A statement that stirred Europe to its depths—the assertion France and Russia have renewed their pre-war "understanding" still reverberated in Paris Saturday, with officials inclined to pooh-pooh the "exaggeration" of Leon Archimbaud, budget reporter.

Paris—Despite denials of any accord, informants, friends of former Premier Edouard Herriot, said the soviet commissar for foreign affairs, Maxim Litvinoff, renewed the offer of Russian aid if Germany attacks France as recently as last Saturday.

London—An Anglo-American understanding appeared likely if Japan's insistence on naval equality speeded tri-power conversations. Meanwhile, the sensation of Archimbaud's remarks caused abated when it was learned there was no official confirmation.

Geneva—The league's special Chaco assembly, adjourned after adopting its new program to end the Chaco war, addressed appeals for peace to the belligerents. League officials, however, were more exercised over Yugoslavia's charge of Hungarian "complicity" in the murders at Marseille last month.

La Paz, Bolivia, and Asuncion, Paraguay—Both capitals reported continuance of fighting in the northern and southern sectors of the Chaco Boreal, with each claiming advantages.

Washington—The United States capital saw indications Britain and America might cooperate to meet the problems of the threatened shipbuilding race, if the London conversations cracked up.

New York—Senator Gerald P. Nye, chairman of the senate munitions investigating committee, charged "partnership" between the government and the American munitions industry in selling munitions abroad.

Missionaries In China Flee From Red Tide

Listen for the Daily NEWS Whistle

When Pampa Daily NEWS carriers deliver your paper in the future, they will blow a melodious whistle as the paper drops on your porch.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 24 (AP)—A red tide of communism, rolling slowly westward with General Chiang Kai-shek's soldiers pressing its rear, today forced missionaries throughout south central China to evacuate their stations.

Estimates of the number of migrants, many of whom the nation's military leader hopes to win back to the nationalist cause, reached 100,000, the vanguard of which already has reached West Honan province.

Chiang's forces, outfitted with up-to-date military equipment, including airplanes, continued pressing the migrants in South Kiangsai, said Kwantung and Kwangsi, engaged in important clashes with the travelers along the northern borders of those provinces.

Other officers are: Vice-president, L. N. McCullough; secretary, Alfred Gilliland; treasurer, Gene Fathere; directors, Charles Frost, Mrs. Laura Fathere, Mrs. Vera Davis, LeFors Doucette, Mrs. Beryl Viscars, Mrs. Mack Graham.

The association will collect annual dues of $1 to create a fund for worthy and needy students of Pampa schools. However, it is not necessary to pay the membership fee in order to attend the annual banquet of the exes.

Friday's luncheon meeting was featured by stunts, talks, and songs by the five groupings of exes according to years of attendance. The high school orchestra furnished music for the more than 60 exes, mostly oldtimes, who attended.

NOTE BRANDS NAZIS' POLICY AS 'DANGEROUS'

"INACCEPTABLE," SAYS GOVERNMENT IN DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The United States revealed a fourth formal protest to the Hitler government today, charging "discrimination" and continued "unsatisfactory treatment" of American holders of German bonds.

An extraordinary controversy with Berlin has centered upon the treatment accorded American holders of German medium and long term obligations, including Dawes and Young bonds. Three times previously formal protests have been lodged against the according of more favorable payment terms to bondholders of other nationalities than to Americans.

The German government has concluded agreements with Great Britain, Switzerland, and The Netherlands, giving the nations of those countries the right to purchase German securities.

The United States has not entered into any such agreement and American bond holders have, therefore, been offered only the equivalent of 75 per cent of the total amount due them in interest. By far the largest bloc of the German obligations is held in the United States.

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Lloyd Conatser, serving a life sentence in connection with the sensational killing of two officers in Fisher county several years ago, has been pardoned by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson said tonight that the governor felt, after a thorough investigation, enough doubt existed as to Conatser's guilt to justify a pardon.

During the hearing Friday, Judge W. R. Ewing said he would modify the injunction if it was shown that it interfered with the legal and legitimate rights of the defendants in any particular.

JURY RETURNS VERDICT AFTER ONLY 2 HOURS

STATE CHARGES STILL FACE EX-UTILITY CZAR

BY ROBERT M. YODER, Associated Press Sports Writer. CHICAGO, Nov. 24 (AP)—In two hours and two minutes deliberation today, twelve federal court jurors shattered the government's charges of a $1,000,000,000 mail fraud against Samuel Insull and his 16 business associates with a verdict of acquittal.

Between luncheon and the dinner hour, the voluminous case, against the ruler of a one-time two billion dollar utility system, was put into the hands of a jury and decided in his favor.

The case was developed from nearly five tons of business records, but when the jurors retired they sent out only three letters.

United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green, who had worked for nearly two years to attain a different result, took the verdict without rancor.

The jury's decision read in a hushed court room by Foreman John D. Lent, came with a rapidity startling to defense attorneys and prosecutors alike.

"This is the start of my vindication," the juror declared. "The jury's decision read in a hushed court room by Foreman John D. Lent, came with a rapidity startling to defense attorneys and prosecutors alike."

MINIMUM PAY FOR DRILLERS IS PROTESTED

Ickes' Order Is 25 Cents More Per Hour Than The Committee Recommended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The oil industry's planning and coordination committee today saw a threat to peaceful labor conditions in Secretary Ickes' order of November 8 setting minimum wages for derrick and rig builders in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico.

The committee adopted and sent to Ickes, the oil administrator, a resolution which said: "The committee holds that the order not only imposes an unwarranted economic burden upon derrick and rig users, but also provides discriminatory and unfair benefits to derrick and rig building employees which threaten to disturb existing peaceful labor relations with other employees in the industry."

Oklahoma and Kansas were assigned a rate of $1.25 an hour, $1.50 for crew foremen. The Texas and New Mexico rates were set at $1.50 and $1.75.

These were recommended by the Petroleum Labor Policy board after a hearing.

The committee contended the facts and arguments set forth at the hearing failed to justify the higher minimum rates. It said that in the light of skill and training required and occupational hazards the pay scales "are inequitably higher than those established for other skilled occupations in the industry."

ROOSEVELT AND EDEL FORD CONFER; FDR INTERVENES IN ICKES-MOFFETT QUARREL

Ickes' Removal As Administrator of Oil Code Asked By Chairman of NPC.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—A hurried, long-distance intervention by President Roosevelt today was found necessary to smooth some of the outer rough edges of a bitter internal dispute between his housing and public works administrator and the intra-administration storm clouds tonight had not been completely dispelled.

James A. Moffett, housing chief, and Secretary Ickes, public works administrator, who had differed over a government-financed housing plan, were closeted at the white house for two hours. They emerged with a formal disclaimer that there was any trouble between them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—J. Edward Jones, chairman of the National Petroleum council, asked President Roosevelt today to remove Secretary Ickes as administrator of the petroleum code.

The letter charged Ickes with "a great many improper acts and shortcomings."

HOW THE KINGDOM GROWS; Mark 4:26-29.

And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground; and should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how. For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

WHAT OF COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA?

The American Legion, Junior chamber of commerce, and other similar organizations are giving considerable attention to the spread of radicalism in this country. Officers and leaders of the Legion realize that sinister ideas can be more dangerous than bullets.

In order to quote evidence that is beyond question, we today use material in Report No. 2290, ordered printed by the U. S. House of Representatives. The investigation was on communist propaganda. It should be understood that the Soviet government does not, as a government, carry on activities to create unrest in friendly countries. It is the communist party which knows not what its right hand doeth while it thinks of its left hand. On one extreme is the U. S. S. R.; on the other the Communist Internationale. Politically, they are the same, but in government the party rules only because it is dominant. Yet, obviously, the two are essentially the same.

Principles and aims of true communists in Moscow and communists in Berlin, Paris, New York, Los Angeles, Tokyo, and Peking are the same; they stand on the same platform and advocate the same principles, and all take their orders from Communist Internationale. And what are the confessed purposes of the Internationale? The U. S. report defines them as follows:

1. Hatred of God and all forms of religion; 2. destruction of private ownership of property; 3. absolute social and racial equality; promotion of class hatred; 4. revolutionary propaganda, stirring up communist activities in other countries, such as riots, sabotage, bloodshed, and civil war; 5. destruction of all forms of representative or democratic governments, including civil liberties such as freedom of speech, of the press, of assembly, and of trial by jury; 6. the ultimate and final objective is by means of world revolution to establish the dictatorship of the so-called proletariat into one world union of soviet socialist republics with the capital at Moscow.

Modern communism began with the "Manifesto of the Communist Party," by Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, two apostate Jews, which appeared in January, 1848. Socialism is the half-brother of communism. Anarchists seized upon the Marxian doctrine but he was forced to denounce them for in reality they were opposed to all governments, including the one he suggested.

Marx' first Internationale lasted 9 years. Six years after his death, the Second Internationale was proclaimed in Paris. This was disrupted by the world war. French patriotism rose above revolutionary doctrines. Nikolai Lenin, a Russian disciple of Marx and an exile from his own country, denounced the patriotic wing and set about to set up the Third Internationale at the first opportunity. Contrary to popular belief, the communists of Russia did not overthrow the Czar. At the time, Lenin was in exile in Switzerland and Trotsky was living in the Bronx, N. Y. A provisional government succeeded the Czar, and this was recognized by the United States. There were probably not more than 30,000 communists in all of Russia but these, headed by Lenin and Trotsky, rallied remnants of the old army and in the famous October (1917) revolution overthrew the provisional government. Communists repudiated the representatives of the people and set up a bitterly aggressive party rule. Then, in March of 1919, the U. S. S. R. having been set up, the Third Internationale was organized to spread the revolution to the whole world. A million dollars was appropriated for revolutionary purposes abroad.

The government of Russia is an autocratic, self-constituted dictatorship by a small group of self-perpetuating revolutionists. Joseph Stalin, the secretary-general of the communist party, is the actual dictator. The party consists of fewer than two millions of bona fide members out of a population of 150,000,000 persons, but it controls the government.

The communists of America organized at Chicago in 1919. Stalin at that time exhorted them to prepare leaders in America for the class wars to be fomented in this country. For several years, a Japanese communist, San Katayama, was the American representative at Moscow. Until 1924, the U. S. war measures kept communism under cover, but since that time the freedom allowed Americans has given the communists full play of their program. Special work is being directed among the 12,000,000 negro workers in this country, who are promised racial equality.

William Z. Foster, twice candidate of the communist party for president, is quoted as follows:

"The aims and principles of the communist party are to organize the workers to defend their interests under the capitalist system and to eventually abolish the capitalist system and establish a workers' and farmers' government. . . . Our party considers religion to be the opium of the people, as Karl Marx has stated, and we carry on propaganda for the liquidation of these prejudices among the workers. . . . The workers of this country and of every other country have only one flag, and that is the red flag."

The method of communism is to form nuclei in the major industries, rather than on broad party lines. Communists do not hurry. They plant a propagandist here, another there, and slowly build up their chain of influence. They wave the red flag only after months of careful preparation. They fasten themselves to focal points of social distress and, by terrorism, try to make peaceful settlements of disputes impossible. They organize riots and spread pamphlets to inflame sympathetic factions. They sow propaganda in the colleges and form Young Communist leagues. They try to plant communists in military positions to cause unrest among the armed forces.

It is vastly to the credit of labor leaders in this country that they have fought the entrance of communists with every weapon at their command, though not always successfully.

The U. S. government has done little since 1924 to defend the principle of democracy against that of communism. The American people must decide, before many more decades, what government they wish. No government can exist half communist and half democratic; chaos would result. The best defense is good democracy, and a job for every man.

Independent Oil Association Will Seek Legislation

A definite program of national legislation to aid in the stabilization of the petroleum industry in the annual address of President Wirt Franklin, will feature the opening session of the fifth annual meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, scheduled for Fort Worth on Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8.

Featured also in the opening sessions is the address on "Cooperation and Compliance" by Russell B. Brown, of Washington, D. C., compliance director of the planning and coordination committee for the petroleum code.

Emby Kaye, of Tulsa, Vice-President of the Skelly Oil Company, will speak on "The Availability of an Adequate Supply of Domestic Asphalt for Road Construction in the United States."

In view of the critical situation in the petroleum industry and the definite proposals of the association with reference to any new federal legislation, a large attendance of independent operators is expected representing every oil producing state in the nation. The Independent Petroleum Association of America cooperates closely with local, state, and area independent oil and gas associations and representatives of these affiliated groups will be present at the meeting.

Delegates to this annual meeting, representing membership in thirty-four states, including smallest producers as well as the largest integrated companies engaged in the domestic phase of the industry, will elect directors. Officers of the association will also be elected.

SCHOOL BANDS AND PEP SQUADS HOLD ATTENTION AT BIG GAME

Lubbock high's fast-stepping high school band led a parade of pep squads, students, and fans through the business section Friday when the special train arrived from Lubbock.

Through the courtesy of the local school, the Lubbock band and pep squad was placed ahead of the Pampa band and pep squad. The Lubbock band, neatly uniformed and well led, made an excellent appearance, as also did the Pampa band in its brighter colors. The Lubbock girls, relatively few in number compared with the Pampa pep squad of more than 150 girls, made up in volume for the smaller size of the group.

Between halves, the usual stunts and marches entertained the crowd. The Pampa band did some intricate marching to bolster its reputation as one of the best in this section. The pep squad added to its laurels through an impressive approach from the four corners of the field. Gas filled balloons were released to make a pretty picture between and over the overflowing stands. About 6,000 persons were present.

Lubbock citizens and school officials complimented the city on its handling of the crowd and on its welcoming spirit. After a poor start, in which traffic obstructed the view of the parade, police and Junior chamber of commerce members took charge of transporting fans and directing general traffic.

BUILDING REPORTS

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—The rival cities of north Texas—Dallas and Fort Worth—led the state in construction projects this week, each having considerably more than half a million dollars in new building permits.

Dallas reported a weekly total of $591,393, which included $563,000 for construction of part of the Elm—Main—Commerce street subway and a six-story addition to the Gulf States Life Insurance company building.

Fort Worth had permits totaling $538,824. This included $523,824 for five new school buildings.

SIMMONS WINS

ABILENE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Hardin Simmons unleashed a powerful offense here this afternoon to smother the Austin College Kangaroos, 45 to 0. The heavier and slower visitors were unable to check the Cowboys' sweeping end runs and accurate passes at any stage of the game. Estes Burgamy, Hardin Simmons sophomore back, turned in the feature play of the afternoon when he returned the kickoff at the opening of the third quarter 103 yards for a touchdown.

WILLIAMS WELL AT KELLERVILLE IS OIL SENSATION OF WEEK

NEW AREA IN 'HOT SPOT' IS IN PROSPECT

CONFIDENT FEELING IS GENERAL OVER PANHANDLE

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE, Consulting Geologist, Combs-Worley Bldg.

Smith Bros. Refining company has afforded another sensation in the "hot spot" of Wheeler county with its Williams well half a mile south of Kellerville. The test Saturday was reported making 20 to 30 barrels an hour.

No tanks had been set, since a gas well was thought likely, so an accurate measure was impossible. When the Underwood & Cook well was brought in in that area several weeks ago, it was considered a freak well and still is to some extent. The new Smith well, however, appears to assure further play in the area.

During the last few weeks, new locations and completions have shown that the general feeling in this district is one of confidence in the future of the oil market.

NOTICE OF CARBON BLACK HEARING

Notice of hearing to all interested parties, that application of the Western Carbon company for renewal of its permit to maintain and operate their plant known as the Arolone Plant No. 1 in Wheeler county, Texas, for the purpose of burning residue casing-head gas to obtain therefrom the carbon black content. Said hearing is to be held in the office of the Railroad Commission at Austin, Texas, at 10 o'clock a. m. on December 3, 1934.

Pursuant to said hearing, the commission will enter such orders in its judgment as is just and proper.

The future of the oil market. This week there were 20 new locations checked, against 14 completions, giving around 165 active drilling locations. Eleven of the new locations were staked in Gray county, with the others scattered throughout the other counties.

The 14 completions added 2,920 barrels of potential production to the field and 44,800,000 cubic feet of gas.

The natural gas situation in the plains district seems to be bound to come to a halt in the near future. There is no way of telling just how the situation will be cleared up. Most operators seem to be of the opinion that something should be done, however, there are a host of recommendations as to what should be done, all of which have some good points in them but in general they seem to be biased by which side of the fence the parties are standing on, gasoline plant or public utility.

COMPLETIONS.

Five in Gray County. The Dixon Creek Oil & Refining company No. 2 Benedict in section 114, block 3, I&GN survey, averaged 318 barrels daily on test from the pay, 3,256 to 3,275 feet after a slant of 320 quarts with the total depth of 3,280 feet.

The Kewanee Oil & Gas company No. 7 Smith in section 149, block 3, I&GN survey, was completed for an average of 278 barrels testing five days and was shot with 265 quarts with the pays from 3,195 to 3,256 feet, the bottom of the hole.

The Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 2 Saunders in section 40, block 3, I&GN survey, was bottomed at 3,040 feet and tested 87 barrels daily after a shot of 320 quarts.

The Texas company No. 14 Faulkner in section 29, block B-2, H&GN survey, tested 132 barrels on test from the pays, 2,905 to 2,940 and 3,000 to 3,014 feet, the bottom of the hole. Its No. 4 Short in section 2, block 1, was bottomed at 2,935 feet with the pay from 2,895 to 2,915 feet and after a shot of 210 quarts was completed for 161 barrels on test.

Three in Hutchinson. The Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 7 Ware 'B' in section 124, block 4, was bottomed at 3,125 feet with the pay from 3,003 to 3,009 and 3,085 to 3,107 and after a shot of 330 quarts was completed for 37 barrels daily.

The Uteck Oil company No. 2 Ware 'B' in section 20, block M-21, was completed for 200 barrels with the pays from 3,018 to 3,050 feet with the pay from 3,018 to 3,050 feet. The hole was bottomed at 3,106 feet.

The Phillips Petroleum company No. 1 Flynn in section 179, block 3-T, was bottomed at 3,309 feet and plugged back to 3,128 and completed for a gasser, making 44,800,000 cubic feet from the pay, 2,870 to 3,128 feet.

Six in Wheeler. The Alma Oil company No. 6 Johnson in section 47, block 24, was bottomed at 2,451 with the pay from 2,390 to 2,451 and completed for 420 barrels on test.

The Champlin Refining company No. 5 Williams in section 49, block 4, was bottomed at 2,540 with the pay from 2,450 to 2,470 and 2,512 to 2,514 feet. It averaged 138 barrels on railroad commission test.

The Magnolia Petroleum company No. 2 Koons in section 44, block 24, was bottomed at 2,387 with the pay from 2,380 to 2,388 and averaged 33 barrels daily on test flowing.

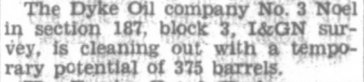

The Phillips Petroleum company No. 4 Lela in section 49, block 24, averaged 79 barrels on test from the pay 2,516 to 2,536, the bottom of the hole.

The Shell Petroleum company No. 4 Bush in section 48, averaged 408 barrels daily on test with the bottom of the hole at 2,508 feet and the pay from 2,467 to 2,504 feet. Its No. 5 D'Spain in section 52, block 24, was completed with an average of 563 barrels daily from the pays, 2,388 to 2,458 to 2,470 feet. The hole was bottomed at 2,498 feet.

Shirley Temple Dolls Offered For Sale Here

Shirley Temple has arrived in Pampa... arrived in the form of a beautiful doll that is a perfect image of her. Arrangements were made with Shirley's parents and the Fox film production company to make the dolls. Kraft's, Inc. have received a few of the dolls and will receive more as soon as they can be shipped from the factory. "Apparently this is the greatest 'doll year' that Pampa has ever known," says Frank Soodhalter, proprietor of the store. "We have already filled several hundred orders for Miller unbreakable dolls and are taking many more every day for the new Shirley Temple doll." The new image of little Shirley Temple was only introduced a few weeks ago and one factory will run at capacity from now until Christmas to fill the orders, according to Mr. Soodhalter. E. Hooks transacted business in Panhandle yesterday. George Maguire of Panhandle attended the football game here Friday.

More Than 450 Parents Visit High School Classes and Rally

PROGRAM WAS SPONSORED BY SCHOOL'S PTA

OFFICIALS PLEASSED AS PARENTS SHOW INTEREST

"The best demonstration ever given in Pampa of parents back in the schools," high school officials said after more than 450 parents visited their children in first-period classes conducted in a special night school session Thursday.

Sponsored by High School Parent-Teacher association, the class demonstration was followed by a show business session, program, and pep rally given in the overflowing school gymnasium.

Parents were asked to visit the regular classes, for which teachers and pupils returned to their home rooms Thursday night. Each class had more than 60 per cent of its students' parents present.

Parents, students, and teachers then went to the gymnasium to fill every available seat and standing room. Band numbers, a short talk by Principal L. L. Sone, and the short business meeting were followed by an exhibition by the gym classes directed by Miss Kathleen Miller and Harry Kelley.

Club Work With Foods Leads to Improved Home

Mrs. Milt Williams of the Bluebonnet Home demonstration club has just completed her home improvement program in connection with her farm and ranch food supply demonstration.

Mrs. Williams realizes that to prepare and serve quality food one should have a comfortable and convenient work place. Until recently the kitchen and dining room were together and to one side was a pantry 5 1/2 feet by 12 feet which had one large window. This pantry was not serving its best purpose as canned foods in this area should be stored in a cellar.

The door into the pantry was removed and a large place about the size of double doors was left opened. The walls were refinished in white; a cabinet was built across one side and painted white. A sink, drain board, and running water were a part of her cabinet improvement.

The kitchen is now separated from the dining room and is very convenient.

The following is the expense: Cabinet doors, $2.70; paint, $1.50; and floor covering, $2.10.

Flattering Lines In New Garments

"The most remarkable thing has happened to me," said a Pampa girl yesterday. "For one whole week not one of my pals (feminine, naturally) has remarked sadly, 'You'd have a grand figure if you'd only hold yourself in front.'"

And quite a few people have announced in no uncertain tones that I do have a nice figure.

"Of course all the credit should go to that bright young saleswoman over at Mitchell's who insisted that I try one of those new Panette Vassarettes. If she hadn't been gone on forever trying to hold my willful abdomen in by sheer willpower and fasting miserably. Now I know that all I needed was a little help and these Vassarettes certainly give it.

"My pet saleswoman has a long explanation for the efficiency of these remarkable garments. It seems that they have some sort of secret inner panel (it doesn't show at all) which give double restraint just where most of us need it. I'll admit I didn't listen vey carefully. I was too interested in the results. You've no idea how nice it is to put on one of these deceptively trim garments and behold a flatter front line below the waist. Honestly... it happens just like that.

"However, I gather that, though this new Vassarette exerts a remarkable influence on below the waistline 'roundabouts,' they are non-stretchy and can be washed as easily as regular Vassarettes. Incidentally Mitchell's has Vassarette Panettes in Girdles and All-in-ones. I purchased both in my enthusiasm and find it very worthwhile to have two of them about the house.

COLORED METHODIST CHURCH

Earl L. Spencer, pastor. The pastor has been returned to the church here for the year 1935. He has returned from the annual conference accompanied by non-presiding elder, J. M. Fountain, and Rev. Mrs. M. C. Burns, con-nec-tional evangelist of the Colored Methodist church from Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Burns is preaching every night. The public is cordially invited to come hear this great gospel preacher and singer—9:15 each evening.

Choir Soloist

Mlle. Mara Slaviansky, accompanist and one of the soloists with the Russian chorus which will appear in the city hall auditorium Dec. 3, is the daughter of Mme. Agreueva Slaviansky, conductor, and a granddaughter of the chorus founder.

LOCAL PATRONS ARE NAMED FOR RUSSIAN CHOIR

Chorus Has Appeared Before Royalty Of World

Mme. Agreueva Slaviansky and her world toured Russian Chorus, an organization of singers, dancers and ballroom orchestra, will be the outstanding theatrical event of the year at the city auditorium at 3 and 8:15 p. m. on Dec. 3.

This famous Russian chorus has appeared in every country on the globe, having been the feature of the famous production, "The Miracle," the New York Hippodrome; "The Passion Play." They have appeared at fifteen concerts in Carnegie hall, New York City, before kings, queens, emperors, sultans, and all ranks and files of the nobility throught the entire world.

They give an evening's program of sublime singing, sensational Russian dancing, and are without a doubt the greatest singing organization in all the world.

The accompanist and one of the soloists is Mlle. Mara Slaviansky, daughter of the regal conductor of the chorus. Reserved section tickets will be placed on sale at Pampa Drug No. 1, Fatheree Drug No. 4, and every Drug store.

Matinee prices will be 10 cents for grade school children, 25 cents for high school students, and 55 cents for adults. Evening concert tickets will be 25 cents for children, 55 cents for adults, and 75 cents to the reserved section.

Patrons and patronesses for the concert here are: Messrs. and Meses. W. A. Bratton, D. D. Cochran, H. H. Hicks, R. G. Hughes, Clyde Fatheree, W. C. Mitchell, C. T. Hunkapillar, Philip Wolfe, Gilmore Nunn, Charlie Thut, Wm. T. Fraser, M. C. Overton, R. B. Fisher, W. Purviance, Siler Faulkner, C. P. Buckler, John Sturgeon, Mel Davis, Olin Hinkle, DeLea Vices, Raymond Harrah, Tom Rose, A. H. Doucette, Bonnie Rose, Lynn Boyd, Frank Perry, W. R. Ewing; Mrs. Clifford Brady, Messrs. R. G. Allen and Dick Graham.

Guests Asked to Chapel Program

A Thanksgiving chapel program has been announced by the first three grades at Sam Houston school for Wednesday morning at 9:45. Parents and friends are invited for the following numbers:

Devotional, Mrs. Gaston Foote. Play, Willie's Dream, by Mrs. J. I. Bradley's pupils.

Rhythm band numbers, Miss Lillian Mullinax's room. Tap dance, Sammie June Langham.

Song, Little Indians, group from Miss Mullinax's room. Song, The Gobbler, Mrs. Bradley's room.

Play, Thanksgiving in Tinytown, by Miss Tidie Sessions's room. Announcements, Principal A. L. Patrick.

Presbyterian Church Members Will Meet

Members of the First Presbyterian church are asked to attend a congregational meeting called for 11 o'clock this morning, immediately following the Sunday school hour.

No preaching services will be conducted at the church today. Members are preparing to welcome a new pastor, the Rev. Burrey Shell, who will come from Talequah to assume his ministry here next Sunday.

MERMAID SUIT FEATURES BATHING ATTIRE PARADE LONDON (AP)—A mermaid's suit, made of a fine meshed elastic net resembling fish scales, figured in a parade of 1935 bathing suits here. It fitted over a slip of pink stock-inette. Elastic lace was used for other water wear, while a skin-tight suit of linen thread attracted much attention from buyers.

MRS. LOW HAS LUNCHEON FOR CLUB MAYFAIR

FALL COLOR BEDECKS THREE TABLES FOR GUESTS

Luncheon and a following bridge hour in the home of Mrs. B. C. Low were made doubly pleasant for Club Mayfair members Thursday afternoon by the use of fall's most beautiful coloring in room decorations.

Orange colored candles lighted the tables, and orange flowers blended with the brown, yellow, and deep green of autumn leaves. The menu repeated those colors, with the salad served in cups formed of orange halves.

At bridge, Mrs. P. O. Sanders made high score, Mrs. T. R. Martin second high, and Mrs. Arthur Holland low.

Other club members who filled the three tables were Miss Virginia Faulkner, Meses. Arthur Swanson, Clyde Fatheree, Edward Damon, W. J. Smith, Lynn Boyd, Julian Barrett, John Sturgeon, and LeRoy Miller.

Children Below School Age Will Present Recital

Tiny pupils of Kathryn Vincent Steele's pre-school classes in expression will be presented in a Thanksgiving recital at Presbyterian church Monday evening at 8.

Several adults will assist in the program. Miss Clotilde McCallister and Mrs. Steele will appear in a skit; Miss McCallister will also read; Roy Trindley will play violin solos. Mrs. Frank Keehn will be pianist for the small vocal pupils who will also have a part on program.

This is the first public program this fall of Mrs. Steele's pupils. Children with the dramatic club are at work now on a program to be presented soon.

The public is invited for this recital. No admission charge will be made, but an offering will be taken that will go to the church.

Play Ends Study Of South America

Completing a unit study of South America, the fifth grades of Horace Mann school presented a play in chapel Friday afternoon under direction of their teachers, Mrs. M. K. Griffith and Miss Frances McCue.

Ninety beautifully costumed children took part in the drama. Conquest of the Incas, which told the story of Pizarro's activity in Peru. They interpreted the historical play with evident interest and understanding. Dances were particularly striking.

The first act depicted the Spanish governor's court in Panama, where Pizarro received permission to explore southern territory and was entertained by court attendants.

The scene of act two was laid in Peru among the Incas, who under the direction of their chief royally entertained Pizarro and his men when they arrived. Act three told how the Spaniards had conquered the Incas, taking their mines and wealth from them, and ended with the Inca chief, in chains, being led to his execution by his conquerors.

Mrs. Irving Gives New Deal Party

Mrs. W. G. Irving entertains the New Deal club Friday afternoon with a table of guests, Thanksgiving decorations brightened the tables and game appointments.

A delicious salad course was served after the bridge games to Meses. J. P. Landry, J. T. House, E. W. Hogan, Bob Montgomery, H. H. Isbell, Paul Caylor, John Shannon, Jim Cox, O. E. Palmer, Roy Kilgore, and the hostess.

A high score award went to Mrs. Montgomery, second high to Mrs. Caylor, traveling prize to Mrs. Hogan, cut prizes to Meses. Isbell, Landry, and Kilgore.

TOWNS OF PANHANDLE REPORT MARRIAGES OF WIDE INTEREST.

MIAMI, Nov. 24.—A free county library established by women's clubs here was formally opened Saturday afternoon. It has been supplied with books from the state library department and from donations of Miami citizens. Members of the five women's clubs here will take turns acting as librarians.

Ray Duncan and Miss Hazel Field, both of Wichita, Kans., were married here Sunday and spent a few days with his parents in Pampa before returning to Wichita to make their home.

Rumored as Mellon Bride-to-Be

Name of Miss Mary Conover, above, Kansas City, Mo., beauty, is romantically linked with that of a member of the multi-millionaire Mellon family, in reports persisting in Kansas City and Pittsburgh. Miss Conover, daughter of a physician, divorced Karl Stanley Brown of New York after a brief married life. She is a Vassar graduate.

CHARITIES OF THE HOLIDAY SEASON RECEIVE ATTENTION OF MANY WOMEN'S SOCIETIES

Thanksgiving gifts for children at Buckners orphan home were taken by women of Central Baptist church to a Thanksgiving social at the church Thursday afternoon.

Mmes. A. L. Edmondson, E. B. Hilburn, and A. Moore composed the hostess committee in charge of entertainment and refreshments. After the numerous gifts had been collected, games were enjoyed.

Waldorf salad, sandwiches, cake, and fruit tea were served to Meses. E. Bass Clay, Walter Kirby, Owen Johnson, Cecil Lunsford, Langard, H. C. Chandler, G. D. Holmes, DeShazo, F. L. Anderson, T. N. Gillham, E. H. McGaha, E. V. Davis, G. C. Stark, R. M. Mitchell, Dayton White, Wood Overall, Black, Coburn, Lee Miller, D. H. Coffey, O. C. Weekly, Kleth Caldwell, J. W. Smith, and the hostesses.

Plans for the Fidelity class will be discussed by the Fidelity class of First Methodist church at a covered dish supper in the home of Mrs. A. A. Kelly, 931 E. Browning, Tuesday at 8 p. m. All members are urged to be present, and those unable to attend are asked to call Mrs. Kelly.

A bridge tournament will be sponsored Tuesday evening by women of the Altar Society of Holy Souls church. All bridge players, both of contract and auction, are invited to call Mrs. Frank Keim, ticket chairman, for reservations either singly or in parties. Proceeds will benefit the society.

Women of the Episcopal Auxiliary will sponsor a Christmas bazaar Saturday, Dec. 8, in the South-western Public Service building. Beginning at 9 a. m., the sale of

CHEF WHO COOKS PRESIDENT'S THANKSGIVING TURKEY TELLS HOW

Turkey and plum pudding, the old Thanksgiving standbys, will have prominent places in the dinner that is set before President Roosevelt at the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation this year. C. M. Stephens, Foundation chef, tells you in the following article how to cook your Thanksgiving bird and make the pudding just as he prepares them for the President.

By C. M. STEPHENS, Chef, Georgia Warm Springs Foundation (Written For The Associated Press)

WAXM SPRINGS, Ga.—Thanksgiving wouldn't be Thanksgiving without turkey, plum pudding and pumpkin pie, and so the President's annual dinner here will center on those dishes. Following is the menu I have prepared:

Crisp Hearts of Celery Assorted Olives Toasted Mixed Nuts Fresh Grapefruit Cocktail Roast Turkey With Oyster Stuffing Cranberry Sauce Creamed Potato Balls—Parsley

Peas in Fatty Assorted Breads Thanksgiving Salad Old-Fashioned Plum Pudding With Hard Sauce Individual Pumpkin Pies

Here are the rules I go by in selecting, preparing and cooking turkeys, and my recipes for stuffing and plum pudding.

Selecting and Preparing Bird The bird you select should be plump, with a full broad breast. For Book Sale Planned CLARENDON, Nov. 24.—The annual Christmas book sale of the 1936 Book club was planned when Meses. Ruby Bromley and Luma Smith were hostesses Tuesday.

Mrs. M. M. Beavers, wife of the Methodist minister who was transferred to Sweetwater, was honored with a surprise shower at the home of Mrs. L. D. Perry Monday by a group of Methodist women.

Exes to Banquet CANADIAN, Nov. 24.—A banquet and dance was planned as a reunion event for Canadian high school alumni Dec. 27, when a committee representing various classes met recently. Mrs. Ross Tipps is chairman of arrangements.

DKG INITIATES ARE HONORED AT BREAKFAST

MEMBERS ATTEND THE MEETING FROM OTHER TOWNS

Six initiates were honored at a breakfast given by Beta Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at Schneider hotel yesterday morning. Special guests were the superintendents of city and county schools, and principals of city schools. Two of the latter are members of the educational society.

Places were laid for 30 at tables beautifully decorated with American beauty roses, the club flower.

An initiation ceremony in the city hall club rooms followed the breakfast. Miss Fannie May, president, and Mrs. Sam Irwin, chairman of the initiation committee, conducted the program.

The initiates were Mrs. E. A. Hampton of Pampa, Miss Frances Noel of McLean, Miss Louise Orr of Panhandle, and Miss Odessa Howell of White Deer, who became active members; Meses. R. B. Fisher and Ewing Leech of Pampa, who joined Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar as associate members.

Special guests were R. B. Fisher, John B. Hesse, J. A. Meek, A. L. Patrick, R. A. Selby and L. L. Sone.

Piano Pupils to Present Recital Open to Public

Pupils of Mrs. W. L. Brummett, teacher of classical and popular music, will be presented in a program at the home of Mrs. H. E. Saunders, 1025 Christine, Tuesday afternoon at 4:30. The public is invited to hear this recital.

Students of classical music will be heard first. Pupils studying popular music will demonstrate the Wm. method in playing new "breaks" and "fill-ins" in popular numbers. This course gives the pupil the knack of playing popular music in a short series of private lessons.

Teachers to Get Special Rate to State Convention

A round-trip rate of $12.60 is available from Amarillo and Panhandle points to Galveston by the Fort Worth & Denver railroad, as many as 75 teachers decide to make the trip to the gulf city where the annual convention of the State Teachers association meets on Thanksgiving Day.

W. C. Perkins, superintendent of schools at Shamrock, is trying to interest enough teachers in the Panhandle to make the trip, to assure the low rate.

Members of the party would board the Denver train at Amarillo at 10:55 a. m., November 28, or at Claude, Clarendon, Memphis or Childress, the fare being the same from all cities. The party would return on Sunday, December 2.

Teachers wanting reservations are asked to get in touch with F. B. Poole, general agent for the Denver lines, 304 Polk street, Amarillo, or see their local agent, at once. It is necessary that a party of at least two be assured by Monday if the low rate of $12.60 is made available.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 25. The golden text is: "The word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." (Hebrews 4:12)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." (John 4:24)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul and Spirit being one, God and Soul are one, and this one never limited in a limited mind or a limited body. Spirit is eternal, divine and only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light." (page 335)

Bridal Turban

From Marimay, New York. A turban of sleek black velvet, enhanced by bright red velvet apples, is similar to that selected by the Princess Marina, who is to be married this month to Prince George of England. This might be a hint for other early winter brides who want a dressy hat to wear to tea, bridge parties, buffet suppers and the like.

NEW CHURCHES ORGANIZE AND WILL START FIRST YEAR WITH TWO THANKSGIVING SERVICES

OFFICIAL BOARDS FOR McCULLOUGH-HARRAH ARE FORMED

Starting a year as an independent charge after organization under the wing of First Methodist church, McCullough and Harrah Methodist churches will conduct Thanksgiving week services today and Thursday.

Lance Webb, who served the two neighborhood churches the last few months as assistant pastor of First Methodist church, has been assigned as regular minister for the coming year. He will preach at McCullough church this morning and at Harrah chapel this evening at 7:30 on the subject, An Honest Thanksgiving.

Both congregations will join in a Thanksgiving program and covered dish dinner at McCullough Thursday evening. Gaston Foote, First Methodist minister, will be the speaker.

Sunday school will be conducted at both churches this morning at 9:45. New attendance marks are expected.

Official bodies for both churches have been organized since they were recognized as independent units at the recent Methodist conference at Abilene. The two boards of stewards met Thursday evening and planned to purchase a parsonage and start other work.

E. L. Campbell is president of the board at Harrah chapel, with O. S. Maynard, Ora Cook, Mrs. Jess Bowman, Mrs. Jack Hinds, Mrs. W. S. Shouse, and D. S. Buckner as other members.

Trustees are D. S. Buckner, Mrs. Art Jaynes, and Fred Esankin. Trustees at McCullough are H. C. Boyd, C. W. Tolle, and J. W. Foster.

Stewards there are J. E. Beard, chairman of the board, and E. N. Franklin, C. G. Hemphill, Mrs. B. L. Robertson, Coyle Foard, H. C. Boyd, and A. N. Rogers.

The board of Christian education at McCullough is headed by Mr. Boyd, superintendent of the Sunday school. Other members are Mrs. W. M. Cox, adult superintendent; Mrs. Boyd, superintendent of the adult and young people's council; Mrs. J. E. Board, junior superintendent; Mrs. E. N. Franklin, primary superintendent; Mrs. George Clark, beginners' superintendent; Miss Eureka Dollard, president of the young people's division.

In New Charge

Lance Webb, who as assistant pastor of First Methodist church last year served the newly organized neighborhood churches, McCullough Memorial and Harrah Chapel, returned from the annual Northwest Texas Methodist conference last week as pastor at the McCullough-Harrah church. The chapels became a separate charge, with a minister of their own, by action of the conference.

Mr. Campbell heads the education board at Harrah chapel, with Mrs. R. R. Jones as adult superintendent; Mrs. Ora Cook, superintendent of young people; Mrs. W. C. McGuire, junior department; Mrs. Campbell, primary superintendent; Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Buckner, and L. H. Poole.

The young pastor of the two churches has held a pastorate at Huntsville and was assistant pastor at the Tyler Street Methodist church of Dallas last year before coming here. He and Mrs. Webb both have B. A. degrees from McMurry college, Abilene; and M. A. degrees from Southern Methodist university, Dallas. He also holds a B. D. degree from S. M. U.

Cross the drumsticks and tie with a cord fastened to the tail. Draw the skin over the neck and fasten to the back with a skewer. Mix together 1/2 clove crushed garlic, 1 1/2 tablespoons salt, 5 tablespoons melted butter or drippings, and 2 tablespoons of flour. Rub this over outside of turkey.

Cooking
Lay the turkey, breast down, in an open baking pan. Place in moderate oven (375 degrees Fahrenheit). When brown, turn on its back, basting every few minutes with 1 cup hot water or stock and 1/4 cup melted butter. If turkey is browning too fast, cover with white greased butcher paper to prevent burning. Cook 25 minutes to the pound. If the oven is electric, place the turkey in cold oven and turn the switch to baking temperature. Cook 25 minutes to the pound. Do not baste.

Oyster Stuffing
18 oysters and juice, 3 cups bread crumbs, wet and squeezed, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon parsley, 1 sprig thyme, 1 bay leaf, 3 tablespoons salt. Salt and pepper to taste.

Drain the oysters; wet the stale bread with hot water, squeezing thoroughly. Put butter in frying pan, heat and add onions. As it begins to brown, put in the chopped parsley and bay leaf, and then add the bread, which has been moistened well and seasoned with the chopped sage. Mix well. Stir, blending all thoroughly. Now add the cup of oyster juice as it is reduced. Add oysters.

Plum Pudding
1/2 lb. bread crumbs, 1 lb. raisins, 1/2 cup molasses, 1/2 lb. currants, 3 eggs, 1/2 lb. orange peel, 1/2 cup sweet milk, 1/2 lb. suet, 1/2 lb. citron, 1/2 oz. mixed spices, 1/2 pound sugar, 1/2 lb. lemon peel. Pinch of soda, a little salt.

Mix the dry ingredients and add the liquids. Add a little more milk if the mixture should be too firm. Steam in molds, or boil in cloths (steaming is much preferable to boiling). Divide into four puddings and steam or boil for 3 1/2 hours. Plum pudding should be served with a good brandy sauce. But as this can not be bought in some states, a hard sauce may be substituted.

Young Reader

Little Veda Lee Alden, known to audiences here as "Spanky", tiny tap dancer, will appear as an entertainer of a different sort tomorrow evening, when pre-school expression pupils of the Vincent school present a Thanksgiving program at the Presbyterian church.

12,600 bales were issued, all of which were reported to have been promptly stopped.

The comparatively small number of notices was attributed to recent extensive liquidation of the December interest.

In the late trading prices rallied 2 points addition owing to a sharp upturn in stocks and firmer wheat. The close was very steady and at the top. December showed a net gain of 5 points, trading at 12.32. March and Oct. closed 2 points net up, May 4 points net up and July 3 net, up.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 24 (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Cattle trade at midwestern markets this week was featured by a fair demand for the limited supply of choice fed steers and yearlings offered at firm to higher prices. Lightweights at Chicago up 25-40. Short-fed steers, however, continued to arrive in limited numbers and ruled weak, move and showing the most decline to 25 lower, kinds with weight hard to place after opening on a slightly lower basis closed fairly active at prices strong to 25 higher as compared with last week. Reduced supplies this week served to offset a dull and lower pre-holiday trade at eastern dressed beef centers. Country demand for stocker and feeder rates. The inclement weather had a bearing on the market, with a 25 lower depressing influence at several markets. Total receipts at 11 markets were around 182,300 head, 25,512 last week and 184,000 the corresponding period a year ago. Hogs, scaling above 200 lbs. are 5-15 lower than last Saturday while lighter weights closed slow at 10-40 lower levels. Chicago had a late top of 6.00. Top offerings this week were 34,000 less than last week and 9,000 more than a year ago. Lighter receipts stimulated the demand for fat lambs and prices were firm to 25 higher. Some strength also developed on yearlings and sheep. The week's commercial supply approximated 137,900 as compared with 219,544 last week and 227,192 a year ago.

CHARITIES

TEN CENTS A DAY WASTED IN FOOD BY THE AVERAGE AMERICAN FAMILY — SAYS UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT HOUSEHOLD EXPERTS!

If you are like most families in the United States (the best of housekeepers included) you waste about a dime's worth of food a day without realizing it... a bit of cream here, a few wilted leaves of lettuce, a chop that does not look just right, milk that has turned because your kitchen has been kept warm and comfortable. This means that you are actually paying for an electric refrigerator without having the benefit of it... because with an electric refrigerator your savings in marketing easily make up the remainder of the payments. Thus, you miss not only food protection, but all of the delightful advantages of an Electric Refrigerator that make housewives call it the most priceless possession in a home.

Baylor Dazzles S. M. U. 13-6 In Shocking Upset

WACO, Nov. 24. (AP)—A pair of ripping, unconquerable Baylor university football heroes, Lloyd Russell, quarterback, and Earl Wray, right end, put on a whiz of a show today to give Baylor a 13 to 6 victory over Southern Methodist.

Naturally, as in all football combats, Russell and Wray had nine other players to help them, but the thunder was supplied by Russell's slashing at the Mustang forwards, and the lightning was contributed by the very tall Wray, who leaped into the air and caught a 22 yard forward pass for a touchdown in the second period, and who scooped up a blocked punt and stepped briskly and untouched across the Mustang's goal line in the fourth period.

'MERRY WIDOW' IN SOUND HAS BEEN BETTERED

A BIT NAUGHTY BUT ENTERTAINING AS THE BEST

Light-hearted Maurice Chevalier and Jeannette MacDonald come back to town today in the gayest, most tuneful, most charming musical picture of the year, "The Merry Widow," at La Nora theater.

The opera has been considered dubious entertainment for movie audiences, but here it is to be enjoyed by young sweethearts, parents, children and those whose memories go back after the turn of the century when Franz Lehár's "The Merry Widow" was on the lips of everyone.

The comedy, with Edward Everett Horton, George Barbier, and Una Merkel as ring leaders, is the kind that makes one laugh like a sudden explosion. A bit naughty at times, but it is the spirit of the lavish basic ingredients with which Director Ernst Lubitsch has mixed it's story.

Only the thread of the original story has been kept. The comedy lines, the love scenes, the huge dance numbers, the lyrics are either new or drastically altered. Wisely, Lehár's music has been kept intact. Music lovers will find rich delight by closing their eyes to listen to the strains of the symphony orchestra, as fine an aggregation of musicians as the screen has assembled, under the direction of Herbert Stothart, who took the first "Merry Widow" on the road in 1905.

This is the third time "The Merry Widow" has been made in pictures, and in beauty, in entertainment, in its capacity to bring the songs to the audience, it reaches a new peak. In some distant day when colored pictures and the three-dimension screen have been perfected, this production may be surpassed. But it will never be more ably acted, directed, photographed or sung.

Oliver Marsh has been the cameraman on all three productions and, with Lubitsch, he shares honors for the splendor of the third one.

The first time it was made by the old Reliance-Maxine company in 1913. Artificial light was unknown. They worked on stages that were open platforms, with a canvas overhead to diffuse sunlight. The camera was an old-hand-cranked Pathe. The picture was two reels. Alma Rubens and Wallace Reid were the stars.

The famous silent version made in 1925 had Mae Murray and John Gilbert as the stars.

Under Erich von Stroheim's direction the silent version was filled with villainy to an extent that it was almost a melodrama. But Lubitsch has cast out all the villainy, and kept the story moving at a carefree pace.

You recall that when the rich widow Sonia left the mythical country of Marzovia for the lights of Paris, Danilo, a dashing captain with thousand loves, was sent by his king to bring her back. She falls in love with him, but discovers the plot. By this time he has really fallen in love with her, and is unable to go through with his mission. He is tried for treason and jailed. There is an ending which, if not surprising, at least is amusing.

At La Nora

SPECIAL FILM PROGRAMS ARE BEING PLANNED

Local Theaters Will Present Best of Movies

La Nora, Rex, and State theaters will present special Thanksgiving pictures, according to David Dallas, manager of the Rex. The outstanding picture will be "A Girl of the Limberlost" which will be presented at La Nora theater's annual Thanksgiving preview Wednesday night at 11:03 o'clock.

A treat for La Nora fans will be "A Girl of the Limberlost," which will play Thanksgiving day also. In the cast are Louise Dresser, Ralph Morgan, Marian Marsh, and H. B. Walthall playing the leading roles.

One of the most famous of American novelists, Mrs. Porter has seen stories of middle western rural life listed high in the ranks of best sellers, with two of her books, including "A Girl of the Limberlost" at the top. More than 1,750,000 copies have been sold since its initial publication in 1910.

Many school children from rural communities are expected to attend this unusual Thanksgiving attraction. The picture is classed as a family entertainment.

"Gentlemen Are Born" will be the Rex theater Thanksgiving attraction. This picture will have special appeal to the young. The story shows four college chums, each of whom is sure he is destined to succeed when he leaves college. One intends to be a great newspaperman, another is to be a great architect. The third, a nationally famous football star, is confident that he will make a record as a coach. The fourth is to follow in his wealthy father's footsteps. Franchot Tone, Jean Muir, Margaret Lindsey, Ann Dvorak have leading roles. "Gentlemen Are Born" has been given four stars by leading critics.

A special request program will be offered at the State. Kay Francis is in the dramatic picture, "Dr. Monica," which is being shown as a return engagement. A number of Pampa fans have requested the management bring back this film.

Minstrel Show Coming to City On December 5

Richards and Pringle's Famous "Georgia Minstrels" with forty of the most famous minstrel stars, comedians, singers and dancers, will be the attraction on the stage of the La Nora one day only, Wednesday, Dec. 5.

Never before in the history of minstreldom has anything like this year's edition of the famous "Georgia Minstrels" been attempted. There are forty people in the stage presentation, and this season the "Georgia Minstrels" have been augmented with the continental congress of colored stars of stage, screen and radio, and recording orchestra.

A male ensemble chorus, a brass band, and men, gag men, singers, dancers, comedians—everything that went with the oldtime minstrel show, even to a street parade has been included in the "Georgia Minstrels", the hottest and newest Harlem dancing is one of the latest features.

Other features will include Lassie Brown and Kid Thomas, the Kings of Comedy, the Georgia Quartette, the 5 Rhythmic Kings and other oldtime favorites.

CARDS GIANTS GAME USED IN MAKING FILM

FANS WERE MYSTIFIED UNTIL TOLD OF FAKES

Mystified baseball fans in St. Louis, attending a game between the Cardinals and the Giants for a Tuberculosis Day benefit, are still scratching their heads.

They saw Hubbell pitch to Orsatti and when Orsatti was half way to third base he collapsed in a heap. They saw strange fumbles. Giants mysteriously appeared on bases. They saw a player rush out and "tag" the prostrate form of another who had fallen a few inches from the base.

Real Game Went On Then, after this had gone on for some time, the mystified spectators—15,000 or so of them—were informed that the real game would now go on; that what they'd seen up to this point were the teams acting for a motion picture!

The scenes were staged for "Death on the Diamond," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's sensational baseball detective thriller, which starts Sunday at the Rex theater. Based on the mystery story by Cortland Fitzsimmons, author of "70,000 Witnesses," it was directed by Edgar Sedgwick, and filmed through cooperation of the Cardinals, much of the action taking place at their home grounds.

When Orsatti dropped, he was playing one of the victims of a series of mysterious murders in the baseball team during the height of a hotly contested series. The mysterious fumbles were all part of the same play, written by Harvey Thew and Joe Sherman.

After all this had been filmed the teams went into their real game—and the St. Louis fans don't quite understand it all yet.

The will, however, when "Death on the Diamond" unfolds on the screen. It is a gripping mystery, blended with hilarious comedy, in a unique new form of entertainment. Many famous professional ball players appear with noted screen actors in the production.

The romantic leads are Robert Young and Madge Evans, and C. Henry Gordon, David Landau, De Witt Jennings, Paul Kelly, Ted Lewis, Edward Prophy, Nat Pendleton, Ralph Bushman, Mickey Rooney, Willard Robertson, James Ellison, Ray Mayer, Joe Sauer, Pat Flaherty and others of note are in the cast.

The dramatic highlights include the shooting of a ball player on the diamond before the startled eyes thousands of spectators, weird attacks in the dugouts and training quarters, and other uncanny occurrences which cast suspicion on all characters until the final scene of the picture, which brings a startling solution.

What was probably the feature play of the game was White's one-handed interception of a pass on the dead run and a return of 23 yards. Drake also handed the fans a thrill when he took a lateral pass from Hamilton for a 20-yard gain. Drake also took two passes from Nash to place the ball in scoring distance.

White's punting into the wind was spectacular. He averaged 40 yards on his punts, once sending a spiral 49 yards into the wind.

The game was not won until the final whistle. Every time the sensational White got his hands on the ball a chill went through Pampa fans. He is one of the outstanding players in the state and could not be kept off any all-state list if he had a stronger team.

Fresh Trout Is Enjoyed at Via Home Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Via were host and hostess last evening to a group of friends at one of their famous fish dinners. They have fishing properties in Oregon.

While previous dinners featured fresh salmon, last night's meal centered about a 22-pound Steel-Head trout, one of several such fish sent in ice to Mr. Via from his fishery. Prepared whole by expert hands, the big fish was surrounded by all the accessory dishes to make a banquet.

Mr. Via, an attorney who calls Pampa home but who hunts and travels all over the country and in Canada, was persuaded to tell interesting stories about the fishing industry and the life cycles of salmon. After the meal, the group played bridge. Handsome favors were provided by the host.

These present included Judge W. R. Ewing, Judge Ivy E. Duncan, Gilmore N. Nunn, Roy Bourland, E. J. Hagan, W. A. Bratton, C. H. Walker, J. L. McMahon of Wichita Falls, Silas Faulkner, John Roby, DeLea Vicars, D. J. Gribbon, A. G. Post, Dr. W. C. Mitchell, Jack Neaves, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pollard, Olin E. Hinkle, and the host and hostess.

Francis Smith of LeFors spent yesterday with relatives in the city. G. Taylor Cole of LeFors was a Pampa visitor yesterday afternoon.

of spectators, only faintly quieted by the banging of the clerk's gavel. Some of the defendants broke out with "hurrahs." Some of the crowd rushed to congratulate them. Papers were thrown into the air. The turmoil pervaded the sedate trial room.

But the senior Insull heard the words acquitting him with no change of expression. It had been feared that the verdict, guilty or innocent, would be too great a strain for a heart ailment he suffers.

Still unsmiling, he arose and pushed through the jubilant defendants and attorneys to the rail of the jury box. He shook hands with each juror as, released after 54 days of imprisonment, he marched out of the box.

Lent, the foreman, along with the rest of the jurors, refused to discuss the verdict. Apparently by pre-arrangement, they greeted all questions with a shake of the head.

Strong rumor, however, was that they had taken 3 ballots in the 2 hours they were inside the jury room. The first was nine to three, the second eleven to one, and the third 12 for acquittal.

Another charge involving the same company—Insull's ill-fated Corporation Securities company—is pending against him. U. S. District Attorney Green declined to say what plans the government had for pressing that.

Before they retired to the Chicago club for a celebration, the defendants briefly commented on the verdict.

Only one of the jurors would comment. "After the first two weeks, we had no doubt that the defendants were innocent."

MINNESOTA IS STILL AT TOP OF GRID HEAP

YALE'S AND RAMBLERS' TRIUMPHS FEATURE BATTLES

BY HERBERT W. BARKER.
A sociated Press Sports Writer.

The Thundering Herd of Minnesota and Stanford's powerful Indians climaxed their undefeated football campaigns with sensational victories yesterday as Old Man Upset cracked down on Rice and Purdue; Yale won the "Big Three" crown; and Notre Dame surged back to the heights with a sensational triumph over Army's Cadets.

Stanford clinched the Pacific Coast conference championship by nosing out California's Golden Bears, 9-7, in a bitterly fought duel and in all probability will be named to represent the Far West in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena for the second year in succession. Washington State's scoreless tie with Washington left Stanford the only undefeated and untied outfit within the conference.

Meanwhile, Minnesota's Gophers, regarded by many critics as the outstanding team in the country, overpowered Wisconsin's Badgers, 34-0, to wind up the campaign undefeated and untied and in complete possession of the Big Ten championship for the first time since 1911. Wisconsin fought gallantly to hold the Gophers to a 14-0 count in the first three quarters, but Minnesota rushed over three more touchdowns in the last period.

It took an amazing upset, sprung by Bo McMillin's Indiana outfit, however, to give Minnesota undisputed possession of the conference title. Indiana outplayed Purdue's Bollweavers by a wide margin to win, 17-6, and thus eliminate Minnesota's only rival for the crown.

The day's biggest crowd—81,000 spectators jammed in the Yankee stadium—saw thrice-beaten Notre Dame come back with an aerial barrage that sank Army, 12-6, with two long passes, Andy Priney to Don Hanley, deciding a hard-fought battle late in the final period. Lawrence Kelley, Yale's great end, led the Elis to a 14-0 conquest of Harvard, scoring one touchdown on a pass from Jerry Roscoe and starring in a defense that thwarted Harvard's closing rush.

Along with Minnesota and Indiana Ohio State, Northwestern and Illinois scored victories as the Big Ten season came to a close. Ohio State's fearsome attack buried Iowa, 4-7; Illinois turned back Chicago, 6-0; and Northwestern handed Michigan a 13-6 lacing to put the finishing touches to the most dismal season in Michigan history. The Wolverines, conference champions a year ago, won only one game all year—from Georgia Tech.

Pop Warner's Temple Owls, undefeated and tied one, chased the Villanova jinx decisively, beating Harry Stuhldreher's Wildcats, 22-0. Princeton came back from the shocking Yale defeat to "take" Dartmouth easily, 38-13; Colgate overcame stout resistance from Rutgers, 14-0; Columbia outsmarted powerful Syracuse, 12-0; Lehigh surprised Lafayette, 13-7; Bucknell whipped Penn State, 13-7; and Duquesne stopped Catholic, 14-0.

Nebraska and Kansas State kept step in the Big Six race they will decide in their Thanksgiving day game. Nebraska trailed Missouri going into the fourth quarter, but the Cornhuskers pushed over two touchdowns to win, 13-6. Kansas State trounced Iowa State, 24-0. Kar's, meanwhile, dropped a 6-0 verdict to Michigan State while Oklahoma got no better than a scoreless draw with Oklahoma A. & M.

A light southern schedule was topped by Tulane's 32-0 rout of Bewanee, keeping the Green Wave in the Southeastern conference race; Georgia's 18-0 triumph over Auburn; Florida's 13-12 decision over Georgia Tech; a 13-6 conquest of Mississippi by Centenary's Gentlemen, and Maryland's 6-0 verdict over Georgetown.

The Colorado Aggies, possible Rocky Mountain conference champions, showed under Colorado college, 40-6.

Marian Gordon

by JEANNE BOWMAN

SYNOPSIS: The crooked contractor, McSwain, holds Lon Casad in his power, and furthermore, has stolen from Lon's wife, Marian, the evidence necessary to prove the McSwain machinations. Lon has at last been made to see his danger; Marian has determined that the only man who can furnish the additional evidence necessary to convict McSwain is Max Hamlin, and has slipped away from McSwain's spies to meet Hamlin.

Chapter 42.
DISTURBED RENDEZVOUS

The Steele apartment was dark. Marian hadn't expected that. After a moment she called the manager. "Of course you can go in, Mrs. Marlan," he said. "I know Mrs. Steele would wait for you."

That was even better, Marian decided, and as soon as they had finished gossiping about tenants she had known when she lived there she hurried to the telephone and called the Okmeyer.

"Mr. Hamlin?" Marian felt a sense of relief from her nervous tension in the calm, easy tone of his voice.

"I'll be right over," he assured her.

While Marian waited for him, she went into the little mirrored cubicle and assumed the privileges of an old friend.

She brushed her hair vigorously, then patted it into smooth waves, powdered her nose, dabbed at her lips, straightened the frock she wore, looked down in surprise to find it the lilac angora she had worn the night she flew to Reno. She had grabbed at the first warm dress in her wardrobe, scarcely realizing what she chose. And then she heard the buzzer.

She waited at the door for Hamlin to come up, saw him step from the elevator and walk down the hall towards her and for the first time realized what a handsome man he was.

Some of the wonder of it was in her eyes as she greeted him. She had been so blinded by her love of Lon, in Reno, that she had scarcely seen Hamlin.

"It's nice to see you again," he said in greeting, gripping her hand in a firm clasp, "even if you did have to wait until you were in trouble to call on me."

"That wasn't nice of me, was it?" agreed Marian. "I really would like to have seen you before—but—"

"I know," he said, "your husband earned the admiration I had for you, and didn't want to put me to a test. Marian's cheeks flushed scarlet. "I—I really didn't know. . . I think you're being kind."

"Don't feel badly about it, I don't. But you see, Mrs. Marian, or Mrs. Casad, I should say, one rarely meets a girl nowadays with such a fine sense of honor."

"That's just it," Marian interposed eagerly. "I've lost that sense of honor. I intend to be thoroughly dishonorable, and I want you to help me. I have to convince Cliff Honson that it was my lie that saved his life, and not Silver."

"And I suppose you're doing that just to throw a little glory on yourself," he suggested whimsically.

"No, oh, no," and the realizing he was laughing kindly she added, "it's for someone else. It seems to be for many people, but to be honest it's for my husband."

"Has Silver carried out her threat to win him away from you?" he asked, interested.

"Did you know about that?" she asked in surprise.

"Oh, yes, she confided in me. Told me he was the only man she could ever love. I told her that was because he was probably the only man she'd ever wanted and couldn't have."

"But it isn't that," Marian insisted. "I wouldn't fight to try to hold a man's love. It's more serious, oh so much more serious."

"Mr. Hamlin, did you realize there was one page of the letter that I believe you slipped into my pocket, that we didn't read, that evening?"

"No, I didn't, what did it contain?"

"Evidence that would have put Silver's father, Mr. McSwain, in the penitentiary."

"You say 'would have' Did you lose the letter?"

"It was stolen from me, and the only way I can replace the evidence is through Cliff Honson and until he knows he doesn't owe his life to Silver, he won't talk."

"That should be easy to do, I mean convince Mr. Honson that he is wrong. Can we call him here?"

"No, he is in the Islands and my time is limited."
"Limited?"
"McSwain is trying to strike at me through my husband. Wait . . . there's the buzzer." Marian lifted a hand for silence and listened. The buzzer gave the code signal the Casads and Steeles had adopted, three short and one long ring.

Anne must have noticed the light, perhaps she had forgotten her key. She released the hall door, then stood at the apartment door waiting for the elevator. She would have to explain Hamlin's presence.

The elevator clanged to a stop and from it stepped Lon Casad. In two strides he had reached her. Marian hadn't expected that. After a moment she called the manager. "Of course you can go in, Mrs. Marlan," he said. "I know Mrs. Steele would wait for you."

That was even better, Marian decided, and as soon as they had finished gossiping about tenants she had known when she lived there she hurried to the telephone and called the Okmeyer.

"That should be easy to do, I mean convince Mr. Honson that he is wrong. Can we call him here?"

"Oh He dropped his arm, then said to Marian, 'I see you didn't need the address.'
"Lon," Marian looked with pleading at her husband, "don't jump to conclusions."
"I asked Mrs. Casad to meet me in some convenient place to discuss a business matter," Hamlin said in an easy manner. "I hope you don't object."
"It probably wouldn't matter if I did," Lon returned ungraciously, then to Marian, "I thought you didn't want to come into town."
"I didn't when you asked me, but . . . I learned later that Mr. Hamlin was here and I wanted to talk to him."
"At least it seems to be mutual," Lon said, then laughing, "been playing the tables lately, Mr. Hamlin?"
"No," answered Hamlin bewildered.

"I didn't imagine you were, you'd be losing, you know. You said in Reno you only won when you were unlucky in love."
"Lionel Casad," Marian's temper had flashed into action, "you act like a silly school boy. Mr. Hamlin is ready to do us both a great service and you're trying to insult him."
She closed the hall door and turned to face the two men.

"Now sit down and let's talk this over." "No" to Mr. Hamlin, "I haven't been able to discuss it with Lon. Wait" as she heard a noise in the hall.

She went to the door, opened it and stepped back. Silver Honson was there.

"I didn't know you intended spending the evening," she began, then, seeing Marian, she added, "well, well, so you're the reason he had to 'drop in here a minute' . . . and, if it isn't old Max Hamlin in person. Well, Max, I didn't know you were in town."

"Neither," Lon burst.

"Oh—oh," murmured Silver in a laughing tone. "Well, Max, as I told you in Reno, you can have the gal if you really want her . . . come on, Lon, let's ramble."

"Come on, Marian, we're starting home."

Marian gave Hamlin a despairing look. What on earth could she do in such a situation?

If she stayed after what Silver had said, Lon would never forgive her. If she left with him, how and when would she be able to reach Hamlin? Besides she couldn't leave him in Anne's apartment.

Hamlin sensed the situation and the sardonic gleam in his dark eyes deepened.

"Run along, children," he said, "and by the way, Silver, as I said to you in Reno, you can't have that man no matter how much you want him, while he has a wife like this one."

"Is that so?" flashed Silver, and flounced from the room in anger, linking her arm in Lon's and dragging him with her.

Hamlin took this opportunity of speaking to Marian. "I'll get in touch with you," he promised, and added, "don't worry."

Lon and Silver waited for Marian in the hall, and when she joined them the three went silently down to the car.

"And a good time was had by all," laughed Silver, as Lon helped her into the car first.

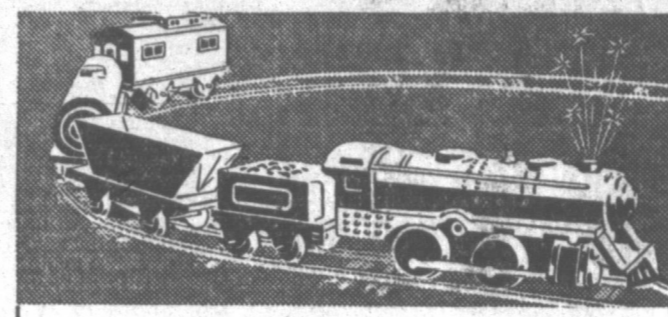

Marian said nothing. She sat on the outside, her mind a chaotic whirlwind of worry, jealousy and anger. She turned once to wave to Hamlin, who had followed her from the apartment, then turning back, was conscious that Silver was snuggling close to Lon.
