To Class A school officials of this interscholastic league sports district:
Competition in football in district is no longer a two-ply proposition. The Amarillo-Lubbock contest of this year, for example, finds each of these teams but a single touchdown better than Pampa, with the margin of superiority highly speculative. Interest of Panhandle fans in the Pampa-Amarillo game was keen enough to have justified the Thanksgiving date.

We think that Pampa is due a Thanksgiving date with Amarillo next year. There are several reasons: 1. Competition between the two schools is so keen as to hold the attention of the entire upper Panhandle. 2. There are hundreds of Panhandle fans who will not be able to make a long trip to Amarillo for the return game there next year. 3. Texas Tech is absorbing a large share of rightful football interest in Lubbock, hence Lubbock should be willing to share her gridiron glory with the Northeastern Panhandle. 4. The Amarillo-Lubbock game should be placed on Armistice day, or some other date when Texas Tech's schedule would not conflict, the South Plains fans interested in high school football would still be served.

In all fairness, Pampa should be given next year's Thanksgiving date. We have an adequate stadium to entertain fans from all over this territory. Good roads lead to Pampa from the territory whence come the Pampa-Amarillo fans. Pampa will have a strong team next year—a better offensive, a defense probably as good. We promise that Amarillo would not look forward to Thanksgiving in Pampa as a cinch. When Pampa and Amarillo teams meet, it means nothing. That's the kind of a game the fans wish on Thanksgiving. We hereby apply for the Thanksgiving date in 1933 for the Pampa-Amarillo game. We believe Pampa and Panhandle fans are entitled to this date. We think any other arrangement would lessen interest in Class A high school football by perpetuating a custom which, if it had a basis of logic in the past, can no longer be justified by rhyme or reason. COME TO PAMPA ON THANKSGIVING, 1933.

We will go further: When any other school of this district can furnish a stadium adequate for Thanksgiving needs and a team which attracts the admiration of the whole Panhandle, we say that team deserves "Thanksgiving" in the scheduling of important dates. This is for fairness to all great teams, regardless of where located. And without fairness, sports will cease to attract public interest. If you agree with us, write us letter or note, and we will give your reasons. Above all, say something—let's not let this subject die for want of discussion.

We are indebted to Mrs. E. A. Shackleton for "the last rose of summer." A large, gorgeous flower is, with a few smaller ones for contrast, and some white flowers we can't name despite our efforts in botany. We think you, Mrs. Shackleton. . . A few years ago we mentioned the fine fruit in the Shackleton orchard. On the following week the fruit disappeared and while we hate to think any reader of this column would steal, the outcome looked suspicious. We trust that Mrs. Shackleton, in sending us the last rose by Huchler gene, is safe from such annoyance and loss this year.

Give a book to the library if you wish to observe National Book week in the true spirit. The library needs the books. The more than 1,400 eager patrons demand a huge variety of volumes. We doubt if any public library in this section has such a growing patronage. Won't you give a book this week?

A special session of the legislature is called to protect the oil interests, but who's meeting to protect the cotton interests?—Clarendon LEADER.

This very logical question may arise often in the next decade. We haven't forgotten the cotton session fiasco, however. Under normal circumstances, students of government would likely oppose creation of state made monopolies. The oil industry is so big that much is being tolerated to prevent chaos. While big producers and landowners are being temporarily benefited, the small re-

FORECAST ENCOURAGING

WEATHER TONIGHT DUE TO BE FAIR AND WARMER

By The Associated Press.

Record low November temperatures were reported today as Texas felt the first serious blast of winter. Sub-freezing readings over the Panhandle, North Texas and parts of East Texas not only were the lowest of the year but in some localities were the lowest in years for the month of November. Dallas' 22-degree temperature was the coldest for November since 1913 and Denton's 16 degrees established a new, all-time minimum for this part of the year. Shreveport, La., just across the East Texas border line, had the coldest November reading, 22, since before the start of the century.

The weather bureau at Dallas gave all the state except the lower Rio Grande valley an encouraging forecast for tonight and tomorrow. The prediction for East Texas was for fair and colder weather in the lower Rio Grande valley but not so cold in the west and north portions; frost to the coast and freezing nearly to the coast except the lower valley tonight. Tomorrow will be generally fair with slowly rising temperatures. For West Texas the forecast was partly cloudy and slightly warmer tonight and tomorrow.

Overnight minimums reported this morning: Pampa, Lubbock and Denton 18; Amarillo, Plainview and Tyler 18; Gainesville 18 1/2; Wichita Falls and Abilene 19. San Angelo 21. Dallas and Longview 22. Corsicana 23. Palestine 24. Waco 25 1/2. San Antonio and Austin 28. Beaumont 30. Port Arthur 32. Del Rio 34. Galveston 36. El Paso 38. Corpus Christi 40. and Brownsville 48.

Cold In Mid-West

The winter weather which visited Texas was a portion of a wide-spread cold spell which started in the Rocky mountains several days ago. At Kansas City the weather bureau reported 4 inches of snow and as far east as Ohio 8 inches of snow fell.

Contrasting its attack in the Missouri river valley area, winter spread sub-freezing temperatures, snow, rain and sleet over the vast area between the Rockies and the Appalachians today.

Prince of Wales Heavily Guarded

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 16. (AP)—The Prince of Wales, welcomed by a flag-waving and cheering populace and guarded by 12,000 men, came to Belfast today and dedicated the new parliament building for the government of Northern Ireland.

Ulster nationalists took no part in the ceremony. They had protested against the Prince's visit, contending it tended to widen the breach between the North counties and the Irish Free State. These protests, together with the recent employment riots in which several lives were lost, were the reason for the exceptional guard placed on the prince.

Thousands of constables and volunteer Orangemen lined the five-mile route from the dock where the prince's ship was moored to the parliament building at Stormont where, in his speech of dedication, the prince spoke of the heroic part played by Ulster in the world war.

BRIDGE TOURNEY TONIGHT

The public is invited to attend a charity bridge tournament sponsored by the women of the Holy Souls parish this evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Schneider hotel. Many prizes have been donated by local merchants for the occasion.

Horace Falls, Oklahoma City, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Limerick for the last few days. Mr. Falls is with the Griffith Amusement company.

ROOSEVELT ELECTED

A new sort of campaign—within the rank of the democratic party itself—has been launched by former Secretary of the Navy Joseph Daniels (right) when the Raleigh, N. C. News and Observer, which he publishes, appeared on the day after the election with a proudly crowing rooster on its front page (as seen above). The newspaper remarked editorially that it hoped this would "result in the re-adoption of the rooster" as the democratic emblem. "Of course," it was added, "everyone knows that the crowing rooster is the emblem of democracy, or was before the democratic party let Nash (the with the donkey."

HALF OF FEDERAL WORK RELIEF FUND FOR PAMPA WILL BE GIVEN TO COMMITTEE THURSDAY MORN

Rest of Amount Will Be Distributed December 1

Pampa's federal relief committee, headed by C. H. Walker as chairman, will go to Amarillo tomorrow to receive the first installment of relief funds for northern Gray county.

Of the other members of the committee, M. K. Brown, W. A. Bratton, and Alex Schneider, will go to Amarillo early Thursday, and will be met by Mr. Walker, who is on a tour of Lions clubs of his district. John B. White, the other member, will probably not be able to attend because of illness. George Briggs and Olin E. Hinkle will be others present.

Cooperating with the committee, city officials have work ready to be given out when the funds are available.

STAMFORD, Nov. 16. (AP)—Federal work relief for 101 towns of West Texas, covering their needs for one-half the November-December period, will be distributed this week by the West Texas chamber of commerce.

D. A. Bandeen, WTCC manager, and Maury Hopkins, assistant manager, left last night for Wichita Falls where the first of a series of five regional conferences with local relief committees entrusted with disbursement in their communities of the R. F. C. allotments, was scheduled today.

"We have checks ready for distribution amounting to $180,000," Bandeen said from his Stamford headquarters office. "That represents 50 per cent of the November-December allotment to our applying points."

The remaining 50 per cent will be delivered on or about December 1. "Local relief committees are urgently requested to attend the regional conference nearest them. Their presence is required because they fill have to receive their funds, sign receipts, and execute bonds. Governor Sterling having made that requirement. The bonds are made out and ready for signatures."

FOOLIN' WITH FIREWATER PUTS YOUNG TRUSTY BEHIND THE BARS

Young Bobbie was a pretty good trusty and a fair elevator operator—until recently. Now he is back in the juvenile section of the county jail with two other boy offenders who shortly must "do" ten months at the state training school at Catesville. Bobbie may be sent there because he wanted to get back to his job. County officials were puzzled by his story, but not incredulous. Bobbie is a slender youth and harmless enough in appearance. He got into trouble when officers charged him with petty theft.

FOUR ROBBERS STINNETT BANK STILL SOUGHT

BANDITS TAKE $1,200 AND KIDNAP CASHIER

QUARTET NOT MASKED

BANKER RELEASED 12 MILES SOUTHEAST OF PANHANDLE

STINNETT, Nov. 16. (AP)—Search was conducted throughout this section today for four men who robbed the First State bank of Stinnett, G. W. Newsom, releasing him later. The robbers forced Mrs. Newsom, a clerk, and Malcolm McCordick, another clerk, to lie on the floor while they compelled Newsom at the point of pistols to put the money in a sack. The woman and McCordick then were ordered into the vault, but the door did not lock.

Taking Newsom with them, apparently as a shield in the case of pursuit, the robbers fled in an automobile, finally arriving by a circuitous route about 12 miles southeast of Panhandle where they released their captive.

During the robbery in the bank, the bandits threatened Newsom with death if he did not give them "every penny" in the place. They also promised to take him for a long ride "he would not forget," saying other robbers of the bank had been sent to prison.

Perryton Men Advocate Road North to River

In a program designed to acquaint club members with the businesses of the members, P. O. Sanders presented K. S. Boehm, W. R. Campbell, and DeLea Vicars in talks before the Rotary club today. Mr. Boehm discussed dry cleaning, Mr. Campbell told of cattle raising methods, and Mr. Vicars discussed an article in the November Rotarian magazine.

R. T. Schindler and Clint Johnson, of Perryton, told of the need for a road north from Pampa to Perryton and other cities north of the Canadian river. They were introduced by Ivy E. Duncan.

Visitors today included E. A. Vance, LeFors; George Briggs, H. H. Durston, Port Worth; the Rev. C. N. Smith, the Rev. W. P. Gerhart and Roy McMillan, W. M. Beahl, of Clay Center, Kans., was a visiting Rotarian.

Hardy Elected President of Texas Baptists

ABILENE, Nov. 16. (AP)—Dr. J. C. Hardy, head of Baylor college at Belton, was elected president of the Baptist general convention of Texas at the opening of the 84th annual session here today.

Dr. Hardy, president of Baylor college for 20 years, is now of the best known layman Baptists in the south.

He succeeds Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, professor of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, who was head of Texas Baptists for three years, the limit placed by custom on a man holding that position.

Dr. J. B. Tidwell, professor of Bible at Baylor university, and Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church of Fort Worth, also were placed in nomination for president. Their names later were withdrawn at request of the nominees, however, and Dr. Hardy's election was made unanimous.

Vice-presidents chosen were Wade Hill Poole, professor of Latin in Baylor university; Dr. M. M. Wolfe of Houston and Rev. J. N. Marshall of Austin.

CRUSHED BY CAR

C. T. Hubert suffered a broken rib and probable internal injuries when a car he was working under slipped off a jack this morning. He was taken to Pampa hospital for treatment. Mr. Hubert is connected with the Illinois Casing company.

WARRANT OF ARREST NOT ALWAYS NECESSARY, SINCE MAGISTRATE CAN GIVE ORDER

Many persons, arrested for the first time, are not familiar with the legal procedure, both as to their rights and as to the course of the law. It is not generally known, moreover, that magistrates may order the arrest of persons seen by them to be guilty of a breach of the peace.

The latter instance was illustrated here during the past week, when a justice of the peace verbally ordered the arrest of a man No warrant was necessary, since the arresting officer had the verbal authority of the justice.

The statutes provide that: "A peace officer or any other person may, without warrant, arrest an offender when the offense is committed in his presence or within his view, if the offense is one classed as a felony, or as an offense against the public peace. A peace officer may arrest, without warrant, when a felony or breach of the peace has been committed in the presence or within the view of a magistrate, and such magistrate verbally orders the arrest of the offender."

Courts have held, under these articles, that officers had the right to arrest without warrant persons who were creating a disturbance by shooting, hollering, and cursing. Persons transporting liquor are therefore guilty of a felony, and a person unlawfully carrying arms may be arrested by a peace officer on information of some credible person, or on his own knowledge.

It is no duty of an officer to make an arrest on a charge of burglary, for example, when the offense is not committed in the view of the officer nor legal complaint made. No person can make an arrest, unless he is an officer, excepting where he is viewing a commission of a felony or is summoned to assist an officer as a "posse comitatus."

In cases of unlawful arrest, the officers and, in the case of incorporated cities, the municipalities are liable for all damages resulting. This includes special officers and watchmen. The law provides, however, that where it is shown by satisfactory proof to a peace officer that a felony has been committed, and that the offender is about to escape and that there is no time to procure a warrant, such officer may, without warrant, pursue and arrest the accused. In every case, the arresting officer "shall immediately take the person arrested before the magistrate who may be required to issue a warrant, or before the nearest magistrate where the arrest was made without an order. A peace officer can arrest only within the confines of his own county."

By "warrant of arrest" is meant a written order from a magistrate, directed to a peace officer or some other person specially named, commanding him "to take the body of the person accused of an offense, to be dealt with according to law."

The warrant must specify the name of the person whose arrest is ordered, or, if unknown, some reasonably definite description of the accused, with the name of the offense, and it must bear the signature of the magistrate. The affidavit made before the magistrate or district or county attorney is called a complaint. When a complaint charges a misdemeanor, the information is presented to county court when a felony, it must be filed with a magistrate. The complaint must bear the name of the accused, or his description, name of offense, state the time and place of commission, and bear the name of the person complaining. A warrant extends to any county in the state, providing it is sent by telegraph, mail, or taken in person, copy. If no peace officer is available, the warrant may be directed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—For the benefit of Mrs. R. Blanchard of Lake Helen, Fla., and any others who may share her fears, the state chamber of commerce would like to have it known that there's virtually no danger of any being scalped by Indians in Oklahoma nowadays.

Mrs. Blanchard wrote to the chamber: "Is it safe for a woman to drive her car alone through Oklahoma? How far is it between villages, and are there white men along the way?"

ADMISSION CUT For Game With Quanah Indians

Saturday's football game between the Pampa Harvesters and the Quanah Indians is expected to be a close one, but the contest will be "sold" to the Pampa fans and visitors at bargain prices.

No reserved seats will be designated, and general admission will be 25 and 50 cents. Tickets are on sale at the courthouse/office of Joe Smith, business manager of the school district.

The athletics association is in need of a big crowd. Attendance at games this season has not been big enough to produce revenue needed to finish paying for the grandstands built last year. Much new equipment was necessary to suit out the large number of boys who wished to train for football.

USE OF ARMY IN OIL FIELD IS ATTACKED

MOODY TO UPHOLD ACT OF GOVERNOR STERLING

HIGH COURT TO DECIDE

JUSTICES HEAR TEXANS ARGUE LEGALITY OF ACT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16. (AP)—The use of U. S. troops by Governor Sterling to restrict oil production in East Texas was attacked in the supreme court today by Representative-elect J. W. Bailey, counsel for the oil producers, who obtained an injunction requiring the withdrawal of the troops.

Bailey said there was no occasion for declaring martial law, asserting there was no danger of riot or violence on part of the oil producers.

Governor Sterling in calling troops had assumed conditions to exist, he said, which did not and could not exist, and was now trying to escape from responsibilities created by his own act.

In reply to a question from Justice McReynolds, Bailey said this was the first time, so far as he could ascertain, that federal courts had restrained a governor in the use of state militia, but added, it also was the first time any governor had attempted to use troops in such a way as to require the courts to interfere.

The argument was begun late yesterday by E. F. Smith of Austin as counsel for Governor Sterling. Luther Nichols of Dallas, an associate of Bailey, was waiting to follow him and after Nichols former Governor Dan Moody of Texas was scheduled to speak for Governor Sterling.

Nichols also argued there was no threat of mob violence at the time martial law was declared. The troops had been ordered out for the one purpose of aiding the governor regulate the production of crude petroleum, he said.

He said Governor Sterling had disobeyed a federal injunction by calling out the troops. Moody on the other hand challenged the authority of the courts to interfere with the governor while martial law prevailed.

He said in deciding the "troops" should be called was final, he argued. Should the governor exceed his authority in such matters "there was an ample remedy at law," Moody said, adding that he could be impeached or otherwise be made answer in the courts for unlawful acts. The acts of the oil producers in refusing to obey the law, Moody said, threatened an insurrection.

Bridge Proposal Brings Delegation To Pampa Meeting

A discussion of means for securing construction of a road north across the Canadian river in northern Roberts county, with a bridge across the treacherous stream, was under way at the B. C. D. rooms this afternoon.

Among those present were Judge Roy D. Dunaway, chairman, C. G. Greene, McLean, secretary; R. T. Schindler and R. C. Johnson of Perryton, E. A. Vance of LeFors, M. D. Bentley and Boyd Meador of McLean, and George Briggs, Pampa.

Others were expected to arrive from towns north and south of the river before adjournment.

HISTORY TURNS A CORNER

As the election recedes farther and farther into the past, it becomes clear that what happened on Nov. 8 was nothing less than the end of an epoch in American history.

The post-war period, at last may be said to be over. What future historians will call the eight or ten years that lie ahead of us is beyond guessing just now, but that 1932 will be some sort of dividing line for them seems assured.

Not only was a Democratic administration elected. The really significant thing about it all is that a full stop was put on the record of the course the country has taken since the war.

Smoot and Watson, joining the lame ducks, stand as symbols of what happened. These men are the Senate's last links with the famous "old guard" of bygone days.

For the overturn in the election, indisputably, was chiefly due to the miseries the country had suffered during the past three years; and these, in turn, are all a part of the post-war epoch, bound up with the path the nation elected to follow in those trying years.

It has taken this nation longer than it has taken any other to revise its post-war course. England turned to Stanley Baldwin and then swung sharply away; France gave Poincare the helm and then dropped him; Germany swung in half a dozen different directions, and is now headed exactly opposite to the line charted in the first years of peace.

What will happen now. Your guess is as good as the next man's. We can only be sure that it will be something different. A new day has begun. Whether it will be better or worse than the day just ended depends on the courage and wisdom of our new leaders.

Washington is urging Latin America to use the force of reason instead of unreasoning force in its elections and politics. And perhaps that holds good for those Washington politicians, too.

The British government was recently able to raise a $300,000,000-pound loan at less than three and a quarter per cent interest, in three hours. Who in the world had that much money!

"America turns out the best jazz musicians," a dance orchestra leader opines. Yep, and it seems that the worst still remain.

And, figures an English writer, "women probably talk more because men are too polite to interrupt them." Let's get rude, boys.

Wright May Try Lion Hunt Again

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16 (AP)—Denver M. Wright, St. Louis manufacturer whose recent pseudo-African "Safari" turned out to be merely a Missouri fiasco, is far from his hunting ambitions.

Considering purchasing two more lions and starting his big-game hunt all over again. His much-publicized synthetic lion hunt in southeast Missouri last month came to a tame ending when a deputy sheriff killed the two young circus lionesses Wright had intended for his quarry.

Despite the outcome of his first "safari" which brought protests from members of humane societies, and warnings from state and county officers, Wright insists there's

FINDING OF 1778 COIN RECALLS LEGENDS ABOUT 'STAKED PLAINS'

LEVELLAND.—An old Spanish coin, dated 1778, was plowed up on the Foster farm, about a mile north of Clause in Hockley county, by G. A. Thorpe, now living at Corona, New Mexico.

The coin was found near two large lakes, known on old maps as Lakes Coronado, supposed to have been used by Coronado's expedition on its search for the "seven cities of Cibola" or the seven golden cities. This expedition was one of the first to cross the "staked plains" about 1640 to 1650.

On one side of the coin is the inscription: "Carolus III, de gratia 1778, on the reverse side is "Rex. M-8R-F. F. Plus. Hispan. Et Ind. Ultra."

According to local tradition, expeditions that crossed the plains on which used the old maps showing the Lakes Coronado, camped near here. It is presumed that the coin was dropped by a later expedition.

Cabeza de Vaca is supposed to have given the name "staked plains" to this section. According to the tale he drove stakes along his route in crossing so he could find his way back to the Spanish colony in New Mexico.

Another story is that this section was once a huge forest and that a fire swept it burning the trees and leaving only a few stumps, standing like so many stakes, the name was given the name of "staked plains."

"nothing wrong with the idea." He's still bitter over the spoiling of his first hunt, and also displeased by the great number of letters he received in which the writers accused him of poor sportsmanship.

"You won't be able to call the lions 'young and kittenish,' next time," Wright said. "If I do it again, I'll get a couple of old vicious ones. I'm the sort of a fellow that likes to do a thing, once he sets his mind to it."

Surgeons Pump Air Into Skulls

By LEONARD G. MILLEMAN, Associated Press Staff Writer, SAN FRANCISCO.—Pouring out part of the contents of the skull and replacing it with air, is a new twist in taking people apart and putting them together again.

Doctors can drain off a portion of the liquid in which your brain floats—cerebro spinal fluid, they call it—and take a look at the workings of your brain.

The looking is done by x-rays. They reveal brain disease otherwise undetectable. This elaborate technique has been advanced by two doctors of the University of California Medical school—Dr. Robert S. Stone of the department of roentgenology and Dr. O. W. Jones of the department of neuro surgery—to a point where a clear picture of the entire brain may be obtained.

Substitution of air for the cerebro spinal fluid, Dr. Stone explained, makes clear x-ray photographs possible. The air forms a contrast to the brain substance where the fluid, because of its similarity to the grey matter, tends to make x-rays obscure.

To remove part of the fluid, the doctors puncture the spinal column in the lower part of the back—the fluid flows around the spinal cord as well as the brain—and permit a limited portion of the vital liquor to run off. Air is then injected in the same spot, rises to the brain and establishes an ideal background for a picture of the interior workings of the patient.

Farm and home agents in Tennessee cost the counties in which they are employed less than one cent of each tax dollar.

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

It's in the Line The All-America backfield will get the public play, but it's the line that does the playing.

During the next few weeks, much will be heard about such backs as Beattie Feathers, of Tennessee; Mike Sebastian, of Pitt; Paul Par-donner, of Purdue, and other swiflipped young fire-eaters in various sections of the country.

But it is not necessary to go back into the Middle Ages to find teams that went through whole seasons undefeated without great backfields but with a strong, charging line.

U. S. C. Without Mohler Southern California this year offers an example of what I mean. All the boys got out the crying towels recently when Orv Mohler, the Trojan's star back, was parked on the sidelines for good by physicians.

He was the only real veteran on the squad. In his two and a half years on the varsity he had made 34 touchdowns, and seemed to be at his best this year. He was a great little fighter, and unselfish in sharing the honors with his teammates.

He helped materially to give the Trojans one of the most glorious victories in their history last year at South Bend.

A Dreary Prospect There would be plenty of trouble going on the rest of the season without him. But, of course, the schedule could not be called off. It was still necessary to play California.

It was pointed out by those inclined to weep for the fate of the Jones team that Mohler was most of the backfield, and that the other lads were just a bunch of mugs who stood around and applauded while they watched him run from town to town.

Came the California game. The bear stories included in volume of the Trojan backfield would be stopped by the Bears as easily as a motorman stops a street car.

It turned out to be just a breeze. Southern California romped over, under and around the Bears, who might just as well have been a team for all the trouble they caused the Trojans.

Now go on and color the picture. A backfield, without any highly publicized hot shots, runs rampant over a team that is supposed to give them trouble.

Ah! Fame at Last! The coast comment after the game gave all kinds of credit to the Jones forward wall.

"We doubt very much if without the strong Trojans on the line the team could have made a first down against Podunk," writes Operative Erskine Johnson. "The Trojans have won their games only because the line is the best in the country."

"Headed by Captain Tay Brown and Ernie Smith, two tackles who surely are headed for All-America honors, the Trojan line has been responsible for every victory. And with Orv Mohler out of the game against California, it was proved to the satisfaction of all that lines win football games."

Which closes the case for the defense.

Baptist Meeting Gets Underway For 84th Time

ABILENE, Nov. 16 (AP)—Ministers' laymen's and women's meetings were moving steadily ahead today, pointing to night sessions which will clear the way for the opening, in Abilene Wednesday morning, of the 84th annual convention of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Registration in all groups was proceeding briskly, the women's having exceeded 700 before noon today, and the men's topping the 500 mark. It was thought credentials would be issued to 1,800 to 2,000 messengers to the convention before Wednesday's opening.

Most of the denomination's state leaders were on hand today. They would not hazard a guess at the identity of the next president, succeeding Dr. L. R. Scarborough of Fort Worth, but admitted that a brisk four-cornered fight for the 1933 convention has started. The cities extending invitations are San Antonio, Fort Worth, Harlingen, and Houston.

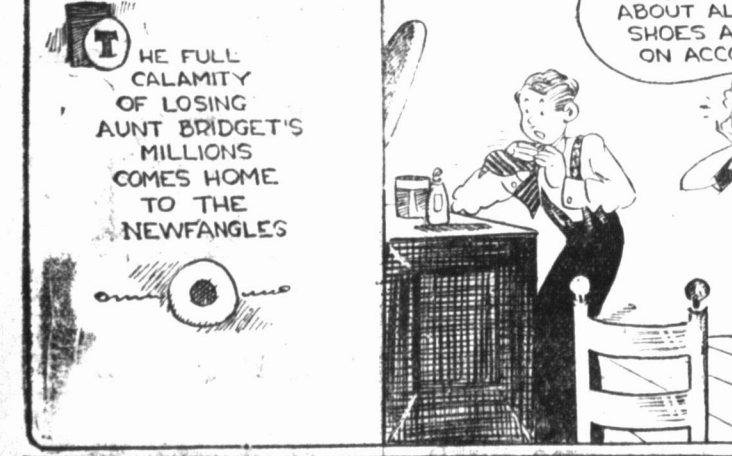

The convention is militantly aroused at the peril of the Eighteenth amendment, and will take a positive stand in the opening session, at which it is predicted the democratic party will be subjected to vigorous criticism for its platform for repeal of constitutional prohibition and loosening of the Volstead act.

Scientists Find A Sun For Every Human Ever Born

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Three hundred trillion stars—more than enough to give separate suns to every human being who ever lived—lie within reach of present telescope sights.

The National Academy of Sciences was informed today by a symposium of world-famous scientists who summarized the latest discoveries of astronomy.

The picture of the almost unbelievable vast size of creation was started by Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard Astronomical Observatory. He said one 24-inch Harvard telescope has revealed in southern skies alone seventy-six thousand "galaxies" of stars. A single galaxy is a host of stars as vast as the milky way to which earth belongs.

These 76,000 have been found in only a comparatively small portion of the sky. Dr. Shapley predicted that when Harvard finishes its present plans to map the whole sky, there will be 300,000 of these "galaxies."

In one galaxy alone there may be one billion stars, according to Dr. Joel Ebbins, University of Wisconsin astronomer. That is the actual number estimated for the milky way, the only galaxy close enough for much star counting.

Woman Drives Car Into Lake; Dies

ROSWELL, N. M., Nov. 16. (AP)—Roswell authorities today were investigating the death of Mrs. Lowell Robinson, 25, of Roswell, formerly a school teacher at Post, Texas, who drove her car off a bank of one of the deep lakes 15 miles east of Roswell into 30 feet of water.

Although several witnesses saw the car plunged into the river, it was several hours before it could be recovered. Mrs. Robinson was dead when the machine was taken from the water.

Mrs. Robinson and Lawrence King, two of the witnesses, said it appeared the machine had been driven deliberately into the water by Mrs. Robinson. Deputy Sheriffs Sam McChie and E. Peck, after investigation, said they believed she committed suicide. Authorities ordered an inquest to be held today.

Mrs. Robinson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Newell, of Roswell. She had a nervous breakdown while teaching school at Post last fall and returned to Roswell. Her husband is at Lubbock. She had taught school at Post for several years.

CONQUERING PARASITES

A medical wit once observed that if all drugs were cast into the sea, mankind would not suffer, though it might prove so much the worse for fish. There is in this one more wit than wisdom.

What would the world of today be without quinine for malaria, mercury and arsenic for syphilis, opium for pain, and a dozen other drugs for a dozen other important diseases?

The economic rehabilitation of some of our own states may to some degree be credited to the drug conquest of hookworm.

It is not so long ago that many so-called lazy inhabitants of these regions were discovered to be not so much lacking in character and character as they were suffering for parasites, the hookworm.

Three drugs have been found effective in combating the parasitic worm—thymol, the oil of wormseed, and carbon tetrachloride.

By the use of these drugs and by the simple expedient of wearing shoes instead of going barefoot literally millions of men, women and children have been freed of their parasites and have been converted from listless, anemic individuals into normal humans.

The entamoeba histolytica, a microscopic one-celled animal about the size of a pin point, causes the disease known as amoebic dysentery. This disease occurs widely in the tropics and is found also in various parts of the United States.

The amoeba is responsible for much suffering and many deaths. Until 1912 there was no effective medicine for its treatment available.

Dr. C. E. Vetter, of the United States Army Medical Service, and Prof. Leonard Rogers in India discovered that a drug called emetine, when injected into the human body, enters the circulation and destroys the amoeba without injuring the sufferer.

Improvement in this treatment was subsequently achieved by combining emetine with various compounds of arsenic.

Turner Will Not Try Until Spring

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16. (AP)—Not the holder of three major air speed records, Colonel Roscoe Turner says he does not expect to try another coast-to-coast flight until next spring.

Colonel Turner yesterday added a new east-west transcontinental record to his list when he flew from New York to Burbank, a Los Angeles suburb, in 12 hours and 33 minutes, breaking Lieutenant Commander Frank Hawks' record by 2 hours, 17 minutes. Turner also holds records for flights from Los Angeles to Mexico City and a round trip between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

TWO CALIFORNIA TOWNS TO BE LIQUORLESS FOREVER AND AYE

SAN FRANCISCO.—Prohibition is literally "rooted in the soil" of two California towns and their residents are not particularly concerned about what, if any, steps are taken to repeal national prohibition.

Their lands and their homes are forfeit, should the everlasting prohibition in these two communities be violated, so their interest in repeal of other—and to them lesser—prohibitions is more or less purely academic.

In the state that repealed its enforcement law by a two to one majority at the general election, and that has been famous for more than a half century for its wines, are two perpetually "dry" communities—Carmel and Ceres.

Written into the deeds by which title passed from the first owners of the sites of both towns are clauses decreeing that intoxicating liquors shall not be made, possessed or drunk on the premises, and providing that for violation of the clause the land and improvements upon it shall revert to the original owners.

Carmel is the artist colony of the Pacific Coast—its residents are men and women famous for their pictures, their sculpture or their writings. It has been publicized, upon numerous occasions, for a nudist cult that came to light there, for efforts of its leaders to keep it "natural" and more recently for an outburst when it was proposed a chamber of commerce be organized there.

Ceres, named for the goddess worshipped by a Greek cult as the goddess of "corn and earth," on the other hand knows "no culture than the culture of the soil. But, strangely enough, it is located in the center of the greatest grape growing region of the state.

The arid artist colony was created—before art colonized there—by Frank Powers, a pioneer who once owned most of the area about what is now the town. It was he who specified in the deed of each parcel of land that passed from his hands that should the subsequent owners quench a thirst with anything alcoholic on the property that it should revert to him or his heirs.

C. N. Whitmore, founder of Ceres and once owner of the land upon which it is builded, made the same stipulation for that community.

Meet THE NEW PRESIDENT!

ALBANY, N. Y.—President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt has many interests but few hobbies. He is a stamp collector of renown and his collection of books on the navies of the world is notable.

The last few years have been such busy ones that Mr. Roosevelt has not been able to devote much time to the stamps. Occasionally, however, he has an hour open when he goes over his stamp books.

The President-elect carries on a correspondence with stamp collectors he never has met. An Indianapolis youth has written to Mr. Roosevelt for several years. He first wrote him about a rare stamp in the Roosevelt collection.

When the democratic standard-bearer visited Indianapolis, the young stamp collector managed to shake his hand.

Mr. Roosevelt rides and swims. Before he was stricken with infantile paralysis he was a golfer. Poker playing was one of the President-elect's diversions before the business of statecraft occupied his time. Occasionally on the yearly trips to Warm Springs, Ga., he would sit in with newspaper correspondents accompanying him.

A lasting tribute to his card playing ability is a row of straight flush hands on the wall of an exclusive club near Washington. There are seven of these hands and that is all that have been held in the club.

Two of these are labelled "F. D. Roosevelt."

Prince of Wales To Be Guarded by 12,000 in Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 16. (AP)—More than 12,000 men will guard the Prince of Wales when he arrives here tomorrow to dedicate the new parliament buildings at Stormont.

Four thousand of them will be armed, and all of them are a part of the elaborate precautions to be taken for the safety of the heir to the British throne during his three-day stay in the capital.

Only a few weeks ago Belfast was the scene of violent street fighting, and although this rioting was not connected with the Prince's visit, some groups in Northern Ireland have announced their hostility to his presence.

The extraordinary guard for the Prince will include 2,000 troops, 2,000 Ulster policemen, and 8,000 Orangemen who have volunteered to assist the police along the Prince's route during public appearances. One hundred officers and men of the Royal Irish Fusiliers will form the guard of honor on the steps of parliament.

So complete have been the precautionary steps that the whereabouts of the heir to the throne at any given moment while in Belfast will be official secrets. The time of his arrival may not be announced more than a few hours in advance.

The Prince is expected to leave London tonight aboard a regular train, transferring to a special train somewhere en route to Liverpool. There he will board a ship reserved for his use.

A special highway, exclusively for motor trucks, is planned in Italy to connect the great port of Genoa with the inland cities, Milan and Turin.

Modern Pied Piper Followed by Dogs

CHICAGO.—Chicago has a new kind of Pied Piper and he's a racker.

Everywhere he goes blue-blooded dogs are sure to follow, and that's because he has perfected some kind of dog food that proves irresistible.

He has left a trail of sad Jimmy Bettys, and Tommys in his wake, because once he has lured the pets away, they do not return. Police believe he sells them at good prices at a kennel which, so far, they have been unable to locate.

The police say they have evidence that Chicago's Pied Piper of dogdom carries his dog food in an outside coat pocket while he strolls through aristocratic neighborhoods.

MAKED DECREASE IN INFANT MORTALITY RECEIVES COMMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The remarkable decrease in infant mortality during the first fifteen years that statistics have been kept was commented upon today by Willard C. Smith of the census bureau. A new low of less than 62 deaths per 1,000 live births occurred in 1931, as compared with 100 per 1,000 in 1915. The year 1932, also, Smith said, is setting some excellent individual records in low infant death rates. Smith stressed the fundamental importance of registering all infant births in the concerted efforts of physicians and welfare workers to whittle down the death rate. "Only on the basis of accurate in- fant statistics can intelligent prog- ress in child care be made," said Smith. "This was strikingly illus- trated by the demands made upon us for facts by the child experts who were working for the White House conference on child health and protection. This bureau kept an extra staff for an entire year just to answer their questions." In the 1931 low figure, city areas had slightly fewer deaths than ru- ral areas.

FOUR GRID GAMES IN THIS AREA FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

TITLE BATTLES IN WHITE DEER AND IN McLEAN

GROOM AND QUANA TO COME TO PAMPA FOR GAMES

The Gorillas and Groom will play here tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock instead of Friday afternoon as announced. The Groom coach called Warren Moore of the Gorillas late this morning and asked to have the game changed so that his boys could attend the LeFors-Panhandle game Friday afternoon.

The game in Pampa will have the Gorillas, under Coach Warren Moore, playing the White Deer tomorrow afternoon. The Gorillas defeated Groom 12 to 6 in one of the hardest fought games of the season a few weeks ago.

Over in Panhandle, the Panthers will be playing the LeFors Pirates in a M-section game to see which team will enter the finals in District 1 of Class B football. Panhandle will be the favorites.

McLean will be the scene of the McLean-Shamrock tilt, one of the most important in the section. McLean is undefeated this season but the Irishmen have an equally strong eleven.

Saturday afternoon's football will be furnished at Harvester park when the Harvesters meet the Quana Indians in the last scheduled game of the season.

McLean and Shamrock will play at 2:30 o'clock. The LeFors-Panhandle game will be called at 3:30 o'clock. The Gorillas and Groom will play at 4 o'clock.

Not taking any chances on more injuries, Coach Mitchell held no practice in the cold yesterday afternoon but planned to put the boys through their paces this afternoon in preparation for the game with the Quana Indians here Saturday afternoon. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

Dick Sullins and Miles Marbaugh will be the only absentees. They will play no more football this season but fans are looking for them to be stars again next year, both being eligible to return for football.

Captain Jim Poole and Hoot Fullingim, who have been suffering from bad ankles, have practically recovered and will be ready for the fray with the Indians.

Woodward Succeeds Dick

Robert Woodward will probably replace Dick Sullins at left half. Woodward showed up strong against the Lubbock Westerners. Turner will team up with him, it is expected. The Harvester backfield will then be midgets compared with the big Indian secondary. In Jones, fullback, and Wheat and Hall, halves, the Indians have three linemen of no mean ability. They are high scorers in District 5 and Pampa fans are anxious to see them in action, especially Jones, big fullback who has accounted for 65 points in five games.

The game will be the last of the season unless coaches decide to play one more game during the Thanksgiving holidays with either Slaton or Childress providing the opposition. Both elevens are anxious to contact the Harvesters. Scheduling of the game will depend on the condition of the Mitchelmen after the game Saturday.

Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. There will be no reserve seats.

EYES FROM THE AIR HALT RAIDS ON CATTLE

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Ranchers in northern Australia are using airplanes with huge eyes painted under the wings to frighten away tribesmen who spear cattle in preference to native games.

Recently air force machines, which have a bull's eye marker, toured the cattle country and the blacks, thinking these were eyes watching them, discontinued their cattle thefts.

So the ranchers are sending up "eyed" planes of their own.

TEXAS DEER ARE HUNTED

Nimrods Numerous in Hills Of Southwest Texas; Joe E. Brown Stalking 'Em.

By The Associated Press.

Wild deer in Texas looked about sharply today. Same with wild turkey, and with reason. It was the opening of the season for both and nimrods in plenty were in the hills ready for business.

In the hilly country of South Texas merchants did a land office business, outfitting hunters, both in-state and out, with corduroy, ammunition and camp equipment.

In the towns, hundreds of huntersmen stalked about. On the country roads, their flippers—and better—rolled toward locations, some of which had been stalked long before. Late arrivals hurriedly sought leases on ranches.

From all reports, the deer were ready to do their part, being fat and plentiful as a result of many months of freedom from molestation and grazing on well-watered ranges. Some veteran hunters said they never had seen better prospects.

And the weather added to the sport. Just as everyone got set, a blue norther came whistling down out of the Rockies, making hunting conditions like they read about.

John N. Garner, vice president-elect, was one of those who arranged to get an early start, before daylight, in fact. Several days previously he had explored some likely spots and all the folks in Uvalde were expecting "Johnnie" to get his part of the spoils.

Others out in the hills included Tris Speaker and Chuck Klein of baseball fame, and Joe E. Brown, the movie comedian.

Under the law, hunters could shoot only two bucks a season with at least three prongs. Only one blacktail buck was authorized. Season on blacktails ends with November while that on others extended through December.

The limit on wild turkeys was three gobblers for the season, which ends with the last day of December.

Dallas Man Head Of Fox Hunters

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 16. (AP)—Dr. George T. Veale of Dallas is the new president of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters association. He succeeds Jesse Carter of Fort Worth.

Officers were elected last night after a day of hard tests in which about 200 hounds were entered. Weather conditions were made ideal by a combination of rain and a drop in temperature.

Seventy-five dogs survived the first day officials in the Texas all-day championship, the big event of the meet, "Bettie," a bitch owned by Dr. A. G. Elder of Deport, led the scoring with 125 points.

About 500 hunters from eight states were present.

GRINS FROM THE GRID

By O. W. "RED" SEVERANCE. (Written for The Associated Press.)

To put it mildly, Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern was disgusted. Instead of a "breather" he had counted upon to break the strain of a terrific schedule, the University of California at Los Angeles had played the Northwestern second team off its feet in the first quarter and forced him to rush his varsity into the game.

After breaking up a U. C. L. A. drive on the seven-yard line, the varsity had swept down the field for a touchdown and immediately had started playing half-hearted, "saving ourselves" football.

Apparently convinced a 7-0 lead could never be overtaken, the team was growing more careless with every play. Ball-carriers were being stopped by their own interference, and like a sore thumb, "Fug" Rentsler, brilliant Northwestern backfield ace, was standing out as the chief offender. Starting out on end runs like a truck-horse, he was being tackled behind the line repeatedly.

AMARILLO TO PLAY BORGER ON SATURDAY

POWERFUL TEAMS ARE RESTING THIS WEEK-END

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

The passing of each week-end eliminates several teams from the Texas interscholastic league class "A" state championship football race. But this week-end is expected to prove an exception to the rule in all but three games. The program this week-end is rather dull since most of the important affairs were played Armistice day, and the more powerful contenders are taking a rest.

However, the Sherman and Denison battle, the Forest and Woodrow Wilson contest, and the John Reagan and Sam Houston contest are sure to keep the interest stirred up.

A summary of the district races follows:

ALL EXCEPT THREE 1931 GRID CHAMPS HAVE BEEN DEFEATED

Trojan, Nebraska, Utah, Still Wearing Gridiron Crowns.

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 16. (AP)—There may be uneasier heads than those which wear the football crowns but at the moment none comes readily to mind.

With the season now approaching the climactic stage, four or last year's sectional title-holders already have been beaten off and two others which wear the football crowns but ship in their own ballistics also have been eliminated.

Tulane was the ruler of the Southern conference last season but the Green Wave has dropped out of the championship picture this year. Southern Methodist of the Southwest conference, Drake of the Missouri Valley group, and Chattanooga of the Southern Intercollegiate A. A. are other 1931 champions that have definitely been disposed of.

The Bucknell Bisons, who, with Pittsburgh, hung up the best record in the east in 1931, have faded right out of contention, and Northwestern, co-champion with Michigan and Purdue of the Big Ten a year ago, now is among the also-rans. So too is Purdue, unless Minnesota can overturn the dope this week and beat undefeated Michigan.

However successful in dislodging favorites the football fans have been in these instances, they still have failed to disturb such stalwarts as Southern California in the Pacific coast conference, Utah in the Rocky mountain, and Nebraska in the Big Six.

All three of these still have at least one more conference hurdle to overcome but all are favored to win and retain the laurels they captured in 1931. Southern California may have to share the coast crown with the University of California at Los Angeles but the Trojans, in all probability, will be regarded as the real champions.

Evans Finds No Encouragement In All Europe

CLEVELAND—Moaning that "all Europe is left-handed, yet the Indians can't find even one good outpunch pitcher," Billy Evans, general manager of the Cleveland American league baseball club, was back home today from a seven-week trip abroad.

"There's millions of people driving and walking on the 'wrong' side of the street over there," Evans said, to explain that Europeans, at least appear "left-handed."

Evans said he found baseball a mystery to most Europeans but that Pockey is taking Paris by storm.

Professional soccer football also is tremendously popular in many European centers, and Evans collected data on the relatively small salaries paid the greatest stars of the game in England.

In all his trip, the Cleveland baseball man encountered just one story of the diamond. That concerned an American tourist who, having been shown the tombs in Westminster Abbey, inquired glibly, "Have they saved a corner for Babe Ruth?"

reached the limit of endurance. Jumping to his feet as Rentsler made another blunder, he pointed an angry finger at Luke Fossler, backfield substitute, sitting on the bench.

"Get in there," he cried, "and take that fathead's place."

Headgear in hand, Fossler took a step toward the gridiron, then turned back. "Say, Coach," he asked in a puzzled tone, "which fathead?"

LEAGUE HEADS MAY ABANDON DRASTIC RULE

UNIT-PLAN ADVOCATED INSTEAD OF EIGHT SEMESTER RULE

It appears to be the opinion of most coaches and superintendents of high schools that the eight-semester rule and the transfer rule passed last year are too drastic and that one of the rules should be abandoned or changed. They believe that a change in the eight-semester rule, disqualifies a student from taking part in athletics if he has been in high school more than eight semesters, is the solution.

The change proposed, which is popular, is to allow a student entering his fourth year of high school with less than 12 units to take part in athletics one year after his fourth year, provided he has not had four years competition.

The student with less than the 12 units has no chance of graduating the fourth year and he has to go back to school another year and do nothing in the athletic line, it is claimed. He would lose interest in his school and when he enters college he would be soft and not fit to participate in athletics.

Oklahoma tried the eight-semester rule and found it too strenuous. Now Oklahoma allows a boy to take part in athletics until he has 16 credits or four years of athletics.

The new rule would do away with students flunking their senior year to play football or take part in other activities. There are already too many rules checking football in Texas because it has been such a success, many believe.

CHAMP SITUATION WORRIES EXPERTS

NEW YORK.—The mythical national football crown may find no head to fit comfortably this year for the first time in many a season. Seldom has there been a campaign where there were so few teams at this late date with clear-cut claims to consideration when the balloting began for the nation's "champion."

There are plenty of contenders, of course, but many of them can be eliminated, whatever the actual fairness, on the ground that their schedules have not been comprehensive enough to warrant serious consideration for them.

Most critics have abandoned their efforts to select three or four outstanding machines and lumped Southern California, Pittsburgh, Michigan, Auburn, Brown, Colgate, Army, Purdue, Tennessee, Vanderbilt, and Texas Christian and perhaps one or two others, together in the top bracket, and let it go at that.

DISTRICT HAS CAGE LEAGUE

Schedule To Be Set For 4 Sections With Winners In Play-off.

District one basketball this winter will be under direct supervision of the Texas interscholastic league, and there will be system in the scheduling of games which has been absent in the past. Representatives met with district officials in Amarillo last night and decided to revise the district rules by dividing the 23 Panhandle counties into four sections with a set schedule.

The winning team in each section must be decided by Feb. 4 and the winners will meet in Canyon Feb. 17 and 18 to decide the district champion, in a double-elimination tournament.

Changing of the basketball system was started some time ago when superintendents met in Amarillo. Plans were completed, excepting for state approval, last week when coaches met with the superintendents. A division of the counties will be made during the week and the eligible schools named.

The committee which met last night also was empowered to form plans to regulate girls basketball in the district. The interscholastic league does not sponsor girls basketball and the organization this year will be independent of the league excepting in rules and regulations of play.

The new method of elimination will do away with the expense of every county winner attending the district tournament and will do away with the same teams playing so many times during the season.

Bowling Scores

The Schneider hotel bowling team in the Commercial league won three straight games from the Country club last night to go into second place in the league standing while the Thirty Footers were taking two out of three from Cullum Motor to remain in first place. F. A. Peck of the long-men rolled high single game with 228 pins and high series with 600 pins. Fred Fischer of the same team was second high gameroiler with 224 pins while Gordon Moore of the hotelmen rolled second high series with 596 pins.

The University of Michigan boasts 82 fraternity houses.

The Lubbock Westerners will enter the third of the big conference games of the district Thanksgiving afternoon against the Amarillo (San?) at Butler Field two or three touchdowns the underdog but it should be a battle. The Westerners will be fighting tradition, which should be equal to one touchdown. They will be also fighting the breaks of the game which usually goes to the Sandies sometime. Many Pampans intend to see the game and they will be more than likely cheering for the Sandies.

Pampa and Amarillo football teams must meet on Thanksgiving day next year if Pampa is to be considered one of the BIG THREE. Why not let Lubbock and Amarillo play in Lubbock on Armistice day and Pampa and Amarillo play in Pampa on Thanksgiving day? It would only be fair, since the other two teams have played on the holiday for many years.

Members of Pampa's football team have some odd nicknames, some for no reason and some for no reason at all. For instance, H. L. Ledrick is known as "Chicken Creek" given him after the Chicken Creek Oil company started drilling on his father's ranch in Lubbock county. Where did Siler Faulkner ever get his name de plume "Roughness"? "Hoot" Fullingim got his nickname when he was a little fellow, if he ever was—he wouldn't go to a picture show unless Hoot Gibson was the actor. We wonder where Philip Powell got his moniker of "Pinky." Gerdis Schmidt and Jim Poole are familiarly called "Father." Robert Woodward got his name of "Midget" last year while he was playing basketball with four other boys who were 6 feet tall or taller. Dick Sullins' real name is Claude but he prefers "Dick." "Tuke" Salsbury's name is really Leo. About the oddest name on the team goes to Bill Kelley, who is known as "Egg" Cylinder. No one thinks of calling "Sammy" Turner by plain Sam. Clovis Green has so many nicknames that no one has stuck. And everyone knows "Noisy" Sartin, who is known at home as Leslie.

finer is facing restricted production from his wells, and a bolstered market price for crude oil he must purchase to keep operating. Meanwhile, any price-cutting in refined market products reduces his profit to a red entry. It is not surprising that the small refiners are, as the hard-pressed and sometimes forgotten minority, making quite a squawk. The state, in undertaking to run the oil business, is assuming a huge responsibility. To be wholly fair, it must protect the minorities as well as majorities. And having started legislating in this direction, it probably will continue the experiment indefinitely. The ultimate cost and result must be considered no less than the present beneficial results.

Oil conservation, were it to turn out like that of wood and coal, would not serve the public interest. Today we find farmers burning corn because it is as cheap as coal. This is the oil and gas age; the next may find electricity both heating and cooling our homes, and drawing energy to do it from the sun. Impossible? Who would dare predict as much?

ARRESTS FEW

Cold weather is bad for business, declares Chief of Police Jno. V. Andrews. His men have made only two arrests since Sunday and both offenders claim they are not guilty. They have been charged with vagrancy.

The streets are almost deserted of pedestrians at night but are lined with cars, the chief says. He expects business to pick up after the fifteenth, which is pay day for many, but was disappointed.

A PATH TO PARADISE

SYNOPSIS: Olive suspects that her employer is making a survey to England to make a survey and take his wife to a better home. Olive is a devoted wife and mother. She is a devoted wife and mother. She is a devoted wife and mother.

ALONE AT LAST

THE hour was shortly after ten. The boat sailed at midnight.

Olive felt like a prisoner who had served his sentence. He hadn't realized how bitterly his personality had been curtailed till their hand-baggage had been carried down to the waiting taxi.

"Good-bye, little nest, where we've been so happy," Santa kissed slim fingers to bare floors and sheeted furniture.

Olive's heart whispered, "And may you burn while we're gone." In the taxi his spirit rose.

"What's the matter with you?" Santa rested her hand on his knee. "You're bonking."

He barged into her, all but bumping her nose.

"One honeymoon's commencing." She pushed him aside.

"Goodbye, you're crazy." Nevertheless, his excitement indicated her. Having made sure that their trunks were aboard, they went on deck.

As they stood by the gang-plank she jogged him.

"Remember the last time?" "When you didn't follow me? What a chase you've led me!" "Hope I've been worth while."

"So-so," he shrugged his shoulders.

"As an example of impassioned love-making that's not so hot," she grinned impudently.

"It stayed at boiling point, I'd say," he retorted.

The band had ceased playing. This flustered about the liner, nosing her into the dark tank of river. The crew started churning.

"How about bed?" he suggested.

"I've only you to protect me," she whispered irrelevantly.

She'd uttered his thought. Having been married three months, at last they were alone.

Lights of New York faded like beautiful stars. The little white cabin faintly became home to him. The reason was not far to seek. He had paid for it. He'd stipulated that she was to be his guest. Even her letter of credit he had provided.

"Link! It's comy."

"Remains to be seen," she responded. "Whether I can lift my head from the pillow tomorrow. On my last voyage, which was to Havana."

"I've heard about it." He cut her short.

to some dependable person willing to execute it. When a person agrees to execute a warrant for arrest, he is subject to the same powers and liabilities that apply to peace officers.

In making an arrest, "all reasonable means" are permitted to be used to effect it. No greater force, however, shall be resorted to than is necessary to secure the arrest and detention of the accused. The accused person must be duly notified of the charge and of the authority under which his detention is made. If an arrested person escapes, he can be re-taken without warrant. Officers have the right to shoot to prevent the escape of a prisoner, but cannot shoot to effect re-capture, when only the rules of original arrest govern.

Gas Appliances And Stoves Will Be Tested Here

The Pampa Hardware & Implement company has announced the securing the services of two gas appliance experts who will adjust gas stoves and appliances in Pampa. Stoves in several Pampa homes have already been adjusted with a marked improvement of efficiency and an elimination of fumes.

H. S. Entrikey and D. G. Forsythe, who have been with the Pacific Gas and Electric company in Oakland and the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company of San Diego, Calif., for the last four years, have moved their families to Pampa and will handle the gas adjustments. For the past six months they have been training men in San Diego and acting as crew foremen where that city changed from manufactured gas to natural gas.
