We acknowledge, in behalf of Baker school, the gift of a side of venison. We need not describe the pleasure of the children and faculty members who enjoyed the treat. Each teacher, by the way, has given a dollar to the cafeteria, and J. M. Dodson likewise.

Young Insull, thumbing his nose at newspapermen, may believe he is smart. As a matter of fact, it was a dumb stunt. It meant nothing to the reporters, except a feature angle to their interview and a picture for the photographers. The newsmen had not expected Insull to say much. He did not disappoint them.

IN REALITY, INSULL'S THUMB WAS NOT INSULTING THE NEWSPAPER MEN, BUT THE PUBLIC THEY REPRESENTED.

The public pays for his news, and its representatives in the gathering of it are the newspaper men. Laws of publication are such that newsmen are restricted in what they can publish and how they can print it. This does not mean that they are any less representative of the public. Freedom of the press as a constitutional guarantee presumes that the press will serve the public. When anyone puts an obstacle in the way of a newspaper, he is offending the public and there is a very good reason why the news should be withheld. Moreover, he who speaks disparagingly of newspaper men in a session a public enemy. He has no sense of responsibility to society. A newsmen, asking something in the name of his public, is not a personality but a cause, a principle, a service. He is the public in action, seeking to record that which is going on, to think, and with which they decide their courses of action.

Newspapers work with imperfect equipment, human and mechanical. It is well known that witnesses, seeing the same incident, give varying accounts. Newsmen, who often must rely upon eye-witnesses, are working at the same disadvantage as the prosecuting attorney or defense attorney in a trial. Human errors are inevitable. Likewise are the most marvelous machines erratic in their performance. There are about 30 chances to make an error in every line of type. There are 30 chances to make an error in correcting an error in a line of type. As much as 28 per cent of the time of the mechanical department of the average daily newspaper is spent in correcting errors and guarding against them. The industry spends many millions of dollars annually correcting and preventing errors. AND YET SOME PEOPLE THINK NEWSPAPERS ARE CARELESS! There is something more important than perfecting and that is speed, but billions are spent trying to correlate one with the other.

A baby is born in Texas every 5 minutes. And at this rate we presume a future voter for Ma Ferguson is born every ten minutes.

Equality is wished by men who see those about them with possessions and luxuries. Once equality is achieved, there is a normal hunger to have extra rewards for extra effort. Russians, reading of how nobles and lords had work gain luxuries and power in capitalist countries, grow restless. They strike. They work sluggishly in the factories. They quarrel over the right to become bosses. Production slows. Stalin, the man of steel, is vacillating between pure communism and modified communism. One month he grants capitalistic rewards to obtain responses in millions of workers; next month he retreats from his position, hoping the momentum of production will continue. It doesn't. His critics grow daily. He is condemned as unfit to be a leader under conditions which daily grow more complex. Human nature never changes; it reacts under similar conditions in similar manner. The success of communism would be its chief enemy; when people cease struggling for equality, they struggle for inequality.

DIRECTORS TO MEET
Directors of the Pampa Little Theater will meet tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. M. Conley for the purpose of transacting business concerning the play presented last night. All directors were urged by Mrs. Conley, chairman, to be present, and if they could not be to send a well-informed representative.

FREE SPENDING OF MONEY ON GIRLS IS CLUE

NEW ORLEANS POLICE MAKE PAIR ADMIT ROBBERIES

WANTED AT GRAPELAND

CONFESS TO LOOTING BANKS IN TEXAS AND OKLAHOMA

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3. (AP)—Lavishing money upon girls, companions led to the arrest of three men, police said today, who are charged with escaping from jail last May at Alexandria, La., and with bank robberies in Texas and Louisiana.

Located at a night club last night and subsequently arrested, the trio also is suspected of having attempted recently to kidnap a banker at Ponchatoula, La., in an effort to rob a bank there.

Police said the men arrested were Ivey Morgan and Earl Jolter, both of Alexandria, and J. Norton, of Houston, Texas. The latter first saw his name as Douglas T. Davis.

City detectives said they received a tip that the men had been seen spending money recklessly on girls known to frequent night clubs in the French quarter. They said they saw the trio and arrested Morgan and Norton in the club. Jolter was dancing and dodged out the door. He later was arrested at his apartment.

Police said the men admitted robbing a bank in Grape Land, Tex., of $1,500 and a bank at Oila, La., of $6,000, both holdups being staged shortly after they escaped from the Alexandria, La., jail.

In their jail break, they slugged a guard. They were accompanied by Ernest Gray, alleged bank bandit, who was captured recently. Gray charged in one Louisiana bank robbery, has been removed to Mobile, Ala., where he is wanted by federal authorities.

Police said they received a telegram today from the sheriff of Grape Land, Tex., stating he knew the trio arrested here and that they also are wanted for bank robberies in Spring, Willis and Maches, Tex.

MAJOR SIMPSON WILL SPEAK HERE SATURDAY IN BEHALF OF DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

Texas' red-hot gubernatorial race will embrace Pampa in rallies to be held Saturday and Monday.

The candidacy of former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson will be extolled Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. by Major E. A. Simpson, well known Amarillo attorney. He will be introduced by Judge Newton P. Willis.

Major Simpson's coming will be part of a Panhandle-wide movement for the democratic party's nominee in Texas.

Orville Bullington, republican nominee, will speak here Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock as part of a swing through the Panhandle just before the election.

Both speakers will make their addresses at the courthouse, either outside the east entrance if the weather is fair or inside if it is cold or raining.

Presiding Judge May Be Elected At Voting Box

Because some election judges appointed by the commissioners court in February have since moved, and some will be unable to serve, Judge S. D. Stennis in a letter to County Clerk Charlie. Thus has outlined the legal procedure for holding precinct elections in such instances.

Judge Stennis' letter follows: "My attention has been called to the fact that some of the judges of election appointed by the commissioners court at the February term do not now reside in the precinct where they were appointed to hold the election.

"Also, some who were appointed have advised me that they will be unable to act.

"Article 3001 of the Revised Statutes prescribes the procedure in such cases. It, in part, reads: "Art. 3001. If no presiding judge was appointed or fails to act or fails to attend on election day, the voters present may appoint their own presiding officer, who has paid his poll tax, and they may also appoint the necessary assistant judges of election.

"The article further provides how returns must be certified in such cases.

"I am, therefore, handing you a form of certificate for use by the election officers who may be thus selected.

"I presume, in most cases, the judge who was appointed will consent to receive the election supplies and be present at the time for the polls to open. He can then announce that he is not going to act whereupon the voters present may

EXTRADITION TREATY BETWEEN GREECE AND U. S. IN EFFECT

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 3. (AP)—An extradition treaty between Greece and the United States became effective today with the formal exchange of the instruments of ratification.

The Greco-American extradition treaty was signed, and ratified by the United States senate, some time ago, but for some reason as yet unexplained the formal exchange of the instruments of ratification was delayed. This exchange usually is done before such an agreement becomes effective.

ROESER GIVES PROPOSED LAW TO GOVERNOR

QUORUM NOT PRESENT AS LEGISLATURE OPENS

OKLAHOMA LAW COPIED

SESSION BEGINS WITH ONLY 40 MEMBERS

AUSTIN, Nov. 3. (AP)—The forty-second Texas legislature convened at noon today in fourth extraordinary session in response to proclamation of Governor E. S. Sterling, who said an emergency existed for amendments to the state's oil conservation laws.

There was not a quorum in either house. The senate was delayed waiting on Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt of Waco. Fred Minor of Denton speaker of the house of representatives, pounded his gavel on the 12 o'clock minute. The house decided to stand at ease until four p. m. There were forty of the one hundred and fifty members present.

Both legislative halls were virtually deserted. Few members had arrived in response to Governor R. S. Sterling's proclamation of yesterday, summoning the lawmakers to deal with the emergency created by a decision of a United States district court invalidating proration orders applied by the Texas Railroad commission to the East Texas oil field.

Fred Minor of Denton, speaker of the house, and Lieutenant Governor Witt arrived this morning. Speaker Minor expressed doubt there would be a quorum in the house at 12 o'clock noon, the hour fixed by the governor for the special session to convene.

A bill incorporating the market demand features of an Oklahoma oil proration statute has been submitted to Governor Sterling for consideration, Charles F. Roeser, president of the Texas Oil and Gas Conservation association said a short time before a special session of the legislature convened to consider oil legislation.

Roeser said the governor had agreed to the market demand provision. It was recalled that during the first special session of the 42nd legislature last July, called by the governor to enact a new conservation statute, the governor stood firmly against inclusion of market demand in the law and threatened to veto it if such a provision was inserted.

Roeser stated that he believed the proposed law already had the support of the legislature.

I HEARD--

A number of local men talking up an athletic association for Pampa and community with the idea of including a buffet; suitable for basketball, volley ball, hand ball and other forms of recreation. The movement has gained considerable headway and only the suitable location is missing. Is there such a place available in Pampa?

That Floyd Archer, right-hand man of Sheriff Lon L. Blansett, auctioned off a couple of lots in front of the courthouse the other day without an audience. He carefully read the necessary paper and then asked for bids. There were none. A few minutes later a man strolled up and bought the lots.

AND A SMILE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fourteen city jail prisoners who thought a meal in the hand was worth two in the bush refused last night to follow four others who tried to escape through a hole in the wall, scrambled over a 15-foot fence and escaped. "We didn't want to go without our supper," chorused the steadfast.

TRIAL OF MARY DUGAN PROVES SATISFACTORY ENTERTAINMENT IN HANDS OF TALENTED CAST

All Characters Give Clear and Realistic Performances

By O. E. H.

It was inevitable that a large group of drama-loving Little Theater enthusiasts should, sooner or later, impress upon the public the appeal of the legitimate stage—an appeal which, signs to the contrary, has never been duplicated in any other medium.

The trial of Mary Dugan at the La Nora theater—and we leave off the "gaps and quotes" deliberately—was satisfying for an evening and for a tiff or two over coffee cups this morning. The house was packed.

If Mrs. Edgar Rice, wife of the murdered "sugar daddy," had not seemed such a blameless mate, the audience of a thousand might have been able to pick the villain more quickly. But Mrs. Rice (Mrs. H. H. Hicks) gave such a authentic performance that there was doubt as to the solution up to the final, dramatic moment. Her grief was poignant, as the role prescribed, and her voice and manner were equal to the demand.

Re-Election vs Mary Dugan

To tall, spare, harsh-voiced Archer-Fullingim, district attorney, fell the responsibility for the ponderous pleadings in behalf of The People. More accurately, as wheezingly suggested by Old Man Spector (Dick Hughes), it should have been styled Re-Election vs. Mary Dugan. The prosecutor, as some prosecutors are known to do, fastened the guilt on the first plausible suspect and held to this belief tenaciously throughout the trial. Fullingim warned to his task and amazed the audience with the reality of his role, for which his courtroom reporting well fitted him.

BANDITS TAKE ABOUT $1,400 AT NARA VISA

ROB NEW MEXICO BANK SECOND TIME IN SIX WEEKS

PAIR KIDNAP CASHIER

TOWN 50 MILES FROM BANK LOOTED YESTERDAY

NARA VISA, N. M., Nov. 3. (AP)—Two men robbed the First National bank of Nara Visa of an undetermined amount of cash at 11:30 a. m. (Central Standard Time) today, taking Jim Burns, cashier, captive. Burns was released without injury seven miles west of town.

It was the second robbery of the bank within less than two months. Burns roughly estimated the amount of the loot at $1,400. Four men participated in the robbery six weeks ago and took about $1,000, overlocking $5,000 in gold.

Mrs. Sophie Roeser, a bookkeeper was in the rear of the bank when the robbers entered. She remained out of view until the bandits had gone.

Burns said one of the men wore a stocking cap pulled down over his face, in which holes had been cut for his eyes. He described the masked robber as short and stocky built. The second man, Burns said, was unmasked, slender, about 35 or 40 years old.

As the bandit car sped out of town, Burns said the robbers fired several shots at a car which followed.

The robbery occurred while officers of the Texas Panhandle and eastern New Mexico were searching for two men who robbed the Vega, Tex., bank of slightly more than $2,000 at 1 p. m., yesterday. Nara Visa is about 50 miles from Vega and immediately across the state line.

Several possees joined the New Mexico officers after the robbery here.

Three men who robbed the bank two years ago, slugged Mrs. Blanche Witts, assistant cashier, and left her locked in the vault, are now serving time in the New Mexico penitentiary.

Poll Taxes Now Due and Payable

Blanks for use in authorizing payment of poll taxes, now due, have been prepared by T. W. Barnes, tax collector of Gray county.

Judge and Mrs. S. D. Stennis have paid the first poll taxes for this year. Mr. Barnes has issued the following instructions: "If you do not live in a city of ten thousand inhabitants or more, you may either appear in person before the tax collector and pay your poll tax, or you may appoint, in writing, an agent to pay the same for you. The written appointment must be signed by the voter and must contain the information necessary to enable the tax collector to make out receipt.

"If you live in a city of ten thousand inhabitants or more, your poll tax cannot be paid by an agent, unless you intend to leave the city and remain away during the entire

BERRIE SHOUTS 'FRAME-UP' AS JUDGE OVERRULES MOTION FOR A NEW TRIAL

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 3. (AP)—While the Rev. S. A. Berrie shouted his murder trial was "a frame-up from beginning to end," Judge W. J. Crump today overruled his motion for a new trial and formally sentenced the 52-year-old preacher to a life term in prison for the poisoning of his first wife.

When Judge Crump overruled the new trial motion and asked the unfrocked Cumberland Presbyterian pastor if he had anything to say, Berrie thundered: "This trial has been a frame-up from beginning to end. If ever an innocent man was railroaded to prison it was me and God in His heaven knows it!" He paused and then proceeded to deny the trial testimony of John Wolsey, former chief of police, concerning purported relations between the preacher and his present bride, 19-year-old Ida Bess Berrie, before the first Mrs. Berrie died last March 21. "Your statement comes with poor grace," replied Judge Crump. "You had a chance to take the stand and deny these charges and so did your wife. You did not do so."

He then passed formal sentence, which was assessed by the jury which convicted Berrie. Just before the judge denied the new trial plea, five jurors had taken the stand and denied statements made by numerous defense witnesses to the effect they had expressed belief, before the trial, that Berrie was guilty.

THE ART OF WRITING

Probably there never was a time when so many people were trying to turn themselves into writers as the present.

Every publishing house and every magazine office is deluged with manuscripts. Colleges and universities, to say nothing of correspondence schools and fly-by-night outfits set up by brokendown hacks, offer a wealth of courses designed to show that you too can become a poet, or a playwright, or a novelist, or what-not. The click-clack of the typewriter is heard everywhere, from kitchens to prisons and from deep-water ships to city flats.

But the net result of it all, unfortunately, is only a very slight addition to the world's supply of worth-while literature. Much is being written these days, but little of it is of much value. The overwhelming majority of completed manuscripts, of course, never get printed at all; but even of those that do make the grade, only a few amount to a pint of beans.

Considering the incredible richness and color of American life as a source for the creative writer, and the extent to which the urge for creative work has spread among people everywhere, this is a trifle odd; and the reason, very possibly, is simply the fact that we have too many people trying to teach others how to write and not enough people trying to teach themselves.

H. L. Mencken remarked not long ago that the one good way to learn how to write is to soak yourself in the works of the great writers. The embryonic writer who immerses himself in Hardy, Conrad, Thackeray, Poe and the others will learn unconsciously how great tales are put together and how great English is written, far better than any classroom can teach him.

And Charles J. Finger points out that "Bunyan the thinker, and Burns the plowman, and Whitman the office man, and Keats the apothecary, and Dickens the factory boy had no schooling to train them. They were. They had something to express and they expressed themselves."

The nation today is striving to bring forth a rich and varied literature. It will succeed better, perhaps, when ambitious young writers realize that the literary art is a thing you can't get out of textbooks.

A lot of people are beginning to believe that the college to which they should send their boys and girls is the electoral college.

Weekly paychecks used to be squandered in the saloons in the "good old days," says a speaker. Well, we still have the saloons.

"Steel Dividend Taken to Show Clearing Skies," says a headline. It's about time those financial weathermen picked a winner.

Germany's high court decided that President von Hindenburg had the right to appoint Chancellor von Papen to the dictatorship of Prussia. Nothing like making sure.

Stagg Says Grid Fever Will Last

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg has had a close-up of American football's big parade for a half century but can't see the end in sight. "America always will have football without a great change from the game as played today," the 70-year-old University of Chicago coach said reflectively in discussing the past and future. "The game is here to stay. "A lot of people enjoy football but don't understand its real purpose. Youth is restless and demands what is commonly known as rough-house. They like to fight or tussle playfully and football gives them a chance to do it.

Depression-Hit Proteges of Vet Miner Find Gold During Summer

DENVER, Nov. 3. (AP)—The melody has changed but the words are the same and the refrain still proclaims, "thar's gold in them thar hills." Thomas A. Weaver, typical veteran prospector, white-haired and with a shaggy grey beard, who has been humming the tune for well nigh 50 years now, has a chorus of determined youngsters who have caught his enthusiasm. They came back after months in the wilds to tell him of their experiences. Acting upon the suggestion of Governor William H. Adams and the state bureau of mines, Weaver last August temporarily deserted his work somewhere in the mountains west of Denver and traded a prospector's life for that of a school teacher. The state senate chamber was his classroom. His subject was prospecting and gold mining and his students were several hundred persons, including 35 women, who were without work and held to the adage that in the final analysis all wealth comes from the soil. Today Weaver was again in the senate chamber receiving students and their reports. They went into the goldfields and spread into five states in the west. Blackhawk, Central City, Idaho Springs, Floyd Hill, Jenny Lind Gulch, Blasted Hopes Gulch, Gold Bug and countless other gold camps saw the activities of Weaver's pupils. One of them worked virgin grounds on one of the streets of Idaho Springs, Colorado, overlooked in the old days when gold was plentiful and easy to recover. The pupils reported almost without exception they had fared well during the months in the mountains. None of them got rich. Some goth nothing. The majority, however, managed to make a living. Weaver is proud of his pupils. He has infinite faith in a mining revival. He looks for the day when the crossed miner's pick and sledge on the great seal of the state of Colorado will again assume significance. He favors bimetallism, as all miners do, and by tomorrow he probably will be on his way back to one of his many claims.

Lubbock Game Tickets Go On Sale Saturday

Sale of reserve seat tickets to the Pampa-Lubbock football game at Harvester park Armistice day will start at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the office of Joe M. Smith in the courthouse. The center section on the west side of the field will be reserved for Pampa fans and the center of the east side will be for the Lubbock fans.

Mr. Smith mailed 600 tickets to Lubbock this morning at the request of M. H. Duncan, superintendent of the Lubbock schools. Mr. Duncan writes that an effort is being made to send a special train to Pampa and believes it will be assured within the next few days.

"Lubbock fans are all set to see the Westerners repeat over the Harvesters, and they will be in Pampa strong," Mr. Duncan writes.

Fans are urged to secure their tickets early. School superintendents from every nearby town have written to Supr. R. B. Fisher that large delegations will attend the game. Fans desiring to get choice seats will have to get them early. Reserve seats will be $1. The rest of the

"If the appointed presiding judge is not able to be present, it is suggested that the officers whose duty it is to deliver the election supplies have them at the polling place at the hour for the opening of the election.

"Some voters seem a little anxious about whether the votes from their precinct will be counted. If this procedure is followed, there is no doubt that the election will be just as regular as if the presiding judge appointed had served.

TRIAL OF--

Lucille Ewing) took a colorless position beside her attorney, Edward West (Paul LeBeuf), silently and stolidly bearing her shame after a life sold to "four men" in order that she might, unknown to a younger brother, buy for that brother a cultured environment, a college education, a future. Came her witness box moment, however, and she emerged to reveal a fully secure characterization, a conciseness of delineation, which earned her a high place in local dramatic circles. A womanly understanding of married men's unhappiness, projected in earnest intonations, explained as far as is explicable the not entirely empty feeling of those of "her kind" for their benefactors.

Brother to Rescue
As the "kept woman" craving the understanding of her brother as much as vindication in her trial before the jury, Mary Dugan was in well balanced contrast to Jimmy (Reed Crites), who returned from a budding law practice in time to oust her counsel, afford a court sensation, raise the courtroom tempo with his boyish over-eagerness. Crites' mannerisms, sincere concern, and volatile wish with controlled personality contributed substantially to most of the best moments of the trial.

This man West, Mary Dugan's attorney, was a smirking, disagreeable person, toward the end, but even His Honor, the august Judge Nash (Julian Barrett) was deceived by the pose, sincerity and subtle strategy as the testimony opened. Lawyer West, summarily ousted, accepted the decision with professional nonchalance, returned later.

Elemental harmony in relationship of characters was attained easily through use of a number of witnesses who appeared briefly and well. For instance, Dr. Welcome (W. C. Williams) was there in sartorial splendor and professional conservatism. Negro James Madison (Elmer Fite) brought to the stand the high-keyed humor of the race. Police Inspector Hunt (Tom Herod) was a "good" witness for the state, until his mind unlocked. Police Captain Price (Russ Allen) contributed the quiet assurance of the expert in fingerprints.

The Women of It
Women witnesses, when they are beautiful, from interesting walks of life, and voluble in testimony, cause jurors and audiences to sit forward. This happened realistically when Dagmar Lorne of the Follies (Miss Maxine Lyon) defended her friend, the defendant, in ways amounting to typical stage femininity. Followed May Harris of the Scandals (Mrs. Raymond Harrah), more quiet, loyal to her craft, conscious of her charms. The Wrigley entry, gum-popping Fernie Arthur of the Follies (Miss Flo Perry), was necessary, adequate, unimpressed by anything, anybody. Then the entry of Marie Ducourt—a French breeze, unmistakably Parisian, manners, voice, and all in the person of Miss Virginia Fullingim.

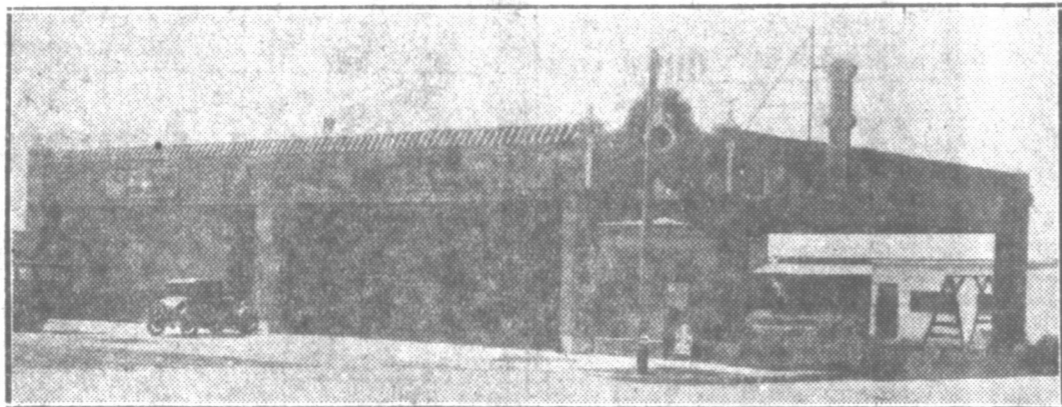

There must be an end, else the verdict will miss the morning editions of Gotham. The talented and lucky brother, aided by detectives, opened the love triangle, bared the hitherto unsuspected fourth side of the love rectangle. Hauled back from incipient flight, Mrs. Rice was stripped of her sorrow. It looked unpromising for the brother-to-rescue triumph, for Mrs. Rice was a clever explainer.

So It Ended
The People's case was disintegrating, however. The French zephyr revealed the erstwhile attorney for Mary Dugan as the paragon of Mrs. Rice. A dummy (W. O. Workman) of the slain man had shown the killer to have been left-handed. The knife, tossed to the ousted lawyer as he took the stand with ash-faced apprehension, was raised his left hand as the boy-counsel rushed forward, branding West (LeBeuf) as the real slayer. But the law is slow to grind out even obvious justice. Mary Dugan was still on trial for the murder of Edgar Rice. The verdict: NOT GUILTY.

Regular court attendants noted things out of routine, but the audience as a whole was held in tense suspense. The psychological reaction of the huge audience was the best compliment to Little Theater's cast, its resourceful and talented director, Miss Arless O'Keefe of the high school faculty.

It was a major effort, hard work crammed into a few weeks, atmosphere provided by many persons. Contributing measurably to the dramatic unity were Miss Josephine Carriker, sentenced at the outset to forecast the horrible possibility for

Fifty-Six Guests See Bluebonnet Club's Display

Fifty-six visitors attended the annual pantry demonstration of the Bluebonnet club in the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Parker, south of Bodyston. A large garden, including a winter garden, is along one side of the house.

Upon entering the living room a table of Christmas gifts made by the club stood close to a window which showed specially canned fruits, vegetables and pickles, canned plum pudding, cakes and other useful presents. Over the table were several charts showing the kinds of food that should be eaten and how to be avoided. Mrs. J. E. Wagoner explained the charts.

Balanced menus came in for considerable attention. One of the balanced dinners recommended included Swiss steak, whole wheat bread, string beans, chow-chow, new types, potatoes, peas and corn, sliced tomatoes, devilled eggs, cabbage slaw, apple jelly, bread and butter, cake, sweet or buttermilk. An emergency dinner was made up of roast beef, string beans, baked pie and coffee with rice, baked pie and coffee.

The cellar room containing Mrs. Parker's demonstration was papered and everything arranged in order. In one corner were fresh radishes, unions, lettuce, horse radish, beets, turnips, pumpkins, red peppers and other varieties of vegetables grown in the home garden.

Mrs. Parker's demonstration included 857 quarts of fruit, vegetables and pickles valued at $243.85. They included fruit, leafy vegetables, starchy vegetables, olives, tomatoes, meats, pickles, jellies, pomatoes, jams, etc. Her dairy, poultry and garden netted $243.85. Mr. and Mrs. Parker ground their own flour, breakfast food and bran and cooking with butter, lard and cheese made at home. The pantry content was valued at $1,000.

The Bluebonnet club canned 5,143 jars of fruits and vegetables valued at $1,668. They included 807 cans of fruit, 2,308 cans of vegetables, 250 cans of juices, 486 jars of pickles and relishes, 611 jars of preserves and jellies and 671 cans of meat. The club also made up 370 pounds of soap, 122 pounds of butter, 354 pounds of cheese, 258 pounds of dried vegetables, and with the dairy, poultry, eggs and clothing, made the total value of the club work $4,797.87.

The club members made 5 quilts, 47 child's garments, 14 slips, 8 sheets, 10 infant's garments, 6 spreads, 1 rug and 37 dresses.

Mrs. George Davis is president of the club and Mrs. J. W. Emery is vice-president. Mrs. W. Frasier is secretary and Mrs. Parker demonstrator. Miss Willie Frasier is reporter.

Among those attending the demonstration were Mrs. Turner Kirby, Mrs. Dean Hill, Mrs. Paul Davis, Mrs. Willis Emery, Mrs. F. C. Knight, Mrs. Gus Davis, Mrs. W. Z. Barron, Mrs. T. O. Local Kiddies Have Their Part in Welfare Work

Individually contributions made by school children to welfare work may seem small, but collectively they mean a great deal.

The workers making garments of Red Cross material had plenty of piece goods, plenty of thread, and plenty of helpers. But there was one thing they lacked—buttons.

So every school child in Pampa was asked by the Junior Red Cross to bring a button. Some brought one, some brought 10, and some brought a handful. The result is that no more worries on the part of the workers as to means of fastening the garments will be in order. One person estimated the number of buttons donated at 2,000.

CHANGES MADE IN SCHEDULES

ORGANIZATIONS GIVEN NEW DATES FOR SEWING.

Several changes have been made in Red Cross sewing dates for the various organizations of Pampa, according to Mrs. W. B. Henry, chairman.

Value of Pantry in Looper Home Set at $525.82

A large number of interested neighbors, friends, and visitors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Looper in the Grandview community yesterday afternoon to see the pantry demonstration prepared by Mrs. Looper.

Mrs. Looper, demonstrator for the Grandview home demonstration club, showed 1,103 cans and jars of fruit, vegetables, pickles and meats canned during the past year, not including food already consumed. The display is valued at $525.82, and Mrs. Looper was out only $24.50, which included the purchase of a number of cans, jars and rings. She had 47 varieties of canned goods on display. The food was in an underground cellar, labelled and carefully arranged.

Included in the display were leafy vegetables and other types, canned pork and beef, rhubarb, tomatoes, peas, beans, cherries, plums, grapes, and many other varieties of fruits and vegetables. Mr. and Mrs. Looper also have 1,200 pounds of meats, not including a calf that will be butchered soon.

In the pantry on one shelf appeared a daily menu of canned goods. Another shelf held a weekend of eatables. On still another shelf was a day's provisions for Mr. Looper and two children in case Mrs. Looper would be away. Each amount of food was balanced so that the right amount of starches, and other ingredients were available.

On tables in the living room were balanced and canned menus. One menu showed chicken, candied sweet potatoes, creamed peas, tart jelly, ice cream and cake, coffee. Another consisted of chili, choice of jelly, peaches with caramel cake and drinks. Still another showed roast beef with gravy, peas and carrots, baked potatoes, muffins, pie.

Another table was laden with Christmas gifts made by members of the club and included canned fruit cake, relishes in fancy jars, fruits, fancy vegetables, pot holders, match holders, etc. In the kitchen a delicious luncheon of various kinds of cakes and cookies with hot cocoa was served.

The Grandview club members have made 5,437 cans of fruits, vegetables and meats valued at $2,319.25 this year. The included 927 cans of leafy vegetables, 519 cans of starch vegetables, 329 cans of other vegetables, 1,061 cans of meat, 937 cans of fruit, 400 jars of tomatoes, 341 jars of pickles, 435 cans of jelly and 323 cans of miscellaneous fruits.

The members raised more than 1,000 hens and sold eggs and chickens. They have made numerous dresses and other articles of clothing. The Grandview Record book took first prize at the Pampa fair, and second prize at the Tri-State fair. Mrs. Roy Ritter, a member, took first prize at Pampa, Amarillo and Dallas in shelled peas.

Club members made up 6,450 pounds of meat valued at $1,290. They also made 23 quilts at a value of $97. The members planted 105 shrubs around their homes in a beautification program. Work was done under the supervision of Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. S. C. Jones is president of the club and Mrs. Guy Andis is secretary. Mrs. Looper is demonstrator and reporter.

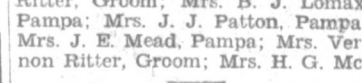

Visitors who registered at the demonstration were: Mrs. G. C. Ritter, Groom; G. C. Ritter, Groom; Mrs. B. J. Lomax, Pampa; Mrs. J. J. Patton, Pampa; Mrs. J. E. Mead, Pampa; Mrs. Vernon Ritter, Groom; Mrs. H. G. Mc-

PRESBYTERIANS WILL GIVE AID TO CAFETERIAS

ONE MONEY DONATION AND FOOD GIFTS PLANNED

Plans to aid Pampa children through the school cafeterias were made by members of the Presbyterian auxiliary yesterday at the church. It was voted to give $10 to the Baker cafeteria and to bring cans of fruit and vegetables to each meeting, these contributions to be given where they are needed at a later time.

Yesterday's meeting was opened with scripture reading, Proverbs 22, by Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, after which the group planned a praise service for Nov. 16. All women of the church will be asked to attend. Nov. 10 was announced as the day the group will sew for the Red Cross.

Three visitors, Mrs. E. J. Sullivan, Mrs. Ralph Faulkner, and Mrs. Wilson, and the following members attended: Mesdames E. F. Dirksen, C. A. Hoover, T. W. Sweatman, George Briggs, V. E. Fatheree, G. A. Smith, Ella Fallon, T. D. Hobart, Dave Pope, H. B. Bradley, J. W. McDonald, Walter Wanner, E. W. Yess, O. E. Sneed, H. T. Larsh, Charles Todd, Frank Smith, Harry E. Lyman, John V. Andrews, P. C. Ledrick, Frank Foster, Dick Walker, George Friant, Artie Shepherd, J. L. Dever, and A. A. Hyde.

M. Marsburn of St. Louis was in the city early this week. Wesley Benton of Tulsa is here on business for a few days.

AMERICAN GIRL BRAVES MANY HARDSHIPS AS PHOTOGRAPHER

MOSCOW (AP)—Leaving her goldfish and alligators behind in her New York studio, Margaret Bourke-White has shouldered her cameras and come again to Soviet Russia in the pursuit of her art.

The slim, vivacious young brunette who worked her way through college by cashing in on her camera hobby, then developed that hobby until she became one of America's leading industrial photographers, is on her third visit to Russia.

"I'm going to do the oil fields this time," she said, "and then if I have time when I come back to Moscow I'll shoot some stuff on what is being done here for children and motherhood—hospitals, clinics, schools and that sort of thing."

Miss Bourke-White's enthusiasm for all forms of life and activity here—an enthusiasm which moved her to write a book about her first trip—has not waned with the repetition of her visits.

Eschewing all things political, she believes that the human drama enacted here, as mirrored in the faces and figures of people and in the machines and smokestacks of factories, is the best possible subject for her camera.

One regret marred the anticipation of the new adventure ahead of her, not the least of which is the hardship of a journey of several days on a Russian train. She had to leave her newly acquired pet goldfish and alligators in New York. There they remain in her studio on the sixty-first floor of one of Manhattan's skyscrapers.

Russia Likes Her Work
When Miss Bourke-White comes to Russia she is treated as a distinguished guest by government

THANKSGIVING DINNER TO BE SERVED FRIDAY

FUNCTION WILL BE FOR FIRST BAPTIST YOUNG FOLK

An "early Thanksgiving dinner" featuring the Mayflower theme will be served for the young people's department of the First Baptist church Friday evening at the church. Between 100 and 150 persons are expected to attend.

The Rev. Douglas Carver of White Deer will be principal speaker. R. E. Gatlin is superintendent of the department.

Contributing toward the success of the function will be a number of teachers from other departments, who will serve and assist in other capacities.

Oh, Them Golden Slippers.
Florence Steadman gave two good impersonations, one being of the boy who was disgruntled at having to take a bath, and the other of a boy at the old swimming hole.

A puppet show was given with remarkable skill by first grade pupils of Mrs. G. W. Stowell's room. R. E. Meadman Jr. told the story and others helping with the show were Donna Dodson, Bennie Sublet, Lloyd Zmotony, Louise Baxter, Ruby Kyle, Henry Snell, and Virginia Murry.

Other numbers, all well-rendered, were a reading by John Edwin McConnell, a musical reading by Frances Workman, an piano solo by Madonna Williams.

HARVESTERS LEAVE TOMORROW FOR OKLAHOMA BATTLE

CAPITOL HILL TEAM OF BEST IN STATE

OKLAHOMA CITY WILL MAKE GAME GREAT OCCASION

The Pampa Harvesters will leave shortly after noon tomorrow for Oklahoma City where they will play the Capitol Hill Indians, one of the strongest teams in Oklahoma, Saturday night under artificial lights.

The boys will be guests of the Pampa Athletic association at the Oklahoma-Missouri football game at Norman Saturday afternoon. Many fans plan to leave here Saturday morning and attend both games. Reserved seats for the college game have been reduced to $1.

Coaches Mitchell and Fox have been running their charges through hard work, and plan to finish the afternoon with a signal drill at talk. Several new plays have been rehearsed, but may not be used until the tilt with Lubbock on Tuesday day afternoon at Harvesters park.

Saturday night will be the opening game in the Capitol Hill stadium. A program which will include representing the Capitol Hill team will be staged before the game. Other interesting numbers will be in the program, according to Coach in Lookabaugh who notified Coach Mitchell of the celebration this morning. The stadium is reported to be one of the best high school stadiums in the state. The game with Pampa is considered one of the biggest this season by Oklahoma fans, as coach stated.

The boys will be admitted to the college game free of charge through the efforts of Delbert Lash, Pampa high school graduate who is a student at Oklahoma university. Coach Mitchell received word from Lash this morning that he had made arrangements to have them admitted.

Fans who plan to leave Saturday morning and who will have room for a couple of players, are urged to get in touch with Coach Mitchell before noon tomorrow. He plans to take two men for each position but would like to take other members of the squad if transportation could be arranged.

The football bus will carry 18 boys and the coaches' cars seven more. The rest of the boys make the trip by train.

The Harvesters were victorious over the Indians 26 to 0 here last year but the Indians have the same team back again and have been undefeated this season. The game should be one of the best this season.

FROM BELLAIRE MINES AND SHOPS IS WHERE THE TOUGH GRIDIRON STARS COME FROM

Champion Sitter Barely Escapes Sitting in Jail

Ohio Town Sends Long-Named Boys to All Sections of the U. S.

BELLAIRE, O., Nov. 3 (AP)—More college football players to the square inch than any other municipality in the country, is the proud boast of this community which has a population of 15,000.

The reason, the townsfolk say, is that Bellaire is an industrial center with sidelines of coal mines and railroads, and "the boys grow physically tough."

Bellaire boys just started to click in a big way in 1928 when Johnny Niemiec at Notre Dame and Mike Miles of Princeton were as "All-America" as anybody wants to be.

The tradition carried on. Last year Bellaire had two of the eleven regulars at Notre Dame—Joe Sheketskii in the backfield and Jim Harris at guard. These two are still at Notre Dame as any opposing scout will tell you. Also Reymon Bonar, a promising sophomore quarterback.

Two Bellaire boys who are putting spunk into the Princeton Tiger this year are John Paul Kadie at quarter and Ellsworth Kalbaugh at center.

At Pitt are two sophomores—Miller Munjas and Stan Olesojniak and on the Panther frosh is Leon Wohlgenuth—also from Bellaire.

And there are one or two on the Notre Dame freshman squad, too. Tony Matusek and John Nardo are at Chattanooga; Babe Miles, and Rabbit Minnehan are at Jefferson college in Texas. Tod Goodwin is a regular end, though just a sophomore, at West Virginia; Joe Salvatera has been doing a great job at right end for Ohio state and Joe Livorni is also a member of the Buckeye squad. There are other boys on Carnegie Tech's squad and several more in other colleges.

Bill was ready for business. He was clad in his sitting costume. It varies somewhat from the con skin of campus cut. In fact, it varies so greatly Miss Arlene Stancliffe, secretary, had recollections of the $7,000 robbery of the athletic office in 1928. Carefully she locked the money drawer. In the absence of Dr. Allen, Bill departed.

Miss Stancliffe was sure she had seen that face before, and communicating her suspicions to the Lawrence constabulary, searched for it in vain in the Rogue's gallery.

It was only after Bill returned to find Dr. Allen in his office and acquaint him with his ambition to sit himself in bigger and better things, that the secretary remembered. She had seen Bill's face on the sport pages with the base ballers and the footballers and not with the pictures of the base ballers.

Bill now is sitting, awaiting the game he will see as the guest of the Kansas athletic department.

Since January 1, Virginia athletic teams have won 71 victories against 36 defeats in football, baseball, basketball and other sports.

Canadian Will Play at LeFors

The LeFors-Canadian football game tomorrow afternoon will be played at Pirate field in LeFors instead of at Canadian, it was announced this morning.

THE DOPE BUCKET GIVES THE PIRATES THE EDGE ON THE GAME BUT THE WILDCATS HAVE A FIGHTING OUTFIT.

The Pirates took a strangle hold on the district race last Friday with a 3-0 win over Miami. Miami has already defeated the Wildcats.

Coach Duncan will start his first team. The game is called for 3:30.

GRINS FROM THE GRID

By O. W. "RED" SEVERENCE (Written For The Associated Press)

Notre Dame football teams for the past several years have been more than outstanding. Naturally the players have been a little cocky over their ability.

Well, might they have been. This cockiness not only was noticeable among the first and second teams, but also was prominent among the third stringers.

In the opening game with Indiana last year the first and second teams had taken it rather easy and had a three touchdown lead. As the game was nearly over Coach Hunk Anderson sent in his third string team.

One of the linemen, a guard, five-foot-seven and not much over one hundred and fifty pounds in weight, looked up at his Hoosier opponent at the beginning of the first play and said:

"Say, it's a good thing for you guys we didn't start this game!"

And believe me, in three plays this third string team had scored a fourth touchdown and kicked the extra point.

MOST REMARKABLE OF FOOTBALL PICTURES

Never before in the history of sports had an All-America football team been assembled, much less given an opportunity to play a game of football. This feat was accomplished at Universal City recently, where the 1931 All America football team was assembled for the moving picture, "The All American." The photograph above shows this team and the All America board of football which selected them from the outstanding players of every college in the United States.

Standing (left to right): Jerry Dairymple (Tulane), Jack Riley (Northwestern), Johnny Baker (U. S. C.), Tom Yarr (Notre Dame), Clarence Munn (Minnesota), Jesse Quince (Pittsburgh), John F. Orsi (Colgate). Seated (in white) Eddie Casey (Harvard coach), W. A. Alexander (Georgia Tech coach), Glenn S. "Pop" Warner (Stanford coach), Jesse C. Harper (Athletic Director of Notre Dame) and Christy Walsh, who comprise the All America Board of Football. Seated (front row): John Cain (Alabama), Galus Shaver (U. S. C.), Marchmont Schwartz, (Notre Dame), Erny Pinkert (1930 All America, playing for Rentner of Northwestern. "All American" opens at the LaNora today.

OTIS WINS TWO FALLS IN ROW FROM BIG SAILOR

The semi-final bout in the weekly wrestling card at the Pla-Mor auditorium stole the show last night when Rob Roy and Tetsura Higami wrestled 30 minutes to a draw without the jackets which the Jap forgot. Sailor Jack Woods was so big and awkward that Sailor Otis Clingman could hardly throw him around in the main event with Clingman won in straight falls with his well-known drop to hold.

Red Michaels again proved his superiority over Howard Belcher of Amarillo in the opening event on the card when he pinned the Amarillo boy in 10 minutes with a body scissor and smother. The going was fast and furious from the first gong with Michael applying most of the holds and Belcher working to break them. At one time the redhead had Belcher in a head scissor, split and an inside toe hold but the ropes saved him.

Sir Dutch Mantell announced that the Japanese had forgotten his jackets and would meet Rob Roy, local boy, in a natural. The wrestling got rough the first minute when the Jap forgot he didn't have the jackets on and slugged Roy in the mid-section, a practice allowed in jiu-jitsu. The Jap would press a button when the Pampa boy got a dangerous hold and Rob would hit the ceiling before coming down for air.

Rob got Higami in a head scissor and arm bar and held him nearly three minutes. He followed with some Sonnenbergs but the Jap took refuge outside the ropes. They exchanged blows to the jaw with Rob winning the decision. Each got a reverse headlock and feet flew for a while. Rob slammed the Jap and he came back with a couple of bad headlocks and a scissor. They were going strong at the time limit.

Wood started the main event like a wild man, slinging Clingman around the ring with headlocks and flying mares mixed in with an arm stretch. However, he soon used his bag of tricks and the Pampa boy waded in with Sonnenbergs, toe holds, splits and hammerlocks. The situation became serious. Wood, situation became serious. Wood, around, and while he was resting in the center of the ring Clingman slipped in with a drop toe hold and Wood patted the mat in 14 minutes and 30 seconds.

Both maulers came back for the second fall limping, Clingman from a knee injury received in El Paso Tuesday night when he defeated Cowboy Hill and Wood from the drop toe hold. Dutch Mantell read a wire received from Russian George Ligisky challenging the winner.

Otis got himself into a headlock and then a double toe hold which looked like the curtain for a while but he came out with a wrist lock and body scissor. Wood took three Sonnenbergs but came up with a headlock. Clingman got a hammerlock and then tried for a surf board but Woods made the ropes in time. Clingman got a neck and drop toe hold but it slid off. He came up with another one, however, and Woods patted the mat in 8 minutes.

Lowell Mason, Duke quarterback, and Gene Wall, Wake Forest field general, have called signals on opposing teams since high school days. They met again this year.

Three former West Pointers—Major Bob Neyland, Col. Paul Parker and Major Bill Britton—form the coaching staff of the University of Tennessee.

Mike Layden, a member of the freshman football squad at Notre Dame, is a brother of the famous Edmer, fullback of a few years ago.

NAVY EXPLAINS WHY OF DEFEAT BY PRINCETON

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 3 (AP)—The secret is out and the Naval academy students explain why Navy could not get better than a scoreless tie with Princeton a couple of weeks ago.

Baltimore has been the jinx for the Middies. The regiment considers the city so ill-omened that whenever the Midshipmen pass through the city on trains bound for other stadia, they pull down the window shades until they are safely out of town.

Some of the cars of the train carrying the regiment to Princeton were dark, their shades down tight, but in a few the Middies were neglectful and went through Baltimore with shades up.

In the future, the Middies say, every one of the shades will go banging down in Baltimore.

PETROLLE AND CANZONERI TO FIGHT FOR TITLE TOMORROW

Anderson Will Not Resign Job Asserts Harper

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 3 (AP)—Jesse Harper, Notre Dame athletic director, today across in defense of Hunk Anderson and spiced rumors that a new football coach would be hired for next year.

"Rumors can fly where they will but Anderson will be back at Notre Dame as head football coach," Harper said with emphasis. "The fact that he lost a game is no reason to fire him. Why we at Notre Dame feel he has done a fine job. He stepped into a tough job and we like the way he has handled things."

"Any reports to the contrary are mere propaganda and should be treated as such."

"Bill boiling because of his team's feeble reaction to the Pittsburgh defeat, 'Hunk' worked the regulars overtime last night, even hauling out the ghost ball and turning on the lights to extend the practice session. When it was all over he was still dissatisfied."

"The boys aren't clicking," he warned his assistants.

Hunk did get a chance to see some clicking, however, before the night was over. He went to Chicago to start the six-day bike races on their international race.

ANDERSON WILL NOT RESIGN JOB ASSERTS HARPER

Both Favorites But Tony Is Doped to Win; Tivket Sales Are Big.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—An unassuming young man who has the idea that the measure of a fighter is how he conducts himself in the ring and who has won considerable popularity by acting accordingly—Billy Petrolle—makes his bid for the lightweight championship of the world tomorrow night. Billy, who is a real veteran of the ring although he is only 27 years old, faces Tony Canzoneri in 15-round title bout at Madison Square garden.

Petrolle isn't much of a showman until he starts flinging punches. Instead of the fancy trimmings he wears a ragged old blanket into the ring. He sits quietly in his corner until time to go to work and then he starts about it in a methodical fashion that sometimes brings tremendous results.

In his travels about the country he acts as his own porter and lugs his manager's bag as well.

But after the gong rings it's been a different Billy since he started his "comeback" campaign two years ago at the expense of tomorrow's opponent, Canzoneri. In two years he has knocked out such redoubtable opponents as Justi Suarez, Eddie Ryan, Billy Townsend and Bat Battalino. He won the hearts of the New York fans with a flashy victory over Jimmy McLavin although he dropped two later decisions to the Vancouver Irishman, he remained a prime favorite.

Canzoneri has been just about as popular since he knocked Al Singer out from under the lightweight crown and the result of their meeting is a box office "natural." It has been a long time since any indoor fight brought as big an advance sale and the estimates are the gate, at $10 top price, will be close to $90,000.

Canzoneri has been installed as a big favorite although Petrolle seems to have overcome the one strong point against him—the possibility that he would have trouble making the weight. He scaled 135 1-2, just a half pound over the limit, when he won his training yesterday. Tony, a natural lightweight, scaled 133.

Capt. Ed Kostainsek of the Virginia Military institute football team, has played at guard, tackle and center and this year is at fullback.

Jack McDowell, coach of football, basketball and baseball at Rollins college, is preparing to coach golf.

FOUR CLASS B TEAMS WILL BOWL TONIGHT

MORE COTTON GINNED

According to the figures of B. L. Webb, special agent for the bureau of the census, there were 2,007 bales of cotton ginned in Gray county from the 1932 crop prior to October 18, as compared with 1,914 bales ginned to the same date in 1931.

TWAS THE JAVA

CHICAGO—There was a huge protest parade of unemployed in Chicago the other day and Daniel Ryan, county commissioner, says he thinks he knows the reason. It's the coffee, he says.

He took a sip of the kind of coffee the jobless have been drinking and said something like this: "My goodness is this coffee? No wonder they held a parade!"

GORILLAS GO TO MIAMI FOR HARD BATTLE

MOORE'S BOYS DUE TO HAVE HARDEST GO OF SEASON

Coach Warren Moore and his Gorillas will invade Miami tomorrow afternoon for one of the most important tilts of the season. The local youngsters have hit their stride and should give the more experienced Warriors a tough battle. Coach Moore has not decided on his starting lineup. Several new boys have been looking strong during the past week.

If the Gorillas can stop big Curly Owens, Miami fullback, they will have overcome more than half the Warrior offensive and defensive strength. Owens is a powerful charger, a dangerous passer and a sure tackle. However, he may find Tenare, Gregory and Evans hard to get near if they get into the open.

The Gorillas have won three, tied one and lost two games this season, all against well known Class B teams. The boys are young and inexperienced but Coach Moore has made a wonderful improvement in them during the past few weeks. They are playing good football and many of them should make valuable Harvesters next season.

Mrs. White Uses Autumn Theme in Party for Group

Yellow chrysanthemums made brightly attractive decorations for the Jim White home when Mrs. White entertained this week for the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club.

The same color was featured in tarleton table covers and game appointments.

A salad course was served with hot tea rolls at the close of the afternoon of bridge.

Special guests were Mesdames Ralph Trimble, Roy Bourland, and Ted White, and the following were the members in attendance: Mesdames Carl Boston, S. T. Beauchamp, Bill Harlan, P. C. Ledrick, Roger McConnell, Floyd McConnell, Skeet Roberts, Sherman White, Felix Stalls, and C. L. Craig.

Awards were presented to Mrs. Bourland and Mrs. Trimble for high and low scores, respectively, among guests, and to Mrs. Boston and Mrs. Beauchamp for high and low, respectively, among club members.

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nameless calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning you will be refreshed, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish, no danger.

Calotabs are sold in 10c and 35c packages at drug stores. (Adv.)

Tips on CONTRACT

SUCCESSFUL PSYCHIC By TOM O'NEIL

A bid of two or three no trump when a hand contains a long minor suit with tops and little else, is regarded, under some conditions by many players as the best of psychic or semi-psychic. It is incorporated as a principle of some bidding systems.

Often it deters a vulnerable side from entering an easy game contract or indeed bidding at all. The penalty to the non-vulnerable side is relatively slight at times and there have been psychics of this kind which have produced game.

At double dummy play probably any such psychic would be penalized heavily, but the adversary are likely to make an original lead favorable to the declarer, and the first lead tells the story.

The bid usually is made third hand when the non-vulnerable dealer has passed. As such, it is a new Cubertsonian wrinkle. Some players regard Mrs. Dorothy Sims as the real inventor. She devised it as a method of searing a vulnerable side which had opened the auction with a game-demand bid. "Barricade psychic" she termed it.

In one variation the no trump is offered after the enemy has bid a suit and when there is one sure stopper of that suit in the no trump bidder's hand. In this case there

Let Us Revere The Memory of Texas' Immortal Heroes

The appeal of William Barrett Travis from the besieged Alamo to "all Americans in the world," dated February 24, 1836, is one of the most heroic documents of human history.

"If this call is neglected, I am determined to sustain myself as long as possible and die like a soldier who never forgets what is due to his own honor and that of his country."

This wrote Travis, and he carried out that determination in a manner so heroic as to command the admiration of all men of all time. One hundred years after Travis died that his country might live—shall not Texans show to the world that they revere the memory of his magnificent sacrifice?

Let us revere the memory of all the immortal heroes of Texas by observing the Centennial in a manner worthy of it.

Such a patriotic event must have the official sanction of the present-day government of Texas.

This sanction must spring from the people themselves. At general election on November 8th, Texans will be given an opportunity to make possible the celebration of a centennial through the passage of the Texas Centennial Constitutional Amendment authorizing it.

for the past two hours. Don't wait dinner. Get a business conference.

"It won't do, Dicky," she spoke firmly. "This is my first night back."

"Too bad, darling. The conference is about those mines. And it's too worse, too; I have to sleep on a train, for I'm due in St. Paul tomorrow."

"For another conference?" "You're becoming quite a cute little guesser."

"I don't believe a word of it, Dicky. For some reason you're afraid of me."

"For heaven's sake!" He yawned so that she heard him. "This is your chance as much as mine. If the deal goes through, we'll be in clover."

"Then I wish you luck, if I don't see you again."

"But you will." His tone became anxious. "I have to fetch my suitcase. If you're a kind little wife, you'll have it packed."

She made her toilet with special care, choosing the high-waisted Venetian gown with the billowy skirt, which he'd loved when he was courting. Between tears and temper she flung his travelling kit into his suitcase. Dinnerless and wounded she sat down to wait for him.

Hours slipped by. Seven. Eight. Nine. There would be no time to deliver her ultimatum. To start a discussion with a husband in a hurry would be useless.

Her reading of his character became clear and yet more clear. From that third night of the honeymoon when he'd called her Lou-Lou she'd been continually stumbling on discoveries. Most of them she'd refused to admit till now. They had come to her in fragments. She pieced them together like a Chinese puzzle. At last she had no doubt that she knew all about him.

His key in the latch. She snatched a book. He entered briskly, humming.

"From the hall he called to her, 'Got my suitcase ready?'"

"In the bedroom." She heard him go in search of it—then his footsteps returning.

"Well, I'm off, darling." "That's good."

"Not hurry, I hope." "You're an optimist."

"Bless my soul, I hadn't noticed. You're all deluded up. Why the magnificence?"

"O, trot along." She turned a page. He approached and stood over her.

"Expecting someone?" There was one name with which she could always annoy him.

"Joking aside," she glanced up. "To whom did you lend my coat? To Lou-Lou?"

"Been snooping! So that's how you've spent the afternoon?" "I'll hand it to you, Dicky, when you place your affections, you're tremendously loyal."

"You're right." He twiddled his mustache—a sure sign that he was confused. "I hate to quit on anybody. The poor kid was down and out. I used to be her pal. Of course when I married you—so in a sense I felt responsible. Surely you don't blame me?"

"Blame you, for playing the good Samaritan?" She opened her eyes charmingly wide.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. (AP)—Wheat and corn smashed low price record right and left today as soon as trading began. All future deliveries of both grains plunged to new bottoms. A drop of 3 points in British exchange rates was a disturbing factor, together with reports of still cheaper offerings of Argentine wheat to Europe.

Opening 1/4-3/4 down. Chicago wheat futures continued to fall. Corn started 1/4-1/2 off and subsequently weakened further.

Wheat closed nervous 1-1/2 under yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 1/4-1/2 lower, oats 1/4-1/2 down and provisions at 5 to 10 cents advance.

GRAIN TABLE

Table with columns: High, Low, Close. Rows: Dec, May, July.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 3. (AP)—Cotton opened steady but rather quiet today. Liverpool cables were slightly better than due notwithstanding easier sterling. First trades here showed gains of one to four points, but the market soon eased slightly on hedging. December which opened at 6.03, dropped to 6.00, while March dropped from 6.16 to 6.14, down 2 to 3 points from the opening.

Near the end of the first hour, the market was quiet and steady at the lows.

The market ruled very dull all morning, with very narrow price fluctuation. Owing to some hedge-selling and weakness in stocks and grain, prices eased slowly. December dropping to 5.98 and January to 5.12, down 4 to 5 points from the early highs and one to three points under yesterday's close.

Near noon, the market was somewhat steadier and had recovered one point from the lows.

Another private estimate this morning guessed the crop at 11,399,000 bales.
