

600 GUARDSMEN PATROL CITY AFTER KILLING OF 2 MEN IN NEGRO RIOT

COURTHOUSE IS DESTROYED BY FIGHTING MOB

NEGRO IN DISGUISE IS CARRIED THROUGH ANGRY CROWD

SHELBYVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 20. (AP)—Six hundred National Guardsmen marched into town today after disorders of the last 24 hours in which the courthouse was burned and two men were killed in a racial outbreak.

The troops were ordered here by Governor Hill McAlister after a mob ran wild yesterday on the scent of a lynching, fighting to carry off a negro whose trial on a charge of attacking a white girl was interrupted as the sullen, raging group stormed the courthouse.

Asked if he would declare martial law, Adjutant General J. H. Ballew replied: "Nothing like that. We've got 600 men here, and we're going to look around and see what the situation is before making any plans."

Dawn brought a dismal sight to Shelbyville, its once proud courthouse a hulk of scorched bricks, and a litter of debris covering the courthouse square where two were killed and a score wounded in yesterday's attempt to seize E. K. Harris, negro on trial charged with assaulting a white school girl.

One unidentified The list of dead and wounded was unchanged during the night, and two men earlier pronounced dying at the hospital were reported "resting easily."

The death list of two included Raleigh Edwards, 30, who was wounded in Wednesday's second mob attack, and an unidentified man. The latter, according to Dr. James L. Morton, hospital superintendent, was pronounced dead at the hospital after the shootings, but was removed before identification could be made.

When the body could not be found at any funeral establishment, the opinion was that the victim was an out of the county resident and had been taken home.

There was quiet throughout the early morning hours. City policemen and firemen chatted about the happenings in their headquarters opposite the courthouse, or strolled about the square, inspecting the bleak brick skeleton which a few short hours before had been Bedford's busy structure.

Throughout the night the embers smoldered during only an occasional automobile load of curious, who would drive about the square and, finding all quiet, proceed to another destination.

The courthouse was fired last night after the mob had been repulsed earlier in its efforts to gain entrance and seize Harris.

Four hours after the guardsmen's bullets had stopped the assault against the courthouse, the building was burned at a loss estimated at $150,000.

Four trucks of an original detachment of 111 National Guardsmen, who brought the mob's quarry here on trial yesterday, were overturned and burned.

Harris, the 22-year-old negro, was on trial for assault of a 14-year-old white girl. Disguised as a guardsman and wearing a gas mask, he was led through the milling crowd from the courtroom to a waiting automobile.

An escort of militia sped him to Nashville for safekeeping. Only after their car pulled away from the courthouse did the mob sense the ruse.

Soldiers Stoned Cheated of their prey, the enraged men turned upon the National Guard as it fled from the besieged courthouse and marched out of town. They hurled stones and yelled insults at the militiamen.

The dead were Raleigh Edwards, 30-year-old home painter, who was shot and bayoneted, and an unidentified white man.

Hospital authorities said the latter's body was dumped on the hospital porch and then taken away before they could give attention to him.

Negroes Treated Roughly Rough treatment was accorded any negro who dared appear upon the streets and threats of an invasion of the negro quarter were rife, but no damage or casualties were reported from that section.

A small negro hotel was set afire, but the blaze was extinguished quickly.

Twinkles Huey Long is being called a modern Nero. But we can't imagine his doing such a harm-less-thing as fiddling.

But if Huey wanted to hear or see fiddling, we can imagine him as the shouts orders to all the fiddlers of the state, in meeting assembled, to play anything that struck the fancy of the Czar of Louisiana.

Louisiana taxed the carbon black plants out of the state. We've got to keep Huey in check. We'll extend the control over Texas and order them back.

If spending money would end the depression, the government would end it very quickly. Yet every cure-all we read about calls for spending more and more money—tax money.

Police Chief Art Hurst accuses Skippy, the family pup, of adding to the craze for puppies. The chief fears that the city is going to be "lousy" with dogs next summer.

Musing of the moment: We favor an old-age pension, but not the Townsend plan of giving $200 per month to the elderly. If our dad and grand-dad received that much, and had to spend it, we doubt that we would write this column, much less do the hundred-and-one other jobs that we have. The temptation would be great and dads and grand-dads are usually generous.

Brevitorials
ONE OF THE PROBLEMS which this community will carry over into 1935 is that of providing hospitalization for the indigent sick. The relief board's attitude was expressed by Chairman Alex Schneider in the NEWS Tuesday, when it was shown how that relief regulations prevented the board from paying hospital bills in most months. Yesterday the hospitals, through their managers, quoted the resolution passed by the commissioners' court and pointed out why the hospitals cannot be expected to shoulder the load. On December 5, THE NEWS carried resolutions of the medical society in which tendencies toward socialization of medicine were deplored.

THESE STATEMENTS rather clearly set forth the attitude of the groups concerned, but left the problem untouched. The county's position was not enough elaborated by the resolution quoted, hence it would be pertinent for a county spokesman to amplify its stand were it not for the fact that personnel of the court will change January 1 and, possibly, there may be some change in the attitude of the court. The pauper statute is an old one and one not written to take care of any emergency such as that now faced. It is obvious, of course, that counties should either follow it or ignore it, and that they should justify either course. A pauper is deprived of his vote. A pauper is one who has no belongings which can be converted into cash to provide for the necessities of life. Such a determination of one eligible to have counting of gasoline.

Two hose lines were available in the fire department's equipment, but for almost an hour only one of these could be brought into play. Members of the mob, firemen said used every conceivable device to prevent the fire fighting.

Those seriously wounded by the guardsmen's fire were: Pat Lawes, reported by friends to be a relative of the girl involved in the case, shot through the head.

SHOPPING NOW NEAR PEAK AS HOLIDAY NEARS

PAMPA IS AMONG MOST POPULAR TRADING POINTS Seasonal shopping which has been gaining in volume for several weeks is at the pre-Christmas peak in Pampa, with retail stores reporting excellent business. Several stores have reported the biggest days of their history in many lines of merchandise.

With the streets crowded with automobiles, the sidewalks filled with eager shoppers, and store clerks busy, Pampa has become one of the most popular trading points in this section. Huge stocks of fresh merchandise, reasonably priced, are moving rapidly under the impulse of the feeling that better times are here and the people can afford to buy.

Both cash and credit sales are very pleasing, many merchants told THE NEWS. Quality merchandise is in more demand than for several years. Bargain hunting is less pronounced. Buyers show more satisfaction in what they purchase.

There is one worry common to most business men—hot checks are frequently offered and the merchants feel justified in exercising reasonable caution.

Shopping and mailing deadlines for Christmas are very near, hence shoppers are hurrying to avoid disappointments in what they purchase.

Retail sales in Texas during November maintained the favorable showing in comparison with a year ago which has been noted in previous months, according to the University of Texas bureau of research. Report from 92 representative retail establishments show an average gain of 15.4 per cent over November last year and a decline of only 2.4 per cent from October whereas the average seasonal drop between these months is 7 per cent, the bureau's report said. During the first nine months of 1934 sales were 21.4 per cent greater than in the corresponding period in 1933.

Of the different types of stores, sales of women's specialty shops showed the largest gain over November last year with an increase of 22.4 per cent. Men's clothing stores showed a gain in sales of 19.2 per cent and a department store an increase of 18.5 per cent. Collections of outstanding accounts were considerably better than in November last year. During the month 37.3 per cent of outstanding accounts were collected, against 34 per cent a year ago.

High Lone Star Gas Official Is Fatally Injured
WAXAHACHIE, Dec. 20. (AP)—Karl F. Griffith, 42, of Dallas, vice-president and general counsel of the Lone Star Gas company, died today of injuries received in an automobile accident near here last night. Griffith was struck by an automobile when he attempted to repair his car which had stalled on the highway.

Griffith, with D. A. Hulcey, another Lone Star official, was returning to Dallas from a gas rate hearing at Waco when the accident occurred.

Griffith was born in Lancaster, Ohio, and came to Texas in 1917. During the world war he was in the officers' training camp at Chillicothe, Ohio, and became a lieutenant in a machine gun battalion.

After the war he returned to the Lone Star Gas company in Dallas and became vice president and general counsel. He had entered the service of L. B. Denning, president, years before in the legal department of the Ohio Fuel Supply company.

Bill Gilstrap transacted business in Amarillo yesterday afternoon.

Watson, Dunn, Harold Miller, and Dick Hughes Are in List of Officers Here.

H. L. Polley, prominent young merchant, late yesterday was elected president of the Junior chamber of commerce for 1935 by the board of directors. He will succeed Clarence Kennedy, who has directed many activities during 1934.

Other officers chosen by the directors were: First vice president, R. R. (Bob) Watson; second vice president, Jack Dunn; secretary, R. G. (Dick) Hughes; treasurer, Harold Miller.

In accepting the office, Mr. Polley said that he was well aware of the great amount of time and work it entailed. He said, however, that he had no fears because of the cooperation which existed within the organization and the willingness of members to do what they were requested.

Famous Texan Is Dead in New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—Death has ended the career of Martin W. Littleton Sr., prominent lawyer and orator. He was 62.

He died in Nassau county hospital, Mineola, L. I., last night from heart disease after an illness of three months.

During his legal career he appeared in a number of famous trials. He defended Harry K. Thaw in his second trial for the murder of Stanford White, served as counsel for Truman H. Newberry, former senator from Michigan charged with making unwarranted election expenditures, and also was counsel for Harry F. Sinclair in the bribery trial in which he was acquitted.

Littleton served one term as a member of congress and was a former borough president of Brooklyn. He came to New York in his late twenties after living in Texas for several years.

Surviving are his wife, the former Maud Wilson of Dallas, and one son, Martin W. Littleton Jr., district attorney of Nassau county.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The District of Columbia supreme court ruled today that Senator Huey Long of Louisiana must face trial on the $500,000 libel suit filed against him by Samuel T. Ansell.

Winter wheat acreage sown this fall was announced today by the department of agriculture as 44,306,000 acres, or 105.9 per cent of that sown a year ago. The acreage sown to rye was 5,697,000 acres, or 113.3 per cent of a year ago. No estimates of probable production were given.

LONDON, Dec. 20. (AP)—A spokesman for the United States naval delegation said tonight that Great Britain and the United States are likely to sign a naval accord between themselves after 1936 if there is no general international naval treaty by that time. The spokesman said that the Americans believe the Japanese people will eventually have to determine whether they are to be ruled by civil or military elements.

JAPANESE SAYS FDR POLICY IS ONE OF 'BLUFF'

Claims Jap Sailors More Courageous Than America's

TOKYO, Dec. 20. (AP)—A temporary sensation resulted in diplomatic circles today from the circulation in the English service of the Rengo (Japanese) News agency of an article which said the policy of President Roosevelt's administration was one of "bluff."

The article, controversial in character, attempted to prove that the United States would not be able to outbid Japan should a naval race follow termination of the Washington treaty.

The Japanese navy personnel, the article continued, is superior to the American in moral courage.

Officials of the Rengo agency, however, declined to accept responsibility for the views set forth in the article, explaining they came from an anonymous and unidentifiable naval critic, to whom the English translation erroneously failed to attribute them.

STANDARD HIT BY LARGE OIL REFINING TAX

'ABSOLUTE MONARCH' TAKES OVER CITY GOVERNMENTS

By ED DESOBRY Associated Press Staff Writer BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 20. (AP)—Huey Long's special session of the legislature adjourned at noon today after enacting 31 new laws.

Long, through his new bills, took a big leap into local government in the state, put taxes on the "big money interests" and launched a few "poor people" and altruistic projects.

Through bill amendments slipped in today and yesterday Long's administration took control of the city government of Alexandria, made sweeping changes in the government of Baton Rouge and put a tax on his old self-assorted enemy, the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana.

The senate temporarily revolted today and defeated one of Long's bills, but when Long strode in later, smiling happily, the chair reversed its previous ruling and declared the measure passed.

Long has never forgotten the Standard Oil company, whose opposition to a tax identical to the one he imposed today on the refining of oil, he credited with causing his impeachment by the house of representatives in 1929.

An amendment fixing the tax at five cents per barrel of 45 gallons on the refining of oil was slipped into an apparently harmless bill almost unnoticed in the house and the bill was quickly passed and sent over to the senate, which likewise passed it.

"That's what I called the legislature for," Long said in reference to the bill, laughing gleefully.

THE WAR PROFITS QUESTION

Some strange bed-fellows are being revealed by the war profits investigation. The smell is even worse than most observers expected.

But war profits and preparedness are very closely related. There is evidence that some high officials of the war department think more of war as a game than as a grave problem of defense. Why would the navy countenance sale of secrets of war to Japan and other nations? Why would this government sit idly by while the Du Ponts armed Japan, when every munition sent to Japan calls for a similar expenditure here?

As usual, there are reasons. The military branch of the government has much in common with the munitions manufacturers. Both with huge sums to spend on preparedness. The aim of the manufacturers is to make money; of the war department to gain more power and prestige. The power-and-gun people of the world are strongly suspected of having no patriotism and of maneuvering their markets to divide up the world trade. Trouble looks good to them. But until and unless the governments decide to make their own war materials, they will be courted by the manufacturers and will have to consider the latter as very important in modern affairs.

It is evident that the Legion's demand for curbing of war profits will be given very serious consideration. The fight for the moment outranks the usual demand for adjusted compensation. What seems pertinent is the suggestion that the world set-up on munitions be thoroughly probed. It is not clear why Mr. Roosevelt has seemed to have discouraged a further probe. But if the truth is brought out, the people will be hugely tired of war because it is being manipulated by men who are profit-hungry and whose patriotism is open to the frankest questioning.

A Washington Daybook

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The munitions investigation was coming too near the administration for comfort.

Files in the big green safe of the Nye committee contained the names of a cabinet member close to Roosevelt, the chairman of an important Senate committee, and of another person intimately linked with those in high places.

The names—none of them tainted with any charge of graft—were to be revealed in the course of the sensational investigation, with inevitable embarrassment in each case. The committee had decided to play no favorites.

Meanwhile, officials of the War and Navy Departments were balking at continued revelation of their intimate association with munitions makers and apparent willingness to share supposed military secrets with Japan and other nations. And the investigation had hardly begun.

These facts explain why committee members were so quick to charge that the president's sudden spectacular move to "take the profits out of war" was an attempt to circumvent the Senate investigation and prevent further disclosures.

Right or wrong, this attitude among the senators—unless dispelled—is sure to inspire some entertaining developments and is responsible for a desire by some to "shoot the works" at once if it appears that their inquiry is to be curtailed by blocking of further appropriations for it.

Friends of the administration are inclined to believe that, if the president was aware of impending disclosures, he acted with the intent of making his position as to war profits clear in advance and that he didn't seek to suppress the investigation.

Although the committee has plenty of sensational evidence already on tap, it hasn't begun to delve into munitions activities of the steel trust, or the shipbuilders, chemical interests, banking connections and stockholdings.

The plain fact is that it just isn't "safe" to have a thorough-going investigation of the munitions industry such as the committee wants to make. There are more "wheels within wheels" there than were ever disclosed in any previous Senate inquiry. And altogether too many buzzsaws!

The presidential announcement came just as indignation was reaching a new pitch here over revelation that the War Department was helping the du Ponts arm Japan at a time when Congress was voting large sums for defense against nations among which Japan was theoretically our most dangerous potential enemy. And on the day before a series of further War Department disclosures was due to begin.

Admittedly, it's hard to guess where to attach the most significance in this episode and its accompanying clash between White House and Senate committee. But it may be more or less significant of something or other that insiders almost unanimously insisted on reading in a strategic move on the part of the president.

They found it hard to believe that Roosevelt would interfere with a committee operating by Senate mandate—to achieve the same results he seeks through his new committee—without powerful reason.

Charlie Dawes' "out of the depression by summer" sounds so much like Henry Ford's "out of the trenches by Christmas" that we're almost prepared to dig in for a longer siege.

Stranded Toledoans Saved in Bay

Suffering from exposure and hunger, six Toledo, O., persons are shown here being taken aboard the U. S. coast guard cutter Corwin after they had been rescued from their cabin cruiser, aground for 34 hours on a sambar in Mauntee bay. Stranded in a storm while on a fishing trip, they had waited vainly for help with the temperature below freezing and no food aboard.

Clasping his cross, his black robe sweeping the patio ground gracefully, Father Terreros walked steadily out to join the corporal.

"On all sides, as far as the eye could reach, there was a moving, swaying multitude of savages, arrayed in strange garbs and mounted on gaudily equipped horses." Some of them wore on their heads skins of animals and let the tails fly in the wind. All carried guns, sabers, and keen-edged spears.

All was silent as Father Terreros and the corporal of the guard slowly removed the huge crossbars from the protecting gate. In one minute a mad multitude of 2,000 savages had poured inside the church walls. The first part of the Indians' visit was seemingly friendly and commonplace. Only too soon disaster was to come to those brave fathers and soldiers at Mission San Luis de los Amarillos on the San Saba river.

Shrine Dance On Saturday Planned

On Saturday night, December 22, Khiva Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S., Amarillo, will give a dance in the Masonic Temple at 9:30 p. m., honoring Mosiah Temple, Ft. Worth drum corps.

Invitation will be tendered members of the Masonic Home football team, and the Golden Standform football team, of Amarillo, to attend the dance, if their regulations will permit.

All members of the Shrine will be admitted upon presentation of their 1934 card, and guests which the Shriners bring with them will be admitted upon payment of $1. Potentate J. E. King of Memphis, has placed the arrangements for this function in the hands of Nobles Geo. Hamrick, Floyd Pendergraft, and J. U. Kirkman.

All Nobles in the Panhandle territory, whether they are members of Khiva Temple or not, are urged to attend.

TEXAS HISTORY Brushing Up on Facts You Ought to Recall

A few soldiers were outside Mission San Luis gathering firewood just as the sun rose on the morning of March 16, 1758. Suddenly they were knocked almost senseless by heavy clubs. Whirling around, they were face to face with mobs of wily, painted Indians. Father Terreros put an abrupt end to the early morning devotion which Father Santesteban was leading as he and his companions heard the terrified cries of "Indian! Indian!"

Only a week or so before the attack, Apaches had come racing through the presidio on their horses, warning the Spaniards that the enemy were near. Alarmed, Captain Parrilla had hastened to the mission to persuade Father Terreros and the other fathers to come inside the protection of presidio walls. The fathers declared they were unafraid, and if they were to meet death, they wanted to be in their church. It was necessary that all men available be used to guard the presidio, and none could be spared to join the priests and servants in the mission. On March 15, Captain Parrilla did his utmost to get the priests to leave. They were firm in their refusal, and he rode back to the presidio with misgivings in his heart.

When the Indians who attacked San Luis saw that the Spaniards were prepared for them, they shrewdly pretended friendship. Ascencio Cadena, corporal of the guard, ventured into the patio, and peeped through the cracks in the wall. He recognized the Tejas tribe members, and a few others who were friends of the Spanish, and turning to Father Terreros assured him that the Indians could mean no harm.

UNITED STATES DROPS FREEDOM OF SEAS POLICY

International Police Force Urged By League

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY, Associated Press Foreign Staff.
 GENEVA, Dec. 20. (AP)—The idea of an international police force was advanced in Geneva today following reports of a move in Washington for virtual abandonment of the doctrine of "freedom of the seas" in time of war and certain rights of neutrality.

Such a force would be similar to the League of Nations "international army" now moving into the Saar basin territory to insure order during the January 13 plebiscite.

"The league is trying to put force behind the law, instead of behind the lawbreaker," said one delegate.

"Some day the league may have an international air force as well as a police force and the projected American policy will be helpful to league activities."

The proposed shift in the United States' traditional seas policy was held in league quarters as likely to be of immeasurable help in preventing and restraining war.

Geneva thinks a step would remove England's fear of complication with the United States over neutral rights and would give England greater freedom to participate in league blockades against aggressor nations.

Broadly speaking, league circles say the following can be derived from the American development:

1. Direct recognition of the necessity for a collective system to preserve peace.
2. Indirect recognition that the league is the best expression of the collective peace system.
3. The league would be enabled by the United States to do its duty as regards the restraining or prevention of aggression.

FDR's Health Is Best Now Since He Took Office

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The doctor says President Roosevelt is in better physical shape than at any time since entering the White House and is ready for the congressional session ahead.

That was the report given today by Dr. Ross T. McIntire, naval physician in constant attendance on Mr. Roosevelt since he took office.

Almost daily swims in the White House pool, frequent vacations and planned routine have kept the president fit, Dr. McIntire said.

"I don't suppose there is any man in the country who follows a routine more closely than does Mr. Roosevelt," he added. "Only very special occasions interrupt his schedule."

The day of the president, who will be 53 next January 30, usually runs like this:

Up at 8:30 and breakfast in bed; goes to the executive offices about 10:30 where he remains until between 5:30 and 6; swims and exercises for about an hour and a quarter; rests until dinner at 7:45; retires between 10:30 and 1.

After retiring to his quarters, he finishes up odds and ends left from the day. If there is time, the stamp album is taken out. Stamps are his hobby.

Mr. Roosevelt weighs in the 180's. His weight, Dr. McIntire said, does not vary more than four pounds a year.

CLAIM SOVIET PROPAGANDA IS NOW INCREASING

Russia Still Wants To Overthrow Government

BY CLARENCE M. WRIGHT, Associated Press Staff Writer.
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—A new investigation of charges that Soviet Russia had failed to forbid groups within her control to seek the overthrow of the American government was in the offing today on capitol hill.

William Green, president, and Matthew Woll, vice president, of the American Federation of Labor, made the accusations before the house committee named to study "un-American activities." Yesterday Commander V. L. Kirkman of the navy testified that communist agitators, including young and pretty girls, sought to "incite the nation's armed forces to 'disloyalty,' 'sabotage,' and 'rebellion' by fraternizing with them and distributing circulars.

Today Chairman McReynolds (D., Tenn.) of the house foreign affairs committee said it would be only "natural" for him to ask the state department whether a Soviet pledge had been violated. The pledge was made by Maxim Litvinoff when the United States recognized Russia.

"I know nothing about the facts," McReynolds said. "But if they are as pictured, then something certainly should be done."

Green and Woll contended that communist activity in this country—traceable to the Soviet Union—not only had continued unabated since recognition, but had increased. McReynolds said if that were shown to be true, there might be merit in Woll's demand for withdrawal of recognition.

Meanwhile, members before whom the allegations were made sought ways of tightening up on radical agitators without arousing protests over freedom of speech and the press.

They had about agreed upon a permanent committee of some sort to deal with the problem. Whether it would be a house or a joint senate-house committee was undetermined.

Lufkin Woman Is Named University Of Texas Regent

LUFKIN, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin today was chosen by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson to succeed L. J. Sulak of LaGrange as a member of the board of regents of the University of Texas.

Mrs. Fairchild will be appointed for the four years remaining of Sulak's term as a regent when the latter takes the oath as state senator January 8. She will be the only woman on the nine member board. Sulak, one of Governor Ferguson's three appointees placed on the board last year, was elected to succeed Gus Russek as senator from the 15th district.

Mrs. Fairchild is the widow of the late state Senator I. D. Fairchild of Lufkin, and has been active in various East-Texas civic affairs.

Temple, Denton Seek New Radio Day Stations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—The federal communications commission yesterday received applications for new radio stations at Denton and Temple, Texas.

The Denton application came from Eugene Deboogy and sought permission to build a station to operate on 1,420 kilocycles, with 100 watts power, during the day.

The Temple Broadcasting company sought a permit for construction of a new station on 1,310 kilocycles, with 100 watts power, to operate during the day.

COLLEGE MEN USING NATIVE MATERIAL IN THEIR "HOME"

CANYON, Dec. 20.—Cut stone and petrified wood, the labor of a group of the college boys plus the vision of two men and a minimum of commercial materials combined are giving to the West Texas State Teachers College campus one of its most valuable and distinctive units.

The college boys who are working under the direction of a skilled carpenter and rock mason are those who are receiving aid under the provisions of the FERA. The men who have furnished the vision are Al Baggett, athletic director of the West Texas State Teachers college and C. H. Jarrett, druggist. The building which is being constructed will contain 22 rooms and make a college home for 48 boys.

Very little money has been spent. In the breaks of the Canadian river and in the arroyos of Palo Duro canyon are stores of petrified wood, gravel and building sand and stone, much of it flint with rich coloring, abundant in the Panhandle. These materials could be had for the asking and the need for the building suggested its possibility. D. A. Shirley, chairman of the Athletic Committee, Bob Cox, assistant coach, President J. A. Hill, Professor Mitchell Jones, and friends throughout the Panhandle made it possible to convert the dream of Jarrett and Baggett into a solid reality.

The petrified wood and stone house is about one-fourth complete. When finished it will be in the shape of a great U and will contain 20 rooms, each 14x14 feet and two rooms 18x14 feet, a bath, 5x7 connects each room with the one next to it, and each room has a man-size closet, 5x7 feet.

The inside finish of Buffalo Courts, as they are called, is as interesting as the outside. The walls are rough plaster, the wood work is rich brown, the effect secured by going over it with a blow torch—not enough to burn it, but just enough to give it weathered finish. Hinges, door latches and other hardware have been pounded, giving them an antique effect.

The furniture, consisting of a double-deck bed, table and chairs, in each room, is hand-made and is sturdy enough to withstand the rough usage which boys will give it.

The 22 room dormitory is part of a large project which will include a men's recreational hall containing a lounge, handball court, and game rooms.

Looking out from the dormitory and recreational hall in one direction will be seen a desert garden which will contain shrubs and cacti typical of the southwest. In the other direction will be seen a luxurious sunken garden contrasting with the desert flora. In the court will be a lawn, its spaces broken by prostrate Junipers.

In the stonewalls of the building there is rich color—rose and brown and gray which mingles with the gray tans and tawny greens that are a part of the West Texas landscape. Most of the young men who will live in this dormitory which they are building are accustomed to the low rambling ledge structures which are characteristic of the region and they are predicting that it will be a real home to them.

It is planned that a rock fence will eventually surround the athletic field of the West Texas State Teachers college, thus making a complete unit of the grounds which are devoted to physical education for men. It will take months and perhaps years to complete the project.

Woman Freed Of Slaying Husband

LEBANON, Ind., Dec. 20. (AP)—Freed of a murder charge by a jury that decided she plotted the "ten dollar killing" of her husband but was temporarily insane at the time, the widow of the Rev. Gaylord V. Saunders secluded herself with her two children today.

In the quiet of her sister's home at Albany, Ind., Mrs. Neoma Saunders, 35, laid plans for a happy Christmas with Billy, 11, and James, 13.

The jury acquitted her of the murder of the former Wabash, Ind., minister after two hours' deliberation last night despite the state's plea to "lock this woman up for life."

Theodore Mathers, 19-year-old roommate of the minister while both attended an Indianapolis embalming school, was quoted by police as saying Mrs. Saunders gave him $10 to have her husband killed. A new date for his trial has not been set.

The widow's attorneys contended a strange relationship between Mrs. Saunders, the minister and young Mathers had affected her mental condition.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY ELECTS MRS. PERRY AS PRESIDENT

WORK OF YEAR ENDED AS NEW LEADER NAMED

OTHER OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED FOR 1935 TERM

Mrs. Frank Perry was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary, St. Matthew's Episcopal church, when officers for 1935 were named in a meeting at the parish house yesterday. She will succeed Mrs. Julian Barrett.

Other officers were re-elected for a year. They are Mrs. Roy Wallenstein, vice president; Mrs. S. F. Thornton, secretary; Mrs. C. P. Buckler, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Scheig, reporter; and Mrs. Paul Jones, hostess of the united thank offering.

The new president will take up her duties at the first meeting of the new year, on January 2, when other officers will be installed also.

Bazaar Is Success.

Yesterday's meeting was devoted entirely to business, closing activities of the year. Reports were heard from the recent Christmas bazaar, from which the auxiliary realized more than a hundred dollars profit.

Members voted to join other women's organizations of the city in assisting the Red Cross by making articles for war veterans in government hospitals. Material for this work is furnished by the Red Cross, which asks various organizations to give time and effort to the charity project.

At the first 1935 meeting of the auxiliary, a study course for the year will be selected and other plans made for new activities.

SKELLY CLUBS MARK HOLIDAYS WITH PARTIES

One Has Dinner; All Enjoy Exchange Of Gifts

SKELLYTOWN, Dec. 20.—The Amigo club met in the home of Mrs. Fred Hendrick Thursday. Each member brought a covered dish for a Christmas dinner.

The home was elaborately decorated, as was a tree for the gift exchange. A tiny Santa and his reindeer formed the centerpiece on the table, lighted with candles at each end.

Turkey, dressing, gravy, creamed potatoes, candied yams, creamed peas, celery, cranberry sauce, salad, hot rolls, cake, ice cream, and coffee were included in the menu. The club adjourned until after the first of the year following this dinner.

La Nueva Club

Mrs. Harry Sherfke was hostess to La Nueva bridge club Wednesday last week, when they closed their meetings until after the holidays.

Five games of bridge were played. Mrs. J. Dalton received high score award and Mrs. W. Price low. The Christmas theme was suggested in refreshments as well as in tallies and decorations.

At the end of the afternoon, the tree was left bare with the exchange of gifts. Present were Mmes. Price, Dalton, Charles Wayne, S. C. Dickey, T. B. Parker, Frank McQuigun, Marshall Coulson, J. C. Jarvis, and the hostess.

Dagmar's Adventures in Santa Claus Land

BY SIGRID ARNE

SYNOPSIS: One of Santa's toy soldiers has invaded the mole kingdom in disguise to recover a magic pebble lost there. He is accompanied by Dagmar, a doll, and their friend, an earth-worm. They are trying to stop the moles from ruining Santa's holly trees.

Chapter X
The Royal Mole Baby

As the two dolls and their friend, the earth-worm, stood and watched the excited moles stream by, hunting them, they giggled very quietly to themselves.

The king mole ran by, hanging on to his crown, and he passed so near Dagmar she could have pulled his whiskers. But you can be sure she didn't.

After he had gone everything became very quiet in the big room where the dolls had first seen all the moles collected in conference.

"They must all have run up the stairs looking for us," whispered the tin soldier.

"I never did see them so excited," whispered the earth-worm.

"Come on, let's look around while they're gone," said the tin soldier. "Oh, I'm afraid," said Dagmar. "It's all right," said the worm. "They can't see us even if they come back."

So the three slipped very cautiously into the mole's big underground home. Tables and chairs were overturned by the moles' mad rush when they left. Fires were burning on two large hearths. The king had dropped some papers near the throne. And over in the corner what do you suppose they saw? A whole row of cunning, little cribs. They tip-toed over and peeked in. There lay a whole dozen of little

PLAYS WILL BE PRESENTED ON TWO PROGRAMS

School's Christmas Chapel Hours Divided

Horace Mann school is presenting its Christmas chapel program in two sections, one this afternoon and one Friday morning. A play, Visiting Santa Claus' Workshop, will be the feature of the primary grades' program tomorrow.

Presentation by Coach Odus Mitchell of the ward school championship trophy to the Horace Mann football team will be the high spot of this afternoon's program. The Harvester coach will speak briefly to team and school as he awards the trophy.

The program is in charge of elementary grades. Band numbers were scheduled to open the program, followed by a play, Christmas in Other Lands, by Mrs. Griffith's room, and carols by the school chorus.

Tomorrow morning the program will open with carols by the entire group and a devotional by E. C. McKenzie of Francis Avenue Church of Christ. The second grade rhythm band will play, and Frances Dean Crocker will give a piano solo.

The play, in which two children are taken in a dream to Santa Claus land and make friends with the dolls, tin soldiers, and toy animals, will be presented by second grade pupils.

PRESIDENT TO CONFER WITH BUSINESS MEN

INDUSTRIAL PLATFORM TO BE CONSIDERED 'ON ITS MERITS'

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON, Associated Press Sports Writer. (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt was pictured by high authorities today as ready to examine "on its merits" the program for recovery which captains of industry are bringing here after a 3-day conference at White Sulphur Springs.

The opinion expressed in official quarters was that the president would be glad to receive any "co-operative suggestions" from business, labor, farmers, and other groups as he puts his ideas on paper for the congress meeting January 2.

Many commentators viewed the platform of the "business conference for recovery" as conciliatory in tone, although clashing in certain respects with ideas of some high new dealers and with some new deal trends.

While the White House awaited a copy of the platform of the 90 business leaders, expected to be brought here today or tomorrow by C. B. Ames and George Mead, several new dealers on capital hill took shots at the program. Many, including high republicans, withheld comment for the time.

Many governors, noting the relief burden should be returned to the states, said the time for that was not yet arrived. Some assailed the proposal. For instance, Governor Bryan of Nebraska called it "unfair and unpatriotic."

The capital notes with interest that the White Sulphur Springs conference decided on a continuing organization, composed of such prominent men as John J. Raskob, Owen D. Young, heads of the chamber of commerce of the United States and the Manufacturers' association, to further its principles.

There also was wide discussion of the principles, which included:

1. NRA should be continued on an emergency basis for a year, with the continuance of new codes conditioned on voluntary action by the industries. Every code should contain hours and wages provisions, ban child labor and "safeguard both labor and employer" by giving to labor the right to deal with employers either individually or collectively or through representatives of their free choice without intimidation or coercion of either from any source.
2. The government should give evidence of "determined effort to balance the budget" at the earliest possible date" primarily by limiting spending rather than through new taxes.

3. Definite action should be taken "as soon as possible" to fix the value and gold content of the dollar.
4. There should be no government competition with industry in work relief because "government competition dries up the source of its support."
5. The creation of public works to provide relief invites waste and definitely defers a balanced budget.
6. Arbitrary "determination and limitation of hours and wages as proposed in such measures as 30-hour bills" are harmful. The government should not try to control "local relationships between employees and employers."
7. The control of credit should be independent "of governmental domination and political influence."
8. The securities act should be modified.
9. The arbitrary curbs on agricultural products "should be guarded against and prevented."

Governor-elect Alford of Texas, in commenting on the relief suggestion said "I don't think the state governments would be able to handle relief as efficiently as the government at this time. It would be fine if they could."

"Green Pastures" To Be Brought To Amarillo Soon

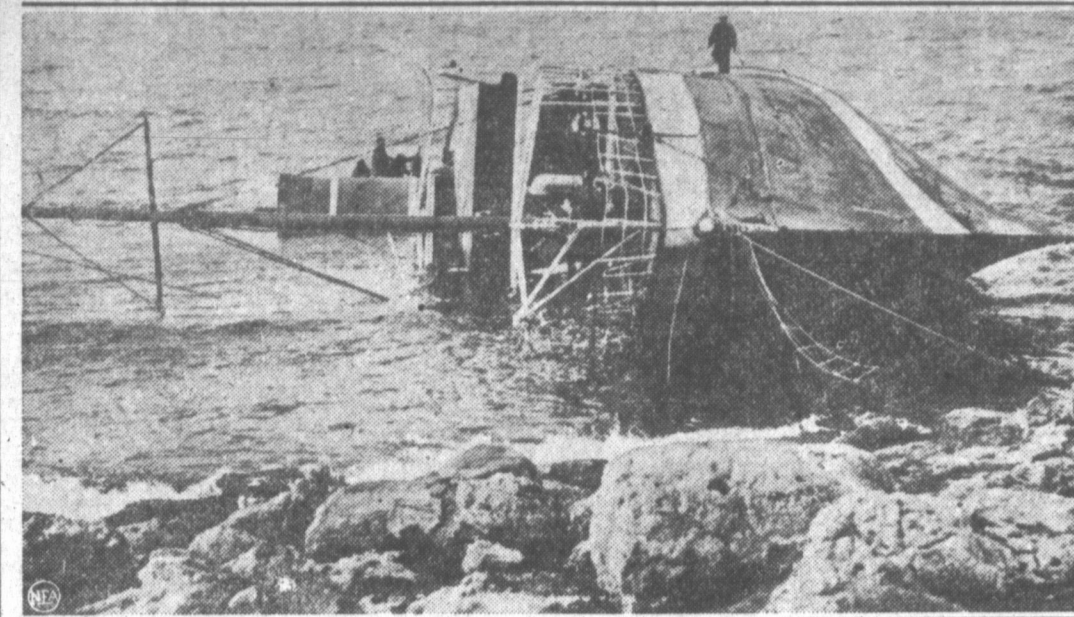

"The Green Pastures," renowned Pulitzer prize comedy which comes to the city auditorium, Amarillo, for two performances on Saturday, January 5, outstrips in sheer novelty of conception anything that has been offered on the stage in two generations.

In this amazing play, "God" is portrayed by a frock-coated negro preacher who descends to earth in the midst of a fish-ry in heaven and peoples it with human beings because "Gabriel," his celestial henchman, remarks that "it would make mighty nice farmin' country and somebody ought to enjoy it."

"Cain," bad boy of the Bible, is depicted as a colored farm boy who becomes angered with his brother and kills him with a rock. "Noah" is an aged negro preacher whom "de Lawd" meets while walking the earth in the form of a man. "Ol King Pharaoh" one of the most convincing players in the troupe, is attired like the exalted ruler of a colored lodge and his court resembles the personnel of a combination sewing circle and bachelor's club. Amusing are the "angels" and "cherubs" in the heavenly domain, particularly the scrubwomen who attend the "Lawd's" office where despite their efforts to gold-plate everything in sight, he insists on using an old, battered roll top desk. In this play, the Babylonian revels are played as though they took place in a black-and-tan night club and the famed Noah's Ark resembles nothing so much as a Mississippi houseboat.

Despite the comedy which runs continuously through the eighteen

27 Die as Steamer Is Washed Up on Shore

So unexpectedly did the steamer Poppe capsize, after being driven ashore during a violent storm near Phaleron, Greece, that practically all of the crew were trapped. Twenty-seven persons are reported to have died in spite of being so close to shore. From the shallowness of the water in which the overturned hull lies, it is apparent that storm-lashed waves swept the ship so far up on the beach that the water wasn't deep enough to support it. Men on the wreck are salvagers and watchmen.

Communist Wife Of Negro Held Sane By Court

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. Jane Emery Newton, daughter of a former national commander of the American Legion, was adjudged sane by a psychopathic court today. Mrs. Newton, communist wife of a negro, remained in custody to answer charges of participating in a communist demonstration.

Mrs. Newton and her husband, Herbert Newton, were arrested when, with other communists they attempted to move back their furniture into the home from which they had been evicted.

Mrs. Newton's father, John G. Emery of Grand Rapids, Mich., engaged Marvin J. Bas, an attorney, to defend her. It was Bas who recognized her as a former brilliant fellow student at the University of Michigan when she was arraigned in reniers' court.

scenes of "The Green Pastures," the play never becomes irreverent as witnessed by the fact that leading clergymen the country over have hailed the comedy as one of the theater's finest contributions to philosophy and religion.

Except in the roles of "Noah," "Gabriel," and "Moses," the play still retains its original New York cast of nearly 100. Richard B. Harrison, star of "The Green Pastures," has never missed a single performance in more than 1,550, and is seventy years of age.

I did not kill Osborne

By VICTOR BRIDGES

—SYNOPSIS: Nicholas Trench is just acquitted of the murder of John Osborne when he learns that Osborne had stolen a valuable formula for a new metal, and that a good many people believe Nicholas almost murdered him; he is saved by the rightful owner of the formula, Molly O'Brien, and now Molly has joined forces with him to try to find the valuable paper. They are about to have breakfast in Trench's apartment.

Chapter 14
BREAKFAST TOGETHER

"Bob's fetching the breakfast," I announced. "I expect he'll take about ten minutes, so if you would like what we call a wash and brush up now's your chance. That's the bathroom, next door."

"How about you?" she asked. "Wouldn't you rather shave first?" I shook my head. "I'll wait and let him in. It would be better for him not to see you. The lower orders are very easily shocked, and, besides, he might talk about it at the pub."

"May I borrow a towel?" she inquired.

"By all means," I replied. "There ought to be one in the bottom drawer unless the police have pinched it."

She smiled indulgently. "I'll find it," she said.

Left to my own devices, I set about the job of straightening up. I wheeled the sofa back to its former position, redistributed the cushions and since it was not likely to be required in the immediate future, dismantled my highly effective booby trap.

"This done, I proceeded to lay the table. The kitchen, which was a very small one, opened out of the studio, and from a miniature dresser, where my charlady had last tidied them away, I disintegrated such necessary objects as knives, forks, cups, plates, and a moderately clean cloth.

I had about finished my task when the slam of the outside gate announced the fact that Bob had returned from his shopping excursion. The next moment there was another rap at the knocker, and on my opening the door I found him standing there loaded up like Father Christmas.

"Got the 'ole blinkin' lot for yer," he said triumphantly. "Seven-pence it come to, so there's one and a penny change."

"You can keep that and buy some breakfast with it," I replied. "After all this exercise, you'll be quite hungry by the time they open."

I relieved him of his burdens, and carrying them gingerly into the studio, found my fellow conspirator in the act of descending the stairs. Fresh, smiling, and with her copper-colored hair now under control, she looked more beautiful than ever.

"Here's our breakfast," I said. "You'll find the tea and sugar in the kitchen."

She peered inside the bag of eggs. "I'll make you an omelet if you'll trust me. I'm supposed to be rather good at them."

"Go ahead," I returned. "And if Jerry should show up in the meantime, just let him in and introduce yourself."

A quarter of an hour later, washed, shaved and arrayed in a clean shirt and collar, I was seated on the opposite side of the table watching my guest approvingly while she poured out the tea.

"Do you like milk and sugar, Mr. Trench?" she inquired.

"Both," I informed her; "and don't you think now that we're partners we might as well begin calling each other by our Christian names? It's frightfully exhausting to say Miss O'Brien every time I speak to you."

She laughed. "But it won't help me much. You see Nicholas is almost as long as Mr. Trench."

"Make it Nick," I suggested. "All my best pals cut out the last two syllables."

"I think perhaps I might do the same then." She handed me my cup. "After all one can't borrow a person's bedroom unless one's on fairly friendly terms with him."

"It's a step toward being better acquainted," I tasted the omelet and found it excellent. "Amazing how cheerful and optimistic I feel this morning," I continued. "It must be your influence entirely. About six o'clock yesterday I was in a miserable state. I was foaming with rage inside and everything looked so black and hopeless I'd almost made up my mind to go over to Paris and join the Foreign Legion."

"Well, I'm not surprised. When I think of all you've been through and of that horrible court."

"Oh, it wasn't being tried," I interposed. "I'd got hardened to that long before the end. What upset me was a little conversation I had with my cousin Seymour. I don't know whether you've ever heard of him? He's got some minor job in the Government—quite an important person—in his own stuffy way."

She nodded. "I've seen his name mentioned in the papers. Tell me about it."

Between mouthfuls of omelet I proceeded to do so. I gave her what I think was quite a fair and impartial version, for by this time any lingering traces of resentment that I had cherished against my distinguished relative had given place to a kind of half amused indifference.

"I was an ass to lose my temper with him," I finished. "But I suppose when one's just escaped the gallows one's nerves are apt to be a bit sensitive. It was his own silly fault—sending for me in such a hurry."

"He must be a selfish pig!" she exclaimed indignantly. "If I ever meet him I shall tell him so to his face."

"He won't believe you," I replied. "He's frightfully skeptical about that sort of thing. Unless a miracle happens he'll go down to his grave thinking that he's behaved with extraordinary generosity."

She pushed back her plate, and leaned forward across the table. "A miracle will happen," she said. "I'm not only going to get back the formula, but we're going to find out who killed Osborne as well. Then all these people like your cousin, and Lord Redland, will have to admit how stupid and wrong they have been."

"It's a good program," I agreed; "the only trouble is that it may be a little difficult to carry out."

I produced my pipe and began to fill it. "Things are a bit clearer now we've got your end of the story as well as mine," I went on, "but even so we don't seem to have made the least progress towards spotting the actual murderer. It couldn't have been either Stelman or Dimmit. They must have believed that I was the man they wanted, or they'd never have run the risk of coming here and giving themselves away."

She frowned thoughtfully. "He wasn't a fool—Osborne. He wouldn't have told anybody—unless it was someone he was trying to sell it to."

"Exactly! And for all we know he may have been negotiating with two or three different people," I got up, and going over to my desk came back with Sir Willem Avon's letter. "What do you make of this?" I asked. "I found it here when I came in last night."

She read it through quickly, and then with an excited light in her blue eyes glanced up into my face.

"But I've heard of Avon and Son's," she exclaimed. "My father has mentioned their names several times. They are one of the best

GOTHAM ARTIST WILL GIVE JAIL PARTY TONIGHT

Ex - Jailbird Recalls Time Spent in Bastille

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—McClelland Barclay, the artist fellow who went to jail last year because he slipped behind in his alimony payments, is going back to jail tonight—but it's all in fun.

He's throwing a jail party up in his swanky apartment overlooking Central Park. The "prison population" will include some of the leading lights in New York society.

Barclay has fixed up his apartment along severe prison lines possibly from impressions he received while he lingered in the county jail in October last year when his former wife, Nan Barclay, had him locked up for not coming across with a $1,000 alimony payment. It took him an hour and a half to dig up bail.

On top of that he was arrested several days later in Bridgeport, Conn., for further alimony tardiness, but reached a settlement with his former wife and has avoided jail ever since.

Barclay has turned his tastefully decorated barroom into a prison cell where the principal liquid refreshment will be Prisoner's Delight (one drink and you're out) together with bean soup and other jail fare.

The 200 "prisoners" who will be his guests got their invitations in the form of very real looking summonses in which they were commanded to appear and testify in an action "between your nature, plaintiff, and your conscience, defendant."

The male guests will don prison dungarees. The ladies have been ordered to appear in their most beautiful evening frocks.

To add realism, professional models will be there in prison garb. And, to be sure, an orchestra will play "The Prisoner's Song."

WRECK INJURES SEVEN
WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 20. (AP)—Seven persons were injured, two of them so critically they may die, when their car hit a cow near Holiday last night. They were Mr. and Mrs. Dillars H. Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Watts and their daughter, Lila Lee, 4; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Ghossein, all of Wichita Falls. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Watts were not expected to recover.

TOMATO SURPRISE

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—"Tin can" Island, Niauou, in the Tongas, is to have canned tomato soup for Christmas dinner.

Chief Officer F. E. Trask of the Mariposa has arranged to have the soup, a delicacy in those parts, floated to the island from the liner. The island's name comes from the custom of floating mail, to and from passing ships, in a large can.

PLAIN AND FANCY SKIDDING

PORTLAND, Me., (AP)—Patrolman Ray Bryant said it was slippery after the freezing rainstorm here. He saw a driver "ball out" of an automobile skidding down a hill and skid along with his car. Coasting together, they reached a street intersection. The car spun, struck its erstwhile passenger and heaved him to a sidewalk unhurt.

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa Claus: I go to B. M. Baker school. My father wants a coat and hat. My sister wants a doll and doll buggy and I want a dress and gloves. Bring my grand mother a dress. I am 9 years old. Elsie Kathryn Welsh.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 7 years old. I go to school and love my teacher. I have tried to be a good girl. I want a big doll with a blue dress and a little living room suite. I have a little brother 2 years old. His name is Hilory. He would like a dump truck, a Dick Tracy gun and some linker boys. Please remember all the other little girls and boys. Your friends, Hilory and Grace Smith, McLean.

Dear Santa Claus: I am 5 years old and have been very good—at least my grand mother thinks so. I stay with her while mother works. I would like for you to bring me a real nice doll and a bed with everything to go with it. I would like a blackboard and desk and of course you may bring just any other things and I will like them all. This is all I will ask for now, only remember my beautiful mother and bring her something nice. I will have you a coconut cake when you call on me Monday night. Thanks, Santa, and a Merry Christmas. Wanda Cole, LePors.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy 6 years old. I have been good and will tell you what I want. I would like to have a pair of leather chaps, a cowboy hat, pair of kid gloves, gun, blackboard and box of colored chalk. I have a little sister 4 years old. She wants a fire chief tricycle, ironing board, electric iron, washing machine, set of Mickey Mouse dishes, and a rubber doll. Remember mother and daddy also Gene. Please bring our things before we leave for our grandparents for Christmas. We will say good-bye with a Merry Christmas to everyone. Bob Jack and Neldia Joyce Davis.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 7 years old. I go to Woodrow Wilson school. Santa, will you please bring me a rubber doll, a telephone, some Mickey Mouse dishes, and two nice story books. My baby brother, who is nearly 2 years old, wants a fuzzy dog, a car, ball, and picture book. Don't forget to bring fruit, nuts, and candy. Remember everyone, Santa. Your little friend, Nita Vay Heard.

Dear Santa: I am a little boy 6 years old. I go to Sam Houston school and I'm trying real hard to learn lots. I'm not going to ask you for very much because I have so many relatives who always give me gifts. If you will please bring me a baseball and some candy, nuts, and fruit that will be enough. Your friend, James Harrah.

Dear Santa Claus: Please, I want a little bed, little doll, a little basket for my doll, a little table for my doll with chairs for it, and please, Santa, send a little electric stove, little set of dishes, little electric machine, little lamp, little electric iron, little ironing board, little car about that high, a play house with a divan in it. Santa, if you don't have all these things please send me what you can spare, and a little electric radio. I guess that will be all for this time. I will be 5 years old in March. Norma Ann Purle.

Dear Santa Claus: We have been good little girls and want you to come to see us on Christmas Santa, please bring us a doll and some doll clothes and doll bed. Also a blue wrist watch for Bonnell and a red one for Marjorie Ruth. Love, Marjorie Ruth and Bonnell Lewis.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl 8 years old. I want a desk, I want a buggy, and a table and chairs, and a pair of gloves, and a rocking chair. Your friend, Launa Michale.

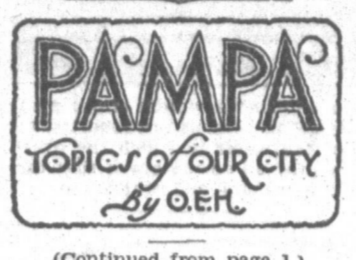

Dear Santa: I am a little boy 6 years old. I want a BB gun, a football, a train, a car, and a football. I am your little friend, Jack Michael.

Dear Santa: I am a little girl 4 months old. I want some socks, booties, a little bed, and a high chair. I will hang my sock for I will be 5 months old on Dec. 20. Your very little friend, Bety Lu Pulliam.

Dear Santa: I'm not very old this year, but I've heard a lot about you—Mother and Daddy tell me that you are a fine old fellow. I want a kiddie car, a ball, house shoes, sleepers, and colored doll. Yes I'm a boy, but that doesn't make any difference. Wishing you lots of luck on your journey. I am your friend, John Mareno Johnson.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl who will be 5 years old Feb. 4. I want a pair of cute Roman sandals, some hose, sweater, and tam, and dress. I also want a sweet baby doll with sleepy eyes and real hair or a big sleepy eyed rubber doll, a nice tricycle and either doll bed or buggy, whichever you have for me and a jacket to match them, Santa. Your friend forever, Little Jerry Slaton.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little boy who will be six years old Wednesday. I want some, corduroy overalls and a jacket to match them and some boots, want either a wagon with a real light, or a tricycle, a fire truck with siren, and nuts, fruit and candy. Don't forget mother and daddy. Your little friend, George Slaton Jr.

ty aid is severe and we have no criticism of the commissioners' court for ignoring it most of the current year.

THE BUDGET of the county provides for more funds for care of the indigent sick, the insane, and similar unfortunates than a strict construing of the pauper statute would necessitate. It is logical to assume, therefore, that the present attitude of the court was a temporary one, as we believe it to be. The question now before the court is whether the expenditures for hospitalization and care of the indigent was running above the budgetary estimates and the need was growing as winter came on. The county called a halt. Unfortunately, by coincidence the state relief funds—out of which 2 1/2 per cent can be used for hospitalization—ceased and federal funds pending under the ban on spending for hospital care. That explains the present emergency and why the hospitals are being called upon to take operation-cases for which there is no money in sight.

VARIOUS PROPOSALS have been made in the past. Out of both the county court and the relief board have come suggestions for a county hospital. Each of these proposals contract with either or both hospitals. For various reasons, no such arrangement was worked out. Various agencies of the state and federal governments will do most anything for a jobless man except arrange for his removal to the county. A hospital for the indigent sick has at least as good a chance for treatment as a jobless man with appendicitis. . . . The oft-stated attitude of the federal government is that local communities ought to do something to help and that "something" ought to be providing of hospitalization. As soon as the new commissioners court is organized, a coordination of various agencies, physicians, and hospitals should be attempted. Then, if there is no other way out, a community fund might be in order, which we doubt, but at least the present pass-the-buck condition is untenable.

EVERY GROUP can and does evily defend its position with facts, figures, and complaints. But obviously we will get nowhere with everyone on the defensive, or, shall we say, offensive. A person with acute physical ills and in need of an operation or hospitalization should not have to await a session of a court, a lengthy battle of words, or perchance a session of the legislature to get relief of his appendix. He may be dead under this system. . . . At the same time, many if us manage to struggle along without benefit of hospitals in many types of illnesses. But when we need a surgeon and a hospital, we find that the government is not a kindly or friendly welcome to a sick person does not need hospitalization. That abuses arise under a loose policy of eligibility we do not doubt. . . . Yet all of these words are merely torture to anyone actually in need of hospitalization. Personally, we think the government is right in its position that local communities should share in some measure the burdens of the day. To do so is to prevent extravagant handling of the relief problem and to cause a closer check upon the relief policies of governmental units.

Lean Year for Road Building Ahead, Says Ely

AUSTIN, Dec. 20. (P)—The Texas highway commission today completed one section of a federal highway construction program to relieve unemployment and made plans to receive bids on another group of projects.

Bids on road work totaling $1-315,697 were tabulated by the commission yesterday. Approval was given five additional projects, estimated to cost $515,000 on which bids will be received December 31.

The commission scheduled a meeting early in January to select projects to be included in the regular federal aid allotment for 1935. The current work is being carried out with emergency federal grants.

Commissioner W. R. Ely forecast a lean year for state highway construction in 1935. Only about $1-500,000 will be available for work on roads that are not on the federal aid system, he said. The state will be required to match the $7-500,000 federal aid and provide for maintenance, leaving limited funds for state projects.

Bids were received on projects in Brazoria, Valverde, Cherokee, Hudspeth, Concho, Burnet, Bee, Irion, Jeff Davis, Red River, Henderson, Lamb and Dallas counties.

Jobs advertised for letting December 31 were in Up hur, Franklin, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Reeves and Culberson counties.

EXTENSION OF 'YARDSTICK' IS MAYOR'S HINT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (P)—The fight which finds President Roosevelt and Mayor Fiorelli H. Laguardia waving a "yardstick" at power leaders took on broader significance today when it was learned their threat implies greater possibilities than just a street lighting plant in Manhattan built with federal funds.

Though everything is tentative—administration officials declare it hinges on proof that municipal plants can operate cheaper than private ones—the smiling New York mayor dropped two definite hints:

1. That New York city might go into the power business to sell electricity direct to consumers.

2. That "many, many more municipal enterprises" in other parts of New York state may be created if power interests "continue to demand unconscionable rates."

The short, vehement "fusionist" who beat Tammany remained here today to confer with Secretary Morgenthau, Relief Administrator Hopkins and others. After talking yesterday with President Roosevelt and Secretary Ickes, he was exuberant over the outlook in his fight with the power concerns. Observers here, however, believed the door was not closed to a compromise in which private concerns might, continue to supply the city.

The question how much money would be loaned to New York—if the street lighting plant is approved—was still undecided. Ickes, the public works administrator, said $15,000,000 had been mentioned as the cost.

"That" said Laguardia cryptically, "is only the angostura in the cocktail."

Woman's Tracks Traced to Edge Of Western Sea

CARMEI, Calif., Dec. 20. (P)—Search for Mrs. Eliot Boko Schaffner, 35-year-old Chicago society matron, was resumed today by land, air and water.

Sheriff Carl H. Abbott of Monterey county, who used dogs in an unsuccessful search for the wife of Joseph Schaffner of the firm of Hart, Schaffner and Marx, said he believed she had committed suicide by walking into the surf at Carmel Ocean Beach. He scouted suggestions she might have been kidnapped.

Twice yesterday the dogs, after being given the scent of one of Mrs. Schaffner's dresses, followed a trail to the edge of the Pacific. There the imprint of a bare foot was found on the sands.

Mrs. Schaffner was released only Monday from the Monterey hospital where she had been taken for a rest. She disappeared from her Carmel home early Tuesday morning.

Joseph Schaffner, the husband, was hurrying here from Chicago by rail and plane.

BARUCH FLAYS ARMS PROBERS ON TESTIMONY

INCOME TAX RETURNS OF BARUCH TO BE INVESTIGATED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (P)—The war-time income tax returns of Hugh S. Johnson, Alexander Legge, Senator-elect Joseph F. Cuffey of Pennsylvania and others high in the government's world war councils are under scrutiny, senate investigators of munitions said today, as they sought to learn who ordered the returns of Bernard M. Baruch and others destroyed.

Giving no indications that they thought there were any irregularities, members of the committee nevertheless expressed determination to scan the tax documents of all men connected with the war industries board, which mobilized resources under the direction of Baruch.

Chairman Nye (R-N. D.) served a written request on the internal revenue bureau to destroy no more tax papers; he told his agents to find out why the returns were destroyed and who in the bureau was responsible. Officials said it was legal to burn old returns. They offered no immediate explanations of why Baruch's 1917 return was saved while those for 1918-19 are missing.

Baruch, recently named by President Roosevelt to head a group studying ways to make war profiteers, last night offered to supply the committee with copies of a leg return from his own files. In a

Lean Year for Road Building Ahead, Says Ely

AUSTIN, Dec. 20. (P)—The Texas highway commission today completed one section of a federal highway construction program to relieve unemployment and made plans to receive bids on another group of projects.

Bids on road work totaling $1-315,697 were tabulated by the commission yesterday. Approval was given five additional projects, estimated to cost $515,000 on which bids will be received December 31.

The commission scheduled a meeting early in January to select projects to be included in the regular federal aid allotment for 1935. The current work is being carried out with emergency federal grants.

Commissioner W. R. Ely forecast a lean year for state highway construction in 1935. Only about $1-500,000 will be available for work on roads that are not on the federal aid system, he said. The state will be required to match the $7-500,000 federal aid and provide for maintenance, leaving limited funds for state projects.

Bids were received on projects in Brazoria, Valverde, Cherokee, Hudspeth, Concho, Burnet, Bee, Irion, Jeff Davis, Red River, Henderson, Lamb and Dallas counties.

Jobs advertised for letting December 31 were in Up hur, Franklin, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Reeves and Culberson counties.

Flush Poisons From Kidney and Stop Getting Up Nights

When you can get for 35 cents a supremely efficient and harmless stimulant and diuretic that will flush from your kidneys the waste matter, poisons and acid that are now doing you harm, why continue to break your restful sleep by getting up thru the night. Just ask your druggist for Gold Medal Haarem Oil Capsules—but be sure and get GOLD MEDAL—right from Haarem in Holland. Other symptoms of weak kidneys and irritated bladder are backache, puffy eyes, leg cramps, moist palms, burning or scanty passage. Adv. 2

ABC Continues Bomb Campaign Against Batista

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 20. (P)—A bomb exploded early today at the entrance to headquarters of a political party headed by Miguel Mariano Gomez, mayor of Havana. Nearby buildings in the downtown section were shaken violently.

Apparently no one was injured by the blast, which was one of a series of bombings during the night.

One destroyed a building in the Vibora section and wounded one person. Another exploded at the home of Julio B. Forcade, vice president of the Havana stock exchange, inflicting heavy property damage.

Forcade had recently protested to the government that foreign correspondents were sending out baseless alarmist stories which were depressing Cuban markets.

While Havana's news were kept on edge by the bombings, Colonel Fulgencio Batista, commander-in-chief of the army, conferred with President Carlos Maudes and other members of the cabinet at Mendieta's country home, 20 miles from Havana.

Matters concerning public order, including a proposed change in the constitution to permit immediate execution of terrorists, were to be discussed said Dr. Cosme de la Torriente, secretary of state.

Two leaders of the strong ABC society left yesterday for Miami, presumably to confer there with Joaquin Martinez Saenz, former secretary of the treasury who is directing the ABC campaign against Batista. They were Jorge Manzan, director of the newspaper Accion, and Alfredo Pequeno, an attorney.

WATCHMAN INDICTED
 MEXIA, Dec. 20. (P)—Clyde Gardner, former Mexico nightwatchman, was released today under $5,000 bond after being indicted for murder in connection with the shooting of Joe Gamble last week. His trial will come up in the February-March term of court.

Woman's Tracks Traced to Edge Of Western Sea

CARMEI, Calif., Dec. 20. (P)—Search for Mrs. Eliot Boko Schaffner, 35-year-old Chicago society matron, was resumed today by land, air and water.

Sheriff Carl H. Abbott of Monterey county, who used dogs in an unsuccessful search for the wife of Joseph Schaffner of the firm of Hart, Schaffner and Marx, said he believed she had committed suicide by walking into the surf at Carmel Ocean Beach. He scouted suggestions she might have been kidnapped.

Twice yesterday the dogs, after being given the scent of one of Mrs. Schaffner's dresses, followed a trail to the edge of the Pacific. There the imprint of a bare foot was found on the sands.

Mrs. Schaffner was released only Monday from the Monterey hospital where she had been taken for a rest. She disappeared from her Carmel home early Tuesday morning.

Joseph Schaffner, the husband, was hurrying here from Chicago by rail and plane.

Italian Troops Arrive in Saar

SAARBRUCKEN, Saar Basin Territory, Dec. 20. (P)—Troops of Premier Mussolini joined with forces of King George in the Saar expedition today when 40 soldiers arrived escorting a trainload of spaghetti, blankets, and motor trucks for the use of Italy's 1,500 men who will serve in the League of Nations international peace force here.

A dubious population, standing in the rain, saw the supply train come in but the troops were in good humor after a friendly welcome by French soldiers at Saardemuende, the French town on the Franco-Saar frontier.

The polis greeted the Italian soldiers with tall bottles of red wine and long sticks of bread.

The Italian west end of the main streets of Saarbrucken as were the British Tommies who arrived yesterday and were marched through side streets to billets in Ludwig's park.

The Nazis are making great efforts to prevent the population from mixing freely with the soldiers. There have been warnings issued to the girls in the Saar not to get too friendly with the foreigners.

GREENVILLE ELEVEN IS FAR FROM BEST OF CONDITION, DUE TO INJURIES

BUFKIN TO BE BACK IN GAME ON SATURDAY

COACH IS CONFIDENT HIS MASONS WILL SURPRISE FANS

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fort Worth Masonic Home, Amarillo, Greenville and Corpus Christi are down to the serious business of preparing for Saturday's inter-scholastic league semi-final football combats.

The 1933 champion Greenville Lions, who play Corpus Christi at Houston, snapped through a brisk workout yesterday. It was their first this week. All the players injured last week in the Corsicana game were in uniform. Some of them found it difficult to bear down. It was evident that they were far from the best of condition.

Bert Marshall, the Lions' all-state signal barker, took a light drill. He was badly battered last week. Coach Henry Franka planned a stiff workout today. The Lions will entertain Friday morning.

A scrimmage session against Greenville plays featured Corpus Christi's workout. This was followed by a long session of passing and punting.

The Fort Worth Masonic Home looked impressive in a fast passing and punting drill yesterday at Lubbock. Coach H. N. Russell pronounced the team in sound shape for the game.

"We should be at the top of our season's stride, if nobody is hurt in today's practice," Russell said. "We should give Amarillo a good game. The odds are against us but I think we shall play a better game than a lot of people think."

Russell plans a starting lineup of Crocker and Conway at ends, Cook and White at tackles, Thomas and Williams at guards, Smith at center, McFadden at quarter, Allbrook and Davis at halves and Handley at fullback.

Winners of Walter Camp Gold Footballs Historic All-America Team Appears Again

Southern colleges take the leadership in the All-America football world this year for the first time. Four of the eleven places in the South and Southwest—Alabama, Rice and North Carolina being the institutions to take the honors. The Collier's team, just announced, is a perpetuation of the original All-America, founded 50 years ago by Walter Camp, famous father of modern football. It consists of: (Ends) Hutson of Alabama and Larson of Minnesota; (Tackles) Lee of Alabama and Reynolds of Stanford; (Guards) Barclay of North Carolina and Bevan of Minnesota; (Center) Shotwell of Pittsburgh; (Quarterback) Grayson of Stanford; (Fullbacks) Wallace of Rice and Borries of Navy; (Fullback) Lund of Minnesota.

'DIZZY' DEAN CHOSEN YEAR'S BEST ATHLETE

75 PER CENT OF THE SPORTS WRITERS FAVOR HIM

BY ALAN GOULD,
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (AP)—Picking up where his great southern rival, Carl Owen Hubbell, left off a year ago, the celebrated Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean rules the sporting world of 1934 as the outstanding performer in any sport, by virtually a landslide vote of acclaim in the fourth annual Associated Press sports poll.

Nearly 75 per cent of the ballots, received from sports writers and editors throughout the country, named the right-handed pitching ace of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals as the No. 1 athlete of the year.

BOBBIE BURNS AND COSTELLO IN SEMI-FINAL

CITY AUDITORIUM TO BE SCENE OF MAT BRAWLS

CHARITY MAT PROGRAM
City Auditorium, 8 p. m., Friday, December 21.
Main event: Joe Kopeccky, Taylor cotton picker, vs. Dory Detton, Utah Mormon; 3 falls.
Preliminary: One fall, 20 minute—Bobbie Burns, Shreveport, vs. Bull Costello, Madrid, Spain.
Lobo Brown, Amarillo, vs. Dan Carver, El Paso.

Grant and groan artists of wide repute will twist cars, toes, and necks here Friday—tomorrow night—for the sake of Sweet Charity and the underprivileged children of the community. The matinee will begin at the city auditorium at 8 p. m.

The main principals will include Joseph Kopeccky of Taylor, Texas, the cotton-picker who, just when many fans thought he was through as a top-notch, has come back with an amazing string of victories. Joe has won all but 4 of his last 138 matches, according to Garrison, and he had not been defeated at Amarillo since coming back to the plains several months ago.

The 20-minute or one-fall preliminary will be between Lobo Brown of Amarillo and Dan Carver of El Paso, both of whom are known to many local fans.

All the performers on this charity program are middleweights. It will be the first wrestling program in the city auditorium.

Educator Hops Into His Car And Leaves for Capital; Under Current Is Tense.

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 20 (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long cracked his whip over the Louisiana legislature today, ordering all absent members of the senate to take their seats and pass the 31 bills of his program for a super-dictatorship.

One absentee senator, A. F. Fredericks, president of Louisiana normal college, was told to take his place or submit to arrest. Fredericks hopped promptly into his car at Natchitoches and drove to Baton Rouge to vote.

The political potentate of Louisiana took no chances in this, the last day of his third special session of the legislature this year, which will complete his set-up to make Louisiana an empire with himself the ruler.

He brought full pressure to bear upon dissenters who sought to block realization of his program, which is ready to be made into law in the senate.

Long's bills give him authority to isolate his political opponents, annex the capital city of Baton Rouge to his machine, separate the postal city administration of New Orleans from added operating revenues from a liquor tax, and put further penalties upon "big business."

Officials of East Baton Rouge parish, who have opposed Long's return from his towering $5,000,000 capital palace, met with silence his mandate that Baton Rouge should be made the "District of Columbia" of the state of Louisiana.

Restrained, but bitter, all Long's political foes held their tongues as he drove the legislature into its final session.

LOCAL CAGERS PLAY RANGERS FRIDAY NIGHT

TWO PERRYTON QUINTS ARE COMING HERE TOMORROW

Without a permanent starting lineup, Coach Odus Mitchell and his Harvesters will officially open the 1934-35 basketball season at the high school gymnasium tomorrow night. The Harvesters will meet Perryton's Rangers at 8:30 o'clock. The second string teams of the two schools will play at 7:30 o'clock.

The Harvesters and Rangers will play a single game Saturday night, starting at 8 o'clock. There will be only one game. Admission to the games will be 25 cents for adults, with no admission charge for students.

The boys who looked good in the Tuesday night practice session were saged last night and some of the newcomers showed a complete reversal of form. It is a little early in the season for the boys to show steady form.

The Harvesters will play six other games during the Christmas holidays. On Wednesday and Thursday nights of the week, the Harvesters will send its fast high school quintet to Pampa for games. On Friday and Saturday nights the Happy Jacks, old Harvesters rivals, will be here for a couple of games. The other two contests will be on Jan. 2 and 3 when the fast Tulla Hornets come to Pampa.

All games will be called at 8 o'clock and admission will be 25 cents for adults with students being admitted free.

Bama Prepares For Train Trip

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Dec. 20 (AP)—With departure for the Pacific coast less than 24 hours away, Alabama's Crimson Tide today faced its last stiff scrimmage on home soil with offensive work scheduled for this afternoon. A light signal drill tomorrow completes the practice work.

Every player will be ready to go against Stanford in the Rose Bowl game New Year's day," Coach Frank Thomas said. "They are fit both physically and mentally."
