One trial on a murder charge is included in the seven cases listed on the criminal docket for the January term of the 31st district court which opens Monday.

The case of State of Texas vs. J. C. (Curley) Lewis, who was indicted September 21 by a district court grand jury on a charge of murder in connection of Willie (Lightning) Allen, negro porter, on September 16.

Wayne Nicholson, indicted on a similar charge in connection with the same case, was acquitted by a district court jury on October 14.

A charge of theft is made in one case and of receiving and concealing stolen property in another against E. R. (Chief) Smith.

Other criminal docket cases are: State of Texas vs. Jack Borger, theft; State of Texas vs. Ellis (Sweet Dick) McNell, Mattie Mae Wilson, theft from the person and theft; State of Texas vs. H. E. Huster and C. L. Hamilton, receiving and concealing stolen property.

GORY TERUEL BATTLE LOOMS

With a formidable concentration of troops by both sides, the Spanish city of Teruel in southern Aragon, was developing today as the main arena of the Spanish war.

Inside the government-dominated city possibly 6,000 insurgent soldiers and civilians were trapped by government troops.

Despite raw winter conditions, Generalissimo Francisco Franco of the insurgency launched a counter-offensive and today was adding two armies and 200 warplanes as reinforcements.

LAW INVOKED, CHILD BRIDE RETURNS HOME

HUNTINGTON, Tenn., Dec. 30 (AP)—The honeymoon of 13-year-old Ida Bell Thomas ended abruptly today when Tennessee's new "child bride" law was invoked to jail her husband-for-a-day.

Magistrate Manuel McCormick said 23-year-old Garfield Taylor was held for the grand jury on a charge of fraudulently obtaining a marriage license, and that George Campbell, 30-year-old friend of the bridegroom, was held on a charge of falsely attesting the girl was over 18.

Small, dark-haired Ida Bell, whose mother told McCormick in seeking warrants for the two men, that her daughter was but 13, was back today in her home near this middle Tennessee town.

The mother Mrs. Lena Thomas, will institute annulment proceedings, McCormick said.

VERDICT IN DEATH STANDS

No reverse of the verdict of death by wounds self-inflicted in the case of Foy Howard Hunsacker, 31, Panhandle Fruit company salesman, found dead in his home on Alcock street December 8, had been made up to noon today by Justice of the Peace E. F. Young.

A two-hour inquiry was conducted in the office of the county attorney yesterday afternoon. Present at the hearing were Mrs. Foy Hunsacker, widow of the man found dead, her father, a representative of the Blackburn-Shaw Funeral home of Amarillo, County Attorney Joe Gordon, Justice of the Peace E. F. Young, and Pampa traffic officer Bob Irwin.

It was the contention of Mrs. Hunsacker that the death of her husband was accidental. Justice Young said.

Hunsacker was found by his wife about 9:30 p. m. December 8, seated in a chair in the family living room with a .22 calibre rifle between his knees. A bullet wound in the right temple caused death, attending physicians said.

An autopsy was performed by Walter Van Sweringen, Amarillo doctor, on December 10. According to his statement there were no marks of powder burns.

PAMPA TO BE CLOSED UP ALL DAY SATURDAY

A majority of the member stores of the Pampa Credit association will close all day Saturday, New Year's day. Secretary Daugherty reported today following a telephone poll taken by his office. Many non-members also plan to close, he said.

The postoffice, bank, majority of offices and the city hall, with the exception of the police department, will be closed all day.

Postmaster C. H. Walker urges Pampa business men who plan to mail their statements Saturday to purchase stamps on Friday because none will be available until Monday.

The postmaster also reminded boxholders today that rent is now due with Friday the deadline for paying.

ECONOMISTS DISAGREE ON RECESSION LENGTHS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 30 (AP)—Two nationally-known economists—Lionel D. Edie of New York and Col. Leonard P. Ayres of Cleveland are of the opinion the present business recession will reach bottom during the first half of 1938. A third, Charles Frederick Roos of New York believes "conditions leading to deep depression are getting worse" and "what this country needs is a 'new brain trust in Washington.'"

They addressed the American Statistical Association last night.

MOVIE SHOWS HOW JAPANESE BOMBED PANAY

By WILLIAM S. WHITE NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—The photographic story of the sinking of the U. S. S. Panay by Japanese bombs—a story of gallantly futile resistance before the Sars and Stripes sank with the stricken warcraft in the slow waters of the Yangtze—was put before the American public today.

It had a preview last night before a small group of picture executives and reporters, in a little projection room at a guarded Fort Lee, New Jersey, laboratory.

In a dispassionate monotone, Newsreel cameraman Norman Alley explained his extraordinary pictorial record of a 20-minute incident across the world which threatened grave rupture between Washington and Tokyo until complete Japanese apologies were accepted by this government.

Here is the story as it emerged on the test projection screen, then upon Associated Press wirephoto machines for transmission to newspapers—and as it emerges today in some motion picture theaters:

The Panay, her flag folding out smartly, pulls away from Nanking with her tragic load of American refugees. Ashore, men wave goodbye.

Two Japanese airplanes are seen far aloft; one seems to be diving toward the Panay.

Emergency Alarm Heard (Here it is; here's the business.) Alley mutters.) There is a quick cutback to the deck; seamen pop out one by one from the hold and race forward.

"That's where the emergency alarm was heard," says Alley.

Men jump to the Panay's iron-shielded machine guns, grimacing, squinting. One, a boatswain's mate, has leaped to station so quickly that he has left his trousers behind. The machine guns did no damage.

Over astern—it looked less than 50 yards—a bomb drops, and the Yangtze throws up a great burst of water.

Keels Over Next, fatally hit, the Panay keels. One of her decks partially awash. The lifeboats are swaying the side; the men mostly are wearing life preservers, but one is soon to throw a grating overboard and jump after it.

"That's the end," says Alley, to the extraordinary stillness of the projection room.

Next, little boats are seen turning toward the bamboc-covered marshlands of the river bank. The wounded and the unhurt appear to scramble in fear beneath the bamboo. (Lt. Commander J. J. Hughes said in his official report they were seeking cover against more shells feared from above.)

Watch Ship Sink Hughes, badly hit, smiles crookedly from his stretcher. Quartermaster John Lang, a bandage laid across the gaping wound in his

Gray county jail's population was down to 17 today, following the "chain-drag" here Tuesday when five prisoners were taken in custody by Jim Crane for imprisonment in state penitentiary.

Those removed from the county jail were: Pat Fisher, negro, whose clemency was recently revoked by Governor Allred, following his arrest here on a charge of carrying a pistol.

Fisher is to serve 10 years, on a murder charge.

Other prisoners removed, sentences, and charges: Ralph Scheu, two years, bigamy; George Scarborough, three years, forgery; Grady Burleson, five years, burglary; Truman Cox, five years, robbery.

Of the 17 prisoners in jail today, only one is being held in connection with narcotic arrests. The suspect is the same man who was arrested December 22, following a raid at a downtown hotel the previous night, when two men and a woman were arrested. Later the trio were taken to Amarillo and charged with possession of narcotics, in federal court.

The arrests followed an intensive campaign against narcotic traffic, conducted by Sheriff Earl Talley and his deputies, and federal and state agents. While suspects are held from time to time, the raid of December 21 was the only one within the past fortnight in which charges have been filed.

WALL STREET WONDER BOY DIES IN PRISON

OSBISING, N. Y., Dec. 30 (AP)—Harold Russell Ryder, "boy wonder" of Wall Street, died yesterday from a heart attack two weeks after he had returned to Sing Sing prison. He was 41.

Four years of freedom on parole from a 1930 larceny sentence had ended December 13, when he entered the prison to serve from 12 to 17 years.

The former Wall Street runner who pyramided a shoestring to $15,000,000 pleaded guilty in 1930 to larceny of $95,452 which he had received to purchase stocks. He was paroled after two years and three months.

Last October he was rearrested in a brokerage office and admitted violation of his parole. He pleaded guilty to defrauding 83 investors of $200,000 and was sentenced to serve from five to ten years and in addition to complete his first term of ten years.

The pictures were brought back to America by a U. S. newswreel cameraman who flew the Pacific ocean with them. They were telephoned to Eastern points yesterday and rushed by air express to Pampa.

Harvester Hoopsters Swamp Olney 30 to 16

A basketball game described as "rough and ragged" by Coach Odus Mitchell was won last night at Olney by the Harvesters, 30 to 16.

The two teams will play again tonight, and tomorrow night the Harvesters will play the strong Dallas Tech team at Dallas. The next day, Coach Mitchell and the eight boys on the team will see Colorado and Rice clash in the Cotton bowl.

Lanky Bob Andis, the boy with the big hands, led the scoring last night with 10 points, followed by Claude Heiskell who hit the basket for eight. Norman Cox, center, tallied six points. The rest of the scoring was about equally divided between Reynolds, Jack Cunningham and Dunaway.

All the reserves, including Junior Foster, Omer Harrell, A. C. Miller, saw action in the game, and played satisfactorily.

THOMPSON SETS DATE FOR OIL PACT MEET

FORT WORTH, Dec. 30 (AP)—January 18 has been set as the date for the next meeting of representatives of the states in the interstate oil compact, said Col. E. O. Thompson, chairman of the compact and a member of the state railroad commission, said compact representatives would convene at 10 a. m. in Oklahoma City.

In addition to delegates from states in the compact, other oil producing states are expected to have observers at the sessions, Thompson said. At the last meeting, in Houston, 14 states were represented.

Thompson, stopping here enroute from his home at Amarillo to Austin, fixed the date after a telephone canvass of state representatives.

SENATOR HITS RECENT TALKS OF JACKSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 30 (AP)—Senator Alben W. Barkley, Democratic majority leader, said today that Congress will give its immediate attention to business monopolies when it convenes Monday.

Monopolies constitute "a greater concentration of industry in the United States today than ever before," he told county and commonwealth's attorneys in convention here.

He likened monopolies to the factors which brought about dictatorships abroad.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Senate Republican Leader McNary, or Oregon charged today that attacks on "big business" by administration spokesmen constituted "an obvious effort to create an alibi" to explain the current recession.

He challenged as "political" two recent speeches of Robert Jackson, assistant attorney general. They "apparently were made," he asserted, "to prepare the way" for President Roosevelt's message to Congress next Monday.

"This is not the way of handling a grave domestic program. This is the time for good will instead of political speeches directed at one group of citizens," he told reporters. "Business probably is entitled to some censure, but not all of it."

Discussing Jackson's attack on monopolistic practices, Senator McNary declared "statute books are covered with anti-monopoly legislation. What we need is enforcement of the legislation we already have."

"COURAGE OF THE WEST"

Glorifying Yourself BY ALICIA HART.

The fact that your budget is extremely limited is no excuse at all for not being well groomed day in and day out. As a matter of fact, one who has only a few beauty preparations and a rather skimpy wardrobe often can learn to use the preparations more carefully and to keep her clothes in better order than the woman who has a drawer full of creams and lotions, more dresses than she can count.

Absolute cleanliness is the fundamental of perfect grooming, of course. And, since soap and water cost so very little, no one can offer lack of funds as an excuse for not being quite clean, fresh and dainty.

Diminutive, too, is the cost of enough electricity to heat an iron with which to press dresses and suits. And, although you may dread the initial expense, shoetrees and hat-stands are not expensive in the long run.

When you think of beauty and grooming in terms of soap and water, you are less likely to make excuses for yourself on the days when you know you are not looking your best.

Every observing woman knows that a well-dressed woman is something more than a fairly attractive person wearing well-designed clothes.

Roast Duckling With Prune Stuffing (Serves 4 to 6)

One duckling (6 pounds), salt, pepper, prune and apple stuffing, giblets for gravy. Stuffing: 1/2 teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 1/2 cups dried bread crumbs, 1 cup cooked chopped prunes, 1 cup tart raw apple, chopped.

Clean duck, cut off neck wipe with salt and rub with pepper. Sprinkle inside with salt and fill loosely with stuffing. Set up with salt. Rub outside of duckling with salt and pepper and place on its back in roasting pan. Do not cover, and DO NOT ADD WATER.

Corn sliced duckling with highly spiced orange guletin molds makes a beautiful Sunday night supper dish.

To cook a goose, have it drawn first by the butcher, have all pin feathers removed as well as the oil sac. When you get home, singe it, scrub well and then wipe dry.

Onions or Brussels sprouts go well with goose. So do carrots, and, of course, a large green salad with a plain French dressing. Goose is rich—keep the rest of your menu simple.

Wearer Makes Clothes Smart

Jacques Heim, left, inspects the workmanship on an American copy of his beach coat—and hopes some woman will make it look as attractive as he designed it to be.

Garbo next, she never seems to be a definite personality herself. Indeed, she even suggests by trying to buy personality that she has none of her own.

Once she has discovered what suits her best she should keep to that. Take over what fashions seem to be for her and leave the rest to her sisters. In other words, she must learn to fit fashions to herself.

The woman who has what the Frenchman calls "feminine elegance," Heim thinks she must have lived almost thirty years to have reached that point, understands how to feel in a dress, how in his words, "to stick in it," as though the woman and the dress belonged to each other.

The way a woman moves or sits makes all the difference in the world in the way she looks in clothes. Heim smiled when he said, without too much emphasis on "might," "Every move a woman makes might be lovely."

Knowing herself, she never looks for clothes that have "personality." If she dresses to look like the Duchess of Windsor this year and Greta

Bigger Breakfasts Get a Break in Modern Homes

Old-fashioned hearty breakfast dishes that "stood by" our forefathers again are in fashion because modern homemakers consider it scientific and sensible to prepare a more nourishing meal than the customary short rations of toast and coffee.

Take the word of Miss Jessie McQueen, home service counsellor, American Gas association, who, during a recent visit to many localities found that homemakers in general say the sketchy breakfast does not pay dividends in efficiency for the work of the day, be it in office or schoolroom.

With a modern gas range in the kitchen, breakfast may be prepared in as little as ten minutes and certainly in not more than twenty minutes, according to the menu selected.

When occasional late rising demands high speed in the culinary quarters, the quickest breakfast is that of scrambled eggs and bacon, toast and coffee made in the coffee-maker, using tap water. Miss McQueen points out that many housewives have proved in daily tests that this menu can be ready in six to eight minutes, due to the instant heat in top burners.

Resort Fashions Give Tips For New Spring Bonnets

By ADELAIDE KERR AP Feature Service Writer

Then take these tips from mid-season resort fashions, which serve as-advance spring styles. They are gleaned from New York's best, give hints on smartening your winter self and pointers on next season's mode. They tell you:

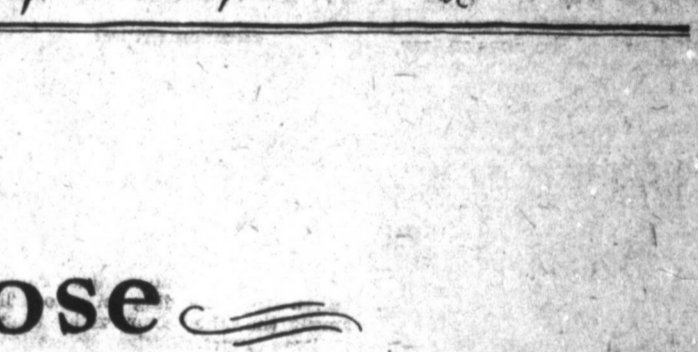

Variety is with us still. Though lower crowns are favored by many designers, as relief from the winter's towering headgear, some taller crowns still are seen. While an over-the-forehead slant appears in some models, off-the-face hats are shown too.

Fillboxes are smart. They offer the low crown and forward pitch that many women long for again. They come in close-woven straws or felts and are nearly always dark in color, accented with some bright hue. A number are given height by trims.

Sailors are back. Some are trimmed with a circlet of wings and a silly colored veil; others smartened with a bright nodding flower. Most of their crowns are low, but a few are high. Tricorns are also shown.

They are "everybody's business." They are made of both straw and felt and their up-rolling brims vary all the way from ab-

NEW STRIKES BREAK OUT IN FRENCH AREAS

PARIS, Dec. 30. (AP)—A new outbreak of strikes in the rich mining region of northern France intensified the turbulent labor situation today after firm government action brought quick settlement of the critical public service tieup in Paris.

A thousand coal miners at Anzin, near Valenciennes, quit work this morning in protest against discharge of three miners.

Premier Camille Chautemps' threat to call striking public service workers, most of whom are army reservists, to the colors, caused prompt submission to his demands for settlement of the Paris strike, which threatened to undermine the people's front government.

Minister of Labor Andre Fevrier was trying to negotiate the other Paris strikes, affecting food truckers, warehouses and the Goodrich Rubber company plant.

Six hundred sailors at Rouen, whose recent walkout tied up 35 ships, continued on strike.

The agreement to call off the Paris public service strike came in the early hours of the morning after labor delegates had shuttled back and forth between their own meetings and government offices through the night.

The strikers, 120,000 strong, were notified to return to their jobs soon after daybreak.

Under the government's threat the strikers themselves would have become strikebreakers—called out as army reserves, sent back to the same municipal jobs from which they had walked out and ordered to maintain transportation, water, gas and light supplies as well as other services they had crippled or halted.

The compromise gave the protesting municipal workers a 70-franc-a-month, $2.31 living allowance—a sort of a raise to meet increased living costs.

SALE OF T. B. SEALS HERE TOTALS $493.92

Contributions of Gray county citizens to the seal sale being conducted by the Gray County Tuberculosis association had advanced to a total of $493.92 this morning.

The campaign started December 14, when first returns were received on the 3,000 letters, accompanied by blocks of seals, mailed to citizens of this county.

Out of the 379 letters returned to the office of W. B. Weathered to date, 359 contained money in payment for the seals.

While no definite deadline has been established for the campaign, a report to the state association must be made by Saturday, and the county association is hoping that many more returns will be received before that time.

Contributions, of course, will be received after that date, as the county association is required to make a report on each of the letters mailed. Each envelope is coded and numbered, and this information is asked in the report. It is for this special reason, that those to whom letters have been mailed, have been asked to make prompt returns, whether they make contributions or only returned the seals sent them.

DISMISSAL OF PREMIER PRECIPITATES CRISIS

CAIRO, Dec. 30. (AP)—Egypt was plunged today into the greatest political crisis of young King Farouk's 20-month reign when he dismissed Premier Mustafa al-Nahas Pasha and appointed Mohamed Mahmoud to form a new government.

Mahmoud, 55 years old, Oxford educated and Premier in 1928 and 1929, immediately started drafting a new cabinet, then decided to dissolve Parliament and hold elections within two months.

The long feud between the palace and the government of the Wafdist (Nationalist) Premier already had resulted in a strike of 10,000 government railway workers in Cairo. Police were on the alert to forestall threatened disorders.

It was understood that preparations had been made to move British troops to Egypt from Palestine in event of an emergency—ostensibly to protect British interests.

Farouk, who became ruler under a regency on the death of his father in the spring of 1936, dispatched a letter to Nahas, dismissing his government for "governing illegally."

CHINESE ASSASSINATED FOR HELPING JAPANESE

SHANGHAI, Dec. 30. (AP)—J. Lo Pa-Hong, China's most prominent Catholic layman and chairman of Shanghai's new civic association, was killed in the French concession today by an assassin disguised as an orange peddler.

Police expressed fear that the slaying was the start of a terrorist campaign to prevent Chinese from cooperating with Japanese establishment of a new regime.

The assassin, who escaped, was believed to have been a patriot-terrorist, angered because Lo's civic association had planned to work with Japanese in rehabilitating areas around Shanghai.

ELECTROLUX SALESMEN AT INDIANA 'SCHOOL'

Paul G. Crossman, Bert A. Howell and Calvin T. Whately, all of the Thompson Hardware Company, Pampa, recently visited the plant of Servel, Inc., manufacturers of Servel Electrolux refrigerators at Evansville, Ind., to attend a "factory school" in which instructions regarding installation and operation of the company's gas-operated com-

Mother Dies

Alive and well is the 4½-pound post-mortem baby son, shown above in a respirator, who was taken from his mother, Mrs. Margaret Beaver Newton, wife of a Wyoming rancher, just one minute after she died in a Cheyenne hospital. Physicians, who worked with lightning speed to save the child, said he will live.

FLOODS IN ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 30. (AP)—Flood waters in south Arkansas today shut down operations at approximately 100 oil wells. The swollen Ouachita rose above flood stage of 26 feet at Camden with a crest of 28 feet expected. Smack-over creek went to its highest level in years, inundating the town of Griffin, Union county. Residents moved out.

A Very Hoppy New Year

Popping his tiny nose out for a glimpse of the world and to find out just what this "New Year" stuff is all about, this baby kangaroo was snapped by a patient photographer just a few days after birth at the Kansas City zoo. It won't be long until Mother "Jigger" lets the little fellow out of her pouch for a few hop steps of his own.

10 SOUTHERN DEMOS DRAFT ECONOMY PLAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. (AP)—An economy bloc composed of 10 southern Democratic representatives, it was learned today, is drafting a detailed budget-balancing program for submission to President Roosevelt. One member, who declined to be quoted by name, said the legislators had banded together to seek cuts in federal expenditures "all down the line" and especially in agencies created during the last few years.

He said each member would report to the group on a specific appropriation before the President's annual budget message is presented to congress next week.

The bloc is considering demanding drastic cuts in the works progress administration, the public works administration and federal highway aid.

Members recently discussed the possibility of asking that WPA be discontinued entirely and that an annual appropriation of about $600,000,000 be substituted for outright purchase of food and clothing for needy. The relief appropriation for this year was $1,500,000,000.

Whether the 1938-39 budget can be balanced is a question which has brought varying answers among federal officials. President Roosevelt has said he hopes to balance it, but advocates of increased relief spending predict a deficit.

The budget submitted next week probably will omit relief estimates, to be filled in next spring when needs can better be determined. Mr. Roosevelt also has said he may make supplemental requests for more naval construction.

JAPANESE MEET FIERCE RESISTANCE AT PORT

SHANGHAI, Dec. 30. (AP)—Japanese armies met stiff Chinese resistance today on Shanghai province fronts outside Tsingtao, the dynamite-rocked North China seaport from which a number of Americans were in flight.

Japanese sources themselves sent word of fierce fighting some 100 miles west of Tsingtao.

The United States gunboat Sacramento docked in Shanghai and disembarked first American civilian refugees from the threatened port 400 miles to the north. Twenty-five Americans, with a number of nurses and dependents, made the trip.

Another contingent of American Tsingtao refugees headed for Shanghai on the steamer Shuntien. The United States cruiser Marblehead and destroyer Pope stood ready to evacuate remaining Americans.

Still more Americans fled from the spreading warfare deep in China's interior. A flag-decked refugee train left Hankow for Hongkong with 313 Americans and other foreigners under Japanese assurance of safe passage over the frequently bombarded route.

Even though resistance delayed the Japanese advance on Tsingtao, Chinese apparently were resigned to loss of the city. They spread destruction with dynamite and flames to leave for the war machine engaged in swallowing five North China provinces only "scorched earth... broken tile."

SANDERS TO RUN AGAIN FROM CANTON DISTRICT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. (AP)—Representative Sanders (D-Tex.) announced today he would seek reelection next year from the third Texas district.

"I have received many letters from friends lately wanting to know if I will run again," he said, "so I am now formally announcing my candidacy."

VIRGIN ISLAND STAMPS RECEIVED AT P. O. HERE

First issue of the new 3-cent Virgin Islands stamps was received at the local postoffice yesterday. Stamp collectors desiring plate number issues should see Assistant Postmaster O. K. Gaylor immediately.

The stamps are the usual purple color of the three-cent denomination carrying an island scene, with the wharf at Charlotte Amalie in the foreground, backed by scene of fishing vessels and islands, in the background.

Booth, 36, chief engineer for the Magnolia Pipeline company here, died in a local hospital at 8 o'clock this morning after being found fatally wounded in his bedroom near the pumpstation early today. TODAY'S SERMONETTE

The young man who refused to give up his wealth and follow Christ went away sorrowful, but Peter, who gave up all was filled with joy when the Master said, "And everyone that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or fathers, or mothers, or wife, or children, or lands for my name's sake shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit eternal life."—Chivers.

OF DOGS AND MEN

How is it possible that men who can love dogs so much can hate each other so bitterly? To say that in Spain and China men are being "shot down like dogs" is a slander. Perfectly gentle, ordinary men are doing the killing, men who love dogs too much to shoot them as they are shooting each other.

SHIRT-TAIL SAVIOR

Hiller may yet be known as the shirt-tail savior of Germany. Latest decree of his economic ministry is a plan to shorten all German shirt-tails two inches. Each German, instead of wearing a shirt 37.4 inches long in front and 39.4 inches long behind, will wear one 35.4 inches long in front and 37.4 inches behind. The idea is to save cloth.

HOLIDAY SUGGESTION

There is a little Christmas story that might well be told in Japan, but which probably won't be. Back before the World War, the United States imported two-thirds of its $50,000,000 worth of toys from Germany. Today Germany's toy exports to the United States are about $1,500,000.

Washington Letter

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—There were two significant things about that conference Roosevelt had with a group of senatorial progressives at the White House the other night. First was the fact that this was a resumption of an old New Deal custom. Once upon a time such huddles were held frequently. The progressives would sink deep into comfortable chairs to talk political and legislative shop with F. D. R. far into the night. But this was the first time in two years that the President had had such a powwow with the Senate's New Dealers.

Second was the fact that when you got them together and isolated there were so darned few genuine progressives who were considered sufficiently New Dealish to be asked in. Unless this writer missed a name or two, the group included only eight of the 96 members of the Senate—Norris of Nebraska, La Follette of Wisconsin, Schwelbacher of Washington, Minton of Indiana, Wagner of New York, Green of Rhode Island, Pepper of Florida and Brown of New Hampshire.

Compulsively absent was Wheeler of Montana. His feud with Roosevelt broke into full flame during the fight over the court plan after many years in which you could be sure Wheeler would be right there when any whole-souled group of progressives got together.

Of course there are many others—all Democrats—who vote consistently for administration measures. But, although this octette of

Tex's Topics

I would like to take up the cudgel for Glen Ragdale, the sanitary engineer, who was forced to go through the "humiliation" of a trial before the Pampa Rotary club yesterday noon with even his own attorney and the judge lined up on the side of the prosecution. . . I would like to suggest to Mr. Ragdale that he, too, dig out a few skeletons. . . I don't care whose closet you delve into, you usually can find a skeleton that will rattle like all get out, if you drag it around enough. . . If this makes Mr. Ragdale feel any better, I will consider that I have done my good deed for the day. . . But, inasmuch as it was all in fun and for a good cause, perhaps it should be skipped entirely.

If Pampa is to get any action on its proposed lake, some of the interested counties who seemingly are out in the cold now believe it will be a good idea to get together and let Washington know that a lake on the Beaver Dam site down on McClellan Creek will serve more counties than one. . . It is a capital suggestion. . . Thirty-six hours from now, 1937 won't be worth a nickel. . . Tomorrow brings New Year's Eve and there is only one more shopping day until 1938. . . Bernard Baruch, the financier, says 1938 won't be so bad and that a lot of the howling about the recession soon will be changed to cheering over the resumption of recovery. . . I hope.

Superstitious persons will be happy to learn that there is only one Friday the 13th in 1938, and it comes in May. . . Personally, I am not superstitious. . . I would just as soon have a basketful of black cats cross the street in front of me. . . If I'm going to fall at the next corner, I feel certain that I will fall, cats or no cats. . . I am not a fatalist, though. . . I do not believe that what is to be, will be. . . That is only true after a thing has happened. . . Before it has happened, there is absolutely no way of penetrating any part of it in the line of thought that it was already in the cards.

I am the only person left who believes that some word will come one of these days about Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan, the long-lost aviators. . . I feel the same way about New York's Judge Crater who has been mysteriously missing now for seven years. . . They tell you that where there is life there is hope. . . Since there has been no conclusive evidence of death, why give up? . . . Sometimes I think I am not pessimistic enough. . . Why, I am even silly enough to believe that the Lindbergh kidnaping case will be cleared up some day.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY One of the unmistakable evidences of the growth of Pampa during the previous year was the expansion of the Southwestern Bell Telephone plant here. The number of phones in the city increased more than 100 per cent.

simon pure—or in some cases nearly simon pure—liberals is more influential than any other group of eight—or perhaps even a couple of dozen senators—its size indicates strikingly one of the reasons why Roosevelt has so much trouble getting his program thru Congress even though he did win such a huge popular majority in November's election.

The House "liberal bloc" is usually figured to number about 50 of the 435 members, but seldom functions as a compact flying wedge. Anyway, the boys gave the President a pep talk and he gave them one right back. Roosevelt told the senators he hadn't quit—"not by a damn sight"—in the liberal course which he has described as "left of center." He said that he had just been giving his opponents a chance to make fools of themselves, and thereby discredit themselves with the public.

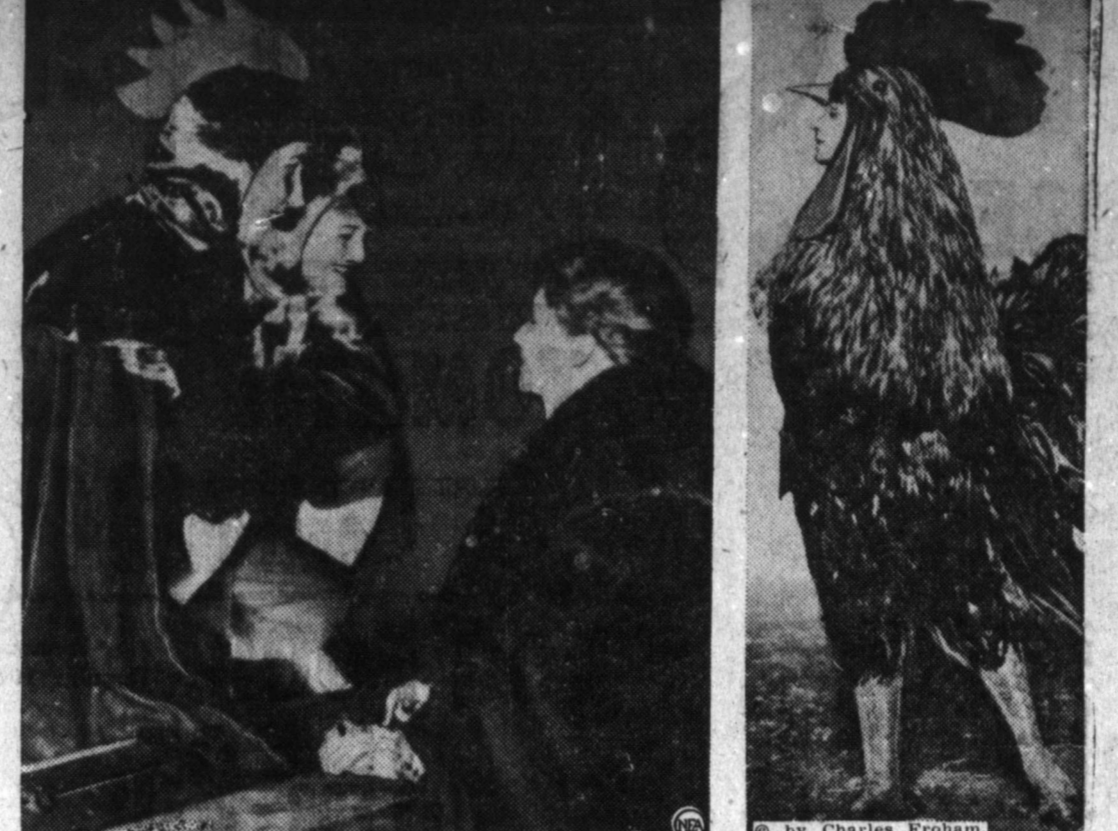

"I'm going to be myself," the President said, as he promised not to give up New Deal "gains in exchange for business men's promises to co-operate toward recovery. The progressives went away happy. Shortly thereafter Senator George Norris, oldest, most beloved and most respected of the group, and that if the forces of reaction continued to block Roosevelt's enlightened aims there would be a popular demand that he run for a third term.

The regular Democratic leaders of House and Senate also had a session with the President. They were not exactly elated when they went away. Roosevelt "gave them hell," according to one authoritative account, but it appears his ire was directed mostly at Speaker John Bankhead of Alabama.

Roosevelt asked how the country could help notice that all but 15 southerners had voted against the wage-hour bill and implied that the south, being in a minority, was building up ill will and possible legislative reprisals. He pointed out that 16 chairmen of House committees had voted against the bill and said this obviously indicated that leadership was in a bad way.

One thing both groups of legislators learned from the President: He is going to keep on banging away for a law which will give the federal government power over minimum wages, maximum hours and child labor.

But the ads in the newspapers say the tickets are only $8.80 a pair. That is a myth. There aren't two tickets for $8.80. . . Then why aren't the producers prosecuted by the Better Business Bureau for publishing misleading information? . . . Because the judge would throw the case out of court. The producers mean well. If they had a pair of tickets they would sell them to John for $8.80. . . But why haven't they any tickets? . . . They've already sold them to the Middle West? . . . They're the ticket speculators. They buy the tickets for $8.80 a pair and sell them to John for as much as they can get.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim This one walked down the street and listened to what people had to say about Christmas. "It didn't seem like Christmas to me," said a young woman. "I usually go home every Christmas, but I didn't this year." In the next block a young man in his late twenties said, "I don't enjoy this Christmas very much. I got drunk on Christmas eve, but I usually get drunk on Christmas eve. Still it didn't seem like Christmas. I don't know what was wrong. Maybe I'm changing." A few hours later, a young man in his early thirties said, "Well it seemed like Christmas to me! More than it ever did before. Look at all the stuff I got! This wrist watch, this Stetson hat, these heavy silk pajamas—why I got a $100 worth of Scotch alone! A day later this one met up with a young lady who said, "It was the footest Christmas I ever spent. You know what I did on Christmas eve? Went to Amarillo at eleven o'clock for a hamburger! We got back at 2:30! On Christmas day a boy said, "I didn't seem like Christmas. I went for a long walk all over town to get rid of them."

How's Your Health?

By Iago Galdston, M.D. If you are a housewife, cook, market man or hunter, or if you are in any way likely to come in contact with the carcasses of wild rabbits, you should beware of tularemia. . . When handling the carcass of a wild rabbit, wear rubber gloves from start to finish. When you have finished dressing the rabbit collect all waste material (still wearing gloves) and burn it, or otherwise thoroughly dispose of it. Cleanse with soap and hot water all utensils that come in contact with the rabbit in any way. Finally, while the rubber gloves are still on your hands, thoroughly wash them. . . Cook the meat at boiling point for 30 minutes before serving. . . These precautions have been urged upon everyone handling the carcasses of wild rabbits. The tame rabbit, that is the animal bred for slaughter, is not likely to be infected with tularemia. But in some localities wild rabbits are likely to "find their way to market," so these precautions are just as well to follow when any rabbit of unknown variety is to be handled. . . Tularemia is a germ disease. It is spread from rabbit to rabbit by biting insects. Human infection, however, is contracted chiefly through the handling of diseased animals. The germs of tularemia may be present in any and every part of the rabbit carcass—blood, flesh, skin or fur. The infection may enter the body through any break in the skin, such as an open cut, sore or even a scratch. . . The disease usually develops in from three to five days after contact. A sore appears at the site of infection. The lymph glands draining the region become enlarged and painful. Fever develops, and the patient complains of aches and pains in many parts of the body. The acute stages of the disease may last two or three weeks, but full

AUSTIN, Dec. 30 (P)—Several former members of the legislature have state government jobs. A few are heads of important departments. Claude D. Teer, chairman, and John Wallace, member of the Board of Control, are former representatives. . . Other department chiefs who served in the House include J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture; Bert Ford, liquor administrator, and Albert K. Manley, tax commissioner. . . Still other former members of the lower legislative branch are Dero Cowley, secretary to Gov. Allred; Charles D. Rutta and Albert Walker, assistants to Attorney General William McCreary; Jesse James, chief clerk in the treasury; Stanford Payne, connected with the health department, and W. A. Shofner, chief attorney to the state tax board.

Apparently there is no danger of race suicide in Texas. Statistics, says Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, show that in an average Texas day: There are 304 births—213 whites, 36 Negroes and 55 Mexicans. There are 189 deaths, including 10 stillbirths. Of the 304 births, 82 per cent are attended by physicians and 18 per cent by midwives.

As a youth, Gov. James V. Allred knew the sting of punishment. This he recalled recently when his father, R. Allred Sr., of Bowie observed his seventy-third birthday anniversary at the executive mansion. The senior Allred used a razor strap on one occasion, Gov. Allred said, when he and a brother were "emulating the language of horse traders" and were reported by a neighbor. The governor expressed favor for such discipline. "I never received a whipping I did not deserve," he said.

Lieutenant-Governor Walter F. Woodul is one who thinks Texas received her money's worth from the $3,000,000 spent in celebrating the centennial of independence from Mexico. . . Among the chief benefits he lists the erection of hundreds of monuments to Texas pioneers heroes and events. There were approximately 800 minor historical markers in addition to better known, more expensive memorials. "They are all over the state," Woodul said. "They have tied down history locally. Many things had been getting into the mythical stage."

Mrs. James V. Allred, wife of the governor, is a competent pianist and recently has been studying to play the pipe organ. . . Shortly before Christmas she played the organ at an Austin church, but there is no likelihood she will have an organ of her own for some time. Describing Mrs. Allred's playing at the church, the governor added he was not going to buy an organ at present prices.

Among contractors, the Board of Control has a reputation for fairness in handling bids on public works. It also is reputed to have keen business judgment, which has given rise to the saying, "when you bid in Texas, better sharpen your pencils, for the low man will get the job." . . . In the recent bidding on construction of the Big Spring hospital for the insane, an $800,000 project, one of the largest crowds of contractors in years to seek a state job was present. The board first announced a list of awards and the next day altered it, further study having shown others were low bidders. Generally the low man, if he has a reputation for good work, gets the award.

FUTURE OF DEMOCRACIES. Before the Economic Club of New York, Lewis W. Douglas, former budget director and now president of McGill University of Montreal, had some very important things to say in regard to the future of democracies. . . Every sheltered theorist who thinks voting-majority democracies are safe and can lead to a high standard of living should read his entire speech. . . We quote briefly from his remarks on the future of democracies: . . . An economic recession of serious proportion would, I think, be felt first in the democracies and with greater force, primarily because in them the rigid controls of the autocracies do not and cannot within the framework of democracy exist. . . "And because, too, in some of the autocratic states there has been developed what has been termed a sort of 'pagan religion' which inspires men and women to undergo great sacrifices in the name of the state. . . "Thus a serious economic depression would have the effect of further weakening the democracies, relatively strengthening the position of the autocracies and influencing them to be at least far more arrogant than they so far have dared to be. . . "Stated in a different way, a serious economic depression in the democracies of the world will certainly accentuate the intensity of the controversy between the civilization in which men's spirit has been liberated and the civilization in which it has been imprisoned. . . "These are, I think, the consequences of a continuation of the present policies—policies which, as I have said, weaken the vigor of private enterprise and do not substitute for it, if indeed there is any substitute for it, a vigorous collective enterprise. . . "The road to vigorous collectivism is long and tedious, paved with social disturbances of great magnitude and intense poverty. It is wholly contrary to the American tradition. It is completely incompatible with our concept of the kind of society in which man may remain free. It is not all certain that it can ever be attained. . . "Thus either the vigor of private enterprise must be restored, or there is to be no enterprise whatsoever. . . "To assume that it cannot be revitalized, that it has lost its strength forever, is to accept the philosophy of despair. This I refuse to do. . . But free enterprise will not be restored without the courage of men to speak up and fight an intellectual battle for the inherent freedom that belongs to every citizen as set forth in the Bill of Rights. It is now time for any educational leader, whether he be a teacher, public educator, editor or business man, to take a stand on the vital questions facing us today.

First Panay Sinking Photos

Through gunfire, ship sinking, tramping a wilderness come these FIRST PICTURES of the Panay sinking.

They were carried in a survivor's camera case, were floated on sampan and Yangtze river craft, sped to Manila by the swift U. S. destroyer Steward and finally flown to San Francisco aboard a trans-Pacific Clipper.

Weldon James, Acme News representative at Nanking, was one of the newspapermen aboard the Panay when the little American warship was shifting to a new safe place for rescuing Americans from the Nanking war peril. His camera clicked dramatic points in the Japanese attack, the sinking of the Panay and treatment of the wounded.

These pictures were rushed to Pampa to give the quickest possible coverage on one of the outstanding news stories of the century.

Aerial Shows Forecast For Various Bowl Tilts

(By The Associated Press)
Pigskin pitchers, from California's renowned Vic Botari to West Virginia's Emmet Moan, are warming up their tossing arms today for the last bits of aerial rehearsal before the bowl games usher in a new year of football.

A half dozen aerial shows are forecast by the reports from the camps, where everything, including the coaches, is in the air.

The news from the stratosphere: ROSE BOWL—Alabama, which gained 517 yards via the airways in the regular season, plans to offset California's power with Sleepy Joe Kilgore and Herky Moseley, two giants adept at hurling the leather. The Bears, who have a neat passer in Botari, are working on pass defense and the linemen are thinking up new ways to smother the Tide tossers.

SUGAR BOWL—Louisiana State spent an hour and a half on overhead attack and defense. Cotton Milner, the Tigers' most adept receiver, made a brilliant showing as a receiver, and young Bussey won praise from Coach Bernie Moore as a passer. Santa Clara ordered another secret practice today after limbering up yesterday.

COTTON BOWL—Rice arrives at Dallas today for a final tapering off drill. Ernie Lain, the Owl's ace back, is the Rice pitching nominee against Colorado's Whizzer White. The Buffaloes move into Dallas Friday night and Coach Bunny Oakes believes they're in "top form."

ORANGE BOWL—Auburn, most confident of the bowl teams, followed Coach Jack Meagher's optimistic statements with Captain Les Antley's "We're all confident. We think we're in." The Platinens featured passing in their final home workout before leaving for Miami.

CHARLIE Bachman, Michigan state mentor, found his boys showing signs of weakness after a long drill yesterday. Bachman will rest his squad today. He is worried over an ankle injury suffered by Carl Nelson, 208-pound end and crack pass receiver, who figures largely in the Spartans' aerial plans.

SUN BOWL—Both Texas Tech and West Virginia plan to take things easy today after three days of brisk practice sessions. Moan, the Mountaineers' ace passer, has been used extensively all week and the invaders are pleased with his work.

EAST-WEST—The coaches spent yesterday in trading compliments while the squads eased off.

Said Andy Kerr of the eastern staff: "If we're not on our toes they'll probably pass us right out of the stadium."

Replied Coaches Orin Hollingsbery and Biff Jones of the Western side: "If they let us have the ball long enough we might be able to use all our plays."

Lash Selected As Best Athlete

CHICAGO, Dec. 30 (AP)—The Big Ten's "outstanding athlete" title for 1937 belongs to Donald R. Lash, Indiana's smasher of distance running records.

The lightweight Hoosier who ran a world record 8:58 two miles at Boston last February and dominated Big Ten mile and two-mile fields outdoors for three years, galloped off with the sixth annual Associated Press poll of coaches and sports writers, by a score of 67 points, to 37 for a fellow Hoosier, Pullback Corby Davis.

Secret Practice Ordered for Santa Clara Broncos

HOUSTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Secret practice, despite threatening rain, was ordered today for the Santa Clara university Broncos, who will meet Louisiana State university in the Sugar Bowl game Saturday.

Coach Buck Shaw said the games would be barred to all but newspaper men as he gave the undefeated and undefeated westerners their last workout before they entrain for Bay St. Louis, Miss., where they will await the Sugar Bowl game on New Year's day.

Yesterday the Broncos took a limbering up exercise and ran signals on the Rice Institute field.

The Californians will entrain late today for Bay St. Louis, Miss., a short distance from New Orleans.

Seabiscuit Not to Race on Saturday

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30 (AP)—The 1938 debut of Seabiscuit was put off indefinitely today as Owner Charles S. Howard withdrew his champion from the New Year's handicap because of a weight assignment of 132 pounds, which he decided to take him off the list and wait a more favorable impost.

Second high weight was given to Horace Luro's Argentine horse, Amor Brujo, with 118. He did, winner of the Christmas stakes, was third at 117.

2 AMAZING SOPHOMORES LEAD RICE OWLS TO COTTON BOWL

DALLAS, Dec. 30. (AP)—Two amazing sophomores headed a squad of 58 Rice institute gridmen who moved into Dallas today for final acclimation before their Cotton bowl date Saturday with unbeaten Colorado.

The pair of second year stars, key 218-pound Ernie Lain and jittery, stringbean 180-pound Ole Cordill, the combination that lifted Rice from early season doldrums to a Southwest conference title, carried most of the dynamite Rice plans to drop in the vast bowl.

Coach Jimmy Kitts brought his charges in by train and planned to limber them up in an afternoon workout at Southern Methodist university.

Thirty-five miles away in Fort Worth Colorado slowed down in workouts at Texas Christian university. Coach Bunny Oakes decided the heavy routine of the past two weeks had sharpened his Buffaloes to peak form.

Both in prime condition, Lain and Cordill were Rice's double-barreled answers to Colorado's phantom, Byron Whizzer White, all-America back. Between Lain and Cordill they managed for eight of the Owl's 13 touchdowns the past season, each crossing the goal stripe four times in conference games.

Kitts also had his defense adjusted to try and take care of White, who, in a phenomenal season that netted him 122 points, broke loose for touchdown scampers that measured 95, 78, 75, 65, 57, 52, 42, 20, 19 yards, among other lesser scoring gains.

KANSANS WILL MEET SOONER AGS TONIGHT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 30 (AP)—Only one hurdle remained today to keep the Oklahoma Aggies from repeating as champions of the Oklahoma collegiate basketball tournament, but that hurdle—the fast-traveling Southwestern mound-builders from Winfield, Kas.—loomed formidable.

These only unbeaten survivors among the 22 clubs from five states after three days and nights of withering fire, collide tonight in the tournament finals.

Southwestern overcame a two-point halftime deficit to win a semi-final contest from the Razorback of Arkansas University, 36 to 33, last night.

The Oklahoma Aggies encountered plenty of trouble from the North Texas Teachers of Denton, surprise team of the tournament, but pulled out with a 28 to 23 victory in the other semi-final game.

Dick Krueger, Oklahoma Aggie forward, was the hero of the Aggie's victory over North Texas. The Teachers matched the defending champions shot for shot in a defensive game so tight that more than nine minutes of the first half passed before either team made a field goal. The Aggies enjoyed a 12 to 10 advantage at the intermission, but the Texans, led by J. D. Wright and Dan Yarbro, stayed right on their heels until Krueger broke a 20 to 20 deadlock in the closing minutes with a perfect long shot from the middle.

Krueger followed with two more buckets in short order and a teammate sophomore Rarvey Slade, dropped in another for good measure.

FICKLE SEATTLE—Women may be changeable, but county auditor Earl Milklin gives the mind-changing championship to a prospective bridegroom.

The youth asked for his money back on a marriage license. Told that was impossible, he asked whether he could use it for another girl. The answer again was no.

"Aw nuts!" he exclaimed. "Guess I'll go back to the first girl."

PUNISHED MADISONVILLE, Ky. — Court-house visitors were puzzled today to find Charles Taylor, 16, negro, standing on one foot with both hands in the air.

The unusual punishment was meted out by County Judge Charles Barnett. The youth was charged with attempted burglary.

The judge told Taylor to assume the statue pose each day until further notice. He decides each day when the youth has had enough.

BOXERS AND WRESTLERS WILL CLASH IN SPELLING MATCH

MANDELL AND CAZZELL WILL MEET MONDAY

Promoter Cliff B. Chambers has arranged a bang-up wrestling card to open the 1938 season on Monday night when he sends Jack Mandell, Australian Kangaroo Man, against Wild Bill Cazzell of Amarillo in the main event.

Preceding the big battle, Promoter Chambers has arranged for Sailor Jack Moran of Bald Knob, Ark., to exchange anything he has with Cyclone Mackie, Amarillo veteran, in the semi-final. His opener will pit Andy Tremaine of Phoenix, Ariz., against Otto von Ludwig of Hamburg, Germany, promptly at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 65 cents ringside seats, at Pampa Drug or phone 905M, and general admission 40 cents.

Anyone that thinks Cazzell is a setup for any middweight in the country is badly mistaken. Top grapplers have publicly admitted that Cazzell is one of the toughest in the class today. He has just returned to the Panhandle from an invasion of the north and east where he won every match.

"I've heard a lot about this Cazzell and want to have a crack at him," Mandell remarked. "I still want to get an officiating break in Pampa and am hoping that a good referee will be on hand."

Moran and Mackie are on the books for a main event attraction in 30 minutes. The two are about the same size with Moran packing the dirt and Mackie speed, endurance and ability to give as well as take.

Tremaine will match speed against Ludwig's roughness in the opener.

Over-confidence might be the wrestlers' worst enemy, at that. Ray Fabiani, mat czar of New York and its environs, regards the result as a foregone conclusion if the thing's on the up-and-up.

"Why, it's going to be ludicrous, matching these boys of mine against those resin-monkeys," said the former boxer couldn't spell beer. "I can put a full team of college graduates in there if I want to pick up whatever wrestlers are around. They won't need any training. Can you imagine telling guys like Bronko Nagurski, Jim McMillen, Dean Detton, Gus Sonnenberg or Vincent Lopez how to spell? Every one of them finished some university and Lopez was an accountant before he entered the ring."

THE HARD WAY FOR THEM SUNNYSLOPE, Wash.—Some folks may want to get on easy street. Not so those living on easy street here.

They asked county officials to vacate the virtually abandoned old roadway.

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Dorothy Round Little, who won the Wimbledon championship and then settled down to married life, said today she "won't be able" to defend the title next summer.

In a special interview with the Associated Press, the dark-haired Dudley school teacher added, "I'm not giving tennis up, but merely taking a year off."

The former Miss Round gave up Wightman Cup play this year because it came too near her marriage to Dr. Donald Leigh Little. "I'm satisfied to settle down and be a good wife," she said.

Associated Press Writers to Cover All Bowl Battles

(EST) for their Rose Bowl tilt at Pasadena. Assisting him in supplying Associated Press member newspapers with complete detailed coverage of the game, its highlights and color will be Robert Myers and Paul Zimmerman.

Russ Newland, one of the Pacific Coast's ablest reporters, will handle the annual clash between picked squads from East and West at San Francisco, which gets under way at 5 p. m.

At Dallas, Felix R. McKnight, AP's Southwest division sports editor, and William Rives will be on deck for the Cotton Bowl battling between Colorado and Rice at 3 p. m.

Other assignments and game starting times: Sugar Bowl, Louisiana State vs. Santa Clara at New Orleans (2:15 p. m.); Kenneth Gregory; Orange Bowl, Auburn vs. Michigan State at Miami (2:15 p. m.); Larry Rollins; Sun Bowl, West Virginia vs. Texas Tech at El Paso, (4 p. m.); John E. Baker.

After Another Championship

Coach Harold Schmidt, and his Phillips 66 carers are out after another championship in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. league. Last season the team was undefeated in the Missouri Valley league and was runner-up in the National A. A. U. tournament. This year's squad includes several all-American selections, and two members of the 1936 U. S. Olympic team. Shortest man on the Phillips team is a six-footer—tallest is the 6 foot 8 inch center. All are fast, experienced players.

Baugh and Gipp Rated as Game's Best Players

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS.

HOUSTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Buck Shaw, who ought to know, rates Sammy Baugh and George Gipp as the two greatest football players in the history of the game.

The gray-haired mentor of Santa Clara, rated a top team in the nation this year, has had good looks at both Baugh and Gipp.

One brought him joy and the other sadness.

"If there is any difference," he said today before taking his team to Louisiana for the Sugar Bowl game, "I'd have to give it to Gipp."

Gipp, who died a few years ago played on the same Notre Dame team with Shaw. The big Notre Dame back thrilled Shaw, a tackle, frequently with his football feats.

Baugh, now with the Washington Redskins, gave the Santa Clara coach a miserable afternoon in 1936 when the Texas Christian university blanked Santa Clara, 9-0. That was a Baugh-It game.

"Baugh is a great player," Shaw said, "but Gipp was a master at football. He could do everything—kick, pass, and lug that pigskin."

"Above all, Gipp seemed to have winner's luck at any game, if it was football, billiards or what have you. He was always in the right place on a football field and could anticipate the next play better than any man I have ever seen."

"Baugh is just about his equal."

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BEBITE

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—How come Dizzy Dean's famous balk which got him into a row with President Ford Frick and made headlines all over the country, didn't get into the official National league averages? . . . Dear old Dartmouth will announce a 150-pound football team any day now with Ed Jeremiah, hockey coach, in charge . . . Joe Louis' movie was previewed by fight writers here yesterday . . . Well, has anybody been able to find out where this Bill Decorevont is going to coltch? . . . Football tip: Four of the ten coaches who'll have teams in "bowl" games Saturday use the old Krute Rockne system . . . Now that Art Gueppe has become freshman football and basketball coach at Marquette his mother has released him from such duties as baking, sewing and making the beds . . . Congratulations, Butch . . . Herby Kopf, one of Dr. Lou Little's assistants at Columbia, seems to have that Manhattan coaching job sewed up.

Texans will be glad to know Sammy Baugh still sticks to his tall-gallon hat even in the effete East-ern hotels . . . We'll take West Virginia by two touchdowns over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl game.

Camera Used to Correct Faults of Grid Players

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30 (AP)—Football coaches in convention turned today to motion pictures, which have played an increasingly important part in the gridiron sport.

Use of the camera for improving a team's play was up for discussion by a half dozen top-ranking coaches, who advocate it as an essential for correcting faults of individual players.

The coaches yesterday agreed that prevailing rules were pretty much all right with exception of two slight changes which Lou Little of Columbia University, chairman of the rules committee, said would help the offense. Athletic directors of the smaller institutions meanwhile pondered questions involving game receipts, football crowds and football dollars.

They were told by Dr. John H. Michels, director of athletics at Oberlin college, that football was a "luxury sport" at colleges having less than 1,000 students.

One of the changes recommended by the rules committee would bring the ball in 15 yards from the sidelines instead of 10 when it goes out of bounds or is downed closer than that yardage to the line. The other would make a forward pass that inadvertently was touched by an in-

Seabiscuit Not to Race on Saturday

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30 (AP)—The 1938 debut of Seabiscuit was put off indefinitely today as Owner Charles S. Howard withdrew his champion from the New Year's handicap because of a weight assignment of 132 pounds, which he decided to take him off the list and wait a more favorable impost.

Second high weight was given to Horace Luro's Argentine horse, Amor Brujo, with 118. He did, winner of the Christmas stakes, was third at 117.

Secret Practice Ordered for Santa Clara Broncos

HOUSTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Secret practice, despite threatening rain, was ordered today for the Santa Clara university Broncos, who will meet Louisiana State university in the Sugar Bowl game Saturday.

Coach Buck Shaw said the games would be barred to all but newspaper men as he gave the undefeated and undefeated westerners their last workout before they entrain for Bay St. Louis, Miss., where they will await the Sugar Bowl game on New Year's day.

Yesterday the Broncos took a limbering up exercise and ran signals on the Rice Institute field.

The Californians will entrain late today for Bay St. Louis, Miss., a short distance from New Orleans.

Lash Selected As Best Athlete

CHICAGO, Dec. 30 (AP)—The Big Ten's "outstanding athlete" title for 1937 belongs to Donald R. Lash, Indiana's smasher of distance running records.

The lightweight Hoosier who ran a world record 8:58 two miles at Boston last February and dominated Big Ten mile and two-mile fields outdoors for three years, galloped off with the sixth annual Associated Press poll of coaches and sports writers, by a score of 67 points, to 37 for a fellow Hoosier, Pullback Corby Davis.

JAPAN SENDS APOLOGIES TO GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Japan, in a note to Britain made public today, declared Japanese attacks on the gunboat Ladybird and other British ships in China waters were a mistake.

But to insure against further incidents Japan has dealt properly with responsible military and naval officers on the ground that they failed to take full precautions.

New orders have been given to Japanese forces, the note said, for the greatest possible care that attacks shall not be made upon the lives and property of British or other nationals.

The note was similar in content to the Japanese explanation of bombing Japanese planes of the American gunboat Panay and three Standard Oil vessels.

The British foreign office released the explanation, in reply to British protests against such incidents, without any comment to indicate whether it was satisfactory.

A British seaman was killed and two wounded on Dec. 13 when the Ladybird was shelled at Wuhu. The British gunboat Bee also was attacked.

Explanation of the attacks in today's note followed closely the Japanese army version which the British government yesterday decided was not acceptable.

The army version was that Japanese troops did not know the gunboats Ladybird and Bee were British when they were attacked.

The note adds that "there is no room for doubt but that they did not intentionally attack the vessels knowing them to be British."

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30 (AP)—Dr. John J. Tigert, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today had reached the conclusion that "prohibition of emoluments to athletes is as impossible as prohibition of the consumption of intoxicating liquors."

He addressed delegates to the annual NCAA convention in one hotel, while in another coaches D. O. "Trass" McLaughry of Brown University, Bernie Moore of Louisiana State, Red Dawson of Tulane and E. E. (Hooks) Mylin of Lafayette conducted round table discussions on various phases of the game.

"Unquestionably," said Dr. Tigert, "the institutions can take steps to prevent subsidies but they can not control the actions of alumni and outsiders, many of whom honestly believe they are promoting the welfare of the institution and of its athletes in providing some kind of material assistance to them and enabling them to get a college education."

These evils and practically all evils, in my judgment, grow largely from an inordinate desire to win. Dr. Tigert said that in attacking the evils he believed the first step that could be taken effectively was to set up standards of scholarships for athletes which would prevent any but bona fide students from taking part in athletic contests.

THE CAPITAL JIGSAW. BY HOWARD C. MARSHALL. AUSTIN, Dec. 30 (AP)—Says the Constitution.

As a matter of fact, there are two such seals, a big and little one and both are kept in the vault of the Secretary of State's department. They are kept there, not because of fears for their safety, but because of the somewhat remote possibility they might be used in forging documents.

Some of the seals are more impressive, or more decorative than others. For example, in clemency proclamations the seal merely is pressed on the paper, while in proclamations of "days" a large gold stamp is affixed and the seal pressed upon that. When a real big show is wanted, a bit of red ribbon is attached beneath the gold stamp.

Throughout the last year, many rumors of coming political events in Texas were heard. Some were based on facts, many were not. Now the boys are getting down to business. It won't be long before the people will know who's running for what and, to some extent, why.

One of the early reports was that Secretary of State Ed Clark would run for the railroad commission seat of C. V. Terrell. The source of the report isn't known any longer, and none cares, but it can be said now on good authority Clark, close friend of the Governor, won't be in the race. The authority is Clark himself.

His intentions, or non-intentions, were publicly established recently in this interview. "Are you going to run for the railroad commission?" "I am not."

"Did you intend to at one time?" "I did not."

"Well, what do you want?" "Only the love of my fellow man!"

Jim boy, eight-year-old son of Gov. James V. Allred, is growing up. Every now and then his father tells something, a little saddy, to illustrate.

"The other day," the Governor recounted, "the squirmed and objected that his mother ought not to accompany him to school. She had been walking with him, partly for exercise."

Dempsey Baby Shows Uppercut

But what have we here? Mother and daddy are out of the picture, and Barbara Dempsey, right, seems intent on proving she's a chip off the old block. You can tell from sister Joan's happy smile that Barbara's punning doesn't hurt a bit, even if she did inherit the Dempsey punch.

EIGHT LIKELY TO BE IN RACE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL POST

AUSTIN, Dec. 31 (AP)—Rivalling in interest 1937's race for the Governorship is the contest for the Attorney General's post.

As many may get into the lists for that job as for that of Governor, not fewer than eight names have been heard to date in this connection.

Everett Looney of Austin, who like Yarborough and Mann, was an assistant to Allred when he was Attorney General, Senator J. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and Clyde Smith of Doodville, who made a strong bid for the office in 1934, are reported toying with the idea.

For Lieutenant-Governor, three who have said they would make the race are Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Wood of Houston, former Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann of Dallas, District Judge Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin and District Attorney Lewis Goodrich of Shamrock.

Aerial Shows Forecast For Various Bowl Tilts

(By The Associated Press)
Pigskin pitchers, from California's renowned Vic Botari to West Virginia's Emmett Moran, are warming up their tossing arms today for the last bits of aerial rehearsal before the bowl games usher in a new year of football.

A half dozen aerial shows are forecast by the reports from the camps, where everything, including the coaches, is in the air.

The news from the stratosphere: ROSE BOWL—Alabama, which gained 517 yards via the airways in the regular season, plans to offset California's power with Sleepy Joe Kilgore and Herky Moseley, two great adept at hurling the leather. The Bears, who have a neat passer in Botari, are working on pass defense and the linemen are thinking up new ways to smother the Tide tossers.

SUGAR BOWL—Louisiana State spent an hour and a half on overhead attack and defense. Cotton Milner, the Tigers' most adept receiver, made a brilliant showing as a receiver, and young Bussey won praise from Coach Bernard Moore as a passer. Santa Clara ordered another secret practice today after limbering up yesterday.

COTTON BOWL—Rice arrives at Dallas today for a final tapering off drill. Ernie Lain, the Owl's ace back, is the Rice pitching nominee against Colorado's Whizzer White. The Buffaloes move into Dallas Friday night and Coach Bunny Oakes believes they're in "top form."

ORANGE BOWL—Auburn, most confident of the bowl teams, followed Coach Jack Meagher's optimistic statements with Captain Les Antley's "We're all confident. We think we're in." The Plainsmen featured passing in their final home workout before leaving for Miami.

CHARLIE BACHMAN, Michigan state mentor, found his boys showing signs of weariness after a long drill yesterday. Bachman will rest his squad today. He is worried over an ankle injury suffered by Carl Nelson, 208-pound end and crack pass receiver, who figures largely in the Spartans' aerial plans.

SUN BOWL—Both Texas Tech and West Virginia plan to take things easy today after three days of brisk practice sessions. Moan, the Mountaineers' ace passer, has been used extensively all week and the invaders are pleased with his work.

EAST-WEST—The coaches spent yesterday in trading compliments while the squads eased off.

Said Andy Kerr of the eastern staff: "If we're not on our toes they'll probably pass us right out of the stadium."

Replied Coaches Orin Hollingsbery and Ed Jones of the Western side: "If they let us have the ball long enough we might be able to use all our plays."

LASH SELECTED As Best Athlete
CHICAGO, Dec. 30 (AP)—The Big Ten's "outstanding athlete" title for 1937 belongs to Donald R. Lash, Indiana's smasher of distance running records.

The lightweight Hooser who ran a world record 8:58 two miles at Boston last February and dominated Big Ten mile and two-mile fields outdoors for three years, galloped off with the sixth annual Associated Press poll of coaches and sports writers, by a score of 67 points to 37 for a fellow Hooser, Fullback Corby Davis.

Secret Practice Ordered for Santa Clara Broncos
HOUSTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Secret practice, despite threatening rain, was ordered today for the Santa Clara University Broncos, who will meet Louisiana State university in the Sugar Bowl game Saturday.

Coach Buck Shaw said the gates would be barred to all but newspaper men and he gave the undefeated and untied westerners their last workout before they entrain for Bay St. Louis, Miss., where they will await the Sugar Bowl game on New Year's day.

Yesterday the Broncos took a limbering up exercise and ran signals on the Rice Institute field. The Californians will entrain late today for Bay St. Louis, Miss., a short distance from New Orleans.

Seabiscuit Not to Race on Saturday
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30 (AP)—The 1938 debut of Seabiscuit was put off indefinitely today as Owner Charles S. Howard withdrew his champion from the New Year's assignment of 132 pounds.

2 AMAZING SOPHOMORES LEAD RICE OWLS TO COTTON BOWL

DALLAS, Dec. 30 (AP)—Two amazing sophomores headed a squad of 58 Rice institute gridmen who moved into Dallas today for final acclimation before their Cotton bowl date Saturday with unbeaten Colorado.

The pair of second year stars, icy 218-pound Ernie Lain and jittery, stringbean 190-pound Otis Cordill, the combination that lifted Rice from early season doldrums to a Southwest conference title, carried most of the dynamite Rice plans to drop in the vast bowl.

Coach Jimmy Kitts brought his charges in by train and planned to limber them up in an afternoon workout at Southern Methodist university.

Thirty-five miles away in Fort Worth Colorado slowed down in workouts at Texas Christian university. Coach Bunny Oakes deciding the heavy routine of the past two weeks had sharpened his Buffaloes to peak form.

Both in prime condition, Lain and Cordill were Rice's double-barreled answers to Colorado's phantom. Byron Whizzer White, all-American back. Between Lain and Cordill they managed for eight of the Owls' 13 touchdowns the past season, each crossing the goal stripe four times in conference games.

Kitts also had his defense adjusted to try and take care of White, who, in a phenomenal season that netted him 122 points, broke loose for touchdown scampers that measured 95, 78, 75, 65, 57, 52, 42, 20, 19 yards, among other lesser scoring gains.

Two of the nation's finest kickers will be toting the leather when Cordill and White square off. White's season average went close to 45 yards while Cordill, a deadly out of bounds shooter, cut his average down to 39.5 yards by kicking the sidelines so often.

J. Curtis Sanford, president of the Cotton Bowl association, said a 5,000 piece band had been assembled to play before the game and during half-time, bands from high schools and colleges of several states accepted invitations to attend.

Neither team will drill on the Cotton bowl turf itself, Sanford said. Colorado will not move into Dallas until Friday night after its final session at Fort Worth.

KANSANS WILL MEET SOONER AGS TONIGHT
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 30 (AP)—Only one hurdle remained today to keep the Oklahoma Aggies from repeating as champions of the Oklahoma collegiate basketball tournament, but that hurdle—the fast-traveling Southwestern mound-builders from Winfield, Kas.—loomed formidable.

These only unbeaten survivors among the 22 clubs from five states after three days and nights of withering fire, collide tonight in the tournament finals.

Southwestern overcame a two-point halftime deficit to win a semi-final contest from the Razorbacks of Arkansas University, 36 to 33, last night.

The Oklahoma Aggies encountered plenty of trouble from the North Texas Teachers of Denton, surprise team of the tournament, but pulled out with a 28 to 23 victory in the other semi-final game.

Dick Krueger, Oklahoma Aggie forward, was the hero of the Aggies' victory over North Texas. The Teachers matched the defending champions shot for shot in a defensive game so tight that more than nine minutes of the first half passed before either team made a field goal.

The Oklahoma Aggies encountered plenty of trouble from the North Texas Teachers of Denton, surprise team of the tournament, but pulled out with a 28 to 23 victory in the other semi-final game.

Baugh and Gipp Rated as Game's Best Players

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS.
HOUSTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Buck Shaw, who ought to know, rates Sammy Baugh and George Gipp as the two greatest football players in the history of the game.

The gray-haired mentor of Santa Clara, rated a top team in the nation this year, has had good looks at both Baugh and Gipp.

One brought him joy and the other sadness.

"If there is any difference," he said today before taking his team to Louisiana for the Sugar Bowl game, "I'd have to give it to Gipp."

Gipp, who died a few years ago, played on the same Notre Dame team with Shaw. The big Notre Dame back thrilled Shaw, a tackle, frequently with his football feats.

Baugh, now with the Washington Redskins, gave the Santa Clara coach a miserable afternoon in 1936 when the Texas Christian university blanked Santa Clara, 9-0. That was a Baugh-ll game.

"Baugh is a great player," Shaw said, "but Gipp was a master at football. He could do everything—kick, pass, and lug that pigskin."

"Above all, Gipp seemed to have winner's luck at any game, if it was football, billiards or what have you. He was always in the right place on a football field and could anticipate the next play better than any man I have ever seen."

"Baugh is just about his equal."

BOXERS AND WRESTLERS WILL CLASH IN SPELLING MATCH

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—The spelling bee of this or any other century you care to mention is going to be sprayed over the nation's airways on the night of January 15 from Madame Bey's Little Red School House near Summit, N. J.

The principals, respectively, will be five boxers of no specified weight and an equal number of wrestlers, and they're going to spell it out to a finish while the country listens. This harrowing exhibition of mental gymnastics is regarded in the nature of a showdown between two steaming groups of athletes.

Mushy Jackson, known far and wide as a man who can give the English language a licking on any occasion, has been chosen captain and inspirational leader of the boxers. He's picking his team now with considerable care and intends to put them through a thorough course of training on words as high as three syllables.

Tentatively selected already are Tommy Farr, Henry Armstrong, Nathan Mann and Frankie Blair. "They'll surprise these wise-guy razzlers, too," commented Professor Jackson. "They're gonna get two slugs ($2) for every word they get spelled correct on this card and that'll make 'em tough. I know fighters."

Over-confidence might be the wrestlers' worst enemy, at that. Ray Fabiani, mat czar of New York and its environs, regards the result as a foregone conclusion if the thing's on the up-and-up.

"Why, it's going to be ludicrous, matching these boys of mine against those resin-monkeys," said the former concert violinist. "Half those boxers couldn't spell beer. I can put a full team of college graduates in there if I want to."

"I'll just wait and pick up whatever wrestlers are around. They won't need any training. Can you imagine telling guys like Bronko Nagurski, Jim McMillen, Dean Detton, Gus Sonnenberg or Vincent Lopez how to spell? Every one of them finished some university and Lopez was an accountant before he entered the ring."

THE HARD WAY FOR THEM
SUNNYLOVE, Wash.—Some folks may want to get on easy street. Not so those living on easy street here.

They asked county officials to vacate the virtually abandoned old roadway.

LONDON, Dec. 30 (AP)—Dorothy Round Little, who won the Wimbledon championship and then settled down to married life, said today she "won't be able" to defend the title next summer.

In a special interview with the Associated Press, the dark-haired Dudley school teacher added, "I'm not giving tennis up, but merely taking a year off."

The former Miss Round gave up Wightman Cup play this year because it came too near her marriage to Dr. Donald Leigh Little. "I'm satisfied to settle down and be a good wife," she said.

Dorothy Round to Take Year Off

(EST) for their Rose Bowl tilt at Pasadena. Assisting him in supplying Associated Press member newspapers with complete detailed coverage of the game, its highlights and color will be Robert Myers and Paul Zimmerman.

Russ Newland, one of the Pacific Coast's ablest reporters, will handle the annual clash between picked squads from East and West at San Francisco, which gets under way at 5 p. m.

At Dallas, Felix R. McKnight, AP's Southwest division sports editor, and William Rives will be on deck for the Cotton Bowl battling between Colorado and Rice at 3 p. m.

MANDELL AND CAZZELL WILL MEET MONDAY

Promoter Cliff B. Chambers has arranged a bang-up wrestling card to open the 1938 season on Monday night when he sends Jack Mandell, Australian Kangaroo Man, against Wild Bill Cazzell of Amarillo in the main event.

Preceding the big battle, Promoter Chambers has arranged for Sailor Jack Moran of Bald Knob, Ark., to exchange anything he has with Cyclone Mackie, Amarillo veteran, in the semi-final. His opener will pit Andy Tremaine of Phoenix, Ariz., against Otto von Ludwig of Hamburg, Germany, promptly at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 65 cents ringside seats, at Pampa Drug or phone 905M, and general admission 40 cents.

Anyone that thinks Cazzell is a setup for any middleweight in the country is badly mistaken. Top grapplers have publicly admitted that Cazzell is one of the toughest in the class today. He has just returned to the Panhandle from an invasion of the north and east where he won every match.

"I've heard a lot about this Cazzell and want to have a crack at him," Mandell remarked. "I still want to get an officiating break in Pampa and am hoping that a good referee will be on hand."

Moran and Mackie are on the books for a main event attraction in 30 minutes. The two are about the same size with Moran packing the dirt and Mackie speed, endurance and ability to give as well as take.

Tremaine will match speed against Ludwig's roughness in the opener.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
LINDA BENTON—Heroine, daughter of a famous singer.
CAPT. BARRYMORE TRENT—Hero, flying "daredevil."
MIRANDA TRENT—Barrymore's grandmother, a "strong" woman.

Yesterday, leaving Miranda Trent for the closest city, Linda needs friendly little Tony Abruzzi and is astounded when he asks her to sing for him at his club.

CHAPTER XIII
"SING?" faltered Linda. "Here?"
"Just some little Christmas songs to make my evening perfect." In his earnestness the little man looked as if he were about to burst into tears. The more simple the better. There will be a boys' choir to help with the choruses. You can even practice with them a little.... If you will do this for me, I will give you ten times the amount of your check."

It was preposterous. It was unthinkable. Yet Linda did think about it. After all, she did need money desperately.

She had no fear of singing before people because she knew she gave them pleasure — although sometimes they cried a little. And there could be no one there to know that it was Barry Trent's wife—one of the Trent women—singing in a crowded night club for the entertainment of strangers.

Besides, behind that icy sheath that now seemed to encase her against the suffering that had been so unendurable in those first hours after Barry's departure, nothing seemed to matter.

"You mean — now?" she asked, glancing down at her nun-like gray frock, with its childish collar and deep flaring cuffs of white organdy. "The way I am?"

"Just like that," Tony was no longer funny. He was appraising her with the shrewd eyes of an impresario. "Like that is perfect. I could not have planned it better, myself.... Anyhow, you didn't buy that simplicity at any department store."

It was true. She had bought it in Paris, the last time she had been there with her aunt.

When, an hour later, the lights were suddenly darkened, people sat back expectantly. Tony had some surprise up his sleeve.

UNSEEN, the stage revolved carrying with it the last act—a team of trick banjo players. Into the silence that fell an organ pealed. Lights twinkled in what seemed to be the vast dome of heaven — and outlining them all one bright, clear star. And there under the star, as if transfixed in space, was Linda, in her simple frock, with her fair hair frosted by the soft overhead lighting, her pale young face, and that look in her eyes of a thoughtful child. Barely visible in the shadows about her feet, like a group of disembodied cherubs, clustered the bright faces of the choir boys.

So Linda sang very softly and tenderly — "God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen" — "The Little Lord Jesus" — "The Virgin's Lullaby" and "Oh Silent Night" — accompanied sometime by the shrill, clear boy voices. Sometimes achingly sweet in her fresh young voice brought to that jaded night-club crowd Christmas memories as shrewd little Tony had known it would. And as Linda sang, the icy sheath that had numbed her for days fell away in the joy of that imperishable music.... There was no applause.

Linda did not know that Tony's programs were always broadcast, nor that when she had finished, people all over the land as well as in that crowded room, wiped their eyes and smiled waveringly at each other.

She only knew that when it was over, she began to tremble, and that someone led her and led her to a chair. She remembered people standing over her as she lay back, suddenly limp and unbelievably tired. Then she was in a car, going somewhere. And so ended the strangest, wildest, most incredible Christmas of Linda Benton's life.

Linda opened her eyes the next afternoon in a strange room, with a strange woman sitting by her bed. The woman introduced herself with a brusque smile as the sister of Tony Abruzzi. Mrs. Campagno was fully as round, almost as funny, and quite as kind as her brother.

When Linda wanted to get up, she said firmly, "It is worth my life to let you up till the doctor comes again. If he says, 'All right,' then you get up — not before."

"When the doctor did come, he said, after a brief examination: 'Nothing the matter with you that I can see except that you were completely worn out. Been losing sleep over something, haven't you?' "Oh, well," he finished with a short laugh when Linda murmured something evasive, "of course you won't tell me."

Tony, who had come in with the doctor, burst out, "Then it's all right she sings again tonight, doctor? It won't hurt her?"

"I should say," replied the doctor, whose eyes had been studying Linda's face, "that singing — or doing anything that will keep her mind occupied — is the best thing for her."

"But," said Linda, "you can't want me to sing again. I don't think they liked me very well. They were so quiet."
"She thinks they did not like her!" Tony crinkled his eyes at his sister. "And then out there bawling like babies.... Wait, Miss Benton — Listen to this:"
He caught up one of the newspapers he had carried in with him, and opening it, began to read aloud.

"When an unknown singer steps, unannounced upon the stage of a popular night club in this age of jazz and swing, and within two minutes has a crowd of wisecrackers who know all the answers reaching for their pocket handkerchiefs—that's news in this or any city. And that's what happened last night when Tony Abruzzi's new singing sensation, Silver Star, made her first appearance.... And what did she sing? Nothing that all of us have not been hearing every year around the Christmas tree since we first began hanging up our stockings."
"....And that," Tony finished, "comes from one of the wisecrackers who know it—alls of the lot."

"But — 'Silver Star' Linda frowned in bewilderment.
"Oh, that!" Tony shrugged. "When the newspaper boys begin to ask questions, you got to think fast sometimes.... And I guessed you'd like to keep your own name in the family."

"Thank you," said Linda softly. "And I like the name."
"Oh, I get lots of good ideas," said the little man modestly. "One from a song that might have been written for you. We use it for the build-up.... Mystery! Get it? Mystery and — er" — he waved his pudgy hands as if to pluck an elusive phrase from the air.

"Glamour!" put in the beaming Mrs. Campagno helpfully.
"Glamour? Naw. Not for her!" Tony repudiated the suggestion scornfully. "What she's got is better. Anyhow glamour's all washed up. These days it's got about as much publicity value as sex appeal. And God knows I got plenty of that right on my stage all the time. What I mean is well—he shut his eyes and became lyrical—"the freshness of youth—tender memories — one minute on my program of quiet beauty like— well, like a drink of cold water when you already had too many gin fizzes, mebbie."

Linda laughed for the first time in almost two weeks.
"And you expect me to do all that for you?" she asked.

But Tony's eyes were soft and bright with the brooding dreams of a creator.
"Tonight," he went on, "you will not sing Christmas songs, of course, but something else cool and sweet and beautiful.... No tar this time — just the house all star this time — but wait. You shall see. I got ideas."

"But I haven't any clothes," Linda objected. "I left—"
"Clothes, she says!" Tony appealed with hands and eyes to the heavens. "When I want clothes horses. I get more than I can use at any booking agency. Wait! You ain't heard anything yet!"

He reached for another paper and read aloud:
"In her simple gray frock, slender Silvia Star stood out from the other more elaborate costumed performers like— well, like Titania among mere mortals.... And sang like a disembodied spirit.... Titania, now!" Tony brooded regretfully over the name.
"Mebbie, now I missed a bet. Mebbie Titania would have been better."
"Don't!" Linda cried sharply.

LAUGHING GAS IN ELEMENTS AROUND EARTH

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH, Associated Press Science Editor.
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 30 (P)—The atmosphere surrounding the earth is a vast chemical laboratory producing, among other things, a chemical closely related to laughing gas, explosives and fertilizers, astronomers of the Lowell observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., said today.
Dr. Arthur Adel and Dr. C. O. Lampland told the American Association for the Advancement of Science that they had discovered a new chemical compound in the atmosphere called nitrogen pentoxide. It is similar to nitrous oxide, used as an anesthetic in medical and dental operations, and the nitrates used in making fertilizers and high explosives. All of them are gases, one, when combined with water, forms nitric acid, one of the most important solvents in chemical industries.

The Lowell astronomers found the new compound in measurements of the dry desert air of Arizona using the spectroscopic, the rainbow instrument with records the elements by the dark bands they produce in the rainbow of light.

The location in the atmosphere of nitrogen pentoxide is in the layer of ozone, a form of oxygen, from 10 to 25 miles above the earth's surface, they declared. It is formed in this layer by the action of ultra-violet light from the sun on nitrogen and oxygen. It is the first constituent of the earth's atmosphere discovered in many years.

CANTON BOMBED.

HONGKONG, Dec. 30 (AP)—Thirty Japanese airplanes bombed Canton today in the heaviest raid in recent weeks. Chinese reports said the bombers attacked railways and the northwest district of the city where many factories, schools and residences are located. Officials placed the death toll at 35, including five children.

FLOOD THREAT EASES AS FOG GRIPS GULF

(By The Associated Press) Thick fog and fast-draining rivers highlighted the Texas weather picture today. Threats of minor floods eased overnight but shipping men along the Gulf coast feared to move their vessels in the dense mists.

Flooding creeks in Navarro county (Corsicana) were falling back into their channels and state highways in the area were reopened. One of the season's heaviest fogs, limiting visibility to half a block, settled over the city.

The Trinity river near Palestine reached a 34.5 foot stage and was rising. Other streams in the region were receding. Corpus Christi's 3.81-inch rain ended, but skies remained misty. Lubbock and Amarillo weathered fair and warm.

As it did several days ago, thick fog shrouded Fort Arthur docks and held a dozen ships at their berths. More than 20 incoming vessels remained cautiously at anchor in the Gulf.

Bishop Kern Hits Denominationalism

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 30 (AP)—Bishop Paul B. Kern of Durham, N. C. warned the National Methodist Student conference today that the church "must be a better church and the church of our fathers" if it is to accomplish good "in a tottering civilization."

Bishop Kern told an estimated 1,000 delegates from Methodist colleges and universities "the future belongs to you." He pleaded for addition of Christianity and humanitarianism to human ideals, with "a marginal emphasis on denominationalism."

JANUARY COLD WAVE STARTED WINTER SHOW

By JACK B. KRUEGER, Associated Press Staff Writer. The weather, which gets the headlines more often than the Duke of Windsor, put on a 12-month razzle-dazzle show for Texas in 1937.

To their usual year-round extravaganza of snow, sleet, hail, storms, floods, heat, rain, fog and northern elements added a splash of the spectacular. And at year's end the snow was closing out on a note of unusual rains.

Winter started the year's performance early in January. On the sixth an 18-carat cold wave moved in from El Paso's corner of the state. Ice, sometimes two inches thick, weighed telephone and telegraph wires. Lines snapped and communications were paralyzed for a week. North winds of deepest blue shrunk the mercury to four degrees below zero at Dalhart.

Northwest Texas highways were glazed with perilous ice. Rain farther south put heavy loads on the Trinity and Sabine rivers. Ice-coated crops generally escaped injury but the cold wave's damage was figured by the U. S. weather bureau at between three and four million dollars.

Six-Day Cold Spell. In addition, an El Paso windstorm killed three persons and caused $10,000 damage on January 7.

This wintry thrust hung on for six days. Temperatures moderated but for February the elements presented a variety show of fog, snow, sleet, hail, rain and winds. Most of the Gulf region had days of soupy fog and Fort Worth, Dallas and Wichita Falls were pelted with hail.

While North Texas shivered in snow and sleet, farmers and truckers in the Dilley region (near San Antonio) worried about incipient drought. Into March Dilley still worried even as heavy rains poured flood waters into the Colorado, Trinity, and Sulphur rivers. Heavy rains in West and North Texas, accompanied by out-of-season warmth, slowed maturing crops.

Fog Dense. Temperatures reached 95 at Eagle Pass on March 23. Fogs spread over nearly the entire state and were noteworthy dense at San Antonio, Fort Worth, Amarillo, Austin, Houston, Palestine, Port Arthur, Galveston, Corpus Christi, and Brownsville. Farmers had their troubles in April. Their crops suffered because of cold weather in the earlier part of the month. The fogs continued, dense in the Gulf region. A vagrant wind and hail storm caused $4,000 damage at Center.

Above-normal temperatures in May presaged one of the hottest summers on record. On the 16th Presidio sweltered in 106-degree weather. A total of 6.82 inches fell there on the fifth. A tornado killed a person at Falfurrias. A Hudspeth county hail storm wiped out 500 acres of cotton on May 24.

The weather turned very rough in June, wrecking about $1,000,000 worth of property and crops in 12 storms. Most spectacular were hailstorms at Weatherford, $250,000 damage; Stratford, $100,000; McCamey, $50,000 over 50 square miles, and in Wheeler county, $70,000. Tornadoes struck at Fort Worth and Perrin. Temperatures meanwhile were touching highs of around 110 degrees, and the Guadalupe river swelled near its bank tops from heavy rains.

113 at Clarendon. "Warm and dry" July was fine for cotton in North and West Central Texas. Heat became the topic of the day with highs of 113 at Clarendon and 112 at Childress. The weather bureau restrained itself in calling July hot and dry. Temperatures were well above 100 over the state, with highs of 115 at Henrietta and Seymour during the month. A

The first breath of fall was evident in September. Temperatures went down although Mt. Pleasant reported 107 on September 21. Heavy fogs and rains were October's contributions, plus a returning heat wave.

Houston received a record 5.90 inches of rain September 7. Summer temperatures continued into November, the month's high being 94. Midway of the month, however, winter came along with its first real threat, sending over the state a cold wave carrying snow, sleet and temperatures as low as 9 degrees.

Dallas received a record November snowfall, 2.06 inches. In other parts of the state record snows for November fell.

December, with a few more hours to go, was notable for heavy rains. Houston for the month has had 5.99 inches, Fort Worth 5.28, San Antonio 5.70, and Dallas 5.28, a mark exceeded only thrice previously.

JACKSON FLAYS BIG BUSINESS AT CONVENTION

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30 (AP)—Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson accused "big business" today of going on a "strike" against the government in an effort "to liquidate the new deal."

The administration's anti-monopoly crusader in an address prepared for delivery before the American political science association said big business had seized upon the recession "as a cudgel to whack concessions out of government."

"They wish, he added, "to liquidate the new deal and to throw off all governmental interference with their incorporated initiative and their 'aristocratic anarchy.'" Jackson said government was "the only agency with the power to condition capitalism and industrialism to survive" and suggested business was blind to the advantages it derives from the process.

"The unvarnished truth," he said, "is that the government's recovery program has succeeded nowhere else so effectively as in restoring the profits of business. Labor has had no such advantage. The small merchant has had no such prosperity. The small manufacturer has had no such advantage. "The only just criticism that can be made of the economic operations of the new deal is that it set out a breakfast for the canary and let the cat steal it; it did not sufficiently guard recovery from the raids of the monopolist. One group in the United States that has no cause for complaint is the big business group."

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 30 (AP)—Forum sessions occupied the attention of delegates here for the annual convention of the Texas Music Teachers association.

Miss Mary Morgan, El Paso, presided over the piano forum; Phillip A. Williams, Southern Methodist university, Dallas, violin; Miss Stella Oswley, Texas State College for Women, Denton, voice, and E. B. Gammons, Houston, organ forum.

Horace Clark, piano music teacher and charter member of the association, from Houston, declared that "swing music is written to cater to morons."

"In Hollywood and Tin Pan Alley the more idiotic the composer can make the words the better," he said. "Some of them do not even have words and manufacture them."

A change in the American anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner," or adoption of a new anthem, is advocated by at least two Texas music teachers.
