Court of Civil Appeals Rules That Barring of Negroes Is Legal

BALLOTS CAST SATURDAY BY THEM INVALID

APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT TO BE MADE

ONE JUSTICE DISSENTS

RETURNS ARE COUNTED FROM 253 OF 254 COUNTIES

SAN ANTONIO, July 28. (AP)—Holding that the democratic party has the right to prescribe qualifications for its members, the fourth court of civil appeals today dissolved an injunction by virtue of which Bexar county negroes voted in Saturday's primary election.

A mandatory injunction had been granted by District Judge Taylor the day before the election which permitted the negroes to vote. The injunction was obtained by C. A. Becker, a member of the Bexar county Colored Voters League.

Today's ruling made all negro votes cast in Saturday's election illegal, but no contests were expected to result for the majority of the negro vote was conceded to have gone to people's ticket candidates, virtually all of whom were defeated, even by larger majorities than the size of the negro vote. The actual negro vote was believed to have been a small portion of the 4,300 eligible negro votes.

The ruling will prevent Bexar county negroes from voting in the run-off primary Aug. 27, unless a writ of error from the state supreme court is obtained.

World's fastest pretzel bender is what they call 21-year-old Mrs. Helen Heffer, shown above at work. An employee of a Reading, Pa., factory, she has twisted more than 20,000 pretzels in her seven-year career. Her average speed is said to be 48 a minute.

Home Loyalty.

O. E. H., in Pampa Daily News: We have an invitation to spend a few days on the Pecos river in New Mexico right after election, and we hope we can do so, but not because this hot weather is driving us to it. A change in scenery is acceptable, but for good summer weather we will take the Panhandle against any other part of Texas.

State Press in the Dallas NEWS: The Panhandle summers are desirable. At least they are wide open. The Panhandle erects no barriers to the cooling zephyrs. The zephyrs zeph without obstruction. The well-known barb-wire fence which protects the high plains from the icy blasts of winter affords no bulwark against the sweet sighs of Eolus breathing over the summer sea. It is hard to think of Eolus offshore at Galveston or Corpus Christi and cooling the Panhandle with his breath, but if that is what keeps Pampa and the other plains towns happy in July why not give the credit to Eolus rather than to Mr. Hinkle of Pampa or Mr. Hoover of Washington? Suffice it to concede that the high plains are delightful after sundown at this time of year. Nevertheless, if the Pampa brother has an opportunity to loaf and rest his soul in New Mexico, along the Pecos littoral, let him by all means avail himself of it. One gets a surer appreciation of home to leave it for a while. There's no place like it. To the pampered Pampans there is no place like Pampa, although we did hear a lady of New Mexico say that when she left the state she felt like she was getting out of the world. Some have felt that way when get-

NATIONAL GRAIN CORPORATION IS CRITICIZED

FARMERS ARE FOUND NOT TO HAVE CONTROL

FORMER OFFICIAL OF FIRM BLAMES BOARD

POLICIES ARE DICTATED

SAYS EMPLOYMENT OF MILNOR FORCED BY U. S.

KANSAS CITY, July 28. (AP)—A damning denunciation of the Farmers' National Grain corporation, a federal farm board set-up by one of its former officers, was written today into the records of the congressional committee which is conducting an inquiry into business conducted by the government.

The attack was made by Lawrence Barlow, Bloomington, Ill., a director of the Farmers' National Grain dealers association. Barlow, who resigned as a director of the Farmers' National Grain corporation in 1930 because of differences over policies, told the committee that the set-up was neither farmer-owned, nor controlled and it was not working in the interests of the farmer.

He said the Farmers' National Grain can not be owned by the producers, "because the farmers had paid in $45,250 to a ten-million dollar corporation when I left. It now is indebted to the farm board for 16 million dollars."

"On important matters of policy," he testified, "the farm board absolutely dictated to the Farmers' National Grain corporation."

Appeal for Chow Dog Given Wide Attention

BALTIMORE, July 28. (AP)—Ming Toy will face Judge Albert S. J. Owens Friday when an appeal in behalf of the chow dog from a death sentence for biting two persons is heard in criminal court.

The chow was sentenced to be executed several weeks ago by a police magistrate but the execution was postponed so she might mother her puppies. She was charged with nipping two persons as they approached her litter which was only a few hours old.

When her duties as a mother were over, another extension was granted pending the appeal, scheduled for Friday. Charles Fagan, attorney for the dog's owner, said Ming Toy will be taken to the court room during the hearing.

Several protests against sustaining the death sentence have been filed with the court from societies and individuals including the Jacksonville, Fla., humane society, Eduardo L. Desvergne, Cuban consul of Baltimore, and a New York woman.

A Baltimore society has offered a home for the dog if the sentence is changed to life imprisonment.

DEMOCRACY IN GERMANY MAY CRASH SUNDAY

"UNITED PEOPLE" CITED BY ADOLF HITLER AS HIS AIM

WANTS MILITARY POWER

CRASH OF CRITICISM IS HEARD FOLLOWING SPEECH

BERLIN, July 28. (AP)—Democracy in Germany was given a rude shock today by Adolf Hitler's fiery national socialist speech.

Winding up a dashing campaign for next Sunday's elections with a speech at Berlin stadium last night, Hitler brought thunderous cheers from 100,000 of his followers when he said:

"I must remove the rule of democracy and of Marxism and its agents from Germany and restore the discipline, national conscience, honor and peace."

"We aim," he continued, "to sweep the thirty political parties of the country into a united people. We aim at the great historical decision of the thirteenth century of despotism (the life of the republic) and we aim at it."

"We don't believe in the possibility of international aid, but we are founded on our own strength."

The Tuesday night radio speech of General Kurt von Schleicher continued to kick up a storm throughout the country. The Bayreuth COURIER powerful organ of the German Volkspartei said Hitler's campaign posters today set him up as "Germany's Oliver Cromwell" and referred to Cromwell's words, uttered as he stood before the British parliament and stabled his dictatorship nearly 300 years ago—"Take away that haughty crown."

FEDERAL HIGHWAY WORK WILL FEATURE HUMAN LABOR WITH MACHINES SHUNTED ASIDE

WASHINGTON, July 28. (AP)—Men, not machines, are to be favored for jobs resulting from the new $120,000,000 in federal highway aid.

And these workers—skilled and unskilled alike—must be employed on a 30-hour week basis and paid salaries specified in contracts between the government and those who undertake the road construction. So specifies the law.

The bureau of public roads is ready to speed the expenditure of many millions next month out of the money made available under the new relief law. First, Secretary Hyde must prepare regulations to carry out the congressional mandate of "the maximum employment of local labor consistent with reasonable economy of construction."

Machines will not be banished by any means, but it will be up to state highway departments, with the co-operation of the federal supervising engineer, to determine what work can be done manually by hand. There is latitude for differing opinions.

No applications have been received yet for the new funds, but officials believe the entire $120,000,000 will be demanded.

SEVERAL SHOT BY OFFICERS DURING FIGHT

RADICAL WING BLAMED FOR STARTING OF TROUBLE

POLICEMAN IS DYING—TROOPS ARE CALLED

WASHINGTON, July 28. (AP)—One unidentified veteran was shot dead and another seriously wounded in rioting between bonus seekers and police near the capitol today, and troops were ordered out at the direction of President Hoover.

A bullet went through the heart of the one that was killed, when police opened fire upon veterans who were advancing toward them.

A group of his comrades took the man to a hospital in a patrol wagon, accompanied by two policemen. He was dead when he reached there.

LATE NEWS

NEW YORK, July 28. (AP)—Mayor James J. Walker's answer to charges of Samuel Seabury and others growing out of the Heister legislative committee investigation of the city administration, was taken from city hall shortly after noon today by two special messengers for transmission to Governor Roosevelt at Albany.

BUDGET WILL BE READY BY NEXT MONDAY

A tentative budget of county expenses for 1933 must be filed by Monday night by Judge S. D. Stennis. The law passed the last legislature requires the county judge to file the budget with the county clerk on or before Aug. 1.

Judge Stennis said this morning he would be busy the rest of this week compiling preliminary estimates. The law also requires a public hearing on the budget to be held before Aug. 15. Between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15, the budget will be on file in the county clerk's office, and every citizen of the county will be entitled to inspect it.

If they oppose any of its features, they may voice their protests at the hearing. The committee's report may make changes before they adopt the budget. The county's disbursements within the next year must not exceed the figures in the budget.

Public Hearing Is To Be Held Early In August

The public hearing on the budget will be held before Aug. 15. Between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15, the budget will be on file in the county clerk's office, and every citizen of the county will be entitled to inspect it.

Underpass Now Open To Traffic

The underpass on the LeFors road 5 miles southeast of Pampa was opened to traffic yesterday afternoon, according to A. H. Dancer, county engineer. Blade work has been in progress for several days and the road leading to the underpass is in good condition.

Traffic between Pampa and McLean is being routed over the new road the entire distance. The bridge across Three creek and the Red river have been completed. The road is in fair condition despite the dry weather.

Sanders Confident Hoover Re-Election

NEW YORK, July 28. (AP)—Republican National Chairman Everett Sanders arrived in New York from Chicago today to complete his eastern organization, declaring: "We are going to re-elect President Hoover."

Sanders refused to be drawn into any discussion of the economic situation and whatever bearing it may have on the president's chances of re-election. He indicated he expects to have his eastern organization completed and running next week.

DANCIGER TOLD TO HALT FLOW OF HIS WELLS

Restriction Order Is Received Here Today

An order to restrict flow of the Danciger Oil & Refining company's Wright No. 2 in the southeast corner of the northeast quarter of section 13 block 3 to conform to orders of the Texas Railroad Commission issued Oct. 30, 1931, was received here today by J. M. McFarland, deputy supervisor for the commission.

The well was being produced on the initiative of the company and not under an injunction as were other Danciger wells. The production of which was the subject of its recent hearing held by the commission in Pampa. A ruling on the issues presented at the hearing has not been announced.

The order received this morning further stated that the practice of granting exceptions shall be discontinued, also, that production of wells set well by the commission shall be canceled and discontinued.

Commissioners Lon Smith, C. V. Terrell, chairman, and Ernest O. Thompson signed the order.

George Stevens of LeFors was looking after interests here yesterday.

Schools To Get Slash of $7,344 In State's Fund

Because the per capita apportionment on school children of Texas has been reduced from $17.50 to $16 for the 1932-33 session, school districts will receive $7,344 less than it received this year from the state funds.

The Pampa Independent district will bear the brunt of this reduction since by having enumerated 2856 scholars, it will receive $2,841 less than last year.

The apportionment was kept at $17.50 for each school child for the 1931-32 term by the unceasing efforts of the friends of public education in Texas, particularly the Texas State Teachers' association. However, during the past year it has been felt in educational circles that the apportionment would receive a slash for the 1932-33 term of about $1.50 per scholastic.

INFLATION OF CURRENCY IS SEEN AS NEED IN COMBATING NATIONWIDE UNEMPLOYMENT

Back-to-Farm Movement Draws Condemnation—Forestry Not Practical.

The Pampa community has a welfare problem that has nothing in common with the rest of Texas except the Panhandle plains.

That was an opinion Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager of the Welfare Board, brought back with her from the state welfare conference held at Texas A. & M. college, College Station, Monday and Tuesday.

The two chief solutions for the unemployment tangled offered at the conference, a back-to-the-farm movement and reforestation, would be impractical and almost ridiculous if an attempt to adopt them here were made. However, putting the unemployed to dig their living out of Panhandle soil would not be quite as absurd as attempting to replace the forests that grow on the plains millions of years ago in the Archeozoic age.

The other theory advanced for lifting the depression would not be within the power of Panhandle residents. This was a plan to inflate the currency.

The back-to-the-farm movement as advocated by Dr. J. W. Slaughter of Rice Institute, one of the best informed sociologists of the world, was strongly opposed by Dean E. J. Kyle of Texas A. & M. college. The latter pointed out that it would cost $1,000 to install an unemployed man on the farm. He said it would be the height of folly to send unexperienced men to the farm when over-production already exists.

Dr. Slaughter answered him by saying that the dean was doing the very thing he so strenuously opposed, graduating farmers every year from the A. & M. college.

Ed O'Neal of the National Farm Bureau federation, Chicago, proposed the plan for inflating the cur-

ABOUT NEW YORK

By WILLIAM GAINES

NEW YORK—Italian settlements here offer a distinctively European atmosphere to a greater extent than any of the other foreign quarters.

Especially in their fiesta times, the visitor who is not wholly or partly Italian has plenty of reason to feel that he himself is foreign. He meets few of his kind who are fellow witnesses to the festivities of the Italians, acting so very much at home.

Were it not for the liberal display of this nation's flag along with the flag of Italy, and the profuse sprinkling of Irish policemen, the stranger in the Italian section of Harlem might lose all sight of the fact that he is within a 5-cent "L" ride of his own home.

Fiesta For Our Lady.

The fiesta of Our Lady of Mount Carmel centers about the Roman Catholic Church of Maria Santissima del Monte Carmelo, near the east river on 115th street.

Its most impressive event is the procession of the faithful, bearing candles and wax anatomical models, which are received by nuns and placed before the altar of Our Lady.

Bands in relays lead the marchers down 115th, under peaking strings of lights with a cross in red bulbs hung from each peak.

Some of the candles are so huge their carriers stagger under the load. The tallow splatters on the pavement, burns the hands of the bearers and spoils their clothing. But the splattering does not bother the faithful. Many of them are barefoot, risking greater harm for Our Lady.

The wax arms, legs, heads, backs, chests and so on are purchased from the sidewalk displays of the shops along the approach to the church. These models represent the ailing parts of the bodies of the devotees supposed to have been healed by faith, and are preserved by the church.

A wax arm or leg costs $1.75 or so. Candles are sold for from 5 cents up to $12 and $15, with a few, much bigger and more extravagantly decorated, bringing as high as a couple of hundred dollars.

The fiesta services begin on Thursday night. Saturday is the big night, and thousands never go to bed. The processions go on through Sunday morning. Sunday night the celebration concludes in merry-making and more worshipping.

First and Pleasant avenues are arched with lights and lined with booths selling highly colored beverages, S-shaped cakes, strings of nuts, watermelons and other edibles.

Spaghetti, cheese and garlic fumes pour from the little cafes and the home kitchens. A street carnival holds forth at the foot of 114th, with Ferris wheel, carousel and gaming concessions—some of them offering religious statuettes to the winners.

Fine Italian Hand.

When not engrossed in fiestas, the Italians are conducting marriages and funerals on the grand scale.

Even in their work-a-day aspects their colonies are different. Their sidewalk markets, in "Little Italy" south of Washington Square, and in the uptown settlements, are strange sights to behold.

Wherever there are Italians, there is color that relieves the drabness of the endless stretches of tenements wherein they live.

ing into New Mexico. It is mostly in the way one's attachments attach. There are people, funny people, who put on inward mourning when leaving New York. There are some who would rather go for a ride in Chicago than for a walk in Lotusland.

Our Cool Nights.

Now, now Mr. Taylor, don't talk to us of summer seas. We have neither the wherewith to journey to Eo-lus to do homage nor time to sojourn through our encyclopaedia in search of pretty phrases about Galveston or the south seas. It matters not to us whence come our zephyrs—we were speaking of our cool nights, credit for which we give the splendid altitude, not Gulf breezes. And you, Mr. Taylor, sitting perspiringly down there in the splendor and humidity of Dallas, could appreciate a Panhandle night, couldn't you? . . . We still intend to spend a few days on the Pecos, leaving Sunday morning next. We'd like to talk to a few folks to whom politics concerns where the fish bite best and not where the voters are most gullible.

A Latin Credit.

From Supt R. B. Fisher in far-off New York City we have the relayed information that the state department of education has granted affiliation or credit for our third year Latin in Pampa high school. For that we may thank Miss Mary Idelle Cox, teacher of that allegedly dead language. We've learned to appreciate Latin, however—it helps you think of big words and right words. Wallace O'Keefe, instructor in commercial law, has obtained half a credit more in that subject. But back to Latin: The inspector said "in organization and originality the material presented is above the average. Pupils should be encouraged to take a fourth year of Latin."

Giving Fish Away.

Elbert Thomas writes from Antonio, Colo.: "We are having a great time, eating all the fish we want and even giving some away. I will send you a picture in a few days. Please send me the paper."

Ability To Pay.

The average man works one day out of five to pay taxes of one kind or another—if he pays them, directly or indirectly. Eighty-three per cent of this tax burden is local. It is therefore obvious that the tax problem can be solved by cutting local expenses and demanding fewer services from governmental agencies. . . . The real issue, however, is not taxes but incomes. If the farmer had no taxes, his plight would still be serious. The wage earner out of a job cannot afford to pay any taxes whatsoever. The business which is losing money is in the same condition. Cutting tax costs is an emergency proposition. If people were given a preference, it would be to be able to pay present taxes and have money besides. But in the absence of that ability, any tax burden is vexing. Federal taxes have been split into so many levies that they are nuisances.

hospital said that his comrades were so excited they could not get his name from them.

Also, Everett Carlson, 40, a bonus marcher from Ohio, is in a serious condition at casualty hospital with a bullet wound in the back and lower abdomen. Doctors said his recovery was doubtful.

Several other bonus marchers were treated for lesser injuries inflicted by brickbats. They included an Indian, Chief Mountain Heart, 42, who was cut about the chest, and John Wyndom, 39, of Cleveland, O., who was cut about the lip and cheek. After hearing a report from Officer George Shinnault, who said he fired the first shot, Pelham D. Glassford, police chief, said the shooting which killed was "justified."

Several police were injured, one, Private Scott, being reported to have died from a blow by a flying brick that hit him in the head in a clash in the morning. This report, which could not be verified immediately, aroused the police to anger in the minutes before the rioting that led to the shooting. The second squadron of the third cavalry from Ft.

Myer was drawn up on the mall at the rear of the White House waiting for orders.

Glassford, who was a personal witness of the shooting, continued an immediate investigation of it with a view to turning his information over to the district attorney's office.

Seated astraddle his motorcycle in the street, the police chief took the depositions of police officers and bystanders who had witnessed the fray.

Shinnault told Glassford he had fired only after it appeared that he would be seriously injured by the veterans advancing on him. He said he fired one shot.

There were approximately 300 men, five tanks, and one machine gun troop in the military at the White House under the command of Major A. D. Surles. Major Surles was expecting the third battalion of the 12th Infantry to join his outfit at any minute.

First of the army contingent to arrive on the scene of the actual trouble was an army ambulance. It was parked in the middle of the street, while police and veterans milled about in an atmosphere of tension.

Secretary Hurley's instruction to General Douglas MacArthur read as follows:

"The president has just informed me that the civil government of the District of Columbia has reported to him that it is unable to maintain law and order in the district.

You will have United States troops proceed immediately to the scene of disorder. Cooperate fully with the District of Columbia police force which is now in charge. Surround the affected area and clear it without delay.

"Turn over all prisoners to the civil authorities. In your orders insist that any women and children who may be in the affected area be accorded every consideration and kindness. Use all humanity consistent with the due execution of this order."

Two veterans were shot, one in the neck and one in the side.

This clash, accompanied by brick and bottle throwing, was quieted by larger numbers of police who rushed to the scene followed an earlier one in which rioting had injured four police and as many veterans. One police private was reported in dangerous condition in an emergency hospital.

In An Ugly Mood. It was evident that the bonus army was in an ugly mood.

The clashes were caused by orders for the police to evict the veterans from the lots near the capitol where the public building program had been held up by the bonus seekers.

The firing was started by a policeman standing at the top of a flight of stairs. At a conference earlier between Pelham D. Glassford, police commissioner, and Walter W. Waters, commander of the bonus army, the police chief had said that he feared an outbreak of shooting unless the veterans would comply with the orders. He said he had seen some pistols waved, but did not state whether these were by police or the bonus army adherents.

When the firing took place, the crowd at the bottom of the stairs had begun to rush upward. A fight started at the top, the private policeman drew his revolver, held up his hand for them to stop, but they did not and he opened fire, shooting twice.

The moment the first shot was fired the crowd fell backward and those in the streets scattered rapidly. Glassford was on the first floor of the building looking over the situation.

Some one in the crowd of several hundred below yelled "get them out."

A while before the grim Glassford, who had the eviction order called off for a while, had told a gathering of the veterans "I suppose you know one policeman is dying."

This apparently had little effect on his bedraggled band of listeners, as they stood behind police lines some scowling, some laughing. As word of the seriously injured policeman's condition spread among his comrades, it was clearly evident that it put them in a fighting mood.

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Following a conference with treasury officials, Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of Washington police, told leaders of the bonus army that there would be no further evictions today from Pennsylvania avenue federal property.

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Brickbats hurled through the air and police nightsticks swung late action today in a clash between bonus-seeking war veterans and officers after some of the former strikers had been evicted from their shelters on lower Pennsylvania avenue near the capitol.

The veterans, described by Walter W. Waters, their commander-in-chief, as members of the radical wing of the bonus expeditionary force, suddenly began hurling bricks at the police.

The officers backed away, all the while using their clubs. Several officers pulled their revolvers but no shots were fired.

Order Is Restored. Within a short time they had obtained at least temporary order. The government, through Attorney-General Mitchell, had ordered the complete evacuation of all veterans from government property.

Every policeman available was ordered to lower Pennsylvania avenue section to guard against any contingencies.

Meanwhile, thousands of veterans from other encampments marched to the scene, some of them picking up bricks and stones en route.

In the melee, Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, was hit by a brick and his badge was torn off his coat. Later, it was restored by one of the veterans.

Waters, in a conference with Glassford, told the police chief the men were out of his control. Police said the brick throwers had come across the street from an adjacent ball park. Waters claimed they were the owners of John Face of Detroit, twice arrested leader of the radical wing of the bonus seekers.

Five in Hospitals. Two veterans and three policemen were injured in the fight and taken to hospitals. The veterans were under arrest.

The eviction of the veterans from the one building was a prelude to the proposed evacuation of all the structures in that vicinity occupied by the former service men. In spite of the brick barrage, police maintained their line around the building, which had been cleared of veterans.

With the arrival of police reserves, Glassford maneuvered them in such a way that the veterans were broken up into a number of sections, some on the lot to be cleared and others across the streets.

The scattered veterans encampments at Anacostia and other places in the southern section of the city were deserted, their inhabitants having gone home individually or in group to th Pennsylvania avenue site.

BIGGEST AMERICAN-BUILT LINER ON TRIAL CRUISE

Harbor whistles shrieked best wishes; tugs puffed and pushed. The largest commercial vessel ever built in the United States was ready to begin, under her own power, a trial trip that will precede her entrance into regular Atlantic service. The United States liner Manhattan is shown at Camden, N. J., as she began a three-day cruise with a score of celebrities and technical observers aboard.

FIELDS ARE PACKED

AMARILLO, July 28. (AP)—Many farmers in the wheat belt, from Clovis, New Mexico, across the Panhandle-Plains and as far south as Quanah, found it necessary to wait for rain before preparing their stubble land for another crop. # FLOWER SHOW IS REAL SUCCESS WITH 119 DISPLAYS

Woman's Soft Ball Team Loses Close Game With Skellytown Players

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN MAKE INITIAL PLANS TO REPEAT EXHIBITION DURING AUTUMN

TWO HUNDRED VISITORS SEE GREAT VARIETY OF BLOSSOMS; TALKS ON PANHANDLE FLOWERS HOLD INTEREST

By HOLLYCE SELLERS HINKLE.
Pampa—the garden spot of West Texas! Such is not a fact but the two hundred visitors who viewed the flower show at the Presbyterian church yesterday were convinced that it is a potentiality; a dream which, with sufficient workers, can be realized.

Too Many Rules Are Decried By College Co-Eds

"Too many laws!" is the cry of the modern citizen. And no more earnestly is the cry "too many rules!" made by the present-day co-ed.
The following opinions, written by a college student, appeared in The PRAIRIE, newspaper of West Texas State teachers college, Canyon.
The average state college catering to the average democratic and straight thinking youth of this day should not be allowed to have dormitories with such strict enforcement of so many useless regulations. An individual who is old enough to understand and comprehend college courses of study is undoubtedly sufficiently aged to be allowed to go out in the evening and to return at a decent hour and not be questioned by the head of the hall.
More lenient laws
Up to recently this has been the policy adopted and used consistently by the leading dormitories in Texas. Now, the matrons are assuming a more lenient and life-like attitude and are beginning to rely on the student for his individual behavior. Already situations once complicated are beginning to straighten out and as will always be the case matron and student are happier.
The idea that every youth is guilty until he is proved innocent is erroneous. We, citizens-to-be, know enough to get along. At an early age, we saw it that we learned that much. The fact that at our homes we are perfectly free and are able to do what ever we wish is quite a contrast to our life while remaining in a dormitory. There we are inhibited, repressed, refused and often we develop one of the very common inferiority complexes.
Although, as we have said, colleges have lifted many of their rules, too many still exist to hamper and hinder even the meekest person. It is an admitted fact that we come to school to study, but it's a dull and interesting individual who buries his nose in his books and can't tell you when the college dance is to be or where such and such a picnic will gather. Not only books, but outside interests matter while in college and it is almost an impossibility to be fully aware of the activities of your college if you are in the dormitory and strictly abide by all the rules.
Why don't the matrons realize that some of us have outside interest and encourage us to develop them to the fullest extent?
We would get along just as well, would kill nobody, do nothing to disgrace the school, our family, community or ourselves. And say, wouldn't it be swell, think of the peace of mind anyway.
Dormitories are better than they have been but until some more of the absolutely best in keeping have been craved from the books of all the institutions, they will never reach the height they are continually clamoring for.

BITS OF NEWS FROM NOELETTE

Mr. and Mrs. George Demoss and children, Dorothy and June, have returned after a 2-week visit in Petrolia.
Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Birdson and children, Howard and Rose Mary, of Berger visited friends here Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Groves and children of Sunray visited relatives in Noelette Saturday.
Mrs. Ray Dewey and children of Garber, Okla., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dewey.
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Searle left Sunday for a 2-week visit in Oklahoma and Kansas.
Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Scott and daughter, Ann, are visiting relatives in Oklahoma City.
Andy Vanibber, age 11, was honored guest at a lovely birthday party given at the home of Mrs. F. B. Birdson.
A great deal of water is required in the winter to grow dahlias well. In the summer I plan to buy a lot of dahlias were given by Mrs. Talley of Miami, who had a lovely cluster of the flowers on display. She showed one large pink dahlia which she had raised in a pot.
"Plant tubers flat, and plant them deep," she advised. "Cover them lightly at first, and later press the soil more firmly. If very large flowers are desired, pinch off all buds except the top one. I prefer, however, to grow medium sized flowers, as I think they have more decorative possibilities.
"A great deal of water is required, and the dahlias should be pruned in the middle of the day.
"To keep out flowers well, place the base of the stems in cold water and leave until the water is cool. Then place in cold water.
"When the tubers are mild, it is not necessary to dig up dahlias. To be on the safe side, however, it is better to keep them stored in sand in a closet or the basement during cold months. Planting should be done between April 15 and May 15.
"Cut worms are the worst enemies of dahlias in this section."
"Wild Flowers Discussed"
Following music by Vern Springer's orchestra, Mrs. F. Ewing Leech spoke on wild flowers of the Panhandle. "If you want a bouquet and have no flowers in the yard you will find an abundance of lovely blossoms growing wild a few miles from the city.
"The Bluebonnet, Texas' official flower will grow in the Panhandle. Why not encourage its growth by scattering seed in the parks and other places where the flowers may be seen."
Among the lovely wild flowers mentioned by Mrs. Leech (and she had specimens of most of them) were Texas bluebells, dusty miller, standing cypress, gallardia, horse-mint, blue purple, and white thistle, wild card, wild hollyhock, wild violets, prickly pear, lake grass, fox tail grass, bear grass, wild onions, wild plums, cat-tails, snow-on-the-mountain (good for border foliage), lupin, iron wood, goldenrod, wild sweet clover, wild rice, and black-eyed susan. She declared that there were many, many others worthy of the study of Panhandle persons. "The wild lilies of Montezuma," she said, "are no more beautiful than the Texas bluebells."

My Beauty Hint

BY DOROTHY LEE
I keep fit by plenty of outdoor exercise.
In the winter I spend as much time as possible at mountain resorts, skiing and ice skating. Both are stimulating and the greatest aids to beauty I have discovered.
In the summer I play badminton because it is a fast, exhilarating game.
And bicycle riding, which has been credited to me, is no gag. I really do ride a bicycle. It also helps to keep me sprightly.
F. B. Birdson of Plainview looked after business interests here this morning.
Dr. M. Bellamy is attending a clinic at Baylor hospital.
given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Canady, Wednesday afternoon. "They buy their balls by the half-dozen," said Manager Geb, "and they have practiced much longer than we have. So, all things considered, we are by no means discouraged by the small loss. It is our intention, however, to beat that team next Wednesday when it comes to Pampa for a game at 6:10 o'clock."
Practice will be held every evening at 6:45 o'clock between now and the evening of the game, and E. D. Miller will be present as coach.

The Faithful Cheat

BY RUBY M. AYRES
Chapter 16
"I LOVE MY MADNESS"
THERE were friends who would take her for a time, of course, Sondra thought, but one could not go on for ever sponging for hospitality; besides, when it was known that she hadn't any money, would anyone be anxious for her company? She knew they would not.
Flora said abruptly, "I wish to goodness you could marry John Anderson; can't you make him get rid of his wife?"
"I'm not aware that John has any overwhelming desire to marry me," Sondra said. "Besides... isn't it rather a contradiction, to advise me to put my head in the noose you're so anxious to escape? Do you think I should be any happier than you are, if I married for money?"
"But you like John, don't you?" Flora said amazed. "I always thought you were frightfully fond of him."
"Fond of him!" Sondra echoed. "I'm fond of lots of men, but I haven't the least desire to marry any of them."
Flora sighed. "Somehow I thought it was more than that—I thought you were in love with him," she said.
"In love with him—?" Sondra raised her eyes and looked at her reflection in the mirror. "What made you think that?" she asked slowly.
"Oh, I don't know—but when you're together, you seem so suited. I've always felt that even if you marry anybody else, John will always be the one you should have married."
"I should think he would be tremendously flattered," Flora came across to her sister. "What's the matter with us?" she said in a strangely shaken voice. "We've changed so—both of us. We used to be the greatest pals—we always told each other everything—everything we hoped for and dreamed about—and we're quite changed. What's the matter with us, Sondra?"
Sondra jerked her shoulder to free it of her sister's touch. "It's life I suppose," she said hardily. "And the way we've been brought up. It's no good being mushy about it—" but it angered her because she felt the tears in her eyes.
Flora turned away.
"You're harder than I am," she said. "And perhaps you're lucky; you won't suffer so much. Don't ever get fond of anyone, Sondra—not really fond—it's not happiness—it's just suffering all the time."
"Are you so fond of Jocelyn?" Sondra asked.
"There was a tragic silence, then Flora went on—"But as far as he's concerned, I can die. He won't have me on any terms, poor darling." She laughed a little. "It makes him angry because he's in love with me. He'd much rather have had a dull, ordinary love affair with some girl; he'd have enjoyed being properly engaged, and then getting married in the orthodox way at some fashionable church, and a month's honeymoon in Italy and all the rest of it... She broke off, only to admit after a moment, "And I should have loved it too. You know, in spite of everything, I'm just an ordinary creature in my heart. Hopelessly middle-class I suppose. Since I married Ben, everything's been a big sham—all the ceremony, and ostentation. If only you knew how I loathe a maid to help me dress—"
"Flora."
"Oh you can stare," Flora said defiantly. "It's the truth, though I don't suppose anyone would believe me. I could have been perfectly happy in a little house—with Jocelyn. But it's life, isn't it—that we should always long for the things we can't have."
There was a profound silence, which Flora broke abruptly.
"I didn't know John was back," she said.
"Yes, he came this evening."
"Have you seen him?"
"No."
"He was at the theater tonight—with a girl."
"Was he?"
"Yes, and that appalling Cassidy man."
"I like Cassidy; he amuses me."
"I hate him; he's a sponger—and I don't believe he's really a friend of John's—it just suits him to hang on to him."
"I don't believe John has ever given him a cent," Sondra said defiantly.
"Not in cash perhaps," Flora agreed. "But there are other ways." Sondra stifled a pretended yawn. "I'm tired; do you mind if I go to bed."
"Very well; shall I see you in the morning?"
"The two girls looked at one another."
"Because I'm going very early," Flora said.
The color faded from Sondra's face; until this moment she had not really believed in her sister's sincerity; she was so used to Flora's little scenes and had been almost sure that in the morning she would have forgotten all about her over-night resolutions, and would slip back into the old luxurious rut.
"You really mean to go?" she asked, shortly.
"Yes."
"You're mad," Sondra said.
"The elder girl laughed."
"I'm not mad," Sondra said.
"You'll regret it all your life."
"I must risk that. You always have to take a risk in big things."
Sondra stood looking at her sister helplessly.
"You'll have changed your mind in the morning," she said with a confidence she was far from feeling.
Flora shook her head.
"I don't think so."
"She went away then, and Sondra stood staring at the closed door."
"What will become of me?" she was asking herself blankly.
Sondra almost laughed as she remembered that Flora had believed her to be in love with John! She had never loved anyone except Mark, and now, after only a month she was already asking herself if even that had really been love—the headlong passionate feeling she had felt for him, and which had swept her off her feet so completely.
So many people married for what they believed to be love—they spent a few rapturous months, or perhaps even years together, and then things either began to go wrong, or else they grew common place and drab.
Mark believed that love never died; he had told her that he would love her in just the same way when she was old and he was old... She had thrilled to hear him say that, but was it the truth?
Perhaps some day there would be another woman in his life and he would long for his freedom.
Perhaps some day there would be another man in her life—a man who would mean more to her than Mark had ever meant...
How one's thoughts ran on!
Sondra found herself thinking how little she really knew about Mark. She had danced with him and dined with him, and lived with him for just twenty-four hours, but the man himself was a complete stranger to her. It was rather a frightening thought, and yet on the other hand how little he knew about her too! He thought she was sweet and good, and loyal; he saw her through the rose-colored glasses of love, those kindly glances that never quite reject the truth.
She was Mark's wife, but in her heart was a queer throbbing dread that she was going to lose John Anderson.
And just now—if Flora really went away in the morning, she would need him so badly.
Of course she could go out to Mark! If the worst came to the worst... that seemed a terrible way to put it.
Sincerely "If the best came to the best" should have been the right way in which to think of a future when they would be together again.
But John had said that life where Mark had gone was "damnable."
"Heat, flies, loneliness, tinned food, fever and an ever increasing longing for home—" she remembered his words so faithfully.
They painted an unenticing picture.
She crept into bed and lay awake for a long time staring into the darkness, trying to comfort herself with the belief that in the morning Flora would laugh at her over-night emotion, and that she would go on in the same comfortable rut.
Flora could not possibly protect them all so calmly—it was her duty to consider the man she had married, if she had no thought for anyone else.
(Copyright, 1932, by Ruby M. Ayres)
Sondra meets John tomorrow, and finds him strangely changed.

RETURN TRIP WILL BE MADE ON WEDNESDAY

DAILY PRACTICE IS TO BE OBSERVED BY LOCAL GROUP
The Business and Professional Women's soft ball team began its career in Skellytown last evening with an 11-13 loss to the Skellytown women.
"They buy their balls by the half-dozen," said Manager Geb, "and they have practiced much longer than we have. So, all things considered, we are by no means discouraged by the small loss. It is our intention, however, to beat that team next Wednesday when it comes to Pampa for a game at 6:10 o'clock."
Practice will be held every evening at 6:45 o'clock between now and the evening of the game, and E. D. Miller will be present as coach.
A large crowd saw yesterday's game.
The line-up of the local team was as follows: Winifred Heiskell, catcher; De Ann Heiskell, pitcher; Kentling, first base; Dunn, second base; Gee, third base. Overall, right field; Dalton, center field; McNutt, second short; Tarpley left field; Lard, first short.

EXCESS PROFITS CITED WASHINGTON, July 28, (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner today recommended that the much litigated St. Louis and O'Fallon railway valuation case be ended with a decision that the railroad had an income of $590,550 in excess of a fair return from 1920 through 1927. The report by Examiner P. A. Conway, which still must be passed on by the commission, would require the railroad to turn over $295,275 under the recapture clause of the transportation act.

Herbert Wilson was admitted to Worley hospital today for treatment.

AMERICAN STARS WILL BE HARD PUT TO WIN FIRSTS

OUT ATHLETES ARE EXPECTED TO WIN MEET

FARTLING UPSETS TO BE LIKELY AT OLYMPICS

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

LOS ANGELES, July 28. (AP)—The United States team decision on the Olympic track and field competition, but insofar as first places are concerned, Uncle Sam's athletes are expected to have their hands full from the outset.

Finland, Great Britain, Japan and Germany will carry the main Olympic battle to the Americans, with the prospect they may upset some of the favored homebreds and contribute to a sensational series of performances.

It will not be surprising to see Olympic records broken in 25 of the track and field events and a new standard established in the remaining new event, the 5,000 meter walk. In practice or in national championship or tryout competition, they have all been surpassed by athletes assembled for the world championships here. As many as a dozen world records also may tumble in the general attack on me, height and distance.

The opening day's competitive prospects, this Sunday, furnish an idea of what the U. S. A. will be up against in meeting the challenges of the invading talent. Three finals are scheduled and of these only the high jump is conceded to America.

The 10,000 meter run, first of the track events, will be a parade of the stars. If Paavo Nurmi is reinstated and competes, along with his two countrymen, Volmar Iso-Hollo and Lauri Virtanen. There isn't an American with a chance in this distance race.

The shotput, also to be decided on the first day, may be the first Olympic title lost by the United States, despite the strong American entry, led by the Leo Steiner of New York. The favorite now is Frank Douda of Czechoslovakia.

It's the same way right down the list of events covering the first eight days of Olympic competition in the big stadium where more than 10,000 can see the world's speediest, bravest and most agile athletes perform.

Here's how the American coaches figure their prospects:
Sure winners—400 meters flat, mile vault and high jump.
Likely winners—100 and 200 meter sprints, discus, high hurdles.
Doubtful but with chance to win—800 and 1500 meters run, 3,000 meters steeplechase, shotput, broad-jump, 400 and 1600 meter relays.

Weak—All distance races, including 5,000 and 10,000 meters and marathon, 400-meter hurdles, hop, step and jump, hammer, javelin by comparison with Finns), decathlon and 50,000 meter walk.
On this basis, the United States will be lucky to win seven first places, one less than was collected over years ago in Amsterdam. The "sure" figures, they are certain to capture at least six.

By contrast with the last two Olympics, the American sprint runners and hurriers have come up to the games in top form, confident they will regain lost prestige.

Nurmi's Trial To Start Today

LOS ANGELES, July 28. (AP)—The final trial of Paavo Nurmi, on charges of receiving money for a German barnstorming trip last year in excess of his expense allowances, today came as a climax to the most widely debated topic in connection with the Olympic games.

The executive council of the international amateur athletic federation, which suspended Nurmi last April despite the clean bill given the famous runner by Finland's A. A. A., prepared to reconsider the case and file its recommendations to the full congress of the I. A. A. F. tomorrow.

It was a foregone conclusion the council would recommend Nurmi's disbarment from the Olympics and seek adoption of new rules giving it authority to deal with such cases. The real battle centered around this rules proposal, was looked for in the congress, with Finland's delegates supported, at least on technical grounds, by the United States.

DETROIT HAS SLIPPED BACK SINCE JULY 4

CLEVELAND GOES INTO ROLE OF WESTERN FAVORITE

By HUGH S. FULLERTON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Consider the plight of the Detroit Tigers. After July 4, the traditional turning point of the season, the Tigers were in second place, a good distance behind the league leading New York Yankees and with a very slim margin over a couple of rivals but still to all appearances the best team in the western section of the league. Today they are fifth and Cleveland has usurped their place as the outstanding western club.

Since July 4, Detroit lost 13 out of 22 games in a disastrous road tour and yesterday they took it on the chin twice as they opened their home stand against the Athletics. The A's pounded out a 13 to 3 victory in the opener, then came back behind Rube Walberg to take the second, 4 to 0.

Cleveland held its virtual tie with the Athletics and reduced the Yankees' margin to seven games by taking a double bill from the league leaders 2 to 1 and 12 to 10.

Smood Jolley of Boston turned in a homer, two doubles, a single and a walk in five visits to the platter as he led the Red Sox to a 15 to 5 victory over Chicago. Washington squared the series with St. Louis, winning 9-3.

In the National league, the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates stole the show by winning two from New York, 9 to 8 and 4 to 2, and increasing their margin over Chicago to 5 games.

Chicago could get no better than an even break with Boston, losing a 2 to 1 decision to the young Bob Brown but winning the second battle, 4 to 1, with some heavy stick-work.

Brooklyn made it three straight over St. Louis, 5 to 4, as old Jack Quinn won his second victory in two days. Cincinnati turned back the Phillies 4 to 3.

Junior Team To Play Here Sunday

The Pampa Junior baseball club will play its first home game Sunday afternoon at Magnolia park with the fast White Deer-Skellytown nine furnishing the opposition. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Local boys who will be seen in action will include Albert Lard, Dick Sullins, Orville Heiskell, Clinton Adair, Raymond Acklam, Bill Ragsdale, Saitzman, John McFarland, Roy Marshall, Hol Wagner and others. The youngsters held the fast White Deer aggregation to a 1 to 0 score in White Deer recently. Acklam will probably do mound duty with Wagner behind the bat.

Memphis Will Come Here For Golf Contest

Memphis, with one of the strongest golf teams in the Cap Rock league, will come to Pampa to play over the Country club course Sunday in a scheduled game. The Pampans were badly beaten at Memphis and will be playing to make up for the loss.

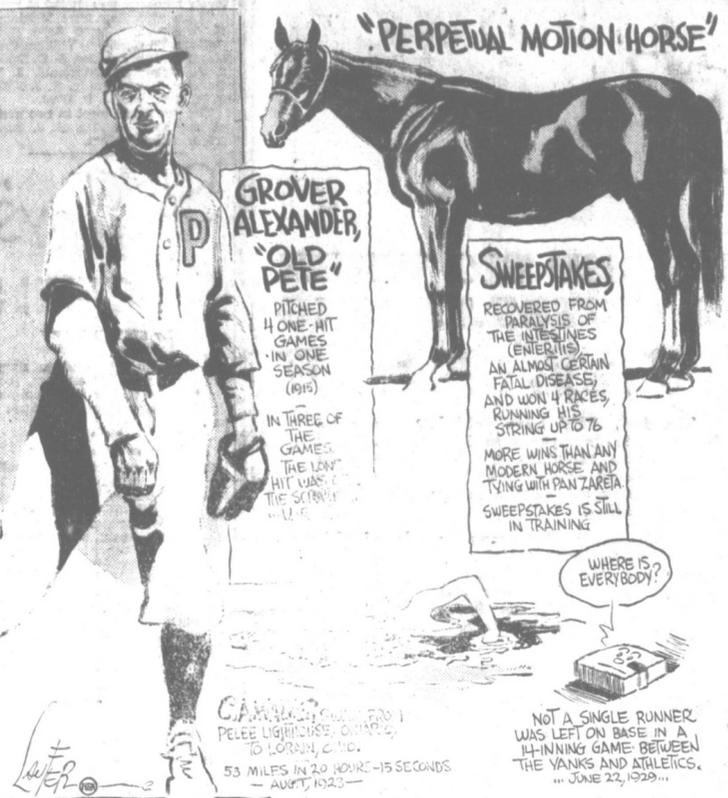

The first two foursomes will tee off promptly at 1 o'clock and Dr. H. H. Hicks, chairman of the tournament committee, is anxious that those desiring to play be on hand promptly at 1 o'clock. Foursomes will be sent over both front and back nines at the same time.

The rest of the match games for this season will be played over the local course. Glarendon, Wellington, and Shamrock have yet to play here in the second half of the schedule. One postponed game also remains to be played.

Byron Autrie made a business trip to White Deer yesterday.

Word From Chick Hafey

Maybe you've wondered I know I have, what became of Chick Hafey, the 1931 National League batting champion that St. Louis traded to Cincinnati. After he had turned seriously ill and withdrawn from the Reds' lineup, Hafey put on a disappearing act. I don't doubt that a lot of people thought he had died.

But he isn't dead, although he was a very sick man. He's up in Canada, eating, sleeping and awaiting the return of good health. And he's in a great hurry to get back to Cincinnati to rejoin his teammates.

If it hadn't been for Mr. Frank Rostock of Cincinnati, I might never have learned of Hafey's whereabouts.

Mr. Rostock, who is editor of the Cincinnati Post, ordered and okayed himself a brief vacation, and he hid himself to Canada. In his wanderings, he happened into Port McNicoll, Ontario, a tiny town on Georgian Bay, about 75 miles north of Toronto. And there he discovered Chick Hafey, the Reds' invalid.

Mr. Rostock immediately recognized his duty. He sat down and started writing to the boys back at the Post.

Enjoying Simple Living

"Up here (Port McNicoll) where zippy breezes carry the snap and zest of the northland, I came across Chick Hafey, the wallowing left fielder of the Reds. Chick is making a game effort to win back speedily the strength that quitted him after a recent siege of influenza.

"No baseball, no heavy road work—for the present, just the simplest of living, eating home-made meals and breathing the pure balm-laden air for which this region is famous.

"Port McNicoll has no metropolitan aspect. It has a main street with a dozen store buildings, a large grain elevator, a hotel and docks. It's just that exciting, not a bit more. A place where there are no distractions, just fresh air, good food, cool nights—a place for a man to breathe his best and his hardest.

"How long Chick is going to endure all this solitude is another question. Whether he is going to be able to play regularly to any extent the rest of the season is another subject for quite a bit of thought.

Heavy Luncheon Shows Up Game

By JOHNNY FARRELL
(As Told To Artie McGovern)

What has eating to do with golf? Many persons may wonder at the question, but it took me five years to discover that I could play a much steeper game, especially in tournaments, after a light luncheon than after eating the delicacies that taste so good after a morning round.

Years ago I used to top off a regular six course meal with pie-a-la-mode. Not now! A bowl of crackers and milk is my usual luncheon, varied occasionally with either a fresh vegetable plate, a fruit or light vegetable salad, or a bowl of clear soup with crackers or toasted bread.

If you have been accustomed to hearty luncheons, try this for your next golf day. You will have lost that sensation of heaviness or sleepiness during your afternoon round and are not likely to go back to the "soup to nuts" luncheons.

MURRAY GOES TO BATH WITH RINGING EARS

GALVESTON BATS ARE TOO POTENT FOR DALLAS ACE

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

George Murray, the league's leading pitcher in games won with 17, went after his eighteenth victory yesterday but all he returned with was a 7 to 3 defeat for Dallas. Galveston sent Murray to the showers in the sixth. It was the Buccaneers second consecutive victory over the Steers and left them with only a three-games lead over the second place Beaumont club.

Beaumont pulled nearer the league pinnacle by taking a 9 to 0 game from Tyler. Frank Reiber gave the Exporters a 4 to 0 lead in the second inning when he hit a home run with the bases loaded. Henry Greenberg in the seventh, hit his twenty-fourth home run with two aboard.

Houston's drive for first place went into reverse when Longview stopped them, 6 to 4. Cliff's double was the blow that gave the Cannibals victory. Joe Medwick, Houston outfielder, hit his twenty-first home run in the third inning.

Herb Sanders held Fort Worth to 7 hits and San Antonio won a 5 to 3 game. Sanders not only pitched but batted his team to victory when his hit in the eighth inning drove in two runs.

French Netters Hard Pressed In Coming Tourney

PARIS, July 28. (AP)—Wilmer Allison today was selected to take the place of Frank Shields as singles player on the United States Davis cup team and will play Henri Cochet in the second match of the challenge round with France tomorrow. Ellsworth Vines, Jr., United States number one, will meet Jean Borotra in the first match.

PARIS, July 28. (AP)—Long months of preparation reach their climax tomorrow when tennis stars of the United States and France meet in the opening singles matches of the 1932 Davis cup challenge round. Not before then will it be known whether the four French aces, Henri Cochet, Jean Borotra, Jacques Brugnon and Christian Bousset will be able to meet the challenge of the youthful Americans and keep the trophy or whether the rather shabby showing the United States team made in the interzone final against Germany will carry over into the challenge round.

Kiwanis Picnic To Be Tomorrow

The annual Kiwanis club picnic will be held tomorrow afternoon on the Marrs ranch south of Laketon. Cars bearing Kiwanians, their wives, and families will leave the Schneider hotel at 2:30 o'clock. There will be no club meeting at noon tomorrow. Arrangements are being made to take 125 to the picnic grounds. The lunch will be prepared and served by the Schneider hotel. The return will be late tomorrow night following games and contests which will be played in the cool of the evening. The entertainment committee has made arrangements to give the picnickers a program.

Mitchell Urges Boys to Consider Their Condition

While Odus Mitchell, Harvester coach, is in California studying football under some of the "masters," he is still thinking of the 1932 Harvester squad and the fight his boys are going to have getting a winning combination. The Harvester's just eight first-string men by graduation and the team will depend on the efforts of substitutes last season and new boys.

In a letter to Harry E. Hoare of The NEWS, Odus says that fall training will start the latter part of August, and that it is time now for prospective members of the squad to start thinking about condition and football.

Odus writes: "I am in a coaching school under Howard Jones, coach of Southern California. Tad Jones, formerly of Yale, and Pop Warner of Stanford, all instructing football; Dean Cromwell of Southern California, instructing track and field, and he is plenty good; Sam Berry of Southern California and Edmonds of Missouri at basketball.

I have just returned from Long Beach, where I tried to swim the ocean but the waves interrupted too much. And do they play playground ball out here? I went to a game the other night and there were 7,000 present. The score was 4 to 3. The pitchers throw the ball harder than I could overhand. The catcher on one team got a broken finger. Every player wears gloves.

I am watching the Olympic boys work out each afternoon so if you want to know who will win, I can put you wise. Next week I will watch the boys get ready for the football game.

Will see you about August 15. Regards to everyone and tell the boys to be in shape.
Sincerely,
ODUS.

Oil Well Blaze Finally Conquered

TYLER, July 28. (AP)—The oil fire which has been raging for five days at the Loden No. 1 well of the Steen Drilling company three and one-half miles north of Gladewater, was extinguished last night.

A crew of asbestos-clad fire fighters led by A. Patzer succeeded in connecting a hydraulic manifold to the tubing and forcing sufficient water down the well to kill it. Just before the manifold was rushed into place, national guardsmen were summoned to the scene to shoot the last valve from the tubing, three hundred bullets tore it away.

The fire fighters spent many tedious hours removing obstructions from around the well before they were able to place the hydraulic manifold.

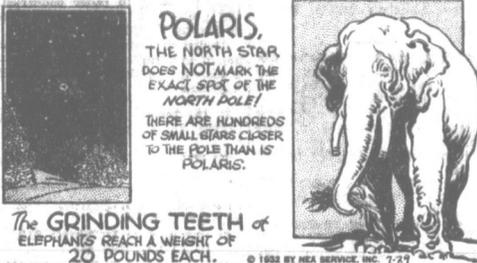

Officials of the Steen company estimated the loss from the fire and the expense of quenching it would amount to approximately $60,000. The fire had been consuming about 1,000 barrels of oil hourly since its outbreak Friday night.

Dr. Rongy, chairman of the greater New York committee on health examination, expresses his view in the current "Health Examiner," which his committee publishes in co-operation with the New York Academy of Medicine. The academy ranks as one of the "blue ribbon" medical groups of the country. "The methods of medical practice which obtained during an era of prosperity can no longer continue," Dr. Rongy says. "The lavish expenditures, which prevailed in the treatment of the sick, will no more be possible."

Richfield Company Will Sell High

LOS ANGELES, July 28. (AP)—Persistent but unverified reports were in circulation today that both Shell Union and Cities Service companies contemplate outbidding the Consolidated Oil company's $22,250,000 offer for the assets of the Richfield Oil company.

Although the joint reorganization committee representing Richfield creditors last night formally accepted the consolidated offer, it was revealed the committee reserved the right to consider other bids submitted in the next 45 days.

Murphy To Vote For Col. Thompson

AUSTIN, July 28. (AP)—Ed T. Murphy of Livingston, who was a candidate for the unexpired term on the railroad commission, has announced he will vote for Ernest O. Thompson in the runoff primary. "I have been asked by a number of my friends as to my attitude in the second primary and to all of them I have stated that it is not my desire to attempt to dictate to my friends as to whom they should support," Murphy said. "As for myself, however, I feel that Ernest O. Thompson, the incumbent, is so splendidly equipped for this important position, that my duty to the people of Texas will prompt me to cast my personal vote for him in the primary to be held next month."

PURCHASE AUTHORIZED

KILLINGS AT REVIVAL
SOMERSET, Ky., July 28. (AP)—Two men were shot fatally when a revival meeting at the Carter Grove Baptist church at Quinton was disrupted by a gun battle last night. Three others were wounded.

TIRE PRICES AT LOWEST POINT TO BE FOUND

That automobile tires are now at the lowest prices that they will ever be is the belief of Jack Baker, manager of Adkisson & Gunn tire company, local Goodyear dealers. "Our big trade-in sale, with the big allowances we are making for any kind of used tires, now places Goodyears at the lowest prices we may ever see," says Mr. Baker.

The local dealer is running a close second in the Zeppelin race which is held every summer among Goodyear dealers. Points are given for sales of tires and tubes on a quota basis. The local station won the contest in 1930 and placed second in 1931, and is making a strong bid for leadership this year.

MOTHER, CHILD KILLED
STAMFORD, July 28. (AP)—Mrs. Jones Palmer, 32, and her daughter, Joyce, 9, were burned fatally at their farm home near Hamlin yesterday. Extinguishing their burning clothing, Mrs. Palmer drove a mile in her automobile where her husband was working. Palmer brought his wife and daughter to Stamford, where they died.

BUSY WITH DIVORCES

Plowing Difficult In Many Fields

A number of Gray county farmers have reported that their land at the present time is not in good condition for plowing, and that lack of rain may cause them to postpone the plowing until after frost. It is said that the land is baked hard and tight to such an extent that it is almost impossible to plow satisfactorily deeper than three or four inches, and even then the plows are dulled in a very few rounds. A number of farmers have stated that they are ready now to do the plowing which they usually under take directly after harvest and have been awaiting the rains predicted for this week.

OATS BEING EXPORTED

FORT WORTH, July 28 (AP)— Texas oats are being exported to Europe. The movement which started this week, constitutes the first export business in oats since before the world war.

Texas last year produced one of the largest oats crops ever known here. With a heavy carry-over, another big crop was grown this year, and demand lagged and farmers found themselves unable in many instances to dispose of their crop at any price.

With Germany again taking Texas oats, a ready demand the rest of the year is expected with prices showing a considerable improvement over recent values.

October eased to 36, down three points from the opening and December dropped to 5.38, or 1/2 point under the initial transaction.

Near the end of the first hour, the market was steadier and December three points from its low.

GRAINS STEADY

CHICAGO, July 28 (AP)— Despite heavy action of Liverpool wheat quotations, grain prices here showed fresh upturns early today, influenced by dry weather northwest. Trade estimates indicated that the northern hemisphere wheat supply was less than the total a year ago and stocks of exporting countries 109,806,000 bushels under. Quotations unchanged to 1/2 up. Chicago wheat later rose all around but then reacted somewhat. Corn started at a decline to 1/2 advance and subsequently sagged.

tional" and as an example pointed out that George S. Milnor had been employed as vice-president and general manager at the farm board's request. The farm board, he declared, had ordered the corporation to adopt the compulsory type of contract.

Rep. Joseph B. Shannon, chairman of the committee, left last night for St. Louis for a two-day hearing starting today.

ST. LOUIS, July 28 (AP)—The Federal Farm Board's deal with Brazil in which it traded wheat for coffee was assailed by a coffee merchant today when the congressional committee investigating government activity in business opened a two-day session here.

In a prepared statement, presented to the committee, F. E. Norwine, president of the Norwine Coffee company, criticized the Farm Board's trade of 25,000,000 bushels of wheat for 32,000,000 pounds of Brazilian coffee, he said, made the farm board the largest importer of coffee in the United States.

"The stumbling, blundering Farm Board is perhaps the most outstanding failure in history," Norwine said. "American wheat, which cost the Farm Board 82 cents a bushel, was traded on the basis of a 50-cent value—a terrific loss to begin with."

"Coffee was accepted in exchange at 8 1-2 cents a pound, at least 75 cents a bag more than the coffee was worth, or a difference of $750,000."

Beginning in September, he said, the Farm Board will offer its coffee for sale at the rate of 62,500 bags a month for 17 months, "which will inscribe a new chapter in governmental merchandising."

court is obtained before that date. Carl Wright Johnson, attorney for Booker, said he would seek such a writ immediately.

Special Associate Justice S. S. Searcy wrote the court's opinion which reversed and dismissed the injunction suit. Associate Justice Cobbs dissented from the majority opinion, but did not immediately write his opinion.

The resolution barring negroes from the primaries which was attacked by Booker's attorneys was adopted by the state convention as a free and voluntary act, the fourth court held. It was therefore an expression of the will of the party in Texas, the opinion set out.

The democratic party in Texas is a voluntary political association and, assembled in convention, has the power to determine who shall be eligible for membership and consequently to vote in the primary elections, Associate Justice Searcy wrote.

Ousley Stands for Debt Postponement

COLLEGE STATION, July 28 (AP)—Indefinite postponement of European war debt payments, but not cancellation, was advocated today by Clarence Ousley, Fort Worth Telephone company official, in a speech at the twenty-third annual Texas A. & M. college farm short course.

Speaking on the subject, "The farmer's interest in foreign trade," he expressed the opinion that the south would benefit from an economic standpoint if the war debt problem were handled in this way.

"We can if we choose compel them to default or even repudiate their war debts," he said. "But what will it profit us? We cannot collect at the point of the sword."

"We should have too much respect for the good will of the people who wish to buy 7,000,000 bales of our cotton yearly to humiliate and tempt them in resentment to make further efforts to stimulate cotton growing in other countries. Our well-being as cotton producers is already threatened."

Ousley also advocated the granting of independence to the Philippines and putting a tariff on all vegetable oils.

L. O. Godby of Amarillo was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

W. H. Murphy of Wichita Falls is looking after business here.

GRANDFIELD, Okla., July 28 (AP)—Two masked bandits made their escape Thursday afternoon after robbing the First State bank of Grandfield of an undetermined amount of money, locking five patrons in the vault, and kidnaping two employes of the bank.

C. M. Crawford, assistant cashier, and Miss Vera Sellers, bookkeeper, were released about 3 miles from town. The bandits were being pursued as they headed eastward through Devol and Randlett. The posse which gave chase lost the trail near Randlett; but Tillman and adjoining county officers continued the search.

Militia Guarding Arkansas Mines

CLARKSVILLE, Ark., July 28 (AP)—Militiamen guarded the Johnson county coal fields today while operators conferred with residents on how to handle the situation created by efforts of union miners to prevent non-union labor from working until wage agreements are effected.

A protest was voiced against release on bond of six reputed leaders of the union band which toured the filed to halt non-union work. The six were charged with inciting to riot. G. E. Mikel, representative of the United Mine Workers of America and the latest of those arrested, made $10,000 bond yesterday.

The trouble started Monday when a pit boss was beaten as he refused a group admission to urge non-union workers to organization.

Mrs. D. C. Echard of LeFors was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

as gas gets staler—gas gets weaker

Do you know what happens when gas gets stale? It loses power! As staleness increases, the more volatile parts of gas evaporate. A chemical change takes place when gas is stored. And power decreases! Stale gas is feeble gas. Gives you a slower start. Sluggish pick-up. It is more apt to foul valves and carburetor—because stale gas becomes stickier as it grows older. Stale gas knocks more, too—particularly on hills.

The whole petroleum industry has long known these facts. And for the past several years, Gulf has been developing a system that assures you of getting FRESH gasoline! How? . . .

First, by giving you the best gasoline that can be made—by so refining this gas that the elements that cause rapid deterioration of gasoline are eliminated. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Second, by taking this FRESH-MADE, PEAK-POWERED gas and rushing it to you in a hurry.

From the moment it is made, Gulf gas never gets a chance to get stale. The whole Gulf organization has been geared up to high speed. Huge Gulf refineries have been placed in many sections of the country—so that a stream of FRESH-MADE gas can be kept flowing into every one of the 45,000 Gulf filling stations. A vast fleet of fast trucks speeds FRESH gas to Gulf stations every day in the year! . . . Get FRESH gas—packed with power. Get Gulf. Use it exclusively. Your motor will be cleaner. Quieter. Faster.
