PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Twinkles

There are those who already mourn the death of the republican party. But, partly by any other name it would be just as bad, with the same policies, or just as good, with timely good ones.

Some of the first grade pupils in Pampa schools can read fluently and astonishingly. An adult who cannot read is a rare specimen of indifference to today's opportunities.

The West Foster grouch admits that current weather is fine but he never comments on any weather without pondering about next spring's dust storms.

West of here on highway 33 is a scrub tree planted in 1874. We hope the shelter has more success.

Of course, Mister White is good, but he can't make touchdowns while chasing Mr. Mister Dunaway and Mister Hamilton et al.

Musing of the moment: Football is moving toward a time when players will be in a game but a few minutes of a time. It will approximate the energy output of pugilism. Big squads will be necessary as, indeed, they already are. Pampa schools are moving toward this result faster than you think. PAMPA HAS 303 BOYS PLAYING FOOTBALL IN LOCAL SCHOOLS. Sixty per cent of American householders are tenants. Property in this country is valued at 240 billions. The cost of the world war was more than the value of all the family-owned homes in the nation. Try to find something good to say about such figures.

Brevitorials

RECENTLY we presented the following continued problem: A basket of plums was divided among 3 persons. The first received half the plums plus one; the second half of the remainder plus one; the third half of the balance plus three. How many plums were there in the basket?

There are a number of possible solutions. Mrs. J. F. Curtis, 1104 East Francis, sent in the following: $\frac{1}{2}X + 1$ equal one number of plums. Then $\frac{1}{2}(\frac{1}{2}X + 1) + 1$ plus one. $\frac{1}{2}(\frac{1}{2}(\frac{1}{2}X + 1) + 1) + 3$ plus one. $\frac{1}{2}(\frac{1}{2}(\frac{1}{2}(\frac{1}{2}X + 1) + 1) + 3) + 3$ equals 120 fourths or 30 plums in the basket.

THERE are several other solutions in hand which will be printed later. Meanwhile, John Hill of Amarillo has recalled one of the problems given in an old-time textbook. It runs something like this: If a hen and a half can lay an egg and a half in a day and a half (averaging production), how long will it take two hens to lay a dozen eggs? One answer is that it depends on the attitude of the hens. But there's a mathematical solution if you care to go into that.

THIS country has mortgages totaling 21 billions on homes. The new Federal housing act, sections 2 and 3, provides a means for refinancing part of this huge total to a lower rate of interest, averaging a little less than 6 per cent. Some contracts forbid payment of mortgage obligations in advance of monthly maturities but many do not. If Uncle Sam sets up machinery to drive down interest rates in this manner, the result cannot be other than extraordinary. The extent to which this will be done is not yet certain.

IT IS CERTAIN that machinery has been provided to launch a huge but orderly program of new construction. Home building, however, involves the hundreds of thousands of small accounts as measured in financing, and a great amount of servicing. Uncle Sam will budget your home-building for you, providing that monthly payments shall include interest, principal, insurance, and taxes. There will be no tax delinquents under this plan. Wide discretion is left in selection of architects, insurance brokers, labor, and the like. Twenty years would be allowed for completion of payments. The federal loans would equal 80 per cent of the investments. Guarantees and character plus 20 per cent personal capital are requisites.

READERS of course wish to know where to get the money. There's the rub in any federal plan. Corporations must have $100,000 capital to start and must be located in towns of 6,000 or more. The reason

FLIER CHASES RAY HAMILTON HUNDRED MILES

LANDS THRICE TO PUT OFFICERS BACK ON TRAIL

OKFENE, Okla., Nov. 9. (AP)—Hooten an Omega raptures started out in his home-made airplane to chase his wife for fun and almost caught three bandits who looted the First National bank of $1,000 here late yesterday was told today.

Hugh E. Zimmerman who built his own plane, chased the desperados over a territory of 100 square miles after they had pointed guns at him when he zoomed down close to their speeding car, thinking it was his wife.

After warring the bandits for three hours, and landing his plane five times in pastures to put wandering poses on the right trail, Zimmerman's plane ran out of gas.

The bandits, whose leader was identified as Raymond Hamilton, Texas desperado by C. T. Wisdom, the bank president, escaped after a running gunfight with officers.

Zimmerman tells the story: "It looked like my wife's car and I thought it was she because she was supposed to be coming back from Lind about that time. I thought I would have some fun with her and I zoomed down. When I got down close I saw guns pointed at me.

"I hurried to Omega, set down and called the Kingsford sheriff from a cotton gin. Then I went back up and pretty soon I spotted the bandit car by its yellow wheels. It had doubled back.

"I staved about a half mile above it. They were going! Pretty soon I saw the sheriff's car coming, and then I saw there was a coupe between the sheriff's car and the bandit car.

"I thought somebody in the coupe might get hurt if they started firing, so I set down in front of the coupe and stopped it. "When I got back in the air, I found the bandit car had gone another mile west, a mile south and was doubling back. I landed again and told the sheriff Ed Martin, who stayed on the trail.

"They were close to the flying car, Zimmerman was forced to land in an alfalfa field and borrow two gallons of gas from farmers bailing hay. The farmers told him the road the bandits had taken was a blind one and Zimmerman waited in the road but the bandits escaped by cutting down two fences. After this discovery Zimmerman again took to the air but darkness prevented his sighting the quarry again.

Veterans Will Attend Church In Body Sunday

Members of the American Legion at Veterans of foreign wars in Pampa will attend Armistice day services at First Christian church in a body Sunday morning. They will meet at the Legion hall at 10 o'clock and march to the church, those who have uniforms or overseas caps are asked to wear them. John S. Mullen, minister, has chosen a subject appropriate to the patriotic holiday. The Armistice Needs of Today.

All members of the American Legion and veterans of other foreign wars are urged to be present for this service.

SIX INJURED

GREENVILLE, Nov. 9. (AP)—Six people were injured today when a produce truck and an automobile collided head-on. The accident occurred on the Dallas-Greenville highway. John Covington of Sulphur Springs, truck driver, was most seriously hurt. His left knee cap was broken, a hip was injured and he was cut severely about the hands and face.

I Heard . . .

Coach Odus Mitchell make an astounding statement in chapel Wednesday morning and to back up his remarks he introduced 303 boys who are playing football in Pampa schools this fall. Every school in the city has at least one football team practicing. Junior high has a class little team. Then come the Gorillas and Harvesters of the high school. More will be heard about these youngsters later.

That Dr. T. R. Martin told Mrs. Martin that he had to be at the hospital at 7 o'clock this morning and that he needed an early breakfast. The "hospital" turned out to be the hallway of the court house where football fans lined up to get tickets for the Lubbock-Amarillo football game and Dr. Martin was just behind Kelley Patterson at the head of the line.

For Hauptmann

With his trial on charges of murdering Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., less than two months away, Bruno Hauptmann expectedly changed the commander of his defending forces. Above is Edward J. OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL BOOK WEEK IS URGED

Public Is Invited To Visit Library Next Week

Mrs. James Todd Jr., public librarian here, today called attention to observance of the 10th national Book Week, which will begin Sunday.

The 1934 slogan, she said, is "Read the Book Trail to Knowledge and Adventure."

"The public library is an educational center in a community. It is not a merchandising establishment, presenting only request material, but one that strives to raise the reading standards of its patrons by displaying all kinds of good books. World-mindedness is another goal, inasmuch as the need for world citizens is here.

"The tools of knowledge are books. Knowledge is power. Libraries are true 'treasure houses' because priceless facts have been put between the covers of books. Wide reading is essential not because narrow reading tends to produce narrowness in thought and action.

Mrs. Todd said the program of a library includes the following: 1. A library believes in circulating its knowledge. It is not a book for every reader and a reader for every book. 2. A library gives freely the same privileges to all. It is not limited to any class of persons. 3. A library offers itself as a university for all the people. No citizen's education need cease simply because he has finished school. 4. A library offers the best recreation yet invented—reading.

The Pampa Public Library invites the public to visit its reading room during National Book week. The hours are 9 to 12, 2 to 5, and 7 to 9 daily. To most persons this invitation is superfluous, since Pampa's library has an exceptionally large patronage.

BUCHANAN URGES REJECTION OF RIVER BILL AMENDMENTS

AUSTIN, Nov. 9. (AP)—A virtual agreement of a bill to form the lower Colorado river authority was reached today by a conference committee. The opposition on adoption of the bill reported by the house was promptly.

Amendments objected to by the public works administration as jeopardizing a $4,500,000 loan for completion of a dam near Burnet were removed. An amendment by Representative Weaver Moore of Houston to prohibit payment of any compensation to Ralph Morrison of San Antonio, utilities operator, was eliminated when Representative H. O. Jones of Winters broke a deadlock in favor of the bill.

Meanwhile, the house adopted a conference report bill on a permanent delinquent tax payment relief bill and considered other bills before finally acting on Centennial legislation. The senate voted to clear its calendar of all bills, which would give right of way to consideration of such Centennial legislation as the house might pass.

Congressman J. P. Buchanan advised a conference committee of the Texas legislature on a bill to establish the lower Colorado river authority that two amendments adopted to the proposed measure by the house must be eliminated or a PWA loan would not be granted.

PAMPA GROUPS URGE SUPPORT OF RED CROSS

ANNUAL ROLL CALL TO BEGIN TUESDAY AND LAST TWO WEEKS

Civic clubs, the Jaycees, B. C. D., Parent-Teacher associations, and citizens generally are rallying to the aid of the Red Cross in preparation for the annual roll call which will open here Tuesday, Nov. 13, and extend through Thanksgiving.

Tomorrow Boy Scouts will deliver to canvassers full instructions and supplies. Memberships will be taken at $1 each or more, according to the wishes of the joiners. The money raises will support the Pampa chapter, one of the most active in this section, and will contribute on the basis of 50 cents per member, to the extensive national program.

Although the government's widespread relief program and this country's worst depression has assumed huge proportions, the contribution made by the American Red Cross of needy families in the last five years has no parallel in the annals of private relief agency activities.

Measured in dollars and cents, the Red Cross has spent $18,835,000 and distributed in addition wheat and cotton products valued in excess of $70,000,000 since the rigors of depression set in. Direct relief to 25,000,000 individuals in practically every county in the United States is the record of performance of the Red Cross. Causes of the plight of those assisted varied from unemployment to drought, tornado to earthquake, but all the aid was extended on the basis of helping others to help themselves. This principle, incidentally, has been added since the inception of the Red Cross. Actually, helping others to help themselves defines the movement itself.

With all its expenditures, however, the Red Cross has made an even greater contribution to the cause through its accident prevention, health, and other services. All its 3,700 chapters have taken an important part in this work.

Thousands of children reached through Red Cross public health nurses here had conditions of malnutrition discovered and checked that this generation may not pay in future years for deprivations in childhood.

Safeguarding the expectant mother has been an important work of Red Cross nurses during these years. Classes of expectant mothers of more than 19,000 babies and they also made 1,289,000 visits to or in behalf of more than 100,000 maternity cases.

Sick and disabled veterans and their dependent families have been the special charge of the Red Cross and the recurring problems of hospitalization, claims, and welfare continue a vital concern.

To lessen accidental deaths and injuries among workers of the Civil Works administration, Emergency Work Relief administration, Federal Emergency Relief administration and Civilian Conservation corps, the Red Cross trained in first aid more than 75,000 men engaged in these projects throughout the nation.

Millions have worked in the ranks of volunteers under the Red Cross banner during these trying years. Millions have joined each year as members, arming the Red Cross to serve in their names in this battle against want.

A YOUNG MERCHANT

The carrier boy who delivers your Pampa Daily News each afternoon and Sunday morning must pay for all papers he takes out. If his customers don't pay him he loses.

He is a young merchant and depends on his customers' paying him promptly on Saturdays or paydays to make his profit. He does not get a salary. His profit is the difference between his paper bill and what he collects.

He cannot afford to please, but it is necessary that he make his collections if he is to keep the route.

For each customer that does not pay him he loses the profit on two customers.

He is trying hard to carry customers who do not pay him promptly each week or pay day.

LATE NEWS

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 9. (AP)—Absentee ballots and returns from 72 unreported precincts may decide whether Bronson Cutting, republican, will return to the United States senate from New Mexico or yield to his democratic opponent, Rep. Dennis Chavez.

Tabulation in 680 of the state's 761 precincts give Cutting a lead of 1,163. He had polled 69,524 votes to 68,361 for Chavez. Party leaders estimated there would be about 3,000 absentee ballots.

EASTLAND, Nov. 9. (AP)—Mrs. Mae King was convicted of murder and given a 2-year prison sentence today by a jury which found her guilty of slaying Leon Robinson, Gorman night watchman, November 13, 1933.

Devil's Island Refugees Given Aid At Island

ARIBA, I. W. I., Nov. 9. (AP)—Ten escaped prisoners from the French penal colony of Devil's Island put to sea at daybreak today from San Nicolas bay, through the generosity of the American and English consuls.

They had been provided with a 25-foot subboat equipped with an auxiliary gasoline motor and a supply of gasoline sufficient for 400 miles travel by the use of motor alone.

Furthermore they were given a month's provisions, clothes, tobacco, and sufficient money to help them toward a new start in life.

The escaped convicts were headed by Jean Duvemay. They fled the penal colony more than two months ago in a canoe in which they spent 33 days at sea before they were picked up by a British freighter.

EMPLOYEES OF DANGIER ON LABOR STRIKE

Production and Pipe Line Departments ARE SHUT DOWN

Production and pipeline departments of the Dangier Oil & Refining company were shut down today as a result of the strike of about a score of field employees. Union estimates were much higher as to the number of men on strike.

The local Dangier officials placed the entire case before their Fort Worth office and awaited instructions. They ordered employees who did not strike to offer no resistance to picketers and the large group of spectators which assembled at the lease a few miles east of LeFors.

Strikers insisted that the leases produce no oil, according to spokesmen for both sides. Boilers were cooled and valves closed. But there was no damage and no violence. Spokesmen for the Oil Workers union insisted that it would be a "peaceful" strike.

Demands placed before Dangier officials included recognition of the union and signing of a union contract. Grievances included cuts of alleged violations of labor provisions of the petroleum code. One was that the retroactive wage ruling had not been complied with, another that the code restrictions on supervisors had been violated. A 12-hour day was charged in this.

Dangier officials said that they had "pruned" their list of workers because they did not need all the men and had retained the best ones. The union spokesmen said several longtime employees had been discharged in favor of newer ones.

Dangier has about one hundred employees in the field and another hundred at the local refinery, besides some others at drilling wells. Unless the pipeline is put back into operation soon the refinery will be forced to shut down.

Scout Troops To Be Reorganized

Reorganization of Boy Scout troop 21 at Horace Mann school was effected last evening when boys met with Scoutmaster Potts, Scout Executive C. A. Clark, troop committee men Tracy Clark and Guy McTaggart, Miss Josephine Thomas, Horace Mann principal, and Mrs. A. L. Burns, president of Horace Mann PTA.

The boys reviewed their Scout work of last year and discussed plans for this year. At present meetings will be conducted at the school.

Car Rolls Into Ravine, Two Die

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 9. (AP)—Mrs. Carl M. Atee and Miss Beatrice Crow both of this city, were killed and W. A. Palmer, driver, was badly hurt last night when their car tumbled into a ravine about 17 miles north of here on the Robert Lee road.

Palmer, a dental supply salesman of Dallas, was thrown clear of the car apparently, and the women were killed instantly.

The car was almost out of sight of highway traffic and it was not until 2 o'clock this morning that a passerby discovered the tragedy and brought Palmer to a hospital here.

FIRE ALMOST GAINS HEADWAY IN BLAZE IN BRUNO BUILDING

Fire of unknown origin had almost gained enough headway to do serious damage in the Bruno building early this morning when the fire department arrived and by the quick use of water, extinguished the blaze.

ONE SEAMAN IS DEAD; OTHERS INJURED

Ship Catches Afire; Many Seriously Burned

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 9. (AP)—The tanker, Caliche, outward bound from Mobile with a cargo of gas oil exploded in Mobile bay, 17 miles before here, shortly before noon today. One member of the crew was reported killed and 12 injured, many in serious condition, had been brought to hospitals.

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 9. (AP)—Nine members of the crew were injured, several critically, and one was reported missing.

The vessel had cleared from the port of Mobile for Texas City, Texas, about an hour before an explosion amidships rocked it from stem to stern and three blazing gasoline and oil over it, enveloping the ship in flames.

Small fishing boats in the bay rushed to the aid of the trapped seaman and took all off, except a mess boy, Frank Benavise, who still was reported missing noon.

Coast guard vessels in the bay steamed to the scene as billows of smoke rolled upward and flames shot from the hold, but there appeared small probability that the fire could be brought under control. Neither Captain J. Fitzgerald, who was badly injured, nor members of the crew could explain the explosion.

Members of the crew said 29 to 33 men were aboard the vessel, but no crew list was available at the port here as the ship was used only in coastwise service.

The Caliche was operated by the American Tanker corporation and was 4,700 gross tons capacity.

Borah Demands Investigation Of Fund 'Waste'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. (AP)—Senator Borah today demanded an investigation by President Roosevelt of the congress of the administration of relief expenditures, asserting there was "shameless waste" in doling out the funds.

The Idaho republican independent did not say so specifically but inferred that relief money in many cases had gone for political purposes.

There is one thing about this matter of expenditures for relief that must have attention either from congress or the executive department," Borah said on returning to Washington from the west.

"Everyone wants to see those who need relief get relief, but millions never reached those who need it. The amount expended before it gets to those in need is appalling. I have brought to my attention instances in which the cost, or expense of administering a fund was about half the fund to be administered.

"Now, the load is heavy enough for the taxpayers at best, but this shameless waste, if not worse, will have to have an end not only in the name of the hungry and the needy, but in the interest of decency."

PLEAD GUILTY TO KIDNAPING AND ROBBERY

BOTH TAKEN AS THEY SLEPT IN CREEK AT SHERMAN

SHERMAN, Nov. 9. (AP)—Hungry and exhausted after 29 days of the chase, escape capture, D. M. Duff, Hood and his son Carl Hood, accused of kidnaping Jack Rapp, Hidalgo county sheriff, were arrested as they slept in a dry creek near Sherman yesterday.

Duff and Carl Hood pleaded guilty last night to charges of kidnaping and robbery. A special session of corporation court was convened before City Recorder J. D. Buster, who heard their pleas and ordered them transferred to custody of the department of justice.

"Tell them I was tired of living the kind of life I was leading," the father said as officers lodged him in a cell.

The 54-year-old man talked freely of the wanderings over three states of Carl Clifford, another son who was shot when they tried to rob a garage at Carthage, Mo., last week, and himself. He laughed when he told how they played hide and seek with officers in this sector and how searchers came within 50 feet of their several times.

The Hoods overpowered Rapp as the officer was transferring them from McAllen to Edinburg October 10, the father taking his pistol when his two sons suddenly seized him from behind just as the 12-mile trip was about to be completed. The trio gave Rapp his choice of going with them or "being left in the brush."

Then began a wild ride north. The Hoods drove to Seguin, San Marcos, Austin, Waco, and Fort Worth, finally arriving in this vicinity where they had a lived for a long time. After debating for many hours what to do with Rapp, they finally released him, 33 hours after he disappeared, but they already had crossed the Red river into Oklahoma and thereby risked prosecution under the new federal kidnaping law. Rapp, unarmed, appeared unexpectedly at the Denison police station while hundreds of men beat through the brush country in the Rio Grande valley, fearing that Rapp might have been slain.

Duff Hood told Rapp he would rather die than return to the Texas penitentiary where Clifford had served time in prison for burglary.

Hood and his son were captured only a few hours after they dropped, exhausted, from a freight train from Tulsa. A single officer nabbed them in a nearby-wooded sector. They said they headed back for Sherman shortly after Clifford was captured in a pistol fight with Carthage officer Rogers. The Carthage sheriff, Oiler Rogers, has declined to surrender Clifford to Texas authorities.

The three men were held here pending word from the department of justice office in Dallas.

Pampans Return From Mountains With Huge Bucks

Three 10-point bucks fell before the unerring aim of rifles in the hands of Ray Hagen, M. W. Jones, and C. H. Everett of Ardmore, Okla., who returned to Pampa yesterday afternoon from a lengthy trip. They weighed about 170 pounds each when dressed.

The three men killed their bucks on the Shelton ranch in the Sacramento mountains in New Mexico after returning from a trip into old Mexico. They declared that the hunting in that section of New Mexico was the best they had found in recent years. They saw numerous bears and goats, and turkeys were numerous. The deer season in New Mexico ends November 15.

The men traveled nearly 2,000 miles in the two weeks they were gone.

LECTURE WEEK ENDS TONIGHT WITH SERMON

Large Crowd Hears The Discussions Yesterday

Closing service of a Lecture Week series will be conducted this evening in the new Central Church of Christ building. The subject will be, The Kingdom of Christ Is Here. Three services daily have been conducted since Tuesday, with many visiting ministers as speakers.

E. M. Borden, minister, reported another great day yesterday. The meeting opened with a lecture on the subject, "Value of Experience in the Ministry" by W. R. Swinney of Quamiah. He was followed by Jesse Wiseman of Berger on the subject, "The Duty of Ministers of the Gospel." About 30 minutes before noon the meeting was opened for round-table discussions of the questions discussed by the first two speakers.

A dinner was served in the basement of the church at noon. At 2 p. m. the afternoon session began. Three subjects were discussed: "Elements of Strength in the Local Congregation," "Elements of Weakness in the Local Congregation," and "Evangelism in the Local Congregation" by Eld. Randol, Felix Turbett, and W. C. Andrews. About an hour and a half was taken up in round-table discussions of the questions introduced by the three speakers of the afternoon.

A large audience heard the sermon of G. F. Mickey last evening on "The Day of Salvation."

The meeting opened this morning at 10 o'clock by John M. Rice, on the subject, "Church Finance." This was followed by Robert Jones on the subject, "Sunday Morning Bible Classes." The afternoon subjects, "Interesting Young People in Bible Study," and "The Home, the Church, and the School," were discussed by Tullman Price and G. H. Showalter.

DANCE MUSIC TO BE PLAYED BY NEW BAND

Dancers for the regular Saturday night dance at the Pla-Mor will be chosen to the music of Bob Daugherty and his seven piece orchestra. Daugherty and his musicians pleased a large crowd at a dance last night and plans are being made to entertain another large group tomorrow night.

The regular price of 25 cents admission and a cents per dance will be charged for the dance Saturday night.

If you haven't heard Bob Daugherty there is a treat in store for you tomorrow night. He has been playing in various parts of the country and brings a well trained group of musicians to play for the dance this week.

W. J. Peterson of Berger was a Pampa visitor last night.

Franklin Montgomery of Skellytown visited with friends here last night.

Education Week Observed by Crowds at P-TA Programs

SAM HOUSTON UNIT ATTENDED BY ABOUT 150

NEW TREND IN SCHOOL POLICY IS TOPIC OF SPEAKER

Modern trends in American education were discussed by a guest speaker, Mrs. Roy Wallrabenstein, at the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association observed national education week in its meeting yesterday.

Looking forward to book week, the association gave $25 to buy new books for the school library. Principal A. L. Patrick explained the plan of selecting books, and showed an exhibit of children's books from which the list will be selected.

Attendance of about 150, an unusually large number, marked the meeting.

In her talk Mrs. Wallrabenstein stressed the fact that schools must not only keep abreast of the times, but ahead of the times to prepare citizens for conditions that will never be as they have in the past. Children must be trained to be emotionally stable as well as mentally poised for the future, she said.

She named as modern educational trends: Return of interest in the kindergarten, use of typewriters and other mechanical devices in schoolrooms, better methods of presenting subject matter, emphasis on simplicity and every-day beauty in art training, developing interest in worthy hobbies, and emphasis on the personality as well as training of the teacher.

Miss Llewellyn Shelby, school health director, spoke and presented a movie, "The Conquest of Diphtheria." An education week drill was presented by pupils of Miss Violet Durrett's room, and Miss Estelene Harris sang "Smilin' Thru," accompanied by Mrs. John Bradley.

This attendance award went to Mrs. L. C. Peddicord's room, which had 26 parents present, in a close race with Miss Durrett's room, with 25 representatives.

Class at LeFors Furnishes Room

LeFORS, Nov. 9.—Completion of a T. E. L. class room in the parsonage was planned when members of that Baptist class met Thursday with Mrs. M. S. Leach. Most women in the class have contributed to help complete the work.

After the business session, delicious refreshments were served. The next business meeting of the group will be on December 5.

Classes Entertained. Newly promoted members of the senior Sunday school class of the Baptist church were guests at a party given in their honor by the intermediate class in the home of Miss Aime Baxter Monday evening.

Refreshments were served after an evening spent playing games.

Melford Williams returned recently from Wyoming, where he has been stationed in a CCC camp.

The Rev. M. S. Leach and Mrs. Leach left Sunday night for San Antonio, to attend the Baptist state convention.

Hank Breining motored to Clarendon Sunday to get Mrs. Breining and sons, Chell and Berryman, who had been visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan went to Oklahoma Sunday to attend the funeral of a relative.

Mrs. George Hawthorne is in a hospital at Pampa receiving dental treatment.

Seabourne Graham of Arkansas is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thompson.

Pantomime to Be Given at Church
A special program directed by Mrs. R. E. Gatlin will be presented at the evening service of the Baptist church Sunday. It will be a pantomime, Christ Must Reign in Our Home. Mrs. T. F. Morton is stage director.
Mrs. Mary Binford will appear as the grandmother, Mrs. Gatlin as the mother, and Evelyn Morton as the daughter. Other characters are Mrs. Joe Foster, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Pearce, Miss Nolan Harris, Herman Crocker, J. A. Arwood, and Morton.
A male quartet will furnish special music to open and close the pantomime. It will follow the regular song service, with Raymond Culp directing the congregational singing.

Principal Speaks

Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of Horace Mann school, was one of the speakers on a "Know Your School" program given by the Parent-Teacher association there yesterday in observance of national education week. She spoke of the assets and needs of Horace Mann school.

Recent Work of Pupils Told in a Mock Broadcast

A program in the form of a radio broadcast was given by fifth grade pupils of Mrs. M. K. Griffith and Miss Frances McCue at Horace Mann school Tuesday afternoon, with parents as guests.

For the past eight weeks their work has centered around a South American unit. The following verses are selected from a poem to suggest parts of the work enjoyed by the pupils:

The fifth grades of Horace Mann school would like to have your attention while some facts about their work. They gladly and proudly mention:

A South American unit we announce with greatest pleasure. It has caused us much hard work but joy in fullest measure.

The South American continent we visited, in imagination, and we know there's nothing more beautiful.

In all of God's creation, we watched them make Panama hats. (And they don't come from Panama); We pulled bananas off their stalks. The largest you ever saw.

The sources of rubber and cocoa we found, is from tall trees. We saw a coffee plantation, though not with the greatest of ease.

A trip down the Amazon river we found not particularly gay. As there is nothing available to keep heat and mosquitoes away.

We ran from a boa constrictor that measured 15 feet long! And we saw, at a safe distance, A jaguar, deadly and strong.

Of all the places we visited Peru seemed the most magnetic. Perhaps because for this country we feel most sympathetic.

Co-Eds Are Getting Shorter and Fatter

CANYON, Nov. 9.—The co-eds of West Texas Teachers college are getting fatter and shorter.

Miss Ruth Cross, head of the physical education department for women at the college found in a recent inspection that the average heights of the freshman girls of this year is 63.72 inches, compared to the average height of the girls of 1933 which was 63.94. The present average weight is 121 pounds, while the average of last year was 118 pounds. The number of girls immunized against communicable diseases has increased 6 per cent. The number having defective teeth averaged 8 out of every 100.

Strangely enough, with the rise in the average weight there is a contradictory rise of almost 50 per cent in the number of underweight girl students. Except for this condition, the inspection reports favorably, according to Miss Cross. All girls ranking 10 per cent or more underweight have been called together and given instructions as to proper eating, sleeping, and rest.

Homemaker Has Duty to Family Outside Kitchen

A woman's mission as a homemaker is not fulfilled when she merely sees that her family is well-fed and clothed. Her higher duty is concerned also with children's recreation. So believes Beulah Mackey Yates, nationally known expert on food and home economics who is to speak this newspaper's Happy Kitchen cooking school at the city auditorium on November 19, 20, and 21.

"From the earliest childhood our treasured recollections of our parents are those when they forgot their grown-up duties and romped and played with us," says Miss Yates. "This play obligation on the part of the mother does not end when the children start to school."

"The modern homemaker, however, realizes that her cooking and other household duties must be efficiently done so that she may have free hours for her own, as well as her children's recreation.

"The privilege of being a true homemaker is woman's greatest privilege. It is a profession in itself and should be taken just as seriously as any man's profession. The real homemaker keeps pace with the newest trends in her profession and takes as much care in planning her meals to meet the needs of each member of her family as the doctor or lawyer would take with his clients."

In short, as Mrs. Yates will show you when the Happy Kitchen cooking school opens in this city, the kitchen is a laboratory wherein the homemaker uses scientific methods in preparing meals which not only please the tastes of her family, but guarantee their health as well.

Admission to the Happy Kitchen cooking school will be free—and there will be no obligation of any sort.

Baby Contest Is Kid Party Stunt

A contest for the "prettiest babies" featured the kid party enjoyed by Livingston B. Y. P. U. and a number of guests at First Baptist church Tuesday evening. Ed Cassada and Kathryn Covington received the prizes.

Kid costumes and kid games featured the kid party which refreshments were served to close the evening.

Visitors present were Betty Elkins, Betty Sue Price, Arlene Elliott, Dale Elkins, Elaine Murphy, Ruth Wilson, Marie Buzby, Jack Cunningham, Lewis Starke, Mr. John Bell, Jr., Mrs. John Peacock.

Girl Scouts See Indian Matinee

Instead of having their usual meeting Wednesday afternoon, Girl Scouts of the Cactus troop went to La Nora theater to see the performance of the Taos Indians.

The troop also went to the theater after a short business meeting at high school cafeteria. They planned to dress dolls for distribution to underprivileged children Christmas, and also discussed a play showing Girl Scout ideals, which they will present soon.

Their next meeting will be with Byron Dodson, 615 N. Gray, next Wednesday. A new member, Maurice McClements, was welcomed to the troop.

Others present for the meeting and matinee party were Martha Price, Dorothy Thomas, Peggy Stephens, Peggy Thompson, Jackie Hurst, Marjorie McCole, Byron Dodson, Elizabeth Mullinax, Carolyn Surratt, Mary Lynn Schofield, Mattie Brown, Thelma Mae and Yelma P. Osborn, Mary Kate Bourland, and the captain, Mrs. R. A. Selby.

ALL SCHOOLS HAVE SHARE OF VISITING PARENTS THROUGH NATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK

Handreds of patrons became more familiar with work of the Pampa schools and organization of the public school system of the United States this week, as classes were open to visitors and Parent-Teacher units sponsored programs observing national education week.

All schools here invited parents to visit regular classes and also special programs stressing education.

At E. M. Baker school the week was filled with varied programs. Fourth, fifth, and sixth grades had chapel Tuesday with Supt. R. B. Fisher and Principal J. A. Meek as speakers.

First three grades had their chapel Wednesday with demonstration classes featured. Band mothers were entertained by their children Thursday with a reception and demonstration of band progress. The band will go to Briscoe tonight to aid in an education week program of that school.

About 250 parents visited this week, and all members of the school board were among the special visitors. They saw rooms and halls decorated with exhibition material. A drive for members was conducted by the Parent-Teacher association in connection with the week.

More than 300 parents visited at Woodrow Wilson during the week. They saw the special visiting day, and an especially large number were present then to see regular classwork.

Chapel hours were devoted to special programs; pupils worked on special projects that included trips to local plants; and an educational movie was shown at 1:30 Friday afternoon.

A chapel program this morning climaxed the week at Horace Mann. About 250 visitors called during the week to see the special demonstration classes.

Fifth grades gave their program Tuesday in radio broadcast form, and other rooms were opened to visitors with special programs yesterday.

The Parent-Teacher program there yesterday also stressed the education week theme. Teachers expressed the appreciation to parents for their cooperation and response to observance of the week.

Sam Houston classes were open to parents all week, and visitors also were invited for special hours by some rooms. About 200 registered.

Chapel programs were on the national theme, and were attended by many visitors.

The Junior high school announced open house at the beginning of the week, and has had visitors every day.

Texas Military College Headed For 1935 Title

TERRELL, Nov. 9.—The Texas Military college "Bulldogs" football team on which Henry Will (Hoot) Fullingth of Pampa is first string left end, is making another bid for the conference championship this fall. "Hoot" is playing his second year as a regular on the team. Last year he played at the center position.

The Bulldogs have played six games this season and lost one, that to Howard Payne of Brownwood, senior college, which is topped to win its conference title. T. M. C. has defeated Abilene Christian college, St. Mary's of San Antonio, Paris Junior college, S. M. U. freshmen, Barksdale Flying field of Shreveport, La.

They will play Ranger Junior college at Terrell tonight and thereafter John Farleton Agricultural college, Weatherford college, Rice freshmen, and Decatur Baptist college, all of which they defeated by large scores last season. Frank Bridges, formerly head coach at Baylor and Simmons, is coach of the Bulldogs. Next year he will coach at St. Mary's of San Antonio, and take most of his 1934 team with him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wheeler returned yesterday from a business trip to Dallas.

Mrs. J. E. Sutton of LeFors spent this morning shopping here.

LOCAL SCHOOL DISCUSSED AT HORACE MANN

PATRONS, OFFICIALS JOIN IN PANEL PROGRAM

More than 100 adults enjoyed the "Know Your School" program of Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association yesterday. Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, state chairman of school education in the association, was leader.

She conducted a panel discussion by asking questions of school and Parent-Teacher officials. Supt. R. B. Fisher explained the national, state, and county organization of the public school system. He also told how schools are financed.

Qualifications of school board members was discussed by J. M. Daugherty, member of the Pampa board. He recalled that the district had only the red building on high school campus, and six teachers on the payroll when he came to Pampa.

TOOK PILLS FOR 30 YEARS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF
Mr. Forsythe Endorses ALL-BRAN for Constipation

If you suffer from headaches, loss of appetite and energy or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read this voluntary letter:
"After taking pills and tablets for about thirty years for constipation, I started to take your ALL-BRAN three times a day according to directions. Today I can eat cheese, and that is binding, and certainly feel fine."—Mr. Ed. Forsythe, Box 219, Youngstown, N. Y.
Science says ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using patent medicines—so often habit-forming?
Just eat two tablespoons daily. In serious cases use with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

RICKENBACKER FLIES ACROSS CONTINENT IN TWELVE HOURS

SPEED RECORD MADE BY ACE IS SHATTERED

PLANE AVERAGES 221 MILES PER HOUR DURING DAY

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 9. (AP)—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker's prophecy of a new transcontinental speed record for transport planes has come true.

After breakfasting in Los Angeles, the war ace with two co-pilots and three passengers flew into the Newark airport last night in his big twin-motored "Douglas" biplane, Florida Flyer, "all set for flight in New York." His time was 12 hours, 3 minutes and 50 seconds.

They took off from the Union airport, at 8:42 a. m. Eastern standard time yesterday, and landed at 8:45:50 p. m., cutting 53 minutes and 10 seconds from Rickenbacker's old record.

Flying over the Transcontinental Western Airlines course with a 12-minute stop at Kansas City for refueling, the ship averaged 221 miles an hour. It maintained an average altitude of 14,000 feet.

"At one point over the Rockies we hit 17,000 feet," said Rickenbacker. "Then we had to use the oxygen tanks, but just for a few minutes. Our top speed was 237 miles an hour."

Yesterday's flight was made to show how speedily, yet safely, the trip may be made.

GET WISE, BOB, PLAY SAFE WITH KIRK'S CASTLE IT'S ODORLESS!

ENDS BODY ODOR Leaves No After-Smell

It isn't the smell of a soap that gets you clean—it's the lather. Ordinary toilet soaps don't lather freely enough in this hard water. When they yield only a sticky soap curd that does no real penetration in lather of removing it. Kirk's Castle, a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, gives you a lather even in hard, cold water—goes deep into pores and sets free the stale perspiration curd. Instead of your body is fresh and odorless. Try Kirk's Castle. A 50% larger cake at a round like price!

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Corner Kingsmill and West Streets.

Bible school meeting by departments at 9:45. At 11 o'clock Mr. R. B. Fisher will speak on "The Responsibility of the Church and Home in Education for Tomorrow."

Mr. Fisher is not only an ardent supporter of the schools, but of the church. He is a member of the Methodist church, but he belongs to all of us and is ever willing to lend all possible assistance for the largest possible service. It is the close of national education week, and therefore makes it a timely hour as well as a fortunate man to speak. Training service meets at 6:15 and the evening hour at 7:30.

FISHER GIVES SCHEDULE OF ADULT SCHOOL

FACTS PERTAINING TO EES ARE ALSO PRESENTED

For the information of those who are becoming interested in the Emergency Educational school, some important facts are presented by the local director, Supt. R. B. Fisher.

The term Emergency Educational school is used by the government in providing the educational opportunities at this time to adults. It is an adult educational school such as has already become a permanent institution in many cities of the United States and Europe. It is NOT for the unemployed exclusively, but enrollment is open to all who are desirous of continuing their educational training, whether married or single. As soon as the school has become sufficiently organized and advanced in line with the necessary requirements, high school credit can be given.

Removals and irregular attendance at present are working a hardship on convenience upon both teachers and students who are already in class work, and on some who are enrolled and are waiting for those who have enrolled but who are not attending, as no class can be conducted which does not have an average attendance of eight.

Some who have enrolled for mechanical drawing and others for dressmaking are anxious to begin class work but cannot until several more have entered the classes. About 50 have signed enrollment cards and signified the classes desired, but have never entered the classes for which they enrolled. These should enter at once in order that others who are waiting may be permitted to go on.

Those who are desirous of attending this school, and who have not already enrolled, are urged to do so at once. Enrollment is made each evening after 6 o'clock in the office of the superintendent in the high school building where all classes are conducted.

The use of books is optional with the individual student, although a text book is much preferred. Tuition is free in all classes except shorthand and bookkeeping. Continuing service meets at 6:15 and the evening hour at 7:30.

EVERYMAN'S BIBLE CLASS
Meeting at City Hall at 9:45 a. m. The theme of the thinking people of America for the past week has been the education of the youth for tomorrow. In keeping with it, the Men's Bible class will observe particularly the training and education of boys. Mr. A. G. Post and Mr. C. A. Clark will both speak. A male quartet will sing.

merical subjects cannot be taught free in adult educational schools. For these two subjects a nominal tuition fee is required.

Following is the present schedule:

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings, 6:30 to 8—grammar in room 301, elementary arithmetic in room 204.

7 to 8 p. m.—Beginners Spanish in room 302, advanced spelling in room 309, letter writing or typing in room 307, shorthand in room 308.

8 to 9 p. m.—Beginners French in room 302, penmanship and spelling in room 309, letter writing or typing in room 307.

8 to 9:30—Fundamentals of arithmetic in room 309, every day government (commercial law) in room 302, shorthand in room 308.

Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6:30 to 8—Grammar in room 301, second year Spanish in room 302, arithmetic in room 204, art in the home in room 309, letter writing or typing in room 307, bookkeeping in room 308.

8 to 9:30—General psychology in room 302, Texas history in room 304, grammar in room 307, public speaking in room 806.

Classes will be started in other subjects as soon as enrollment is made.

JUST AS YOU SAY

ATLANTA, Ga.—Somebody, not one of the congregation, took the Rev. W. H. Davis at his word when he preached: "If a man will ask for thy coat let him have your cloak also." The minister dwelt at length on this quotation during services at the fashionable Druid Hills Baptist church. Then he found that his hat and coat had disappeared from the church.

1,500 KELLOGG WHEAT BISCUIT COUPONS MAILED TO RESIDENTS

Fifteen hundred valuable coupons have been mailed this week to residents of Pampa by the Kellogg company of Battle Creek, Michigan. Each coupon is good for one package of Kellogg's Whole Wheat Biscuits with the purchase of one package from Pampa merchants.

The object in mailing the coupons at this time is to acquaint the people of Pampa with the quality of this shredded wheat biscuit. The package contains fifteen biscuits, toasted on both sides, and is sold by Pampa merchants.

Dean Cook of Canadian was a Pampa business visitor yesterday.

Long-Used Laxative

To be bought and used as needed for many, many years, speaks well for the reliability of Theodor's Black-Draught, purely vegetable family laxative. Mr. C. E. Radtiff writes from Hinton, W. Va.: "My wife and I have used Theodor's Black-Draught thirty-five years for constipation,—tired feeling and headache. I use it when I feel my system needs cleaning. After all these years, I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught." Sold in 25-cent packages. Theodor's BLACK-DRAUGHT "CHILDREN LIKE THE STRIP"

RICE AGE MAY NOT PLAY IN PORKER GAME

McCAULEY SUFFERING FROM BOIL ON HIS INSTEP

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southwest conference football aggregations taper off today for tomorrow's three championship battles, one of which will be a very crucial one.

At Fayetteville where Rice and Arkansas play, the titular race may be determined. A victory for Rice means curtains for Arkansas. A triumph for the Razorbacks will put them in front and give them the honor of being the first 1934 team to trim Rice.

It is not definitely known whether John McCauley, Rice's smart quarterback, will play. He is suffering from a boil on his instep and will be handicapped even though he gets into the lineup. All other players of both teams are primed, eager and determined to play the best football of their careers.

Having spent much time polishing their forward pass plays, the Southern Methodist Mustangs will take a light drill to taper off for their annual clash with the Texas A. and M. Aggies. It will be homecoming day for Southern Methodist. While both teams have a few injured players, most of them will be in condition to play if needed. The game will be preceded by a downtown parade of the 1,600 cadets, the A. and M. band, and the Southern Methodist band.

Baylor at Austin against the University of Texas is the other titular game. The Longhorns, with Bohn Hilliard and Jack Gray ready to play, are overwhelming favorites to take the Bears without much trouble.

Texas Christian journeys to New Orleans for a set-off against Loyola.

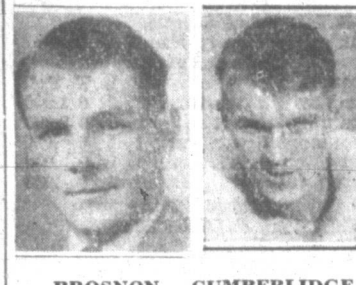

Prescott Bush New President Of U. S. Golf

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Prescott S. Bush of New York is to be the next president of the United States Golf association. Bush was nominated yesterday to succeed Herbert

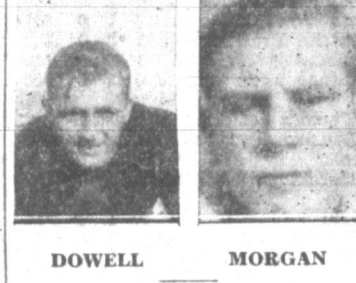

Meet Tonight

RUSH TOLLIVER

BROSNON CUMBERLIDGE

DOWELL MORGAN

Above are the brains, power, and speed of the McLean Tigers and LeFors Pirates who will clash tonight at LeFors at 8 o'clock. Rush, veteran McLean coach, will be matching brains with Bronson for the first time. Tolliver is the Pirate fullback and Cumberlidge fills the same position for LeFors. Dowell provides the speed in the McLean backfield with Morgan doing the same job for LeFors.

Jacques de Boston, President for the past two years. Bush, who has been secretary and vice president of the organization, heads a slate composed of John G. Jackson and Archie M. Reid of New York, vice presidents; Frank M. Hardt, Philadelphia, secretary; Harold W. Pierce, Boston, treasurer; and Morton G. Bogue, New York, counsel. All but Hardt and Reid, who was secretary in 1933-34, were renominated for their present positions. Hardt is a newcomer on the slate. P. M. Jenks of LeFors was a Pampa business visitor this morning.

LEFORS AND McLEAN CLASH IN CRUCIAL GAME TONIGHT

MORGAN BACK BUT GUARD IS ILL WITH FLU

IMPORTANT BATTLE IN CLASS B TO BE IN LEFORS

LeFors and McLean high school football teams will clash in one of the big games of the Class B football race tonight at 8 o'clock under the lights at Shaw field in LeFors. A few reserve seats are still available at 50 cents.

Joy about the return of Morgan, right halfback who was expected to be out of the game, was short-lived when it was learned that Maness, left guard, had been taken to his home after reporting at school this morning with a temperature well over the 100 mark. An attending physician said that it looked like influenza and that it would be doubtful if Maness could play tonight.

Morgan was called to East Texas Tuesday by the death of a relative and was not expected to return until after the game. The little flash, however, drove all day yesterday and most of last night to get to LeFors. Although he will be allowed to rest today, he will not be at his best tonight after the long ride and it may be that Hall will start at the halfback position.

The McLean team is all primed for the big game and is doped to win. Dowell, speedy halfback, will be in the game. It was definitely announced this morning, G. McCarty, flashy center, will also be in the starting lineup. Both boys have been on the injured list for the last three games. Their presence in the lineup should give McLean victory.

It will be a scrapping Pirate football team that will meet the favored Tigers. LeFors has shown a smooth offense and a great defense all season to be undefeated and have its goal line crossed only once to date.

McLean has lost two games, one to Shamrock and the other to Tulla, both by scores of 6 to 0. McLean has had a tougher schedule than the Pirates.

The probable starting lineups:
LeFors Pos. McLean
Hearn LE Greer
E. Mathis LT H. McCarty

O. Mathis LG Cunningham
Moore C G. McCarty
Howell RT Andrews
Lodwin RT Johnson
Flynn RE Stratton
Still QB Christian
Robertson LH Dowell
Morgan or Hall RH Jackson
Cumberlidge FB Tolliver

Joe Kopecky To Meet Burns On Tuesday Night

Joe Kopecky, old favorite of Pampa wrestling fans, (maybe) will return to Pampa Tuesday night after a long absence and will be pitted against Cyclone Burns, one of the best middleweights in the world.

The semi-final will see two of Tex Watkins' victims meeting when Jack Purdin, loser last week, tangles with Art Perkins, victim of two weeks ago.

Lobo Brown, wild Amarillo youngster, will come back in the preliminary, this time with another Irishman, Sonny O'Sullivan of Kansas City. The two preliminary boys will crawl through the ropes at 8:15 o'clock.

The Taylor cotton picker, Kopecky, has been on a tour of the eastern and central states where he has been showing his oldtime speed and ability to wrestle or rough. When here last, Kopecky looked as if he were slipping. Now reports come that he is back to his old style of grappling.

Kopecky's opponent from Tennessee is known the world over as one of the greatest in his class. He is a cyclone in every respect. He is fast, clever, and can give a wrestling exhibition or a roughing match to meet the other fellow's idea of the occasion.

One-Year Old Son Of Laymans Dies

Jimmie Lee Layman, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Layman, 400 East Malone street, died in a local hospital last night following a brief illness. The family have been residents of Pampa for six months.

The body will be sent overland to Chickasha, Okla., this afternoon by the G. C. Malone Funeral home. The parents survive.
W. B. Hamilton of Amarillo was a visitor here Wednesday.

BARKER PICKS RICE TO BEAT PORKER SQUAD

STANFORD CHOSEN TO SNATCH VICTORY FROM HUSKIES

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—There are few soft spots in this week's football program, with a heavy intersectional slate to complicate the weekly task gridiron selectors have set for themselves. From this corner, prospects seem to be about as follows:

Colgate-Tulane: Undefeated and untied Tulane brings another strong array into the north to face Andy Kerr's football magicians, beaten only by Ohio State. This flier on Colgate is based on the Red Raiders' tricky attack.

Notre Dame-Navy: On the face of the returns Navy looks strong enough to protect its perfect record. But playing a hunch, strictly, this ball goes to Notre Dame.

Nebraska-Pitt: Always 25 per cent more formidable at Lincoln than abroad, Nebraska has had two weeks to get ready for this one. Whether the Cornhuskers can stop Pitt's swivel-hipped backs, however, remains to be seen. A vote for the Panther.

Harvard-Army: The Crimson has shown nothing yet to indicate it can halt Jack Buckler and company. Stanford-Washington: The Pacific Coast conference title may hang on this one. Washington's close call with Oregon State was not calculated to raise the Huskies' hopes against Stanford. A nod in Stanford's direction.

Rice-Arkansas: Rice apparently is one of the country's strongest teams this year and gets the call here despite the Razorbacks' well-known strength in their own back yard at Fayetteville.

Syracuse-Michigan State: One perfect record will be ruined here and the guess here is that it will be Syracuse's.
Minnesota-Indiana: It would be a football miracle if Minnesota dropped this one.
Yale-Georgia: Georgia aims at its fifth successive triumph over Old Eli, something no school ever has achieved. If Yale can strike the same high level of play it reached against Dartmouth, the southerners are in for a tough afternoon. An exceeding timid ballot for the Elis. George Washington-Louisiana State: Probably close but Louisiana is favored.

Purdue-Iowa: The Boilerhakers, in full stride now, look too good.

Temple-Carnegie: Pop Warner's Owls to avenge last year's beating by Carnegie.

Ohio State-Chicago: Ohio State, after a brisk battle.

Illinois-Northwestern: Faced with a chance for at least a tie for the Big Ten title, the Illini should not falter here.

Washington State-Idaho: Washington State should still be in the Pacific Coast running after this game.

Alabama-Clemson: Alabama, handily.

Auburn-Georgia Tech: Auburn, but it may be nip-and-tuck.

Fordham-West Virginia: Fordham's upset victory over Tennessee makes the Rams favorites for this one.

Southern California-California: Two big disappointments collide here. If there's any edge, perhaps it belongs to California.

Oregon-Oregon State: Another close one in prospect. Out of the hat, Oregon.

Tennessee-Mississippi State: Tennessee, comfortably.

Vanderbilt-Sewanee: Likewise Vanderbilt.

Florida-Mississippi: Evenly matched rivals here with Florida perhaps rating a halfline edge.

Texas A. & M.-Southern Methodist: The Aggies have sprung two successive upsets but this looks like one for S. M. U.

Texas-Baylor: Texas, depending on the trusty coin, Michigan.

Kansas State-Missouri: More woe for Missouri.

Oklahoma-Iowa State: A shade, perhaps, for Iowa State.

Utah-Colorado University: Stringing along with the champions, Utah, but it probably will be close.

Washington and Lee-Virginia: W. and L.'s Generals.

Princeton-Lehigh: The Tigers in a "breather."

Dartmouth-New Hampshire: Ditto.

HELEN JACOBS SETTLES DOWN IN LONDON TO WRITE SOME

BY GAYLE TALBOT.

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Helen Jacobs, queen of America's tennis courts for the last three years, has settled down in a cozy Kensington flat here for the winter, to do a little writing and, perhaps, put a little extra polish on her game.

The writing comes first. Later, when the back injury she suffered in practice at Forest Hills has healed completely, she intends to take some lessons from Dan Maskell, coach of England's championship Davis cup team, and might even take a jaunt down to South Africa to play in the championships at Capetown.

She will not, at any rate, return to the United States until after the Wimbledon championships next summer. She loves London, says Helen, and has come over with every intention of getting her fill.

"I want to see one of these famous London fogs," she said.

The Ruthless Wastage of Our Natural Gas Into the Air By "STRIPPING PLANTS" Is Like Killing All Our Cattle

For Their Hoofs To Make Knife Handles!

To get less than one-third of a gallon of gasoline out of every 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas, the horde of Panhandle "stripping plants" throw to the winds each day enough of this irreplaceable fuel to supply the ENTIRE UNITED STATES—like shooting registered Herefords for their hoofs to make knife handles. This one-third gallon of gasoline is worth less than 1c wholesale. To secure this trace of gasoline, 1,000 cubic feet of gas is WASTED INTO THE AIR! Ten years from now, or sooner, this amount of gas could cost Panhandle homes 75c to $1.00.

Do YOU want to go back to the coal scuttle—to the high cost, soot and inconvenience of coal heating! The Panhandle is coming to that—and appallingly soon—if the tremendous and rapidly growing wastage into the air of our natural gas reserve is not stopped.

Furthermore, our oil reserves will go even sooner, and with them all of the people and industries dependent upon the oil field. Oil production in the Panhandle field is based on sufficient gas pressure to bring the crude oil to the well bores—and already this pressure is down from 430 to 200 pounds per square inch in a strip extending from LeFors to Stinnett.

This destruction of our valuable natural gas reserve is made possible at this time because of an ill-advised act passed by the state legislature last year. But, there is yet time to save much of our great Panhandle oil and gas field—provided we act, and act quickly! The opposition on the part of the "stripping plant" interests is very strong—but if YOU and all other far-sighted citizens of the Panhandle will help, this waste can be stopped, and stopped quickly!

Here's How You Can Help Save Our Natural Gas Field . . .

You can help stop this gigantic wastage! Your new governor and representatives in the State Legislature would like to know your views. So communicate immediately with Hon. Jas. V. Allred, Austin, Tex.; with your State Senator, Hon. C. C. Small, Amarillo, Tex.; and with your State Representative. (The names and addresses of State Representatives in the Panhandle are: Hon. H. K. Stanfield, Amarillo, Tex.; Hon. B. L. Rogers, Farnsworth, Tex.; Hon. A. B. Farwater, Plainview, Tex.; Hon. Eugene Worley, Shamrock, Tex.) Ask that immediate legislative steps be taken to stop this colossal destruction! Also write to us today for additional facts.

"WESTERN CODE"

NEW YORK IS ENTITLED TO CHAIR CLAIM

SOUTH HAS BEEN IN SADDLE 4 YEARS THEY ASSERT

By TECH E. DICKSON (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The first sign of internal rivalry in the democratic party since Tuesday's victory raised it to its highest pinnacle appeared today. Certain democrats north of the Mason-Dixon line opened a determined drive to capture the speakership of the house, for which the south also is contending.

Declaring that the south has been "in the saddle" for four years because it held the majority leadership and the chairmanships of all major committees, these democrats ask more power. They emphasize that northern democrats now have more seats than the south.

Representative Martin J. Kennedy, Tammany democrat who disclosed the drive, said he believes "New York is entitled to the speakership."

This development topped a list of others as Tuesday's smashing triumph for President Roosevelt's party opened almost limitless possibilities.

1. James A. Farley, democratic chairman, predicted that Mr. Roosevelt would be re-elected in 1936 by a verdict "practically unanimous." The republican party, he said, "is positively through."

2. The American Liberty league, quiet before the election, jumped into the picture when its president, J. Foster Shouse, said at Lexington, Ky., that it would launch this month a drive for 1,000,000 members. Denying emphatically that the league "was organized in definite opposition to the present administration," he said it would "oppose any attempt at a perversion of American principles" "no matter from what source such attempt may come."

3. Senator "young Bob" LaFollette planned a lecture tour to tell people the economic principles that prompted him to start his new progressive party. The senator, who favors a huge program of public works, still remained silent about the conversation he had with President Roosevelt at luncheon yesterday. Some thought it might have touched on the forthcoming plans for social security.

4. President Roosevelt, saying nothing about Tuesday's plebiscite, continued to attack such problems as the budget, relief, public works. With 17,000,000 persons on relief rolls, half of them getting outright relief, officials are ready to put more emphasis on work relief the moment the word comes from the White House. A swing away from the dole to work relief is noticeable.

5. Republicans are thinking a great deal about the future of their crippled party. Henry P. Fletcher, national chairman, was in New York to confer with leaders. Though men like Senator Borah were calling for drastic reorganization along more liberal lines, there was no sure sign yet of what would be done. LaFollette and others foresaw a new alignment of a national scale.

6. Two contests for congress were still undecided. Senator Bronson Cutting, independent republican, still ran ahead of his democratic rival, Dennis Chavez, in New Mexico, and a seat in New York now held by a democrat was in doubt. But neither could affect materially the landslide which gave the democrats about four-fifths of the major offices in the country.

The contest for the speakership may develop, some observers feel, to a point where the White House will have to step in. Up to now three southerners have been considered in the lead for the post left vacant by the death last summer of Speaker Henry T. Rainey of Illinois.

They are: Representatives Byrnes of Tennessee, party floor leader; Bankhead of Alabama, chairman of the rules committee, and Rayburn of Texas, chairman of the commerce committee. The only northern member to announce formally is Representative Mead of New York.

Representative Kennedy said he had conferred with a number of northern and eastern representatives and "all feel that if the speakership does not come to the north, at least it is entitled to the majority leadership."

"Most of Tuesday's gains in democratic seats were made in northern states while some of the southern border states lost to republicans," Kennedy said. "Northern states now have 150 democrats, southern states 129 and western states 44."

"It was the New York delegation that made it possible for Speaker Rainey and majority leader Byrnes to be elected two years ago," he asserted. "Now it is time that their followers help the New York delegation elect a speaker."

Whether the White House will take a hand in the speakership contest, which has been going on quietly since Rainey's death, is a question engrossing some of the candidates. It is known that administration political advisers want a strong leadership to handle the huge democratic majority. Thus far the White House has kept "hands off."

Besides Bankhead, Burns, Rayburn, and Mead, Rankin of Mississippi, Greene of Florida, Jones of Texas, Sabath of Illinois, and a willingness to run. Other possibilities mentioned are McCormack of Massachusetts, Woodrum of Virginia, Crosser of Ohio, Lea of California and Warren of North Carolina.

Talk that Arthur H. Vandenberg, the republican senator who retained his seat in Michigan while colleagues were biting the dust, might be the next G. O. P. presidential candidate drew a shake of the head from Chairman Farley of the democrats.

"They will have difficulty finding a man to make the sacrifice," Farley said. "Vandenberg is too smart. And he didn't do so good, his majority was cut from 600,000 to 75,000."

Farley, interviewed yesterday, stuck his neck behind his ear and was never at a loss for an answer to reporters who tried a bit of hazing.

"It was a good campaign; lots of fun," he remarked.

"And cheap," a newsman hazarded.

"Very cheap."

"What are you going to do about giving all these new democrats jobs?"

"Oh, we'll see that everybody who deserves to be taken care of is taken care of."

The results, he said, were a great victory for the president; practically all the prominent foes of the new deal "who went around making speeches are out."

EMERSON BAND TO RETURN TO PLA-MOR SOON

What is billed as "the peer of all dance bands" will furnish the music for an Armistice dance at the Pla-Mor auditorium Monday. Ralph Emerson and his Gulf Coast recording orchestra will return to Pampa for the big gala Monday night affair.

The dance will be a balloon dance and the regular price of 25 cents admission and 5 cents per dance will be charged.

Emerson and his orchestra has provided music for dances in Pampa previously and many have claimed that his was the best orchestra which has played in Pampa. The orchestra is a national favorite, containing eleven of America's leading musicians, and is conceded by many to be the biggest dance attraction of the year.

The orchestra is a favorite of the Hotel Holt, Wichita Falls; Capitol Beach, Lincoln, Neb.; Club Ticondo, Chicago; Del Rio, Dallas; Rosehill Club, New York; and the Venetian Ballroom, Lake County, St. Joseph, Mo.

A big evening is planned for those who attend the ballroom dance at the Pla-Mor Monday night. Plans are being made to care for a large crowd and to provide for a "large" evening. (Adv.)

LEADERSHIP OF BOTH PARTIES WILL BE SAME

MORE DEMOCRATS TO BE PLACED ON COMMITTEES

By D. HAROLD OLIVER. WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—

Top leadership of both parties will remain the same when the new senate organizes. It was learned today, but the grand slam which the democrats scored Tuesday will require much shuffling of the cards to deal out their posts.

"Joe" Robinson of Arkansas is expected to head a virtual three-fourths majority and "Charley" McNary of Oregon to command the little band of republicans left after the election.

But the democrats have to pick an assistant leader to take the place of the late John Kendrick of Wyoming, and the republicans must choose an assistant leader and whip because of the defeat of Fess of Ohio and Hebert of Rhode Island.

The slaughter of republicans has left 47 committee vacancies. With not enough republicans to go around and 13 new democrats to find places for, the democratic steering committee must increase the already top-heavy majorities on committees.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan is considered the logical choice for assistant to McNary. Senator Hale of Maine, who won by a hair in September's election, is the senior among the regular republicans. Observers believe he will be whip unless the independents, with their new power, figure in the organization.

This is regarded as unlikely. Senator Byrnes of South Carolina, who frequently is consulted by President Roosevelt, is believed in line for assistant democratic leader.

Two democratic chairmanships are vacant because of the defeat of Stephens in the Mississippi primary and the retirement of Dill of Washington. Stephens headed commerce and Dill, interstate commerce.

Copeland of New York may get the chairmanship of the commerce committee. The interstate commerce post, more important next session because there may be new railroad legislation, may go to Wheeler of Montana.

TICKLING TOM

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—It's a ticklish job police have, trying to find the man who has annoyed half a dozen women in suburban Clarion. The women told police the man entered their bedrooms, gently lifted the covers at the bottom of their beds, tickled their feet, and fled.

One woman said she would try to aid police in catching the tickler by wrapping her feet in flypaper before retiring.

ORDER REIGNS IN FRANCE AS FLANDIN RULES

MOB RATHER QUIET AS TALL PREMIER IS GIVEN OATH

By STUART MORONEY. Associated Press Foreign Staff.

PARIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—The swiftly organized cabinet of Pierre-Etienne Flandin, France's new six-and-one-half-foot premier, forged ahead of the specter of national strife today.

The country at large watched quietly as the cabinet took the oath from President Lebrun last night. It was sworn in only 12 hours after the government of Gaston Doumergue, venerable former president, resigned.

Losing no time, Flandin called his ministers to work today on a program to be submitted to parliament next Tuesday. Its chief plans are economic revival and reduction of unemployment.

The public was apparently generally satisfied. No violent disorders followed the popular Doumergue's downfall, although crowds here and in provincial cities cheered Doumergue and shouted "down with parliament."

Fears of troubles similar to the bloody street riots of last February were largely dissipated when the new government took the saddle so quickly. Heavy police patrols remained on the streets, however.

Attempts to start rioting, mostly by royalists, petered out here yesterday under rain and police fists. Fifty persons were arrested, only to be released later.

Although the new cabinet inclines more to the right than Doumergue's, the powerful radical-socialist party, blamed for yesterday's crisis, voted unanimously to support it. Even socialists appeared tractable.

Like Doumergue's, the cabinet of the 45-year-old Flandin is a "political truce" body, earnestly desired by the people in the face of distress at home and dangers abroad. It is the 97th cabinet since the third republic was proclaimed in 1870.

"The men I have gathered together," the premier said, "will forget party differences for one end—to fight against misery and unemployment."

Edouard Herriot, former premier and leader of the radical socialist party which broke with Doumergue, remains minister of state without portfolio. The radical socialists increased their cabinet membership from six to eight.

Pierre Laval, former premier who refused President Lebrun's request to form a cabinet, will continue in the vital post of minister of foreign affairs, which he assumed under Doumergue when Louis Barthou was shot to death at Marseille.

The cabinet includes 13 deputies, four senators, two army officers, and one civilian.

Health Program Told to Lions

Thorough physical examinations of all pupils in the Pampa schools, through cooperation of physicians, is the goal of the health department of the system, Miss L. Shelby, director, told local Lions yesterday.

Since physical education is taken by most of the pupils in some form, it is regarded as essential, for instance, that heart examinations be given. Right now there is a campaign for immunization against diphtheria, dread disease of childhood. Parents have been written letters explaining the campaign. Free inoculation is available to those unable to buy it.

As entertainment, Otto Studer, program chairman of the day, presented Mrs. Bob McCoy in vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. W. L. Erummett, and Harry Kelley's senior tumbler.

NEW MUSEUM SCHEDULE

CANYON, Nov. 9.—Beginning Thursday, November 15, the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society located here will be open to visitors according to its previous schedule; that is, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays from 2 to 6 p. m.

For the last several months the museum has been open each day of the week, but expense in keeping the building heated during the winter months has necessitated this reduction in visiting days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pearce were called to Plainview yesterday by the serious illness of his father, T. R. Pearce, who died at his home there last evening after a long illness.

EDITORIAL

HOW NEWSPAPERS VIEW NEW DEAL

Recently a thoroughly-drawn questionnaire was sent newspaper editors, bearing upon public acceptance of the new deal. The result, compared with the result of the general election, should be interesting. The masses of folks favor the democratic efforts over the republic promises, if any. At the same time, weaknesses of the new deal are many and well recognized. The new deal survey follows:

ARGUMENTS FOR

- 1. NRA a helpful influence because it:
 - a. Has restored confidence.
 - b. Stimulated business.
 - c. Increased purchasing power.
 - d. Established minimum wage.
 - e. Established maximum hours.
- 2. Federal Relief System a blessing:
 - a. Saved many communities from destruction.
 - b. Increased employment.
- 3. Excessive spending defended because:
 - a. It needs time to prove itself.
 - b. Industry and agriculture benefit by increased purchasing power.
 - c. Has helped to maintain high prices.
- 4. Administration at Washington:
 - a. President's popularity brought faith, hope and confidence.
 - b. Prevented Communism.
 - c. Prevented Socialism.
 - d. Prevented Fascism.
 - e. Principles of New Deal basically sound.
 - f. Mild dose of Socialism a benefit.
 - g. A fine humanitarian spirit in Washington.
 - h. Discipline for all is necessary.
 - i. New Deal is good for the majority.
 - j. Prevents accumulation of capital in hands of few.
 - k. Reform is inspiring.
 - l. A noble experiment.
 - m. Nobody else had a plan.
 - n. Regulated Wall Street.
- 5. General Benefit to communities have resulted from:
 - a. Bank insurance act.
 - b. Farmers saved by corn-hog and wheat allotments.
 - c. Youths encouraged by Civilian Conservation Corps.
 - d. TVA an asset in some communities.
 - e. Federal Emergency Relief Association helped thousands.
 - f. Housing act, a benefit.
 - g. Home Owners' Loan Corporation prevented tragedy.
 - h. PWA stimulated business, gave work to thousands.
 - i. NRA codes helped laborer and white collar worker.

- f. Too much experimentation.
 - g. Governmental bureaucracy is harmful.
 - h. Final result will be disastrous.
 - i. Roosevelt a vote seeker.
 - j. Threatens freedom of press.
- 6. Farmer:
 - a. Why interfere with nature?
 - b. Farm prices trebled but nothing to sell.
 - c. AAA has hurt farmer.
 - d. Drouth has been a help, not AAA.
 - e. AAA gains offset by higher prices.
 - f. Processing taxes opposed.
 - g. Farmer deprived of necessary labor because of dole.
 - h. Farmer deprived of necessary labor because he cannot pay higher prices for it.
 - i. Small farmer curtailed too much.
 - j. Destruction of crops and hogs sinful and wasteful.
 - 7. Price-fixing:
 - a. Very harmful.
 - b. People cannot meet rising costs with a stagnant income.
 - c. Small towns and small business seriously affected by higher costs.
 - d. Big business can withstand high prices.
 - 8. Labor:
 - a. Strikes.
 - b. General labor unrest.
 - c. Unfairness to employer.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS.

AUSTIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—Two members of the 43rd legislature are jockeying themselves into a position as potential candidates for speakership of the 45th legislature, although the race for presiding officers of the next legislature is far from being settled.

They are Reps. Bob Alexander of Childress and Emmet Morse of Houston. Alexander is active as a lieutenant in the camp of Rep. Bob Calvert of Hillsboro a candidate for speaker of the next legislature while Morse is a trusted aide of Coker R. Stevenson of Junction, seeking to break a precedent and succeed himself as speaker.

Morse was regarded as speaker-ship material by several of his colleagues, and a minor boom for his candidacy was started, but it died down when Stevenson announced for re-election.

Another member whose strategy is being watched is Rep. Albert Walker of Vernon. Walker is being urged to get in the present spirited contest between Calvert and Stevenson but thus far has shown no indication as to his intentions. It is known, however, that several members of the house have attached themselves to Walker and would support him for speaker. The group is comparatively small but Walker feels it is the nucleus for a dangerous campaign.

Should Walker keep out of the current speakership fight he also would be considered as a probable candidate for speaker of the 49th legislature.

Adherents of Speaker Stevenson are confident that he will win over Calvert and already claim several more votes than the 76 necessary to elect. They claim a majority of the old members and sufficient of the newly-elected legislators to clinch the election.

Calvert's adherents are just as confident of ultimate victory and assert they are in a favorable position to cop the victory.

There will be no let up on either side until after the election next January, both camps planning vigorous campaigns that will be interesting to observe.

One veteran has observed that the race already is the most heated in his experience and predicted it

Barbecue Will Be an Armistice Day Park Event

Armistice day, November 11, will be celebrated at Palo Duro Canyon State park through an old-fashioned barbecue.

Serving will begin at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and continue throughout the day. Adequate space and facilities have been arranged at the "Cow Camp," down in the canyon. The public is invited. Saddle horses will be available at the gate for those who wish to ride through the park, and a limited supply of tents are at the disposal of those wishing to make an over-night visit.

Palo Duro State park is accessible by surfaced road from Canyon to the park. There is also a good road from Amarillo via the Palisades.

A great amount of work has been expended upon the roads in the park recently, and they are fast becoming a pleasure to motorists. The descent into the canyon is a masterpiece of engineering and workmanship. The surprising beauties of this great natural park are daily becoming more accessible to visitors. What will you name it? International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: The Christian Citizen (Armistice Day).
 Scripture Lesson: Galatians 5:13-26.

13. For ye brethren, were called for freedom; only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love to be servants one to another.

14. For the whole law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

15. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16. But I say, Walk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.

17. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; that ye may not do the things that ye would.

18. But if ye are led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20. Idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, parties,

21. Envyings, drunkenness, revelings, and such like; of which I forewarn you, even as I did forewarn you, that they who practice such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, 23. Meekness, self-control; against such there is no law.

24. And they that are of Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with the passions and the lusts thereof.

25. If we live by the Spirit, by the Spirit let us also walk.

26. Let us not become vainglorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

Golden Text: All they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.—Matt. 26:52.

Introduction
 "Can we not make Armistice Day not only a day of remembrance for the great hosts of departed in all countries, but also a day of consecration of ourselves to the cause of peace? Can we not take a solemn vow that, with God's help, we will devote the rest of our lives to furthering the cause of world peace? How better could we remember the deeds of those who gave their lives for the war to end war?"—Evelyn Wrench, in "Radio Talks on Religion."

"Peace-loving people, east and west, look to America not only to preserve the foundations of the new international order, but to maintain its leadership in completing the edifice of world peace, so that future generations will be spared the curse of dissension, hatred and bloodshed between nations."—Chih Meng.

"We must wage peace, as men have waged war."—Herbert Hoover.

"Ye Devour One Another." v. 15.

"But if ye bite and devour one another." v. 15. To bite and to devour is to act like wild beasts. The most dreadful illustrations in all history of the pestil nature of war were supplied by the World War. All horrible devices were employed—the poisoning of wells, the use of deadly gases, the bombing of hospitals, the destruction of non-combatant villages and passenger ships, guns that hurled their death-dealing ammunition for scores of miles, submarines and airships that carried carnage into fields never before so harried, together with the dissemination of lies and slanders—by the wholesale, printed falsehood reduced to a science. "Take heed that ye be not consumed one of another." "Paul warns his readers, that if they so far forget the law of love as to act like wild beasts, they will thereby destroy their spiritual life and themselves."—Rev. Joseph Agar Beet, D. D. It is frequently noted by students of history that war never settles anything. It always leaves the nations engaged, even the victorious nations, worse off than when they began. The World War left behind it a bankrupt world. Paralysis settled down upon commerce. All good causes felt the malign influence. Public morals everywhere deteriorated. A thousand quarrels and turmoils of peace took the place of the disorders of war. Misery and want seized even the nations that had been the most prosperous and possessed the greatest resources. Never before had this Pauline saying been verified on a scale so gigantic.

Moses Forbids, Christ Commands
 "Moses, with his commandments like the ropes of Ulysses, holds us from following evil. Their word is, 'Thou shalt not.' Don't listen. Stop your ears, shut your eyes from evil. And Moses saved many. But there is a better Saviour, Jesus Christ. He says little of 'Don't,' but much of 'Do.' The remedy for bad thoughts is not an empty mind barred against sin, but a mind full of the thoughts of Jesus. The best guard against doing evil is not doing nothing, but doing good; not to keep the world out, but to let Jesus in."—Rev. Stuart Robertson.

"The Works of the Flesh." v. 19
 "Now the works of the flesh are manifest." By "the flesh" Paul meant man's carnal appetites, the desires of his lower nature, all shameful and dishonorable acts. These works of the flesh were indeed "manifest" when Paul wrote. Perhaps at no time was the civilized world so depraved and godless as in the first century of the Christian era, when Tiberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitian, wore the imperial purple and posed as masters of the earth. Vice appeared in its most revolting and abandoned forms. Wickedness was rampant and triumphant. The age of the early Roman Empire has left a foul mark in human history and literature. Let Tacitus and Juvenal speak for it.—Prof. G. G. Findlay.

The Fruit of the Spirit vs. 22-26.
 22. Note that Paul writes of the works of the flesh, in the plural, but the fruit of the Spirit, in the singular. Evil is divisive, producing many varying results, each differently horrible; but good is unified, springing from the central Source of all blessedness, and its results are of one nature, bound together by beautiful likenesses and kindred qualities. "In love." "What follows are only eight different names for love, eight surfaces from which love is reflected, or eight windows from which its bright rays of the soul, sending its shining rays upward and outward and downward."—Rev. R. T. Cross.

"The nine graces are one 'fruit.'" Surely, it is a most comfortable lesson—the Holy Spirit always clusters his work. One Christian virtue necessarily raises up another; there is no such thing as sanctification in "a single point." As one berry in a bunch of grapes cannot ripen but that the others ripen too, so it is with the Christian. Cultivate one good trait, and you will be surprised to find how many more seem to grow up, you scarcely know how at its side."—Rev. James Vaughan.

Special Lessons
 1. Armistice Day is coming to be Peace Day; through the lasting remembrance of the joy, on November 11, 1918, that there was peace at last. Peace was such a happy turn that men wanted that joy to last.

2. The double purpose of Armistice Day: to honor the dead and the living who nobly served our country and were devoted to high aims in the World War; and to make what they did, and that war, contribute to the ending of all wars.

3. The reign of universal peace, a world in which there shall be no more war, will never arrive until the individuals who make up the nations are converted to the leadership of the Spirit of Christ (ver. 18). That, then, shall be the great objective of the Christian church.

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: While Marian Casad is away in response to a false telegram telling of her mother's illness, her house is searched for the evidence she has of McSwain's duplicity, and her husband, Lon, stupidly allows himself to be tricked into getting the evidence for McSwain. Lon is foreman for McSwain on the job that the contractor plans to scamp. Now Lon tells Marian that he believes McSwain is acting against McSwain because of her father's prejudices.

Chapter 30.
 STUPID LON

"I don't suppose," said Marian, "that in your present state of mind it will do a bit of good to tell you that my father had retired from office and gone to the ranch before I graduated; or that I was given a place on the Dispatch along with the other editors of college papers . . . something the Bay newspapers do every year." Marian's eyes were blazing, her tone brittle.

"A man doesn't give up his political influence simply because he retires to a ranch," returned Lon. "Do you want to hear the rest of this?"

"I do," she answered, curbing her temper.

"All right, then," Lon's voice matched her own. "McSwain told me he gave me this job because he wanted someone there he could trust, said he'd had me in mind several days as one of his friends had telephoned him and told him a chap by my name was looking for work, and knowing he was going to need a foreman soon (he was obliged to send the one he had to the job in the Islands) recommended me by coincidence we met that night."

"Coincidence," Marian couldn't help it, the word flashed out. "So we now call Silver Miss Coincidence."

"That's another thing, he said you had always been insanely jealous of Silver."

"And you let him say a thing like that about your wife?" Marian was on her feet, cheeks blazing, eyes blazing, temper reaching the zenith.

"I let McSwain tell me you were jealous of Silver because I knew it to be true," Lon made the retort with spirit.

"You've never given her a decent break. I remembered when McSwain spoke of how you'd treated her in Nevada, wouldn't lift a hand to help her out of the mess she was in; made her repeat a story to me instead of being a sport and telling me yourself when you knew how it must be breaking her heart. She didn't have a friend up there until I, a stranger, happened in, you and that Hamlin guy were so crazy about—"

"Crazy about?" blazed Marian. "I wish I'd had sense enough to be crazy about him. He at least had brains enough to read character, something you haven't. Oh I know I have this coming to me, but even at that . . . suppose I am jealous of a woman without honor, how does any of this affect what McSwain has just done?"

"I don't know that McSwain had anything to do with this letter stealing . . . providing there was a letter stolen," Lon said evenly. "He told me, when I said you had not fussed at my working for him, that I might expect some melodrama from you."

"Do you mean you think I have worked this up merely to . . . to cause a scene?" she asked in incredulous tones.

"No, I think you're merely the came out to think and I was tired from the drive and everything—"

"Lon," Lon had reached out an arm to steady her as she sat up. "I'm sorry I spoke as I did last night, I'd had too many cocktails." "Oh, Lon," Marian whispered his name. "And I'm sorry I lost my temper."

"I do love you, Lon."

"She buried her face in his coat, ashamed to let him see the tears of relief in her eyes. "I know you do," she answered in a muffled voice, "and I love you even if . . ."

"Even if I haven't brains enough to read character?" he questioned, laughing.

"Yes," she murmured.

"They walked down to the house, arms entwined, stood a moment while a thin edge of gold rose over their mountain, stopped to look at the zinnia bed, a garden of ghostly color in the early light."

After Lon had left she dressed for a trip to the city. She would go directly to John King, the detective. She'd known him for years. She could trust him implicitly. She would tell him what she wanted and he would bring her the information she wanted in a form Lon could not question.

"And you'll stay home and take care of the house," she told Hero, as she started down the hill. "Oh," she conceded, "you can come as far as the gate, and Hero, I know you're trained to eat nothing but what we give you, but be especially careful, won't you?"

She hesitated a moment at that thought. No one could poison him, but he couldn't dodge an unseen bullet. She took him back to the house, drew the blinds, relocked the house securely with him inside and started out again.

And then, because of the peculiar habit she had formed she decided to go to her hill top.

Restlessly and with a peculiar feeling of uneasiness she looked out over the valley; looked at the mountain black against the morning sun; looked north to the hazy line of the Sacramento; south to the serrated line of hills. And then she looked down and her hand came to her throat in a gesture of alarm.

There was someone hiding in the ruins of the former owner's shack. She had seen the quick movement of a man slipping behind the timbers.
