FIRST ELEVEN WEST OF BIG RIVER NAMED

SOUTHERN METHODISTS WILL JOURNEY TO PASADENA

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 2 (AP)—Southern Methodist gridiron conqueror of the Southwest, was Stanford's choice today for the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena new year's day.

Selection of the Mustangs and their acceptance of the bid from the Pacific Coast conference representative was announced last night, thus ending a week of speculation as to the challenging eleven.

Southern Methodist, undefeated and first team west of the Mississippi river ever chosen as an "eastern" representative in Rose Bowl play.

Noted as an eleven that uses forward passes as an integral part of its play it earned the bid Saturday when it defeated Texas Christian, previously undefeated squad, 20 to 14, in a wild and woolly game.

Although Stanford lost to the University of California at Los Angeles, 7 to 6, in an early season game, it walloped California 13 to 0. California had won nine straight games, and topped all Pacific coast teams, until it bumped up against "Bobby" Grayson and his Stanford pals.

The invitation to Southern Methodist was extended by Al Masters, Stanford graduate manager, over long distance telephone.

James Stewart, director of athletics at the Texas institution, conferred quickly with S. M. U. officials after Masters called him and then called back and said the Mustangs accepted "with pleasure."

The negotiations were completed within an hour.

Coach Claude "Tiny" Thornhill of Stanford grinned broadly when he was informed S. M. U. had accepted.

"We welcome a chance to match gridiron tactics with Southern Methodist," he said.

Rose Bowl officials expressed "extreme satisfaction."

"Southern Methodist belongs to the Rose Bowl," declared Elmer Anderson, president of the Tournament of Roses. "Our group does not recognize geographical barriers when such a fine team is available."

Although Princeton was acknowledged champion of the east, and Minnesota held an equally important spot in the midwest, neither was available for Rose Bowl play because of agreements with other schools.

When it won over Texas Christian, Southern Methodist virtually clinched the Rose Bowl bid.

S. M. U. become Southern California's popular choice for the "eastern" representative when it beat the strong U. C. L. A. team, conquerors of Stanford, 21 to 0.

The Mustangs have one more game to play—against the Texas Aggies next Saturday—before they can claim undisputed possession of the Southwest conference title.

The Aggies, however, have won only one game this season, a 20 victory over the University of Texas last Thanksgiving day.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

(By The Associated Press.)
The British cabinet met to consider Italian ultimatum, an oil embargo on Italy by the League of Nations.

Italy's women offered their wedding rings to the government as they were mobilized to fight league sanctions.

The Canadian government disclaimed the initiative for the proposed extension of sanctions against Italy.

Emperor Haile Selassie, established in his war front headquarters at Dessye, received expressions of loyalty from his subjects.

Postal Receipts Show an Increase

Business in Pampa is still on the upward trend according to a reliable barometer, postal receipts. Officials at the local office announced this morning that receipts for last month showed an increase of more than 13 per cent over the same month last year.

Receipts for last month totaled $5,336.24 compared with receipts of $4,726.80 for November last year. The increase was $609.44.

It was also announced that receipts for the first 11 months of 1935 had exceeded those for the entire year of 1934 by more than $2,000.

BLACK ARMIES READY FOR BIG ATTACK

SCHOOLS WILL OFFER KIDDIES HALF-HOLIDAY

HUNDREDS OF CHILDREN WILL BE IN SANTA CLAUSE PARADE

All school children in Pampa will get at least a half holiday Friday, and the reason is a good one. Santa Claus is coming to town!

All the ward schools will turn out at 11 o'clock in order to give the kiddies plenty of time to enter their exhibits in the doll, pet, and hobby parade which will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Junior high and high school will turn out at 1, so the older students can take part in the festivities.

More than 300 children are expected to parade their dolls, pets and hobbies in the parade. In addition, the high school band, representative in new uniforms and all the ward school bands will march and play in the parade.

But even before the Pampa schools close for the day, scores of children from Gray and adjoining counties will arrive in Pampa. A free movie showing Captain Kleinschmidt's adventures in the crystal-white land of St. Nicholas may be seen at the La Nora theater beginning at 10 o'clock. No admission will be charged. The show will continue until just before the parade.

The children will march by rooms in the parade, three abreast, representing the three divisions. Santa Claus will also be in the parade, and his gnomes will fling candy to the children.

Chinese Move to Block Secession of N. Provinces

SHANGHAI, Dec. 2 (AP)—An unimpeachable source stated tonight that the Chinese national government has decided to grant North China far-reaching powers of self-government amounting to autonomy in all but name as a final move to block the secession of the northern provinces from the Chinese republic.

The national government's decision involves a radical reorganization of the northern administration. Besides granting broadened governmental powers, the national government's program would sharply modify the operation of its monetary measures in the northern provinces and would accord the northern administration a wide power of currency control.

It was understood that these proposals were designed to meet the fundamental demands of the proponents of North China autonomy.

Sister Identifies Comer's Ex-Wife

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Dec. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Eunice Jones, 23, of Oklahoma City, said today she was positive the body of a girl found slain here in October, 1934, was that of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Childers Comer, missing first wife of Chester Comer who died at Oklahoma City Wednesday night after police had linked him with the disappearance of several Oklahoma persons.

Mrs. Jones said she made the identification from pictures and clothing of the girl whose body was found pierced by five bullets on a lonely road near here.

"Tooth irregularities of the slain girl and scars on one of her legs also corresponded with those of Mrs. Comer, her sister said.

Tom Morris is confined to his home by illness.

I Heard...

Some of Pampa's most rabid football fans in a huddle this morning and the topic was how were they to get to the Rose Bowl game to see Stanford and S. M. U. play. All agreed that they could provide the time if someone would supply the money and transportation.

More fire put on the 18-year rule in Fort Worth and Dallas than in this section of the state, where it has been fought most fiercely. It seems that school officials have finally noticed the fact that the rule would affect all branches of school competition and not just athletics.

Words are things—

By OTHER WRITERS
DAVID M. WARREN in Panhandle Herald—When one considers that Amarillo has 2,500 high school students, it is a wonder that the team ever loses a game to a school in the Panhandle. By the law of averages, Amarillo should have second teams able to defeat the best schools in the Panhandle.

H. S. HILBURN in Plainview Herald—The stage is all set for a lot of street paving in Plainview. It will be of a substantial type, specifications of which are in keeping with other good paving that has been laid in recent years in various towns of the Plains and Panhandle.

The price of $1.25 per front foot which property owners are asked to contribute is very low—much lower than those who have heretofore been assessed for paving have paid. It will look much lower in the future years, when paving may not be available at any such low cost, for we cannot expect federal government assistance in paving projects.

THE APOSTLE in Donley County Leader—Had you ever stopped to think that tobacco rolled into a cigarette will give an athlete or a football player a lift, but in powder form, it's simply h-l on bugs and worms?

H. D. W. in Wellington Leader—This is the time for us to realize that Japan is not going to come here and hum us. It is the time for us to know that Italy means us no harm. Whatever Japan does it is doubtful if the Chinese peasants will be worse than they are now. It is highly problematical as to whether or not the Italians will lower the standards of the Ethiopians. The thing for us to remember is that it is nothing for us to fight about. Personally I wouldn't trade the lives of a thousand clean Collingsworth county boys for all the raw meat eaters in Ethiopia.

18TH DISTRICT EX-SOLDIERS TO MEET HERE NEXT SPRING

BORGER, Dec. 2—American Legionnaires in district convention here yesterday voted unanimously to go to Pampa next spring, when both Legion and Auxiliary officers will be elected.

The local high school auditorium, seating 600, was packed when O. B. Hunt, commander of the Hutchinson county post, opened the afternoon session yesterday. Van W. Stewart of Peryton, district commander, introduced high ranking veterans. Ernest Goets of Tyler, commander of the state department spoke briefly. The main speaker was William McGraw, Texas attorney-general.

RELIEF CASES LIMITED TO $5 IN ORDER

AMOUNT WILL BE ALL FAMILY CAN GET FOR 15 DAYS

Strict orders to limit relief of disbursements to $5 per case—which usually means a family—for the first half of December were received today by the local relief office.

The state office communication said that a very serious situation was before the department and that every dollar saved was important. Personnel in the relief offices in the district must be reduced as men on relief begin work on WPA projects.

The allocations by counties in this district follows:
Wheeler, $875, with $29 for hospitalization during the month; Collinsworth, $835 and $43; Donley, $375 and $20; Gray, $1,310 and $34; Hansford, $400 and $16; Hemphill, $400 and $8; Hutchinson, $560 and none for hospitalization, the county having a hospital; Lipscomb, $529 and $30; Ochiltree, $590 and $25; Roberts, $370 and $7.

There are 1,329 "open cases" in the district, as of November 30. Recent there are 354 new applications, of which 172 were granted relief status.

Locally, work continued today on tennis courts, but a shut-down is likely to be necessary unless WPA material arrives immediately. Six men will start work tomorrow on the Gray county tax survey, sponsored by the State Tax board. A supervisor will direct the work, which initially will include making records showing renditions, deed records, farm locations, and ownership of farm lands.

News that the attorney general's department had approved the $50,000 in recently voted Gray county bonds, was received today by Roy McMillen, business manager of the school district.

These bonds are being offered for sale, although the government will take them at a par and secured in bonds unless there is a higher bidder. They are 4 per cent bonds. Bids on construction of a high school auditorium and ward school additions at Sam Houston and Woodrow Wilson will be opened here December 10.

Perkins Confers With Mediators In Texas Strike

HOUSTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Miss Francis Perkins secretary of labor, conferred briefly here today with the board she appointed to attempt a settlement of the Gulf-wide strike of members of the International Longshoremen's association.

The cabinet members said she believed the strike would be settled notwithstanding the setback in the negotiations resulting from the refusal of Houston steamship men to participate in conference unless spokesmen for independent Longshoremen's organizations likewise were allowed to participate and the meetings were opened to the public.

"Retusal of one group to come into conference is most unfortunate," she said with emphasis. "I think it will be overcome, but it retards the action of conciliation."

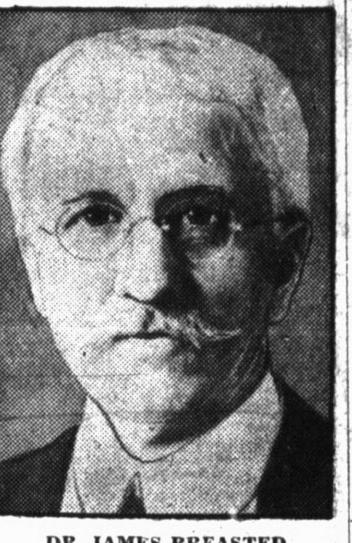

VFW TO MEET

Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet in an important but brief session at 7 o'clock tomorrow night in the American Legion hall on West Foster avenue.

Commander D. A. Bartlett urges all members to be present. Applications of several prospective members will be studied. Members selling tickets to the "First World War" to be shown at the La Nora theater under auspices of the VFW group, who have not checked in are asked to do so at the meeting tomorrow night.

Freezing temperatures, with killing frost in places, hit North Texas today.

Curse Victim?

DR. BREASTED SUCCUMBS TO ODD DISEASE

Archeologist Who Defied Curse on Tut's Tomb Is Dead of Strange Malady

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Dr. James H. Breasted, noted archeologist and head of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago, died early today at the Presbyterian Medical Center.

Hospital authorities, in announcing the death of the scientist, maintained the same secrecy as to the cause of death as they had concerning his strange illness.

Dr. Breasted was stricken last week aboard the liner, Conte Di Savoia, on route back to the United States. His illness was first diagnosed as tropical malaria, but later it was said he was suffering from an undetermined malady.

The archeologist was one of the discoverers of the tomb of King Tutankhamen on whose walls were engraved the words: "Death shall come on swift wings to him that toucheth the tomb of Pharaoh."

Dr. Breasted, however, had frequently ridiculed this curse. At the hospital, it was said the family of the scientist would issue a complete bulletin of the illness and death later today.

Dr. Breasted was 70 years old, a native of Rockford, Ill. A graduate of Northwestern university, class of 1888, he began his professional career as an assistant in Egyptology at the University of Chicago in 1894. In that year, he began his explorative work in the valley of the Nile, the valley of the Kings of Egypt.

Dr. Breasted 11 years ago persuaded the Egyptian government to allow entrance to the tombs of the Pharaohs.

Before he sailed several months ago, he was asked about the curse on the walls of Tutankhamen's tomb. "Tommyrot," he exclaimed, adding: "I defy the curse! And if anyone was exposed to it, I was. For two weeks I slept in the tomb of Tutankhamen and took my meals there. I never felt better."

Several of those with Breasted in the opening of the tomb have died, including Lord Carnarvon. His lordship's death was caused by an insect bite, it was said at the time.

Mercury Drops To 27 in Pampa

The Panhandle's well-known weather vagaries were illustrated again today as freezing, foggy weather this morning routed the balmy warmth of Sunday afternoon. The thermometer stood at 27 early today, and there was frost on the ground and heavy fog in the air. A light southwest wind was chilling. By mid-morning, the sun began to break through the fog and the temperature rose slowly.

400,000 MEN ARE REPORTED IN READINESS

BRITISH CABINET DEBATES PROBLEM OF OIL SANCTIONS

ROME, Dec. 2 (AP)—Italian business leaders today said that trade was slackening and that problems of labor and business credit were developing as the result of League of Nations' sanctions.

(By The Associated Press.)
Indications that a possibly decisive battle may be imminent were seen in a report to Addis Ababa that 400,000 Ethiopian soldiers were massed against the Italians in northern Ethiopia.

This report said Ras Seyoum and Ras Kassa, two of Ethiopia's leading generals, had combined their forces for a general offensive against the Italian troops which have pushed far south of their bases of supply.

Emperor Haile Selassie was at Dessye, not far south of the troop concentration and Ethiopia sources thought it likely that the emperor has established his headquarters at a position to be close to the scene of combat.

(By The Associated Press.)
The British cabinet debated today the problem of tightening the iron ring of sanctions imposed on Italy for initiating a war of occupation in Ethiopia.

Talk of peace in East Africa, the purpose for which sanctions were imposed, languished as Britain's attention turned to an oil embargo to freeze that nation into submission to the will of her sister states in the League of Nations.

Premier Mussolini at the same time took steps to "mobilize" the women of the fascist domain for a finish fight against the penalties.

A two-fold problem was before the British, leader in the sanctions drive:
1. Should an embargo on oil shipments to Italy be imposed at Geneva? Commentators little doubted the cabinet would approve the move, and transmit its decision to the league.

2. If the embargo goes into effect, and Italy makes good her threat of reprisals, what course shall Britain pursue? Italy already has warned that oil sanctions would be regarded as "an unfriendly act."

British Uneasy

Extreme uneasiness was evidenced in some British quarters over the situation.

A question tangent to the problem of an oil embargo, presented itself to the British cabinet. It was, would the United States join in closing its market to Italy if the league institutes the embargo?

Emperor Haile Selassie, at the war front, settled down to a military routine after a trip from his capital, Addis Ababa. Thousands gathered in the sun-scorched square at Dessye strategic troop concentration point and his headquarters, where picturesque-clad chiefs prostrated themselves before the red ceremonial tent in which the king of kings sat on a red-upholstered throne.

The Rome government announced 15 Ethiopians and six Italians were killed in a skirmish in the eastern Tembien area, which is north and west of Makale. The communiqué said "mopping up" operations were continuing in that section.

Marked anxiety arose in Geneva over the swift succession of events considered there to be threatening the peace of Europe. Some league circles believed, however, an effective oil boycott would not only hasten the end of the African war but prevent Italy from compelling the European situation as well.

Lingers Between Life and Death

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Dec. 2 (AP)—Infection and pneumonia became double threats today to the life of Jesse Livermore Jr., right, 16-year-old son of the Wall Street plunger, as his strength ebbed from a bullet wound suffered in an asserted drunken quarrel with his mother.

An oxygen tent was used with frequent intervals to help the boy's breathing, and a condition of "potential pneumonia" was reported by Dr. Neville Usher, attending physician.

While the youth's mother, Mrs. Dorothea Wendt Livermore, left, remained in a semi-physical condition in her jail cell, her attorney mapped an "unloaded gun" defense.

The attorney, Harrison Ryan, said it was clear to him that the discharge of the gun was purely "accidental." He also declared the defense would not admit that Mrs. Livermore did the shooting.

Use Tear Gas To Drive Man From Shamrock House

Goes to Jail Clad Only in Long Underwear

First use of the new tear gas equipment owned by Gray county was made Saturday night in Shamrock, with desired effect.

A man believed to have been intoxicated barricaded himself in a residence, armed with a heavy caliber rifle which he fired at anyone who came within sight. Sheriff Waters telephoned Sheriff Earl Taylor of Gray county to bring the tear gas gun.

The local sheriff drove within range of the house, sighted the heavy tear gas gun, and pulled the trigger. There was a heavy recoil, and the large shell went through a window, screen and glass. There was no immediate result, but after a few minutes the man rushed out on a porch, gun in hand, rubbing his eyes with one fist. Soon he dropped the gun and used both hands at his eyes.

He was in long-handed underwear, but the night air was brisk. He went back inside to get his outer clothing. He ran back outside quickly, rubbing his eyes again—without the garments, but meanwhile officers had seized his rifle. He was arrested and hurried off to jail, minus the garments which officers tearfully but ineffectually tried to reach.

Windows of the house were raised, but it was some time before officers could go inside. When they did, they found that the gas shell had penetrated the wall-board of an inner room and had fallen between

WOMAN JURIST HINTS SHE MAY RUN FOR OFFICE

Reviews Her Record As Judge in Dallas

BY CHARLES ANDREW PRICE, Associated Press Staff Writer.

DALLAS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Texas' first and only woman jurist, approaches the end of her first year on the bench with a feeling of satisfaction.

She believes that 118 jury trials and 509 non-jury cases disposed of in the first six months of her service demonstrates that a woman judge can dispose of litigation as efficiently as a man.

"In this business of being a judge," she says, "I use common sense. Good law is no more subtle than that."

Judge Hughes will be a candidate to succeed herself next year. The governorship? She has not thought of that yet, but bows to the suggestion that her public service, only six years old, holds a future.

She prefers the bench to the practice of law, she says, but politics is nearer her heart than either business or profession.

"I love the color, the activity, and the thrust and defense of politics. I realize, of course, that politics offers a precarious career compared

AAA BARES PLAN TO INCREASE HOG PRODUCTION 30 PER CENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Emphasizing that "balanced" farming is their aim, AAA officials made public today details of the 1936-1937 contracts offered farmers for corn-hog control.

The contracts, effective as of yesterday, are designed to increase hog production by 30 per cent in 1936. A shortage of hogs has led to higher prices, with protests from consumers.

Leading features of the contracts:
1. Community and county control committees will make appraisals and determine a farmer's "base" production of hogs and his base corn acreage.

2. The contracting farmer will be permitted to raise 100 per cent of the hog base.

3. He will be required to keep his corn acreage 10 to 30 per cent under his base.

4. A producer will receive $1.25 benefit payment for each hog in his base for 1936.

5. Corn benefits will be at the rate of 35 cents a bushel for 1936. Producers must grow at least 25 per cent of the base corn acreage to qualify for payments. The 1936 payments are to be made in two installments, the first about Aug. 1, and the second about Dec. 1.

A pro rata share of local administrative costs will be deducted from each producer's adjustment payments.

EDITORIAL

ON SHEDDING DENOMINATIONAL BIAS

In a letter to churchmen announcing the religious conference to be held at the West Texas Teachers college in Canyon December 12, President J. A. Hill has sounded the keynote of such gatherings with a plea for unity among the forces which have common aims for world betterment.

His thought-provoking letter follows:

To ministers, Sunday school workers, ladies' religious organizations, and all Christian laymen—

As one who enjoys thinking in terms of forces and influences that make for human betterment, I believe that our people everywhere need to think through afresh the fundamental teachings of religious faith. A great many of our people have never come to understand the basic position which religion occupies in either individual or social progress. Our relationship with God and with spiritual values is too much apart from our human relationships. Politics, government, business, education, domestic problems, and all other supposedly constructive social forces have yet to go through the refining influence of intelligent religious faith. Spiritual values must come to find a larger place in the everyday life of all the people if civilization is to go forward on anything like a secure foundation.

Our religion is suffering from an over-emphasis on the forms of worship and on doctrinal differences. So many people are mistaking the form for the substance of religious faith—the means for the end. Such concepts induce gross dishonesty and distortion of the sense of values. Men come to commit great crime against safety, sometimes, perhaps, without even any circumstances of guilt. It is probably true that a great per cent of our political, economic, and social sins are committed by men who honestly believe themselves to be Christians. I would not plead for a new religion but for a better understanding of an old one.

It is my further belief that at least occasionally our religious leaders will greatly profit by shedding their denominational bias in a gathering of religionists representing a multiplicity of faiths. At this time a spirit of brotherhood among all those who love God and men is greatly needed. A coordination of all the forces of righteousness just now would go a long way toward solving the world's problems. Ignorant, narrow, jealous, and selfish Christians are, in no small way, responsible for the lawlessness and crime of the age. A wholesome respect for spiritual values, regardless of their denominational colorings, is a much needed virtue among the American people.

Moreover, the youth of today, and especially our college youth, are honestly and earnestly seeking fundamental values. They are tired of much that parades under the name of religion, but they are not tired of sane and sincere attempts to understand God and the implications of discipleship.

For these reasons, the West Texas Teachers college is sponsoring on December 12 an all-day religious conference on its campus. A splendid program has been prepared under the direction of a faculty committee of which Prof. S. H. Condon is chairman. We believe that that program is unique in Texas and should challenge all intelligent and constructive citizens, regardless of religious faith. We cordially invite leaders in all denominations to attend this conference and make contributions to its purpose.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Mr. Arthur Walsh, the new assistant administrator of Federal Housing Administration, is about as astonishing a fellow as you're likely to meet.

He can make music with his bare hands. Actually plays tunes with them. Cupping palms and fingers together, he achieves a sort of wind instrument from which he can produce melodies with a sound which is an approximate compromise between a kazoo and a whistle and not unpleasant, either.

At banquets where stuffed shirts were boring everybody stiff with speeches, Mr. Walsh has been known to slip his hands under the table and, quite anonymously, to emit with disturbing audibility such tunes as "Show Me the Way to Go Home" and "How Dry I Am."

New Dealers, accustomed to no end of oddities, agree with awe that this is the damndest thing they ever saw or heard.

Also, Walsh's new appointment is an improvement over most previous top rank appointments in FHA. He is a protégé of Charles Edison, formerly worked with the Edison laboratories, did some good federal housing work in New Jersey, and more lately has been FHA's deputy administrator in charge of modernization loans.

A recent official survey showed 37 federal agencies to have "definite responsibilities in housing." The New Deal has sparred with the housing problem more or less furiously. Housing is the one big thing Roosevelt's intimate friends say he will grapple with in his second administration—if any—and nearly all the outstanding American housing experts are or have been here on the federal payroll or as consultants.

What all these housing people whisper privately to your correspondent almost exactly parallels a letter just received from a former high official who went away to supervise one of the largest non-profit housing experiments now under way anywhere. Let us quote:

"I have just been through the process of actually getting houses started. These are supposed to be minimum houses, not luxury home or even good houses that will stand up for 20 years and house an average family.

"So far, it seems the job can't be done for much less than $6,000, which means they will have to rent for $60 a month to carry themselves.

"According to income figures by Brookings, 71 per cent of the families in this country can't afford that much for housing. No wonder there is a housing shortage.

"Owning or renting comes out the same way—housing costs too much."

"I've been over this question of reducing building material costs from one end to the other," continues this expert, "over the labor problem, over the expensive distribution system, everything. It all adds up to some figures and yet you can't make an appreciable cut in it anywhere.

"Mortgage tinkering, housing act, hot air, and everything else cannot make a decent business out of housing at the present state in the arts of production—the present state being about a 1906 period (poorer, by the way, than 1890 construction)."

Slash in Hours on WPA Jobs Is Now Considered

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 2 (AP)—A sympathetic attitude was expressed this afternoon by H. P. Drought, state works progress administrator, to the demands made Friday by state labor representatives. They demanded that the number of hours for WPA workers be decreased, and the present wage scale maintained with the view of doubling the jobs available. Drought said that existing regulations and conditions prevented his granting the demands.

A more amicable tone also was expressed by W. B. Arnold, president of the state federation of labor.

According to Arnold, it is not the plan of the labor leaders to act drastically immediately because the committee which will draw up the list of demands to be forwarded to Harry L. Hopkins, national WPA administrator, will meet Monday. The committee is composed of William J. Morgan, of El Paso, chairman; Wallace C. Reilly, secretary of the state federation of labor; H. A. McBride of Houston; H. B. Crow of Houston, international painters union; R. V. Roberts, international representative of the carpenters union, Dallas, and William H. Burke of San Antonio, secretary of the state milling trades.

Drought said that the meeting Friday was agreeable and that he was in sympathy with many of the views that were expressed by the labor leaders, but he felt that regardless of the merit of the cause he had to keep in mind the interest of other individuals who were given work under the WPA.

WINTER REVIVAL STARTS AT CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

TWO SERMONS GIVEN SUNDAY BY EVANGELIST

C. E. MCGAUGHEY WILL SPEAK IN DAILY SERVICES

Welcomed by large audiences, Evangelist C. E. McGaughey began a revival at Central Church of Christ yesterday. He preached on the subject, "Deception at the Initial Service, and his evening message was on 'The Wonderful Christ'.

The evangelist is known to many Pampa residents, who are invited, with others in the city, to hear him in this series. Daily services at 10 a. m. and 7:15 p. m. are announced by the minister, Paul A. Thompson.

On the subject of self-deception, Mr. McGaughey said yesterday morning that "it is possible for anyone to deceive himself in trying to balance his unrighteousness with his righteousness."

"Another way we deceive ourselves is by assuming the virtues that are not our own. A third way is to see the sins of others and overlook our own. A fourth plan of self-deception is to compare ourselves with others to our advantage."

"We cheat ourselves by changing the form of sin or by disguising sin. Finally, one can deceive himself by ignoring sin, by simply not facing facts. When God's word speaks of sin, it means just what it says."

In his evening sermon the speaker said in part, "Christ was wonderful in prophecy, in birth, in mission, in life, in death, and in resurrection. He became a wonderful savior with a wonderful plan of salvation. Christ will be wonderful when he shall return to claim those that are his own."

Two baptisms climaxed the services yesterday.

SECRETS OF CAKE MAKING ARE FOUND BY 50 H. D. CLUB WOMEN

By MISS RUBY ADAMS
County Home Demonstration Agent
It has been said cakes have "secrets," and the achievement of fifty Gray county women who have exhibited for scoring 63 cakes that reach the required score to be called standard, proves these women have learned the secrets.

These secrets were developed by careful study through club meetings during the year and with conscientious practice.

Besides the better known secrets of good ingredients, good equipment, careful measuring, good mixing, proper cooking temperature, the altitude effects have been a secret not often understood.

That successful cake making in mountainous regions differs in certain respects from cake making at sea level has been known for some time.

The sugar proportion seems to be the most important factor in high-altitude cake making. There must be a decrease in the amount of sugar as altitude increases, but a decrease which does not affect the desirable sweetness of the cake.

Incorrect proportions of sugar are apparent in both the texture and crust of the cake. Too little sugar gives coarse, dry cake with thick cell walls and a pale brown crust. Too much sugar makes gummy cake with loose, crumbly texture and a cracked, sugary crust.

The cakes are scored on the following points: General appearance, flavor, texture, color, grain distribution, and icing.

The women who made the white cakes, and the clubs they represent are:
Mmes. Chester Nicholson, A. R. Walberg, Carl Baer, C. F. Bastion, Lewis Davis, E. A. Twentier, O. G. Smith, all of Kingsmill.

Mmes. Frank Knight, J. H. Clark, E. Clark, Willard McAdams, M. K. Williams, of Bluebonnet.
Mmes. Clyde King, R. E. Dauer, Geo. Kurtz, of Bell.

Mmes. Norman Walberg, J. M. Daugherty, R. A. Kennedy, Guy Farrington, Mae Skaggs, Ira Spearman, Miss Donnie Lee Stroupe, of Priscilla.

Miss Fay Davis and Mrs. G. P. Innell of Hopkins.
Mmes. C. O. Bridges, R. W. Taylor, T. L. Sirman, Burba, C. B. Haney, of Merten.

Mrs. Oad Gatlin of Laketon.
Mrs. J. B. Vannoy and Mrs. Dolly Stafford of McLean.
The women who made chocolate cakes and the clubs represented are:
Mmes. N. B. Cude, Chris Baer, G. F. Bastion, O. G. Smith, E. A. Twentier, Chester Nicholson, of Kingsmill.

Mrs. Phil Farley and Mrs. Willard McAdams of Bluebonnet.
Mmes. R. A. Kennedy, J. M. Daugherty, Norman Walberg, Ira Spearman, Miss Donnie Lee Stroupe, of Priscilla.

Mmes. Willard Franklin, Jim Hopkins, Robert Brown, E. F. Vanderburg, of Hopkins.
Mmes. J. P. Meers, J. C. Browning, Alva Phillips, Fred C. Fischer, B. Knapp, C. O. Bridges, of Merten.

Mrs. G. L. Bailey of Laketon.
Mmes. Palestine Gething, C. M. Eudy, Amelia Sharp, of McLean.
In addition to these cakes, the following were presented:
Burnt sugar cake by Mrs. J. E. Clark, Bluebonnet; coconut cake by Mrs. Mary Mackay, Hopkins; spice cake by Mrs. J. Bailey, Merten.

SHOWER GIVEN AT McLEAN TO HONOR BRIDE

FORMER MISS ASHBY IS COMPLIMENTED DURING VISIT

McLEAN, Dec. 2.—Mrs. J. C. Conrad, who with Mr. Conrad is a guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ashby, for the Thanksgiving holidays, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. J. Coffey.

Mrs. Conrad, formerly Miss Letha Ashby, is a McLean high school graduate. She received her degree from Texas Tech at Lubbock and for the past two years has taught at Hobbs where Mr. Conrad is also a teacher. They were married early in November.

For the shower Saturday afternoon, members of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid were hostesses. Miss Marie Landers gave a reading. Mrs. Charles E. Cooke presented the gifts with a well-chosen expression of love and wishes for happiness.

The bride's cake was decorated in white and pink, and in the center stood a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Conrad was asked to cut the cake while Mrs. Donald Beall served delectable punch.

Those present or sending gifts were Mmes. J. A. Ashby, John B. Vannoy, Lee Wilson, June Woods, J. B. Hembree, Porter Smith, William A. Mills, T. A. Massey, Luther McCombs, Ernest Beck, T. W. Storey, A. E. Windom, Charles E. Cooke, S. D. Shelbourne, Donald Beall, Boyd McCoy, Ray Davis, Willie Koyd, Jim Back, J. W. Butler, J. L. Hess, E. L. Sitter, G. W. Sitter, J. T. Hicks, Vera Smith, S. M. Hodges, S. E. Hambricht.

Messrs. and Mmes. Arthur Erwin, W. A. Erwin, S. B. Fast, T. J. Coffey, Misses Lillian Abbott, Marie Landers, Cressie Turner, Texola Harlan, Ruth, Margaret, and Mary Hess, and Irene McCoy.

Students at Home
Among members of McLean's college set who were at home for Thanksgiving were: Christiana Christian, C. C. and C. W. Bogart, and Juanita Carpenter from McMurry college, Abilene; Charlie Marie Beck and Kelly Newman from Abilene Christian college; Lloyd and Carolyn Jackson, Buck Amario, from Hardin-Simmons at Abilene; Margaret Hess, Irene McCoy, Lilla D'Spain, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D'Spain from Texas Tech, Lubbock; George McCarty, Neva Flowers, and Dorothy Johnson from Amarillo college; Juanita Brooks from Fleming Business college, Amarillo.

Miss Doris Simmons of Pampa was a weekend guest of Miss Jesse Mae Lynch.

Mrs. Rigdon Has Adventure Making Her Bedroom New

"Improving a bedroom gives one many fields of adventure," said Mrs. E. R. Rigdon, bedroom demonstrator of McLean Home Demonstration club, to friends who visited her achievement event November 22.

Mrs. Rigdon continued, "I had to make the whole room over, consequently, there were many problems for me to solve."

Taking an inventory at the beginning of the demonstration, Mrs. Rigdon discovered the only good features were two large windows which afforded cross current in ventilation as well as plenty of light, and the wall paper was in good condition.

The inventory showed improvement should be made to the closet, a new mattress was needed; the bed was short of linens, needed a mattress pad, a spring cover, as well as a suitable bedspread. The dresser was in poor condition; there was not a chair; artificial lighting was poor; the floor was rough and unfinished; curtains and shades were unsuitable.

Many would have been frightened to have started on such a task with money conspicuously absent, but not Mrs. Rigdon. It only seemed to spur her on.

"My mattress is my greatest joy," Mrs. Rigdon told Miss Ruby M. Adams, county home demonstration agent.

The mattress was made December 1, 1934, at a public demonstration in McLean. The cotton used was some that the federal government had sent out for such demonstrations. This mattress cost Mrs. Rigdon $25.00, has been used regularly for a year and is still in perfect condition.

Mrs. Rigdon explained to Miss Ruby Mashburn, district agent, that the mattress was easy to care for, as she could open both windows and beat the mattress about five or ten minutes and it would "fluff" way up, she concluded.

To aid in caring for the mattress Mrs. Rigdon made a spring cover from the good parts of cotton sacks and her mattress pad from a cotton blanket quilted on the sewing machine.

The old bedstead bedspread is made of excellent quality green sheeting and tufted in 6-inch squares, using yarns of a darker green, a light brown, white, and gold.

Mrs. Rigdon needed a dressing table and taking two pieces of new material 11x28 inches, placing together and finishing in gray paint and a green and brown plaid curtain reaching to the floor, the dressing table top was fastened to the wall by braces, four inches higher than a sewing machine. The machine is rolled under the dressing table, on top of machine, and in here Mrs. Rigdon can place the necessary articles needed around a dressing table. This bit of ingenuity has solved two problems—a dressing table and a place for the sewing machine. It saves floor space.

The floor was painted a light oak color and a rag rug to go by the bed to add warmth and comfort.

The dresser had been painted several times and it proved quite a task to remove it all before refinishing with gray paint.

A home-made bedside table for books, magazines, and a bedside light was made and painted gray. An old high back rocker was painted and a practical linen pillow placed in this chair. By the side of the chair is a small table for a magazine and a bowl of nuts.

The artificial lighting was improved by adding a bedside lamp and a pair of lamps on the dressing table. New shades and plain panel curtains in white were added. For $10 the room is now one of beauty, comfort and joy.

Secretary Ill; WMS Meeting Postponed
Because of the illness of Mrs. W. Purviance, district secretary of the Methodist Missionary societies, a district meeting planned at Clarendon Thursday will be postponed indefinitely, it was announced today. Mrs. Purviance has been seriously ill at her home here. She is reported improving, but will be confined to her room for some time.

WORLD WAR TO RAGE YEAR OVER NATION

BIG SYSTEMS REFUSE TO REGISTER WITH COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The struggle between utilities and the new deal plunged into its second major phase today, with officials predicting that a victor will not be crowned for a year or more.

It will take that long, they figured, for the courts to decide the vast issue, which was formally joined at midnight last night.

The new deal's utility holding company law, passed last congressional session after the first engagement in the "war," provided that by last midnight the holding firms should be registered with the securities commission.

In almost unbroken phalanx, the top-rank firms stood their ground, refusing to comply with the law they call "unconstitutional."

There were no up-to-the-minute figures on the companies thus refusing, but they included most of the large systems, with their hundreds of subsidiaries. A few major systems were yet to be accounted for in announcements by the securities commission in a day or two.

Only 53 firms were known to have complied. Most of them said they did so under protest or duress.

The securities commission insists that registration is a mere preliminary to administration of the law, which calls for regulation of the firms, with "unnecessary" ones to be eliminated and others to be limited in their sphere of operations.

The commission argued that by registering, the companies would surrender none of their rights to fight the law. But the concern replied that registration would give the commission a "toehold" which perhaps damage the companies' legal chances.

Commission officials drew some encouragement from a decision last week by Federal Judge William H. Holly of Chicago, agreeing with the commission's view of about registration, he told trustees of the Public Utilities Securities corporation to register, reserving their constitutional rights.

SATURDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press.) Bobby Wilson, Southern Methodist—Scored two touchdowns, starred generally in Southern Methodist's defeat of Texas Christian 30-14.

Abe Mickal, Louisiana State—Turned in one of the greatest games of his career as his team walloped Tulane 41-0.

Roscoe and Kelley, Yale—This duo combined to saved Yale from a whitewashing at the hands of powerful Princeton although the Tigers won 38-7.

Whitney Grove, Army—Scored 16 points as Army downed Navy 28-6, running 30 yards for one of his touchdowns.

Vollmer, Columbia—Ran 63 yards for the score that gave his team a 13-7 upset victory over Dartmouth.

Morris, Holy Cross—Ran 70 yards for a touchdown as Holy Cross beat Boston college and remained undefeated.

R. Hapes, Mississippi—Ran 95 yards to score as Ole Miss downed Mississippi State 14-6.

Goddard, Washington State—His passing and running resulted in touchdown that brought 7-7 tie with favored St. Mary's in final quarter.

Eight Teams Are Unbeaten, Untied

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Old Man Upset left only eight football teams undefeated and untied today at the close of the season.

Southern Methodist, winner of 11 straight games, still has to face the strong Texas A. & M. team next Saturday.

A newly discovered unbeaten and untied team was Nassau Collegiate Center of Garden City, N. Y., which has compiled an impressive three-year record in junior college ranks.

Records of the undefeated and untied teams follow:

Table with 4 columns: Team, W, Pts, Opts. Rows include S. M. U., Princeton, Minnesota, Alma, Ohio U., Middle Tenn. Tchrs., Spearfish (SD) Nor., Nassau.

FORDHAM VS. LSU NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Unless there is a last minute upset, it appears that Louisiana State university and Fordham university will meet in Louisiana's sugar bowl here on New Year's.

The committee charged with the selection will not make an official announcement until tomorrow night but today these two teams had the inside track.

Mrs. Virgil Lumber, Mrs. Arthur Edlin and son, Carroll, are visiting this week with relatives in Kansas.

The Aftermath Of 'Sudden Death'

BY A. J. BRACKEN. After the sensation created by "Sudden Death," The Reader's Digest was bombarded by "follow ups." But we thought enough had been said. Then, from an embalmer in the village of Chapelle, Nebraska, came the following—

Two o'clock in the morning. Is that the phone? There it goes again! I grope my way sleepily to it. Hello... yes, I understand... a wreck on the highway two miles east... We'll be right out...

What a sight! One car, a new one, now a tangled heap of scrap iron on one side of the road, shattered glass everywhere. The crowd has gathered and they have dug one body out and it lies a bloody, grotesque, twisted thing under the pale light of the moon. Another lies groaning and mumbering. "My back is broken I think." We lift him as gently as possible in the ambulance and hurry to the hospital. He dies two hours later calling for "Edith."

How did it happen? The report is they were trying to pass a car against a too close oncoming car. What does it matter! We go back for the dead body and in the operating room under the strong light we find that we have a job on hand trying to put it back together as best we can in an attempt to relieve the terrible heartache of those loved ones who will hasten to see him. What a mass! Ragged bones sticking out through torn coat sleeves, head crushed to a pulp. Can we make it look like a human being and resemble the fine strong young man that it was only an hour ago, but which our job and we're getting used to it.

Does it make us gun-shy of this fast driving? Well, we wish all the speeders could spend a night with us, occasionally, in the operating rooms of the mortuary.

Old Barstevens. Three little kiddies, poor little tykes, the oldest only seven. They hardly know what it is all about. This time it is a young mother returning home, with her husband and children, from a happy visit. Kiddies are playing in the back seat of the car. Bang! Crash! A sickening, twisting, and tearing, and it is all over.

Just Passing. Two o'clock in the morning. Is that the phone? There it goes again! I grope my way sleepily to it. Hello... yes, I understand... a wreck on the highway two miles east... We'll be right out...

Such a freak. We found his arm, hanging on the latch of the car door, torn completely from the socket at the elbow. The mangled body lay doubled up in the ditch nearby. Just an old man, walking along in the dark on the wrong side of the road, the car coming over the brow of the hill, headlights shooting up,

NEUTRALITY TO COST BILLIONS EXPERTS AVER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—What price, in dollars and cents, is America willing to pay to stay out of the wars of the future?

This is one of the many questions confronting experts as the day draws close when congress will turn next month to debate a permanent neutrality policy.

On the basis of statisticians' figures, the cost of an attempt to remain neutral might range anywhere from nothing to billions, depending on the type of policy adopted and the scope of the war the country tried to shun. These figures are based on the trade which would be lost if the United States curbed or shut off exports to belligerents.

Some advocates of strict neutrality say that monetary costs would not be considered; that peace at any price is cheaper than war.

Others would lay down a policy designed to keep us out of war yet deal as soft a blow as possible to the country's economy.

Three broad proposals for a permanent policy have been advanced. Some peace advocates would cut off all trade with all belligerents, or all trade with aggressors.

Members of the senate munitions committee would embargo all trade in munitions, rusty-shouldered war materials, but permit normal trade in other commodities.

The administration seems to trade observers to be headed toward a policy of embargoing munitions proper, but applying quotas on war materials to limit exports to normal year of 1928 this amounted to $4,800,000,000 or ten per cent of the country's total production of movable goods. Last year total exports were about $2,200,000,000.

The second plan, if confined to the commodities on which the administration is now centering attention, would cut normal trade approximately a billion dollars in a year such as 1928. But if it included cotton, the total would be close to $2,000,000,000.

Under the third policy the cost would be little. If applied before trade expanded to the war demand, it would merely keep exports at their normal level.

IT IS ENTIRELY POSSIBLE FOR AGGIES TO BEAT MUSTANGS ON SATURDAY

MUSTANGS ARE DOPED TO WIN BY 2 TOUCHES

GAMBLING STYLE WILL PUT PONIES ON SPOT

DALLAS, Dec. 2 (AP)—Southern Methodist university will be the first college west of the Mississippi river to represent the east in the annual Tournament of Roses football game at Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's day.

Ruled out on this score in the speculation of many sports writers earlier in the season, the Mustangs crashed through to the coveted bid to the Rose Bowl by their sheer merit and spectacular style of play. Several sports writers and many fans suggested earlier in the season that if they came through their man-killing schedule undefeated they should represent the west, forgetting that under the terms of the classic the western team must be a Pacific Coast aggregation.

It was the Mustangs' 21 to 0 defeat of U. C. L. A. on Armistice day at Los Angeles which more than any other one game, brought them to the front in the race for the honor to represent the east. It was this game which sent sports writers searching their dictionaries for new adjectives, that caused Southern California fans to give S. M. U. first place in a recent straw vote as to which team should be invited.

The Mustangs' habit of frequently doing the unexpected, and winning by 11, of passing when a kick is clearly indicated or sending Bobby Wilson around end when a pass or line-back seems more logical, used to a greater or lesser extent by all Southwest conference teams, but was developed at Southern Methodist by Ray Morrison, now head coach at Vanderbilt.

Madison (Matt) Bell, however who is rounding out his first season as head coach of the Mustangs, contributed to the Morrison style a well-nigh impenetrable defense, something they have lacked. Bell was famous as a defensive coach when he came to S. M. U. two years ago to coach the line, after having coached at two other Southwest conference colleges—Texas Christian and Texas A. & M.

One of these colleges, Texas A. & M. is to enter the Rose Bowl undefeated and if it is to obtain a clear title to the Southwest conference crown, the Mustangs and the Aggies clash Saturday at Coliseum Station, where the Aggies had a tradition of winning against odds. This fact, coupled with the gambling style of play which is the rule in southwestern football, makes it entirely within the realm of the possible for the Aggies to defeat the team chosen to represent the east in the Rose Bowl. Critics rate Southern Methodist as a two-touchdown favorite, but it has been a bad season for favorites nationally and that goes double for the southwest. Texas Christian was favored to win over a crippled Southern Methodist team last Saturday, and Rice was favored to defeat Baylor, but S. M. U. and Baylor won.

Ray Zeh Wears Scoring Crown

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Ray Zeh, Western Reserve fullback, wears the crown of high scorer for the 1935 football season.

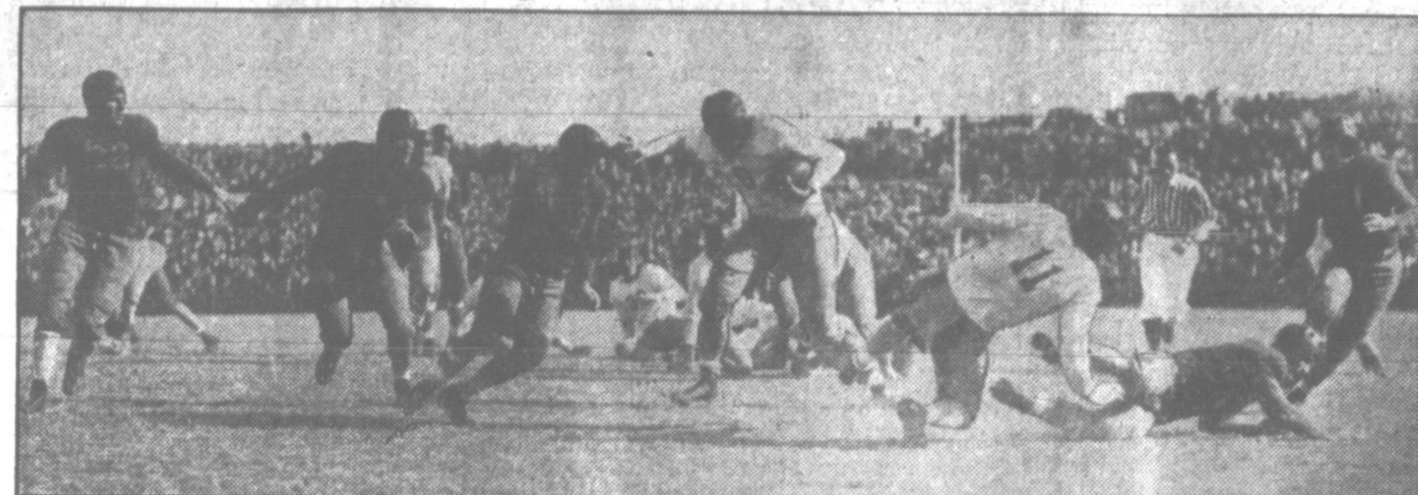

Zeh ran for 15 touchdowns in ten games and scored 22 points after touchdowns to roll up a total of 112 points.

The leaders:	Pts.

SMU Halts Frogs' Terrific Drive in 'Rose Bowl' Game

The driving Jimmy Lawrence, 180-pound T. C. U. halfback, rips around the Christians' right tackle for one of the Frogs' longest gains in the first period of the T. C. U.

S. M. U. Southwest conference clash. His teammate, Grosedole, 210-pound left tackle, is falling after being hit by a Pony lineman. Stamps, Mustang left guard, is about to tackle Lawrence. Behind Stamps are Baker and Sprague, following the play. The Mustangs halted the Frog drive 15 yards short of the goal when Sam Baugh's pass over the goal on fourth down was incomplete. The Mustangs retaliated with their second marker. NEA Photo.

A.P. Selects All-Southwest Conference Football Team

TCU and SMU Each Gets 4 Stars On Team

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The polls are closed, the votes counted, and from the tabulation comes the 1935 All-Southwest football team as selected for the Associated Press by conference sports writers and coaches.

The consensus named four stars from Southern Methodist, four from Texas Christian and three from Rice Institute. These three teams paced the rugged championship race and easily offered the greatest array of outstanding players.

Nine seniors and two juniors made the team. Several linemen who made the grade received stout competition from boys who dropped into the honor roll from last year's team. A few votes shy. The neck and neck race between Wilbur Harrison and Tracy Kellow, Texas Christian guards, was not determined until the final two votes which made Kellow the right guard.

The vote casting was unusual. The sports writers were far more in agreement on various players than the coaches. The coaches could not agree on linemen except Darrell Lester, Texas Christian's 1934 All-American center, who is the only unanimous choice in the 1935 team.

Coach Jimmy Kitts of Rice said: "I can pick 3 all-conference ends and believe me one will be just as strong as the other. In fact, I picked three teams and if I had to choose between them, I would not know which to take. The conference has to name one star team."

Coach Leo Meyer of Texas Christian agreed with Kitts. He pointed out that he had several players who would not make the all-conference team but said he would not trade them for gold or diamonds.

The positions went to Walter Poach of Texas Christian and John Sylvester of Rice, two seniors. Poach is the more versatile of the two. He is a good pass catcher and blocker and one of the Christians' most valuable players. Sylvester is a poor pass catcher but a marvelous blocker and a sound man offensively and defensively.

Truman Spain and Maurice Orr made the tackles. Spain is an all-America candidate. He is one of the best tackles in Southern Methodist history. Orr is only a step behind Spain—perhaps not that far because Orr mixes his line work with field goal and placement kicks. His booting toe pulled Southern Methodist out of several tight spots this season.

J. C. "Ironman" Wetsel of Southern Methodist and Tracy Kellow of Texas Christian nosed in front of such fine guards as Bale of Rice, Harrison of Texas Christian, Simpson of Baylor, Crow of Texas A. & M., Smart of Texas, and Stamps of Southern Methodist. The guard votes were extremely scattered.

A are passers, plungers, kickers, punters, pass catchers and erki runners—in fact a coach's ideal of what a backfield should be. These four topped Jimmy Lawrence of Texas Christian, Harry Shuford of Southern Methodist, Lloyd Russell of Arkansas, the four outstanding candidates who fell only a few votes shy of a place in the all-conference eleven.

L. E. W. Roach, TCU, junior 180
L. E. T. Spivey, SMU, senior 210
C. W. P. Miller, TCU, senior 185
R. O. Kellow, TCU, senior 218
M. O. Orr, SMU, senior 171
J. C. Wetsel, Rice, senior 195
W. B. Baugh, TCU, junior 185
H. J. McCauley, Rice, senior 195
L. H. R. Wilson, SMU, senior 147
F. B. Wallace, Rice, senior 178
Honorable mention belongs to the following players who received votes:
Grosedole, tackle, TCU; Howell, end, Arkansas; Harrison, guard, TCU; Simpson, guard, Baylor; Crow, guard, Texas A. & M.; Haden, tackle, Arkansas; Smart, guard,

ALANREED'S FIRST FOOTBALL TEAM GIVEN VICTORY BANQUET

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 2 (AP)—The Alanreed Longhorns, the first football team to represent Alanreed high school, were banqueted last week in recognition of their excellent record

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Texas Christian can thank Uncle Billy Ditch, baseball coach at Texas university, for Sam Baugh, the touchdown passing quarterback everybody is raving about. Sammy really wanted to go to Texas to play baseball for Uncle Billy... but he had to work his way through school and Texas Christian offered the best paying job.

Baugh held out until the last minute, then went to Austin for a final conference with Ditch. Uncle Billy not only advised him to accept the Texas Christian offer, but gave him a five spot to pay his train fare to Fort Worth. (P. S.—He got the five back a few days later.)

We're looking for our friends among the Texas sports writing gentry to see that T. C. U. gives Uncle Billy his letter.

Must have been some game at Fort Worth. The New York experts wired back plenty of adjectives about Baugh, Bobby Wilson and friends. With Panhandle the big crowd was Johnny Pierce of Corsicana, our No. 1 high school coach. He just sat back and grinned as his two Ecks—Wilson and Finley—scored all of Southern Methodist's touchdowns.

Old Bill Alexander, down at Georgia Tech sort of sneaked up on the boys this year. He wasn't supposed to have much (Tech being strictly amateur now) but his Rambling Wrecks bowled over Duke, then crushed Georgia. The last game is enough to get a raise and a new five-year contract. Columbia's surprising upset of Dartmouth enables Gil Doble to finish the season a bucket of tears up on Lou Little.

McLean Tigers And Matador to Play on Friday

Local fans who have not had enough football this year are watching with interest the Class B schedule in this section. With Panhandle scheduled to go to Hereford for a bi-district battle Friday afternoon Pampans are hoping that McLean will meet Matador in McLean.

Coach Bill Allen and his crippled Tigers are working at top speed planning, plotting, and inventing ways and means to stop the great Matador attack, which has carried that team through a tough schedule to a district championship.

Most of the Tiger injured are expected to be able to play Friday. They are being given treatment and rest following the terrific battle with the Shamrock Irishmen here Friday afternoon.

Officials of the two schools will meet early this week and decide where the game will be played. Panhandle, rested for two weeks after defeating Canadian for the district title, will tangle with the crack Hereford Whitefeats who won from Dalhart 18 to 0. Hereford is considered the big hurdle in the Class B race again this year and a win for Coach Pat Gerald's Panthers would be a big step in the regional race.

Texas; Lindsey, tackle, Texas A. & M.; Meyer, end, Rice; Bale, guard, Rice; Frankie, tackle, Rice; Stamps, guard, SMU; Small, tackle, Texas; Wray, end, Baylor; Tipton, end, SMU; Willis, guard, Texas A. & M.; Walls, end, Texas Christian; Williams, end, Rice; Lawrence, halfback, TCU; Shuford, fullback, SMU; Russell, halfback, Baylor; Robbins, halfback, Arkansas; and Manton, halfback, Texas Christian.

GRID SEASON OF 1935 WAS BEST OF ALL

SEASON NOTABLE FOR DESTRUCTION OF CHAMPIONS

By HERBERT BARKER
NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—In any order you like put Minnesota, Southern Methodist and Princeton at the top of the national football standings today, congratulate S. M. U. on its selection for Rose Bowl duty against Stanford, hall Army for its spectacular return to service supremacy, and then reflect on the virtual wind-up of the greatest season the game ever has enjoyed.

Although not strictly upsets, the smashing victories Saturday of Southern Methodist, Princeton and Army were entirely in character with a season notable principally for its disregard for form.

Not within the memory of the oldest inhabitant has there been such a terrific mortality rate among section champions as the following tabulation of 1935 and 1934 titles shows:

	1935	1934
Big Ten	Princeton	Pittsburgh
	Minnesota	Minnesota
	Ohio State	Ohio State
Pacific	Stanford	Stanford
	California	California
	U. C. L. A.	U. C. L. A.
Southwest	S. M. U.	Rice
Southern	Louisiana S.	Tulane
	Alabama	Alabama
	Washington	Washington
	Nebraska	Kansas S.
	Colorado	Colorado
	Utah State	Utah State
	Colo.	Colo.
	Greely	Greely
Missouri	Wash. U.	Wash. U.
	Tulsa	Tulsa

SMU Gets Play
Credit for the most important accomplishment last week must go to Southern Methodist's Mustangs, who knocked Texas Christian from the unbeaten and untied list, preserved their own perfect record, virtually clinched the Southwest title and earned a bid for the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena on New Year's day.

Led by their little running back, Bobby Wilson, the Mustangs, 7-5 short ends in the betting, pled up a 14-point lead in the first half and wound up victors, 20-14. Princeton climaxed its second undefeated and untied season in three years by overwhelming Yale 38-7 before 60,000 at New Haven. Yale, holding the mighty Tigers to ten points in three periods, gambled with passes. One of them, from Roscoe to Kelley, saved the Ells from a shutout, but the others gave the Tigers a chance for the most one-sided score they ever have compiled against Yale.

Army piled up four touchdowns in little more than a period and then held off Navy throughout the second half to win the annual service duel before 81,000 at Philadelphia, 28-6.

Whitey Grove, playing the finest game of his career, scored the first two touchdowns—the first on an 80-yard run, and the second on a pass from Monk Meyer.

Tarzan True accounted for the third on another pass from Meyer and the fourth was credited to Bill Grohs on a line smash.

Tulane Crushed
Elsewhere Saturday's program was marked by form reversals. Louisiana State, as expected, crushed Tulane 41-0 to gain clear claim to the Southeastern championship, but Georgia fell before Georgia Tech, 19-7, and Mississippi State, conqueror of Alabama and Army, dropped a 14-6 decision to Mississippi. Auburn easily stopped Florida 27-6. In the East, Holy Cross, unbeaten but tied by Manhattan, won from Boston College, 19-6. Dartmouth fell victim to Columbia and Al Bar-bash, 13-7. Western Maryland spotted Georgetown ten points and then won 14-10.

Baylor conquered Rice 8-0. Heavily favored St. Mary's gained only a 7-7 draw with Washington State, while U. C. L. A. clinched a tie with Stanford and California for first place in the Pacific coast conference by whipping Idaho 13-6. This week's slender schedule includes S. M. U.'s important tussle with Texas A. & M., a Pacific coast conference contest between Southern California and Washington, and clashes between St. Mary's and Oregon, South Carolina and Florida, and Texas Christian and Santa Clara.

"IT STAYS PUT AND DOESN'T BLOW ALL OVER THE LOT" SAYS IRBY MUNDY

WELL KNOWN ROLL-YOUR-OWN SMOKER, SPEAKING OF PRINCE ALBERT

NOTE WHAT OTHER ROLL-YOUR-OWN EXPERTS SAY ABOUT P. A.

I'M FOR PRINCE ALBERT ALL THE TIME—AND GLAD FOR OTHERS TO KNOW WHAT I THINK OF P. A.

MR. MUNDY SHOWS HOW he rolls a neat Prince Albert cigarette in 11.5 seconds. He's been a Prince Albert fan since 1910

WALTER MURLEY IN ACTION! He gets around 70 swell cigarettes out of the 2-ounce P. A. tin. "That's right much smokin'," he says

ANOTHER QUICK "MAKIN'S" ROLLER—Howard McCrorey, 9.5 seconds. And how he enjoys that mild, rich, satisfying P. A. flavor!

OFFER TO "MAKIN'S" SMOKERS

Read the remarkable invitation that has been issued to all roll-your-own smokers of this region.

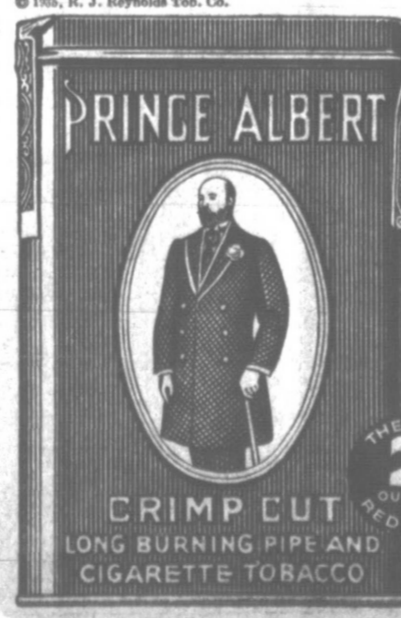

HERE'S THE PLAN: Roll your own swell cigarettes from Prince Albert. If you don't find them the finest, easiest roll-your-own cigarettes you ever smoked, return the tin with the rest of the tobacco in it to us at any time within a month from this date, and we will refund full purchase price, plus postage.

This offer is made because of our confidence in P. A. We figure that you'll like you can roll 'em faster and neater and enjoy 'em more.

Prince Albert is "way ahead on taste," says Mr. Mundy, "and since it's packed in tin there's no waste of pipe or tobacco." McCrorey says: "I'm for Prince Albert because it is so easy to roll into a fine firm cigarette with that good old money-in-the-bank taste." One thing Walter Murley likes is that "Prince Albert is 'crimp cut,' which means it burns mild, with all the natural good taste brought out so you can enjoy it."

When you try Prince Albert, notice the way it burns slower and gives a cooler smoke. Note the mildness and absence of harshness. Prince Albert is packed right—in a big 2-ounce economy tin that contains "makin's" for around 70 cigarettes. P. A. is a mellow, comforting pipe smoke too.

66 CONVENTION IN AMARILLO TO BE DIFFERENT

No Political Speakers Will Be on Program

AMARILLO, Dec. 2.—With just one week remaining until the interstate highway booster rally and the annual convention of the National U. S. Highway 66 association, sponsors are facing a busy period in which to complete all necessary arrangements.

The highway rally and 66 convention will be held in Amarillo on Monday, December 9, beginning at 10 a. m.

Sponsors are attempting to hold one meeting that is different. There will be no set speeches, nor will there be a cut and dried program. The rally will be open to those representatives from the various cities along Highways 60 and 66 who may have plans that will get results and bring about the early completion of these two transcontinental routes.

Moreover, there will be no political speakers on the program; neither will there be any out-of-state delegations. Texas good roads boosters are eager to have at least one highway rally which is not marred by politicians or job seekers who, as has been the custom in the past, would make idle promises which they never intend to fulfill.

However, all delegations will have an opportunity to present their own local problems and opportunities before the general assembly.

The National U. S. 66 Highway association, of which C. M. Bartlett of Miami, Okla., is president, is expected to pass on petitions requesting the change in name of this Chicago to L's Angeles route in honor of Will Rogers.

Letters received by the highway committee of the Amarillo chamber of commerce indicate that citizens along 60 and 66 appreciate the problems confronting them and will come to the highway rally with an avowed purpose to bring about completion of these routes not later than 1937.

The Amarillo Kiwanis club in cooperation with the Amarillo chamber of commerce, will honor visiting delegates with a luncheon Monday noon.

Cities which have pledged delegations include St. Louis, Springfield, Monette and Joplin, Missouri; Miami, Vinita, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Elk City, El Reno, Clinton, Bartlesville, Enid and Arnett, Oklahoma; Shamrock, Canadian, Berger, McLean, Panhandle, Canyon, Bedford, Vega and Parwell, Texas; Clovis, Albuquerque, Tucuman and Santa Fe, New Mexico; Phoenix, Kinman and Globe, Arizona; and Redlands and Los Angeles, California.

Chapter XXI

Even a government detective on a manhunt has time for a little private life occasionally — especially when the trail he is on grows cold and leaves him, temporarily, without a lead. So it happened that the night after the raid found Larry Glenn and Bobby Wallace eating an informal dinner with Jean Dunn in Jean's apartment.

The dinner was by way of being a farewell party for Jean, who was to leave for home on a week's vacation, the following day. Bobby, chastened and humble because of his misadventure with the stolen bonds, looked at her admiringly as she served the meal—she was very pretty, with a crinkly little apron over her summer frock, and she happened also to be an excellent cook.

Jean simply must marry him, the love-smitten youth mused, gazing darkly into his bowl of consommé, his spoon poised at the brim. She had been seeing a good deal of this Sandy Harkins, and that was a bad thing—for hadn't Larry Glenn discovered facts that convinced him that Sandy was a gangster, a member of the desperate Red Jackson mob? Of course, Jean really could not care anything for the man . . . but it wasn't a good thing for a girl like her to be associating with him at all.

But just then the others recalled him to his surroundings by asking him if he had gone into a trance, and his earnest daydream dissolved into embarrassment. He had a gay evening, these three old friends, recalling hometown experiences, joking about people they had known and pranks they had played as children, and reveling in the intimacy of old friendship.

One incident occurred—a thing which seemed utterly trivial, at the time, but which was to become, much later, an event of vast importance.

Jean learned, for the first time, that Larry was a Department of Justice operative. Highly thrilled, she asked him questions about his job, and asked him, among other things, how fingerprints were taken. Larry explained by giving a demonstration.

It happened that Jean had an ink pad on her desk. Taking it and a sheet of note paper, Larry playfully took impressions of her finger tips, explaining how each person's prints differ from every other person's. . . Then, carelessly, he tossed the paper bearing the prints into the wastebasket.

Bobby instantly retrieved it. "I've got her picture," he explained, glancing to Larry. "I've got a lot of pictures of her. I've got a ribbon she used to wear in her pigtail when she was so high. I've got a little tin-and-paper badge she wore one time at a Christian Endeavor convention. I've got a lot of other things that remind me of her. Now I've got one more thing—something that nobody else has got."

They laughed at him as he pocketed the paper, and then they forgot all about it—until, weeks later, it became of the most profound significance.

Larry Glenn left shortly before 10 o'clock, remarking that he would "leave you two youngsters to yourselves." They protested—Bobby's protest being less than urgent—but Larry insisted, wished Jean a happy vacation, and bowed himself out.

Bobby immediately took a position on the couch behind her shoulders; but when he tried to draw her to him she quietly resisted, and when he finally got the kiss he was seeking, her lips did not return his pressure. He released her and sat looking at her glumly.

"What's the matter, honey?" he asked. Jean resorted to one of those little mannerisms which women use at such moments, and carefully patted her hair into place in front of her right ear.

"Why, nothing," she said innocently.

"Well?" said Bobby doubtfully.

"Well, why don't—why don't you want me to kiss you?"

As a matter of fact, Jean was wondering the same thing. Why didn't she want him to? But she only said, "Oh, Bobby, let's—just talk."

Bobby stared at her, then made a humorous grimace, took his arm away, and said, "Okay. Let's talk. Go ahead."

She pouted prettily and said, "Oh, Bobby, don't be like that."

"Like what?"

They resumed at each other, and discovered that they were close to a quarrel, and neither of them understood quite why.

"What's the matter tonight? Want me to go home?" demanded Bobby.

"Nothing's the matter. Do you want to go?"

flushed, intensely in earnest, intensely unhappy, and both of them—if an outsider could have watched—just a little ludicrous, as youth is when it eagerly turns a little misunderstanding into a great quarrel.

And then, to his complete amazement, she began to cry on his shoulder.

As she sat in the Pullman car, the next afternoon, on her way to her home in Maplehurst, Jean tried in vain to think her way out of the distressing emotional tangle with which her two young admirers had presented her.

It wasn't right of Bobby, she told herself indignantly, to try to poison her mind about Sandy. Sandy was as honest as—anybody. It wasn't his fault that he'd had that little mixup with the police; and anyway, that had been straightened out instantly, as soon as Jean went to the police station and explained that Sandy had been with her that Friday afternoon.

She frowned faintly. Why did she always feel vaguely uncomfortable when she thought of that? What was wrong with it? She and Sandy had gone canoeing; a week later she had saved Sandy some embarrassment by telling the police about it. What was it that kept tapping at the door of her mind, telling her that there was something wrong with it?

Then, suddenly, she knew, and gripped the arms of the Pullman chair in panic dismay.

She remembered, now that afternoon when Bobby came to see Mr. Montague, and she had got the afternoon off and went out with Sandy.

The robbery of which Sandy had been suspected had happened on a Friday. She had convinced the police that Sandy was innocent because he had been canoeing with her that Friday afternoon. But she remembered now.

It hadn't been a Friday, after all. She had gone canoeing with Sandy on a Thursday. On the Friday when the robbery occurred she hadn't seen him at all!

The looks they were exchanging came closer to the classification of "glare." Bobby sat back and crossed his legs. He took out a cigaret and lit it with vast care. Then, impulsively, he dropped his cigaret into the ashtray, turned to face Jean, laid his hands on hers, and said softly, "Jean, dearest, let's not quarrel—please. Is anything wrong?"

To his surprise her eyes became misty. She shook her head "No." "I love you, Jean. You love me, don't you?"

She looked at him a long time before she answered, and then she found herself saying, rather shakily: "Oh, Bobby, it's so—you see, we've known each other all our lives, and I know I'm terribly fond of you . . . but I wonder—"

"I wonder if maybe—"

She left the sentence unfinished. He tightened his grip on her hands and said, "Please, Jean, for Heaven's sake—maybe what?"

"Oh—" She withdrew her hands, reached for a microscopic handkerchief, and dabbed at the corner of one eye. "Maybe it's just that I love you like—like a sister would. I mean—"

Bobby suddenly had a depressing mental image of the long and romantic figure of Sandy Harkins; and he said soberly, "Jean, is there—do you care for somebody else?"

She looked miserably at the floor and said, "I don't know."

"You never thought you loved me like a sister until just now," persisted Bobby. "Is it—?" He hesitated. Then, hating himself for saying it, he said, "Is it this Harkins fellow?"

She made no answer but continued to stare at the floor. Bobby looked at her for a long time. He felt a sudden flare of anger—not at Jean, but at the lanky westerner who, he believed, had come between them.

"It is, isn't it?" he said. Still she made no answer, but it seemed to him that her continued silence was answer enough.

"Don't do it, Jean," he said at last. His anger put an unexpected rasp in his voice. She looked up, surprised. "Don't do what?" she asked.

"Don't fall for that bird," he said, his tone more harsh than he had intended to make it.

There was a glint of anger in the line of her mouth as she returned to her seat. He ignored it, ignored caution as well, and plunged on: "For your own good, Jean! Not because of me—for yourself. Why, you don't know anything about him. You don't know who he is or where he came from or what he does or anything. For all you know he may be a crook."

"Bobby!" There was real anger in her voice now.

"Well, it's so. You don't know. You met him in a night club. Larry Glenn said you never knew who you met in a place like that. He might be a gangster. He might—"

"Stop!" she cried, her eyes blazing.

"Well, it's true," he said. She looked at him scornfully.

"I didn't think that of you, Bobby."

"Think what?"

"That you'd be so jealous you'd rasp in his voice. He ignored it, ignored caution as well, and plunged on: "For your own good, Jean! Not because of me—for yourself. Why, you don't know anything about him. You don't know who he is or where he came from or what he does or anything. For all you know he may be a crook."

"Bobby!" There was real anger in her voice now.

"Well, it's so. You don't know. You met him in a night club. Larry Glenn said you never knew who you met in a place like that. He might be a gangster. He might—"

"Stop!" she cried, her eyes blazing.

"Well, it's true," he said. She looked at him scornfully.

"I didn't think that of you, Bobby."

"What do you call it, then?" Telling me he may be a crook or a gangster? Is a clean-cut, decent man? You're the one that doesn't know anything about him. I do. I've seen him a lot. I like him."

They sat facing each other.

SLIGHTLY INJURED
Andrew "Chubby" Stewart, member of the 1935 Harvester football squad, received only minor injuries when a car in which he was driving overturned near Shamrock yesterday morning. His companion, a LeFors boy, was only slightly hurt. The car was badly damaged.

SANTA CLAUS AND JAYCEE PARTY STARTING AIR JOURNEY TO PAMPA

CAPT. KLEINSCHMIDT'S SANTA CLAUS IX

WONDERFUL WELCOME GIVEN BY ESKIMOS, WHO REQUEST SANTA TO REMAIN BEHIND

But Old Fellow Is Coming To Pampa Santa Day and Will Arrive Dec. 6.

By Captain F. E. Kleinschmidt
Special Correspondent of The News and Head of Expedition to Home of Santa Claus
(By Wireless)

Arctic Circle:
Here we are on our way to Pampa and most important of all, Santa Claus is with us. It has given me one of the biggest thrills of my life and I know it will be a sensation to all the boys and girls in Pampa and area when Santa Claus will be there and when for the first time in history La Nora theater will show the motion pictures of such an expedition and the home life of Santa Claus. The films will be developed immediately upon my arrival and a print sent by airplane to Pampa.

Yesterday I told you about getting back to the Eskimo village where our airplanes were left. Today we are well on our way to Pampa. "Tell the boys and girls in Pampa that we will be with them on December 6."

That's the message Santa Claus gave me today to pass to the Pampa Daily News, after in to the thousands of boys and girls, men and women who are looking forward to Santa's visit to Pampa.

We got back today to the most Northern Hudson Bay post at Cape Churchill and the Eskimo village where we stopped on our way up.

We have seen some wonderful things since we were here only a few weeks ago. In fact it is difficult to describe just how wonderful these scenes were. I will have to depend on the moving pictures to tell the story better than I can.

Santa's standing the trip well in spite of his age. He actually seems to be enjoying every minute of the Pampa's Junior chamber of commerce has announced the following full program for the annual Santa day of December 6:

10 a. m.—Free showing for children of Captain Kleinschmidt's movies of expedition to Santa Claus-land.

2:30 p. m.—Doll and buggy, pet and hobby parade of children.
3 p. m.—First showing of special street and show window decorations.

7:30 p. m.—All-Panhandle premiere at La Nora theater, with a radio broadcast over KGNC.
10 p. m.—Santa day dance at Pla-Mor auditorium.

flight but hasn't gotten over his habit of asking questions about things. Just now however, I am too busy to do much, but think about nothing in Pampa. The temperature is down today and when we stopped the "Spirit of Pampa."

At the Eskimo village here we had to place a little fire near the motor to keep the oil from getting so hard it would stop the machinery from working.
You boys and girls who think your fingers and toes and ears are freezing when it is down to zero know very little about what cold is. The mercury in my thermometer was clear of sight today. And when you consider that the thermometer is made for cold countries and that it registers down to 80 degrees below zero you can see that it was pretty cold.

The Eskimos here in the village were delighted to welcome us back. And the fact that Santa is with us has made us more welcome than ever. They all are very much in love with him and it isn't any wonder for he outdoes himself in kindness when they are around. He knows that they are loyal people and since he knows what it is to live in this cold country, he realizes something of the hardships which they go through in making a living and carrying on their daily pursuits.

I spent some time today checking over the plane and getting everything ready to continue the trip back to Pampa. It is impossible to tell definitely just when we will arrive for there are thousands of miles to be covered between now and Friday. But we will be there in time for the parade Friday afternoon. I am sure. We must be there and when you realize that something is absolutely necessary it is surprising how easily you can do it.

THE PERFECT WIFE
ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Brains, beauty, personality and style—that all men students at the University of Rochester ask of their brides.
Of course, the little woman also should know how to cook, sew, and be well versed in all domestic arts "until we make enough to hire help."
She should be generous, a good hostess, have a sense of humor and the desire to improve her mind, a campus survey showed.
In case some girls should be taken aback by these requirements, the boys qualified their demand for beauty thus: "Good looks enough to stack up against the best of them, although not necessarily beautiful."

When the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce expedition reached Polazero, where the airplanes were left when Capt. Kleinschmidt and his party took to the reindeer sleighs, mischievous Jack Frost had been there and covered the plane—and even Santa's whiskers—with frost. Pictured above are Santa Claus, Jack Frost, a reindeer team which was left behind today, and an Eskimo village. Santa Claus is coming to Pampa December 6 for Santa Day!

Gray County Boy Wins Chicago Trip

Billy Wilson, 14-year-old Gray county 4-H club boy of McLean, through his feeding operations in the last four years has won a trip to the National Boys' 4-H club congress to be held at Chicago December 1 to 7, according to County Agent Ralph R. Thomas.

This trip is offered by the Santa Fe railway to state winners who live in counties touched by the road's lines. He left last night.

During the past four years, Billy has sold eleven baby beavers and five lambs to the value of 1,054.77 and has received $164 in prize money. He has shown calves at the community shows at McLean and Pampa, at the Panhandle Baby Beef show at Amarillo, at Lubbock, and the Kansas City Royal, being well up in the money at each show. At present he has five calves on feed for the Panhandle Baby Beef show next spring.

The total expense on the animals sold, including the purchase price of the eleven calves and five lambs, was $522.80, leaving a net profit of $531.97.

Walter Britten won a similar trip in Carson county.

Hannibal Ends Mark Twain Fete

HANNIBAL, Mo., Dec. 2. (AP)—This quiet Mississippi river town, immortalized by Mark Twain, Saturday ended its year-long centennial commemoration of the humorist's birth.

It was here, with the swirling river, Cardiff hill and cave and countryside that Samuel Clemens spent the boyhood years that so markedly influenced his writings.

It was from the river, on which he later became a pilot, that Clemens took his pen name for the writings that made him world famous.

Hannibal's homage to its most famous son began January 15, when President Roosevelt pressed a key at the white house that lit a perpetual beacon on Cardiff hill.

The president again took the occasion to praise "our beloved Mark Twain" as the centennial commemoration ended with a banquet attended by 350 persons.

FIVE MILLION TREES SET OUT IN SHELTERBELT

Only One Mile of Trees Planted in Texas

LINCOLN, Neb., Dec. 2. (AP)—With 5,000,000 trees already planted in six states, officials of the $75,000,000 federal shelterbelt project today set the second year's activities well under way with extended experimental fall planting in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Work started last week on the fall experimental work, which if successful, will relieve the rush of spring planting. About 2,000,000 trees will go into the fall experiment.

The first tree in the project was planted March 18, 1935, in Oklahoma and the last of the spring planting was done in South Dakota June 7. Jones said 125 miles of tree strips were planted during that period, on 232 Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, North and South Dakota farms in 51 counties.

Of the total mileage, covering about 2,500 acres, 38 were in North Dakota, 28 in South Dakota, 2 in Nebraska, 24 in Kansas, 14 in Oklahoma and one in Texas.

About 50,000,000 trees are in 20 nurseries in the six states. Oklahoma, Kansas, South Dakota, and Nebraska each have four nurseries; North Dakota has three, and Texas one.

Almost all of the land for the next year of planting—fall and spring—has been contracted for on the strip. Each strip will contain from 12 to 18 rows of trees with the rows about six to 12 feet apart.

Jones explained that the shelterbelt is to conserve spring and winter soil moisture for the land, and to break surface winds in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the severe dust storms of last spring.

The purpose of the project, Jones explained, is to conserve spring and winter soil moisture for the land, and to break surface winds in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the severe dust storms of last spring.

Bitter Foe of New Deal Joins Power Systems

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. (AP)—Associated Gas and Electric corporation, one of the bitterest foes of the new deal's utility law, was shown in a report, received by the securities commission today to have joined other holding companies in seeking to restrain the act's enforcement.

The suit was filed in Washington, but the commission's first word of it was the receipt of the bill of complaint today.

The company asked the court to declare the act unconstitutional. The total of registered companies was brought to 50 with the filing late yesterday of the Mission Oil company of Kansas City. Registration was still possible although the deadline passed at midnight last night.

Later registration will be proper but such registrants faced a possibility that their activities may have been illegal between Dec. 1 and the time of their actual registration.

DUCE DIRECTS 900 MOTHERS TO MOBILIZE

SANCTIONS RESISTANCE TAKEN TO NATION'S COMMUNITIES

By GEORGE JORDAN (Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) ROME, Dec. 2. (AP)—Nine hundred of Italy's mothers and widows of war dead, "mobilized" by Premier Mussolini, took II Duce's program of resistance to sanctions to the nation's communities today.

As the masculine army pushed its campaign on the war front, the feminine forces, formally proclaimed as the "advance guard to that feminine Italian army" opposing League of Nations penalties, went through the nation carrying the slogan, "resist!"

The Gold Star mothers and World War widows took their unprecedented charge from II Duce in ceremonies yesterday and turned back to their home today, to marshal their battalions against the league, after a reception by Pope Pius XI.

Those swinging into farming towns found some men already aroused to the campaign by distribution of crop prizes to 5,221 of the 22,000 participants in Mussolini's competition for improvement of grain production, land cultivation, animal breeding and horticultural production.

Many of the winners in the four-class competition for crops improvement returned to the government today to aid it in the fight against sanctions—the medals and money they received yesterday at ceremonies in rural centers.

The women, too, after being addressed by Mussolini in the big, ornate Palazzo Venezia, pledged "indomitable resistance" to sanctions and many presented their sons' medals to him.

The mothers and wives went throughout the nation with the specific task of spreading from house to house the admonition to all to adhere strictly to regulations for food and fuel conservation, to preserve old paper and other wastes, and to harvest scrap metal and gold for the government.

"I am certain that in returning to your cities you will carry in your hearts these words and will broadcast them everywhere in such a way that they will be the watchwords of every woman in Italy and of the Italian people," Mussolini told them.

The women representing committees of Italy's 94 provinces, were summoned to Rome to be honored as the leaders in the sanctions resistance campaign.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 2. (AP)—After backing and filling dully throughout the greater part of today's session, the stock market staged a rather active retreat in the final hour. Brokers reported many of their customers had decided to adjourn to the sidelines pending further European developments.

The close was heavy, losses of fractions to around 2 points predominating. Transfers approximated 1,500,000 shares.

Chicago Grain
CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—Confronted by evidence of persistent scantiness of European demand for Canadian wheat, the Chicago wheat market today dragged lower.

Speculative buyers of wheat held off pending word of some striking new development in European diplomatic moves regarding Italy. A decrease of 932,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply total attracted only passing notice.

Wheat closed weak 1/2 to 1 cent under Saturday's finish, May 96 1/2-3/4, corn unchanged to 1/2 lower, May 58 1/2-3/4, oats 1/2-3/4 off, and provisions down to 10 to 15 cents.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE STARTS IN GRAY COUNTY DURING WEEK

Sale of the bright little Christmas seals is starting in this and other communities today under the sponsorship of the Gray County Tuberculosis association.

Concerning the movement, James Todd Jr., president of the association, called attention to the following statements: "The National Tuberculosis association says, 'Tuberculosis is unnecessary. We know enough to wipe it out almost overnight if the public would only apply that information.' Buy Christmas Seals and help spread that knowledge."

Nobody knows where tuberculosis will strike next. Penies you spend for Christmas Seals today will help protect everyone and may save your life tomorrow.

The picture of Santa Claus appears more often on the Christmas Seals than any other design. This is appropriate, because the greatest gift anyone can receive is health. Christmas Seals help return health to those stricken with tuberculosis.

Christmas Seals cost only a penny each but they finance the greatest organized fight in the world—the campaign against tuberculosis. The disease kills more persons between 15 and 45 than any other disease. Buy Christmas Seals.

A penny for prevention is worth dollars for cure. Buy Christmas Seals and help prevent tuberculosis in Pampa.

The Christmas Seal this year depicts a young lady of the 1890's mailing a letter. In those days nobody knew the cause of tuberculosis. But we know today. And what is better, we know how to prevent and cure it. Christmas Seals raise money to help pay the cost of prevention.

Tuberculosis is a community problem and everyone should do his part to overcome it. Buy Christmas Seals. They help protect everyone from tuberculosis.

Christmas Seals serve a dual purpose: they decorate Christmas mail and help fight tuberculosis.

The Christmas Seal is a symbol. It symbolizes the determination of millions of persons to wipe out tuberculosis.

Son of Wealthy New York Family Fined, Sentenced

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 2. (AP)—A fine of $100 and a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction were imposed on Bennett Y. Ryan, son of a New York magazine official, today for an assault on a Harvard university janitor.

The district court ruled Ryan must report monthly for two years to a probation officer.

Ryan, a junior, who has been dropped as a student by Harvard, was convicted of assault and battery on Frank Foster, frail 67-year-old janitor, during a fracas after a football game on the evening of Oct. 25. Foster, severely injured, was discharged from a hospital recently, blind in one eye.

Judge Louis L. Green imposed sentence after Ryan's counsel had disclosed that Ryan's parents had paid the 100-pound janitor of an exclusive Harvard dormitory $7,000 as amends for the injuries suffered in the assault.

Foster, on the witness stand, said he did not wish to see Ryan go to jail.

Funeral Services For Woman Held
McLEAN, Dec. 2.—Funeral services for Mrs. Bryan Roby were conducted yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Maude Busby of Post City in charge. Burial followed in McLean cemetery.

Mrs. Roby died Friday in an Oklahoma City hospital following an extended illness. She had been a long-time resident of McLean.

Surviving are her husband, two small sons, Tommie and Charles; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Bascom and three sisters and three brothers, residents of Wellington.

BROADMAN DIES
WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 2. (AP)—Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday for L. L. Boardman, 47, president of the Boardman oil company and resident of Wichita Falls for 21 years. Mr. Boardman died Sunday afternoon in a Wichita Falls hospital as a result of injuries he received in an automobile accident Nov. 12.

Mrs. W. F. Dubbs returned Sunday from Amarillo, where she has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Homer Duval and their baby daughter, Willie Jean, who was born Nov. 23. Mrs. Duval, a daughter of Mrs. Dubbs, was the former Miss Angeline Dubbs, teacher in the Pampa schools.

WAR FILM COMING HERE IS FROM VERY POPULAR VOLUME

"One of the most exciting books that has come to hand." In these words Herbert Bayard Swope, famous editor, described "The First World War," edited by Laurence Stallings, at the time of its publication a year ago.

This sensational volume of war photographs has now been used as the basis for a motion picture, Fox Film's production, "The First World War," which will show at La Nora theater December 3 and 4, auspices the Pampa Post Veterans of Foreign Wars. The production includes many secret films from the archives of the great nations, revealing many shots never before revealed to the public.

The picture's popularity is expected to equal or even exceed that of the book, which, at a retail cost of $2.75, sold 100,000 copies in the United States and approximately the same number in England. Over 55 newspapers, with combined circulation of 13,000,000, have published the material also.

Now, it is pointed out, the amazing "stills" reproduced in the Stallings volume have come to life on the screen. The sensational events of the book may at last be seen "in action"—as they were recorded during the war by the official cameramen of many nations. Stallings himself has edited the film and has provided a running comment for delivery by Pedro de Cordoba, noted actor.

King George, his mother, Queen Alexandra, and Lloyd George, before Buckingham Palace, are seen greeting the first U. S. troops in London during the world war.

Alberta Farmer Is Wheat King
CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—W. Frelan Weiford, grain farmer from Stavely, Alberta, Can., was crowned wheat king for 1935 at the international live stock exposition's 17th annual grain and hay show today.

Weiford won the title, one of the major honors of the show, with grain of the reward variety. His sample weighed 66.6 pounds per bushel.

Reserve champion of the wheat growers was another Canadian, William Rogers of Tappen, B. C. He showed Durum of the Mindun type. His grain weighed 65.4 pounds per bushel.

PRINCE OF WALES WINS
CHICAGO, Dec. 2. (AP)—His royal highness, the Prince of Wales, won first prize in the breeding short-horn division at the International Livestock exposition today with his two-year-old bull, Bapton Orator.

The blue ribbon animal, called Bapton Orator because of his voluminous bellows, nosed out another Canadian entry, Crugleton Wellington, shown by the Imperial Oil, Ltd., Toronto, which was second.
