BORDEN COUNTY HIGH SWEEPS UIL LITERARY MEET FOR 13th YEAR IN A ROW

Borden County High School once again captured the district U.I.L. literary meet March 30 as over 20 high school students compiled a total of 170 points. Host school Greenwood, the leader going into Friday's competition, was held scoreless on the last day and finished in third place behind Westbrook.

Roscoe and Greenwood had jumped out to big leads due to the points they had won in the one-act play contest. Borden scored big, however, in debate when only one other team entered the event. Becky Massingill and Samantha Porter, both experienced juniors, brought home first place honors as a result of winning against the Greenwood team and then by winning a flip of the coin with sophomores Doyce Taylor and Bric Turner. Also competing in debate were freshmen Mickey Burkett and Michael Murphy.

Debate and ready writing were both held on Wednesday, March 28, and the two events managed to put Borden County into a lead they never relinquished. Senior Kelli McPhaul and sophomore Dana Gray swept the top two places in ready writing and will both advance to regional.

Thursday's events almost saw some disappointing results in journalism. Last year's winners, Becky Massingill and Dana Gray, finished fourth in newswriting and editorials, respectively. Before the day was over, though, Borden County had scored 25 points on the strength of a one-two finish in headlines by Samantha Porter and Doyce Taylor.

Mrs. Jarrett's business students put in a fine performance Friday morning when Shana Bradshaw placed second in the typewriting contest and senior Tammy Miller turned in a perfect paper to win first in the shorthand competition. Junior Jeannette Massingill placed sixth in typewriting but did qualify for regional when she won second place in prose reading later in the

Books-By-Mail Demonstration In Borden

The West Texas Library System, a State-funded organization dedicated to statewide library development, will be undertaking a demonstration program for the citizens of West Texas areas that are currently without county-supported library services. This program is intended to provide books-by-mail service to these citizens, with the hope that the numerous advantages of public libraries--whether it be found in furthering of one's education, in personal enrichment, or in the provision of wholesome leisure activities--will be made more visible and desirable to them, and thus deserving of their local support.

In the month of April, residents in King, Borden and Loving counties will be receiving a master catalog, through which desired books in the list can be ordered from the WTLS office in Lubbock. The catalog is self-explanatory and is intended to provide you with an avenue for the reading of books, which otherwise you might never have known. This demonstration service is being funded by the State of Texas, and is expected to be continued through the Fall of 1986. If the residents of any particular county find that this service has proven valuable to them, they will need to secure a commitment from their County Commissioners to provide some local financial support for the continuation of the program in the future.

For more information call Diane Barker, project librarian, at (806) 762-5442.

Your County Agent Says

by Alan Day

Use Herbicides on Range Weeds

Weeds cost ranchers in Borden County many dollars in lost production each year because they rob desirable forages of moisture and nutrients.

But herbicides can reduce those losses.

Each rancher needs to check his rangeland now to see if he has a weed infestation.

Ranchers that find heavy weed infestations on their ranges should consider control measures.

Broadleaf plants such as thistle, annual broomweed, camphorweed, ragweed and others should be the target for herbicide control.

Use of the herbicide 2, 4-D in early spring provides excellent control of most annual weeds. Weeds should be growing rapidly and the herbicide should be applied before they flower. 2,4-D low-volatile ester should be used in areas of low rainfall such as we have.

To control harder-to-kill weeds, dicamba-2, 4-D mixture or a picloram-2 4-D mixture is effective. Dicamba (Banvel) and 2, 4-D may be tank mixed, or a dicamba-2, 4-D mixture (1.3 ratio) is commercially available under the trade name Weedmaster.

Likewise, picloram (Grazon PC) and 2,4-D may be tank mixed, or a commercial formulation (1.4 ratio of picloram and 2,4-D) is available under the trade name Grazon P plus D.

Weed control on rangeland is a practice that can produce significant returns. Weed control result demonstrations have shown a significant increase in grass production by controlling unwanted weeds. In many cases, a pound of grass has been produced for every pound of weeds controlled.

For maximum benefits from herbicide weed control, you should also practice good grazing management. Deferred grazing during the growing season will allow drought-damaged grasses to regain vigor and become better established. Proper grazing management can help keep a good cover of grass while reducing weeds.

Medicare Payment Changes Focus of Austin Seminar

Austin-Hospital medical staff leaders, chief executive officers and board trustees will converge in Austin April 7 for a day-long seminar on prospective payment, the new system for Medicare payment.

The advent of prospective pricing has permanently altered physician-hospital relationships, according to Richard Bettis, CAE, senior vice president, government relations, Texas Hospital Association. "Recognizing that hospitals that do well in a prospective pricing environment will be those with the soundest intrahospital relationships, hospitals and physicians are looking for workable ways to integrate the medical staff into the institutional decision-making process affecting costs and quality," Bettis said.

The seminar, sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association, Texas Medical Association and Texas Association of Hospital Governing Boards, will present strategies that hospitals and physicians are using successfully to encourage more cost-conscious and cost-effective delivery of care and services in the hospital setting.

The program will be held from 8:30 am-4:30 April 7 at the Wyndham South Park Hotel, Austin. For additional program details and registration information, contact Educational Services at the Texas Hospital Association, 1-800-252-9403.

Egg Decorating

Eggs (mainly egg shells) have been used for art and decorating for a long, long time. Today there are lots of special decorating techniques; cutting a window in the shell and putting a scene inside, putting jewels on the shell with wax (Russian eggs), Ukrainian or brilliantly colored eggs with intricate designs, "batik" eggs done in a similar fashion to textiles, but when we talk about decorating we usually mean dipping the hard cooked egg in one...or several...vegetable dyes.

Most people probably believe that the tradition of coloring eggs at Easter time is a Christian custom. Actually, the tradition predates Christianity. It began 5,000 years ago with the Persians who celebrated the return of spring by exchanging colored eggs as tokens of goodwill.

It was the Pennsylvania Dutch who brought the Easter egg to the New World in 1728. They built farms across Pennsylvania and New York and spread the custom of celebrating Easter by coloring eggs as tokens of good times to come.

The idea of turning out packets of powdered dyes for coloring eggs began with William M. Townley, a druggist in Newark, New Jersey. At Easter time, mothers in the neighborhood would ask him for two cents' worth of dye for coloring eggs.

Townley would dip into the glass jars filled with colored powder and put it into medicine papers making little packets of dye.

In 1880 he started what was to become known as the PAAS Dye Company. The original packets sold for five cents each. Soon the Pennsylvania Dutch heard about the packets of dyes. Through their influence, Townley changed the name of his new business from Townley's Easter Egg Dye to PAAS Egg Colors. The Pennsylvania Dutch name for Easter in Passen and "PAAS" is a variation of this word.

Probably because they were very proud of their colorful Easter eggs, the Pennsylvania Dutch started the custom of an Easter egg tree. They used a large branch or a small tree, with the leaves removed and hung their brightly decorated eggs on the branches. The egg tree still is one of the most popular centerpieces on the Easter table in the Pennsylvania Dutch country.

Although the custom of coloring eggs is 5000 years old, the fun of rolling Easter eggs is strictly an American custom. Once again, we have the Pennsylvania Dutch to thank. They invented the game as a part of the Easter egg hunt on Sunday morning. When lively first lady Dolly Madison heard about it, she thought it would be a fun thing for the children of diplomats and servants alike to an Easter egg rolling contest on the White House lawn.

It has been an institution ever since and is held the Monday following Easter so as not to interfere with family gatherings and church-going on Easter Sunday.

Borden Students Invited to Participate In Art Competition

Congressman Charles Stenholm announced plans today for the Third Annual Art competition for high school students, grades 9 through 12, in the 17th Congressional District. The contest will culminate May 26th, 1984, with an awards dinner in Abilene and the winner will be displayed in the corridor leading to the United States capitol for one year. All winners in the local contests will receive a Congressional Certificate of Appreciation.

"I have been very proud of the entries we have had these past two years," said Congressman Stenholm.

"There is remarkable diversity in the talents of our young people. The variety of artworks is truly representative of this generation's great contribution to the deep traditions of America's creative spirit."

The competition, to be conducted at no expense to the Federal Government, is open to any high school student. Artwork must be no larger than 30" x 30" (unframed), and two-dimensional.

Landscapes shall portray Texas scenes. Eligible categories are paintings, drawings, collages, and prints.

The regional show scheduled in Big Spring will be on Saturday, May 5th, in the Big Spring Mall.

Countries to be included are Borden, Coke, Concho, Glasscock, Martin, and Sterling, in addition to Howard. All entries should be in place by 2:00 p.m. and judging will be at 3:00 p.m.

This is one of eight (8) regional shows being held over the vast 17th District. Five (5) top winners from Big Spring will compete with those from similar contests in Abilene, Gainesville, Graham, Snyder, Post, Stephenville, and Weatherford.

Details are available from any of Congressman Stenholm's offices or from Tom Adams in Big Spring, 915-267-7376.

PRIVATE PROPERTY WEEK

Austin--Governor Mark White has proclaimed April 8-14 Private Property Week to remind Texans of their right to own, protect, and revitalize property. The week is sponsored by the Texas Association of Realtors as part of the annual nationwide observance.

"We want everyone to be aware of the significance of private ownership rights in their lives. Home ownership brings out the best in people because it allows them to assume a responsibility, put down roots and make a commitment to the community," said William C. Jennings, president of the Texas Association of REALTORS.

1984 is the 29th consecutive year that REALTORS nationwide are marking Private Property Week. Over 600,000 REALTORS nationwide and over 50,000 Texas REALTORS enlist public participation in observing private property rights.

The purpose of Private Property Week is to focus on the meaning of private property rights and to foster understanding of the right to own, protect, revitalize and enjoy real property.

Our Constitution and Bill of Rights guarantee us many freedoms, among them the freedom of speech, religion and the press--as well as the freedom to live where we choose. In addition, our government guarantees and protects private property rights. In the United States, people needn't fear that their government will search or seize their property. It takes an effort for us to really imagine life in a country that does not guarantee these freedoms, unless you have seen it for yourself, or talked to someone who has fled a politically-oppressed nation.

The right to acquire real property is one of the most precious of our freedoms. By real property, that means the land itself and all that is permanently attached to it, plus the intangible ownership rights that come with it. During Private Property Week, people are invited to reaffirm the fact that for over 200 years Americans have enjoyed the right to own and use property without government interference.

Freedom to own property has meant more opportunity for individuals to prosper from their efforts. People left free to engage in productive activity guided by self-interest will themselves become more productive, and the quality of their lives will keep improving.

Houston Chronicle Endorses Kent Hance For Democratic Senate Nomination

Houston--In its lead editorial on Sunday March 25, the Houston Chronicle urged Texans to vote for Congressman Kent Hance in the May 5th Democratic Senate primary. The Chronicle said, "We believe his views reflect the philosophy that best serves our state and our nation."

Noting that Kent Hance is from Lubbock, the Houston newspaper said he may not be as well-known to its readers. "But Houstonians are familiar with and should be thankful for, Hance's achievements in Congress, such as the income tax cut that shows up in our paychecks and the Social Security rescue legislation that he helped get approved," the editorial said.

The Chronicle also said Hance displayed brilliance and leadership during his four years in the Texas State Senate. The editorial said even though Hance is from West Texas he is easy to get to know especially when it comes to the issues... Because he takes firm stands on matters that are important as we decide how to cast our votes."

The editorial praised Hance's positions on:

1. Restoring American credibility abroad and recognizing that this country has vital interests in the Mideast and in Central America.
2. Strength as the only means to negotiate balanced and verifiable arms reductions with the Soviet Union.
3. The Hance-Conable tax cut bill, which gave us the largest tax reduction in American history and spurred economic recover.
4. Fighting for continued cuts in government spending while holding the defense budget accountable and recognizing the need to protect some domestic programs such as Social Security.

5. The editorial closed by quoting Kent Hance, "I know the philosophy of this state and I can represent that philosophy." The Chronicle said, "His strong character, his outstanding achievements and his independent voting record fully justify that statement."

In welcoming the endorsement Hance said, "I'm pleased that the Houston Chronicle, after studying my record, has decided to support my candidacy. While endorsements alone won't win this race, I'm confident that if the voters of this state will come to the same conclusion."

TEXAS UTILITIES ELECTRIC COMPANY

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with rules and orders promulgated by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of a public hearing to begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 14, 1984, in the offices of the Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, concerning proposals made by the company to add three optional services and delete two services from the list of local exchange services available to its Texas customers.

Proposed additions to the local exchange tariffs include an optional Local Measured Service under which all residence customers and single-line business customers could pay monthly rates less than flat rate for one-party service, with an additional charge for each completed outgoing call to be determined by the time of day, distance and duration of each call; and a subsidized LIFELINE local service to be made available to qualified individuals, as determined by the Public Utility Commission. The monthly rate for LIFELINE service would include an allowance of 25 outgoing calls per month, plus a charge for each additional call.

Proposed for deletion from the local exchange tariffs are one-element measured service offerings for residence customers and single-line business customers, but current customers would not be affected.

The company does not anticipate that these additional services will result in an increase in revenue to Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Aviso al Publico

Por medio del presente aviso y en conformidad con las reglas y dictámenes de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, la compañía Southwestern Bell Telephone anuncia la audiencia pública que se llevará a cabo a partir de las 10 de la mañana del día lunes 14 de mayo de 1984 en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, con respecto a la propuesta de la compañía, que consiste en agregar tres servicios opcionales y suprimir dos servicios de la lista de servicios telefónicos locales a disposición del usuario en Texas.

Las adiciones propuestas al arancel del servicio telefónico local incluyen un Servicio Medido Local opcional según el cual todos los clientes residenciales y los clientes comerciales con línea única pagarían tarifas mensuales menores que la tarifa fija para servicios de línea única, con un cargo adicional por cada llamada completa efectuada desde ese teléfono, establecido según la hora, la distancia y la duración de cada llamada; así como un servicio local subvencionado de LIFELINE que estaría disponible para determinadas personas, según lo establezca la Comisión de Servicios Públicos. La tarifa mensual para el servicio de LIFELINE incluiría 25 llamadas mensuales con un cargo adicional por cada llamada en exceso de 25.

Se propone suprimir del arancel del servicio telefónico local las opciones de servicio medido de un elemento para clientes residenciales y clientes comerciales con línea única, pero esto no afectaría a los clientes actuales.

La compañía no espera que estos servicios adicionales produzcan un aumento de ingresos para Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757.
