PRICE FIVE CENTS

WAS GIVEN TEN DAYS IN JAIL IN AIR MAIL PROBE

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The District of Columbia court of appeals today reversed a lower court ruling and held the senate did not have the power to sentence William P. MacCracken to 10 days in jail for contempt in connection with air mail investigation.

MacCracken, former assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, and L. H. Britten, former vice president of the Northwest Airways Inc., were found guilty by the senate February 14 and each sentenced to 10 days. Britten served his term, but counsel for MacCracken contested the legislative body's decision.

Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue of the District of Columbia supreme court later held the senate had the constitutional right to sentence MacCracken, in connection with disappearance from his office here of airway contract papers that were under subpoena by the senate.

The majority in the three to two ruling by the higher court today declared:

"Unless there is to be an intermingling of the legislative and judicial power to deal with contempt, thereby rendering it possible in all cases as a matter of legislative power summarily to try the one accused without subjecting him to the statutory modes of trial provided for criminal offenses, protected by the limitations and safeguards of the constitution, then we must and do declare that the senate is without jurisdiction to inflict punishment on the petitioner."

RELIEF BODY IN UPROAR

HEARING WILL BE HELD SOON FOR NEW AREA

OSBORNE APPLICATION GRANTED BY R. R. COMMISSION

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE.

Much interest is being taken by lease owners and operators in the area east of Shamrock in block 13 in an attempt to get an outlet for their production. The operators in this area do not feel as if they are getting a fair break. They have no outlet for the oil they produce and as a result they are losing money on their investment. Pipe lines do not feel that they are justified in laying a line into the area and the production does not warrant the construction of a refinery.

However, in all fairness to the operators who willed this area here should be some provision made for them to go ahead with their operations. As the subsurface in that area is not too well defined as yet, there will be considerable risk in drilling. The operators would have some assurance of an outlet for their oil as well as present outlet to pay on the present investments.

There are four producing wells in the area at the present time that are good average wells. R. R. Osborne has two, Piney Oil and Gas, and Anderson and Kerr one. As a result of the above conditions R. R. Osborne has been granted a hearing at Austin by the railroad commission at 10 o'clock July 8. At this hearing the commission will consider Mr. Osborne's application to have that portion of Wheeler county set aside as a new oil field which if passed favorably upon temporarily raise the allowable making possible an outlet or the present production.

The Christie and Hickman No. 2 O'Spinn, Mid-Kansas No. 2 Husbey, and the Shell Petroleum company's No. 1 Bush have finished testing. The strapping tables have not been available so that the averages as yet are unfigured. Wheeler county is taking another spurt with four more new locations. The Shell Petroleum company has located its No. 2 Bush in section 48, block 24, 330 feet from the north line and 990 feet from the east line of the section.

Ben G. Barnett has located No. 1 Boren in block 13 on a 280-acre lease 330 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the west line of the east quarter of section 24. The Dumar Oil company has located its No. 2 Krizan in the center of the northwest quarter of section 101, block 23. Kelly et al have located No. 1 Plummer 330 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the west line of the north half of the southwest quarter.

BRATTON CASTS FIRST ABSENTEE BALLOT IN CITY

Persons Who Will Be Absent July 28 May Vote

Mayor W. A. Bratton was the first Pampa to cast an absentee vote for the coming election of July 28 when such voting became legal this morning. He appeared at the office of County Clerk Charlie Thut and was furnished a ballot. Mayor and Mrs. Bratton and children will leave Saturday on a two-week vacation in New Mexico.

Absentee voting in person will continue through July 25 and by mail through July 26 if the ballots are mailed before midnight of July 25. Poll tax receipts should be taken when applications for ballots are made at the office of the county clerk.

AUSTIN, July 9 (AP)—The first ballots in Texas' statewide democratic primary will be voted today. Absentee balloting will be permissible and continue until July 26 in the primary which will decide the runoff candidates on July 28. The real campaign will be waged by the candidates from now on.

The principal interest, of course, centers in the gubernatorial campaign, as it always has. The seven aspirants have been on the job for many days and they expect to stay in there until the votes are counted.

Here is the lineup for the coming week gubernatorial and all others: For governor: C. C. Small; Afternoon Temple; night Austin. Edgar E. Witt; Afternoon Buffalo; night Franklin. Edward K. Russell; Fort Worth. C. C. McDonald; Afternoon Decatur; night Sherman. James V. Allred; Afternoon Vernon; night Wichita Falls. Tom P. Hunter; El Paso. Maury Hughes; Houston. For United States Senator: Tom Connally; Brownwood. Joseph W. Bailey, afternoon Orange and Liberty; night, Beaumont. For Attorney General: Clyde E. Smith; Afternoon, Bowie. Night, Wichita Falls. William McRae; Henderson. Walter Woodward; Belville, Brenham, LaGrange.

Cotton Skyrockets $2.00 Per Bale

GOVERNMENT'S REPORT SHOWS ACREAGE DROP

CULTIVATED COTTON IS ONE THIRD LESS THAN IN '33

NEW ORLEANS, July 9 (AP)—Cotton prices skyrocketed $1.80 per bale on the New Orleans exchange today when the bullish government acreage report was released. The report, showing a decrease of one-third in acreage from that in cultivation last July 1, sent October contracts to 12.40 and December to 12.55, both 36 points above the close of Saturday. The report showed 28,024,000 acres in cultivation as compared with 40,852,000 last year. Last year's figures, however, did not include cotton plowed up under agreement with the government.

Completion of Highway 33 in City Is Started

First work on Highway 33 thru the city was started this morning under drought relief plans. The Gray county relief board supplied the resident engineer with 30 men to begin excavating for curb and gutter. Thirty other men will be placed tomorrow and others will be added as the project progresses.

Widening of the west portion of the road and topping of the full distance is in the work program authorized by the state. First and second coat caliche and most of the curb and gutter were completed several months ago, but continuation was delayed because of a change in the state program.

The relief board has been given authority to supply trucks and teams for the work.

Postal Employees Will Meet Here

The August meeting of the Texas-Panhandle branch of the National Association of Postal Supervisors will be held in Pampa, W. W. McDonald, supervisor of mails at the local post office, announced this morning. The organization, the first of its kind in the state, has 25 members.

Meeting date will be August 18 and sessions will probably be held in the new postoffice. Previous meetings of the organization have been held in Amarillo. Supervisors and assistant postmasters are eligible for membership. Mr. McDonald and O. K. Gaylor are the Pampa members. The district is the same as the 18th congressional district.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster have returned from Chicago where they attended the furniture market at the World Fair.

Nazi Activity Is 'Menace,' Is Moley Opinion

Claims 'Stahlhelm' Groups Drill Regularly in New York, in Testimony

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Raymond Moley, magazine editor and "brain trust," today declared Nazi propagandizing in the United States constituted a "menace" to the nation. Moley, formerly assistant secretary of state, was the first witness before a special committee on un-American activities in an open hearing that brought acknowledgment from another witness that "Stahlhelm" groups drilled regularly in New York City.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, held its first open hearing here. Other committee members present were Representatives Samuel Dickstein of New York and J. Will Taylor of Tennessee.

Moley was questioned particularly about four articles which appeared in the magazine "Today" during March and April, alleging to be an expose of Nazi activities in the United States. "The charges in the articles were understated rather than overstated," Moley replied to queries concerning their authenticity. "All of the documents on the basis of which these statements were made were verified and are in our possession."

Asked by Dickstein if groups had been drilling with the steinheil and wearing swastikas, the German Nazi insignia, Moley replied: "Precisely as their pictures are published."

"That doesn't seem consistent with our form of government," Dickstein observed.

Interest Being Shown in State Breeding Plan

Farmers and stockmen consulted about the possible placing of a state-owned stallion or jack for service in this area are showing considerable interest in the proposal. Such animals are being purchased out of the state's proceeds for part-mutual betting on horse races, and are being used to improve the quality of horses and mules in the state. Fees for service are nominal.

Anyone interested in the proposal is asked to give his name to County Agent Ralph Thomas or George Briggs at the B. C. D. office.

Says He'll Stay in Jail Until He Rots Before He'll Tell Where His Son Is

DALLAS, July 9 (AP)—Ollie (Jake) Whately, 33-year-old guitar player, today continued to carry out his determination to remain in jail "until I rot" before he reveals the whereabouts of his boy, Robert Clifton Whately, 10.

District Judge Claude McCallum jailed Whately for contempt of court, the sentence being a $100 fine and three days in jail, or until he purges himself of contempt by telling where the boy is. Whately admitted in court Saturday he kidnaped his son from the boy's step-father, Ira Nelson, a painter.

The cash drawer gathered up a number of lock boxes and escaped in a new black sedan.

City White Way Extended Again

Extension of the city's white way one block on South Cuyler street is nearing completion. It extends from Tuke to Thut avenues.

Bills, bond matters, and many other questions will come before the city commission this evening. It has developed this week that the water department will have to have heavier pumping equipment to force water into elevated storage. City consumption has reached the consumption-per-minute maximum of the booster equipment. The water supply is adequate.

There are 184 more water connections now than there were a year ago.

Feed and Forage Loans Available

AMARILLO, July 9 (AP)—Unlimited amounts were announced available to drought-stricken Panhandle farmers today in the form of feed and forage loans from the nation government.

Carl Hill, chairman of the emergency feed loan committee for this area, said the money was available on plain notes payable November 1, 1935, and that no mortgages of any kind were required. Farmers and livestock men may borrow each month $3 a head for cattle, $4 for horses, a dollar each on hogs and 5 cents for chickens.

TWO MEMBERS SAY THEY'LL RESIGN TODAY

DIRECTOR REFUSES TO BE 'LECTURED,' WALKS OUT

AUSTIN, July 9 (AP)—Two members of the Texas Relief commission, Ed Hussion of Houston and Jack Reed of Junction, today announced their intention to resign from the board, the action coming at a meeting of the commission in which Adam Johnson, director, walked out after he had been "lectured" by Hussion.

Reed said he would resign before the next meeting of the commission. Hussion indicated his resignation would be forthcoming immediately.

Both Reed and Hussion called on other members of the commission to resign in the interest of harmony.

The commission was unable to transact any business because of the absence of a quorum. Only three members, Reed, Hussion and B. E. Eggenbach, were present. "I regret being a member of a commission that has gotten into such a 'hamble' as we have," Reed said. "I think the relief commission as a whole has made a terrible job of what we were assigned to do and should hang our heads in shame and apologize to the state for letting politics, and deep politics at that, enter into all our acts."

Hussion briefly recounted "rumors" of personnel changes made by Johnson, immediately after he resumed office. "One of them was a mother with three children whose services were not questioned."

Johnson rose from the council table and got his hat. "These statements are not true," Johnson challenged Hussion. "I have a right to hire people who suit me. I made no charges of any kind against those who were discharged. I am not answerable to you or any individual member of the commission but only to the commission as a whole when it is legally in session. I didn't come up here to be lectured by you."

"Sit down, Mr. Johnson. I believe we can straighten this out," Hussion answered.

Johnson repeated he did not want to be lectured and walked out of the meeting. Hussion had stated that he regarded his former dismissal as "water over the wheel" and pleaded for cooperation from the entire membership. "I need it," Johnson said. "This thing is about to swamp us. I am not concerned about my job. I want your cooperation and am begging you for it as long as I am there."

"Our forces are here ready to cooperate with you," Gov. Miriam

TEXAS FARM "REGIMENTATION"

Joseph W. Bailey, speaking at Comroe, comes out against "any extension" of the Bankhead law "or any other scheme for the regimentation of farmers." That is a wholly disingenuous statement.

The congressman knows, as well as anybody who was in Washington when the Bankhead law was passed, that it is a one-year law, intended for one purpose—that of cutting down the great carryover of cotton which has been an increasing weight about the necks of the cotton farmers for the past several years.

Once that job is done, and the carryover reduced to normal size so that it no longer will hold prices down, there will be no place for such a law.

But should a paralyzing carryover be again built up through year-after-year overproduction, and farmers again be unable to work out their own salvation by volunteer effort, the Texas farmers who have been "regimented" to the extent of some $44,000,000 extra income from cotton will likely be found requesting the government to act again for their rescue.

That is one point which Mr. Bailey seems to forget—that the Bankhead law was put on the books at the urging of cotton farmers for the benefit of cotton farmers.

When Mr. Bailey uses the term "regimentation" in the manner that it is used by the opponents of President Roosevelt and the new deal he does not speak for Texas cotton farmers.

They have profited from the Roosevelt farm measures, and they are not likely to want anybody representing them at Washington who is not mindful of that fact.

ALL FORMER GOVERNORS, EXCEPT FERGUSON, SILENT ON CHOICES

By R. W. BARRY.

AUSTIN, July 9 (AP)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson and his wife, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, have expressed a preference in the current democratic primary with reference to the chief executiveship.

Five other ex-governors have not said publicly whom they favor. They are Oscar B. Colquitt, William P. Hobby, Pat M. Neff, Dan Moody, and R. S. Sterling.

It has become a custom in late years for former governors to almost completely quit active participation in politics. Excepting the Fergusons the ex-governors generally have had little to say in previous campaigns.

Chances are, however, there will be some "outspokenness" during the run-off primary between July 20 and August 25. Many newspapers which heretofore have expressed a choice for governor editorially apparently are waiting to make a selection in the run-off.

After the races for state offices are settled about the most interesting political event will be the election of a speaker of the house for the forty-fourth legislature, which will convene next January. Coke Stevenson of Junction, speaker of the forty-third legislature, is a candidate for re-election but it is not likely he would stand for a second term as presiding officer, thus breaking a precedent. He was petitioned to do so during the regular and two special sessions of the legislature.

A third special session in September is regarded as reasonably certain. That should shed a little light on the speakership inasmuch as it will be determined by that time how many members of the legislature as now constituted have been re-elected.

RAIDS FOR ARMS SPREADS IN CUBA

HAVANA, July 9 (AP)—Raids for arms were spread throughout Cuba today by Col. Fulgencio Batista, commander-in-chief of the army who is convinced he has thwarted what would have been a major revolution inspired by former army officers.

Batista ordered the arrest of several ex-officers as well as enlisted men. Some three scores are already in jail charged with conspiracy. Jubilant at what he considers a triumph over his enemies, Batista said apparently some members of the "ex-officers association," whose headquarters were raided Friday, planned to make him a member of the organization "honoris causa" (for the sake of honor).

"Crossmarks" placed against his name and those of other army officers, Batista asserted, may have indicated he was a marked man.

He said, however, he believed the heads of the ex-officers association did not know of the revolutionary plot and that many of those under arrest are innocent and will be released.

MANTOWISH, Wis.—John Dillinger is too much of a drawing card to suit Emil Wanacka. Emil has his little Bohemia resort shot onto the front pages last April when Dillinger and his gang used it as a hideout, kept Emil a virtual prisoner two days, and then fled in a hull of bullets as the mob shot it out with officers.

"Business here," Emil said today, "is too good. I'm kept so busy I'm getting tired of it. I want to rest for a year or two."

The Little Bohemia, he said, has seen almost boom days since the Dillinger episode.

Production Larger

The national production was 27,000,000 pounds, or 11 per cent above the production of the preceding years. The Texas gain was highly less. Louisiana gained relatively more than Texas. Of the total Texas production, the Panhandle district accounted for 190,366,000 pounds, and the Breckenridge district, 24,499,000 pounds.

Value of carbon black continued low relative to production because of energy market. Total value of production was on basis of price at plants, was $7,449,000. Value of the Texas production was about $6,000,000.

Total amount of natural gas consumed in production of the products, or 80 per cent of the country's output. Louisiana produced 54,470,000 cubic feet, and the remaining small production was from Oklahoma and Wyoming.

Average yield of carbon black was 1.44 pounds per 1,000 cubic feet.

Domestic sales of carbon black amounted to 222,358,000 during 1933, of which 90 per cent went to rubber companies. The ink and paint industries were the largest among miscellaneous consumers.

Exports amounted to 152,286,000 pounds to the United Kingdom, France and Germany being the largest purchasers. Exports through Texas ports amounted to 121,138,000 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Voss left yesterday for El Reno and Oklahoma City where they will visit relatives. Mr. Voss will attend the Western Amateur golf tournament being played in Oklahoma City this week.

SLAYING OF 3 CONFESSED BY YOUNG SOONER

McALESTER, Okla., July 9 (AP)—In the hands of County Attorney Frank Watson today was a signed confession of a young hill country bad-man admitting the premeditated slayings of three alleged accomplices in petty thievery.

Watson said he also had positive information that the triple slayer, Ben Riley, 25, of Canadian, Okla., had plotted the death of George Baker, another man held in the Pittsburgh county jail for questioning in the outrage, and that Riley planned to "plant" on the body of his prospective victim a note which would have incriminated Baker as the killer of Homer Beasley, Robert Watkins, and William Gann, whose bodies were found in a lonely canyon near Canadian June 25.

After signing the confession last night, Riley was taken from the jail to the state penitentiary here for safe keeping. He told Watson he would plead guilty to the three first degree murder charges which were filed against him last week.

ROADRUNNERS CONTINUE TO PLAY PHILLIPS IN BORGER BASEBALL TOURNEY

ANOTHER TILT IS SCHEDULED FOR THIS EVE

OTHER TEAMS CANNOT GET A 'CRACK' AT LEADERS

As far as the Pampa Roadrunners are concerned, the Borger Invitation baseball tournament has turned into a Pampa-Borger series. The Roadrunners have met only four of the nine teams in the tournament, Phillips, Decatur, Coltex and Fort Worth. The Pampa entry has not met Amarillo, Huber, Phillips '77' or Wichita Falls.

Pampa and Phillips '66' of Borger have played two games and will meet again tonight at 8:30 o'clock, while the same teams that played yesterday afternoon, will meet play again this afternoon, but not against each other.

Pampa appears to be the only team that has a chance of defeating Phillips, and Phillips stands the best chance of winning from the Roadrunners. Therefore the two teams will have to play at least three more games before one team is eliminated. It takes four losses to send a team home. If the teams continue to split their games, it will take five more games to eliminate.

Coltex of LeFors and Fort Worth appear to be the next strongest teams in the tournament and possibly one of these clubs could win from the leaders if they got a chance at them again.

Coltex lost 12 to 11 game to Wichita Falls yesterday afternoon, while Amarillo of Amarillo was defeating Fort Worth, 12 to 7. A loss this afternoon will eliminate Coltex from the tournament.

FANS CLAMOR TO SEE ALL-STAR TUSSLE

Over 35,000 Reserve Seats For Game Tuesday When League's Stars Play.

BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Shelving for a day the strife and strain of the major league pennant races, all-star teams of the American and National leagues will meet the field tomorrow at the Polo Grounds for the sake of sweet charity and the fulfillment of the baseball fan's mid-summer day dream.

The National league park is expected to be jammed to its capacity of 53,000 and tickets are selling at $2.20 to witness the all-star spectacle, and contributing thereby to a "gate" of nearly $60,000 for the benefit of the players' benevolent fund. The game is scheduled at 12:30 (EST) and will be broadcast on NBC and CBS networks.

It may seem like just another afternoon's chore to the players themselves, hand-picked in keeping with most of fandom's preference, but to the baseball-following public at large it is the most glorious one-day show of the entire year, bringing together the satellites whose names take the headlines or top those indispensable columns of statistics daily, from April to October.

How will Carl Hubbell, ace southpaw of the world champion Giants, fare against a batting order topped by Stanley Gehring, Heinie Manush, Babe Ruth, and Lou Gehrig, with Frank Higgins, Al Simmons, Joe Cronin, and Bill Dickey bringing up the rear-guard of sluggers? Can Lefty Gomez, the American league's foremost moundsman, best a lineup headed by Frank Frisch, Pie Traynor, Joe Medwick, or Chuck Klein, Wally Berger, Kiki Cuyler, or Mel Ott, Bill Terry, Travis Jackson and Gabby Hartnett or Al Lopez?

HOMERS CAN'T PREVENT A'S FROM LOSING

BOSTON RED SOX TAKE DOUBLEHEADER FROM ATHLETICS

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. JIMMIE FOX and Bob Johnson hit home runs, but the Philadelphia Athletics steadily are losing ball games, more proof, were any needed, that major league pennants can't be won without pitchers.

FOX, who led the lead in the home run derby by clouting Nos. 25 and 26 and Johnson boosted his total to 25 yesterday while the Athletics dropped two games to the Boston Red Sox and fell a bit deeper into seventh place in the American league. The twin-Athletic sluggers picked the first game for their home run show but Boston won the game easily, 7-4, altho outlit, 12 to 7. Bill Dietrich, pitching for the A's, allowed only seven hits but walked nine men and hit one. The second game was a 7-2 romp for the third place Red Sox.

There was no change in the relative standing of the two leaders, the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers, both of whom won. Celebrating his 21st year in the game, Babe Ruth drove in four runs with his 34th homer and a double as the Yankees topped the Washington Senators, 6-3. Two costly errors by Oscar Melillo, two singles and a pass with the bases filled gave Detroit three runs in the ninth and a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns, thus keeping the Tigers within half a game of the Yankees.

Consolidating their hold on fourth place, the Cleveland Indians won their first double-header of the year, beating the Chicago White Sox, 5-1 and 10-5 behind Willis Hall and Monte Pearson. Fred Fitzsimmons pitched for the New York Giants to a 2-0 shutout victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers, thus boosting the Terrymen's National league lead to two games over the Chicago Cubs.

HORSE RACES SATURDAY TO DECIDE TITLE

3-Year-Old Championship Of Year To Be Sought By Big Four Of 1934 Track.

By CHARLES DUNKLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer. CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—The three-year-old championship of the American turf will be decided beyond all question of a doubt if any exist with the seventh running of the $45,000 Arlington classic at Arlington park next Saturday.

The prospective field shapes up with twelve starters, but with the "big four" naturally dominating for the mile and a quarter test. They are:

Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Cavalcade, winner of the Kentucky derby, American derby, Detroit derby and Chesapeake stakes, and second, beaten by a nose by his stable mate, High Quest, in the Preakness.

Joseph P. Widener's Peace Chance, winner of the Belmont stakes in the fastest time in the history of the mile and a half race.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery, victorious in the Brooklyn handicap, and second in the Kentucky derby, American derby, and third in the Chesapeake stakes and Preakness.

Mrs. Sloane's other three-year-old star, Mrs. G. M. Wood's winner of the Preakness, Wood Memorial stakes and second in the Belmont.

The other starters possibly will be Gallant Mac Rickalus, Flight Howard, Thomasville, New Deal, Rose Cross and Patchpockets. The game little filly, Mata Hari, which challenged Cavalcade three times this year will probably be among the missing when the star colts line up for the last six years of the Arlington classic has decided the three-year-old championship, except possibly the year when A. C. Bostwick's mate beat Twenty Grand, and the argument as to the merits of the two colts as three-year-olds is still raging.

AUSTIN TURNS IN 77 TO WIN GOLF TOURNEY

ROCKWELL IS SECOND AND KIMBRELL THIRD

Grover C. Austin Sr., shot the lowest score of his golf career yesterday afternoon to win the 18-hole handicap medal tournament over the Country club course. Mr. Austin turned in a 77, which gave him a net score of 63 strokes.

Harry Rockwell, Jr., also shot nice golf to take second place. He carded a 77, which with his handicap gave him a 66. Bill Kimbrell took third place with 80 strokes or a net score of 69 strokes.

Three golfers tied for fourth place with net scores of 70 strokes: Dr. H. H. Hicks shot a 76 and Tom Darby tied that score. Edwin Vicars turned in an 88.

An inter-club match will probably be played over the course next Sunday. The tournament committee, Mack Graham chairman, is in touch with several clubs and expects an acceptance early this week.

Should no other club be available for next Sunday, a team tournament will be played. Two captains will select teams for a given list of players. All local golfers are urged to register their average scores at the club house so that a full list of eligibles will be ready for the captains.

Del Love, club professional, also urges players to turn in all 18-hole scores so that a true handicap can be figured. It takes five rounds to secure a handicap. Forty-six players entered competition yesterday afternoon.

PHILLIPS AND BEAU BELL IN STARRING ROLES ON SUNDAY

Beaumont Hurler and Galveston Clouter Tagged For Major Leagues.

By FELIX R. M'KNIGHT, Associated Press Staff Writer. Two young men tagged for shipment to the major leagues—Beau Bell, Galveston's clotting outfielder, and "Red" Phillips, Beaumont hurler—again blinked under the spotlight in Sunday's Texas league games.

Bell, husky former Texas Aggie athlete and leader in four departments of the loop's statistics, batted a triple, a double and a single in the game, which Galveston won from Houston, 3-2. His tenth inning double, followed by Tony Governor's single, broke up a sweet pitcher's duel between Jimmy Waup and Mike Cvengros, veteran Buff twirlers.

Phillips, putting his fourth victory of the season in the record book, also had the pleasure of driving in the winning run in the 1-0 decision. Beaumont grabbed from the pace-setting San Antonio Missions. Phillips scattered ten hits, with Morgan accounting for three as he continued to climb up among the league's leading swatters.

The Dallas Steers put on two fine rallies to cull the second game of a double bill from Oklahoma City, 8-6, after dropping the first, 4-3. Five runs in the fourth frame knotted the second game score and then the Steers went on to shove across two in the ninth to win. Herb Kelly, Indian outfielder, fractured his leg when rounding first base after cracking out a double and will be on the shelf probably for the remainder of the season.

Chief Rudy Roy, the Fort Worth Panther's slugging Indian gardener, sailed one far out of the lot to give the Cats a 3-2 decision over the Tulsa Oilers.

Fence-Crasher Breaks Finger in Cycle Stunt

Johnnie Holden, Fort Worth daredevil, yesterday afternoon crashed a board wall while riding blindfolded on a motorcycle at the Pampa airport. The feat broke a finger in the attempt but otherwise came through the fence uninjured.

The fence was to have been freed before Holden crashed through but airport officials ruled the fire out because of the dryness of the grass.

In a race between a Ford V-8 and a navy training plane, the Ford won "by a nose" after four laps around the airport. The grass proved treacherous and several holes caused the speed to be slower than anticipated. The car was not driven at more than 75 miles an hour at any time. Roy Snyder was behind the wheel and Dede Balthorp acted as mechanic. O. L. Holden piloted the ship.

More than 400 automobiles were parked around the airport most of the afternoon. Announcement of the program was made in the NEWS Sunday morning.

The Ford was furnished by Tom Rose, new dealer, and was operated with Conoco Bronze gasoline supplied by Frank Keim.

PEON STORY REVIVED

MEXICO, D. F., July 9 (AP)—The story of the child born able to speak, which bobs up periodically among peons of Mexico, is being told again at Acapulco in the state of Guerrero.

The son of an Indian woman, a minute after birth uttered a prediction that Mexico will undergo six months of catastrophes, it was reported. The baby is said to have died a few minutes later.

"BOY" WAS GIRL
PORTERVILLE, Calif., July 9 (AP)—Disguised as a boy, Vera Bryan, 15, who said she was the daughter of L. N. Bryan, Ranger, Texas, mail carrier, was detained by police here today. Authorities said the girl will be held pending instructions from her relatives.

These are questions that may be answered at the outset, for Gomez Hubbell has been nominated to start the game. It will be the first time the two most talked-about southpaws in baseball have opposed each other, with the Yankee star matching his great speed against the famous "screw ball" of the Giant ace.

On the basis of their last performances, on Saturday, neither Gomez nor Hubbell may be the "ball of fire" that their followers anticipate. Fortunately for the American league, the Yankee southpaw was hit on the right elbow instead of the left arm in the accident that marked his winning, though not too impressive, effort against the Senators. On the same afternoon, the Brooklyn Dodgers chased Hubbell from the box with some lusty clouting.

Any necessity for a revolution of National and American League voters in the nation wide poll was eliminated today with the announcement of the batting orders for Tuesday, as follows:

American League.
Charley Gehring, Tigers second base.
Heinie Manush, Senators left field.
Babe Ruth, Yankees, right field.
Lou Gehrig, Yankees, first base.
Frank Higgins, Athletics, third base.
Al Simmons, White Sox, center field.
Joe Cronin, Senators, shortstop.
Bill Dickey, Yankees, catcher.
Vernon Gomez, Yankees, pitcher.

National League.
Frank Frisch, Cards, second base.
Pie Traynor, Pirates, third base.
Joe Medwick, Cards, left field.
Kiki Cuyler, Cubs, right field.
Wally Berger, Braves, center field.
Bill Terry, Giants, first base.
Travis Jackson, Giants, shortstop.
Gabby Hartnett, Cubs, catcher.
Al Lopez, Dodgers, catcher.
Carl Hubbell, Giants, pitcher.

The only major changes in the American league lineup from the results of the are poll are the substitution of Higgins, hitting .357 in place of Dykes since the latter's nomination of Simmons for Earl Averill.

Kid Chocolate Trying Comeback

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Just how far Kid Chocolate can progress on the comeback trail may be shown this week.

The Cuban, knocked out by Frankie Kiluk and Tony Canzoneri, stripped of his featherweight title claims and apparently all "through" last summer, has been fighting his way back into condition the past month or so. The most important test of his bid to regain his former prestige takes him against Pety Hayes flashy New York featherweight, in a ten-round bout at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Wednesday night. Hayes ranks as one of the best of the 126-pounders and Chocolate will need all his old skill to win.

LOOK AT BRAKES AND BODIES.

NOW THAT PRICES ARE ALL THE SAME

TODAY, MOST PEOPLE KNOW that the prices of "All Three" low-priced cars are pretty much alike. Models may differ a few dollars... but it's safe to say that a Plymouth Special Six, delivered at your door, costs about the same as the comparable model of either of Plymouth's two competitors.

So when you look at "All Three" today... there's only one thing to think about... WHICH IS THE BEST CAR—WHICH GIVES YOU THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY? We'll admit "All Three" are good automobiles. But before you buy any, consider these things:

When you step on the brake, will that car stop dead in its tracks? When your wife and children drive away, will you know they are safe, in a body of steel reinforced with steel?

Even if Plymouth COST MORE, which it probably doesn't, it would be worth it. The Special Six has Hydraulic Brakes, Safety-Steel Body, and the same Individual Wheel Springing that is used on the most expensive cars for a more comfortable back-seat ride. It has Floating Power to end vibration.

It has the luxuries that make you proud to own a car. Yet its price is right in line with comparable models of its two biggest competitors.

Look at the prices of the right. See the car at any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer. Then decide.

PRICES AND FEATURES OF THE NEW PLYMOUTH SPECIAL SIX

4-Door Sedan $620	2-Door Sedan $560
Town Sedan $655	Business Coupe $560
Ramble Seat Coupe $590

HYDRAULIC BRAKES. Always equalized. Eliminate dangerous swerving. Save frequent relinings.

SAFETY-STEEL BODY. Best safety insurance you can have on today's busy highways.

FLOATING POWER Engine Mountings. Keep vibration away from you. You ride relaxed.

INDIVIDUAL WHEEL SPRINGING. Best of so-called "knock-type" springs, as used on the most expensive cars.

Four piston valves instead of the usual three. Four-bearing Crankshaft—Valve-seat Oil Filter—Steel Artillery Wheels—Dual Trumpet Horn.

Prices as low as $485 for Standard Plymouth. All prices f.o.b. factory, Detroit, subject to change without notice. Time payments to fit your budget. Ask your dealer for the Official Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan.

FRENCH MINISTER SEEKS SECURITY PLEDGES FROM BRITAIN

DISARMAMENT HURED IN ALL PHASES TODAY

BARTHOU WILL CONFER WITH AMERICAN TOMORROW

By Herold Braman,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

LONDON, July 9 (AP)—The general political situation in Europe, including the French-sponsored eastern security pacts, were discussed at an opening conference today between Louis Barthou, French foreign minister, and Sir John Simon, foreign secretary of Great Britain.

Disarmament in all its phases was aired at a luncheon given by Sir John in honor of Barthou. The only person present not directly connected with the Anglo-French discussions was Arthur Henderson, president of the world disarmament conference.

French circles expect Barthou and Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large, to confer some time tomorrow.

Barthou's proposals to Great Britain were believed to include:

1. Great Britain should reaffirm its close friendship with France, consolidate it and give the French a feeling of security.

2. No political pact will be requested by technical collaboration should be guaranteed in the event Belgium is invaded again. (The request for technical cooperation was expected to be granted, since the general staffs of the two armies have been having discussions.)

3. The world disarmament conference should be moved here and consolidated with the 1935 naval conference, in view of the apparent failure of negotiations at Geneva.

4. These questions: What is Britain going to do about the increase of the German navy? Does Britain favor German rearmament on sea as well as land? This presumably is intended as a move to draw the British out more on German armament than was done at Geneva.

5. Great Britain will be asked to reaffirm the spirit of the Locarno pact, in which Germany, Belgium, France, Great Britain and Italy guaranteed peace in west Europe. London, it was understood, has already informed France she would reiterate her belief in that treaty.

6. The French belief in the necessity of regional pacts to the peace of the continent will be restated. England is expected to do some commitment on any act but Locarno.

7. London will be asked to invite Russia to naval preliminary conversations and the 1935 conference. Heretofore Britain has declined to insist that Germany be invited if Russia is included, for Japanese here feel Russia's entry would only emphasize far-eastern political problems at the naval conference.

Catholics Would Enlarge Boycott On Indecent Films

CHICAGO, July 9 (AP)—A move to enlist 100,000 Catholic college men and women in the crusade against objectionable films was launched today at the student's spiritual leadership convention.

Miss Helen Torpey of Detroit prepared a resolution which would prohibit the 500 representatives of Catholic institutions of higher learning to recruit their colleagues for the legion of decency, an organization campaigning against salacious motion pictures.

Extension of the campaign to books, magazines and the legitimate theater was discussed.

PANHANDLE IS AGAIN BACK OF CLINT SMALL

Leaders of Many Towns in Statements Showing How Strong is Support.

AMARILLO, July 9.—Virtually solid backing for Senator Clint Small in his race for governor from the southern tip of the South Plains north to the Texas-Oklahoma line was promised by friends in this section of the state who are working actively in his behalf.

What these supporters think about Small's strength and some indication of how he will run in these counties is given in expressions from them as follows:

J. C. Mahan, Childress—"Small carried Childress county without an organization four years ago. This year we have a splendid organization and the campaign is coming on fine. I can also speak for Cottle county and Senator Small can rest assured that he will be awarded a majority of the votes there."

Odus Caraway, Clarendon—"There is no real opposition to Small in Donley county."

Senator J. W. Reid of Canyon—"I believe Senator Small will be the next governor of Texas."

H. E. Herndon, Claude—"We will deliver to Senator Small the biggest majority he ever received in Armstrong county."

Mel Davis, Pampa—"Gray county went to Small with 84 per cent of the total vote cast four years ago. I believe that we can expect more than 85 per cent of the vote this time."

Arthur Ross, Stratford banker—"Sherman county will go for Small almost solid this time."

Judge A. A. Callaghan Panhandle—"Carson county will certainly do its share toward electing Senator Small."

Jack Allen, Perryton—"We will deliver 1000 of the 1500 votes in Ochiltree county to Senator Small."

Ray C. Johnson, Amarillo attorney—"There are approximately 10,000 votes in the county and we have signatures of more than 7,000 of them on the rolls of the Small-for-governor club."

W. J. Todd, Canadian—"I don't feel like I am exaggerating when I say Small will receive nine out of ten votes cast in Hemphill county. Roberts county will go equally strong for him, according to information I have received."

Sam Hamilton, Memphis—"We expect to see Senator Small carry Hall county by a majority over all candidates."

Rep. A. C. Johnson, Dalhart—"Dallas county will give Senator Small a good majority."

Judge J. H. Broadhurst, Spearman—"There is very little, if any, opposition to Small in Hansford."

Judge Declares Womans Has Right To Change 'Mind'

BALTIMORE, July 9 (AP)—It is a woman's prerogative—"God-given"—to change her mind at any time about anything, Judge Eugene O'Dunne has decreed in Baltimore circuit court.

In an opinion filed in the court today declaring void the marriage of Miss Virginia Classen Thompson, attractive 1933 "color girl" at the United States Naval academy, to John Bradford Bronner, of Baltimore, Judge O'Dunne said a woman has a right to change her mind even about marriage.

"Decision dissecting the feminine mind, soul and body and their several requirements are at best mere man-made law, and law never accepted as binding on the female of the species," the jurist said.

In annulling the marriage Judge O'Dunne said his opinion was based on a "lack of mental consent of Virginia Classen Thompson too subtle for ordinary understanding."

"Only a few hours before the ceremony," he said, "Miss Thompson decided not to be married."

Miss Thompson and Bronner, a filling station employe, were married at Ellicott City, Md., last November after an admitted cocktail party in Baltimore. In papers filed by Miss Thompson asking the annulment, she said friends insisted on her marriage.

SPITE MARRIAGE

by Katharine Hamilton Taylor

SYNOPSIS: Marsha Moore remembers her parents only as gay and futile people; she has lived many years with her father A. H. Gierhard, whose harsh regimen has gradually made Marsha cold and heartless hater of men. But now she has met Bob Powers, home on vacation from his job in Mexico, and she finds that she does not want to hurt him, even though she finds it impossible not to do so sometimes. Bob is calling.

Chapter Seven
MARSHA PERTURBED
"Bob murmured, 'Thanks awfully'—" as he settled by her.

"And you can hold my hand," Marsha added.

He took it and for some moments he sat staring at it; and again she had the curious and new impulse to tears that had lately disconcerted her.

Suddenly he held her hand against his cheek. "I love you very much, Marsha," he said in a whisper.

"What are you going to do about it? I know I'm not—half the man you should have but—" (his voice thickened) "if caring counts—"

"But I don't know whether it does," she answered coolly as she drew her hand away.

"I don't mean to bother you," he said.

"Then don't dear," she answered lightly.

He was staring down on her as he did so often; adoringly, yet probably.

"You won't like it much where I'm stationed in Mexico," he confided, "and I can't go back without you."

"You seem quite certain, Bob—" His chin squared, he frowned.

"I'm not," he said, "and I wish I were a better liar. I try to act certain, feeling that perhaps that's the way to win. I've heard so from other men—but right in the midst of it I know I can't cheat you. You see?"

"I do, my dear," she assured him. She wished he were Geoffrey, her sort; as her aunt had put it that day, "equally depraved." He attracted her strangely, but she did not want to be made miserable by attraction, to feel through it her cheapness, to remember through it her many compromises.

She rose. "We'll go somewhere and dance!" she said quickly; "this doesn't do! One thinks, and then— but come on! I'm not domestic!"

HE had risen slowly and as a man does who would rather not rise. "And you wanted to play mushroom and to talk about our souls," she accused.

"No," he contradicted. "I wanted to talk about myself . . . and of how lonely I'd been, and of how I dream now, that I'll never be lonely again. I had a real dream last night. In it I was coming back to the shack down near Aires Calientes and you were on the porch waiting as I turned into the gulch."

"I saw you through a gap in the trees . . . you held out your arms . . . I've never never had, awake, the equal of that moment. I ran the rest of the way."

He broke off abruptly. She stared at him, who beneath tan was flushed.

"You'll never know," he said after a long silence, "how I care for you. For here would be no way of showing you. But all life, if I had the chance, I would try to prove—"

Once more he broke off abruptly. "I've bored you," he said, a little stiffness in his voice. "Pardon me."

She saw his shoulders square, and understood through them his resolve not to trouble her. Never had she known such control. He held her cloak for her, but his hands did not linger on her shoulders as some men's did. He said, smiling a little, and mirthlessly, "I would not want to do that too often!"

IN the street he signalled a taxicab and in it he sat away from her. She had known so many men who found excuse to edge closer with every job. Some day he would find the right woman of course, some very good woman who would not be afraid of domestic evenings and of what silence might bring forth.

"Are you tired?" he asked anxiously.

"I don't think so."

"You are unusually silent, Marsha."

"If you want me to chatter sweet nothings, I'll—"

He interrupted. "I want you to do, while with me, exactly what you want to do, Marsha."

She moved suddenly to rest her cheek against his muscular upper arm. She heard him draw a sharp breath. "It means nothing," she explained, "but you said I was to do as I wanted to do."

"It means more than you think," he said; "I know it does, if my arms mean rest to you." His voice trembled, broke. He moved, slipped his

"It would kill me to hurt you."

arm around her, drew her close; held her gently. "Do—you mind?" he whispered.

"Oh, no!" she answered quite steadily, a little wearily.

"I love you so much; I want so much to kiss you," he said and he was proud of the steadiness with which he had managed to speak.

"Why not?" she answered. It might help him, she thought, to kiss before he rode away. And of course it would make no difference to her. Nothing much could make any difference to her.

He took off his hat before he bent his face to hers; then very gently he touched her lips with his.

"I am quite mad about you," she heard. She raised a hand to touch his cheek and the touch made him show a little of the madness, a very little, she thought. But he said breathlessly, "Dearest, tell me, I didn't frighten you? It would kill me to hurt you in any way."

He seemed quite himself, dancing "Please be brotherly," she had begged, "the other—rather bores me!"

His arm that encircled her did not once tighten, although his effort to keep it from doing so more than once made him flush darkly and the veins on his forehead thickened. But he seemed quite himself and brotherly, and Marsha told him at two that she had had "an enchanting evening."

For once in her life, Marsha felt a slight sense of escape at returning to her aunt's straight-laced, prim house. She felt with Bob as an actress might feel who had played the same role too many times, and suddenly found the man playing opposite her had dropped several cues in a row.

She did not sleep soon. She lay thinking of Geoffrey Tarleton who never dreamed asleep or awake and who knew her measure and whom, in her way, she loved. She would feel better after an evening or two with him. And meantime, she hoped she would not really hurt Bob Powers.

Something very important happens to Marsha, tomorrow.

FAVORED MORATORIUM

BELLEVILLE, July 9.—Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman fought for the state moratorium law, which allowed thousands of Texas home owners who were in distress to forestall mortgage foreclosures and gain time in which to save their property, a large audience was told here Monday morning.

Brenhan and LaGrande are on Monday's speaking list for Woodward, who is swinging through South Texas in his campaign for Attorney General. Tuesday he speaks at Columbus, Hallettsville and Yoakum.

HEART OF ENGLISH PEOPLE SOUGHT BY GANDHI DISCIPLE ON MISSION TO HOMETLAND

BOMBAY, July 9. (P)—Shrimati Mira Behn, better known as Miss Madeleine Slade, is returning to the land she forsook nine years ago to become a disciple of the Mahatma Gandhi.

She is going back to the scene of her girlhood social triumphs "to work quietly and persistently for a truer understanding between India and England."

Only once before, and then as the faithful attendant of the hardy little leader she serves, has this daughter of a British admiral been in her native land since she entered Gandhi's shade.

Madeleine Slade as such, the daughter of Sir Esmond Slade, the girl who went in for fox-hunting and sports, pretty clothes and dances, died November 7, 1925, she says, and in her place was born Mira Behn or, as Gandhi calls her, Mirabai.

Answers Impelling 'Call'
Her explanation for her return to England is brief:

"By birth I am the daughter of an English admiral and by choice the adopted daughter of Mr. Gandhi," she said.

"I feel an irresistible call at this juncture to go to England to work for a truer understanding—to seek with all the strength of the love which is in me to secure harmony between the two countries."

"The idea is my own and it came to me like a flash. I consulted with two other English girls before mentioning it to Mr. Gandhi. He approved the plan and has given me his blessing."

Asked how she proposed to accomplish her self-imposed mission, the disciple answered:

"By reaching the heart of the English people through the truth, and more especially by showing them what Mr. Gandhi really is and what he stands for."

Finds 'Light' In India
Born to luxury, she once explained she "had everything any girl's heart could desire—except one thing, spiritual satisfaction and real contentment with myself."

Through Romain Rolland, French philosopher, and a book he had written about Gandhi, she decided that "the leader of India's millions of destitute and starving people was the 'light' for which I had been searching."

She renounced all worldly pleasures and prepared herself for joining Gandhi in India by studying, spinning, weaving and living in seclusion with the poorest of Swiss peasants in Switzerland.

Since her conversion, she has been a steadfast follower of Gandhi and twice has been imprisoned. She is now 41.

C. G. MILLER in Wheeler Times—Study of the statistics reveals that a majority of the 756,500 automobile accidents in the United States in 1933 occurred on straight, dry roads in clear weather, and involved cars in good condition driven by persons with a year or more of experience. Over 75 per cent of these drivers were persons of mature age—from 25 to 64. The majority of the 30,000 deaths and 50,800 injuries must be attributed to blunders.

COURT HOUSE NOTES

31st District Court
The commission suit of Alex Schneider against Dr. A. McClory, growing out of the sale of the old Pampa refinery, since destroyed by fire, was started today in 31st district court.
In the first trial of the suit, Mr. Schneider was awarded commission amounting to about $20,000. The case was reversed on appeal. W. M. Lewright and Judge W. I. Game-well, the latter of Canyon, are attorneys for Mr. Schneider. Dr. McClory's legal staff is headed by W. J. Smith of Pampa and Judge C. B. Reeder of Amarillo.

Another quiet week-end was reported in Pampa today as only a few assault and drunk cases were presented in justice courts. A man was to be arraigned in Justice W. S. Baxter's court during the day for bigamy.

The Gray county commissioners court went into regular monthly session this morning and continued this afternoon.

Out-of-town men here for prospective jury duty today included J. C. Fuller, G. C. Oakley, B. L. McKee, J. W. Agee, and B. E. Glass of Alameda; P. R. Ashby, Frank Howard, of McLean; G. K. Cooms and L. M. Cox, LeFors; and J. M. Thompson of Jericho.

Marriage Licenses
Marriage licenses have been issued here to Lester Attaway and Thelma Lane, and to Paul P. Lockhart and Lella Robison.

Miss La Verne Ballard has gone to San Augustine where she will spend her vacation with relatives.

RELIEF

A. Ferguson interposed.

Ferguson said he believed the "influences" around Johnson were such that it was impossible to keep politics out of the relief administration.

Russion, only appointee of Gov. Ferguson on the commission, said he would tender his resignation today to the governor. The governor said she could not decide immediately whether to accept it.

Read said he would submit his resignation orally to Stevenson, who appointed him. Stevenson's other appointees are Harte and Holliday.

Giesecke, Brooks and Estes were appointed by Lieut. Governor Edgar E. Witt while Adams and Chestman are statutory members, as chairman of the state industrial accident board and president of the Texas judicial council.

Giesecke said he would not vote to remove Johnson until one of Johnson's supporters decided Johnson was not the man for director.

"The majority elected him in good faith and I voted against him in good faith," Giesecke said. "There is no need for all of the majority to be absent each time one must be absent. I do not believe in that policy and will not take advantage of their absence. The responsibility for Johnson rests on their shoulders."

Governor Ferguson had the secretary read a letter from Chestman stating he would be unable to attend the session and stating that he had been advised that Estes, Adams, Holliday and Harte also would be unable to make the meeting.

"It strikes me as peculiar that so many of them find other engagements of more importance than their duties on the relief commission," Governor Ferguson wrote in reply to Chestman.

Harley Sadler Show to Present Comedy This Eve

Harley Sadler this year has purchased a beautiful new tent theater, said to be the most beautiful ever built, has changed the personnel of his show, and is bringing to Pampa tonight what is reported to be the highest class tent show traveling. Special vaudeville acts have been secured, and all new plays selected for this season's run. Harley will be seen in the comedy roles which have made him famous, and Billie Sadler in a line of leading roles. Little Gloria Sadler is fast becoming famous as a dancer and will be seen nightly at the big tent.

The famous Roy E. Fox Popular Players are an added feature attraction this season with Harley Sadler and His Own company.

The local post of the American Legion is sponsoring the show. The opening play for tonight and Tuesday night is "Business Before Pleasure," with program changed Wednesday and Friday. On Monday or Tuesday night in Pampa, one lady will be admitted free when accompanied by one paid adult ticket and the ladies free ticket contained in the show advertisement in this issue of this paper.

FATHER

Nelson married Whatley's divorced wife, Mae Whatley, eight years ago. Custody of the boy, then two years old, was awarded to the mother. Mrs. Nelson died in September, 1932, and Judge McCallum gave custody of the boy to Nelson.

On June 30, 1934, Whatley drove to the Nelson house, took the boy in his car and carried him away. Since then Whatley and two others, Sebe and Baldy Whatley, have been formally charged with kidnaping the boy from Nelson. Bonds were made and they were released.

In answer to a contempt of court citation, Whatley appeared before Judge McCallum Saturday. He admitted knowing where the boy was but refused to tell it. The judge then held him to be in contempt.

"Keep him there for fifty years, if necessary, until he tells where that boy is," Judge McCallum told the bailiff as Whatley was sent to jail.

"I'll stay here until I rot before I tell where Bobby is," Whatley replied. Whatley is a Fort Worth man.

Meanwhile, officers have been unable to locate the boy.

New Postal Law In Effect Here

One of the acts of the last session of congress went into effect at the Pampa post office this morning, 90 days after the president's signature was affixed to the bill. Another act will become effective August 1.

Effective this morning, a 10-cent service charge will be added to registered mail restricted to addressees only. The fee will be charged to the mailer. No charge will be made in the charge of ordinary registered mail and any person usually securing mail for a business can still sign for registered letters or packages.

The new order means that if Mr. Blank sends a registered letter or package to be delivered only to the addressee, he will write on the label, "deliver only to addressee" and will pay 10 cents additional.

A charge on money orders not cashed at the office where designated will be made by post office beginning August 1, the local office was notified this morning. The charge will be at the same rate as issuing charge. If a person possesses a money order to be paid in Pampa and he wishes to cash it in Berger, he will be charged extra, depending on the amount.
