Le MARS, Ia., Aug. 15 (AP)—More intensive picketing of highways and boycotts were reported today as farmers in this section of Iowa attempted to enforce their edict against marketing of farm products during a 30-day "strike" designed to raise prices.

From Kingsley came reports that 400 farmers had visited all produce dealers of that town and warned them not to open for business today under penalty of having all their goods thrown into the street.

At Sioux City hundreds of farmers and their wives improvised barriers with their automobiles drawn across the highways and effectively bottled part of the city against trucks bearing farm produce.

Stockyards officials reported that no livestock truck traveling to the city from the north had reached its destination.

Although dozens of trucks were stopped, no violence had been reported.

Milk Poured Out.
Other farmers acting as pickets on the highway stopped a milk truck from Cherokee and poured 100 gallons of milk into the street.

Another truck load of milk was reported dumped near Kingsley.

Meanwhile farmers of this vicinity were carrying on a passive resistance campaign following last week's disturbance when two farmers emptied 300 pounds of cream from a truck. Since then armed deputy sheriffs have accompanied collection trucks from local produce houses.

Milo Reno of Des Moines, president of the Farmers Holding Association, said a decrease in hog supplies at Iowa markets and a ten cent increase in hog prices showed that the "strike" was meeting with success.

Pythians Plan Special Meeting For Members

Knights of Pythias members, whether in good standing or not, will be welcomed to a dinner and entertainment meeting in the city hall at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Chancellor Commander Dan McGraw announced this morning. He is anxious that every Pythian in this section be present.

John Sturgeon, local attorney and well known orator, will be the speaker on the program. There will be music and songs and other brief talks during the evening, which will be in the order of a get-together.

The lodge meets in the club room on the second floor of the city hall.

TIRE THIEVES AGAIN ACTIVE IN CITY, LEAVING NEW JACKS UNDER WHEELS OF CARS LOOTED

Stolen Car Burned On Road South Of City

Tire thieves were busy again in Pampa last night when eight tires and tubes were stolen, according to reports received at the sheriff's office. Deputy Floyd Archer was again a victim of the thieves. His car was jacked up and two new tires were taken.

New jacks were left under each axle where the car was stripped. The car was parked in front of the Haggard apartments. The thieves then went a block up the street and stole one casing from Stormy Jordan's car. A new jack was left there also.

Mr. Readman on East Browning avenue reported the theft of a tire and rim from his car.

While officers were investigating theft reports, a report of the loss of four casings was received at the sheriff's office, but the trusty who answered the telephone failed to get the name of the man reporting the theft.

Jack Sutherland of Skellytown reported to officers yesterday morning that his 1930 blue Ford coupe had been stolen some time Saturday night in Skellytown. He works for the Cabot Co.

A 1930 Chrysler royal sedan stolen from Dr. C. C. Rutherford of LeFors from a garage on South Nelson street was found burned 12 miles south of Pampa on Highway 88 late Saturday night. The car was discovered by Siler Hopkins.

CANADA AND BRITAIN REACH AGREEMENT ON PREFERENCES

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 15 (AP)—Canada and Great Britain were reported today to have solved most of their important differences and virtually to have reached an accord on a trade agreement which would include preference in Britain for Canadian farm products and reciprocal favors for Canada for British iron, steel, and coal.

Delegates estimated that with all the agreements completed the division of trade from the United States was not likely to reach more than one-third of the $200,000,000 additional business Great Britain

REACTION TO BAD
STORM

HOUSTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—A steadily mounting death list from Saturday night's Gulf storm was reported today as reports trickled in from isolated sections.

Twenty-five were known to have lost their lives in the hurricane which swept 200 miles of the Texas coast—from Sabine to Seadrift—and then entered the interior to devastate large areas of the rich farming country of eastern Texas.

The known injured numbered around 150, but this list was expected to be greatly increased as a more general survey is made. No estimate of property damage was available, but it will run into thousands of dollars.

Today rescue workers and others were bent upon bringing immediate relief to the homeless. Emergency rations were rushed to Angleton, apparently the hardest hit of the towns, and Eagle Lake.

Hospital Necessary.

At Angleton, 30 miles north of Freeport where the storm struck the coast with its greatest force, an emergency hospital was established. Reports from there said some of the injured were not expected to recover.

Wharton county reported tremendous damage to cotton, rice and corn crops. No estimate was made of the total. Wharton, called "the forest city," had been left almost treeless by the hurricane.

Houston and Galveston, the largest cities to feel the blow, escaped with very little damage, most of it being confined to plate glass windows and flimsy homes and temporary beach structures.

The only damage to sea craft reported was the destruction of the "Wild Duck," a pleasure yacht, which was battered to pieces on the jetties at Sabine, near Beaumont.

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Aug. 15 (AP)—The first class coast guard cutter Unalga left the port of Port Lauderdale today with 60 men in command of Capt. L. C. Mueller, for relief work in the Texas coast storm area.

The vessel was dispatched by C. P. Howell, commander of the

John Bowers Sued For Big Damages By His Uncle

Alleging his health is permanently impaired as the result of injuries sustained in an altercation, last February 27, J. T. Bowers has filed suit in 31st district court asking $100,000 damages of John T. Bowers, his nephew.

The petition alleges that the injuries were suffered in the form of kicking and beating during an argument near the postoffice, and mentions that Lloyd Purvis was a witness and first exchanged words with the plaintiff. The plaintiff denied at the time, he claims, that he had abused John Bowers in conversation.

He states in the petition that he has lost 30 pounds in weight since the affray and suffered serious impairment of his health. His occupation is given as oil investments.

CAPTAINS WARNED
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 15 (AP)—Vessels were warned today by the hydrographic office to use caution in approaching Galveston and vicinity as it was probable that many markers and aids to navigation had been moved or destroyed by the recent storm.

GARNER LEARNS OF HONOR

While President Hoover was putting his opponents on the griddle at his formal notification ceremony in Washington, Speaker Jack Garner, Democratic vice presidential nominee, was casually putting a couple of tasty fish on the griddle at his fishing camp in Texas—and here you see him doing it. In the interests of economy, Garner refused to permit any formal notification ceremony in his case, so the official notification was delivered to his camp by mail. Don't you suppose it was quite a shock when he opened the letter and learned of his nomination?

MANY OKLAHOMA REFORMATORY INMATES TERRIFY GUARDS IN ESCAPE, USING SINGLE GUN

Among 'Toughest' Of Prisoners Are At Large

GRANITE, Okla., Aug. 15 (AP)—Menacing their guards with a smuggled pistol, a large group of convicts fled from state's reformatory here last night in a well-planned but bloodless break.

Twenty-five were said to have escaped, although prison officials were reluctant to give the total. Three were recaptured, two at Sayre, Okla., and one at Quanah, Texas. Twenty guards were searching for the other in the Wichita mountains.

Those at large were described by Day Sergeant Claude Moore as "among the toughest men we've got."

In the absence of their warden, Mrs. George Waters, the men forced their way from the west cell block by overpowering Night Sergeant Tom Owens. Then they disarmed C. H. Dean, on guard at the door and running outside the walls, leaped into the automobiles of two officers parked there and sped away. Owens broke away from the prisoners as they were taking him with them.

There were 500 men in the cell block, which forms part of the outside wall. The situation today was reported calm.

A partial list of those who escaped: Joe Brown, life for slaying a sheriff; Clifford Wimmer, 20 years, robbery; Clarence Hays, 10 years, robbery; Carl Day, 20 years, robbery; R. C. Elliott, 20 years, robbery; Oscar Rickey, 15 years, bank robbery; D. W. Henderson, 30 years, robbery; Arthur Rieker, 10 years, robbery; J. W. Barnard, 15 years, bank robbery.

ILLINOIS COUNTY WILL STOP INVASION OF STRIKING MINERS

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Aug. 15 (AP)—Christian county resembled an armed camp today as 1,500 men, deputized by Sheriff Charles Wienke, barricaded every road leading into the county to prevent a threatened "march on Taylorville" by striking Illinois coal miners.

A faction of the union coal diggers, dissatisfied with the $5 daily scale recently declared in effect by state mine officials, has threatened to invade Christian county to stop 2,000 miners who returned to work at the new scale.

The dissatisfied miners, meeting at Bend last night, called for a state-wide strike against the new scale. They also voted to hold a state convention at which they will seek to repudiate the leadership of John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, and John H. Walker, president of the Illinois district.

Leaders of the Bend protest meeting claimed 10,000 miners were in attendance. Bend is 40 miles northwest of Taylorville.

BIG DRIVE

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—John N. Garner, democratic candidate for vice-president, told a democratic luncheon today that he still believed Alfred E. Smith "would have made one of the greatest presidents this country has ever known" in answering a question concerning a rumor that he had not voted for Smith in 1928.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP)—Adopting a new method of campaigning, Governor Roosevelt and Speaker Garner, the democratic national ticket, will meet frequently during the campaign to estimate results and discuss future efforts. After a conference between Roosevelt and Garner last night and today, Mr. Roosevelt said the Texan would "undoubtedly make speeches in the East."

Mr. Roosevelt described the democratic drive for votes as a "look, listen, and learn" campaign. He said: "The primary objective of the campaign is to talk to the people and find out the needs of the sections although I probably will have to make one or two speeches."

Mr. Roosevelt explained that his own schedule for the next few weeks is elastic because of the Mayor Walker ouster hearing. He has, however, laid plans for a "big swing" to the Pacific coast in September and early October. These plans call for a route by way of Denver, Salt Lake City, Butte, Mont., Spokane, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, through New Mexico and Arizona to Kansas, where Mr. Roosevelt will pause long enough to speak, probably at Wichita.

A group of democratic leaders were said to have opposed Speaker Garner's talking in the Eastern states.

Mr. Roosevelt waved away a question.

FOLLY OF WEALTH

The oddest news stories that ever get into the papers, perhaps, are those which tell about misers. A new version of this old type of story appeared not long ago when Chicago courts investigated the affairs of an aged rag picker who had just died.

For a quarter of a century this man had gone about Chicago's west side gathering rags and old bottles. He was known to be a bit "near," and casual acquaintances guessed that he had laid away a good deal of money; but no one was prepared for what actually was discovered.

This rag picker, who worked at the very bottom of the scale and lived in a one-room flat, had an estate worth more than $1,000,000—not on paper, but in actual cash and government bonds.

Stories of this kind aren't exactly rare; and they always set one musing about the peculiar way in which the human mind can work occasionally. For they represent such a complete mistaking of the means for the end, such a thorough perversion of the ordinary objectives of life.

Any man of ordinary intelligence knows perfectly well that money, by itself, isn't worth anything. It is of value only because of the things it will buy.

The man who piles up a fortune because he wants those things—because he realizes that wealth is only a means to an end—knows what he is doing.

But what are we to think of the man who rolls up an enormous bank account but refuses to take advantage of it—the man who is rich but who persists in living under the handicap of poverty?

A man like that is more to be pitied than the penniless vagrant. He has failed to glimpse the real meaning of life.

and long hair, shocked his seniors with impudent suggestions, and with his brilliant oratory blazed his way to wide popularity in Texas, a senatorship, and rank as one of the most conspicuous and influential democrats at Washington during the administrations of McKinley, Roosevelt, and Taft. He disputed the course of democracy—with somewhat blatant zeal—in clashes with Cleveland, Bryan, and Wilson. Born in the troubled period of the Confederacy, he was a sort of pivotal link which bound the past with the present through a doctrine of Jeffersonian democracy.

Led Opposition.

Bailey's theories led him to strongly oppose the protective tariff, national prohibition, and woman suffrage, and to attract a great deal of enmity on these grounds. Much of his time in Washington he spent as a leader of the opposition. Few bills bear his name. Yet Bailey shares equally with Roosevelt and Tillman the final enactment of the Hepburn freight rate bill, "that Magna Charta of American economic liberty on which has been built the whole structure of control of more than one-fifth of the industrial wealth of the United States."

Quite a Critic.

Bailey's enemies remember him as a carping critic. Legal students regard him as a very able constitutional lawyer. The nation as a whole best remembers him as a great orator. Mr. Acheson says that "The keystone in his political creed was a belief in the system of dual sovereignty around which the constitution of the United States was formed. He continued to champion a just safeguard of the right of local self-government at a time when it became fashionable to deride the doctrine of states' rights as an archaic fetish; yet he lives to witness a reaction in favor of this first principle, even among certain leaders of the republican party."

Still the Master.

Mr. Hoover is, in his own opinion, still the super-man, believes the Vernon RECORD, quoting the president: "Two courses were open. We might have done nothing. That would have been utter ruin. Instead, we met the situation with proposals to private business the congress of the most gigantic program of economic defense and counter-attack ever evolved in the history of the republic. We put it into action."

Delayed Justice Ordinarily is Condemned.

But we probably won't hear much complaint out of Mr. Roosevelt if the Walker decision is delayed until after the general election.

The farmer, who gets more sympathy and less help from the government than anybody else, is more resourceful than generally imagined.

Statistics show the farmer pays back money borrowed from the government much more rapidly than the city business men who get such aid.

Somewhat Humbled?

Additional restrictions by special order on products such as wheat and lumber whenever the necessity arises. This was the British answer for the demand that Britain cut down or place an embargo on its trade with Russia. On the Canadian side, the chief concessions are likely to be on coal, iron and steel. The United Kingdom would like reductions in the rates now imposed by Canada on British textiles. While this seemed likely on certain high-grade lines, it was doubted that the British request could be fully met.

HOW'S your HEALTH

POISON IVY

Poison ivy is a generic name given to an inflammation of the skin, due to contact with certain plants whose resins irritate the skin. A classical example of this type of plant is poison ivy. There are many other plants, however, that may produce the irritation.

Poison ivy is a shrub which may be a climber. It grows about the trunks of trees and in rocky spots and on walls and fences.

The plant may be either low or erect. The leaves are divided into three somewhat quadrangular green leaflets.

Poison ivy inflammations may result from indirect contact with the plant; if one's clothes should brush against it, if a towel which had previously been spread upon the ground is used to wipe off the hands or if one should use or come in contact with the poison ivy plant, inflammations may result.

Symptoms of poison ivy are those of burning and itching. Exposed parts such as the hands and the face react first.

Soon after the burning and itching, fine little blisters appear. At times these small blisters may, so they flow together and form large blisters.

Associated with this skin irritation may be headache, a rise in temperature, acute intestinal upset and general but indefinite feeling of illness.

The prevention of poison ivy, of course, depends primarily upon avoiding contact with the plant. Recently, however, a prophylactic treatment was developed. This consists of four injections on alternate dates. The protection, however, is not complete.

Persons sensitive to poison ivy who have been out in the woods, exposed to contact with the plant, should, after the hike or exposure, take a bath, using soap freely.

Rubbing alcohol should be applied particularly to the exposed parts of the body and the alcohol should be washed off with water. The clothing worn should be washed.

Schleicher May Be New Chancellor

BERLIN, Aug. 15. (AP)—A possibility that General Kurt von Schleicher, the able soldier-junker who is minister of defense and the recognized power in the present cabinet, might be Germany's new chancellor appeared today.

With the country quiet over the week-end, following the collapse of the bid Adolf Hitler, Nazi leader, for the chancellorship Saturday, party newspapers began putting out the felicitations for a coalition of the Hitlerites and the Centerists, with General Von Schleicher at its head, as a neutral.

The state also included Dr. Franz Bracht, now virtual dictator of the state of Prussia and mayor of Essen, as Premier of Prussia.

The Nazis and centerists would be represented in the cabinet, according to the press suggestions, on the basis of two to one.

The Koelnische Zeitung warned, however, that the present government might block any such move by failing to convoke the Reichstag August 30 as planned. It added the government was "prepared for any eventuality."

BOGUS PLANT SEIZED

LUFKIN, Aug. 15. (AP)—The passing of two counterfeit $20 bills at Lufkin here resulted today in the arrest of a man and a woman and the confiscation of a plant where bogus money apparently had been printed.

POLICY OF POLITICAL ACTION TO BE FRAMED FOR W. C. T. U.

SEATTLE, Aug. 15 (AP)—Organization of an informal committee by leaders of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, in convention here, to develop a "policy of political action" indicated today that although unable to endorse either of the two major presidential candidates the union would not remain idle while the forces of prohibition repeal seek victory.

The "political action" committee is composed of two Republicans, three Democrats and Mrs. D. Letty Colvin of New York City, a member of the newly formed law preservation party in New York state.

The Republicans are Mrs. Ella A. Boole of Brooklyn, N. Y., national president, and Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, vice-president, of Des Moines, Iowa. The Democrats are Mrs. Nelle Burger of Springfield, Mo., Republican Welch of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mrs. Mary Harris Armour of Atlanta.

The strategy discussed by the committee would call for election of drys to Congress with the understanding they would seek to prevent passage of any resolutions to repeal or weaken national prohibition.

However, should such resolutions pass Congress, then the committee believes an attempt should be made to see that state legislatures, rather than state conventions, act upon the proposed charges, feeling that conventions might be stymied.

A telegram from Commander Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army to the union convention, assured the union of the army's support in its stand against either of the Republican or Democratic liquor planks.

Arthur M. Barnhart, chairman of the Illinois Conference of Dry Organizations, told the delegates President Herbert Hoover "moralists" they would seek to prevent his right to hold the office of chief executive in the United States; the president has backed down at a moment when every true prohibitionist must fight more firmly than ever for the cause of temperance.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—While wet and dry organizations work to elect this fall members of Congress who will represent their

SANJURJO, LEADER IN NEW REVOLT, ALFONSO'S FRIEND

But Civil Guard Commander Supported Republic As Matter of Duty.

SEVILLE, Spain (AP)—Gen. Jose Sanjurjo, who took this city and proclaimed himself captain general of Andalusia at the outset of the one-day rightists' rebellion against the Spanish republic has been the great enemy of the nation ever since Alfonso XIII and the royal family fled abroad.

His arrest at Huelva when the revolt was less than 24 hours old signalled the collapse of the movement.

Although a devoted servant of the monarchy, he had continued under the new government as commander of the civil guards, holding disorderly elements in check and keeping aloof from politics.

He never publicly explained his stand in this respect. Admirers say that the key can be found in the word "duty." Sworn to uphold public order, they explain, the general believed that the guards, as peace officers, should be kept out of politics.

Thus the guard held to its tradition of upholding constituted authority blindly. In fact, the commander visited republican headquarters on April 14, 1931, and told Alcala Zamora and other leaders that the 35,000 armed and disciplined men under him would not interfere with proclamation of a republic.

This, moreover, was shortly after the general had personally escorted Queen Victoria to the Escorial station and bidden her a farewell in which he made no attempt to conceal his pain and regret.

Outburst Hurts His Standing. But eventually the general's feelings burst their bounds. The occasion was an affair in the remote village of Castiblanco, where the population massacred the guard garrison of four men and took over control of the town.

Gen. Jose Sanjurjo (above) was one of the leaders in the rightist revolt against the new Spanish republic.

General Sanjurjo spoke up then and publicly denounced "unpatriotic socialist efforts."

Naturally he lost favor with the republic after that outburst.

It was as pacifier of Spanish Morocco that General Sanjurjo made his greatest reputation. Sanjurjo was born in Zaragossa March 23, 1872.

Scanning New Books

By JOHN SELBY

NEW YORK—Like the makers of mosaics, the French novelists sometimes sit dimly piecing together their vari-colored bits, producing in the end, and to the surprise of everybody, something almost epic in swing.

So Andre' Maurois in "The Family Circle," which progresses from minutes, mostly interesting, until at last one has a complete and thrilling picture of the emotional life of a woman. A picture worth anyone's having.

Little less important is Mazo de la Roche's "Lark Ascending," which is a good novel would call the best of the season. Miss de la Roche does everything well, but in this case what makes the book so impressive is probably the fact that she has chosen a group of persons in whom one cannot avoid taking great interest.

Let Us Laugh

There is something appalling in a writer's setting out to be funny throughout a book, like a man's stepping three times as high as usual trying to avoid contact with the dull pavement. A. S. Hutchinson's "Big Business" is a little on that order, although amusing in spots. And the Glynas Williams drawings are monotonously clever.

Cavatus Roy Cohen's "Carbon Copies" is broken into eleven short pieces, and the strain is not so great. Most of the famous Cohen people are in this one, even Florian Stappay.

For the other books: "I Have no Regrets" by Lieut. Hans Bringolf is a hopeful attempt to make a sordid life seem picturesque.

"Between White and Red" by Erich Dwiinger is a first rate record of prison and army life in Russia's "backyard" before the Reds finally won out.

"A Scientist Among the Soviets" is a pleasant but not profound study of the Russian idea by Julian Huxley.

"A Good Man's Love" by E. M. Delafield is a study of the Victorian urge to marry, repetitious but truthful.

"Grand Hotel" Again

"New Heaven, New Earth" by Phoebe Fenwick Faye tells of the emotional and other tangles of an Atlantic Crossing, and very well, too.

"Liberty" is Horatio S. Rubens' version of the fight of Cuban independence, told from a new angle.

"All I Could Never Be" by Anzia Yezierska is that one about the little tenement girl who becomes famous.

"Man Made Angry" is a novel by Hugh Brooke with a leaning toward horror. Besides being a good job of writing.

Junior Baseball Team In Victory

The Pampa Junior baseball team won a sensational 5 to 4 game for the Panhandle seniors in Panhandle yesterday afternoon. Little Cason had his fast ball working to perfection, and the rightists' support held the slugging Panhandles well scattered hits while the local boys were gathering 11 off Shepherd.

The Pampa attack was led by Dick Sullins and McNutt with home runs in the second inning. In the following inning Heitell hit one for two bases to score two more runs. The winning run crossed the plate in the eighth inning. Acklam, Adair, Ragsdale, and Cason each handled four chances without errors.

McNutt, student at Oklahoma A. & M., who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dillman, caught a great game. Cason's fast ball was bothering the Panhandle boys and they were hitting down the right side of the diamond.

Byrd and Armstrong, Panhandle catcher, won a pick of the Panhandles both in field and at bat.

HOOVER, THOUGH FISHING, IS THINKING OF BIG CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—On broad Chesapeake by President Hoover today sought a fisherman's freedom from work. The small party with him aboard the commerce department's fish-boat Sequoia was in dition, his friends to rest. It was a "stag" party.

The president left in Washington a number of aides working on detailed plans for the general business conference he has called for Aug. 26.

Yesterday he said it would "deal with specific projects where definite accomplishments in business, agriculture, and transportation can be attained and will co-ordinate the mobilization of private and government instrumentalities to that end."

He is calling in to confer with governmental representatives business committees already appointed in each of the twelve federal reserve districts. The chairman of three will meet here August 25 to prepare the program for the conference.

Some of the things that will be on that program, Mr. Hoover said, are:

"A canvass of the means, methods, agencies and powers available in the country for general advancement, wider expansion of credit facilities to business and industry where consumption of goods is assured; coordination and expansion of livestock and agricultural credit facilities; coordination and expansion of financial facilities for the movement of commodities into consumption; expansion of programs for repairs and maintenance of the railways; and creation of organization for further spread of existing employment and expansion of employment."

Besides the businessmen, bankers, industrialists, the president appointed to join the meeting heads of the federal reserve farm loan, farm and home loan boards; of the reconstruction corporation and of the treasury, agriculture, commerce, and labor departments.

He said that later he would designate special committees to handle questions such as those directly involving agriculture, labor, railways, and other industries and groups.

Two men who will sit in the conference were aboard the Sequoia with the president. They were Clarence Mott Woolley of New York, and Secretary Hyde of the agriculture department.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

If you must figure closely to supply your family with nourishing foods, you can find no cheaper source of vitamin and mineral content than in apples.

After thorough washing, apples are one of the best raw foods and can be served without even parting as a breakfast fruit. They are particularly good for the teeth, counteracting the effect of today's "soft diet" about which dentists complain so much.

Many irresistible desserts have apples as their basis. Simple and easy to prepare, they are healthful as they are popular.

Nearly all salads, fruit, vegetable or meat, find apples an appetizing addition.

Baked or steamed apples are one of the first solid foods a baby eats and these same baked apples will be relished by the elders for breakfast with sugar and cream.

The varieties of apples are legion and the way the fruit is to be used determines, of course, the variety used. For the convenience of marketing, they are usually divided into two classes—cooking apples and eating apples.

Apples for pie or sauce should be tart and well flavored and of a fine texture. This insures quick cooking and delicious flavor. Those wanted for baking should be perfectly formed, firm and of good size. If they are too delicately fruited, they will fall apart while baking and be unattractive for serving.

Eating apples should be well flavored and juicy. Astrakan apples, which are one of the very best varieties of early apples for cooking and jelly making, are a bit tart for eating. The old-fashioned harvest apple and yellow transparent varieties are good both for cooking and eating.

It always is economical to buy apples in quantity rather than in pound lots. They are not a perishable fruit and can be used in so many ways that there is little danger of becoming tired of them before they are spoiled.

When you make apple sauce, remember the rule of adding sugar to fruit after the fruit is cooked. Less sugar is required to sweeten the sauce and the flavor is much more delicate. If you have not carefully trimmed out all bruised spots before cooking the sauce should be rubbed through a colander as the bruised flesh of the apple becomes hard and tough after cooking. Also be sure that every particle of core is cut out, especially if children are to eat the sauce.

Carlsbad Deputy Kidnaped, Beaten

CARLSBAD, N. M., Aug. 15. (AP)—Two men and a woman who yesterday kidnaped Joe Johns, chief deputy sheriff of Eddy county, treated him "pretty rough" and forced him out of a car near San Antonio, Texas, the officer in a telephone conversation with Sheriff Walter McDonald, said today.

Johns was released from the kidnapers' car last night 15 or 20 miles from San Antonio and telephoned Sheriff McDonald this morning. The kidnaping occurred at a tourist camp two miles from here.

The deputy sheriff told McDonald he did not know the identity of his abductors, who fled after releasing him. Johns said he would leave immediately for his home. He was not seriously injured.

Reports that Johns had been detained were proved erroneous early today when it was determined the story started after a tourist interpreted a statement that "John's head was shot off."

LOCAL LIONS CLUB HAS CHARGE OF SUNDAY CONTEST

It was all for charity's sake—the barrage of hits, runs, errors, and occasional feats of brilliance in the Sunday baseball game here between a Phillips 66 team of Borger and a local Phillips 66 outfit. Both teams were assembled hurriedly for the game. The score was 17 to 9.

Freshour went the route for the locals, but his support was erratic from the first inning. Balls were bobbled or misjudged in partially every inning and as a result Borger got 21 hits, five of them for extra bases. Roseman caught a nice game, but his hitting was off yesterday.

Shriver did the big hitting for the Pampa 66 with a home run, double, and single in four trips to the plate, but his fielding was erratic. Warren and Newsome each got two hits, one of Warren's going for a home run. Jimmie Coburn, pinch hitting for Cassidy, hit a triple in his first trip to the plate. Cahill and Roseman each got three bases out of four when the fielders missed the ball.

Her Haddock of Borger was runner of the game with four hits, and a double. Holland, and Gollard each collected safe hits. With the exception of Lindsey, catcher, every man on Borger team crossed the plate. Holland hit two triples, a triple and double and a double for the extra bases.

Most of the infield played nice of the game. The fielders did falter in some spots. The outcome led to show up to expectations.

Italy Is Nearest Rival To Yankees

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15. (AP)—The forces of the United States today from 16 days of unintermittent Olympic competition in the greatest collection of vicissitudes in this quadrennial event in at least 20 years.

There won no less than eight of the competitions where, unofficial championships were in Italy, with three titles, was the best rival.

American men away with the field for both men and women and came down the stretch to the chief prizes of rowing. They yielded the success in men's swimming, for the time, to Japan's spectacular team but American mermaids succeeded their unbroken success of team triumphs.

Sections of the United States contributed to the jousting. Track field stars of the American mid-60s, including the great Jimmie Hines of Kansas, world record holder in the decathlon; Eddie Tolan of Detroit, the double sprint king; and Bill Carr of Arkansas, contributed much to the sweeping victories of an American team that captured 11 out of 23 men's events.

Texas sent the redoubtable Babe Nixon, double winner and world record breaker in women's track field sports, while the Pacific West contributed Helene Madison, only double winner of the swimming battle. Eastern stalwarts like Sexton and John Anderson asserted their supremacy in the weight lifting duels, besides the contribution of Philadelphia's oarsmen to national rowing triumph. The girl's Eddie Flynn of New Orleans gave a skillful boxing exhibition that edged another team victory to a big list.

As a climax California's unbeaten crew came along to beat off Italy's remarkable challenge and safe another long-cherished emblem of American supremacy. It was only by the fleet margin of a fifth of a second the Americans on the big boat race, with Canada and Great Britain a close third and fourth, but it was enough to keep their own and their country's undefeated record of this competition.

Next after America's nine points, came Argentina with eight, having two title holders and a defeated finalist. Trailing were South Africa, Germany, Italy, Canada, Hungary, Mexico, Finland, Philippines and Denmark.

The United States standard was raised mainly through the efforts of Eddie Flynn of New Orleans and Carmen Barth of Cleveland, winners of the welterweight and middleweight crowns respectively.

There was only one knockout in the 80 bouts.

CARLETON AND DEAN IN PAIR OF TRIUMPHS

TEXAS Hurlers Are Heroes To St. Louis Fans As Leaders Are Beaten.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 15. (AP)—Two Texans, both rookie pitchers, were heroes of the hour to baseball fans of St. Louis today.

Tex Carleton and Dizzy Dean, both from the Lone Star State, hurled the Cardinals to victories over the league-leading Chicago Cubs yesterday in a doubleheader to give their team one of its outstanding triumphs of the season. Carleton blanked the Cubs in the first game, allowing seven hits, to win 2 to 0, and Dean held them to six hits in the second contest, which went ten innings, for a 2-1 victory. He struck out six men in a row, just one short of the world record.

American Boxing Team In Victory

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15. (AP)—The United States regained the team title from Italy and eight new champions were crowned in 1932 Olympic boxing.

Two individual and three third places enabled the host nation to regain the top position it held in 1920 and 1924 while the Italians, with two defeated finalists, tallied only four points.

Next after America's nine points, came Argentina with eight, having two title holders and a defeated finalist. Trailing were South Africa, Germany, Italy, Canada, Hungary, Mexico, Finland, Philippines and Denmark.

The United States standard was raised mainly through the efforts of Eddie Flynn of New Orleans and Carmen Barth of Cleveland, winners of the welterweight and middleweight crowns respectively.

NAVAL SCOUTS GET ORDER ON WAY TO LOSE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—The boys who sail with the navy's scouting force cruisers have a new commandments telling them to make fair play and clean tactics the rule in athletics contests.

The commandments, promulgated in an order by Rear Admiral W. H. Standley, commander of the force: "Consider all athletic opponents as guests and treat them as such. Accept all decisions of officials without protest. Never hiss or boo a player or official. Never utter abusive or irritating remarks from the sidelines. Applaud opponents for good plays and good sportsmanship. Never rattle an opposing player. Seek to win by fair means only. Love sport for the game's sake and not for what a victory may bring. Apply the Golden Rule. Win without boasting and lose without excuse."

Helene Madison May Enter Movies

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15. (AP)—Ray Daughters, coach of Helene Madison, the double Olympic champion who admitted to the Associated Press that she might turn film actress, believes his 19-year-old protégée is all through shattering swimming marks.

Said Daughters: "The girl worked with only one thought in mind the last year—the Olympic games. Now that it is all over the let-down will be terrific and I don't believe she can ever muster the ambition or interest to make any more records. Helene had hoped to break every free style mark in the book but she fell five short. She will never get them."

Miss Madison has captured all 16 of the 65 American marks and both the 100-meter and 400-meter Olympic championships.

NATIONAL HAS BUT 6 WEEKS TO UNTANGLE

CUBS LOSE GROUND IN DROPPING PAIR TO CARDS

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The eight clubs of the National League, with the end of the season only six weeks away, are so closely bunched that an attempt to pick the winner could be classed as suicide.

Chicago's Cubs still lead the parade but their margin over the Pittsburgh Pirates is only half a game with the Brooklyn Dodgers another game and a half to the lead. The Phillies, Boston Braves, and St. Louis Cardinals follow at such short intervals that the Cardinals are only six games out of first place.

The Cubs lost valuable ground yesterday as they surrendered two games to the Cardinals, 2-0 and 2-1 in 10 innings. Tex Carlton spaced seven Cub hits in the opener and Dizzy Dean gave up only six in the nightcap and struck out eight men, six in a row.

Brooklyn struck title by splitting two games with the New York Giants, winning the first 2, 1 in 10 innings and dropping the second, 8-4. Johnny Frederick set up a new league record when he cleared a home run in a pinch-hitter's role for the fourth time this season. Frederick's homer coming with two out in the ninth frame of the first game, tied the score and the Dodgers then won the battle in the next frame as the Giants mangled three Dodger pitchers for 13 hits to win the second game.

The Cincinnati Reds, in last place, defeated the Boston Braves twice, 3-1 and 9-3, getting excellent pitching from Red Lucas and St. Johnson.

The New York Yankees stretched their American league lead to nine games by whipping Washington 5-4. Lefty Gomez won his 20th victory of the season although he was knocked out of the box in the ninth when a Senator rally fell one run short of tying the score.

The Philadelphia Athletics clubbed out a 6-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the first game, as Jimmie Fox hit his 43rd homer but Johnny Welch pitched the Sox to a 2-0 shutout in the nightcap, allowing eight scattered hits.

Tom Bridges stopped the Cleveland Indians with five hits and drove in two runs as Detroit won a 3-0 triumph that dropped the Indians another half game behind the Athletics.

The St. Louis Browns won two games from the Chicago White Sox, 5-0 and 9-5.

Maybe Were Right.

In the wake of Jack Sharkey's brave declaration that he was willing to meet Johnny Risko again to prove that Risko's decision over him must have been some mistake, it was predicted here that Sharkey would have no part of the venerable boxer boy.

A Cleveland promoter wired Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, asking for a date for Sharkey on a Christmas fund charity show, the opponent being Risko. The reply offered Ernie Schaff.

Grab Them Quickly.

Proof that the major leagues are not slow to seize promising players in the minors is offered by Lew Fonseca's recent cruise in vain throughout the jungles. For 10 days Fonseca went up and down the land looking at ivory, and every piece of talent he liked were a "sold" label. And the White Sox need players so badly, too.

Stricken Dodgers.

Considering the ball club he directs, Max Carey has been doing more than just fair in Brooklyn. The aging Mr. Vance lately has been suffering one ailment after another. Left-hander Watson Clark is stricken by frequent nose bleed. Ray Phelps has been trying to wiggle through the season with considerable fat around the mid-section and first nine innings of pitching a most irksome task. Beyond the fact that Mungo is uncertain and Thurston is given to erratic interludes, the Brooklyn club has a rattling good pitching staff.

CROWDS AT REVIVALS NUMBER NEARLY TWO THOUSAND Gray County Women Asked to Speak Publicly in Support of Governor

SIX HUNDRED FIFTY ATTEND ONE MEETING

SERVICES TO CONTINUE THROUGH NEXT SUNDAY

Crowds at the First Methodist and the Church of Christ revival meetings yesterday numbered nearly two thousand persons. Both revivals will continue through next Sunday.

About five hundred yesterday morning and six hundred fifty last evening attended the Methodist revival, the figures having been obtained by count. Evangelist Ray N. Johnson, former pastor of the local church, preached at both services. He was assisted at both services by a large choir. Special numbers included a vocal solo by Mrs. L. Wolfe yesterday morning, and a vocal quartet number by E. E. Plank, E. D. Zimmerman, Ralph Irwin, and C. E. Ward last evening. Mrs. May Foreman Carr was at the organ.

A crowd of between four and five hundred heard Jesse F. Wiseman speak on "The Power of a Sinful Life" last evening in Talley addition, where the open-air revival is being conducted, and a slightly smaller crowd gathered at the Church of Christ building yesterday morning to hear "The Plan and the Practice" discussed.

Clarence B. Williams of Estes Park lectured on singing and will continue to do so during the remainder of the revival.

MRS. M'CORMICK IS VERY ILL IN CHICAGO

Brilliant Career of Society Leader Is Halted

CHICAGO (AP)—No more, perhaps, will Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick rule as the grand dame of Chicago society.

No more, perhaps, will she entertain notables and royalty.

And no more will she direct a huge real estate business or take an active interest in the opera.

For the one-time "world's richest woman" lies seriously ill here. Her chances for recovery doubtful, according to friends and attendants, who say that her condition has been aggravated by financial worries. Even though she recovers, it is held likely that her health will be so impaired that she will be unable to resume her former activities.

Society Leader For Decade

For more than a decade Mrs. McCormick was the society leader of Chicago and a pillar of culture in the Midwest. Her millions, after her return from an eight years' sojourn in Switzerland in 1921 and a subsequent divorce from Harold F. McCormick, enabled her to set up a magnificent suburban estate and install herself in a gray stone mansion at the head of the "gold coast."

It was in this mansion, which Mrs. McCormick recently closed because of financial adversities, that the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, sr., held open house for the cream of society and entertained foreign notables. Among them were Queen Marie of Rumania and Prince William of Sweden.

Mrs. McCormick's interest in things cultural has been expressed in many ways, but principally in her devotion to opera. She was the "godmother" of Chicago grand opera before formation of the Civic Opera company and an ardent patroness of the "opera in English" movement.

Punctuality Her Creed

Many of her dinners were pre-opera affairs, and through them she established a reputation for unusual punctuality, going ahead with the regard regardless of late-arriving guests and running her courses on a strict time schedule, timed by a tiny jeweled clock beside her plate.

This seeming rudeness to her guests, she held, was justified by the necessity for arriving at the opera in ample time for the overture.

Activity in the Penwoman's club, founding of the Chicago Zoological gardens for which she deeded a 150-acre tract to Cook county, and collection of Persian rugs and valuable pieces of art were other evidences of her cultural interests. She wrote lyrics for a "Love Song Cycle" consisting of six compositions. Although not particularly inclined to philanthropic gestures, her philanthropic spirit has been noted in administration of her properties during the depression.

Friends Point Out That She Has Chosen to Add to Her Own Financial Burdens by Reducing Payments from Hundreds of Small Home-Buyers Rather Than Forfeit the Equities of Those Whose Restricted Incomes Made Them Unable to Keep Up Payments.

Disliked to "flaunt wealth" when so many were hard-pressed. Muriel and Mathilde, married Mrs. McCormick's family life. Mathilde married a Swiss riding master, Max Oser, against her mother's wishes, and it was not until after eight years that the couple received the maternal blessing.

Muriel, now Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard of Connecticut, became estranged from her mother after the latter's divorce, and only in the last few years did they become reconciled.

Navy Blue and White Chic Color Combination

PARIS (AP)—The Baronne James Henri de Rothschild is among smart Parisians who are sponsoring navy blue and white as the season's smartest color combination.

The Baronne attended the opening of the Grand Racing Week at Auteuil wearing a frock of navy blue, draped trimmed with touches of white crepe. With it she wore a broad brimmed navy blue straw hat and white gloves.

Once the "world's richest woman" and the social leader of Chicago, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick is seriously ill with her recovery unexpected. A patroness of the opera, Mrs. McCormick is shown at left in one of her opera costumes. Her gray mansion in which she once entertained Queen Marie of Rumania and which she recently closed as an economy measure, is shown at right.

Parisian Stylists Launching War on Fashion Pirates

PARIS, Aug. 15. (AP)—An attack on "fashion pirates" who place false French labels in low-priced hats manufactured in the United States has been launched here with the signing of a protective agreement between 25 leading Paris milliners and 16 prominent American hat manufacturers.

Under the agreement, formed between the Parisian designers and the Millinery Quality Guild having headquarters in New York, the American hat manufacturers pledged themselves to limit their purchases to the 25 Parisian milliners and to combat unauthorized use of their trademarks in low priced hats manufactured in the United States.

Labels to Be Numbered
Special numbered labels vouching for the authenticity of models will be manufactured in France and sold through the New York headquarters of the Millinery Quality Guild.

Members of the organization displaying labels will be forced to present consular invoices certifying the purchase of the hat in Paris and will be held responsible for the disposition of the numbered labels which they buy.

To Fix Price of Copies
The guild, members of which include the largest and most widely known hat manufacturers in the United States, will also establish a minimum price for copies which its members make of hats purchased in Paris.

The 25 Parisian milliners are: Agnes, Talbot, Patou, Bruyere, Camille Rogers, Reboux, Germaine Page, Lanvin, LeMonnier, Louise Barbon, Made, Mainbocher, Molyneux, Rose Desart, Valois, Lewis, Marcell Lely, Blanche et Simone, Marie Guy, Goupy, Gaby Mono, Marie Christiana, Marie Alphonse, Suzy White and Marthe.

COMMITTEE TO LEAD WORK IS TO BE ACTIVE

Representation from Several Towns Included

Several Gray county women probably will be among the 500 speakers which are being asked to address gatherings in support of Gov. Ross S. Sterling, candidate for re-election, according to Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, county chairman.

Request that Gray county women be represented among the speakers at Sterling rallies was received by Mrs. Hunkapillar from Mrs. Cone Johnson, assistant manager of the Sterling campaign, and the Gray county chairman reported that such speakers would be available. Women of the Gray county steering committee also were asked to use their own initiative in supporting the governor.

Mrs. C. E. Weymouth of Amarillo, district chairman, appointed Mrs. Hunkapillar as county chairman, and she, in turn appointed the following steering committee:

Laketon—Mrs. Charles Talley. McLean—Miss Ruby Cook. LeFors—Mrs. Ralph Ogden, Mrs. A. Carpenter, and Mrs. J. L. Stroupe. Pampa—Mesdames J. M. Doudson, Tom E. Rose, H. H. Hicks, Ivy E. Duncan, C. P. My Beauty Hint

By SYLVIA SIDNEY

I have a few hints for the brunet who wishes to appear at her best at all times. First of all, I think the brunet should use mascara on her eye lashes only very lightly in the daytime and more heavily for evening.

The eyebrows should never be widened or blackened, but they may be lengthened with a pencil for evening. White or flesh-toned powders are not for the brunet. I think a suntan shade best, for it gives the skin the desired glowing color.

"The brighter the better" should be the lip rouge motto of the brunet.

MODEL HOME--BEAUTIFUL KEY COTTAGE--PRAISED BY LOCAL WOMAN FOLLOWING HER TRIP

House at A. & M. Is Inspiration to Visitors

By MRS. T. D. ALFORD
President of Merten Club

Nothing interested me more during my recent trip to College Station than model farm home, otherwise known as Key cottage, at Texas A. & M. college.

The 6-room cottage is located on the campus two doors south of the extension to the college, and was given to the college by the trustees of Texas. Its purpose is to help farm and ranch families in furnishing their own homes, the idea having been originated by Mrs. O. B. Martin of College Station.

The 6-room cottage is colonial in architecture, distinctive in appearance, and is conveniently and economically planned to meet the needs of an average size family.

Cost $3,500

At a cost of $3,500 the cottage was erected by the construction forces of A. & M. college. The furnishings create physical comfort, permit freedom in family activities, provide healthful entertainment, and assist in physical, mental, and spiritual development.

Walls were kept in their proper perspective as a background through the careful selection of wallpaper. The living room and dining room were papered with grey tones slightly warmed with delicate tracings of gold. There was an "all-over" effect to the bedroom patterns, which seemed to lie flat against the walls. The kitchen and bath had a wainscoting of wall board painted with waterproof ivory paint (washable and steam resistant) and a commercial wall oilcloth in light green was used for the upper part of the walls.

Ivory Used
A soft ivory was used throughout the house for the woodwork. The Floors were given as mellow a finish as possible, just two or three tones darker than the woodwork. A good inlaid linoleum was used for the kitchen, bath, bedrooms, and hall.

Furnishings for the home were gifts. The living room furniture of Philippine mahogany (very light color), grapes, and rug cost $350. The dining room imparted an early American atmosphere by ladder-back chairs and an old ash dresser displaying old pewter and glass with the more modern china, making an interesting contrast to the kitchen, furnished according to America's latest modes. There was electrical equipment of every kind, good utensils, convenient arrangement, good lighting, and plenty of hot, soft water to help eliminate drudgery. Rogers Heirloom silverware was selected.

Place of Rest
Beautiful covers and hand-made quilts were used in the bedrooms. The lamp on the bedside table was a beautiful old kerosene lamp wired electrically, making a link between the old and the new. Bedroom chairs were all comfortable.

Interesting yards, like individuals, are "different." The one at Key cottage had walks and gravel drives to harmonize with the informal building. Both front and back walks were of stepping stone and were curved. The back walk was of native rock, the front of broken concrete with grass between. Pecan trees were grouped in the back-ground serving as shade and bearing nuts. One large tree in the front yard served as a screen for a short while in so lovely and inspiring a place as Key cottage.

I feel it an honor to have been permitted to assist as hostess for a short while in so lovely and inspiring a place as Key cottage.

The Faithful Cheat

BY RUBY M. AYLES

SYNOPSIS: Sondra Kent and John Anderson visit together for the first time since the divorce. Mark Merriman, whom Sondra has secretly married, though they have each other, Sondra expects to keep Mark, who has been ill, happy and unaware of the truth. John's honorable attitude toward her strengthens her purpose.

Chapter 31

BEATRICE MAKES TROUBLE

"YOU haven't made a muddle of your life," Sondra told John, "you've got everything you can possibly want."

He let that pass, and after a moment she broke out again.

"I don't know why you bother about us at all. We're not your responsibility."

"I naturally feel an interest in Merriman, seeing that I sent him out. I want to do the best I can for him."

Her mouth quivered, but she answered bitterly. "I'm sure I am very grateful to you—on his behalf."

He leaned his arms on the table looking across at her with steady eyes.

"Sondra, why will you persist in hurting me so? Can't you—can't we both think a little of the poor fellow who is counting the moments till he sees you again. Don't let's be cowardly."

Her eyes flashed angrily. "I don't know why you say 'we,' it's nothing to do with you. It's only you to carry my troubles, and any way I am a coward! It's the way I've been brought up. I suppose. It's all very well for you to talk. You're free—but I wonder how you would like to be me—fled hand and foot to someone you don't care for?"

"Don't you think I've experienced it? But I always tried not to forget that it was my own fault."

"I don't see how that helps," she said almost sullenly; she pushed back her chair and rose as Mrs. Merriman came hurrying back to them. "If she asks any more questions I shall scream," Sondra said half hysterically.

Mrs. Merriman was flushed and excited; the boat was sighted, she said to Anderson in a trembling voice. She ignored Sondra. She sped away, a pathetic, anxious figure, and Sondra and Anderson looked at one another silently.

"How she hates me!" Sondra said. "Well, I don't care!" She picked up her coat. "I suppose we must go—when he moved she spoke his name, 'John!'"

"Yes."

"If I can't bear it—if I haven't got the courage?"

"You will have."

She laughed miserably. You say that because you don't want me any more, I suppose—" she said fiercely. "I suppose you'll marry somebody else and forget all about me."

Anderson said nothing but his face twisted into lines of pain. She made a half movement towards him, then checked herself and together they went out again into the rain.

"All I can say is that you could have knocked me down with a feather," Beatrice Taylor said emphatically. She stirred the iced drink before her slowly, her sharp eyes on Stephen Cassidy's face.

Beatrice did not like Cass, but there were occasions when she found him useful because he knew all the tit-bits of scandal which added so greatly to her interest in life.

She had run into Cass in a restaurant, and had invited herself to an iced drink.

Cass looked a little uncomfortable; he was afraid of Beatrice, she had a disagreeable knack of making him say more than he intended to. He had tried to steer the conversation in ordinary channels, but she had skillfully led it round to the only subject that was interesting her at the moment—Sondra's marriage.

"You could have knocked me down with a feather—" she said again, lifting the long spoon from the glass and sipping the cool drink.

"I always thought that Sondra was willing for Mr. Anderson to get his freedom—we all thought so! and then—directly his wife consented—she died—Sondra throws a thunderbolt amongst us and says she is Mark Merriman's wife." She looked at Cass searchingly. "I suppose it is the truth?"

Cass fidgeted; he was not at all a subtle man, and he did not know how to fence.

"I suppose so," he said helplessly. "I was a bit surprised myself, I must admit, but there you are—it's Sondra's own business and Merriman's a decent fellow."

"And he is so terribly ill," Beatrice said with exaggerated sorrow. "They say it will be months before he is fit and well again—if ever he is."

Cass made an elaborate business of lighting a cigarette.

"Oh, he'll get all right again," he said cheerfully. "He's young and as strong as a horse. People don't die so easily."

"They never die when they're expected to," Beatrice answered.

He looked at her suspiciously. "What does that mean?" he asked bluntly.

She smiled and looked at herself in a little mirror which she took from her hand-bag.

"Well, between you and me and the door-post, Sondra made a mistake when she married him. Of course I know you won't let it go any further or I shouldn't be telling you, but she was down at the shore in Mr. Anderson's house there, only a week or two before poor Mark came home."

"Well?" Cass said bluntly. "John often lends his house to friends; why shouldn't Sondra have it?"

"No reason at all, of course, only I don't imagine that he generally stays there at the same time, does he? I looked in one day for a cup of tea when—" she laughed. "They seemed so very happy—at least, we interrupted quite an emotional little scene. Poor darling Sondra was crying."

Cass flushed and stared down at the floor. He wanted to get up and go, but it seemed difficult, and he could think of no adequate excuse. Beatrice smiled with satisfaction as she noticed his embarrassment.

"Don't think I'm blaming Sondra"—she said. "I simply adore Mr. Anderson myself, and it's a bad luck, isn't it?"

"What is?" Cass asked bluntly.

"That she should have made such a mistake. You see, I'm her best friend, and she does tell me lots of things she wouldn't tell anyone else! They'll be so poor—poor Mark hasn't a cent and unless Mr. Anderson goes the sporting thing and goes on giving Sondra an allowance, I simply can't imagine what they'll do."

"Look here—" Cass said, rousing himself with an effort. "I don't think we ought to talk about them like this—it's their own affair after all. And I'm sure Anderson has never given any woman an allowance."

"I mean—" he floundered helplessly. "Sondra must have money of her own—can't dress and go about as she does on nothing a year, you know."

Beatrice laughed cruelly.

"My dear man, she hasn't a cent, take it from me. Flora used to give her money when she was living with that dreadful Ben, but I know for a fact that since she went away, supplies have been cut off. Of course I'm full of sympathy for her, but all the same—I Mark ever finds out what the true position is..."

Cass broke in sharply: "I don't see how he can find out, unless he is told."

Beatrice powdered her nose thoughtfully. "Things always come out, don't you think?" she asked calmly. "Especially things you want kept quiet. It's a nasty little way they have."

Cass fidgeted with his tie; he knew there was a lot of truth in what Beatrice had said, but to his way of thinking it was nobody's business, certainly not hers. A fine sort of "best friend" she was to Sondra, he thought grimly.

"I went to see Merriman yesterday," he said after a moment. "He's in a hospital, you know... Didn't look so bad I thought—a bit thin and white, but the chap's been ill. Always liked Merriman myself."

"I simply love him," Beatrice agreed. "But I can't help seeing that it was a mistake for Sondra to marry him."

COTTON IS FIRM

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 15. (AP)—Cotton had a firm opening today. Liverpool cables were better than due traders were influenced by advices concerning the damage done by the tropical storm on the Texas coast. First trades showed gains of 7 to 10 points.

Although the stock market opened somewhat firmer, prices soon eased off on the idea that the storm had brought needed rain to many portions of south-central Texas. Cotton futures opened at $7.38, dropped to $7.30 and December traded down to $7.47, or 3 to 8 points down from the opening highs. Near the end of the first hour, the market showed a tendency to ease off owing to the rains in Texas.

It is based on rhythmic lines in the Cuba and the pieces. "Sostenuto," preceded by a lively introduction with typical rhythmic and melodic figures, Gershwin explained.

Because he will play the piano three times during the concert, Gershwin will not conduct the pieces. This will be done by Albert Coates, who also will conduct Gershwin's "Second Rhapsody," and "An American in Paris." William Daly, guest conductor, will lead the overture of "Of These I Sing," the concerto in F, "Winged Victory for President" and a medley of popular tunes.

Gershwin is 33 years old and looks even younger. He composes and paints in a penthouse apartment on Riverside Drive and finds great satisfaction in both arts.

WHEAT IS HIGHER

CHICAGO, Aug. 15. (AP)—Upturns in grain prices here resulted early today from higher wheat quotations at Liverpool and sharp reduction of the amount of wheat on ocean passage. Advances, however, met with enlarged selling, which more than wiped out gains. Opening unchanged to 1/4 higher, Chicago wheat futures declined afterward to below Saturday finish. Corn started unchanged to 1/4 up, and later receded all around.

SCHOOL DEAN KILLED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 15. (AP)—Death from monoxide gas has ended the career of Dean James C. Lawrence, 42, executive assistant to Dr. Lotus D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota. He was found dead in a garage at the school last night. He was in the back seat of an automobile. The motor of which was running. A deputy coroner returned a verdict of suicide.

Dean Lawrence's colleagues said he had been worried about his health.

It was an apparently unworried Jimmy Walker and a smiling Mrs. Walker who the cameraman found, as shown here, at Albany, N. Y., shortly before they went to the state capitol and Walker answered charges seeking his removal as mayor of New York.

GERSHWIN WRITES NEW "RUMBA" FOR PLAYING TOMORROW NIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—Despite the chronology, George Gershwin calls his new "Rumba" an older brother to his 8-year-old "Rhapsody in Blue."

He wrote and orchestrated it in three weeks and it will be played for the first time tomorrow night at the Levinsky stadium, when the composer will receive the signal direction for a live performance. An entire concert devoted to his works by the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra.

"Rumba" will not be a bigger brother to the rhapsody, Gershwin said, because it is not as long, but it will be older because it will be older because it will be more experienced and have many elements that were not in "Rhapsody in Blue."

Conceived as a matter of gratitude—"I thought the least I could do for the symphony on the way to provide something new"—the piece will be the most modern of all his work.

He got the idea from La Frita street in Havana where native musicians play for the patrons of little street cafes. It is called a symphonic overture and scored for full orchestra augmented by native instruments, such as the maracas (a kind of Cuban rattle), Cuban sticks, the eclair and bongo, which is a double tom-tom.

Playing time is about nine minutes. It is based on rhythmic lines in the Cuba and the pieces. "Sostenuto," preceded by a lively introduction with typical rhythmic and melodic figures, Gershwin explained.

Because he will play the piano three times during the concert, Gershwin will not conduct the pieces. This will be done by Albert Coates, who also will conduct Gershwin's "Second Rhapsody," and "An American in Paris." The EMPEROR PENGUIN, of the ANTARCTIC, SPENDS HIS LIFE WITHOUT TOUCHING LAND.

JOHN HOWARD PAYNE, AUTHOR OF "HOME, SWEET HOME," WAS REJECTED IN MARRIAGE BY MARY HARDEN BECAUSE HE HAD NO HOME TO OFFER HER.

KATY GERBEN, ANEBRASKA HOLSTEIN COW, GAVE 166,456 POUNDS OF MILK IN HER LIFETIME OF 21 YEARS.

THE EMPEROR PENGUIN, when not swimming in the open water for food, is content to spend its time on solid ice. Even the nesting takes place on ice, the solitary egg of each pair of penguins being incubated between the legs of the parents. The egg, as soon as it is laid, is transferred to the back of the mother's feet, and covered with the soft feathers of the abdomen. If the baby perishes, the mother insists on helping her neighbors raise their offspring.

Women Fliers In Second Day Up

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y., Aug. 15. (AP)—Mrs. Frances Marsalis and Mrs. Louise Thaden passed the breakfast hazard today and flew on into a realm of heightened hope.

Last week, the young matrons began an assault on the women's re-fueling flight endurance record of 122 hours but were brought down after a night aloft when a breakfast bucket lowered from their retreating ship ripped wing fabric.

They went up at 1 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, yesterday. This morning they refueled in the air and then succeeded in grabbing the coffee pail before it did any damage.

At breakfast time today the women had been in the air 20 hours and the way seemed clear for another day of calm sailing.

Boy's Arm Broken At New Underpass

Edward Bowder, 11, suffered a broken arm and sprained ankle when he fell from the girder of the Fort Worth and Denver overhead bridge across Barnes street last night. He was taken to the office of a local physician and x-ray pictures were taken. He is a son of Mrs. Jesse Bowder, residing at 1225 South Clark street.

The child, with some other boys, was playing around the bridge when he lost his footing and fell to the street 14 feet below. Parents are urged to warn their children to stay away from the railroad tracks, and particularly the underpass.

Hijackings Occur Near McLean; Cash And Dresses Taken

Two hijackings east of McLean were reported to officers of the sheriff's department this morning but complete information was lacking. Word from McLean said that two men driving a Ford coupe equipped with a siren stopped a car a few miles east of that city and robbed the driver of $30 in cash.

Later a traveling salesman was robbed of a sample case containing 12 ladies dresses. He reported that the car came abreast of him with the siren blowing. Two men left the car saying they were highway officers. One man carried a .45 caliber automatic and the other man a Colt, he said.

Cofficers have a description of the men and car.

went into effect today with supporters claiming thousands of farmers will begin holding their wheat until the price reaches $1 a bushel.

Success Doubtful. Although the effect of withholding grain from market was conjectured and viewed in some quarters as somewhat dubious of success, Dell N. Willis, Tolna, N. D., a grower and author of the plan, said the movement had gained headway in the two Dakotas, Montana, Minnesota, Washington, Oregon, Kansas, Idaho, Texas, Oklahoma, and Nebraska.

Farmers have been asked to sign and adhere to resolutions setting the minimum price of wheat from the 1932 crop, having as its basis the Winnipeg price plus the 42-cent tariff with the usual discount for lower grades.

Governor George F. Shafer, North Dakota, and Governor J. E. Erickson, Montana, Willis said, have endorsed the plan as have a number of chambers of commerce and commercial clubs.

North Dakota, he said, would be behind the movement solidly while Montana was expected to present itself most as united a front.

"Blue Shirt" Army Goes To Meeting of Jobless In Missouri

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15. (AP)—Five hundred strong, the "blue shirt" army of the Rev. James R. Cox, Pittsburg priest and jobless party candidate for president, broke camp at Reynoldsburg, east of here, this morning and rolled west through Ohio en route to the Jobless-Liberty convention assembling in St. Louis.

The motcade, consisting of some 200 automobiles and trucks bearing men, women, children and supplies, halted near Reynoldsburg late yesterday and pitched camp a mile east of the town along the national highway. The "army" left Reynoldsburg yesterday morning.

"No parading" was the standing order of the "march" and Father Fox personally saw to it that his followers maintained military discipline. Many of the men wore overseas caps and the blue shirts from which the army received its name.
