H. D. Council To Honor 4-H Girls

County Council of the home demonstration clubs held its regular meeting Saturday in the county home demonstration agent's office with Mrs. H. H. Keahy presiding at the business session which was attended by Judge Sherman White, John Haggard, T. O. Kirby, and A. Carpenter, members of the commissioners court.

Modern Menus

Crumbs give richer flavor to simple dishes. Even the humble beet is better for a few bread crumbs now and then. Escaloped Beets (Serves 4 to 6) One and one-half cups bread crumbs, 4 tablespoons melted butter, 3 cups raw beets, cut in 1-2 inch cubes, 1 onion chopped coarsely, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, 1 1/2 cups milk. Combine butter and bread crumbs. Mix well. Grease baking dish. Place layers of beets, chopped onion and bread crumbs in dish, having layer of bread crumbs on top. Sprinkle each layer with salt and pepper. Pour in milk. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for about 1 hour. Here's another use for bread crumbs. It is a hearty dish, therefore when you include it in your menu, cut down on the meat a little. It makes a perfect one-dish luncheon, too. Tomato Custard (Serves 4 to 6) Two and one-fourth cups tomatoes, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons butter, 3-4 cup dry bread crumbs, 3 eggs. Heat tomatoes with salt, pepper and butter. Remove from fire. Add bread crumbs and mix well. Beat eggs slightly, then slowly add to tomato mixture to eggs. Stir well, then pour into greased casserole. Set in pan of water and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 40 minutes. Although it's still a month away to George Washington's birthday, we might experiment now with a cherry. It's more or less a custard, but is red in color and cherry, cherry nice to taste. Cherry Bread Pudding (8 servings) One No. 2 can pitted sour cherries, 4 cups soft bread crumbs, 3 eggs, 3 cups liquid (cherry juice and milk), 1 cup sugar, dash cinnamon, 2 tablespoons butter. Eutier casserole. Drain cherries and combine them with the soft bread cubes. Arrange cubes and cherries in alternate layers in casserole. Beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, cinnamon and cherry juice plus enough milk to make a full 3 cups of liquid. Pour this combination over the casserole. Dot top with pieces of butter. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 1/4 hours. Serve hot with either hard sauce or slightly whipped cream.

OFFICERS WILL WAR AGAINST SPEED 'BUGS'

AUSTIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Although enforcement of the 7,000-pound load law for trucks will continue this year, officers will direct their efforts mainly against speeders and reckless drivers.

This is the announcement of Chief L. G. Phares of the highway patrol in revealing violations of the maximum load law—10,899—led all others in 1937.

"I have told the men to get out on the roads and reduce speeding and recklessness which brings loss of human life," he said.

Forecasting the policy would draw criticism from carriers competing with truck lines, the chief said the patrol was "caught between two fires" regardless of its policies toward trucks.

"The truck interests claim we make too many arrests and the railroads assert we do not make enough," the chief said.

In support of his instructions emphasis on offenses other than load limit violations, he pointed to 1,192 arrests for load violations in November last year and 989 in December. There might be a corresponding reduction during this and other months this year," he said.

Col. H. H. Carmichael, director, said the public safety department would have between 230 and 240 highway patrolmen on the roads and 20 truck weighers after a new complement of officers are trained and assigned. The department is selecting 74 trainees from more than 3,000 applicants.

He said the patrolmen would do "100 per cent patrol duty" leaving truck weighing to 20 men to be assigned exclusively to that work. Currently the patrol has 188 men of which 46 to 50 are devoting most of their time to driver's license examinations but after the new men are assigned the license bureau will have 85 without detracting from a patrol strength of 230 to 240, Carmichael said.

Thousands of letters bearing contributions to the new national foundation for infantile paralysis piled up in the executive offices during the week-end.

The gifts will be added to receipts from birthday balls held in every state Saturday night.

Mr. Roosevelt, voicing his thanks in a radio talk, said: "It is glorious to have one's birthday associated with a work like this."

Although the anniversary was yesterday, the President observed it a day early.

AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Jan. 31 (AP)—Princess Juliana of the Netherlands today gave her little land of tulips, thrift and windmills a girl princess who may be its third consecutive woman ruler.

The whole nation joined in rejoicing before the last echoes of the royal salute announced that the long wait at the palace was ended with the birth of a girl.

The Hague issued a proclamation printed in orange and blue, the royal colors. It said:

"Fellow citizens, it is with deep felt joy that we proclaim that today, Jan. 31, 1938, through the grace of God is born the princess of Orange-Nassau, princess of Lippe Bielefeld, whereby the hearts desire of all Netherlands people is realized. Long live the royal family."

Both the mother and baby were reported doing well.

PLANE DESIGNER AND WIFE DIE IN CRASH

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Jan. 31 (AP)—The burned bodies of Gerard F. Vultee, aeronautical designer, and his wife, Sylvia, were brought to Flagstaff early today from snow-covered Mount Wilson, where their flaming airplane fell Saturday.

Twelve men more than 100 who set out reached the ship after struggling for hours through deep snow, Sheriff Arthur Vandever reported.

Member of the party said the bodies were so badly burned that they were identified only through a wrist watch on Vultee's arm.

The small monoplane plunged to the ground in flames as Vultee sought to pass through a blinding snow storm while en route to his home in Glendale, Calif.

Robinson said the plane apparently caught fire in the air and was an inferno as it plunged to the ground. Vultee, 38, and his wife appeared to have been locked in the cabin as it burned from around them, he reported to Sheriff Arthur Vandever.

WRITERS 'RIB' CELEBRITIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (AP)—The New York baseball writers went to work on players, magnates and just plain fans at their annual get-together, and early today, by alternating the sublime with the ridiculous, here was the score:

Superlatives. . . Joe Dimaggio walked out with a plaque as the outstanding player of 1937; Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, white-haired and peppery as ever, drew another for "meritorious service to the game."

Charlie McCarthy. . . Tom Yawkey, smiling through it all, heard himself labelled (in one of the vaudeville skits) as the man who foots the bills for whatever "dummy" Eddie Collins recommends.

Keep punching. . . That was the watchword the "late" and ex-mayor Jimmy Walker left with the scribes. Keep punching at the magnates and players, because Americans won't stand for anything other than the absolute "four-square" with their national game, said Jimmy.

"I wonder" . . . the Babe stood up and gave the annual New York chapter baseball writers association dinner a new nickname. "I call 'em the "I wonder dinners," explained Ruth, "because each year, I wonder just which ones among my old time pals will still be alive."

About 1,000 magnates, players, writers and fans were on hand for the 15th annual dinner of the New York chapter of the baseball writers.

The "ribbing" the writers handed! the various figures of the game, from Judge Landis down to the batboys, was hardly offset by the few serious keynotes. The writers, in their usual stage show, panned virtually every figure in the game and "needled" every club from their own Yankees, Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers all the way around both circuits to the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns.

WHAT CATHARTICS DO TO YOU!

Harsh pills and purgatives often over-stimulate your intestines . . . and leave them weak and listless.

If your constipation is of the common type that is due to insufficient bulk, there's a better way to treat it. Kellogg's All-Bran supplies the bulk you need. It absorbs moisture and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. But All-Bran does still more. It contains vitamin B . . . the vitamin that helps tone the intestinal tract.

Eat Kellogg's All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CHICAGO DOCTOR SAYS LOYALISTS WILL WIN

BOSTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Returning from war-torn Spain after seven months medical service with the Loyalist forces, Dr. Marcus Fried, of Chicago, today predicted victory for the government but not before another year of fighting.

Dr. Fried went to Spain last May with Dr. Abraham Ettelson, noted Chicago brain surgeon, who remained in Spain. Dr. Fried said there were only about 5,000 foreigners fighting for the Loyalists, but that Franco's army included 120,000 Italians and that "new shipments are constantly arriving from Libya."

There have been a lot of jokes about the "talking barber" who insists on engaging his customers in conversation, but now comes information that the breed is fast disappearing.

An enterprising Memphis newspaper reporter toured the city's barber shops and found not a single tonsorial artist who tried to start conversation. Many, he reported, would not even talk when he started the ball rolling.

If talking barbers really are disappearing, it will mean the passing of a long-lived American institution—which few, incidentally, will mourn.

One barber said some shops now enforce a "silence" rule. But the best guess would be that they found themselves outclassed when women clients invaded the shops, and haven't been able to get going since.

Odd, but interesting.

Round-The-World Flight

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It's an exciting, broadening, wearying, and at times exasperating experience—this business of being a hotel man in New York. But Charles E. Rochester wouldn't want it any other way.

Just who is Charles E. Rochester anyway?

He is czar, host, counselor, nursemaid, friend, and foster-parent to a great many people who live in a particular world of their own—that curious, ungluing, often puzzling, ever-fascinating world which is any great metropolitan hotel.

Mr. Rochester's particular world is the Lexington, a modern skyscraper edifice on Lexington avenue which stands within two skips and a jump of the spot where Washington once fled from the British.

Czar? Well, he has hundreds of subjects. Their dispositions naturally are complex and different.

Host? A glance at the register will show that not a day passes that diplomats, generals, actors, famous aviators, business men, plain citizens arrive at his door for a day or a week or a year. He is their host. Every guest is entitled to go directly to the manager for anything he wants.

Counselor? Only last week he gave expert advice to one of his employees who wanted to go into business for himself. He has settled lovers' quarrels, been witness to marriages. His own people are always coming to him with some private snarl in their individual lives to be straightened out.

Sometimes it is a contretemps such as a suicide or a death which claims his attention and calls for quick-thinking and prompt action. Such publicity is bad for a hotel, yet occasionally people die in hotels.

Sometimes it is the dead-beat who wines and dines and then attempts to evade paying the check. For these annoyances there are plainclothes-men and house dicks. Their reports are made daily, sometimes hourly. Mr. Rochester has to hear these reports, make instant decisions as to what action must be taken.

Then there is the problem of purchasing the vast stores and supplies that are consumed daily in any great hotel. Your managing director has a staff of trained experts to assist in these matters, yet the burden is his—on his shoulders falls the blame if the house dips into the red. That is why he is at once boss and chief cook, supply sergeant and top man. It would be a snap, he says, if there were about 48 hours to every day. But, alas, there are only 24.

At the moment, however, he isn't worrying. He's catching fish off the coast of the Hawaiian islands, dining on ripe pineapples, and acquiring a coat of that exotic moon-burn which you get in the islands. It's his first vacation in seven years.

Cranium Crackers

Editor's note: This is the first of a new series of "Cranium Crackers," presenting readers with a daily mystery or problem deduction. All clues necessary for solving the puzzle are presented below.

Merton Harrison Williams, a wealthy lawyer, was found dead in his study by his butler, Jackson Thornton.

When police arrived to view the body and open their investigation into the death, Thornton told them he had left Williams playing cards at 10 o'clock that night and had returned to the study shortly before seven cards with faces showing were on the table and a half filled cocktail glass was on a table at his right. In addition, a new deck of cards was spread out on the table in seven neatly arranged piles for a game of solitaire.

Police then decided Williams had been murdered and that the cards were merely a false clue.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Barring an extra's complete oblivion, the greatest anxiety in Hollywood is enjoyed by the girl who plays "second lead." She can be beautiful and a fine actress, she can be as agreeable and pleasant and surprising as ice water at a cocktail bar, but in the Hollywood spotlight she just isn't.

Why this should be isn't clear, unless you fall back on the obvious, which isn't necessarily true. As a second lead, she's always eclipsed by the greater glitter of the star.

Some of us were ruminating on this circumstance the other day, and the name of Margaret Lindsay arose as the perfect example.

Say "Margaret Lindsay" in any gathering of movie reporters and they'll all think—"Oh, yes, the girl who got into pictures by pretending she was British."

Same Old Story

That's been the "angle" on Margaret for five years now—ever since she fooled her way into the all-English cast of "Cavalcade." For about two years the publicity men at Warner's have been doing their best to blame Margaret for wearying of it—but they've had no luck. Often, they themselves give up and start their stories with: "When Margaret Kees of Dubuque, Iowa, was unable to crash pictures as an American" etc.

Other "angles" that have found their way into print on the Lindsay girl have been few. It has been dutifully recorded that she and Janet Gayner are good friends, that she attended the American Academy of Dramatic Art in New York City, that she sculpts a little, that she is fond of vacations in Mexico, adores Hawaii, and so on. Once her adoration reached the point where she planned to buy an island, but to date there's no deed of transfer recorded. She dresses smartly, is a favorite companion of some of the colony's most eligible young men; she makes a nice salary, puts enough of it away, and keeps on playing second leads with an occasional first lead in second-string pictures.

Margaret Objected

Among her workers she is rated very easy to get along with, an excellent actress, a sincere and hard-working performer, intelligent and sympathetic. About the only occasion on which her nice disposition was ruffled arose because of a publicity man's desire to depart from the she-said-she-was-English angle. The young man, going into communion with himself, produced a little squib to the effect that Miss Lindsay, when troubled with a sore throat, always found prompt relief in gargling hot beer!

This item found its way to print, and in due course to Miss Lindsay's eyes. She lost no time in nailing the canard, which ranks for truth along with Paul Muni's beard rumor, many of Errol Flynn's wild adventures, and Humphrey Bogart's habit of wearing his shoes on the wrong foot in order to achieve realistic expressions of pain.

VALLEY OIL FLOW UP

McALLEN, Jan. 31. (AP)—Lower Rio Grande valley oil production during 1937 hit a new all-time high when 2,461,912 barrels of crude were produced in Hidalgo, Brooks, Starr and Wilcox counties, according to figures released by George H. Sheppard, state comptroller at Austin. The entire Southwest Texas area showed an increase of 23.13 per cent in 1937 over 1936, total production for last year being 38,107,681 barrels as compared with 30,975,497 barrels the preceding year.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

While a certain amount of muscular activity is essential for health, physical exercise as such can not make amends for deficiencies in diet and hygiene, as we said yesterday. Furthermore, excessive muscular activity in the presence of malnutrition may severely injure the body.

This last point deserves emphasis for it applies to a large group of adolescents and young people who are keen about sports and would rather play than eat.

In supervised athletics, the coach will insist on strict adherence to the prescribed diet, and to the regulations about rest. The coach knows he can't win with a poorly fed and fatigued team. More than that, he has a sense of responsibility for the youngsters whom he is training and he won't drive them at the cost of their health and future well-being.

But those who play on teams and take part in supervised athletics constitute the minority. Many more youngsters just "play," and more than a few overdo it. From this group come many of the cases of juvenile tuberculosis.

The individual fond of athletics must eat accordingly. His diet should contain between 3,000 and 4,000 calories a day during the period he is most active. His rest periods should be long enough to let him get up every morning refreshed from his sleep.

But as to physical fitness, it is nutrition and not exercise that must be accorded first place. The healthy young animal which is well fed and well rested "aches" to be active. It is only the older persons, those tied to their jobs and responsibilities, that require some stimulation to exercise. Here too it is not so much exercise as recreation that is wanted.

Many a man who labors through setting up calisthenics grumpy and ill-tempered, as if he were taking some nauseating medicine, would do better if he walked awhile, instead, or bent half a hundred times while tending a backyard garden.

More than a few of these individuals are overweight. Obesity may be as serious a state of "malnutrition" as gross underweight. The fat person and the muscle bound one are not physically fit. Neither is likely to be "perfectly adapted to his environment."

And in the last analysis such adaptation is most desirable, serving as a good standard of physical fitness.

WIVES TO RIDE FREE IN SHIPS ON WEST LINES

AMARILLO, Jan. 31.—Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., today boldly faced the problem of some wives who frown on husbands flying by announcing that effective yesterday they will transport as guests of the line, without charge, the wives of husbands who purchase one way or round trip tickets between Amarillo and Albuquerque, Winslow, Los Angeles or San Francisco, during the month of February only.

The courtesy flights for wives will be good on any of the schedules operated daily between these points by TWA.

John E. Walker, TWA vice president, said: "The decision of TWA to make this nation-wide offer arose from the fact that many wives have put their foot down on air travel, chiefly because they are unfamiliar with modern air transportation. We are convinced that the best way to get a person, man or woman, used to air travel is to get that person to make one flight. A single air line trip is a far better sales argument than all of the booklets we could write."

In announcing this new departure in air travel, TWA establishes the lowest rates in air travel history. In conjunction with excursion round trip rates, a husband and wife, leaving Amarillo on a Saturday, Sunday or Monday, and returning within the 15-day limit, may fly to Los Angeles and back for $42.25 each. From Amarillo to Albuquerque for $11.95 each; from Amarillo to Winslow for $21.67 each; from Amarillo to San Francisco for $56.66 each. These rates include all compulsory meals aloft, and 35 pounds of baggage for each husband and wife carried free of charge.

TWA's decision to invite wives to accompany their husbands, as guests of the line, is a new sales approach to interest wives in flying and to give force to the old "saw" that "two" can live as cheaply as one.

NAZIS ARMING MEXICO DECLARES SOLO

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 31. (AP)—Congressman Jerry J. O'Connell, Montana, in an interview here today said Germany is supplying arms and ammunition to Fascist bands in Mexico. He predicted a general Nazi uprising in two months.

"That information," said the Democrat from Butte, when he arrived here today, "has come to the liberal bloc of congress of which I am a member."

"We have proof that Germany is supplying arms and ammunition to an army of 100,000 men now forming in the Guadalupe hills of Mexico under General Saturnino Cedillo. Activity of the Nazi and Fascist movement in North and South America cannot be too greatly over-emphasized. I am convinced that Mexico will undergo a Fascist revolt in 60 days."

"A Nazi Mexico would be a base for operations against the United States by Germany, Italy and Japan."

MARKETMAN WINS CASE, KNOWS LAW REPEALED

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (AP)—James Brown, a 19-year-old fish market employe, won his freedom in Magistrate Frank Oliver's court today by quoting law—of the lack of it.

He was charged with violation of section 10, chapter 20 of the municipal code against sweeping refuse into the gutter after 8 a. m.

"Not guilty," said Brown, "can't be Section 10, chapter 20, has been repealed."

"If that's so you know more about it than I do," said the magistrate. He checked up, then told Brown: "I bow to your superior knowledge of the law. Honorably discharged."

Terrie Shell May Be Daniel Boone Rele

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—The inscription, "1787, D. Boone," on the bottom of a hollow tortoise shell may eventually prove to be an authentic signature of the famous Indian fighter, says Kenneth J. Reynolds, the shell's owner.

Reynolds says the shell was found by his stepfather on the bank of Otter Creek, Lycoming County, Pa., a region known to have been visited by Boone, who was born near Reading, Pa.

Prof. Agnes M. Orbison of the Elmira College science department, who has examined the shell, believes that the signature may be authentic.

Shadow On The Land

This space devised by the local American Legion post, sponsors of the local campaign against syphilis.

A syphilis program over the past decade as effective as Denmark's would have reduced the 60,000 annual cases of a child born with syphilis in the United States 2,600.

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

Before God there are no degrees in sin, and the one unforgivable sin is failure to accept the Son of God as Savior, but the man who has been the greatest sinner, it would seem, should become God's most devoted servant, therefore when Jesus forgave the woman at the Pharisee's house, the Pharisee acknowledged that it was the one to whom he forgave most that would love him the most.—Chivers.

BARNUM WAS RIGHT

The belief seems to be general that confidence men and grafters must seek out trusting widows or gullible old gentlemen with a life's saving in order to carry out their crafty machinations.

Their schemes, it is sometimes argued, are too transparent to be swallowed by worldly wise persons. But if that's true, what's the explanation for the recent occurrence in Williamsport, Pa., a thriving, modern city of 50,000.

A slicker appeared before city council, presumably a group of intelligent men who know what it's all about, and sold them on his idea for establishing a hatchery to produce a new "wormless chicken."

Before the stranger skipped town he had cashed $3000 in worthless checks; obtained $2000 in cash for new cars which he never delivered; required two prospective employes to post $400 in cash bond for non-existent jobs, and collected $100 for a demonstrator which was never delivered.

Those who realize that America's fate one day will rest in the hands of young people now in colleges and universities will be interested in results of a survey recently reported to the National Conference of Church-Related Colleges.

No one was particularly startled when the survey showed that more than 50 per cent of young men and women between the ages of 16 and 24 drink liquor and believe marriage should be postponed until the age of 26.

But isn't it a matter of concern that the study revealed that youth has scant faith in politics and politicians and their ability to make democracy work?

Only 2 per cent of those interviewed said they would ever consider entering politics. Asked to name the things that mean success in politics, the young people gave such answers as:

Money, graft, bribery, machine politics, propaganda, false promises and ignorance of the voters.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31—Now the New York Stock Exchange knows what it is likely to get from the Securities and Exchange Commission as operated under Chairman William O. Douglas.

The SEC has just whammed down on bear raiding and short selling by ordering that short sales be made only at a price above the last transaction in the stock concerned. SEC did this, however, on no more information than that which the exchange itself already had gathered.

Here's the story behind the ruling:

After studying short sales for two sample weeks last fall, the Stock Exchange made a statement which appeared designed to dress up facts and figures to make them prettier than they really were and to bury some of the most significant phases.

Finally, the Stock Exchange statement said, the figures would be turned over to the Twentieth Century Fund for analysis, and the SEC could look at them if it so desired. SEC members looked on that as a back-handed slap and promptly went to work on their own analysis.

The result was the first trading rule which SEC actually has promulgated for the Stock Exchange. The rule carries penalties for violation and in this punitive feature differs from rules imposed by exchanges "in co-operation" with the SEC.

Although the SEC doesn't say so, it concluded that 11 members of the New York exchange were bear raiding in a distressed market, pushing down the whole list by concentrating on bellwether or leader stocks day after day. It isn't suggested that there was any concerted effort to discredit the administration, but it has been demonstrated that bears pushed the market well below points where it could have been held by public support.

Short selling is sale of stock which the seller doesn't own, in expectation of decline to a price at which the seller can buy and deliver. A parallel would occur if A were to sell an automobile to B for $1500 in anticipation that automobiles would be cheaper. A would then borrow a car from an automobile company, deliver it to B and collect the $1500 buy a similar car for $1000 if the price dropped to that point, give it to the automobile company and pocket $500 profit. Of course that sort of thing doesn't occur in the automobile business. But it used to go on in the stock market.

Short selling is sale of stock which the seller doesn't own, in expectation of decline to a price at which the seller can buy and deliver. A parallel would occur if A were to sell an automobile to B for $1500 in anticipation that automobiles would be cheaper. A would then borrow a car from an automobile company, deliver it to B and collect the $1500 buy a similar car for $1000 if the price dropped to that point, give it to the automobile company and pocket $500 profit. Of course that sort of thing doesn't occur in the automobile business. But it used to go on in the stock market.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Pampa's new city commission and its city manager spent more than four hours in receiving propositions and assimilating data on which to base action.

Plans were being made to open the Pampa Floral shop which was to be operated by Mr. and Mrs. O. Tiedeman of Dallas.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It's an exciting, broadening, wearying, and at times exasperating experience—this business of being a hotel man in New York. But Charles E. Rochester wouldn't want it any other way.

Just who is Charles E. Rochester anyway?

He is czar, host, counselor, nursemaid, friend, and foster-parent to a great many people who live in a particular world of their own—that curious, ungluing, often puzzling, ever-fascinating world which is any great metropolitan hotel.

Mr. Rochester's particular world is the Lexington, a modern skyscraper edifice on Lexington avenue which stands within two skips and a jump of the spot where Washington once fled from the British.

Czar? Well, he has hundreds of subjects. Their dispositions naturally are complex and different.

Host? A glance at the register will show that not a day passes that diplomats, generals, actors, famous aviators, business men, plain citizens arrive at his door for a day or a week or a year. He is their host. Every guest is entitled to go directly to the manager for anything he wants.

Counselor? Only last week he gave expert advice to one of his employees who wanted to go into business for himself. He has settled lovers' quarrels, been witness to marriages. His own people are always coming to him with some private snarl in their individual lives to be straightened out.

Sometimes it is a contretemps such as a suicide or a death which claims his attention and calls for quick-thinking and prompt action. Such publicity is bad for a hotel, yet occasionally people die in hotels.

Sometimes it is the dead-beat who wines and dines and then attempts to evade paying the check. For these annoyances there are plainclothes-men and house dicks. Their reports are made daily, sometimes hourly. Mr. Rochester has to hear these reports, make instant decisions as to what action must be taken.

Then there is the problem of purchasing the vast stores and supplies that are consumed daily in any great hotel. Your managing director has a staff of trained experts to assist in these matters, yet the burden is his—on his shoulders falls the blame if the house dips into the red. That is why he is at once boss and chief cook, supply sergeant and top man. It would be a snap, he says, if there were about 48 hours to every day. But, alas, there are only 24.

At the moment, however, he isn't worrying. He's catching fish off the coast of the Hawaiian islands, dining on ripe pineapples, and acquiring a coat of that exotic moon-burn which you get in the islands. It's his first vacation in seven years.

Cranium Crackers

Editor's note: This is the first of a new series of "Cranium Crackers," presenting readers with a daily mystery or problem deduction. All clues necessary for solving the puzzle are presented below.

Merton Harrison Williams, a wealthy lawyer, was found dead in his study by his butler, Jackson Thornton.

When police arrived to view the body and open their investigation into the death, Thornton told them he had left Williams playing cards at 10 o'clock that night and had returned to the study shortly before seven cards with faces showing were on the table and a half filled cocktail glass was on a table at his right. In addition, a new deck of cards was spread out on the table in seven neatly arranged piles for a game of solitaire.

Police then decided Williams had been murdered and that the cards were merely a false clue.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Barring an extra's complete oblivion, the greatest anxiety in Hollywood is enjoyed by the girl who plays "second lead." She can be beautiful and a fine actress, she can be as agreeable and pleasant and surprising as ice water at a cocktail bar, but in the Hollywood spotlight she just isn't.

Why this should be isn't clear, unless you fall back on the obvious, which isn't necessarily true. As a second lead, she's always eclipsed by the greater glitter of the star.

Some of us were ruminating on this circumstance the other day, and the name of Margaret Lindsay arose as the perfect example.

Say "Margaret Lindsay" in any gathering of movie reporters and they'll all think—"Oh, yes, the girl who got into pictures by pretending she was British."

Same Old Story

That's been the "angle" on Margaret for five years now—ever since she fooled her way into the all-English cast of "Cavalcade." For about two years the publicity men at Warner's have been doing their best to blame Margaret for wearying of it—but they've had no luck. Often, they themselves give up and start their stories with: "When Margaret Kees of Dubuque, Iowa, was unable to crash pictures as an American" etc.

Other "angles" that have found their way into print on the Lindsay girl have been few. It has been dutifully recorded that she and Janet Gayner are good friends, that she attended the American Academy of Dramatic Art in New York City, that she sculpts a little, that she is fond of vacations in Mexico, adores Hawaii, and so on. Once her adoration reached the point where she planned to buy an island, but to date there's no deed of transfer recorded. She dresses smartly, is a favorite companion of some of the colony's most eligible young men; she makes a nice salary, puts enough of it away, and keeps on playing second leads with an occasional first lead in second-string pictures.

Margaret Objected

Among her workers she is rated very easy to get along with, an excellent actress, a sincere and hard-working performer, intelligent and sympathetic. About the only occasion on which her nice disposition was ruffled arose because of a publicity man's desire to depart from the she-said-she-was-English angle. The young man, going into communion with himself, produced a little squib to the effect that Miss Lindsay, when troubled with a sore throat, always found prompt relief in gargling hot beer!

This item found its way to print, and in due course to Miss Lindsay's eyes. She lost no time in nailing the canard, which ranks for truth along with Paul Muni's beard rumor, many of Errol Flynn's wild adventures, and Humphrey Bogart's habit of wearing his shoes on the wrong foot in order to achieve realistic expressions of pain.

VALLEY OIL FLOW UP

McALLEN, Jan. 31. (AP)—Lower Rio Grande valley oil production during 1937 hit a new all-time high when 2,461,912 barrels of crude were produced in Hidalgo, Brooks, Starr and Wilcox counties, according to figures released by George H. Sheppard, state comptroller at Austin. The entire Southwest Texas area showed an increase of 23.13 per cent in 1937 over 1936, total production for last year being 38,107,681 barrels as compared with 30,975,497 barrels the preceding year.

JAPS PUSHED BACK, CHINESE TROOPS CLAIM

SHANGHAI, Jan. 31. (P)—Chinese and Japanese troops fought a series of heavy engagements along the Tientsin-Pukow railway today, with Chinese asserting they had pushed back Japanese invaders at strategic points.

Japanese driving northward along the Tientsin-Pukow toward Suchow, junction point with the Lunghai "lifeline" railway, were said to have been driven back to Mingkwang, 38 miles southeast of Pengpu.

Pengpu, approximately 95 miles south of Suchow, has been the focal point of the Japanese advance northward toward Nanking. Another column has been attempting to march southward toward Suchow from bases in southern Shantung province.

Chinese asserted their forces had captured a large number of Japanese prisoners near Mingkwang, and announced successes in continuous guerilla warfare on all fronts.

It was apparent that Chinese irregulars have been harassing the Japanese, even between Shanghai and Nanking. Frequently reports have reached Shanghai that trucks and boats carrying supplies to Nanking have been ambushed.

White Russian truck drivers employed by Japanese to transport war materials to Nanking refused to make additional trips without convicts because of Chinese guerilla activities along the road.

Coincident with the Chinese reports of guerilla gains came Japanese announcement that bombing planes had attacked Haichow eastern terminus of the Lunghai railway, inflicting considerable damage. Japanese earlier had announced that in the last 48 hours "at least 3,000 Chinese" had been slain on the southern fringe of the Lunghai front and in the Wuhu and Coochow areas of the Yangtze river battlefield.

Millions of Chinese, meanwhile, celebrated the start of traditional Chinese New Year festivities with temple services, feasts in their homes, and explosion of firecrackers—except in Shanghai, where firecrackers were banned.

SWITZERLAND DEMANDS NEUTRALITY FOR SELF

GENEVA, Jan. 31. (P)—Little Switzerland announced today she would demand complete neutrality for herself, involving freedom from all League of Nations membership obligations.

The Swiss delegate, Camille Gorge, indicated, however, that Switzerland would not press the demand before the present session of the council but would wait until May.

Switzerland, Gorge said, could not, above all, be compelled to apply sanctions which might expose her to dangers against which he said there was not sufficient protection in the league.

U. T. Unden of Sweden, who, with Gorge, spoke before the league committee of 23, urged the league officials to recognize that sanctions "are suspended in fact."

Dr. W. K. Wellington Koo, the Chinese delegate, announced he had been instructed by his government to continue to urge the council to adopt a resolution inviting league members to take individual action to aid China in her war against Japan.

Power was under way, Maxim Litvinoff was reported seeking to persuade Great Britain and France today to join in asking the United States to participate in a scheme to aid China economically in her war with Japan.

The Russian foreign commissar was said to be pressing through London and Paris for support of a four-power proposal to extend financial help to China and boycott Japan.

JUDGE'S WATCH WON'T RUN, CASE DISMISSED

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 31. (P)—Because Judge John H. Wilson's $100 watch wouldn't keep time with the courthouse clock, the case against Fred Huselton of Butler, convicted by an alderman of shooting deer a few minutes before the season opened at 9 a. m. last Nov. 29 was dismissed today.

Game protector Troy C. Burns claimed Huselton shot a deer several minutes before 9 o'clock. Huselton said the shooting occurred at three minutes past the hour.

Judge Wilson pointed out: "I have a watch that I paid $100 for and it can't keep time with the courthouse clock, or other public time pieces around town.

"Case dismissed."

JAPS REGARD SLAPPING INCIDENT AS SETTLED

TOKYO, Jan. 31. (P)—The Japanese foreign office today regarded as satisfactorily settled the incident in which a Japanese sentry slapped John M. Allison, ranking American embassy official in Nanking.

The foreign office spokesman said the settlement came when Japanese forces at Nanking expressed regrets for the incident.

The vice minister of foreign affairs told Ambassador Joseph G. Grew today that the slapping was an "extremely unfortunate occurrence." He said Major Hongo, Japanese staff officer, had tendered regrets at Nanking in the name of the highest commander.

The American embassy here, which had made representations to the Japanese government over the incident, said that pending action at Washington it was not known whether the apology was acceptable.

Allison was slapped by a Japanese sentry when he was investigating reports that a Chinese woman had been abducted from the building of Nanking and assaulted.

(A Japanese spokesman at Shanghai, who asserted last week that the incident arose from an "insolent attitude" on the part of Allison, said his statement should have read: "The case arose from the bold attitude" adopted by the American diplomat.)

18 MEN RUMORED SLAIN IN MEXICAN GUN FIGHT

MALLEN, Jan. 31. (P)—The McAllen Monitor today said it had an unconfirmed report 18 men were killed in a gun battle at Ramirez, small Mexican town 35 miles east of here.

It was said the fight reputedly took place early today but no light was thrown on the nature of the fight.

The paper said it had reliable information that small bands of Mexicans had been looting in the small Mexican villages along the border for several weeks. The poor condition of agriculture was cited as the chief cause of the unrest, the paper said.

Lately the Monitor reported, the bands have increased in size and some of them have been armed.

Another source reported 1,000 shots were fired in the reported Ramirez fight. This source attached significance to the fact Col. Tibursio Garza Zamora, commandant of the Mexican garrison at Reynosa was "out of the city" this morning.

Government garrison officers refused to comment.

LAND CHIEF INVOLVED IN NEW EVIDENCE

AUSTIN, Jan. 31 (AP)—Gilbert T. Adams, Beaumont attorney, told a Senate investigating committee today that F. S. Sheridan, Land Commissioner William H. McDonald's campaign manager in Houston in 1936, offered last August to aid him in seeking to obtain McDonald's approval of a vacancy claim.

He said he did not accept Sheridan's proposition and the claim had not been allowed. State Land Office employees told him, he said, that they were convinced no vacancy existed.

The committee was on the fifth day of a searching inquiry into state oil leasing and vacancy practices during McDonald's first term of office. Governor James V. Allred had sharply criticized certain practices and was represented in the inquiry by a special attorney.

Adams said Sheridan wrote he would press the vacancy claim before the land office in return for one-half his share if he bore all expense in connection with the claims or three-fourths if he (Sheridan) put up all expenses.

Sheridan later explained in a conversation, Adams testified, the fee was so large because "one-fourth had to be divided among other parties."

Adams testified Sheridan at that time had a law office in Austin. "Sheridan said McDonald had told him that if he came to Austin he (McDonald) would try to help see that he didn't starve to death," Adams asserted.

The committee asked the state highway patrol to be on the lookout for nine persons who had not come here in response to subpoenas.

One of the subpoenaed persons still absent was state representative William O. Coe of Oklahoma City. Coe assertedly was a partner in a few successful bids on submerged state land along the Gulf coast.

Ranger M. E. Naylor said the Oklahoma legislator promised over the telephone he would come to Austin but had not yet appeared.

Adams testified that when he came to Austin to make personal presentation of his vacancy claim to more than 200 acres of Jefferson county land Sheridan was in the land office.

"That might have been pure coincidence, however," he said.

Under a cross questioning by Grady Owen, land office attorney who held the tract was not a vacancy, Adams said he had no reason to believe Sheridan or anyone else could do any more about procuring land office approval of a vacancy than he (Adams) could.

LEVELLAND MAN DIES ON DANCE TRIP DATE

LITTLEFIELD, Jan. 31 (AP)—Tragedy ended the trip of a Levelled couple to a dance in Lubbock, and the body of Alvin Elliott, 24, was removed Sunday afternoon from a tourist camp in which a young woman had been found lying on the floor beside the bed which held the body.

The woman, 25, had recovered sufficiently Sunday night to be questioned, said Sam Houston, chief deputy sheriff. She said that Elliott had told her he was ill when they were en route to Lubbock Saturday night and that they had gone to the Littlefield tourist camp.

In the automobile in which the couple had ridden to Littlefield were found a bottle labeled "solution of poison." And from which approximately "whiskey" and a bottle of antiseptic.

The woman said she did not know of presence of the poison in the car, and that she had gone to sleep early in the morning and did not know of Elliott's death until she was aroused by the tourist camp operator.

Verdict of M. W. Brewer, Littlefield Justice of Peace, awaited report from the state toxicologist. Elliott's viscera had been sent to Austin.

Fireman for several reasons. First, they can slide down the "elevators" in the fire station; second, the chief should be able to play on the billiard table in the station, and third, he could order out the fire truck any time he wants it. So the Scouts regard the office of Fire Chief as the plum of the lot.

the car ahead of Clark who was hurled from the running board as he attempted to board the car. Clark saw three men in the machine. He was also able to secure the license number.

Burger officials called local police to be on the lookout for the car, believed to have been one stolen from a San Angelo man. Later, however, it was discovered that the bandit car was not the stolen machine.

A call to Austin revealed that the bandit car had been purchased in Pampa from Fred Cullum. Local officers immediately contacted Mr. Cullum, who went to his place of business and searched records. The name of the purchaser was finally located and officers made the first arrest about 4 a. m.

No charges had been filed against the pair up to noon today, Burger officers said.

FRANCO BOMBS FATAL TO 158 WAR ORPHANS

HENDAYE, France, at the Spanish Frontier, Jan. 31 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco retained supreme dictatorial power over Insurgent Spain today after reorganizing his government into departments headed by ministers.

The reorganization, designed to better suit the needs of his territory, was carried out under a decree signed by Franco yesterday.

Insurgent spokesmen at the border said Franco assumed the title of president. They said General Luis Orgaz was named minister of war, vice Admiral Joaquin Verdera minister of the navy and General Kindelan minister of air.

Insurgent leaders believed Orgaz eventually would be named minister of defense to coordinate all Insurgent fighting services, with superior councils for each branch. He would then have supervision over the armaments industry.

Rebs Push Attack. The Insurgent army took the offensive in mountainous southwest Spain after air raiders subjected government Barcelona to two of the worst bombings of the civil war.

Bombing squadrons sweeping in from the sea littered the port city with more than 200 dead and 700 wounded.

Advices from Barcelona said there were 158 war orphan children among those killed.

The Insurgents' new land offensive rolled back the thinly-manned government lines north of Cordoba.

Battle at Madrid. Insurgent communiques said the drive was forcing government troops back to the east. The government abandoned some positions but asserted the operations were localized, with no major objective.

Madrid reports said government and Insurgent troops fought today on Madrid's long-quiet western fringe and carried on a heavy artillery duel from before dawn into the afternoon.

The roar of the big guns was interspersed by the cater of musketry, machine guns and trench mortars just west of the city, where a brisk skirmish was under way.

MAN HAS SUBSISTED ON POPCORN FOR 7 MONTHS

AMARILLO, Jan. 29. (AP)—Dean Israel Noe was on the right track but he carried fasting to extremes, says John H. Runyon, Amarillo furniture dealer who has, he says, subsisted on popcorn exclusively for eight months.

Runyon says he has eaten 45 pounds of popcorn in the eight months.

Runyon appears healthy. He says he was in poor health and the doctors gave him no hope of life when he began his "purification of the flesh."

"We read in the Bible," he says, "how the prophets of old fasted as long as 40 days and 40 nights to purify the body. They found the secret of life. Many people have tried, unsuccessfully, to purify the body by fasting in modern times. They failed because they had a mistaken idea about fasting. I am trying to find life. When I reach the point where I can go 40 days without eating or becoming hungry I will have found life."

"I can now go seven days without eating or becoming hungry. I do not become weak. I go on about my business in a normal manner. I feel that it will be three or four months before I reach the point where I shall be purified to the extent that I can go 40 days without eating."

PARTY SEARCHES FOR PLANE NEAR AMARILLO

AMARILLO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Search for a plane believed to have crashed in flames in the rough ranch country 30 miles north of here, was resumed today.

The pilot believed to be Rowland Major, flying from Camden, Tex., to Tulsa, was reported to have crashed in injury.

A searching party of Moore county citizen combed the Canadian river country for three hours last night with no success.

A man believed to be Major called the English airport Saturday, asked for weather conditions toward Tulsa and intimated Atlanta, Ga., was his destination.

Officials at the airport said they believed Major's compass had become fouled, he had swung off his course, and landed with his plane on fire in the Canadian river breaks.

They said they believed he had made his way safely to a ranch home.

An unidentified man called the airport, officials said, to say that the plane caught fire in the air, was landed safely, the pilot escaped, but the plane was consumed.

CONGRESS TOLD BIG NAVY NEED VITAL TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. (AP)—The navy's chief of operations told Congress today the "enormous increases" in naval strength recently undertaken by Great Britain and Japan made it imperative for the United States to strengthen its fleet immediately.

Admiral William D. Leahy, testifying before the house naval committee, asserted this country's national security had been jeopardized by the armament programs launched by foreign powers since the expiration of the 1930 London naval treaty.

He appeared before the committee to discuss legislation to carry out President Roosevelt's recommendations for an $800,000,000 naval expansion program.

Leahy declared the expansion plan was not sufficient to guard against attack on both shores at one time. He was prompted by any "thought of aggressive action," or of "policing the world."

He said it would require three times the prospective increase for the United States to take "aggressive action overseas" with any assurance of success.

After telling of the United States' requirements for defense of its own shores, Leahy asserted there was another reason for a larger navy. He said there was "nothing to prevent the seizure" of South American republics if the Monroe Doctrine "breaks down" except the sea power of the United States.

When Rep. Mass. (R. Winn) asked if the United States could expect any naval aid from any other country in event of hostilities in the Pacific, Leahy said this country should make its plans to "take care of our own problems."

LEWIS TRIAL DUE TO BEGIN ON WEDNESDAY

With no cases to be heard, district court was inactive this morning. The week had been designated as civil-jury, but on account of the trial of J. C. (Curley) Lewis, charged with murder in connection with the death of Willie Allen, on Sept. 16, being set for Wednesday, regular petit jury venire was cancelled.

A special venire of 125 is to report Wednesday. The grand jury will reconvene February 7. Among the cases it will hear is that of the three Pampa youths, two charged with juvenile delinquency and one with burglary, in connection with numerous petty thefts over this section of the state.

All of the three were still in county jail this morning, bound over to the grand jury.

While district court was inactive, Justice of the Peace E. F. Young heard four cases Sunday, the largest number in one day for some time.

One person paid a fine of $145 on a drunk charge, two were in county jail on vagrancy charges, and one, a woman, was in jail on a charge of disturbing the peace, in connection with an altercation with another woman.

Current Events

Many types of discussions are heard on the school campus. However, there is one topic which is seldom the topic of conversation; that is current events—a thing which everyone should be interested in.

The happenings and problems of man today should afford interest even to high school students. For things are affecting how soon these things may tell the citizens of this nation. Of course it is well known that there is a civil war in Spain and another in the Orient between China and Japan. But just how many students are there who could trace either war, even briefly through its leading battles. Even national problems are not well known and understood. The work being done in this session of Congress is given little thought by the majority. However, are not the things of today really more important than those of the past? Will they not affect the lives of the students?

Since the newspapers are published for this purpose of communicating to the public what its members do, think and feel, the logical thing to do is to read the daily papers, for regardless of how much he may know of the past he can not really succeed without having some knowledge of the present situation.

Give Before Taking

"Tell me not in mournful numbers,
Life is but an empty dream;
For the soul is dead that slumbers,
And things aren't what they seem."

A great many people read this poem "A Fragment of Life" written by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow without learning the lesson it brings. It was written to awaken people to the fact that if they put nothing into life they may find an empty dream, but if they set a goal and reach it they will find a life worth living.

Longfellow's great lesson applies to school life as well as to life as a whole. Some students are getting the real value of the school, but many are not. School is not only a place where one can receive wonderful opportunities. It will aid students to determine what their future life will be. But to gain this knowledge, every student must put out some effort or he will find another empty dream.

Let us, then, be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait.

Student Opinion

What entertainment is provided for Senior High students during the noon hour? None, but they can always ride around, go to a pool table, loaf around town or stay around the school building. Aren't these some of the minor things that lead up to crime, and problems that teachers and parents are heard discussing everyday? Still there is nothing done about it.

Many students have attended school dances, old-time hops, and various club dances. That is proof enough that students enjoy dancing. Since they do like to dance, this might be a way of occupying their noon hour or a part of it, that is, if the student council would rent a neighborhood and put it in the Red Brick building. This would only cost a student a nickel a dance, and also the school could make a small profit off the machine. Teachers could be scheduled to supervise, thereby making it a respectable pastime for all.

Pampa High needs better ventilation methods or at least methods by which dust storms can be met half way. During dusty periods the air on the inside of the building becomes very thick. It also seems to become stale when most of the windows are left shut to keep out part of the dust. The present heating plant furnishes abundant heat, but it does not in the least purify the air.

For approximately one eighth of the cost of the building a new heating, air purification and cooling plant could be installed in the school, says an air conditioning apparatus salesman. This would solve ventilation and air cleansing problems as well as heating necessities.

Various activities are offered in Senior High school, however students do not have as much choice in activities as anyone would judge from looking over the list.

Such things as a pep squad, glee clubs, a cappella choir, band and being an assistant in the office or library, as well as physical edu-

Later another activity appears—that of being on the Little Harvester confronts the students in the selection of their activities is that with some who must take physical education also, while with others that is not necessary. Are not all activities more or less equal? Then why, if some can be taken without physical education, can they not all be taken that way? After all, the activities are supposed to be taken merely for pleasure and activity credits. But if there is no true selection are activities really a pleasure?

Many activities require more time and afford more activity credits than physical education. To some they are more interesting. So why can't the activities be left to the student's selection and thereby be made an enjoyable time at school?

Thursday Meeting Plans Annual Day For Senior Class

Seniors met at 12:15 Thursday in the auditorium. Plans were made for the annual day sometime this week when the seniors who have bought annuals will wear their green tags. Winston Savage said that annuals were the senior's project and that the seniors must support the annual. A check proved that many seniors plan to buy an annual.

It was suggested that the seniors offer a prize for the class that sold the most annuals. Norman Cox, Mildred Kemp, Arvo Goddard and Annie Johnson were on the committee to work out the contest.

New seniors who have not had pictures taken and students who offer their proofs were asked to see Mrs. Ho Wagner.

Mrs. Wagner said that all students who had not turned in their proofs by Friday evening at 4:00 will not have their pictures in the annual, nor their pictures with those of the graduating class.

Lamesa Admitted To District One

Texas Interscholastic league committee of district one met at Plainview Wednesday, January 26, and decided that Lamesa would be admitted to Class A football in this district.

Lamesa was originally a Class B team, but any town with a population of over 500 students is now compelled to belong to Class A football.

Lamesa wanted to belong to District Three which is south of Pampa. However, the committee decided that Lamesa would belong to district one; there may be some changes made later.

The teams which will play in district one this year, as things now stand are:

National Award Given Weathered

"Mr. Weathered, we'd like to get some information concerning the J. C. award you received." He was the two novice reporters as they entered the county superintendent's (W. B. Weathered) office.

"Well, it was a surprise to me, as I just did the work given me to do, but I figure that there was several other people who did just as well. That's all I know, but Frank Cullerson might tell you more as he awarded the medal."

Then the student journalists dashed over to see Frank Cullerson. Mr. Cullerson began, "The trophy was given by the Nation Junior Chamber of Commerce for the seventh consecutive year. Mr. Weathered was selected by a secret group of three Pampa business men. The media was given for great civic work and takes in character and ability. Mr. Weathered was selected because of many great civic jobs performed, such as chairman of the Top O' Texas fiesta, a very large single achievement. He was director of the Kiwanis club and did great work with the boy and girl scouts."

According to Mr. Cullerson, W. B. Weathered is admired greatly by the Pampa business men, who know him for his friendliness and cheerfulness at all times. Mr. Weathered managed to dig out the medal to show to the reporters. The medal was shield shaped and "Distinguished Service Award" was printed on its "I mean a lot" face.

Mr. Weathered is a former teacher in Pampa schools.

Student Talent To Be Stressed Through Chapels

Senior High is starting the new semester with a new series of assembly programs. The programs of this semester are planned to bring out the talent of different organizations and individuals in school.

On last Wednesday's assembly music was the theme and talents of individuals were shown. The band appeared suited in uniforms and gave four numbers.

Helen Pooler, accompanied by Gene Finkbeiner, gave two numbers one of which was the ever-popular "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky."

Then the A Cappella choir sang a group of old songs put together to make a story. These were "A Bicycle Built For Two," "On a Chinese Honey-moon," and "I Was Seeing Daisy Home." Their other number was a cowboy spiritual, written by a Texas composer, "Rounded Up in Glory." Arlene Saunders gave two numbers on her accordion. She was assisted by her instructor.

Many students have voiced their opinion of such a program and they seem to be quite popular.

Three Plays to be Given at White Deer By Dramatic Classes

Drama students will give two or three short one act plays at White Deer, February 10. Three of the plays are "Yes Means No," "The Lost Elevator" and "The House of Juke." All the plays will first be given in the classes before the trip to White Deer is made.

The three dramatic classes will all work on the three plays and then the best actors from all the classes will be chosen. The best of the three plays should be "The House of Juke," believe the classes. It is about a hillbilly family with a son who is going to marry against their wishes.

The plays will be directed by students under the direction of Kenneth Carman.

February 7 Set For Deadline On Sale of Annuals

Senior and Faculty Pictures to Engravers

Sale of annuals is progressing briskly, according to announcements made by the staff. Only a week remains in which to secure annuals, as the sale will be closed at 4:00 next Monday, February 7.

Payment of a $1.00 deposit will reserve an annual. However, the remaining $1.00 must be paid by April 1 or the book will be re-sold. Most students are paying their full $2.00 to prevent a misman.

"Unless the amount a student earned on an annual by selling tickets to the all-school play is raised to $1.00 (for the deposit) before date, the money earned will automatically be placed in the general annual fund to be used for the annual announced in assembly last Wednesday.

At the Wednesday meeting, the staff put the strings on the green tags which are worn by the students who have earned or paid the deposit on their annual. They also checked upon the senior pictures, put them in alphabetical order, fixed the faculty pictures and checked lower classmen's pictures. This was done in order that the senior, class and faculty pictures might be sent to the engravers by Saturday.

The seniors discussed the annual selling campaign at their meeting and decided to help put it over. They decided to have a senior day when every senior is supposed to wear a tag signifying that they have bought or deposited on an annual. They are also planning some kind of a contest.

The Friday meeting was spent in making a tentative dummy of the annual. It was learned that approximately half of the pictures are ready for the engravers, but the staff refuses to reveal what changes are to be made in this year's book. The person to be honored with the dedication is also a secret.

Schedules for the remaining pictures will be posted this week. The band pictures were made Friday. As soon as the sales campaign ends, the staff plans to launch the beauty and popularity contest. Details will be announced within a few days.

Mosley Elected As Counselor By Student Council

Position Created By New Constitution

Jimmy Mosley was elected counselor-at-large of the student association at a recent meeting of the Student Council on January 25.

The counselor-at-large is a member from the present council who will carry the work over to the following year. His term of office shall end at the finish of the school year. The new constitution of the Student Association provides for the counselor-at-large and his duties.

His main duty is to be responsible for the constitution of the student council; however if the elected counselor-at-large is not able to attend Pampa high the following year the principal will appoint a person from the previous council to take his place.

Mosley, a junior, has grades which are above the average in each subject. He was a member of the student council last year and was one of the delegates sent to the student council convention at Dallas last year. He also has been a member of the annual staff for two years.

In the all-school play "Come Out of the Kitchen" Mosley, who was the butcher, very nearly stole the show as high school critic.

During his previous years in Pampa schools he was president of the Spanish I(2) and Spanish II(1) clubs.

Harvesters Train For League Title

According to the coach, Odus Mitchell, if they hope to win the Big Five league title, the Harvesters basketball club cannot slack their stride now. Not only that, they will have to win the rest of the games with class A schools.

Coach Mitchell says, "The team has not clicked since the road trip during the holidays. First, they were naturally expected to be off form for a game or two after the strain of those four consecutive games which they won on the trip, although they did continue to win most of their games. However, as was expected, they did falter slightly. Next, Bobby Andis was unable to play because of an abraded groin. All of this led up to their defeat, first by Plainview, and then by Borger.

Besides losing those three games the other clubs have improved greatly. Only last Wednesday Amarillo and Borger had to play an overtime period to decide a winner. Borger, swamped by a score of 37 to 24 the first time they played the Harvesters, beat us by a margin of 10 points in their second duel of the season.

The Harvesters are to play Borger Tuesday, there, of this week and Amarillo, there, the very next night. Coach also said that he had entered the B team in the Miami tournament Friday and Saturday of the same week.

Chemistry students worked with chlorine, a very poisonous gas, last Thursday. This was the first laboratory lesson the students had had since the first semester. Some very interesting lessons are to be experienced by the students later on in the semester, according to Mrs. Frances Alexander.

Richest Girl in the World

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, Connie contrives with Rodney to force a divorce. They plan to sail that night on Connie's yacht.

CHAPTER XXII... CONNIE told Bret after dinner that same evening that she was going away with Rodney Brandon.

Bret had remarked after the first meal of this sort, that he had no appetite when there were two such pompous lackeys hovering so close upon his elbows, pressing so much food and service upon him, hanging upon his every wish, even the ones unexpressed.

"I can't swallow," he had protested. "Why, for heaven's sake, can't a grown-up man reach across his own table for a second helping, if he wants it?"

Connie had laughed and made the usual remark, that Bret would get used to it. But now, tonight, after more than a year of such dinners with such elaborately painful service Bret found himself no more used to it, liking it less, than ever.

"Suppose we have coffee in the drawing room—by ourselves," she suggested, crumpling up his napkin. "I think Mrs. Hardesty can pour, without any assistance," he added to Greaves and Benson.

Since this suited Connie perfectly, she did not object. In the drawing room, she sat down on a divan near the fire, indicated that Greaves might place the coffee service on the low table before her. She knew that she looked very lovely and desirable tonight with the firelight playing on her golden hair, accenting the curve of her cheeks, the violet shadows of her eyes.

"I HAVE something to tell you," Bret said, speaking slowly, choosing his words. "This seems as good an opportunity as any."

"That's odd," Connie laughed, shrugged her shoulders. "I have something to tell you this evening, too." She reached into his cup of coffee. "Perhaps I had better tell you first, with no beating about the bush," as the saying goes.

"Perhaps you had," he answered gravely. He set his cup down, not tasting its contents. "I'm going away—tonight, with Rodney Brandon."

"Bret did not answer. He picked up his cup, drank slowly. "Haven't you anything to say?" Connie demanded.

"Bret put down his coffee. "What is there for me to say?" he asked. "Surely you don't expect me to object, stage a row? That would not be modern."

"I'm glad you've decided to behave that way—at last," Connie said. "Of course, after you divorce me, Rodney and I shall most probably marry."

"But I have no intentions of divorcing you," Bret returned quietly. "I imagine you'll change your mind," Connie said. "After all, it will be the only decent thing you can do, to divorce me."

SHEPPARD COMPLETES 25 YEARS IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (AP)—Morris Sheppard, Dean of Congress, became a senator from Texas 25 years ago today.

This quarter century, added to the 10 years he already had served in the house, gives the short, graying Texan a longer period of continuous service in Congress than any other living member.

He hadn't remembered the anniversary until newsmen reminded him of it. "I haven't planned any celebration," he smiled. "I'll just work all day as usual. I guess."

Several others noted in the senate still desks preceded Sheppard in congress, but their service had not been continuous. The senator is but three months senior to Vice President Garner, who became a congressman from Texas in 1903.

Sheppard had been out of college only two years when he came to congress to succeed his father, John L. Sheppard.

He is not a frequent speaker, but regularly each January 16 he addresses the senate in commemoration of the national prohibition amendment, which he wrote and still defends.

His long service stood him in good stead when the democrats came into power, and in 1933 he became chairman of the important military affairs committee.

He is an ardent supporter of the New Deal, which he credits with having raised the national income from 30 billions a year to 80 billions. Since 1933, he said, the government's chief concern has been the income of the average man.

FAMED COMPOSER DIES AT 78 IN SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 31 (AP)—Dean Carl Venth, internationally known composer and, since 1908 a leader in Texas musical circles and teacher of music, died Saturday.

Venth was dean of the school of music at the University of San Antonio where he had taught since 1931. He underwent a major operation several days ago, three blood transfusions having been made since.

The 78-year-old musician was revered as the outstanding teacher of composition and violin in the state and was the composer of many operatic, orchestral and vocal works.

Venth came to San Antonio to become head of the music department of the University of San Antonio, then Westmoreland college, in 1901 from Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth, where he had been dean of the school of fine arts for 18 years.

Venth was the last pupil of Henry Wieniawski, celebrated European composer, at the Brussels conservatory where he received his musical education. He also studied composition under Hiller, Jensen Dupont. He was born at Cologne, Germany, Feb. 16, 1860, the son of Carl and Frederika Venth and was educated at Cologne University before entering the Brussels conservatory.

He came to America in 1880.

Today's Answers to Cranium Crackers

(Questions on editorial page.)

1. All snowflakes are hexagonal.

2. Gen. George Gordon Meade led the federal forces at Gettysburg.

3. Articles marked "Sterling" must contain at least 92 1/2 parts of pure silver in 100.

4. According to Webster's the word "turbid" may mean either "turbid, copious, abundant," or "coarse, gross, foul."

5. Spiders' feet are covered with toothed claws, resembling a comb, making it possible to place each claw on a web thread as the spider walks. Other insects become entangled when their feet catch between threads.

Police were convinced that Williams had not been playing solitaire because the new deck of cards had not been shuffled. All new decks of cards are packed the same way, with cards in sequence, king to ace, when dealt without shuffling, and with aunts always in the same order:--hearts, clubs, diamonds, and spades. Deal any new pack of unshuffled cards for seven-by-seven solitaire and the face cards showing would be the same as those found on the table before the poisoned man. Police therefore deduced that the cards had simply been taken out of the pack and arranged on the table to make it appear that Williams had been playing solitaire.

EDINBURG, Jan. 31 (P)--Members of the Texas Railroad commission will conduct a hearing here Thursday to determine methods of killing or controlling the flaming twin gasers in the La Blanca field, eight miles east of here.

ALFREDO TO RIDE IN PARADE IN AMARILLO

AUSTIN, Jan. 31 (P)--Governor James V. Alfred of Texas today continued a friendly feud when he accepted Governor Clyde Tingley of New Mexico's challenge to ride horseback in the Amarillo Mother-in-Law Day parade March 6.

Governor Tingley invited Alfredo to New Mexico for "a few riding lessons" and promised to find him a "gentle nag."

The Texas Governor replied he would ride in the parade and "bring a surcingle" or side saddle "for folks like you."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, is slated to be guest of honor at the celebration.

Dishes As Germ Carriers

Start a health crusade in your home by washing your dishes thoroughly. It has been proved that dishes are the best little germ carriers there are. To stop this in your household, all you have to do is wash your china ware in a good supply of hot water, with frothy sponges, kept thick by frequent replenishing. Dish mops or dish towels should be freshly washed for every batch of dishes.

60 BOYS WILL COMPETE IN GOLDEN GLOVES TOURNAMENT THIS WEEK

WINNERS WILL COMPETE AT FORT WORTH

All is in readiness for the first Golden Gloves boxing tournament ever staged in Pampa. On Wednesday night more than 60 boys are scheduled to begin a boxing program that will end Friday night with 8 champions being crowned. Each will receive a beautiful miniature Gold Glove valued at $8 and will also be taken to Fort Worth to the state tournament, all expenses paid.

The loser in each weight division will also be rewarded. He will be given a beautiful pair of boxing trunks. Since the tournament is for amateurs and no one receives the profit—which must go for the advancement of amateur sports—boys cannot be rewarded for their efforts.

They know that they will be helping to help themselves give the spectators a night of entertainment, and to raise money to give Pampa a better athletic program. Ringside reserve seat tickets went on sale at noon today at the Pampa Daily News for $1.10, tax paid. Tickets may be secured for one, two or three nights at $1.10 each night. Some of the seats are in the first row, some in the second and the rest in the third. First come will be first served so call at the Pampa Daily News immediately and secure tickets. A few patrons' tickets at $5 each will also be available until tomorrow night.

Weight In Wednesday. Director Cliff Chambers this evening between 5 and 8 o'clock will begin tapering off training for local entries. Boys in other towns and cities will do the same and in direction of school coaches or trainers.

Pampa entrants are instructed to report at the Pampa Athletic arena between 1 and 3 p. m. Wednesday to weigh in and receive medical examinations. Out of town boys will report to the Pampa Daily News at 3 o'clock or as near that time as possible to receive meal tickets and hotel accommodations and be taken to the arena to weigh in. All out of town boys and a trainer will be given free hotel accommodations and meals as long as they are in the tournament.

Three Shamrock boys, being trained by Bob Clark, former Wheeler coach, have entered the tournament. One is a heavyweight, Clifford Yarbrey, giving five boys in that weight division. Maybe one of them will turn out to be a "white hope."

Elden Flowers is a middleweight and Billy Morgan a featherweight. Coach Toby Waggoner of Canadian reported Saturday that he would have two or three more boys here for the big event. No word has been received from McLean where Coach Bill Allen is reported to be working up a few boys. Entries will close tonight.

Six Teams Will Make Up League

LUBBOCK, Jan. 31. (AP)—Four Texas and two New Mexico clubs will make up a tentatively organized Class D circuit for the West Texas-New Mexico league this year. Representatives of Midland, Wink, Roswell, N. M., Lubbock, and Big Spring, reported ready to operate at the annual winter meeting of the league here yesterday. Delegates from Clovis, N. M., said plans for an entry were being completed rapidly. Lubbock and Clovis were granted franchises, and permission given for transfer of the Hobbs, N. M., franchise to Midland and the Monahans franchise to Big Spring.

The league adopted a 14-player limit, including player-managers; provided for minimums of six inexperienced players, and three class men, and ruled other players must not have had more than one year of professional experience. A schedule of 130 games was projected, to be adopted at the next meeting, which Milton E. Price of Dallas, who was re-elected president-secretary, said would be late in February. Play will open either April 27 or May 4.

Redskins Defeat All-Stars 17-10

HOUSTON, Jan. 31. (AP)—Two first period touchdowns through antics of Cliff Battles and Sammy Baugh gave the barnstorming Washington professional Redskins a 17 to 10 victory over all star footballers here yesterday.

Battles took a punt and went 74 yards for the first counter, and Baugh's 30 yard pass to Riley Smith set up Don Irwin's plunge from the one-yard line for the second. Battles converted the first extra point and Smith the second.

Smith's 45-yard field goal in the last quarter added three points for the Redskins. The all-stars scored when Tillie Manton, former Texas Christian back, kicked a 38-yard field goal early in the game, and in the third period when Dutch Kline, also a former Texas Christian star, grabbed a pass off Eddie Britt's fingertips and went 64 yards for the score. Manton converted for the all-stars.

Harvesters Favored To Beat Borger Tomorrow

The Harvesters will be favored to humble the Bulldogs tomorrow night when the two clubs clash at Borger. It will be the fourth and final meetings of the two teams before the district tournament three weeks hence.

Pampa has won one game and lost two to the Bulldogs. By winning the game tomorrow night they can come out even.

There is every reason in the world why the Harvesters should beat the Bulldogs. Last week-end the Pampa quintet played like champions at the Canadian tournament which they won by the impressive score of 34 to 23. The Lakeview team was tall; each player being over six feet, but the shorter Pampa lads soundly outplayed them.

Jack Cunningham did a satisfactory job of filling Cox's place at center. Cox who suffered an injured knee last Tuesday night at Borger, did not play at all in the Canadian tournament, but Cunningham's playing ended the fans' mourning for Cox.

Claude Heiskell led the scoring in the four games the Harvesters won from Briscoe, Perryton, Canadian, Lakeview, Bobby Andis ably demonstrated that he is fast returning to the proficiency he attained before his illness. He hit the basket in the old-time manner at the tourney, and as Cliff Chambers said, "He'll soon be better than he ever was." Reynolds and Dunaway also turned in neat guarding jobs in the four games. Coach Odus Mitchell used all his reserves in the tournament, including Foster, Miller, Harrell, Dull, and they also reflected the team's rejuvenation.

It took the Canadian tournament to effect the comeback of the team which reached its lowest ebb Friday night in a 29-18 defeat by the Bulldogs.

The cocky Borger cagers did not fare so well in the week-end. Their boastful coach, Catfish Smith, took them to his old stomping grounds, Carey, and they did not reach the finals of the tournament there. The Williams five from Hardeman county cleaned up on everything in sight, crushing Estelline in the finals.

So on the basis of their comeback and because the Harvesters are potentially a better team than the Bulldogs the Pampans are favored to win the game tomorrow night. Many local fans who did not enjoy the spectacle staged by the Bulldogs here Friday night are planning to trek to Borger to see the Harvesters reap the revenge they so well deserve.

SCHMELING WINS 12-ROUND FIGHT WITH SOUTH AFRICAN

HAMBURG, Jan. 31. (AP)—Max Schmeling, eager to become the first ex-heavyweight champion to regain the world title, congratulated himself today on his 12-round victory over Ben Foord of South Africa, former British Empire champion.

It wasn't that Foord had proved such a tough opponent. In fact some fans were a bit disappointed that Max hadn't knocked him out or at least knocked him down. But according to Schmeling the fight just suited his plans.

Max is aiming at his title bout with Champion Joe Louis next summer and other things don't count so much, not even his share of yesterday's estimated $150,000 gate. The fight with Foord, he said, was valuable in developing his defense plans for the Louis fight because of the similarity between the South African's left hand tactics and those employed by Louis.

That may explain in part why Max didn't turn the knockout trick as expected. He was off to his usual slow start but after the sixth round was in complete command, hammering Ben around with his deadly right and doing everything but floor him.

Schmeling's plan before his bout with Louis in June are indefinite and further uncertainty was caused by an injury to his right hand. His trainer, Max Machon, said, however, that the injury was not serious.

JIMMY RBADDOCK ANNOUNCES HE WILL RETIRE FROM RING

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (AP)—Jimmy Braddock, the man who came back from "nowhere" to win the world heavyweight championship and a lot of cash money, he needed very badly, has reached the place most fight fans thought he was in 1933. He is all through with fighting.

Jimmy, confirming the belief that he's a pretty smart fellow as fighters go, announced his retirement yesterday. He has been fighting since 1926, he admits to 32 years and he proved he still is a pretty good man with his dukes when he outpointed Tommy Farr ten days ago.

All that being settled, Jimmy announced: "I have spent 15 years in the game, and in fairness to everyone, but especially my wife and children, I believe it is time for me to withdraw."

Braddock's announcement was entirely unexpected, as there has been talk of his retirement ever since he lost the title to Joe Louis last summer and took a terrific beating before he was knocked out. After handing out thanks to his "manager and friend," Joe Gould, the fans newspapermen and boxing officials, Braddock went on to explain that he would continue his association with Gould in a new business venture.

"This is my farewell to boxing, a sport which owes me nothing and to which I owe everything. The many friends I have made and the means with which I have been able to provide for my family."

Jimmy, perhaps, was a bit too modest in summing up the debts. Boxing did get him off the relief rolls, and provide a comfortable bankroll, but only because Jimmy had the will and the ability to make an unparalleled comeback. Hauled out of oblivion as "fodder" for Corn Griffin, a 1934 heavyweight contender, he won the fight on a three-round knockout and went on to make himself a heavyweight title contender. He was given a title shot against Max Baer, a 10 to 1 favorite, and lifted the crown right off Max's head. That put him into the big money again and he collected a lot more when he lost to Louis after Gould had "shopped around" in a dizzy succession of maneuvers to get the most lucrative bout.

The fans aren't likely to forget that comeback nor his latest to whip Farr after he had again been labeled as "all through." They may remember, too, that he was wise enough to retire while Promoter Joe

GRID CAPTAIN QUITS SCHOOL

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 31. (AP)—The Notre Dame football captaincy jinx is at work again.

Announcement Saturday that Alex Shellogg, captain-elect for 1938, had withdrawn from school under circumstances which aroused a lot of campus comment, made him the fourth successive grid leader at the Irish school to be dogged by hard luck.

As a result the superstition that election as captain means misfortune is becoming almost as much of a tradition at Notre Dame as is the strength of the Irish gridiron teams.

In 1935 Joe Sullivan was elected captain of the team but he died two months before the season opened. In 1936 the captain was Bill Smith but a series of operations made it impossible for him to compete in a single game.

Last year the captain was Joe Zwiers but an injury suffered prior to the 1936 game with Southern California never healed sufficiently for him to see regular duty.

There was no official announcement as to the reason for Shellogg's withdrawal from school but the campus gossip had it that it was a disciplinary measure.

KEMMERER, Wyo.—Seven thousand elk "went on relief" today.

U. S. forestry employees fed tons of hay to the herd, driven by hunger from snowclad peaks in the wild Jackson Hole country.

Jacobs was trying his hardest to sign him up for a return bout with Tubby, which might have brought him a lot more money and perhaps another fling at the title.

TEXAS QUINT NOW A THREAT IN SOUTHWEST

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three lanky sophomores and a senior with a knee brace can make a new race out of the Southwest cage scramble.

New additions to an already respected University of Texas team are the aforementioned quartet, and, where it is only Arkansas a week ago, it is now Arkansas, Baylor, Southern Methodist and Texas on the "take-your-choice" system.

Winners of half their four league games to date, Coach Jack Gray's Texas Longhorns, plagued by various troubles, became threats overnight with the eligibility at mid-term of Sophomores Oran Spears, Elmer Finley and Jimmy Britt, and the return to action of Capt. Don Williams, injured guard out since the season's start with a hurt knee.

All of them will be in the Longhorn's starting lineup the next time out. Spears, Britt and Finley, illustrious members of the famed John Tarleton agricultural college team that started its current winning streak of 83 straight games while they were enrolled, have been named to the regular Texas five in practice drills. White last season ranked as one of the league's stand-outs.

Stimulation of the Texas team by additions; Southern Methodist's starting return to its championship form and Baylor's continuation of a busting start are factors which minimized Arkansas' early-season threat of a runaway.

Still, this week Arkansas has a chance to stretch its string to six straight, for only magic could help the Texas Christians, meek tail-enders, in their two-game series with the Razorbacks on the Fayetteville court.

Before taking off for Arkansas playground, the Christians, seemed destined for a fourth straight year in the conference cellar, must first face the firing of a Baylor crew at Fort Worth Tuesday night. Unless Baylor's Hub Kirkpatrick, Bubba Gerard and Wilson White, veteran roper due to start his first game of the year after favoring injuries for weeks, are sadly off their shooting form, the week should be a complete blank for a Christian crew that has failed to impress in three losses.

Best game of the week should be the Texas-Baylor battle at Waco Friday night. Two weeks ago Baylor moved into Austin and bombarded the lame Texans, 51-45, with Gerard leading the attack. At that time Texas had only eight available players. Now, with its strength almost doubled, the Texans plan to attack that Baylor game as the shove-off on a belated drive for the crown.

Stymied by mid-term exams, Southern Methodist and Rice institute, remain idle this week. The Texas Aggies, with six games played, rest while the remainder of the field catches up.

Currently tops in the individual scoring race is Clark, Texas Aggie forward, with 58 points. One breath behind him at 57 points is Arkansas' Don Lockard while Jack Robbins, the Arkansas guard, is third with 51.

Athletic Policy At SMU Outlined

DALLAS, Jan. 31. (AP)—The Dallas Morning News, in explanation of Southern Methodist University's athletic policy, says the school aids its athletes in obtaining an education in the same manner in which it "subsidizes" promising music students and "worthy members of other branches of campus activity."

This picture, startlingly clear and amazingly frank, says the News, "was drawn by Athletic Director James H. Stewart following announcement of 'the Bible plan' by the University of Texas and rumors that coaches are unusually active this winter in rounding up athletic talent."

The newspaper quotes Stewart: "Our athletic policy is to have hard, frank and honest. . . We have scholarships and job here, available to worthy athletes, who must have good high school grades and good character. . .

"The scholarships take care of his tuition, except for $16 in library and room deposits, which he must pay in cash. The jobs on the campus take care of the Boy's board and lodging. But he must furnish his own spending money, buy his own clothes, pay for his books, laundry and other necessities. "The boy never gets any cash. He works out his board and room at 40 cents per hour, 10 cents per hour under the standard set by the conference. . . We don't compete for these high school stars. . . And we don't recruit."

Wrestling Matches And Arena To Be "Hot" As Moran And Ludwig Meet

DANA BIBLE TO START SPRING TRAINING SOON

AUSTIN, Jan. 31.—"Spring" football practice in the dead of winter will be the unusual fare handed University of Texas gridders starting Monday, Jan. 31, and extending through the month of February.

Coach Dana K. Bible explains his early start by pointing out that footballers who are also track and baseball men can take advantage of the spring training session without handicapping themselves in their spring sports.

Among the prominent gridders who would miss part or all of a later practice season are Beefus Strickland, halfback who will be Clyde Littlefield's ace pole-vaulter; fullback Wallace Lawson, a letterman in Uncle Billy Dusch's outfield; Charley Haas, likewise a baseball star, who will not get into any scrimmages because of the shoulder injury which benched him midway of last season; Bernie Estinas, big tackle who is a promising shot-putter, and a number of Yearlings who want to go out for frosh baseball or track.

Bible will be assisted by Blair Cherry and Bully Gilstrap during the 30-day session. Fundamentals will be stressed to a degree extraordinary even for spring practice. Some 15 lettermen are due to report Monday, along with several squadmen and a host of sophomores-to-be. Members of last fall's squad expected out this spring include:

Ends—John Peterson, Stanley Naeley, Ned McDonald, Lewis Ford, Shelby Buck.
Tackles—Park Myers, Esmas, Burchell Allison.
Guards—Charles Naiser, Jack Rhodes, Larry Rupel, Ted Thomas.
Centers—Roy Baines, James Watson.

Backs—Bryan Haas, Lawson, Wesley Boyer, Ray Howard, Bullet Gray, Clyde Prestwood.

Former Teammate To Assist Howell

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Jan. 31. (AP)—Dixie Howell, former all-American at Alabama and newly appointed football coach at Arizona State Teachers' College, said here today Hillman Walker, a teammate on the Crimson Tide's 1935 Rose Bowl team, probably would serve as his assistant.

Howell said he and Walker planned to leave next week for Tempe, Ariz., where the college is located, to begin spring practice. Howell's contract stipulates that he name one assistant of his own choice.

Walker was a reserve end on Alabama's 1934 Rose Bowl team and for the past two years has been Freshman coach at Alabama.

McLean Tigers Awarded Jackets

McLEAN, Jan. 31.—Twenty McLean Tigers received their football awards Thursday in assembly. The Tigers' coach, Jack Bogan, awarded this year a black and gold sash jacket which made a beautiful award.

Captain-Elect Mike Wingo and Ray Humphrey were announced and told their duties as captains of the 1938 Tiger team. Of the twenty who received letters, seven will graduate this spring. Those graduating are Joe Bogan, Harry Barnes, Ralph Wells, George Watson, Faris Hess, Albert Overton, and D. V. Nicholson.

Seven boys received letters for making the reserve squad. They are Bill Cook, Jack Bogan, Ed Webba, J. L. Hancock, Clyde Carpenter, Herman Hugg.

Coach Allen will probably have 33 boys reporting for spring practice which will start in about two weeks.

Who's Papa?

OTTO VON LUDWIG.

The mean looking gent above is Otto von Ludwig, the German who will try to annihilate Sailor Jack Moran in tonight's main event wrestling match at the Pampa Athletic arena. Otto, whose pet expression is "Who's papa now?" when he gets his opponent in a tight spot, has been preparing for the big battle for weeks. Sailor Otis Clingman and Pasha Bey will meet in the semi-final.

The Moran-Ludwig battle has been brewing for some time. The two have not been on speaking terms, except to hurl abuse at each other, for three weeks and that's no line. Amarillo, Lubbock and Burger bid for the battle but Promoter Chambers was on the inside track and got it for Pampa.

"It cost money to get the two but I believe fans will be out in large numbers to witness the roughneck in action," Promoter Chambers said this morning. "The arena will be warm and action swift."

Clingman and the Terrible Turk of Istanbul will be another main attraction although a semi-final. Pasha Bariem Bey made his first appearance here last week and got himself well disliked. Fans are holding for Clingman to annihilate the invader from the land of fez hats and prayer rugs, one of which Bey uses before each match.

Sampson is the "baldheaded" Ohion who made such a hit with fans last week. He took a preliminary tonight to become more acclimated before taking on a finish battle.

HARRY COOPER WINS OAKLAND OPEN TOURNEY

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 31. (AP)—Harry Cooper, one of the greatest "stretch runners" in golf, pocketed $1,200 and the title of Oakland open champion today and headed for new fields.

The slender English-born professional put on a three-filled finish yesterday to post a 72-hole total of 275 to set a par-shattering pace for a formidable field.

Cooper put together rounds of 70-66-71 and 68. He needed an eagle three to win as he came to the final hole—453 yards long. A bee line drive and second wood shot put his ball nine feet from the pin. He sized up the putt, remarked, "Here goes for the money" and tapped the pellet into the cup while four thousand fans gave him a winner's ovation.

Par for the Sequoyah course is 35-35-70. Cooper's second round 66 was the lowest of the tournament. He finished the final eighteen in 36-32.

Tied for second place, a stroke behind Cooper, were Jimmy Hines, of Garden City, N. Y., and Charley Sheppard of Pleasanton, Calif. Hines, leader for three rounds, saw his game break on the last eighteen.

He posted a final 73, after previous cards of 67-67 and 69. Hines threatened to go on a fishing trip, but four fifteenth for a disastrous six that cost him top money.

Ransom to Coach At Daniel Baker

Ransom coached at Daniel Baker in 1925-27 after a year at Comanche high school. Daniel Baker won the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association football title in 1926.

Although the wrestling card to be presented tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena should be "hot" enough to keep fans comfortable, Promoter Cliff B. Chambers is not taking any chances of having the building cold. He was up bright and early and had the fires burning high all day. By noon the place was comfortable.

"Topping the 'hot' attractions tonight will be the main event appearance of Sailor Moran and Herr Otto von Ludwig, the semi-final with Sailor Otis Clingman and Pasha Bariem Bey in action, and the preliminary at 8 o'clock sharp between Dick Sampson and an opponent not named. Ringside reserve seats will be 65 cents, tax paid, with general admission 40 cents.

The Moran-Ludwig battle has been brewing for some time. The two have not been on speaking terms, except to hurl abuse at each other, for three weeks and that's no line. Amarillo, Lubbock and Burger bid for the battle but Promoter Chambers was on the inside track and got it for Pampa.

Pitcher Allen Will Steam Out At Hot Springs

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 31. (AP)—Mrs. Johnny Allen finds that being the wife of a baseball star is a tough job and, says she, "sometimes I think I should be on the club's payroll."

"It's quite a job regulating my husband's diet, seeing that he gets the proper amount of sleep and intercepting well-wishers who have a habit of calling at odd hours for autographs," said the wife of the Cleveland Indians' pitcher who won 15 games in a row last season.

Allen smiled his assent. Mrs. Allen, who describes herself as Johnny's "chief secretary," paused in the midst of a busy session of packing trunks and suitcases to explain the hustle and bustle. "I think Johnny shows no outward symptoms, Mrs. Allen said she felt something was wrong when he declined to go on a fishing trip with several cronies a few mornings ago.
