Youth Charged With Murder In Death Of Co-Ed

Paid Off

Oklahoma University Pharmacy Student Last Seen On Texas-Mexico Border.

NORMAN, Okla., July 18. (AP)—A murder charge was filed today in the court of J. D. Grigsby, justice of the peace, against Neal Myers, El Reno youth sought for investigation into the death of Marian Mills, University of Oklahoma beauty queen, in a purported effort to prevent motherhood.

Although preliminary findings of an autopsy into Miss Mills' death have not disclosed the cause of death, Hazel Brown, fraternity house cook at whose home the campus beauty died eight days ago, told investigators that the tragedy followed use of a quick remedy to prevent motherhood.

Young Myers, a junior pharmacy student at the university, vanished after summing a physician to the Brown duplex and was last reported seen in Brownsville, Tex., and Matamoros, Mex., after abandoning his motor car at Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Brown is detained here as a material witness.

County Attorney Paul Updegraff, in drawing up the murder charge against the pharmacy student, specified that the accusation was based on "an attempt to commit abortion by means of unknown instruments and having administered medicine of unknown quality."

A warrant was issued immediately for the arrest of Myers.

The county attorney requested newspapers to print the boy's picture again.

Although they could not determine the exact cause of death, the three physicians who performed the autopsy said they were certain it was not from natural causes.

County Attorney Paul Updegraff, who filed the charge in the court of Justice of the Peace J. D. Grigsby, said he would release Hazel Brown, fraternity house cook, if she could furnish $2,500 bail as a material witness in the case.

"The autopsy report finds from an examination of all vital organs that the girl did not die a natural death and that death was caused by an attempted abortion," said Updegraff, explaining the complete report would not be available until Saturday because of a necessary chemical analysis.

Summoned to explain his activities here on behalf of the Hitler government, George Sylvester Viereck, author and publisher, is shown as testified in New York before a congressional committee investigating "un-American activities."

He admitted that he had been paid $2,000 by Dr. Otto Kiep, former German consul general, "for advisory services" on public relations.

WHEELER WELL COMPLETED FOR 1,028 BARRELS

D'Spain Lease Most Valuable in the Whole Area

By GEORGE I. GUTHRIE
Geologist, mbs-Worley Bldg.

In Wheeler county the Christie and Hickman No. 1 D'Spain in section 52 block 24 and on the north end of the 80 acre lease completed its test yesterday for an average of 1028 barrels daily proving the whole lease as the most valuable in the area so far proven.

The Mid Continent Carville No. 6 in section 51, block 24 Wheeler county went on test today.

In Gray county the British American No. 7 Phillips in section 127 block 3 I&GN completed its test for an average 213 barrels per day. It was bottomed at 3272 and was shot from 3212-72 with 150 quarts.

A schedule of basic prices for oil and gas to be paid contractors for work in some of the Oklahoma and Texas fields has been announced by Administrator Ickes. The prices were arrived at by the Drilling Practices Committee and the Petroleum Administration Board following investigations and public hearings.

These determinations do not constitute price fixing according to Mr. Ickes. He explained that the schedules were established as a minima through collective action between producers and operators.

Per foot drilling costs for fields, recommended by the Oklahoma drilling practices committee for rotary drilling were as follows:

Seminole (above 3,000 feet) $3.34;
Seminole below (3,500 feet) $4.37;
Stroud $3.81; Chandler $4.34; Lucien (Perry area) $4.34; Crescent $5.95; and Oklahoma City $5.15.

The Texas Drilling Practices Committee recommended a per foot charge of $1.51 for rotary drilling in the East Texas field for a 90 day test period from May 23. A similar 90 day period for the Government wells field at $1.48 per foot and the Greta field at $2.73 by the Texas committee.

Figures for the Panhandle were not disclosed as yet although there was a hearing held here a few weeks ago.

Tom Cabot and Ned Billings of Boston, Mass., are Pampa visitors for a few days. They are connected with the Cabot company.

BISMARCK, N. D., July 18. (AP)—Attorneys for William Langer, ousted governor, today filed petitions with the state supreme court to withhold judgment and seeking a rehearing in the proceedings in which the court ruled Langer was disqualified to hold office.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—The general strike should be called off immediately, President Roosevelt's labor disputes board declared today, in calling for arbitration at once on the controversy. The board in a public statement announced the departure of the employers' union has agreed to submit to arbitration of the issues in the longshoremen's strike and to be bound by its decision.

TEXAS: Generally fair to partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, except unsettled near the coast. Moderate south and southwest winds on the coast.

MEDIATORS IN 'FRISCO URGE PEACE PLANS

FOOD BLOCKADE IN BAY REGION BROKEN BY TROOP ACTION

SEATTLE, July 18. (AP)—Strikers and sympathizers said by police to number 1200 stormed pier 41 here today but were repulsed by guards equipped with tear gas bombs. Nine ships at the pier were being unloaded by non-union men behind the police lines.

The rioters scattered under clouds of the gas, but quickly gathered for a new assault on pier 40 nearby. The men were reported by authorities to have gathered during the night to demonstrate against use of more than 450 non-union workers on the piers.

The piers, at Smith Cove, have been the bone of contention here for weeks, as it was there where the efforts to load ships with non-union longshoremen were concentrated.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—Two vital conferences were held here today in efforts to reach an immediate settlement of the general strike.

Mediators, encouraged by the strikers' offer of arbitration, sought ways and means of bringing unions, representatives and employers together for a quick termination of the walkout involving 100,000 men in the bay region.

The shipowners were to consider the proposal of the general strike committee for mediation of the maritime strike involving 27,000 workers along the Pacific coast.

The shipowners previously had agreed to arbitrate with the International Longshoremen's association but had refused arbitration with the nine other striking maritime unions.

Mayor Angelo Rossi and the other mediators also gathered.

"Discussion of labor's resolution yesterday proposing arbitration gave us something to work on," said Mayor Rossi.

"We know what the unions are willing to do and are waiting to see how the shipowners feel about it."

A demand that the general strike be called off immediately was made by Seattle employers, who stated openly the proposal made by the unions at San Francisco "will not

Allred Says Things To Vast Audience To Burn Ears Of 'Ma' Ferguson

Clint Small Hits at Old-Age Pension; Says Tax Rate Would Be Doubled.

BY R. W. BARRY.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

James V. Allred, Texas attorney general for four years, appealed to a vast Central Texas audience at Austin last night to elevate him to the governorship.

The young candidate spoke within hearing distance of the governor's mansion, and some things he had to say might have burned the ears of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson.

"I could have a mansion, probably too out in that restricted (Entfield) residential district," Allred said. "But, as you residents of the capital know, I have lived in a little modest home in a section where dwellers are humble persons. There are tricycles, kiddie cars, and other baby things out on the sidewalk. The dust flies in there every time the ice wagon passes where I live with my wife and two babies, but one who offers his money for favors dares not show his face there."

Allred said some of his opponents had talked about "the Allreds at the public trough."

"I want to tell you about the four little Allred pigs at the 'public trough,' as they called it," he said. "Of course my brothers are for me. I expected that when I announced. Two of them are public court stenographers. They are licensed lawyers as well. I am proud, however, that they did not see fit to practice the law, since their brother was attorney general. They are court stenographers. They had to take an examination and write 15 words a minute in short hand. The other brother got to be a district judge through his own efforts and on his own merits."

Hughes Praises FDR.

At Port Arthur, Maury Hughes impressed on his audience the need of the states upholding President Roosevelt in his recovery plan.

"The states must join in the battle," he said. "We must not dump all our problems into the lap of the president and look for miracles. The president needs the help of governors and legislators. I always have upheld the president and if you may see governor I certainly will try to be of some comfort to him."

Tom Hunter told a Houston audience that with the help of the legis-

Bank In Albany Robbed Of Over $6,000 By Two

GAS WELL IS STILL BURNING CLOSE TO CITY

ATTEMPT TO SHUT IN TORCH TO BE MADE TONIGHT

An attempt to shut in the burning gas well north of Kingsmill to be made late this afternoon or early tonight, owners said at noon.

Two asbestos suits have been secured and men will try to make their way into the well in an attempt to close the valve and shut off the 36,000,000 feet of gas which has been burning since early yesterday morning.

The gasser is owned by the Southwest Production company and is located a half mile west and a mile north of Kingsmill on the Cobb land. The big gas was encountered at 2500 feet Monday night, which was high for that area. The flow increased Monday night and yesterday morning was estimated to be making more than 30,000,000 cubic feet.

The roar of the fire became louder yesterday, causing the belief that the gas flow was increasing. It was impossible to get closer than 100 yards to the blazing well. The country for miles around the well was lighted last night. Hundreds of cars lined the roads last night as curious spectators drove to the well site. It was not until after midnight that the stream of cars dwindled.

S. L. Rockwell, burned when the gas ignited, was able to get to the morning. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Officers learned that the license plates on the robbers' car were the same number as a set stolen from a Buick at Cisco last night.

Bank employees said the robbers were well-dressed in suits and went about their work very deliberately, not being visibly excited. In all the robbery didn't take more than five minutes.

HEARING HELD FOR WHEELER COUNTY POOL

Osborne Says Distance of 15 Miles from Pipe Line Is Not Profitable.

AUSTIN, July 18. (AP)—Evidence to justify the designation of an oil pool in Wheeler county as a separate proration unit from the Panhandle field was offered the Texas Railroad commission today.

R. R. Osborne, applicant for the change, said the small allowable for four wells in the pool and its distance of 15 miles from a pipe line made marketing of the daily allowable production of 30 barrels unprofitable.

An allowable production of 1,500 barrels daily for the area was sought. With that amount it was asserted a pipe line connection could be obtained or constructed to provide an outlet for the crude. If market outlet is obtained, Osborne said, the pool would be developed further.

ALBANY, July 18. (AP)—A pair of cool, young desperadoes, armed with a machine gun and other firearms, walked in the front door of the First National Bank here at noon today and robbed the establishment of more than $6,000, then escaped to the west in what was believed to have been a stolen automobile (Ford V-8).

Joe E. Parks, cashier, and two assistants, T. E. Dodge and Charles M. Castle, were in the bank when the neatly-dressed robbers entered. One robber, carrying the machine gun and also a pistol, ordered the bank employees to lie on the floor of the cage. They complied. The other robber obtained about $3,000 from the counter and between $3,000 and $4,000 from the open vault.

About this time three customers came in and the robber who was doing the guarding marched them in the cage while the money was being sacked. The customers were Mrs. Edith Hunter, formerly of Dallas, Glen Anderson, a boy and C. R. Smith, Wichita Falls typewriter salesman.

The robbers tried to lock the bank employees and the customers in the vault before leaving but failed to get the vault door shut. They spent a minute or two of the robbery took in this effort but finally gave it up when one of them said:

"Come on, let's get out of here."

Outside the bank they had a Ford V-8 with yellow wheels and they sped away in the west. Five miles from town and again 18 miles out. The robbers could have headed either toward Abilene or Stamford.

Bank employees turned in a fire alarm as soon as the robbers left and the Albany fire department was alerted. Signals crossed, made a run to the eastern part of town.

Sheriff W. E. Goodman organized a posse and took out after the robbers. Officers in all counties in this area were notified to head the robbers off.

Officers learned that the license plates on the robbers' car were the same number as a set stolen from a Buick at Cisco last night.

Bank employees said the robbers were well-dressed in suits and went about their work very deliberately, not being visibly excited. In all the robbery didn't take more than five minutes.

Mother of W. H. Davis Succumbs

W. H. Davis Was to Leave at Noon Today for Roane, Navarro county, where his mother, Mrs. John Davis, died last night. He was to go to Dallas by plane.

Mrs. Davis had been in ill health for some time. Her condition showed marked improvement a few weeks ago when Mr. Davis visited at his former home.

CAR IS STOLEN

A car belonging to the American Steel Derrick company was stolen from in front of Cooper's Cafe on West Foster avenue last night about 9 o'clock. The car was removed while the driver was eating a late dinner.

The car had the company name on both front doors. A description was sent out by the sheriff's department but no word of the missing car had been received at noon today.

Mrs. Sylvester Bednorz of the White Deer community shopped here today.

BOTH LANGER AND OLSEN IN OFFICE FIGHT

EACH MAN CLAIMS HE IS GOVERNOR OF STATE

BISMARCK, N. D., July 18. (AP) Two men acting as governor of North Dakota clashed in exercise of executive authority today as Lieut. Governor Ole H. Olson, acting governor by court order, called on the adjutant general's office to withdraw national guardsmen and end state-wide martial law ordered by William Langer, recently convicted of a felony and ordered ousted by the state supreme court.

Olson also issued a proclamation revoking Langer's call for a special session of the legislature, scheduled to convene tomorrow noon.

For the time being, it was uncertain whose orders would be followed.

National guardsmen, armed with bayonets, were scattered throughout the statehouse, still acting under Langer's martial law order issued last night. Although Langer declared martial law to cover the entire state, Bismack was the only city where guardsmen were used.

Whose orders members of the legislature would follow remained problematical. Langer in a telegram last night informed them to convene Thursday. Olson today wired the legislators he had filed a proclamation with the secretary of state revoking Langer's special call.

The declaration came last night suddenly after the state's highest court ruled that he was disqualified to hold office because of his recent conviction in federal court with four others on a charge of soliciting funds from federal relief workers.

Declaring he would oppose "by force if necessary" any attempt to remove him as the actual governor of North Dakota, Langer remained closeted with his political adherents through the night, issuing a statement meanwhile that the declaration of martial law was designed to "prevent bloodshed and rioting." His action followed closely on the heels of noisy demonstrations by Langer adherents.

National guardsmen numbering about a score took up their posts after the demonstrations.

Possibility of a conflict between state and federal authorities was seen as a high judicial official said that federal troops may be asked for in view of Langer's defiance of the supreme court order.

Langer technically still was governor. The court's order late yesterday declaring Lieut. Gov. Ole H. Olson vested with the powers of governor can not become effective until issuance of a writ of quo warranto.

Langer sent telegrams to all members of the state legislature, instructing them to "pay no attention to any message the legislature will not convene."

He has called a special meeting of the assemblies to convene tomorrow noon to consider his conviction, for which he is under 18 months sentence in a federal penitentiary. Langer forces control both branches of the legislature.

It was pointed out that with Langer forces in control of both assemblies, they were hopeful that the legislature would take some action that may supersede the court's order. How this would be done was not ascertainable but it was definitely learned that such action has been considered by Langer supporters.

Langer was overwhelmingly re-nominated for governor on the republican ticket June 27.

National guardsmen, armed with bayonets, were scattered throughout the statehouse, still acting under Langer's martial law order issued last night. Although Langer declared martial law to cover the entire state, Bismack was the only city where guardsmen were used.

Twinkles
We Americans plow up wheat and cotton then pray for rain. That's because the agriculture department is more equitable than the weather man.

Man is not consistently equitable, however. We are blowing away a king's ransom in natural gas every day and still hoping for factories. And we can't make laws that will solve the many angles of the problem.

It's our guess that not many persons able to do much striking.

The cost of the kind of government this complex civilization necessitates will increase, not decrease. The best we can hope for is to be able to pay the taxes.

WOODMEN OF WORLD FILE BORGER SUIT
Demands School District Be Prevented from Reducing Property Valuations.

AMARILLO, July 18. (AP)—A writ of mandamus to prevent the trustees of the Borger independent school district from further reducing property valuations is sought in a suit filed in United States district court here today by the Woodmen of the World.

Federal Judge James C. Wilson has set the case for hearing in Fort Worth July 23.

The lodge organization claims that bonds voted by the district are endangered by the lowering of valuations. About $25,000 worth of bonds are held by the organization, but the suit seeks to collect only $3,900 worth of unpaid coupons plus interest, and to prevent further reductions.

Actual valuations are set at $10,000,000 by the bondholders. Tax valuations for 1933 were $5,285,765, against $1,122,636 in 1930. The valuations were reduced less than seven million in 1931, and have been lowered each year, the petition stated.

Three Traffic Lights Arrive
The three street lights purchased by the city arrived yesterday afternoon and will be erected soon. City Manager C. L. Stine and electricians who will install the lights were to visit the locations this afternoon and decide on the amount of cable needed and the number of poles to be set.

A control box will be placed in the police station in the basement of the city hall. It will have small lights which will flash every time the light changes. Should one of the stop light get out of order, the light on the control box will record the trouble and it can be repaired immediately.

The lights will be placed at the intersections of Cuyler street and Francis, Kingsmill and Foster avenues. Another light, the one formerly located at Cuyler and Foster, will be placed at the intersection of Brown street, or highway 33, and South Cuyler street.

That the B. & B. Lubricating company lost some gasoline the other day. It seems that an old gentleman strolled into the station and asked for a drink. The only water on hand at the time was the hose so Frank Winsett told him that the water was in the hose "over there," but to let it run a little. The next time Frank looked up from repairing a tire, the man had poured about four gallons of gasoline on the ground. Before Frank could say anything, the man declared, "This darn stuff smells like gas."

American athletes including golfers, tennis players and rodeo rough riders today shook the dust of England from their shoes and high boots and headed for home.

A none of the departing was in a happy frame of mind, least of all Tex Austin who was muttering threats of senatorial action over the way his rodeo was harassed by English reformers.

Representing tennis was Wilmer Allison, disgruntled over his failure to be named on the Davis cup team after making a hurried trip over to play while Gene Sarazen, his dreams of financial conquest vanish in the British open, is the golfer.

After having controlled himself admirably through a month of wrangling with British humane societies, Austin finally hauled off and said what he had been thinking.

"The press hasn't given us a square deal," he said. "All those who came to our show liked it but the reporters gave us a bad deal. All right. When the British send over their next Olympic games athletes we won't forget. My rodeo men are drawn from forty-six states and each has a senator or two."

Sarazen decided to hurry home and defend his Professional Golfers association crown after a series of exhibitions with Joe Kirkwood had failed to attract many paying customers.

Allison, who answered an emergency call from the cup committee, still was warm about the collar as he departed.

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—President Roosevelt in a message to Secretary Perkins today expressed confidence that "common sense and good order" would enable a "reasonable solution" of the San Francisco strike.

The secretary of labor read the communication from the president to a group of newspaper men assembled for a press conference.

The text of the president's message, his first public statement on the general walk-out in San Francisco follows:

MINNEAPOLIS, July 18. (AP)—Arrival today of Rev. Francis J. Haas, federal conciliator, who sped from Washington by plane and train today opened the way for fresh efforts to settle the strike of 7,000 union truck drivers, which aimed toward the complete tie-up of truck transportation.

Mr. Haas, who directed the settlement of the recent Milwaukee Electric strike, went immediately to confer with E. H. Dunning, also a government conciliator. The two will work together.

Truck traffic still was at a virtual standstill, but the situation was quiet.

SAN ANTONIO, July 18. (AP)—The San Antonio regional labor board is without power to do anything in the strike of San Antonio peacan shellers for higher wages, Roger M. Busfield, executive secretary of the board, said today.

"The San Antonio regional labor board looks upon the controversy not as a strike, but as a refusal of workers to contract their services for an amount they consider insufficient," Busfield said.

Magdalena Rodriguez, leader of the strikers, maintained 8,000 workers were affected.

ROOSEVELT URGES 'COMMON SENSE'

"You may say that I have expressed to you and to the public my confidence that common sense and good order will prevail on all sides of this controversy and that I have full confidence in the board (the federal longshoremen's board now in San Francisco) and its agencies to arrive at a reasonable solution."

UNCLE SAM BECOMES A LEADING BANKER

People who like to sit about and discuss whether the government ought to take over banking, might stop a moment and consider to what extent it has already done so.

Since the banking crisis of March, 1933, great changes have swept across the whole banking world, changes so sweeping that few realize them. The American Bankers' Association recently summed up some of them, and the picture it draws is enlightening.

For instance, we used to have 30,800 banks, back in 1921. Now we have something more than 14,000, a decrease of about 16,000 (over half).

About 4000 banks have vanished since March, 1933. Several thousand banks owe the R. F. C. more than a half billion dollars on pledge of valuable parts of their assets.

The R. F. C. has taken more than a billion dollars worth of stock in 6400 banks by way of increasing capitalization, including many of the strongest banks in the country. Thus it has an interest in 44 per cent of all banks today.

A million people and institutions have borrowed from the $,800 loaning associations and corporations started by the government to extend various types of credit.

The R. F. C. also has direct loans to various corporations totaling around $700,000,000.

In the deposit field, the postal savings system has grown amazingly. More than 2,300,000 people now have savings on deposit in the 8000 postoffices authorized to receive them. A thousand such offices have had to be added during the last four years.

Private agencies have virtually abdicated from the credit field, the survey indicates. From 1922-1931 securities floated in private capital markets averaged more than five billions a year. During 1932-1933 these issues shrank to $621,000,000 a year, a decrease of almost 90 per cent. Somebody had to do the financing. So the treasury did it.

Add in the fact of federal deposit insurance, giving another government agency a direct interest in banking. Divorce of the security business from commercial banking puts a new complexion on the whole field, and the influence of the Federal Reserve System is admittedly rising.

So when you hear a discussion of whether the government ought to go into banking, it's well to realize right at the outset that the government is already in banking—right up to the hips.

Claim Utility In Texas Paid Unearned Sums

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—The federal trade commission was told today that the Insull-owned Central Power and Light company, operating extensively in South Texas, paid unearned dividends totaling about $3,300,000 in the years 1927-30 inclusive. Examiner Carl H. Dupue offered a report purporting to show the company inflated its fixed capital at the end of 1930 by about $4,700,000 and its invested capital by about $8,000,000. He also asserted that during a drive for acquisition of municipal plants in the period 1926-31 it "paid a bonus of approximately $1,000,000" in acquiring Harlingen, Tex., properties "in order to keep others from gaining a foothold within its territory and at the same time gain a very important addition."

Edward Russell said at Hillsboro that administration of unemployment relief in Texas has been a failure. He said the manner in which "our relief funds are being handled and administered is a shame and a disgrace."

Russell also continued his advocacy of retention of existing prohibition laws in Texas. He reiterated his opposition to submission of repeal of constitutional prohibition.

C. C. McDonald spoke at Vernon, again advocating a pension of the aged and unemployment insurance. He said he would endeavor, as near as possible, to carry out the policies of the Ferguson administration because he felt it had been wise and economical.

United States Senator Tom Connally, asking re-election, expressed confidence, at Nacogdoches, that the federal government would participate liberally in the Texas Centennial celebration in 1936.

Reminding his hearers that he stayed "on the job in Washington" until final adjournment of congress he said on the last day he had been able "to render some service to my state." On that day, he said, he obtained from the relief administration an allotment of $500,000 to pay teachers in the rural schools of Texas.

Congressman-at-Large Joseph W. Bailey, speaking at Abilene, challenged the record of his opponent, Senator Connally, and said the junior senator, until this spring, never had urged the appointment of any Texas woman to any major federal office.

"We have women in Texas capable of administering government and I would see that they get just recognition the same as women from the states have obtained," he said.

Edgar Witt assured a Dallas audience that he could rescue the state from "a deplorable condition" under which it is costing Texas "a million dollars every three days for certain of its public servants to play politics instead of tending to business."

Witt said that reliable and conservative men had told him of "fair and businesslike" conduct of oil affairs would boost the price structure half again as much as the present dollar basis.

He said that "as government I can and will stop the running of hot oil if it takes a state ranger on every gate valve."

KIDNAPING THEORY IN BOBBY CONNOR CASE HAS COLLAPSED

OFFICERS ARE CONVINCED BOY WALKED AWAY

TODDLED ALONE INTO WOODS WHERE HE SPENT 5 DAYS

HARTSDALE, N. Y., July 18 (AP)—The kidnaping theory in the Bobby Connor case collapsed today.

While the little curly-haired son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Connor lay seriously ill in a hospital, to which he was taken after being found yesterday in a bramble thicket near his home, federal agents and police announced their investigations were ended.

They were convinced, they said, that the 21-months-old Bobby, who disappeared last Thursday, wasn't kidnaped at all. All evidence showed, they declared, that he had toddled alone into the woods and had spent the five days there.

Suffering from starvation and exposure, the child is a "very sick baby" but has a "fair" chance to recover, said Dr. Claude W. Munger, attending him at the Grasslands hospital.

Frank Fay, agent of the department of justice, announced the end of the federal investigation in a statement in which he said it had been established that Bobby simply wandered from home.

Fay said investigators had traced the child's movements to the thicket where he was found by Policemen Roseale Dunckel and Jerome Hogan. Bobby walked a block with 3-year-old Ruth Schwarzman, neighbor girl, and then wandered alone along a wagon path into the woods. Fay said the investigation had determined.

The federal agent's statement quoted the opinions of Dr. Munger and staff physicians of Grasslands hospital that the child could have survived the five days—without water or food—in the woods.

Dr. Munger said Bobby's condition "clearly indicated" that he had been lost in the thicket the entire time. Cuts and scratches from bramble bushes covered the shrunken little body. His stomach was swollen from lack of nourishment.

At the hospital it was determined that Bobby had eaten quantities of grass.

Dr. Munger said Sunday night's showers probably saved the baby from dying of thirst. Enough rain water would have entered the pores of the skin to prevent complete dehydration, he said.

Bobby gained a pound and 13 ounces last night after being given a quart of glucose and water.

At four-hour intervals he was given a spoonful of whisky and water.

Policeman Dunckel explained that he and Hogan found the child by looking "where nobody else had looked."

SPECTROSCOPE CAN FORETELL DEATH OF MAN

Also Records Birth And Death of Stars

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 18. (AP)—The spectroscopic death curve, which records the birth and the decay of stars, can also foretell the approaching death of man.

A spectroscopic death curve, which forecast a human death more accurately than the physicians, was described today to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology spectroscopic conference, which is meeting here this week to discuss both practical and scientific uses of this instrument.

The report was made by P. and M. Lecomte de Nouy, of the Pasteur Institute, France. M. de Nouy did not attend, but mailed his paper to Professor George H. Harrison, chairman of the conference.

The death curve was found in a spectroscopic examination of human blood. Spectroscopic curves are like city skylines which reveal wide architectural differences, which never would be mistaken for each other, and which an expert would never forget.

In this way, the Pasteur Institute scientists and his colleagues have been studying the structural nature of blood. They have analyzed, he reported, about 8,000 samples. These included the blood of men, horses and sheep.

Only the serum or else the plasma, both colorless substances, were used. Although this portion of the blood appears colorless to the eye, it was "colorful" in the invisible ultra-violet light. This unseen color shows its presence by absorbing some of the light which is passed through the plasma or serum into a spectroscope.

The absorption shows as lines on the spectrograph and these lines are used to plot a curve of the blood.

"The curves," M. de Nouy's report states, "show remarkable constancy, whether man, horse or sheep serum is used."

"Alterations in the curves must correspond to very deep chemical modifications affecting the chromophoric (color) elements which belong to very stable chemical groups."

"We predicted a man's death, which followed in 24 hours. He was partly paralyzed, owing to a malignant tumor of the spine, with metastases in the lower jaw, and primary infection. He was expected to live, however, for many months."

Kohler Boomed as He Enters Model Village at Plant

KOHLER, Wis., July 18. (AP)—Mediation of the strike at the Kohler plant, held in a state of siege through last night by the 1,000 pickets, padding about the huge plumbing factory in the heart of this "model industrial village," began today.

First efforts toward settling the strike of members of the American Federation of labor union were started under the direction of the Rev. J. W. Maguire, Kankakee, Ill., a member of the Chicago regional labor board.

Walter J. Kohler, president of the company, was the only person to enter or leave the plant yesterday. Although boos greeted his arrival, pickets peacefully lifted up ropes to let him enter.

Kohler, who believed his dream of an industrial "paradise" would come true with the founding in 1913 of a village where employees would be housed comfortably in an independent community, was reported by associates to be gravely worried by the dispute.

A company spokesman said he doubted if five per cent of the 1,700 villagers favor the strike.

Arthur Kuhn, president of the union, which demands shorter hours, more pay and recognition as a bargaining agent, lives in a home adorned with landscaping just like other dwellings in the community. Kohler also lives in the village.

ONE OF THE FAMILY NEWBERRY, S. C. (AP)—Tom Ellison missed a mule colt on his farm and started a search.

The last place he looked was in the house—and there was the mule asleep in Ellison's bed.

Said Ellison: "He'd eat at the table with us if we'd let him."

DALLAS TAKES SHABBY GAME FROM HOUSTON

NEITHER TEAM SHOWS ANY 'GET-UP' NOR HUSTLING

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

A few hundred baseball fans saw one of the things wrong with the game at Dallas last night.

They saw the Steers and Houston go through the routine of nine innings without hustling or making a half-hearted attempt to win.

Dallas won, 3 to 2, in a game filled with shabby errors. If they could be overlooked the rank base running by both aggregations could not.

In the eighth, when Dallas scored twice to gain a one-run lead, Kalbitz, Houston first sacker, was charged with only two errors but he should have easily handled a batted ground ball that he allowed to bounce through his mitt for the winning run.

In the ninth, Buller, first up for Houston, singled, and instead of trying to sacrifice him to a scoring position at second, Guttridge and Foster were allowed to hit easy pop-ups for outs.

Then instead of trying to pitch to a 2 to 1 victory over Beaumont in 10 innings, Tom Holley, former Beaumont infielder, cracked a single through the box to center with the bases loaded to break the 1-1 deadlock.

The league-leading San Antonio Missions slipped a few percentage points when they lost 10 to 8 to Oklahoma City. The Indians closed 15 hits off Pitchers Shoaf and Evans.

The Galveston Buccaneers moved into second place with a 5 to 4 decision over Tulsa. Tulsa out-hit the Bucs, 10 to 8, but the Oilers were erratic in the field, making four errors.

Helen Jacobs Plans to Hold National Title

NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—While Helen Jacobs suffered one of the greatest disappointments of her career when she failed to win the All-England championship at Wimbledon, the British court champion today, brimful of hope and confident she will retain her National title next month.

Miss Jacobs, who lost to Dorothy Round in the Wimbledon finals, returned to the United States last evening on the liner Olympic and planned almost immediately to whip herself into condition for her title defense at Forest Hills Aug. 13-18.

Helen revealed she had wrenched her right ankle in the finals of the French hard court championships against Margaret (Peggy) Scriven of England and played in the Wimbledon cup and Wimbledon matches under the handicap of that injury. Toward the close of the British championships she developed a heavy cold.

With a National title already to her credit and confident of retaining it this summer although she fears Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass., and Betty Nuthall of England, Miss Jacobs said her ambition now is to win the Wimbledon crown.

Tires Purchased Now Also Will Serve in Winter

In the hot days of summer few, if any, car owners give winter driving any thought, but there is an interesting summer factor that has winter application, in the opinion of Jack Baker, local Goodyear dealer.

"It is a fact that new tires applied to cars now serve the double purpose of trouble-free summer driving on hot roads that sap the life of worn casings, and which at the same time also insure plenty of good non-skid treads for winter use when slick streets and highways demand extra safety and traction."

OUTDOOR WRESTLING TO BE INTRODUCED MONDAY NIGHT

Matches Will Be Held at Roadrunner Park; Fenton and Hill on Main Event.

Wrestling next Monday night will be under the stars at Roadrunner park promoters announced yesterday afternoon. Outdoor matches will be featured the rest of the summer.

An all-star card will be presented to open the outdoor season. Don Hill, one of the greatest, if not the greatest middleweight in the country, will wrestle Rod Fenton, wild Canadian in the main event. Danny McShain, Irish cyclone, will tangle with Rob Rby in the semi-final.

Rob Roy challenged the winner of last week's battle but Don Hill had already been signed to wrestle the main event, so the Goodnight Scotchman was given the Irishman in the semi-final and the wild Canadian was matched with Hill. The promoters would have liked to stack McShain against Hill but those two worthies have not been enemies long enough to guarantee a titanic struggle.

Hill will naturally be the favorite on the entire card. He is a gentleman wrestler who enjoys wrestling according to rules and regulations. He will probably have to "go native" with the Canadian, however, and fans will not blame him. It is absolutely impossible to win a match from the Canadian without getting rough.

The Goodnight product, after defeating Pat Garrison in the semi-final last week, declared that he was thirty first. "This little fellow is going to look after himself first and last from now on, henceforth, and forever more," the Scotchman declared. "McShain is going to look like any other Irishman to me. I showed the world that the Irish can't take it when I handed Garrison that licking."

The card will open with ever after his defeat of Fenton last week, would not consider a semi-final until Roy insulted his nationality. Then he decided to take the match just to show Roy that there is an Irishman that can't be beaten by any Scotchman.

The preliminary will create about as much interest as any of the other matches. Andy Gump, local clown, will tangle with his old enemy, Barber Kelly. The two will be allowed 30 minutes to settle their differences but neither thinks they will need more than 10 minutes. It will be the first meeting of the pair in two years. It promises to be a tough battle.

The card will open promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Reserve seats can be secured at Pampa Drug No. 1.

GRID COACH SIGNED JONESBORO, Ark., July 18 (AP)—President V. C. Kays announced today that Tommy Mills, former assistant coach at Notre Dame and coach at Georgetown, has signed a contract as athletic director for Arkansas State college for next year. Mills will start his new duties about Sept. 1.

VERDICT UPHELD LONDON, July 18 (AP)—The court of appeals today dismissed the appeal of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Ltd. from the verdict of a lower court which awarded damages of $125,000 to Princess Irene Youssoupeff, which charged she had been libeled by the portrayal of a character in the motion picture "Rasputin and the Empress."

The first presidential veto in American history was Washington's veto of the first congressional apportionment bill, April 6, 1792.

GIANTS STILL LEADING CUBS BY TWO TILTS

PARMELEE HOLDS LON WARNEKE EVEN IN MOUND DUEL

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.

The New York Giants moved into the final game of their duel with Chicago's second-place Cubs today with the same two-game lead they had at the start and with even better reason to believe they will stay on top.

The extra reason came from Leroy Parmelee, the sturdy young pitcher whose feats of hurling and hitting gave the Giants an even break in yesterday's doubleheader. Parmelee, who hadn't won a game since April 19 and had been inactive for two months because of an appendicitis operation, held Lonnie Warneke even in the mound duel but broke up a tie game by socking a home run with the bases full. The crowd gave New York a 5 to 3 decision in the first game. The second game was different as young Bill Lee out-pitched Carl Hubbell 2 to 1. Hubbell gave only five hits in the seven innings.

The third-place Cardinals lost a good chance to overhaul the leaders when they dropped a 7 to 6 decision to Brooklyn on Len Koenecke's homer in the seventh. The blow came after circuit drives by Jim Collins and Joe Medwick had helped overcome an early Dodger lead. The Phillies completed the National league program by trouncing Cincinnati 7 to 0 for their fifth straight victory.

In the American league, the Tigers and Yankees returned to the point at which their "crucial" series ended two days ago when the league leaders beat out the Senators 4 to 3 and the Yanks took a 13 to 5 drubbing from the Indians.

Connie Mack picked up a share of the day's pitching laurels when he limited the White Sox to 6 hits and chalked up his seventh victory for Boston against a single defeat. The score was 6 to 2.

Connie Mack's athletics equalled a major league record when three of them, Bob Johnson, Jimmie Fox and Pink Higgins, hit successive homers off Jack Knott in the fourth but they lost to the Browns, 7 to 4.

Death at 100 M. P. H. for Weevil

Last year plowing under cotton—this year dusting it over. Here a Stearman "cotton duster" plane spreads death at 100 miles an hour to the boll weevil, roving over a field near Hughes, Ark., in the Mississippi Delta. In one dive across the field the pilot leaves a film of arsenate of lead across the cotton plants. The dusting is done early in the morning, so that the poison is assimilated by the dew, which is drunk by the weevil. With reduced acreage under the AAA program, growers are seeking maximum production.

LADIES TO BE ADMITTED TO OPENER FREE

NIGHT BASEBALL WILL BE INAUGURATED ON FRIDAY

Friday night, the first time night baseball will be presented in Pampa, will be declared ladies' night and women of Pampa and vicinity will be admitted free. Men will be charged 40 cents for any seat in the park. There will be no reduced seats for bleachers at night games.

The teams dedicating night baseball will be the Pampa Roadrunners and the Shawnee Wolves. Pampa has had considerable experience under artificial lights playing in Borger. Shawnee has a lighted park and the team has been playing night ball most of the season.

Shawnee will present a veteran lineup against the Roadrunners. Manager Ucal Clanton is a former member of the Cleveland Indians. He plays first base. Several other members of the team have played big league ball but are by no means washed out. A sprinkling of youngsters give the team pep.

The Shawnee club is one of the favorites to cop the Oklahoma Sandlot tournament in Oklahoma City next month. The team will be invited to enter the Pampa invitation tournament if it shows up strong against the Roadrunners.

Manager George Bulla put his Roadrunners through a stiff workout yesterday afternoon. The players showed considerable pep after their rest of several days following the Borger tournament. Freddy Brickell's ankle is doing nicely but he has not regained his old speed. Grover Seitz has had a sore knee but it is fast improving. Split fingers received by Whiskey Bacus and Eddie Sain are healing, but are still a little sore.

The pitching staff is in good shape despite a hard two weeks in the Borger tournament. The flingers didn't have enough to do before then. Manager Bulla has not named his pitcher for opening night.

TROUBLE IN BUNCHES

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP)—William Lazzar, 16, got into trouble trying to avoid trouble. He was warned by police against driving without a license, so he decided to sell his car. While he was delivering it to the purchaser, Lazzar was arrested for driving without a license.

The court suspended judgment, but assessed Lazzar $3 for the costs of the case—just what he got on the sale.

Out of 3,743 weddings in Milwaukee last year, the knot was tied in 3,043 instances by ordained ministers, with justices of the peace and judges dividing the remainder.

STOP MOTHER POPPING UP!

IT'S UP AGAIN, down again for poor Mom at most family tables.

Up to get the eggs and bacon (which cool off enroute to the table).

Up to get the toast, waffles, or chops. Or sitting nervously with her ear cocked to catch the hiss of the coffee boiling over.

But what a pleasant change with a few well chosen electric table appliances! Much chummier! Food more delicious, too, because hot and fresh.

An electric grill cooks bacon and eggs, chops or steak, and any number of other things, right at the table. And serves them sizzling to your plate! An electric toaster turns out toast browned to suit each individual taste; some models don't even need to be watched!

A waffle iron bakes tender waffles as fast as the family can eat them. An electric coffee maker gives you drip coffee by the most appetizing method, exactly as in the finest hotels.

These are just a few of the many electric appliances available for table cookery. They're modestly priced and cost only a few cents to operate. They do much to make meal time the jolliest get-together of the day.

J. M. Richeson was elected president of the Gray Hills Golf club at a meeting Sunday afternoon. W. I. Gilbert was elected vice president, and M. L. H. Baze was named secretary-treasurer. Ben Williams, first president of the club, presided.

The new president has already made plans to improve the fairways and greens. Clarendon, McLean, Pampa, and other teams will be invited to play over the course as soon as the work has been completed.

A tournament for club members is being arranged by H. N. Dixon, chairman of the tournament committee. Clubs desiring to play the course can get in touch with Mr. Dixon.

A 50-cent assessment was made against each member in order to raise money to improve the course. There are more than 100 members. The green fee will remain at 10 cents for club members and 25 cents for visitors. An invitation is extended to all golfers in this section to play over the course, which is one of the trickiest in this section.

'Monkey Trial' Judge Running To Regain Seat

DAYTON, Tenn., July 18. (AP)—John T. Raulston, the judge in the famous scopes evolution trial which was nearing a climax here nine years ago today, is in the midst of a vigorous campaign to regain his seat on the bench.

Since his defeat in 1926 by Judge Leslie Darr, Raulston has been practicing law in Winchester and South Pittsburg, Tenn.

The election will be held August 2. Raulston stepped up to the bench July 10, 1926, to open the trial of John T. Scopes, a be-spectacled Dayton school teacher, on a charge of violating the Tennessee law against teaching evolution in public schools.

An imposing array of counsel was ready for the fight. For the state there were William Jennings Bryan and Attorney General A. T. Stewart. At the defendant's table were Clarence Darrow, Dudley Field Malone and Arthur Garfield Hays.

Jap-American Navy Talks May Be Held in U. S.

LONDON, July 18. (AP)—Japanese-American naval discussions supplementary to the 1935 conference may be held in Washington in early August, it was indicated today.

Captain Iwashita, advance junior technical Japanese delegate to bilateral talks with Great Britain, is now en route to London, via the United States. He will arrive in Washington in about two weeks.

International quarters here anticipate he will take advantage of the trip at least to make the acquaintance of American naval leaders and perhaps discuss the situation generally with them.

A full Japanese delegation will follow Iwashita and also may come to London by way of Washington.

Anglo-Japanese conversations are to be opened in October.

Talks between Great Britain and the United States were suspended yesterday until September. Norman H. Davis, head of the American delegation, and Rear Admiral Richard H. Leigh, his general advisor, will sail for home Thursday.

The Anglo-American delegates exchanged assurances of their mutual desires for a naval treaty next year.

SAN DIEGO, July 17. (AP)—Grand jury investigation of the murder charge brought against R. S. Bolling, young San Antonio oil millionaire, will not be started until the grand jury convenes here October 1, officials said today. Bolling posted $5,000 bond about midnight last night and left San Diego this morning, presumably for San Antonio.

FRISCO LOOKS LIKE WESTERN FRONT IN '18

IT'S QUIET NOW BUT WILL GUNS ROAR INTO ACTION?

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18. (AP)—This is the peace-time warfare! Tanks, bayonets, machine guns, armored trucks, steel-helmeted humans. Sand-bag barricades.

Much there is akin to those portentous days of 1918 in France. But there's something strangely lacking. It's all so quiet and ominous, like those minutes before a long 75 barked out its signal of zero hour.

The scream of "H E" (high explosive), the thud of the bursting gas shells, the whine of machine gun bullets, the staccato bark of French 75's—all that's missing here. But what portends the future?

From Islals creek, to the south end of the waterfront, to the northward we worked. Guards walking past everywhere, passes scrutinized closely and you move into the military zone.

Here, the sergeant of the guard, Leo M. Gray, a veteran of campaigns in the islands, China and Siberia. Tall, experienced, decorations on his blouse, he knows what it's all about.

At the "C" (post of command), the "skipped" radio somewhere. There's a familiar picture, though. The boys rolled up in "OD" blankets trying to snatch some sleep. Others "ying on their backs writing to the folks back home. But here's something the Yanks of '17 didn't have—a portable radio crooning in soft tones. Now to the field kitchen. Same old hospitality to a stranger. Have a piece of cornbread. And do we eat, comments the mess sergeant with a rising inflection and emphasis on eat. Well, look at this—canned pears, scrambled eggs, bacon, coffee and mush, cornbread and coffee for breakfast.

That's far more than this reporter had, what with all the restricted food situation hereabouts. Boxes of food lying open, lettuce, radishes, cabbage, cucumbers—no shortage.

We push on up the front, to the northward. Don't see any gas alarm shells. Just mistook some milk cans, though, for those thermal cans we used to use in lugging food to the front. These were used for gasoline.

More sentries, more looking at passes. Here's the first barricade, where Third street enters the embarcadero. Several officers, including the major in charge of the battalion, tell of the speedy mobilization.

Now we are on the embarcadero. Trucks and freight cars to the left as we proceed. Piers to the right with ships warped along side. Some cargo is being worked. Sentries with bayonets walking post at days of 1918 in France, except the lack of action—frontline action, you know. But don't expect too much, because this is just peacetime warfare.

Edward K. Russell Is 61 Years Old And Is a Farmer

By The Associated Press. (This is the first of a series of "thumbnail" sketches of candidates for the gubernatorial nomination in the democratic primaries.)

Edward Kyle Russell is a successful stockman-farmer at Annona, Red River county. He long has cherished an ambition to be governor of the largest state in the union. A native of Mississippi, he came to Texas with his parents when a lad of 13. He is 61.

Russell is the only candidate who is opposed to alteration, even to submission for a referendum of the electorate, of the prohibition laws. He would like for Texas' dry status to remain just as it is.

He likes to tell of his fine livestock, including aristocracy in horse-flesh, but he is as unalterably opposed to betting on races as he is to legalization of the barter of liquor. Next to prohibition, about the most sacred plank in the Russell platform is "agriculture," and "education." He would rescue agriculture from some of the drawbacks that now beset the farmer. He always has befriended boys and girls who want an education and, if made governor, promises to use all the fair instrumentalities of the government to make that plan a permanent one for all time to come, with Texas the benefactor.

Mail Subsidies On Ocean May Go Is Farley Hint

WASHINGTON, July 18. (AP)—The system of subsidies to the American merchant marine is expected to undergo far-reaching changes within six months.

Steamship companies which carry the mail probably will be paid on a weight basis, a change which officials hope will save the post office department $10,000,000 a year.

As to new means of helping build up the merchant marine, observers pointed to a recent report of Secretary of Commerce Roper. After recommending that the present idea of mail subsidies be scrapped, he suggested specific subsidies to lines in direct competition with foreign interests. These subsidies would be for building and operating vessels.

The White House announced last night that President Roosevelt has ordered Postmaster General Farley to report within six months whether existing ocean and foreign air mail contracts should be modified or scrapped.

The holders of these contracts will be given public hearings. This is a departure from the procedure followed in cancelling domestic air mail contracts. Critics complained at the time that no hearings were granted.

Officials estimated that if ocean mail had been carried on a pound-age basis last year the cost to the

MRS. McADOO GETS DIVORCE FROM SENATOR

DAUGHTER OF WILSON IS 43 YEARS OLD, HUSBAND, 70

LOS ANGELES, July 18. (AP)—The divorce of Senator William Gibbs McAdoo and Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, daughter of the late President Wilson, faced an inquiry today by presiding Judge Frank C. Collier of the superior court.

Mrs. McAdoo was granted the divorce by Superior Judge Allan B. Campbell in a hearing lasting about five minutes yesterday—within twenty minutes after she filed suit.

"It would be possible for a complaint to be filed and go through the regular processes in the time which this action took," Judge Collier said, "but I want to know that all the processes were duly followed in the case."

Judge Collier said his investigation "will not void the decree." The Washington weather and differences of interest were blamed by Mrs. McAdoo for the divorce, obtained on grounds of incompatibility.

"As a senator, Mr. McAdoo is obliged to spend the larger part of each year in Washington," she said in a statement. "The climate does not agree with me and it is impossible for me to live there. I have and always shall have the greatest admiration and affection for Mr. McAdoo."

The senator, who did not contest the action, said she "correctly stated the reasons for the separation."

The court approved a property settlement, which was not made public, and awarded custody of the children, Eleanor, 19, and Faith, 14, jointly to the parents. Henry Griv, attorney for Mrs. McAdoo, said: "Each step was taken according to the rules of court and law. Under the rules it could have been done even faster. If Judge Collier wants to investigate he is perfectly at liberty to do so."

Senator McAdoo is 70 years old; Mrs. McAdoo 43. Mr. McAdoo's first wife, Sarah Fleming McAdoo, died in 1913.

FLOWERS FROM THE SKY

DALLAS, July 18. (AP)—Flowers were dropped from six low-flying airplanes today on the grave of Preston Sneed, publicity man fatally injured last Saturday while campaigning in south Texas with John Fundt, candidate for railroad commissioner. Sneed died Sunday afternoon in a Victoria hospital from injuries received when the car in which he, Fundt and Eugene Smith were riding overturned. A tire blow out caused government would have been $3,000,000. They said the actual cost under the system of virtual subsidies was $26,000,000.

Allen's Morals Are Probed in Hollywood Case

LOS ANGELES, July 18. (AP)—Testimony that the morals of Dave Allen, former head of the Central Casting Bureau, were under discussion long before his indictment growing out of an alleged "wild party" was before a superior court jury today.

Appearing as the first of a number of defense witnesses which Attorney Jerry Gealar said would prove that charges a "frame-up" was Mrs. Myra McKinley Russell, secretary of the motion picture supporting and extra players' association. She testified that Miss June DeLong, film extra and the state's star witness, came to her office and wanted to "make a statement concerning the morals of Dave Allen."

Allen and Miss Gloria Marsh, red-haired actress, are accused of participating with Miss DeLong in an immoral party at her apartment April 26.

Mrs. Russell said the state's witness discussed the matter with her for three hours. "I finally told her to go to the district attorney," the witness said. Defense attorneys allege Allen was "framed" by parties seeking his dismissal as head of the casting bureau.

Trench Mortar Shell Explodes And Kills Seven

SAINT GERMAIN-EN-LAYE, France, July 18. (AP)—The explosion of a forgotten trench mortar shell thrown playfully by a soldier at a group of comrades Tuesday killed 7 of them and injured 25 on an artillery training ground.

The motorized sixth cavalry regiment was on the range this morning when a soldier found an 81-millimeter shell, which he thought was "dead."

He decided to scare his comrades. There was a deafening roar and 4 soldiers were killed outright and 3 died later in a hospital. Twelve men lost their arms and legs and further deaths were feared.

Among the victims was the soldier who found the shell.

DROWNS IN POOL

Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe White, was playing on a board over the pool. She fell into the shallow water.

LEGAL CRUDE IS WORRY OF OIL SECTION

EXCESSIVE REFINERY OUTPUT DISPLACED BY TOO MUCH OIL

BY WILLIAM VOIGHT Jr., Associated Press Staff Writer.

TULSA, July 18. (AP)—Too much legal crude oil production displaced excessive refinery output as the chief worry of the midcontinent petroleum world this week.

The formal question has been raised in Washington in deliberations of the planning and co-ordinating committee. It was learned here, and an effort is being made to have state allowances for August and succeeding months cut in line with the recently reduced refinery allocations.

There has been considerable informal discussion here about the advisability of revising allowed production downward to prevent on unfavorable and threatening storage situation.

The August refinery production was decreased 930,000 barrels, cutting national output to 36,270,000 barrels.

A cut in crude oil output to compensate for the gasoline reduction would amount to about 2,400,000 barrels, or around 30,000 barrels a day.

Oil men here saw a gratifying reduction in East Texas crude oil output last week and attributed much of it to the new supply and purchase plan which has been placed in effect.

Contracts already have been signed to provide for the purchase by larger companies of 20,000 barrels of East Texas gasoline, and additional contracts are expected to be signed before the present campaign draws to a close.

Largely as a result of the East Texas buying campaign, which had its chief purpose the reduction of "hot" oil movements and eliminating of the resulting distress gasoline, which had been dumped on the market, refinery prices were moving gradually upward this week.

The third grade gasoline, principal East Texas product, was quoted at 3 7/8 to 4 1/4 cents a gallon in bulk car lots. Two weeks ago it could be obtained for 3 to 3 1/4 cents.

ABOUT NEW YORK

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Returning voyagers relate an amusing incident that took place the second night after one of England's crack liners sailed from an Italian port.

The atmosphere was one of swank. In addition to a couple of cars, a famous opera star, a nationally known novelist and several representatives of foreign diplomatic circles, Alfonso, the ex-king of Spain, was on board.

Gliding up to him, a steward handed him this note: "Darling, meet me tonight at the same place."

Bewildered, His Majesty showed the communication to the captain. The captain did a little investigating and found that one of his sailors bore the same name as the king—Alfonso.

One of the dolls in the steerage had fallen for the charm of the cockney tar—and the letter had been given to the king through error. Alfonso thought it a huge joke.

Favs For a Drink. It is difficult to understand the chance acquaintanceship one may strike up with total strangers unless you are used to New York at night. This incident is typical. On a recent evening I wandered into a bar not far from Times Square where the clients as a rule are men of the business world. Few of the night crowd ever go there. It is too quiet and reserved for their theatrical tastes.

At the bar sat a very charming woman, who had with her a mouse-colored monkey. The monk sat on top of the bar making faces at the customers and prying into the alcoholic mysteries of her Tom Collins.

Suddenly the beast hauled out a piece of ice. As his paw grew chilled, he changed hands and stared at it in amazement. This act was duplicated several times, and then, tiring of the sport, he dropped the ice back in the lady's drink. She continued to sip it as if monkey-paws were the most natural things in the world to have in one's highball.

"He's cute," I ventured without much originality. "Martini?" she said brightly. "Yes I picked him up in Singapore."

Natty, Naughty Monk. From then on I didn't have a chance to utter a word. She told me more things about monkeys and Singapore and the night life of the east than I'd ever heard. After that she paid her check and went out somewhere into the mystery that is New York. The last I saw of Martini he was perched on his mistress' shoulder thumbing his nose at the captain of the barman.

As they are without raincoats or umbrellas, there is nothing for guests to do but call cabs—then rush out of doors to find the sun still shining.

G. M. Counts of Laketon was in Pampa this morning renewing acquaintances.

SPITE MARRIAGE

by Katherine Hayward Taylor
SYNOPSIS: Marsha Moore sits Bob Powers because she believes that Geoffrey Tinsley is "more her type." But she discovers that Tinsley apparently is married, and takes Bob as a consolation. Marsha later finds out that Bob is very dear to her.

Chapter 15
THE DINNER
MARSHA moved to stand by him before the hearth; he slipped an arm around her.

"Dear," Bob said, "I've seen how you have felt all day. I want you to know and to remember that there's nothing you need fear, because, you see, no need of mine is so great as having you unafraid, content, as happy as I can make you. Do you understand?"

A hand on her shoulder, he turned her to him.

"Yes," she answered.

"I love you very much," he said next; "you don't at all sense what that means now. . . you will some day. It means that I don't want to take from you, but that I want to give to you. Do I make myself at all clear?"

"Yes," she answered again.

"You are not afraid of my taking your hand now?" he questioned.

"You were this morning at about ten minutes past eleven when you thought 'I'm alone with him and I'm married to him!' and it would kill me to hurt you in any way."

She moved closer to him; he felt her hands clinging to his. And looking down, he saw her lean forward to kiss the shoulder of his coat.

He held her close; "Thank you, he said, "and I shall hope that with time you'll aim a little higher."

She raised her face to his; "You don't need to pretend safety, lightness," she said. "What I want is to have you happy. I have never wanted anything so much."

She had never spoken so much of truth, she knew. She must, deficient thing though she was, make him happy. He must never be hurt by her; his fineness must never be lessened by her. His arms tightened.

"Are you certain?" he whispered, after a sharp intake of breath.

"Yes!"

He bent his face to hers. Later, they drank to the future, after Ella had appeared, with a discreetly preface cough to announce dinner.

The wind howled around the cottage as they ate their first dinner together; a very gay meal that was punctuated by odd, shaken silences when he stared at her, tried to smile and could not.

"Where are we, Bob?" she asked once.

"Paradise," he answered.

"Oh, I know that—" (She was going to be able to do it easily after all, she decided) "but the name that others call it?"

"Easthampton, dear."

"Really? It has been so odd not knowing where I stood in any way!"

"You're going to learn. No thank you, Ella. Oh, Ella, I will. I didn't see what was on your tray."

HE TOOK a generous serving of the candied sweet potatoes which he liked usually, Ella knew, but he hardly ate anything. She blinked.

She remembered him so clearly as a boy, and his bravery after his father died in that "cruel, quick way" . . . hit in one of the old "light buggies" on the railroad tracks. And how he had helped his mother by his bravery.

None finer, and young Mrs. Powers, Ella knew, was worthy of him. . . a beautiful, beautiful young lady with eyes that looked as if they must cry, while turned on him. And "gentlespoken and seeming rather shy-like."

"She asked me to tell you," said Ella later and in the pantry, "how she enjoyed the dinner."

The cook waited by the table. "Well, go on—" she ordered.

"I never saw two more in love," said Ella. "She liked my serving. She said, 'It was a delightful dinner, Ella, and so beautifully served, and he stood, as she spoke, his hand on her arm. She wore the dress he liked best. I heard him thank her. . . and she says to him, at that, she says, 'I always want to do what you want me to,' she says, and she choked again."

Sport Slants

by ALAN J. GOULD

It's an old American war-whoop to yell "politics" if you don't happen to like what the other fellow is doing. If you are running for office or if you just want to make an outcry to let everybody know the opposition party is alive.

From one corner or another they have been yelling "politics" at the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States for at least 40 years. I have no doubt there's a lot of politics in the organization. There is in every big group, whether it is concerned with athletics, legislation or religion. They may call it by different names but it is logical to assume differences of opinion, some favoritism and special interests will exist in the conduct of any organization's business or activity.

Consequently when Willis Hunter, aided by Dick Templeton of Stamford, shouts that the A. A. U. "politics" had something to do with the selection of the all-star track teams being sent abroad this summer, you can simply put it down as a sample of the exercise of American constitutional privilege. Mr. Templeton in particular is given to squawking about anything pertaining to the subject he knows most about, namely track and field athletics. As the year's most successful college coach, he is entitled to be heard but his theme is a trifle thread-bare by now.

Avery Brundage, the A. A. U.'s big chief, well might have closed the argument by pointing out to Messrs. Hunter and Templeton that if "politics" played so big a part in naming the athletes, how did it happen that 10 out of the 25 stars selected are from the Pacific Coast, whereas there are only six from the east, five from the midwest and four from the South?

If this be discrimination, let 'em make the most of it.

Less Sectionalism, Need
The fact is, however, Brundage is chief among the leaders of the Amateur Athletic Union realizing that it needs a thorough program of re-organization to make it less sectional in its activities and thereby eliminate most of the basis for discontent and criticism. As at present organized, the A. A. U. is largely concentrated in the east, with a few strong but scattered connections in the south, central west and far west. In 13 of the 48 states it has not a single club member and in many others there are only two or three A. A. U. clubs.

"As the A. A. U. has developed and as it will continue to exist," says Brundage, "the unit should be the municipality with the territory tributary thereto. There are about 350 recognized trading and commercial centers in the United States with 93 cities of over 100,000 population. There should be an A. A. U. district for every one of these 350 centers.

"Self-government is highly desirable in amateur sport. Peoria, Springfield and Milwaukee should not have to report to Chicago, as under present arrangements, and if autonomy is granted to every community in which there is a demand for independence in amateur athletic affairs... the A. A. U. will grow and expand beyond our fondest dreams.

"My plan proposes that these new districts shall be created as rapidly as possible. All districts in a state will be grouped under a state organization which will hold state championships in all different A. A. U. sports. The states, in turn, will be grouped in eight or ten sections or areas, each with a national vice-president in charge. This will provide more competition and at the same time the sectional championships will serve to cut down the field of entries in national championships which in many cases are too large at the present time."

Ambitious, Sensible Plan.
Brundage's plan is ambitious but also sensible. If the A. A. U. is to continue to exercise national jurisdiction over such sports as track and field, swimming, gymnastics, boxing, wrestling, basketball and sundry other activities.

In the old days, when high class athletic activity was confined to relatively few centers, the A. A. U. could operate successfully within narrower limits. Now, however, the colleges, as well as the tennis and golf organizations, have spread their wings on a national basis. Sectional barriers have been wiped out. Champions are just as apt to spring up from the cross-roads of the hinterlands as they are from the big centers of population. The entire country is athletic conscious in a big way and no group such as the A. A. U. can keep nation-wide respect or authority without nationwide organization.

Virgil Nichols Dies of Illness

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, July 18. (AP)—Although the trading volume today dropped substantially under that of yesterday, stocks generally pointed upward for gains of fractions to 2 or more points. A more hopeful view of the Pacific coast strike situation aided sentiment. The close was firm. Transfers approximated only 440,000 shares.

Judge to Decide Today What's in Terrell's Name

DALLAS, July 18. (AP)—Election officials here were puzzled over the controversy that has arisen since a Dallas man went into court and had his name changed from Jefferson T. Baker to "George B. Terrell." Immediately after the change, this man became a candidate for state treasurer and his name has been printed on 100,000 ballots in Dallas county alone. His name is listed on the official ballot under "state treasurer" as "George B. Terrell."

Now comes Congressman George B. Terrell with a suit asking that Judge Tom A. Work, who granted the name change last May 31, annul his previous order. Congressman Terrell alleged that Baker took over his (Terrell's) name for political purposes. Congressman Terrell pointed out that for many years he had been known favorably by his name in Texas.

Judge Work set Congressman Terrell's application to annul the previous order for hearing Friday. In his application to change his name, Baker set out as his reason that it would help and assist him in business.

Barrow Friend Believed Slain in Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 18. (AP)—A man identified tentatively as J. R. O'Donnell, 28, was shot and killed by police today as he lay on a bed in a West Main street hotel room here today, training a pistol on the door.

A pretty blonde woman who officers said was Mrs. Myrtle Bolen, the landlady, screamed and fled into a closet when the shots rang out. She was being questioned with her mother, Mrs. F. E. Gingham.

Officers D. A. Bryce and Charles Ryan had gone to the hotel to arrest the man and Harvey Pugh, whom they described as a former friend of Clyde Barrow, slain Texas outlaw. Pugh was not in the room.

Arriving at the place they went to the door of the room with Mrs. Gingham and shouted: "We are policemen, open up!"

There was no response and they flung the door open. Inside, they said, the suspect lay on the bed, leveling an automatic pistol at the door and using both hands for a steady aim.

Bryce, a crack shot, leaped to one side, drew his own pistol, and shot the man five times before he could pull the trigger. He died instantly.

The tentative identification was made from cards in the dead man's pocket, but police believed the name, O'Donnell, was an alias.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, July 18. (AP)—The market was moderately active all morning. At the end of the first hour, prices ruled firmer in anticipation of a bullish weekly weather report. October advanced to 13.33 and December to 13.45, or 9 to 12 points above the close of yesterday. While the weekly report was considered bullish it did not quite meet expectations and selling by tired long speculators caused October to drop to 13.18 and December to 13.32, or 15 points below the early highs and 3 to 4 points under yesterday's close.

WOOL MARKET

Bids were mostly 70 cents scoured basis or under for eight months wool, but holders were adhering quite firmly to their asking prices around 75-76 cents at which some wools were recently sold.

STRIKE

be accepted because it's a trick." The food blockade in the bay region meanwhile was broken, with trucks bringing in huge loads of fresh produce, meats and other foodstuffs. Some 350 butcher shops here opened their doors for the day with special union permission.

Employers likewise were asked to place issues in dispute in the hands of the president's board and the entire proposal was made contingent upon employer recognition of all the 10 maritime unions whose strike has crippled shipping since May 9.

The longshoremen's demand for complete control of hiring agencies, which has been a stumbling block in mediation attempts thus far, was not mentioned in the resolution. Maritime union members of the committee came from the meeting obviously angry and Harry Bridges, militant longshoremen's representative, declared the proposal "will never be accepted by the men."

Immediate consideration of the olive-branch offer by waterfront and shipping employers, however, was announced by Thomas G. Plant, their authorized spokesman.

The president's mediation board, now preparing to conduct an election among striking seamen for the purpose of determining what leaders shall represent them, also will meet on the matter, O. K. Cushing, spokesman for the board, said.

Members of the general strike committee declined to comment on their possible course should the arbitration edict be rejected. Conservative members indicated, however, that they believed the maritime unions, if they refused consent, would lose general strike backing and that the employers, in the event of failure to accept the offer, would lose public support.

DISAVOWS STRIKE

CHICAGO, July 18. (AP)—William A. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today asserted that the general strike at San Francisco was neither ordered nor authorized by the A. F. of L. and has no national significance, as far as organized labor was concerned.

Troopers Find Clews, Reopen 'Kidnap' Case

HARTSDALE, N. Y., July 18. (AP)—Faced with fresh and puzzling clues, authorities today reopened the enigmatic case of little Robert Connor who was found in a thicket near his home after five days of frantic searching.

Finding of the child's shoe near the spot where he was discovered yesterday afternoon revived official interest in the affair.

The shoe lay on top of a stone hedge just ten feet from the trampled place 21-month-old Bobby sat when two policemen, "acting on a hunch" came upon him.

The police could not explain how they missed seeing the shoe yesterday.

Captain Philip J. McQuillan of the Greensburgh police said he was still checking for "new evidence" to determine if the child had been abducted.

Bobby made steady progress toward recovery today. He was given skim milk, his pulse rate diminished and his temperature dropped.

Mrs. N. M. Maddox of Miami spent yesterday shopping in Pampa. Franklin Poe of White Deer was a Pampa visitor last night.

A. D. Reeves of Hereford spent this morning with friends in Pampa. H. J. Lynch of Magic City visited in Pampa yesterday.
