'Love' Motive Seen In Murder

VIENNA, March 14. (AP)—Fully a million shouting, flag-waving Viennese in a state of mad frenzy today greeted Adolf Hitler on his entry into the capital of the German state he has absorbed into his expanded German reich.

Entering the city limits at 4:50 p. m. (10:50 a. m. eastern standard time), he rode standing in an open automobile through six and a half miles of the streets of the old Austrian capital.

A hundred thousand persons around the hotel roared and demanded his appearance on the balcony of his suite.

Behind his slow moving automobile was another car carrying Heinrich Himmler, chief of all German police, and other high officials of the Reich.

Gold Lipstick

The glamor girls have gold things for their hair, gold-tipped nails, gold shadowed eyellids, and now, the final touch, gold lipstick.

This latest novelty is made like a lipstick, and is in a lipstick case. The gold is designed to be applied over the regular lip rouge, and is supposed to give a glittery appearance under artificial light.

Former Pampan Has Role in Play At Texas U.

AUSTIN, March 14.—Sus Dodson, Pampan high school graduate, has the role of Bessie Tanner, the athletic girl who won the golf championship but who is forgotten completely when the "College Widow" appears, in the University of Texas Curtain club production, "The College Widow," a George Ade play, at Hogg Memorial auditorium today.

In Pampan high school, Miss Dodson took part in the junior play, and the intercollegiate league contest play, "Smoke Screen." She won the district declamation award two years, belonged to the National Honor society and was society editor of the Pampan high school paper.

Before entering the University of Texas, Miss Dodson attended Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., where she majored in dramatics, was a member of Theta Alpha Epsilon, honorary dramatics sorority and took part in "Detail Side," "Macbeth's Girls in Uniform," "The Dytubs," and "The Lord's Prayer."

MOBEETIE SCHOOL HEAD GIVEN TWO-YEAR TERM

At a meeting of the Mobettie independent school district board of education on Monday of this week, M. D. Blankinship, completing his third year's work as superintendent of that school, was re-elected for the offer and is already making plans for further advancement of the school system over which he will preside.

From the same source it is learned that the Mobettie schools have made wonderful progress under Blankinship's direction, especially from scholastic and financial standpoints. The educational system there has been efficiently and effectively managed by Blankinship, who is asserted by informant, who declares the patrons of the district not only heartily approve his continuance as superintendent but feel quite fortunate in being able to retain the services of this educator.

Blankinship was first elected superintendent of the Mobettie schools in September of 1935, coming there from Conlen where he had taught eight years and at which place he made an outstanding athletic record, developing a state championship girls basketball team in 1934, with only a small group from which to develop material.

Blankinship and his wife, who also teaches in the Mobettie high school, each hold B. S. degrees from east Texas State college at Canyon.

Panel Discussion To Be Conducted At Junior P-TA

Mrs. T. H. Henry will lead a panel discussion at the meeting of the Junior high school Parent-Teacher association in the high school auditorium Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Opening the program will be the devotional by the Rev. M. C. Cuthbertson. This will be followed with a saw solo by Claire Denhart and group singing led by W. W. Bristler.

Three speakers will discuss the assets and dangers of the radio to the home, school, and business. Frank Monroe, principal of Woodrow Wilson school will speak on the home; Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, the school; and Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, business.

After a social and business meeting, refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Vicars Hostess To Loyal Women's Class Members

Mrs. De Lea Vicars was hostess to the members of the Loyal Women's class of the First Christian church in her home last week.

The hostess gave the lesson from the books of the Bible and Mrs. A. T. Woodburn presented the devotional from First Corinthians 6. Special songs were included on the program.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. W. E. Speed, A. T. Woodburn, McClaren, C. L. Shearer, and De Lea Vicars.

Anthony Hunt To Lead Program at Kellerville P-TA

KELLERVILLE, March 14.—The Kellerville Parent-Teacher association will meet on Thursday evening, March 17, to discuss the topic, "The Child and Money Management."

Anthony Hunt, who has charge of the program, will present the sixth grade in a one-act play. Special songs and music have been planned.

At the last meeting a playlet was given reviewing the founders of the P.-T.-A. Mrs. Nelson Lowe and J. W. Lummitz entertained the association with several popular songs.

Margaret Tignor Named on Honor Roll at Texas U.

AUSTIN, March 14.—Mary Margaret Tignor of Pampa is on the list of 792 students of the University of Texas who made grades during the fall semester entitling them to places on the honor roll of the college of arts and sciences. Both quantity and quality of work done by each student were considered in compiling the list, just announced by Dean H. T. Parlin.

Bridge Entertains Guests Saturday

Mrs. Robert Ewing entertained with three tables of bridge at her home Saturday afternoon.

A color motif of green and white suggesting the St. Patrick holiday was used in the appointments. White carnations and fern decorated the reception rooms, and individual corsages of white sweet peas were presented to the guests.

Prizes for the afternoon were awarded to Mrs. Carlton Nance for high score and to Mrs. J. T. Hoy for second high.

FRISCH NURSES HEADACHE AS RICKEY EXPERIMENTS WITH CARDINALS

BRANCH MOVES MEN IN PLAN TO PLUG GAPS

(First of a series from the spring training camps.)

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 14.—Branch Rickey, the eminent baseball scientist, is doing altogether too much experimenting to suit his very practical manager, Frank Frisch.

Nineteen seasons on the firing line taught Frisch the value of experience, and of familiarity with a position, so his pain is not confined to chipped bones in his right foot. The world champion warrior has a severe headache as Rickey, at a time when the old Fordham flash should be picking the St. Louis Cardinals of 1938, attempts to make:

Outfielder Don Padgett a catcher. Third Baseman Don Gutteridge a shortstop.

Outfielder Terry Moore a third baseman, and—

Pitcher Mike Ryba a catcher.

The Red Birds haven't won a pennant in three years, which is the longest they've been out of first place since 1926, when they came down in front for the first time.

They bagged five flags in nine campaigns, but have been going back the last three. They finished second in 1935, tied for the same spot in '36 and ran a poor fourth last term, 15 games behind the New York Giants, 12 in back of the Chicago Cubs, five to the rear of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and only one game ahead of the Boston Bees.

They dropped seven of their last nine engagements.

The big improvement this season is expected to be provided by a subdued Dizzy Dean. The incredible hick won only 13 games in 1937, developing arm trouble and being practically worthless after being struck on the great toe by a liner from Earl Averill's bat in the all-star game.

Dean's Return Would Help

In the form that was his from 1932 to 1936, inclusive, Dean easily might make up from seven to 12 of the games the Gas House Gang finished in arrears in 1937, but Dizz is just another of the Cardinal question marks.

If Dizzy's arm is all right, the biggest blocks in the red blazers should get ample pitching even if the removal of dead tissue from Paul Dean's shoulder last May leaves him a dead arm. If the two Deans come through, it goes without saying that the Cardinals will have an outstanding staff, for—

The ever steady Lon Warneke never looked better, and the corps is rounded out by Sid Johnson, Bob Weiland, Bill McGee, and Max Macon, who copped 21 engagements for Columbus in 1937. Roy Henshaw, the little southpaw who has seen service with the Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, and Ray Harrell, who is about due to locate control, also are on hand, together with a half dozen others brought in from the farms.

But the finest pitching in history would be sorely handicapped by the current crop of Red Bird catchers.

Frisch would like to string along with Padgett, but has little faith in the ability of as fine a teacher as Rickey to convert an outfielder so rapidly. Mickey Owen may do some day, but he is very young and still inclined to be undisciplined.

The best of the lot probably is Herb Bremer, who finished with the Cardinals last fall after hitting .305 for the Columbus, Ga., club, but he is taking it easy following an appendectomy.

Sluggers Sure of Jobs

Outside of Pitchers Dizzy Dean and Warneke, only two Cardinals are assured of positions, and they are the great long-range hitters, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize.

Hard Luck Stuart Martin will do at second base as quickly as he recovers his full strength following a late-January attack of mumps.

Other candidates for second base are Jimmy Brown and Jimmy Bucher. Brown also plays considerable shortstop.

Brown probably will wind up at shortstop if the fleet Gutteridge finds the job too difficult, which would leave an additional aspirant for third base, where there already are Joe Stripp and Art Garibaldi, the latter back from the Pacific Coast league. There also are Justin Stein, up from Columbus, and Terry Moore, if Rickey comes through with his plan to bring the latter in from center field.

Jimmy Webb, up from Columbus, perhaps is the finest fielding shortstop in the party, but Frisch doesn't like the way "Skeeter" handles the shifflah despite the fact that he

As Dean Goes, So Goes Cards

Dizzy Dean

Johnny Mize

Bill McGee

Once again the ticket appears to read, "As Dean goes, so goes the Cardinals," but just in case the big right-hander's arm fails to show its old-time pep, the Red Birds may be salvaged by young Bill McGee, promising rookie up from Columbus. Johnny Mize, star first sacker, still retains his batting eye, which is very important from the Cards' offensive point of view.

hit 290 in the American Association.

Enos Slaughter is the prize recruit of the 1938 Cardinals, and next to Medwick and Mize, is surest of a position. He's an outfielder, and gets over the terrain so rapidly that Frisch already is considering playing him in center. "Country" Slaughter's cool .382 blazed the slugger trail for American Association batters last season.

Sorting Talent Is Problem

The Cardinals have plenty of outfielders, including Stanley Bordagaray and the veteran Johnny Cooney.

Indeed, the Gas House Gang has its customary overload of material.

The problem is assorting it, locating a catcher capable of handling what easily might be superlative pitching, and developing a first at second base combination.

Meanwhile, Frisch wishes that Rickey would quit experimenting with supposedly major league ball players, and let him get down to his task at hand.

TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY TO CONTINUE TESTS

The Gray County Tuberculosis association, with W. B. Weathered as chairman, will continue giving tests to all school children in Gray county who wish to take the test.

Pampa City Council of the Parent-Teacher association is cooperating with the Gray county in giving these tests, and the members of the council urge that every child in the county take the tests as they are given free of charge.

About 300 children have already taken tests, which were given last week at the B. M. Baker and junior high schools. The tests will be completed at Baker school the last of the week.

CRUTCH COUNSEL

A mere matter of a broken ankle fails to stop Frankie Frisch from taking part in the St. Louis Cardinals activities in spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. The peppery Red Bird pilot, leaning on a pair of crutches, is shown getting in a vociferous word or two from the sidelines.

CROW INDIANS MAKE HIT IN DENVER MEET

DENVER, March 14 (AP)—Here is a band of Indians nearly as accurate with a basketball as their great-grandfathers were reputed to be with bow and arrow.

They didn't last long in the National A. A. U. tournament here, but while they were in there, the Crow Indian team gave its white opponents a shooting match and the howling customers a show.

"The Crows were the 'dead pans' of the tournament's first round. They never uttered a word while playing," Donald Deernose, the manager, said they never do.

Deernose believes he and his fellow Crows are the first all-Indian team ever to try their luck in the national tournament. "We just weren't clicking," he said mournfully, referring to the Indians' 50-46 defeat by South Bend, Ind., team yesterday.

The Indians sank tremendous shots from all parts of the court in a second-half upsurge, but lost out when they forgot all about defending their own basket.

Amateur Boxers Meet Wednesday

Tentative arrangements have been made for the Pampa Daily News Golden Gloves champions to meet here and Cliff B. Chambers has issued a call for champions to start working out. Abilene will bring a second team to Pampa, under the arrangement, and boys here desiring to box on the Pampa second team are asked to report at the Pampa Athletic arena between 4 and 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

It may be that one or two of the champions will be unable to participate and that will mean moving up the boys who were in the finals or new boys who can battle their way to the assignment.

The local tournament will be held under sponsorship of the Pampa Amateur Athletic association, of which Paul D. Hill is president. Proceeds after paying a percentage to the visitors, will go to the club fund.

Ex-Harvesters Visit in Pampa

Don Smith and Melvin Turner, former Harvesters now attending school in Lawton, Okla., where they will play with the Wolverines, were weekend visitors with their parents here.

The former "Little" Smith boy now weighs 168 pounds or 27 pounds more than when he wore a Harvester uniform last fall. Turner weighs 170 pounds or 13 pounds more than last fall.

Spring training will begin tomorrow afternoon and last for six weeks. The Wolverines will meet the Pampa Harvesters this fall. Their eleven will be "huge" according to Don and Melvin.

MONUMENT FOR COL. GOODNIGHT NEARING

GOODNIGHT March 12 (AP)—Col. Charles Goodnight's unmarked grave may have a monument soon.

The men's colorful of high Plains ranchers of pioneer days has rested since his death in a little cemetery in the town that bears his name.

When Vance Johnson of the Amarillo News wrote that the Goodnight grave was unmarked, contributions started. A newcomer to the Plains, who requested that his name not be made public, was the first to contribute. He mailed a check to Johnson and asked that a campaign for a monument be started. Others have made donations and the fund is approaching $100.

Col. Goodnight, known as the father of the Panhandle, founded the famous JA Ranch in the Palo Duro Canyon when the Plains country belonged chiefly to the Indians and the buffalo. He established the vast ranch for the Adairs of Ireland and the estate still operates it.

Col. Goodnight preserved the only herd of plains buffalo and several of the shaggy beasts still roam the JA range.

Several looks have been written about the famous cowboy and his pioneering activities on the plains but there had been no previous moves to place a monument at his grave.

The Colonel's old dug-out, his first home in the Palo Duro, has been preserved.

TEACHERS TO SEE NEW AUDIO-VISUAL METHOD

CANYON, March 14—An added feature at the Northwest Texas Conference for Education here March 13 and 14 will be a dinner for superintendents, principals, school board members, and others interested in audio-visual education.

The dinner will be held at the Christian church next Friday evening at 6 o'clock. J. B. Speer, deputy state superintendent, is arranging the program.

Reservations at 75 cents a plate, may be made with Supt. I. E. Caruth of the Canyon public schools, who is in charge of local arrangements.

BUFFALOES TO PLAY IN CAGE MEET TONIGHT

DENVER, March 14 (AP)—The National A. A. U. basketball championships' higher education section commanded a sizeable chunk of the spotlight at the first tournament in the city auditorium today.

All 10 college teams were given the nod to show their campus-bred product in the day's 12-game bill, continuing from 8:30 a. m. Mountain Standard Time, until probably midnight.

Montana State, Central Missouri Teachers and West Texas Teachers are all highly regarded in the college bracket.

Tournament spectators also looked forward to the first appearance of the giant Gateways, defending champions, who will clash in a second round game with the Tulsa Frisco club at 9 p. m.

The original entry list of 55 teams from 25 states showed a shrinkage of 13, 12 of which were erased in yesterday's Sabbath program that ended near midnight. The Penn Athletic club of Philadelphia, unable to come, defaulted.

The southwest had eight teams left in contention, the Pacific coast and East five each and the south three.

West Texas Teachers, with one of the tallest groups of shotmiffs in the meet, will tangle with Colorado college at 7 p. m.

A brief armistice will be called after this game for ceremonies honoring Colorado's only two all-America griders in history, Earl (Dutch) Clark and Byron (Whizzer) White.

All the teams in the tournament will parade before Clark and other officials, including Alan Gould, general sports editor of the Associated Press, who plucked the "Dutchman" from the obscurity of mountain-hemmed gridirons for the all-America team.

Gould named White to the all-America last season. Both football stars have won high honors on the cage court.

WILSON SAYS HE WILL HAVE BETTER CLUB

BERKELEY, Calif., March 14 (AP)—Is Helen Wills Moody, once the world's First Lady of Tennis, ready for an attempt to win her eighth Wimbledon championship?

Don Budge, carrot-topped reigning king of the courts, says she is.

William "Pop" Fuller, the veteran coach who started Mrs. Moody toward seven American and seven Wimbledon championships, says "she isn't."

Mrs. Moody and Budge were featured in a series of exhibitions on Berkeley courts yesterday, playing before a small group of fans under most unsatisfactory weather conditions. A strong wind blew through-out the matches and rain and hail fell at no numerous intervals.

After it was all over—Budge had defeated Frank Kovacs, and Mrs. Moody, paired with Kovacs, lost to Margaret Osborne and Gene Mako—Fuller has this to say:

"Helen Moody isn't ready for Wimbledon."

"The venerable coach asserted particularly noticeably was Mrs. Moody's loss of speed, foot, a less accurate judgment of timing and distance.

"Which," he said, "is to be expected of any player when he or she reaches the age of 28 or 30. They can't go on forever at top speed."

But in the opinion of Budge, Mrs. Moody is "wonderful."

"She's wonderful!" he exclaimed. "She looks great. Three weeks and she will beat any of them. She probably could do it right now."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By SID FEDER. (Pitch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz.)

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Hot tip from the grapefruit belt: Paul Dean's comeback is the McCoy... Those who ought to know say it's over-money Duffy will be doing his half of the "me-in-Paul" act again for the Cards this summer.

Baton Rouge, La.—With Burgess Whitehead still abed with appendicitis, Lou Chioza is the only New York Giant member doing full nine-inning work in the training camp—exhibitions. Except for the second base job, on which Lou is filling in for Whitney, every position has a first and second-team man on hand.

Lakeland, Fla.—The strong, silent man pulls into the Detroit Tiger camp today. Of course, he's Charley Gehring, who took a few extra days of fishing around Miami before getting down to the business of "fighting" for his second base job. Manager Mickey Cochrane scheduled two workouts for today.

SAN ANTONIO—The St. Louis Browns wonder who's going to be their first-string catcher this season. Holdout Billy Sullivan left town, saying he was through with baseball unless the Browns met his $10,000 salary demand. He was offered $8,000.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The New York Yankees got ready today to entertain the boss, Col. Jake Ruppert is on his way from New York for what will be the last act of the "Yanks' annual holiday comedy—the signing of Joe DiMaggio.

Hitler's Coup Will Help Pass Navy Bill

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's Austrian coup will facilitate passage of the administration's billion-dollar naval expansion program, legislators agreed today at the start of house debate.

Foes of the huge armament bill were openly pessimistic of the chances for blocking its enactment, and sought primarily to modify its provisions.

Representative Maverick (D-Tex.), one of the opponents, declared the program would involve the United States in European turmoil.

"Present conditions demand more than that we be moderate instead of wild," he said. "To go off on a war-preparing spree and go navy crazy is to get into war."

The measure is designed to carry out President Roosevelt's recommendation of a 20 percent expansion of the fleet to offset the piling up of armaments by foreign powers. It would:

1. Authorize a $30,000,000 experimental fund for the navy, $3,000,000 of which would earmarked to build a new dirigible.
2. Restrict the navy to a policy of non-aggression, but commit the United States to maintenance of a fleet powerful enough to defend the Atlantic and Pacific coasts from simultaneous attacks by any single power.

Choice Wrestling Card To Be Presented Tonight

HELEN WILLS MOODY MAY TRY TO WIN 8TH WIMBLEDON TITLE

Jack Mandell, Australian Kangaroo man, vs. Bill Venable, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

SEMI-FINAL
Gorilla Fogg, Argentine roughster, vs. George Hartay, Bucharest, Hungary.

PRELIMINARY
Slim Hall, Hollywood rubber man, vs. Dick Sampson, Ohio strong man.

Above is listed one of the choicest wrestling cards ever presented in Pampa and it will be tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena, located four blocks east and one south of the Postoffice. First call to battle will be at 8 o'clock sharp. Admission will be 65 cents ringside reserve, tax paid, with general admission 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

The return of Jack Mandell is being hailed by local fans who believe he is the fellow who can subdue the now cocky Bill Venable. He has been given the main event to work over the barrel-like Venable, and as far as the bleachers are concerned, he can do it his own way.

Even though Venable was the pet in his victory over Poggi last week, his star dropped suddenly when Mandell appeared. Mandell is the elongated grappler who uses his feet and legs to better advantage than hands and arms. He is not as powerful as Venable but he has speed and science and if necessary, he can get tough.

Poggi, in a rage over his loss last week will be out to beat George Hartay any way possible. Poggi is a poor loser and his defeat by Venable just about broke his heart, but not his spirit. In Hartay, the Argentine terror will meet one of the classiest grapplers of the past several years. Hartay has speed, science and strength. Whether he can get tough is unknown because he appeared here for the first time last week in a sizzling bout with Bill Cezell.

The freak grappler who can get unbelievable holds while standing on his big feet, Slim Hall, will get a real test in Dick Sampson in the opener. Last week Hall toyed with Basanta Singh. This week he will have to show whether he can take the top boys.

WILSON SAYS HE WILL HAVE BETTER CLUB

BILOXI, Miss., March 14 (AP)—Jimmy Wilson, the chief fall guy of the floundering Phillies, insists stubbornly he is going to have a better club in the coming National league race, presumably on the theory that it couldn't be any worse.

Some think the Phils will be worse, because their most important hitter, Adolph Camilli, has been sold to the Brooklyn, but Jimmie says that isn't true. Also, he says it isn't true that he is thinking of selling his other big league player, Third Baseman Pinky Whitney.

"We'll be better," he persisted in the face of obvious disbelief. "We would be better still if Camilli had not gone. I mean to say, if we still had Camilli, along with this other improvement, why we would be that much better than we will be."

Jimmie was asked to get down to cases. Did he think, for instance, that his improved team would make a stirring fight for, say, sixth place?

"Earl Brown will take Camilli's place," he answered, "and I have a fine looking infielder from Houston named Emmet Mueller. George Scharen will be a better shortstop than he was last season and my two young outfielders, Morris Aronovitch and Herschel Martin, should be much stronger with Bill Hallahan and Al Smith taking the load off the youngsters."

Just a minute. Did he refer to the Bill, Hallahan and Al Smith who were cut loose during the winter by Cincinnati and the Giants, respectively, in the belief that their left arms were ready for the winter?

"I'm glad," said Jimmie, sticking doggedly to the subject, "to hear that Connie Mack has picked up all that weight and is feeling good. We were worried about him."

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Dizzy Dean's pitching this spring is like Glenn Cunningham's running. He's working better when something's wrong with him. Still nursing a heavy cold, he pitched three innings yesterday and gave Murderer's Row only one hit.

Revolta, Picard Lead Field in $4,000 Tourney

MIAMI, Fla., March 14 (AP)—Survivors of a first-round blast that ushered out three of the favored contenders, Johnny Revolva and Henry Picard, moved toward a fourth consecutive victory in the $4,000 international four-ball golf tournament today.

Picard and Revolva met Jimmy Hines and Vic Ghezzi, conquerors of Paul Runyan and Horton Smith—three-time finalists—in the feature match.

Hines and Ghezzi overcame a two-hole deficit to win, 1 up, yesterday. Observers expected Revolva and Picard, 2 and 1 victors over Stanley Horne and Andy Kay in the 36-hole opening, to find the going rocky from now on.

Harry Cooper and Jimmy Thomson, one up winners over Willie MacFarlane and Frank Walsh, tackled Willie Goggin and Ben Hoggan, 3 and 1 victors over Lawson Little and Tony Manero, last year's winners-up.

Each of the five will play the other four in the course of the two-day tourney and the title will be decided on a percentage basis.

LOVE LAUGHS AT THE DOCTOR

by ELINORE COWAN STONE
Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, Se Derek says a hundred roosters and Constance is left alone in the studio—to think things over. The door rattles.

CHAPTER IV

BUT it wasn't Derek at the door. It was a young man for the pictures Derek was leaving with Louis Paul, a local art dealer. Constance had often met the young man when she had gone with Derek to the Paul gallery.

"I hear you're going to California for the honeymoon," he offered as he handed Constance the receipt for the paintings. "Rather sudden, isn't it?"

"Rather," Constance smiled brightly and watched him carry the canvases out of the studio.

It was hard to sit quietly waiting while the clock on the mantelpiece ticked off the precious seconds. To Constance, the passing of each minute was like the loss of a precious pearl.

There was so much she and Derek ought to say to each other. . . . She tried to rehearse quietly the things she must say to Derek. She must be quite sane and matter-of-fact about his going without her. Because, of course, Derek was in a spot. It might be embarrassing for a young man invited into the home of strangers in a purely business relationship to say out a dear sky.

"But look here! I was getting married tomorrow. How about putting the wife up too?" . . . Later, when Derek had become better acquainted with the Thorvalds, he could pave the way more adroit when he pleased.

When, the next time the door opened, it was only the express man for the trunk and boxes. Constance was prepared for the disappointment. She watched him carry them out of the room with a chill sinking of the heart. Only the bags that Derek was to take with him remained now as tangible evidence that Derek had ever been here. . . . Those and the wood fire on the hearth—and the fire was reduced again to smoldering ashes.

"I mustn't go on like this," Constance thought. "I must be waiting, quiet and reasonable when he comes. Because he's got to come back. His bags are still here." . . . When, at last, quick purposeful steps sounded in the corridor outside, Constance stood up, her hands pressed against her throat to stifle a sob of relief. . . . Only five or ten minutes, perhaps, for all the things left unsaid but it would be something.

The door opened, and Constance's hand dropped limply to her side. A uniformed chauffeur stood in the doorway, cap in hand.

"Miss Maidwell?" he asked; and when Constance only nodded silently, he went on, "Mr. Thorvald sent me for Mr. Manthon's bags. Miss, the time was getting short, so Mr. and Miss Thorvald and Mr. Manthon have gone ahead in another car. But Miss Thorvald asked me to say, if you were still here, that if you wish to come to the airport to see them off, I am ready to drive you out and bring you home later."

Miss Thorvald asked me to say—no hint that Derek had suggested or even wished it.

"Please thank Miss Thorvald—Constance was amazed to hear her own voice, clear and steady in spite of the tears that clung at her throat. "Tell her that I appreciate her courtesy, but that I have an engagement. . . . Oh, yes—and wish them all a pleasant flight for me."

When he had gone, she locked the door and flung herself face down on the couch, sobbing out her despair at the destination her perverse anger had wrought for her. She had meant to be so reasonable and adult, and she had behaved like a spoiled brat, cutting off her own nose to spite her face.

She had lain for half hour or so when the telephone rang shrilly beside her. Constance had only to reach to a table at her elbow to pick up the receiver.

"The County Airport is calling Miss Constance Maidwell," a voice said.

"This is Miss Maidwell," Constance choked.

"Just a minute, Miss Maidwell. . . . Here's your party, sir," the voice said again.

Then Derek spoke, hurriedly, in lowered tones: "Darling, you did wait! I felt sure you would."

Constance swallowed twice and said, "Of course, Derek. . . . Of course I waited."

"It's all been utterly incredible," Derek rushed on. "Constance, it doesn't seem possible that I have to go without seeing you again. I—you are there, aren't you, darling?"

"Yes," Constance breathed, "Yes, Derek, I'm here."

"What must you have been thinking all this time? But it's amazing how many things turned up that we simply had to attend to. . . . You do understand, don't you?"

"Yes, of course," Constance said. "Of course I understand." That sounded reasonable. She must send him off happy and pleased with her.

"I can't begin to explain now."

We're taking off in a minute. But I'll be sending for you in a week or so. And in the meantime, I want you to take a real vacation. Constance, I remember you told me you had saved a good deal; but if you need money, you must promise to let me know at once. . . . Yes, Miss Thorvald, I'm coming at once. . . . It's a promise, then? You're too old—damn it! Over the wire came the roar of a powerful motor. "Goodbye, darling!"

THE receiver clicked and went dead.

Constance stood for a moment staring into the silent instrument. Then she laughed a little wildly. A good rest!

She had just remembered the one ten-dollar bill in the bag at home—the bag she was to have carried on her honeymoon.

Alone in her own rooms that afternoon, Constance was thought to give some serious thought to the problem presented by that one ten-dollar bill.

The rent for her apartment was paid until the end of the month. She was not, she reflected with faint irony, likely to be in serious need of clothes for some time. But there was the question of food, carfare, and laundry. . . . Ten dollars would not go far. She must find some work again until—until Derek had arranged something. . . . "A week or so," Derek had said.

The logical step, of course, would be to go back to the Museum. She had stayed there getting her desk ready for her successor until late last week; and when she left, no successor had appeared, not even a passerby eligible candidate. Going back would be a bitter pill after her high-headed leave.

Walking rapidly to get to the Museum before closing time, she framed airy uncommittal answers to the barrage of friendly banter that she knew would greet her when she asked to be reinstated.

She managed to carry it off with just the light touch she had striven for.

Yes, they had decided to postpone the wedding for a few weeks. . . . Of course the girls had heard about the marvelous opportunity that had come to Derek? . . . Yes, the Etheldreda Thorvald. . . . "Jealous? My dear, have you seen her? Who wouldn't be? But of course I'll have to get used to that if Derek will go on painting pretty women. . . . Of course I'm going to be lonely with nothing to do but count my new stockings and step-ins. That's why I thought—if you needed someone to fill in for a week or so—"

But when Miss Taft, Constance's superior, and she were alone, Miss Taft said regretfully, "Sorry, Constance. The new girl checks in tomorrow—God help us. . . . Now if you are to be here in a month or six weeks, I expect another vacancy then."

"Thanks just the same," Constance smiled with what she hoped was just the casual indifference of one who, after all, had merely been toying with the idea of going back to work. . . . After all, I suppose, what I ought to do is to take a few weeks of complete rest as Derek begged me to do. I just thought—if you needed some one to mark time—"

She thought, Well, I did put on a good act—but what, I'd like to know, am I going to use for money?"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TRIO WINS FREEDOM

CHICAGO, March 14.—Three Christian Scientists were free today of manslaughter charges in the death of Jessica Whitney, 10-year-old diabetic. They were accused of denying the child medical aid.

Judge Oscar Caplan of Felony Court ruled that prosecution would be a violation of their constitutional rights in freedom of religion.

Mrs. Mary Glen, 51, the Christian Science practitioner, and Mrs. Adell Longman, 72, nurses, were cleared of charges brought by the girl's father, Edward F. Whitney, Detroit.

He charged that failure of Mrs. Glen to provide insulin for the child caused her death. Jessica lived in Chicago with Mrs. Glen for four months before she died Dec. 10.

WAR DEPARTMENT TO INSPECT TECH ROTC

LUBBOCK, March 14.—Second annual war department inspection of the senior engineering ROTC unit at Texas Technological college takes place March 16, when Col. E. A. Keyes, civilian component officer for the Eighth Corps area, visits the campus.

Inspection of theoretical instruction in first and second year basic classes, review and inspection of the entire unit under arms, and inspection of condition and sufficiency of arms, clothing, equipment, and facilities will be made.

Initiated in the fall of 1936 as one of 31 new units authorized for educational institutions throughout the United States, the Tech unit now has 116 students enrolled. Administration and instruction is in the hands of Capt. Frank A. Pettit and Lieut. Herrol J. Skidmore, both of the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army.

Officers Named By P-TA Council

Officers for the new year were elected and installed at the meeting of the County Council of the Parent-Teacher Association Saturday in the high school cafeteria with the junior high school as host for the day.

Mrs. Cuff Vincent of LeFors, president of the council for the past year, was re-elected to this office. Mrs. Frank Shotwell was selected as vice president; Mrs. Roy Holt, secretary; P. B. Kretzer, treasurer; Mrs. Claude Lard, historian; and Mrs. A. L. Patrick, publicity. Four vice-presidents elected were Misses G. O. Carruth, E. A. Shackleton, W. M. Parker, and G. N. Pearson.

The president presided at the executive meeting in which the council voted to pay her expenses to the district meet at Childress.

Luncheon in a St. Patrick motif was served by the junior high school at the noon hour of approximately 75 persons. Lunch was prepared by Misses T. E. Simmons, Hugh Ellis, Walter Water, A. L. Patrick, T. L. Anderson, and F. M. Culberson, chairman of the group. Maxine Hoyt and Betty Ann Culberson played selections during the luncheon.

Members by the music department of junior high school opened the program in the high school auditorium. A concert duet was played by Frank Yates and Gene Lunsford, accompanied by Maxine Hoyt, who played the accompaniment for Frank Yates' trumpet solo.

A piano solo by Clara Mae Lemm preceded three numbers by a girls quartet, Harriet Price, Louise Jackson, Maxine Hoyt, and Dorothy-Miskimins.

After the invocation by Mrs. P. M. Shotwell and the reading of the minutes by Mrs. Holt, the council voted to continue work in trying to get a county health unit. The committee, appointed by the president, to work on this project is composed of Mrs. Claude Lard of Pampa and Mrs. W. I. Gilbert of LeFors.

Assisting W. B. Weathered in a panel discussion on P-T-A problems were W. M. Parker, principal of Hopkins number two, Frank Monroe, principal of Woodrow Wilson school; R. A. Selby, principal of junior high school; Miss Josephine Thomas, principal of the Horace Mann school; A. L. Patrick, principal of Sam Houston school; Mrs. Hol Wagner, head of the English department of the high school; and Mrs. W. I. Gilbert, LeFors.

The next meeting of the council will be held in October with Horace Mann school as host.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

If you want to look your best all the time, do not—

Try to make your hair "do" an extra day or two. If possible, go to the hairdresser the same day every week. Then you won't look a fright when an unexpected guest drops in or have to dash madly for a beauty shop the afternoon of a party.

Ask to have the drier turned off before your hair is thoroughly dry. Leave the beauty shop until your hair has been carefully brushed and the waves pushed back into place by the person who set them in the first place. A wave which won't stand brushing isn't worth having, and it's a mistake to leave the shop with hair covered with dry wave-setting lotion.

Wear the same coiffure month after month year after year. Hair styles, like fashions, change, and a ten-year-old hairdresser dates you as much as does an outmoded frock.

Eye the first gray hairs unless you are going to have time and money to keep them, and these to follow, perfectly dyed to match the hairs that aren't yet gray. The first dye job means, or should mean, a trip to a beauty shop at regular intervals from that day until the time you give up hair dye entirely. Let anyone persuade you that brushing makes hair more oily. It simply brings the oil from the scalp down to the ends. For a while, this may be annoying, but, sooner than you think, the excess flow of oil will be checked.

Believe for a moment that a weekly shampoo will make your hair dry or brittle or encourage dandruff. The clean scalp is more likely to be healthy than one which isn't.

Suede Jerkins

Little sister as well as the high school or college miss, likes the popular suede leather jerkins for just that extra shade of warmth that spells comfort on cool, blustery days. They come in a variety of soft dull colors and fastenings closely down the front, others with side closings at shoulder and under the arm.

Coiffures Important

The new high coiffures are meant to be seen, not hidden under even the smartest hat. A clever little model designed for Southern wear has a pointed crown and a brim peaked in the front but cut high on the sides to show your cuffs. It is worn with white accessories and a beige dress.

Colorful Costumes Will Be Worn at Radio Program

Mrs. Kathryn Vincent Steele wishes to announce that all mothers of children in the radio program in Amarillo on Saturday, March 19, should get costumes made immediately both for the program in Amarillo and to be used in the studio recital to be presented some time the latter part of this month.

Those wishing advice on recital costumes should call Mrs. C. C. Cockerill at 481W or call at her home on 625 N. Russell.

Many people have planned to accompany the children to Amarillo for the special broadcast, which will be held at 10:30 o'clock on the stage of the Paramount theater. Students of the Vincent Studio are special guests of the theater. All students, who do not have a way to go should tell Mrs. Steele, not later than noon Thursday.

Expert Traces Contract Bridge

By W. F. RUFUS STEELE

To a superficial mind a deck of cards is simply 52 pasteboards forming a jumbled mass of painted figures and numbers appearing in a chaotic succession and disorder. At first glance a fickle hazard seems to dominate all and so pernicious has been the lure of chance on ignorant minds that in older days many church people thundered against the "devil's tickets." Perhaps the real reason for branding an innocuous deck of cards as devil's tickets is to be found in the extraordinary importance and respect given to cards in medieval magic.

So we find what was once known as the "devil's tickets" are now tied up with our present game of contract bridge, which has become more of an institution than just a pastime, and when we think of this wonderful game, we are somewhat curious as to its origin.

It is interesting to know that this pastime, so widespread and popular in modern times, is the child of a long and honorable lineage. The first game to which our present contract traces its history was Triumph, and so far as I know, the first reference to it appears in a sermon delivered in 1529. In Gammeter Cyertort's Needle, the first English comedy, as well as in Shakespeare's Anthony and Cleopatra (when it must certainly have been an anachronism), appears references to this game.

At about the time the Pilgrims were landing on Plymouth Rock, the name of the game was changed from Triumph to Trump. Still later it became Ruff and Honors, which was what it is somewhat modified form. After that, the title underwent another change and became Stiam, when it gradually emerged as Whist.

It is difficult to make any predictions about the future of bridge. Possibly some new variation will be developed before in its evolution. It is more to the point to consider its position in the present world. Bridge can be overemphasized. It is being taught in finishing schools, a practice which I think ridiculous, knowing how to play and play well is certainly a social asset, but is not a substitute for education.

Bridge is a means of relaxation, a pleasant and wholesome way of passing the time and one of the best forms of mental gymnastics that has ever been devised. As a gambling game, it has many superiors. But regarded simply as a game entered for the fun of it—a little miniature battle without passion and without blood when mid-

Woman Honored On 81st Birthday

HIGGINS, March 15.—Celebrating her eighty-first birth anniversary recently a small group of relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Anna Boone for a birthday dinner. Mrs. Boone and her three children of Lapscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Martin of Wellington and Boone Tyson of Higgins, all were present.

Mrs. Boone was born in 1857, in Indiana where she spent her girlhood.

Ten years after her marriage to Ira Boone in 1878 at Russell City, Kansas, she came with her family to this section and located on the Boone ranch northwest of here where she resided for many years. In more recent years she has made her home in Higgins.

Enjoying the best of health, Mrs. Boone frequently visits in the homes of her relatives. During the past summer she visited her grandson, Ira Boone and family, at Long Beach, California.

No Wonder You Are Constipated!

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? Bread, meat, potatoes? Do wonder you're constipated—due to lack of "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It means the kind of food that forms a soft, bulky mass in the bowels. It's this mass that helps your bowels move.

The common sense thing to do about it is to eat a natural laxative food. Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast will give you just the "bulk" you need. And it gives you, in addition, nature's great intestinal-ionic, vitamin B. Eat this crunchy toasted cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, sold by every grocer.

Two Hostesses Honor Mrs. Glen Moore With Shower

Mrs. C. E. Clark and Mrs. J. R. Moore were hostesses at a shower given recently in the home of Mrs. Glen Moore honoree.

Many interesting games and contests were played with the prizes going to the honoree after inspection.

After the many gifts were presented, refreshments were served to Misses C. W. Ashley, W. L. Terry, J. W. Beardmore, C. W. Masters, O. N. Fraser, Louis McCaw, Charles Mandy, Liza Mitchell, W. E. Noblett, and C. E. Cary.

Gifts were sent by Misses I. E. Duncan, Tom Eckerd, De Lea Victor, Nancy Holmes, Bessie Southard, and Miss Ila Lee Southard.

Never remove the hulls before washing strawberries. Put the berries in a colander and rinse them under slow-running cold water. Then remove the hulls.

Modern Menus

Variety is better than spice in your menus. Ever try making old-reliable Johnny cake with apricots? Time then you did.

Apricot Johnny Cake
Three-quarters cup corn meal, 1 cup flour, 1-3 cup sugar, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 3-4 teaspoons salt, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 egg, well beaten, 3-4 cup sliced apricots, each cut in 4 pieces, 6 stewed apricots, each cut in 2 pieces.

Mix dry ingredients and sift. Add liquids and mix well. Fold in the 3-4 cup stewed apricots which have been well drained. Pour the batter into buttered shallow baking pan. Arrange halves of apricots in rows on top. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) until done.

For a he-man luncheon or supper sandwich, try this variety in the use of English muffins.

International Sandwich (6 sandwiches)
Three English Muffins, 6 slices cheese, prepared mustard, 6 slices Bermuda onion, 6 slices tomato salt, pepper butter, 1-2 cup chopped Brazil nuts.

Split muffins and toast on one side. Arrange cheese on each muffin on untoasted side. Spread lightly with mustard. Place onion slice on cheese, and place tomato slice on onion. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Sprinkle with chopped Brazil nuts and put under broiler flame to brown. This international union should give you a world of pleasure.

Bygdyo Sardine Spirals
Two cans smoked Norwegian sardines, 16 buttons of horseradish, slices of fresh bread, grated cheese. Drain oil from cans of smoked sardines. Mash sardines and mix with lemon juice and horseradish to taste, as hot as you can stand. Spread mixture on squares of very fresh bread. Roll up bread and secure with toothpick. Brush with melted butter. Sprinkle with salt and a little grated cheese. Toast in hot oven. Serve very hot.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. How should corn on the cob be eaten?
2. What woman does a man seat at a dinner party?
3. If a dinner hostess has not provided ash trays and cigarettes should a guest smoke?
4. If it is a custom of your home to say grace before each meal, is it thoughtful to ask a guest to say it?
5. How should spoon bread be eaten?
  - (a) Have one or two parties a year and really splurge?
  - (b) Have people in often and serve very simple food?
  - (c) Put off all entertaining until you have more money?

Answers
1. Hold it at both ends, and butter only a narrow strip at a time. 2. The woman on his right. 3. No. 4. No. Not unless he is a minister. 5. With a fork. Best "What Would You Do" solution—"b".

WAGE CUTS NOT NEEDED, ICC CHAIRMAN ASSERTS

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—Chairman W. M. W. Splawn of the Interstate Commerce commission said after a White House conference today the "general consensus" seemed to be that railroads "should be able to earn enough to carry their employees without wage reductions or layoffs."

Splawn, who conferred with President Roosevelt together with 13 others, said there was no discussion of reducing wages as a solution to the railroad problem. He added, however, it was recognized that if economies were to be effected in that manner, or by laying men off, that these workers would have to be taken care of and not put on relief.

Railroad officials will meet in Chicago soon to discuss wage cut proposals.

Strong opposition to such a move was expressed today by George H. Harrison, head of the Association of Railway Labor Executives, a White House conferee, who said: "Labor is unalterably opposed to a reduction and will fight it to the bitter end."

Chairman Wheeler (D., Mont.) of the senate interstate commerce committee, another conferee, said no conclusions were reached at today's conference and another meeting would be held with the President at noon Thursday.

Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction corporation, said the conference did not take up any proposed rehabilitation plans but talked about the situation from all angles in a general way.

post (Ostmark, the old name for Austria).

In centuries to come, for all time, there shall be an iron guarantee for the security and freedom of the German Reich and there will be a guarantee for the happiness and peace of our great people."

Many saw in this a hint of revival of the pre-war German "drang nach Osten"—march to the east.

Hitler Cheered.

Hitler concluded: "In this hour I report to the German people the greatest achievement of my life. As leader and chancellor of the great German nation I declare to history the entrance of my native land into the German Reich."

Hitler spoke from the spot from which Engelbert Dollfuss and Kurt Schuschnigg often spoke in exhortation to the Austrians to cling to their independence.

He spoke within sight of the chancellor at Ballhausplatz where Dollfuss, trying to save his Austrian countrymen from Hitler, was assassinated in 1934.

But when these Austrian countrymen today heard Hitler they cheered him as a redeemer.

Hitler referred to neither Dollfuss nor the recent ousted Schuschnigg by name, but spoke of the previous regime as one whose object was "to prevent the formation of a great German people and thus was a barricade to the path of the German people into the future."

The derisive roar which greeted this assertion could be heard half a mile away from the ballhausplatz, where Schuschnigg was held captive by the new masters of his country.

As Hitler told his 7,000,000 new Austrian subjects to meet their new responsibilities, his officials expunged the Austrian national government.

Fencing Austrian and German troops, armored cars and tanks, machine guns and artillery units provided Viennese an impressive afternoon show. Several hundred planes roared overhead as the procession wound through the Ringstrasse in the heart of the city.

At 6:45, Hitler, with the tramp of goosestepping troops, Hitler stood on a sun-drenched platform facing the entrance of Heroes' Square, his face stern and saluting frequently.

The German infantry marched

St. Nick Comes Late to Bayous

Christmas didn't reach Louisiana's isolated Bayou du Large settlement until spring, but the eager, happy children shown crowded about the tree, above, in Houma, seemed to be enjoying the presents which Bishop James Craig Morris is handing out just as much as if Yuletide had come Dec. 25. In fact Christmas comes in spring every year in Bayou du Large since menfolk of this English-Scotch community are out on their trawlers in December when the rest of the world is celebrating.

with great precision but there was more applause for the Austrian unit.

"The Austrians do not step quite so high," a jovial radio announcer said.

Some of the Austrians were already wearing the German insignia. Detachments of German police were led by Heinrich Himmler, their chief. Many spectators fainted in the jam.

man, were Police Chief Pat Martin, 60, and Deputy Sheriff R. J. Ball, 37, both of Beeville, wounded Saturday as they attempted to arrest the youth for robbery of the Luling bank, when nearly $3,000 was taken.

The gunman's car had been disabled on the highway five miles from Beeville when Sheriff Harper Morse and Deputy John Rutledge of Kennedy fired a volley at it as it roared over the Karnes-Bee county line.

Takes Victim's Car

Shots from two pistols in the youth's hands struck Martin in the chest and ball in the hand, hip, and leg as they approached the car. Neither could return the fire.

The fugitive rolled the two seriously wounded men out of the car and fled in their machine, taking their rifle and a sawed off shotgun with him.

Shortly after noon Saturday Deputy Sheriff C. R. Siebrecht and Constable Buck Lane of Wharton sighted the outlaw near El Campo, and a 45 mile chase followed, ending in a roadside battle between the officers and gunman near Rosenberg. Deputy Siebrecht was nicked in the shoulder by a bullet.

As the battle aged Frank Albright of Beasley drove up and the gunman forced Beasley to drive him from the battle scene.

Later Albright jumped from the car. Officers at Columbus, Tex., Sunday found license plates of the machine, buried in a pasture near the town.

The search for the fugitive spread over a wide area, once drawing in Louisiana authorities when he was reported between Vinton, La., and Newton, Tex.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, March 15. (AP)—Stocks climbed higher, further recovery territory today with selected issues posting gains ranging to 2 points generally and a few much more.

The list was handicapped for a while in the first hour by profit selling. This was absorbed without difficulty and a leisurely advance got under way which held until around 11:30 when profit taking was reduced in some cases.

Heavy industrials, including steel, rubber, copper, autos, and airlines, were the most popular. Utilities were narrow, as were the majority of rails.

U. S. Rubber preferred was one of the heaviest and sharpest share gainers. Others prominent on the forward move were U. S. Rubber Common, Goodrich, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown, Crucible, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Carraro De Pasco, Chrysler, General Motors, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case International Harvester, Standard Oil of N. J., Du Pont, Westinghouse, General Electric, American Can, Union Carbide and Phosphates.

Gold mines such as Deere, Homestake and McIntyre backed away.

BRAZIL VISUALIZED NAVAL BATTLE OFF

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—A tensely silent house heard a warning today that the United States must prepare to defend the entire western hemisphere because "dictatorships are on the march."

Rep. Wadsworth, Republican, N. Y., in one of his rare floor speeches, endorsed the Roosevelt administration's billion dollar naval expansion program "the realization of the 'grim fact' that 'force today is ruling the world.'"

Tracing the recent turbulent developments in Europe to the pressure of populations seeking an outlet, Wadsworth said that with central Europe under the iron government, "we shall see another example of what is going on in China, but on a much larger scale."

Later, he said, the rich areas of South America would constitute the "greatest temptation" to "those who believe in the use of force."

"Our grandchildren may live to see the day when America will have to fight the first naval battle against an aggressor off the coast of Brazil," Wadsworth said.

REVIVAL SERIES CLOSES AT CENTRAL BAPTIST

The revival series which was conducted at the Central Baptist church by the Rev. C. W. Holmes, 85 additions were made to the church. Sixty-five joined by baptism and 18 persons were converted who have not joined a church.

The Rev. Holmes presented constructive messages that will be a help to all who heard him.

Final services will be conducted at both morning and evening services Sunday. In the morning the pastor will speak on "How to Make a Success Out of a Christian Life." The subject for the evening message will be "The Meaning of Baptism."

All new members are urged to attend.

SEEK TO FORCE CLARK TO APPROVE CHARTER

AUSTIN, March 15. (AP)—Three organizers of a proposed Federation of Independent Refinery Workers, with headquarters at Nederland, asked the Texas Supreme Court today to force Secretary of State Edward Clark to complete approval of their corporation charter.

The men, who would be among the trustees of the union, are F. P. O'Brien and C. W. Hearn of Beaumont and D. C. Berlin of Nederland.

Clark withheld filing of the charter because of a protest by officials of the Oil Workers International Union. They claimed the proposed organization violated the section of the national labor relations act prohibiting an employer from "discriminating or interfering with the formation or administration of any labor organization or contributing financial or other support to it."

The mandamus petition against Clark asserted the proposed union did not violate the national labor relations act and that regardless of merits of the protest it was entitled to a charter.

BUGLER WAKES UP 600 NEIGHBORS EVERY DAY

BAKTER, Tenn., March 15. (AP)—This village's "human alarm clock" celebrated today the completion of 14 years of bugling from atop a 20-foot pole in his backyard.

ONE CHARGE DROPPED AGAINST OIL COMPANY

HOUSTON, March 15. (AP)—Dissolution yesterday of one of three Wagner act violation charges against the Humble Company at the suggestion of W. A. Combs, attorney for the Baytown Oil Workers union, came as a surprise to the board's case at the hearing being conducted in Baytown.

Trial Examiner J. C. Batten granted Combs' motion for dissolution of the charge which involved the company's discharge of H. A. Sullivan.

Combs said Sullivan had asked the union to withdraw the complaint and charge and that the union had agreed.

The three charges against the Humble company filed before the NLRB by the Baytown Oil Workers union briefly involved 1. Sullivan's discharge, 2. frowning on union activities, and 3. encouraging the organization of the Employees Federation.

In the formal complaint the union charged the Humble company with discharging Sullivan because of union activities.

Dissolution of that charge leaves only two yet to be considered in the Baytown hearing which will continue tomorrow after a recess today.

ORDINARY RULES DON'T HOLD FOR THE GENERAL

The same doctors who said a short time back that Gen. John J. Pershing's death was to be expected momentarily have now announced that the general may live for years if he will live carefully and quietly. They have classed his recovery as almost—but not quite—miraculous.

The funeral train assembled to transport the World War hero's body across the nation has long since been disassembled.

You will remember reading these excerpts from news stories of not so long ago regarding the general's apparently futile battle for life: "The life of the 77-year-old wartime commander of the American Expeditionary Forces was believed drawing to a close."

"As the spark of life in the stout heart ebbed away . . . " "Gen. John J. Pershing sank steadily toward death tonight . . . " "Members of the family who came tearfully from the bedside indicated that the end was near."

Dr. Roland Davidson said, With the very rapid progress of the ailment against him, I doubt if he can last very long. "All of which proves once more that ordinary rules of life don't hold for extraordinary men. During long periods of his illness the general was in a coma. He could not speak. He could not eat. He could not take a drink. Some of his organs had ceased to function.

But one organ kept on the job just as it had in many tough spots during the general's 77 years. That was his grand old fighting heart. That heart is beating with new strength these days and people everywhere rejoice in its victory.

Perhaps the general will never again lead an active life. Perhaps he will. The doctors have said that he must live quietly. But who would be surprised to see the old battler fool the doctors again, and return to the activity that characterized his career always?

The general is very much among the living and reports of his death were not only "greatly exaggerated" but also extremely premature.

The whole world joins in shouting: "A good fight, Gen. John J. Pershing!"

"JOE HESS DAY"

Most people will tell you that you have to be pretty close-listed and hard-hearted to get along in the business world these days. If you lack those characteristics, they say, you will end up holding an empty bag.

Joe Hess, whose parents brought him from Germany to Danville, Ind., when he was 10 years old, operated that way and he ends up just as his friends said he would. Joe ran a store in Danville. He always contributed when one of the town's organizations asked money, always was ready with a loan when an acquaintance came around with a hard luck story, always gave credit when a family needed it.

For many years it looked as if Joe would make out all right, then things began to break bad. Many of his borrowers couldn't or wouldn't, pay him back. Joe's business was just about done it. Then what happened but that the good people of Danville rallied around took over Joe's store and threw a "Joe Hess Day." They sold socks in the store for 5c and $10 a pair, and other merchandise at correspondingly ridiculous high prices. They asked Joe's debtors to pay up—and threatened to go to court if they didn't. And now Joe Hess won't go hungry in his old age.

So that is how Joe Hess made the mistake of being a good guy and a poor business man—and along the way made a great many friends.

Tex's Topics

Keep an eye on your electric plug-in connections at home and in the office . . . Anything can happen, now . . . It was with quite a bit of interest that I stood by and observed a demonstration yesterday of that new gadget called the "radio nurse." . . . Its possibilities are unlimited . . . Primarily, it is designed to put in junior's room at night after he has gone to bed.

There are two units to the "radio nurse," with no connecting links or wires between them . . . The pick-up transmitter can be placed in one part of the house and the receiver in another. . . All that is required is to "plug in" both units to an electrical connection the same as you do your radio, the electric iron, or any other household appliance that operates electrically.

For instance, you put the baby to bed early at night so as to invite friends in for bridge . . . you like to keep the door to his room closed so the evening's conversation and bridge post mortems won't awaken him . . . But, heretofore you have left the door ajar in order to be sure that you will hear his first cry . . . Naturally, you have been a little leary of kidnapers . . . Every mother is—even though there is no financial incentive for kidnapers to snatch junior, at all.

But, all that fear can be eliminated, now, with the radio nurse. . . You simply put the transmitter in the baby's room and the receiver on a table in the room where you are playing bridge . . . Why, you even can hear him breathe . . . Everything's jake now, and the first whimper from baby's room will register in mother's ear . . . If someone tries to enter the bedroom window, you hear the slightest noise . . . If radio nurse had been invented and had been installed in the Lindbergh nursery, there would have been no kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

It's a pretty slick gadget . . . But, don't forget—keeping tabs on what's going on in the nursery is not the only use for it . . . You can plug it in anywhere, take the receiver even as far as a block away and listen to what some of your best friends have to say about you . . . It's a good thing with which to find out who is your friend and who is just talking nice to your face . . . If it is taken up on a scale of that kind, there will be lots of persons who won't be speaking to one another within the next few weeks. . . Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, March 15—No one ever has been able to keep the Senate from raiding the government service merit system except the House, and now it's up to the House again.

The Senate stands by its approval of the McKellar amendment to the $1,412,454,465 independent offices appropriations bill which provides that all new attorneys and experts in independent federal agencies who receive $5,000 or more a year must be confirmed by the Senate.

If the amendment stands, it means that all such jobs—running into the thousands—will become items of senatorial patronage. It also has the effect of keeping such jobs outside the civil service and discouraging hope of a government career service by informing government employes below the $5,000 mark that they can't get to the top without political pull.

The measure would apply to WPA, CCC, the Social Security Board, PWA, the Federal Trade, Tariff and Power commissions, RFC, FHA, HOLC, FCA, REA, SEC and others.

House conferees on the bill refused to agree to the McKellar amendment and Chairman Robert Ramspeck of the House Civil Service Committee is leading the battle against it. But the House is in the position of being forced to hold up the vital appropriations measure or give in to the Senate.

Mr. Roosevelt has asked sarcastically why the Senate doesn't insist on applying the spoils system to charwomen and others below the $5,000 mark as well as to technicians, lawyers and others whose jobs seem to require training, experience and ability rather than political influence.

But he scarcely can afford to veto the bill merely to fight the McKellar rider. And the Senate, no longer under his control—especially when it smells pie—shows every disposition to apply similar provisions to the regular executive department bills.

Senator George W. Norris, who persuaded the Senate to exempt TVA's engineers, chemists and other experts from the rider, branded the amendment a "pie counter" measure and was almost alone in opposition. Other senators said they were better judges of the qualifications of appointees than the men who must administer federal agencies and employ them.

All articulate defenders of civil service and the merit system denounce the rider. Alfred Friendly, who writes the column in the Washington Daily News devoted to the affairs and interests of federal employes, calls it "the harshest blow struck at the merit system by this Congress."

And it's doubtful whether the House, although it has no interest in increasing the patronage of senators, will stand out against the rider.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—An ingenious form of ridicule (against strip dancers) has bobbed up in the terpsichorean exercises of Dorothy Humphrey and Charles Weidman who are now, leisurely dancing their way across the continent.

This is supposed to be in 1960, when a war maddened world wears gas masks 24 hours daily. . . . They are worn in the nursery, at teas and at business. In fact, no one remembers what a face looks like. The strip tease occurs when the girl, dancing before an enthusiastic group of males, dangles her face completely nude.

One of the nice things about being a convict at Sing Sing is that your leisure moments are well taken care of. . . . You may play handball, basketball, wrestle, box, or swing dumbbells in one of the best equipped gymnasiums in the state. . . . However, this is one thing the taxpayers can't complain about. . . . The gymnasium is the gift of H. M. Warner, the Hollywood film producer.

Loping into his office the other day an editor spied one of his reporters gazing sadly out the window. "What is the matter with you?" boomed the boss. "I've written a play," confessed the scribe, "but I can't think of a suitable title."

"Well, maybe I can help," suggested the editor hopefully, "what's it about?" "It's a mystery story, Chief. It's about a reporter who is murdered in the office late at night."

"You mean right in the newspaper office?"

"That's right."

"Well, for Pete's sake! why don't you call it Murder In The Dog House!"

One of the interesting people you meet around New York nowadays is Alexander Bralowsky, the Russian pianist, who between renditions of the Chopin cycle, likes to tell an occasional story.

It seems Bralowsky was in Vienna at the outbreak of the war, studying with Leschetizky, and because of his Russian birth was immediately thrown into prison. During his interment he came before a certain officer who treated him with marked kindness. After his release Bralowsky naturally fled the country, and it wasn't until later years that he ventured again into that city of waltzes on the Danube's shores.

Last year, after a particularly successful concert in Vienna, the same police officer, now the Chief of Police, came back stage and said to Bralowsky: "If I had known when I released you during the war that you could play like that, I would have had you interned permanently in Vienna!"

Incidentally, Bralowsky's hands are extremely large, a fact that once caused Rachmaninoff to tell him, "You have the hands of a born pianist." This was in St. Petersburg, when Rachmaninoff was a Czarist supervisor and Bralowsky was a mere student. Today he has the incredible reach of an octave and a half.

FRAIDY CAT. HUMBOLDT, Iowa—Katherine Bauman's 13-year-old cat, Felix, has never caught a mouse—in fact he's afraid of them.

When Felix was a small kitten a mouse jumped at him. Felix made a frightened dash for a window curtain. And he's been running from mice ever since.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGER

To really appreciate this story you should have seen the expressions on the faces of these two boys, their parents and Principal Parker of Hopkins No. 2 when it happened last Friday night at the pie supper. The school house was crowded. Mr. Parker stood on the platform. He had just sold, in a few seconds, $5 worth of chances on a big white angel food cake, all done up in green cellophane. He looked over the audience trying to be fair in picking someone draw.

Every child waved a hand and cried, "Let me!" He motioned at some adults but they motioned at the children. Then Mr. Parker hit on a plan. "What child doesn't have a number? Rex Partridge's hand shot up. Rex was sitting by his closest friend, B. W. Powell, who had had a chance on the cake. "All right, Rex, you can draw for us!" As the 10-year old boy jumped out of his seat, B. W. called, "Hey, Rex, draw No. 78!"

Rex wore a grin as he stood rather nervously by Mr. Parker. "Now turn your head and draw a number," Rex looked at the number in consternation. "No, 78," he called. Mr. Parker looked closely. "No, 78 is right." But he looked angry. By that time, B. W. stood down in front with the matching number. They say that those two boys who are in the fourth grade certainly did enjoy that cake!

Just Off The Air The feminine contingent agreed that Alice Faye, over there with Tony Martin, was "smart" in that suit affair and hat with long shawl-like veil. Also that Gracie Allen, suited and hatted, was "free, chic and cute" dancing with George Burns. "What's wrong with that?" argued counsel for the defense. "Those people just got through airing tonight—when would they get a chance to slip into something loose if they wanted to?"

Nothing's wrong—only look around some more. Just what is evening dress in this town? The evening survey revealed, the Brewster twins in long flowing white; one girl in a colorful turban; another unknown in bright tweeds ("well, she's been to Santa Anita, came right on here"); a little brunette in a street suit, rhumbaing nicely; another beauty in filmy white, carrying a big cherry-pink feather fan, a bejeweled and glittering Sophie Tucker; Mrs. Buck Jones and daughter Maxine in "longs"; another tweedy horse devotee; diamond dowagers; Claire Dodd in long black with eye-catching tall black hat, fancied with colored ribbons, and so on.

Interest in assorted costumes took another form when Marlene Dietrich swept in, making her customary entrance. She was done up in black with a high hat, strangely like Claire Dodd's, only prickly with feathers instead of ribboned. The feminine contingent gaped with delightful anticipation: what would Dietrich do when she saw Dodd?

But that question was never resolved, because Dietrich did not see Dodd. There was a strong suspicion that Dietrich sees only what she chooses. The most beautifully languorous mask in town cracked into a smile on at least three occasions, otherwise was serenely waxen. It posed for all the photographers, departed almost immediately with its two male care-takers.

Somewhat, La Conga was not the same thereafter. The music got hotter, the crowd got sayer, a Rita or two couldn't repress a "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen," and Scribner Gene Towne table-visited in his customary unquiet manner. But what is life, after all, when Dietrich has gone from it?

Strangest current star-director combination is Norma Shearer and W. B. Van Dyke . . . Norma is for the try-and-try-gain system of movie-making—many, many "takes" until a scene is perfect. Van Dyke is a hurry-up director, accent on speed. . . . The Jacobean style of decoration lasted from 1609 to 1698.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—No doubt about it, here's the style center of the world—all styles. A block and a half off the boulevard there opened the other evening a new night club, Cuban in theme and cuisine, rather steep as to tariff, excellent as to music—La Conga.

Hollywood, meaning the movie crowd, invariably turns out for a new night club. If it's still raining out, some 60 days later, the club's a hit. But Hollywood turns itself out, sartorially speaking, as it pleases. The feminine contingent of our party pointed this out with no sympathy at all for Hollywood's way of working and living, which of course dictates the dress of the lady style-setters.

"It's just funny, that's all," one of them said. "Most places evening dress is evening dress, but here—well, look around. . . . Just Off The Air The feminine contingent agreed that Alice Faye, over there with Tony Martin, was "smart" in that suit affair and hat with long shawl-like veil. Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. HOILES

Enthusiasm for Government in Business Lagging. Arthur Morgan, chairman of the T. V. A., who received the position without soliciting it, is finding considerable difficulty in keeping government operation without being dominated by politicians. Mr. Morgan is president of Antioch college.

He is asking for congressional investigation into the operation of the T. V. A. It would seem from this statement that his enthusiasm for government in business is waning after his practical experience in attempting to manage the things that government is undertaking to perform. We quote: "Unless the agencies of government can penetrate behind strategy and intrigues and get at the essence of what is being done by the government, and unless the government can 'back up' and look facts in the face, my enthusiasm for government in business will necessarily be affected," he said.

This is the same old story. Every time in all history when the government attempts to go into business, it is always honey-combed with inefficiency and politics so that the great majority of people who have made any study of the subject are perfectly convinced that the lot of mankind will be improved by the government staying out of business and doing what it originally intended to do; namely, giving protection to business that is attempting to add to the wealth of the world and make higher pay possible.

Wealth Like Life. Wealth is like life; it has to be used and lost in order to be preserved. Many people do not realize, of course, that our spiritual life cannot be gained without losing it. Just so, physical wealth cannot be preserved or increased without being consumed and destroyed. If people really realized this, we would not hear so much about wealth being hoarded because wealth that is hoarded is lost, just like a life that is not used is lost.

ITALIANS DEVASTATING SPAIN, SAY LOYALISTS

MADRID, March 15 (AP)—Ancient Spain is being devastated, a government communique said today, by a twentieth century Italian Army. Describing the Spanish Insurgent march eastward toward the Mediterranean, the government, itself told of artillery and motorized columns and bombing planes sweeping through the ancient land that once was part of the Roman Empire.

Italian troops and German and Italian planes took part in the Insurgent capture yesterday of Alcaniz in eastern Spain, 45 miles from the Mediterranean, the government declared. While the troops struck directly against the city, the government related, the planes spread death and confusion over a dozen coastal towns.

Almost hourly the planes swung along the main Barcelona to Valencia highway, now become the most dangerous 250-mile stretch for government convoys. No car along the heavily congested road within the past three days escaped attack, and motorists frequently deserted their cars and jumped into roadside ditches until danger was past.

Reus Tortosa suffered particularly heavy damages from the aerial raiders who today directed their efforts to protecting the infantry advance from Alcaniz, designed to cut government Spain in two and isolate Catalonia from the remainder of government territory.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO CALDWIN, M.D.

FOR LONG LIFE We are inclined to ask the secret of success of anyone who has lived beyond the Biblical span of life. To this query an 80-year-old physician recently replied, "I wasted no energy in resisting temptation, but I also lived with moderation in all things."

Dr. James Crichton-Browne, famous British physician who recently died at the age of 97, also subscribed to this formula. When he was 64, he poked gentle fun at those who maintained that "alcohol is a poisonous luxury and so the poor man must be robbed of his beer and the rich man of his champagne—by force if it need be. Tobacco is a pernicious weed to be cast aside. Tea is a treacherous compound of alkaloid and tannin that brings misery to thousands, and must be abandoned. Food is partaken of in ridiculous excess—our slumbers are exorbitant and should be curtailed.

"Considered singly," Sir James said, "these proposals may no doubt be supported by plausible arguments, but taken collectively they become extravagant and preposterous."

There is no doubt that over-indulgence in alcohol, tobacco, tea or food is likely to prove injurious, but moderation is at best only a negative virtue. It may serve to prolong life only in the sense of not shortening it. But modern medical science offers us positive instruction on how to prolong life, and how to give it a superior degree of sustained well-being.

Modern medicine stresses the prevention of disease during early youth and the maintenance of physical and functional integrity by good personal hygiene and good nutrition at all ages. It is a safe guess that nothing will so assuredly contribute to fullness of life and fullness of well-being as scrupulous attention to one's diet and one's eating habits.

A second runner-up on this score is good mental hygiene. Even the ancients knew that a good digestion and a cheerful heart spelled longer life.

PRODUCTION OF CRUDE OIL SHOWS INCREASE

TULSA, March 15 (AP)—An increase of 27,074 barrels daily brought the nation's production of crude oil up to a daily average of 3,380,301 barrels daily during the week ending March 12, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Oklahoma registered an increase of 4,000 barrels daily for a total of 528,475. East Texas was up 1,250 barrels daily to 427,750 and the total state of Texas increased 20,756 barrels daily to 1,290,490.

Louisiana declined 1,063 barrels daily to 255,790. California had a drop of 2,250 barrels daily to 725,250 and Kansas had an increase of 7,125 barrels daily to an average of 173,100.

Eastern states including Michigan increased their output 2,886 barrels daily to 192,977 while the Rocky Mountain region had a decline of 2,890 barrels daily to 62,090.

LOVE LAUGHS AT THE DOCTOR

Yesterday, Derek leaves from the airport, and Connie, with only $10, returns to the Museum for her old job. But there is none, she did put on a good act, anyhow, she reflects, afterward.

CHAPTER V AS Constance walked home through the gathering dusk after her talk with Miss Taft at the Museum that evening, the ten-dollar bill in her purse seemed to shrink and dwindle. But life must be sustained even if Derek was by this time skinning the clouds hundreds of miles away. She stopped at a delicatessen and broke the ten-dollar bill to buy butter, rolls, cream and lettuce. When she came out of the shop, she had left one five-dollar bill, four ones, and forty-eight cents in change. Outside her door, a dry cleaner's delivery man was waiting for her with two dresses she had sent out several days before. When she had paid him, she had parted with another three dollars of the precious ten. And this was the first day.

And how empty for me, Constance thought. She read on: "Baron Grapefruit has the most amazing grasp of detail of any man I have ever met. Together, we have gone with a fine-tooth comb over every item of the plans for the studio he is furnishing for me. Already he has wired orders to workmen for enlarging the window space and installing special lighting. Within a week it should be all ready for work. If there is any angle he has not already gone into and decided upon, even to the gown in which his daughter is to be painted, I have yet to discover it. I shall be lucky if he doesn't go ahead and paint the portrait while he is about it. Part of this plan is that I am to take plenty time to get acquainted with Miss Thorvald and to study her before I begin actual work on the portrait. I am not at all sure this is not going to be the most critical part of the job; for although she seems to be very casual, friendly, simple person—very much like a clear, shallow, sunny pool—you can't help feeling that she has a hidden depth which it might not be easy to penetrate." Indeed! thought Constance, and read the last passage thoughtfully three times. The she glanced impatiently ahead for some hint of the news she most wanted to hear. (To Be Continued)

Constance went to sleep that night pondering an idea which she might have been surprised to learn had often been entertained by other overworked souls—that time is sometimes reckoned, not in hours and minutes, but in emotional content. . . . She had a very bad half hour when she awoke to sunshine streaming brightly over the trunk and bags which stood packed—ready for going away with Derek today.

LEAGUE WILL START MEET ON MARCH 27

Rules and the schedule of the Gray County Interscholastic league contests at LeFors, March 27-April 2, were announced today by R. E. Paige, director-general. March 29 and 30 and April 1 are the dates of the tournament proper, but tennis matches are listed for the period March 27-April 2. Matches will be arranged on a bracket and played according to the convenience of the teams. All entries should be in by March 25. In story telling, there will be two divisions; ward and rural, and in each division two classes, first and second, and third grades. The first grade students will select their own stories and have them prepared for presentation. This contest will not be judged.

In accordance with the last council meeting, there will be no places listed for championships, no awards, and only those contests which are to be certified to the district meet will be judged.

Plans for track and field events were not included in the schedule announced. A postlude to the meet will be the May Day Music Festival to be held Monday night, May 2. Entrants will be choruses, bands, and rhythm bands. The program is to open with four stanzas of "America" and conclude with "Eyes of Texas."

Each organization present will have an opportunity to give a number of their own choice. Results of the contests not held in LeFors should be forwarded to Director-General R. E. Paige at LeFors so that those eligible to enter the district meet may be certified.

Contests listed for the meet are: Typing, 5 p. m. Tuesday, March 22. Rural declamation contests will be held at 7 p. m. the same day. On the following night, ward school declamations will start at 7 o'clock, with all ready writers, all divisions. Story telling contests will begin at 8 o'clock.

On Friday, April 1, there will be band concerts at 7 p. m. and high school declamations at 8 o'clock.

CITY APPROPRIATES $350 FOR SUMMER RECREATIONAL PROGRAM

An allotment of $350 as the city's quota for the 1938 Pampa summer recreational program was approved by the city commission at its regular meeting last night. This sum is the same as the amount disbursed by the city for this purpose last year.

Total cost of the program this year is estimated at $860, according to a draft of the plans suggested by the city council of clubs, submitted to the commission by Mrs. J. W. Garman Jr., council president. A director at $250, band director $250, one assistant at $200 and another at $85, and $75 for supplies were the items in the total cost of the program, which will be held from June 6 to August 12.

Supervised play and activity on each week day morning with a swim for all children on Friday morning, one hour's boxing two afternoons each week, a picnic at city park on Thursday afternoons, softball and tennis tourneys, two bands to have two practices each a week, and a concert once a week, and an entertainment or play near the end of the summer, are activities suggested for this year's recreational program. Work with adults three days a week was also included in the plan.

As a committee in charge of the program, the council of clubs recommended that this consist of the mayor, representing the city, the superintendent of schools, a member of the Board of City Development, with the BCD manager, and a representative from the council of clubs.

Under the law dogs may not run at large after dark unless they are muzzled, and all dogs must be licensed. A dog known as a killer of domestic animals, including cattle, sheep, goats, and hogs, or fowls, such as chickens or turkeys, may be put to death, and one merely suspected of being a killer may be impounded until damages are determined and paid. The owner of domestic animals may place poison on premises where the animals are kept after posting notices of the poison.

Three thousand new copies of the Texas constitution, including the latest amendments, are ready for distribution by the state library. It was announced previously that they would be sent on request if a three-cent stamp was included to cover cost of mailing, but it wouldn't be a bad idea to send four cents. The latter, says Miss Doris Connerly, state reference librarian, is the actual cost.

Many requests are being received, chiefly from school children. The printing supplemented a previous one in 1936, authorized by the senate as part of Texas' centennial observance. Doran John Marcus Haesly of

November Vote on Naval Expansion Program Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—A proposal that the people vote on the administration's billion-dollar naval expansion program at the November election came today from Rep. Sauthoff, Progressive, Wis. Asserting the construction program could not be started for two years, Sauthoff said nothing would be lost if the voters decided in its favor.

There was little immediate reaction to his unprecedented suggestion, but Rep. Brewster, Republican, Maine, a leading critic of the building program, called it "interesting." Constantly reminded of the shifting European panorama, the house continued its discussion of foreign policy implications in the bill to enlarge the navy. Opponents of the legislation said Adolf Hitler's Austrian coup emphasized the wisdom of a "stay at home" policy for the United States. They contended the existing national defense was adequate for that purpose. Proponents argued that the "inevitability" of another European war made it imperative for this country to strengthen her naval forces. Hindulism has 230,000,000 adherents.

City Election

TUESDAY, APRIL 5th. FOR MAYOR: E. S. Carr, W. A. Bratton. FOR CITY COMMISSIONER: Lynn Boyd, Dave Osborne, W. T. Fraser, Marvin Lewis.

Dallas, candidate for governor, has made public part of his platform. It includes a "transaction" tax and is opposed to a sales tax. The transaction tax would be used to pay old age pensions to everyone above the age of 45. Haesly favors an equitable tax structure and is against the principle of tax free bonds, which he said, would "deprive American life as it destroyed Spain."

The Republican nominee for the United States senate in 1936, Haesly voted the straight Democratic ticket in the last election. He "acknowledges" he can win any primary publicly held, but doubts, he said, whether he can win "one not publicly held, as in the Republican party."

He claims to have originated the "Made-in-Texas" campaign of a few years ago "the momentous result of which are apparent on every side." "Even the federal government with its $4,000,000 for cotton research, he said, "is following Haesly, who showed the way."

He pinned it was too early for Governor Allred to run for the senate, expressed the opinion the governor would not seek re-election and suggested him for President of the University of Texas.

Several of the most vociferous candidates for the governorship "may be smeared permanently with hot oil," he said. If the state doesn't put more money in its general treasury right away, warrants given its employees in payment of salaries may be discounted more than the customary one per cent.

This was the statement of J. L. Swamy, buyer of warrants for an Aunty firm, at a meeting of the senate investigating committee. He made the statement facetiously, all-swinging a query by Senator Albert Stone of Brenham, a committee member, but it was sufficient to arouse capitol interest.

The capitol always is prepared to get up on its hind legs and paw the air when the subject of salary warrant discount is brought up. That's the way it feels about it. Under the discount system, an employe's salary may be $100 a month, but actually he receives, as a rule, $99. The treasury doesn't have money to cash the warrants because of a $15,000,000 deficit, so the employe walks about 50 yards from the capitol to a nearby banking establishment where he gets the cash with $10 knocked off.

It was announced previously that they would be sent on request if a three-cent stamp was included to cover cost of mailing, but it wouldn't be a bad idea to send four cents. The Capital Jigsaw by HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 15 (AP)—The new anti-dog law is in the doghouse. A local option proposition, the statute may become operative only in counties where approved by a majority of the tax-paying voters. Several have rejected it. Supporters of the session of the legislature last spring claimed the measure was necessary to protect owners of domestic animals, chiefly sheep and goats, against depredations of dogs. Opponents argued it was too stringent. The house gave approval by a vote of 102 to 9 while the senate vote was 16 to 7. Some representatives have said they voted for the bill in the belief it was a local measure, that it did not apply to all the state. It is local in the sense that county approval must be had. Under the law dogs may not run at large after dark unless they are muzzled, and all dogs must be licensed. A dog known as a killer of domestic animals, including cattle, sheep, goats, and hogs, or fowls, such as chickens or turkeys, may be put to death, and one merely suspected of being a killer may be impounded until damages are determined and paid. The owner of domestic animals may place poison on premises where the animals are kept after posting notices of the poison.

- 1 Plymouth is the roomiest of the three leading low-priced cars—nearly 7 inches longer than one; more than 10 inches longer than the other by actual measurement. 2 Famous artists—McClelland Barclay and Neysa McMein—consider Plymouth's clean-flowing lines and luxurious interior appointments outstanding among low-priced cars. 3 Plymouth's seats are deep-cushioned, "chair-high." And Plymouth's "radio studio" sound-proofing absorbs tiring road noises. 4 Bumps, jolts and vibration are blocked out by Plymouth's "five" rubber body mountings and big airplane-type shock-absorbers. 5 Driving a 1938 Plymouth is a new experience. It steers faster, handles easier than ever. And clutch pressure is greatly reduced. 6 Plymouth's double-action hydraulic brakes are self-equalizing... give the smoothest, safest stops of any type of brakes made. And the handbrake is a completely separate system. 7 Still more safety for your family—Plymouth has an all-steel body, a Safety Styled interior, and Safety Glass at no extra cost. 8 The new 1938 Plymouth's big "L-head" engine gives you full-powered performance—yet owners report 18 to 24 miles on gas. 9 Plymouth's oil bills are kept low by 4-ring pistons, full-length water jackets, directional cooling. No other low-priced car offers all these economy features. 10 Plymouth "stands up best"... needs least repairs. For Plymouth has patented Floating Power engine mountings, a Hypoid rear axle, a massive, X-braced frame. 11 Read the used-car ads, and you'll find that Plymouth has a higher resale value than either of the "other two" low-priced cars. 12 The big, beautiful 1938 Plymouth has an amazing new ride.
