

CLAIM CROATS OFTEN MET TO PLOT CRIMES

20 CRIMES BLAMED ON HUNGARY IN LAST SIX YEARS

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY. (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press) GENEVA, Dec. 7 (AP)—A general conspiracy against the territorial integrity of the new states born of the World war was charged before the League of Nations council today by Eduard Benes, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia.

Benes' startling allegation came during heated discussion of Yugoslav charges that the assassination of King Alexander at Marseille October 9 was plotted in Hungary. To this Hungary, through her representative, Tibor Eckhardt, countered with the assertion that Croats during the discussion of Yugoslav charges that the assassination of King Alexander at Marseille October 9 was plotted in Hungary.

He included this charge in his defense before the League of Nations council against Yugoslav charges that Alexander's death was plotted in Hungary.

"The preparations for this crime," he declared, "must be attributed to a secret terrorist organization which had its headquarters in Yugoslavia. Alexander was condemned to death by Croats and terrorist organizations which existed outside Hungary."

"Great newspapers spoke of this assassination and at Croat meetings in America, the death sentence passed on the king was pronounced."

"The Hungarian added that the real cause of the crime was the international situation in Yugoslavia. His statements were in reply to direct accusations leveled against Hungary by Bogolyub Yevitch, Yugoslav's foreign minister, who denounced the Hungarian government."

Yevitch characterized the crime as a grave menace to peace and said Yugoslavia feels that the outrage at Marseille was directed "against the Yugoslav nation of which the king was the glorious chief."

He charged that assassination was an expression of conspiracy organized and nourished in Hungary, and said the most serious form of assistance granted the terrorists was the direct protection by Hungarian authorities which he said they enjoyed in Hungary.

The Yugoslav charges, coming as they did on a day when reports from Hungary had told of Yugoslav troops crossing into Hungary, were heard by an audience which packed the council chamber.

Yevitch summed up what he called a chain of overwhelming evidence against Hungarian authority and made the following charges:

1. During the last six years, 20 cases of terrorist crimes have been perpetrated in Yugoslav territory;

2. The agitation for a state old age pension plan is infinitely more reasonable than the outcry for federal plans. A state plan is essentially one by which the state is subject to closer scrutiny than any federal plan. The fantastic and impossible Townsend plan is based on the assumption that money is Twinkles We acknowledge with sincere thanks Mrs. S. F. Thornton's annual gift of jars of delicious marmalade to the editorial department. It is getting to be a tradition and one to which we look forward.

Old age pensions would be worthwhile if they discouraged motorists from trying to beat trains to crossings. We need to make life better, even though.

Cleburne has organized a Progressive league whose members have pledged themselves to give up other meetings which conflict with the business of making a better Cleburne. There is a sound and logical idea. If it works, Cleburne will go ahead.

We regret that the donkey on the winning Catholic church Santa Day float jumped off the truck before his picture could be snapped. Father Wonderly and the writer didn't feel equal to the task of lifting the animal back on the truck. Does anyone have a photo of this float?

Invisible taxes are not the only evil. The wherewithal to pay them often is invisible also.

Musings of the moment: Another evidence of this complex age is that cotton farmers are being asked to vote on a continuation of the Bankhead plan. It is an economic question. Your farmer of today must be a well-read and thoughtful man. At least, Uncle Sam presumes him to be. He no longer can depend upon common "horse sense" and his banker.

Brevitorials INSURANCE company statisticians have determined that the average age of persons marrying for the first time is 22 years for the bride and 25 years for the groom. The chances of such a couple to survive to their silver wedding anniversary are about 3 in 4. The younger the couple at marriage, the better is their chance to live to their golden anniversary. It should be understood, however, that these computations do not take into consideration the possibility of divorce which is, of course, an increasing likelihood. The younger marriages are showing an increasing tendency to "go on the rocks." Undoubtedly the strain of economic maladjustments has much to do with this trend.

THE AGITATION for a state old age pension plan is infinitely more reasonable than the outcry for federal plans. A state plan is essentially one by which the state is subject to closer scrutiny than any federal plan. The fantastic and impossible Townsend plan is based on the assumption that money is

U.S OFFERS TO HELP END WAR IN GRAN CHACO

WANTS TO COOPERATE WITH LEAGUE IN PEACE MOVES

GENEVA, Dec. 7 (AP)—The United States offered to the League of Nations today to participate on a neutral commission which would be created in an effort to end the Chaco war.

(A note announcing the action was public in Geneva before its release in Washington.) The American government said it also would take part in a projected Pan-American peace conference at Buenos Aires, provided it were invited to do so by the president of Argentina.

The United States expressed regret at its inability to participate as a member of a league advisory committee established to supervise execution of a Chaco peace plan, but offered to collaborate with it.

League circles received with satisfaction the offer, contained in a note presented by Prentiss B. Gilbert, American States consul at Geneva, and predicted it would prove a valuable influence in getting Paraguay and Bolivia to accept the peace project.

The exact form of the collaboration between the United States and the advisory committee will have to be worked out later.

Washington recently refused to participate on a league Chaco committee because it is not a member of the international organization.

League of Nations officials interpreted the United States reply as a wholesale endorsement of the league's Chaco plan itself as calculated to restore peace in South America. They said they understood Washington was using its best efforts to have Paraguay and Bolivia accept the project.

The double acceptance eliminates the importance of the Geneva advisory committee which was instituted primarily to take the initiative in the event of the project being rejected by one or both parties.

League authorities said they appreciated the difficulty of the United States joining the advisory committee since its powers are largely derived from the covenant of the League of Nations, of which the United States is not a member.

The phrase attracting particular attention in the acceptance of membership in a neutral commission was that this constitutes a committee of American nations meeting on American soil.

TOKIO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Japanese naval propagandists were quoted today as accusing the United States of desiring to expand its armaments "for subjugation of the world."

The comment was inspired by the speech of Norman H. Davis in London yesterday in which he sounded the warning that a costly naval race would result from a costly naval race in the Washington treaty. The newspaper Jiji Shimpo, attributed to anonymous naval authorities the statement that the speech shows the intention of the United States "to establish an overwhelmingly superior navy both in the Atlantic and Pacific for subjugation of the world. If such ambitious plans are unchecked, world peace will be endangered."

Hereford Man Is Charged in Death Of C. C. Worker

HEREFORD, Dec. 7 (AP)—T. C. Cobb, auditor for a Hereford lumber company, late Thursday was charged with murder in connection with the death of Oscar Milton Latimer, 41-year-old COC worker. Latimer, injured in an automobile accident Thanksgiving night, died December 1.

Latimer was struck by a car he was trying to halt after his own machine had become disabled. G. M. Latimer of Coleman, father of the dead man, signed the murder complaint. The charge followed an investigation by Capt. Barrell Cox, commander of the COC camp near here.

R. E. Campbell, owner of the Courthouse barber shop, is seriously ill in an Oklahoma hospital.

ALLOW NO ONE TO VIEW THE BODY

AMARILLO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The body of Irvin (Blackie) Thompson, punctured by 17 bullet holes, remained hidden from the eyes of the curious today.

Thompson, 44-year-old condemned bank robber and killer who escaped from the death row at the Texas penitentiary last July 22, was shot to death 12 miles east of Amarillo in a gun battle with 10 officers last night. The fugitive was blazing away at the officers when he was cut down by cross-fire of the possemen who were closing in on him.

The slain desperado's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson; a brother, Frank M. Thompson, and two sisters, Mrs. C. F. Ford and Mrs. C. A. May, all of Wheeler, arrived this morning and ordered that no one be allowed to see the body. Burial probably will be at Wheeler. Three other brothers, Cecil of Erick, Okla., Maurice of Lincoln, Neb., and George of Iola, Kan., also survive.

Amarillo officers said Thompson had been hiding in Wheeler county about two weeks. They said he had made several trips to Amarillo, Shamrock and Pampa. He was reported seen here on two occasions but officers did not account him as they were not positive of the identification.

Chief of Police W. R. McDowell saw Thompson's car about 6:30 last night. A posse was quickly organized. When a police car drove alongside the bandit he opened fire and fled, turning eastward on highway 66. The authorities gave chase but delayed shooting for fear of injuring an innocent person in the heavy traffic.

Approval, of course, was just a matter of form when Anita Thompson, staid, blonde, shown here, went into Los Angeles court to get action on her film contract. She was so busy with her work that she didn't have time to change from her beach suit-slacks attire, but the judge looked over that.

NORTHER SENDS MERCURY DOWN TO 18 IN CITY

Coldest Weather of Season Felt in Panhandle

(By The Associated Press) A "norther" blew in from the Rockies early today, sending temperatures sharply downward and causing freezing weather in the northern part of Texas. The temperature dropped to 18 degrees at Pampa.

Coldest Weather of the Season The lowest temperatures of the season were reported from many points as the icy winds moved southward. The low mercury reading at Borger was 18 degrees. It was 26 at Abilene and 22 at Lubbock. The municipal airport at Lubbock registered 19 degrees.

The "norther" hit Corsicana at 6 a. m. and the temperatures slumped six degrees in two hours, reaching 38. There was a light shower at Corsicana last night. At Fort Worth the temperature dropped from 49 at 5 a. m. to 36 at 6 a. m. and 31 at 7 a. m.

Plainville registered a minimum of 19 degrees, and a brisk north wind swept across the plains there. Wichita Falls had a low temperature of 24 degrees, the lowest since last February.

At Dallas the mercury fell sharply in the early morning hours to around freezing. Paris reported a

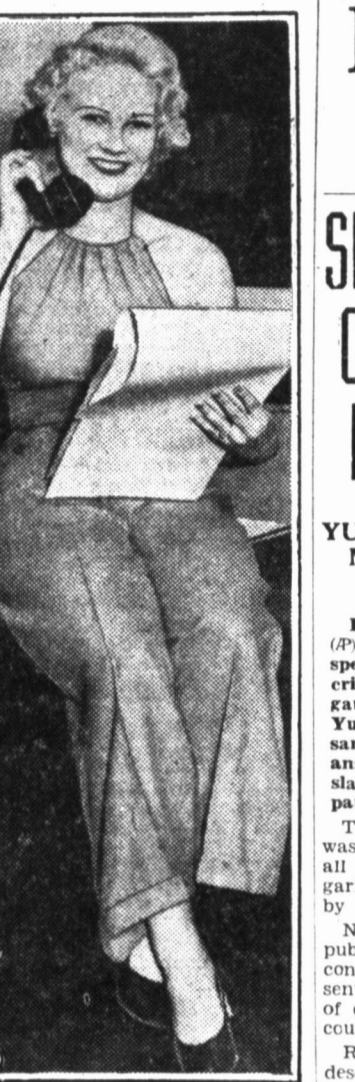

McTAGGART IS INSTALLED AS PRESIDENT OF KIWANIS CLUB

Guy E. McTaggart was installed as president of the Pampa Kiwanis club at the annual banquet held at the Schneider hotel last night. He succeeds Fred Thompson.

Lieutenant-governor J. Hoyt Boles installed the officers and made the address of welcome. Other officers for the year are: Robert Koerner, first vice-president; Raelburn Thompson, second vice-president; John Roby, secretary; new directors, Newton P. Willis, Earl Roff, Robert Selby and Bill Jarrott.

The Rev. Goston Foote, toastmaster for the evening, introduced Lieutenant-governor Boles who talked on the subject "Does man make history or does history make man." He pointed out that man can change the moulds of history so that each generation can be different.

On Approval

Approval, of course, was just a matter of form when Anita Thompson, staid, blonde, shown here, went into Los Angeles court to get action on her film contract. She was so busy with her work that she didn't have time to change from her beach suit-slacks attire, but the judge looked over that.

Lions President Will Visit Here

Pampa Lions are preparing to welcome their international president, Vincent C. Hascall of Omaha, Neb., on the evening of December 14.

Pampa will be the assembling point on that day for Lions over this territory. The clubmen consider themselves very fortunate to have such a distinguished visitor.

A banquet will be held at the Schneider hotel, Mr. Hascall, known as "Stut", in his football starring days, will be the principal speaker. There will be no Thursday luncheon of the club next week.

Corrected Data On Police Work Of Month Given

Through an error in taking of a police report from the city files yesterday, the wrong month was quoted. The November report is as follows:

There were 71 arrests, of which 43 were for intoxication. Other arrests were as follows: Vagrancy 4, disturbing the peace 2, speeding 2, over-parking 1, other traffic violations 11, other misdemeanors 1. Prisoners served 44 days in jail and worked an aggregate of 15 days. Three were released to the county. A total of 169 meals were served.

Tom Kirby of Jericho spent this morning in Pampa.

SERBS ISSUE CHALLENGE TO BORDER FORCE

YUGOSLAVIA DETACHMENT CROSSES OVER INTO HUNGARY

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 7 (AP)—An alarmed cabinet met in special session today to study the critical state of Yugoslav-Hungarian relations, embittered by Yugoslavia's deportation of thousands of un-naturalized Hungarians. An appeal again the Yugoslav expulsion orders was dispatched to the League of Nations.

The indignation of the populace was aggravated hourly as additional reports were received of Hungarian refugees being mistreated by Yugoslav officials.

Newspapers were forbidden to publish details of the number or condition of the arrivals lest the sentiment aroused lead to a rupture of diplomatic relations between the countries.

Refugees arriving in the capital described the Yugoslav army as being in an ugly mood.

SZEGED, Hungary, Dec. 7 (AP)—After intermittent forays across the frontier into Hungary this morning, Serbian troops attached to the Yugoslav army retreated, temporarily relieving a highly dangerous situation.

As the forces remain only a short distance from the frontier, however, their presence is a source of great anxiety to Hungary.

The official Hungarian news agency said the "Chetniks," an organization of armed men, made midnight raids on Yugoslav Hungarian homes in Yugoslavia, carrying off valuables.

Pogrom Pending A pogrom, agency said, was announced by the Chetniks to be impending against Hungarians.

The Hungarian news agency declared the Yugoslav authorities did not spare any one by reason of age, sex, or illness.

"At the railroad termini on the front point," said the agency, "mothers were looking for lost children and lost children were looking for mothers."

"The Yugoslav police showed a complete lack of mercy to those expelled. The refugees were forced at points of bayonets to leave their homes, often in the thick of night, often without any chance to take anything with them and were then marched under guard to the railroad stations. They did not even spare a 70-year-old man with an insane wife."

"Among the refugees are 80 babies. One thousand Hungarians have been expelled from the Baranya district, 1,500 from Novisad, and 1,500 from Subotica."

Challenged To Fight A Serb detachment of Yugoslav soldiers entered this country only three miles from here early this morning and challenged a Hungarian border force to fight.

Grocery Thefts Increasing Here; Advice Is Given

Theft of groceries from automobiles parked on Pampa streets is becoming a problem with which city police officers are unable to cope. The owner is the only person who can successfully relieve the situation.

"How can that be?" they ask. "To which Police Chief Art Hurd replies: "When you purchase groceries and put them in your car, lock the doors. If the doors cannot be locked, leave the groceries in the store until you are ready to go home."

It is impossible to have an officer in every block in the city to keep petty thieves from operating. "If a police officer saw a man or woman take a coat out of a parked car, how would he know whether the coat belonged to the person, or was being stolen?" queries the chief. He would like Pampans to think what they would say if an officer approached them as they took a coat from their own car and asked them if the coat belonged to them. Whether it did or didn't, they would say yes, and what could the officer do?" Chief Hurd urges persons to lock the doors of their cars when they leave them parked.

ENTIRE PLANT IS EMPTIED OF SEATS

By Staff Writer SKELLYTOWN, Dec. 7—First grade pupils with their books under their arms and carried their small chairs into the bitterest wind of the year this morning when a 2-room stucco cottage burned on the grounds of Skellytown high school.

Only heroic work by teachers and citizens, making good use of the meager water supply, saved the brick-stucco main building, including the gymnasium annex recently completed, and of which the community is very proud.

While Pampa and White Deer fire departments sent pumper trucks to the scene, the citizens emptied the entire school plant of desks and movable equipment. They climbed to the roof of the main building and stood in the blinding, biting smoke to pour water over the wall exposed to the heat of the burning cottage.

The fire apparently started, according to Supt. H. H. Rumph, because of a gas accumulation in a defective vent on a gas-water radiator in the northwest corner of Miss Ruby Williams' first grade room. The flames started in the wall and in the absence of axes and fire extinguishers, soon got beyond control. The stucco wall on the south was but a few feet from the main building and connected by a hallway. The fact that this wall stood, scarcely burning, tended to protect the stucco wall of the main building.

When the flames first were noticed, Miss Williams quickly reminded the small children of their fire drills. She quietly gave them orders to carry out their books and chairs, which they did without confusion.

At first, attempts were made by Miss Williams and other teachers to get at the flames with pails of water, but it was soon apparent that this was inadequate. Help was summoned from the main building was emptied, and carrying out of all movable equipment was begun. The adjoining streets were littered with desks, maps, globes, and papers which fell from the desks.

The Pampa fire truck arrived just as the White Deer department was unlimbering its hose from a fire plug. Williams quickly away. There was no pressure but the water was run into the big Pampa truck and then pumped through three sets of hose as rapidly as it would run. Several hours of work was required to remove all danger, since the north wind blew directly into the main building.

The harrowing task of carrying desks back into the main building was begun this afternoon, after the smoke-filled structure had been aired. Papers were gathered up for sorting—a huge undertaking.

The stucco was built three years ago.

LATE NEWS

GENEVA, Dec. 7 (AP)—Eduard Benes, Czechoslovakian foreign minister, warned the League of Nations council today that if anyone strikes a blow at the unity of the little entente—Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania—war will result.

SAN JOSE, Calif., Dec. 7 (AP)—David Lamson, former Stanford university press executive, today was ordered retried for murder in the bath-tub death of his young wife, Allene Thorne Lamson. The first Lamson conviction and death sentence was reversed by the state supreme court.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Dec. 7 (AP)—Wiley Post took to the air at 1:36 p. m. (C. S. T.) today in another effort to set a world plane altitude record.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Improvement of the Sabine-Neches waterway in Texas at an estimated cost of $1,950,000 for new work and $600,000 annually for maintenance was recommended to the house river and harbor committee today by Brig. Gen. G. B. Pillsbury, acting chief of engineers.

CUTTING WINS POINT WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Friends of Senator Cutting of New Mexico predicted today that, on the basis of views expressed by a majority of the five members of the senate campaign funds investigating committee there would be no formal inquiry into the republican independent's re-election over Dennis Chavez, democrat. The unanimous decision of the three-member canvassing board refusing to throw out the vote in San Miguel county was hailed by Cutting's supporters here as an important victory for the senator.

PURCHASES OF CATTLE BEGIN ON TOMORROW

BUYING TO START AT McLEAN; HERE ON MONDAY

Purchases of cattle, which will possibly answer most of the demands in Gray county, will begin in McLean Saturday, it was announced today by County Agent Ralph Thomas.

While the number to be bought by the government is not yet known it is believed that most of the cattle offered for sale previously will be taken. Demands for purchase of range cattle have declined. At least 500 head will be bought in the county, and possibly others.

Buying will be done at the pens in Pampa Monday afternoon and on Tuesday. It was announced last night that 225,000 head of cattle would be purchased in 127 West Texas counties. This is more than half of the designated drought area of the state. More than $20,000,000 has already spent in the state in the drought relief program of purchases.

Part of the stock is killed and canned for the relief of destitute families. The rest is killed on the ranges as unfit for human consumption.

Death Merchants Sold Patents to Enemies of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Senator investigators of the munitions trade said today they had evidence that the war department permitted American arms makers to sell secret processes to foreign governments which might use them against the United States in case of war.

The investigators insisted their new evidence bore out recent testimony of Irene Dupont that the munitions industry had little trouble getting war department consent for its plans. They recalled that Du Pont, speaking of another matter, said:

"The difference between dealing with the state and war departments, was that the state department never answered yes or no, but the war department always answered yes."

An example of the sale of rights to American manufacturing methods was given at the previous hearings. Evidence was presented that all German U-boats during the world war, including the one that sank the Lusitania, were made from United States patents.

Endurance Plane Drifts to Dallas

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 7 (AP)—When dawn came this morning Jean Le Rene and Henrietta Sumner expected to look down upon Oklahoma City again. Instead they peered through the haze upon Dallas.

The two women, who this afternoon will have passed a week in the air, drifted more than 200 miles south of here, overnight airport officials here were informed.

CAPTAINCY IS NOW HONORARY POST ON GRID

GOING WAY OF HANDLE BAR MUSTACHE AND SO FORTH

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP)—The college football captain, an influential and glamorous figure on the team in the early days of the game, appears to be going the way of the handle bar mustache and the winds-back play in some sections of the country.

A survey by the Associated Press shows no less than 14 major schools where the captain either is elected to a purely honorary post, at the end of the season or appointed by the coach from game to game, generally a different man for each contest. St. Mary's Galloping Gaiels alternated four men as field leaders.

Various reasons are assigned for this break with tradition, but the answer generally given is "fraternity politics."

The story is told of a mid-western university where a coach finally was forced to use an inferior quarterback because most of the players in the line belonged to his fraternity and they wouldn't open holes for the backfield led by the captain, who didn't belong to their set.

In the west, Stanford, California, Oregon State, Montana, St. Mary's, Colorado and Santa Clara have elected among those who either elect an honorary captain after the season or have only game leaders.

Baylor, Oklahoma and Texas A. and M. follow that practice in the southwest, Sewanee and Mississippi in the deep south and Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas in the mid-west.

Most of the eastern teams still cling to the tradition, however, as do the Big Ten and the two service academies.

Tommy Gibbons As Sheriff to Stress Physical

ST. PAUL, Dec. 7. (AP)—The physical training of a boxer will be part of the routine for his deputies when Thomas J. (Tommy) Gibbons, of St. Paul, former heavyweight fighter, takes office January 7 as Ramsey county sheriff.

Three hours a week of physical education will be only one of many new ideas introduced by the man who once fought Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight crown.

Gibbons said today he will build up an organization of young, physically fit men, and have a minimum of men "who have had a lot of police experience."

He said a major aim will be to "discourage young boys and girls from patronizing 'joints' in the county."

Hunters Bag 2 Fighting Deer

LLANO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Two deer, with their horns interlocked, were bagged by a party of hunters on the Southman ranch on the mountain, 17 miles from Llano; but it is still more or less of an argument in the Grady Faubion family as to who killed them.

Faubion and his two sons, Darrell and Grady Jr., of Llano, and a visiting kinsman, Richard Letting, of Taylor, composed the party. Letting said the two Faubion boys each fired a shot at the pair of deer. Darrell, the older brother, had bagged a fine 12-pointer a week before.

Grady Faubion Sr., who witnessed the shooting scene from the mountain top above and who almost fell off the mountain in his excitement, seems to be of the opinion that the shots fired by Letting and Grady Jr. did the work. One deer had 11 points and the other, eight.

Backfield Stars of Past Season

DUNAWAY, half

HAMILTON, quarter

Much of the Harvester yardage this season was gained by the two ball toters pictured above. Lloyd Hamilton was probably the outstanding player in the Harvester backfield. His terrific drives at the line and his spinner plays accounted for hundreds of yards from scrimmage and 59 points in touchdowns and points after touchdowns. Bill Dunaway was the swivel-hipped boy in the backfield. He was a constant threat until injured. He did most of the Harvester punting and much of the passing. Both will be lost to the Harvesters next year.

BAER BROTHERS EASILY WIN BOUTS IN DES MOINES RING

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 7. (AP)—The brothers Baer offered a demonstration today of why they are the royal family of fisticuffs.

Max, heavyweight champion of the world, returned to active ring work last night to belabor Johnny Miller, Iowa light heavyweight, in a four-round exhibition, and young Buddy ran his professional knock-out string to eight.

Entering the ring as a contestant for the first time since he whipped Primo Carnera last June for the title, Max was far too clever and powerful for Miller. Seconds before the end of the first round, the champion laced Miller with a terrific right that sent him reeling.

From then on Max paid little attention to the business of boxing, just clowning his way along. The fighters wore five ounce gloves. Baer weighed 224, Miller, 180.

Buddy wasted no time with Big Red Fields of Des Moines. The 240-pound "Kid" brother of the champion clipped Red after 50 seconds of the first round and Referee Alex Fidler awarded Buddy a technical knockout.

Spartans Arrive For Battle With Texas Longhorns

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Both Michigan State and the Texas Aggies planned light workouts here today in preparation for their inter-section grid battle tomorrow at Eagle field before an expected capacity crowd of close to 10,000.

The Spartans, who have suffered only one defeat this year, a 10-0 licking from Syracuse, arrived 33 strong. The Aggies planned to arrive here late in the afternoon.

STANFORD IRE IS AROUSED BY 'BAMA BOASTS

EAST SAYS INDIANS WILL BE LUCKY TO SCORE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 7. (AP)—With four aces still on the sidelines, the Stanford Cardinals will finish the first week of training today for their "New Year's day" battle with Alabama at Pasadena.

The boys are a bit peeved at reports from the east they will be lucky to score against the "Bama's" and are showing it in practice.

Most of the tricky plays being taught the squad are in the aerial department, indicating the famed "passing" Indians will not depend entirely on power plays and deception as they have done all this season.

Coach "Diny" Thornhill announced that the last five or six days before the game will be devoted to heavy practice sessions and polishing up the new plays.

Niels Larsen, one of Stanford's three centers will be used at tackle against Alabama, in an effort to bolster up the tackle replacements.

Medical reports on the condition of Fullback Bobby Grayson, and Monk Moserip and Keith Topping will be in by Saturday, telling when they can begin taking part in practice and whether they can play in the Rose Bowl. There is no question but that Halfback Elmo Van Dellen, now on the injured list, will line up against Alabama.

SERBS ISSUE

Hungarian officers, they reported, prevented a battle. The situation was tense and grave fears were expressed by authorities. Szeged officials said they did not believe an attack on the city was contemplated but it came the city was prepared. Streets were crowded with Hungarian soldiers.

(Szeged, with a population of 135,000, is Hungary's second largest city. Budapest, the capital and largest, is only 96 miles away.)

Indignation was at a fever pitch in Hungarian border villages. Serb troops, wearing their emblem of a skull and crossbones, shouted threats and imprecations at Hungarians, authorities reported.

Szeged and nearby towns were filled to overflowing with weary and frightened refugees. Increasing fear was the knowledge that Yugoslav forces are far superior to Hungarian troops along the frontier.

Many of the refugees were so ill they required hospital treatment. Four hundred were added last night to the 1,308 who had arrived yesterday and the preceding night. Another refugee train was expected. The emigrants told stories of mistreatment at the hands of Yugoslav soldiers, who they were forced to leave behind much personal property.

Refugees Pitiable
Heavy guards of police were kept last night about the schools where the refugees slept.

Among those expelled from Yugoslavia were a 4-year-old boy with a broken leg and a woman with twins born four days ago. Twelve of the refugees were 70 or older.

Perenz Szechi, a blind man, said he was carried to the train by Yugoslav soldiers, while two 65-year-old women led their blind father, 86. Some of the refugees showed discharges from the Yugoslav army and many said they had never spoken Hungarian and had lived in Yugoslavia for 30 or 40 years.

(The cabinet was called into extraordinary session at Budapest to adopt a course of action.)

(Hungary sent an appeal against the expulsion order to the league. Yugoslav charges of Hungarian complicity in Alexander's assassination were to be brought up at Geneva today.)

PAMPA GIRLS PLAY BORGER THIS EVENING

BOTH FIRST AND 2ND STRING TEAMS TO PLAY

Pampa's first basketball game of the 1934 season will be played at the high school gymnasium tonight at 7:30 o'clock when the second string Pampa and Borger high school girls teams meet. The first string sextets of the two schools will meet immediately following the opening game. No admission will be charged.

Miss Kathleen Milam is coach of the Harvestettes this season. She has been working with a large squad for some time and is just now cutting her squad down to playing numbers. The girls will need much practice before they will be working smoothly, and the games tonight are just a pre-season warm-up.

Miss Milam has selected a first string to take the floor tonight, but on their ability and showing will depend whether they will retain their positions or whether some fighting substitute will jump to the starting lineup.

Most of the lineup tonight saw duty with the Harvestettes last season. The probable starting lineup for the first string tonight will be: Captain Olive Felner, forward and center; Daisy Ann Shields and Melba Williams, forwards; Claudine Jeffries, Georgiana Gray, and De Ann Heiskell, guards.

The second string starting lineup has not been definitely selected this morning.

The thermometer was falling fast. A low of 20 or thereabouts was forecast for tonight. A freeze would do considerable damage.

It was misting at San Antonio, where the temperature was 47. Shreveport also had a reading of 47 but the temperature was falling. Austin had 29 of an inch of rain in the last 24 hours. The minimum temperature there was 48.

Cold weather was in sight at San Angelo, after 11 of an inch of moisture during the last 24 hours. The minimum there last night was 34 degrees.

After today's holiday, the Tide-men will run through the week's third signal drill Saturday. Coach

Frank Thomas has warned his team to expect no let up after Sunday until they leave for California Dec. 21.

Yesterday's signal and pass drill was marked by enthusiasm, three teams yelling as they raced up and down Denny stadium.

COUNCIL OF P-TA AND OF WOMEN'S CLUBS MEET YESTERDAY

WELFARE HEAD DESIGNS AFTER GIVING REPORT

DELEGATES GIVE THE HIGHLIGHTS OF CONVENTION

Resignation of Mrs. J. H. Hulme as welfare chairman of the Pampa Parent-Teacher council was accepted with regret by the council yesterday afternoon, after a report of the busiest month of this year in the thrift room, main welfare project.

Mrs. Hulme's resignation was announced by Mrs. Roy Holt. A successor will be appointed soon to carry on the work started so efficiently this year. Mrs. Hulme was serving her second term.

Under her leadership last year the thrift room was opened to supply needed school clothing to underprivileged students. This year a shoe club was launched, and a fund started to purchase footwear in the thrift room.

300 Garments Given. Reports for last month showed that more than 300 garments were distributed from the thrift room, as cold weather brought a rush of applicants.

Twenty-eight pairs of shoes and hose were purchased from the shoe club fund, which still has a balance of $52.50. The room, on the first floor of the city hall, has been moved one door north of its original location.

Interesting reports of the recent state Parent-Teacher convention at Corpus Christi were made by the three women who attended from Pampa.

Mrs. Raymond Harrah said the most inspiring program to her was that on motion pictures, when a feature was given of the book, "Our Movie-Made Children," and speakers stressed that movies have a greater influence on modern children than books. She also spoke of the boat ride taken by 250 delegates, one of the most enjoyable entertainment features.

Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar reviewed the good times and worthwhile results of the convention. Suggestions regarding association membership were given by Miss Ingraham, state chairman, she said. Formation of memberships from year to year, and visits in homes to inform parents of the association aims were stressed. Texas is outstanding in Parent-Teacher work of the nation, it was brought out at the convention, largely because the system of dues gives a small amount from each member to the state congress for carrying on state work.

Summarizes Talks. Mrs. Claude Lard reported on the discussions of character building. These emphasized that we should teach fundamentals of education, interpret life in terms of life, teach self-denial, self-reliance, kindness and sympathy, remembering that character is higher than intellect and that never before has there been a time when schools needed more to take account and place emphasis on those things that make for noble living.

Council members found interesting many other details reported by the three delegates.

Mrs. Lard, council president, was in charge of the meeting, which opened with group repetition of the Lord's prayer.

Shoppers Asked To Visit Bazaar To Inspect Gifts All Christmas shoppers, whether they are "just looking around" or as yet, or have reached the buying stage, are urged to visit the gift bazaar of St. Matthew's Episcopal Auxiliary tomorrow.

Booths with hand-made and imported gift articles will be arranged in the Southwestern Public Service building on Cuyler street, open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. A wide variety will confront the shopper.

Banquet Planned For This Month Holiday plans are being made by the intermediate department of the First Methodist Sunday school. On December 15 all members will be entertained at a banquet in the church dining room, beginning at 6 o'clock.

A Christmas tree for the young people's and intermediate departments will be held in the basement on Christmas eve, with a program and gift exchange.

Sunday's topic is "Bear Ye One Another's Burdens." The program has been arranged as follows: Prelude, Virginia Nelson; opening sentence, Virginia Callison; hymn 25; scripture, Roberta Bell; prayer, Roy Lee Jones; hymn 68; poem, Betty Ann McTaggart; story, Noble Lane; hymn 61; closing sentence, Ethel Wilder.

AUXILIARY OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH MEETS

Japanese Tea Served In Keeping With Study Topic

Meeting yesterday instead of their usual day, Wednesday, women of Presbyterian Auxiliary heard a missionary study of Japan, and were served refreshments in Japanese style.

Mrs. Charles Hoover presided at the opening business session. The study program was prepared by Mrs. Bruce Pratt and Mrs. George Briggs.

Mrs. Briggs reviewed social, economic, and religious conditions of Japan in her impressive story of the life of Kagawa, outstanding Japanese Christian who despite physical handicaps has accomplished what the organized churches believed impossible, the winning of a million of his countrymen to the Christian religion.

In keeping with the program theme, Mrs. Harry Lyman and Mrs. Richard Shields, assisted by Little Marilyn Mitchell, served refreshments in Japanese fashion to the Auxiliary members and two new members, Mrs. L. Burney Shell and Mrs. Coyle, who were welcomed at the meeting.

During the winter months the Auxiliary is meeting at 2:30 for its bi-weekly programs, with meetings of the spiritual life study group at 2 p. m.

Variety Program To Be Given for School Benefit

Horace Mann pupils will present a variety program Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. Two performances will be given, one from 6:15 to 7:45, the other from 8 to 9:15 o'clock.

The same program will be given at both hours. It features a play, Conquest of the Incas, with a cast of 90 costumed children who have lately completed a study of ancient South America.

Another, Mother Goose Up-to-Date, will be presented by children of the lower grades. Music by the glee club, rhythm band, and clarinet quartet will complete the program.

The admission charge will be 10 cents for adults and youngsters alike. Proceeds will go to the fund for needed school equipment and school supplies for pupils unable to furnish their own.

Beauty Aids Go Up to Girl Fliers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 7 (AP)—What Kenneth Hunter, managing director of Jean La Rene and Henrietta Summer to break the woman's endurance flying record, would like to know is whether he is running a flight or a beauty shop.

Hunter revealed that the girls who have passed the half way mark in their efforts to break the 240-hour record, so far have asked, and had delivered to them:

Three boxes of hair pins (blond). Two boxes of powder. A comb. Four pairs of silk hose. One pair of rayon step-ins. One eye-brow pencil. Two bottles of nail polish. Ten magazines. Four quarts of fountain drinks. Six ice cream cones. Four bars of soap. One bottle of mouth wash. One box of corn plaster, and the girls haven't walked for five days.

In addition to this there has been the necessary gas and oil. The girls passed the halfway mark in the flight yesterday.

Party Tonight Will Entertain Members Of Church Division

The hospitable Purviance home will be open to young people of First Methodist church and their friends for a party this evening. Hostesses will be Janice Purviance, Amanda Smith, Myrtle Faye Gilbert, and Lois Certain.

Beginning at 7:30, games, music, and stunts will entertain the guests. Clinton Evans, Verlon Twaddell, and Ella Faye O'Keefe will be in charge of entertainment.

Alex Schneider returned last night from Dallas where he attended a hotelmen's meetings.

Crinkled Crepe in Bright Shade

Molyneux shows some charming, albeit extremely simple, afternoon dresses in a new heavy crinkled crepe. Accent is placed on the neckline and bodice, both very simple. Shirring and tucking is the main form of trimming on both dresses and jackets. This model was made in geranium-pink with the buttons for the side closing dyed to match.

something which can be created by the government at will, as by issuing a bond or printing a greenback. Actually, money has no intrinsic value; that is, it is worth only what it represents. Without a sound, material backing, it is worthless and dangerous, especially in the initial stages of social legislation.

FRANK N. Belgrano Jr., recently elected national commander of the American Legion, has written to the National Tuberculosis association that he "earnestly commends to Legionnaires and to all good citizens the heroic fight that is being waged against tuberculosis."

The American Legion, Commander Belgrano says, is glad to cooperate in the sale of Christmas seals during December to finance necessary machinery for the control and prevention of tuberculosis, including clinics, sanatoria, open air schools, medical and nursing schools, and research and educational activities.

"Public welfare," he says, "requires that the good work accomplished in the past shall suffer no impairment this year. Tuberculosis is a public enemy and it must be stamped out."

But the biggest increases of automobile deaths, according to The Travelers Insurance Company, have been between the ages of 15 and 24—the ages when youths are in high schools, prep schools and colleges—many of which do nothing to carry on the safety work which elementary schools started, and when parents fail to recognize their responsibility toward their children as drivers as they did toward their tots as pedestrians.

William M. Craven and Ethel Sager of Childress spent yesterday visiting friends in Pampa. Mr. Craven operated the Shoanall ranch in Gray county in 1905.

In those words, the war president, who had a greater knowledge of world history than almost any man who has held the position of chief executive, accurately caught the true American spirit—the spirit that set this nation off from all others, dedicated to the ideals of freedom and democracy which had been subjugated with force and bloodshed in the old world. It was the spirit that led to the sailing of the Mayflower 300 years ago—to the Revolutionary War—and finally to the arduous development of the west by men who wanted no wards, and wanted only the right to work

DKG CHAPTER ADMITTED TO CLUB COUNCIL

PROJECTS ANNOUNCED BY THE MEMBER CLUBS

Addition of a new club to the Pampa Council of clubs was announced following the meeting yesterday morning. The local Delta Kappa Gamma chapter was voted to extend membership.

Care of the club rooms, and projects announced by the various clubs, were the predominant topics before the council yesterday. A copy of the council's constitution and by-laws was given to the representative of each member club.

Members decided to postpone employment of a club room hostess until January. It was voted to assess each member club $2 for a refunding fund for keeping up the necessary furnishings. This sum is payable at once, and each club which will have more than six meetings in the rooms will be assessed a small fee for each meeting also.

Committees Named.
Mmes. W. A. Branton, Marvin Lewis, and Miss Virginia Faulkner were named by Mrs. T. F. Morton, president, as a refurbishing committee. Mrs. Sherman White and Mrs. Charles Wooley were appointed as a committee in charge of the calendar which announces events scheduled for the club rooms.

Mrs. Charles Thut reported that the city commission has granted use of 75 chairs in the room, and Mrs. J. F. Wehrung reported that locks on the club room doors have been repaired by the commission. Members admired the new picture hung last week in the club room by Arno Art club, an award for outstanding art work done in the state by Arno Art members.

Projects Listed.
Among the projects announced by the various clubs for the year or for this month were the following:
Clipping bureau for the city library by Civic Culture club, which requests the gift of papers or magazines with worthwhile articles which should be preserved in the library files.

A recreation program for women, by the A. A. U. W.
A weekly story hour for children, by Twentieth Century Forum.

A county art contest and exhibit in the spring, by Arno Art club.
Christmas music by two clubs: a musicale at First Methodist church on December 14 by Treble Clef club, and presentation of the oratorio, The Messiah, by the Philharmonic choir at First Baptist church December 17.

'BENNY' GLAD TO REST FROM LEGION WORK

WAS DECORATED WITH CROIX DE GUERRE DURING WAR

BRADY, Dec. 7. (AP) — After traveling approximately 30,000 miles, attending fifty or more banquets and other gatherings during the past six months as state commander of the American Legion, M. J. Benefield of Brady finds it a relaxation to again become a private citizen and business man. For the first time since he joined this organization years ago he is free of official Legion duties.

He served continuously in some official capacity since becoming a member of the American Legion until his term as state commander terminated October 26. Benefield's service in the American Legion first attracted statewide attention when he became commander of the struggling post at Brady in 1928 and during his three-year regime transformed it into one of the most active Legion units in Texas. For the next two years he served as district commander of the old 17th district and then for six months as division commander.

Service has always been the keynote in Benefield's life. Besides his Legion duties he has rendered community service as a director of the Brady chamber of commerce, secretary of the Brady Rotary club, a member of the McCullough relief administration and in other capacities.

Somewhere scattered throughout the United States are today living a number of former world war soldiers who might be sleeping in foreign graves had it not been for the service rendered by Sergeant M. J. Benefield of the 362nd ambulance company in the 91st division. "Benny," as he is known to his buddies, hardly ever mentions the fact that he was decorated with the French Croix de Guerre "for establishing liaison with the advanced troops and rescuing the wounded under fire in spite of the great personal danger involved."

Benefield values highly a gold wrist watch presented him in recognition of his services by the state Legion convention at Mineral Wells. But his two small sons, Malcolm, and Jack, are most pleased with a small live alligator which their daddy acquired at the National American Legion convention in Miami, Florida, recently.

TREES SCADCE IN TOWN, DESPITE STREET NAMES PANHANDLE, Dec. 7. (AP) — Trees, the scarcest thing in the plains country, are honored by having streets named for them.

Although Panhandle is a prairie town with no natural tree growth, 16 of the 52 streets in the north-west Texas city were named for trees.

There is even a Holly street. Other trees honored in this wood-less town are pine, cactus, willow, orange, spruce, birch, elm, cedar, poplar, oak, ash, walnut, cherry, pecan and maple.

Not a street was named mesquite, cat-claw or sagebrush.

The bryx, a type of antelope, is called the gemsbok in South Africa.

Have you found the SUNNY PACKAGE on your grocer's shelf?

It's a delicious ready-to-eat cereal. Millions of Americans have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a safe, effective means of correcting common constipation—the kind caused by lack of "bulk" in the m. au.

Laboratory measurements show that ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in this tempting cereal is more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables—because it resists digestion better. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this cleans out the intestinal waste.

Isn't this natural food better than taking patent medicines? Two table-spoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases with each meal. If this fails to give relief, see your doctor.

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ALAMO DOWNS
 WILL OPEN ON CHRISTMAS DAY
 Best Thoroughbreds
 Of Nation Are Entered

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Alamo Downs, huddled like a diamond on the bosom of the San Antonio hills, will be host to the finest colony of thoroughbred horses in the history of Texas racing during the winter meeting which opens on Christmas day and run through Feb. 2. From coast to coast the parade of racers has started, and their mecca is the beautiful San Antonio course. Among the horses for which stabling room has been reserved are such outstanding performers as My Dandy, Mr. James, Brown Molasses, Cotton Time, Biff, Pompos Genie, Bedlight, Epornay, Princess Camelia, The Pelican, Out Court, Ted Clark, Meany, Amazing, Reservist, Chance Line and scores of others.

Although the Alamo barns can accommodate no more than 650 horses, applications for more than double that number are in the hands of racing secretary Charles E. Henry, with every mail bringing another deluge from owners the nation over. A daily purse distribution of $400 and a Saturday dispersal which will reach $500 is the lure that is attracting the cream of the thoroughbred crop, asuring San Antonio the same prestige in the sports world as the enjoyed in other years by Miami and other famous winter resorts. Railroads report a decided pick-up in interest among eastern vacationers in San Antonio, and indications are that this city will be host to thousands of outsiders during the 35-day meeting.

The track has already reached perfect racing condition, with 100 horses on the grounds, despite the fact that opening day is still three weeks in the offing. The running strip has been resurfaced and turfmen whose charges have galloped around the mile oval enthusiastically assert that the cushioned toppling will be a boon to all thoroughbreds. Officers of Alamo Downs, headed by Raymond Russell, president, and Alex Thomas, secretary-treasurer, are on hand daily supervising the improvements being made to grandstand and clubhouse. Rose bushes and shrubbery are being planted in profusion about the course, and the infield has been sown with winter grass. By Christmas day the track will be a riot of color, rivaling all other courses in the Lone Star State for sheer beauty.

Post time daily at Alamo Downs will be 1:45 p. m. During the holiday season eight races will be presented, with a seven race program carded thereafter except on Saturdays, when eight races will again be provided.

Suspended Term
 May Be Sought

EL PASO, Dec. 7. (AP)—Defense attorneys made a strategic move today which may save Arthur C. Wilson from the death penalty if he is convicted of the desert slaying of Mrs. Irene de Bolt, attractive widow from Cleveland, O.

L. V. Dodson, one of the defense attorneys representing the former Cleveland steel chemist who was captured after a chase on the seas, filed an application for a suspended sentence if Wilson is found guilty.

The application made it possible for the jury to recommend clemency if it convicts Wilson of the slaying of the comely Mrs. De Bolt. Without such an application the jury could not recommend clemency if it found Wilson guilty of murder.

I did not kill Osborne
By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Nicholas Trench just has been acquitted of the murder of Osborne. His solicitor has given Trench a letter from his cousin, Sir Seymour, asking him to call at once, and the warden has let him out of the prison by a back way so that he cannot be seen. Nicholas has only one pleasant memory of the trial—the face of a girl who attended every session.

Chapter Three
TEA SHOP

A mellow September sun shone down into the street, lighting up the windows of the opposite warehouses. From somewhere close by came the rumble of buses, and the impatient hooting of cars. Two or three pigeons were strutting about on the roadway, while a desultory stream of clerks, porters and office boys hurried or sauntered by on their respective errands.

None of them paid the smallest attention to me, and rousing myself from the kind of semi-trance into which I had fallen, I started off along the pavement. Where I was going to I hadn't the least idea: all I wanted was to find some quiet place close by where I could sit down, and where no newspaper reporter was likely to discover me.

I was nearly at the end of the street when a decorative sign jutting out from one of the doorways, attracted my attention. On it, in green letters, were painted the word "King Lud Tea Rooms. First Floor," and underneath was what appeared to be a fanciful portrait of that venerable monarch, pointing encouragingly up the staircase.

I hesitated a second, and then coming to the conclusion that this would probably serve my purpose as well as anywhere else, I turned in at the entrance.

After a short climb I arrived at my destination—a discreet and restfully lighted apartment, set around with comfortable chairs and small spindle-legged tables. Each table was divided from its neighbor by a Japanese paper screen, the privacy of customers being further ensured by the presence of artificial palms set in pots about the center of the room. Just inside the door a tall young lady with honey-colored hair was presiding over a desk.

It was precisely the type of place that I was looking for, and walking across to the extreme end, I turned into a vacant compartment. Except for a stout man with a bald head, whom I passed on my way along, I appeared to be the solitary patron.

A waitress arrived as I was settling myself down, and having given her an order for tea and toast, I pulled out Seymour's letter from my pocket and began to read it through for a second time. It was the only communication I had had from him since the day of my arrest—for all those four grim weeks not so much as a word of sympathy, not even a brief line of encouragement.

Knowing him as I did I had not been altogether surprised. I could well imagine how bitterly he must have resented the unpleasant publicity thrust upon him by our near relationship, and how anxious he must have been to dissociate himself in every possible way from a man accused of a peculiarly brutal and sordid murder.

Before sending me even this belated message he had evidently considered it more prudent to wait until I was actually acquitted. His letter, for all its expression of good will and offer of assistance, was at least a month too late, and in spite of Mr. Gresswell's charitable advocacy, I felt no particular gratitude stirring inside me as I ran my eye down its stilted and characteristic phrases.

I was just wondering why he should be in such a remarkable hurry to see me when the waitress reappeared with my order. She presented me in addition with a little pencilled slip stating the amount of my bill head for the time being. I proceeded to turn my attention to the more congenial subject of hot buttered toast.

It was while I was in the act of helping myself to a second piece that I heard sounds on the farther side of the Japanese screen. Some fresh arrivals—a young man and a girl to judge by their voices—were entering the compartment next to mine. They gave their instructions to the waitress with what seemed to me an unnecessary amount of noise, and not feeling in the most amiable of moods I anathematized them silently for disturbing my peace.

Chairs creaked, followed by a rather common female giggle.

"I don't know how you can stand it, Perce. I would give me the creeps."

There was the scrape of a match. "Well, people are different of course. It's always been a sorerer hobby o' mine goin' to murder trials. I wouldn't have missed this one, not for a fiver."

My hand, which was conveying the bit of toast to my mouth, stopped short in mid-air.

"What was it all about?" inquired the girl's voice. "I did see something in the Sunday paper, but I couldn't be bothered to read it. 'The Holland Park Mystery'—wasn't that what they called it?"

"That's right. Case of a chap being found lying in his study with his head bashed in. They arrested this bloke Trench some time ago, but the trial only came on last Monday. I been there every day—'not missed a blooming word of it.'"

"Was it exciting?"

"Not half. You ought to have come along with me. Better than the pictures and nothing to pay into the bargain."

I replaced my toast on the plate, and taking out my handkerchief wiped my fingers. This dialogue seemed to require my full attention.

"What was the trouble?" demanded the girl. "Anything to do with a young lady?"

"Nothing of that sort. Question o' money according to the prosecution, but I shouldn't be surprised myself if there was a bit more behind it."

"How do you mean?"

"Well, Osborne, the chap who was done in, was an old schoolfellow of this chap Trench. Been in America for some years and come over here for a visit. Odd sort of a cove—least that's how it struck me. Instead of staying at a hotel, like you'd expect, goes and takes a furnished house—one of those quiet little places with a garden up behind Ladbrooke Square."

Student Council Backs Up L. S. U. Expulsion Act

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 7 (AP)—The controversy over "censorship" of the Revue, Louisiana State University student publication, neared a close today, leaving:

Two protesting students dismissed;

Five more indefinitely suspended;

Twenty-two others previously suspended back in school.

University authorities, after dealing summarily with the undergraduates, were backed up by the L. S. U. student government council in the action taken.

The dismissed students had made public attacks that Senator Huey P. Long directed the "ragging" of the publication when he saw an advance proof of the paper three weeks ago in which a student's letter criticized Long for naming Abe Mickal, star L. S. U. halfback, a "state pensioner."

The action of Dr. James H. Smith, president of the university, in dealing with the situation, was wholeheartedly approved by the student council, which represents the more than 4,000 undergraduates at the college. One of the student council members signing the resolution was Mickal.

The council said "it believes President Smith and his faculty advisers are right in the stand he and they have taken with reference to faculty supervision of the Revue."

SOME SANTA CLAUS
BLAIR, Neb. (AP)—A five-year-old pre-Christmas Santa appeared at school with a jar full of money and began handing out $1 bills to his schoolmates.

But a teacher, shown one of the bills by a happy youngster, quickly squelched the young philanthropist. Taking what remained of the money, she called the parents.

It developed that the boy had found the family hoard and had carried it off to school to distribute. All the money was recovered.

Like a diver preparing to descend into sea depths looked Wiley Post, eminent "round-the-world flier," as he prepared a "dive" upward into the stratosphere at Bartlesville, Okla. Post said that he had broken the world record of 47,352 feet, held by the Italian Lieut. Renato Donati.

International Sunday School Lesson
BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: The Christian as Teacher.
Scripture Lesson: Matt. 7:24-29; Acts 18: 24-28.

Matt. 7:24. Every one therefore that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, who built his house upon the rock:

25. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the wind blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon the rock.

26. And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand:

27. And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the wind blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

28. And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these words, the multitudes were astonished at his teachings.

29. For he taught them as one having authority, and not as their scribes.

Acts 18:24. Now a certain Jew named Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus; and he was mighty in the scriptures.

25. This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord; and being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught accurately the things concerning Jesus, knowing only the baptism of John.

26. And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more accurately.

27. And when he was minded to pass over into Achaia, the brethren encouraged him, and wrote to the disciples to receive him; and when he was come, he helped them much that had believed through grace;

28. For he powerfully confuted the Jews, and that publicly, showing by the scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

Golden Text: Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth.—2 Tim. 2:15.

Introduction.
It is significant that Jesus closed his Sermon on the Mount with an epilogue on the importance of doing as well as hearing all that he had said. To satisfy the intellect is a worthy aim of teaching, but it is not enough. There must be an added objective—to challenge the will to action. Hearing and doing must go together in genuine teaching; does not allow them to become separated. As important as it is for the teacher to impart truth and to fill the minds of his pupils with facts, it is even more important that he shall so influence their wills that they will determine to do that which they have heard. Changed thinking and living, therefore, is the twofold objective for all serious teaching.

A Wise Builder, v. 24
"Who built his house upon the rock." A great host of people who have tried many another foundation are singing today.
"On Christ, the solid Rock, I stand; All other ground is sinking sand." Yes, the one solid foundation for human character has been abundantly proven to be the Lord Jesus Christ, his person, his word, his work, his grace. They are anxious now about St. Paul's cathedral. Parts of the foundation have shown signs of weakness, and grave concern is felt for the safety of the structure. It would be a national calamity if serious harm should come to that noble pile which lifts above the smoke of London "the finest dome in Christendom." But it is an infinitely greater calamity when a man created in the image of God and redeemed by the blood of Christ crumbles into everlasting ruin.—Rev. J. D. Freeman.

The "Rock of Ages," v. 25
"And it fell not; for it was founded upon the rock." A man who takes Christ for his pattern, Christ's teachings for his principles of life, is a man whose life is safe and who shall endure. His life is rightly founded on a permanent, unchanging base. He rests upon a rock, even the j ck Christ Jesus. He is that man who goes to the foundation of things, that man, to use Luke's phrase (Luke 6:48), who "dugged and went deep." This is the man who builds upon that foundation to which Paul refers when he says, "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (1 Cor. 3:11).—Rev. Herbert M. Gesner.

"Rock of Ages, clef for me. Let me hide myself in Thee."
A Foolish Builder, v. 28
"Shall be likened unto a foolish man." When Christ says, "Thou fool!" it behoves men to look well to their going, for they are facing the wrong way. This jazz age of ours seems to think that folly does no harm. Not so, says our Lord. For every foolish word, not to say foolish act, we must give account in the day of judgment. They all help to build our house of life on the slippery sand. "Who built his house upon the sand." He built it in some wady, or dry bed of a stream. No sign of water in the rainless season, but a rushing torrent as soon as the rains come. The floods that hurt themselves down these great ravines uproot trees, carry huge rocks along, bear everything before them. He put his house there because it was easier to do so.

Ruin At Last, v. 27
"And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the wind blew, and smote upon that house." This description of the storm is, word for word, like the preceding, except for the word translated "smote," which signifies in the Greek that it beat upon the house with an immediate, smashing effect. The house on the rock could stand the gale; the house on the sand went down against it with one great crash. "And it fell; and great was the fall thereof." These solemn words imply not that the house was a large one, like a castle or a palace, but that its ruin was entire. "That there are houses of faith being built which grip the rock and which no storm can overthrow. We know with a glad assurance. But we cannot be indifferent to the fact that there are houses, stately and beautiful, which have no foundation, and which when the final storm comes will go down with a great fall."

The Teaching of Apollos.
Acts 18:24-28
As a Jew Apollos had been well trained in Old Testament lore. As an Alexandrian he had come in contact with the ripest learning of his day. He was a disciple of John the Baptist. Certainly he knew the great duties of repentance and of faith in the coming Messiah. However his knowledge was imperfect for he seems not to have known the details of the early life of Jesus for the coming and work of the Holy Spirit.

He was mighty in the Scriptures. He knew the Old Testament well. He was skillful in its use. The Messianic prophecies glowed under his interpretation. And when he learned that the promised Christ had already appeared in Jesus of Nazareth his faithfulness to the Word of God was rounded out to fullness including both forecast and fact. He began speaking in the synagogue with confidence and conviction and soon his ministry was widened and deepened. For "he powerfully confuted the Jews, publicly showing by the Scriptures that Jesus is the Christ."—v. 28.

Christmas Trade Scheduled To Be Best in 4 Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—The public is in a better mood to spend, government experts say. And so they expect Christmas trade to be the best in four years.

To their predictions that cash registers will jingle as they haven't done since 1930, John Dickinson, assistant secretary of commerce, added this note of cheer:

"The prospects for a big Christmas trade show very clearly the state of mind—a satisfied and optimistic state of mind."

"All of the evidence indicates the people are in a greater spending mood. But not for reckless spending such as we saw some years ago. This mood to buy can be directly attributed to more employment and more money in the people's pockets."

The government statisticians said: Estimates indicate farm income this year will be nearly a billion dollars greater than last year.

Business generally is running ahead of last year, according to trade reports.

October department store sales increased 7 per cent over a year ago, rural general merchandise sales are up to 12 per cent, variety store sales 5 per cent, and new motor car sales 9 per cent.
