TROOP 18—HOPKINS

The Troop Committee of Hopkins Boy Scout Troop No. 18, consisting of W. R. Barrett, chairman; G. J. Adame, C. F. Jones, W. E. Reno, E. P. Vanderburg, C. L. Courson, L. L. McGhee, O. W. Bray, E. E. Edwards, G. J. Turner, R. E. Warren, and J. H. Rickard, together with the assistance of boys from the local troop, played host to approximately 30 guests at the Phillips Community Hall.

The guests were entertained by a demonstration of the ruggedness of Scout clothing, by using the distributor's suggestion, and have three husky scouts on each leg of a pair of trousers and try to pull them apart, the boys failed to do this after much pulling and tugging. A short dramatization of the Scout laws was then given by Elzey Vanderburg, Edwin Pierce, Oral Stiles, and Keith Davis.

By this time tables having been set up the guests enjoyed four tables of bridge. The Boy Scouts of Troop No. 18 under the direction of Mr. Adame, and Mr. Jones, served cake and coffee to the guests. All cakes being donated by committeemen of the Troop.

Mrs. Webster Darden of Pampa received high prize for the ladies, which was a beautiful bridge lamp, and Mr. Brown of Hopkins schools No. 1 received high prize, for men, two sets of bridge playing cards. G. J. Adame, proprietor of the Red & White Store, Phillips Camp, donated the prizes, and the awards were made by District Scout Commissioner John E. Shannon, who thanked the guests for their help in making the party a complete success, and distributed to each guest literature on Scouting.

J. H. Williams, scoutmaster of troop No. 18 with the help of his boys had a very interesting display of scoutcraft for the examination of the visitors, consisting of totem poles, book binding, carpentry, wood carving, and many other interesting items made by the boys of the troop.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

SYNOPSIS: Nicholas Trench just has been acquitted of the murder of his old schoolfellow, Osborne. Somewhat shaken, he returns to a tea room near the prison to read a letter from his cousin, Sir Seymour; he does not feel that the letter compensates for his cousin's silence throughout the trial. A man and woman enter the room, and begin discussing the Trench trial, which the man has attended.

Chapter Four
NICHOLAS' PROTEST.

For a moment the conversation was interrupted by the return of the waitress. I sat in grim silence while plates clinked and teacups rattled; then, with the sound of retreating footsteps came my male neighbor's Cockney accents.

"Looked a simple enough business to start with. There wasn't a doubt that the night of the murder Trench had been round at the house. Osborne must have let him in himself, because the servant was out."

"What happened no one rightly knows, but the next morning Osborne was found lying on the carpet with his head hammered to a pulp. The safe in which he kept his papers was open and empty. He'd drawn five hundred pounds in notes from the bank the day before, and that was gone along with the rest."

"What's he like?" inquired the girl. "Trench—I mean. An artist, isn't he—or something of the sort?"

"He's a sculptor—did that funny looking statue outside Victoria Station. Great big hefty chap—make two of me. Gosh, he's a lucky devil if ever there was one."

"Why did they let him off?"

"Ask me another! I'd have taken my oath he hadn't an earthly. Why, when they arrested him there he was with the notes in his pocket. Bunked off down to some little place in Essex and trying to get hold of a yacht so as he could slip across to the continent."

"How did he explain that?"

"Said he was acting as Osborne's agent. Pretty thin sort of a yarn, wasn't it?"

"Well, the jury must have believed him, anyhow."

"The jury! I tell you they were hypnotized by that fellow Barrett. He didn't half make a fine speech—fairly knocked 'em off their perch, if it wasn't for him. Mr. blooming Trench would be swinging in a rope, and between ourselves, that's just about where the blighter ought to be."

"A sudden unreasoning anger swept through me. Who was this dirty, little skunk, and what right had he got to call me a murderer? I jumped to my feet, upsetting my teacup in the process, and almost before I realized what I was doing I had thrust aside the screen.

"Two people spun round and two startled faces stared up into mine. One belonged to a weedy looking youth in a blue suit, the other to an anemic damsel with bare arms and heavily rouged lips.

"I took a step nearer.

"You know a lot about my private affairs, don't you?" I said.

The young man shrunk back. His jaw had fallen and he gaped at me in a kind of petrified terror.

"It's him!" he whispered.

With a squeal like a frightened rabbit, the girl flung up her arm.

"Keep him off, Perce," she gasped.

"Don't let him come near me."

I laughed—a short, vicious laugh that broke from me almost unconsciously—then turning round and collecting my belongings, I retraced my way to the desk.

It was obvious that the honey-haired cashier must have overheard everything, for she took my bill with a shaking hand, and pushed across the change as though I were suffering from the plague. By this time, however, I had more or less recovered my sanity. I picked up the odd coppers without even a second glance at her, and walking quietly to the door began to descend the staircase.

SURVEY IS STARTED ON TREE BELT PROJECT IN PANHANDLE

Preliminary surveys in connection with the federal shelter belt of trees are being made in the Panhandle, Pampa will be in one edge of this belt if the plans are carried out as made.

Dr. J. M. Alkman and his assistant, J. W. Hubbard, members of the United States forest service, were in the South Plains region recently making botanical surveys of the soils and trees for material in making their survey of the proposed shelter belt to be constructed by the government across the middle of the United States.

While in Lubbock they were visitors on the Texas Technological college campus inspecting the soils and trees on the college property, and were accompanied by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the college, and C. E. Russell, head professor of horticulture and plant industry. The botanists were furnished with "valuable information concerning the soils, trees, and climate of this territory," according to Dr. Alkman. The college also supplied them with soil maps of this region.

The federal men, while in company with Dr. Knapp, visited the Lubbock experiment sub-station of A. & M. college, which is under the direction of Don Jones, where they checked the climate, rainfall, and made calculations as to the types of trees best adapted to this territory. They were also securing information pertaining to the advisability of moving the proposed route of the shelter belt further west as recommended by Dr. Knapp so that this territory would be protected.

Another trip was made by the two botanists with Dean A. H. Ledigh and Prof. George W. Woodbury of the division of agriculture, and Dr. E. L. Reed, professor of botany, west from Lubbock and approaching the New Mexico line into the territory advised by Dr. Knapp.

Dr. Alkman is a member of the forestry department of Iowa State college at Ames, and is on leave of absence to join the forest service. Hubbard is a graduate assistant in the Iowa State forestry department.

THE COTTON MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3. (AP)—The cotton market was a very quiet affair today notwithstanding the fact it was bureau day and the government issued its final crop estimate for the season. The fact that the estimate was 9,731,000 bales, or just about what was expected and the further fact that commitments had been pretty thoroughly liquidated in advance caused prices to make practically no response to the bureau's figures. As a market influence the estimate was practically without effect probably for the first time since the government started to issue estimates.

After the bureau was received and trading resumed only two months were active, March trading at 12.56 or 1 point above the pre-bureau price, while May traded at 12.57 or unchanged from the pre-bureau level. Trading remained very quiet for the remainder of the session and March closed at 12.57 or 6 points net up for the day while May, July and October closed 4 points net up.

Port receipts 28,986, for season 3,081,583, last season 5,073,736. Exports 8,093, for season 2,941,808, last season 3,595,785. Port stock 3,143,111, last year 4,120,758. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 107,155, last year 148,314. Spot sales at southern markets 9,715, last year 17,792.

SYLVIA SYDNEY IN ROLE OF INDIAN MAID

MARRIED INTO SOCIETY WITH TROUBLESOME RESULTS

The dramatic story of revenge that turns into genuine love is the underlying theme of B. P. Schulberg's new Paramount picture, "Behold My Wife," starring Sylvia Sydney with Gene Raymond and coming today to La Nora theater.

"Behold My Wife," which presents Miss Sydney as a beautiful full-blooded Indian girl, has backgrounds in colorful primitive New Mexico, and urbane and sophisticated New York.

The story is concerned with Gene Raymond's attempt to revenge himself on his ultra-aristocratic family. Driven to New Mexico, when his family's meddling forces his sweetheart to suicide, he is wounded and nursed back to health by Sylvia Sydney.

Marries Indian Girl
She falls in love with her patient and he prevails upon her to marry him and accompany him back home, visualizing his family's horror when they meet her.

His plans go awry, however, when she appears at a reception given in her honor, more beautiful and fascinating than any of the well-bred women who surround her. It is then that he betrays his real purpose to her and tells her that he does not love her. Broken hearted and desperate, she runs away with another man.

With her disappearance Raymond realizes that he really loves her. Urged by his family, who have had a change of heart, he follows her to the home of the other man only to discover that he has been killed and that she has confessed to his murder.

H. B. Warner Featured
In a dramatic and surprising climax, Miss Sydney is cleared of the charge of murder, and Raymond admits their love to each other and go free for a happy life together.

"Behold My Wife" was directed by Mitchell Leisen from a screen story by William R. Lipman and Oliver LaFarge. The picture features, in the principal supporting roles, H. B. Warner, Laura Hope Crews, Juliette Compton and Charlotte Granville.

CLIQUE BAND WILL BE HERE TUESDAY NIGHT

TO PLAY FOR CONCERT AND DANCE IN CITY

The Clique Eskimos will give a concert in the city auditorium Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, and will play for a dance at the Pia-Mor auditorium beginning at 9:30 the same evening. The orchestra's appearance here will be sponsored by Al Gilliland and the Junior chamber of commerce.

Featured entertainer of the orchestra will be Miss Mildred Mendre, a world's fair attraction. The Eskimos play both jazz and semi-classical music. The organization includes 13 persons and boasts that each one is a soloist. Mr. Gilliland said that the orchestra is the "greatest classical band in the country."

Admission to the dance will be $1.50 per couple and $1.10 each for single. Admission to the concert will be 40c for adults and 10c for children.

Persons who arrive at the city hall concert by 7:30 p. m. will be admitted on the basis of two persons for one paid admission; it was announced last night.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Dec. 8 (AP)—Corn led a downward trend of grain prices today, the corn market undergoing a pronounced break on account of enlarged prospective arrivals of corn here.

Corn closed weak at but little above the day's low points, 1-1/2c under yesterday's finish, May 90-90 1/2, wheat easy, unchanged to 1/2c lower, May 1.03-1.03 1/2, oats unchanged to 1/2c off, and provisions 2 cents to 3 cents up.

Wheat and rye sympathized with corn weakness. War clouds in the Balkans seemed to have been largely discounted as an immediate market stimulus. Considerable notice was taken of enlarged official estimates of the 1934 French wheat crop, making the total 332,000,000 bushels against a recent estimate of 304,000,000. On the other hand, one report today placed the season's probable outturn of wheat in Argentina at 37,000,000 bushels below that of a year ago.

In the provisions market, a feature was commission house buying that lifted lard to a new high for the season.

IRISH SWEEP OVER HEREFORD 33-7 FOR BI-DISTRICT TITLE

Shamrock and Lamesa Will Play for Regional Title; Whitefaces Are Throttled

SHAMROCK, Dec. 8.—Shamrock's fighting Irish football team rose to new heights yesterday afternoon to defeat the highly touted Hereford Whitefaces, 33 to 7. Led by Mitcham, Little McIntyre, and Fields, the Irish pushed across touchdown after touchdown by sensational playing.

Russell, ace of the Hereford team, was bottled throughout the entire game. He did recover a fumble and race 16 yards for Hereford's lone touchdown. Sowell broke loose for some nice gains but was always stopped by the Irish before getting into the pay territory.

Shamrock won the right to play the Lamesa Tornados for the West Texas Class B championship. Lamesa found hard opposition in defeating Memphis 30 to 20. Time and place of the play-off will be selected soon.

The Irish started their scoring parade early in the second quarter when Little McIntyre raced 4 yards across the line after a Mitcham to Fields pass had placed the ball in scoring position. Mitcham kicked the extra point.

Mitcham passed to Rook for 15 yards and another counter in the same quarter after Little McIntyre had picked up 42 yards on a nice run. Mitcham again added the extra point. Rook had replaced Big McIntyre who was injured in the first quarter and unable to play the rest of the game.

Mitcham did the bulk of the Shamrock ball toting to place the ball on the two yard line from which point Little McIntyre went over near the half. Mitcham missed the try for extra point.

The little Mitcham continued to play sensational ball in the second half, scoring from the 12-yard mark and then kicking the extra point.

LIVESTOCK SUMMARY

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 8 (AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—Receipts of cattle for the week approximated 293,000 against a five-day total of 145,896 last week and 172,209 on the corresponding period a year ago. Good and choice fed steers and yearlings at river markets and all light steers and yearlings at Chicago ruled strong to extremes 25 above last week's closing sales. Short-fed weighty heaves at the latter point and all lower grade steers at other places were reported weak to mostly 25 or more off for the week. Mixed yearlings and heifers cleared at steady to 25 higher levels while all except strictly good cows declined 25-50. An outlet for thin cattle was found only at prices weak to 25 under recent declines, the plainer kinds especially dull and selling at the maximum downturn. Best weighty commercial steers made 10.25 at Chicago, the week's best price, while choice heavy heifer reached 8.50 at Kansas City, yearling stockers cashed upward to 5.00. Lightweight fleshy feeders realized 5.60.

The heavy movement of light and underweight hogs accounted for the marked increase in the run as compared with last year's figures. However, today's quotations in this class are generally 10-15 above last week's sharp decline while averages above 200 lbs moved at 10-20 higher rates. The circuit's high mark was 6.30 at Chicago for choice weighty butchers.

The trade in slaughter lambs was featured by an advance of 25-65. Sheep followed part of the advance while feeding classes were absorbed at strong to mostly 25 higher prices. Selected natives realized 7.75 at St. Louis and Chicago with most late sales of good and choice grades 7.50-65 at both centers. Choice feeding lambs at Chicago made 6.35.
