Churchill Warns Nation To Be Ready To Combat Air Attack From Naziland

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Winston Churchill, conservative party leader, declared last night in a speech in the House of Commons that Germany already has a military air force rapidly approaching equality with that of Great Britain...

Churchill said that the great new fact riveting the attention of every country in Europe was that "Germany is re-arming."

Germany is re-arming on land and she is re-arming also at sea, declared Churchill, "but what concerns us most of all is the re-arming of Germany in the air."

A week or ten days of intensive air bombardment of London would kill or maim thousands of people in a short time and drive millions into the country, he said.

Stressing the need of strengthening the air force particularly, Mr. Churchill said that almost every part of the united kingdom was within range of air attacks from the continent.

"It is useless to move arsenals and factories to the west coast," he said. "We must face the peril where we stand."

He advocated the maintenance, regardless of cost, for the next ten years of a "force substantially stronger than that of Germany."

"The Germans are mostly friendly," he added. "There is no reason to think they will attack us. But under the Nazi regime the decision of only a handful of men is required to launch an attack without notice."

Germany is illegally bulding an air force, in contravention of the treaty of Versailles, he charged. At the end of 1936 the German air force would be nearly 50 per cent stronger than Britain's and in 1937, he asserted, it would be double the strength of the British.

Housing Plans For Unemployed Will Go Ahead

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The relief administration's plan to build low-cost homes and rural-industrial communities for the destitute unemployed went ahead at full pace today, freed of fear it might be blocked by J. R. McCarl, the comptroller general...

Officially disclosed that McCarl had released more than $100,000,000 to meet December relief grants to states without questioning funds destined to go into housing and relief communities.

Those who will participate include Harry L. Hopkins, the relief administrator, and Rexford G. Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture.

BANDIT DIES OF 12 BULLETS SHOT BY COWLEY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Baby Face Nelson was found dead this afternoon in Niles Center, Illinois.

Attorney General Cummings said the gangster was shot yesterday by Inspector Samuel F. Cowley and Special Agent Herman E. Hollis, who were killed in a gun fight with him at Barrington, Ill.

When the body was found today by federal men it was found Nelson had been shot five times in the stomach and twice in the chest and five times in each leg.

The body was found in a ditch clad only in underclothing. The outer garments were found by department of justice searchers.

Niles Center was described as 15 miles from Chicago. "Make it clear that our men shot him," Cummings said.

Nelson was considered the nation's number one criminal since the death of John Dillinger in Chicago several weeks ago. Dillinger was reported to have been killed by Hollis.

Finding of the body concluded an intensive 24-hour search for the gangster, former associate of Dillinger, who was alleged to have been the killer of W. Carter Baum, a federal agent, at the battle of Little Bohemia in Northern Wisconsin in April.

Reward of $5,000 has been outstanding for his capture. Another reward of $2,500 was offered for information leading to his capture. Death of the notorious gunman at the hands of federal agents means that the reward money will not be paid, it was said.

Nelson was 25 years old and a native of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Samuel P. Cowley, one of the federal government's ace manhunters, died early today from bullet wounds inflicted in a gun battle with George (Baby Face) Nelson in which another federal man was killed.

He died in Elgin hospital as the government threw all its power into a hunt for Nelson, one of the few remaining members of the John Dillinger gang. Nelson was named as one of two men who shot down Cowley and Herman E. Hollis in a burst of gunfire in suburban Barrington late yesterday. Hollis met death instantly in the shower of bullets that Nelson and an unidentified companion unloaded in a brief but furious gun battle.

Even as he lay dying, it was disclosed by department of justice agents that Cowley was the real See AGENTS SHOT, Page 8.

AGED RESIDENT SHOT TO DEATH ACCIDENTALLY

J. W. Van De Vanter Dies Of Pistol Wound

The accidental discharge of a pistol, which he kept under his pillow caused the instant death early this morning of John Wesley Van de Vanter, 73, a resident of Pampa for the last 22 years. He was better known as "Uncle John Van." He lived at 702 South Gray street.

Mrs. Van de Vanter was asleep by the side of her husband when the accident happened. She is of the belief that her husband heard a noise about the house and after investigating returned to bed, placing the gun under his pillow, and it accidentally discharged. The bullet passed through Mr. Van de Vanter's head.

Mr. Van de Vanter was born in Illinois where he spent his early life. He later moved to New Mexico but 35 years ago moved to Miami to make his home. He moved to Pampa with his family 22 years ago. The body is at the G. C. Malone See AGED RESIDENT, Page 8.

I Saw... Letters from Supt. K. E. Oberholzer of Lubbock and the Lubbock pep squad to Supt. R. B. Fisher and Coach Mitchell highly praising the treatment they received here Saturday. "It will be a pleasure to play the Harvesters again next year," the superintendent wrote.

EDITORIAL

A LESSON OF DEPRESSION PERIOD

Of the many significant things connected with the depression years, we see none more certain than that this government cannot survive many repetitions of the long periods of unemployment such as we have seen.

When individual initiative is blocked and work opportunities decline, men clutch at straws. In the present instance, government and business have become so closely connected that they are interchangeable in the thinking of many persons. If legislation alone would solve the problems, the situation would not be serious. But there are hundreds of thousands of persons who would make the government their employer permanently. To do so would be to adopt a radical socialist or communist set-up.

Hatred of communism and its anti-god policies was intense at the beginning of the depression. Gradually faith in the American system has suffered. There are many thousands of men who little realize, now, how much they have drifted toward communism in their thinking. True, they would be happier and better contented with jobs under our democratic government. But they want jobs.

No discussion would be complete, moreover, without mention of the feeling among many persons that the government owes them a living and that they ought not to work much.

Those who love America and her democratic ideals should be very serious in attempts to analyze unemployment and to do something very sane about it. Certain it is that continued federal spending is not the answer. In the midst of too much, we must find a way to make it possible for everyone to have the necessities of life. A job is the first necessity.

A Washington Daybook

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Over at the Treasury and up on Capitol Hill you'll find a lot of folks wistfully rolling sheets of paper into cornucopias.

It seems they're making dunce caps for Attorney General Homer Cummings and Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee.

McKellar undertook last session to rid the alcohol tax unit of 700 experienced civil service employees who he said were Republicans. These men were the carefully selected remnants of the old prohibition service, badly needed in the Treasury's attempt to make the legitimate liquor industry as successful as the still flourishing bootleg trade.

Everything has gone completely haywire and even cabinet members are in one another's hair as a result of an idiotic tragedy of errors beginning with that attempt.

McKellar's rider to a deficiency bill threw hundreds of jobs open to competitive examinations for about 10,000 hungry job-seekers. The senator thought he had carefully exempted recent green Democratic appointees—who hadn't had to take competitive exams—from the scramble, but it seems he didn't even succeed in that.

The rider was so worded that everybody became balled up and Cummings barged in with an attempt to decide just how many of the ATU's 3600 employees were to be affected.

Morale of the liquor law enforcers, already disturbed, has been shattered ever since.

First, Cummings formally ruled that 1800—not merely McKellar's 700—must be fired.

Secretary Morgenthau, who had solemnly sworn to "lick the bootlegger," flew into one of the season's bitterest New Deal rages. He stormed into the White House, which already had begun to hear from congressmen who were victims of a terrific kickback from important constituents.

Friends of civil service, meanwhile, were shrieking themselves hoarse.

So Cummings, under pressure, gave another decision, which said only 900 need be fired.

Then it appeared that such rulings weren't under the Cummings jurisdiction at all and just didn't count. The decision was up to Comptroller General McCarl, who went ahead and marked 1200 agents for the ax.

It wouldn't have been quite so awful if McCarl hadn't carefully considered the bases for the two Cummings decisions—and kicked them right out the window, using quite different bases for his own ruling.

Now 900 agents—including many democrats—are definitely out Dec. 1, as only 240 qualified in the competitive exams. The Civil Service pulled an intelligence test on them—and failed to credit them for experience.

Now nearly everybody is sarcastically sore at Cummings. McKellar is in bad with scores of his congressional mates. Morgenthau is angry at everybody.

And nearly everybody, with McKellar the loudest and angriest of the pack, is cussing out the Civil Service Commission. Bootleggers have every reason to be happy.

A Japanese police inspector detoured the emperor from his prescribed route, and the country is so horrified it has forgotten, for the moment, any thought of China, Manchukuo and even the United States.

Pennsylvania reports an increase in employment—and the democrats still have to get their jobs in January.

In the matter of electric power, President Roosevelt is proving himself a greater utility to the United States than all public utilities together.

Mrs. J. M. Turner was named vice president, Mrs. Ralph Chisum secretary, Mrs. Joe Gordon corresponding secretary, Mrs. N. F. Maddux conference treasurer, Mrs. Fred Cary local treasurer.

Activity chairmen elected were Mrs. W. E. Campbell, study leader; Mrs. Gaston Foote, child work leader; Mrs. John Hodge, superintendent of supplies; Mrs. Art Hurst, chairman of Christian social relations; Mrs. R. B. Fisher, superintendent of publicity; Mrs. H. O. Roberts, Outlook agent.

Next Monday members will meet in circles, the places to be announced in the church bulletin. A general meeting will be conducted in the form of a luncheon on December 10. Mmes. Foote, Turner, W. R. Ewing, and H. C. Boyd were named as a program committee for this event.

Reports of work done last year were made at this session. The number of visits made, bouquets and meals sent to sick and needy, and contributions for charity reported, showed the extent of local missionary work.

Mrs. Turner made the treasurer's final report, and Mrs. Foote reported on the work done in the children's department. Mrs. Hodge told of sending three boxes of supplies to mission centers of Texas.

Mrs. W. Purviance, district secretary, commended the Pampa society for excellent cooperation among members, which she said was responsible for the outstanding report made at the annual conference.

Members voted to assist the junior and intermediate departments of the church in packing Thanksgiving boxes for needy families here, and to assist the Red Cross in sewing for the needy.

Mrs. Shelton conducted the opening devotional from Psalm 34. A large number of members were present with three visitors: Mmes. Robert Williams, A. B. Whitten, and Husband.

Profit of $850 Shown in Year's Work With Foods

"Not so bad!" Mrs. Clyde King, farm and ranch food supply demonstrator for Bell Foods Demonstration club, may truthfully say after making her inventory for achievement day Tuesday.

Mrs. King's pantry contains 878 quarts of fruit, vegetables, and meat valued at $390. This does not include milk, butter, and eggs produced on the farm.

Her demonstration during the year included improvement of her kitchen, building of a permanent cellar, purchase of fruit jars and a few vegetables and fruit for canning.

Her total expense was $49.29, and her inventory further shows that from butter and cream she has realized $226.30 during 1934.

Her refined kitchen, to which she added a cabinet and sink, cost $775. Fruit bought in Colorado in August cost $4.70, and fruit and vegetables bought here cost $4.50. An expense of $17.54 for fruit jars was her only other expense.

Mr. King built the cellar and helped in rebuilding the kitchen.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

"Thanksgiving" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Thanksgiving day.

The golden text is: "Thanks be unto God for his unpeakable gift." (II Corinthians 9:15.)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "sing unto the Lord, O ye saints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness." (Psalms 30:4.)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We plead for unmerited pardon and for a liberal outpouring of benefactions. Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more." (Page 3.)

Program Attended by 200 at Woodrow Wilson

One of the most interesting programs of the year in Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association was heard Monday evening by more than 200 adults who attended an open house educational discussion.

This program, postponed from national education week because of the illness of a speaker, was directed by Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar and ended in a round-table discussion as questions were asked from the audience.

The topic, Know Your Schools, was discussed from varying angles. J. M. Daugherty told of the functions of a school board; Supt. R. B. Fisher spoke of school legislation; Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal at Woodrow Wilson, told of the building and equipment there.

Mrs. W. B. Murphy named the teachers and told of their training. Mrs. J. W. French discussed school attendance, and Miss Llewellyn Shelby school health. Finances were discussed by Roy McMillen, and the new curriculum by Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

A serenade and a march by the school's kid band, and a reading by Helen Gillham were program contributions by pupils.

Announcement was made in the business session that Mrs. E. A. Glover will receive the prize offered in the recent P-T-A membership drive. Mrs. Somerville is room mother for this group.

Mrs. E. A. Hampton's room was represented by the most parents and friends at the meeting Monday evening.

A chili supper was planned for the evening of December 11 as a benefit for the association's treasury.

Evangelist Rice To Speak Tonight

Evangelist John M. Rice of Abilene will preach this evening at the Francis Avenue Church of Christ. He will greet a number of old friends here, as he has conducted revivals for the local congregation in the past.

There have been no odd moments around the Smith farm this year, for in addition to pantry achievement, the family has refurnished a bedroom, living room, and kitchen at a total cost of less than $5, and built a cellar which cost about $2.

HAMILTON IS OUT WITH FLU; DUNAWAY AND FANNING ARE STILL DISABLED

QUARTERBACK IS UNDER CARE OF PHYSICIAN

SANDIES TO OUTWEIGH BOYS 5 POUNDS PER PLAYER

The Pampa Harvesters may enter their big game of the season against the Amarillo Sandies in Amarillo Thursday afternoon with Lloyd Hamilton, quarterback, and Bill Dunaway, halfback, out of the lineup or, at the best, in poor condition to play 60 minutes of football.

Hamilton is under a physician's care with an attack of influenza, while Dunaway's hip, injured in the game with Lubbock, was so painful yesterday that he walked with difficulty. Hamilton reported at school yesterday unable to talk above a whisper. He was sent to his home.

Lloyd Hamilton was much better this morning and his physician announced that he would be able to play tomorrow afternoon. The cold was broken last night and much of his soreness had disappeared this morning. Bill Dunaway's hip injury was not responding to treatment and the attending doctor said this morning that it was doubtful whether Dunaway would be able to play.

where a physician announced that it would be unusual if the cold could be broken in time for Hamilton to regain enough strength to play Thursday.

Dunaway entered the Lubbock game with an injured hip which bothered his play. He received an injury on the other hip during the game, and it is the new bruise which is causing him trouble. He will be unable to play his best if in the game tomorrow afternoon.

Other members of the team are in good shape, with the exception of Red Fanning, fullback, who has not been able to scrimmage or run plays for a month because of an elbow injury. It may be that Fanning will have to be used during the game, but he will not be in condition to play long.

If either Dunaway or Hamilton is unable to be in the starting lineup, several drastic changes would have to be made. Mayse Nash would be shifted to quarterback, which would mean the sending of the injured Fanning, Powell, Stewart, or Rose to the fullback position. Drake or Elkins would be the choice to replace Dunaway, with Drake being the best bet because of his excellent showing against Lubbock after he settled down.

On top of a "six pound to the man" weight advantage in the line, the Amarillo backfield will outweigh the Harvester secondary more than three pounds to the man, to give the Sandies an average weight advantage of five pounds to the player, assuming that both Hamilton and Dunaway will be able to start the game.

Big John Harlow, Amarillo's raming fullback, tips the scales at 174 lbs. Harlow is powerful on defense, especially when it comes to breaking up passes. Mayse Nash, Pampa's midline fullback, weighs only 152 pounds. He is a power for his size, passes fairly well, and is a good little defensive player.

The quarterback job is handled by a couple of midjets. Stidger of Amarillo weighs 148 pounds and Hamilton of Pampa tips the scales at three pounds less. Stidger is fast, an excellent passer, and a great punter, especially when it comes to quick kicks. Hamilton is more powerful than the Amarillo barker, and nearly as fast.

Amarillo's pair of halfbacks are Bufkin and Waggoner. Bufkin is fast and a powerful line plunger. He also does some deadly punting. Waggoner is the blocking halfback. He has carried the ball only once this season. Bufkin weighs 165 pounds and Waggoner 152 pounds. Mackie is the giant in the Harvester backfield. He weighs 183 pounds and is the fastest man on the team. Lack of experience has been Mackie's handicap but he is a fighter and a threat. Dunaway is the triple-threat in the Pampa backfield. He passes, punts, and is good at hitting the line and running the ends. He weighs only 144 pounds.

Weather prospects were still in doubt this morning. If no more snow or rain falls, the game will be played on a dry field. The weather man predicted fair weather, but

FIVE PANTHERS PLACED ON ALL-STAR EASTERN ELEVEN

Fordham, Colgate, Syracuse Army and Navy Are Represented on Mythical Club

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28. (AP)—Pittsburgh's Panthers, dominating the all-star setting as they did the eastern gridirons, today captured five places on the 1934 all-eastern eleven chosen for the Associated Press annually by a poll of the sectional football experts.

The eastern honor roll places the Panther center trio of Captain Charles Hartwig and Ken Ormlston at the guards and George Shotwell at center. Miller Munjas, clever field general, passer and probably the best kicker in the country, directs the team at quarter back. Burly Isadore Weinstock, who fractured every line he faced at one time or another, completes the quintet at fullback.

Navy's light but alert eleven, snowed under by Pitt, gained two places for its outstanding star, fleet Fred Borries at one of the halves, and big Slade Cutter, in one tackle berth. Syracuse, Colgate, Fordham and Army contributed a man each—the orange placing Jim (Big Six) Steen at tackle, Colgate one end in Jo Bogdanski, Fordham the other in Captain Lester Borden, and Army to the other halfback in clever Jack Buckler.

Despite Pitt's preponderance in numbers, Borries led all the rest in individual ballots with 35 for the halfback post and Steen was next as the top tackle choice with 31. Weinstock polled 30 votes.

The first and second teams with their votes:
First Team
Ends: Lester Borden, Fordham (26), Joe Bogdanski, Colgate (25).
Tackles: Jim Steen, Syracuse (31), Slade Cutter, Navy (27).
Guards: Charles Hartwig, Pittsburgh (23), Kenneth Ormlston, Pittsburgh (23).
Centers: George Shotwell, Pittsburgh (20).
Quarter: Miller Munjas, Pittsburgh (20).
Halves: Fred Borries, Navy (35), Jack Buckler, Army (24).
Fullback: Isadore Weinstock, Pittsburgh (30).
Second Team
Ends: Larry Kelley, Yale (24), Ed Furey, Columbia (15).
Tackles: Ed Harvey, Holy Cross (17), Lew Brooke, Colgate (15).
Guards: Robert Stillman, Army (20), Robert Gundlach, Harvard (18).
Centers: Mose Kalbaugh, Princeton (19).
Quarter: Kats Kadie, Princeton (19).
Halves: Bill Shepherd, W. Maryland (19), Garry Levan, Princeton (16).
Fullback: Dave Smuckler, Temple (19).

failed to report whether it would be warm or cold.

Neither team has played on a muddy field this year but mud usually is an equalizer. Harvester field was slightly muddy for a portion of the Pampa-Shawnee game and Butler field was in the same condition when the Sandies battled Plainview. Neither of the winning teams appeared to be greatly handicapped by the mud.

A special train will leave Pampa at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow carrying several hundred fans to Amarillo. The train will arrive close to Butler field at 1:40 o'clock. The return will be soon after the game, with the train due to arrive in Pampa at 6:10 o'clock.

Many fans will drive to Amarillo but the train is the favorite way for many who are afraid of heavy traffic and accidents.

CALIFORNIA'S COACH RESIGNS FOR BUSINESS

'STUB' ALLISON NAMED TO SUCCEED 'NAVY' BILL INGRAM

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 28. (AP)—William Ingram became a private business man today while into his shoes as head football coach at the University of California stepped Leonard B. "Stub" Allison, a former star player at Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.

Allison's resignation was so sudden that it surprised even the executive committee of the associated students who accepted Ingram's resignation last night and promptly appointed the man who has been his first assistant for four years. Ingram's resignation stated that he was accepting "a wonderful opportunity to become settled in private business life."

Ingram, who came to California four years ago from the head coaching position at the United States naval academy, made no mention in his resignation of recent grumbling among undergraduates and alumni groups over his team's defeats during the season.

It had been generally assumed that the great comeback of the California Bears in holding the coast champion Stanford Cardinals' margin of victory to 9 to 7 last Saturday had quieted the grumblers and that "Navy Bill" would be at the helm again in 1935—completing his contract which did not expire for another year.

The student committee and Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the university, expressed regrets at the resignation. Ingram did not disclose the nature of his business plans but it was reported that he will become associated with John Francis Neylan, San Francisco attorney.

The terms of Allison's appointment, under which he takes charge of the team at once in preparation for a post-season game in Hawaii during the Christmas holidays, were not announced.

Practice Mat Is Installed Here

Wrestling will be resumed in Pampa today. Wrestlers making Pampa their home are working out daily at the Roundup club in the basement of the Brunow building where a practice mat has been installed. Workout time is 2 o'clock every afternoon excepting Sundays.

Wrestlers or boys desiring to become wrestlers are invited to report at the Roundup club, bringing their own tights and sweaters. Fans will also be welcomed at all workouts.

Those already training are Dorry Dalton, new Pampa resident; Pat Garrison, curly Lewis, Harry Dowler (Andy Gump), Dorie Luttrell, and others.

Local promoters expect to announce a new location for wrestling matches soon. They expect to secure larger quarters where more fans can be accommodated and where a higher ceiling will be available.

'Strong Defense Is Best Offense,' Says Army Coach

WEST POINT, Nov. 28. (AP)—What's good enough for the Army in football.

That's the theory Head Coach Gar Davidson of the U. S. Military Academy is going on in whipping the cadet gridders in shape for their annual clash with the Navy in Philadelphia on Saturday.

What he means is "a strong offense is the best defense." Thus far Davidson has just touched lightly on offensive play, stressing defense for the Navy's anticipated overhead attack. But from today on Davidson plans to devote considerable time on that phase of the game, emphasizing the timing of the soldiers' running and passing attack.

The game Saturday will close the gridders' careers of seven members of the starting lineup. Most famous of the men who will be playing their last games for the military academy are triple-threat Texas Jack Buckler and Captain Joe Stan-cook.

The others who will receive diplomas in June are Bill "Tex" Beall and "Moose" Miller, tackles; Bill Brearley and Bob Stillman, guards, and Norman Edwards, right end. Ozzie Simons, who has been Buckler's understudy for the past two seasons, also will be playing his last game.

Longhorns And Aggies Prepare For Grid Classic

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP)—All the nerve-tingling and glamor of Texas' outstanding football game each season pervaded two football camps, student bodies and the minds of sports enthusiasts in general today as the Texas-Aggie Turkey day game approached.

The prospect of clear, crisp weather, the Longhorns' home-coming game, the last appearance of Bohn Hilliard, and the final chance for the Aggies to make a fine showing added to the enthusiasm.

While Coach Jack Chevigny tried to get his men to forget the two Southwest conference upsets of last week, where the favored teams were defeated, Coach Homer Norton transported his cadet grid warriors to Taylor for a light practice before proceeding to the capital city.

Roosevelt Removes All Vacant Lands From Settlement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP)—All vacant, unreserved and unappropriated public lands in 12 western states were temporarily withdrawn from settlement, location, sale or entry by an executive order issued today by President Roosevelt.

In announcing the order, Secretary Ickes said he expected the withdrawal would not be necessary for more than six months. He explained its purpose "is to effectuate the principal aims" of the Taylor grazing act to conserve grazing lands of the west.

The public lands affected are in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oregon, Utah, and Wyoming.

NAVY IS NOT UNDERDOG IN ARMY BATTLE

IT'S ANY MAN'S BALL GAME FROM START TO FINISH

NEW YORK, Nov. 28. (AP)—It's refreshing to note that Navy, for the first time since 1921, is not the underdog this year in the annual gridiron service clash with Army.

The service teams first clashed way back in 1890. During that span of 44 years the Navy hasn't been able to string more than three wins in a row. They did it in 1910-11-12 and again in 1919-20-21. Since 1921 the Army has won nine of ten games, the other resulting in a scoreless deadlock.

However, the Middies won't be the underdogs when the teams line up on Franklin field in Philadelphia Saturday before an anticipated capacity crowd of 80,000.

It's any man's ball game from the expert's point of view, with the Navy standing an excellent chance of putting an end to Army's winning streak.

While the Army-Navy game features the "dying swan" week of one of the wildest campaigns in the history of college football, many teams will get in their last licks on Thanksgiving day.

Topping the program in the east will be two traditional games. The more prominent features Pennsylvania playing host to Cornell in Philadelphia, while Colgate's Red Raiders engage Brown at Providence, R. I.

Other eastern games will find New York university and Fordham coming to the end of their gridiron trails in Yankee stadium here; Pittsburgh's Panthers meeting Carnegie Tech, Temple opposing Bucknell, and George Washington meeting an intersectional rival in Oklahoma.

Alabama, generally rated the leading contender for the nomination to represent the "east" against Stanford in the New Year's day Rose Bowl game, meets Vanderbilt in the sandlot game in the south. Other games in that sector include Kentucky-Tennessee, and North Carolina-Virginia.

Six games stand out in the west and southwest: Kansas State vs. Nebraska; Kansas vs. Missouri; Texas A. & M. vs. Texas university; Oregon vs. St. Mary's; Arkansas vs. Tulsa, and Washington university vs. St. Louis university.

FAIRBANKS, SR., IS NAMED CO-RESPONDENT IN DIVORCE CASE

MISCONDUCT IS CHARGED WITH LADY ASHLEY

ACTOR'S SECRETARY IS CHIEF WITNESS FOR LORD

By OSCAR LEIDING Associated Press Foreign Staff LONDON, Nov. 28. (AP)—Lord Ashley was granted a divorce decree today from Lady Ashley and costs of the action were assessed against Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., named as correspondent.

The decree, which gives the young nobleman a final divorce after six months if contrary cause is not shown, was handed down shortly after the case came before Sir Boyd Merriman. The suit was not defended and services of a jury were not required.

Lady Ashley is the former Sylvia Hawkes, musical comedy actress. The court action today required exactly eight minutes time. Neither Lady Ashley nor Fairbanks was in court but Lord Ashley was there, smartly attired in a grey suit. Ashley gave evidence supporting his petition and called as a witness a "Mr Edwards" who he said acted as private secretary to Fairbanks from September 1933.

Lord Ashley testified he and his wife lived together from their marriage, Feb. 3, 1927, until Lady Ashley went to America in January, 1928, contrary to his wishes, and they had not lived together since.

Subsequently, Lord Ashley continued, he received information of Lady Ashley's association with Fairbanks. He charged misconduct at the Hyde Park hotel and a house known as "North Mimms Park" which Fairbanks had taken in the country.

Fairbanks's wife, Mary Pickford, also an American screen star, filed suit for divorce last December. Sir Patrick Hastings, appearing for the petitioner, said there were many allegations but that he did not propose to open all of them and he referred only to certain alleged incidents at the Dorchester hotel.

Edwards, a youthful sandy-haired man who spoke with a definite American accent, testified he had lived in Fairbanks's suite at the Dorchester and that Lady Ashley was living in the hotel at the same time.

Lawyers said it would require several days to fix the costs of the case, which Fairbanks is to pay, but estimated the figure probably would be about £2,000 ($10,000).

During the hearing Edwards was asked if Lady Ashley was a frequent visitor.

"Yes," replied Edwards. "I often received instructions not to disturb them." She was very frequently there.

In further questioning concerning the Hyde Park hotel Hastings asked: "In October do you remember Lady Ashley coming to his house about 11:30 in the morning?"

"Yes," Edwards answered. "Where did they go?" "To his bedroom," Edwards testified. "Were you in the suite all day?" "Yes."

"Did you see them come out of the bedroom?" "Yes," Edwards answered.

Edwards added that Fairbanks took a house in the country where he and Lady Ashley went to live for a long period. He said he left the actor's service May 26, 1934.

The 34-year-old Lord Ashley was quiet and serious throughout the brief proceeding. The court was fairly well filled with fashionably dressed spectators, including several stage folk.

Smart London society circles were startled by Lord Ashley's action, filed last February, although the couple lived together less than a year after their marriage in 1927.

Lady Ashley and Fairbanks have frequently been seen in each other's company, both before and after the suit was filed.

Lord Ashley, whose family is one of the most aristocratic and wealthy in England, married Miss Hawkes, once a favorite of London's midnight follies, despite parental objections. He is the heir of the Ninth Earl of Shaftesbury, former Lord Mayor of Belfast and a prominent churchman.

Byrns, Rayburn In Intense Race For Speakership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP)—As the race for the speakership of the new house turned the back trail today, most observers believed Representative Byrns of Tennessee and Rayburn of Texas were in the lead, with Bankhead of Alabama pulling far ahead of a field of dark horses.

The terrific pace indicates an early decision, although the actual selection of the winner will not take place until a democratic caucus January 2.

Campaigning for Byrns, the democratic leader, and Rayburn, said by some to have support in administration circles, has become intense. Bankhead is to arrive Monday to get his campaign under way. His chances are generally believed to lie in a deadlock between Rayburn and Byrns.

The return to Washington on Dec. 6, of Vice President Garner may have some bearing on the race. Garner is to confer with President Roosevelt on democratic organization policies.

Famed Microbe Hunter Is Low With A Malady

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28. (AP)—Dr. Charles Armstrong, modest hero in the government's fight against disease lay helpless in a hospital today—victim of a mysterious malady unknown to science. For two decades a foremost "microbe hunter" of the public health service, Dr. Armstrong was struck down as he pressed research into sleeping sickness.

But, so far as is known, the malady that attacked him bears no relation to sleeping sickness. A kin eruption appears on the sides of his body, he runs a temperature and at times grows delirious.

The possibility that he contracted the disease deliberately, making himself a "human guinea pig" was not overlooked, though colleagues said they knew nothing of that.

Once Dr. Armstrong contracted parrot fever, and almost died. From his blood was made convalescent serum which helped save the life of the wife of Senator William E. Borah.

ALLRED AIDES LEAVING STATE'S LEGAL SERVICES FOR GOOD JOBS

AUSTIN, Nov. 28. (AP)—Many of the young men who attached themselves to Governor-Elect James V. Allred when Allred became attorney general and fought with him side by side in the courthouse and political arena for nearly four years are leaving the state's legal service for private practice.

Allred surrounded himself with assistants of unquestioned enthusiasm, although many of them had not yet won their spurs in legal combat. Even though they lacked experience they made things hum around the attorney general's office and attacked the law problems of the state with a vigor that soon gained recognition. They soon had enough law suits to gain plenty of experience.

Those who have watched the operations of the department believe Allred was fortunate in gathering together his assistants. The majority were young and had both their legal and political futures before them. A few terms in the attorney general's office was a desirable jumping off place for a young lawyer. They were loyal to the core and worked assiduously to advance Allred's political ambitions.

There are those who hold to the belief that a goodly portion of Allred's meteoric rise in the political world can be attributed to the faithful performances of his assistants.

Among those who already have sought greener fields are Everett Johnson of San Antonio, Neal Powers for months head of the legal staff in the East Texas oil field, Sidney Benbow who defended the Red river bridge suits and T. S. Christopher who handled the voluminous litigation involved in enforcement of the motor truck laws.

Reports were current in the capitol that Elbert Hooper, first assistant attorney general, would leave soon to resume private practice. Scott Gaines, according to reports, is scheduled to take over the first assistant's position during the short time remaining in Allred's term and will be retained by the next administration.

Allred will leave much unfinished business to his successor, William McCraw of Dallas. Suits of major importance pending on appeals courts include the anti-trust oil company ouster and the Lone Star gas rate cases, both of which the state lost in the trial courts.

In addition much litigation involving the Texas railroad commissions' oil prororation orders and suits to recover thousands of dollars of bonus on oil land for the state school fund will provide McCraw and his assistants with plenty to do for a few months.

LARGE FIRMS PURCHASE 200 TANKS OF GAS

HALF-CENT ADVANCE IN PRICES TALKED IN TRADE

By WILLIAM VOIGT, Jr. Associated Press Staff Writer TULSA, Okla., Nov. 28. (AP)—Marketing troubles hung persistently around the skirts of the oil industry this week, although some definite hope of help was in sight in some quarters.

The purchase of about 250 tank cars of distress gasoline in East Texas by large companies, acting on their own initiative because Secretary Ickes, the petroleum administrator, had frowned upon a new group purchase plan, eliminated most of the depressing material, and third grade gasoline was firm at 4 cents.

There was some discussion in the trade that the time was ripe for an advance of possibly a half cent in tank car prices of all grades in the group three (Oklahoma) territory.

Reasons given were the removal of the distress product from East Texas for the time being and the steadying of the tank wagon and retail structure in the middle west area generally referred to as the Standard of Indiana territory.

Tank wagon prices have firmed in the past few days in Minneapolis and St. Paul, all of Wisconsin, in some parts of Indiana and in metropolitan Chicago.

Tank car prices today were 4 to 4 1/2 cents for third grade; 4 1/2 to 5 for the middle, and 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 for the premium, all on a group three basis.

Conditions on the legal battle front were little changed. The Texas railroad commission was generally expected to take over close control of all intrastate gasoline shipments by December 1 under the new power granted recently by an appellate court.

The drafting of simplified rules of procedure for producers and refiners to follow was the principal matter holding up this late yesterday, and an announcement was expected by most oil men in the near future.

It was considered likely that producers would be required to fill in a numbered form showing their forecast of output, and that refiners would be instructed to produce evidence corresponding to the number to indicate the source of the petroleum which they processed gasoline to be shipped intrastate.

DILLINGER'S MOB LEADING U. S. AGENTS

Death Score Stands 9 to 8 In Favor of Outlaws; Only One Died in 'Hot Squat'

CHICAGO, Nov. 28. (AP)—The score in the grim contest between Dillinger gangsters and law officers stood nine to eight in favor of the outlaws today.

The bodies of Federal Agents Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis, punctured by bullets of George (Baby Face) Nelson, were the eighth and ninth officers to strew the wake of the desperadoes.

The murderous warfare has cost the lives of eight of the Hoosier hoodlums' henchmen.

In addition to Cowley and Hollis, law enforcement officers who have fallen before Dillinger gang bullets were:

Sheriff Jess Barber of Allen county, Ohio, slain by hand freeing Dillinger from jail, Oct. 12, 1933.

Police Sergeant W. T. Shanley, Chicago, killed Dec. 14, by man identified as John Hamilton, Dillinger aid.

Eugene Teague, Indiana state patrolman, slain Dec. 20 in gun battle at Paris, Ill., when Edward Shouse, Dillinger gangster, was captured.

Policeman William O'Malley, East Chicago, slain by bank robbers, Jan. 14, Dillinger charged with crime.

Under Sheriff Charles Cavanaugh, slain March 16, in battle with Herbert Youngblood after wooden gun escape.

Federal Agent W. Carter Baum, killed April 22 in battle with Dillinger's henchmen near Mercer, Wis.

Policeman Harold Wagner, allegedly shot to death by Dillinger and four associates after robbery of South Bend, Ind., bank, June 30.

In addition, gang guns claimed another life, that of Eugene Bolsores, COC worker, in the battle at Mercer.

The law's score was chalked up by means of the electric chair as well as speedier weapons.

In addition to the gang leader, brought to earth, July 22 in Chicago, members of the mob eliminated were:

Jack Klutas, collegiate gangster affiliated with Dillinger, slain Jan. 6.

Herbert Youngblood, negro, who escaped with Dillinger from Crown Point, killed March 16 at Port Huron, Mich.

Eugene Green, desperado, fatally wounded in St. Paul, April 11.

Tommy Carroll, another gang member, shot to death June 7 in Waterloo, Ia.

Homer van Meter, who met death in St. Paul Sept. 22.

Charles Makely, fatally wounded by prison guards of the Ohio state penitentiary when he attempted to escape a death sentence.

Harry Pierpont, the only original gang member to die by due process of the courts, electrocuted at Ohio penitentiary, Oct. 17.

'HOT GAS' STORED?

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—The Times-Herald today said that more than 800,000 gallons of "hot" gasoline are stored in Dallas and Fort Worth, and more is being brought in daily from East Texas.

THANKSGIVING DANCE TO BE ON THURSDAY

A special Thanksgiving dance, featuring the famous orchestra of Chick Talcott, will be given at the new Pla-Mor Dance Palace Thursday night. There will be no increase in prices, the regular charge of 25 cents admission and 5 cents per dance will be charged.

Talcott and his orchestra have played for several dances in Pampa and this territory and have proved to be one of the most popular musical organizations to appear here.

A good crowd is expected and plans are being made for a "big" evening.

The new dance palace has been recently redecorated and new lighting effects have been installed. A new amplifying system, giving clean, clear tone to all parts of the auditorium, is being installed and it is hoped to have it ready for the dance Thursday night. (Adv.)

COWLEY LED IN EXTERMINATING JOHN DILLINGER

Purvis' Superior, He Put 'Pretty Boy' On Spot

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The word that Baby Face Nelson's career must be cut short at all costs went out today as the department of justice pressed one of the most intensive manhunts in its history. Agents were told to shoot first.

At the same time it was disclosed that Inspector Samuel P. Cowley, one of two government men who fell before Nelson's gun yesterday, was the actual leader in the sensational coups that eliminated John Dillinger and Charles A. (Pretty Boy) Floyd.

Even as Cowley died in Elgin, Ill., his superiors revealed that it was he who commanded federal squadmen who followed the trails of Dillinger and Floyd until they were cornered and killed. The general impression has been that Melvin H. Purvis was in command.

Although Purvis had charge of the Chicago office of the division of investigation, it was Cowley who was sent into what Director J. Edgar Hoover calls the "crime corridor" of the midwest when Attorney General Cummings declared real powder and ball warfare against the underworld.

Cowley was Purvis' superior. He was rushed into the area after Dillinger and his mobsmen, including Nelson, had made their escape from the Little Bohemia Inn at Spider Lake, Wisconsin.

COC worker and W. Carter Baum, federal operative, were killed in that encounter. Nelson, whose real name is Lester M. Gillis, has been named as Baum's killer. He is the only man ever accused of killing two justice department agents.

When Purvis telephoned for reinforcements it was Cowley who raced to the scene to take command. Herman E. Hollis, also killed in yesterday's encounter, is now reported to have been one of the men who actually fired a bullet into Dillinger.

Cowley also was in charge when Pretty Boy Floyd made his last stand in an East Liverpool, Ohio, Cornfield last month, officials said.

Cowley, like Hollis, typified the modern brand of detective. Unlike the square-toed, bully, cigar-chewing operative of popular fancy, both ran into intellectual methods of combatting crime.

Marina to Wear Cloth-of-Silver Gown to Altar

BY RITA FERRIS, Associated Press Fashion Editor.

PARIS (AP)—Like a princess of the middle ages—robed in shimmering cloth of silver—Princess Marina will march to the altar November 29 for the ceremony which will link her to England's royal house.

As she sweeps through Westminster Abbey, past kings, queens, grand duchesses and the gold and scarlet uniforms of the king's honorable corps of gentlemen-at-arms, she will wear a magnificent gown—jewel of a tulle gown that has probably caused more interest than any since Eugenie became the empress of Napoleon III.

It will be fashioned of silver lame brocaded with the Tudor rose, made by Molyneux, English designer of Paris, to conform to the taste of Queen Mary of England, who is the mother of the bridegroom, the Duke of Kent. It is cut on long, closely-fitted lines with the rather high bodice and flowing sleeves recalling the middle ages and bringing memories of princesses who lived in medieval towers. Plain silver lame will form the broad turn-back cuffs of those flowing sleeves and line the 14-foot train which falls from the shoulders.

Veil Used By Mother. Over the hair of the slender, blue-eyed princess will fit a veil of old family lace, used at the weddings of her mother, Princess Nicholas of Greece, and her sister, Princess Paul of Yugoslavia. It will be supplemented by yards of white tulle falling over her shoulders like a mist and covering the greater part of her silvery train.

Her bouquet will be the most beautiful that the royal gardens of Windsor castle can produce—orchids and lilies of the valley probably, although that is yet to be decided.

Distinction and simplicity are Princess Marina's choice in clothes. She has long been known in Paris for her taste and chic. Beautiful materials and simple lines mark her tulle gown, which is already being marked on the dressmaking world.

"I do not believe anyone since Empress Eugenie whose tastes have been calculated to have so wide an interest," says Captain Molyneux, who designed the collection.

Six Evening Gowns. Three morning dresses, five afternoon frocks, six evening gowns, and two coats comprise it. Beside these Princess Marina has added in the same colors as her frocks 15 little "bellboy" toques, which are already being widely copied in England and on the continent. Her bags, gloves, and scarfs are usually in the same shades as her costumes.

Beige is the most favored color in her clothes, followed by dark and light blues. Among the most striking frocks are evening gowns of beige and soft pink designed on long slender lines and worn with sash girdles.

DO YOU WANT TO GO BACK TO THIS?

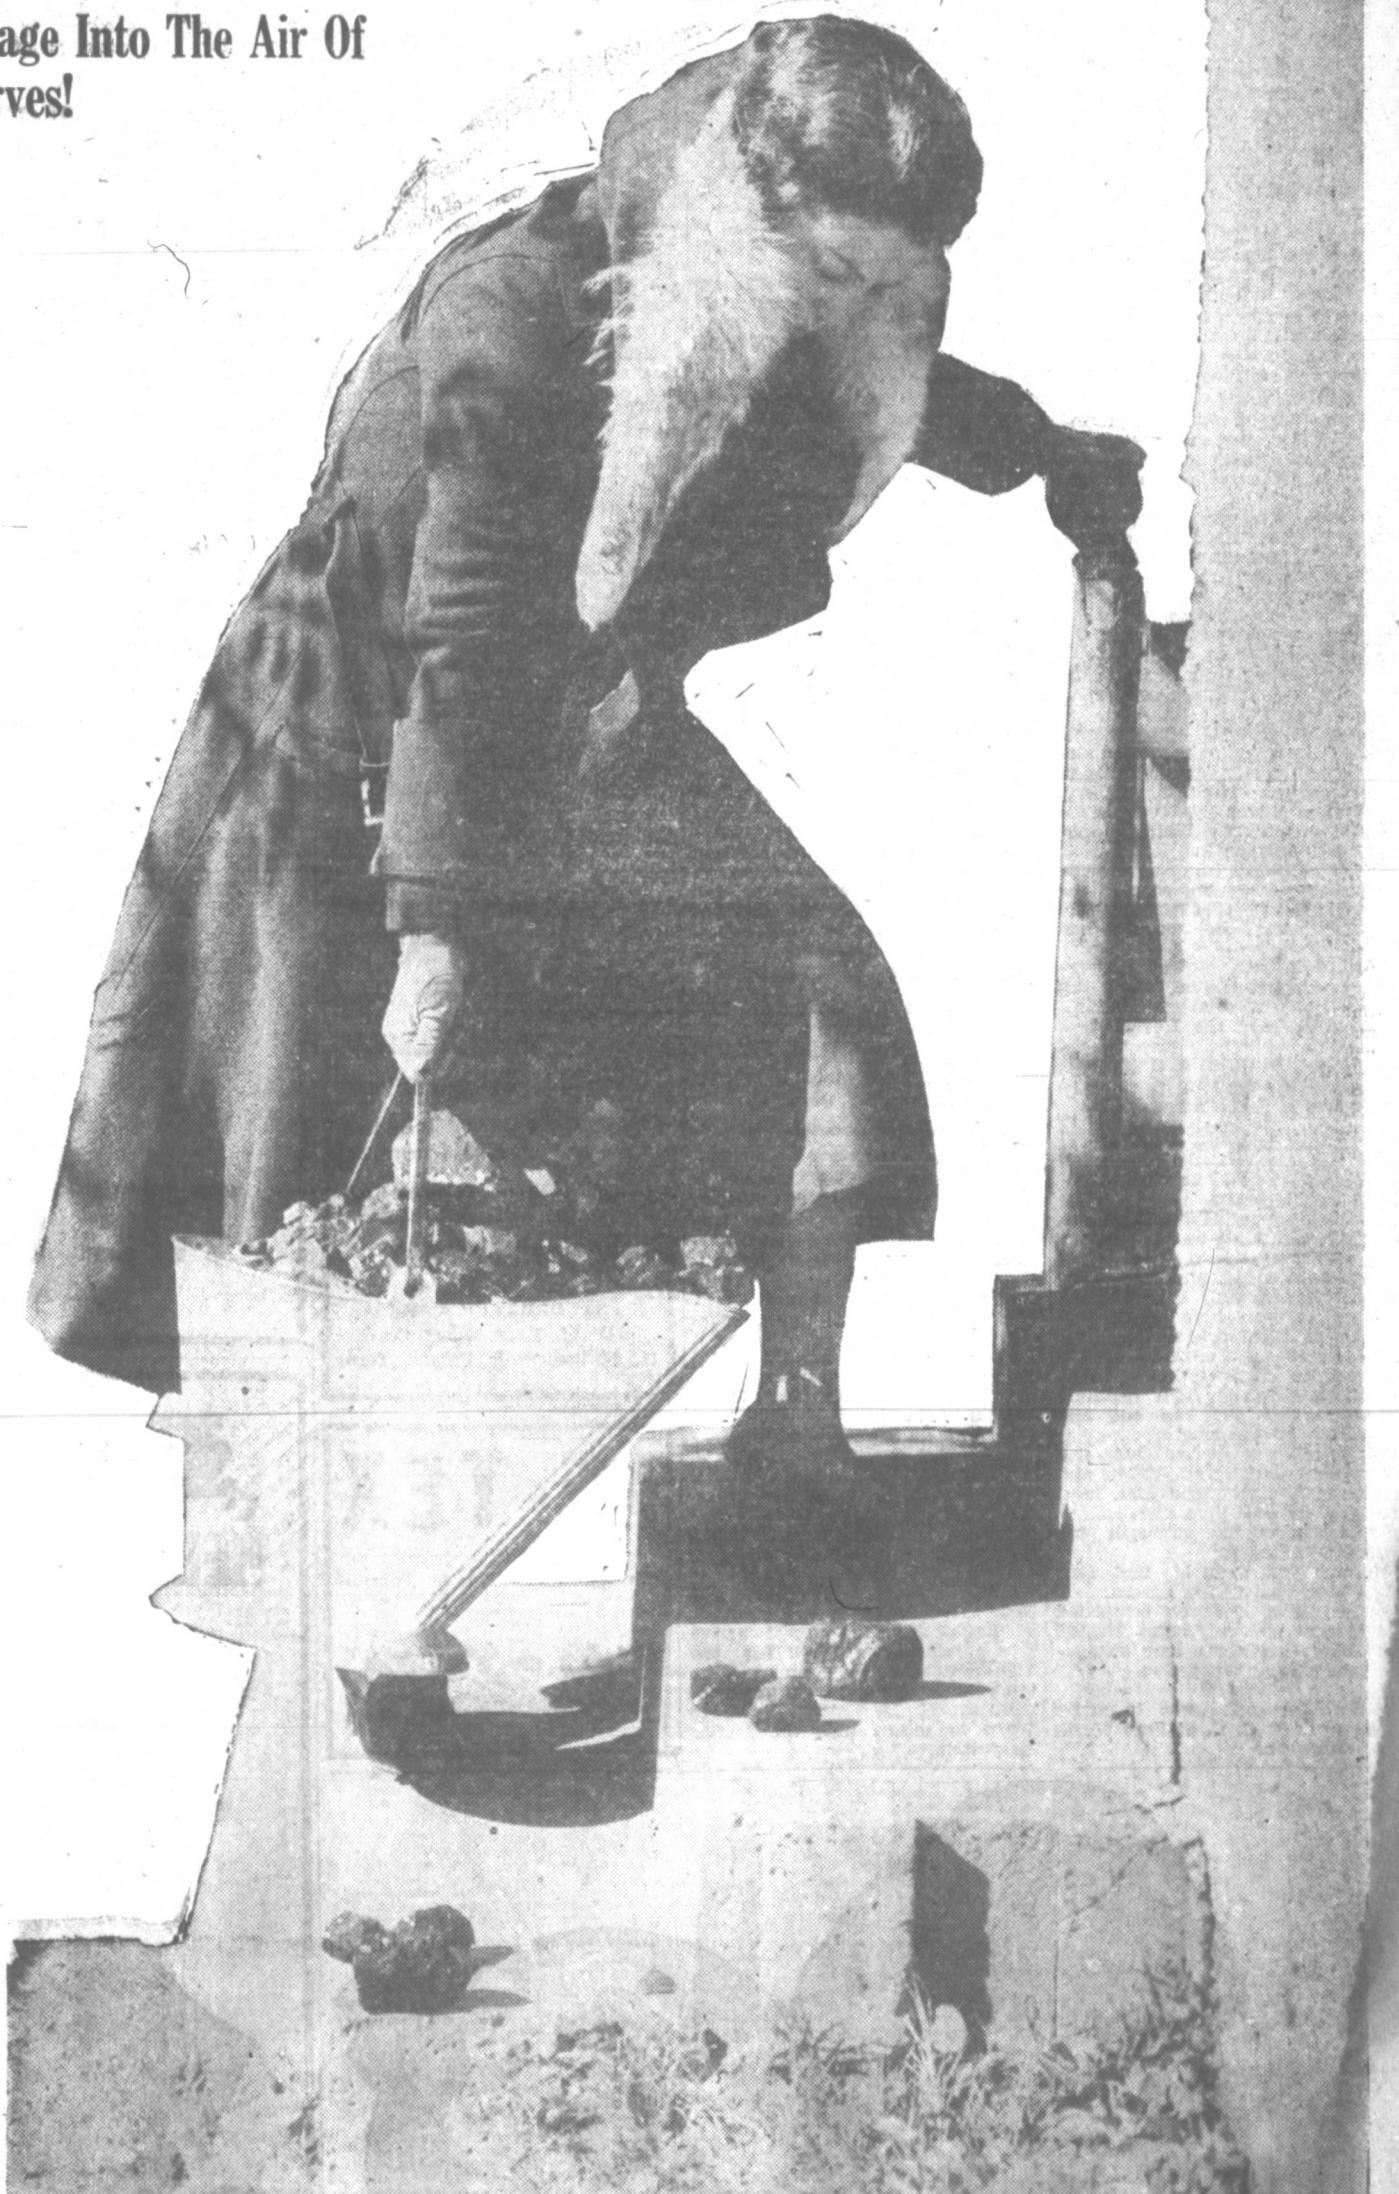

Then Help Stop The Appalling Wastage Into The Air Of Our Natural Gas Reserves!

One Panhandle "stripping plant" alone wastes into the air some days TWICE THE GAS USED FOR DOMESTIC PURPOSES IN ALL OF TEXAS! Yet it is only one of more than fifty such plants that are blowing our irreplaceable natural gas to the winds in such gigantic quantities that it is nationally known as the GREATEST AND MOST RUTHLESS DESTRUCTION OF NATURAL RESOURCES IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD! Secretary of Interior Ickes has been so concerned that he labeled it in a recent address "an example of such cruel and devilish waste that it almost staggers the imagination." He called on the people of Texas to stop it promptly and effectively.

These plants blow away 97% of the heating value of the natural gas to get only one-third of a gallon of natural gasoline, worth wholesale about 1c, from each 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas run through their plants. The dry gas they discard into the air is perfect fuel—and every 1,000 cubic feet so wasted must be replaced some day, probably by coal—and YOU will have to buy your share, as well as suffer the inconvenience, soot, changing over of heating equipment, and higher fuel costs which coal means.

In the Panhandle today, a ton of soft coal—the cheapest kind—costs about $10.00 a ton for lump coal. You know how little your gas bill is in winter months in comparison—and remember that it includes gas range and water heater gas as well as room heating fuel.

In view of the tremendous quantities of gas now being wasted into the air—plus the startling increases in this wastage—this is not a problem of the future. The ill-advised law passed by the Texas Legislature last year must be repealed—and repealed quickly, if we are to save our natural gas reserves, and our oil field which depends on the gas for pressure. It is up to YOU, and up to every other thinking citizen to do his part, NOW to halt a quick return to the coal scuttle and the destruction of the basis for much of the industrial and commercial development of the Panhandle. May we count on you?

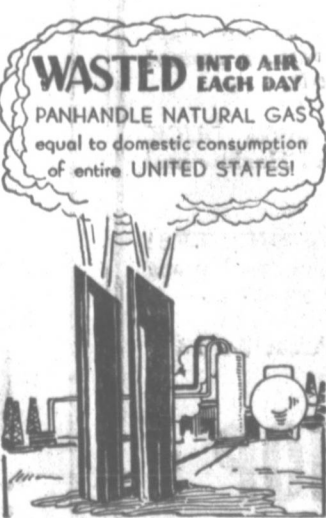

Here's How You Can Help Prevent This In Pampa
