Twinkles

It's only so many days until we'll have to remind you that it is so many until Christmas.

The Red Cross chapter here has distributed flour, clothing, and aid which totals $10 for every $1 contributed by local people.

In Russia, they shoot managers of factories when the number of manufactured articles is well below the quotas.

Oh well, what if the turkeys are smaller, says the West Foster group, who likes chicken better anyway.

Times get pretty bad sometimes, but they would be worse if all the committee appointed in the last five years should demand the right to report in their own good time and way.

Musing of the moment: Strange facts often come to light. Here's one: In the last few years five infants have been washed through the sewer mains from the north side of town.

A LOCAL SCHOOL requirement of smallpox vaccination prior to enrollment has reduced the danger of this disease measurably.

IN SOME COUNTRIES of Europe compulsory vaccination against smallpox has reduced the cases to one (1931) that a remarkable tribute to modern medicine.

MISSING CHILD IS FOUND MURDERED

OLNEY MAN'S MURDER CASE IS REVERSED

COURT AGAIN FINDS AN ERROR IN TRIAL OF RICHARDSON

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (AP)—The case of Charles S. Richardson, given a 99 year sentence for killing his son, Elga, at Olney on January 1, 1934 was reversed and remanded today by the court of criminal appeals.

The court held that arguments of attorneys for the state were improper. It was the second time Richardson, a former mayor of Olney, had won a reversal after conviction of murdering his son.

Young Richardson, a student at North Texas State Teachers college, was shot during an argument with his father. He was at home for the Christmas holidays.

Daily Reports On Red Cross Drive Desired

Pampa's annual Red Cross roll call really got under way today after a slow start yesterday.

Some facts on Red Cross work: Many times a year the people need the Red Cross—once a year the Red Cross needs the people.

Water fatalities claim 7,400 lives a year. This means that in every 10 minutes a life is snuffed out from drowning.

During the last fiscal year the Red Cross gave assistance in 103 disasters. Regardless of economic conditions we may expect calamities to continue taking their toll at the rate of 100 a year.

Anthony's Store Manager Arrives

Tom Aldridge of Hollis, Okla., has arrived to supervise the completion of alterations in the building which will become the home of the C. R. Anthony Co., Inc.

Mr. Aldridge has been with the store company 8 years, during which he was at Ada, Okla., before going to Hollis. He was manager of both stores. The local store, which will occupy the space formerly used by Baum's grocery and Hamlett's place, will be No. 51 of the group.

The new resident was one of Hollis's most prominent citizens. He was president of the Kiwanis club, has been county Red Cross chairman, was a member of the board of stewards of the Methodist church and taught a class in the Sunday school. Mrs. Aldridge was superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday school, president of the W. M. S., and active in clubs. They have one child.

Ickes Warns Texas Oil Men To Clean Up House

Set Your House In Order If You Would Avoid Hand Of Government, He Says.

DALLAS, Nov. 14. (AP)—A warning that the federal government may decide it is its duty to "consider declaring the oil industry to be a public utility" unless it puts its own house in order was issued today by Petroleum Administrator Ickes.

Speaking before the American Petroleum Institute the interior secretary said "Our hope has been that this oil question could be worked out, in the main, by the industry itself in cooperation with the states, with the federal government giving such general and incidental assistance as might be necessary."

Secretary Ickes said it was distinctly up to the industry to reform marketing practices and to reach some accord with independent refiners and service stations which would permit them to live and make a reasonable profit.

President Claims He Knows Of No Special Move To Obtain Utility Control.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A committee to coordinate all the lending activities of the government was appointed today by President Roosevelt.

The move was interpreted as a start on consolidation of federal agencies with a view to absorbing emergency units as the recovery campaign permits.

Secretary Morgenthau heads the committee. Mr. Roosevelt said at his regular press conference that the future program for the emergency recovery units probably would not be definitely decided until about the first of the year.

Other members of the inter-departmental committee named by the president are Secretary Ickes, public works administrator; Governor Myers of the farm credit administration; Chairman Pahey of the federal home loan bank board; Chester C. Davis, farm administrator; George N. Peek, president of the commodity credit corporation; Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the federal deposit insurance corporation; Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation; Marriner S. Eccles, governor of the federal reserve board; and James A. Moffett, housing administrator.

The president said in response to inquiry that he knew of no special new move to increase public control over public utilities.

Approximately $350,000,000 is available to the relief administration. The public works administration has only a few million dollars in unallotted funds.

HOW MUCH ARE YOUR TAXES?

If you have an annual income of $2,080 or less, how much of it goes for taxes?

There's a good chance that you will say "none," inasmuch as your income is below the level reached by the income tax, and you may have little or no property on which taxes must be paid.

But, according to an article by Royal F. Munger in the Chicago Daily News, your taxes come to some $480 a year. One hundred and twenty dollars of this represents taxes included in your rent—the landlord pays them and passes the cost on to you. Ninety-six dollars is included in the price of your family's food—the farmer, the processor, the distributor and retailer pay them, and they become part of the cost of everything in the grocery store. Twenty-four dollars is included in the clothing, furniture and similar items you and your dependents purchase—here again, manufacturers, middlemen and retailers are all heavily taxed and must pass their taxes on to the public.

This totals $240. Finally, says Mr. Munger, other indirect tax burdens that affect the cost of living are estimated to take $240 more out of your family's $2,080 annual income. On a percentage basis, as a result, you pay almost twenty per cent of all you earn to government.

Too many people have accepted the fanciful theory that the rich pay all the taxes while the rest of us get the benefits for nothing.

No one escapes taxes—no one ever will. And the average man, with a small or medium-sized income, would gain most from retrenchment in tax levies, regardless of the guise under which they may be labeled,

WASHINGTON.—Extension of the automobile code, with assurances that it was a victory for the industry, labor, NRA, and the White House, shouldn't obscure the fact that the motor car business is headed toward a big strike threat this winter.

The unions are bent on obtaining some genuine collective bargaining, which the industry will fight as you or I would against taking a dose of poison, and on getting rid of the president's automobile labor relations board.

You'll begin to read about the strike threat in December, when production picks up, and the situation probably will be red-hot by February, when the code expires again and production will be about at its peak.

But there was a lot of pianissimo accompanying the code extension which wasn't audible in the official announcements.

Leading roles in the plot were played by President Roosevelt, Chairman Clay Williams of the NIRA, and his friend, Walter Chrysler—who represented the industry in secret negotiations with the White House—and Sidney Hillman, labor member of NIRA.

The code was due to expire and the industry insisted that if it were to be continued it must be preserved unchanged. Otherwise, the administration could go chase itself and there'd be no code.

The A. F. of L. demanded public hearings for a code reopening, elimination of the "merit clause," and a 30-hour week—or at least revision of the present hour-averaging clause.

Everyone knew Roosevelt, who took the job over from NIRA and certainly added nothing to its prestige when he did so, wouldn't accept the industry's challenge. Automobiles are a vital part in such recovery as he can claim and he could afford, for the time being at least, to ignore labor's demands rather than court an open break with a huge industry.

At the last moment, it appeared that Roosevelt—who could have imposed a code on the industry—wasn't going to be the least bit tough about it and that the code would be merely renewed as it stood.

Just a few hours before extension, Roosevelt called Hillman to the White House and the two men talked for an hour. Insiders suspect the interview was urged on Roosevelt by Miss Perkins.

Anyway, it was one more demonstration that the administration turns to Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers rather than to any old line A. F. of L. leader.

Some labor people deride Hillman's subsequent expressions of pleasure, feeling that labor received a mere crumb.

But it's worth remembering that Hillman is the strongest, shrewdest, and most practical labor leader in the business. He never bites off more than he can chew, but he misses few bets and hits hard when there's a chance to win.

You can't tell yet whether the president's assertion of his power is significant. But the inquiry and its findings will be a handy weapon for him when the auto strike scare comes.

Congress might have sold the statue of George Washington in a Roman toga to the authors who dug up a lot of gossip about his private life.

LEW WENTZ REPORTED TO BE CLOSING DEAL TO BUY CARDS

BY LEON DURST,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 14 (AP)—If you were a multi-millionaire bachelor, didn't like politics and loved a wholesome hobby you never had played, and at the same time received thousands of letters urging you to run for governor or some other high office, what would you do?

If pursuit of the hobby meant you might be unable to give as much time to neighborhood contact with your myriad friends in the young vigorous state where your fortune was made, would you plunge into the new endeavor "just for fun" at a great financial sacrifice?

These and scores of other questions have perplexed and intrigued Lew Wentz, Pampa City oil magnate-philanthropist, who last night was reported to be near closing a deal for the purchase of the St. Louis Cardinal baseball club.

While riding with Wentz over his fine game preserve near Ponca City several weeks ago, the confided to me that "nothing would please me more than to own one of the major league baseball clubs." He wasn't talking for publication but now the story can be told.

A group of wild deer jumped past our car and disappeared through underbrush into a green field beyond and the oil man unwreathed his widest smile as his eyes twinkled. "Look at these deer," he ejaculated. "But there is another pretty herd atop that hill."

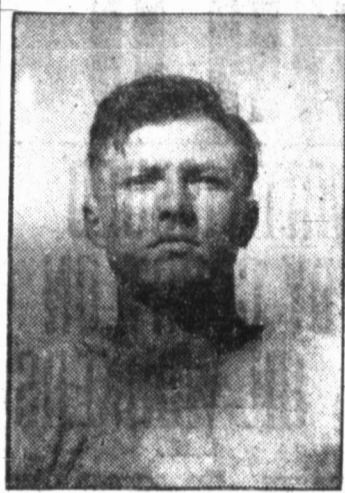

"I like this place; it's my only home; I like Oklahoma; here is where I have succeeded, and I have so many friends here. I'd hate to think I would come to a decision that would part me from them for any length of time."

"But, how I'd like to be owner of a major league baseball club!" "Perhaps I could stay here and build the large country place I have dreamed of building, but what would I do with it?"

Wentz, known affectionately as "Lew" by thousands of Oklahomans and even residents of a dozen other states, was thinking out loud, and if I had been a cad I could have violated his confidence. He was not ready to break the big story about which he was dreaming and perhaps even yet he has not reached the close of the deal which now is "out of the bag."

If the deal does not go through, "Lew" will have just as many friends as before despite this airing of his musings. For who would not like a man who is willing to make personal

Judging of Canned Foods Is Learned by Sunshine H. D. Club

SKELLYTOWN, Nov. 14.—Prize winning canned food was used in a demonstration on scoring canned vegetables given by Miss Dalton Burleson, demonstration agent, to the Sunshine club here Monday. Mrs. W. S. Boyd was hostess. In canning green beans, use those not quite mature for a more uniform and better product, she said. Cut the beans on the "bias" so the small beans will not leave the shell. Spinach and corn should not be canned in quart jars, as it is hard to heat the center of so large a quantity enough to kill all bacteria. In canning beets, avoid sudden temperature changes to retain the color.

A miscellaneous shower was presented to Mrs. Satterfield, who received a number of lovely gifts. Refreshments were served to Miss Hale, Stafford, Hatchell, Roberts, Stancell, Satterfield, Kennedy, Sims, and Miss Burleson.

The next meeting will be Nov. 20 at the home of Mrs. Feigenspan. All members are to bring favorite recipes for an exchange of recipes.

BYLES WARNS AGAINST U. S. OIL CONTROL

Secretary Ickes To Address A. P. I. Today And Then Visit In East Texas Field.

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Apprised of the opinion of its officers, the American Petroleum Institute anticipated with keen interest today the address of Secretary Ickes depicting the administration's viewpoint in the controversial matter of oil legislation.

The cabinet member's address was the feature of the institute's second general session. His arrival, however, was scheduled only a few hours in advance of time for his address, and it was considered probable he would leave for the East Texas oil field, trouble spot of the industry, or Washington, soon afterward.

His aides said urgency of business other than oil might prevent his tour of the nation's largest field. Further discussion of governmental leadership was scheduled in a second address, "The Petroleum Code and Permanent Federal Legislation," by Amos L. Beaty, chairman of the planning and co-ordination committee in the national oil administration.

Stern warnings against a surrender of the industry to government control and of conditions which might follow were given oil leaders yesterday by their officers, Artell J. Byles, president, and W. R. Boyd Jr., executive vice president.

While the general session awaited the main speakers, delegates planned group sessions for those in production, refining and marketing divisions to hear papers on problems peculiar to their work.

Principles and factors in allocation of production within prorated pools were the chief topics of the production division session. Lubrication problems were programmed for attention of men in the refinery division, and of retail sales for marketers.

Directors of the institute, increased to 91 members, continued their sessions, with the principal business that of selecting officers for another year. Opposition to re-election of Byles, elected president last year, and Boyd, completing his fifth year as executive vice president, was not noticeable.

Directors, in an informal session last night, held a round table discussion of the East Texas "hot oil" problem with the federal and state tender boards, and the Texas railroad commission. The work of the federal government in closing interstate outlets to illegal production was discussed.

Meanwhile, the program committee of the planning and co-ordination committee had before it conferences designed to effect a solution of differences between independent and major interests, which precipitated a temporary suspension

Marian Gordon by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: Marian Casad is in the deepest trouble of her life. Her husband, Lon Casad, is working for a man Marian knows as a crook. She had the proof, but McSwain, Lon's employer, tricked him into giving it up. Now, with guests in the Casad house, McSwain's daughter, Silver Hodon, calls to say that she is keeping Lon for dinner—and it is Silver who told Marian that she would get Lon if it was the last thing she ever did.

Chapter 33 LON'S BIG NEWS Marian was serving the dessert when Lon drove in, halted them all with a laugh, kissed Marian's unresponsive cheek, quickly turned to the car and landed on the tip of her ear, and asked for food.

"Talk about starved," he said, "I dashed out of here this morning with nothing but a cup of coffee and a slab of bread and butter under my belt, played eighteen holes, and then had to sit in on a business conference."

"Do you call dining with Silver Hodon a business conference?" asked Marian, making no move towards the kitchen.

"What do you mean?" he asked. "Silver telephoned here half an hour ago. Told us to go ahead with dinner as you were staying there."

"Oh did she?" asked Lon with interest, "well they did try to make me stay but I balked. I would have called you myself only Silver said McSwain was expecting a long distance call and they were keeping the wires cleared."

Marian believed him; that was what Silver would say and do. She served his dinner while she cleaned up, looked at him as he came in. He was happy. His face was shining with soap and water and small boy satisfaction. His hair was slicked back like that same small boy's on Sunday morning.

He delved into his dinner with an energy that left neither time nor room for talk, and when he had reached the coffee and cigarette stage, accompanied them to the patio.

He pulled Marian down beside him on the swing seat. "When you hear what I have to tell you you're not going to look at me like I'd been stealing jam," he teased. "Better speak up, then," said Steele, "you're in the dog house as far as I'm concerned, too."

"It happened this way," Lon began. "When I met the other three at the club house, McSwain said he wanted to see me after the game. Silver had driven the others over, but she didn't come back, so McSwain had me drive them all to his house. When we got there he asked me to wait while he changed. Silver came in to entertain me while I waited, and it was then I asked to use the telephone to call you.

"It took McSwain nearly an hour to perfect his sartorial elegance, and when he did appear I was about ready to call quits. And of the gasoline purchase program in East Texas.

Efforts of the committee were directed to an immediate adjustment of the situation and plans for re-arrangement of purchasing on a more effective scale. Ralph E. Forwood, executive assistant to Secretary Ickes, expected reinstatement of the program in the near future.

then he started talking. Ian, McSwain has been called out of town, to take over another building, and I'm to take full charge of the East Brazos, and have a raise in salary, right away. Now what do you think of that?" He looked around. Steele and Anne seemed satisfactorily impressed, though Anne looked a little dubious. He turned to Marian. She was silent, apparently preoccupied.

Lon didn't press Marian for a reply, but after Anne and her husband had left he turned to her. "Now what's wrong?" he demanded.

"I don't like it, Lon," she answered. "Don't like what?" he asked.

"I don't like McSwain's moving out and leaving the responsibility of the East Brazos on your shoulders."

"You mean you don't think I'm capable of handling it?" he added bitterly.

"No," she countered, "I mean I don't trust McSwain."

"Oh... that," he dismissed her remark, having no significance, but added, "I didn't suppose I'd receive any encouragement from my wife." And when Marian didn't reply, "I suppose you're peevish because I stayed over there and didn't call."

"Please Lon," she dreaded another argument, "let's not discuss it. You know how I feel about Silver and about McSwain. I can't blame you for Silver's lies, nor for McSwain's lack of honesty... but oh, Lon, she stopped on her way to the kitchen with a stack of dishes, "do be careful."

"Careful?" there was a bit of a sneer in the word, "Ian, if I didn't love you, I think you were a little off on the subject."

"The thin veil of suspicion which had been spun the previous week was again dropped between them. Lon went to the patio with the Sunday papers and his pipe and did not offer to help Marian with the dishes, a Sunday custom. And Marian, carefully dusting the precious ware in sudsy waters, scrubbing the foam from each piece and polishing it carefully, stretched her back to the limit of its time.

At length she joined Lon, sitting quietly looking out into the dusk, wonder and worry in her mind. What was McSwain planning to do with Lon? What would she do if she were in his place?"

"By the way, Ian," Lon looked up from the sporting sheet, "I stopped by Waki's and told him not to come up tomorrow. McSwain's sending a broker down to see me. He'll buy the crop right on the tree and send his own rickshaws to take care of it."

Marian caught the retort which rushed to her lips by pressing them firmly together. She waited a few moments, then, sure she had her voice under control, "I don't suppose you'll mind if I have him here to help me in the garden."

"Won't need him," answered Lon, turning back to his newspaper. "Mrs. Hodon's head gardener will be over in the morning to give you all the help necessary. He's really McSwain's gardener in case you object." He stopped to look at his wife in surprise.

"Lon," she went over to him, "if he comes I leave. That's final." "You mean you'll stay away while he's here? Oh, Ian, why can't you be sensible?"

Marian hesitated a moment. Should she tell him she was having Waki there to protect her from McSwain's servants? No, he'd tell McSwain. It was better that he think she didn't know she was being watched.

"Lon I mean this. This is our home. You have your work, I have mine. Mine is here in the house, and in the garden. I'm not trying to hire the men with whom you work. I demand the privilege of hiring the servants with whom I work. If you can't allow me this right, then I'm... through."

MINNESOTA IS NATION'S BEST RANKING TEAM

ALABAMA IS SECOND AND STANFORD IS THIRD

Associated Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—A flock of college football arguments remain to be settled but there's just one really State response today to the question: "What team tops the current ranking list?"

It's the University of Minnesota's juggernaut, by as smashing a margin as most of the victories hung up by the Galloping Gophers in their all-conquering campaign.

Here's the nation's "first ten" among the college gridiron aggregations based on a poll by the Associated Press among leading observers throughout the country and showing the team records:

- 1—Minnesota (won 9). 2—Alabama (won 5). 3—Stanford (won 7 tied 1). 4—Pittsburgh (won 6 lost 1). 5—Princeton (won 6). 6—Colgate (won 4 lost 1). 7—Illinois (won 6). 8—Navy (won 7). 9—Ohio State (won 5 lost 1). 10—Syracuse (won 6).

With one split ballot for the top position Minnesota gained 31 1/2 votes for first place in a total of 41 received so far from scattered but representative sections. Alabama's Crimson Tide which looks like a favorite for the Rose Bowl assignment inasmuch as the Gophers probably won't be allowed to consider an invitation polled 5 1/2 votes for first place. Stanford received 3 and Pittsburgh 1.

The poll revealed a sharp divergence of opinion outside of the universal high regard for Minnesota, which was placed first or second in every list. Alabama, Pittsburgh, and Princeton were rated at least once in nine out of the 10 top positions.

Rated on the basis of this consensus, Colgate figures to have a margin over Syracuse while Pittsburgh should trim the Navy in two of this Saturday's stand-out games in the east.

Rice, Santa Clara, and Louisiana State failed to land among the "first ten" although the balloting is close in the lower part of the list.

There is a community property law which gives me the right to take care of it. As long as I live here no McSwain servant sets his foot on this property. I have a revolver. Captain Lane of the pistol squad taught me how to use it. I won't hesitate to use it."

"Oh for the love of Mike!" Disgust beneath which was a fully groused fury, coated the light slant expression. "Imagine coming home to this."

He stalked into the house, grabbed his sweater and cap, stalked out, whistled to the dog, jumped into the car and drove off.

Marian, her temper checked, watched him go, longing frantically to reach out and clutch at his arm, his sweater, anything to hold him there where they could talk... could reason. And then the sound of the motor died away in the distance. She was there alone, completely alone.

Why hadn't she controlled her tongue? Why couldn't she have talked to him reasonably, told him she preferred Waki because she'd known him for so many years? She knew why she had been able to do neither. It was because she could see Lon responding to McSwain's advice like a tautly strung harp to a master hand; because McSwain had now succeeded in having a close watch placed over her movements under the guise of generosity in loaning Lon the Hodon's head gardener.

And then her mind reverted to the question that had been worrying her before Lon spoke. Why was McSwain placing him in charge of the building? She doubted that he was going out of town on business... but how could she impress Lon with his danger?

She went in to bed, and lay staring at the obsequious oblong of the window. Would Lon go to Silver's house? Was he sitting there now with her?

Maine Potatoes Are Ready for Relief Clients

AUSTIN, Nov. 14.—County administrators today were advised to call at central distribution points over the state for allotments of Maine Irish potatoes, which will be distributed as a surplus commodity by the Texas relief commission to all destitute families in Texas. Administrators will call for allotments when they are notified from distribution centers.

The shipment contained 7,415,000 pounds of potatoes and will supply not only relief roll families but also the transient bureaus of the state. Distribution will be made on the basis of 30 pounds per family of five per month, large families receiving more, small families less.

C. Z. Crain, head of the commodities distribution department of the commission, said it is the duty of all administrators to see that all families on relief rolls receive their full quota and that no discrimination be made between direct relief and work relief clients.

It was estimated that this shipment will last a month and a half. This shipment of potatoes is being kept in cold storage at central points to insure delivery in good order.

Texas Society on Mental Hygiene Is Topic for Session

An organization meeting to form a Texas Society for Mental Hygiene will be held in the House of Representatives at Austin November 19 at 10 a. m.

Although possibly no Gray county representative will be present, the County Board of Child Welfare is much interested in the movement, according to Mrs. F. E. Leach, a member of the board. Mrs. Violet Greenhill, chief of the Division of Child Welfare, explained the purpose of the meeting while here on a recent trip.

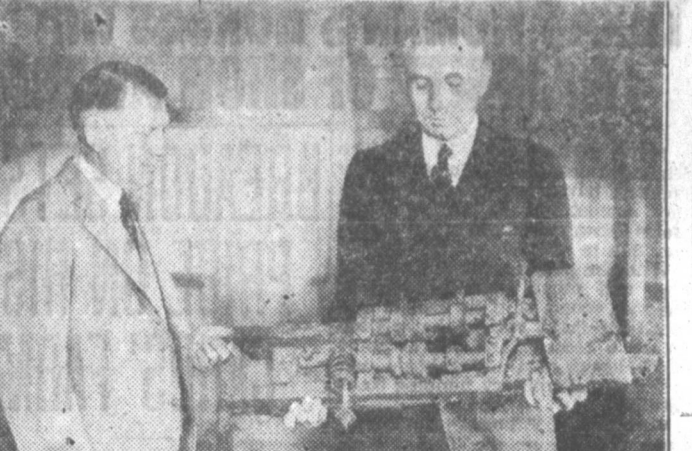

Although there is a National Committee for Mental Hygiene, there is not state organization to cooperate in the study of mental hygiene and the problems associated with it. Dr. George W. Stevenson of the national group will be one of the principal speakers. Officers will be elected.

CITY MANAGER HIRED

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—E. V. Smitham, formerly city manager at Lufkin, Big Spring, and Wichita Falls, has been named by the board of directors of Texas Rural Communities, Inc., as its manager and representative in carrying out the rural community and rural rehabilitation programs in Texas. The board also added three new members to bring its total membership to eleven. New members are Claude Teer, chairman of the State Board of Control, Adair R. Johnson, director of the Texas Relief commission, and M. J. Miller, field representative of the Federal Emergency Relief administration.

A survey of several widely scattered Kansas counties showed about half would assess higher, and the remainder lower, taxes against residents this year.

Humble Beginning of Modern Oil Drill

Here is the grand daddy of the modern rotary oil well drill. Recently brought to light in the plant of the American Well and Prospecting Co. at Corsicana, birthplace of Texas' petroleum refining industry, this ancient "gripping device" will be exhibited at the annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute in Dallas, Nov. 12 to 15. Holding the implement in the photo is Captain J. F. Lucey, pioneer oil man who heads the API entertainment committee, while D. A. Little, Magnolia Oil Co. president, is an interested spectator.

McADOO'S DAUGHTER IS TALLER THAN HER GRAY-HAIRED SPOUSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Pretty Ellen Wilson McAdoo Onate and her handsome actor husband came honeymooning today to this city where her grandfather was president and her father secretary of the treasury at the time of her birth.

They were as casual a honeymooning couple as ever crossed the continent to step off an early morning train.

Ellen wore a fluffy black hat, a three-quarter length gray squirrel coat, a black skirt short enough to show her very slim and shapely ankles, and high heeled black pumps.

DEMORALIZED WESTERNERS PLAYED WORST GAME OF YEAR AGAINST SANDIES

LUBBOCK WILL BE DIFFICULT TO BEAT HERE

BELIEVE SANDIES DID NOT UNCOVER HALF OF THEIR POWER

Mr. Morris White and the Lubbock Westerners are not being taken lightly by Harvesters and coaches despite the poor showing of the Westerners against the Sandies Monday afternoon in Lubbock.

The Westerners were a demoralized team, playing their worst game of the season. It will be a fighting team that will come to Pampa, and players and fans who think the same will be a walk-away like other contests are asked to get the idea out of their heads. Those who did not see the Westerners beat Abilene, Ranger, Sweetwater, Clovis, and other good teams do not know the real strength of the Lubbock team.

The fact that Lubbock was "off" in the worst way doesn't mean that the Sandies are any less good than they appeared to be. It is the opinion of Pampa coaches that Amarillo did not uncover half of their gridiron tricks. They scored two touchdowns and then began coasting. The Sandies are three or four and perhaps even more touchdowns better than they appeared against Lubbock Monday, most Pampans believe. Amarillo attempted only one pass and completed it in a dazzling manner, and it is known the Sandies have a fine pass-offense ready to use against Pampa.

There were several reasons why the Westerners looked bad Monday. The first, and biggest, reason, was the absence of Calhoun, great blocking halfback who clears the way for White to get into the open field. And what good is a fast, deceptive, broken field runner if he can't get into the open? Calhoun will probably be ready to take his regular place by the time the Westerners come to Pampa.

Another reason for the dismal showing was that the Westerners were frightened before they entered the game and could not get going. Penalties at crucial moments also contributed to the downfall of the Westerners. Headlinesman Bob Vaughn of Panhandle found the Westerners offside about a dozen times.

Some fans have been heard to remark that the idea of Calhoun's absence affecting the team was "bunk." If they would think back to not long ago they might remember that Red Grange joined professional ranks and was stopped "cold" on nearly every occasion he carried the ball. When asked by team officials to explain the cause of his letup, Grange remarked, "get me Bob Britton and watch me go." Britton was bought and Grange started tearing up the turf, just because he had his old blocking halfback with him to clear the way into an open field. White runs a lot like Grange and is even faster.

The Lubbock aerial attack cannot be overlooked, Mr. Pan. It was used effectively in several previous games and is likely to crop up again. As Coaches Ochs, Mitchell and Argus Fox told their charges yesterday afternoon, "Lubbock will never play another game like they did Monday afternoon." The boys have the same feeling, which can be taken from the remarks of Captain Monroe Owens and Quarterback Lloyd Hamilton, when they said "we are not a bit deceived about the real strength of the Westerners."

A long, easy workout of passing, punting, and running plays, was the order yesterday afternoon, which was to be the last of this week. Scrimmage sessions, long and hard, will be in the program for the rest of the week. Next week, the practices will be easier so that there will be no danger of injuries before the game.

There was much joy in the Harvester camp yesterday afternoon when Red Fanning appeared in uniform. The red-head has been on the injured list for three weeks and it was believed for a time that he would not be able to wear the green and gold again this season. His elbow, dislocated in El Paso, has responded nicely to treatment and he may get to play later in the season.

Coaches were doubtful if Fanning would be able to play against Lubbock but the battling fullback has decided that he will be ready for the Westerners. Captain Monroe Owens, also injured in El Paso, is beginning to pick up his old speed again.

Morrison Denies He'll Leave SMU

DALLAS, Nov. 14. (AP)—Ray Morrison, general head coach of the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, today made his "annual" denial of reports that he would leave the Mustang school for other fields.

This time Coach Morrison firmly denied rumors that he would replace the veteran Dan McGugin at Vanderbilt University at Nashville. "I expect to be the coach of a very fine Southern Methodist team next season," Morrison said. Morrison was an all-American quarterback at Vanderbilt many years ago. He has spent 15 years at Southern Methodist and his teams, noted for their passing games, are known from coast to coast.

TEXAS WOMAN'S HORSES WIN MAJORITY OF SHOW AWARDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The thoroughbred horses of the country, having completed their 7-day competition in the National Horse Show, moved out of the Madison Square Garden arena today.

With the horses went the ribbons, cups and other trophies to grace the tack rooms of their owners and recall the many tests of horse flesh before a record turn out of some 75,000 lovers of thoroughbreds and international military jumping competition.

With Mrs. M. F. Yount's Spindletop stable of Beaumont, Texas, composed of five great saddle horses, showing the way, the majority of the major awards travelled to the west and south. The Lone Star stable, competing in the show for the first time, won a total of 11 victories, including two championships.

Beau Peavine took the 5-gaited crown and Roxie Highland, unbeaten in four years, led the field of 3-gaiters over 15.2 hands. Close behind was Judy King of Atlanta, making her debut in the National with 10 triumphs. Then came Mrs. John Hay Whitney of New York and Upperville, Va., who showed the champion hunter in Bon Diable, with nine victories. Tied for fourth with seven each were Charles T. Fischer's Dixiana farm of Lexington, Ky., and William C. Cox, of Cohasset, Mass.

Monoru in the military competition, which brought five nations together in a series of jumping events, were divided with the French army team and the Irish Free State taking home the most coveted of the awards—the team championship and individual trophy, respectively. The United States team from Ft. Riley, Kan., led by Capt. W. B. Bradford, was second and was trailed in order by Canada, Chile, and the Irish Free State.

KOPECKY WINS FAST BOUT ON PLA-MOR MAT

ALLIGATOR MAN TAKES DECISION FROM PERKINS

A Joe Kopecky wilder than ever blew into Pampa last night to win two out of three falls from Cyclone Burns in the main event wrestling match at the Pla-Mor auditorium. The match was one of the fastest of the year.

Jack Purdin, Florida alligator, used his weight advantage to defeat Art Perkins of Detroit in the semi-final. Lobo Brown look some tough punishment before he was able to pin Sonny O'Sullivan of Kansas City in an interesting preliminary.

An added attraction was a boxing exhibition between K. O. Brown, negro, now of Pampa, and two negro boys who didn't last very long with the negro sensation. Brown allowed one boy to stay a round and the other lasted two rounds before having "enough."

Kopecky opened the fast main event with a headlock but Burns pulled loose, pushing Kopecky across the ring. Burns was a flash in his orange trunks and time after time Kopecky was looking for the speedster. The veteran, however, plodded along and got his holds with mastery fashion.

Burns exhibited great wrestling knowledge with his speed, especially when he used a rolling turtle split. Burns used his knuckles to break holds which sent Mr. Kopecky into the crowd, not being able to take punishment on nerve centers. Kopecky effectively used an arm stretch and flying mare but Burns broke. Kopecky finally worked Burns with headlocks and then slipped across a drop toe hold to win in 20 minutes.

Fall number two was faster than ever. Joe got a whip wrist lock and Burns broke to get a leg nelson. He tweaked Joe on the nose. While Kopecky was getting his leg straightened out after breaking the hold, Burns used a few Sonnenbergs and smother to win in 10 minutes.

Kopecky took the last fall in nine minutes after a fast exchange of holds. Joe used a rocking chair split and Burns took over a head scissor. The two exchanged arm and head holds rapidly but Kopecky apparently used Burns roughly in a grip to get him groggy enough to slip over another drop toe hold to win the match.

Jack Purdin used his famous alligator clutch to win over the active Perkins. Perkins started roughing at the gong but Purdin got mad and showed his lighter opponent that it didn't pay. Perkins used his famous flying head scissors but Purdin was too heavy to be put to the mat.

O'Sullivan and Brown exchanged many holds in rapid succession before Brown started using the Irishman's head with which to punch the mat. He then rolled the helpless O'Sullivan over and pinned him with a smother.

THAT DROUGHT, AGAIN

ODDEN, Utah—Now the drought is blamed for an increase in the number of broken windows in Weber county schools. A total of 454 windows was broken from July 1, 1933, to June 30, 1934, as compared to 327 broken windows for the preceding 12 months. School authorities say the open winter is to blame, as when there is snow on the ground, snowballs are thrown instead of stones—and they are not so destructive.

A year in the Green Bay, Wis., reformatory is the penalty Theodore Damon, 20-year-old Milwaukee youth, must pay for speeding away after his car struck and killed a man.

BREADON SETS PRICE ON HIS CARDS' FARMS

WENTZ IS CONSIDERING BUYING CHAMPION TEAM

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Louis Haines "Lew" Wentz, millionaire oil producer of Ponca City, Okla., will be the next owner of the St. Louis Cardinals if he agrees to pay the price Sam Breadon has set on his world championship baseball club.

Breadon, president of the Cardinals, last night confirmed reports negotiations were under way for Wentz to purchase control of the club and its major league farms. Although no definite date was set to renew negotiations when Breadon "laid his cards" on the table Sunday, it was believed conversations between himself and Wentz would be resumed today.

Wentz, who came to St. Louis last week, openly admitted he was interested in buying the Cardinals. He explained that his other interests now permit him to indulge in an outside hobby. With Wentz, reportedly worth more than $10,000,000 there is no hobby like baseball.

Wentz could not be reached here yesterday and Breadon declined to say where he was. He is widely known in the southwest as an oil operator, sportsman, philanthropist, and republican political leader in the democratic state of Oklahoma.

If the sale is completed it appears certain Wentz will gain control of the Rochester International League, Columbus American Association, Houston Texas league and several other clubs in the Cardinals "farm" organization as well as the world champions themselves. Branch Rickey, vice president and general manager of the Cardinals, is expected to become president of the organization if Wentz buys control.

Bucky Harris Is Chosen Manager At Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Stanley (Bucky) Harris came home today to the scene of his early baseball triumphs, the possessor of a one-year contract as manager of the Washington Senators.

Replaced only a few weeks ago by Joe Cronin as manager of the Boston Red Sox, Bucky was named last night by President Clark Griffith to take the post the youthful Cronin vacated.

Harris was immensely pleased. "It is the best break I've had since 1924," he said.

In that year Harris, then 27 first was selected as the Senator's pilot. It is baseball history that he won a world championship in his first managerial campaign and an American league pennant in the second. Dismissed in 1928, Harris managed Detroit for five years and moved to Boston last season. He was never able to get the Tigers out of the second division, and his Boston club finished fourth.

"I believe I have in Harris the best man obtainable," Griffith said. "I think he can get the best there is in a player. I regard him as a great manager."

'World's Greatest Lover' Left High And Dry By Mary

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14 (AP)—The final chapter in the "noble experiment" of Mary McCormick, the opera singer, and Prince Serge Mdivani, will be written in superior court tomorrow.

Entering their final decree of divorce is a mere formality and requires the presence of neither Miss McCormick, who once described the prince as the "world's greatest lover," is in the east. Attorneys said the Georgian prince was more interested in business affairs than marriage.

The opera singer and the prince were married in Phoenix, Ariz., in 1931, two weeks after Mdivani and

Pola Negri were divorced in Paris. Miss Negri agreed with Miss McCormick that the prince was "the world's greatest lover."

FRANK'S LIONS WIN DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

FIRST TEAM IN TEXAS TO WIN DISTRICT GRID TITLE

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Captain Henry Frank's Greenville high school Lions have the honor of being the first team to win a 1934 class A district football championship in the Texas Interscholastic league race. The Lions trimmed Sulphur Springs, 41 to 7, last week to clinch first honors in district nine. Greenville won last year's state schoolboy championship.

The fifteen other districts are just getting warmed up. Amarillo and Pampa are showing the way in district one with undefeated records. Amarillo takes on Plainview Friday in the only district melee.

Breckenridge and Ranger are leading with unmarred records in district two. Breckenridge has four victories and Ranger three. Big Spring turned in a surprise last week by beating San Angelo, 14 to 6, to take undisputed lead in district three.

One of the outstanding games this week will be between Vernon and Quanah in district five. These two are tied for the lead with perfect records. They tangle Friday at Quanah.

Dallas Highland Park was firmly established as the favorite in district six last week when the Scots moved into first place with a 20 to 6 victory over Gainesville. The deadlock for first place in district seven between two Fort Worth schools, Polytechnic and Masonic Home, still exists. Masonic Home meets Mineral Wells Friday in the only district combat.

Because Sunset of Dallas was ruled out for playing an ineligible boy, Dallas Tech and Forest also a Dallas school, are undefeated in district eight. Tech is favored to win the crown.

District ten is the only one in which every team has been defeated at least once. Tyler, Longview and Marshall are the three leading teams with Tyler at the top by virtue of three wins and one defeat.

The Corsicana Tigers lost district twelve with four victories and no defeats. Last week's 14 to 13 victory over Temple practically clinched the district championship for Corsicana.

Sam Houston of Houston leads district thirteen with three wins and no defeats, and is favored to take Milby of Houston Friday in one of the two district games scheduled. The other will pit John Reagan against Jeff Davis.

As usual, it is a battle between Port Arthur and Beaumont in district fourteen. They are in a deadlock with two wins and no defeats. Port Arthur takes on Galveston Saturday and Beaumont battles Goose Creek.

Kerrville is making a surprise showing in district fifteen by remaining in second place, only one game behind the pace-setting San Antonio Jefferson crew. Just how strong Kerrville will be learned Friday when the resort city boys take on Jefferson at Kerrville.

The banner attraction in district sixteen Friday will be Kingsville and Corpus Christi, the two leaders. Kingsville boasts four district wins against three for Corpus Christi. The winner of Friday's game will practically set up the championship.

WHITE DEER'S SECOND WHITE TO PLAY HERE

GORILLAS AND BUCKS CLASH THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The Pampa Gorillas will play their second home game of the season at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Harvester field when they meet the fast White Deer Bucks. The Kelleven will be out to avenge a 13 to 7 defeat in White Deer earlier in the season.

Coch Kelly's boys have recovered from injuries and should be at nearly full strength tomorrow afternoon. Several Gorilla substitutes have been coming to the front. The coach may present a changed lineup against the Bucks. Woodridge, Stevens, and Showers, backfield axes, were in uniform yesterday afternoon when the team went through a "tiff" practice session. Sparring center was present again.

White Deer has some mighty promising looking boys who are expected to be great football players. The boys of White Deer play with the hope of being classed along with White Enuchs, and Merrill all White Deer boys who made good in Class A football, two of whom are now playing college football.

Little Fosty Horner is the flash of the team and one of the most promising players in this section. Along with Horner in the backfield is Nichols, another flash. Cary and Kellars are powerful little linemen. No admission will be charged and fans are invited to see the Gorillas in action. A number of White Deer will accompany the team to Pampa.

Talks were by H. E. Nicholson and R. H. Forrester. R. E. Brazil also spoke briefly on, "Marking Time Over There." A large crowd was present, and commented that the service was of unusual interest.

Morbidity Of Babe Also Increased Says Doctor

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Nervous unrest, together with the great increase in the use of alcohol and tobacco by young women, is increasing the mortality and the morbidity of the mother and the infant, Dr. Hugh Leslie Moore, president of the Southern Medical association, told delegates in convention here last night.

Dr. Moore, whose subject was the "Foundation of Longevity," added, however, that "the sensible dress" of women in recent years has reduced the infant death rate.

The average span of life will be extended from 58 years, as it stands today, to 70 years, because of knowledge gained during the last 25 years, Dr. Moore said.

The promotion of physical health is one of the indispensable ways a long and happy life, "the universal desire," can be consummated, he related.

Legislation providing for the vasectomy of all habitual criminals is a prime requisite for longevity of life, Dr. Moore said.

Dr. Moore reminded the audience that 400 years ago the average duration of life was eight years. He said the increase in the life span could be traced to the conservation of child life covering the first decade and "more especially the first two years of life."

Clinics, conducted by authorities gathered here from all the southern states, foreign countries and the District of Columbia, were held throughout the day.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—The stock market steadied today, as selling of the utility issues subsided. Some of the electric power issues registered new lows, but their losses were counterbalanced by gains in several industrial specialties. The close was irregular. Transfer approximated 1,000,000,000 shares.

self-sufficient, how did it happen that the oil industry got into such a mess and why did it think of appealing to the government for help?

"I think that any fair-minded man will agree that it was unreasonable to expect the secretary of the interior, within the brief span of fourteen months, to repair the great ravages that had already resulted from the long-standing maladministration of the oil industry and, practically single-handed, forthwith put it upon a firm and enduring basis."

Flays Greasing Palaces

Discussing the situation in the industry, Ickes sarcastically attacked the plethora of filling stations and declared that they had not been placed as twins and quadruplets but "they came in litters."

"If 'X' builds a miniature Moorish palace, his competitor will not be satisfied with anything short of something Romanesque," he remarked. "Gasoline may be bought for a song at dwarf Greek temples or abortive Gothic cathedrals. Why go to France to visit the famous chateaux country when one may visit that classical and soul- uplifting American institution, the 'greasing palace'?"

RFC AND HOLC WILL ASK FOR NO MORE CASH FURTHER DEVALUATION OF DOLLAR NOT INTENDED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—A new air of optimism that a business revival would soon ease much of the government's recovery load surrounded certain new dealers today as the Roosevelt administration made the first moves to scrap some emergency agencies.

As signs of the beginning of a march toward normal, many observers cited these developments:

1. Authoritative indications from the White House that no more money will be asked for the home owners loan corporation, which has closed its doors to new applications for loans. The HOLC, formed as a $3,000,000,000 agency to aid home owners in distress, said private business soon would be able to re-assume the agency's task.
2. A statement by Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, that his agency intended to ask no more funds from congress. The RFC was formed back in the Hoover administration to help private business and banking weather the storm.
3. The action of the treasury in removing restrictions on the movement of foreign exchange. It seemed to some onlookers as a sign that no further devaluation of the dollar is intended in the immediate future. If it were, they argued, the government would not be making it easier for capital to flee from the dollar. Wall Street revived rumors that stabilization of the dollar with the pound was imminent, but the treasury was silent.

The HOLC and RFC developments follow President Roosevelt's pledge to the American Bankers association that the government would halt its lending and spending as soon as private initiative took over the task. The outcome of the bankers convention, where the president made a speech, was widely interpreted as a peace pact between the administration and the bankers. Some observers see in the recent developments a trend toward the "right," a sign that the president is approaching closer to the business viewpoint in the struggle toward recovery.

On the other hand, some point to the administration's intensified drive against policies of private electric power concerns, some of which involve high financial and business leadership.

The White House, on Tuesday, handed out a report of the New York state power authority declaring rates to small consumers in New York state should be cut almost in half and that the total power bill to the northeast should be chopped by $194,000,000 annually with the aid of the St. Lawrence power "yardstick."

The president's policy of using public power projects as "yardsticks" to force private concerns into line will be dramatized by a trip the president will start tomorrow. En route to his winter home at Warm Springs, Georgia, he will go through the Tennessee valley, scene of a vast experiment in public power development. Organized coal dealers are expressing hostility to the TVA hydro-electric project, calling it a threat to coal and to private business.

A Sure Way to Prevent Winter Trouble for Motorists of PAMPA

Special Winter Grades of Germ Processed Oil Give Positive Starting, Improved Gasoline Mileage and Utmost Motor Protection!

Change now to the proper grade of New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. You'll get:

1. Positive Starting. These new lighter grades permit your motor to reach higher, "cranking speed." You save your battery. You choke less—waste no gasoline.
2. Definitely more miles per gallon of gasoline. These lighter grade oils flow freely and minimize friction.
3. Utmost Motor Protection. Other oils drain away, leaving parts unprotected when you start. Only Conoco Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, forming the "Hidden Quart that Never Drains Away." Every part is fully oiled from the first turn of the motor. It cuts down starting wear—saves repair bills!

Conoco dealers and stations have new Winter Grades, namely, 10W and 20W—heavier grades, too—in refinery-sealed cans and in bulk. Consult the Conoco chart, fill with the proper grade—and stop worrying!

She was a delegate to a recent conference sponsored by the New York Herald-Tribune on current world problems.

BAKER P-TA RESPONDS TO NEED OF SCHOOL LIBRARY WITH BOOK WEEK DONATION AND SHOWER

Seeks Divorce

Justas Senator William Gibbs McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo, recently divorced, were assenting to the marriage of their daughter, Ellen, to Rafael Lopez de Oñate, Spanish movie actor, they learned that the senator's son was to be divorced by Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo Jr., shown above. She charges incompatibility.

Junior High P-TA Will Hear Guest Speaker of Note

Mrs. William Dingsus of Lubbock will be a program guest of Junior High Parent-Teacher association at its monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon. She will speak on the subject, New Frontiers.

Mrs. Dingsus is a professor of foreign languages at Texas Tech, and is state chairman of international relations for the A. A. U. W. under whose auspices she is coming to Pampa. She will speak to the local A. A. U. W. branch, as well as to other groups.

She is well informed on present-day world affairs, and this year attended an international conference in New York. Her talk is expected to be one of the outstanding numbers on the association's program this term.

National book week will be stressed with a short talk by Mrs. James Todd Jr., city librarian. Musical numbers will be presented by an operetta group and a girls' chorus from Junior high.

The meeting begins at 3 o'clock in the cafeteria, preceded by an executive board session starting at 2:30. All members are urged to be present for this unusual program. A cash prize has been offered to the local Parent-Teacher unit represented at this meeting by the largest number of members.

School Officials Are Speakers Yesterday

Emphasis appropriate to national book week was given the need for library additions at B. M. Baker school, when Principal J. A. Meek discussed the school's assets and needs on a Parent-Teacher program yesterday afternoon.

Books are needed more than any other thing by the school now, he said, as the room libraries total only about 130 volumes. The association voted to give $10 to purchase new books, and also to sponsor a book shower Friday, when donations of books suitable to grade school children will be asked.

Mr. Meek mentioned also a need for a shower both system, especially with the new emphasis on physical education in the grades. Baker school building and equipment is valued at $84,000, he said; the enrollment is 656 this year, and 15 teachers are employed, nine with degrees.

His talk was one on a "Know Your School" program directed by Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar. Other phases of city school administration were discussed by Supt. R. B. Fisher, who spoke on general school organization; Miss L. Shelby, health director in Pampa schools; Mrs. J. W. French, attendance officer; and Mrs. Roy Holt, president of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association.

Class Sews For Needy of Church

Clothing contributed for needy members of the church was sorted and repaired by members of Central Baptist kindergarten class yesterday in an all-day meeting at the church.

Each member brought a covered dish for the lunch that was served at noon. It was followed by a brief business session with Mrs. E. Bass Clay presiding. Mrs. R. M. Mitchell gave the opening prayer. Members planned to meet next Tuesday at 2 p. m. and continue sewing.

Those present yesterday were Mmes. Mitchell, Clay, E. V. Davis, Walter Kirby, Dayton White, D. H. Coffey, A. I. Edmondson, George Latus, H. B. Hillman. This class has adopted work for underprivileged members as its project for this winter.

Book Gifts Made To Baker School

Several book week gifts have been received at B. M. Baker school, Principal J. A. Meek said this morning. Mrs. V. E. Fathree gave $2 for new books, and Mmes. Simmons and C. T. Hunkapillar each presented a volume to the school library.

The Parent-Teacher association voted yesterday to give $10 and to sponsor a book shower Friday.

Mr. Meek is taking advantage of children's book week to stress the needs of the school library, and to urge patrons to place more books within reach of the students.

John Fice and Lindsay McCasland spent the week-end in Lubbock.

LEARN FROM DOCTORS HOW TO TREAT COLDS

Four Points to Remember
As colds cause more loss of time and money than any other disease, every one should learn what modern medical science teaches as to their proper treatment. Your doctor has the following objectives:
First—To relieve the congestion in the nose and throat, thus aborting, or lightening the attack and relieving the symptoms caused by the congestion—Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets, accomplish this by attracting the excess blood to the bowels.
Second—To help the kidneys wash out of the blood the cold-poisons which cause the chilly sensation, feverishness, aches, and mean feeling—Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, assisting them in ridding the blood of the poisons.
Third—To expel the germ-laden mucus and toxins from the bowels, thus preventing their absorption into the blood—Calotabs accomplish this thoroughly.
Fourth—To keep the bile of the liver flowing freely through and out of the intestines, thus relieving the flatulency and constipation, which attend and aggravate a cold. As Calotabs contain calomel, they promote the flow of bile.
Thus, Calotabs meet these four important objectives of medical treatment for colds. One or two Calotabs at bed time, with a glass of sweet milk or water, is usually sufficient; but should be repeated the third or fifth night if needed. The milk tones down the action, making it milder, if desired.
Why risk doubtful or make-shift remedies? Get a family package of Calotabs containing full directions, only twenty-five cents; trial package ten cents; at your dealer's. (Adv.)

HAPPY KITCHEN CHATS BY Beulah Mackey Yates

Things You'll Like to Know About Salads

There is one especially happy thing that every woman should know and consider about salads—often a salad will make a meal—and as a main course it frequently solves the menu problem on some particularly difficult day.

If the weather be warm, a crisp salad stimulates the lagging appetite, especially if you accent its cool refreshment by serving one contrasting hot dish. This may be merely a cup of heated canned soup, a plate of hot bread, a toasted sandwich, a health-giving vegetable, or an egg or cheese surprise.

Luscious salads are legion—and are tempting to the average appetite no matter what the weather or the season. Before suggesting some of my pet versions, I am listing some rules of general and great importance.

The first and most essential one is the chemistry dictum that oil and water do not mix. Dry your lettuce. Drain your vegetables and fruits.

Emphasize contrasts—in flavor, texture and color. A bland base, like tuna, fish, or cream cheese, requires a bit of pique, a nut, some celery, an apple, or the like. A golden peach stuffed with cream cheese is improved by surrounding it with bright red cherries. A crisp-crust of anchovies on potato-salad hills achieves three contrasts, and thereby delights the epicure. Even the salad greens are more alluring if you use a little of several varieties, as a base for full-meal salads.

Marinate vegetables, meat and most fish, and set in your refrigerator for an hour before mixing with other ingredients. But lightly, please. By marinating, we mean to let these salad bases stand in a rather tart French dressing.

Avoid lavish quantities of dressing. Use just enough to moisten and coat each component part. Be sparingly with sugar in any dressing.

Use two implements in combining ingredients. Two forks are excellent. Remember to toss your salads, never to mix with pressure.

ARMISTICE DAY IS TOPIC FOR EL PROGRESSO

An Armistice day program was given by El Progresso club at its meeting yesterday afternoon, featured by a review of Katherine May's book, Soldiers, What Next?

Mrs. S. G. Surratt was leader at the home of Mrs. J. M. Dodson. Pictures of unknown soldiers' tombs and other views of battle monuments were displayed by Mrs. W. Purviance in discussing the observance of Armistice day in foreign lands.

Mrs. S. G. Surratt gave an interesting review of the book, Flag etiquette and proper salutes to the flag were discussed in a paper by Mrs. Carson Loftus. All the members joined in singing America and repeating the pledge to the flag.

Mrs. Dodson served a salad course to Mmes. John V. Andrews, George Briggs, C. P. Buckley, T. D. Hobart, Lee Ledrick, P. C. Ledrick, Loftus, Dave Pope, Purviance, Surratt, Charlie Thut, and George Walden. Mrs. C. H. Dunaway, and the hostesses.

Education Week Contest Winners Will Have Party

As a result of playing host to the largest number of parents during national education week, observed as parents' visiting week at Junior high school, pupils in Ernest Cabot's and Tom Herold's rooms will be entertained with a party soon.

The entertainment was offered at the beginning of the week to the room where the most visitors registered.

A total of 227 parents visited the school during the week. All classes were open to them at all times, and few periods passed without a share of the guests. Regular class-work was conducted, but the students presented a special chapel program on an educational theme.

Dinner-Bridge Is Enjoyed by Club

An Armistice day bridge, dinner, and theater party was enjoyed by the No Trump bridge club Monday with Mrs. J. C. Crawford as hostess. Members met in her home first for bridge games. Delicious home-made candy was served.

The group went to the Eagle buffet for a turkey dinner, then to the Rex for the movie. In the party were Misses Bonnie and Mary Patton, Alice Chandler, Guida and Claudia Brandan, Mildred Phelan, Cleo Kendrick, Mmes. Don Salsbury, Jim Kohn, Juanita Har-

FAT AND LEAN COACHES WILL MEET TONIGHT

GROOM WILL REFEREE GRID GAME ON FRIDAY

Pampans who will participate in the Fat-Lean football game at Harvester field Friday night at 8 o'clock will meet their coaches and captains at the high school gymnasium at 8:15 o'clock tonight. The squads will be taken to separate rooms, where they will receive final instructions through blackboard talks.

A ticket selling campaign was to get under way this afternoon, with the high school band and pep squad in charge. H. V. Patterson, who is in charge of the ticket sales, hopes to have a $500 crowd at the game. Admission will be 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults.

The game is not an invitation affair. It is open to everyone desiring to play, and who will abide by the rules and regulations set down by the sponsors, the merican Association of University Women, which will receive the proceeds to be used to give a scholarship to some deserving high school girl. The meetings in the gymnasium tonight will be to familiarize the players with rules as well as to study plays.

Uniforms will be issued at the gymnasium at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow night. It will be a task to secure uniforms for those clamoring to participate in the game, especially for the Fats. A tent and awning company has offered to bring a quantity of material here for the occasion and will make uniforms Friday. Players will pay the regular admission despite the fact they will be the victims.

After a lengthy battle, officials have been named. Jim Groom, old and venerable Pipeline university star, will be the referee. Archie LeWalstad, of Carbon Black high, will act as umpire. The headlinesman will be none other than that great All State college boy, Monroe Owens. In charge of the watch will be Sam Penberg of Abraham and Isaac college.

With the signing of new players by each side, conflicts have developed that have necessitated a board of arbitration being formed. The board is made up of Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mrs. Newt Diley, Mrs. Tom Rose, Mrs. Ewing Leech, and Miss Madge Rusk. Much of the controversy is over the signing of lean players of two years ago who have put on enough weight to be classed as Fats this year. Among those being contested by the Leans are Olin E. Hinkle, who has developed a waist line; J. C. Gilham, who has also added additional yardage to the mid-section; D. E. Cecil, whose chest measurement is greater, and Tom Perkins, who is now a chubby fellow.

The Fats blew up this morning when the thins announced they had secured the services of Odus Mitchell. Mitchell is being denounced as a professional. Harry Kelley was also signed and put in the same class as Mitchell. Not to be outdone, the Fats took on Argus Fox and Red Dennard, two professionals of noble repute and ability.

The list of the Leans grew by leaps and bounds since the last grapevine report was issued yesterday. The first name on the new list was a blow to the Fats. It was none other than Gilmore Nunn of Washburn university, the boy who carried the ball across the goal line two years ago to tie the game. It was said the time keeper, Lon Blancet, shot his gun and frightened the elongated Lean over with the counter.

More and other thin boys now on the roster include: H. L. Polley, Gunham hi; Reg Parless, Magpie prep; Gene Green, Windy college of the South; R. G. Allen, Smoky Ridge hi; Joe Burrow, Tire academy; Bill Fraser, Hill academy; M. P. Downs, former bathing beauty; Art Swanson, Golfing college for Beginners; Joe Vincent, Old Gold hi; C. H. Walker, Presbytery prep; Chinch Barrett, Carbone college; J. coaches: Roy McMillen, Elevator hi; Charlie Duenkel, Undertaker prep.

Among the Fats to come to the relief of their clan were: Neal Donovan, Garage prep; John Haggard, Commissioners College of Complaints; Dr. John Hooper, Ton-ill-lectomy school; E. A. Hamlett, Blue Ribbon academy; Earl Roff, Roadrunner prep; D. R. M. Johnson, Fuller prep; Mack Graham, Gasoline Alley; B. C. Low, a Humble school in the east; Aaron Meek, Port Elliott academy; Henry Gerhardt, New Jersey prep; John Roby, C. P. A.; Jake Garman, Cassers college; Lee McConnell, Elevator college; John Hessey, Eldridge academy.
