Cashier Positively Identifies Four Stinnett Bank Robbers

CAR AND COINS RECOGNIZED BY KIDNAP VICTIM

BRING SUSPECTS FROM OKLAHOMA CITY TO BORGER

MAN IS CHARGED TWICE

STINNETT, Nov. 19. (AP)—Four suspects, arrested Wednesday at Oklahoma City, have been identified positively as the bandits who last Tuesday looted the First State bank here of $1,200 and kidnaped the cashier, G. W. Newsom.

John "Shine" Popejoy, Sam "Jelly" Stewart, Joe Wolfe, and W. H. "Bill" Burke are expected to arrive here tonight from Oklahoma City in custody of Sheriff Frank Whaley and his chief deputy, Burt Bryan. All have been charged.

Newsom, who identified the four men, also identified the bandit car, in which he rode for three hours following the robbery, and silver money found in possession of Popejoy. The cashier said he identified the money by paper wrappers.

Popejoy, about 35 years old, is under indictment in connection with the robbery of the bank on March 15, when Newsom and an assistant cashier were locked in the vault by four men who escaped with approximately $5,000.

The cashier said today he had recognized Popejoy while he was held a prisoner in the bandit car. Several times during the ride Newsom was warned, he said, not to identify any of the bandits, who released him, unharmed, 12 miles southeast of Panhandle.

Legion Post to Meet on Tuesday

Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion will have a regular meeting on Tuesday night, Nov. 22.

This post, as well as all other posts throughout the nation has a busy year confronting them. Matters of importance to all ex-servicemen will be dealt with soon.

Officers declare all ex-soldiers should be taking some active part in their organization, the American Legion. The Pampa post is endeavoring to acquaint the people of this territory, especially those who served in the world war, with the intentions and purposes of the Legion. All are cordially invited to attend this meeting next Tuesday night.

County Calves Place in Show

Senior calves raised in Gray county were the only Texas entries to place in the recent livestock show at Kansas City.

Jim Farley's animal took 18th place and a prize of $30, and Billie Wilson's won 20th for a $20 prize. The Gray county group entry was eleventh in the show.

HUNTERS RETURN

Three deer were brought back by a party of returning hunters last night. The men were Dr. A. R. Sawyer, Dr. A. Cole, Dr. Walter Purviance, O. L. Boyington, B. W. Ross and John Glover.

Crill Egan say that eggs taste much better when they are worth about 60 cents a dozen. "Why I always enjoy my morning eggs when they are expensive. It seems that I am getting something not so common as when they are about 15 cents a dozen," Crill remarked. Eggs are going up and the supply is going down. They will be worth about $1.50 a quart for Christmas tiddies.

CAMERA RECORDS THRILL

Death hovered over the Oakland, Calif., speedway as the camera flicked on this scene: Leader Spangler had skidded, crashed into the rail. As he righted his car it turned turtle. You see (top) "Spider" Matlock, Spangler's mechanic, trying to save himself as the car rolls over twice. In a second the car has bounced to a halt. Matlock lies inert on the brick track beside the car (center) as Spangler tries to extricate himself from under the crushed cowl. Police and spectators are rushing across the track to pick up Matlock. Spangler gets clear of the wreck, and is shown in the third picture holding a broken arm as Matlock is lifted into a stretcher to be taken to a hospital with cuts, bruises and internal injuries.

Brought From Cheap Boarding House To Hospital

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 19. (AP)—Colonel Raymond Robins, militant dry leader and social worker, saw his wife in a hospital where he is receiving medical treatment late today for the first time since his mysterious disappearance Sept. 3, but he turned away from her with the statement, "I don't know the lady."

For ten minutes, Mrs. Robins talked with her husband alone but he showed no sign of recognition, she said, adding that his mind appeared to be "blank" so far as she was concerned.

The patient has firmly denied since his identification that he is Colonel Robins. Officers said he has insisted several times his name is "Rogers."

Still apparently suffering from a partial loss of memory, to which his disappearance was attributed by relatives, Colonel Robins was placed in Norburn hospital under a physician's care immediately upon his arrival here this morning.

Mrs. Robins arrived by automobile during the afternoon from Spartanburg, S. C., where she left a train on which she had traveled from Brooksville, Fla., her home. She had received word there last night that her husband had been located in the mountain village of Whittier, 60 miles from here, prospecting under the name of "Raymond Rogers."

"I have just seen Colonel Robins. He didn't know me," she said after the one-sided reunion.

"Hello, Raymond," she greeted him. Robins turned to Dr. M. A. Griffin and said, "I don't know the lady." Robins was sitting up when he saw his wife and still was dressed in overalls he had worn in Whittier and had a heavy beard.

Mrs. Robins said physicians have not yet diagnosed his case. John Dreier, a nephew, said yesterday the prohibition leader was a victim of amnesia.

"I had no difficulty in recognizing him. Anyone who has ever heard his voice could not forget it," Mrs. Robins said.

HOOVER CUTS BUDGET

REDUCTIONS IN COSTS TOTAL HALF BILLION

PRESIDENT OPPOSED TO NEW MORATORIUM ON WAR DEBTS

FAVORS RIGID ATTITUDE

SENATOR SAYS FRANCE COULD PAY BUT WILL NOT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19. (AP)—Summoning his cabinet for its first extraordinary meeting, President Hoover today slashed the huge federal budget to an extent he believes will reduce appropriations by $550,000,000.

After the chief executive had taken this special action to clear the way for foreign debt consideration early next week, a formal statement was issued that at the cabinet meeting "reductions in appropriations for the fiscal year beginning July 1, were settled at about $700,000,000."

Meanwhile from Capitol hill came reiterated expressions of an adamant attitude against the recreation of the war debts commission and against an extension of the moratorium. Should his view prevail, a demand by the United States for payments due on December 15 would be the only course available.

Both Mr. Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt, when they sit down together over the debt problem at the White House next Tuesday, will have as a common ground an expressed belief against cancellation of the war obligations.

From high administration quarters has come word that the chief executive is definitely opposed to another year moratorium, and favors instead a more rigid attitude toward foreign debtors than any wholesale suspension of the payments due on Dec. 15.

Senator William C. O'Day, one of the twelve congressional leaders called by the president to his parley on debts next Wednesday, said in Indianapolis today he could count only four avenues out of the debt tangle—a three-year moratorium, revival of the debt commission, cancellation and repudiation.

"Repudiation," he said, "has been discussed in European circles. I doubt, however, that they will go that far. France could pay if she would, for she has the world's largest gold reserve. She has learned the other smaller nations into the present policy of delay. England wishes to pay and will pay if she can."

ABILENE, Nov. 19. (AP)—Talk of extending the moratorium to European nations drew the ire today of Thos. L. Blanton, West Texas congressman, who fired a sharp telegram at President Hoover asserting that "Americans are not going to stand for cancelling debts Europe justly owes them."

Young Trapper Quickly Shows His Ability

Thirty-two coyotes have succumbed to the skill of Tom Fowler, youthful Gray county official trapper, since he began warring against the ancient enemy of the feathered family.

He is making his center of operations near the Cubine place in the Back community, but is running a line of traps 50 miles long. After the county began paying part of his salary, he was placed under supervision of County Agent Ralph Thomas. Any county resident troubled with coyotes is asked to notify Mr. Thomas at once.

Fowler has a method all his own. He places an anchor on the trap chains, letting Mr. Coyote wander until the anchor catches on something, and revealing the animal's favored haunts. One coyote became caught in river debris and was drowned.

BILL PONDER IS FORCED TO LAND LIQUOR

FLYING ACE OF WORLD WAR CHARGED WITH SMUGGLING

SHIP HELD 80 GALLONS

AIRMAN KEPT IN JAIL ON $4,000 BOND AT SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19. (AP)—William T. (Bill) Ponder, American world war flier, remained in jail here today pending efforts to arrange bond on charges of smuggling liquor from Mexico into the United States.

Two customs officers, flying a speedy biplane, forced Ponder at the point of a rifle to land his big monoplane near Poteet in Atascosa county, yesterday, found 80 gallons of alcohol in the plane and took Ponder into custody.

Ponder was granted bond of $4,000 by United States Commissioner Paul A. Lockhart. The plane, which customs men said was well adapted to aerial patrol work, was confiscated.

The war veteran, who was credited with shooting down 11 enemy planes, talked with an attorney in Fort Worth, his home. He waived preliminary hearing and declined to make a statement. He was visited at the jail by an old war "buddy," John Prost, banker of San Antonio, who declined to go on the bond at the amount of $4,000.

It was not the first time Ponder had run afoul of the customs officers. Several months ago, his plane was forced down under similar circumstances at the San Angelo municipal airport, and recently Ponder paid a fine of $500 in the case.

In both instances, the flier was brought to earth with loads of liquor after furious aerial chases from the Mexican border several hundred miles over American territory.

RELIEF GROUP TO GIVE JOBS TO 29 NEEDY

First Employment To Be on Streets and Alleys

Twenty-nine jobless men known to be in great need of work will be given employment Monday by the federal relief committee.

They will work three days of 8 hours at 30 cents an hour. The first jobs will be clearing of barrens on South Barnes street to facilitate drainage. Alleys will be cleaned and weeds cut on vacant lots. Fertilizer will be placed on the city park. Two teams and a truck will be used in the 3-day program.

Chas. Mullen, foreman of works for the committee, has a register of 121 unemployed men of varying needs. It is obvious that the funds available for the rest of the year will be insufficient to give more than a few days work per week to the neediest men. No additional funds will be received until about January 15. The wage scale will be adjusted to the class of work being done, with a man and team or truck drawing 62½ cents an hour. It is pointed out by the committee that the project is to furnish relief, and not to provide full salaries.

The number employed each day will be gradually increased as the experiment proceeds. The city administration has a number of projects on which men can be employed, and will in addition furnish several supervisors from the regular city staff.

Few rules have been made to govern the distribution of the work, relief, for the reason that nearly every applicant has needs differing from other individuals. The committee, composed of G. H. Walker, chairman; Alex. Schneider, W. A. Bratton, M. K. Brown, and John E. White, will have regular meetings to discuss problems which arise and to compile complete records to be filed with the governor.

Among the Pampans who attended the McLean-Shamrock football game in McLean Friday afternoon were Siler Faulkner, Charlie Tut, John Hessey, Sherman White, A. G. Post, W. H. Lang, Carl Boston.

LITTLE THEATER NAMES NEXT 2 PLAYS TO BE PRESENTED HERE

The next two major plays to be presented by the Pampa Little Theater were selected at a meeting of the board of directors Friday night at the home of Mrs. E. M. Conley, president.

The first of these, "Love-In-a-Mist," three-act comedy, will be produced shortly after the middle of December, according to present plans. The second play, "Children of the Moon," three-act drama, will be presented in February.

No decision was made on the fourth and last play to be given this season. The board will meet in the near future to approve selection of the fourth production. Mrs. Julia Barrett, chairman of the play-reading and casting committee, said that among the plays suggested to her by members for consideration for the last play were "The Bad Man," "The Alarm Clock," "Skidding," "Green Grow the Lilacs," by Lynn Riggs, "Outward Bound" by Eugene O'Neill, "Aren't We All," by Frederick Lonsdale and "White Wings," by Phillip Barry.

A committee of which I. A. Freeman is chairman was chosen to employ a director for the December play. The committee will meet Sunday to make a decision.

"Love-In-a-Mist" was a highly successful comedy when produced in New York a few years ago. Try-outs for the play will be announced when the books arrive.

Directors present at the meeting were Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Mrs. Warren Cretney, Mrs. Phillip Wolfe, Mr. Freeman, Archer Fullington, and W. O. Workman.

Thursday night following an open meeting of the Little Theater in the basement of the Brunow building, George Limerick, manager of the LaNora, was host to about 30 members at the theater where "Chandu" was shown on the screen.

A one-act play will be presented to the membership at open meetings in the future. One such play announced last night was "The Princess Marries the Page" by Edna St. Vincent Millay.

DANGER!

'MODEL STUDENT' SON OF PROMINENT FAMILY

AGED WOMAN IS BEATEN

ACTIVITIES OF YOUTH NOT ACCOUNTED FOR BY POLICE

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (AP)—A youth of high school age—the son of wealthy parents and a "model student" was sought tonight for what police termed one of the cruellest murders in Chicago's history.

The youth, 16-year-old Bert Arnold, was wanted for questioning about the killing of his grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Saxe, 60, in the home of his parents.

Mrs. Saxe was beaten to death and her body dropped into a cistern. Elements of mystery suitable for a Scotland Yard "thriller" were contained in the evidence—heel prints of a woman's shoe in blood, fingerprints on two costly candleabra, and a missing automobile.

Police theorized young Arnold might possible have been the victim of kidnapers who killed the elderly woman. They said, however, evidence indicated Mrs. Saxe was killed by someone familiar with the Arnold home. Bert Arnold was the only member of the family whose activities were not accounted for at time of the killing.

Young Arnold last was seen at 10 p. m., last night when he left a church dance in company with several other youths. He was driving Mrs. Saxe's automobile, the machine which was missing today.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Arnold, were attending the theater, although Bert told his friends at the dance they had left for Denver. Two younger children were asleep in the house during the killing.

The youth's father examined his room today and found, he announced, a pistol, a bottle of liquor, and a murder mystery novel with a gruesome passage underlined.

McWright Suit To Continue Today

The civil suit of Lemuel McWright against the Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad for damages was far from closed in 31st district court yesterday.

All of Monday will likely be required for the remainder of the defense testimony and preparation of the court's charge. A night session may be held for the lengthy arguments.

Judge H. E. Hoover, one of the defense attorneys, has several depositions to read into the record, a task he had started before noon yesterday.

STATIONS DESIGNATED
Four more headlight testing stations have been designated by the county commissioners. These are the Cuberson-Smalling Chevrolet company, the K & T garage at 122 N. Cuyler, the Plains One Stop Service station at the corner of Kingsmill and Ballard, and Cook's Battery station on Cuyler at Francis.

A bunch of high school boys, sitting in on district court, trial sober up pretty pronto when Judge Ewing told them they were in a court room. He threatened to throw them out (though not in those words) if they didn't quiet-down. Judge Hoover of Canadian, a lawyer in the case, seemed to resent the boys' volubility.

"Chinch" Barrett after the Quannah game and it was his opinion that Pampa would have scored more touchdowns if they hadn't talked the Quannah boys into a rage—accusing them of picking cotton, digging yams. The Indians also shot a lot of sarcasm about the amount of water taken in by the harvesters.

—AND A SMILE
QUEBEC, Que.—Gaston Marquis went to a camp near the Maine border to hunt moose. No moose were to be found, so with two companions, he set out listlessly for a walk through the woods, armed only with a revolver. A 475-pound bear was also out for a walk and the two parties met. Marquis's companions fainted. Marquis fired twice, hit the bear with a third shot and joined his friends for a faint. When they came to, there was the bear lying near them, very dead.

RESTORE THE ERRING: Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.—Galatians 6:1.

On Tolerance Perfection is of the spirit. It is not logical to believe that it can be legislated, since legislation is compulsion with very material punishments.

The reformation of an individual is usually through love, neighborly affection, genuine concern. Legislation can help to remove temptations, but it must be used in the spirit of tolerance.

The drunkard needs more than legislation condemnation. We illustrate with a letter received from New Orleans by Captain Clyde Hollingsworth of the local Salvation Army:

When you picked me up on the streets of Bradenton, Fla., I had been drunk for ten weeks straight. I was so drunk I merely knew where I was. I staggered up to you while you were selling 'War Crys,' I saw only the red band on your hat and the sign, 'The Salvation Army.'

As you know, I was on the verge of committing suicide. I had already written to my wife, whom I had not seen for 5 years, telling her I was going to end it all. You prayed with me right there on the edge of the sidewalk and then took me in your car to your home and there read the Bible and prayed with me for three hours.

This man, his letter continues, was for 12 years manager of a wagon manufacturing branch in Georgia, then for 14 years manager of a bottling company. Liquor was his weakness, and though he could buy it now, he does not do so.

There is a tolerance born of the sincere desire to help, rather than condemn, the erring. Fortunately, this tolerance and genuine concern can continue in effect despite the ups and downs of legislation.

That New Deal

Forgotten men, told to expect a "new deal" under a democratic administration, should not expect too much, too soon.

Rather than an immediate new deal, it is a new shuffle, at the same old game of politics. Franklin D. Roosevelt, as president, will deal part of the cards after the shuffle of March 4, next.

Mr. Roosevelt, despite his emphatic gestures, is not the "man of the hour" as President Hoover was. The president-elect is a good politician, willing to listen, well educated. Surrounded by honest, capable advisers, he should be a safe leader.

Moreover, the "stake" of the forgotten men is interwoven with that of those same favorites. An economic revolution cannot be wrought in 4 years without harming forgotten men, even if the new leaders knew exactly how to bring it about, which they do not.

Citizens have shuffled, but the war debt problems are still as forbidding as ever. The Manchurian issue is unfinished business despite the precedents laid down by Secretary Stimson.

Anyone who thinks even half these problems can be solved by the next congress—which from Roosevelt's standpoint is many months away—is simply unfamiliar with the situation. For after all, ours is a rather crude civilization in many ways, ill-governed, cruelly unmindful of the value of human life, fundamentally materialistic making progress but slowly in the former arts of living.

(Editor's Note:—This section of THE NEWS is dedicated to the betterment and furthering of literary efforts in Pampa and the North Plains. All bits of poetry, contemporary comment on books, and their authors, and reviews may be submitted for publication, and will be appreciated. The Literary Editor reserves the privilege to reject or edit.)

BECAUSE MANY REVIEWERS of this column have voiced a willingness to contribute their own reviews, but profess a lack of detailed knowledge in the handling of them, I'm taking this opportunity to set forth, here, the twelve basic principles in writing reviews:

- 1st: Don't waste what little space you have by complaining of your lack of it. 2nd: Don't quote Ecclesiastes: 'Of the making of books there is no end.' 3rd: Don't use adjectives. 'Sensational' and 'intriguing' are bad enough, but 'very' and 'interesting' are the worst; they are all threadbare.

4th: Don't take books for the sake of filling gaps in your education, unless you take them at their own merit, and then for your own personal enlightenment. Unless you have a knowledge of the subject, the chances are that your review will show it, and will be worthless.

5th: Don't try to make your readers think that you know more than the author who has spent his lifetime on it, but if you are sure of your ground, and you have expeditious napping, then you have rendered a service by noting it.

6th: Don't treat your author as a personal enemy; criticism should be courteous. 7th: Don't forget your audience; it is two-fold. A Hovey and a Rooseveltian may sit side by side in the subway and read your column—a literati and shop-girl. If the book hinges on opinion, however, don't straddle the fence.

8th: Don't make a copy of your ignorance of the subject on which you are writing. Rather than sounding impressionistic, it sounds incompetent. If one little point has you guessing, make use of your public library card; if the whole work is cloaked in uncertainty, you will do justice to your reputation by returning it.

9th: Don't "serve dinners." You may tempt your readers to accept your judgment of a book without saying it compares with everything from a heavy meal of roast turkey to a light one of whipped-cream tarts and a box of French chocolates.

10th: Don't quote, quarrel with, or even take cognizance of the jacket; above all, don't write jacket stuff yourself. "Such and such a book will be warmly welcomed by so and so's large circle of readers" is inexcusable. There are other ways of showing that the book is not a first one.

11th: Don't waste space by exclaiming over the binding unless it is most unusual, or better, unique. 12th: Don't write more than one page, double-spaced, for the average popular novel, unimportant biography or elementary textbook. Don't write more than two pages for the fairly important book. And even for books of first-rate importance, do not run over four. And these should be rare!

NOW THAT A FEW of the most important rules are NOT to be violated have been advanced, I hope, that some of you readers whose favorite companion is a book—or "a loaf of bread, a jug of wine, and thou"—will discard that "fear of incompetence" and contribute some reviews to this column. What some of them are rejected? You have no idea how much fun it is—and how much more you get out of a book that you really take time to consider! Besides, if you keep at it long enough, you'll either get the kick out of having one published, or save enough "rejection slips" to paper your bed-room. I did just that, and finally had the coziest "glue room" you can imagine.—Texas skies have nothing on a nooky little den papered in blue-slips!

MOREOVER, IF YOU have a yen for writing verse, this column is also open for that sort of effort; incidentally, several poems of no little merit have first seen the light of day through such a department this month.

Of course it may take a little more than a "by heart" knowledge of the "Don'ts for Reviewers," and the "roses are red and violets are blue" nursery ditty to write reviews and poetry, but, judging from past contributions, there must be a world of latent talent and cabby-holed material of value on the North Plains. Why not give it the opportunity it deserves?

AMARILLO, Texas, (P)—Scenic and historical spots of the Panhandle have lured Ben Carlton Mead, until recently of San Antonio, back to his home in Amarillo. He has worked during the fall on some scenes in the Palo Duro canyons.

Mead has made a study of scenes and characters associated with Texas history. His illustrations for Frank Dobie's "Cowboy's Children" are perhaps the best known of these. He has done some sketches of old Tascosa and the Adobe Walls battleground, in the Panhandle.

Let's examine the movie company's schedule and see how it might suit us to follow it, since we're up in the air on a program of our own. The day is started by "a breakfast in bed in a luxurious three-room suite of a popular hotel." So far so good. But, by the way, what time is breakfast? Don't you agree with me it's not a millionaire's day if we have to get up too early—even on a crowded day of days?

After being attended by a barber, manicurist and masseur, we are helped to dress "by the English valet or the French maid." Next comes a ride in an extravagant motor car to a Westchester country club, then a short cruise on a private yacht, and "the temporary millionaire will motor to city hall to meet the mayor."

Now we certainly hold nothing personal against Mayor McKee, but don't you think we could be just as happy without going to city hall? Surely the mayor's feelings wouldn't be hurt. Anyway, there follows a shopping tour along Fifth avenue and lunch at a Park avenue hostelry. Lunch at last! We are beginning to get mighty hungry. And, by the way, what time is it already?

The afternoon is filled with a matinee, climbing the Empire State tower, visiting back-stage folk and dressing for dinner "with the expert assistance of a valet or maid." Then there's a jaunt through Central park "in a coach and four" (four what? Surely there are not four horses left?), dinner, the theater again, a visit to a radio broadcasting station, an after-theater supper in Central park, a round of night clubs in the Village and Harlem and—"at 3 a. m. to bed"

For my part I've decided I don't want to try such a day. But I will do this. To add to the impressiveness of the contest, I offer to turn over to the movie company one share of stock in another movie company (provided it is not above 62 1/2 cents on the exchange) if the visiting "millionaire" is steered through that schedule by 3 a. m.

A still on every farm might not solve the agricultural problem, but it ought to put two speakeasies in every garage. They say an ocean liner's cabin is the safest spot in the world and a Pullman berth comes next. So if you stay at home—it's at your own risk.

Now Helene Madison, the swimming champ, has signed up with the movies. One-piece suits never bothered her sense of modesty, but what will happen to it when they hand her a movie-style evening gown! Now is the time for all good men to spend their Christmas savings.

And when beer comes back, there'll be the problem of unemployed crooks. Holdup men usually take things calmly if their victim happens to be unarmed.

Defeat Stains Stagg's Maroon In Last Fight

CHICAGO, Nov. 19. (P)—Amos Alonzo Stagg ended his record breaking football run today but there was no story book finish. Huddled on the players' bench as head football coach for the last official time at the University of Chicago, he watched his 41st and final Maroon team routed by the bristling Badgers from Wisconsin by a two-touchdown margin. The final score was Wisconsin 18, Chicago 7. For a few minutes early in the second period, it looked as if Stagg's curtain call of football would be crowned with one of the outstanding upset victories of the season. His Maroons, badly outcharged on the right side of the line, had come back from almost nowhere to take a 7-6 lead and the loyal crowd of 20,000, shivering as the icy blasts swept the field, arose and cheered. The Badgers rushed back, scored another touchdown for a five-point lead at half time and then added another by clean superiority to clinch the victory.

Among the Pampans who left Friday afternoon for McLean to see the McLean-Shamrock football game were John B. Fossey, Charlie Thut, Sherman White, George Briggs, and Harry E. Hoare. W. O. Workman and Olin E. Hinkle went to Panhandle to see LeFors play Panhandle in another important class B game.

Assassin A Drink of Hashish! In eleventh-century Persia, a secret order was founded by Hassan ben Sabah, including in its use of the Orient's drug, hashish, and, when under its influence, in the practice of secret murder. The murderous drinks of hashish came to be called hashish in the Arabic and from that origin comes our English word assassin!

TO COOPERATE WITH WELFARE BOARD OF CITY

MRS. SILER FAULKNER ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF GROUP

Organization of a women's church federation was begun Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock when a small group met in the annex of the Presbyterian church. Mrs. Siler Faulkner of the Methodist church was elected chairman, and Mrs. John Mayall of the Episcopal church was named secretary.

The first project of the federation will be to cooperate with the Welfare Board in providing a happy Christmas for scores of children who might not otherwise be visited by Santa Claus.

Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager of the Welfare Board, told of the tree which was attended last year by nearly three hundred children, and it was planned that the undertaking should be on a larger scale this year.

Those attending the session Thursday were Mrs. S. G. Surratt of the Episcopal church, Mrs. C. E. Lancaster and Mrs. T. P. Morton of the First Baptist church, Mrs. Charles Todd of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. George Walstad of the Methodist church, and Mrs. W. H. Davis.

PAMPANS ARE AMONG MANY WOMEN WHO ENLIST WITH WAR-TIME SPIRIT IN RED CROSS SERVICE

HOW shall 500,000 bales of Farm Board cotton be converted into clothing for the unemployed and needy, was an urgent question confronting the American Red Cross when Congress voted the raw cotton for that purpose to the Red Cross in midsummer.

Congress also had laid 85,000,000 bushels of Farm Board wheat upon the Red Cross door step, beginning last March, and the great relief organization had conquered the task of putting flour and bread from this wheat into the homes of 3,500,000 of the nation's needy families. The wheat distribution continues and it is estimated that the free flour will not be exhausted until the late spring of 1933.

Cotton presented a complex problem, but the Red Cross swung a large staff of workers into the job, and by October 1 had distributed more than 30,000,000 yards of cotton cloth to more than half of the chapters or counties of the nation. Thousands of women volunteered to make the cloth into garments for school children, for men and for women. Dresses, underwear, men's shirts, boys' suits all came flying from the sewing machines.

Following up the cloth, the Red Cross prepared to give men's trousers, overalls, jumpers, boys' knickerbockers, underwear and stockings and socks for all the family.

Without the work of the women who volunteered as seamstresses, and the thousands of men and women who helped give flour, clothing and other direct relief, in the name of the Red Cross, these useful aids to the unemployed would not have been handled so promptly, nor reached so many people, Red Cross officials say.

In the administration of the wheat and cotton, the Red Cross will expend an estimated $450,000. Funds from the Red Cross treasury will be used. Every Red Cross membership in the annual roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day will help toward meeting these costs.

Chairman John Barton Payne has characterized the relief emergency facing the Red Cross this winter as the greatest it has had to meet since the World war, and has appealed for the support of every citizen.

EFFECTS OF STATE CONVENTION OF WOMEN UPON DISTRICT TOLD; SECTION IS WELL-REPRESENTED

BY MRS. T. V. REEVES

CANYON, Nov. 19.—The state convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs made a number of changes in the by-laws which are of great interest and concern to the individual clubs. The most drastic of these changes was a decision to make the terms of state and district officers three years instead of two as at the present time. This change was made, it is pointed out, in order that the state organization will be similar to the general federation which adopted this plan at its biennial last summer.

Another change which all club women believe will be very beneficial is that of holding the state convention in May each year, in order that plans for the year's work may be made during the summer months, all appointive offices filled during the same time so that there will not be the waste of time which prevails under the present plan, with district officers elected in the spring and then having to face a change in the state personnel in the fall. It is estimated that the new plan will add at least four months of working time to each administration. This change came about thru the concerted efforts of the district presidents.

The report of the president, Mrs. J. A. Hill, was of outstanding interest because it showed that only one club of 127 in this district is delinquent in its dues, and that the seventh district has five of the 14 county libraries in the state.

Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick, secretary of the seventh district, gave a short talk on voting intelligently which drew enthusiastic favorable comment from all present at the convention, including the president of the General Federation, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole.

Mrs. Ewing Leech of Pampa read the report of the Women's Culture club of Memphis, this report having been adjudged the best of the seventh district. Mrs. Grundy of Memphis was to have read the report.

REQUIREMENTS OF AUXILIARY MEMBER GIVEN

GROUP HONORS WOMEN IN FAMILIES OF VETERANS

Membership in the American Legion auxiliary is an honor reserved solely for the women members of the families which sent men to defend the country during the World War. Mrs. W. C. de Cordova, membership chairman of the Pampa unit of the auxiliary, explained in a statement to workers engaged in enrolling the unit's 1933 membership. All applicants for membership must furnish clear proof of their eligibility, she said.

"Honorable service to country in the armed forces during the world war by a member of the immediate family is the only basis for eligibility to the American Legion auxiliary," Mrs. de Cordova's statement said. "The right to be an auxiliary member is a privilege purchased for the women of their families by the men who offered their lives in the country's defense. It is highly valued and must be closely guarded. Individual application forms giving proof of war service by a member of the family must be filed by all applicants for membership. Like the American Legion, the auxiliary grants no honorary memberships."

2. Widows, mothers, sisters and daughters of men who lost their lives in the war or veterans who have died since discharge from war service.
3. Women who themselves were regularly enlisted in the army or navy during the war, such as army nurses and navy "yeomanettes."

port but she was unable to be present.

Among the seventh district chairmen who were especially commended by Mrs. Hill in her report to the state, were Mrs. F. G. Sadler, Littlefield, chairman of the American home department; Mrs. J. L. Avriett, Lamesa, chairman of Junior clubs; Mrs. B. F. Guthrie, Hereford, chairman of industrial welfare division; Mrs. Carl Scott, Canyon, chairman of the division of prison reform.

Mrs. J. B. Dooley, Mrs. H. C. Pipkin, of Amarillo, Mrs. L. R. McGee of Quanah and Mrs. Badger of Littlefield were others from the seventh district who attended the Corpus Christi meeting.

Three outstanding figures at the state convention were Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, past president of the Texas and general federations; Mrs. Patricia Sims of Bryan, past State president and Mrs. G. R. Scott, called "the Admiral of Corpus Christi." All of them are well known in this district.

Mrs. B. F. Guthrie of Hereford, for many years a club worker in her town, has recently won first place in the Texas Poetry society for this year. She is a member of the Hereford Bayview club.

The Dimmitt Study club, a member of the Castro county federation, with Mrs. H. P. Harvel as reporter, states that it is supplying books to Sunnyside community at a cost of $1 per month. It is hoped that this will be one of the first steps toward the creation of a county library. The Castro County Federation is furnishing a community entertainment, at the same time raising funds to finance some of its activities.

Mrs. Mark Henry, Crowell, was chairman of the arrangements committee of the Board County federation which recently gave two evenings of excellent entertainment for that county. Nine clubs participated in the stunts which made up the program.

Alumni Defeat Carideo's Boys

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 19. (AP)—They said these extra grid stars of the University of Missouri were too old, too fat, and had too many kinks in their joints, but they handed the 1932 Tiger team a 7 to 0 defeat in a hard-fought game at Memorial stadium this afternoon.

From the time Dr. E. Lee Miller, 1907 and 1908 Tiger captain and co-coach of the "Grads," won the toss, Frank Carideo's eleven found a fighting crew in their opponents, and a group of players who were anything but set-ups.

The alumni scored in the second period when Bob Miller, St. Louis, big guard of several years ago, smeared Jay Faurst's attempted punt, and Luke Kilgore, tackle from 1928 to 1930, after catching the ball out of the air, shot 15 yards for the touchdown. Dave Smulker, drafted from the Tiger freshmen team, place kicked the extra point.

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 19. Under a burning sun intensified by a light mist, they battled up and down the field while the largest crowd of the season out here pealed down to shirt sleeves. Tight Wed Hill, the eminence overlooking the stadium, had its quota of more than 1,000 fans at forty cents a footfall, and the total saw more than 78,000 spectators viewing the contest.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19. (AP)—Pitt's Panthers took another game from Carnegie Tech today, 6 to 0, before a crowd estimated at 15,000 who braved rain, snow and cold to see the 19th annual contest.

Although the Panthers outplayed the Scots throughout, it was the big break of the day of breaks that gave the lone touchdown and their 15th triumph in the 19 meetings with the Field.

Harvey Rooker, sophomore end, pegged down behind a punt in the third period, and when Dugger Skibo safety man, fumbled the ball, the Pitt end pounced on it and took it to Tech's 4-yard line.
