As long as you give him something to DO. Modern civilization has robbed the boy of many of his old haunts—the swimming hole, the "shop," the sand lots, the horse and dog. Only scouting, organized program or boys, makes up for this lack.

Easy Solution

The fruits of Scouting are sobriety and honesty in an age shot through with racketeering, embezzling, bombing, trickery, and radicalism. Intrained and unguided youth is filling the ranks of banditry. You don't look for a former Boy Scout when there is a kidnaping.

Presidential booms

of most candidates have that full, sickening thud. Extreme wets and extreme drys are very unhappy folk these days. Many of us, condemning the saloon and hoping never to see it again, are not disturbed by the demand for a test vote.

NAGODOCHEFS, June 17 (AP)—Probably the oldest water well in East Texas is at Sycos Roads, on the east side of here. It is in the yard of the late pioneer, Hardy Harrell and is 120 feet deep.

Legion To Send Band To State Convention Soon

Pete Bradford, director of the Pampa American Legion band, has been advised by convention committees in charge of the annual Texas convention of the American Legion, that $1,000 in prizes will be offered to bands and drum and bugle corps in attendance at the convention in Corpus Christi on August 1, 2 and 3.

The Pampa band has been invited to attend the convention, participate in the program, the parade and the final elimination contest. The final contest will be unique this year in that it will be staged at night, under lights, on the athletic field of Corpus Christi, rather than in the daytime, as has been the custom at other Legion conventions.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION MINOR PRELUDE TO THE "BIG SHOW"

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—The big republican show is over, but the democrats are moving in with an even more imposing array of political stage-trimmings, and the pause will be only temporary. Having renominated Hoover and Curtis, chosen Everett Sanders of Indiana their campaign manager, and melted down the great variety of prohibition views into a plank promising submission of a plan for modification, the host of the G. O. P. evacuated their Chicago haunts during the night with no lost motion.

Fort Worth Man Shot To Death

FORT WORTH, June 17 (AP)—W. M. Loid, shot by a man who called him from his home last night, died in a hospital early today. A suspect, arrested shortly after the shooting, will be charged with murder today. Loid, who was 62, was called from his home last night by a man who said he wanted to "sell something."

Just Won't Burn

A model T Ford just won't burn. The fire department received a call about 10 o'clock last night to extinguish a blaze in a bar on the North Cuyler street bridge. The car was enveloped in flames when the truck arrived, but water from the boiler tank soon had the fire extinguished.

Attorney Hopes Repeal Plank To Be In Platform

Will Trick Democrats bolt the democratic ticket in 1932 for the same reason that they stayed regular in 1928? That probability is already looming, and its actuality depends upon a number of "ifs," according to an interview yesterday with Major E. A. Simpson of Amarillo, one of the leading democrats of the Panhandle.

Major Simpson, who said he never took but one drink of liquor in his life and that a small one given him by his father when he was 12 years old, was asked the question, "Suppose the democrats in their convention refuse to even put a resubmission plank in their platform—would you vote the republican ticket if the republicans had such a plank?"

His answer was, "well, in just the wettest democrat you ever saw, prohibition is the greatest curse with which this nation has had to contend, and if it were made an issue in the presidential campaign, I'd still be the wettest of the wet."

Major Simpson said he hoped the democrats would go for the repeal plank in the platform. The least they could do, he said, was to declare for resubmission of the 18th amendment to the voters.

Major Simpson spent 19 months in France during the world war. He said he considered the 18th amendment a curse because it created contempt for all laws. He made it clear that he is opposed to the return of the open saloon.

Texas Delegates Well Pleased

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—Well satisfied with their prominent part in the republican national convention, from which they gained unusual recognition for the demands of the southwest, the 49 delegates from Texas today were en route home or dispersing here for vacations in the lake region.

Tariff protection for oil and refined products and for agriculture were planks the Texans had a gigantic hand in framing and which were most pleasingly acceptable.

The stature of Rene B. Creager, Brownsville, veteran national committeeman from Texas; Capt. J. F. Lucey, Dallas, and Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls, grew visibly in the party's national councils during the brief but emphatic convention.

Demented Man Is To Be Examined

SAN MARCOS, June 17 (AP)—William F. McWilliams, alleged demented ex-soldier, who yesterday shot Major T. B. Curtis fatally and critically wounded A. W. Turner, faced a sanity trial in the Hays county district court today. The trial will determine whether McWilliams is to stand trial on charges growing out of the shooting.

Major Curtis, retired emergency officers of San Antonio died a few minutes after being transferred by ambulance from San Marcos to San Antonio. Turner, a war veteran, was shot four times, and was said to be in a serious condition.

Tom G. Oliver, Jr., said that a check of Hays county records revealed nothing to show that McWilliams had ever been given a sanity trial here.

After shooting the two unarmed guards aboard a railroad train in the San Marcos railroad yards, McWilliams leaped from the rear of the train. Curtis and Turner were accompanying him to the United States government hospital for mental cases at Waco.

McWilliams, pursued by Texas Rangers, and a posse of two hundred men, was discovered four hours later in the bushy country west of San Marcos and surrendered without resistance. The capture was made by Ranger Rip Collins, former big league baseball pitcher, now a member of the headquarters company.

City Commissioner Is Nearing Death

TEXARKANA, June 17 (AP)—James W. Baird, 50, Texarkana street commissioner, was near death today from wounds received yesterday in a shooting in which Mrs. Baird was killed.

Baird, making what he believed was a death bed statement, said his wife shot him and then herself. A negro woman who witnessed the shooting told officers Baird killed his wife and then turned the gun on himself.

TWO FOUND DEAD
GROESBECK, June 17 (AP)—A. C. Sharp, 55, and his 14-year-old daughter, Ester, were found stabbed to death in their apartment here yesterday. Corporal Ira Lawley returned a verdict of murder and suicide. He said Sharp apparently killed the girl as she slept and then took his own life. He had suffered business reverses. Mrs. Sharp died several years ago.

Capone Gunman Is Shot Down

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—A torrent of gas-bullet bullets has drummed public enemy George (Red) Barker, associate of the Capones, out of the ranks of underworld leaders.

Today vacant was the throne he was reputed to have reared on labor racketeering, terrorism, bombings and a multitude of crimes of violence.

A heavy sedan, as police reconstructed the assassination, swept past him as he stood in front of the Norfolk hotel in Crawford avenue on the northwest side last night.

The death volley was fired from a flat across the street where the assassins, apparently had lain in wait for hours and left empty cartridges and remnants of a dinner about. Two young men and a young woman ran the flat two weeks ago.

"The gunmen pumped 18 rifle and pistol bullets into the body of 'Barker the Immune,' whom—until last night—neither the foes of gangland nor the 'firm' of Cook county law had been able to check in the career of crime which he began in 1916.

Two men were held today for investigation in the slaying—Larry Evans, a waiter, and George Bickford, hotel clerk, who helped three others pick the gangster's lifeless body off the street and rush it to Keystone hospital.

Mrs. W. B. Henry, Mrs. R. E. Williams, and Miss Wanda Barnard have gone to Lubbock to visit Mrs. Henry's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson are the parents of a 7 1/2-pound boy. The baby has been named Walter Wayne.

Use Of Cotton Mattresses Urged

STAMFORD, June 14. (AP)—A nation-wide campaign in the manufacture and sale of cotton mattresses is being proposed by the West Texas chamber of commerce as a possible means of increasing cotton consumption.

The proposal was presented in a recent letter to Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, from President Wilbur C. Hawk. "There has been much agitation through state and national agencies for the reduction of cotton acreage," Mr. Hawk's letter said. "This causes me to wonder why we don't spend more of our energy in an endeavor to increase the consumption of cotton, and perhaps by so doing get better results."

"Around forty pounds of cotton are used in the manufacture of a mattress. In the entire United States I presume there are sixty or seventy million mattresses, many of which need replacing. It has occurred to me that the government might call a conference of the mattress manufacturers, urging them to put on a nation-wide campaign in the manufacture and sale of mattresses at an unusually attractive price. If this campaign should result in the replacement of only one tenth of the mattresses, the result would be far greater than efforts made to reduce cotton acreage."

QUANAH, June 17. (AP)—Determined to secure a college education, Pauline Kerr, a 1930 graduate of the Goodlett school in Hardeman county, is baking angel food cakes by the dozens and selling them through Quanah and Goodlett grocers.

Eight entrants are allotted to Arkansas, eight to Louisiana, 20 to Oklahoma and the remainder to Texas, with eight from the Rio Grande valley and about 10 from other sections. It was stated by George Mitchell, in charge of plans.

Women Want To Ball Out Cops—But Police Can't Talk

HOUSTON, June 17. (AP)—The police—lot, agrees City Judge Fred Turner, is not a happy one. There's a rule in the police department here that an officer must not say anything when he hands a lady a ticket.

"But," says Turner, "the ladies don't like that. Although the rule was formulated on the theory that a policeman, if he didn't open his mouth, couldn't be rude, a lady will frequently charge a policeman was rude to her because he didn't say a word when he handed her a ticket."

The party will include representatives of the Rumanian oil industry and spokesmen for American, British and Dutch companies and possible others. Previously it was believed the Russians would take part.

Week-End Parties Still Popular; Attractive Menus Are Suggested

DENTON, June 17.—There is no better way of entertaining one's friends or renewing an old acquaintance than with an invitation to spend the week-end. The only way to be an ideal hostess, calm, well-poised and refreshed, is accomplished by planning ahead. It is very important that the house be clean and in order, that the food be delicious and well-cooked but it is fatal to the success of the occasion for the hostess to be too worried or worried to be companionable.

The dishes served are soon forgotten, but the general impression that the food was well chosen and well-cooked, and the pleasant atmosphere of the home remains long in the mind of the guest. It is the best policy to plan simple foods that you can cook well, and food that may be partly or wholly prepared previous to the arrival of the guest. Most of the dishes should be ready, except for a few last minute touches, and reheating, just before serving.

LARGEST CROWD OF RECENT YEARS MAY SEE ONE OF BEST HEAVYWEIGHT BOUTS TUESDAY

SMELING-SHARKEY IN FINE SHAPE FOR BATTLE

NEW YORK, June 17.—Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey may see one of the greatest fights of modern times in Madison Square Garden's new outdoor bowl on Long and next Tuesday night. If they are one of the smallest crowds in modern heavy-weight championship bouts may be there to see it. All indications now point to unprecedented lack of interest among customers. Those well-known in-the-wool fanatics who formerly would have thought no more remaining absent from a heavy-weight title fight than of passing their daily dinner are doing both these days.

The entire city street department went into action yesterday to put dirt streets in best condition following recent rains that had stopped all work for more than a week. Street Superintendent George Latus said it would take two days more to cover all the streets on the first round.

500 IN COLLEGE

STEPHENVILLE, June 17.—(AP)—Summer session enrollment at John Tarleton Agricultural college stands at 500, lacking about thirty of reaching that record at the end of the first five days of the 1931 summer school. The 1931 enrollment was one of the largest in the history of the college.

BAD BEATING HANDED MAX LAST TIME TO GIVE SHARKEY AN EDGE IN COMING FIGHT

Memories of a vicious pounding absorbed two years ago, the effects of which are shown in photo at left, figure to prove a tremendous mental hazard to Max Schmeling in his return engagement with Jack Sharkey June 21 in New York for the heavyweight title. Sharkey, still talking over the foul that cost him the championship, is shown right as he will appear to Maxie. Hardly a reassuring sight, Manager Johnny Buckley is in the background.

NEW YORK (AP)—Max Schmeling stepped out of the ring at the Yankee Stadium two years ago, the new heavyweight champion—with a face that looked as though someone had been battering it with soft rubber balls. Down the opposite steps stalked Jack Sharkey, without a mark on him, but officially beaten by a low left hook he thudded into the German's groin in the fourth round. That foul ended an one-sided four rounds as ever opened a heavyweight title contest. Grim and alert, Schmeling, for two years, has been perfecting a defense against the wallops that swelled his nose and eyes out of shape. He is deadly calm, a steady, punishing puncher. Young Stribling could not hit him scidly. He believes Sharkey never will again.

But the mental edge is all with the challenger. Schmeling remembers punishment. Sharkey still rages at the injustice of losing a fight to a man who showed nothing but ability to stand up under a beating. In that mental state he is a tremendous fighter. One or the other will need heavy applications of arnica Wednesday morning.

Fans Will Pay More For Games In Texas League

DALLAS, June 17 (AP)—The fan who shoves his hard earned cash through ticket windows to see Texas league team play for the pennant will have to go deeper in his wallet and bring forth more cash after next Monday. J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, said today the new 10 per cent federal tax on amusements, and that includes baseball, will be absorbed by the game's clients.

FIGHT RESULTS

Chicago—Tony Canzoneri, world lightweight champion, outpointed Barry Dublin, Chicago (10), non-title. Sammy Levine, Chicago, stopped Franklyn Cheek, Milwaukee (5); Harry Paul, Philadelphia, stopped Johnny Balma, Chicago (5). Philadelphia—Kid Chocolate, Cuba, outpointed Roger Bernard, Flint, Mich. (10); Benny Leonard, New York, outpointed Billy Angelo, Philadelphia (10); Young Firpo, Pennsboro, Pa., outpointed Buster Brown, Baltimore (8); Jimmy Herman, Hazelton, Pa., outpointed Leo Williams, Philadelphia (8).

Hoover To Plan Stirring Campaign

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Heartened by the overwhelming support centered on him and his administration by the republican convention, President Hoover today began preparations for the stirring campaign he must wage between now and the November election. He will launch his bid for return to the White House from the south part of the presidential mansion, looking to the inspiring shaft of the Washington monument, unless plans now being made are altered. This first battle cry will be spoken a few weeks hence, after the democratic party has chosen its opponent and announced issues on which it will contest republican domination of the government.

Another Cross to Bear

New York is expected to carry not only the brunt of the fund burden, but has to pay for the Schmeling-Sharkey "beat-busting" festivities this month. The fight is expected to lure $350,000 out of the customers' jeans. There may be nothing left for Uncle Sam's amateur athletes. It is hard to ask a harassed population to make personal sacrifices to pay for our international athletic bills. But Madison Square Garden doesn't mind asking its clients to place $23 on the line for a ringside seat at a washed-over fight that proved a dud two years ago. So maybe the Olympic committee isn't asking too much, after all. Anyway, Mr. Graves says he will be very glad to receive whatever peanuts you might find in last summer's vest at Olympic Finance Headquarters, 233 John R. Street, Detroit.

Baton Rouge at Top Firmly as Two Games Won

By The Associated Press. Baton Rouge took a firm hold on the lead in the Cotton States league by capturing both ends of a double header yesterday from El Dorado. Monroe again downed Jackson to strengthen its grip on third place, while the second place Pine Bluff Judges were victorious over Fort Arthur.

Baton Rouge played nip and tuck baseball in the opener to win 3 to 2 over El Dorado and then both teams opened up hitting attacks in the second which the league leaders took 13 to 11 in seven innings. Pine Bluff overwhelmed Fort 11 to 2. Isbell and Nelson being touched for 14 hits while their Texas leant mates got to Galer for 9 safeties. Falk and Rawlins each got home runs and batted in a run for the Judges. Davies and Persons batted in three runs each. Nelson who succeeded Isbell shortly after the game started fared no better being touched for 11 hits and eight runs.

Monroe found Jackson easy, winning 10 to 1. The Twins might have shut the Mississippians out but Florid put one right where Crawford likes them best and he smashed out a homer for Jackson's only tally.

Both nines will have strengthened line-ups for the game. The "Mags" have been hit hard during the last week with the loss of Weathered and Lister. Two new faces will appear in the line-up, Manager Rusty Cahill reports. Son-go, formerly with Goldston, will be in the outfield and a new player will be in the shortstop gap. College Netters High at Meet

WILMINGTON, Del., June 17. (AP)—After brilliant victories in the earlier finals, Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, No. 6 ranking star, and Dr. Eugene McCauliff, of York, N. Y., faced collegiate opposition today in the semi-final round. The men's singles in the Delaware tennis championships were won by McCauliff, who provided the big upset of the tournament with a 6-8, 6-4, victory yesterday over Berkeley Bell, dean of his mid-final opponent Karl Kamrath, of the University of Texas. Teams which have reached the semi-finals in the men's doubles are Clifford and Edward Sutter, of New Orleans; Jack Tidball and Elbert Lewis, of the University of California at Los Angeles; and Jackson and Henry Holden, of Rice Institute.

This Game of GOLF

A year or so ago I received a letter from Mr. Dan W. Green of Los Angeles, suggesting an organization national in scope to resist, as he put it, the encroachments of the "chandler" and the "gambler-ambusher." Mr. Green's project, taken by and large, did not impress me. In close connection with golf, extending over a quarter of a century, I had not encountered anything that appeared serious in the way of encroachments by gamblers. I had observed some pools at the championships which I considered as heavy but saw nothing of any influence on the game itself.

HOW TO STOP "BROWN PATCH" IS SUGGESTED BY THOMAS FOR USE ON LAWN OF COURTHOUSE

County Agent Ralph E. Thomas believes he has found a remedy for "brown patch" which afflicted the courthouse lawn last summer, and he will recommend that the commissioners try it this summer.

"Brown patch" one of the most troublesome diseases of lawns, a fungus disease which makes its appearance in the summer, last year attacked the Gray county "courthouse" lawn and left it full of brown patches. "Brown patch" spread quickly from a small spot and kills the grass. Mr. Thomas advises fighting the disease with chemicals, with different grasses, and with careful watering.

In an established lawn infested with brown patch, he advises applying an ounce of bichloride of mercury (corrosive sublimate) to each 1,000 square feet of lawn. This may be dissolved in water or mixed with fine soil in sufficient quantities for even distribution. The lawn should be well watered immediately after the chemical is applied to prevent burning. This treatment should be repeated every time the disease appears. A mixture of an ounce of bichloride of mercury and 2 ounces of calomel applied in the same manner is more lasting than the bichloride alone. Before treating, one should make sure that the brown patch is the result of disease and not due to drying out or some other cause.

Brown patch attacks chiefly bent grass, and to a less extent the fescues. As a means of reducing the damage from the disease, Mr. Thomas advises seeding lawns with Kentucky blue grass where the soil and climatic conditions are favorable or with a mixture of 9 parts of blue grass; 9 parts of Chewink fescue, and two parts of reitop.

Brown patch may appear overnight in a lawn. It spreads most in damp, warm weather, watering the lawn in the morning checks the spread of the disease and creates a less favorable condition for it.

Mr. Thomas advised that if brown patch occurs this year on the courthouse lawn, that it be given the bichloride of mercury treatment, and if that fails to check the disease to seed the lawn with a mixture of the three seeds.

Strychnine Mixed With Sugar But Three Escape Death

ABILENE, June 17. (AP)—A district court grand jury at Baird is going into an investigation of an apparent attempt to poison a Callahan county farm family by a mixture of strychnine and sugar.

Returning to their home after an overnight visit to Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Meyers, who live two miles north of Baird, sat down to their usual breakfast coffee with their brother-in-law, Edgar Crawford of Stanton, who was visiting them.

The coffee had a queer taste, Meyers told officers, and he and his wife pushed their cups back after the first sip. Crawford, however, took a large swallow, and almost immediately became ill. He eventually recovered, however.

Officers were summoned and samples of sugar, coffee and tableware taken to Baird and administered to two rabbits. Both died almost instantly. Another sample of the sugar was brought to Abilene and analyzed by Dr. J. M. Estes. He found it heavily impregnated with strychnine. Another sample was sent to an Austin laboratory, and brought the same report.

Officers announced they were without clues, and none of the supposedly intended victims could shed any light on the case. Officers believe someone entered the Meyers home during the family's absence and sprinkled the poison in the sugar.

MILLIONS HELPED TO HEALTH BY ALL-BRAN

Has "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation; Also Iron for Blood

In ten years, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has gained an increasing number of friends. Today, it is used by millions with satisfactory results.

New tests show added reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory experiments prove it has "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using habit-forming pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN action is gentle. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. Tempting recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Gen. 46:1. And Israel took his journey with all that he had, and came to Beersheba, and offered sacrifices unto the God of his father Isaac.

2. And God spake unto Israel in the visions of the night, and said, Jacob, Jacob. And he said, Here am I.

3. And he said, I am God, the God of thy father: fear not to go down into Egypt; for I will there make of thee a great nation:

4. I will go down with thee into Egypt, and I will also surely bring thee up again: and Joseph shall put his hand upon thine eyes.

5. And Jacob rose up from Beersheba: and the sons of Israel carried Jacob their father, and their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons which Pharaoh had sent to carry him.

6. And they took their cattle and their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Canaan, and came into Egypt, Jacob, and all his seed with him:

7. His sons, and his sons' sons with him, his daughters, and his sons' daughters, and all his seed brought he with him into Egypt.

28. And he sent Judah before him unto Joseph, to show the way before him unto Goshen; and they came into the land of Goshen.

29. And Joseph made ready his chariot, and went up to meet Israel his father, to Goshen; and he presented himself unto him, and fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while.

30. And Israel said unto Joseph, Now let me die, since I have seen thy face, that thou art yet alive.

Introduction

Last week we studied Joseph's reconciliation with his brothers. Immediately after he made himself known he set about preparing to take his aged father and the entire household down to Egypt to remain during the five years of famine yet to come, little thinking that it would be not years and decades but centuries before their return to the promised land.

So highly did Pharaoh honor Joseph that he was greatly pleased when he heard of the coming of his eleven brothers, and at once made his prime minister send his brothers back to Canaan for his aged father, that the entire family might settle in Egypt. As the famine was still at its height, and as Pharaoh promised to give Jacob and his sons the best of the land of Egypt, it was a most gracious offer, a fine illustration of the way in which the faithfulness and nobility of one member of a family at length redounds to the blessing of all other members.

Sent for Father

Gladly therefore did Joseph carry out Pharaoh's orders, giving his brothers wagons with ample provision for the way. Changes of raiment were given to all the brothers, but to Benjamin five changes of raiment with three hundred pieces of silver or shekels, while to Jacob were sent twenty asses and she-asses loaded with "the good things of Egypt" and with provision for the way. All these proofs that Joseph was still living were needed for at first the aged patriarch could not believe the story of the eleven sons, even when Benjamin joined in telling it. The tale was too amazing for belief, one of the most astounding recitals of human history. At length, however, Jacob was forced to believe that Joseph was living. Old as he was, one hundred and thirty years old, Jacob plucked up courage and said, "I will go and see him before I die."

"The king's wagons took Jacob up to see his lost boy, and so I really think that the king's wagons will take us up to see our lost kindred."

—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, D. D.

Jacob Starts for Egypt

It was no easy thing for Jacob to consent to go down into Egypt, however much his heart yearned for Joseph. It was much like transplanting an old tree. Canaan was the promised land, his inheritance from Isaac, the land that God himself had chosen as the home of the nation of which Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob had dreamed and which God had foretold. Would he be doing the will of God in abandoning it, even under the urge of famine and the call of Joseph?

Seeks Divine Guidance

At Beersheba, the place made sacred by Isaac's worship, Jacob stopped to seek the guidance of God. He offered sacrifice. And in the night God spoke to him, giving him a reassurance that banished all fear. Good, said, "I will there make of thee a great nation," and "I will go down with thee," and "I will also surely bring thee up." Canaan was not being abandoned forever. Egypt would serve the purpose of God for his people. Acting on this promise Jacob hesitated no longer.

Trusts Divine Promise

Jacob needed no more. God's will decided the question, even though he did not reveal how the promises would be fulfilled. Jacob had learned to trust God, to walk by faith, not by sight. Blessed is the man who, like Jacob, seeks the guidance of God and when it is given, accepts it with courage and full trust. There is great wealth of meaning in the words, "And Jacob rose up from Beersheba . . . and came into Egypt."

Best for Jacob

In Joseph's eyes no part of Egypt

was too good for Jacob and his family. It was the true son choosing a home for his aged father. And what is more beautiful than to see an aged father or mother resting in comfort in some quiet place that answers every wish and need through the provident love and dutiful sons and daughters? Jacob was a shepherd, and the place chosen for him was Goshen, the best possible pasture land. A son less understanding might have insisted that Jacob leave his flocks to others and come to live in his fine house. How many aged parents have been uprooted, never to find rest again, because love was not wise. And, alas! how many have been left to wither away because there was not love enough. Joseph sent for Jacob and gave him

the best. Mighty Ruler—And True Son
The meeting of Jacob and Joseph was a scene of great tenderness. Joseph went out from his home with his usual dignity, riding in his chariot, and receiving, no doubt, the respectful salutations of many along the way. But when he came to Goshen he was just Jacob's son. Other men presented themselves to Joseph, but he "presented himself" to Jacob; and we are told, "fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while." The years of separation, suffering, royal service, melted away in the warm glow of joy and love. He was as much a boy in Jacob's presence as on the day when he received his "coat of many colors." This reverence and affection had never waned. Every man or woman who reads the story honors him the more for such genuine love and for the reverence with which he came into his presence. There is something in all of us that understands the sacred justice of the commandment, "Honor thy father and thy mother." Father's Joy Over Son

Jacob was as deeply affected by the meeting as Joseph was. For twenty years he had thought of Joseph as dead, but he never ceased to think of him. The boy had gone away when he was seventeen years old. The whole experience of Joseph's tragedy was made fresh and his heart still further crushed when Benjamin was taken down into Egypt. Then the unbelievable thing happened, Benjamin and all the brothers returned, saying that Joseph was alive and the ruler of Egypt, and had sent for Jacob to come to live in the land of plenty into the famine should pass. And now here he was with his beloved Joseph weeping in his arms. The old man said, "Now let me die, since I have seen thy face, because thou art yet alive." He counted his life fulfilled; there was nothing else in all the world to be desired. Jacob's Death and Burial

Jacob charged his sons not to bury him in Egypt, but to carry him back to Canaan, and bury him in the cave of Machpelah, beside Abraham and Sarah, Isaac and Rebekah, and his own wife Leah—Rachel being buried near Bethlehem. So, when the patriarch passed away at the age of one hundred and forty seven, his body first received the wonderful Egyptian embalming, and then it was borne in state by Joseph and his brothers and their households, "chariots and horsemen, a very great company," and laid away in the cave of Machpelah.

"White Ways" Are To Be Darkened

SAN ANTONIO, June 17. (AP)—Pocket flashlights are slated to become a fad on the streets here after July 1, for Mayor C. M. Chambers announced that on that date the city's "white ways" would be darkened.

A half dozen streets extending from the main business district into the residential section have been brilliantly lighted for a number of years, but now that economy is the order in city government, the electric light bill must be cut. The usual number of arc lights at the street corners will be kept burning but the long strings of fancy lights on poles on each side of these main city boulevards will no longer show the "night owls" the way to go home. This is one revision to be made in the city's contract with the local utility concern, the mayor explained, when it expires July 1.

For this famous salt will positively protect them against simple water, that common cause of loss of appetite, lack of vigor and backwardness at school. Also, it will delight you beyond words by never clogging saltcellars. Made with cube-shaped crystals, which tumble off one another instead of sticking together like the flake crystals of inferior salts, Morton's pours just as freely on rainy days as on dry! ### Sterling Disagrees With Garner In His Proposed Building Relief Plan

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, June 17. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling is opposed to that part of the Federal government's proposed relief plan of constructing public buildings. He cannot see where the outlay in cash can be made without the taxpayers ultimately paying the bill.

"I am opposed to the expenditure of any funds, public or private, unless absolutely necessary until the existing stringent times clear up," the governor said. "We have too many idle public buildings now. Of course, construction work will provide work for the unemployed, but there is a question if that is the best way to succor the needy."

In taking that position, Governor Sterling took issue with Speaker John N. Garner of the national house of representatives, sponsor of the public buildings expenditure. Governor Sterling prides himself on being one of the "original" Garner-for-president advocates and he still is for him strong as ever. But he disagrees with his proposed remedy for lean business.

Looking for a weapon with which to force a reduction in the ever-increasing number of applicants for admission to the bar, the Texas supreme court hit upon the idea of returning would-be barristers to stand an examination before local bar committees in modern, ancient and medieval history and English literature. The idea was tried in several places. A group of applicants at Galveston took the examination before a local bar committee and every last one failed to make a passing mark. Such a rebuff was kicked up that the supreme court rescinded its rule. The status of applicants for admission to the bar has reverted to Blackstone and other tutors in the law. Evidently it has been decided that a lawyer can be a good lawyer and still be uncultured in ancient, medieval and modern history and English literature.

Judge F. L. Hawkins of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals always is glad to get a pleasanter, in the form of a pun, on one of his colleagues.

Discussing the time and worries entailed by disposition of so many convictions of liquor law violators brought to the appellate court, Judge Hawkins said:

"We were in conference the other day discussing questions of law involved in a rather complicated liquor case appeal. After a lengthy session, Presiding Judge Morrow sighed rather deeply and remarked: 'Well, I guess we hear more of liquor and see less of it than any group of similar size anywhere in the world.'"

Every time a Texan takes an oath of office spectators snicker when the one being inducted avers that he never fought a "duel." In these modern times prescribed oaths of office need frequent revision. For instance, when Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo recently assumed the obligation to become a member of the Texas Railroad Commission he swore that he did not own any railroad stocks, bonds or securities. There was no expression required of him that he was not interested directly or indirectly in motor trucks, motor buses and oil and gas holdings, all of which are regulated by the Railroad Commission, as well as railroads. Of course everyone knows Commissioner Thompson has no interests that would influence any official decision by him. But the thing is the antiquated oath an office holder must assume in these modern days.

Association To Be In Charge Of Crop

WESLACO, June 17. (AP)—The new Rio Grande Valley Citrus Cooperative association is assured of a trial at handling a large part of the valley's citrus crop during the coming season.

A check-up revealed that 85 per cent of the bearing trees in the valley are owned by growers who have become members of the new organization.

A general organization meeting will be held here soon for selection of officers of the valley-wide cooperative association. Each community in the valley will select a director for the board.

The exchange will take over three packing plants at Brownsville, Mercedes and McAllen, owned by the citrus associations in those communities, which have indicated their willingness to become affiliated with the new cooperative.

The cooperative was given assurance of financial assistance by the Federal Farm Board upon signing of 75 per cent of the valley tonnage. It was announced that this condition had been met.

Plans now are to construct packing plants for all communities. This will be the largest cooperative move in the valley, and the first farmer-owned and controlled cooperative movement on such proportions.

Gardens Cultivated By Unemployed

ABILENE, June 17. (AP)—This city's unemployed, hungry, will dine on a variety of fresh vegetables and other garden produce this summer as the result of action by the welfare association in arranging for two garden plots of 21 acres. Crops growing now include beans, peas, corn, onions, carrots, okra, beets, tomatoes, peppers, squash, turnips and mustard.

Work in the gardens is done by unemployed who are listed with the local bureau and their wages come from a relief fund donated by local people.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

Many brides, watching experienced housewives in the kitchen, feel that so often judgment is a matter of instinct and that in their own cases this instinct is lacking. But the fact probably is that it is experience which accounts for the apparently intuitive management of saucapans and oven and their days of apprenticeship are forgotten with the passing of time.

Undoubtedly, there is a "knack" for various branches of cookery, but success is not a matter of luck. It is just that there is a right and wrong way of doing things and the right way is quite as easy as the wrong if one knows the fundamentals upon which success really depends.

Since June is a month rich in fruits and vegetables, let's begin with a few "do's" and "don'ts" regarding them.

Whenever fruit is cooked, be it fresh or dried, do not add sugar until the fruit is tender. If sugar is added sooner, the skin tends to toughen and the texture of the fruit is hard, nor will the fruit be as sweet and delicately flavored. The more acid the fruit, the more important the rule. Sugar cooked into rhubarb develops a strong flavor and a stringy texture.

Must Not Remain in Water

Never let fruit stand in water. Wash it thoroughly and carefully—then drain and use at once.

This same rule applies to vegetables, also. Wash them well and prepare for cooking. If they are wilted, they may be put into water just long enough to freshen them. This should be done before they are trimmed or cut in any way.

Cook vegetables in as little water as possible to prevent burning. Take care not to over-cook them and serve them as soon as they are done. Cook in actively boiling water and add salt when they are half-cooked. Since most of the succulent summer vegetables will cook in twenty to thirty minutes, if the "half-done" stage confuses you, add the salt at the end of ten minutes.

Cook green vegetables uncovered if you would preserve their color. Strongly juiced vegetables, such as cabbage and onions, should also be cooked uncovered and in a larger amount of water.

When a sauce is made for vegetables, it will be finer flavored if half milk and half vegetable stock is used.

White sauce in varying degrees of richness is generally liked with most vegetables. A thin sauce, the consistency of rich cream, is delicious over green beans and peas. A thicker sauce that coats the vegetable is used for new potatoes and cauliflower. But no matter how thick the sauce may be, it is always made the same; melt the butter, stir in the flour and slowly add, stirring constantly, the liquid, which should be cold. Two tablespoons butter, from two teaspoons to two tablespoons flour and one-half teaspoon salt are the proportions to use with one cup of liquid to make one cup of white sauce. The less flour, the thinner the sauce. Vegetables must of course be drained before combining with the sauce.

Most recipes make too much for a family of two. The average recipe will give generous servings for two persons. Be sure to use half of each ingredient when you reduce a recipe. If five eggs are called for, it's a good idea to use three small ones for half the amount and if three eggs are needed, use two small ones.

When you use "packaged" goods follow the instructions on the box explicitly. The manufacturer has gone to much trouble to provide you with these recipes and they are planned to give you full satisfaction with his product.

TO START HIGHWAY

LAREDO, June 17. (AP)—Construction of the Zapata highway from the paved Webb county highway on the north through Zapata county, a distance of about 50 miles to the Starr county line on the southeast, is to begin without further delay. This is the announcement made by J. W. Puckett, division engineer of the State Highway department. The highway will pass close to San Ignacio and Zapata, the principal towns of Zapata county.

Jackrabbit Killed With Golf Ball; Player Makes Par

QUANAH, June 17. (AP)—Killing a jackrabbit with a golf ball and still shooting par on the hole was the unusual experience of E. W. Newton, local laundry man. Newton was making his second stroke on the fourth hole at the Quanah Country club when a wide slice carried the ball to the rough. It clipped a jackrabbit on the head, and killed the animal. Newton continued playing the ball and the next stroke was to the pin for a par four.

Roving Wolves In Buffalo Gap Trapped

ABILENE, June 17. (AP)—A roving pair of depredating wolves, which had been preying upon flocks of sheep, goats and turkeys in the Buffalo Gap vicinity for months, have been trapped by Porter Runnels, three-country trapper, and search is now under way for a litter of pups.

Runnels is employed by ranchmen in Taylor, Callahan and Shackelford counties. Since the first of the year he has trapped 23 grown wolves, and killed 24 pups.

UNEMPLOYMENT SOLVED

COLEMAN, June 17. (AP)—Grain harvest in this county, now starting, is expected to require services of from 500 to 1,000 men, and virtually solve the unemployment problem for the time being. It is estimated that 50 threshing machines will be in operation, requiring 10 to 15 men each.

Companies To Shut Down Temporarily As Result Of New Gasoline Tax Law

BY WILLIAM VOIGT, Jr., Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, June 17. (AP)—With their summer program upset by extraordinary conditions caused by the new tax on gasoline and lubricating oils, midcontinent refiners are contemplating drastic changes seeking to prevent both a dangerous increase in stocks and demoralization of markets.

E. B. Reeser, president of Barnwell Oil corporation, said his company's refineries will be shut down Sunday, June 20, for a period of at least ten days.

The Empire companies (Cities Service) already are running on a schedule which provides for a complete shutdown from about the twenty-second or twenty-third of each month.

Other companies are advised of their resources will permit.

Up to this point the refineries have fared well. The abnormal demand came on a rising market, and the refiners sold at higher prices than they might otherwise have obtained. The top yesterday was approximately 7-8 cents a gallon in tank car lots.

They were given considerable hope by the action of the National House Monday in passing an amendment to the revenue bill which would make taxable the gasoline contracted for but not delivered when the law goes into effect. This assures the tax or contract gasoline being paid by the ultimate consumer instead of the refiner, and would prevent the contract buyer from making an extra cent profit by selling at the general level while purchasing at a cent less than the taxable market.

The retail price of gasoline will go up a cent generally on or about June 21, when the tax becomes effective.

What refiners fear is that brokers and jobbers have stocked up so greatly that there will be no market for their product during the summer months that normally are the period of greatest consumption. Reeser and others close to the industry expressed fear that abnormal stocks in July and August, when they normally decrease, would break down prices to "a point where nobody can make money."

An angle that is receiving the attention of oil and gas associations is whether the entrance of the Federal government into the gasoline taxation field will have any effect on bootlegging activities.

A bitter war has been waged for months over the increase in gasoline tax evasion.

"We'd like to know if the Federal tax, giving added incentive to evaders because of the greater illegal profits, will cause an increase in bootlegging or if the addition of the watchful eye of the Internal Revenue Department to state operatives will check the growth of the evil," said A. V. Bourque, secretary of the Western Petroleum Refiners' association.

Best, Indianapolis. Governor Harry Parrnell, Little Rock, will be the speaker at the banquet. Dr. C. R. Campbell of Cincinnati is president of the association. Dr. E. R. Blough of Pittsburgh is president-elect.

STORY: Jerry Calhoun, who has been calling Limpy Ashwood's bluff, is now a prisoner of Ashwood's island. He is hoping to be released, but he has been told that he will be a prisoner until he has paid a ransom of $1,000. He is now in a room with a detective and a friend, and he is being guarded by a soldier. He is now in a room with a detective and a friend, and he is being guarded by a soldier.

Chapter 17 HORNET'S NEST

"I've been reading the newspapers, Mr.—but you haven't introduced yourself," said Jerry. "How negligent of me!" apologized the cripple. "I am called Limpy Ashwood."

"Sorry," Jerry shook his head thoughtfully. "That doesn't mean a thing to me. But, as I started to explain, I do read the newspapers and I'm afraid that I've stumbled into a hornet's nest. There are a lot of people in this country who would like to be introduced to Miss Wentworth and One-shot Lucel, right now."

"Then I'm sure you'll understand," murmured Ashwood suavely, "why you may as well settle down to become a member in good standing of our little household."

Jerry grinned ruefully and nodded. Then he patting his dripping clothes suggestively.

"A thousand pardons!" exclaimed the cripple. "Alfred, show Mr. Peabody to his room instantly. We'll complete the introductions at your convenience."

The first oblique shaft of morning sunlight snapped Jerry out of a sound night's sleep. For a moment he gazed in bewilderment around the plain, comfortably furnished room. Then, with a wide grin of anticipatory excitement, he leaped out of bed and strode to the window. The Gulf of Mexico was an infinitely vast lake of molten silver, shimmering under the cloudless sky. Another hot day was indicated for not the slightest whisper of wind rippled the surface of the water. The palms leaned this way and that as though discouraged and weary. Their leaves were dry, browned at the tips.

"No wonder," thought Jerry, these people were unstrung and ready to leap for one another's throats, at the flicker of an eyelid. Never, even during those last hectic days at the front when pilots came in from patrol cursing at the tops of their voices, had he known such nervous tension.

All evening, as the "guests" had sat about the living room he had expected to witness a riotous outbreak among the fidgeting, snarling men. Lucel and Mallory, their puffed and bruised faces covered with bandages, regarding each other with malevolent eyes, greedy for an opportunity to finish the struggle of the evening before.

Those two gangling, silent men, Martin and Williams, gazing steadfastly at Miss Wentworth with expressions in their sombre eyes which caused the flyer to watch them more closely than he did the others. Lucel and Mallory, whatever they may have been before coming to the island, were now savages, knowing it and not caring. But what damage the heat and the unnatural atmosphere of the place had done to Martin and Williams was not so evident. They would have been quiet watching.

That day, Ashwood, had lounged in his chaise longue, playing upon their nerves as an organist manipulates his banks of keys. A dozen times during the hot, interminable evening, Jerry had tensed his muscles, expecting the victims of the cripple's thrusts to break into a murderous frenzy and run amuck. But always, at the very last instant before an outbreak, Ashwood would smooth the other's ruffled nerves and turn his attention to the next. Only two of all those who had dwelt in the house for many days seemed unmoved by his verbal efforts to arouse their anger. Hamilton, concentrating upon his everlasting solitaire, answered the cripple's quips carelessly, seeming to regard them as only slightly irritating interruptions to the vastly more important business of placing one card upon another. And Nancy somehow came through the evening unscathed. Ashwood's sallies in her direction did not cut to the raw. They were kinder, perhaps. At any rate, the girl held her own without great difficulty.

Jerry had not sought an opportunity to explain his presence to her. At dinner, he had surprised her studying his face thoughtfully and, meeting her eye, had seen her shake her head ever so slightly, then look away. So he knew that she recognized him and was warning him to make no slip that would betray him.

It was with much regret that he gave up hope of drawing her aside for a few moments conversation before Emory and Stevens precipitated a battle royal. She could have told him how many guards patrolled the beach, how many machine guns could be expected to open fire upon the airplanes and where, perhaps, would be the most likely place for him to start a row to take the defenders' attention away from the approaching monoplane.

He knew, of a certainty, that the extraordinary Ashwood did not believe his ingenious story of being cast away upon the neighboring island.

He did not underestimate, in the least, the difficulties before him. Ashwood would be warned by his suspicious visit and would undoubtedly see that his guards did not relax their vigilance. This Ashwood was no heavy-lifted morose; he was infinitely more dangerous as an enemy.

Jerry knew that the most practical plan would be to find some way to signal his friends to fly to the nearest town and secure adequate assistance from the authorities. But, being young, reckless and headstrong, he resolutely pushed the conviction away.

Suddenly he stiffened in alarm. The familiar bark of a powerful motor beat into his ears. Its throbbing roar mounted as it responded to an advancing throttle until the entire house seemed to vibrate. Then, dying down, it popped and back-fired unevenly.

Jerry's first impulse was to rush to the porch, to signal to the silver-winged monoplane. But after the first instant of indecision, he realized that he was listening to Ashwood's amphibian in her hangar at the inlet. He dressed hastily and hurried out into the fragrant morning air just in time to see the odd-shaped plane taxi slowly to the channel and take off toward the south. He stood on the porch, his hands clenching the rail, watching the amphibian's rising flight.

What a fool he had been to underestimate Ashwood's shrewdness and not to know that he would make an effort to check up on his story! If the amphibian continued on her present course for five minutes her crew could not fail to see the monoplane, whose bright wings would loom up in the sand like an air marker thoughtfully placed there to draw attention to the spot.

The white-coated steward appeared at Jerry's side and bowed civilly.

"Mr. Ashwood's compliments, sir, and will the gentleman kindly join him at breakfast?"

Jerry hesitated. He wished to watch the course of the amphibian. But the steward waited as though he expected the summons to be obeyed immediately, so the pilot nodded reluctantly and entered the house.

In the long, dim dining room Ashwood awaited him, cool and immaculate in a suit of Chinese pongee. The large table, set with places for two, was covered with a napery of magnificent damask.

"Good morning, Mr.—ah—Peabody," smiled the cripple. "It is an good of you to join me. Our other guests will presently have their breakfasts in their rooms and I dislike eating alone."

Jerry acknowledged the greeting absently. He was listening for the faint whisper of the amphibian's engine. Had it stopped suddenly or had it dwindled into silence in the distance?

The soft-footed steward placed an lead grapefruit before him. He found that despite his disquiet of mind, he had not lost his appetite.

"Nice place you have here," he observed politely.

"Isn't it? I congratulate myself upon a happy thought when I purchased this house in sections and had it assembled here after my plans. The guests inhabit the west wing which leads off the living room. My rather large study uses the east wing and some living quarters over the hangar-house. An admirable arrangement."

Jerry grinned wholeheartedly. There was something in the nerve and the imagination of the fellow that was very appealing.

"Mr. Peabody," said the other unexpectedly, "were you ever in the Air Service?"

"Yes," admitted Jerry steadily. "Why?"

"Did you, perchance, know Captain Jerry Calhoun?"

TO PLANT GRASS
QUANAH, June 17 (P)—Cattlemen in this section state that they will plant Sudan grass for cattle feeding this year and will not depend on native grass to run their cattle through the summer. Lack of rains following spring showers has caused much of the native grass to die and all that is left for feed is forage of weeds which soon ripen and dry.

MUCH FLOUR DISTRIBUTED
DANESVILLE, June 17 (P)—Eighteen thousand pounds of flour have been distributed to 465 families in Gainesville and Cooke county by the central relief committee of the Cooke county Red Cross chapter. The county's quota was 21,000 pounds, the remainder to be distributed 30 days after the first distribution.

TEXANS SEE CAVERNS
CARLSBAD, N. M., June 17 (P)—Texans represented one-third of the total number of visitors to enter Carlsbad caverns during May, leading all of the states. Visitors were slightly more than six per cent fewer than in May 1931, or 5,565 this year compared with 5,947 last. Forty-three states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, the Philippines, and 14 foreign nations, were represented in the homelands of the visitors.

COTTON OFFICES OPENED
QUANAH, June 17 (P)—Goshu Cotton company, a Japanese firm, will open offices here for the coming season with O. E. Gee of Abilene office in charge. Anderson, Clayton & company of Houston has already announced intention of moving the Vernon office here with Sydney Wright in charge.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—Washington observers, accustomed as they have become in the present congress to queer twists, coalitions and flip-flops, figuratively are rubbing their eyes in amazement at the latest one—Florello L. LaGuardia's active support of admittedly one of the most severe gag rules ever jammed through the house.

The stocky, hard-hitting congressman from New York literally has screamed in the past every time an effort has been made in the house to throttle debate. He was one of the pioneers in the movement for liberalization of house rules.

But when the huge Garner relief program first came before the house he executed one of the neatest, and for him, one of the most daring of parliamentary flip-flops.

La Guardia Admits It
He admitted it. He was frank enough to shout to those inclined to jeer at him that he had been forced to forget his parliamentary scruples to obtain relief for those so sorry in need.

"Some of you preach that we should forget party," he cried at the republican leadership. "That's exactly what I am doing in urging that this relief bill be enacted speedily."

It was perhaps unfortunate that LaGuardia, in supporting the special rule to place the Garner bill before the house, had to support one such as that one. It was perhaps as drastic again as any ever accepted by the house—whether under republican or democratic leadership.

Democrats admitted its severity. Republicans condemned it as a vehicle that bog-tied, strapped, bound and rendered hopeless the membership of the house of representatives.

Water Survey in Webb County Begun

LAREDO, June 17 (AP)—Resumption of the survey for underground water supply of Webb county has been started by J. P. Lonsdale of the geological department of A. and M. college for the United States Board of Water Engineers.

During the past several summers surveys for underground water supply have been made by Mr. Lonsdale in the counties north of Webb. Last year he made surveys and tests in the northwestern portion of Webb county, and the work now in hand is in the eastern and northeastern part. This area is all in what is known as dry farming section of Webb county.

If the tests now being made prove as successful as those of 1931, it will mean much to the landowners, as it will assure water supplies at reasonable depths. On most of the land surveyed and tested last year an adequate water supply was found at various depths. This water can be raised by windmills or pumping jacks. The east and northeastern portion of the county is entirely dependent on rains for water supplies, or the meager amount of water secured by pumping by windmills.

RETURN TO MEXICO
LAREDO, June 17 (AP)—During the month of May, according to the official report of the Mexican immigration service in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, a total of 2,404 Mexican nationals returned from various parts of the United States and entered Nuevo Laredo through Laredo. This was an increase of about 600 over the preceding month of April, and the movement for June is already heavy.

Gibson Thriller Showing at Rex

Hoot Gibson's latest thrill-drama, "The Spirit of the West," has an unusual solution to his "bad men" dilemma. The film is at the Rex theater today and Saturday.

Hoot finds himself in one of the most perplexing situations that could ever face a hero, but his role calls for some real common sense, and a human interpretation of such a hazardous predicament. The way he works himself out of danger and saves the day is something that proves the screen is becoming more sensible and human with each season.

The story has to do with some cattle gangsters, who kill a ranch owner, take possession of his property and stock, make a prisoner of his daughter, and then plan to sell all the worthwhile items around the place before making their get-away.

Mr. Gibson is revealed as a rodeo champion rider and a crack shot, but is thrown into a situation where those things don't count. In this new type role, he appears to easily surpass anything he has ever done before.

Doris Hill is the girl in the lead and her charm and beauty help materially in making the bashful romance convincing. Hooper Atchley and Al Bridge make an excellent pair of western "bad men."

EXPORTS IN RISK
GALVESTON, June 17 (AP)—Although the export grain movement is normally at a standstill during the early summer, exports from this port have continued brisk during the entire year. About 3,000,000 bushels of grain are expected to move out in June, mostly in full cargo lots. Exports since July 1, 1931 amount to 31,499,000 bushels, as compared with 18,164,000 bushels during the previous year. Houston's exports total 5,025,000 bushels. Texas City has shipped out 83,000 bushels and Port Arthur 453,000 bushels.

TRADE INCREASES
LAREDO, June 17 (AP)—Imports from Mexico and exports to Mexico through the port of Laredo for the month of May showed a material increase over April. Imports for the month of May totaled 145 carloads, while the exportations from the United States totaled 215 carloads.

FENCE 78 YEARS OLD
NACOGDOCHES, June 16 (AP)—J. H. McCullison of the Central Heights community in this county has an oak fence rail that his father made 78 years ago, when he moved to Texas from Tennessee and used it with other rails in building his friend fence. The rail is near of post oak and is as hard as wood can get. It is in a good state of preservation.

Hollywood Sights

By ROBBINS COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Strange how little you hear about diets and dieting in movieland this year, when last year and the year before rail-thin women were running around all afutter over some new fad in eating that would enhance their skeleton slenderness.

JOAN BLONDELL
The size of lunch checks, have their fingertips on the tread of stellar eating, and the commissary stock tickers show that the market for solid, substantial food is on the rise, staidly only by a sensibly retarding influence of discretion.

Serving the Stars
From one who has been serving stellar appetites and whims in the green room, private dining hall of the Warner lot, for four years, I have it that even the girls who used to diet strenuously now are eating what they want within reason. Ruby Vanden, who combines her job with diplomacy, tact and friendly good cheer, is friend as well as waitress to many of Hollywood's most noted.

There is dieting to this extent, Joan Blondell loves fat foods, but refrains, even though she eats substantially. Two stars who eat anything they fancy, because they're prone to underweight, are Constance Bennett and Loretta Young, and these two even favor the pound-adders. But reminders of many once popular diets remain—lamb chops.

What They Like
Among the food preferences of the stars Ruby remembers that Edward G. Robinson abhors greenness, likes bacon and eggs, the imported Swiss cheese and dotes on apricot pie.

Kay Francis and Barbara Stanwyck cry for lamb chops—or steak. Constance Bennett insists on hollandaise sauce. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., takes his spuds mashed, always; loses his appetite at the sight of a poached egg or corned beef hash; favors a vegetable plate and likes—hold everything—pineapple-and-chocolate malted milk with an egg in it. Ann Dvorak smiles on a salad of avocado, tomato, romaine and French dressing.

Good Crops Near Snyder Expected

SNYDER, June 17 (AP)—Farmers and ranchers in Scurry county with spirits buoyed up by the most bountiful rains in recent years, are looking forward to bumper crops and livestock growth this fall. No rains of torrential proportions have been received, and consequently little damage done. Weeds now are the principal menace, since insects have been kept at a minimum. The grain crop is heavier than at any time in the county's history. It is estimated that 15,000 acres will be harvested, with much of the wheat expected to yield 30 to 40 bushels per acre.

MUCH RAIN FALLS

QUANAH, June 17 (AP)—Rainfall in Hardeman county late last week, amounted to 2.22 inches. Little wind accompanied the rains, and the damage to grains just ready for harvest is believed slight. Delay in getting combines in the field may result in some loss, but generally the crop is in good shape.
