the crooks in prison. There hasn't been a break I could take advantage of yet, so I've had to bide my time." He stopped to marshal his thoughts. Then, abruptly, "You came to marry Ashwood to Miss Wentworth, didn't you?"

Dr. Titherington's long fingers wound and unwound the long black ribbon which hung from his nose glasses.

"Yes," he replied at length. "But I am not sure that I shall conduct the ceremony, now."

"I know you won't!"

The minister stared curiously at the detective. He was gradually emerging from the fog of depression which had engulfed him.

"What do you mean by that?" he demanded.

"Just that. The cripple is going to abduct that girl against her will in a moment of whole-hearted generosity, he offered to marry her, the way a feller tosses a bone to a dog. But whether you marry them or not, he's going to take her away unless we can find some way to stop it."

"Perhaps, then," decided the other, "it would be better to marry them."

"It would, if the whole affair couldn't be stopped. But it can. There is a fine young feller here who got into this jam just to rescue her. He has offered to marry her before Lumpy gets around to it, hoping that will stop him from carrying her off."

"I shall have nothing to do with it. The whole thing is entirely too fantastic." The black ribbon was hopelessly snarled.

"Well," observed the old man, quietly, "from where I sit, a live layman, if you'd have to give up your church, would look better to me than a dead minister."

"Dead?" Dr. Titherington gasped audibly.

"Deader'n hell, begging your pardon. You don't meet guys like Ashwood at Wednesday afternoon guild meetings, you know. He'd worry himself over killing you as much as he'd be over bumping off those two gorillas of One-shot's. Maybe less. I take it he doesn't care much about ministers. I might mention, in passing, that two men got their throats cut last night. One of 'em is just the other side of that partition. If you are alive tomorrow you will probably read a burial service or two."

"And you—a government detective—stand for these outrages?"

The minister blinked rapidly in his indignation, and rolled his eyes toward the partition.

"Just now, yes," admitted Steve patiently. "No use committing suicide, like you're going to, because I don't like what I can't help. Now listen, you can do the girl a good turn by marrying her to the nice young feller who'll be running much more risk of getting knocked off than you will. If your conscience will allow you, though, to hitch her up to Ashwood, go to it! Me, I'd hate to live to old age remembering it, if I was to do a thing like that."

He rose wearily and turned toward the door. A sudden gesture from the deflated little clergyman stopped him.

"What about the license?" ventured the clergyman weakly.

"I'll take the responsibility for that," the other assured him. "If you're going to swallow the whole thing, don't gag at the details."

Mr. Witherington winced.

"Bring the couple to me," he agreed finally. "I prefer to meet the wrath of a criminal rather than the sorrow of my Maker."

Stevens, in his delight, smote the other on the back with so lusty a whack that the little man coughed painfully. Then he went for the bride, bridegroom and Emory, whom he had decided should be best man.

Ashwood looked up from his book as Mr. Titherington, Jerry, and Nancy, Emory and Stevens trooped into the living room. For the first time since Jerry had known him the cripple seemed, for a moment, to have been caught off guard. In intuitive suspicion of the unexpected, his eyes flashed from one to the other of the entering group, as though to read in their minds the riddle of their unusual appearance.

"Is this a committee waiting upon me with a petition?" he bowed, at last. "You all have the guilty expressions of conspirators on your faces." A note of impatience crept into his voice, "Come, unveil the mystery."

Jerry stepped forward and found that Steven had unobtrusively shouldered his way to his side. Hamilton, shuffling his cards absently, was regarding them with idle curiosity. Mallory, a highball half-way to his lips, stood by the center table gazing at them in astonishment. Martin's white face, dim in a corner, was turned their way. Lucci, in an easy chair, made the pilot think of a crouching panther. What was it that had warned them of a crisis?

"Gentlemen," Jerry's voice was clear and crisp. "May I present my wife, Mrs. Calhoun?"

Ashwood quivered as though he had been slapped. The blood slowly drained from his face until his cheeks were as colorless as his hair. He looked nearer fifty than thirty, except for his eyes. They seemed to contract, somehow, until they were mere slits in the parchment of his dead-white face.

Lucci rose from his chair, his hot little eyes as venomous as a copperhead's. He took three steps forward and then, as though impatient to get his hands upon the man who had robbed him of Nancy, he catapulted forward, his speed increasing with every step he took.

Jerry whirled and braced himself to meet the attack. His gray eyes were as hard as polished steel. His mouth was set in a crooked half-smile. The long anticipated conflict was at hand and he was content to have it so.

(Copyright, Dial Press)

Jerry gets the fight he wants, tomorrow, and Ashwood inquires how Nancy will like leaving her new husband.

"Light One for ME"

It's pretty hard to be around a Chesterfield and not want one. That tempting aroma tells you the truth. It says... "Here's a milder cigarette. Here's one that tastes better."

Sure... there's a good reason. Several, in fact. Chesterfields contain the finest tobaccos grown.

In fact, there isn't any way for a cigarette to be purer, milder or better tasting.

No wonder so many millions of smokers say "THEY SATISFY."
