NIGHT TERMS FAIL TO HALT FILIBUSTERING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The southern filibuster against the anti-lynching bill still was going strong in the senate today, despite administration efforts to end it by holding night sessions.

Senator Pepper (D., Fla.) held the floor to continue the steady stream of oratory which he and other southerners poured forth without a break yesterday from 11 a. m. to 10:10 p. m.

It was the first evening session of the year, held on the fifteenth day of the filibuster. Senator Connally (D., Tex.) said, however, the southern bloc was in shape to speak indefinitely.

Besides keeping the senate after hours, administration leaders enforced strict rules about speech-making. Each senator, for instance, can speak only twice on a bill.

Majority Chairman declared they would hold the bill before the senate until it was passed or laid aside by a vote. They contended they still had a majority.

Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.) said the senate was quickly learning the bill could not be passed, and forecast it would be side-tracked by the end of the week.

Many observers expressed the belief the southerners would win in view of an announcement by Pepper that he was one of 24 senators who had "solemnly covenanted" not to let the bill pass.

Pepper called the bill a slap at the south, a violation of the constitution, contrary to democratic principles, out of harmony with the

Traded Mates In Cleveland

Cleveland society raised a polite eyebrow when the divorce Mrs. Lynd Hutchinson Norcross, above, obtained from her architect husband a year ago turned out to be an exchange affair.

Divorced a year ago from her socially prominent Cleveland husband, Orrin Benson Wertz, Mrs. Margaret Maxwell A. Norcross, architect Maxwell A. Norcross, who had just divorced his wife, now Wertz has taken out a license to wed Mrs. Norcross, turning the whole four-sided affair into a husband-wife exchange.

Blueprints Call For Roof On Grandstand

Blueprints of a new grandstand for Pampa's fairgrounds, as prepared by W. T. Williamson and Wallace T. Hazlewood, were approved by the city commission at its regular meeting last night.

The prints include a roof for the grandstand, which will be submitted as a supplemental detail. Plans are to be sent to the district WPA office for its inspection.

The city commission gave authority to Miss Josephine Thomas to inquire of property owners concerned for permission to close Banks streets, between Alcock and Buckler in front of the Horace Mann school, of which Miss Thomas is principal.

Miss Thomas told the commission that some property owned by the school and used as a playground was separated from the school campus by a road, and that use of this road by motorists created a hazard for children going to and from the playground.

In the event that the road is closed, a new road would be opened to provide a route to Alcock street.

Senate Unanimously Confirms Nomination Of Stanley F. Reed

ZERO WEATHER PREVAILS IN MANY STATES

Snappy cold followed yesterday's dust storm into the Panhandle of Texas and at 8 o'clock this morning the government thermometer in Pampa had dropped back to 19 degrees after registering 31 at sunset yesterday.

A high wind blew through the night although the dust moved on and by 9 o'clock last night had practically cleared. Sunny, dustless skies again greeted Pampans early today. However, the wind came up again and there was some local dust blowing at noon today.

Yesterday afternoon's dust reached its height around 5 o'clock when visibility was cut almost to one city block. The storm was reported much more severe at points north and west of Pampa.

With reports of floods, snow and ice from other sections of the country, the Panhandle today was experiencing fairly comfortable weather with the mercury climbing back into the thirties this afternoon.

Colder weather today appeared to have ended a threat of midwinter frosts in the east and middle-west.

Before noon cold blasts had swept as far east as central New York state, checking floods which already had begun to spread over farm lands in Illinois and Wisconsin.

The cold wave, racing in from the northwest, dropped temperatures below zero in North Dakota and Minnesota, and to near zero in other sections of the midwest.

At Syracuse, N. Y., the mercury dived to 36 by 9 a. m. and still was falling rapidly. Heavy snow began falling.

The eastern seaboard was troubled with a southeastern gale. Shipping and airline schedules were disrupted.

One plane, starting from Newark last night for Washington, was driven north to Hartford, Conn., because of the weather.

BALLOTS BEING MAILED TO MEMBERS OF C-C

Ballots bearing the names of 19 Pampans were being mailed today to members of the Pampa chamber of commerce who will select five members of the advisory board of the Board of City Development.

The five receiving the largest number of votes will be elected in a canvass Saturday morning by the retiring board.

The vote of confirmation was unanimous. Reed, 53-year-old Kentuckian, now may take his seat on the high court when it meets next Monday.

A senate judiciary subcommittee approved Reed's nomination after a brief hearing last week and the full judiciary committee added its unanimous approval yesterday.

Reed, 53-year-old Kentuckian, now may take his seat on the high court when it meets next Monday. Sutherland, 75, a native of Utah, retired January 18.

A senate judiciary subcommittee approved Reed's nomination after a brief hearing last week and the full judiciary committee added its unanimous approval yesterday.

U.S. Native Can't Speak English

A bit bewildered, unable to speak any English, 19-year-old Joseph Ripehart clings to his Chinese foster-father, Fung Dong, New York restaurant owner, at their reunion in Manhattan's Chinatown.

Joseph was known as Fung Kwok Keung in the Canton village where he had been reared after his white parents abandoned him to the elderly Chinese care. Dr. Fung, he says, dissuaded him from joining the Chinese army when Japanese bombing raids spurred him to action.

Fishbein Directs War On Syphilis

Active in the war against syphilis, fear and social inhibitions preventing proper treatment and control of the disease, Dr. Morris Fishbein, lecturer, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association and columnist for NEA Service and the Pampa Daily NEWS, gets down to work in true newspaper style as pictured here in officers of the Wichita, Kan., Beacon, where he was guest editor for a day.

Declaring "it is no longer an offense against taste to mention the word syphilis in the newspapers," Dr. Fishbein wrote a front page editorial pointing out that "a well-informed man may arm himself against exposure, have a Wasserman or Kahn test, to find out whether or not he has the disease, and will realize that prompt and adequate treatment not only protect him against the late effects of the disease but will also protect his family."

Dr. Fishbein declared syphilis must be treated as a public health problem through "education of the public, because only by the cooperation of the public will we be able to secure a victory. . . . Time will come when children . . . will learn about the venereal diseases as they now learn about washing their teeth."

Air Armadas Battle For Mastery In Spain

Air power was the vital factor today in wars on opposite sides of the world.

Spanish government planes fanned out over the Mediterranean seeking enemy surface ships in an effort to break the insurgent blockade of Barcelona.

Four insurgent warships maneuvered far at sea, avoiding government planes with which they fought an indecisive battle yesterday involving a French destroyer and French anti-aircraft batteries.

Chinese forces reported gains in their fight to hold a corridor between two Japanese armies trying to link the conquered areas of North and Central China.

Insurgent planes took the air on the Spanish Teruel front when 40 government craft raked Generalissimo Francisco Franco's lines with machine-gun fire. One insurgent and seven government ships were downed.

Fatalities Increase

Barcelona, the government capital, reported 39 killed in an insurgent air raid. Madrid reported four killed in an insurgent shelling.

Although the insurgents held strong positions on three sides of the city, government forces were reported to have broken through in one place.

NOTHING TAKEN AS OFFICERS SPOIL FORAYS

An epidemic of service station burglaries in this section netted nothing for the perpetrators, according to police and officers of the sheriff's department. Three burglaries were reported in Pampa, three in McLean and one in LeFors.

City officers and a nightwatchman are believed responsible for spoiling a profitable night for burglars here. Sheriff's officers were called to McLean yesterday to investigate two service station burglaries and one attempted entry.

This morning Sheriff Earl Talley went to LeFors on a similar case. They reported they had no clues.

Timely patrols by night police officers and nightwatchman are believed to have saved three service stations from losses early this morning. All three were entered but nothing reported missing by owners.

The first burglary was at the Gunn-Hinerman service station on West Foster avenue where J. W. Danton, nightwatchman, found the glass in the front door smashed. At 1 o'clock Night Police Chief Weldon Wilson and Officer I. S. Jamison checked the station, finding nothing amiss. The watchman made his discovery at 1:20 a. m.

JARRELL RHEA BEGINS GALLOP

Confident of reaching Pampa by Saturday afternoon "Pony Boy" Jarrell Rhea, Pampa assistant theater manager, this morning mounted his horse, "Amigo," and left Oklahoma City on his 234-mile ride to Pampa.

Rhea went by a dirt road route from Oklahoma City to El Reno. From that point he will follow U. S. Highway 66 to McLean, then come by the McLean-Pampa road here. He plans to arrive in Pampa between 1 and 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Rhea, attired in costume similar to that of the pony express riders of the last century, shown in the picture "Wells Fargo," which is to open for a four-day run at a Pampa theater Saturday.

Oklahoma City was swept by the same dust last night that has been clouding the atmosphere in Pampa. Rhea did not wire what the weather conditions were at the time of his departure.

So confident is he of making the trip in the scheduled time, that he evidently did not leave Oklahoma City until late this morning, the telegram from Rhea being sent at 9:47 a. m.

Where his first stop would be was not known, but it was expected to be only a short distance west of El Reno. Rhea maintains his 52-mile a day average.

MILLION FOR CHINESE ASKED BY RED CROSS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—The American Red Cross undertook today, at President Roosevelt's suggestion, to raise $1,000,000 for distressed Chinese civilians.

The President told Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Red Cross chairman, that he was convinced "there is a widespread desire on the part of our citizens in every section of the country to contribute."

"It is necessary that some organization be designated to supervise the collection and distribution of the funds," he added, "and for such a task we naturally turn to the Red Cross."

Admiral Grayson said the money would be expended under the supervision of an American committee appointed by Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson.

Essential Accomplishment Given For Girl Who Gets Job

By NEA Service
NEW YORK—The girl who gets the job these days has to be a mind-reader, a master diplomat and an adroit actress.

As always, she must be clean and neat, appropriately dressed, well-mannered and pleasant. Furthermore, she must possess the happy faculty of being able to read her prospective employer's thoughts, politely but firmly avoid airing her views on controversial subjects and, regardless of how she's quaking inside, appear cool and poised, self-assured yet not conceited.

If this sounds like a difficult role, remember that Gertrude Stein, director of Vocational Service, one of the largest employment agencies in New York, says the girl who makes up her mind to get a job these days has to prepare herself for a difficult role. And this goes whether she's experienced or not.

First Impressions Count
"No matter how capable of handling the job an applicant is, she has to have the right approach during the first interview or she'll never have a chance to prove that she can handle it," the pleasant-faced Miss Stein said.

"It's all a matter of selling—a matter of selling herself to the person who's doing the hiring. And this means forgetting herself completely, really listening to what the interviewer is saying, trying to guess what he is thinking and not saying."

Speaking From Experience
Among Miss Stein's impressive list of don'ts, compiled after thirty years of placement work, are these: "Don't be late for an appointment. If, for any reason, you don't arrive on time, don't give a lame excuse. Better to say nothing than to mutter something about the traffic or a slow watch or whatever. Don't carry bundles, newspapers or magazines. The packages might drop and give the man behind the desk the impression that you are frightfully nervous. It's a mistake to appear ill at ease.

Don't use slang. Don't be too positive in your statements. The person you hope will become your boss may dislike what you would espouse. So watch out!

Smile Can Be Overdone
Don't affect a smile and wear it from the time you enter the door until the interview is over. Be pleasant, but remember that a perpetual smile may make an employer think that you can do nothing except grin.

Don't be aggressive or quarrelsome with the employment agency people who are trying to find work for you. Since they demand no payment until the employment-seeker actually is working, they are almost as anxious for you to find a job as you are to get one. Remember that whenever you catch yourself getting into a persistent, nagging mood.

Put Up Best Front
Don't underestimate the importance of being as smartly dressed and groomed as your pocketbook will allow and as soap and water and the pressing iron can make you. Nobody pays much attention to an applicant who looks down at the mouth.

Don't brag. Once you have stated your qualifications, let further statements of your ability come as answers to the interviewer's questions.

It's surprising how often an employer hires the person who is a trifle doubtful about being able to handle the job in preference to one who is cock-sure of himself," Miss Stein concluded.

"I AM ONE OF THE MILLIONS WHO PREFER CAMELS" SAYS RALPH GREENLEAF WORLD'S CHAMPION IN POCKET BILLIARDS

"HEALTHY NERVES ARE A MUST WITH ME!"

FOURTEEN different times the news headlines have flashed: RALPH GREENLEAF WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP. In a special interview during his recent championship play in Philadelphia, Ralph said: "I'd say the most important rule in this game is to have healthy nerves. And on that score, I think, Camels have a lot extra to offer. One of the main reasons why I've stuck to Camel cigarettes for twenty years is—they don't ruffle my nerves."

And America as a nation shows the same preference for finer tobaccos that Ralph Greenleaf does! Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in America

SUPPORT ANTI-SYPHILIS DRIVE

Anti-syphilis campaigns have been waged in various parts of the United States this year with great success, and through the efforts of public spirited doctors and health departments the fight has at last been brought out into the open. For centuries this disease and its companion, gonorrhea, have been among mankind's greatest enemies, but because of their nature they have been a taboo subject in polite company.

Modern education has done a lot to remove this shush-shush attitude, and one finds the subject being mentioned with increasing frequency in the social world. This is not a sign of lack of decency but indicates a more sensible and healthful approach to the problem.

Many people are afflicted with venereal diseases through no fault of their own. Perhaps they inherited the curse or got it from their mates in legitimate marital relations. (Married people, unfortunately, are not always honest with each other on this subject.) In any case, they should not suffer in silence but should come forward and ask for treatment.

Several such campaigns have been made in New Mexico, the latest being at Gallup. There a county-wide blood test survey is being made free of charge by Gallup physicians under the supervision of the district health department, which is sending the blood samples to Albuquerque for examination.

Such a drive here could be made very successful if the civic leaders would lead the way by being first to have their blood tests made.

Even those who just KNOW they don't have syphilis are often surprised.

FRUITS OF PRIVATE CAPITAL

WHO GETS THE FRUITS OF PRIVATE CAPITALISM?

Of course, there are some who, through good fortune or extra ability, get more out of any system than others do. Under state capitalism there are leaders and sub-leaders who have extra pay and extra privileges—often giving them power far greater than any power in the hands of private capitalists. In Russia, for instance, the few available cars and radios and telephones are apt to be in the hands of the "officials."

The real test of an economic system is: HOW MANY PEOPLE SHARE ITS BENEFITS—AND HOW BIG ARE THE INDIVIDUAL BENEFITS?

BENEFITS OF CAPITALISM

HOW MANY PEOPLE SHARE THE GOOD THINGS OF LIFE IN AMERICA — THE THINGS MOST OF THE WORLD CALLS LUXURIES?

The United States has one radio for every six persons ... more per capita than any other country ... a total almost as great as the rest of the world combined.

The United States has one telephone for every seven persons ... Europe has one for every 35 ... we have more than the rest of the world combined.

More American homes have running water than the homes of any other country ... and its extraordinarily good water.

By almost any yardstick which can be selected, AMERICA LEADS THE WORLD BOTH IN TOTAL WEALTH AND IN THE DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH AMONG THE MASSES.

This series of explanations of capital is reproduced through courtesy of the J. Walter Thompson company.

Tex's Topics

The dust got pretty thick at the height of yesterday's dust storm in Pampa ... And, incidentally, it was news to me that it could snow in the middle of a duster ... It turned almost as dark as night at 5 p. m., and when the snow began to filter through, it was as if somebody turned on the daylight again ... Persons experiencing their first dust storm become a bit frightened, and rightfully so, one suspects ... But, old timers just laugh it off and remind you of that April Sunday in 1935 when the black one rolled in ... That must have been something.

I thought of Selby Maxwell in the midst of yesterday's "brownie," and began wishing that his prediction of rain would take effect immediately ... Ray Barnes, visiting here from Ohio, wishes to know if the local realtors get any cut on the New Mexico and Colorado real estate drifting into the Panhandle ... That is an Ohioan's way of being facetious (funny, to you) ... Emmett Gotcher, the composing room foreman tells about the dust storm that was so bad that a prairie dog, digging a hole during the duster, kept on digging right up in the air—a gust of wind blew the dust out from under him, and the poor dog fell and broke his neck.

As an example of pure and unadulterated stubbornness, the case of John Marsh, a carpenter in Cumberland county, Pa., takes the prize ... Marsh won't allow his son Eugene, to be vaccinated, so every time the lad goes to school the teachers send him home ... When the boy fails to attend school, his father is put in jail for failure to comply with the compulsory school attendance law ... He has served 65 straight five-day terms in jail. Every time he completes one sentence, the school board slaps down another complaint and back to his cell goes Marsh ... Whether Marsh, the school board, or the judge is more stubborn is debatable. Little Eugene is the goat, of course, He's not getting any education.

Washington Letter

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—If you have not heard much about the Japanese boycott it may help to bring you up to date to report that numbers of impressionable girls in these parts are wearing cotton stockings and a prominent Washington department store has bought no Japanese goods since the sinking of the Panay.

Just what the girls or the store expect to accomplish by this boycott is not altogether clear at this moment but some of them are determined about it. The general idea seems to be that if Japan can't sell goods to the U. S. she will have less money to carry on the war.

Japan, however, is roping in China mainly to assure itself additional markets in which to sell export goods. If the United States stops buying from the Japanese it seems a fair guess that the Japanese will try even more desperately to bottle up extra markets in the Orient. That sounds like more war, instead of less.

Our reports indicate that the boycott has become sort of a game in New York City where the girls compare notes on the number of silk stockings they don't buy. One anti-Japanese partisan bought herself a pair of lisle stockings as a means of depriving the Japanese of munitions money, only to find on arrival at home that "Made in Japan" was stamped on them.

A few store clerks here say numbers of patrons, especially during the Christmas holidays, asked for goods not made in Japan but a store manager says the amount of discrimination was "less than you would expect from the amount of propaganda you hear about it."

However, he says some textile mills are turning out new designs of lisle hosiery and a few sheer types have appeared. He seemed not especially enthusiastic about them and expressed doubt if the ladies would give up their silks. Some clerks in New York are more zealous about suggesting what goods are not made in Japan.

We learn from a news clipping that 50 women of the "American League for Peace and Democracy" in Beverly Hills, California, started a door-to-door canvas throughout southern California, including Hollywood. They didn't say whether they would picket the movie studios. There's a bit of silk used there.

The National Association of Parents and Teachers reported they were taking no official action but the local association says some individuals, "strictly unofficially," are going in for the boycott.

Woolworth's five-and-ten stores are abandoning Japanese lines but one of their competitors here is thoroughly impatient at the idea—says talk of the boycott is "so much propaganda."

Mystery Cruise

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Almost everybody knows that upper Broadway was once a farming district, and that maids going a-milking tripped daintily over green fields where they trip into nightclubs and out again. New York had a distinct over-tone of Dutch in those days. There were no tall buildings north of 33rd street, indeed, four stories was a mammoth contraption in those times.

On a small farm about 55st street would be today lived a mild-mannered man who worked hard to wrest a living from the soil. But he had a hobby. At night, by the fireplace, aided perhaps by a flickering candle, he carved images of John, his patron Saint, from pieces of wood. He became quite expert at this and carved hundreds of the little sainted figures.

In his spare-time—that is, between farming seasons, he was a carpenter, and so it happened, that, as the town grew, he helped build many of the houses that sprang up over the farmlands of upper Manhattan.

What possessed him to do it is unknown, but in each house he helped construct, the man secreted figures of St. John in the walls. The images were sealed between the walls, and in the foundations of the house. Probably he kept this to himself, because none of his friends knew anything about it.

Then he died, and his son lived on in the family farmhouse, tilling the soil. As the city took on an aspect of concrete and steel the farms began to disappear. Soil-tillers on the island gave up the ghost, sought employment in industrial pursuits, and secured their fresh eggs, butter and cream from the Jersey farmlands across the river.

In time Manhattan became—New York. The big, mad, blunt New York we know today. It erased all vestiges of the old farm-houses and the old life. It became a symbol, a fast-moving mechanized project that spread out and thrust up in spires in envy of the stars.

Greed, vice, meanness, like alien flowers, took root-hold along with the many virtues that necessarily must be a part of any great city.

Not long ago New York's able Prosecutor Dewey directed a crusade against the vice rings which operated in the city, sending many to Sing Sing and driving others from the city. One notorious house was torn down after its occupants had been dispersed.

And the excavating crew made a strange discovery. Between the walls and in the hidden corners of the house were found tiny carved images of St. John the Divine. A lot of them. It was all very mysterious and amusing to the men who tore down that old house—which, they say, had been standing for generations.

Jack Dempsey carries several dozen photographs in his pocket—all of his two little daughters. He is the most enthusiastic father you ever saw. But single snapshots don't interest him. He likes albums.

People You Know

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

There is a certain boy of 15 who has a dog and she has three pups, and because these pups are of a certain breed everybody wants one, including this one.

Well, the boy is naturally sympathetic and humane and is sensitive to suffering, but when he is with the pups his whole nature changes. There is acute pain in his face and in his voice, when he whimpers. He worries about the mother who is thin because of the sucking pups. When the boy holds the pups or looks at them or the mother, his profile softens and there is unbearable compassion in his face because of the love that shines there.

It was Sunday and the dust was blowing and we couldn't go outside so this one watched the boy and one of the pups. "I want to sell this one," said the boy, "but if it doesn't stop running after me I'm going to have to keep it." Then the pup got under his chair and started licking the boy's heels, and the boy groaned in pain, and snatched it up in his arms, and the pup then snuggled his head into the crook of the boy's arm and went to sleep. "How can I sell this dog?" he asked. "I've got to keep it!"

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

Spasms of smooth (involuntary) muscles are responsible for some of the most distressing and stubborn disturbances in the body. The spasms may affect practically any portion of the gastro-intestinal tract, the urinary system, the blood vessels in any and every portion of the body, the bronchi, the gall bladder, and so on.

The treatment of these spasmodic conditions is difficult. While it is possibly by means of a variety of drugs and endocrine extracts to release the spasmodic muscles temporarily, a permanent cure frequently calls for a basic re-education of the personality.

The involuntary muscles are under the control of the autonomic nervous system. When this system is left free to carry on according to the vital needs of the body, respiration, digestion, circulation and excretion proceed smoothly and without much awareness.

Frequently, however, the smooth functioning of the autonomic nervous system and of the stomach muscle organs which it controls is disrupted by impulses emanating from the central nervous system (the higher centers of the brain).

Fear, anger and rage profoundly affect the autonomic system and the smooth muscles.

More prolonged are the emotional states of anxiety, grief, frustrated ambition, resentment against fate's cruelties, inner and frequently unconscious conflicts between the ideals one has been taught to prize and the inborn selfish primitive drives and desires. These disturbances are important contributors to the development of the disease conditions due to smooth muscle spasm.

Many of the conditions of smooth muscle spasm, such as asthma, "dead fingers" (due to arterial spasms) and spastic colon, are seen in individuals of a sensitive, striving, idealistic temperament.

With such patients, psychotherapy (explanation, interpretation, persuasion and suggestion) does much to

Since Martha Raye's divorce from Buddy Westmore, it's unhealthy when she's around, to hum, sing or whistle "My Buddy."

For months now, movie production has been at an all-time low. Studios have stories, stars and commitments with exhibitors, and should be very busy. But many of the big companies operate on shoestring financing and can't go to work until eastern bankers put up more money.

Meanwhile, the financiers who have milked picture company stocks and otherwise contributed to the near-ruin of at least three studios, are wary about coming to the rescue.

Chumps Taking Bumps

Another local race track is being built here, at Inglewood, backed by a lot of prominent people with an appetite for the kind of gravy that's coming out of Santa Anita, which will show a gross intake of some $30,000,000 this season.

So pretty soon, with three tracks taking turns trimming the chumps, the grocers and landlords and clothes and doctors will have additional millions of dollars worth of bad debts.

And finally, racing will be killed in southern California, although the coroner's verdict should read "suicide."

No sooner were Anita Louise and Ronald Reagan selected for the leads in a picture than the busy publicity department began hatching up a torrid romance between the two. Fact is that they met for the first time the other day. They were introduced in the studio restaurant.

And now that the Wayne Morris-Priscilla Lane flicker as been completed, the same press agents are gradually extracting the two young people from their ballyhooed betrothal. Statements attributed to them indicate that Miss Lane and Mr. Morris reluctantly are deciding that they must think of their careers.

Cleverest pressagency of the month came from the Hal Roach studio. The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Jan. 25 (AP)—It would not be surprising if court action developed from an investigation of prices for cement paid by the state, said a member of the house of representatives committee which at intervals since the last general session has been conducting an inquiry.

Rep. Ben H. Sharpe of Paris, author of the investigation resolution, said the committee would report to the next session, either special or regular.

Sharpe contends the state has been compelled to pay to much for the cement used in constructing highways. The committee has considered the feasibility of the state manufacturing its own cement, but the idea seems to have met small favor.

The highway patrol appreciates cooperation in its efforts to enforce traffic laws, but was surprised recently at the degree it received in one instance.

In East Texas two patrolmen stopped an old negro man in an automobile of 1916 vintage because it had defective lights. They warned him to have the lights tested immediately.

Next day the darkey walked into the patrol's headquarters with a gunny sack over his shoulder. From the sack he took two headlights.

"Well," he said, "I hung them headlights down to be tested."

The supreme court appears to be nearing a goal toward which it has driven long and earnestly. That goal is "catching the wild ducks."

A report from the year ending Dec. 31, by S. A. Philquist, chief clerk, showed the tribunal was consistently whittling down its backlog of work.

When the year started, 335 cases—the court calls them "causes"—were pending, but when the year ended the number was 298. A few years back the figure was much higher.

In other words the docket is fed by a never-ending flow of cases while the court is continually grinding out decisions. The measure of the distance of the court room from its goal of being abreast of its job is the size of the docket.

There are two ways to reduce the docket. One is to restrict the number of cases that attorneys want to get on it and the other to turn out decisions rapidly. The court has been utilizing both methods.

Three years past it was not unheard of for the court to be so snowed under with work it simply let cases get on the docket because it didn't have time to determine properly whether they had a place there.

Now if a case is placed on the docket, that is, if it comes up from a court of civil appeals to the court may decide to review it, especially if the court thinks it sees matters of law which justify the appeal. If the court doesn't think so, more than likely it will refuse a review and the decision of the civil appeals court will stand.

Philquist says the court may wipe out the accumulation of causes in three, perhaps two, years. When that time comes and the court decides to review a case it will immediately set it down for argument.

Arguments may not be held now for months after an application for writ of error is granted. In the past this interval sometimes has been years.

"When are you going to announce, Bill?"

It was the question of a press correspondent put to Attorney General William McCraw.

"What announcement?" queried McCraw, simulating innocence.

Then he laughed, adding: "When I announce, brother, I'll say something!"

McCraw's announcement for the governorship might come soon after conclusion of hearings in New York and Massachusetts on the E. H. E. Green tax case, expected about the latter part of January. Or it might not be until early March after another hearing in Florida in the same litigation.

FCC TO MAKE STUDY OF BROADCAST SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Commissioner T. A. M. Craven of the communications commission said today the rule of public interest and necessity should guide the commission in developing newspaper-owned radio stations until a study has been made of their broadcast service.

Craven's observations, contained in a study of the social and economic aspects of radio broadcasting, were made public by Chairman Frank R. McIninch.

"Eventually," he said, "a choice may have to be made between permitting or prohibiting other media such as the press an opportunity to supplement their older facilities with the newer invention of radio."

Craven said there were possible dangers in prohibiting any enterprise from obtaining broadcasting privileges.

Among these dangers, he said, would be "the possible discrimination involved against any class or group without any reasonable basis therefor; the possible interference with freedom of speech and press; possible turning aside of what may be a natural course of progress by which older established media bring their experience and their equipment to the gradual utilization of the new methods which science makes possible, and the possible establishment of an undesirable precedent."

CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe Railway System carloadings for the week ending January 22, were 19,912 compared with 20,375 for the same week in 1937. Received from connections were 4,661 compared with 4,926 for the same week last year. Total cars moved were 24,978 compared with 27,301 during the same week in 1937. The Santa Fe handled a total of 25,015 cars in the preceding week this year.

PAMPA WILL CAST BALLOT FOR 6TH CLUB

Lamesa high school, for several years a power in Class B football, has made application for entry to Class A competition and has been tentatively placed in District 1 with Pampa, Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock and Plainview.

The Cyclones' entry into the district will be discussed at a called meeting of the District 1 executive committee and coaches in Plainview at 10 o'clock tomorrow evening.

At the same time the resignation of supt. R. B. Fisher of Pampa as district chairman will be received and a successor named. Supt. Fisher has resigned as head of the Pampa schools to accept a similar position at Corpus Christi.

Lamesa's application to membership in the senior bracket was filed with the Texas Interscholastic league when its enrollment passed the 500 mark. Lamesa asked for the admittance to the Oil Belt but that district is already overcrowded. Yesterday afternoon L. S. Sone, acting superintendent of schools here upon termination of Supt. Fisher's contract, Feb. 1 received word from the Interscholastic league that Lamesa had tentatively been placed in District 1 and asked that the district take immediate action in accepting or rejecting the entry.

At the same time, a letter was received from V. Z. Rogers, superintendent of schools at Lamesa, stating that his school would rather be admitted to District 3, the Oil Belt. Supt. Rogers and Coach "Red" Holden of the Hurricanes will attend tomorrow's meeting.

Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters this morning expressed hope that Lamesa could be admitted as a suitable schedule arranged without upsetting the present schedule of the five schools. He wired Lamesa this morning that Pampa Harvesters would like to play Lamesa here on October 21, providing the school was admitted to the district and the date suitable.

Menow Favorite To Win Kentucky Derby Next May

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 25 (AP)—Whether or not Menow, likely advance favorite for the Kentucky Derby next May, gets to the post in the blue grass classic is conjectural. Hal Price Headley's champion two-year-old of 1937 is at Hialeah Park, training nicely, and the filling in his near fore leg he took at the Pimlico Futurity last November seems to be only a memory, but—

Young Duval Headley, who trains the big bay son of Pharamond 2nd-Alcibiades for his uncle, had this to say:

"Menow arrived here from our Beaumont farm more than a week ago looking grand and acting fine. We are entirely satisfied with his present condition, and the leg filling just back of the knee which forced him out apparently is over with. However, we would not want to see the racing public burn up a lot of money on our colt, which is sure of being one of the favorites for the derby.

"Before we leave here March 25, he should be breezing, and by that time a better indication will be available as to his derby prospects."

Bruce Barton Here to Coach Peeewe Cagers

Coach Bruce Barton has arrived from Saint Jo to take over the coaching assignment at Pampa Junior high Peeewe. He found, as far as basketball was concerned, that he has a mighty promising group of youngsters. His football prospects are also good, he learned.

On last Friday O. P. Shewmaker admitted that he took the Peeewe down to LeFors for a game and after three overtime periods the game was called with the score 19 to 19.

The Peeewe had a 14 to 10 lead at the half but at the final whistle the score stood 18 to 18. Two overtime periods netted no scores. The third extra session saw each team make a free throw. Both coaches then agreed to call off hostilities until a later date.

LEFTHANDER GOLFERS GET TOURNEY BREAK

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 25 (AP)—Start of match play in the Miami Biltmore lefthander golf tournament today pitted Bassballer Paul Wauer, defending titlist and medalist, against S. G. Ivison of Clearwater.

The Pittsburgh Pirates outfielder, seeking to win the tournament the third year in a row, posted a 78 to take medalist honors. Ivison qualified with an 89.

Borger And Pampa To Play Tonight And Friday

CAGE SEASON HALF OVER AND RULE ARGUMENTS WAX WARM

By The AP Feature Service

The 1937-38 basketball season is about halfway over. So, some coaches seem to hope, is basketball—as she is played under the new rules.

Those new rules have made the season different. They have given the writers a lot to write about, and have brought many new angles into the news reports.

Perhaps, also, they have encouraged a degree of experimenting. There was, for instance, Coach Mac Pitt of the University of Richmond who decided he would eliminate the baskets. His team shoots at black spots on the backboard, in practice.

No sooner had Coach Pitt set the example of breaking into print when Coach Paul Mooney of Columbia university came along. Mr. Mooney would leave the baskets, but he'd take away the backboards, thereby putting "a premium on good shooting." It may sound funny to a lot of basketball players today, but it was operated with open baskets 20 years ago.

It hasn't been verified, but it's whispered that out at Popcorn Center, Coach Sorrow Full wants to eliminate the basketball. His team lost 10 straight games.

The Old Guard There are those who would go back to the old rules. Dr. James Neismith, the inventor of basketball, doesn't think the game has been speeded up and by the changes and there are men in accordance with him. One who prefers basketball as it used to be is Chuck Soladare, the referee, who would bring back the jump—although he once spent 19 weeks in a hospital after a collision on a jump ball.

Elimination of the jump has affected the centers in various ways, and this is brought out by contrasting the cases of Meyer Bloom, Temple, and of Floyd DeHeer, Iowa's 6-foot-8-inch pivotman.

Bloom is thriving. Now that he does not have to jump after every tip, he reads a publicity release, "he is a much more active man on the floor."

DeHeer is virtually an outcast. For two years he won basketball letters. This year he probably won't for his accomplishment, was an ability to control the tipoff, was certainly scoring is higher this year. Columbia is getting 45 points a game against 36.5 in 1937; N. Y. U. 45 against 43; L. I. U. 66 against 52.1.

Woman Trouble Hank Luisetti of Stanford made 50 points in a game against Duquesne. And at Toledo, O., Charles Chuckovits averaged 24 points a game in his first six contests. If the new rules add six or seven minutes' playing time to a game, they certainly should give added chances to the high-scoring players.

There already have been several old records uncovered to prove that Hank really didn't set a new record, after all. And if he wants something to shoot for he may try to beat the mark of Marie Boyd, the girl who

DEMAREE THINKS HE'S WORTH MORE DO-BA-ME

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—Frank Demaree, who has been hearing reports of his ability as a baseball player all winter, apparently wants to convert them into cash at the Chicago Cubs' front office.

Demaree, from his Los Angeles home, bounced the proffered 1939 contract right back at Owner P. K. Wrigley. Since Wrigley and his aides have been telling the baseball world since last December they would never dispose of hard-hitting Frank, it appears Demaree holds the contract "ace" and the Cub management is in the hole.

Rose Bowl Tickets Causes Coast Stir

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 25 (AP)—Dr. Robert Gordon Sprout, president of the University of California warned Rose Bowl officials today California would accept no future invitations to play in the annual football classic unless "ticket distribution inequalities" were remedied.

Dr. Sprout's statement was in reply to widespread criticism evoked by distribution of tickets for this year's game with Alabama.

California first filed applications of its alumni in accordance with Pacific Coast conference regulations.

PERRY BEATS VINES GREAT FALLS, Mont., Jan. 25 (AP)—Fred Perry of England advanced another step in his quest for the supremacy of the professional tennis ranks by defeating Ellsworth Vines, world's top titleholder, two straight sets, 6-4 and 9-7, in the feature match of an exhibition here late last night.

The Harvester basketball team will not beat the Borger Bulldogs again this season, and the Pampa cagers might as well be prepared to take a licking tonight, Coach Catfish Smith said yesterday.

However, Coach Odus Mitchell was not convinced that the Pampa's chances were hopeless. He also decided not to forfeit the game tonight. The boastful Borger not only believes that he has the best player in the district in Buddy Barron, center, but that now that his team has recovered from a mid-season slump it will never be caught.

Numerous Pampa fans were planning to go to Borger tonight to see for themselves whether the Catfish's charge have improved so much since they suffered a 37 to 24 defeat here a week ago. Since they dropped the game here the Bulldogs went to Plainview and were nixed out in two other games. They lost the second game in the last few seconds by 2 points.

Amarillo is now deep in the cellar of the Big Five league with seven defeats and no victories. Borger is only a notch higher with six defeats and two victories, both over Amarillo. Pampa and Plainview are tied for the lead with seven wins and one loss each. Lubbock has already been defeated twice.

Bob Andis who has been ailing with an inflamed, swollen gland over his groin reported for practice yesterday, and Coach Mitchell allowed him to work out a little while. Bob may be in the game Friday night when Borger plays at Pampa again. He will not be able to play tonight.

It is hoped that by the time the district tournament opens Andis will have recovered the form that made him one of the leading scorers on the team. Tonight Mitchell will probably start Heiskell and Cunningham at forwards; Cox at center, and Dunaway and Reynolds at guards. As usual he will have Grover Heiskell, forward; A. C. Miller, center; Junior Foster, guard, ready to put into the game if the starters falter—as they have done frequently lately.

George (Eutch) Nash of Minnesota, 20, has had 12 years of basketball, and Coach Mitchell allowed him to work out a little while. Bob may be in the game Friday night when Borger plays at Pampa again. He will not be able to play tonight.

DIMAGGIO NO SUPER PLAYER OPINES WELCH

By GAYLE TALBOT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, demanding $35,000 for performing with the Yankees the coming season, finds no supporter in a player of a bygone day, Mickey Welch, who pitched for the original New York Giants from 1882 to 1892.

Welch, now 78, thinks the present day salary scale in the big leagues is scandalous and that it is damaging to team spirit the way the figures of the various players are aired annually.

"Most I ever got in my life was $4,000 a year," he recalled. "Believe me, I worked for it, too. Days I wasn't pitching I played center-field, and the first year we were in the National league I had to be at the park ahead of time to mind the 'salle'."

Welch's manager at that time was the colorful Jim Mutrie, first pilot of the Giants, who died here yesterday at the age of 86. They were great pals, but he can't even imagine what would have happened if he had tried to hold out on Mutrie for a larger salary.

"Buck Ewing, the greatest catcher who ever lived, was the highest paid man on the team at $3,200. Buck asked Mutrie for $3,500, pointing out that he was captain and practically field manager of the team. Mutrie didn't like it much, but he finally agreed to the raise providing Buck would catch 100 games, which he did."

"This DiMaggio, now, he's no super player. He's a low-ball hitter and we would have pitched to him in my day. He's not half the player Buck Ewing was."

It might be pointed out, if Welch seems slightly prejudiced in Ewing's case, that Buck was his battery mate. On July 3, 1885, with Ewing catching, Welch shut out Chicago, 1 to 0. They hopped to Buffalo that night, and the next morning Welch stopped Buffalo, 6 to 0. That afternoon he weakened slightly and beat Buffalo only 6 to 2. He won 17 straight games before that string was broken.

Those were great days, Welch admits. The visiting players always were taken from their hotel to the park in big, gaudy carriages, and many a decayed rutabaga and overripe egg signaled their progress through the streets. They could get a vegetable shower on the way back to the hotel, too, if they won.

'Terrible Terry' Writes Article In His Defense

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Bill Terry says it ain't so.

The New York Giants' manager, whose "feud" with the sports writers has supplied those writers with plenty of copy for years, takes up the cudgel on his own behalf in an article entitled "Terrible Terry" in this week's Saturday Evening Post.

Terry, tracing the feud to his refusal to give his private telephone number to a New York sports editor, who immediately adopted an "anti-Terry" attitude because of the "snub," goes over a number of incidents which have been related in print and some which haven't been told, to give his own versions.

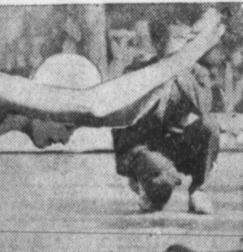

He still doesn't have much to say in favor of the sports writers, charging them with misrepresentation in more than one case and with letting themselves be "used" by John J. McGraw when Terry was holding out for the first time.

This Youth Had Confidence in Himself, Anyway

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 25 (AP)—Maj. L. M. (Biff) Jones, University of Nebraska football coach, seemed convinced today high school athletes are becoming more efficient each year.

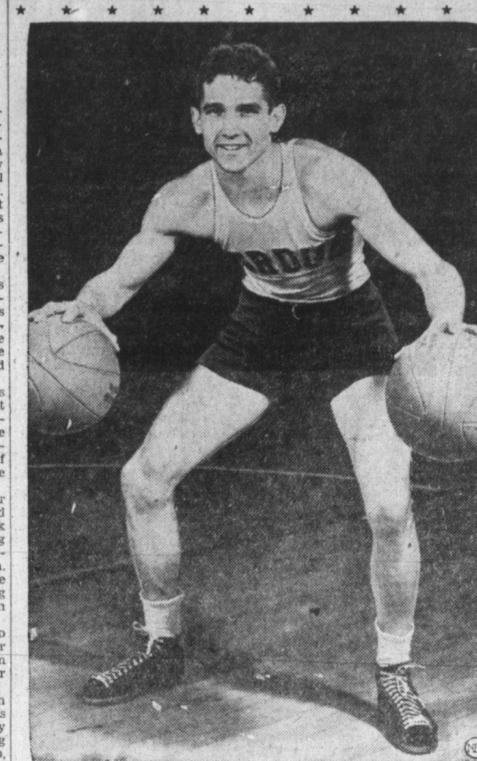

Coach Jones received a letter from one in which the youth extolled his ability as a touchdown scorer. The letter was mimeographed.

Splash and Another Record Gets New Ink

All-American Cagers Difficult To Select

Johnny Sines One of the finest forwards in the Midwest, Johnny Sines is an outstanding reason why Purdue is currently regarded as a favorite in the Big Ten court campaign.

By JERRY BRONDFIELD, NEA Service Sports Writer.

In no other team game can individual brilliance stand out as much as it can in basketball. The very nature of the game assures this fact, and as long as it is the highest and quickest scoring competitive sports, individual brilliance will continue to be spotted easily.

All of which makes the task of picking an All-America basketball team a far bigger—and tougher—job than selecting an all-star football eleven.

There are just too many good players in the country, and basketball is a game where the little schools are able to administer very thorough drillings to the larger and more publicized colleges.

But despite all that, the exploits of a score or more of sharpshooters on the nation's hardwoods so definitely stamped themselves as All-American timber that they can't be disregarded.

Eagle-eyed forwards are plentiful this year, but there are a number who are particularly brilliant.

Heading the list of these standouts is Hank Luisetti, Stanford's one-handed shot maker, and the most widely publicized collegiate player of all time.

Close on his heels are Purdue's field goal fanatics, Jewell Young, an amazing southsayer who topped the Big Ten scoring record of 172 points, and his running-mate Johnny Sines.

Notre Dame loudly sings the praises of Johnny Moir, a six-footer who when he's hot, just isn't stoppable. Joe Lapchick, former professional star who now coaches St. John's in New York, says Jerry Bush, his big scoring threat is the greatest collegiate player he has ever seen in action.

Long Island's Irving Bromberg, who leads the Metropolitan point-getters by a huge margin, is known as one of the coolest competitors in the east.

Georgia Tech, with one of the finest—and certainly the biggest—teams in the south, offers Ed Jones and 6 foot 4 inch Bill Jordan as two of the deadliest shots to be found anywhere.

John Townsend of Michigan stands over 6 feet tall and weighs 200 pounds, yet he is called the greatest and most graceful cager in Wolverine history.

Lads of smaller schools who are burning up the nets at Chuck Chuckovits of Toledo University, and Nick Frascolla of Wooster College. Chuckovits held the collegiate scoring record of 41 points for a single game until Luisetti's 50 markers against Duquesne erased his record from the record books.

Gigantic Art Stoen of Stanford, easily the best defensive center on the west coast, is an outstanding choice at the pivot position, but any eastern fan, particularly a Temple follower, will argue that the Owl's Mike Bloom, is the best all-around center in college ranks.

And from Illinois comes the rick-o challenge: "What about Puck Dehner?"

Martin Rolek, Minnesota captain and an All-America choice last year has been performing brilliantly despite an early season leg injury. Hal Dornisfe, a six-footer from Southern California not only is a great defensive player but has a good shooting eye as well. Vernon Struck of Harvard football fame, also is considered one of the best in the business, and the list could go on, and on.

The best thing a picker of All-America game teams could do would be to name at least four men for each position, and let it go at that.

Picard Captures Pasadena Open

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 25 (AP)—The play-for-pay Pasadena open yesterday made good by Southern California for a year today and turned back toward the northern part of the state for further cracks at the money scattered along the winter tournament trail.

Henry Picard of Hensley, Pa., won the $3,000 Pasadena open yesterday in the final event on the program down here, and led his touring brethren on to Oakland for the $5,000 open there this weekend.

Picard finished with a card of 70-66-71-69—276, which was the best score ever made in the local tournament and consistent enough to beat out such par smashers as Jimmy Thomson, Jimmy Hines and Byron Nelson.

Hines, of Garden City, N. Y., wound up second with 278, and Nelson, with a third round to help him get in the running, nosed out Thomson for third place money. Nelson had 279 and hard-hitting Jimmy had 280.

Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., with 281, and Horton Smith, Chicago, and Jack Groat, Pickard's assistant, tied with 282.

The money results of the year, starting off with the Los Angeles open, which Thompson won, found the following high-winners: Thompson, $2,300; Picard, $1,715, including the $700 won yesterday; Revolta, $1,300; Hines, $850; Lawson Little, San Francisco, $665; Sam Sneed, White Sulphur Springs, Va., $735.55; Horton Smith, $695; Byron Nelson, Dayton, O., $350 and George Von Elm, Los Angeles, $350.

Sol Dreyfuss to Be Sole Owner of Dallas Ball Club

DALLAS, Jan. 25 (AP)—Operation of the Dallas baseball club of the Texas league had been vested in Sol Dreyfuss, majority stockholder, as sole owner.

John L. Cottingham, secretary of the club, announced last night the Dallas Athletic Corporation had been dissolved as a corporation, and all stock in the club assigned to Dreyfuss.

He said there would be no changes in the club's official or policy of attempting to put a first class team in the field.

Reasons of economy led to assignment of the club to Dreyfuss as individual owner, Cottingham said.

Richest Girl in the World

Yesterday: Bret finds Constance... CHAPTER XVII CONNIE was to win out once more in her plea for a second honeymoon...

They booked passage for the luxurious Prince of Wales suite... This was Bret's first experience as the husband of the richest girl in the world...

Oh, you'll get used to it," Connie assured him. "Anyway it seems there is nothing one can do about it. I suppose people do think we are freaks of some sort...

BRET said he supposed she was right. Nevertheless he did not think he would ever get used to being public property...

However he was to find that they still were, to the other passengers on shipboard...

"I almost pitched him overboard," he told Connie violently. "Why on earth should people spy on us and whisper behind our backs and rubbernecks? I think, honey, if you don't mind, we'll stay close in our rooms during the remainder of the voyage..."

Connie said she did not mind. Poor Bret, he was getting a taste of the gilded cage in which she always had lived...

They were very happy during this second honeymoon. Perhaps they would never be quite so happy again...

SENATE HEADS FAVOR GLASS' HOLDING BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. (AP) — Senators Barkley (D., Ky.) and Wagner (D., N. Y.) forecast easy sailing today for legislation designed to abolish bank holding companies...

Wagner is chairman of the senate banking committee, which will study a bill being drafted by Senator Glass (D., Va.) to achieve that objective...

Glass has been author or partial author of much of the nation's banking law, including the federal reserve act. He said he was considering legislation to give bank holding companies five years in which to liquidate...

The Virginian long has been a critic of bank holding companies. He said his measure was not an administration bill, although he had conferred on it with Secretary Morgenthau...

Morgenthau told his press conference that he was going to confer this week with other administration officials in an effort to agree on legislation regulating or prohibiting bank holding companies...

Mr. Roosevelt said last week that his remarks against holding companies did not imply he was opposed to branch banking.

Movement of Eyes Recorded by Camera

DES MOINES, Ia. Jan. 25. (AP) — Dr. Herman F. Brandt, Drake University Professor of Psychology, explained today his new bi-dimensional camera which records the movement of a person's eyes...

The camera shows the path the eyes take over a written or printed page, both horizontally and vertically. It shows what attracts the eyes' attention first—whether an advertisement is read first or whether the big type and pictures claim all the attention...

The device can trace a student's eye movement as he pores over his text books. By depicting such movement the camera can give a fair account of when his attention wanders and what is wrong with his technique of study...

Advertisers are making use of it. Dr. Brandt said to tell how well copy attracts attention, and what part of it the average person doesn't bother to read...

The camera directs a beam of light into the cornea of the reader's eye as he scans the book or magazine before him. The reflection of this beam is focused through lenses only in motion picture film. The film, by an ingenious method, moves both vertically and horizontally so that all directions of the eye's movement are recorded...

After the film is developed, it is projected on a screen and the eye's path is traced and plotted on the page of the book or magazine before the reader.

'SUPER MEN' SEEKER DIES IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 25. (AP) — Eugene Arnett, 62, who reputedly spent two decades and part of a million-dollar insurance fortune seeking a formula for a race of "super men," died yesterday...

Arnett once termed himself "years ahead of time." "I have no hope that the work I'm doing now will be accepted during my lifetime," he said, "but it will benefit future generations..."

His second wife testified during trial of her divorce suit in 1934 that he spent most of his time seeking a clue through diet and gland control to the secret of a race of super beings. She said he worked 100 hours a week, read a book a day and wouldn't eat more than one normal meal weekly...

Owner of a library of 60,000 volumes, Arnett had never been to college. He had outlined a book "The New Deal vs. The New World," a treatise containing a world defense plan and world drainage system program...

Arnett's home was a large, stone office building originally constructed to house the state capital. In the last few years, Arnett had not remained completely in seclusion. He traveled and visited Colorado and Louisiana where he had large land holdings...

MAIL GETS THROUGH IN 'SNOWMOBILE'

BLISS, N. Y. (AP)-Winter's snows hold no terrors for Edris Morgan, rural mail carrier. When roads are blocked with drifts, and other automobiles remain garage-bound, Morgan rolls out his "snowmobile," a revamped auto, equipped with eight wheels and mounted on skis, plus a caterpillar tread in the rear.

LIL ABNER

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE earth's greatest diameter is 7926.7 miles, which gives it a circumference of approximately 25,000 miles. Therefore, in order to reach a point at the opposite end of the earth, we would need to travel only 12,500 miles.

ZEP TO CROSS NEW POOLS OCEAN IN MAY BEING WATCHED

BERLIN, Jan. 25 (AP)-Dr. Hugo Eckener, master Zeppelin maker, expressed determination today to complete Germany's newest giant Zeppelin by April and start its maiden voyage to the United States late the next month.

Recuperating in Berlin from a minor operation, the noted aircraft designer told of plans for a successor in trans-Atlantic air service to the ill-fated Hindenburg which burned May 6, 1937, at Lakehurst, N. J.

Dr. Eckener said Germany had stored in Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, containers to hold 70,000 cubic meters (2,500,000 cubic feet) of gas which he intended to use for bringing helium from the United States to Friedrichshafen.

The new airship, dimensionally identical with the Hindenburg, is 804 feet long and has a helium capacity of 7,000,000 cubic feet.

Because helium has less lifting capacity than hydrogen, the new ship, to be known as the LZ-130, will be able to carry only 40 passengers, compared with the Hindenburg's 70.

It took some time, he explained, to comply with American regulations for transfer of the containers to Houston, Texas, where they will be sent inland to Amarillo, Texas, the source of helium.

Following the Hindenburg disaster in which 36 lives were lost at Lakehurst last May, Germany determined to abandon use of inflammable hydrogen and replace it with helium, a non-inflammable gas in which the United States has virtually a world monopoly.

The United States congress recently relaxed restrictions against helium exports and authorized shipment of 17,900,000 cubic feet to Germany.

SOCK-O!

COLUMBUS, (AP)-County Auditor Newton A. Thatcher accepted a faded old $20 bill in payment for a dog license, but the bank said it was counterfeit.

Federal agents investigated, pronounced the bill genuine. Thatcher did a little sleuthing on his own hook. The abashed dog-owner confessed the bill got that way because he did his banking in a sock-but he'd also been wearing the sock.

LOWER TEMPERATURES END ARKANSAS RAINS

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 25 (AP)-Lower temperatures brought an end to four days of rainfall and pre-empted relief from flood conditions in Arkansas today.

The cold added to the discomfort, however, of several score of families driven from their homes by high water.

Heaviest damage from the water occurred in the South-Central region of the state where the Ouachita river's backwaters overflowed bottom lands.

A stage of 41 feet-15 above flood-stage-was predicted by Friday at Camden.

The White, St. Francis and Cache rivers continued rising in Eastern Arkansas, and Texarkana, in the extreme southwest corner of the state, was practically isolated insofar as automobile traffic was concerned. The same condition prevailed at DeQueen, 60 miles north of Texarkana.

BIG HELP

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)-Herman Stegemann of Berlin wrote to the secretary of state here asking aid in locating his uncles and cousins. The official in a reply said it would be helpful to know the names of the uncles and cousins.

HONGKONG TO BE 'GI BRITAIN' OF THE EAST

By JAMES A. MILLS.

HONGKONG, Jan. 25 (AP)—Fears that Japan might attempt to extend her military activities in China toward this British crown colony, Hongkong, is fortifying to such an extent that it soon may be with Singapore, another "Gibraltar of the East."

Emergency crews of military and naval engineers, technicians and laborers are working 24 hours a day to complete a $40,000,000 program of harbor, land and air defenses.

The hills and islets on the fringes of the colony already are bristling with heavy guns, machine gun and anti-aircraft emplacements and other preparations for an armed onslaught by land, air or water.

There are hundreds of searchlights to spot aerial attackers and mythical raids and "blacks" are staged periodically to train the populace. Any resident falling to put out all lights when ordered may be fined up to $1,000.

With the thousands of homes in inky darkness and the far-flung batteries of searchlights flaring in the sky, the colony presents a grimly beautiful spectacle. The only noise to be heard above the sibilant hiss of the drone of "invading" and "defending" planes.

Hongkong fears that some day the thunder of bombardment may be added. Observers say the countless machine-gun nests could hold up an attacking land force for two weeks.

The larger naval and land guns in the hills—said to include several 16- and 18-inch cannon of range greater than any ship-mounted gun—could hold back an attack by sea.

Even so, British authorities claim only sufficient precautions to keep an invading force at bay until help could arrive from Singapore or even Australia or India. Singapore is three days away by warship.

The chief military interest centers on the heavy-caliber guns being mounted on the "peak" above Hongkong and in the high hills just behind Kowloon. The guns are landed and set up only under cover of darkness and guards bar all approaches to the emplacements.

Reliable sources say more than 1,000 mines have been laid for the defense of the harbor and Tolo bay, north of the Kowloon peninsula. An elaborate network of military roads is being thrown across the hills between Kowloon and Tolo bay.

Market Briets

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—In the second slowest session since last August, stocks generally tilted backward in today's market.

With the ticker tape barely moving throughout the listless proceedings, leadership slipped to 2 or more points at the worst. There was a mild comeback gesture in the final hour which served to quiet nervous losses.

Boardroom observers saw nothing outstanding in the news to inspire selling and the prevailing trend was attributed principally to the inclination of traders to conserve buying ammunition pending developments at the Washington front.

Weakness of secondary bonds apparently was a retarding factor and a fresh slump in the French franc in terms of the dollar, reflecting years of renewed troubles for the latest Chautauque cabinet, was far from encouraging to speculative contingents.

Transfers approximated 600,000 shares. July	91 1/2	90 1/2	91-91 1/2
Sept	90 1/2	89 1/2	90-90 1/2

CHICAGO, Jan. 25 (AP)—Dentist reports of dust storms in Kansas and Nebraska, wheat prices failed to score much advance today.

Wheat buying there was in wheat much advanced chiefly on small dips in quotations and ceased when the market encountered some increase of firmness on fractional rallies.

Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to 1/4 cent higher compared with yesterday's finish. May 96-96 1/2, July 91-91 1/2, and oats unchanged to 1/4 off.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 (AP)—Barley support was seen in today's stock market and most leaders drifted to lower levels.

With volume a shade ahead of the preceding session, which was the slowest since last August, general declines ran 2 points or more at the worst. Extreme losses were reduced in many cases near the fourth hour.

Business news was spotty, but no worse than recently and observers attributed the downward trend mainly to the disinclination of traders to expand commitments to any great extent, pending further developments at Washington in connection with rearmament, housing and other plans to combat the economic recession.

There was much discussion of the new E. E. C. rules virtually prohibiting short selling after Feb. 8, in a declining market, although it was thought questionable whether the latest governmental restriction had any important effect either way on speculative sentiment.

650 CASES OF PARALYSIS IN TEXAS IN 1937

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—Infantile paralysis struck hard in the middle and southwest states during 1937 and swept northeastward into Canada, public health service records disclosed today.

Texas, with 656 cases reported, was one of the hard hit states in the last year's wave. The rate of about 11 per 100,000 population, however, was not as great as in several other states.

Colorado was reported to have had the highest percentage of any state with 20.7 cases per 100,000 population. There were 215 cases reported. Oklahoma had 466 cases, a rate of about 17.3 per 100,000; Arkansas had 352, or about 19 per 100,000; Mississippi, 330, or 16.4 per 100,000. New York was shown with 685 cases, or 5.4 per 100,000, while Louisiana had 133 cases, or 6.3.

There were some 700 cases in California, 782 in Illinois, 535 in Ohio, 328 in Pennsylvania and 355 in Massachusetts.

Officials said it was a bit unusual for the wave to start in the southwest, but the disease map is spotty and the health service does not believe it follows any sectional lines. The disease in the northwest section of the United States at one time, they explained, there were spotted waves of the disease in the nation in 1916 and again in 1931. It is considered a disease of late summer and fall and only in the last two years became heavy in the south.

It is a disease that occurs in every climate, but usually is more pronounced in temperate zones," said one health service official. "A virus which can pass through the finest filter is believed to cause the disease."

In 1936, he explained, there was an outbreak in northwestern Alabama extending into Tennessee and northeastern Mississippi. The year before there was one in part of North Carolina, extending into Virginia and other cases were reported in eastern Massachusetts, New York and Cape Cod.

Dr. L. L. Lumsden, medical director of the public health service, and Dr. C. C. Duer of the District of Columbia health department, are studying distribution of the disease by counties while research is under way by the Institute of Health.

The health department, one doctor said, sends government doctors into a state to assist only when requested to do so.

606th ATTEMPT TO FIND CURE FOR SYPHILIS WAS SUCCESSFUL

For his creative work in the field of chemistry, the world is indebted to a distinguished physician, bacteriologist and chemist, Paul Ehrlich, and his assistants, Ehrlich, who died in 1915 at the age of 61, was a great leader in the attack on germs. He worked tirelessly in the search for a medicine containing arsenic, which would kill certain bacteria known as spirochetes. The difficult problem which he faced may be appreciated when one considers that a remedy had to be found, which would kill the germ without injury to the patient. Hundreds of new chemical compounds were created and tried; many had to be discarded. The 606th preparation proved effective. This was followed by No. 914, which was more nearly perfect. Thus did years of patient research and creative effort lead to a great victory in man's struggle with disease.

One of the venereal diseases, siphilis, is caused by a cork-screw shaped germ or spirochete. This germ almost without exception enters the blood stream of infected persons. It gives rise to definite skin eruptions and later affects vital organs, including the heart, blood vessels and nervous system. Active infection in one or both parents causes the germ to permeate the system of the unborn child. A child, born of syphilitic mother who fails to receive early and adequate treatment during the period of waiting, is likely to show the congenital form of the disease. The teeth are marked, vision is impaired, bone changes occur and other organs are involved.

Health department records indicate that syphilis must be regarded as preeminent among germ diseases. Careful surveys reveal the fact that cases of this disease outnumber those of chickenpox or measles. A thorough study of deaths and death records reveals that syphilis is the probable cause of more fatalities than result from either tuberculosis or pneumonia.

found the Peters service station on the Amarillo highway had been entered, in the same manner. Nothing was missing, it was reported this morning.

Driving from the Amarillo highway to the police station, the officers found the Lewis service station at the corner of Francis avenue and Hobart street had been entered. The door glass had been broken. Again nothing had been taken.

It is believed the officers frightened the burglars away before they could gather up their loot.

spirit of the New Deal, contrary to the principles of true liberalism, and a "tragic prostitution of the processes of government."

While the filibuster continued, legislation piled up. Administration leaders held back a conference committee's agreement on the administration's housing bill lest it would be used to aid the filibuster.

Rapidly signing an agreement, conference on the farm bill took advantage of the Monday night session to hold an evening meeting of their own.

EXEMPTIONS GRANTED 226 ON POLL TAXES

With less than a week in which to pay poll taxes only 1,622 Gray county citizens had paid these taxes up to closing time Monday at the tax-assessor-collector's office. The estimated number of voters in the county is between five and six thousand.

A total of 226 exemptions have been granted here under the law passed two years ago, which provides for exemption of poll tax payment in the following cases:

Those persons who become 21 after January 1, 1937, who would attain voting age before July 23.

Those persons over 60 years old before January 1, 1937.

The requirements for exemptions apply in cities of 10,000 or more population. Persons entitled to exemptions should apply for these the same as others do to make poll tax payment. Final date for paying poll taxes in January 31.

A cold wave was expected to end any flood threat there, although schools in some sections were closed because of the inclemency.

Teruel they still were unable to enter the city although they reported government forces had evacuated it. The government still held two strong positions northwest of Teruel, center of more than a month of battle.

France strengthened her border defenses against the spreading aerial warfare. Two new incidents roused concern.

The French torpedo boat La Poursuivante was bombed by three Spanish planes maneuvering to attack insurgent warships yesterday in the Mediterranean. The torpedo boat returned the first but no hits were scored. French anti-aircraft guns on shore joined in the firing.

Chinese said their airforce had destroyed the Japanese airbase at Wuhu, on the Yangtze river, had raided other Japanese river positions and had killed 300 Japanese in an air attack on army boats in Chekiang province.

Japanese warships and Chinese land batteries fought a one-hour duel off Namtao peninsula, across the bay from Hong Kong.

CERBERE, France at the Spanish Frontier, Jan. 25 (AP)—Squadrons of Spanish government planes dived over the Mediterranean today seeking to break the insurgent naval blockade of Barcelona after an indecisive sea and air battle yesterday off Cerberes, involving a French warship and French anti-aircraft batteries.

Inland, over the bitterly contested Teruel front, air armadas of the two Spanish factions fought for mastery, while France strengthened her borders against the spreading aerial warfare.

Buffalo Nickle To Be Succeeded By Jefferson Coin

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 (AP)—We're going to have a new nickel—the first in 25 years.

The treasury announced today that the familiar Buffalo nickel will be succeeded by one honoring Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States.

The law says a new nickel design can be issued only every 25 years. That period will be up on Feb. 21.

Secretary Morgenthau decreed the new nickel must show Jefferson's face on one side and his famous home, Monticello, on the other.

The exact design will be decided in a $1,000 prize contest, to be judged by Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint and three sculptors, Siders, Waugh, Albert Stewart and Heinz Warneke.

This doesn't mean your old Buffalo nickel will not remain worth five cents. In time, it may be worth more as a museum piece.

There are no accurate figures on the number of nickels in circulation, because all small coins are lumped together in statistics. But to give an idea of how important the nickel is, the mints turned out 164,832,570 new ones last year.

Lee Riggs, auctioneer, knows tobacco... he explains why experts prefer Luckies 2 to 1

"THIS SEASON," says Mr. Riggs, "I've sold tobacco in Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Tennessee. More than 7,500,000 pounds, I figure, amounting to about $2,000,000 in money."

"Time after time I've seen Lucky Strike get the prettiest tobacco in the auction. That's one reason I've smoked Luckies ever since I've been an auctioneer."

"Another reason I and so many other tobacco auctioneers prefer Luckies is because we have to watch out for our throats." (Luckies are extra-easy on the throat because the "Toasting" process takes out certain irritants found in even the finest tobacco.)

Mr. Riggs goes on to say that Luckies are the top cigarette with people who know tobacco. And he is talking facts.

Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many—yes, twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes put together.
