elves whether the quota method would be effected to attempt to keep huge surplus yields off the market.

A similar referendum was to be held in tobacco growing areas.

A two-thirds vote for quotas by these producers balloting would bind all growers to the program...

One Question Asked: The cotton ballots merely asked: "Do you favor marketing quotas on cotton?"

If more than one-third vote against cotton quotas, they would be inoperative for the 1938 crop...

Another referendum, however, could be held next year and thereafter.

County cotton conservation associations were to be in charge of balloting, designating voting places and naming referendum committees...

Plan Explained: George Slaughter of Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation committee...

A cotton farm would be given a cotton acreage allotment, the same as the allotment under the 1938 agricultural conservation program...

"If the planted acreage exceeded the acreage allotment, the cotton produced would not be taxed unless the total pounds of cotton was greater than the poundage of the quota allowed..."

Slaughter said all producers who shared in proceeds of the 1937 cotton crop would be eligible to vote...

No one was eligible to vote more than once although producing cotton in more than one county or state...

Persons not named on lists of eligible voters furnished referendum judges could vote but their ballots were to be kept separate...

The President said it was true that the "national economy does not today permit the federal government to give useful work to all the employable needy unemployed..."

Transferred to the firm a personal debt on an old note held by "Certain" J. P. Morgan company partners...

Took into his personal custody from the firm's custody $798,376 of securities, a large portfolio belonging to customers...

Transferred to his personal custody $135,000 of securities belonging to the exclusive New York Yacht club...

During the ten minutes necessary for his formal surrender in the court of general sessions, Whitney stood to one side...

There, far down in the murky east side, Lieutenant Simon P. Breen, asked "has he been searched?"

Serg. Rasenecker, of Dewey's detective squad, looked shocked, but managed to stammer out, "no, not yet."

A detective turned sheepishly to Whitney, who smiled and opened his overcoat. Still smiling, he shook his head to the question...

Whitney's only words during the proceeding were surprised "thank you's" to Sergeant Breen who shook his hand after the booking with the comment, "Mr. Whitney, I'm sorry to see you in this trouble and wish you the best of luck, and then 'The Whitneys have always had a good name.'" and will be either assets or liabilities for many years to come, depending upon public policies toward them.

"If we do not give them a chance at something like normal living, it is inevitable that they will become millions of individual problems. For these able-bodied unemployed, I am definitely committed to the giving of jobs instead of relief."

HITLERITES DEMAND SCHUSCHNIGG RESIGN

LONDON, March 11. (AP)—Diplomatic quarters here said they had been informed that two Hitler-approved members of the Austrian cabinet had presented a demand to Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg that he resign today.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, minister of the interior, and Edmund Glaise-Horstenaus, minister without portfolio, were said to have told the chancellor that unless he stepped out before 6 p. m. (noon, eastern standard time) they would themselves resign.

Seyss-Inquart is a close friend of Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Germany a powerful figure in the turmoil over Schuschnigg's call for a plebiscite on independence Sunday.

Meanwhile Britain gave Germany a mild, carefully-phrased warning against military interference with the plebiscite, and Britain and France awaited official information of Italy's attitude toward the grave developments in Central Europe.

Official British sources said reports had been received of 'certain movements of troops in Vavaria' and that Britain had expressed to Germany the hope that the purpose of such movements was to preserve order on the Austro-German frontier.

Officials declined to say specifically to whom this view was expressed, but it was believed that it had been presented unmistakably to Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, by Foreign Secre-

MINERAL WELLS PLANS JUNE HEALTH FESTIVAL

(Special to the News) MINERAL WELLS, March 11.—Dates for the Second Annual Health Festival, sponsored by the Mineral Wells Junior Chamber of Commerce, have been set for June 17-18-19.

A variety program, including an amateur show, golf tournament, old time fiddlers' contest, political rally, health contest, motor boat races and bathing beauty revue, is being planned.

Miss Ellen Sue Yeager, selected by popular vote in a contest conducted by the Mineral Index, will act as Good Will Ambassador in advertising the three-day celebration throughout Texas.

Plans for numerous trips are being formulated. The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce has been invited to be represented in one of the major events of the festival program.

cautions meant martial law was being declared, army circles answered: "It is a matter only of a technical name."

There were no official figures on the total number of troops, police and reserves on protective duty but a likely figure is 500,000.

NEW COURT TERM PLAN TO START ON MONDAY

The first term of county court here under the new four-session-a-year plan approved by the county commissioners on January 7, will open here Monday.

The March term will continue for the remainder of the month. A jury commission is to be selected Monday to prepare a list of jurors for the other terms.

Stattons Entertain Night Bridge Club

SKELLYTOWN, March 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Olen Statton entertained the Night Bridge club at their home in the Skelly Camp recently.

Mrs. T. B. Parker made high score in the card games for ladies, and Chester Strickland made high for men.

A salad plate was served to the following members: Messrs. and Mesdames T. B. Parker, John Stewart, Marshall Coulson, Chester Strickland, Henry Johnson, and the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Strickland will be hostess to the club at the next meeting.

AXE-SLAYER MAY KNOW HIS FATE TODAY

HENDERSON, N. C., March 11. (AP)—Clarence Fairbanks, 24-year-old itinerant who said he slew his showman-employer, Steve Good, in self-defense, may learn his fate late today.

Arguments to the jury continued at his trial today, and as each side was limited to three hours, it was expected the case would reach the jury early in the afternoon.

Good, a native of Cason, Texas, was found hacked to death with an axe in his truck-trailer home January 6, and his pretty young wife, was badly cut up.

Fairbanks, the only defense witness, admitted he killed Good, but said he did not strike Mrs. Good, who, he said, he heard scream in the front part of the trailer before Good came out and lunged at him with the axe.

Good, he said, had accused him of having illicit relations with Good's wife after he and his employer had become embroiled in an argument over the latter's mistreatment of a pet bird.

Fairbanks, who drove the Goods around the country and looked after the menagerie of the miniature circus Good operated, testified he had never been intimate with the showman's wife.

Mrs. Good, still bearing livid scars from the attack, testified in rebuttal her husband had never mentioned to her the slightest suspicion of infidelity.

Testifying earlier, she said she had known of no trouble between her husband and the defendant, and remembered nothing of the circumstances of her husband's death or herself being wounded.

FOR ASKS DIRECTORS OF TVA TO GIVE FACTS
WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—Demands for an exhaustive congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority increased today coincident with President Roosevelt's showdown conference with the authority's three squabbling directors.

Several Democratic and Republican senators expressed the belief that congress should make its own inquiry regardless of the outcome of Mr. Roosevelt's personal investigation.

Chairman Arthur E. Morgan and his opponents, directors David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan, were asked to meet the President this morning.

The President called for fact-based opinions—to support charges the men have made against each other since their three-year-old differences developed into a public quarrel two weeks ago.

Mr. Roosevelt was expected to ask Chairman Morgan the basis of his assertion that congress should investigate the TVA in the interest of "decency" in government.

On the other side, he wanted to know from Lilienthal and H. A. Morgan the grounds for their charge that the chairman had obstructed the TVA program.

How to Tame a 'Ferocious' Lion

If you ever want to tame a lion like the snarling rascal above, here's how to do it, according to Capt. Ronald Stout of the New York zoo. Just scratch its tummy until its eyes droop dreamily, as in the photo at right, and soon you'll be able to re-enact the touching scene below, in which the wild jungle beast reposes tranquilly in the arms of the slumbering trainer. Useful information, what?

year history of the academy acting awards.

Zola Film Wins.
The award for the best picture of 1937, as determined by a poll of 15,000 film workers including extras, went to Warner Brothers' "The Life of Emile Zola." There had been little argument that it was one of the most powerful motion pictures ever to deal with the subject of social justice.

Two awards for best supporting performances were given Joseph Schildkraut, the martyred Captain Dreyfus of "Zola," and Alice Brady, the heroic mother of "In Old Chicago." A broken ankle kept Miss Brady at home last night, but friends telephoned her the good news.

Awful Truth Wins.
Leo McCarey's direction of "The Awful Truth" earned him the statuette annually accorded the top megaphone-wielder.

Even Charlie McCarthy, the wooden wisecracker, was remembered. The academy decided Edgar Bergen, Charlie McCarthy's vocal master, should have a small wooden "Oscar" for his outstanding comedy creation.

Charlie, perched on Bergen's arm, looked over the golden array of statuettes and his own tiny lumber memento.

"Knickerbocker, huh!" he commented. W. C. Fields presented Mack Sennett, oldtime king of bathing beauty comedies, a special award for service.

Walt Disney, Mickey Mouse's poppa, received two awards—one for development of a multi-plane color camera and the other for his cartoon, "The Old Mill."

Bob Burns, his hillbilly drawl a contradiction to his smart dinner jacket, ended the program. He heard honored celebrities, one after another, declare any tribute really belonged not to themselves but to their stars. Flurry Burns disrupted the modest atmosphere.

"You know," he said, "I think someone should come out and say what they really tell their wife when they go home tonight."

"If it hadn't been for me, they wouldn't have had a picture!"

Congressmen Vote Tax on 'Beauty' Without a Quorum

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—Chivalry doesn't stand a chance, congressmen agreed today, when it runs up against a $17,000,000 tax item.

Male members of the house howled down yesterday every suggestion of the "powder puff bloc" that the 10 per cent cosmetics tax be repealed, or at least reduced.

The women members were vocal, however. They had their dander up and their hair down.

"Why don't you be sporting?" pleaded Rep. Mary Norton, Democrat, N. J.

"Give the women a chance," said Rep. Edith Rogers, Republican, of Massachusetts.

The men of the house said "No-o-o-o-o."

"Very well," came back Mrs. Norton. "I propose 3 per cent."

"No-o-o-o-o."

And thus did realism (we need the money, said the men) triumph over beauty.

FRANCE SEEKS LATEST PLANS OF GERMANY

PARIS, March 11 (AP)—Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos today called in the German Ambassador, Count Johannes Von Welbeck, and directed his attention to what was officially described as "the grave European situation brought on by concentration of German assault units on the Austrian border."

Official spokesmen made no attempt to hide their concern over the turn of events in central Europe which heightened anxiety over delays in the formation of a new French cabinet, attempted by Leon Blum, the socialist leader.

After the German Envoy's visit, the Austrian Minister, Alois Vullgruber, called at the foreign office. Sources close to the foreign office

Louise Rainer, Spencer Tracy Given Awards For Last Year's Best Acting

HOLLYWOOD, March 11 (AP)—Spencer Tracy, a likable mug from Milwaukee, and Louise Rainer, a shy Austrian brunette, were hailed today as the No. 1 stars of the 1937 film year.

Seventeen gold statuettes, the "Oscars" symbolic of outstanding achievement in the industry, were passed out last night by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. And the two that counted most—for the best acting—went to Tracy and Rainer.

Recovering at a hospital from an operation, Tracy got the news from his wife that his characterization of a Portuguese sailor in "Captains Courageous" had been rewarded.

"It's the nicest thing that's happened to me in my whole life," he said.

Miss Rainer, a bird-like little figure in a light dress, with her black bangs windblown across her forehead, was present at the academy banquet when it was announced she had won a statuette for her Chinese peasant role in "The Good Earth."

Last year she also won for her impersonation as Anna Held in "The Great Ziegfeld." Her double victory is unprecedented in the ten-

HOUSE ARGUES OVER REVENUE IN TAX BILL

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—A dispute over the amount of potential revenue in the new tax bill developed today among house members, seeking to retrieve funds lost by deletion of the levy on closely-held corporations.

Supporters of the eliminated tax said there was only a bare chance the house might agree to reinstate it before a final vote on the bill this afternoon. They declared its removal would lower the revenue yield by about $40,000,000.

Even if that tax were included, these legislators said, the bill would bring in $22,000,000 less than the $5,330,000,000 which the treasury receives from the present law.

Rep. Robertson, Democrat, Va., persuaded the house yesterday to vote an increase of 25 cents a gallon in the liquor tax, which he said would produce $35,000,000 a year.

Rep. Thompson, Democrat, Ill., succeeded in tacking on an amendment to tax imported pork and pork products about $5,000,000.

Rep. Doughton, Democrat, N. C., said, however, the treasury figured the added liquor tax would yield only $19,000,000 but Rep. McCormack, Democrat, Mass., contended that on the basis of figures issued by Secretary Morgenthau, the loss from rejection of the "IB" tax on closely-held corporations would be no more than $19,000,000.

Debate over the increase in the liquor tax, which now is $2 a gallon, brought appeals from some members for less hasty action.

"Without a study of this thing, we might do something that would increase bootlegging," said Rep. Dingell, Republican, Michigan.

Robertson, declaring the increase would not be passed along to the consumer, said:

"No one has to buy whisky unless he wants it. It's a luxury."

Rep. Dirksen, Republican, Ill., interposed:

"Don't think the distillers will pay the tax. It's going to come out of the pockets of the consumers."

BEER-WINE PERMIT OF BERGER DRUG CANCELED

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP)—Liquor Administrator Bert Ford today canceled the beer-wine permit of R. S. Bulger, proprietor of the Nyal Drug Store in Berger, after a hearing on charges of possessing liquor and Sunday sale in violation of the law.

Bulger submitted his case by written brief, there being no oral arguments.

He has the right of appeal to a district court from the administrator's ruling.

WALLACE SEES LAND PROBLEM FOR DECADES

WASHINGTON, March 11. (AP)—Secretary Wallace said today it would take "many years" to restore destitute farm families—estimated at more than a million—to a self-supporting basis.

Testifying before the senate unemployment and relief committee Wallace said a "promising beginning" had been made toward helping these families regain stability through a rehabilitation program embracing relief grants, loans and technical guidance.

"We are fighting an economic disease which has been neglected for generations," the secretary of agriculture said. "We cannot hope to cure it over-night."

Wallace reported also that insufficient funds had been made available to assist all needy rural families. He said field officials of the farm security administration, agency directing the rehabilitation program, had reported they personally knew of more than 360,000 families eligible for loans in addition to the more than 60,000 who have received aid.

The amount of money made available for loans and grants so far this fiscal year, FSA officials said, was $3,433,000.

Wallace blamed "deep-rooted maladjustments in our rural economy" for the rural relief situation.

"The chief of these," he said, "were a prolonged period of ruinous farm prices, careless and unscientific tillage practices, unsound tenure systems, a heavy burden of debt, inadequate acreage, and a long-continued wastage of our farming capital by soil erosion."

The essence of the rehabilitation program, Wallace explained, consists in making small loans to needy farm families who cannot obtain credit from any other source, and accompanying these loans with training in farming practices to insure "the best possible use of the money."

MINERAL WELLS PLACED IN OIL BELT DISTRICT

AUSTIN, Mar. 11 (AP)—The Interscholastic league executive committee today authorized transfer of Mineral Wells from District 7 to 3 in the class A football conference.

The change takes the school out of competition with Fort Worth teams and places it in the "oil belt" district, which is divided into two sections.

Because of its location, it was expected Mineral Wells would be assigned by the district 3 committee to the eastern division which includes Breckenridge, Eastland, Stephenville, Ranger, Brownwood and Cisco. The western division has Sweetwater, Abilene, San Angelo and Big Spring.

Application for the transfer was made some time ago.

BUFFALO GRASS HAS ROOTS 7 FEET LONG

PLAINVIEW, March 11 (AP)—Some West Texas grasses go deep for moisture.

R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Spur experiment sub-station, yesterday exhibited the washed roots of buffalo, a native short grass, that were seven feet long. Dickson, addressing members of an irrigation conference here, said that average West Texas soils have a capacity for storing available water to a depth of eight feet.

Dickson took the view that the soil itself is the best place to store water, pointing out that storage costs in certain Texas reclamation dams was $12 per acre-foot.

In West Texas, he said, the best yields are made not in years of greatest rainfall, but, because of accumulated moisture, in the years that follow.

'Anti-Grasshopper' Dance to be Given In N. Mexico Town

YATES, N. M., March 11. (AP)—Unlike Rome's fiddling emperor, Harding county musicians are tuning up to forestall rather than accompany disaster.

Tomorrow night farmers and their wives will gather in the school house of this northwestern New Mexico community and to the tune of scratching fiddles at 50 cents a couple will inaugurate the first "anti-grasshopper" dance in this insect-ridden area.

Yates farmers will use the dance money to defray costs of transporting government-furnished poison to the egg-infested area.

JOBLESS TAX COLLECTIONS ABOVE CLAIMS

AUSTIN, March 11 (AP)—Texas' jobless insurance machine currently is taking in more than twice as much money as it is paying out.

Orville S. Carpenter, chairman-director of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission, today estimated out-go in checks to jobless persons averaged less than $750,000 a month whereas income through payroll taxes paid by employers approximated $1,800,000.

By the end of 1938, Carpenter said Texas' tax collections for three years—if employment remains stable—should total more than $44,000,000. The figure included more than $6,000,000 contributed in 1936 and $15,000,000 last year. In the U. S. treasury, the money should gain around $1,000,000 interest.

The prosperous condition of this phase of social security in Texas, however, does not guarantee it against bankruptcy. Officials cited old age pensions, another type of security, which have had great difficulty balancing out-go against income and pointed out they were not subject to possible great economic flux as is unemployment compensation.

They said doubling or tripling the present number of Texas unemployed would force an out-go equalling income or eating into a $33,000,000 "cushion" accumulated during 1936-37.

Uncontested claims for subsistence funds by individuals during jobless periods are serviced by the benefit division of the state administration in two days after the specified two weeks of unemployment and one compensable week have expired.

Depending on mails and time consumed by the Comptroller's department in making out checks, "hide-over" money reaches jobless individuals from 26 to 28 days after they are laid off.

During the first two months of benefit payments, 60,000 claims of 1 per cent of Texas' more than 6,000,000 population, were filed. This compared to California's 190,000 claims and 6,050,000 population; Massachusetts' 240,000 and 4,225,000; New York's 700,000 and 12,935,000 and Rhode Island's 85,000 and 681,000.

The Texas Commission approved 40,600 or 68 per cent of 65,300 claims filed up to March 5 which totaled $570,000 for an average of $8.60 to an individual. The maximum payment is $15 a week with a limit of 16 weeks.

Although an employer contributes but 2.7 per cent of a person's pay while working, that individual may receive as high as one-sixth of his wages in benefits.

"Buggy" Fashions Years ago fashionable ladies wore live chameleons fastened to their dresses by slender golden chains. Fashionables today are satisfied to adorn themselves with gold or silver pins, replicas of many varieties of insects, crabs, frogs and tadpoles. Some have brilliantly colored or opaque stones, some are studded with rhinestones.

Build shelves all the way up to the closet ceiling—in households where closet space is limited. Then label separate shelves for the sole use of different members of the family.

U. S. Colonizes This Tiny Pacific Isle

Suddenly rendered valuable by the development of trans-Pacific aviation, scores of hitherto-neglected Pacific islands like Canton Island, shown in the photo above, have become the subject of conflicting claims to possession by the United States and Great Britain.

Washington reports that negotiations are already in progress and the claims "undoubtedly will be adjusted amicably." In the meantime, the Coast Guard, acting under the direction of the U. S. Department of the Interior, has planted a colony of American citizens on the barren soil of Canton Island. A similar colony will be established on another of the disputed spots, Enderby Island. The tent city above was erected last June by an expedition which journeyed to Canton Island to photograph a total eclipse.

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 11 (AP)—The boys who play golf for money virtually conceded first place today in the $3,000 Hollywood open to Horton Smith.

Smith started today's 36-hole grand six strokes in front with a score of 131, eleven shots under par. The erstwhile Joplin ghost put together a 65 yesterday after an opening 66.

Next to Smith, with a pair of rounds that would have placed him on top in many a tournament—69-68—was Ed Oliver of Wilmington, Del. Ky Lafoon of Chicago and Frank Moore of Mamaroneck, N. Y., with 67s to show for their second rounds, promised to give Oliver a tussle for the runnerup prize.

SNOW CHEERING SIGHT TO HARTLEY FARMERS CHANNING, March 11 (AP)—Snow banks replacing sand dunes as the result of three snow storms in the third and fourth weeks of February, was a pleasant sight for Hartley county farmers. Temperature remained above freezing during precipitation and there was no loss of stock. It was the first time within the memory of many old settlers that thawing continued throughout nights as February generally is the coldest month in this part of the Panhandle. Farmers say cattle have wintered well and no bundles were fed on the range, although some cake was used.

Athletics Have No Chance This Year, Says Mack

LAKE CHARLES, La., March 11 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, once a proud team, haven't a chance in the world of climbing out of the American league depths this year, admits their 75-year-old manager, Connie Mack. But he is determined to build himself another championship club before he quits.

Connie has surprised everybody by his remarkable physical comeback since he came to training camp. He lost 30 pounds off his already spare frame during the winter and there was fear that the patriarch would find another active campaign too strenuous. But he's got 10 pounds of it back and, by his own admission, is eating like a horse.

He was bright-eyed and chipper as he sat in the lobby of another of those old-fashioned hotels he seems to locate instinctively in any city, and spoke of his plans. "My club's coming along," he said. "It's not ready yet to beat any of the six clubs that finished ahead of us last year, but in another season or two we're liable to surprise everybody and jump up several notches."

"But I'm not going to wait too long. I'm preparing to get into the market for the men I need. My town is livening again and is about ready to support another championship team."

BABE RITCHIE TO FIGHT IN CHI TONIGHT

DALLAS, March 11 (AP)—Burlly Babe Ritchie, the 125-pound youngster who battled his way to the semifinals of the national Golden Gloves heavyweight division and then decided he wouldn't go back to Chicago and scrap again, has changed his mind. He'll be in the ring in the Windy City tonight, trying for a finals berth.

Houston's blooming night game got a stiff jab the other night that could hurt. Kid Asteca, the Mexican lad who ranks as the world's fourth best welter, the one the fans came to see, wasn't in shape to be in the same ring with Kenny LaSalle, reports said. Brainy Ed McKeever, Texas Tech's old quarterback, has compiled a "Quarterback's Bible" which he presented to Tech's signal callers.

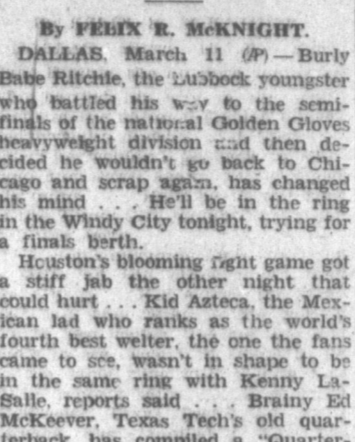

Tyler baseball officials punched the wrong typewriter key in sending a letter to Fred Thompson, husky pitcher. The letter said to report on March 8, which Thompson did. Officials meant March 21. The problem was finally worked out when the moguls put Thompson to work on the park; Jim Messoff, the former Dallas outfielder who quit baseball, will take his pest behind a dental chair.

Channing, county seat of Hartley county, has only eight girls in high school but a basketball team was formed and they won 18 of 24 games played. The Gals scored 657 points against their opponents' 454. In case the fans are wondering whether Bill Patterson, Baylor's brilliant bomber, will be around next grid season because of scholastic requirements, he just marked up an "A" average in his studies.

And Hub Kirkpatrick, the Bruin basketball star who set a new conference scoring mark, has a "B" plus average and teaches a Sunday school class.

Bill Dewell and Charles Sprague are the only two current S. M. U. athletes who have lettered in three sports. Dewell may try for a fourth in track, being somewhat of a javelin slinger. Trinity University's Tigers, at Waxahatchie, so an enterprising publicist reveals, will be after its 100th football victory next fall. The Tigers have won 90 since 1900. Texas Aggie baseballers open up this weekend against the Seven-Up nine from Austin on Friday and Grand Prize of Houston Saturday.

TWO-STORY PAMPA MORTUARY BUILDING OPENED FORMALLY

Nowak Ordered To Report to Giants' Farm NEW ORLEANS, March 11 (AP)—That 19-year-old rookie second baseman, Bill Nowak, resumed his commuting today between the New York Giants and the Cleveland Indians.

But this time he had a little official advice on where to get off the train and where to hang his hat. Stepping into the Giants-Indians terrific bloodless battle over the young gentleman from Detroit, Judge William Bramham, minor league czar, told Nowak in a telegram last night to haul himself off to the Jersey City club, a Giants' farm.

And if anyone tries to stop you from reporting," said the judge, "you are to let me know." So, Nowak, who probably has covered more ground this week than any other rookie in the big league camps, took a train for Baton Rouge, La., where literary William Terry, Giants manager, was waiting with his baseball team.

Last Monday Nowak was training with Terry and the other Giants. He disappeared in the dark of the night and next day was stopping grounders with the Indians in their training camp in this city, which is about 100 miles from Baton Rouge.

An Oregon man spent 20 years of his spare time drilling a 90-foot tunnel into the side of a mountain. Recently he found gold in "them" hills.

In real life, Princess Elizabeth is almost 12, while Margaret Rose is 7.

Maryland Flogs Man For Beating Wife

Writhing in agony as great sobs came from his lips, Clyde Miller, Baltimore printer, is pictured below, lashed to the whipping post, as the state of Maryland carried out its ancient law prescribing the cat-o'-nine tails for wife beaters. Shown administering the whipping to Miller's bare back is 225-pound Sheriff Joseph Deegan. Mrs. Miller, left, so severely beaten by her husband in a tavern brawl that doctors had to take five stitches in her face, tried to witness the whipping, but was denied entrance. She announced that she would seek a divorce. Miller, who now must serve six months in jail, was able to walk to his cell after the flogging with the assistance of jailers.

Chinese Have the Laugh on Jap Airmen

Lacking the Japanese air strength, the Chinese defenders make up the difference by their proverbial cleverness. After repeated efforts, Nippon's troops finally captured Pengpu airdrome, in Anhwei province, China. But instead of valuable booty of war, they found "airplanes" like the one shown in the photo, built of reeds and matting. The Chinese soldiers had constructed a number of these decoys to draw aerial bombardment from the airport proper.

After Five Years in White House

Back in 1933, just before he took the oath of office as President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt went to St. John's Episcopal church to pray. This year, on the fifth anniversary of his inauguration, he again attended special services in that same Washington church. He is pictured above with Mrs. Roosevelt as they left the church after services which also were attended by other members of the Roosevelt family, cabinet members and congressmen.

Bridge Torn to Ribbons by L. A. Flood

Once stout enough to support a train but now torn literally to ribbons by raging flood waters this steel railway span was washed from its base and deposited partially in the bed of the Los Angeles river.

Stamps for Restoration of Wild Life

Above, erosion prevention. Center, "Ding" Darling stamps for National Wildlife Restoration Week, Canada Goose, prong-horn antelope, Wilson's snipe and bob-white quail. Below, "The Red Poacher" has destroyed a pine forest, yet nature already has begun to restore through new growth and will transform this waste into game cover—if fire can be kept out for a few years.

Tinsmith Host to Rockefeller

"They're the grandest people we ever met. Just like you and me," said Mr. and Mrs. Carl Velbinger, above, after they had had Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller as dinner guests in their home. Velbinger, a tinsmith at the Bayway, N. J., oil refinery, had invited the Rockefellers to attend the plant's annual show, then "thought they would get hungry," so asked them home for dinner.

A Slippery Party in Senate Restaurant

Although they definitely appear to be slipping in the picture above, oysters on the half shell retain their high standing as one of the most popular delicacies in the U. S. Senate restaurant. Opening up here in an effort to compare Rhode Island oysters with the Chesapeake Bay variety are Vice President John N. Garner, left, and Senator Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island. It was a no-decision affair, with every oyster sliding home safely.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
CONSTANCE MAIDWELL — heroine, the stand-in.
DEREK MANTHON—an artist who loved money first.
HILDEGRADE THORVALT — Derek painted her portrait.
DR. ROGERS—he met his most difficult case.

Yesterday, ready to marry Derek Manton, Constance is stunned when she receives a surprise note from him on the eve of their wedding.

CHAPTER II

FOR a long time Constance stood, staring out over the wintry park with its frozen little lake. But she was not looking at the lake. Before her eyes danced fragments of phrases—incomprehensible, unrecognizable phrases from Derek's note.

"Darling," Derek had begun. "I hope you will understand."

Well, she was trying to understand.

Presently she stirred and looked vaguely down at the blue silk lounging pajamas she still wore—for she had barely finished her morning coffee when the note was delivered.

She supposed she must change her clothes if she were to go out. "Won't you come down to the studio as soon as possible," Derek had written. "I can't get away, and we must talk things over."

Talk things over.... Talk! You couldn't talk away suffering like this.

It was sleeping, she must wear something serviceable. She put on an old tweed suit and crammed a soft felt hat down over the dusky waves of her hair.

When she had clasped the fastenings of her overshoes, she stood for a moment before the mirror in her bathroom door, looking at herself with a kind of compassionate curiosity—wondering how a girl would look to whom a thing like this could happen.

What she saw was a slight, almost boyish figure—too thin; she had always thought; but Derek had laughed at that.

"You don't need curves, darling," he said. "You have such a beautiful skeleton."

The girl in the mirror had a smoothly oval face with skin soft as petunia petals framed in blue-black hair. Derek had once said that the planes of her face were fluid, so sensitive was it to the most delicate shades of emotion.

Perhaps the most notable things about her was her mouth, which was at once humorous and tender, and her eyes—sometimes blue, sometimes stormy gray—with their look of expecting too much of life.

AS Constance went up the front steps of the building where Derek had his studio, the door opened abruptly, and a man came out, colliding with her and completely upsetting her balance. He caught her expertly, set her up right again, and said, "Sorry. What a clumsy ape I am!"

"It's all right," Constance murmured, smiling because he looked so absurdly big and started and concerned.

He was a youngish man, with sandy hair touched with copper, singularly live and inquisitive brown eyes in a blunt, not unpleasant face, and an air of being habitually in a hurry. But he was not hurrying now. He continued to stand in her path, looking down at her a little strangely.

"You wouldn't be a materialist, would you?" he asked. Then, as Constance looked faintly alarmed, he hurried on, smiling wryly as if realizing how absurd he must look and not enjoying the picture, "But of course not. Phantoms don't just straighten their hat and murmur polite things when you knock them around; they shriek and clank chains, don't they?"

He held the door open and Constance went in.

Derek was on his knees when she entered the studio, whistling as he transferred clothing from a chest of drawers to a trunk.

As Constance closed the door and stood for a moment with her back against it, to steady herself for what was to come, he broke off in his whistling, sprang lightly up, and came over to take her into his arms, making of it all one swift, beautiful movement.

"You're a darling to come so soon, Connie," he said almost gaily. "Isn't this the devil—after all our planning? I know what you must be feeling," he added swiftly as he bent to help her with her coat. "But can't you imagine how I feel, too?..... And yet, Constance thought, you were whistling....." But come over to the fire," Derek went on. "There's so little to talk, and we must do a little time to talk and we must plan."

Constance said with a quietness she had clenched her hands to achieve, "What is there to plan? It's all settled, isn't it?"

BUT she did sit down in the armchair he drew up for her before the fireplace. The wood fire needed replenishing; but for the moment neither of them noticed that.

"Settled? Why, Connie, you

"You're a darling to come so soon, Connie," he said almost gaily. "Isn't this the devil—after all our planning?"

"Think of the advertising this will give me, darling," Derek ran on. "California is rolling in money. And in California a commission from Baron Grapefruit is equal to a royal command."

"It must be," murmured Constance, "if it's more important than—does this—this royal personage know that you were planning to start on your honeymoon tomorrow?"

"But, Constance gasped between joy and exasperation, "why didn't you explain that when you wrote? I'm not—"

She was going to say, "I'm not nearly packed," but she broke off to plan happily. I can just make it if I get the housemaid to help me. Let's see—I can wear that pin-striped suit on the plane, and my gray fox fur.... I'm glad I got the red hat and bag.

But Derek was going on, carried along by his own feverish preoccupation.

"There'll be four of us in the party. You see Miss Thorvald had a rather bad fall from a horse last week. The family physician, who happens to be east on a vacation, is insisting that they take a nurse with them in case she's not so fully recovered as she thinks she is."

After a moment Constance said, "I see. Of course."

"Think of the advertising this will give me, darling," Derek ran on. "California is rolling in money. And in California a commission from Baron Grapefruit is equal to a royal command."

"It must be," murmured Constance, "if it's more important than—does this—this royal personage know that you were planning to start on your honeymoon tomorrow?"

"But, Constance gasped between joy and exasperation, "why didn't you explain that when you wrote? I'm not—"
