CLAIM SHOCK KILLED BEAUTY

THIS TRIPPING BUSINESS—If folks were not so friendly, these advertising motorcades would be about as boring as any traveling one can imagine.

So it proved yesterday, when, convoyed by two uniformed motorcycle officers, more than 60 Pampans in 15 cars visited Miami, Canadian, Perryton, Spearman, Stinnett, Berger, and Skellytown.

THE motorcycle officers contributed greatly to the success of the first day's tour. They cleared the road, sounded their sirens to ballyhoo the arrival of the party, kept the caravan in order, and generally made themselves useful.

It was easy for the motorcyclists on the paved roads, but like broncbusting on the dirt. Between Pampa and Berger the officers stood up most of the way, while their mechanical steeds reared and pounded. Nicholson's motorcycle "grounded" in a sand pile but the officer kept his feet.

THE band for the occasion was made up of 32 students, mostly from the ward school bands, directed by Turney Mullinax. The youngsters had a great time and interested the citizens of every town, many of whom had never seen real instruments played by children so young.

On one occasion, a flat tire delayed the car carrying the drum. Tom Sweetnam initiated a drum on the bass horn—until the crowd made him "tick."

ON such occasions, there must be a bit of speaking. This time it was done by George Briggs, Gilmore Nunn, and Paul Hill. Cheering greeted each speaker. Of course not all was perfect. One farm lady on whose car Mr. Briggs was standing at Perryton while talking could not be bothered by a mere visitor from across the river. She started backing out and the Pampa man, after hopping off the front fender and bowing, proceeded with his postoffice-tournament speech in good order.

PAUL HILL, who had the most tire trouble, drove car No. 13. H. D. Keys helped out drought-stricken Perryton by investing in slot-machine operation. He was $150 or so ahead at one time but out of generosity just gave it all back.

CANADIAN folk took much interest in the Pampa delegation. Mayor Clancy Fisher was present, as also was the now famous Hemp-hill county sheriff, Walter Jones, who recently killed two bank robbers.

JIMMIE ALLRED URGES REPEAL OF RACE LAW

SAYS HUNTER IS NOW LINED UP WITH FERGUSON

DALLAS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred, candidate for governor, today issued a statement advocating repeal of the race track gambling law and demanding a statement of attitude from his opponent on the issue.

Allred's statement was contained in a letter to D. A. Frank of Dallas, chairman of a mass meeting of citizens in Dallas at which repeal of the race track gambling law was advocated.

"I am opposed to gambling in any form, legal, illegal or otherwise," Allred said. "It will be remembered that I was present at a meeting of the ministers of Tarrant and Dallas counties at Arlington last fall which condemned the race track law and demanded its repeal."

AMARILLO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Regulations are being prepared by the farm credit administration whereby the maximum amount of crop and feed loans will be increased from $400 to $750, Congressman Marvin Jones, of Amarillo, has been advised from Washington.

War God Grips Mourners in Funeral as Impressive as Battle of 1914.

TANNENBERG, Germany, Aug. 7 (AP)—Germany buried Paul von Hindenburg in a shrine it holds sacred today after Adolf Hitler in an emotional eulogy at the bier said the late president "opened the door" to nazism.

Brief and simple was the funeral, as the old warrior-statesman had wished, but thousands of uniforms gave it a military atmosphere. The body of the 86-year-old leader

Immediately after the band postlude, the audience will be allowed to inspect the interior of the building. Pampa firemen will assist in handling the crowd.

Tomorrow morning from 10 to 12 o'clock, visitors will be admitted to a free show, "Love Birds," at La Nora theater. The stars of this film are Zasu Pitts and Slim Summerville. Pampa trippers yesterday and today distributed blotters containing free admittance coupons for this show.

In the evening, Road Runner park will be opened to the public in a free exhibition game between the Road Runners and the Coltexo nine. This contest will begin at 8:30 o'clock after the postoffice dedication.

Interest through this territory in the dedication and tournament has been whetted by newspaper publicity and the advertising trips sponsored by the chambers of commerce.

War with no quarter given is the order issued by the City of Pampa to all motorists who insist on following close behind the fire trucks.

The practice of following fire trucks has become so troublesome that it has become impossible to string these. The truck must go to the scene of the fire and then drive back to a fire plug.

CONGRESSMAN MARVIN JONES TO DELIVER SPEECH

Another milestone for Pampa will be passed when, beginning at 7 p. m. tomorrow, the ceremonies dedicating the new postoffice building to the service of this community will be held.

Although the dedication proper will be at 7:30 o'clock, the musical prelude by a school band will begin half an hour earlier. Mayor W. A. Bratton will give the welcome address and Postmaster D. C. Cecil will introduce the two main speakers, who will be F. L. Clamptitt of Austin, postal inspector in charge of the southwest area, and Congressman Marvin Jones.

'INSIDE' STORY OF DIONNE FIVE AT HOME TOLD

World Cooperates to Keep Quintuplets Alive and Well

This story, accompanied by a half page of hitherto unpublished pictures is the first of two appearing exclusively in The NEWS and other NEA Service newspapers, revealing what goes on behind the scenes in the Ontario home of the famous Dionne quintuplets.

It is early morning, but Dionne's house is already a-bustle, full of a purposeful and efficient stirring. Dionne has to meet the morning train at Callander—it is bringing him a consignment.

Dionne is the father of the most famous babies in the world, the quintuplets whose birth on the night of last May 28 drew the sympathetic eyes of the world to Corbell, Ont., and is on his way to Callander.

When he has received the containers, Dionne drives back over the rough and rocky road to Corbell, two and a half miles, to find the day in full swing for his five tiny daughters.

Here, in what had been a plain frame four-room cottage on the edge of the wooded wilderness, is a veritable children's hospital, created overnight by the kindly interest of neighbors, the Red Cross, the Canadian government, and the gifts and encouragement of a world that had seen a wonder and wanted to help.

Death Comes to William S. Vare

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 7 (AP)—William S. Vare, republican national committeeman and for years the colorful leader of the republican organization in Philadelphia, died suddenly at 11:30 a. m. today at his summer home here.

In ill health for the last six years, the former congressman suffered a relapse about a week ago from the heat. This was disclosed last night by his son-in-law, Dr. John J. Shaw, who said earlier today he had shown improvement.

Vare suffered a heart attack and died in 20 minutes.

TESTIMONY OF MEDICAL MEN IS UNSHAKEN

CLAIM OPERATION WAS CAUSE OF COLLEGE GIRL'S DEATH

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 7 (AP)—Medical men insisted over defense cross-examination at the preliminary hearing of 21-year-old Neal Myers today that Marian Mills, University of Oklahoma beauty queen, died last July 10 of shock following an attempted criminal operation.

Young Myers, also a university student, is charged with murder. He fled from the duplex apartment of Mrs. Hazel Brown, fraternity house cook, where Marian died, and surrendered only last week.

"It is my opinion that death resulted from shock caused by an attempted abortion in which an instrument was used," testified Dr. Hugh Jeter of Oklahoma City, one of the physicians who performed an autopsy.

Suggestions from defense counsel that worry, aggravated by a fall, might have caused death failed to shake his testimony.

Mrs. Brown, the state's chief witness, was called to testify this afternoon. Few of the university set were in the court room crowd composed mostly of high school boys and girls, housewives, and semi-clad farmers, in town to get their cotton checks.

Myers, sitting with his father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Myers of El Reno, wore gray trousers, a light gray suit and a blue tie.

Dr. Jeter testified over objections that the defense that in his belief, an illegal surgical operation was attempted a few minutes before the girl's death.

He also testified that Miss Mills would have become a mother.

"Was there any necessity for an abortion to have her life?" asked County Attorney Paul Updegraff.

"No," said Jeter.

Morrison, was unable to shake the physician's insistence that the girl died of shock following an attempted illegal operation.

Dr. Ben H. Cooley, a Norman physician, gave testimony almost identical to that of Dr. Jeter.

"Death was caused by shock," he said, "and I believe the shock was caused by instrumentation."

Dr. Guy Williams, of the University department of chemistry, said he found no poison in his post-mortem tests.

Miss Mills was 19 years old.

People Are So Nice

MOTHER

Mrs. Olivia Dionne, 25-year-old mother of the phenomenal quintuplets, has almost recovered, and goes about the daily routine of her housework like any other normal and happy housewife. A bit bewildered by the hubbub, Mrs. Dionne expresses in the broken English of her French-Canadian dialect her thanks for the kindness and generosity that have been showered upon the family. "People are so nice," she smiled.

The World's Only Quintuplets

PLEASE GO 'WAY AND LET US SLEEP

Sound a deep and blissfully unconscious of the world's absorbed interest, the Dionne quintuplets are shown in this exclusive photo at slightly more than two months. Marie, left, lies quietly, while Emilie, next, waggles her tiny fingers in some baby-dream. Cecile, center, opens her mouth wide as though in protest at being moved by the hand of Nurse De Kir-line, while Annette and Yvonne, right, the stronger of the brood, take their ease in complete quiet.

TECHNOCRACY IS DEAD, BUT NOT LESSON

There was a melancholy little story in the papers a few days ago telling how the little chemical factory at Pompton Lakes, N. J., established several years ago by Howard Scott to experiment with his theories of Technocracy, was sold at auction, with all its contents, for a total of $75.

This low price on a building which once was worth many times that much is probably a pretty accurate gauge of the general public's present valuation of the Technocratic theory. But while Technocracy itself came down out of the stratosphere like an exploded balloon, the way in which we all reacted to it when it first appeared is still worth thinking about.

This theory burst on us at a time when the bottom seemed to have fallen out of everything.

The wheels had all run down. Farmers, industrialists, wage-earners, investors, salesmen, professional men—all classes and conditions of people were full of gloom. The nation itself constituted the finest plant for producing everything that mankind needed, from corn on the cob to automobiles, that the world had ever seen; but things had got out of gear somehow, and there seemed to be little chance that they would get back into gear very soon.

Then, in the midst of all this gloom, came these Technocrats, announcing blithely that we need not starve in the middle of plenty after all, telling us that our rich farms and our magnificent factories could be kept going full time, with everybody getting more than enough of everything if we would only make the right kind of effort.

Well—it sounded nice, and no wonder. We all felt a great thrill. It wasn't long before the bubble exploded, to be sure—that little sale the other day indicates the extent of its collapse—but for a little while we thought we saw the dawn on the mountains, sure enough.

And the thing to remember now is the fact that these gentlemen, with all their mistakes, did put their finger on the central problem. It is possible, physically for us to grow enough food and make enough things to banish want from the land forever.

How that is to be done may be another question. The central fact is still there, and we ought not to forget it.

No plan for recovery, whether it be the New Deal or something else, will be worth much in the long run if it does not call on our best efforts to take advantage of this dazzling chance—which was never open to any other people before in all the history of the world.

Oil Production Shows Decrease

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 7 (AP)—With the three major areas showing marked reductions, United States crude oil production fell 118,969 barrels in daily average last week, from 2,628,824 to 2,561,781 barrels a day, the Oil and Gas Journal says.

from 547,150 to 533,650 barrels. California production was 500,000 barrels, a reduction of 18,250 barrels.

Kansas production dropped from 136,735 to 132,160 barrels; the Rocky Mountain area cut output from 96,430 to 92,890 barrels; the eastern area, including Michigan, decreased production from 134,616 to 132,408 barrels.

LARGER PREMIUMS, ADDITIONAL ENTERTAINMENT TO BE PROVIDED BY TRI-STATE FAIR THIS YEAR

AMARILLO, Aug. 7.—With more feature attractions, including daily horse races, and larger premiums than ever, all guaranteed, the Tri-State Fair this year, September 15-22, easily will measure up to the old slogan—"bigger and better."

Preparations have been made for crowds to pass through the free gate each of the seven days.

Pesides horse racing with legalized wagering, there will be the Sam B. Hill circus with Tom Mix, the Western States Shows, a carnival company with sensational rides and other feature attractions.

The Tri-State Fair is just completing a $30,000 building program to accommodate the 1934 crowds.

Back under the old management of Wilbur C. Hawks as president and O. L. "Ted" Taylor as secretary-manager, the Tri-State fair this year is guaranteeing more than $15,000 in cash premiums.

Catalogues containing all the premium list, rules and regulations are available now. A catalogue will be mailed upon written request to Mr. Taylor, P. O. Box 2454, Amarillo.

Several new departments will be added this year. For instance, $5,000 in cash prizes will be offered exclusively for Hereford cattle.

There also will be exhibits of milking shorthorns, jersey and holstein.

Cash prizes in all of the other departments are equally liberal.

This year for the first time there will be no competitive system of judging county exhibits. Instead, each county that enters an exhibit will be paid $50.00 in cash.

Advance inquiries already indicate each of the exhibit buildings will be jammed with displays.

The automotive building will house the latest models for a motor show throughout the fair.

'POUR IT ON HIM JIMMIE' YELL VOTERS

PLAYS HUNTER'S PLAN FOR ABOLISHING AD VALOREM TAX

FARMERSVILLE, Aug. 7. (AP)—Voters of Texas today had the appeal of James V. Allred, seeking nomination for the governorship in the second democratic primary, to adopt the constitutional amendment giving the legislature the right to classify property in order that millions of dollars of taxable property may be placed on state tax rolls.

The youthful attorney general, opposing Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls in the run off, told a crowd here that the amendment "would place property now untaxed on the rolls."

"I would have it taxed at a small rate and thereby would ease the tax burden of all," Allred said.

His remarks against Hunter's plan to abolish the ad valorem tax were interrupted several times by supporters shouting "pour it on him, Jimmie."

Allred said that Hunter's plan to abolish the ad valorem tax "will have him sick of that before he is through." He said the ad valorem tax had brought $24,000,000 to the state—$11,000,000 of which went to the school children.

"Hunter says that abolition of the tax would help the little man. I claim that abolition of the tax would aid the big concerns. It would mean more than $8,000,000 to the big companies and yet he wants to help the little man."

In answer to his opponent's plan of substituting a "blended tax" for the ad valorem tax, Allred said: "I am inclined to believe that there is more tax than blenda to this plan."

Allred said that he believed a blended tax, such as Hunter advocated, "means a sort of a sales tax, which is a three time tax." He said that Hunter, "while lobbying for the people in the legislature at Austin, advocated such a tax."

HEAT GETS PAL
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7. (AP)—The heat got Pal, last of the White House dogs. Pal, an English bull terrier owned by Gus Gernerich, the president's personal attendant, began acting queerly some days ago, and so today he was in a dog hospital for treatment. About two weeks ago Winks, a setter puppy owned by President Roosevelt, ran headlong into an iron fence and was killed.

SHORTS, NOT SHOTS, ARE ISSUE WITH WOMEN MASHIE-WIELDERS' ASSEMBLY—PRINCE WEARS 'EM

NEW YORK, Aug. 7. (AP)—Feminine wielders of the mashie and the niblick were plunged today into an argument that has nothing to do with mashies and niblicks.

The Women's Metropolitan Golf association, sitting in solemn assembly yesterday, decreed that henceforth no woman may wear approval of shorts or abbreviated knickers, the Women's Metropolitan Golf association requests that all contestants refrain from wearing such apparel in future tournaments in deference to these wishes.

Maureen Orcutt, one of the game's leading players on the feminine side, opened the rebuttal. She said she would obey the ruling but added "it is going to be hard on those ladies who have reduced their hips or who have secured a beautiful leg tan."

Beatrice Gottlieb, one of those who helped make a burning issue out of the shorts question by wearing them at a recent association tournament, took the set-back to the freedom of the knees more seriously.

"Most of us appear in bathing suits before the public," she said. "I don't think that rule would be shocked. I'm all for shorts; they are the only sensible thing and they are about the only thing that makes the heat endurable in Florida or the drought states."

Miss Gottlieb once defeated the prince of Wales in a match, and she pointed out that the prince wears shorts.

Temperance Play Will Be Given at LeFors Tomorrow

A new temperance drama called "Who's to Blame," which portrays conditions as they are under the new beer laws, will be presented at the Methodist church in LeFors at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Dr. Aticus Webb of Dallas, well-known prohibitionist of this state, will have the leading role. Ownby Williams, son of the Methodist pastor at LeFors, will be the defendant and the Rev. M. S. Leach, Baptist pastor, the prosecuting attorney. The cast includes 22 other LeFors people.

Methodist and Baptist churches of LeFors are sponsoring the program. Everyone is invited to attend. No admission charges will be made.

J. Y. P. Class Has Lead in Contest

Record attendance Sunday placed the J. Y. P. class well in the lead in the inter-class contest being conducted in First Christian Sunday school. With the beginners' class conceding defeat, the race is between the primary and J. Y. P. classes.

The young people's class expects to win easily if the attendance of this week is matched. A new member, Poneta White, and a visitor, Athlene Bremer, swelled the Sunday crowd.

Members plan a picnic and swimming party for the near future. All J. Y. P. members are urged to be present next Sunday to aid in the contest and in other class work.

Treasure Hunt Is Planned Thursday For Boys and Girls

Intermediates of the First Methodist church will meet at the church Thursday evening at 5, when cars will take them on a treasure hunt to LeFors.

Games will be in the spirit of pirate days and secrets of hidden gold, with "treasure" as the password and "pleasure" the counter-sign. Supper will be served after the hunt for buried treasure. All intermediates of the church are invited.

Lounge in Luxury

PAJAMAS are smart for lounging and comfortable for sleeping. That's why so many smart young girls prefer them to nightgowns. And here's a pajama you'll adore!

It has a flattering surplus closing and cute little cap sleeves that just cover the tips of the shoulders. A big pocket has a novel diamond shape and there's a pert bow at one side of the waist.

Why not make it up in a bright dotted or flowered gingham, and also in gay striped broadcloth? Or, if you're at least sixteen, choose vivid color silk crepe and lounge in luxury. It's grand to don pajamas for Sunday morning breakfast in the country.

MARS

was placed to rest in one of the towers of the national war monument, erected on the scene of von Hindenburg's triumph over the Russian army in 1914.

Thousands of mourners were turned away. But the entire nation passed during the funeral hour in a farewell tribute to its revered leader.

Hitler, as yesterday at a memorial service in the Reichstag, eulogized in glowing terms the man whose power he took over, but he failed to give the expected indications of his future policies.

Von Hindenburg, said Hitler, his voice trembling with emotion, "opened the door to the representatives of German resurgence, referring to his national socialist party.

Hitler reviewed von Hindenburg's eventful life, beginning with his baptism of fire at Konigsgratz and through the war of 1917.

"His name was like that of uncounted thousands of officers—unknown to the great mass of the people," the chancellor said.

"When the German people four years later remembered von Hindenburg's name the clouds of war hung over the world, and the German Kaiser Wilhelm called upon von Hindenburg to take over the supreme command of the army. Six days later guns were booming and three days later church bells rang in celebration of the victory of Tannenberg.

"Large areas of German land were saved from devastation, and from then on everybody in Germany had von Hindenburg's name on his lips—the man who saved the country and led the army from victory to victory.

"The night of von Hindenburg and his army threw back the greatest military power in the world, here in East Prussia. Unfortunately, he was called too late to head all the armies of the reich. Nevertheless, for two years more he inspired that army to unexpected victories that preparations could be made for the resurgence of the German nation; it was he who opened the door to the representatives of that resurgence. In his name, a union was achieved between the past and the future.

"Twenty years ago the bells of Germany rang out the name of von Hindenburg. Now, as we return to the scene of his great achievement, the bells again are ringing in his honor.

"The soldiers and the flags held eternal parade. The German people, however, will make a pilgrimage to the dead hero to gather the new strength the times need.

"Our field marshal has gone into Valhalla."

Chancellor Hitler closed his eulogy in raised voice trembling with emotion.

Uniformed soldiers and diplomats were everywhere inside the monument, turning the mass gathering into a vivid, almost exotic pattern of red, brown, blue, green, grey, and black. The representatives of foreign nations were symbols of the tribute of other countries to a man who commanded world interest in life as well as death.

They entered the center of the enclosure in a body. With their plumes and swords, they marched to the bronze cross and stood for a moment with bowed heads while their attaches deposited wreaths. Then they marched, still en masse, back to their places.

The coffin, black draped, was carried to the platform at the start of the program by two columns of two captains, and a special picked guard of spidiers.

Two battalions of the reichwehr then entered in columns of six, smartly goosestepping with their faces turned left toward the coffin in military reverence and salute. They were followed by bands of 50 regimental flags who massed directly behind the speakers' pedestal.

The departure from the monument, following the conclusion of the exercises, was led by numerous military units marching with intense precision. This emptying of the interior of the monument only swelled the masses of the countless thousands of spectators who, listening to the exercises through loud speakers, had turned the open space in front of the monument into slowly undulating sea of upturned faces.

ONE OF THE HARDEST-WORKING PAMPA

ONE of the hardest-working Pampans was G. C. Stark, who handed out hundreds of copies of THE NEWS, as well as blotters good for a free movie at La Nora theater tomorrow morning from 10-12. This show is for visitors only. Other men on the trip included Fred Penn, Paul Hill, Carl Boston, C. L. Thomas, Travis Livvy, Philip R. Pond, Postmaster D. E. Cecil, Bill Bourn, Ray Miller, Tom Clayton, Shelby Gantz, J. P. Reynolds, E. H. Hill, Ewing Leech, Chas. I. Hughes, and this writer. Mr. Livvy distinguished himself by getting stung on the leg by a wasp.

Of the several ladies on the trip the Misses Ida and May Kelly were from Abilene. They are sisters of Mrs. Ewing Leech, who also was present. Cars were driven by Mrs. C. V. McCallister and Mrs. Bell. Mrs. McCallister was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Lottie. Mrs. Tom Clayton and several other women helped chaperone the 32 members of the band. . . . Another delegation today was visiting towns of this section southeast, south, and southwest of here.

ONE or two outstanding impressions linger after the trip of yesterday. One is that, while fields and ranges look burnt on the upper plains, the towns are still clean, the trees and lawns green, the stores filled with attractive displays. . . . At Perryton the trippers were not far from Pampa—an hour's drive by fast car (and what new car is not fast now.) If there were a connecting road across the sandy Canadian.

MISSOURI AND KANSAS BOTH VOTING TODAY

BRINKLEY IS RUNNING FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINATION

By The Associated Press
Today's elections:
West Virginia—Selects party nominees for U. S. senator and six house seats.
Missouri—Selects nominee for U. S. senator and 13 house seats.
Kansas—Selects nominees for governor and seven house seats.

Verdicts on the Rooseveltian "new deal"

Verdicts on the Rooseveltian "new deal," and on "bossism" go into ballot boxes in West Virginia and Missouri today. Kansas picks nominees for governor and congress.
President Roosevelt's program is at issue in West Virginia, where Senator Henry R. Hatfield, out-spoken foe of administration policies, is opposed by four candidates. Nine seek the West Virginia democratic nomination for the senate. Clem Shaver, former national chairman of the party; W. E. Chilton, Charleston publisher and former senator, and Rush D. Holt, a 29-year-old legislator, have conducted aggressive campaigns.
Each of the nine democrats has pledged support of the "new deal." Thus, if Hatfield is the republican choice, the Roosevelt administration will be a clear-cut issue in the general election.
Charges of "bossism" and "machine control" figure in Missouri's three-cornered senatorial fray. "Big Tom" Pendergast, Kansas City democratic "boss" favors Harry S. Truman. The St. Louis democratic organization is for John J. Cochran. The third leading contender is Jacob L. Milligan, for whom Senator Bennett Champ Clark has campaigned. Cochran and Milligan are present congressmen.
Senator Henry Byrd has no opposition for the Missouri republican nomination.
Kansas interest centers in the gubernatorial derby. Governor Alf M. Landon is opposed by Dr. John Brinkley, of "goat gland" fame, for the republican nomination. A half dozen want the democratic position, among them Mayor Omar D. Ketchum of Topeka, Thurman Hill of Wichita and Kirk Prather, former prison warden.
Virginia had a primary scheduled for today, but it isn't necessary for selection of democratic nominees for the senate and house. Senator Henry Byrd and the nine house members are unopposed for renomination.

'Miss America' Deprived of Child

Custody of her 4-year-old daughter, De Cygne L'Amour, shown left with the father in Oklahoma City court, was lost by Mrs. Norma Smallwood Gilcrease, "Miss America" in 1926, right, in her divorce battle with Thomas Gilcrease, Oklahoma oil magnate. The child will remain with the father until settlement is reached in the suit, in which sensational charges have been made by counsel for Gilcrease, and vigorously denied by the mother.

BROTHER ARRAYED AGAINST HIS BROTHER IN NEW ORLEANS WAR

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Gunfire broke out in the Senator Huey P. Long-Mayor T. Semmes Walmisley "war" early today after a serio-comic show of armed strength for more than a week.
A sentry at Jackson Barracks, headquarters of national guardsmen called out on order of Senator Huey P. Long, fired twice at an unidentified man he said was attempting to slip into the barracks.
The sentry said that when he spied the man behind some bushes he ordered him to halt, but the man jumped up and sped away instead. The sentry fired two shots, neither of which is believed to have taken effect.
The main battleground of the "war," however, in the heart of New Orleans, remained tranquil.
The guardsmen still were stationed in the registration office, equipped with machine guns, rifles, gas bombs and gas masks.
Mayor Walmisley's forces were concentrated in the city hall, just across a narrow street from the registration office, also heavily armed.
The week-long war is a prelude to the September congressional primary election in which Long and Walmisley are supporting opposing candidates.
As in the war between the states, two brothers shouldered arms today on opposing sides in the "war" between Senator Long and Mayor Walmisley.
The senator himself was called to appear in court and show reason for Gov. O. K. Allen's continued detention of the city voters registration office with national guard troops, helmeted and armed with rifles and machine guns, under the executive's "partial martial law" proclamation of early last week.
A temporary restraining order issued by Judge Nat W. Bond, of civil district court, ordered the troops disbanded. The senator has been reported "missing" for the past two days.
One of the brothers is Anthony Powers, 23-year-old khaki-clad sergeant in the medical corps of the national guard who was called into

Japanese Rescue 3 Americans in Stranded Vessel

TOKYO, Aug. 7 (AP)—The rescue of three Americans—two women and a man—who had drifted on the Pacific ocean in their sailing vessel with its mast broken since June 24 was reported to the United States consulate today.
The consulate was informed that the Japanese surveying ship Koshu called to Isolated Fey's island near Yap July 20 and rescued the three Americans.
They are:
William L. Teward, a painter.
Mrs. Teward, a writer.
Miss Marion Phillips, a nurse, of Santa Barbara, Calif.
They were called from San Diego Jan. 3 in a 7-ton pinnace, registry 2920. The mast was carried away. Island natives rescued them from the sea.
The Koshu took the Americans and their vessel to Pelew. The Americans said they wanted to repair their craft and continue on to Manila but that they had only $17.
FRENCH ALSO MOURN PARIS, Aug. 7 (AP)—Memorial services in the Lutheran church of Paris and the half-staffing of the French flag throughout France marked the observance in this nation of the funeral today of the late President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

SPITE MARRIAGE

SYNOPSIS: The stupor Bob Powers was far from broken to get is stopped because of his mother's death. He decides that the old lady must not know of their unhappiness, and when he returns to find up his work in Mexico he leaves Marsha to watch over his mother.

Chapter 29 NEW ROUTINE

"Has the postman stopped?" Mrs. Powers asked Marsha. "I wish we should have a letter from Bob."

"Not yet, dear. I told Bartholomew to bring the letters up straight off."

"I, too, spoke to him, to give much the same order. Have you noticed the begonia, Marsha?"

"The one with the sad, pale leaf?"

"Yes, dear. I thought when you smoked, you could blow smoke upon it, but gently."

"Yes, darling."

"Was that the postman?"

"I think not, dear, but I'll go see. Then I'll smoke the begonia."

"It has aphid on it, I fear."

"I thought so, too, dear."

It had been the postman; no letter from Bob. Was there anything in the post that would divert his mother, Marsha wondered. Thank heaven, there was a letter from France.

She would make endless do-do about that, and with Marsha's confession to her wonder about the writer and her further leading Mrs. Powers would tell her all about the writer; who her mother was, etc. and etc. That would muddle the disquiet. Such hating had disrupted Mrs. Powers' disappointment for three days now.

Was he well? Safe? She paused a moment on the stair, chilled by fears.

Then, with a lift of chin she hurried upward.

"Bob?" Mrs. Powers asked as she appeared.

"No, but we could hardly hope to hear as yet; there hasn't been time. But you've a letter from France?"

"From France? Now I wonder—"

"Of course I don't know the writing; it's a rather bold writing. And beautiful paper. I'll get your letter cutter."

"Please, dear, I don't seem to remember that writing. Do you think it was written by a man or woman, Marsha?"

"I'd say a woman," Marsha answered slowly.

"As would I. The curly P. But some men curl P's."

"Yes, I've noticed."

"But there is a boldness, too, that suggests a man."

"This took ten minutes," she said. "He's that patient," said Hannah later, "when I looked her way, sometimes I could see a halo round her, like there is on the Saints, themselves. Always gentle and soft-spoken—understanding, and with a heart that is rare to see!"

SHE had her first letter from Bob while Mrs. Powers' clergyman called. She sent the letter addressed to his mother upstairs where Mrs. Powers lay suffering in her bed; it was "a bad day."

And downstairs, Marsha sat holding her letter between her hands and closely, as she tried to listen. At one time, she knew, she would have been amused by "jolting the old dog"; now she saw him as rather dear.

He was trying so to entertain her with his long-winded and tedious description of a trip to the Holy Land. The congregation had sent him, she explained; she saw his pride.

"How they must love you!" she said, "and what a rare opportunity to see that wonderful place!"

He nodded, smiling; he had heard sunny whispers of her; this lovely and charming young woman. He couldn't understand them; he had never met a more delightful or beautiful young woman; Mrs. Powers talked of her by the hour. He listened happily and with sympathy. How unjust were men, and women!

She held Bob's letter closely between her palms.

She heard: "Travel, to my thinking, is broadening!"

"Oh, quite!" she agreed. Simplicity touched and warmed her now. The old one that she had been—dead! dead!

Bob had written a description of one drunken Pedro who, drunk, had painted his horse with a sticky sweet wine. Marsha laughed a little, and then frowned, reading it.

There were many games of checkers; there were, on Mrs. Powers' "good days," sober drives in a closed motor. There were small teas for Mrs. Powers' friends when Marsha poured, and talked of storing woollens and of the dietetic habits of moths, and of cooks and their migratory tendencies.

Marsha began to plan and to order the meals, to deal with tradespeople by telephone, to arrange flowers. Once and again she was forced to cheat herself of necessary sleep in order to "get Bob's letter off."

Marsha had admired Mrs. Powers' deft knitting of wash-cloths; Mrs. Powers had replied, "Dear, it is no task at all—after you catch it. Let me teach you to knit them. I am certain it would fascinate you! Nothing is more soothing!"

The knitting of the wash-cloths did not soothe Marsha, but she did her valiant best to learn, for she knew Mrs. Powers would find a new interest through teaching her.

"There is more to this than I supposed, Mother!" Marsha would admit with a sigh, to hear, "Darling, you are doing very, very well! In fact, and quite truly, remarkably well, considering that your aunt did not deem it wise to teach you these necessary things in childhood!"

Mrs. Powers invariably emphasized "aunt," when it applied to Miss Gertrude Moore. Miss Gertrude had made Mrs. Powers add a codicil to her prayers; this ran, "And soften the heart of your erring child, Lord, to that woman—who was not fair, as you know well, Lord; to our dear Marsha!"

Miss Gertrude had called upon Mrs. Powers to sit stonily silent as Mrs. Powers expounded Marsha. The eulogies had grown loud and trepidulous; they had, done nothing. Miss Gertrude left Mrs. Powers shaking and close to tears.

When Marsha came back from seeing Miss Gertrude to her motor, Mrs. Powers put her arms around the girl who was chilled by the hideous feeling that her aunt might have said something to change Bob's mother toward her.

"I love you, dear!" Mrs. Powers said fiercely.

Tomorrow, Mrs. Powers writes a letter to Bob.

Trotting Races Are Next Week

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 (AP)—The dress rehearsals having failed to develop an outstanding favorite, the pick of 3-year-old trotters will meet in the eighth renewal of the Hambletonian Stakes at Goshen one week from tomorrow with four fast steppers, two of them fillies, rating consideration in the pre-race distribution of the $40,000 purse.

The race will be worth considerably less than the first year when Guy McKinney won the major share of nearly $74,000, but the class of contenders probably never has been excelled, not even two years ago when the Marchioness lowered the record for the event to 2:01 1-4. Muscletone, flying the silks of C. B. Schaeffer, of Lexington, Ky., and driven by H. M. (Doc) Parrshall of Urbana, Ohio, was the first to show as a leading contender. Then along came C. W. Phellis' Emily driven by "Hardluck" Fred Egan, to take over the spotlight.

This pair, however, faded somewhat before the speed of Reynolds, owned by Henry H. Knight of Chicago when Marvin Childs drove the gelded son of Louise Hall to victory at Rockingham park.

F. D. R. Wants to Make Every Drop of Water Count

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt brought his drought inspection trip into North Dakota today with the announced resolve to make "every ounce of water" falling in the northwest "count before it makes its way down to the Gulf of Mexico."

Amid the steam shovels and dredges on the newly commenced Fort Peck, Montana, dam in the Missouri river the president voiced this purpose late yesterday to a crowd of workers and citizens of these parched fields.

This morning was set aside by the president for a visit at Devils Lake, North Dakota, and a tour of the surrounding region. Senator Nye, republican, of North Dakota, accompanied him from Fort Peck.

Also on the presidential special are Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, and Representative Holdrege, democrat, rival candidates for the Minnesota senate election this fall. Arthur Mullen, of Nebraska, former vice chairman of the democratic national committee, also accompanied Mr. Roosevelt today, reporting severe drought in his state.

The drought, apparently spreading, occupied almost full attention of Mr. Roosevelt as he rode through the barren, dusty fields of the northwest. Relief experts carried late reports to him.

Special Prosecutor Ordered for Trial

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 6 (AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray today instructed the attorney general to designate a special prosecutor in the case of Neal M. Voss, University of Oklahoma student charged with murdering Marian Mills, campus beauty queen, in an effort to prevent maternity.

Myers will have a preliminary hearing at Norman tomorrow. County Attorney Paul Updegraff said he planned to put all available witnesses on the stand.

INQUIRIES INDICATE ENTRIES IN BASEBALL TOURNEY WILL BE SUFFICIENT

FIRST GAMES TO BE PLAYED ON THURSDAY

AMARILLO MIGHT SEND TWO TEAMS TO TOURNAMENT

It won't be long now! The hour of opening Pampa's first annual baseball tournament is rapidly approaching and teams are still inquiring about the big event which will see baseball teams from several states battle for the $1,000 that will be paid the winning team. It may be that drawing for positions will not be possible until Wednesday night. The delay will be caused by the uncertainty of the number of teams which will be here. Several teams entered in the Denver Post tournament, now in progress, would like to come to Pampa and it will be Wednesday afternoon before some of the teams desiring to come to Pampa will be eliminated from the Denver tournament.

Roy Bourland, manager of the tournament being sponsored by the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce, is optimistic about the tournament. He is sure that Pampa will turn out in large numbers to see all the games.

Three games will be played daily, the first starting at 1:30 o'clock when Mayor W. A. Bratton will toss the first ball. The second game is expected to get under way soon after 3:30 o'clock. The day's schedule will close with a night game, starting at 8:30 o'clock. Admission to all games will be 15 cents for children, 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men.

Reports are coming out of Amarillo that two teams from that city will be here for the tournament. Berger also will send two teams. It has been definitely announced. Colton of LeFors has recruited to full strength and the Abernathy Rosewell aggregation has the appearance on paper of being one of the favorites.

Out of Oklahoma come messages from El Reno, Capitol Hill, Shawnee, Wilcox Oilers of Oklahoma City, and one or two others. There is still no definite word from teams entered in the Denver and Wichita tournaments. Pampa fans are in both cities contacting teams as they are eliminated from play. Most of the teams are interested in the Pampa event and it may be that several more teams than anticipated will be here.

If anything should happen that 16 teams are unable to come to Pampa, only single games will be played on some afternoons. The final decision of the committee in charge cannot be made until all teams arrive.

Pampa's first free baseball game will be staged at Road Runner park tomorrow night. The Colton Gasoliers of LeFors will meet the Pampa Road Runners at 8:45 o'clock. The big game will follow dedication of Pampa's new post-office and also introduce Pampa's first baseball tournament, which will open Thursday afternoon.

Each team will be at full strength for the tournament and will use their strongest lineups tomorrow night. The Road Runners will present Gordon Nell, a Pampa star of several years ago, at first base. Howard Wells will be at shortstop, replacing Ray Ater, who was killed three weeks ago. Behind the bat will be Don Benn, veteran catcher. Colton will have Red Gaither, former Pampa star, in the outfield. Johnnie McMahon, western league sensation, at shortstop, and Ace Elliott of Cedar Rapids, who hit first base, Elliott got a single, double, triple, and home run in Berger Sunday afternoon against Phillips "66". Two new pitchers will also be wearing Colton uniforms it was reported this morning.

Many visitors to Pampa will be seeing their first night baseball. They will see a plant at Road Runner park equal to any lighted baseball park in the United States. The lighting system is the standard equipment put out by the Giant Lighting company. The field is bright as day and a ball cannot be hit high enough to be out of sight.

Seats will be available for nearly 2,500 fans and there will be no admission.

Clingman is winner over Dan McShain. Rod Fenton loses to Cyclone Mackey last night. Steve Donoghue is crowding 50, this winner of a half-dozen derbies still responds to the old, familiar cry, "Come on, Steve!" on British tracks.

CLINGMAN IS WINNER OVER DAN MCSHAIN

ROD FENTON LOSES TO CYCLONE MACKAY LAST NIGHT

Sailor Otis Clingman paddled up the North fork of the Red river last night and stayed in Pampa long enough to tame Danny McShain, wild Irishman from Seattle, Wash., in the main event wrestling match at Road Runner park. Clingman won the first and last falls after losing the second battle by being strangled with a towel.

Cyclone Mackey, Amarillo favorite, thrilled the packed stadium by defeating Rod Fenton, Canadian wildman, in the semi-final. Lobo Brown of Amarillo defeated Barber Kelly of Pampa in the preliminary.

McShain opened the main event in his usual manner. He slapped Clingman in the face before taking off his robe and then jumped into the crowd. Angered, Clingman rushed the Irishman until he was dizzy. He Sonnenbergt McShain into the crowd and then got a terrific spilt. McShain gouged and then had to battle Referee Herman Furer of Amarillo, who broke him repeatedly.

McShain got a nice head scissor but couldn't rest using his fists and gouging eyes. The referee made him break. Clingman got another spilt and followed with five Sonnenbergs, a forearm to the jaw, and a smother, which gave him the fall in 9 1/2 minutes.

McShain came out of his corner for the second fall with a towel before his back. He flipped it around Clingman's neck and pulled. Herman Furer worked for more than a minute before he broke McShain loose. Clingman's tongue was sticking out and he was nearly out on his feet. McShain used a forearm, fist, and a drop-kick, to win the fall in 2 minutes. He tangled with the referee before leaving the ring and Dutch Mantell had to separate wrestler and official.

During the brief fall, county officers were having trouble with a fan who refused to get off the clubhouse. When he did, he wielded a knife, cutting Deputy Back Keene's coat. Then he used a pipe over the deputy's head before he was subdued and taken to jail.

Clingman returned swiftly for the last fall and action was fast and furious. The baby-faced mauler gave McShain a sample of his own medicine and the Irishman left for the clubhouse. He returned but was greeted with holds and blows. The Irishman then tried to wrestle. He got flying arm holds with which he slammed Clingman. He followed with reverse headlocks and had Clingman in a bad way when he decided to choke and eye-gouge.

Clingman got mad again and came out of a headlock and eye-gouge with a hammerlock. He let it go for a Sonnenberg and followed with a couple of slams and flying mares. With McShain groggy, Clingman picked him up and used his new pile-driver. He seized McShain with one arm around the waist and the other around a leg, doubled back, and then jumped into the air. McShain's head and shoulders hit the canvass with a thud and all of Clingman's weight on top. It was unnecessary to fall across the Irishman, who was "out" for a long time.

Speed won the semi-final for Cyclone Mackey. He refused to let Fenton get him cornered and returned blow for blow. Mackey used head scissors and Sonnenbergs, while Fenton used a forearm and slams. He tried to drop-kick Mackey but was slow.

Fenton slammed Mackey several times and had him apparently dazed. He stepped over for a Japanese crab hold but, quick as a flash, Mackey flipped Fenton over and pinned his shoulders before he could recover from the ride.

GIANTS WITH AN EVEN BREAK SHOULD WIN NATIONAL FLAG

Cochrane's sensational Tigers and the New York Yankees with the odds favoring the former. Cochrane has been getting great pitching and terrific hitting right along and the club's fighting spirit has been one of the major surprises of the campaign. The Tigers lead the Yankees by one game.

If the Yankees, rated the best club in the league on paper, fail to win the flag as predicted in the spring forecasts, they can lay the blame square upon their own inability to win in the west. No Yankees lead in recent years has looked quite so helpless beyond the Alleghenies as has the 1934 outfit from the banks of the Harlem.

After yesterday's open date, both leagues were to resume play today.

IF CHAMPIONS WIN HALF OF REMAINING GAMES THEY'LL HAVE WON 91 CONTESTS.

BY HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Nobody yet has conceded the National league pennant to Bill Terry's men of destiny, otherwise the New York Giants, but neither has any rival arisen to challenge their bid for a berth in the world series again.

Holding a 3-game lead over the Chicago Cubs today, the Giants have only 50 more games to play, 26 at home and 24 on the road. A set of 16 battles in the west represents the only really grueling part of the club's remaining program.

An even break in their last 50 contests would give the Terry-men 91 victories, the same total with which they won the flag last season. With Carl Hubbell back in shape and Mel Ott, Terry himself and the whole team hitting well, the Giants are reasonably justified in their belief that they will do much better than that.

The club owes its present exalted position in the standings to a steady, consistent brand of ball that neither the Cubs nor the St. Louis Cardinals have been able to match. The Giants' best winning streak of the year has been no more than five victories in succession but they have hit no extended slumps either.

The American league chase still is a ding-dong fight between Mickey

MISSIONS WIN IN 9TH INNING WITH 5 RUNS

BEAUMONT, CATS AND DALLAS CAPTURE GAMES

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The first division make-up in the Texas league race is still San Antonio. Galveston, Beaumont and Tulsa. Monday games gave San Antonio an 8 to 4 win over Houston; Beaumont a 6 to 1 decision over Galveston; Fort Worth a 4 to 3 verdict over Tulsa, and Dallas a 5 to 4 triumph over Oklahoma City.

A five run outburst in the ninth pulled San Antonio from the rear and gave the Missions victory when all seemed lost. The league leader's wild rampage drove Beckman from the mound and recorded a total of 16 hits for the game. Third baseman Harshany of San Antonio got 2 doubles and a single to drive across four runs. Larry Bettencourt, Mission outfielder and the league leader in runs batted in, drove in two runs.

Joe Hare turned in another splendid pitching exhibition when he stopped Galveston with six hits to give Beaumont an easy victory. Hare, on the shelf the last ten days with an ailing salary arm, returned to action and was complete master of the second-place Bucs whose one run was unearned. Beaumont closed a home stay by winning ten out of 12 games.

Bill Rabb scattered eight Tulsa hits to win a mound duel from Bill Fosdel and bring the Cats home victorious. Fosdel allowed four runs and seven hits the seven innings he pitched. Skeeter Newsome Tulsa shortstop, hit a home run in the ninth with a runner on but the rally fell one run shy. Fort Worth played errorless ball.

The Oklahoma City Indians lost their second straight to Dallas when Centerfielder McCulloch singled in the ninth to score Tony York from third with the winning run that broke a 4-4 deadlock. The Indians knocked Joe Vance from the mound in the sixth with a four run spurge but they could do nothing with Southpaw Fred Stely.

ROBBERY REBATE

TIFFIN, O. (AP)—Hi-jackers started carrying two slot machines from Gordon Keiffer's filling station and Keiffer protested that some of the money in the machines belonged to him.

"How much?" asked the robbers. "Five dollars," Keiffer estimated. The hi-jackers tossed him a $5 bill and drove away with the machines.

33 RUNS, 38 HITS IN GAME, BUT ROAD RUNNERS WON IT

New Infielder Knocks Two Homers, Scores 4 Times, Drives in Four Runs.

Thirty-three runs, 38 hits, and twelve errors, briefly tell the story of two and one-half hours of battling between the Road Runners and Phillips "66" at Berger last night. However, there was one redeeming feature, and that is the Road Runners won, 18 to 15.

Gordon Nell, newly acquired infielder, made his debut at second base in the absence of Aaron Ward. All he did on six trips to the plate was to get five hits, two of them long home runs over the left field fence, score four times, drive in four runs, and handle five chances at second base without an error. Everybody was hitting last night and Nell can hardly be expected to produce like that consistently, however, there was nothing fluky about the two home runs he hit.

The condition of the field was such that it was responsible for several of the errors made by each team. In addition, Whitey Vaughn hindered an inferior lighting system by putting out one of the lights near home with a foul ball about the middle of the game.

The Road Runners drew their former nemesis, "Pee Wee" Bass, to start the game, but lost no time in establishing a comfortable lead. Two singles, two errors, Nell's first homer, Vaughn's triple and an infield out gave them four runs. Bass blanked them during the next two innings, during which time Stegman allowed six hits, four walks, hit one batter which, coupled with two Road Runner errors permitted Phillips to go ahead by one run.

The wild stuff really started in the fourth when twelve Road Runners went to bat and scored seven runs on six hits, two errors and a walk. They continued their scor-

RELIGIOUS RIOTS BETWEEN ARABS AND JEWS COST 100 LIVES

SOLDIERS HAVE SITUATION NOW WELL IN HAND

ALL BUT THREE OF 25 ARE JEWS; AFRICAN TOWN BURNED

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 7 (AP)—Religious riots between Arabs and Jews which have cost an estimated 100 lives appeared to be dying out today.

Authorities poured troops into the city and claimed the situation is well in hand. Forty persons are under arrest and will be tried summarily.

All but three of the identified 25 dead were Jews. The exact number of victims is impossible to ascertain at present, as the rioters carried off a number of dead and wounded. Women and children were among the slain.

Many Jews have fled the city. Martial law prevails, and Senegalese troops patrol the street here and in the nearby port of Philippeville. Machine guns overlook strategic points in Jewish quarters.

Persistent troubles for three days and nights, despite the efforts of Moslem and Jewish leaders to make peace, were attributed by some sources to "red" agitators seeking to run the riots into a revolution.

Troops and police combing the narrow and tortuous streets of Constantine were guided by military planes circling overhead. Arabs were driven from Jewish quarters.

The center of the city looks as if it had undergone a war-time bombardment. Five large buildings were burned, a shortage of water preventing firemen from extinguishing the flames.

Sidewalks were strewn with torn and broken merchandise from sacked stores and were dotted with pools of blood.

The Arabs set fire to the buildings after they claimed a Jew had reopened the fighting by firing on them yesterday afternoon.

An earlier fight started when a Jewish soldier was beaten "for desecrating a mosque."

Judge and Mrs. Ivy Duncan and family have returned from Colorado, where they have been vacationing.

William T. Fraser has returned from a business trip to Dallas.

MAN POKES FUN AT GUARDSMEN, GOES TO JAIL

Fined $15 For Calling Troops 'Tin Soldiers'

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 7 (AP)—It cost Curtis H. Grandstaff, 32, a visitor from Memphis, Tenn., a night in jail and a $15 fine to refer to Louisiana National Guardsmen as "tin soldiers."

Grandstaff, himself an ex-soldier and now connected with a Memphis equipment company, drove into New Orleans yesterday, registered at a hotel and then sauntered by the city hall annex, where heavily armed state militiamen guard the registration office as a feature of the "war" between political forces of the state and city.

Grandstaff said he observed the display of armaments and remarked pleasantly to a guard:

"What are you fellows doing in there with all that artillery? Why, you tin soldiers have enough guns to guard several sea coasts."

Instantly a sergeant waved his tear gas gun and signaled to two privates. They leaped through a window and placed Grandstaff under arrest.

Haled into recorders court, Grandstaff was fined $15 or 30 days for "disturbing the peace by calling militiamen tin soldiers."

Grandstaff spent the night in jail awaiting money from Memphis friends.

He will be back again at evening. Twice each day he comes to attend the tiny girl-children whose survival is a modern miracle.

Chance for CCC Camp Here Fades For Time Being

Possibility of obtaining a CCC camp here for the development of a park at the municipal swimming pool is remote, although plans might materialize next year.

Chas. H. Taylor, assistant director of emergency conservation work in Washington, has written the B. C. D. that "you are advised that winter work camps for the state of Texas are now complete and additional camps may not be considered before April."

The letter continued: "In any event, it will be necessary for you to submit your project through the state park authority in Texas prior to your project being considered by the park service in Washington or this office."

County Agent Ralph Thomas will likely be notified within a week concerning a possible federal cattle buying campaign in this county.

It is necessary for the government to send a graduate veterinarian and an appraiser. There is some interest here in culling herds. After the animals are bought, they are turned over to the relief division for disposition.

Some of the best milk animals will likely be assigned to relief case families and feed furnished. Agreements will be made for surrender of the cows on demand. More than 50 cows could be placed in Gray county, it is estimated.

ALRED

(Continued from Page 1) Charley McDonald's endorsement of Mr. Hunter. A few days ago, while Hunter and his friends were maneuvering and manipulating around, he issued a statement out of a clear sky, denying he was making a trade with McDonald or Jim Ferguson, but admitting he had asked their support. No one had accused him of making a trade, or even suggested that he was going to do so.

"I don't think the friends of Mr. McDonald or Jim Ferguson will appreciate the effort to deliver them like a sack of chips to some other candidate. I would, of course, be grateful for the votes of any of the honest and conscientious men and women who may have followed Mr. Ferguson, or who voted for Mr. McDonald; but to be perfectly frank about it, I don't want to be under any obligations whatever to Jim Ferguson, Charley McDonald or any other politician who claims to be able to deliver the votes of Texas citizens."

"We had hoped that we were rid of this trouble-some question, but Mr. Hunter's frank bid for the support of Jim Ferguson could not but have put him under obligations, and he now occupies the same seat from which Mr. McDonald was displaced in the first primary election."

McDonald was supported by the Fergusonists in the first primary and former Governor James E. Ferguson stumped the state in his behalf.

KIBITZERS

(Continued from Page 1) last year. After three houses had burned because fire trucks could not reach hydrants, the city started firing motorists as high as $25. The practice stopped. Pampa will now start the firing business before there are serious losses.

Sunday's blaze at the Danziger Refineries east of Pampa made city officials thoughtful. Ambulances rushed to the scene of the fire but luckily no one was burned. Had there been serious burns or injuries sustained by Danziger employes, the ambulances would not have been able to get drive to Pampa because of car jamming all roads.

Motorists apparently do not realize that their own lives are in danger when they rush after fire trucks. They forget that it might be their own home on fire, with their family trapped in the blazing building.

"Think, think, please," ask city officials.

NEGRO

(Continued from page 1) He had just turned from the highway to the road leading to the Cabot plant when the negro stepped to the running board of his car and ordered him to stop. The negro had a pistol in his hand.

The car driven by the negro was parked at the side of the road just off the paving. Mr. Hallett said he didn't see anyone in the car. He described the negro as being tall and thin and wearing a dark suit, white shirt and no hat.

The hi-jacking took place about 10 o'clock. Mr. Hallett immediately returned to Pampa and reported to city officers, who investigated. They failed to find a car answering the description of the one used by the negro.

Cuban Reds to Celebrate 12th With Uprising

BY EDMUND A. CHESTER, Associated Press Foreign Staff. HAVANA, Aug. 7 (AP)—Communist manifestoes were circulated today, the anniversary of Cuba's "day of massacre," calling for a revolution.

One year ago 23 Cubans were killed when forces of Gerardo Machado, then president, fired on crowds prematurely celebrating Machado's downfall.

Machado fled the palace five days later, August 12, and the communist circulars call for an uprising on that date. Persistent but unconfirmed rumors of revolution are buzzing about the capital.

Soldiers arrested Salvador Diaz Verson, a former chief of police under ex-President Ramon Grau San Martin, but refused to disclose the nature of the charges against him.

Three Americans, Frederick Willcox, Arthur B. Needham, and "Col." Hoffman, are held in Principe prison on charges of selling arms to Cubans. Pelayo Cuervo, secretary of the interior, said the men had engaged in revolutionary activities.

President Carlos Menditez and his aides are busy attempting to settle a telephone workers' controversy.

Stanley to Return To City in Fall

Henry W. Stanley, lecturer attached to the Dallas chamber of commerce as trade extension director, will be in Pampa in late fall to conduct a Merchants' Institute.

While here about a year ago, he made many friends who would like to see him return. His subjects cover a large range of merchandising problems, including advertising, window displays, arranging stocks, promoting trade, and store location. He also, on demand, will give free analyses of local stores.

His coming will be sponsored jointly by the Board of City Development and THE NEWS. Although the dates have not definitely been set, Mr. Stanley has suggested November 19-21.

How to Reduce Key Rate Is Told City Commission

How Pampa can reduce the fire insurance key rate still more was told the city commission last night by a representative of the state fire department.

One of the major suggestions was for a sub-station in South Pampa. The speaker was a guest while here en route to Shamrock to investigate the destruction of a lumber yard there.

Appointment of J. N. Duncan, V. E. Pathe, and R. E. Johnson as a city board of equalization was announced.

An amendment to the city milk ordinance was passed, prohibiting giving away of the food. The change was found necessary, city officials said, because some persons were selling milk not approved by the health department, yet claiming they were giving it to their friends.

A lengthy discussion was held with representatives of the Pampa Cemetery association concerning water rates for beautification of the cemetery.

GIGANTIC CROP LOAN PLAN IS NOW HATCHING

CONTROL OF SUPPLIES WILL BE LEFT IN FARMERS' HANDS

BY STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH, (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—A gigantic crop loan plan which would leave control of 1935 supplies in the hands of farmers who grow them is hatching in the farm administration.

Modeled after this year's corn and cotton loans, the plan will call for government loans on a wide range of other crops. There will be a stipulation that supplies must be sold when prices rise to a certain point.

Last year the government advanced farmers 10 cents a pound of stored cotton, and 45 cents a bushel of corn sealed in cribs or warehouses. This pegged prices at those levels and officials say the plan was a success.

As prices advanced beyond those levels recently farmers began selling crops, paying off loans and making a profit for themselves. The farmer was continuously assured of at least those prices and the government was sure of recouping its investment as long as the price stayed at or above the loan value.

In the case of cotton, the plan said it must be sold when the price reached 15 cents. This, officials said, prevents the price from rising too far since the flow to market when cotton reaches that point will tend toward stabilization.

The farm administration declares the idea will assist farmers in holding their crops instead of selling at harvest time when marketings are ordinarily heavy and prices consequently low.

They will thus be able to obtain some cash, keep their crops readily marketable as needed, and sell them at any time the price ranges between the loan value and the upper limit.

The program would be coordinated with Secretary Wallace's idea for "ever-normal" granaries. In bountiful years the stored grains would be held off the market. Ownership would be returned to farmers without repayment of the loans if they would agree to cut production the next season. Thus supplies would be kept at about the level of consumption plus amounts assured of sales abroad.
