CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY
901 North Frost Street.
"Truth" is the subject of the lesson-lesson which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 29.

The golden text is: "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Psalms 25:5).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-lesson is the following from the Bible: "... a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (Deuteronomy 32:4).

The lesson-lesson includes also the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth is the intelligence of immortal mind. Error is the so-called intelligence of mortal mind. Truth is the light which dispels error. As mortals begin to understand Spirit, they give up the belief that there is any true existence apart from God" (pages 282-283).

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

more than nine. The state should be re-districted and the two unnecessary courts eliminated. The reforms advocated would save the taxpayers of Texas more than half a million dollars a year, and counties huge sums also. The reforms are safe and conservative, and if an elected governor an earnest effort will be made to secure adequate legislation to put them in force.

The modern criminal has made marvelous advancement in the technique of crime. His progress has been much greater than that of the agencies of government used to apprehend and convict the law violator. The facilities provided for the use of our sheriff and ranger forces are entirely inadequate to cope with the astute and violently desperate methods used by the modern robber and desperado. Until we have adequately equipped a competent state constabulary to work in conjunction with all other law enforcement agencies of the counties and cities, we have no reason to condemn the failure to exterminate the desperate criminals that are seriously menacing society at this time. I want to see the State Ranger Force reorganized in such a manner as to enable it to function in keeping with the best tradition of the Texas Ranger. With this force I want to combine the highway patrol. We must then provide modern identification bureaus, efficient radio facilities, adequate transportation, and modern arms that will put the officer on even terms with the criminals. The criminal element has challenged society and the state must answer the challenge in no uncertain terms. After the officer has done his duty, and the racketeer is in the penitentiary, we will need a governor who will not make it necessary to catch the criminal the second time. It seems that an extreme liberal wave has swept across the country. With it has come law violation in its most dangerous type. All laws of this state must be enforced vigorously and fearlessly. A governor who has proper conception of his duty will use all the agencies at his command to see that law is enforced, and to this end I pledge myself without qualification.

Retail Sales in Leading Cities Are Maintained

NEW YORK, July 27. (AP)—Despite the record-breaking heat wave and drought which paralyzed business through a wide area, the Dun & Bradstreet weekly review says that in the majority of leading cities retail sales are being maintained above the 1933 level by a range of 5 to 80 per cent.

When it is considered that at this period a year ago there was underway a broadened consumer buying program inspired by fears of inflation which led to the large accumulation of all types of goods, the agency added, "considerable encouragement" is to be gained from the fact that "there was nothing of major importance to elicit discouragement in the week's progress."

The review stated the heat and

UNDERWORLD IS EXCHANGING OLD FACES FOR NEW

Plastic Surgery Is Making Trouble For Police

CHICAGO, July 27. (AP)—The government's ace manhunters were confronted with a new problem in running down public enemies today—the ancient art of plastic surgery. The underworld is exchanging old faces for new by means of the skillful use of the surgeon's knife and the men most wanted in the drive against crime may no longer look as they did six months ago.

For some time the authorities have suspected there was in Chicago a clearing house for criminals to undergo face lifting operations to thwart the law, but only now has the full extent of possible ramifications of the practice come to light. The revelation came after James Probasco, 67-year-old horse and dog fancier, leaped from the nineteenth floor of a loop skyscraper, where he had been questioned about the use of his home as an infirmary for facial operations for the late John Dillinger and one of his mobsters, Homer Van Meter.

"If," said Samuel P. Copley of the Chicago bureau of federal investigation, "Probasco had lived, we should have had the names of many gangsters who had their faces disguised in his home." The investigator's statement led to the belief that George "Baby Face" Nelson and John Hamilton, hunted Dillinger gangsters, may have followed the lead of their late chief with operations to disguise themselves. Dillinger's operation didn't stop federal and Indiana officers from catching up with him last Sunday night. The doctor who "lifted" Dillinger's face, straightened his nose and otherwise altered his appearance was still being sought.

SITHEENVILLE, July 27 (AP)—Ross Dennis, 32, shot Monday night in an altercation with Tom Lindsey, a special officer, at Lipan, died today in a hospital here.

A charge of attempt to murder previously had been filed against Lindsey, who had been on duty at Lipan in an effort to curb an outbreak of petty crime.

The officer said he was forced to shoot Dennis, stating Dennis possessed a shotgun into his side and said "it would be one of them."

A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

WASHINGTON—Two women high in Washington official circles were cast in important roles in the labor difficulties which beset San Francisco.

One was Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, charged with the duty of acting for the president in an attempt to bring about some kind of settlement.

The other was a veteran member of the house and California's lone congresswoman, Mrs. Florence P. Kahn, representing in congress a large portion of San Francisco.

With the former it was a case of trying to solve a problem of national import. With the latter it was a matter of vital personal concern.

Political Concern.

Mrs. Kahn, who succeeded her husband as a member of the house back in 1927, is running for reelection this year in an attempt to prolong a record of family service in congress which had its beginning at the turn of the century.

It's a matter of great concern to her just how the general strike is settled. Ultimately, it may be gauged in votes.

A republican to whom party irregularity is not only distasteful but actually repugnant, Mrs. Kahn is reported to have serious democratic opposition for re-election. It is opposition of the type known in political circles as the "Roosevelt variety."

She is a member of the important house committee on appropriations, and during the last congress had occasion often and with a certain degree of vehemence to speak her mind on the way the democratic administration was spending money. As a result, along with other regular republicans, she has been singled out for attack.

Popular Mrs. Kahn.

Despite this, however, she is a general favorite among her colleagues in the house—democrat and republican alike—because she is witty, versatile and industrious.

She seldom makes a set speech, but her interruptions in debate and in committee hearings more than once have made her male colleagues squirm. Her humor is known in the capital and elsewhere.

Her husband was a Shakespearean actor before he went into politics, sharing the stage with such celebrities as Edwin Booth, Joseph Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Florence and Salvino. Mrs. Kahn profited by that association.

Extras Will Be Sold at Game on Saturday Night

Election returns will be available during the baseball game at Road Runner park tomorrow night. The Pampa Daily NEWS will issue extras during game time and megaphoning of returns will also be done as returns are made available.

The first extra should be available about 9 o'clock. It will give complete returns of all races up to that hour. The outcome of many contests should be known by that time.

The Pampa Road Runners will be meeting the Abernathy club in the first of a two game series tomorrow night.

Employees of the London transport board have organized their own aviation club.

McKEE WON'T BE IN PAMPA MONDAY NIGHT

McSHAIN AND HILL TO RUN WILD IF THEY WISH

Pat. McKee won't be here Monday night to see that Danny McShain wrestles according to state rules and regulations when he meets Don Hill in the main event at Road Runner park. Hill can take care of himself, however.

That little bundle of speed and science, Doug Henderson of Dallas, will meet Cyclone Mackey in the semi-final. The opening match will see Andy Gump pitted against Wildcat Willie of LeFors. The card will open at 8:30 o'clock.

Hill and McShain have been at each other's throat ever since Hill eliminated McShain from the midweight elimination tournament in Amarillo. They have not been on the mat together since then and their rivalry has had time to develop. The Irishman treated Hill roughly in their elimination battle and since then Hill has been threatening to give McShain a lesson in the art of self defense.

The cocky McShain has been handing out defeats to the best in the wrestling game. He has been riding roughshod over them all. His last two victories were over

Hemphill County Added to Forage, Feed Loan List

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)— Addition of 228 counties in 14 states to the list of counties in which feed and forage loans may be made to farmers was announced today by the farm credit administration.

About 23,000 applications for loans have been received, of which 21,000 totaling $2,000,000 have been approved and paid. Loans are made from the $525,000,000 emergency drought relief fund appropriated by the last session of congress.

Today's additions brought to 806 the total number of counties selected by the farm credit administration from emergency areas listed by the bureau of agricultural economics. The designations now cover all of the Dakotas, Nevada, Utah, and parts of 17 other states.

A Tiny Fichu Collar

By ELLEN WORTH

THERE'S nothing like a fichu collar for giving a party air to a very small frock. It's an adorably quaint fashion which dresses up the simplest of them.

Certainly the design of this dress is simple enough. There's a brief yoke, a front-pleated skirt, tiny puff sleeves and the fichu which crosses in front, the ends forming a big butterfly bow in back. You'll want to set it off by contrast and a pleated edge.

Taffeta in a bon bon shade, with dotted taffeta for the fichu, would be charming. Handkerchief linen is also a smart suggestion. Batiste, with eyelet embroidered batiste for the collar is another attractive idea. Crisp white organdie is dainty for Sunday.

You may omit the fichu, if desired, and add a little bow at the neckline.

The New Fashion Book will help you plan your wardrobe. Send 10 cents for book.

Pattern No. 5603 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. (Size 4 requires 1 1/4 yards 36-inch material, 5/8 yard 36-inch dotted, 2 1/4 yards pleating.)

Send 15 cents in coin or stamps. Mail your order to New York Fashion Bureau, 222 West 39th St., New York. Print your name and address clearly and print pattern number, size or bust.

With Dillinger When Trap Closed

John Dillinger's last sweetheart, the woman whose picture was found in his watch, was Mrs. Roy Steele, left, divorced wife of a Gary, Ind., postman, Chicago police declare. She and Mrs. Anna Sage, right, "the woman in red," have been identified as partners with the bandit when he went to his death. Police say Mrs. Steele was rushed to her parents' home in Fargo, N. D., by federal agents immediately after the Chicago ambush.

BANKHEAD ACT EXPECTED TO BE SCRAPPED

GOVERNMENT WILL BUY POSSIBLY SEVEN MILLION CATTLE

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)— Out of the dust and misery of the nation's worst drought two developments arose today:

1. There is a possibility that the Bankhead act, involving compulsory reduction of the cotton crop, may be scrapped. The drought has been extending its killing reign into the south, notably Texas and Oklahoma. This had led officials to wonder whether the crop would not be reduced even lower than the 10,460,251 bales allowed under the Bankhead act.

2. An enormous expansion of the government's cattle buying program is planned. Secretary Wallace declared "we expect to buy at least 4,000,000 cattle and possibly 7,000,000." The government already has bought 1,500,000 to save them from death by thirst and starvation.

Wallace predicted the AAA's general effort to aid the farmer, or some similar plan, "will continue regardless of any change in administration—or there will be disaster again."

"Grotesque" was the way he described the saying that "the Lord is punishing farmers for reducing acreage."

"If that is true," he said, "I wonder why the Almighty has not punished the factory owners, who through these years have stopped production the moment they could no longer make a profit."

Efforts to persuade families in hardest hit sections to sell their land and move to better soil were said to be having some success. The word went out that several thousand acres in north central states have been optioned by the government for purchase when titles are clear. Officials disclaimed any desire to force families to move.

With the level of water in the ground dangerously low, officials of the geological survey said drilling more deep wells offered the only immediate solution of the water shortage.

As for the cotton control act, farm administration officials said they were sworn to enforce the law as it stands and could not do otherwise unless the southern farmers demanded its end.

A selection of the Bankhead act declares that "if... the president finds that the economic emergency in cotton production and marketing has ceased to exist, he shall so proclaim, and no tax under this act shall be levied with respect to cotton harvesting after the effective date of such proclamation."

Reports from Texas, largest cotton producing state, and Oklahoma, fourth largest producer, indicate that drought which has been mounting in intensity in the southwest for two weeks might cut production below the allotments granted to those states under the act. Texas was allotted 3,091,200 bales and Oklahoma 748,800 bales.

The only hitch foreseen in termination of the act is the effect it might have on farmers who raise less than their allotments and would therefore have tax-exemption certificates to sell. These would have a cash value and would be salable to individuals producing more than their allotments.

However, this difficulty may be avoided, again by the forces of nature. The July 1 crop report indicated that production of most states, and therefore of most farmers, would be below the allotments granted. Unless a considerable number of farmers had cotton to sell in excess of allotments no market would exist for the certificates.

7 CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS NOT OPPOSED

HATTON W. SUMNERS HAS STRONG FOR OPPONENT

AUSTIN, July 27 (AP)—Candidates for democratic nominations to congress from the 21 Texas districts, in most cases, are covering new territory in their plea for votes. All but seven have opposition.

The last regular session of the legislature redistricted the state to make room for three additional districts to obviate the necessity of sending three representatives-at-large. Under the congressional reapportionment, based on the last federal census, the Legislature increased its delegation by three.

It was necessary to shift some counties from one district to another to keep the population of each proportionate. In three of those districts there are no incumbents who reside within the altered lines. One is made up only of Bexar county, which formerly was in the old fourteenth district, represented by Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi who is without opposition. Another is in West Texas with San Angelo approximately the hub. Geo. E. Terrell of Alto, one of the congressmen-at-large, resides in a third new district, in East Texas, but he is not a candidate. Another district where an incumbent does not reside is in the far northwestern part of the state.

One of the other congressmen-at-large, Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, is opposing Hatton W. Sumners of Dallas, long time member of the house from the fifth district. Dallas county was given a district by itself.

Congressman-at-large Joseph W. Bailey is trying to replace Senator Tom Connally in the upper house.

There is a hot race in Bexar county for congressman from the new twentieth district. C. K. Quin, mayor of San Antonio; Maury Mavrick, Bexar county tax collector; John K. Weber, until recently chairman of the Bexar county democratic executive committee; Thurman Barrett, and E. F. (Dick) Cullen, are contending for the nomination.

Incumbents who are unopposed are Kleberg, Wright, Patman of Texas, first district; Martin Dies of Jasper, second; J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, ninth; J. J. Buchanan of Brenham, tenth; R. E. Thomson of El Paso, sixteenth; and Marvin Jones of Amarillo, eighteenth district.

All are members or chairmen of important committees. Galveston county, home of Congressman Clark W. Thompson, was taken from the seventh district and placed in the ninth, the balliwick served so long by Mansfield. He did not care to oppose Mansfield.

Morgan Sanders of Canton, a member of the ways and means committee, was opposed by three in the third district: Garland R. Farmer of Henderson; A. V. Grant of Longview, and Herman V. Puckett of Quitman. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, of the fourth district, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee and close personal friend of Vice President John N. Garner, has as opponent Jesse Morris of Greenville.

The place of Luther A. Johnson of Corsicana, sixth district, of the foreign affairs committee, is contested by E. B. Creech of Ennis and Tom White of Ellis county.

Hamilton Hunted In Abilene Area

ABILENE, July 27. (AP)—West Texas officers today doubled their search for Raymond Hamilton and his fellow fugitives from the penitentiary after three men in a black V-8 sedan hijacked a Hamilton man early this morning. The trio drove alongside Fate Ingram, at pistol point ordered him out of his car, also a V-8, robbed him of $50 and sped away in the two cars on highway 4-39 between Anson and Hamilton.

Word was quickly borne to City Marshal Johnson of Hamilton, who notified Sheriff Jim Lee Gordon at Anson. The report was passed on to police throughout this area. License number of Ingram's stolen car is A59-425. It is a black coupe with wire wheels and is equipped with radio. Two of the men, Ingram said, were about five feet seven inches in height, wore in shirt sleeves, and one wore a cap. He was unable to describe the third, who remained in the sedan. Ingram could give only a part of the car's license number, the figures "49".

State Senator W. R. Poage of Waco is opposing the renomination of O. H. Cross of Waco, member of the banking and currency committee.

Fritz G. Lanham of Fort Worth, twelfth district, has Fred J. Berry and Theo. Koenig, both of Fort Worth, as opponents.

W. D. McFarlane of Graham, thirteenth district, is opposed by George W. Backus of Vernon and Sam B. Spence of Wichita Falls.

Milton West of Brownsville, who succeeded Vice President Garner as a member of the fifteenth district, is opposed by Gordon Griffin of McAllen.

Two are opposing Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene, seventeenth district. They are Carl O. Hamlin of Breckenridge, and Oscar Chastain of Eastland. Blanton is a member of the appropriations committee.

In the nineteenth district, carved from some of the populous areas heretofore represented by congressmen in the Panhandle and plains sections, there are five aspirants: State Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, George H. Mahon of Colorado, Homer L. Pharr of Lubbock, Clark M. Mullean of Lubbock, and Fred C. Halls of Spur.

In the new twenty-first district the candidates are Charles L. South of Coleman; Carl Runge of Mason, E. E. (Pat) Murphy and Gulberson Deal, both of San Angelo.

Champ Clark In Vote Duel With Tom Pendergast

KANSAS CITY, July 27 (AP)—The United States senate seat lost when Jim Reed quit in 1928 was the object of a three-fold fight today among Missouri democrats.

"Big Tom" Pendergast, boss of Kansas City's "Little Tammany," is opposed by the St. Louis democratic organization and the faction headed by Bennett Champ Clark, junior senator and son of the former speaker of the house.

Clark, a hard and outspoken campaigner, has taken the stump for Congressman J. L. Milligan, an "anti-boss" candidate. Harry S. Truman, Pendergast's candidate, has countered with the charge Clark aspires to become the state's party boss.

Questioning Clark's loyalty to President Roosevelt and the recovery program, Truman has cited what he calls the senator's "close friendship" with Senator Huey P. Long, the Louisiana "kingfish."

Battling the two is Congressman John J. Cochran, backed by the St. Louis faction which carried off the city election victory last year in the heretofore republican stronghold. Reed is on the sidelines.

A man known in police circles as "The Count," has been arrested in five states and ousted from three foreign countries on pickpocket charges. His latest arrest was the twentieth.

TORONTO GOVERNMENT BLOCKS MOVE TO EXHIBIT QUINTUPLETS

DEATH WOULD FOLLOW SAYS COURT ORDER

FOUR GUARDIANS ARE APPOINTED FOR CHILDREN

TORONTO, July 27 (AP)—The protection of four guardians was given to the tiny Dionne quintuplets today to prevent their "exploitation" at the Chicago world's fair, which was called "certain death."

Arthur W. Roebach, attorney general of the province of Ontario, obtained an order from District Court Judge H. D. Lesak, appointing the guardians.

He charged a contract signed May 31 with Chicago promoters by Viola Dionne, father of the 60-day-old quintuplets, contained "many catches."

Dr. Allan R. DaFoe, who has attended the five sisters since their birth, was named one guardian. The others are W. H. Alderson of the Red Cross emergency committee; Kenneth Morrison, Gallander merchant, and Oliver Dionne, grandfather of the famous children who have outlived any previously known quintuplets.

"Exploiters from American cities," said Roebach, "who come to Canada to pull off a racket of this kind need not expect the attorney general's office or the courts will stand idly by. The lives of children are of greater concern in Canada than profits of an exploitation undertaking, or, in other words, the profits of a vaudeville troupe who are playing with the lives of defenseless children."

"There is no law," said the attorney general, "which would permit us to adequately deal with the American gentlemen attempting the exploitation in question. We must be satisfied with merely circumventing their scheme."

Dionne, the contract specified, was to be paid $100 a week until the infants were ready for exhibition, and $200 weekly with a percentage of receipts from the display at the Chicago world's fair.

Canning Plants Are Allotted to Deming, Roswell

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—Relief officials here have tentatively approved the establishment of canning plants at Deming and Roswell, N. M., and possibly other cities in the state to handle beef purchased under the drought aid program, subject to agreement to the plan by relief officials of that state.

Officials here indicated the starting of such a program is now up to New Mexico relief directors. The relief administration will hold a class of instruction for persons to supervise canning work at Amarillo, Tex., Aug. 6 and relief officials hope New Mexico should send representatives to that meeting.

Supervisors needed include an engineer familiar with installation of equipment, a fruit processor, inspectors and a woman with experience in home economics demonstration.

The office of Senator Hatch of New Mexico here has communicated with H. L. Kent of the New Mexico State college inquiring whether such experts may not be found on the college staff and sent to Amarillo.

Kent answered saying he saw no reason why a canning program could not be carried out in New Mexico and said he believed inspectors and supervisors could be found in the state who would be satisfactory to the relief administration.

Island Bureau Is Established In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—Uncle Sam is setting up a bureau similar to Great Britain's famous colonial office.

Establishment of the bureau of territories and insular possessions in the interior department has gone almost unnoticed in the rapid expansion of alphabetical agencies, but it will be of much importance outside the United States proper.

It is the first permanent agency for governing America's outlying domain.

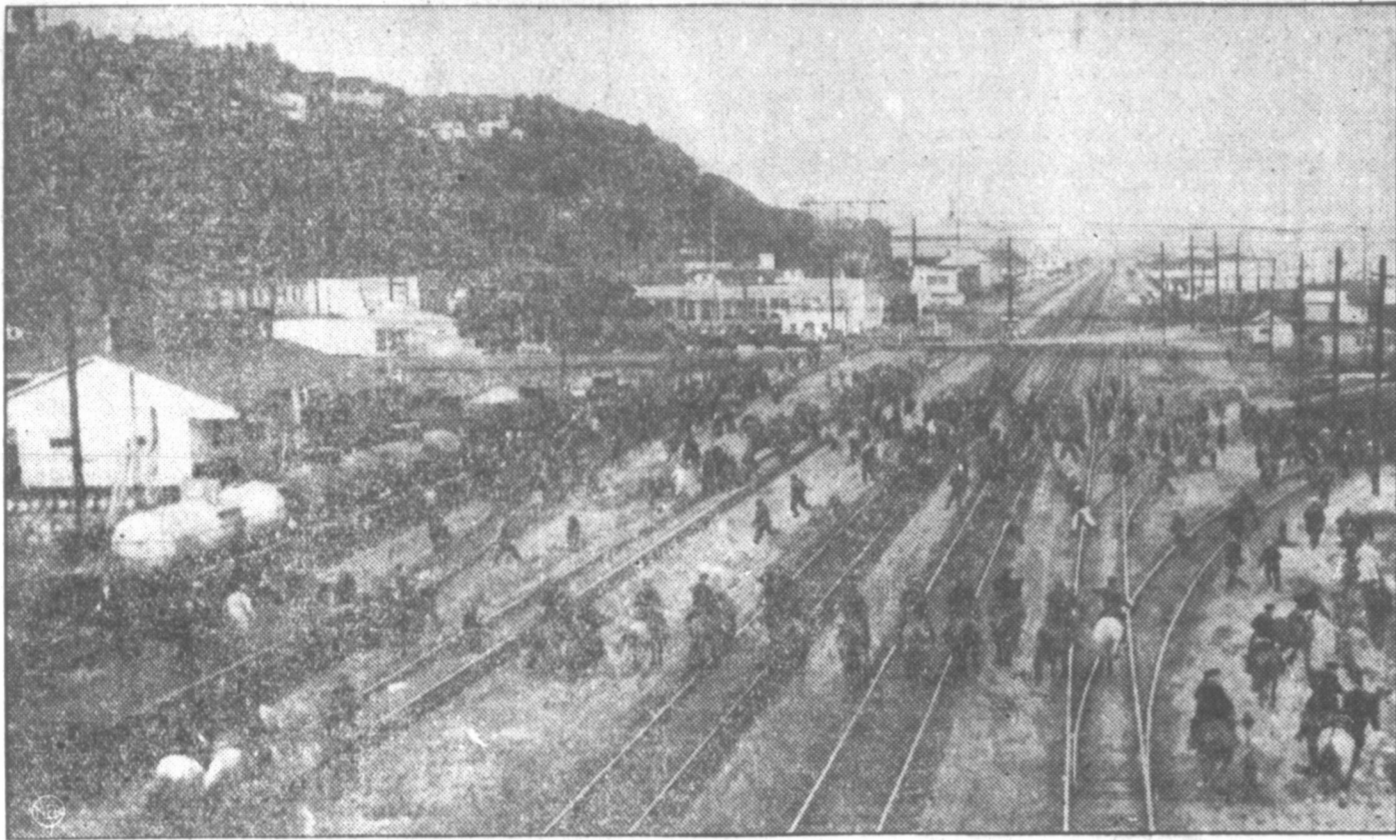

Trucks are to transfer Puerto Rican records from the war department to the new agency today. Also under its wing will be Hawaiian, Alaskan and Virgin Islands affairs. These three have been under the interior department for many years, but the setup required little co-ordination among responsible officials.

This situation the new bureau is designed to correct, as well as to solidify relationships between the territories and the mother country.

The insular bureau in the war department is slated for liquidation ten or twelve years hence when the Philippines get independence and the Dominican customs receivership ends.

RACE IS WARM IN SHEEP AND GOAT COUNTRY

Four Seeking Office In Garner's Old District

SAN ANGELO, July 27 (AP)—Four candidates in the newly-created 21st district this week are making last-minute appeals for votes in a race which many politicians agree may lead to the most important congressional office in Texas.

The sprawling 21st district was carved by the last Texas legislature from the sheep and goat raising counties of West Texas, and the man who wins this contest has the opportunity to make himself representative of the most powerful group in this section, the sheep and goat men.

Including Uvalde, the pecan and goat raising county from which John Nance Garner rose to become vice-president of the United States, the district also embraces San Angelo, the largest inland wool market in the world, Rockspinks, the goat capital of Texas, and Del Rio, second only to San Angelo as a wool and mohair market.

To the north and east lie Coke, Sterling, Brown, Runnels and Coleman counties, rich farming and cotton raising sections and consequently the most populous. But to the south lie the sheep and goat producing counties of Bandera, Croch, Edwards, Gillespie, Irion, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Kinney, Lampasas, Llano, McCulloch, Mills, Mason, Menard, Real, San Saba, Schleicher, Sutton, Tom Green, Uvalde and Valverde.

Most of these counties were taken from the old 15th district, eliminating El Paso, which has the largest population. Not only does the new district include most of the wool producing areas of Texas, but it constitutes the greatest goat raising section in the United States.

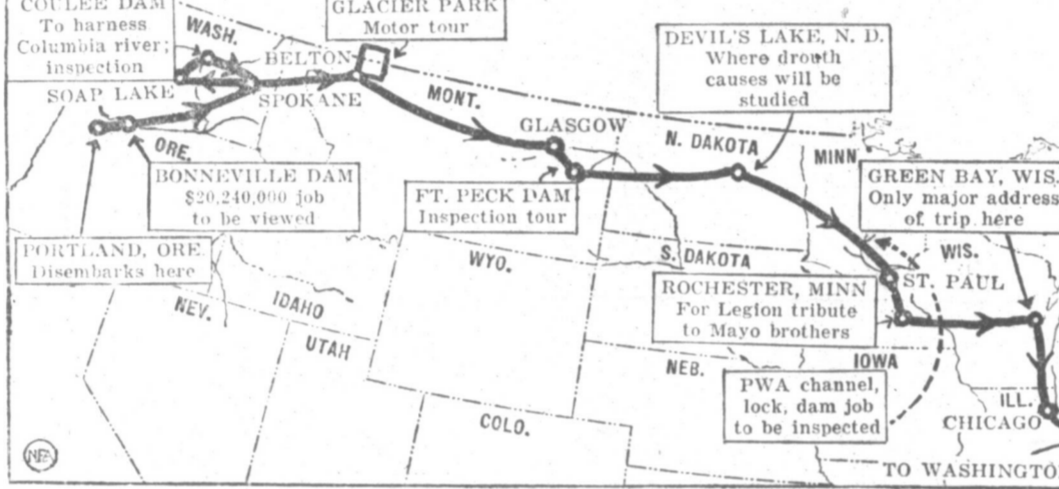

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' association, the Texas Wool and Mohair Warehouse association and the Texas Angora Goat Breeders' association long have been powerful political factors in West Texas. A movement is under way to combine these into one organization which would place representatives in Austin and in Washington to sponsor its interests. Sponsors of this movement point out that it offers a chance for Texas to wrest the leadership from Wyoming, Montana and Utah, a section to which congress in the past has looked for political guidance in matters affecting the sheep raiser. Accordingly, the man elected to congress from the new 21st district has a chance of winning this unified support which represent a block of votes, enough to assure his return to congress every two years with little or no opposition.

The four candidates in the race are Culberson Deal of San Angelo, E. E. (Pat) Murphy of San Angelo, Carl Runge of Mason and C. L. South of Coleman.

As the platforms of the candidates are similar the winner will be elected upon his personality and campaigning ability. They are for a high tariff as far as it applies to ranch and farm products. All favor "truth in fabrics" legislation which would require all manufacturers of goods to state on the selvage the amount of wool, mohair and cotton used in their articles. Redistribution of wealth through income and inheritance taxes, lower taxation and more federal relief with the elimination of red tape and politics.

Murphy proudly tells of working as a shoe clerk to earn his way through high school. He is a graduate of Cumberland university, Tennessee law school, holds a degree from the School of Government at Georgetown university at Washington and an LL. E. from the National university at Washington. Murphy enlisted at the outbreak of the world war as a private, was wounded in the Argonne Forest battle. Returning home, he was

Roosevelt to See Reclamation Jobs on Return Trip

Reclamation projects will receive major attention of President Roosevelt on his journey across the country to Washington, after he disembarks from the cruiser Houston in Portland, Ore., Aug. 2. Following the route shown here, he will inspect Bonnevillle, Coulee and Ft. Peck dams, as well as halt at Devil's Lake, N. D., for a study of water table subsidence and its aggravation of the drought. Another project that will be viewed is the $33,500,000 PWA lock, channel, and dam work on the upper Mississippi River. The president is scheduled to reach Washington on Aug. 10.

twice elected county attorney of Tom Green county.

Culberson Deal, formerly manager of the San Angelo Beard of City Development, is running as "the man who gets things done." He was instrumental in obtaining the federal fish hatchery, the regional agricultural credit corporation bank and other advantages for San Angelo during his terms as B. C. D. manager.

Carl Runge long has been a leader in Mason county affairs. Twice the voters of Mason county wrote Runge's name on the ticket for county attorney and he held that office for two terms. He served one term as district judge by appointment. He is a graduate from the University of Texas. During the war he was an instructor in the school of military acoustics at Austin.

C. L. South is Coleman county's favorite political son. He taught in the rural schools from 1914 to 1920. He served as county school superintendent, 1920 to 1925, county judge 1925 to 1931, and as district attorney of the 35th district.

There have been 62,721 poll taxes paid in the district this year, compared with 52,041 votes cast in the gubernatorial race in 1932.

STOCKS BREAK IS CAUSED BY FALSE RUMORS

DOUBT FEAR RAID WAS CAUSE OF PANIC IN MARKET

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—Officials doubted today that a bear raid caused stocks to break yesterday, but they would like to know the source of false rumors just the same.

Ferdinand Pecora, assailing rumor mongering as "unethical and highly unpatriotic," said he expected the New York exchange would try to find the source of the rumors. They were reported to have said that Italian troops were marching into Austria.

Stocks fell $1 to $10. Some officials felt that apprehensions about the European situation touched off a reaction for which other factors also were responsible. Among these he cited the drought, weakened marginal accounts and the summer business lull.

Pecora, member of the securities and exchange commission, said the board apparently lacks power at present to proceed against false rumor spreaders.

Although the stock control law contains nothing dealing specifically with the dissemination of false rumors to affect securities prices, Pecora said the commission had power to conduct any kind of investigation about securities markets that it believes necessary. It also can recommend legislation on the basis of such an inquiry.

Three Judges of Hell Are Blamed For Fatal Bomb

ITALY READY TO INTERVENE AGAINST NAZIS

MUSSOLINI IS CERTAIN HITLER HAS LOST HIS NERVE

ROME, July 27 (AP)—A government spokesman said today that no further Italian troops will be sent to the Austrian border at present. He characterizes the Austrian situation as satisfactory.

Commenting on the intense diplomatic activity in progress for the last two days, this spokesman said it was not designed to create any concerted action and that no diplomatic steps would be taken in Berlin by Great Britain, France, or Italy.

He said the reported concentration of German troops on the Austrian border was not regarded here with alarm, and on the contrary the Italian government was relieved by the belief that the German soldiers not only would prevent Austrian legionnaires, now in Germany, from going into Austria but also would prevent the escape into Germany of Austrian terrorists.

The unofficial Vienna report that Premier Mussolini would attend the funeral of Chancellor Dollfus Saturday in Vienna was denied by the spokesman.

He further said the Italian government looks with pleasure and relief upon the appointment of Franz von Papen, German vice chancellor, as minister to Austria, believing that this indicates that Chancellor Hitler of Germany wishes to smooth over the situation. Nevertheless, Premier Mussolini watched developments in Austria closely. He held 48,000 troops on the Austrian frontier and as many more within quick marching distance of the border today as he watched for any sign that foreign intervention in Austria is needed.

A strong air force, reinforced by several squadrons, moved up from a more southerly point in the last 24 hours, was ready to accompany the army should marching orders be given. Forty-eight planes, fully equipped for emergency duty, passed over Venice yesterday en route north.

A government official said emphatically intervention would be held back as a last resort and expressed hope it would not be necessary. It was evident, however, if such a move is called for, Italy will play a major role.

ADVANCE MANEUVERS

GENEVA, July 27 (AP)—Diplomatic circles reported today that the annual maneuvers of the first division of the Swiss army will be advanced two weeks, particularly as the result of the recent seizure on Lake Constance of explosives being smuggled from Germany to Austria.

Texas Rangers To Guard Polls In Gregg County

KILGORE, July 27 (AP)—Mayor Roy Laird today protested against what he termed "Texas rangers appointing themselves as guardians of the purity of the Gregg county ballot."

Speaking for a group of citizens with kindred sentiments, the mayor referred to a statement attributed to Ranger Joe Osaba to the effect that 25 rangers would guard Gregg county's seven boxes against irregularities tomorrow.

"We've not invited nor want interference from self-appointed ballot box guards," Mayor Laird said. "We have ample police power and, after all, Gregg county is not the bad land of Texas."

"I understand the guarding plan has not the official sanction of the governor or ranger headquarters. It is presumptuous and insulting to the integrity of Gregg citizens. "Surely the governor will put a stop to this impertinence. Rangers have no place in politics—certainly not in ours."

Several days ago rangers were quoted as saying they had been investigating a purported poll tax fraud scheme with wide ramifications in Gregg county.

MOBILIZATION OF LEGION IS DISCONTINUED

THEODORE HABICHT IS RELIEVED OF HIS DUTIES

MUNICH, Germany, July 27. (AP)—Chancellor Hitler was believed today to have bowed to foreign powers and taken another long stride toward conservatism by disavowing Theodore Habicht, Austrian Nazi leader in Germany.

An announcement was made last night that Habicht had been relieved of his duties, shortly after Hitler arrived hastily in Munich.

By midnight all preparations for mobilization of the Nazi Austrian legion here had abruptly ceased.

Hitler departed as suddenly as he came and there has been no official statement as to his whereabouts.

An analogy between his trip and the revolt of June 30 was seen for both times his object was to crush radicalism. Habicht had clashed before with Hitler. Several months ago without authorization he served an ultimatum on the Dollfuss, Austrian government in a radio speech, demanding that Nazis be granted power.

Hitler temporarily muzzled him and apparently has made the muzzle permanent.

Many observers concluded Hitler yielded to external pressure at a crucial moment, for one of his fondest desires is an Austro-German union. But they were certain it would not heighten the morale of the legion, already severely shaken by insurrectionist reverses in Austria.

Jubilant among the Nazi ranks has largely given way to disappointment.

War Impossible, Hitler Beaten, French Assert

PARIS, July 27. (AP)—The French foreign office said today war is "impossible" as an immediate result of Chancellor Dollfuss' assassination.

Peace, instead, it was said, was strengthened by the "failure" of Austrian Nazis and world wide disapproval of the German campaign against the little dictator.

Hitler was described by other officials as suffering a "striking defeat."

His recall of Minister Rieth from Vienna and disavowal of Theodore Habicht, Austrian Nazi leader in Germany, were cited as evidence that Hitler realizes his policy is "disastrous."

"The war scare alarmed the government particularly because of its possible effect in the United States," officials explained, "are tired of our troubles and we do not want people saying the Franco-German situation is bringing another war."

Officials said neither France, Great Britain, nor Italy was worried, only "shocked."

"The abominable tragedy and terrible crime of gangsters," was their description of the Dollfuss slaying. Mussolini's movement of troops to the border was welcomed as a precaution and as a warning to both Austrian and German Nazis that Italy, with France and England behind her, means business.

To Start the Day Right

By ELLEN WORTH

SMOCK and span for a summer morning's shopping, in fresh, washable percale or gingham—It's a refreshing way to start the day, and little frocks like this one are so simple to make and so inexpensive you can have several in different colors and materials.

This frock would be attractive for informal afternoons, too. Make it in one of the inexpensive cotton sheers—voile, Swiss, lawn or dimity. The dark color—navy, brown, and even black, with white or bright-colored prints or dots, are very smart. The pleated jabot can be detachable. Made of organdy, it is easily washed and ironed, and gives a dressy touch. Note that the tab at the neck simply buttons over the jabot, holding it in place. Watch this column every day for correct styles. You can depend upon the accuracy of the patterns, too, and that's a big help.

The New Fashion Book will help you plan your wardrobe. Send 10 cents for book. Pattern No. 5605 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 bust. (Size 34 requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch material, 3 1/2 yard contrasting material for jabot.)

Send 15 cents in coin for stamps. Mail your order to this paper, care Fashion Center, P. O. Box 176, Times Square, New York, N. Y. Give name and address clearly and print pattern number, size or bust. Copyright, 1934, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

To order, address Pampa Daily NEWS, Fashion Center, Times Square P. O. Box 176, N. Y. Write name and address plainly, giving number and size of pattern wanted. Your order will be filled the day it is received by our New York pattern bureau.

Revolt Against FDR Is Brewing, Says Fletcher

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—Reporting that a "revolt against the new deal" is brewing in the middle and northwestern states, Chairman Henry P. Fletcher of the republican national committee predicted today that the Roosevelt administration would increase relief expenditures before the fall elections to assure return of a new deal congress.

Leaning back in his chair at republican headquarters to discuss prospects for the November election, Fletcher said he was increasingly optimistic over the outlook for republican gains in congress and state offices.

Asked whether the republican organization would obtain funds necessary for an extensive campaign, Fletcher smiled and said:

"We are not downhearted about money. We'll not have as much as the democrats. From now on and in increasing volume as the elections near, there will be a great outpouring of government funds, which, in effect, will constitute a great campaign fund."

"The funds would go, he predicted, for drought relief, reclamation and planting trees. He asserted the farm administration was holding up crop reduction checks so they may reach the agricultural areas at the height of the campaign.

"The people generally," he said, "are beginning to realize that the vast expenditures of the new deal must be paid for, and the thrifty people know they are the ones who are going to pay."

Hurricane Death Toll Now Eight

HOUSTON, July 27. (AP)—The known death toll of the hurricane that smashed a 100-mile section of the Texas gulf coast Wednesday was raised to 8 today with the finding of the body of a Mexican near Edna in Matagorda county.

The possibility that this figure would be raised to 11 grew when it became known that the oyster house in which Mrs. J. H. Howard and her 9-year-old son sought refuge near Sargent had been washed away.

Charles H. Elmer, 67-year-old fisherman, was missing after waves overturned his small craft in the Bernard river near Freeport.

Five of those killed lost their lives when a freak twister, off-shoot of the hurricane, swept East Morales, near Edna in Jackson county. The others were carried to their death in the surging waters that followed 80-mile an hour winds.

Farmers Refuse To Leave Farms

WASHINGTON, July 27. (AP)—The ties that bind farmers to drought-scorched land of the western plains are growing too strong for the federal emergency relief administration to break.

Though suffering terrific hardship, all except a comparative few are declining FERA's offer of assistance in moving to land that is better-watered.

This became known today when Lawrence Westbrook, assistant administrator in charge of drought relief, said he knew that "in spite of hell and high water, the population of the drought areas is planning to stick it out."

"Years of insufficient moisture, capped by this year's disaster, have seared crops and pastures and in some places turned top-soil into great dry dunes that have buried buildings, ruining the work of generations."

Unlike the tenant farmer of the south, thousands of whom are being assisted to independence in the rural rehabilitation program, these people own their own homes. They are the descendants of the pioneers who braved the rigors of the west to settle it. They cling to the ancestral land.

Much land has been declared by agricultural experts to be fit only for removal to move Westbrook said the problem now has resolved itself largely into one of helping the people where they are instead of transplanting them.

Efforts are being made to increase water supplies by building wells and dams to conserve rainfall. It may be two or three years, Westbrook indicated, before there will be enough moisture to undo even part of the drought damage.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY ROONEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON—Promoters of what Harry Hopkins and Secretary Ickes call "loopy" projects might as well save train fare and lobbying fees.

The low-cost housing schemes turned down successively by the RFC and by PWA and its housing division won't look a bit better to the federal housing administration, which is permitted to insure loans for housing projects up to $10,000,000.

About 500 real estate promotion projects have been rejected here in the last year in the belief that the promoters simply had a lot of land they couldn't give away and were trying to unload it on the government, in one way or another, at fancy prices.

It seems the RFC had a crew of bright young lawyers, appraisers and finance experts who took demerolical glee in protecting the public interest. So the "loopy stuff" didn't get any of RFC's loans for self-liquidating projects.

Came PWA and found the same promoters camping on its doorstep. But it was just too bad, because a corps of those RFC boys had been moved into the PWA set-up and knew all about their proposals.

You've probably guessed the rest of this story. The promoters are preparing a last desperate assault on the new housing program. And facing them will be that same grim group of experts—now transferred to FHA.

When you buy a bottle of beer, your government doesn't want you to be fooled as to the alcoholic content, which seems to make a lot of

CHILlicothe's CRACK BASEBALL TEAM WILL PLAY ROADRUNNERS TONIGHT

ABERNATHY TO PLAY LOCALS ON SATURDAY

LEADERS IN RED RIVER VALLEY LEAGUE COMING

Chillicothe, the team now leading the Red River Valley league, will come to Pampa tonight for a game with the Pampa Road Runners. Game time will be 8:30 o'clock, with admission 25 and 40 cents.

Abernathy's newly strengthened ball team will be here tomorrow night and Sunday afternoon for a two-game series. Abernathy added much strength to enter the Amarillo tournament which was called off yesterday. The team is coming here to test the strength of the Pampa aggregation with the idea of entering the Pampa tournament.

The Chillicothe nine won a doubleheader from Hollis Wednesday afternoon to jump into the league lead, one game ahead of Vernon. The losses sent Hollis into fourth place. Hollis, with Gordon Nell at the helm, won one and lost one game to Pampa early in the season.

The game was scheduled so that Road Runner pitchers would get some stiff competition before the Pampa baseball tournament opens August 9. Manager Bulla cannot get his fingers to work in earnest unless they are about to play games. The pitchers apparently do not realize that they should work out every afternoon to keep in condition.

The old fight which has characterized Pampa baseball teams in the past has been lacking recently. Some of the players have been playing in a lackadaisical manner, which has been drawing comments from fans. Their attitude will change when they start battling for the $1,000 prize offered the winner of the Pampa tournament. Some strength will be added by that time also.

Chillicothe's lineup was not available this morning. It is understood here that several members of the team are known in Pampa. They play a hard brand of ball in the valley league and the Road Runners will have to be on their toes every minute of the game.

Although Manager Bulla would not name his starting hurler, it was believed that Stewart would get the call and that more than one pitcher would see service regardless of the outcome of the game. The Pampa moundsmen need the work.

The dark spot around home plate was present Wednesday night. It is believed that changing the focus of the bottom center light on each side of the home plate will eliminate the fault. The rest of the field is brilliantly lighted.

That well known manager of winning ball clubs, Johnnie Rodgers, is manager of the Abernathy team. Last year he took one of the toughest teams to the Amarillo tournament and the Road Runners had considerable difficulty defeating the team.

Manager Rodgers did not reveal his starting lineup but said he would present some mighty fine ball players to Pampa fans. He has secured two good pitchers, a slugging outfielder, and two strong defensive infielders to bolster his club.

Although only a small town, Abernathy has always supported good ball teams. The youngsters play baseball instead of football and when they grow up they have had plenty of experience and are ready for fast competition.

Sport Slants

by ALAN J. GOULD

The English have odd ways of looking at sports as Eddie Egan, Bill Follows, George Pfann and other American athletes who have attended Oxford and Cambridge can testify.

Frank Gentry, late of Virginia, is the latest to discover the difference in American and English attitudes, reports Gayle Talbot from London.

"Gentry's room at Oxford," says Talbot, "looks like a training camp set right down in the middle of old Christ Church college."

"Stacks of old, water-soaked gloves almost fill one big trunk, and there are enough fighting trunks and shoes and other paraphernalia of the back-busting business to outfit a complete set of sparring partners."

VIC FRASIER IS PITCHING FOR SHIPPERS

Beats Tulsa, 12 to 1; Ash Hillin Hurls His 20th Victory in League.

BY BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Several years ago Vic Frasier was a member of the Dallas Steers' mound staff and almost unbeatable. He graduated to the big show where he was only a fair hurler for the Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers. Thursday afternoon in Stuart stadium at Beaumont, Frasier appeared in a Texas League uniform—that of the Beaumont Exporters. He beat Tulsa, 12 to 1, to prove he still is master of Texas league batters.

He retired at the end of the fifth game of the heat. He turned an 8 to 0 lead over to Jake Wade who finished the game. The Exporters were in the only one to get excellent pitching. At San Antonio Ash Hillin clicked with his twentieth victory this season when he beat Port Worth, 4 to 0. San Antonio came back to blank the Cats 1-0 in the 7-inning night cap. The veteran Charlie Barnabe, Dallas slunker, hung up a glorious 14-inning victory over the Galveston Bucs, 4-3. Until the twelfth frame neither Barnabe nor his mound foe, Orville Jorgens, had allowed more than one tally, then both teams scored.

The Houston Buffs smothered Oklahoma City's lowly Indians, 8-0, behind the brilliant 4-hit pitching of Red Copeland. The Buffs mixed nine bingles and five walks to put across their tallies.

In doubles at Wimbledon Monday George Lott and Lester Stofen of America will meet Perry and George Patrick Hughes. Tuesday's first match sees Shields battle Perry.

ners and the gloves lie idle. Big Gentry, who was the heavyweight star of Virginia's great boxing team for two years and reached the finals of the last Olympic eliminations, doesn't box any more.

"It was like this. They called for candidates for the Oxford boxing team right after Gentry arrived and got settled. His heart sang and he reported. The captain of the team singled out the big Virginian to give him a workout.

"All that coming at once made Gentry just a little too happy. He couldn't—or didn't—restrain himself. He almost killed his captain.

"Gentry doesn't like to talk about it. It makes him a little sad, because he likes to box. But another American student who saw the captain later said he looked something like a heavyweight who had challenged a steam roller.

"Gentry put away his beloved boxing togs and took up shot-

GENE SARAZEN DEFEATED IN PGA TOURNEY

AL WATROUS WINS IN SECOND ROUND 4 AND 3

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 27 (AP)—Time is his own now for the roving Roman, Gene Sarazen. It has been years since he has been thrust into early retirement during the Professional Golfers' annual warfare, but this year he returns early to his Sabine farm.

Calm resignation marked Sarazen's attitude after his defeat by Al Watrous of Detroit, 4 and 3, in the second round of the P. G. A. championship yesterday although in prior years Sarazen, when beaten back would stomp off the course snarling, sour and burning.

This was a highly important commercial affair at Buffalo for the brawny and bronzed little man against whom many famed golfers have bumped and been wrecked. Sarazen cancelled European exhibitions to come back and play in the P. G. A. This was his only title and he needed a championship because championships mean money.

Usually when a title is in view Sarazen can draw a sharp bead on that subject to the utter exclusion of everything else, but this year kindly disposed parties presented

WILMER ALLISON IS ELIMINATED IN SEABRIGHT MEET

SEABRIGHT, N. J., July 27 (AP)—Life has become one disappointment after another for Wilmer Allison, the quiet, mild-mannered young Texan who ranks as the nation's No. 2 tennis singles player.

A couple of weeks ago Dick Williams, Davis cup captain, cabled him an "SOS" that sent him racing across the Atlantic to join the Davis cup squad as George Lott's doubles partner. But when he got there Lester Stofen's play had improved to such an extent that Allison wasn't needed, and sadly he returned to play at Seabright.

Now, seeded No. 1, he watched from the sidelines today as Berkeley Bell, New York dynamo, was pitted against Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, another pin-sized explosive, in the final round for the highly prized singles silver bowl.

Allison was eliminated by Bell yesterday as the New Yorker rose Shaw Park at LeFors To Be Scene of Long-Awaited Meeting Between Clubs.

The long-awaited battle between the two Coltexo baseball teams will be staged Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Shaw park, LeFors. Admission will be 25 cents.

Coltexo's two teams have been quietly adding strength until they believe they are ready for the crucial game. The Gasolners have been considered the strong club, but the Black Cats or Carboners have been getting a player here and a player there until the team looks as strong on paper as the gasoline division team.

Although neither manager would name starting pitchers, it was reported that Trantham, new pitcher who was on the mound against Pampa Wednesday night, would get the call to pitch for the gasoline boys, with Poindexter behind the bat. Hess is in line to get the call to hurl for the carbon black nine, with Leggett catching.

A capacity crowd is expected to see the big game, which was to have been played three weeks ago. It was postponed because the gasoline boys were playing in the Berger tournament. Both teams are much stronger now and a better game is to his greatest heights to win 6-4, 6-9, 2-6, 7-5, while Grant subdued Henry Prusoff, of Seattle, the clouting star of the tournament up to that point, 3-6, 6-2, 8-6, 6-3.

COURT RECORD

Court Term Ends. Thirty-first district court ended its current term yesterday. The next term will begin September 24, and will last 7 weeks. The term just closed was in many respects one of the busiest of the last 2 years in the district.

A recent shortage of small coins forced overtime work in government mints.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

BY ROBBIN COONS.
 HOLLYWOOD—Karen Morley, who was too much in picture demand for her own good, left the screen two years ago just when she might have crashed through to the stardom that was predicted for her.
 She is back at the studio now, taking up her career where she dropped it, and she looks like a different person. In the meantime she has had a baby, Charles Vidor Jr., and taken a long rest. She is now decidedly in favor of vacations—and babies.
 "I had reached the point where nothing seemed new or particularly worth while," she confides. "I guess I was taking everything for granted. I was entirely wrapped up in my career—nothing else mattered. I made a mistake by trying to do too much. When one picture was finished, I could hardly wait until I started another, and as a result of tackling more than I could handle, I was irritable without little things irritating."

The last time Miss Morley appeared on the screen until her return in "Our Daily Bread"—her second new film is "Four Walls"—she was thin, looked worn. Directors kept calling for her for their pictures.
 "Little things I should have laughed off as being all in the day's work would make me mad," she says. "I didn't try to figure out an explanation for this. I was too busy. When I first went away, it seemed as if I had never been in pictures—although in my subconscious mind I often thought of them."
 Absence from the screen enabled her to get a better perspective of it—just as historians can write better of things that are over and past, so can a person get a better angle on a situation while away from it.
 "While I was away, I thought about my career, and saw where I was right and wrong. Not that I know exactly, but I was able to look at things and weigh them."
 "More Objective Now."
 People tell her she has changed. She doesn't doubt it. "Certainly in two years' time one can't help being affected by what happened during that time. But I doubt if the fact that I had a child is what has brought the change. The experience alone is too commonplace—and can be in my opinion, over stressed."
 "If one is happy, he is bound to be nicer—and I'm happy."
 Marriage to Charles Vidor, young Hungarian director, enlarged Karen's circle of friends. Karen came from Iowa—Vidor's friends include many of the European world. Friends, as well as travel, can be broadening, she finds.
 "Still she isn't 'discussing' motherhood."
 One thing having a child has done for me," she says, "is to make me interested in people as I never was before. Not that I wasn't interested. But it never occurred to me that there were so many things to talk about, compare notes on. My outlook is far more objective, and I certainly have sympathy for a lot of people and things that I did not realize existed before."

New Discovery Routs Body Odor Leaves No M. S.

Science has made a new discovery about body odor. It is caused by stale perspiration glands, and requires deep-pore cleansing. It cannot be ended by ordinary soaps, because their alkaline lathers cannot reach into the pores and cleanse them. Instead the soap combines with the waste material and forms clinging curd!
 Kirk's Coco Castile soap works in an entirely different way. No matter how hard the water, this 100% pure vegetable oil soap breaks instantly into a soft, bubbly lather. This bubbly lather cleans deep into the pores, actually removes the embedded stale perspiration curd—then rinses the completely and in a flash. Thus it routs body odor at its source.
 Delightful to use, Kirk's Coco Castile is entirely free from M. S. (medicine smell)—leaves your body as fresh and clean-smelling as a wood-breeze! A big generous cake, half again larger than the average toilet soap. It is now selling at the lowest price in history! Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

OIL LANDS OF TEXAS TO PAY DEFICIT COSTS

DISCOVERIES BOOMING VALUE OF PUBLIC LAND LEASES

AUSTIN, July 27 (AP)—The state is looking to revenue from its oil bearing public lands to aid the public treasury to balance outgo with income.
 With the public schools and the university of Texas richly endowed from the crude petroleum that underlies much of the public domain, the state has started leasing lands of the prison system and eleemosynary institutions with a view of relieving the treasury of much of the burden of their financial support.
 Bids also have been asked on about 7,500 acres of submerged land in the Gulf of Mexico, revenue from which would go directly to the general revenue fund to reduce a $6,000,000 deficit.
 Approximately $68,000,000 has been amassed in permanent funds by the various institutions from their land endowments. Income from the permanent fund is used to pay current expenses.
 The recent prospect of oil production in Cherokee county boomed the value of approximately 2,500 acres belonging to the Rusk state hospital. The state board for mineral development leased 160 acres of the tract at a bonus of $126 an acre and $5 per acre annual rental. The institution, in addition, would have received a one-eighth royalty of all oil and gas produced.
 Things have been moving forward rapidly in the Gulf coast oil area. New pay sands are being found by drilling deeper in fields from which great quantities of oil have been taken and much interest is being manifested in the submerged coastal areas. Most of the 25,000 acres in the chain of prison farms lies in territory regarded by experienced oil operators as potentially oil producing.
 A lease has been executed on 4215 acres of the Ferguson prison farm, the state receiving $1.10 an acre annual rental and ten cents an acre bonus. Drilling of test wells has been started.
 Shortly after the Ferguson farm was leased the state offered 857 acres of the Ramsey prison farm. Bidding was spirited and the state received $18 an acre bonus, $2 an acre annual rental, a one-eighth free royalty and an "over-riding" royalty of one-fourth of seven-eighths of all oil produced until the bonus reaches $105 an acre.
 Since the Ramsey farm was leased officials estimated its value has increased at least 30 per cent due to discoveries in the immediate neighborhood. Bids will be asked soon on 1,500 acres of the Eastham farm. The Darrington prison farm of 1,100 acres has been leased and is being developed.
 Four thousand acres, chiefly school land in widely scattered parts of the state, has been advertised for lease.
 J. H. Walker, state land commissioner, has suggested a plan for development of prison lands under which he believes the state would receive its own exploratory equipment, recruit crews from the convicts and drill its own wells.
 "Several efficient convict crews could be obtained in the system to drill the wells," Walker said. "Every acre is represented at the penitentiary from the ordinary rough-necks to tool dressers and drillers. The state could drill at a minimum expense for labor. Data thus obtained would be valuable in determining an adequate price for the land."

Government

WITH drastic changes taking place in the governments of nations, much attention is turned in these days to forms of government and to discussions of various types of government. People, somewhat bewildered by adversity and untoward conditions in their personal affairs, are prone to turn to their national government either with appeals for help or with condemnation. Some are looking for safety and security in government, while others are fearing the encroachment of government control.
 Christian Science has much to say about government. Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, speaks often of the government of man. She speaks of the endowment with life and intelligence of whatever is governed by God. "God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience," she writes on page 105 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and adds, "Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his Maker, divine Truth and Love."
 "Through the ages mortals have sought freedom to think according to the dictates of their own conscience, freedom to act according to their own best judgment, and freedom to govern their affairs righteously without interference from others or from the state."
 For a long time mortals have sought freedom from tyranny, freedom from slavery, freedom from oppression and depression, freedom from sin and from sickness. Christian Science strikes at the root of these evils, and helps weary people to find the realization of that state of being wherein man is governed by his creator—free from enslaving beliefs.
 Sometimes a person is not aware of just what it is that is governing him. It may be fear of the future or grieving about the past that seems to cast a shadow over his mental outlook. It may be that some person with whom he is associated exercises much influence over him and persuades him to govern his thinking and decisions. Or it may be that the responsibility for trouble and unhappiness is laid to business circumstances or family connections.
 Whatever may be the seeming influence or influences governing him, there is a way of escape and a means of correction. Christian Science gives the spiritual basis from which a person can learn how to have his thinking and his

HEAT VICTIMS TOTAL 1,368-- RAINS START

378 LOSE THEIR LIVES IN MISSOURI IN HEAT WAVE

By The Associated Press
 Scorching heat has been routed after killing 1,368 persons.
 Cool breezes swept rains into most sections yesterday and today, but while they brought a sharp drop in heat fatalities, they afforded no material aid to the drought ravaged farm areas.
 Temperatures broke 43 degrees in some sections, but in the Pacific southwest, where a new heat wave started, thermometers rocketed to 110 degrees. Readings were high, too, along most sections of the Atlantic coast.
 The heat wave took its greatest toll in Missouri where 378 perished. Illinois and Ohio were next with 362 and 163, respectively.
 In Missouri the relief was less marked than in some other sections. Kansas City's temperature dropped from a previous maximum 110 to a 94 high yesterday and St. Louis had a 20-degree drop in maximum temperature from its previous high of 110.
 Readings of 100 degrees or more were recorded yesterday in Cincinnati, Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kan., Boise, Ida., Fresno, Calif., and Spokane.
 But Milwaukee's maximum yesterday was only 72 compared with a previous high of 105; Detroit 80 compared with a previous 105; St. Paul 80 compared with 105; Denver, 82 compared with 98; Topeka, 88 compared with 111; Chicago 75 compared with 105, and Portland, Me., 78 compared with 96.
 Heat deaths in other states early today stood Iowa, 72; Nebraska, 61; Indiana, 66; Kentucky, 58; Kansas, 39; Minnesota, 33; Pennsylvania, 20; Michigan, 16; Wisconsin, 15; Texas, 13; West Virginia, 12; Oklahoma, 12; New York, 11; Arkansas, 10; South Dakota, 7; Tennessee, 7; Connecticut, 4; Massachusetts, 3; Alabama, 3; Maryland, 3; Rhode Island, 3; District of Columbia, 3; South Carolina, 1, and Virginia, 1.

County Board of Education Endorses John B. Hessey

We, your County Board of Education of Gray County, desire to make these statements concerning our schools:
 The rural schools of Gray county are in the best condition they have ever experienced since the county was organized in 1902. This is a condition that is very unusual at this time, and has been brought about by being able to secure financial aid from the State Department of Education for the weaker school districts.
 We believe that during this period of reconstruction it is very essential for the continued growth of our schools to have a man very closely affiliated with the State Department of Education. Mr. Hessey has proven that he is very closely connected with the department, always being able to secure adequate aid when needed.
 We, therefore, endorse the candidacy and platform of John B. Hessey for County Superintendent of Gray County.

MRS. PIPES WRITES ABOUT BUD COTTRELL

Since the campaign for county officer is nearing an end political propaganda is being forecast from every street and corner. It has come to my attention during the last few days that some of this propaganda has it that I do not expect to retain the services of Bud Cottrell, my first deputy. I want to brand this rumor as being false and without foundation.

Prior to the death of my husband, Tiny Pipes, whom the good people of this county honored with election as sheriff, he often spoke of Mr. Cottrell. Mr. Pipes had the utmost confidence in the integrity and ability of Mr. Cottrell and told me many times that he was one of the foremost peace officers in the state. Having faith and spirited confidence in my husband I did not doubt him in the least and know that he regarded Mr. Cottrell as a man of splendid ideals, moral and ability. After the death of Mr. Pipes I was appointed Sheriff by the Commissioners Court and assumed office with the thought of carrying out the plans and program of my husband. I did just as my husband would have wanted me to do in appointing Mr. Cottrell on my staff and making him first deputy sheriff of Gray County, Texas. Since I assumed the duties of sheriff, I have worked with Mr. Cottrell in an effort to enforce the law in our County and under the kind of service the county was entitled to. Mr. Cottrell has made me an energetic officer and his work has been absolutely satisfactory in every particular. He has stood ready to perform his duties without fear or favor, whether it be waiting on the grand and petit juries, serving process or making arrests. In my estimation he has made a good officer and I see no reason now why I should make a change.

Please know that I appreciate the cooperation of the citizenship of this county as given in the performance of my duties as sheriff. I am more familiar now with the workings of the office than I was in the future. If appointed and I feel that I can render better service person and to public I have failed to solicit your vote and influence in my race.
 I want the voters of Gray County to know I greatly appreciate and if elected with me and my deputies in my duties as Sheriff I will strive harder to please each and every one and if I get a majority of your vote you will never regret voting for me.
 Respectfully,
 MRS. C. E. PIPES.

Germany Blamed For Meddling in Austrian Affairs

LONDON, July 27 (AP)—An Italian suggestion that a joint three-power protest be sent Germany for that government's alleged connection with the assassination of Chancellor

Dollfuss is expected today from Rome. Reports of the proposal brought a reply from a government official that "you must look to Rome for matters of that sort. If anything is done it will be done from there." It is frankly admitted here that Mussolini is now the key man in an international situation which has all Europe sitting on the anx-

Starhemberg's elevation to the chancellorship is known to be acceptable to Great Britain, France and Italy, which have undertaken to guarantee the integrity of Austria.

AUSTRIA'S NEW DICTATOR IS A MAN OF STEEL

STARHEMBERG COMES FROM ANCIENT FAMILY

By The Associated Press.

A living model for all heroes of melodrama, Prince Ernst Rudiger von Starhemberg brings fire, dash and romance to the turbulent Austrian scene.

Barely 35, this outspoken, steel-willed young descendant of the fighting Count E. R. von Starhemberg, who stubbornly held Vienna against the Turks 251 years ago, started young on his road to power. He was with Hitler (the man he now opposes) in the now-famed Munich "beer putsch" in 1923. During the ensuing decade—up to the very day he took the reins of government from the hands of little Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, the martyred "millioner" (tiny Adenicher)—his career was to be inextricably interlaced with that of Hitler. His love for combat he got from his fighting ancestors, and civil war and revolting were his lot.

After fighting with the German insurgents in upper Austria, the youthful prince returned to the vast estates he had inherited and began welding together the iron guard that was to back his every move in the complicated Austrian political game.

He ousted 800 of his feudal retainers with uniforms, feather caps and slogans, and skillfully inserted the little unit into the growing heimwehr organization, assuming supreme command. His ability at organization enabled him to unite the "versteht" (the "understands") "bund Oberland" and the scholars corps into the "Jaegercorps weinz." And he was away on the road toward power. First he dickered with Hitler, his old leader, and flirted with Austrian leaders.

His refusal to inject the anti-Semitic issue into Austrian politics, however, led to an open break with Hitler. "The Jewish question," he maintained, "is an international one; it can not be settled by one nation."

Later he was to call Hitler a man of "illegitimate birth who happens to speak German."

A comic opera, "Putsch," in 1931 led to his arrest, and he was fined $28. He bounced right back up, however, with threats to march on Vienna if the government failed to accept his program for economic rehabilitation of the country.

Thereafter young von Starhemberg busied himself strengthening his "iron guard" and his own position. He flew to Italy, studied fascism, earned Mussolini's liking and respect.

All this time he had been swinging to the support of Dollfuss; to the opposition. Final alliance came late last year, when Starhemberg joined his forces with Dollfuss' "fatherland front," the sole legal political party in Austria, and became vice-fuehrer or vice-chancellor of the single front.

The socialist's control of Vienna's city government irked the young fascist extremely.

"It's an unbearable humiliation," he said, once, "that the bolsheviks still rule the provinces of Austria. Chancellor," he urged Dollfuss, "throw them out. The heimwehrmen are ready."

That he was, as he said, "ready to crush socialism with relentless brutality," he proved when civil war broke in Vienna in February. The heimwehrmen, unlike the more moderate police and soldiers, were merciless toward their foes.

Toward the nazis, those advocates of Hitlerian fascism, Starhemberg was no less bitter. He scored their advances for an "illegitimate" and "illegitimate" Chancellor, he urged Dollfuss, "avenge every attack" and was ready when the nazis struck Tuesday.

The iron guard cooperated with regular troops and police in putting down the putsch that brought death to Dollfuss. The provinces where fighting was bitter, the heimwehrmen were reported showing no quarter.

Starhemberg, vacationing in Venice, hastened home, to receive the chancellorship from Kurt Schuschnigg, ad interim head of the government.

That had been expected. Starhemberg, made vice-chancellor May 1 as the new constitution was proclaimed and left in that post when Dollfuss shook up his cabinet this month, was the little chancellor's logical successor.

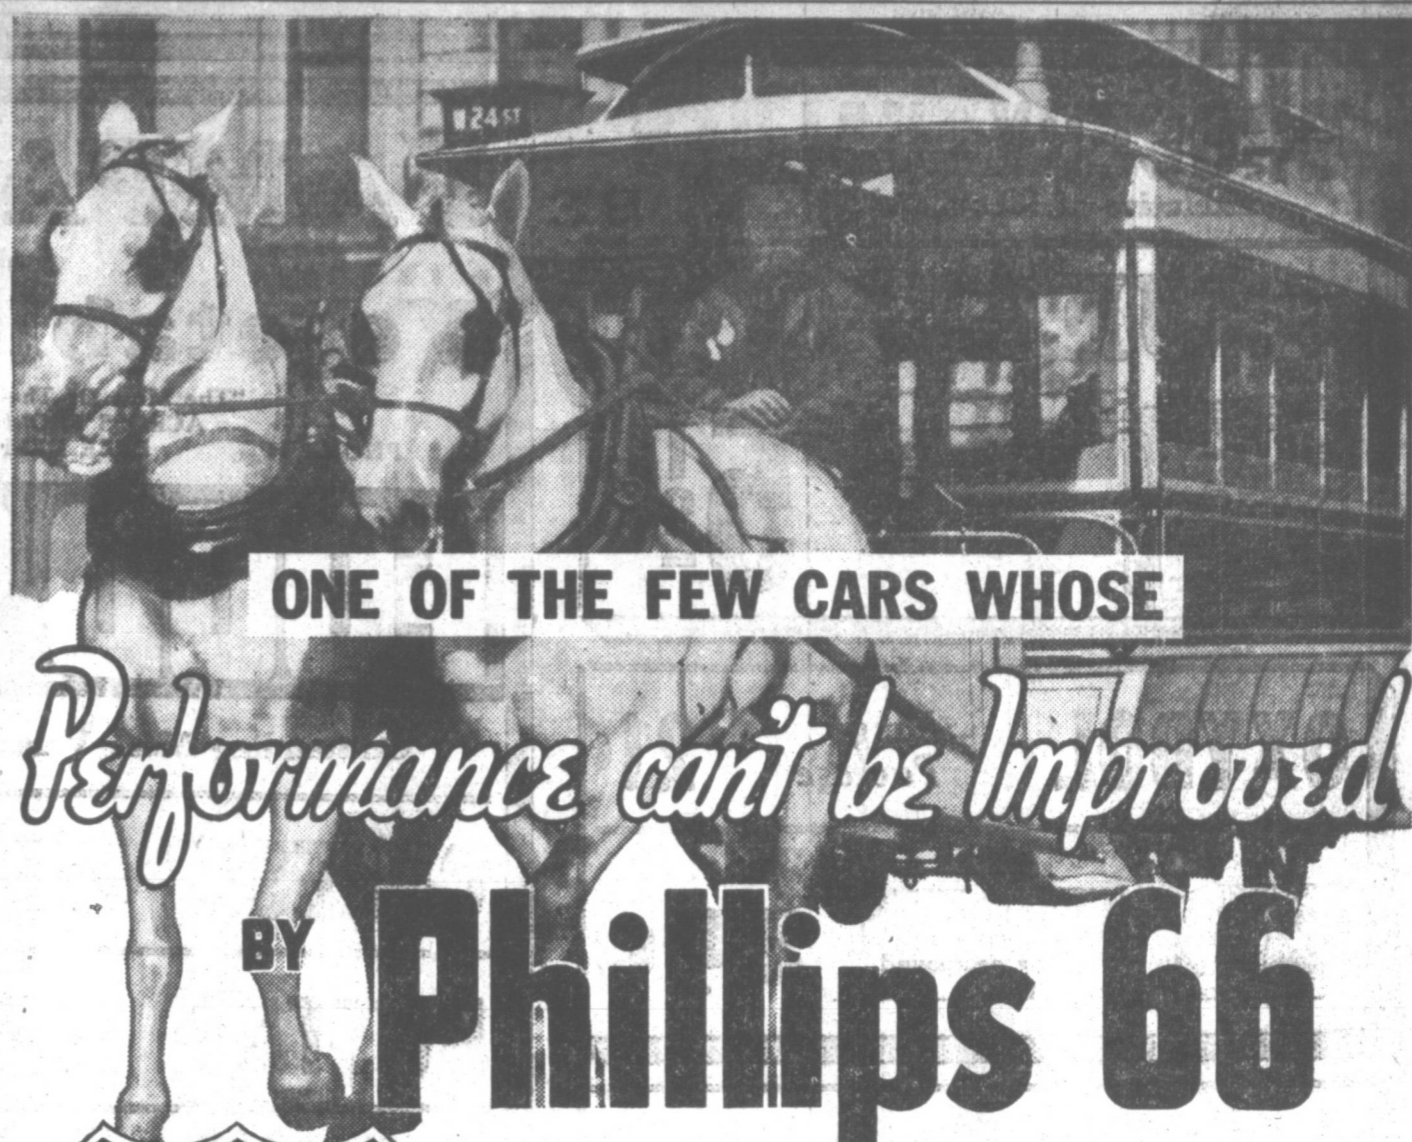

But many observers thought his designation extremely significant. He had long been friendly to the ousted Hapsburg monarchy, had reviewed his 8,000 heimwehrmen in company with Arch-Duke Otto as thousands cheered for Otto's return as king, and there had been rumors Starhemberg might assume the regency.

However, that may be, the heimwehr movement, it was admitted, had become an important force in Austria, and Starhemberg's policies considered in conjunction with his friendship with Mussolini, were regarded to influence the history of Central Europe.

The young prince—typical aristocrat, boyish, friendly, even shy—believes his reputation as man of "action," "Democrat" and his slight esteem, usually linking the word to "corruption," and he has battled steadily to eliminate democratic forms from the Austrian government, although he himself once sat in parliament.

He was born in Esferding, upper Austria, studied at the universities of Munich and Innsbruck, and launched his career of battles immediately after his school days were ended.

His mother, Princess Starhemberg, for long was an executive in Dollfuss' Christian-Social party that preceded the "fatherland front," at the same time her tall, impetuous

SMALL GIVES SOUND REASON FOR ELECTION

Friends Point to Platform As Sanest Program For Benefit of State.

Senator Clint C. Small should be the next governor of Texas! He is sufficiently conservative to keep Texas on a sound basis, and sufficiently progressive to take advantage of every opportunity to revitalize our government in the interest of the masses of our people.

VOTE FOR HIM TOMORROW!

Senator Small is in full accord with every reasonable effort that is being made for the purpose of rehabilitating agriculture and industry, and restoring employment to the masses of our people. He advocates a safe, conservative and efficient government for Texas. He stands for the best ideals of our educational system, for an adequate system of State Highways, and for a revision of our State fiscal affairs in the interest of sound economy. He advocates rigid law enforcement, the establishment of an adequate State Ranger Force, and a drastic revision of the power of the Governor to grant pardons to those convicted of crime.

Senator Small has said: "The time has arrived for the people of Texas to consider the employment of one of its citizens to act as governor. In considering the various applicants for this important position, the shareholders in the great concern called 'Texas' should be actuated by a desire to drive the best bargain possible and select the one who, by temperament, experience, ability, and integrity, will be calculated to bring about the largest dividend upon the investment made in government. The governor's duties are varied and manifold. They demand a knowledge of the resources of the State, the functions of all departments of government, and an accurate conception of a proper administration of the fiscal affairs. We must have a man who will give a sound administration that functions efficiently—one that is free from demagogic sophistry and irrational radicalism.

"Every patriotic American endorses the courageous purposes of President Roosevelt to bring about recovery, to restore confidence in business, and to regain employment for the worker. I yield to no one in my loyalty to our great national leader, but to attempt to create a fictitious federal issue, to employ by implication the weapon that his or that candidate for state office in Texas is the candidate of the national party machinery, is to befool the issue.

"Texas is about to choose a governor, not an assistant president of the United States. This state has its own problems, problems which are its duty and responsibility and which it should not lay on the doorsteps at Washington.

"The most efficient way and the most patriotic manner in which we can assist the national program of the democratic party is by setting our own house in order.

"I believe that Texas is competent to arrange her own affairs to cure her own ills, to remedy her own troubles, and thereby lighten not only her own burdens but the burdens of the nation at large.

"The democrats of Texas should choose the next state administration as their best judgment dictates in respect to an orderly, wise, and helpful solution of our state problems.

"The issue and the only issue in this race for governor is which program, as offered by the candidates, will contribute most to setting our commonwealth on an even balance again, assist the small business man and the worker to again become solvent, to bring about recovery in the nation.

"In any battle for genuine economy the voters of this state may as well realize now as later that economy, when sought to be applied, is first better applied to the other fellow.

"After all, we must remember that there are thousands of Texans who vote for economy in July and battle against economy in January when the legislature meets.

"I promise on the economy program just this and no more, because no more can be performed.

"To suspend such state agencies as can be eliminated without harm to the state;

"To reduce appropriations for all departments to the final point beyond which they cannot go without injury to the state.

"I promise economy, not destruction. In the final analysis many promises of economy mean destruction. The people want and are entitled to have efficiency at the lowest possible cost, and such is my platform.

"Many new schemes for raising revenue are being proposed. Most of these schemes conflict violently with the fundamentals of our State and Federal constitutions. They amount to nothing less than a direct burden on interstate commerce or to a flagrant discrimination in favor of one class and against another. Frankly, I see no way to tax a non-resident and exempt a resident, or to tax goods moving directly in interstate commerce as such. These proposals sound very well, but in reality they are nothing more than an attempt at deception. We must face the fact that Texas business and Texas people must pay taxes, and we should concern ourselves in an effort to distribute the burden with uniformity and impartiality upon all individuals and all commerce in equitable proportions.

"The deficit which has been accumulating over a number of years should not be paid during any one administration. It has been brought about by failure to pay tax assessments. With millions of dollars of

BRAIN TRUST PREDICTED FOR STATE AFFAIRS

Politicians to Play Second Fiddle, Says Professor

AUSTIN, July 27 (AP)—"Brain trusters" are coming to Texas and all other states to control local as well as state governments, in the opinion of Dr. C. P. Patterson, who is professor of government at the University of Texas.

Inevitably, brain trusters will administer all public affairs through local, state, and national governments, he has predicted.

Politicians should take warning, he has counseled. College-trained bureaucrats will usurp their "form of definite control" and they "must learn to play second fiddle to the trained statesman."

President Roosevelt's inauguration of "brain trusters" in Washington merely was the beginning of a transition, which ultimately will place college graduates in the upper bracket jobs of public service, the professor has concluded.

But the new type of public servant shouldn't have the nomenclature of "brain truster." That, he said, was an unfortunate terminology. They should be designated by something like "trained civil service corps."

When the "trained civil service corps" takes control of American governments as he asserts the group will, "one of the chief functions of colleges and universities will be to prepare the trained bureaucrat along broad and liberal lines."

In the transition President Dood of Princeton university, he said, "has more distinctly caught this vision than any other college president." President Dood, he explained, recently made provision in his university to prepare a select number of students for the profession of public service.

"Government service has been recognized as a profession," the professor reasoned. "Only highly and broadly trained college graduates can properly be used in the upper brackets of the service."

Through executive planning, he forecast, a college-trained bureaucracy will subordinate legislatures and will "constitute the chief agency of government of the future."

"It is clear to all informed people that the programs of the governments of the future must largely come through executive planning," he opined, "which must be based upon information furnished by the subordinates of the administrative

Dead Or Alive

The Chicago family of Ludwig Neumeier is worried about him. For at last reports he was in Germany acting as chauffeur to Ernst Roehm, executed Storm troop leader. Dispatches reported that "Roehm's chauffeur" was slain. So this picture of her son Ludwig with his little daughter Erika, saddens the Chicago mother, Mrs. Fanny Neumeier.

Through executive planning, he forecast, a college-trained bureaucracy will subordinate legislatures and will "constitute the chief agency of government of the future."

system to be composed of college men.

"Such a system can only be successful when it is carried on by trained people who are stripped of the limitations of politics and who are therefore free to consider the best interest of society as a whole."

"The politician of the future must exercise a form of definite control as has been his custom. He must learn to play second fiddle to the trained statesman."

DON'T LET COMMON CONSTIPATION DULL THE JOY OF LIVING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skins, pimples.

Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to help overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than dosing yourself with patent medicines. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If seriously ill, see your doctor—ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all."

delinquent taxes on the roll, I say that Texas needs no additional revenue. The bulk of these delinquent taxes will be paid. Their payment will absorb the deficit and put all state departments upon a sound financial footing. We do not need and I do not favor an income tax or a general sales tax. Experience during my six years of legislative services teaches me that new sources of revenue are discovered by each legislature. I want to see an adequate production tax on all mining enterprises and proper intangible assets and privilege taxes. With these taxes and others that will necessarily present themselves we can get away from the ad valorem tax for state purposes, and I advocate a definite start in this direction." (Adv.)

GRIM AUSTRIA CALLED HEAD WITHOUT BODY

SINCE WAR NATION HAS BEEN IN THROES OF ECONOMIC ROT

BY THOS. J. HAMILTON Jr. WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—What ails Austria?

Where once Franz Joseph's hussars danced to Strauss waltzes in the world's gayest civilization, despair stalks.

Men are turned against each other. A chancellor lies dead, pistolled in his chancellery. The world watches, fearing war.

What is the reason? Students, pondering that question, have found much of the answer in economics.

Austria is a head without a body. War performed that operation—and it is proving no more successful in the politico-economic field than it ever did in the biological.

Before the war Vienna was the world's most brilliant capital—in-souciant, sophisticated, savoring the tang of life with a smile. From it—though Budapest was the capital of Austria's partner, Hungary—went the royal orders bearing the Hapsburg double eagle. Viennese bankers held sway over the Austro-Hungarian financial realm. The economic life of the empire revolved around Vienna.

There were problems, of course. The diversity of races in the empire taxed the ability of the Hapsburgs to "divide and rule." There were some to say that even then the empire was shaky.

Twenty years ago yesterday Austria-Hungary broke off relations with Serbia. The war came—and then the peace that for Austria was perhaps worse than war.

The old empire boasted more than 50,000,000 people and over 250,000 square miles of territory. When the surgery of the peace treaties was finished, Austria, separated from a dismembered Hungary, had less than 7,000,000 inhabitants, and little more than 30,000 square miles.

Much of the land left her was mountainous, forested, poor for farming. Natural resources were comparatively slender. Around this pitiful remnant neighboring nations began erecting tariff walls.

And in the midst sat the once proud capital, a head without a body. The old empire, despite defects, had provided free trade and a market for Vienna's manufactures. Now Austria's industry was inadequate to absorb her products or to feed her population of nearly 7,000,000.

Economic rot set in. Austria, like some noble deposed to penury, began living on "international dole, on loans from the League of Nations or creditor lands.

The depression rocking the economic structure of the world—redoubled Austria's woes. The collapse of the Kredit Anstalt, great bank of Vienna, sent a shudder through Europe and beyond.

Misery begat political strife. For a while after the war, socialists controlled Austria. But the folk of the country side, with Catholic christian socialist leanings, would have none of them. The Marxists soon had to be content with Vienna.

There were built the famous workers' apartments, which Chancellor Dollfus' artillery pounded when he crushed the socialist organizations in blood a few months ago.

Dollfus, head of the Christian social government, assumed more and more dictatorial powers as the Austrian Nazi movement, gaining vigor with Hitler's rise in Germany, strove to unseat the "vest pocket" chancellor.

The Nazis, like countless pan-Germans in both the reich and Austria, have dreamed of uniting the two nations.

International Sunday School Lesson BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for July 29.
General Topic: Micalah Speaks the Truth.

Scripture Lesson: 1 Kings 23:1-14.

1. And they continued three years without war between Syria and Israel.

2. And it came to pass in the third year, that Jehoshaphat the king of Judah came down to the king of Israel.

3. And the king of Israel said unto his servants, Know ye that Ramoth-gilead is ours, and we are still, and take it not out of the hand of the king of Syria?

4. And he said unto Jehoshaphat, Wilt thou go with me to battle to Ramoth-gilead? And Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, I am as thou art, my people as thy people, my horses as thy horses.

5. And Jehoshaphat said unto the king of Israel, Inquire first, I pray thee, for the word of Jehovah.

6. Then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together, about four hundred men, and said unto them, Shall I go against Ramoth-gilead to battle, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up; for the Lord will deliver it into the hand of the king.

7. But Jehoshaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of Jehovah besides, that we may inquire of him?

8. And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, There is yet one man by whom we may inquire of Jehovah, Micalah the son of Iah; but I hate him; for he doth not prophesy good concerning me, but evil.

9. Then the king of Israel called an eunuch, and said, Fetch quickly Micalah the son of Iah.

10. Now the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah were sitting each on his throne, arrayed in their robes, in an open place at the entrance of the gate of Samaria; and all the prophets were prophesying before them.

11. And Zedekiah the son of Che-naanah made him horns of iron, and said, Thus saith Jehovah, With these shalt thou push the Syrians until they be consumed.

12. And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth-gilead, and prosper; for Jehovah will deliver it into the hand of the king.

13. And the messenger that went to call Micalah spake unto him, saying, Behold now, the words of the king with one mouth: let thy word, I pray thee, be like the word of one of them, and speak thou good.

14. And Micalah said, As Jehovah liveth, what Jehovah saith unto me, that will I speak.

15. And the king of Israel said unto her, What the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak.—1 Kings 22:1-14.

Time: B. C. 904.

Place: Samaria. Ramoth-gilead.

Parallel Passage.—1 Chron. 18:1-20:37.

The Lesson Aim.

To discover, through a study of these ancient leaders under divine guidance, the principles of true leadership, and to learn how to put these principles into practice in every-day life, is the general aim with which we started this series of studies. It is doubtful if any other lesson of the quarter deals with a principle of true leadership that is more vital and more needed in this generation than is brought out in the lesson for today. What higher aim could this in the struggle for the right against the wrong. The question is questions for him to decide is on which side he will enlist. His eternal future depends upon it. Jehoshaphat put himself unreservedly at the disposal of Ahab, with all his army, footmen, and cavalry. He was led to do this, partly by the marriage alliance which he had made with the house of Ahab, and partly by the possession of a powerful army which he wanted to test. It is certain that, so far from its being true that preparations for war conduce to peace, they are merely incentives to strife and bloodshed. The way to world peace is the drastic reduction of world armaments.

"What Jehovah Saith, That Will I Speak." v. 14.
The answer of Micalah to the king's messenger was instant and decisive. He averred before the Lord that he would speak precisely what Jehovah said to him, nothing more, nothing less, nothing other. Here is our Golden Text: "And Micalah said, As Jehovah liveth, what Jehovah saith unto me, that will I speak." v. 14. God's will may be known. But he speaks only to the inquiring heart. And he says exactly what he wishes known and done. Who can mistake his meaning?

Then Micalah in striking figure predicted the death of Ahab in battle though he foresaw at the same time a successful retreat for his army.
Ahab Rejects the Truth and Dies. 1 Kings 22:24-28.
Ahab was utterly indignant at the prediction of Micalah made in the presence of his royal guest, the courtiers of the two kings, the hundreds of prophets and thousands of people. He therefore ordered Micalah to prison and put him on affliction fare until in the flush of victory Ahab and his army should return to the capital. As Micalah left the park for the prison he uttered a brief, parting word that if Ahab came back at all the Lord had not spoken through him. The two kings joined in their military campaign east of the Jordan. During the battle Ahab, though in disguise, was fatally wounded and died at sunset.

Truth and Error.
"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again: The eternal years of God are here; But Error, wounded, writes in pain, And dies among his worshippers." "Truth is mighty and will prevail."

TO THE VOTERS OF GRAY COUNTY

The race during the first primary ends tomorrow. I have been busy in my campaign for sheriff. If I have not seen any voter it certainly has not been intentional upon my part. I would like for every man and woman who votes to know me and my qualifications for sheriff.

I propose, if elected, to take the oath of office as sheriff and live up to it and in doing so to cooperate with every other law enforcement agency and department. If you believe I would make you a good sheriff and enforce the laws of Gray County properly and fairly, I shall be always grateful for your support.

If one of the other candidates is your preference at this time and that candidate is eliminated tomorrow and I should have the good fortune to be in the second primary, then, I take this means to solicit your consideration and help in the August election.

Killed the bill that would have taxed cotton $1 per bale.
- Killed three times a bill taxing gas 20 at the well.
- Killed the bill repealing refund on gas used in tractors.
- I was co-author of the Sour Gas Bill and amended it to apply to sweet gas, thereby giving a market to people that had never had an opportunity to sell their gas.
- I was co-author of the bill lowering the dock on bales of cotton.
- Passed a bill in the House cutting pall tax to $1, which was killed by the senate.
- Gave the schools more money than any other legislature. Giving $2,600,000 for rural aid more than had ever been given before.
- Since the members of the legislature handle millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, why not elect a man who has made a reasonable success of his own business, rather than one who has not?

He is the only man that the people of his county ever elected to three terms as their District Attorney. He was never defeated. No class, cult or clique ever influenced him in public service. There were no back doors to his office as District Attorney—he could not be "reached."
The unexpected audit of the books of all Dallas County officials found his books "correct"—thousands of dollars of the people's money had been honestly handled. All this insures that Texas will combine unquestioned and proven integrity with demonstrated ability.

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

CONNALLY DESERVES NEW TERM

Vote for Senator Tom Connally for a second term tomorrow. It is democratic to give a worthy official a second term. Mr. Connally has proved wholly worthy. He is a cog in the new deal. It is no secret that President Roosevelt desires his return to the senate.

His life is honorable, his public service brilliant in many particulars, his statesmanship beyond question.

Tom Connally was born in McLennan county, Texas, on August 19, 1877. He attended the public schools at Eddy, and then went to Baylor university. He received his degree from Baylor in 1896 and two years later was graduated in law at the University of Texas. He was admitted to the bar in 1898 and commenced the practice of law in Waco, but soon moved to Marlin where he still makes his home.

He served as sergeant in the Second Regiment, Texas Volunteer infantry, during the Spanish-American war. From 1901 to 1904 he was a member of the Texas legislature. From 1906 to 1910 the future senator was prosecuting attorney of Falls county. In 1916 he was elected to congress as representative from the eleventh Texas district. Shortly after he took his seat on the following March 4, America entered the world war. In 1918, he left the house of representatives to join the army. He served as captain and adjutant of the twenty-second infantry brigade, eleventh division.

After the armistice he returned to his seat in the house and was re-elected every two years until 1928, when he was elected to the United States senate.

Senator Connally is a member of the powerful finance committee and foreign relations committee of the senate, and of the committee on privileges and elections.

He is chairman of the committee on public buildings and grounds.

In every national campaign since he has been in congress, the Democratic National committee has sent him into doubtful states to speak in behalf of the party's ticket. He is regarded as one of the best debaters and speakers in the senate. He made the nominating speech for John N. Garner at the democratic convention in Chicago, 1932, had an active part in nominating Roosevelt and Garner, and afterwards stumped six states for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket. Four times within the past 12 months, Senator Connally has spoken over nation-wide broadcasting hook-ups, explaining the policies of the Roosevelt administration and analyzing their results. Vote for Connally!

WALKER FOR LAND COMMISSIONER

In line with its traditional policy of speaking out in meeting and letting its readers know what it thinks, this paper is sometimes compelled to criticize the acts of public officials and to oppose the election to public office of some of our candidates for public office.

By the same token, if and when it comes to our attention that a public servant has served this commonwealth uncommonly well, we are equally glad to call such fact to our readers' attention.

James H. Walker, commissioner of the General Land office, should be re-elected to that office—one of the most important in the state.

He entered the office when still a young man, and had served successively as Spanish Interpreter, legal examiner, and for twenty years as chief clerk, when, in 1929, upon the death of his predecessor, J. T. Robison, he was appointed Commissioner. He was elected to succeed himself in 1930 and again in 1932, without opposition. He should be re-elected, unanimously, in 1934.

He is a modest, capable, accommodating and conscientious gentleman. He is possessed of such thorough knowledge of state land matters and problems as few of his predecessors in office have had, and as perhaps no successor will have.

He is worth to the people of Texas many times the modest salary he receives, and those who read and think and appreciate conscientious service in public life and who realize that an honest public official who receives only $2500 per year cannot make a state-wide campaign, should see that he is re-elected.—Tyler Courier-Times.

REPUBLICAN PARTY TO HOLD AN ELECTION IN TEXAS SATURDAY

DALLAS, July 27 (AP)—The republican party will hold a primary election in Texas Saturday, as required by the election law, but there is no contest for the nominations and efforts will be centered in seeing just how big a vote the party can muster in this overwhelmingly democratic state.

Republican headquarters here said today that primaries would be held in practically every county in the state, followed by precinct conventions as required by law. This is the third time the republicans have tried to hold primary elections in Texas. The first was in 1926, as a result of the heavy vote polled by Dr. George C. Butte in the 1924 campaign against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. The second primary was in 1930, ex-President Hoover having polled sufficient votes to carry the state in the 1928 election.

In 1932, the official canvass of votes, with Orville Bullington opposing Mrs. Ferguson, gave Bullington more than 317,000, the most votes ever polled by a republican candidate for governor in the state. D. E. Waggoner of Dallas county is the candidate on whom the republicans are pinning their faith this year. Lester Gunst of Nueces county is running for lieutenant governor.

U. S. Goen of El Paso county is up for the United States senate and Irl F. Kennerly of Harris county for justice of the supreme court. For judge, court of criminal appeals, S. E. Fish of Potter county has been nominated.

Thomas E. Ball of Tarrant county is the candidate for attorney general, John W. Miller of Smith county for comptroller, E. N. Mulkey of Grayson county for state treasurer. A. W. Orr of Polk county for commissioner of agriculture and H. S. Prady of DeWitt county for land commissioner.

The candidate for railroad commissioner withdrew after the time for filing had passed.

Youth Convicted In L. A. Slaying

LOS ANGELES, July 27 (AP)—Convicted of murder for the ax slaying of his mother and brother, Louis Rude Payne, 21-year-old student, faced another superior court trial today—a trial in which a jury will decide whether he is sane.

Late yesterday he was found guilty of hacking to death his mother, Mrs. Carrie L. Payne, and brother, Robe r. The jurors made no recommendation, leaving Payne to be hanged unless he is found to have been insane at the time of the double slaying.

Payne, son of a former St. Louis utilities executive, Lucius F. Payne, said he committed the crime because of an "irresistible impulse."

CORNER STONE OF UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS MAIN BUILDING CONTAINED RHEUMATISM CHARM OF LUBBOCK

Governor Carried It For Forty Years, Says Winkler

AUSTIN, July 26.—Members of the Board of Regents and other officials of the university participated in a short ceremony Saturday incident to the removal of the cornerstone of the Main Building of The University of Texas. The old Main Building is being razed at this time and will be replaced by a new structure made possible by a loan and gift from the Federal Public Works Administration.

The cornerstone of the old building, which was laid almost 52 years ago, was opened and the metal box containing the various articles deposited therein was transferred to a safety vault where it will be kept among the other historical archives of the institution. Rapid progress is being made on the demolition of the old building and the Regents Saturday considered further the plans for the new structure. The Federal Public Works Administration will give $483,000 and will loan the University $1,200,000 for this project. The University will repay the loan from income from grass leases on University lands. No funds for building purposes are received by the University from the general revenue of the State.

Work on the old Main Building began about September 1, 1882, but the formal corner stone ceremonies were not held until November 17, 1882. The ceremonies were described as being very colorful and impressive. E. W. Winkler, librarian of the University, who has investigated reports of the occasion, has described the ceremony as follows: "November 16th is the approximate date for the first frost in this latitude. A Texas northern put in its appearance; rain made it necessary to postpone the exercises until the 17th—Friday. This delay, the chill atmosphere, and the prospect of more rain, however, did not prevent the carrying out the very last detail of the procession and other exercises. The Austin Statesman took much pride in complimenting the people of Austin. Herzog's band led, playing soul-stirring and foot-moving music. The display made by the secret organizations, military and fire companies was very fine. Mrs. Kirby's beautiful bevy of girls, and a similar galaxy of beauty from Stuart Seminary caught the eye of the reporter. The procession was over half a mile in length, and there were enough carriages and pedestrians outside the ranks to have doubled its length. About three thousand were present on College Hill during the exercises.

"A platform had been erected at the southwestern corner of the building under construction. On this platform were seated distinguished guests and visitors, representatives from each society and organization present, Austin clergymen, state, county, and city officials, the Regents, officers of the Grand Lodge who were to officiate, the band, press representatives, and the speakers of the day.

"Dr. Ashbel Smith presided. The band played an opening selection. Dr. Smoot formally opened the proceedings with prayer. Governor Roberts then introduced Dr. Ashbel Smith, president of the first Board of Regents, who, he said, had labored hard in promoting this University project.

"Dr. Smith said in part: "Fellow citizens: We have come

Son Dead by Mishap; Doctor Vows Aid to Others

"Thank God they were my own sons," said Dr. Bryan L. Baldwin, Healdsburg, Calif., fighting to save the life of his boy, Bobby, dangerously ill from contaminated anti-infective serum which the father administered and which caused the death of Jackie, Bobby's brother. Both boys, in good health, were inoculated to safeguard them in the California epidemic. Dr. Baldwin, shown left in a recent picture with Jackie, vows he will devote his life to saving other children. Mrs. Baldwin is shown at right with Bobby.

up together to do a great work. We have come to lay the corner stone of The University of Texas. The laying of a corner stone of a public building is a ceremonial of not infrequent occurrence, and is usually the occasion of agreeable social reunions and of pleasant anticipations. But the corner stone of The University of Texas now about to be laid far surpasses in solemn importance and in weighty, wisely diffusive and long reaching consequences any corner stone of any building hitherto laid, or likely hereafter to be laid, in broad territory among the future millions of Texas.

"The people of Texas, in the Constitution ordain the establishment of a university of the first class as solemnly as they ordain the establishment of courts of justice, of common schools, and other institutions of society. . . . a university of the first class takes up young men where the elementary colleges leave their students, their graduates. It gives them that additional advanced practical knowledge, thorough, accurate, comprehensive, extended, complete. . . . that will fit them for the highest duties and business of real life. . . . It is not intended to intimate. . . . that all or even a very large proportion of its graduates will fill the high measure I have just glanced at. You can't give the ice hook's temper to lead. As ever there was the rich men's school bogey: I now beg your attention to a gross error. . . . that a university. . . . will be an institution exclusively for the rich. . . . the contrary rather will prove to be the fact. . . . the institutions of the world are before the rich man. But if you listen to the croakings of ignorant prejudice or of the demagogues, alas, for the poor boy of Texas! Make this university as good as possible and the spirit of education will permeate the masses. In the end securing them the highest possible attainments.

"At the conclusion of Dr. Smith's address, the articles which were to commemorate this happy occasion were deposited in the leaden box, the box thoroughly sealed, and the corner stone lowered over it. A partial list of the contents of the box is as follows: Laws pertain-

Self-Defense Is Claimed in Feud Trial at Clovis

CLOVIS, N. M., July 27. (AP)—Numerous threats alleged to have been made by Vernon Tate against members of the Bohanan family were related Thursday by defense witnesses in the trial of Louis, Carsey and Bee Bohanan for Tate's death in an effort to build up a defense plan of self defense.

Mack Stanton of Diamond, Mo., eye-witness to the slaying of G. G. Bohanan father of the three brothers, gave a graphic account of the first slaying in the alleged 12-year-old feud between the families.

Death of the elder Bohanan and his son Carl in 1920; Tate is alleged to have said he wanted to kill two more of the Bohanans, P. S. Herridon said that it was Carsey and Louis whom Tate had threatened.

Frank Smith quoted Tate as saying "he wished he had got the rest of them while he was at it," and J. A. Floyd of Farwell, Tex., said Tate had declared "if he ever ran across them he would kill the whole bunch of Bohanans."

Ruby Newton, still another defense witness, said Tate came into a cafe here where she was working the day after the shooting of the elder Bohanan and his son Carl and said he "longed to meet the rest of them on the street and shoot them down like cur dogs."

Other witnesses testified to similar threats. Virtually all of them said that in their opinion Tate was drinking at the time the threat was made.

The state finished its case last night.

Tate was acquitted on a plea of self defense in connection with the death of the elder Bohanan and Carl. On February 12, 1934, he was alleged to have been shot down by the three brothers. Carsey, Louis and Bee, as he stepped from his car at a busy street corner.

"I have endeavored to see as many of the voters of the district relative to my candidacy for re-election as possible. But because the duties of the office command much of my time, it has been impossible to see everyone. In doing so we of this day and generation are fulfilling the hopes of the founders of the Republic of Texas, but few of whom have lived to witness it. Here, in the emulation for excellence in learning, they will also learn to know, respect and love each other, and thereby they will form a band of union, linked together from generation to generation down through time. There, together they will form and model a distinctive character—Texas' character—that from them will be spread all over the State elevating our civilization. Here, they will stand in full view of the capital of the State, now soon to be built, with such grand proportions and splendor as will fifty represent the vast extent and wealth of Texas; and casting their vision around them upon the mountains to the west; upon the great plains to the north and east, and the valley of the Colorado to the south, they will, from the beautiful and extended scene before them, readily grasp in their imaginations the whole of Texas as it is, with its vast and various resources.
