Mrs. Welburn Granted Divorce, Given Child; Preacher Is Indicted for P...

JURY FINDING BACKS CLAIM OF MARRIAGE

PASTOR MAKES BOND—
SAYS "I AM HAPPY"

SAN ANTONIO, June 30. (AP)— District Judge W. W. McCrory, on the basis of a jury verdict, today granted Mrs. Wineta Long Welburn, former school teacher and choir singer, a divorce from the Rev. William D. Welburn, Jr., whom she accused of marrying her and of being the father of her child.

The jury found specifically, after hearing four days of testimony, that the former pastor of the Government Hill Methodist church here, married Mrs. Welburn at Boerne, July 25, as she had claimed.

The judge then entered a judgment granting the divorce and awarding Mrs. Welburn custody of the seven-month-old child, William Drummond Welburn, III. He did not include in his judgment any stipulation as to the support of the child.

Welburn Unmoved
"I am happy," said Welburn, apparently unmoved by the verdict.
"I am glad about the verdict but sorry about the indictment," said Mrs. Welburn. "He could have avoided all this. That's all I have to say."

She referred to a perjury indictment returned against Welburn while attorneys were closing arguments in the sensational trial. Judge McCrory, however, ordered the clerk to lock the indictment papers up until "we get through here" and details were not learned. Just before Welburn left court he made bond of $3,000 on the indictment.

The case probably will be reopened on the docket before the fall term of court.
Mrs. Welburn filed the suit on the ground of mental cruelty, complaining that Welburn had denied that he married her in Boerne last July or that he was the father of the child. He had sought a divorce, custody of the child and sufficient funds for his support and education.

Tells of Intimacies
Mrs. Welburn based her testimony on a recital of her relationships with Welburn. She testified they had been intimate ten times over a certain period, eight of which occurred in the personage where Welburn lived.

Two days ago it became known that Welburn was engaged to Miss Dorothy Watts of Austin, a graduate of the University of Texas, whom he termed "the sweetest thing." He said that last February they had planned to be married.
Attorneys for the pastor said late today that the jury's verdict would be appealed to the court of civil appeals.

Fire Loss Here
Continues Low
June was another quiet month for the Pampa Fire department.
Only six alarms were answered during the month, and the total loss was not more than $25, Chief Clyde Gold estimated last night.

Of the six calls answered, three were on automobile fires. One call was to a trash fire and the others were to minor house fires.

The department made only five runs during the month of May. The total loss did not exceed $10 in that month.

Held in Death

The wedding day of Leona Men-ser, above, 20-year-old glove factory worker, found her not a bride, but a prisoner in the Clarion, Pa., jail, charged with the murder of John Kelly, her 61-year-old mail order fiancé. A few hours before they were to have been married, Miss Menser shot Kelly, she says, in self-defense, after he had abused her.

Manufacturer to End Long Feud With Johnson

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—
Henry Ford's motor company today certified to Hugh S. Johnson, past, present and future compliance with NRA's blue eagle.

A letter, unsigned but stamped
"The Ford Motor company," was submitted to Johnson by a local agent, slightly revised, and then approved over the telephone by a Detroit official of the huge automobile concern.

Johnson then returned the letter for signing by a responsible officer of the Ford company. This new step by the industrialist, which Johnson said restored to Ford an opportunity to bid on millions of dollars in government contracts, was arranged by Harry H. Woodring, assistant secretary of war in charge of procurement, and Representative Kratochvil, Minn., a

Premier Found Guilty—Damages
$15,000 Awarded

EDMONTON, Alberta, June 30. (AP)— J. E. Brownlee, premier of the province of Alberta, tonight lost before a jury here in the civil action for seduction brought by Vivian MacMillan, and her father, Alan MacMillan. The jury awarded $10,000 damages to the girl and $5,000 to her father.

A. L. Smith of Calgary, chief defense counsel, told the jury today before it retired that the premier withdrew his charges of conspiracy against Miss MacMillan and John Caldwell, a young medical student, as the premier desired only to "vindicate" his honor.

The girl charged the official took her into his office, seduced her, and thereby ruined her life by impairing her opportunities for marriage, saying Caldwell had proposed, but withdrew his offer when he learned of her affair with Brownlee.

HITLER CRUSHES MUTINY
LIBERALS ARE
IN CONTROL OF
STOCKS BODY

LIBERALS ARE
STOCKS BODY

BUT CONSERVATIVE IS LIKELY TO BE CHAIRMAN

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—
President Roosevelt tonight named a five-man commission, nominated by four liberal ex-ponents of stringent regulation, to administer the stock exchange control act.

The appointments were:
Joseph P. Kennedy, New York financier, who probably will be the chairman. He will serve for five years.

George C. Matthews of Wisconsin, federal trade commissioner, who has been in charge of administering the 1933 securities act. He was appointed for four years.

James M. Landis, of Massachusetts, federal trade commissioner, author of the securities act, and collaborator in the drafting of the present law, appointed for three years.

Robert E. Healy, chief counsel of the trade commission, prominent in connection with its investigation of public utilities, appointed for two years.

Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the senate banking committee and in charge of its long investigation of stock exchange practices, named to serve one year.

The stock exchange law, with the appointment of the commission, becomes effective automatically tomorrow, with the exception of the provisions relating to margin requirements, which do not go into force until October 1, and several other sections.

The law makes no provision for the appointment of the chairman by the president. It was assumed the chairman would be elected by the commission, and that probably the post would be rotated among the members.

Kennedy was proposed for the commission by New York financial interests and was appointed over the objections of many of the proponents of the original legislation.

The probability of his selection as chairman was based upon the fact that President Roosevelt is anxious that he be given that post as a counter balance for the four liberals who comprise the remainder of the membership.

Memphis to Have Legal Beer Soon

MEMPHIS, June 30. (AP)—
The first time in 38 years, the Hall county precinct embracing Memphis will have legal beer.

After a heated election today,
the third within a year, the city precinct voted wet, the count being 310 for beer and 252 against.

BANK CLAIM REJECTED

NEW ORLEANS, June 30. (AP)—
The United States fifth circuit court of appeals here today affirmed a decision of the northern Texas federal district court, which rejected a claim for $28,000 brought against the Continental Casualty company of Indiana by the First National bank of Amarillo, Tex., for losses through embezzlement of an employee of the bank.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murfee and daughter of San Antonio are visiting friends here. They are former Pampa residents.

CONNALLY TO CITE WORK IN HIS CAMPAIGN

Junior Senator Points to Long List of Bills Favorable to Texas.

GREENVILLE, June 30. (AP)— Tom Connally, junior United State senator from Texas, opened his campaign for re-election in an address here tonight by recounting his part in recovery measures of President Roosevelt's administration and citing his stand on important policies.

He quoted from a letter by the president to John N. Garner, vice-president, saying that the last congress would do down in history as one of large accomplishments for the national good and said he "deemed it an honor to have had a part in such accomplishments."

"It was worth the sacrifice of my personal interests which was entailed by remaining in Washington," he said. "Now that I am free to return to Texas and to mingle with my constituents and friends,
I am happy to embrace the opportunity to report to the democracy of Texas as to how I have discharged the high trust which has been given into my keeping. By the public record I am willing to be judged. . . . On the record I take my stand. I have followed the banner of democracy and I stand by it now."

Connally then cited the Connally amendment adopted by the senate to increase the tariff duty on cattle, his proposal and subsequent enactment of drought legislation in 1929 for the good of Texas farmers, the Jones-Connally cattle repeal act, his co-authorship of the Connally-Patman American Legion
bill providing for colnage of memorial half dollars for the Texas centennial, his policy of supporting measures to adequately care for wounded, disabled or diseased veterans and their widows and orphans and his attitude on the prohibition question.

On the prohibition question he said:
"In 1932 the democrats of Texas by party referendum voted for the submission to the people of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.
The democratic national convention declared for the submission by congress of a repeal resolution. As a democrat I voted in the senate for the repeal resolution submitting repeal to a vote of the people themselves. In the election in Texas, exercising the right guaranteed to every citizen . . . I individually voted against repeal. After submission to the people of the United States adopted repeal by a large majority and I accept their verdict.
It is no longer a national issue."

Dalhart Repair Shop Burns and Loss Is $40,000

DALHART, June 30. (AP)— Rock Island railway's car repair shop, fifteen freight cars and a passenger coach were destroyed in a fire tonight that took a total estimated at from $40,000 to $50,000.

The frame structure burned to the ground within a few minutes.
No one was injured.

Marie Dressler
Rallies Slightly

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 30.
(AP)—Awakening from the lethargic slumber that has gripped her several days, the veteran character actress, Marie Dressler, showed a slight improvement tonight in the illness her physicians fear soon will cause her death.

"Miss Dressler is resting comfortably," said her personal physician, Dr. Franklin R. Nugum. "She no longer is in a coma and is able to take liquid nourishment freely.
Miss Dressler is suffering from cancer and this condition has been aggravated by complications affecting her heart and kidneys."

Misses Grace Hilliard and May-belle McCarty will leave today for their home in Portales, N. M.

CRISIS SLOWS
WHEN LEADERS ARE EXECUTED

PARTY BEING PURGED OF ITS IMMORAL
ELEMENTS

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, June 30. (AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, ruthless and uncompromising, smashed a revolt in the Third Reich today with swift retaliation that took the lives of high oppositionists to his rule.

Over all Germany tonight, however—with troops and machine gunners, rifle-carrying police and guards on patrol—there was suspense, fear, apprehension over a civil war or at least a revolution within the ranks of the National Socialist (Nazi) party.

For the present, Hitler held undisputed power.
In a day of summary punishment for those who challenged his authority—the denouement of the crisis of recent weeks, hastened by the disclosure of immoral orgies indulged in by leaders of his own Nazi storm troops—the chancellor
"liquidated" leaders of a threefold opposition; the reactionary monarchists, the "Catholic action" group and the left wing storm troops who plotted his end.

Two of the dead were charged with plotting with a "foreign power" to end the Hitler regime.

Von Schleicher Slain
They were:
Kurt von Schleicher, former chancellor who wanted to restore the monarchy. He was killed with Frau Von Schleicher when they resisted arrest at their country home.

Two Die Near Floydada Last Night in Wreck

FLOYDADA, June 30. (AP)—Two men were killed and three injured in a truck-automobile collision about three miles east of here tonight.

The dead: G. R. May, about 50, instantly killed, and Mrs. W. A.
Jones, 70, of Ciebume, who died in a hospital here.

An automobile driven by W. B.
Jones of Dougherty county in Floyd county struck a parked truck which May was cranking.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were being treated in a hospital here for injuries, seriousness of which had not been determined. John Edwards Smith, stepson of John suffered a broken arm.

DILLINGER IN ROBBERY

One Man Left Dead and 4
Wounded at South Bend, Ind., After Raid.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 30.
(AP)—A bandit quartet with John Dillinger reported to be in command stormed the Merchants'
National bank today, scooped up $28,000 and fled in a wild barrage of bullets, leaving a slain policeman and four wounded men in their wake.

Those wounded raiders engaged in gun battles with a detective, two officers and a jeweler as they emerged from the bank and made their way to the escape car a half block away. More than 50 shots raked the streets in the heart of the city, throwing the entire district into turmoil.

Officer Harold Wagner encountered the three gangsters who carried out the actual robbery as they were hurrying from the bank. He was fatally wounded before he could reach his pistol.

Those wounded were P. G. Stah-ley, Jake Solomon, Delos N. Coen, a cashier, and Samuel Toth.

PRESIDENT HAS GIVEN LIFE TO RAIL PENSIONS

Social Legislation Is Approved After Study

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)— Asserting that decision had been "difficult," President Roosevelt today announced he had signed the Crosser bill which sets up a retirement pension system for railroad workers.

The legislation provided retirement with pay for railway employees at the age of 65. It compels both the workers and their employers to contribute to a retirement fund.

Both the Prader-Lemke farm moratorium bill, which the president also approved, and the Crosser proposal were fought by conservative forces and supported by liberal elements.

The president listed the arguments pro and con for the railroad pension act and then said:
"After a careful weighing of the advantages and disadvantages to the country I have come to the deliberate conclusion that I should approve the bill."

"The bill is in line with social policy," he added.

The retirement fund built up under the law will be administered by a railroad retirement board.

Bridge Timbers Are Being Moved in
On McClellan

Placing of caiche on the Pampa section of the Pampa-McClellan highway is expected to begin within a few days.

Machinery has arrived for this work but must be conditioned, it was said yesterday. The contractor is going ahead rapidly on the Mc-Clellan end of the road.

Topping of the project will be made possible by a federal loan of $84,000 and outright gift of $36,000, as announced yesterday at Washington.

D. C. News of the grant came in the form of telegrams to County Judge C. E. Cary from Congressman Marvin Jones, Senator Tom Connally, and R. A. Thompson of Fort Worth, state PWA engineer. Mayor
W. A. Bratton also received a telegram from Senator Connally, who was active in Pampa's behalf.

Giving of the work order on the McClellan creek bridge awaits completion of the right-of-way easement, most of which have been obtained.
Meanwhile, the Austin Bridge company, which was given the contract, is moving in heavy timbers over the Fort Worth & Denver railroad.

SURVEY
EXPERIM.
TO BE IN.

NETWORK WOULD BE USEFUL ALSO IN WARTIME

WASHINGTON, June 30. (Special)—Plans for erection of a gigantic 120-foot watch tower and observation post to be set up in Pampa as a laboratory for study of the earth's curvature and general topographic layout are being rushed here by the United States Coast and Geodetic survey, which yesterday before a group of the nation's leading scientists erected an experimental tower here before projecting its vast net-work across the nation to include Pampa as a focal unit.

Dr. William Bowie, chief of the Bureau of Geodesy, was present and was highly impressed with the demonstration. The Pampa tower, which will look like a giant triangular cornucopia, will be composed of two towers in fact—one inside the other. A scientist will be perched on the outside tower studying the delicate instruments setting on the top of the inside tower. The Panhandle tower will be built for final experiments are completed, it was said in the capital today.

Dr. Bowie, who's Who scientist, said that the nation planned a coast-to-coast net-work of these towers. Communication between scientists will be by means of flashes and flares. Dr. Bowie pointed out the extreme value of such a tower net-work in event of war. Even if wire and radios were bombed, the towers would give national communication much after the fashion of the old Indian style of signaling.

Expressing his enthusiasm over the prospective Pampa watchtower, Congressman Marvin Jones said:
"I have always exerted every effort to see that my constituents receive their full share of every scientific development in our country. One cannot overestimate this value of Dr. Bowie's work, and I will follow his activities closely to hasten the day when Pampa will have its own Panhandle watchtower."

(Members of geodesic surveying parties were in Pampa about two months ago. They ran a survey through here from the southeast, crossing one already made from the south. Bench levels, from which altitude calculations are made, were established at the courthouse, new postoffice site, Fort Worth & Denver station, and reading water wells. Results of these readings have not been learned here. It is believed that the watchtower to be erected in Pampa will be experimental and that much work will be done with it before the projected coast to coast network of towers is attempted, if such proves desirable.)

Abilene Still Is Dry Town

ABILENE, June 30. (AP)—Abilene still is a dry town. Voters today for the second time within a year, frowned on the sale of beer within the city limits. The dry vote by a margin of only 35 votes, 1,418 to 1,383.

In the adjoining county of Callahan the wets won two elections and lost one. Putnam and Cross Plains, voting to legalize sale of brew and Clyde voting overwhelmingly against it. The adverse vote in the Clyde precinct will result in the closing of a popular supper club, eight miles from Abilene and patronized by Abileneans.

ly wouldn't like to be finger-printed.

FLEERS, France, June 30. (AP)— Fog, foul weather, and fuel shortage ended another brave aerial venture near here today, hundreds of miles short of its goal.

A rough field at Saint Andre de Messel, tiny village three miles west of Fleers, provided haven for the giant tri-colored Bellanca monoplane in which Benjamin and Joseph Adamowicz, flying brothers from Brooklyn, took off boldly yesterday at Harbor Grace, N. F., in an effort to fly non-stop to War-

After 24 hours and two minutes in the air—they had left Harbor Grace at 3:58 a. m. EST, Friday—they found the twin threat of dwindling gasoline and murky weather too much, and eased their big ship down just after dawn cleared away the haze. The land-

Picture of Local Girl Is Seen in Paper at Detroit

A picture on the front page of a recent Detroit newspaper received here showed Miss Lisa Lindstrom, girl swimming champion, lying in a plaster cast in a Detroit hospital. The nurse caring for the swimming champion was Miss Crystal Burris, former Pampa girl, who is now a nurse in Grace hospital, Detroit.

The picture of Miss Burris was a good likeness. She attended high school here and later graduated from St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo. After graduation, Miss Burris returned to Pampa where she was nurse for a local doctor. Two years ago she went to Detroit to make her home.

Miss Burris is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Cecil of this city. Mrs. Toy Johnson and Miss Maxine Burris are sisters.

The girl swimming champion suffered a broken arm in an automobile accident last week and she will have to remain in a plaster case for a year. Miss Burris writes that her patient is cheerful despite the handicap and is looking on the sunny side of life.

STAY OF FIVE YEARS MADE POSSIBLE NOW

FAIR RENTAL VALUE IS TO BE ASSESSED FARMERS

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt today ended speculation over the fate of the Frazier-Lemke farm moratorium bill with the announcement that he had signed the measure.

One of the broadest acts yet passed for the relief of any class of debtors, the bill would allow debt burdened farmers a five year moratorium if they are unable to reach a satisfactory arrangement with their creditors.

Mr. Roosevelt approved the bill on June 28 but he delayed making his action public so he could explain his reasons for signing it.

He said the legislation was in some respects loosely worded and would require amendment at the next session of congress.

"Nevertheless," the chief executive concluded, "the reasons for signing it far outweigh the argument on the other side."

"There has been a serious lack of understanding of its provisions," Mr. Roosevelt said, "and it has been alleged that insurance companies and other mortgagees will suffer severely through the use of this law by farmers to evade the payment of debts within their capacity to meet."

"I do not subscribe to these fears."

Has Faith in Farmers
"I have sufficient faith in the honesty of the overwhelming majority of farmers to believe that they will not evade the payment of just debts."

He added that "contrary to the belief of many uninformed persons that there is not a general, or wholesale moratorium privilege."

The bill, first advanced by Representative McKeown (D. Okla.), would enable farmers who try to reach a debt settlement through county conciliation commissions to ask federal courts that they be adjudged bankrupt. The conciliation commissions were authorized during the Hoover administration but advocates of additional farm debt relief claimed they helped the producers very little.

After the farmer begins bankruptcy proceedings, the court is to appoint appraisers to arrive at the "fair value" of his land and chattels, if liens are held against them.

If that appraisal is satisfactory to the lien holders, the farmers may pay off the indebtedness over a six year period at rates of interest which begin at one per cent on the total and gradually raise to five per cent.

Can Block Settlement
Any creditor may block the settlement if he desires. But if he does, the federal court is authorized to give the farmer a five year moratorium. During that time the debtor would keep his place and pay a "fair rental value" to be determined by the court. This rent would be divided among the creditors.

At the end of the five year period, the court may make a new appraisal of the property and the farmer could still be relieved of his debts if the lien holders accept that valuation and it is paid, otherwise, foreclosure may be resorted to.

"In the actual operation of the law," Mr. Roosevelt said, "I do not believe that losses of capital will greatly exceed, if they exceed at all, the losses that would be sustained if this measure were not signed."

Moffett Made Housing Official

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP).—Quiet, friendly James A. Moffett of New York who a year ago quiet a $100,000-a-year job to help the government, today was named housing administrator by President Roosevelt.

His task will be the direction of the program which contemplates the expenditure of billions for construction and home repair through co-operation between government and private industry.

The housing act is depended upon to stimulate the heavy goods and construction industries, whose feeble response to recovery has been one of the chief worries of the president for many months. The selection of Moffett to direct the plan in itself is evidence of the confidence Mr. Roosevelt has in his ability.

TEXAS PUZZLE OF POLITICS IS BEFORE FOLKS

First Primary Only Four Weeks Away—No Issue Outstanding in Races.

AUSTIN, June 30. (AP)—Texans are sweating in earnest over their biennial political jigsaw puzzle. Four weeks from today, when the first democratic primary is held, a partial solution will have been affected.

The two high candidates—unless one gets a majority—for governor, United States senator, the 21 seats in the national congress and all state, district and county offices, will enter a run-off primary August 28.

The state-wide candidates have complained that the voters have been slow to give them a hearing. Word comes to the capitol, brought by visitors from all sections of the state, that the electorate still is "shopping" and has not begun to make up its mind about whom to pick for "public servants."

Prohibition Interest Low
Seven candidates for governor are bearing down ardently with speaking campaigns. Apparently, an all-absorbing issue has not been injected. The matter of prohibition—whether Texas should repeal her dry section of the state constitution—barely has created a ripple. Virtually all of the candidates, save one, has declared for submission of the liquor question.

Edward K. Russell of Ammonia, an unknown in politics, is against submission and opposed to alteration of prohibition laws. James V. Allred, attorney general, who wants to be governor, is for submission, but against repeal. C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls and Maury Hughes of Dallas are "out-and-out" repealists. McDonald is the choice of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson for the executive ship. Ferguson will take to the stump July 4 to make a dozen speeches for his friend, Tom F. Hunter, also of Wichita Falls, has paid little, if any, attention to the prohibition issue. Clint Small of Amarillo and Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt of Waco are advocates of repeal.

Bailey Is Active
Tom Connolly of Marlin, Texas' junior United States senator, is opposed by Joseph Weldon Bailey of Dallas and Guy B. Fisher of Bland Lake. Bailey is one of three congressmen at large from Texas. His father was a member of the senate for many years. Bailey has been on the stump several weeks. Senator Connolly did not return for the campaign until congress adjourned. He made his opening speech at Greenville tonight. Fisher is opposing policies of President Roosevelt.

The race for lieutenant governor is an interesting section of the puzzle. Three state senators, John Hornsby, of Austin, Joe Moore of Greenville and Walter Woodul of Houston; a former senator, B. F. Gerkeley, of Alpine; a member of the house, R. M. Johnson of Palestine, and J. P. Rogers of Houston are bidding for the place.

State Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman, John McCraw of Dallas and Clyde E. Smith of Tyler county are engaged in a warm race for attorney general.

Five In Oil Race
There is a five-way contest for membership on the railroad commission, made more interesting because that body administers oil and gas conservation statutes. Lon A. Smith, chairman, asking another six-year term, is opposed by W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas, for years state treasurer; John Pundt of Dallas, interested in East Texas oil production; James L. McNeese of Dallas; and H. O. Johnson of Houston.

State Comptroller George H. Sheppard is trying to retain his office. His opponents are J. J. Patterson of Dallas, Dolph B. Tillison of Henderson and Manley H. Clary of Fort Worth.

Charley Lockhart, state treasurer, is opposed by Dennis B. Waller of Trinity; George B. Terrell of Dallas and Kay Griffin of Fort Worth.

Those campaigning against J. E. McDonald for commissioner of agriculture are Fred W. Davis of Austin; K. Terrell of Floyd county and C. C. Conley of Wilbacy county.

Two In One Race
J. H. Walker, land commissioner, is opposed by Walter E. Jones of Gregg county.

H. S. Lattimore, of the Fort Worth court of civil appeals and son of O. S. Lattimore, veteran judge of the court of criminal appeals; John H. Sharp of Ellis county, member of the supreme court commission of appeals; and James W. McClendon of Austin, chief justice of the Austin court of civil appeals, are seeking the associate justiceship of the supreme court. Voluntary relinquished by Judge Thomas B. Greenwood.

W. C. Morrow, presiding judge of the court of criminal appeals, and L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, are the only state officials without opposition.

Candidate

Dolph B. Tillison of Athens, above, county clerk of Henderson county and candidate for the office of state comptroller, was here Friday in the interest of his campaign. He was born in that county in 1886. He participated in the world war between terms of school teaching, but was elected county clerk four years ago. Two years ago he was re-elected without opposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard and son of Malakoff visited with Mr. and Mrs. Byron Autry Friday while en route home from a vacation trip to Old Mexico, Arizona and New Mexico.

Rufus McDowell of LeFors was a Pampa visitor yesterday morning. Claude Schaffer of Groom spent yesterday afternoon in the city.

Mrs. L. R. Hull of White Deer shopped in Pampa yesterday. S. W. Kerr of Mobeetie was a Pampa visitor yesterday afternoon.

Cardenas Feels Sure of Election In Mexican Race

MEXICO, D. F., June 30. (AP)—While supporters of two rival candidates muttered sullen threats of armed uprising, General Lazaro Cardenas tonight awaited calmly tomorrow's elections at which he confidently expected the powerful national revolutionary party would sweep him into office as Mexico's youngest constitutional president.

Resigned to overwhelming defeat by the governing party's steamroller political machine, Col. Adalberto Tejeda, left socialist candidate, and General Antonio Villareal, standard bearer of independent democratic parties, were reported considering joining forces after the election.

Though the government ignored the vague and unconfirmed rumors of possible revolt and predicted the balloting would go off in comparative quiet, extraordinary precautions were taken to preserve order.

The voters, generally apathetic because victory for the national revolutionary party seems assured, will choose their president, half the national senate, and the entire chamber of deputies, as well as several state governors. Governing party candidates are expected to sweep every office, and interest centered largely on the size of the majorities.

While results of the elections will not be made known officially until congress meets September 1, the national revolutionary party's headquarters will give out unofficial returns shortly after the voting.

Cardenas was expected to poll 80 per cent of the votes, while Villareal, it was predicted, would run second and Tejeda third. Both Tejeda and Villareal have asserted the election will be a "farce," with the votes not even counted.

Record Made in PWA Allotments

WASHINGTON, June 30. (AP)—Aiming at a new speed record in allocating public works funds, Secretary Ickes tonight allotted $36,484,832 to 234 non-federal projects in 24 states and Puerto Rico.

These brought to $189,771.23 the allotments made in the past four days to 1,241 projects. The newest list, along the $24,500,000 set aside for tunnels, bridges and streets in Allegheny county, Pa., and other smaller allocations, have pushed well past the $200,000,000 mark. Eight total earmarked for non-federal projects from the new $500,000,000 public works fund.

With $150,000,000 of the half billion scheduled to be turned over to various types of federal construction, less than $150,000,000 remains to be distributed among hundreds of applications for funds filed by political subdivisions.

Ickes has said many communities would be disappointed and that he could allocate the entire $500,000,000 in a month. Indications are, however, that the rate will slow down now and that the remaining allocations will be spread over most of the summer.

Loans and grants totaling $173,820,963 were authorized for 986 projects. Grants only of 30 per cent of the cost of labor and materials were given the other 236 out of the 1,241 total.

A Million V-8 Followers

... for the Ford idea of low-cost transportation

ON June 20th the millionth Ford V-8 was produced—finest of a long line of nearly 22,000,000 Ford cars.

26 years ago Henry Ford said, "We will build a motor car for the great multitude".

This basic idea has never changed. The name Ford is synonymous with dependable, sturdy low cost motor cars. The V-8 was the answer to the need of the modern motorist for greater speed and flexibility.

Without sacrificing one whit of traditional Ford owner economy and lasting performance, the V-8 has brought to a million owners the power and comfort previously found only in the most expensive cars.

New low prices for 1934 were put into effect June 15.

PAMPA WILL HAVE INVITATION BASEBALL TOURNAMENT IN EARLY FALL

JAYCEES AND OLDER MEN TO HAVE CHARGE

WILL MAKE NAME FOR CITY IN DIAMOND WORLD

A Pampa invitation baseball tournament will be staged this year with the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce as its sponsor. Directors of the organization met Friday afternoon and agreed to accept the responsibility of bringing some of the best baseball teams in the country to Pampa.

Roy Bourland, well known Pampa business man and former professional ball player, will be tournament chairman. He will be assisted by a committee of Jaycees and Pampa business men who have agreed to "put Pampa on the map" in baseball. The committee, which will act as an advisory board, will be announced soon.

The opening date will depend on the number of clubs entering the tournament. The big event will close Labor Day, Sept. 3, when Mayor W. A. Bratton will declare a special holiday and invite every town in the Panhandle to send delegations here.

To Install Lights
Lights will be installed at Roadrunner park where the games will be played. Danciger officials expect to complete negotiations for the lights early this week. Installation will be started soon. Several games will be played under the lights before the opening of the season.

HELLO, POLLS
Now back in old location, ready to see you. Home, Farm, or Ranch. Have extra listings now available. Will be glad to meet you old friends and customers, and ready to make new ones.

tournament. A first place purse will be guaranteed and it will be a "substantial one," the committee announced. Novelty features will be presented throughout the tournament. Indications are that teams will be here from several states to try for the large purse.

Manager Bourland, in accepting the responsibility, declared that the tournament would be operated on the square and that there would be no "jockeying" and no favoritism shown. A set of rules and regulations will be adopted and the tournament will be run according to those rules. Every team entering the tournament will be assured a square deal. They will have the rules before them when they enter, and the tournament will be operated accordingly.

Rules Will Stand
"It may be that we will make a few minor mistakes, this being our first year, but we will make the corrections next year," Mr. Bourland declared. "We will not throw the 1934 tournament into a turmoil by making minor corrections. When we assure a team something, we will stick by our declaration. Pampa has always kept her word and will do the same in the baseball tournament."

A finance committee headed by Aaron Meek will take that responsibility of the shoulders of the tournament committee. An expense system will be set up and purchases will be made only upon the signature of the finance chairman and the president of the Junior chamber of commerce, Clarence Kennedy.

The opening gun of the tournament will be fired Tuesday noon when the Jaycees meet in the basement of the Schneider hotel. President Kennedy has issued a call for all members to be present so that preliminary work can be started immediately.

B. C. D. Will Assist
The Jaycees have the full cooperation of the Board of City Development. Some of the members of the senior board are old baseball players who have not lost interest in the national game. They will be assisting in the work of getting the ball rolling toward a successful conclusion.

The chairman of the tournament committee has played baseball in many parts of the country. He

COLTEXO CATS TO BE HOSTS TO CLARENDON

Much Rivalry Is Aroused As Teams Clash for Initial Competition

With the Coltexo Gasoline division team in the Berger tournament, the Coltexo Black Cats will provide the baseball in LeFors this afternoon. Clarendon's last club will supply the opposition.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock with admission 25 cents. Mullen will be on the mound for the Black Cats, with Leggett behind the bat. The Cats lineup has been strengthened by the signing of Claude Hickey, former Pampa star, and Cushmanberry, an East Texas product. Hickey will be at the hot corner and Cushmanberry will play second base.

The Clarendon lineup had not been received yesterday. It was understood, however, that the Bronco nine is the strongest in Texas. The team defeated Claude's Padre Hounds 7 to 2 last Sunday. One of the biggest contests in LeFors baseball history will be staged July 8 when the two Coltexo teams will meet to decide the company championship. It will mark the first time the two teams have ever met.

BUILDING IMPROVES
DALLAS, June 30 (AP)—Houston and Dallas again led Texas cities in new construction the past week as building permits surpassed the figures for the same period last year. The figures: Houston $88,325; Dallas, $33,044.

Dale Law of Miami visited friends here Friday night.

First broke into baseball with the Fort Worth Polytechnic school back in 1913 and 1914 when that school had one of the best teams in the southwest. The following year Mr. Bourland was captain of the Washington college team of Chestertown, Md. His team met Harvard, Princeton, Tufts, and other large eastern college teams.

In 1915, Roy joined Frank Baker's All Stars and started a tour of the United States. His trip was interrupted when he signed to finish the season with the Philadelphia Athletics under that master of baseball, Connie Mack.

Roy joined the army the next year and played with army teams for several years. In 1921, he was with Galveston in the Texas league. His baseball career ended in 1922 when he suffered a broken shoulder. Baseball is one of Roy's chief hobbies and the Junior chamber of commerce considers itself lucky to secure the services of such a man for tournament chairman.

HILL CAN GET AS TOUGH AS HIS OPPONENT

SCHOLAR TO GRAPPLE LIGHTNING ROD FENTON

A gentleman scholar will tangle with a rough, tough wildman, in the main event wrestling match at the Pampa-Mex auditorium Monday night. The scholar will be Don Hill, former University of California athlete, and the wild man will be Lightning Rod Fenton, Canadian musher and trapper.

Although Hill likes to observe wrestling rules, and has in most of his appearances here, he can get about as rough as anyone. Hill will probably have to "go native" to combat Fenton's roughness tomorrow night.

It will be remembered that Hill can deal about as much punishment with legitimate holds as most wrestlers can with illegitimate mauling. He sometimes loses his temper when the opposition gets too raw.

The Canadian lost a match to Russian George Ligosky here last week but he was outweighed between 15 and 20 pounds. He asked for a return engagement with some one of his own size—but didn't expect to draw Hill, it has been rumored.

The semi-final would grace the top position on most wrestling cards. Speedy Franks, the ugly duckling who got in bad with Pampa fans last week, will return to the mat, this time with Dan Carver, El Paso speedster. The two grapplers will be about the same size. Franks lost to apt Garrison last week but was outweighed many pounds.

The Toledo grappler is ordinarily a scientific grappler, according to ring and mat magazines, but last week he showed a reversal of form. Franks apparently had heard about the type of wrestling presented in the Panhandle and wanted to be in style.

Carver's type of wrestling has appealed to Pampa fans and it might be that Franks can be persuaded to "play clean ball" with the Pampa and who worked in the wheat fields around here during harvest.

The opening match on the big card will see Wildcat Willie of LeFors meeting Kid Hill of Pampa in a one-fall or 20-minute time limit affair, starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Tickets for the card are available at Pampa Drug No. 1.

HAMMAN AND GOODMAN ARE IN GOLF FINALS

FORMER OPEN CHAMP IN GREAT FORM SATURDAY

DALLAS, June 30 (AP)—Several thousand sun-bronzed Texans trekked Brook Hollow fairways today and saw Johnny Goodman of Omaha beat Eddie Connor of Dallas, 6 and 5, and Leland Hamman of Waco defeat Ross McDade of Shreveport, 5 and 3, to sweep into the 36-hole finals of the Trans-Mississippi championship which will be played tomorrow.

Goodman, former national open champion and twice holder of the Trans-Mississippi championship, shot three over par for 31 holes to score his fourth easy championship victory. On the first 18 holes today he riddled the challenge of General Par with a 34-35-69 even though he three putted the seventh and eighth greens for bogey fives. He gave his gallery a sensation when he shot four consecutive birdies on the morning round. He turned the first round with a six-up lead over Connor who shot 40-37-77.

Leland Hamman, runner-up in this year's Texas amateur championship and conqueror of Gus Moreland in last year's western amateur, finished the morning round with 36-36-72 to be three up on McDade's 37-39-76. Hamman finished the day almost wilted by the blistering sun and with a four over par card. The Waco star, who weighs 139 pounds, polished off McDade like a champion by getting a birdie four at the fifteenth green—one of the most treacherous holes on the Brook Hollow course.

McDade, the man who beat Zell Eaton, the man who conquered Lawson Little, fought a gallant battle and gave his gallery a final thrill when he almost holed out a trap explosion shot at the fifteenth for a birdie, but he missed and Hamman, who was defeated in the first round of last year's Trans-Mississippi at Colorado Springs, went into the finals with a promise that tomorrow, Goodman will not win with the apparent ease he has in all his other "Trans" matches.

Goodman admitted today he was playing his best golf since he won the 1933 national open crown. He has not been down to a single opponent since match competition started.

Indians to Play 2 Games Today

The Busby Indians will play a doubleheader this afternoon with the first game starting at 2 o'clock. The Indians will meet the Willard Advertisers first and will finish with the Consumers Oilers providing the opposition.

The games will be played on the Wilcox addition diamond. Manager Busby said yesterday he would start Trenary and Kelley with Al He Barnett behind the bat. Battery for the Oilers could not be learned yesterday.

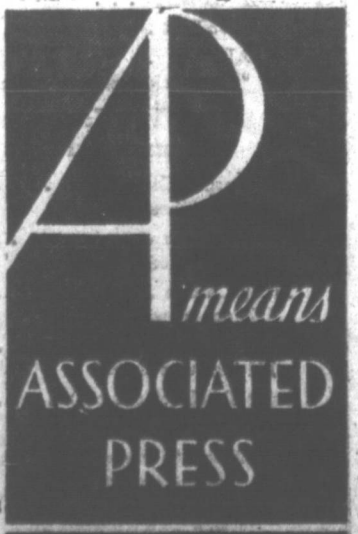

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight appointed the federal communications commission with Eugene O. Sykes of Mississippi as chairman. The other members of the communications commission are Thad H. Brown of Ohio, Paul Walker of Oklahoma City, Normarr Case of Rhode Island, Irvin Stuart and Hampton Gary of Texas and George Henry Payne, of New York. Sykes and Brown are members of the federal radio commission which is to be absorbed by the communications commission.

POTENTIAL IS WELL BEYOND 200,000 MARK

Panhandle Allowable Not Changed, but Factor of Proration Lowered.

The Panhandle potential passed the 200,000 barrel mark last month, according to the summary issued by the local office of the Texas railroad commission yesterday. The summaries are available to producers who are urged to call at the office for the reports. The commission does not have stamps to mail the summaries.

The percentage factor was lowered only from 16.62 to 15.99 per cent despite the large increase in production during the month. The field potential was set at 208,968 barrels and the amount of prorable oil 176,630 barrels.

A summary of the report shows: CARSON—292,989 barrels prorable potential, 10,222 barrels allowable, 5,865 barrels allowable. GRAY—911 wells, 146,755 barrels potential, 130,788 barrels prorable oil, 35,383 barrels allowable. HUTCHINSON—675 wells, 34,046 barrels potential, 24,989 barrels prorable oil, 12,726 barrels allowable. WHEELER—71 wells, 13,572 barrels potential, 12,640 barrels prorable oil, 2,816 barrels allowable.

TOTAL—1,949 wells, 208,968 barrels potential, 176,630 barrels prorable oil, 56,800 barrels allowable.

The railroad commission Friday issued a new proration order, effective at 7 a. m. today and expiring at 7 a. m. Aug. 1, fixing the state allowable at 1,006,000 barrels daily, 65,925 barrels less than the present figure, 142,967 less than the nomination for Texas crude and 36,000 less than the allocation of 1,042,000 barrels certified by the United States bureau of mines as the market demand for July.

The reduction was a cut of 10 per cent in the flush fields of the state, East Texas, Van, Conroe and Yates, leaving all others unchanged.

East Texas was reduced from 510,486 barrels to an approximate 458,000, a cut of about 52,500 barrels. The 650 marginal wells with twenty barrels daily permissible are not affected by the cut and their number is slightly increased as the present allowable of 5 per cent of an hour's flow was reduced to 4.5 per cent. Yates was cut from 56,500 barrels daily to 41,850, Van from 477,500 to 427,500 and Conroe from 53,000 to 47,700. The East Texas allowable will increase almost daily as completions average ten a day and the 4.5 per cent permissible will apply to each new well. A few minor adjustments were made in some of the other fields, but the district totals remained about the same.

In announcing the 10 per cent cut in the four flush fields the commission stipulated that the new orders apply to corrected oil, meaning oil after the deduction of basic sediment and water and correction for temperature and strappage.

The new allowables and comparisons with other figures are as follows:

District	New Allowable	Expiring Nomination	Allowable	Prorable Oil
East Texas	458,000	509,081	509,081	600,000

D'SPAIN TEST IN HOUR DOES 235 BARRELS

GRAY COUNTY LEADS IN LOCATIONS WITH FOUR

By GEORGE L. GUTHRIE Consulting Geologist, Combs-Worley Bldg.

Out of five new locations, Gray county had four with Carson county taking the other one during the last week. Wheeler county made up for not having any new locations by bringing in several good wells.

The Ryan Consolidated Petroleum company filed petition to drill its number 9, B. F. Block 330 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of section 11, block 4, I&GN survey, Carson county.

The Humble Oil and Refining company intends to drill number 2 Palmer, 1168 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of the west 100 acres of section 31, block 8-2, Gray county.

The Magnolia Petroleum company is moving in material to drill its number 3 Haggard, 330 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the west line of section 113, block 3, I&GN Gray.

The Texas company made a location on its Barrett lease 330 feet from the south line and 330 feet from the east line of the west half of the south east quarter of section 12, block 3, I&GN.

Empire Gas and Fuel company filed petition to drill number 4 A. J. Culler, 1660 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of the north west quarter of section 164, block 3, I&GN.

Bringing Them In

Wheeler county has held the limelight during the week. It brought in the largest producer in history of the county when the Christie and Hickman number 2 D'Spain came in making 235 barrels an hour, producing from the granite wash 14 feet above sea level and from the dolomite. It is reported to be making about 24 million feet of gas in addition to the oil. It is a direct offset to the Smith Brothers well which came in a short time ago for 2,468 barrels during the first 24 hours.

The Shell Petroleum company's number 1 Bush is also raising the potential of the hot spot. It swabbed 5145 barrel and is now on test on test.

The Alma Oil company's number 1, Perkins is due in today and is right in line to be a big producer.

Gordon Burch's number 1 Plummer in section 45, block 24 came in last night with top of pay at 2443 feet. The Burch-Plummer well will be a producer and will extend the hot spot 2 1/2 miles toward the Magic City pool, which was extended a mile west about a month ago by the Magic Oil and Gas company's number 1 Walker in section 44, block 24. The fact is that it will prove that the two pools are connected and this strip is only waiting for the drill to make a forest of devices to fill in the now barren sand hills. Gray county is still in the picture as it always has been, though the novelty has worn off. It still continues to bring in wells but with not so much ballyhoo.

The Dixon Creek Oil and Refining company, after a shot of 230 quarts from 2333-69, swabbed 444 barrels in 17 hours. It is now on test.

The Gulf Production company's number 1 Barrett in section 128, block 3, I&GN, after a shot of 210 quarts, made an initial production of 350 barrels, pumping.

The British American Oil and Gas company's number 7 Phillips in section 127, block 3, I&GN, averaged 59 barrels on its five-day test.

Phillips Petroleum company's number 7 Fox, in section 26, block 3, I&GN, averaged 60 barrels for its initial production.

The Magnolia Petroleum company's number 1-E Haggard in section 113 block 3, swabbed 180 barrels in 12 hours.

The Magnolia's number 3 Heaton in section 164, block 3 swabbed 286 barrels in 16 hours.

In Hutchinson county the Ohio Fuel company struck the water at 2650 in its number 1 D'Spain in section 52, block 24 and have abandoned the location.

Drilling Costs To Be Studied In City Friday

Continuing its efforts to establish the fair economic minimum cost of drilling wells in Texas oil fields, the Texas drilling practices committee has scheduled a hearing to be held at Pampa next Friday, at which Panhandle operators and drilling contractors will present data on the cost of drilling wells in the LeFors-Bowers-Finley area. The meeting will be held in the Schneider hotel at 10 a. m. under direction of C. B. Williams of Fort Worth and George B. Cree of Pampa, composing what is known as the Panhandle zone sub-committee.

Determination of the "fair economic cost" is arrived at through a compendium of information furnished to the committee in open hearing by the various operators and contractors drilling in a given area. When a "fair economic cost" has been declared by the drilling practices committee, drillers, under the oil code, are required to adhere to the established or a higher price per foot.

New Oil Deal Is Asked by Small In Talk Yesterday

HENDEDSON, June 30.—Senator Clint Small renewed his East Texas campaign for governor here Saturday night with a call for a new deal in the oil industry and the threatening situation in the East Texas field.

Texas needs an oil and division entirely divorced from the railroad commission to regulate this giant industry, which, he said, has "de-throned cotton as the financial king in the Lone Star state. Small denounced the practice of running hot oil and the "theft" of oil from royalty owners. Steps must be taken, he said, to enforce oil allowables, and he promised, if elected, to do all in his power to bring about a new commission composed of three members to administer the state's oil statutes.

Small is scheduled to resume his campaign at Terrell Monday after which he will jump to Brady for a speaking engagement Tuesday night. Wednesday, July 4, will be spent in Ranger and Mineral Wells. Thursday will find the candidate at Strawn in the morning, Eastland in the afternoon and Stephenville at night. Friday's schedule includes Hico in the morning, Hamilton in the afternoon and Brownwood at night. He will open in Lampasas Saturday morning and speak in George town in the afternoon and close the week at Taylor Saturday night.

Conferring with his managers here, Small said he found abundant encouragement in West Texas and that friends promised him from 60,101 to 85,101 votes in the tier of counties embracing the Panhandle and south plains, his home section.

Reports from the Rio Grande valley, where he has not yet spoken also are favorable, he said.

"I have every reason to be confident when I consider that this year I am going to get 15,100 to 20,000 votes in Harris county where four years ago I got but few votes, but I'm going to get an additional 15,000 in the Beaumont-Port Arthur section. With people turning to my candidacy all over the state every day, I don't have any fears about missing the run-off."

establish costs for the LeFors-Bowers-Finley area, Williams stated in his written notification of the hearing that requests for establishment of such costs in other Panhandle fields would be accepted. He urged that all operators and contractors interested in the Panhandle attend the Friday hearing.

"Fair economic costs" already have been set up for East Texas, Greta, and government wells.

PAMPANS PLAY DOUBLEHEADER IN CITY TODAY

TEAMS FROM MEMPHIS AND SAYRE PLAY ROADRUNNERS

Two baseball games for the price of one will be available to baseball fans at Roadrunner park this afternoon. The Roadrunners will meet Sayre, Okla., at 2 o'clock and will follow with the Memphis Owls providing the opposition.

Both visiting clubs will be making their first appearances of the season in Pampa. Several players on both teams are well known here, however. Some of them have played on Pampa teams in past years.

Manager George Bulla has not definitely settled on his starting lineup. Injuries have been numerous the last few weeks and the little manager doesn't want to take chances on having old injuries come back. As a result Baccus, whose finger is still sore, may be missing from the lineup. Brickell's ankle is still sore but exercise might be good for it.

Although the Roadrunner manager made no definite announcement of his starting hurlers, he intimated that Tate and Marbaugh might get the assignments. Stegman, Hardin, Stewart, and the manager himself will all be ready for mound duty if the necessity arises. Larry Trenary was in uniform Thursday and may get a chance during the games.

The visiting teams have not sent starting lineups. It is known, however, that both nines are recruiting strength for the big games. The Roadrunners have gained quite a reputation and a win over the Pampa team boosts stock for the opposition.

WOOD ADVANCES
WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 29. (AP)—Sidney B. Wood Jr., American Davis cup player and titleholder here in 1931, today advanced to the fifth round of the English tennis championships with a straight set victory over the former Columbia university tennis and basketball star, Dave Jones, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

Louisiana agricultural authorities figure that if the state's annual production of strawberries were placed end to end, the line would reach around the world twice.

American Net Stars Hold Six Of 16 Places

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 30 (AP)—The United States held six of the sixteen places in the quarter-finals of both the men's and women's singles divisions as the first week of play closed today in the all-England tennis championships.

Frank Shields, New York, and George M. Lott, Chicago, joined their Davis cup team mates, Slim Sweeney, Lester Stiefen, California, in the round of eight today as King George and Queen Mary headed a crowd of 20,000 that packed the Wimbledon stands.

But as the play resumes Monday only Wood, singles ace of the American Davis cup squad, is favored to advance toward the men's title now held by Jack Crawford, of Australia. Stiefen must play the defending champion Monday.

Lott faces Fred Perry, one of England's Davis cup singles champions, and the erratic Shields tackles the other, H. W. (Bunny) Austin. Their chances of success are considered slim.

Wood faces much simpler opposition in Vernon G. Kirby, South African star who played as upstart today by eliminating Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, of Germany, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

The women's quarter-final pairings next week pit Cilli Aussem, German star, against Miss Jacobs and Mme. Rene Mathieu, France's outstanding player, against Miss Palfrey, Dorothy Round of England, and Lolette Payot, of Switzerland meet in the third match and Joan Hartigan, Australian champion, and Miss Scriven in the fourth.

Shields, the blaster, was the center of attention today as he was forced to five sets to beat Christian Boususs, young left handed Frenchman. The king, in gray bowler and gray suit, leaned attentively on his cane and never missed a play as they divided the first four sets before Shields rallied desperately to take the deciding set and the match 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 7-9, 8-6.

Wood and the American cup team captain, Richard Norris Williams, won their first round match with Jiro Yamagishi, the Japanese, 4-6, 2-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Lott, generally regarded as the finest doubles player in the world but less proficient at singles, dropped the first set of his match with Harry Hopman, former Australian Davis cup player, but came on to win thereafter in steady fashion by scores of 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Perry subdued Adrian Quist, young Australian, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

BONTHRON AGAIN BEATS RIVAL GLENN CUNNINGHAM, SETTING UP SENSATIONAL RECORD OF 3:48

MILWAUKEE, June 30. (AP)—In a thunderbolt finish that stirred the emotions of 17,000 sweating spectators, Princeton's Bill Bonthron, smooth, tireless and game, conquered his arch rival, Glenn Cunningham of the plains of Kansas, in the 1500-meter run today to smash all existing records for the distance.

In a race jammed with a nerve tingling climax, Bonthron came from behind to defeat Cunningham, holder of the world record for the one mile run, and provide a dramatic thrill for the 47th National A. A. U. outdoor track and field championship in which three world records were broken.

He conquered Cunningham by two feet in the sensational time of 3:48. The race was a classic. Officially there were five starters in the race, but actually there were only three—Bonthron, Cunningham and Gene Venke, of Pennsylvania and the New York Athletic club. Venke failed to figure after the first lap.

It was the third time that Bonthron had beaten Cunningham in their five sensational matches, which have been run in both sides of the continents.

ROADRUNNERS OPEN BORGER TOURNAMENT BY DEFEATING PHILLIPS 66 NINE, 10 TO 4

Coltoso Gasoliners to Play Phillips '66' Borger Team, This Afternoon.

By hitting the ball hard in the eighth inning and fielding superbly behind the pitching of Pete Stegman, the Pampa Roadrunners last night won the opening game of the Borger Invitation tournament from the Phillips Oilers of Borger, 10 to 4.

The Roadrunners drove "Pewee" Bass, little left-hander, from the mound in the seventh and continued to pound Manager Bill Ellis in the eventful eighth to send seven runs across the plate. Stegman was practically invincible excepting in the fifth when Red Gaither, former Pampa star, hit a home run which was followed by a walk and two singles.

The Roadrunners slipped across a run in each of the first three innings and then were held until the eighth when they scored the rest of their runs. Borger scored three in the fifth and the other counter in the sixth inning.

Ray Ater, Roadrunner shortstop, led the Pampa attack with two doubles and a single. Grover Setz connected for a triple and Ward and Vaughn gathered doubles.

Surface, with two triples, was in the van of the Phillips attack. Gaither hit a home run and Jackson connected for a double.

A light shower before game time caused the field to be slow and the game was late in starting. A good crowd was on hand for the opening of the tournament.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Coltoso Gasoliners of LeFors will meet the Phillips '66' Oilers of Borger in the second game. The Roadrunners will not play again before Monday night and possibly not until Tuesday.

Other clubs entered in the tournament are Wade and Warwick of Wichita Falls, Fort Worth All Stars, Roswell, N. M., Huber Refining of Borger, and Sunray of Borger. Hollis, Okla., and Wellington were expected to send teams today or tomorrow.

California Net Aces Win Titles

PHILADELPHIA, June 30. (AP)—Collegedom's most prized tennis honor—the national intercollegiate crown—went back to the Pacific Coast again today, dangling from the talented racket of rugged Gene Mako, the 18-year-old Southern California sophomore with the crushing forehead and battering service.

In just 45 minutes and three fast sets the husky blonde from the coast crushed young Gilbert Hunt, another 18-year-old sophomore, who hails from Washington, D. C., and plays out of Massachusetts Tech, by scores of 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

A half-hour's rest, and Mako returned to the velvety center court at Merion Cricket club, Haverford, and, with his college-mate, Phil Castlen, captured, also, the doubles championship. They downed Jack Tibball and Charles Churnt of the University of California at Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Swimming Meet Will Be Held at Pool on July 4

Swimming races and diving contests will be held at the Pampa swimming pool Wednesday afternoon, July 4, Manager Archie Lee Walstead announced yesterday. The contests will begin at 3:30 o'clock and will be open to anyone in this section.

Prizes will be awarded in each event. The list of events and prizes will be announced later. No entry fee will be charged contestants, and there will be no charge to spectators.

The Pampa team will compete with a team from Amarillo next Sunday.

Texan Is Beaten In College Golf

COUNTRY CLUB, Cleveland, June 30 (AP)—Charley Yates, the calm southern shot maker from Georgia Tech, became the national intercollegiate golf champion this afternoon when he defeated Ed White of Texas, 5 and 3, in the final match play.

Erratic driving put White behind in the first 18 holes of the match, Yates having a four up lead at lunch time. This afternoon, however, the Texan settled down and on the last few holes made a gallant fight for the championship.

Jack Torrance of Louisiana State university, 285 pound, 6 foot, four inch son of the bayous, tossed the 16-pound shot to a new world record of 55 feet 3 inches on his very first attempt. He eclipsed his own record of 55 feet 1 1/2 inches, set at the Drake relays two months ago—Glen Hardin, a team mate of Torrance, smashed the world's record in the 400-meter hurdles, winning the event in 51.8.

Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette's great negro sprinter, achieved the distinction of winning both the 100 and 200-meter races for the third successive year, tying the record of Bernie Weber, coach of the New York A. C., who in 1905, 1906 and 1907 won both the Nation A. A. U. sprints.

Metcalfe chalked up 10 points to lead the individual performers in the meet.

Owens, the Ohio state negro, was next to Metcalfe in high point scoring, chalking up eight by his victory in the broad jump and finishing second in the 100-meter dash, while Torrance scored seven points in winning the shot put with his record breaking heave and taking third place in the 56-pound weight event.

TEXAS TYPING CHAMPION

ABILENE, June 29 (AP)—Mary Burger, 16-year-old Abilene high school girl, is the world champion novice typist. Thursday at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, she typed 88 words per minute to win the championship and set a new world record in the beginners' class, according to word received here. The previous record in that division is 76 words per minutes.

L. A. Snodgrass of Stinnett visited in Pampa Friday night.

Yates was consistent throughout the day and on very few holes was he in any great difficulty. The Georgia lad went three up on the first nine; was four up at noon and six up at 27.

PIONEER DIES

SPUR, June 29 (AP)—Ed Lisenby, 63, pioneer farmer and ranchman of Spur, died in a Lubbock sanitarium today after an illness of several weeks. For 40 years he had been prominent in ranching circles around Childress, Matador and other West Texas towns and for almost a quarter of a century he was identified with Spur business and ranch activities.

FOURTH MADE POSSIBLE ONLY BY 'RADICALS'

MRS. ROOSEVELT SHOWS HOW LIBERTY WAS GAINED

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT. This week the greatest of our national holidays will be upon us for on the Fourth we celebrate our Declaration of Independence. It may be of interest to you to know that this declaration did not come about so simply as our children probably imagine, nor was it actually signed on the fourth of July.

Before the Revolution our difficulties with the mother country were largely economic and the gradual shifting from economic to political issues did not occur until the Revolution was well under way. North Carolina, the first state to authorize her delegates in congress to join others in a declaration which would point out the Colonies' rights to a certain measure of freedom, took this step on April 12, 1776. Virginia was the first colony to instruct her delegates to take the initiative in making this declaration and accordingly Richard Henry Lee, on June 7, 1776, moved the adoption of a resolution setting forth "that these united Colonies are and of right ought to be free and independent States."

This motion was seconded by John Adams of Massachusetts but instead of unanimous agreement all possible objections were offered by the conservatives. We can read these objections today and we think we can almost hear them—"The country was young and weak; they were not a united nation; what would it do without the support of the mother country; what leaders were there in the Colonies and where would the money come from to run the government?" In this first congress the conservatives won out and the radicals were forced to accept delay on the condition that the committee meanwhile work on a document to serve as a preamble to the resolution. Thereupon Thomas Jefferson, a member of the committee, was entrusted with the work of drafting the preamble. Despite the care with which it was worded there was still disagreement on July 2nd as to whether to adopt the resolution. Three states were uncertain, New York refused to participate but cast her vote for the resolution on the 9th, though it was not announced until the 16th while Delaware and Pennsylvania cast divided ballots.

We have celebrated the Fourth down through the years because on that day the results of this vote were announced to the public in general. We were already fighting for our independence when this declaration formulated and it did much to draw the thirteen Colonies together. Better still, it gave them the ability to fight the war through to a successful finish.

The Declaration of Independence was always a sacred document but for one hundred and one years it had no permanent home. Ten different cities in five different states have housed it for a time. Twice it was nearly destroyed by fire and twice—once during the Revolution and once in the War of 1812—it was nearly captured by the British. From 1804 until 1861 the state department in Washington took care of it but now, and we hope for all time, it is housed in the Library of Congress in a special case where visitors may easily see it.

For many a long year now the Fourth of July has been one of our legal holidays. We have celebrated with fire crackers and fire works because of its connection with a war, I suppose. Happily, it has become increasingly evident in late years that this somewhat expensive and dangerous procedure might well be changed and campaigns have been put on to induce people to celebrate it in a little more peaceful and intelligent manner. Cities have organized ceremonies and entertainments and on the whole we hear of fewer fireworks accidents to small boys and their elders.

I often wonder whether those who celebrate it think for a moment of the qualities of the men who wrote this declaration which really made it possible for us to be celebrating our freedom. The cool, indomitable courage of this handful of men and their unselfish interest in their country coupled with their imagination and their dreams are what made us grow from a sprinkling of people along the Atlantic seaboard into a great nation stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to Mexico.

Historic Coverlet Let to Museum

CANYON, June 30.—A bed coverlet made of silk handkerchiefs has recently been loaned to the Panhandle Plains Historical society to be on display for a short time.

The coverlet, made of silk handkerchiefs with a brocade-like finish, is the work of the hands of the late Mrs. D. E. Keith on Christmas day, 1889, and were gifts from the cowboys of the old Matador ranch. The initials of the giver were embroidered upon each handkerchief. Upon the death of Mrs. Keith in 1922, the handkerchiefs went to her daughter, Miss Mary Keith of Matador, who made them into a bedspread.

Shown with the spread are pictures of Mrs. Keith and her husband and some of the cowboys who worked on the Matador ranch long ago.

The historic spread was brought to the museum by professor L. F. Sheffy, secretary of the Panhandle Plains Historical society, who is spending the summer collecting manuscripts of the plains country.

Mrs. Joe Doby of LeFors shopped here yesterday.

COOL DRINKS FOR HOT DAYS ARE POPULAR

Nutritious Beverage Recipes Given Today

DENTON, June 30.—On a sweltering day in summer how grateful one is for a cool, refreshing drink. One of the most satisfying ways of extending hospitality through a deliciously cool drink. It is quite easy to always have these drinks on hand if you will make a supply of sugar syrup, cool and pour it into a colored jar and keep it ready in the refrigerator. Use this syrup to sweeten cold fruit juices, add crushed ice and carbonated water if desired, and you have a delightful drink for your family or the chance caller, with a very little effort.

By use of cocoa syrup, milk, malted milk, eggs, etc., drinks that are cooling but very nutritious may also be readily prepared.

SUGAR SYRUP: 4 c boiling water, 4 cups sugar. Dissolve the sugar in the boiling water and cook for at least 10 minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars, seal and keep in the refrigerator to use when needed.

COCOA SYRUP: 1-2 c cocoa, 1 c cold water, 2 c sugar, 1-8 t salt, 2 t vanilla. Mix the cocoa and hot water to a smooth paste. Add the rest of the water and cook directly over the flame, stirring until thickened and smooth. Add salt and sugar. Boil for about three minutes, stirring constantly. Add vanilla and pour into a sterilized jar and seal. Yields 2 cups.

GRAPE JUICE PUNCH: 2 c water, juice 2 lemons and 1 orange, 2 c grape juice, 1 c sugar syrup, crushed ice. Squeeze the juice from the orange and lemons and strain into a large pitcher. Add water, grape juice and sugar syrup. Fill ice tea glasses 1-2 full of crushed ice and pour in the punch. Carbonated water may be used. This recipe makes 3 quarts.

GINGER ALE PUNCH: Juices of 4 lemons and 3 oranges, 3-4 cups syrup, 2 c cold water, 1 c cold beer, 2 c cold water, ice. Add sugar syrup and tea to the fruit juice. Chill. Just before serving add the water, ginger-ale and ice. Garnish with mint. Makes 2 quarts.

FRUIT PUNCH: 3 c orange juice, 1 c lemon juice, strained, 2-1-2 c pineapple juice, 1-1-3 c sugar syrup, 4 c water, ice. Mix sugar syrup with fruit juices. Add the water, stir well, and when ready to serve pour over crushed ice in glasses. Makes 3 quarts.

CHOCOLATE MILK SHAKE: 2 c milk, 3 t cocoa syrup, crushed ice. Put all the ingredients into a Mason fruit jar and shake well or beat with a Dover beater.

To make chocolate malted milk, add 4 t malted milk, mixed to a paste with milk to the chocolate milk shake given above. Shake or beat vigorously.

EGGNOG: 1 egg, 1 t powdered sugar, pinch of salt, 1 c cold milk, 1-4 t vanilla or other flavoring. Separate the white from the yolk of the egg. Add the salt to the white and beat until stiff, adding gradually the sugar, flavoring, well beaten egg yolk and lastly the milk. Pour into a tall glass and serve.

TRAINING OF ADULTS PART OF HOME BUILDING

MRS. JOHN M. FOX, Wichita Falls, State Publicity Director.

Problem parents create problem children. There never has been an effect without a cause. When the parent-teacher unit is placed in its proper perspective in the child who has to live in the world of the future and whose attitudes make that world, then, and then only, is society beginning at the bottom of the problem and of justice and a saner and happier viewpoint for all the people, based on that of the top after character has been formed.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, in its thirty-five years of service to the children of this land, have long since recognized that parent education and training is just as vital as child education and training; that the two form a seamless benefit chain and human relationship; that it should be placed first and foremost in the work of this organization is promoting through its various state branches.

And so Parent-Education study groups have sprung up with remarkable rapidity in every state. They are fostered by parent-teacher units and function as an integral and prominent part of active associations in progressive communities everywhere.

The Texas congress, under its state chairman of parent education, Mrs. J. H. Emmert, Wichita Falls, is making great strides in accomplishing its ultimate goal of organizing a study group in every association in Texas. Among 600 groups with a membership of 110,809 for national in 1933, 464 of these groups are functioning in Texas with an estimated membership of over 8,000 members.

The child's first school is "his home," asserts Mrs. Emmert. "The knowledge he gains there and the experience he has there in early childhood, will endure long after he has forgotten problems in geometry or important roots in Latin. Through the years the basic structure of a child's development continues in the home. If it does not the home is falling in its biggest contribution in the way of a child's education. The aim of intelligent parenthood is to further the process of development; to attempt to train in methods of freedom; to teach self-direction and self-control, and to furnish proper standards of emotional balance and character development."

Mrs. Emmert is vitally interested in the organization of additional study groups in the state of Texas and invites correspondence from parent-teacher units desiring information, literature, or other help.

Miss Stennis Is Among Highest In Rank At College

DENTON, June 30.—Miss Jeanette Stennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Stennis of Pampa, has been classified scholastically among the highest 15 per cent of the student body at Texas State College for Women (C1A). She has been awarded undergraduate honors for her scholastic attainment for the spring semester.

With the establishment of the new system of honors, a student must now make 2.1 times as many credit points as number of credits hours taken in order to become eligible. Heretofore the dean of the college has had a special honor roll that consisted of students who made all A's and B's, physical education excepted.

Miss Stennis received her bachelor degree from the college in June.

SHALLOW NEW HATS NEED ELASTIC BANDS

PARIS (AP)—The elastic bands lift the girls used to wear under their chins to hold on their sailor hats have been borrowed to snap round the back of mippy's head for the same reason. Scores of summer hats with every type of brim from a narrow sailor to a "merry widow" are designed with crowns so shallow they need support to hold them in place. Modistes have borrowed the elastic bands and snap them around the back of their clients' ears just above the cluster of curls.

MORE THAN BEAUTY IS NEEDED TO WIN PLACE IN MOVIES NOW

HOLLYWOOD, June 30.—In other days girls came to Hollywood from behind ribbon counters, from schools from Main street—and some of them became stars.

The same girls could come to Hollywood today and get nowhere. The competition is terrific and of a different sort. The girls who have a contract is envied, even if it's not an "important" contract that brings in a big movie salary.

Let's see what lies behind one of these contracts and look at a typical young player who is on the way. Here's Lois January. Lois is 20, fresh and youthful, pretty but no prettier than many girls who wait on tables at Hollywood restaurants. Where's the difference?

An "Actress" at Two. Since she was two years old Lois has been in training for a theatrical career. She began dancing then. She has studied singing, dancing, the piano, foreign languages, dramatics. She has acted in stock in her native Texas and at the Pasadena community playhouse. It was there that she attracted movie attention and from there she went into Universal's recent "acting school." She was the only girl given a contract at the end of the course.

BRIDE-TO-BE GIVEN SHOWER HERE FRIDAY

Miss Lilly Modgling To Be Married July 1

Miss Lilly Modgling, who will become the bride of Mr. E. C. McCullough of Dallas at the home of the groom's parents in Fort Worth, Sunday afternoon, July 1, with the Rev. McCullough, father of the groom, officiating, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. John Hesse with Mrs. Paul Carmichael and Miss Hazel Christian as hostesses.

The party was held on the lawn and the bride-elect found many beautiful and useful gifts by following a long white cord.

Miss Modgling is a graduate nurse from Shanton Memorial hospital, San Angelo. She has done special nursing in Pampa for the past four years and is well known in the professional circles.

K. C. McCullough is employed by the Sinclair Oil company at Dallas.

Gifts were sent by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilmesmeier, Mrs. Lillian Treece, Miss Verna Fox, Miss Velma Roberts, Mrs. Sam Penburg, Mrs. Frank Goodhalter, and Mrs. Inez Lawrence.

Those present were Meses. M. P. Dowis, Pete Higgins, Cecil Miller, C. B. Chandler, John Hesse, Misses Ola Nellis, Katherine Howell, Lucille Douglas, Tommie Tou Modgling, Gladys Modgling, Mildred Mason, Bess Mason, Marie Carter, and the two hostesses, Mrs. Carmichael and Miss Christian.

Morning Bridge Played at Home Of Mrs. Pafford

Mrs. E. J. Pafford entertained the Linger Louger Bridge club with a lovely morning bridge and luncheon Friday.

A pink and white color scheme was used and the house was decorated with cut flowers.

Miss Frances Finley scored high and Mrs. Jack Baker second high. At noon a two-course luncheon was served to the following members: Gladys Modgling, Mildred Mason, Russell Kennedy, E. L. Turner, Jack Baker, Misses Finley, Mary J. Pafford, and the hostess, Mrs. E. J. Pafford.

Mrs. Jack Baker, 309 North West, will be hostess to the club on July 12.

SHOES WITH POCKETS GO TO BEACHES

PARIS (AP)—Put a pocket on your beach-shoe for smartness and practicality on the sands. Vera Borea makes canvas beach shoes for smart continental with little pockets on the side to hold money or matches.

SUMMER IS PARTY TIME FOR YOUNG ENTERTAINERS

Summer is a good time for the children to entertain. It brightens their vacations and helps them to acquire poise in entertaining their guests.

If the party food is simple there will be less difficulty in carrying dishes. A large table set on the lawn can be used to serve from.

Frequently the guest list contains the name of many children, but the task of serving them must be handled by a few adults. In that case it may be advisable to have the boys wait on the table for the first course and let the girls serve the ice cream and cake.

Always arrange an outdoor party so it may be brought indoors quickly in case of rain.

FILLING FOR SUGAR COOKIES

Peanut butter, thinned with butter and a little cream, makes a good filling for sugar cookies. Arrange after cookies are baked.

STORY HOURS FOR CHILDREN BEGIN JULY 3

ED. MARKHAM GROUP WILL HAVE TWO SECTIONS

The Edwin Markham Circle of Child Conservation League will conduct a story hour for the children of Pampa during July and August, beginning on the morning of July 3.

The classes will be held in the Sunday school part of the Presbyterian church. Stories will be told to children between the ages of four and seven from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. and the story hour for children between seven and ten years will be held from 10:30 until 11:30 a. m.

Mrs. G. C. Durham and Mrs. O. L. Bassham will be in charge of the children.

If this is successful, it will be continued indefinitely.

No Trump Club Theme Tuesday Is Oriental One

Mrs. C. H. Dunaway was hostess to the No Trump Bridge club at the Crystal Palace last Tuesday evening.

A colorful Japanese color scheme was effectively carried out. Pictures, bowls of pink flowers, tallies, score pads, and cards all carried out the Japanese theme. Cherries were on each table throughout the four games of bridge.

Miss Mildred Chumley scored high and received a Japanese plaque. Bonnie Patton was awarded a Japanese fan and incense for low. Mrs. Ray Chastain made high cut and the first little slam of the evening and was given a Japanese vase and umbrella. Miss Aletta Chandler was the first to make game in clubs and received a Japanese fan.

Refreshments of cherry blossom desert, tiny cakes and cherry lime were eaten by Japanese lantern lights.

Those present were: Misses Bonnie Patton, Helen Sullins, Aletta Chandler, Mary Patton, Claudia Brandon, Mildred Chumley, Ouida Brandon, Meses. Ray Chastain, Chas. Ford, Juanita Harris, and the hostess, Mrs. C. H. Dunaway. Mrs. Ted White was a club guest.

Miss Helen Sullins will be hostess to the club July 10.

Chicago Fosters Spooning In Park

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP)—All a fellow needs to make love in Chicago this summer is the girl and the time—the police have provided the place.

From now on, say police, the city's numerous parks will provide suitable settings for the whispered-sweet-nothings of couples without fear of the family's "listen in."

And, what's more, police promise protection as well.

Says Capt. James Sammis of the Lincoln Park station: "Love-making, within proper limits, is a protected occupation now. Most of it is done in automobiles along the outer drive—up to midnight. After that hour they have to leave. That's only reasonable. There are other places where they can park till 11 in the morning. We keep the park safe for romance."

Lieut. Martin Hayes says the park for love-makers in Jackson park is 11 p. m., "but on especially hot nights we put it later."

He has 14 officers under him for the protection of petters, and they watch over them "when they are in cars or on benches."

COMTESSE'S GOWN CALLED 'WHITE BIRD'

PARIS (AP)—"White bird" is the name of a striking evening gown which the Comtesse de Contades has chosen for some of the festivities of the summer season. It is made of soft white mousseline with a low cut back and front décolleté from which flash clips of straw. Big balloon sleeves cover the upper arm and a floor of ruffles cascades down the back.

Summer is a good time for the children to entertain. It brightens their vacations and helps them to acquire poise in entertaining their guests.

If the party food is simple there will be less difficulty in carrying dishes. A large table set on the lawn can be used to serve from.

Frequently the guest list contains the name of many children, but the task of serving them must be handled by a few adults. In that case it may be advisable to have the boys wait on the table for the first course and let the girls serve the ice cream and cake.

Always arrange an outdoor party so it may be brought indoors quickly in case of rain.

ROAD TO TRUE RICHES: Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.—Matthew 6:33.

TWO state candidates whose duties are not such as to make them generally known in this section are, in the opinion of The NEWS, worthy of re-election.

One is J. E. McDonald of Ellis county, commissioner of agriculture. His life has been devoted to farming and farm problems.

Mr. McDonald is placing stallions at strategic points over the state to enable stockmen to better their breeds. It is evident that he has the interest of stockmen and farmers at heart.

Another incumbent worthy of endorsement is J. H. Walker, commissioner of the general land office. His office is an important one to property owners.

Mr. Walker is a veteran in the department and is ably carrying out the policies it has successfully pursued for many years.

In seeking re-election, this candidate has the support of such well informed men as Dayton Moses, attorney for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association.

Such security is not always easy to obtain, for Texas is a huge state and voters are not usually well informed about any but the headline-getting races.

THE huge size of Texas is partly responsible for the fact that politics seemingly cannot get warmed up except for the governor's race.

The Texas race is showing signs of getting down to fundamentals. Jimmie Allred, predicted by many as the most likely candidate to top the ticket, is the target of Senator Clint Small.

Altogether, there may not be a very big margin of votes between Allred, Small, McDonald, and Hunter. Allred's strength, generally based on his past races, must be calculated from the point of view that Tom Hunter is the more radical of the two and is drawing from Allred's former anti-chain store group.

This leaves Senator Small in the unique position of having statewide support, though scattered, plus what should be a powerful West Texas following.

Senator Small is gaining downstate and will have a bigger vote than he received four years ago. If the West Texas people stay behind him, he will be in the run-off; if they don't, he will be third or fourth, a small way behind.

Pampa Daily News: The old folks, particularly the mothers, can get quite a bit of satisfaction out of the report, just released at the conviction of the American Medical Association in Cleveland, that the breast-fed baby has ten times the chance for life than one brought up on artificial feeding.

Menus of the Day

THE MENU
Cantaloupe Cocktail Served in Paper Cups
Chicken Stuffed Tomato Salads
Sweet Pickles
Hot Rolls
Ripe Olives
Raspberry Sherbet
Coffee

Cantaloupe Cocktail.
Two cups diced cantaloupes, 4 mint leaves, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1-8 teaspoon salt.

Mix and chill ingredients. Serve in glass cups.
Chicken Stuffed Tomato Salads.
6 tomatoes, 1 cup diced cooked chicken, 1-2 cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons chopped pimientos, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 1 cup stiff mayonnaise.

Wash and peel tomatoes. Remove centers. Chill. Mix 1-4 mayonnaise with chicken, celery, pimientos, salt, and paprika. Chill. Stuff tomatoes, serve on lettuce and surround with Hot Rolls.

1 cake compressed yeast, 1 cup lukewarm milk, 4 tablespoons fat, melted; 1 teaspoon salt, 5 tablespoons sugar, 2 eggs, 4 1-2 cups flour.

Crumble yeast and add milk, fat, salt, sugar, eggs and 2 cups flour. Crumble yeast and add milk, fat, salt, sugar, eggs, and 2 cups flour. Beat 2 minutes. Add rest of flour. Pour into greased bowl. Cover and set in moderate room temperature. Let stand until dough has doubled in size (it will require about 4 hours in warm weather and longer on cool days). Break off bits of the soft dough and shape into round rolls. Arrange side by side on greased baking pan. Cover with cloth and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven.

In making iced coffee use double the amount of coffee required for hot coffee.

With summer beverages, serve simple sandwiches, plain cookies or drop cakes. They blend well and are easily served.

Curriculum Will Be Meeting Topic

LUBBOCK, June 30.—Revision of the public school curriculum of Texas schools will be considered at a 3-day curriculum conference to be held at Texas Technological college July 23, 24, and 25. Prominent educators from Texas and other states will participate in the conference and teachers and superintendents from all over West Texas are expected to attend.

Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the education department of Texas Technological college, is chairman of the executive committee. He announces a number of prominent speakers for the meeting, including Dr. Carlton Washburne of Wyanetka Ill., nationally known educational authority. Dr. F. C. Ayer of the University of Texas will appear on the program. Prominent Texas school officials who will attend are W. A. Stigler, state department of education; Dr. H. F. Alvis, state board of education; and J. G. Loftin, president of the Texas State Teachers' association.

COOKING AIDS
If the sugar supply is low and a sweetening is needed for cold beverages, make a syrup by boiling sugar and water. Less sugar is required this way.

If you cake frosting is too soft, an extra cooking will not harm it. Melting chocolate is sometimes a messy and awkward job. Try putting the chocolate on a piece of waxed paper and letting it melt by putting it over the top of a boiling tea kettle. The chocolate will come off the paper quite easily.

Nuts can be "chopped" for nut cookies by placing them in a cloth and rolling them with a rolling pin. For a summer afternoon lawn party, try to have food that looks as well as it tastes—cool and refreshing. Orange, lemon or raspberry iced served with angel food or light sponge cake answer these requirements. If beverages are being served, leave the bottles in a bucket of ice until served.

Frosted orange juice makes a good summer-drink, and an attractive idea for a lawn party is to have a big bowl in the center of one of your serving tables filled with big cherries, plums or other fruit in season.

SPITE MARRIAGE

By Katherine Howard Taylor

SYNOPSIS: Marsha Moore's mother has been too pleasure-loving to make her daughter happy; Admiral Moore, Marsha's father, had taught her not to care deeply for anyone but herself. And when they died, Marsha went to live with her spinster aunt Gertrude, whose arid life drove her to various small excesses—one an almost successful elopement. She was saved from the elopement by Dr. James, Aunt Gertrude's rector, and Marsha's one sincere friend.

Chapter Three MAN FROM MEXICO
Marsha wanted to please Dr. James. She "adored him!" worshipped him! But Miss Gertrude changed so constantly that when a change for "a good time" came she grasped it; it dragged her, although it rarely was "a good time," even though it dragged.

And as time went on she avoided him who would cling to his faith in her, who would think she wanted to be good; and at twenty-three, having learned to manage very well, she rarely saw him for more than a space that was built for a nod, and a "Good afternoon."

Miss Moore, by that hour when Marsha was twenty-six, was entirely disillusioned; and between battles she and Marsha lived in a state of armed truce.

Marsha was not the fabric for a successful martyr and shocking "Gertrude" had become one of her favorite indoor sports.

"Oh, if I could but wash my hands of you!" Miss Gertrude often moaned; to which Marsha was apt to respond with a languid, "Darling how sweetly satisfying that would be for everyone concerned. But I am a duty, am I not? For the moment I forgot that."

And such comment, leading to other, made life at least, "interesting." There were young men and old men and middle-aged men of all sorts; Marsha heard their avowals of undying love with amusement which seemed something within her that would have been fresh and verdant and young.

She had no more faith in the possibility of decent, enduring love than Miss Moore had in her. Had Miss Moore had some faith in her, Marsha might, at least, have credited her with a little more things were—it was all a lie and what one could get—and dance away the time?

Her nickname was "Princess," an apt nickname. Her manner was regal; she was at times cruel, at others, too kind. Her court was renowned and democratic to a degree which assuaged those who asked that husband, "And who was his mother?"

Any jester was welcome and the past of a new comer was no more questioned than it would have been in the tropics, where men live to forget or to hide.

She had turned into the Cheltenham, color heightened on her cheeks by the raw air; small beads of moisture upon the rough tweed of her coat; a tweed that would have turned a less graceful woman stiff.

Miss Gertrude, whom she was to meet, had not yet appeared and Marsha, looking for her came upon a group of acquaintances—she had no friends of either sex—and as she appeared their sudden silence and conscious faces confessed that she had been under the knife.

"I presume," she thought, as she studied the group, "I presume it is the case of Bobby Powers, and I am the murdered!"

She said, too sweetly, "But please don't let me interrupt! I know something thrilling was being told, and who was doing the dissecting?"

Some one moistened orange-tinted lips with a small pointed tongue; another said simply, "But what were we speaking about?" and a vague murmur, "I can't think—odd, isn't it?" answered this.

Marsha let her large, deep-gray, heavily fringed eyes rest upon Letitia Powers, the cousin of the man who had come up from Mexico on one of his rare vacations; "A viking sort of person," who was "amusingly serious," and who, having come and met Marsha, remained to plead.

He was making upon Marsha an impression that made her smile frequently. Of course it couldn't last, that she knew; but, with him gone from her presence, she kept seeing him, staring at her as if she were something on an altar.

He had taken a cocktail glass from her hand; he had said, simply, "Do you mind not drinking that? I think you've had enough, you see—?" And that was "amusingly—?" "enchantly new!"

He made her think, for some reason she could not define, of Doctor James. Doctor James was fat, square, physically lazy, and his round, bland face was as smooth as a harvest moon.

Bob Powers was lean, arrestingly tall, hard; his tanned cheeks were sunken, while Doctor James' cheeks made one think of pin-cushions; yet—for some reason, Bob Powers continued to make her remember Doctor James.

Merchant Studies Furniture Styles

Home makers of this community are just as exacting as any in the country, and it is necessary for the furniture merchant to visit style centers in order to secure their wants. G. E. McTaggart of the Texas Furniture Company before leaving for Chicago and Grand Rapids furniture markets.

He will also visit the world's fair in Chicago to note the influence of modernism on furniture styles. There are so many new innovations each season that it is impossible to keep up with events without constant study of the markets, said Mr. McTaggart.

A new type of modern furniture is appearing which gives promise of achieving what the art modern of eight and ten years ago failed to accomplish, he added.

This style is gay and bright without being extreme and may reflect our day just as the historic periods are reflected with other designs.

McTaggart's daughter, Betty Ann, will accompany him to Kansas City, where she will visit her aunt.

WEDDING GOWN MADE OF CHARTREUSE LACE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chartreuse lace fashioned the wedding gown worn by Mrs. Richard Arnold, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Shepard of Texas, married here recently. The gown had a high-standing Medici collar of starched lace, and the bride wore a large leghorn hat banded with brown and rust cre ribbon.

Tomorrow, a slight complication comes into Marsha's life.

News Of Nearby Towns

SHAMROCK, June 30.—Complete returns gave legal beer a majority of 120 votes in the election held in Wheeler county last Saturday. It was the large majority given beer in the two Shamrock boxes that won the election for the wets, this vote for beer. Eight of the 20 boxes went wet. Both Meobeette and Wheeler voted against beer by substantial majorities.

Lela school will open again Monday, July 30, in order to let out during the cotton picking time. Shamrock has received notice that an allotment of $50,700 will be available for a post office.

MIAMI, June 30.—Drilling of the Cunningham No. 1, two miles south of Miami in section 74, has been started.

Mrs. J. M. Hedgecock died at Endeavor, N. M., last week. She had been appointed to the Centennial Advisory board are H. E. Baird and County Judge J. A. Mead.

Tom L. Graham, proprietor of the Servant hotel, settled in Mebeette in 1883, later moving to Miami.

John R. White, who was recently injured in a car wreck in Pampa, was able to return to his home from the hospital last week.

CANADIAN, June 30.—It is believed that the park owned by the City of Canadian at the north edge of the city, which contains more than 100 acres, can be obtained as a nucleus for a state park.

H. E. Hoover and Dick Cann have been named to represent Hemphill county on the Texas Centennial Advisory board.

CLARENDON, June 30.—H. D. (Buck) Ramsey and O. W. Hotchkiss, both of San Antonio, and both early day pioneers of Clarendon and Donley county, arrived here Tuesday afternoon for a short business stay in Clarendon.

Independence day will be celebrated at Lella Lake with an old-fashioned picnic and barbecue.

PANHANDLE, June 30.—An average wheat yield of 13 to 14 bushels per acre for Carson county was indicated in car shipments last week. J. Sid O'Keefe, first president of the Panhandle Rotary club, represented the Panhandle club at the twenty-fifth International Rotary convention.

WHITE DEER, June 30.—Mrs. Herbert Harrah's mother, Mrs. Maggie Cottman, 72, died at her home in Ink, Ark., June 23. Burial was at Ink. Mrs. Harrah was unable to attend her mother's funeral, being in an Amarillo hospital recovering from a recent operation.

LeFORS, June 30.—Willard Bronson of Lincoln, Neb., has signed a contract to coach the LeFors high school Pirates next year, succeeding Coach Duncan, who will be principal of Junior high. Mr. Bronson holds a master of arts degree from the University of Nebraska. He was selected as quarterback on the Missouri Valley conference all-star team in 1926 and 1927, and all-American mention of 1927. His coach at Nebraska was Dana X. Bible. In addition, he has had training under Howard Jones at the University of Southern California and Michigan state university. Mr. Bronson has had six years of coaching experience in Nebraska and Monrovia, Calif., his home town.

The high school pupils from the Webb school will attend LeFors high school next year as the result of an agreement reached by the two schools at a special meeting of the Webb school board. The Webb pupils will be brought to LeFors by bus.

The local Oil Workers' Union will sponsor a July Fourth celebration Tuesday and Wednesday at Shaw park. Entertainment features will include a rodeo and swimming contest. A dance will be held each night.

GROOM, June 30.—A total of 185

cars of wheat had been shipped from Groom, Boydston, and Lark at noon Wednesday. It is believed that Groom would ship 450 cars of the new crop this year which is about an average for this community. The wheat harvest has turned out much better than was predicted by farmers of this community. Farmers are reporting yields of from 4 to 20 bushels per acre.

DRINKING DRIVERS CAUSE OF MOUNTING TOLL OF ACCIDENTS
Drinking drivers involved in non-fatal accidents have increased about 30 per cent during the first three months of this year of repeal over the similar period of prohibition in 1933, according to preliminary studies just completed by the National Safety Council. The fact that in neither year was drinking a major factor in traffic accidents, however, refutes the opinion held by many that repeal is the chief cause of the increased motor vehicle death toll for this year.

The council has studied certain states, in which, during the first three months of 1934, there were 38,410 drivers involved in non-fatal injury accidents, compared with 35,558 drivers in such accidents during the first three months of 1933. In these accidents there were 691 "had been drinking" drivers in 1934, compared with 491 in 1933. But, with nearly 3,000 more drivers involved, there were only 200 more in "had been drinking" category. Intoxicated drivers reported 1,58 per cent of all drivers in 1933, as compared with 1.80 per cent this year. Thus, the number who "had been drinking" increased 40 per cent, but because the total number of drivers also increased, the advance in percentages amounted to only 30 per cent.

Not Major Hazard.
In both years, it will be noted, the number of drivers reported as "had been drinking" is very small in comparison with the total drivers involved in accidents. Although there may be some tendency not to report this item, the percentage of unreported cases was probably about the same in 1933 and 1934. The increase in such accidents this year had been much greater than indicated, liquor would still be among the minor causes of the increase in automobile accidents.

The general 1934 increase in accidents, the council holds, is largely due to increased motor vehicle travel without a proportionate increase in accident prevention effort by city and state officials and by the drivers themselves. Drunken driving is only one of the many violations concerning which police departments should tighten enforcement.

A study limited to cities showed that between the period in 1933 and the period in 1934 there appeared an increase of those who "had been drinking" or "were intoxicated" of about 40 per cent, also taking account of the general increase in accidents.

Local Figures Vary.
Variations in the percentages of intoxicated drivers are shown from city to city and from state to state. New York state, for example, had 121 intoxicated drivers in the first three months of 1934 as compared to 116 in the similar period of 1933. Corresponding figures for March only in Michigan were 107 and 41, and in Pennsylvania 73 and 49. New

Vestees Are Slenderizing
By ELLEN WORTH
FOLLOW this smart reducing prescription—it's certain to bring results! Choose a line which curve to flatter you at the neckline, and lines which slant to slenderize you at the hips. This frock has both, and its deep front opening with a crossed-over vestee is a fashion certain to appeal to the woman of larger figure. The jabot-collar is an interesting detail.

A dark sheer crepe is a cool summer medium for this frock, and you'll want the vestee in lace or crisp white organdie. All blues are good this season. Or you might choose a pinky beige crepe, which is new, and universally becoming. In a less-formal version, you might make it with short sleeves in a pastel wash silk.

The New Fashion Book will help you plan your wardrobe. Send 10 cents for book.

Pattern No. 5602 is designed for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 bust. (Size 34 requires 4 1/2 yards 39-inch material, 1/4 yard 36-inch allover lace. Width about 2 1/4 yards.)

Send 15 cents in coin or stamps. Mail your order to New York Fashion Bureau, 222 West 39th St., New York. Print your name and address clearly and print pattern number, size or bust.

WHEELER AND WOOLSEY ARE BACK IN FILM

LA NORA TO PRESENT SATIRE OF CHIVALRY

Answering the demands of critics and fans for a film musical in the true sense of the word, the La Nora theater presents "Cockeyed Cavaliers" today thru Tuesday starring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, with Thelma Todd and Dorothy Lee, in this RKO-Radio Picture.

Directed by Mark Sandrich, "Cockeyed Cavaliers" employs the same unique technique he applied to "So This Is Harris," Motion Picture Academy prize-winner. Dialogue, sound effects, songs and incidental music occur as integral parts of a continuous symphony. Such bits as horse tails swishing, coach wheels grinding, hunters singing and animals grunting blend with the specially written melodies and dance routines by a galaxy of feminine pulchritude in continual rhythm.

Pursuing the trend of costume pictures, "Cockeyed Cavaliers" presents Wheeler and Woolsey as two erring knights of old carrying on with ultra modern melodies and comedy. Bert and Bob fall in with petite Dorothy Lee, who is eluding a forced marriage to a duke and masquerading as a boy. They crash the noble's palace and meet Thelma Todd. Bob and Bert and Thelma and Bert pair off into romances which are chaperoned with sheer fun. The comedy reaches a hilarious pitch when the boys capture an escaped wild boar and receive a reward sufficient to take Dorothy out of pawn to the duke.

"Cockeyed Cavaliers" features two new melodies of its proportions. Val Burton and Will Jason, composers of the successful "Penthouse Serenade" and "Isn't This a Night for Love," wrote "I Love to Dilly Dally" and "I Went Hunting."

"Dinner At Eight" At State Theater

Marie Dressler! John Barrymore! Wallace Beery! Jean Harlow! Lionel Barrymore! Lee Tracy! Edmund Lowe! Billie Burke! Madge Evans! Jean Hersholt! Karen Morley! Phillips Holmes!

These are the names in the amazing aggregation of stars who appear together in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational picture, "Dinner at Eight," which returns today for a 3 day engagement at the State theater as the most remarkable picture filmed in the last decade.

The picture is based on the play by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, which ran on Broadway for more than a year. It depicts the emotional experiences of a heterogeneous group of people, who are brought together at a dramatic dinner party.

Shifting its focus from one angle to another, the camera picks out a red-tinted musical-comedy star, a ship-builder, a failing bank, a "washed-up" matinee idol on the verge of suicide, an unscrupulous millionaire and his faithless wife, a Broadway theatrical agent, a philandering young doctor, a Park Avenue hostess, a cook with a toothache. Each of these individuals has his or her own emotional conflict and then they are brought together in one blasting dramatic climax.

SCOUT NEWS

Attention Scoutmasters and all troop leaders.

On Monday night at 7:30 o'clock the first Junior Leaders' school will be first at the Pampa municipal swimming pool. All scoutmasters are urged to be present, and to notify and bring along their junior assistants, patrol leaders, and all those interested in promoting junior leadership.

The program for the evening includes: Opening ceremony by W. F. G. Stein; 30 minutes of water games conducted by Ralph Jones; swimming instruction; and how to give swimming instruction and life saving to others, by Kenneth Irwin; artificial respiration and treatment for drowning by W. E. Reno; closing ceremony R. L. Bowden.

Our next leaders' school will be announced later and R. L. Bowden, chairman of the scoutmasters roundtable, will be in charge.

It is planned to hold a number of these schools during the next few months to develop more boy leaders who are, after all, the backbone of every troop of boy citizens.

Troop No. 18

Troop No. 18 held its regular meeting Friday night with 21 boys present.

Everett Vanderburg, Jr., A. S. M., was in charge of the game period with S. P. L. LaVerne Courson assisting.

The Wolf patrol, of which John Mackie is patrol leader, was awarded the $3 prize for conducting the best patrol at the recent Camp-O-Ral.

About 30 minutes was used in semaphore signalling instruction, which was conducted by Scoutmaster Shannon.

The instance of the period was used in practicing for the minstrel show to be given in the community hall June 9. This minstrel, together with stunts and fill-ins, was written entirely by LaVerne Courson, J. E. Williams, A. S. M., and Everett Vanderburg, Jr., A. S. M., are helping LaVerne with the show, while Scoutmaster Shannon is handling ticket sales and conducting arrangements for the terrapin race to be held on that night. Admission will be 10 and 20 cents.

Announcement was made at this meeting of our next troop hike which will be taken June 14.

Such bits as horse tails swishing, coach wheels grinding, hunters singing and animals grunting blend with the specially written melodies and dance routines by a galaxy of feminine pulchritude in continual rhythm.

Pontiac Chief Is Looking To Plains For Good Business

Declaring that business has been highly satisfactory so far this year, H. J. Klingler, president and general manager of the Pontiac Motor company, who is paying his first visit to Dallas as head of this General Motors division, looks forward to an era during which the motoring public will replace its old, worn out and obsolete cars in ever increasing numbers.

"Pontiac sales during the first six months of this year are materially ahead of 1933," said Mr. Klingler. The buying season is being prolonged over a longer period than usual this year and we have every reason to look for its continuation through June and July.

Commenting on the reaction to the recent general price reduction in the industry the Pontiac chief said, "I believe every student of business conditions will admit that

MAKING OWNERSHIP OF REAL ESTATE DESIRABLE URGED BY HUNTER IN CAMPAIGN ADDRESS

"Before we can whip this depression we must have money to pay labor, and before we can raise this money our basic collateral must be restored." Tom F. Hunter, of Wichita Falls, candidate for governor declared in a campaign address here Saturday afternoon east of the court house.

"An easy available credit is necessary, and before the unemployed can be replaced on a permanent basis this credit must be restored. Real estate is our basic wealth, it composes our basic collateral, but until it is restored to a profitable paying status it will not command the credit essential to the promotion and financing of a state recovery.

"Until it is again made profitable to own property, when we have lands where it is cheaper to rent a home than it is to own one, the safety of our state and its social and economic order is in danger.

"As long as real estate is compelled to bear a disproportionate share of the tax burden, it cannot be profitable, but if that tax burden is fairly reallocated with the consequent relief for real estate our basic wealth will again have a desirable credit value.

Real estate now brings to the residents of Texas 15 per cent of their income but at the same time is required to bear 77 per cent of the ad valorem tax burden. Put it another way to show the unfairness of the load—85 per cent of the income in Texas, from sources other than real estate, bears only 23 per cent of the ad valorem burden.

While our real estate has been compelled to pay from 50 per cent to more than 100 per cent of its net profit in taxes, many large corporations have been paying in state taxes less than two and one-half per cent.

"You put real estate back into a condition where it can carry itself and show a profit if it were necessary to foreclose and you would again be able to borrow money upon it. There is plenty of credit available if a proper collateral can be offered. As an illustration, our government treasury issues, though bearing a low rate of interest are exempt, and as a consequence every lender of money desires them, have been oversubscribed each time within 24 to 48 hours after being offered. Take the unfair burden of tax off real estate and money will be available upon it again. We will then have the easy, available credit we need to build new buildings, employ labor, improve our places, place money in circulation in this state.

"To relieve real estate from this unfair tax burden, it will be necessary to revise our tax methods. Sources which have been escaping their fair share of the burden must be reached. In this war on the depression we must conscript part of the net earnings of those who have

CAGNEY WITH BLONDELL AT REX THEATER

GIRL HAS ROLE NEW TO HER—NO FINE CLOTHES

James Cagney's familiar "sock on the lady's jaw" is missing, and Joan Blondell, as a sorry street Camille, is never given a chance to dazzle by her usual display of feminine pulchritude, set-off by gorgeous gowns, but both of these exceedingly actors score a distinct triumph in the very unusual drama "He Was Her Man" which opens today at the Rex Theater.

Warner Bros. have given a most unusual treatment to a thrilling story, which while based on underworld characters, is distinctly not a gangster picture, but rather an exceedingly interesting lesson in the value of decency as a guide for living.

The picture, based on an original story by Robert Lord, concerns the adventures of an unscrupulous rogue with a magnetic personality, and a girl of the streets who hates her life and is about to put it behind her by marrying a Portuguese fisherman, when she becomes infatuated with the scoundrel, who eventually does the one decent thing in his life by getting himself killed and leaving the lady free to reform.

Cagney rises to really great heights—and shows himself worthy of the acclaim he has received—his acting of this role, which somehow he manages to make sympathetic.

Miss Blondell continues to be the same "wise-cracking" girl made famous in "Convention City," "Havana Windows," "Smarty" and other recent productions, but this time she avoids comedy, and shows her versatility by making the street girl truly convincing.

the automobile industry always has been in the lead when it comes to showing the way back to prosperity. In its most recent move to reduce prices leaders in the motor car business again have shown their willingness to cooperate with the administration in giving a helping hand to the recovery act.

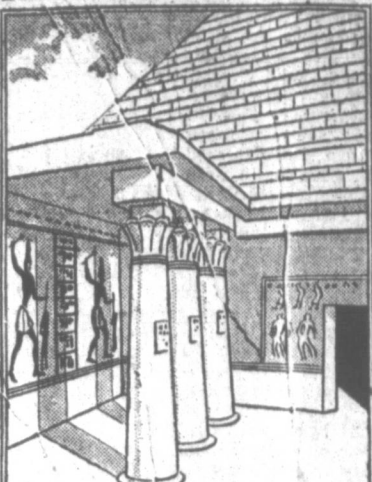

"That the reduction in prices will be a stimulus to motor car sales with widespread benefits to the whole country is already becoming evident if the reaction we have received at Pontiac is any criterion.

WOMAN JUSTICE CANYON, June 29. (AP)—Randall county has a woman justice of the peace. Mrs. Loraine Stokes of Amarillo recently was appointed to succeed her father, W. C. ALTHOUGH the amount of platinum found in iron meteorites is less than a quarter of an ounce to a ton, it would prove a valuable source of supply if meteorites were as abundant as even the rarest of terrestrial rocks.

Requests have come in from five or our largest zones to double their allotment of cars.

"I am especially interested in this section of the country," continued Mr. Klingler as the discussion turned to the subject of crops, drought, harvests, etc. "The southwest has been one of our bright spots throughout the spring and early summer."

A roomful of almost shadowless light!

Banish glare from your living room and you'll be cutting down eyestrain and improving appearances. A new all-purpose floor lamp, giving either indirect or direct light, will flood the whole room with soft, almost shadowless illumination. Diffused light without sharp shadows is ideal for bridge, sewing, reading. If you prefer direct light for some occupation you have only to turn a switch and it's yours. Or you can have both types of lighting simultaneously. These lamps are handsome decorations as well. See these lamps at your dealers.

RESOLUTIONS ASKING COUNTY TO GIVE FINANCIAL AID TO WIDOWS PASSED BY SCHOOLS AND CLUBS

Copies of resolutions asking officials to "take care of the widows with a widow's pension fund as provided in the revised statutes of the State of Texas," have been filed with County Judge C. E. Gary.

The resolutions have been passed in recent months by Parent-Teacher associations of the schools and by clubs and religious societies. A number of women's clubs have passed similar resolutions.

Practically all those approved resembled in general resolutions passed by the Altar society of Holy Souls Catholic church, which were filed with Judge Gary last week.

The Catholic society deplored "conditions that exist among the destitute widow women and elderly aged women and tubercular cases in the early stages in Gray county." Officials were asked to make provisions in the 1934-35 budget to correct the conditions they named. County commissioners are scheduled to begin compiling the new budget next month. The resolutions follow:

"At a meeting of June 6, 1934, of the Altar Society of the Holy Souls church, it was brought to the attention of the said society that certain deplorable conditions exist among the destitute widow women and tubercular cases in the early stages in Gray county, and whereas this society is at all times interested in the welfare and happiness of humanity throughout the world, and especially in our own community, the said society passed the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that this society request the county officials having jurisdiction over these matters to make proper provisions in the 1934-35 budget of Gray county to take care of the widows with a widow's pension as provided for in the revised statutes of the state of Texas. "Be it further resolved that the proper officials be asked to include in the 1934-35 budget of Gray county sufficient funds to take care of the
