SENATORS ASK FOR OPINIONS ON WAGE BILL

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—An outline of the exact wage-hour bill President Roosevelt desired would be welcomed by the committee appointed to draft compromise legislation, four Senate members said today.

Disclaiming knowledge of any intention on the part of Mr. Roosevelt to make a public statement, Senator Thomas, Democrat, Utah, said he thought the committee would not present such an expression.

When the President recently outlined his views on the tax revision bill in a letter to the committee, some criticism was voiced privately. But Thomas commented:

"I think the President has a perfect right to express his views, for he is rightfully interested in seeing that a satisfactory legislation is passed."

Mr. Roosevelt in public statements has indicated a preference for a wage differential.

Southerners fighting a nationally uniform wage scale were cheered yesterday by Senate adoption of an amendment to the relief bill providing that, if a wage-hour bill finally is enacted, its "floor" for wages would become the minimum pay of WPA workers. Communities where the prevailing wage is higher than the bill establishes would be exempt.

WPA workers now receive the minimum wage prevailing in their locality, just as the Walsh-Haley act makes similar provision for workers on government contracts.

ORIGINAL AMOUNT OF RELIEF BILL RESTORED

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The Senate overrode its appropriations committee today to restore the public works appropriation in the lending-spend bill to $965,000,000, the amount previously approved by the house.

The action came on a standing vote after Senator Hayden (D., Ariz.) had led a floor fight to increase the $865,000,000 total which the committee approved.

During consideration of the appropriation, Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.) opened a drive to earmark funds in the $3,247,000,000 lending-spend bill for specific projects.

He asked the Senate to assign $100,000,000 of the proposed $865,000,000 PWA appropriation to reclamation and irrigation projects.

"If you want to add to the capital assets of my part of the country," he told the Senate, "this is the only way to do it."

"You know about the dust bowl. There have been droughts in the Great Plains states for years."

Several other anti-administration senators also planned to submit earmarking proposals.

MAY PENSION PAYMENTS $41 LESS THAN APRIL

Gray county citizens on the rolls of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission received a total of $4,610 for the month of May.

The monthly report received this week at the office of the county clerk shows.

This amount was distributed to 276, one less than the number receiving checks in April. April pension payments amounted to $4,651 or $41 more than the amount received in May.

Payments ranged from $8 to $26. Both April and May reports were received in May, that of April on May 2 and May's report on May 30.

INTUITION SAVES LIVES OF SLEEPING CHILDREN

STAMFORD, June 2 (AP)—A mother's intuition sent Mrs. A. L. Smith of Jayton to the bedside of her sleeping children at 3:30 a. m.

A rattlesnake coiled beside the bed struck her right foot. She is recovering.

I HEARD . . .

The belief expressed this morning that most of the grasshoppers now infesting Pampa are growing strong and vigorous in vacant lots in which weeds have not been cut, and that if the weeds are cut the grasshoppers will be driven out before they get large enough to fly and therefore will be more easily eradicated. Cut the weeds in vacant lots.

Kidnapers Invade Home, Snatch Baby

Kidnapers invaded this combination general store and filling station at Princeton, Fla., to seize five-year-old James Cash Jr., son of the proprietor. The intruders cut a hole in a screen door, snatched the boy from his crib and left a note directing the family to go to a nearby shack, where a note demanding $10,000 ransom lay on the doorstep.

Reminiscent of the Lindbergh kidnaping was the abduction of five-year-old James Bailey Cash Jr., above, who was snatched from the bed of his parents' home at Princeton, Fla. Fears for the child's safety increased after $10,000 ransom money paid by his father, prosperous gas-station chain proprietor, failed to bring his return as promised by the kidnapers.

'Hopper Poison Free In Several Counties

Where grasshopper poison compound is being distributed free, some sponsor is financing the arrangement. County Farm Agent Ralph R. Thomas said this morning, in reply to a question on how Amarillo was getting its compound free.

"This would be the only way they could get it," Mr. Thomas said. "I don't know who is putting up the money, maybe the city or the county commissioners, but someone has to pay the communities' part."

The federal government supplies part of the bran and the poison, with farmers matching the bran with cottonseed hulls, additional bran, or other suitable materials for making the compound.

In Gray county, the compound is being sold at a price of 30 cents a hundred pounds, at the two mixing stations, one located in Pampa, and the other in McLean.

Gray county commissioners have taken no action on the grasshopper war. County Judge Sherman White said the commissioners had not gone into the situation as thoroughly as other counties have done.

MISSOURI WILL KEEP BODY OF MOSES AUSTIN

AUSTIN, June 2 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred acquiesced today in refusal of Potosi, Mo., officials to surrender the remains of Moses Austin, who is closely identified with early colonization of Texas.

"We don't want any lawsuit and if Texas ever gets the remains of Austin," will be through the graciousness of the people of Potosi," the governor said.

Austin was the founder of Potosi and the father of Stephen F. Austin, one of the founders of the Republic of Texas.

Recently an attempt to transfer the body to the state cemetery in Austin was thwarted by the Potosi City Council. The governor later dispatched Secretary of State Ed Clark to Potosi to explain why Texas values the memory of Austin.

Clark reported Missouri state officials and the Potosi City Council had politely rejected a suggestion that Texas build a memorial at the Austin grave site in exchange for the body.

He added Potosi citizens and officials were organizing a Memorial Association with the idea of constructing a monument at the grave and that Texas might be invited to participate.

Governor Allred said he would encourage the cooperation of Texans and might attend the dedication.

"There is no occasion for ill will between Texas and Missouri over the incident," he said. "I fully appreciate the position of the Potosi and Missouri people and officials."

Clark said Moses Austin laid out the town of Potosi and donated a 40-acre site for a court house and at one time served as a county official before he arranged for colonization of Texas a plan which his son eventually carried out.

RECOMMENDATION OF COMMITTEE REJECTED

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 2 (AP)—A year-old controversy over the release of two economics instructors, Drs. J. Raymond Walsh and Alan R. Swezey, by Harvard University has ended with President James Bryant Conant rejecting a recommendation of a faculty committee he appointed to investigate that they be retained.

The faculty committee of nine, named at the request of 131 instructors, held their release "involved injustice as well as unwelcome" but rejected charges that Harvard had been influenced by their active participation in the labor movement, their social or economic views or criticism of former President A. Lawrence Lowell.

Both Walsh and Swezey had been active in formation of the Cambridge Teachers Union and a few weeks prior to their dismissal Walsh had told a Massachusetts legislative committee he was "ashamed to my feet" of Dr. Lowell's opposition to the federal child labor amendment.

The ring leaders, Dewey said, devised a method whereby investment trusts were made to pay for their own acquisition and stripping.

The only original expenditure, he said, was the $5 spent to incorporate a Canadian holding company, the Fiscal Management Company, Ltd.

As explained by Dewey, the system involved the wasting of about three dollars out of every four of the investment trusts' assets. The "bootleggers," he said, substituted worthless securities for marketable securities to repay the money they had borrowed to purchase control.

In this way, the district attorney asserted, the indicted men and associates yet to be named drained $10,000,000 of the $16,000,000 represented by the assets of the seven investment trusts.

13 Oil Companies and 11 Officials Fined $360,000 at Madison

MADISON, Wis., June 2 (AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone today assessed fines of $360,000 and $25,000 costs against 13 major oil companies and 11 of their officials on charges of illegally fixing the margin of profit for independent, wholesale gasoline jobbers in the Midwest.

Judge Stone accepted the defendant's pleas of nolo contendere by which they were willing to accept penalties without standing trial.

Eight other companies and a like number of officials, who refused to enter nolo contendere pleas, will go on trial in Madison September 22.

In the case of each company and individual whose pleas were accepted the court imposed a fine of $15,000. The costs of $25,000 are to be split among the defendants.

The companies and officers entering pleas were: The Socrony-Vacuum Oil Co. Inc., Charles E. Arnott, vice president; Wadham Oil Co., A. G. Maguire, chairman of the board, Milwaukee; Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, Amos Ball, general sales manager, Chicago.

Cities Service Co., Empire Oil and Refining Co., Harry O. Frucauff, vice president; Tulsa, Okla., Cities Service Oil Co. was dropped as a defendant because it recently merged with this company.

Continental Oil Co., Edward Karstedt, Denver, former vice president; Pure Oil Co., G. C. Morris, sales manager, Chicago.

Shell Petroleum Corp., Alexander Fraser, vice president, St. Louis; Sinclair Refining Co., J. W. Carnes, vice-president, New York City.

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp., Robert W. McDowell, vice president, Tulsa.

Phillips Petroleum Co., Frank Phillips, president, Bartlesville, Okla.

Ohio Oil Co., W. G. Skelly, President, Tulsa.

The eight companies and officials who are to stand trial in September are: Gulf Refining Co., William W. Hartmann, vice president, Pittsburg, The Texas Co., W. S. S. Rodgers.

PRODUCES 210 BARRELS OIL IN 11 HOURS

A new oil production area for the Panhandle field has been virtually assured with announcement this morning that the Northern Natural Gas Company's No. 1 Deane wellcat in section 237, block B-5, H&G survey, Carson County, 10 miles southwest of Pampa, struck the line from Gray County, flowed 210 barrels in 11 hours during the night. The well is four miles east of White Deer.

It was the first test made on the wildcat which topped off pay at 3,100 feet on the afternoon of May 31, after being drilled to 3,065 feet—shut down because of cave in. Three hundred feet rose in the hole. A liner was run and drilling continued to 3,105 feet yesterday afternoon.

Additional granite wash pay was located between 3,100 and 3,105 feet. A flow of a half million cubic feet of gas was encountered between 2,880 and 2,883 feet with an increase to an estimated million cubic feet yesterday, or enough to flow the well.

Oil scouts and lease men are watching the well with a great deal of interest. Although no lease transactions had been reported up to this afternoon, it was rumored that several transactions were in the making. Many sections in the immediate area of the well are on lease to gas companies, gas having been located in the area last year.

The new test looks more favorable than the Cities Service Oil Company's wildcat drilled last year on the Jack Stephens' land in section 187, block B-2, H&G survey, Gray County, five miles to the southeast. The Cities Service test flowed for a few days but failed until it was abandoned.

Nearest oil production to the wildcat is east of Kingsmill, six miles to the northeast. The test is little miles west of the Jackson and Bowers pools.

Several gas wells have been drilled in the vicinity of the new test and it was for gas that the Northern Natural Gas Company was drilling when oil was encountered.

Nearest gas well is the Cities Service Oil Company's No. 1 E. Brown in section 256, block B-2, Gray County, a half mile northeast, which gauged 3,113,000 cubic feet.

Two weeks ago Hagy, Harrington & Marsh completed their No. 1 Monogasser in section 211, block B-3, Gray County, for 20,000,000 cubic feet. The test is two miles to the northeast.

The wildcat is located south of the granite ridge, believed to be the south line of oil pay. Recently, however, geologists have predicted the finding of oil south of the ridge.

OAKLAND, Calif., June 2 (AP)—William Bauman reported to police today he lost $1,700 playing solitaire. He was alone with the $1,700 and a deck of cards in a room over his tavern last night when a gunman entered. He left Bauman alone with the deck of cards.

MARRIAGE SMITH WILL BE JOBLESS

Runaway famous "over the anvil" at the famous blacksmith's shop in Gretna Green, Scotland, are no longer possible, functioning of that spur-of-the-moment marriage bill being abolished by a law just passed by Britain's Parliament. This may be a blow to the "romantic" that you've seen men daily dool about. But at any rate, in Great Britain, the knock-and-hammer of the anvil chorus will henceforth be a strictly private pastime, not officially countenanced. However, home comfort is still possible through The Pampa Daily News classified want-ads. This one proved it by securing a home.

Hoover Takes Charge Of Florida Kidnaping

PRINCETON, Fla., June 2 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal bureau of investigation, took charge of the James Bailey Cash Jr. kidnaping case today while a huge posse combed this area in the rain for a trace of the 5-year-old victim.

Arriving at Miami from Washington, Hoover hastened immediately to the FBI office in a downtown skyscraper where agents have been questioning several suspects for 24 hours. He refused, like his subordinates, to discuss the case and indicated he expected to be here several days.

Hundreds of men in khaki veterans' uniforms and hunting togs, many with pistols at their belts, assembled at dawn and were taken out in farm trucks to the sectors assigned for the second day of the search.

The hunt was extended northward through palmeto thickets, weeds and flat truck farm lands. The senior Cash and his wife remained secluded in their frame apartment building, although the father came to the door to receive three telegrams.

It was learned that the anguished mother who had been prostrate with grief, finally was sleeping. The posses, covering an area of 80 square miles, turned in a number of articles that might or might not be clues. Among them were two striped convict's outfits complete with hat, jacket and trousers found in a field. The suits and various other findings were sent to Miami for investigation.

The FBI announced it would pay double the face value of the banknotes to finders of the first 100 bills of the $10,000 ransom. Serial numbers of the 1,500 bills were broadcast yesterday.

Finders must deliver the bills to the Miami bureau without reporting the discovery to anyone else in order to receive the payment.

A $500 reward for the capture and conviction of the kidnaper was posted by the Palm Beach Town Council and the Dade (Miami) County Commission offered $1,000 reward for the apprehension of the snatcher.

Time Arrives to Prepare Equipment For Home Canning

Canning time—that expected "season" which has a way of taking even well-regulated households by surprise—will come with a rush in a majority of farm communities through the country.

Garden foods must be canned when they are ready. A day's delay in gathering, or a few hours' delay in processing may be too long. It pays a homemaker to check over her canning equipment beforehand. For equipment is a part of the canning plan—just as both canning and gardening are a part of the bigger home plan—the plan to use the resources of the farm to the best advantage for the family's benefit. A well-planned garden provides fresh vegetables throughout the growing season of any normal year, and allows for a surplus of these which are most nutritious and most easily preserved for winter use.

First in the line of canning equipment comes the steam pressure cooker. This is an essential piece of equipment for the safe home canning of nonacid vegetables and meats, states Mrs. Vera R. Martin, home supervisor for the Farm Security Administration. If a pressure cooker is not available the homemaker should never attempt to can nonacid products by any other method. It is better, then, to use other preserving processes, drying, brining, curing, etc.

Those who will buy pressure cookers this year, the Bureau of Home Economics offers these suggestions.

Select a canner that is substantially built and large enough for canning. Be sure that the top fits perfectly and is held tightly in place by clamps or a heavy band. All pressure cookers are equipped with a petcock, for exhausting the air, and with a safety valve as well as a pressure gage. (Sometimes the petcock and the safety valve are combined.)

If the family already owns a pressure cooker, make sure it is in good running order. Pressure gages often fail to register accurately after much use, hence the home canner is advised to have the pressure gage on her cooker checked at the beginning of every season—or more often if the canner is in constant use.

For processing acid products like fruits, tomatoes, ripe pimientos, and rhubarb, the temperatures obtainable in the water bath are sufficient. The high temperature of the pressure canner tends to damage fruit flavor, color, and texture. For a water bath, a boiler, a bucket or a large kettle will do, provided the vessel has a tight cover, a rack or false bottom, and is large enough to allow for one or two inches of boiling water over the tops of the jars.

With pressure cooker and all equipment ready, the home canner will welcome the first basket of new green peas.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below.

1. Should a man riding in an apartment house elevator with his wife keep on his hat until another woman gets on and then remove it?
2. Is it good manners to kiss a public figure who is shown in a news-reel?
3. Is it rude to ask any woman whose hat obstructs your view in a theater, if she would mind removing it?
4. How should one reply to such a request?
5. Should one seated in a theater rise to let others pass?

Glorifying Yourself

It might be a good idea—at least it would be a consoling idea—for the woman who is habitually unhappy about her appearance to ask herself: "Is it possible for me to correct the defects that worry me?"

If the answer is yes, then the sensible procedure would be to get busy and correct them. But if it is not, she ought to figure out a way to make the best of them, then stop worrying and concentrate on learning ways to minimize bad points and dramatic good ones.

Group Four Meets at Church

Hostesses to the members of group four who met at the church were Meses. Elmer Whipple, Charles Maderia, Valeria Porter, and C. W. Stewart.

Following the opening song the Lord's prayer, Mrs. Eddis Johnson presided in the absence of Mrs. W. E. Noblitt, who is attending a convention near Abilene. The devotional by Mrs. C. J. McMullen preceded the lesson on "Union Missionary Work in the Foreign Fields" with Mrs. Burt in charge.

Mrs. Charles Maderia discussed a letter written by Mrs. Grace Corporation which described union work in Nanking, and Mrs. W. E. Rigin reported on Mr. McWilliam's work in ## Argentinea. Mrs. Mary Horner told of some of Mr. Heugels missionary work in Mexico City.

Officers who were installed by Mrs. D. C. Houk are leader, Mrs. Burt Graham; co-leader, Mrs. Charles Maderia; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. B. Allen. Other officers elected are pianist, Mrs. C. W. Stewart; song leader, Mrs. C. E. Easton; and program chairman, Mrs. Elmer Whipple.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful headaches people blame on colds or flukes are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's filters of kidney excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pints of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste builds up in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

YOUTH STILL LIKES HOME, SURVEY SHOWS

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—There's plenty of vitality in that much-challenged institution—the American home.

After a scientific sampling of the country's 20,000,000 young people 16 to 24 years old, the American Youth Commission announced today that only three per cent of "single youth" now living at home expressed a desire to break home ties.

And although the great majority of 13,520 Maryland young men and women interviewed in relief offices, palatial country clubs and modest homes wanted at least two fewer children than the 4.7 median their parents had, about 90 per cent wanted to have children eventually. In "Youth Tell Their Story," Howard M. Bell's book-length report of the survey to be published tomorrow, there's a high-lighted story of how American young people live.

From the thousands of interviews obtained by 37 experts from 16 to 25 years old, Bell reported that four out of five were living with parents or relatives. Almost half the married group was so housed.

About one-third were or had been subject to broken homes, caused chiefly by death, but also by divorce or separation, which was three times as frequent among city parents as farm parents.

About one of every five was helping to support or was completely supporting his parents.

Only three out of ten reported that they received their sex knowledge from parents or relatives. Chief sources were their contemporaries.

Sixty five per cent of the girls and half the boys said they turned to their parents when worried or in trouble.

Three out of four living in villages would move if they could. Almost half those on farms wanted to live elsewhere, with preferences shown for cities and suburbs in both groups.

In investigating the economic status of families concerned, Bell reported that opportunities for a young person to live his own life "vary both with the father's occupational and income level and with the size of the family."

Data indicated that the size of the family decreased as the population of a community increased and that the number of children in white families on relief was substantially larger than in white non-relief families.

FREEDOM'S DEFENSE IS TRUTH'S

Thomas Mann, exiled German author, has been saying a great many sensible things on his current tour of America, but nothing that he has said is much more worthy of serious consideration than his recent remark in New York that freedom must learn the art of self-defense.

Freedom as it exists in America is a priceless thing. We who always have lived in it take it for granted, perhaps even fail to realize that it can conceivably be in danger. Mann, who saw freedom snuffed out in Germany, has a clearer appraisal of it, and his warning is something to ponder over.

That the ideal of freedom eventually must prevail in this world is, to Dr. Mann, something that goes almost without saying. But before it can prevail the race is apt to live through some dark and painful times, and those who know and love freedom must learn the art of defending it against its mortal enemies.

Freedom cannot defend itself by taking up the weapons of suppression. These weapons cut both ways. Any free society which tries to use them will end by finding that it has somehow ceased to be free.

It would be better, perhaps, to begin by understanding clearly just what a devotion to freedom implies.

Such a devotion—when carried into practice through such instruments as democracy—implies, primarily, a belief that the great mass of human beings have in them the good will, the good sense and the common decency to handle any problem that can face them. In other words, it implies a broad, sustaining faith in the human race.

This, of course, is only a starter. For to hold such a faith, and to live by it, means that one can have no use for any form of obscurantism. It means that the quest for knowledge must go on endlessly, that the exact truth about any and every phase of life must be given to the people at all times, that the people must—as a great democrat once said—have a right to make their own mistakes.

All of this is the exact opposite of the faith that prevails in the authoritarian governments.

It is, as a matter of fact, a broader faith than many of us actually live up to in America. And yet it is the only faith that can make freedom and democracy work. And to defend freedom and democracy, one must begin by defending that faith in season and out.

Viewed in that light, Dr. Mann's injunction is clearer. Understand what freedom really means, and you can see how it is to be defended. Protect that broad faith which animates freedom, and freedom itself will remain alive.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Pampa Daily News, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2—If Rep. Otha D. Wearin, New Deal candidate, wins the Democratic senatorial nomination in Iowa over Sen. Guy Gillette, there seems no question that President Roosevelt will insist on holding Congress in session until it gives him a government reorganization bill such as the House recently defeated.

That, at least, is the assurance given by New Dealers interested in the Wearin campaign, who regard the contest as more important to the administration and its policies than any other primary to date and are exerting themselves accordingly.

Anti-New Dealers among Democratic senators have been quick to agree as to the significance of the Wearin-Gillette battle for the administration's effort to defeat the conservative Gillette in its first open attempt to push an incumbent Democrat out of the Senate. The struggle to make the Democratic party a Roosevelt-New Deal party is now off in full swing and everyone is beginning to get onto the fact.

Psychologically Important
The Iowa primary is also the first occasion the New Dealers have invaded the middle west in that struggle and the psychological effect of victory or defeat, it is admitted on both sides, should be enormous.

Allis is being prepared in advance, however. Opponents of the administration will contend, if Gillette is defeated, that he was swamped by political misuse of WPA and other federal machinery.

Tex's Topics

Cliff Chambers, the box-fight and rascal promoter, has asked me to be one of the judges at the dual amateur boxing tournament between Galveston and Pampa Golden Gloves champions out at the Pampa Athletic arena tomorrow night. . . . Being a judge of anything is a dangerous occupation, and being a judge of a boxing show is just a little rougher than some of the other things of which one could be a judge.

For instance, if every last fan in the reserved seats and the bleachers isn't thoroughly familiar with how an amateur boxing show is scored, there is likely to be trouble. . . . The amateurs are a bit different than the professionals. . . . So, that's why I have asked Mr. Chamber and the sports writers to make clear just what rules the judges must follow to score an amateur fight. . . . The judges may know what they are doing all right, the boxers and their managers may understand, but some fan way off to one side might not understand and get the idea that you are just plenty pediculous as a judge, and if he has finishing draining a bottle of pop—what assurance does a judge have that the irate fan will not konk it off your hat-rack? . . . A judge at a fight is a brave fellow, believe it or not.

An enthusiastic person is Mrs. Roy A. Wall-rabenstein, who is directing the adult teenage recreational program being sponsored by the Council of Clubs in Pampa this summer. . . . She will make a success of a much-needed and a worthy project, and she should be given every possible assistance. . . . There was a pretty hot meeting up in the City Auditorium yesterday afternoon, and the boys who were there had a right to get hot about what they got hot about. . . . If I should tell details in print somebody would get just the kind of publicity they are hoping to get, so it's no soap here. . . . And, now, everybody's waiting to see how it all turns out. . . . And, that reminds me that a fight is brewing in town and it will be won by the fellow who should win it.

Dan McGrew, the ex-mayor of Kingsmill, left this morning for a six-weeks trip that will take him as far east as Pittsburgh and then back to the Pacific coast where he will attend the Kiwanis International convention in San Francisco, June 26-30. . . . Several other Pampa Kiwanians are planning to take the convention trip. . . . Incidentally, if you ever go to San Francisco, never refer to the place as "Frisco". . . . The natives don't like it. . . . Pampa Lions dispensed with their regular meeting today to meet tomorrow jointly with the Pampa Kiwanis club in the basement of the Methodist church. . . . The Lions are keeping program plans secret and anything can happen, according to Frank Cuberson, who is in charge of the funny-business for the day.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
With 16 completions for the week, Pampa crude oil production showed a gain of 931 barrels, mounting to 65,278 barrels daily. There were 1,439 producing wells.

Simultaneously in the towns of the new council, Boy Scout adult membership drives were to begin soon.

Pampa civic clubs were to advertise their meeting days and their welcome to visitors by placing four attractive signs on main highways leading to the city.

A flour situation in this country was discussed at length during a called meeting of the Red Cross Chapter in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

And New Dealers already are saying that Wearin can only be beaten, if at all, by a large wad of money which they assert is being spent by conservative groups to save Gillette. Persons outside Iowa are entitled to believe either, neither or both of these tales.

The suddenness with which Gillette and Wearin have become nationally conspicuous figures accentuates the fact that neither had been a celebrity in Congress.

Gillette is 59 years old, a War veteran, lawyer, former congressman and well to do farmer. Wearin is 5 years old, a former state legislator, editor and writer on agricultural and historical subjects and six years a congressman. Wearin has consistently supported the administration and frequently has helped lead the House progressive bloc in some of its battles. Gillette opposed Roosevelt in the Supreme Court fight and voted against the administration wage-hour bill.

There is no evidence that the New Dealers went after Gillette's scalp solely because he opposed Roosevelt on the court bill, although you can't disprove that. Wearin, promoting himself as a candidate on his own at first, was a logical beneficiary—and Gillette a logical victim—of the strategy of the administration group led by Harry Hopkins and Secretary Ickes which seeks to enter New Deal Democrats against Republican nominees in every possible contest this fall. Even National Chairman Jim Farley, despite directly contrary reports, has been working for Wearin. Roosevelt's unspoken approval is obvious.

New Kind of Boss Greet's President

Drawing a welcome respite from discussion of politics and "bosses," President Roosevelt met a genuine "bossy" when he visited Arthurdale, W. Va., site of a subsistence homestead community actively sponsored by the First Lady. Above, the President shows his appreciation by giving the cow, member of the Arthurdale Dairy herd, an affectionate pat on the nose. In a commencement address before Arthurdale high school students, the President told the nation that he would allow the new tax bill to become law without his signature.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—One of the most colorful characters ever turned out by Greenwich Village has approached this correspondence with an unbelievable request. "Please," he asked us, "please do not mention my name in your column again, for a while at least."

Well, that's an unbelievable request in this town, where everybody is in a mad scramble for publicity. People in New York, especially if they are in the entertainment business, just don't make requests like that.

"Of course, Joe," I said (Joe isn't really his name), "if you say so, you'll get no mention here. But this astounds me. I don't want to pry into any secrets, but if it isn't getting too personal. . . ."

He drew a deep breath. "Gee, thanks," he said with such evident satisfaction that I was more intrigued than ever. "You'll save me a lot of explaining. Remember that story you wrote about me several weeks ago. Well a girl I used to know several years ago read it in a Pennsylvania newspaper. And she's been writing me letters every day. She wants to visit me when she comes to New York. She wants me to visit her out there. She's a nice kid, but well, she gets sort of goofy at times, and I don't like goofy women. She's written me five letters since that column came out."

And that is what the trouble was. . . . An old romance on her part at least. . . . One morning she picked up the paper. . . . and read about an old flame. . . . And probably she remembered some idyllic summer in Manhattan. . . . and she has been burning the mails with letters to Joe.

But Joe is now married and very happily so. It is his theory that bygonees should be bygonees, that the dead past should remain very, very dead. He wants no part of the glamorous yesterdays (if they were glamorous) and, most of all, he wants no mention of his name in this column. For a while anyway.

Okay, pal. . . . Far be it from us to thwart true love. . . . Say the word and we'll write another column about it's being all a mistake in the first place. . . . Anything you say.

Interesting in many ways are the new murals at the Jewish Hospital in Brooklyn, done by Albert Cugat, whose brother is the famous maestro and caricaturist at the Waldorf-Astoria. Albert is the younger brother, a Spaniard who lives in 72nd street. Half his time is spent wandering old roads and sitting at stone-tables in the arches of Spanish masonry in Old Spain. The other half is devoted to work here and painting, while seeing America. As for those new murals, they're on a theme which annually grows dearer to adolescent and adult hearts, namely, Mother Goose, Snow White, Alice in Wonderland, Pinocchio, Three Little Pigs, and, finally, Red Riding Hood. . . . They're worth a trip out there to see.

Ben Marden's Riviera is situated on the exact cliff overlooking the Hudson river where Pearl White used to take those dazzling leaps while making blood-curdling serials.

3. Hans Christian Andersen was a Danish writer.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Today this one quotes from themes on "How I Would Solve the Crime Problem," written by Bill Keller, Betty Shroyok and Donna Day, Pampa high school students in Ernest Cabe's sociology last semester. Mr. Cabe, at this one's request, brought the themes to the News.

Wrote Bill: "It used to be an honor to be a policeman. In 1932 records showed that more than 70 per cent of the policemen in New York had an eighth grade education. Who is the cause of this big mistake?"

Wrote Betty: "Movies containing even a suggestion of criminal glorification should be banned from production. Police should receive higher wages so that they would not be so easily bribed. . . . Society should be responsible in providing a place of work for men on expiration of their sentences. A former convict with no permanent address other than the Big House must either steal or starve."

Wrote Donna: "If the police were not in league with the criminals there would be fewer cities which are the center of vice and corruption. . . ."

These are only quotations from the themes which were written after research.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.

Syphilis, of late so emphatically brought to the public's attention, is also receiving added attention from the medical profession.

In the last 25 years comparatively little progress of a revolutionary nature has been made in treating syphilis.

Paul Ehrlich perfected his salvarsan around 1910. This, of course, was an achievement of the greatest magnitude. Salvarsan was the first drug truly effective in the treatment of syphilis. It was a great addition to the mercurial drugs which had been used previously.

The original salvarsan has been modified and improved. Other heavy metals, in addition to mercury, are being used in combination with salvarsan. So syphilis treatment has been improved somewhat in the last quarter century.

However, the treatment of the disease is still long drawn out and costly, both in money and patience. Recently the possibility of shortening the treatment time and making it even more effective by a combination of standard anti-syphilitic drugs and fever therapy has been explored.

Much of this exploration necessarily has been restricted to experimental animals. To be effective, the fever induced must come close to the ultimate limits compatible with life. The results of the animal experiments have been quite encouraging.

In one study, 16 syphilitic rabbits were used. Six were treated with fever and arsenamine, five with the drug alone, and five with fever alone. Then tests were made to determine whether the syphilis germs in the infected rabbits survived the different forms of treatment.

Living germs were recovered from two of the rabbits treated with arsenamine alone and from two of the rabbits treated with fever alone. No germs capable of transmitting infection were recovered from the rabbits treated with a combination of fever and anti-syphilitic drugs.

Cautious and limited trials of the combined fever and anti-syphilitic drug treatment have been made with human subjects. Here, too, the results appear encouraging. But it is too early to say whether this treatment will be widely applicable.

The Capital Jigsaw

AUSTIN, June 2 (AP)—Announcement Governor James V. Allred would call several special elections to fill vacancies in the legislature aroused speculation whether he is contemplating an extraordinary legislative session this fall. The consensus is he is not.

He has said repeatedly he knew of no good reason for a special session and generally has laughed at the suggestion. Recently he remarked he had had fewer such meetings of the legislators than any governor in a long time. He called three special sessions in his first administration and two in the current one.

It has been pointed out, however, that it seems to be the usual thing for retiring governors to summon the legislators in special session in the fall before the executives go out of office.

Matters to justify a session next October—some might say excuses for a session—have been said to be provision of state aid for the proposed international park in the Big Bend of the Rio Grande, enactment of traffic safety legislation and new land leasing legislation.

Governor Allred said he would set the date for the special elections probably August 27, for the second Democratic primary will be held. The place of the late Senator William R. Newton of Cameron will be filled as well as those of at least six members of the House of Representatives, including Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, who has been appointed to the bench of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

In the Democratic primaries, members of the new legislature, which will take office in January, will be chosen. In the special elections legislators will be named to serve until January.

Persons wanting a special session for various reasons deduce the governor may be leaning toward their views from the fact he will call elections to choose legislative members who would have nothing to do unless there was a session.

Doss Hardin of Limestone County, currently an assistant to Attorney General William McCraw but expected to resign, was one of the first persons to announce for the senatorial seat vacated by Dr. Newton's death.

He is a brother of Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill and, the latter says, is a much better speaker and campaigner. If he should be elected, he would have nothing to do in Senate and House would replace one composed of father and son. Senator Newton's son, George Mayo Newton, is a member of the House.

Doss Hardin ran for the Senate two years ago when Newton was elected to a four-year term and, according to Ross, "ran a whale of a fine race." He was 3,000 votes back of Newton, but at that was third man, Bert Ford, now liquor administrator, being runner-up.

Reports heard in Austin also were that Rep. John Dollins of Waco would go into the race for the seat. There was gossip that perhaps former Lieutenant Governor Edgar Witt, a former unsuccessful candidate for governor, would enter.

It can be said on good authority that Governor Allred is not seeking to be a movie actor. The question has been asked whether he had hopes of crashing the flickers and that was the reason in fact for his recent visit to California and Hollywood.

The authority for the denial of movie acting intentions is none other than the governor himself. Soon after his return from the film capital he was confronted with newspaper pictures of himself surrounded by beautiful movie actresses, dining with actors and actresses and, in short, being very chummy with luminaries of the cinema world.

It all doesn't mean a thing, he said. The real cause for his going to California was the announced one, he insisted, to attend the wedding of two nieces. "Did you receive an offer to enter the movies?" he was asked by a press correspondent.

He laughed loudly. Then he said "no."

"If you did, would you accept?" he next was queried.

There was a louder laugh this time. "Well," his questioner persisted,

"I copied down that list of answers you slipped me, but I'm not sure I put them under the right questions."

Sharing the Comforts Of Life . . .

By R. C. MOILES

More than Profit Motives Needed
While profit motives are a splendid guide as to what society wants done, in a material way, we need much more than profit motives in order to have social progress.

The motive that we most need as a guide to human action is the motive of the individual who recognizes his responsibility in standing up and being counted in an attempt to reconcile as much liberty as it is possible for every individual to have and still maintain government.

The individual who spends his time and energy without thought of financial profit to bring about universal rules that will govern human actions certainly is contributing as much to civilization as is possible. Those who recognize that virtue is its own reward and will strive to do things that they intelligently and sincerely believe to be beneficial to society are contributing infinitely contributing much greater to the general welfare than a man who amasses a great fortune.

Almost invariably the amassing of a great fortune is a result of catering to human weakness or the acquisition of natural resources. Invariably the books that make the writer, the most money are seldom, if ever, the books that do society the most good. But the writers of the books and the advocates of the doctrines that do society the most good are the ones that are written, or the doctrines spoken, by men who believe that the real reward and happiness comes from doing what, in the long run will add most to the general welfare, whether the public recognizes and rewards the service or not.

This is the vital force back of an intelligent interpretation of Christianity that has done more to add to the liberties and general well-being of mankind than any other force.

The nation without principles and without ideals is predestined for defeat and humiliation.
—ALEXANDER TROYANOVSKY, Russian ambassador to the United States.

There are signs that business is bottoming out. It will move upward, and things should be looking a whole lot better by the November election.
—ROGER W. BABSON, prominent economist.

As astonishing as it may seem, the fact clearly stands out that the army's transportation organization, in all its unworkability, is now right back again where it was when we entered the World War.
—COL. WILLIAM J. WIGGS, transportation engineer.

America's highest intellectual groups who decline to raise children are responsible for lowering national intelligence by 9 per cent per generation.
—DR. JOHN A. SEXSON, president of the American Association of School Administrators.

"did they offer you Will Hays' job?" Hays is the czar of movie-dom.
"Hey," cried the governor. "What are you fellows trying to do?"

There are about 200 varieties of bird life in the area which may be included in the proposed international Big Bend park, advocates of the park told Governor Allred recently. Many of these types do not exist in other states.

It was said the fact the area has been virtually isolated by desert land has preserved many unusual kinds of birds and animals.
Governor Allred said national park service men had informed him they only hope of preserving the javelina hog in a park area would be through creation of the Big Bend preserve.

DELMAR KOCH AND SULLIVAN WILL MIX IT

Delmar Koch, of Dalhart, Southwestern A. A. U. lightweight champion, will box on the Pampa-Galveston inter-city amateur meet here Friday night. He will represent the Pampa team in the light-heavy class, and will continue to do so through the summer. He will take on Frank Sullivan, Golden Gloves district champion at Galveston.

Koch won the A. A. U. tournament at Amarillo this year. He went to Dallas and defeated all contenders that took part in the state meet. He was defeated at the National A. A. U. meet in Boston, Mass.

Koch is weighing 170 pounds now and is in the best shape at that weight. In Sullivan, the Amarillo youth will have a tough opponent according to past performances of the Galveston battler.

In all, 15 or 16 bouts will be presented with local boys filling out the card which will see 10 inter-city bouts. Third man in the ring will be Homer Anderson of Phillips, an experienced licensed referee.

Local youngsters who will support the championship bouts will include Bob Fraley, Ed Cassada, James Holler, J. N. Calhoun, Elnos Hall, Richard Stephens, Henry Brummett.

Pampa entries in the championship bouts will be Benny Moore and Frankie Billis of Shamrock, Jake Bible of Alameda, Frank Brown, Arvol Hix, Howard Hendrix, Ray "Dippy" Norman, J. P. Mathews, Jap Gillis, Delmar Koch.

The ten Galveston boys being brought here for the night of boxing will include John Santarrelli, Swede Enoksen, Jimmy Foyik, Raymond Oest, Frank Sullivan, Bryan Allison, Rubin Guzman, Sol Aguire, Donald Drake, Pete Howard.

Admission to the bouts will be $1, ringside reserve, and 40 cents general admission. Reserve seat tickets are now available at the Pampa Daily News and at Cretney drug.

TROUT LEADS BEAUMONT TO ANOTHER WIN

The hustling Beaumont Exporters were within a game of the Texas league top today thanks to the fine pitching of Dizzy Trout and an uprising on the part of the Dallas Steers.

The leading Tulsa Oilers took it on the chin from Dallas, 12-3, last night while second place San Antonio fell before the slants of Trout and his Beaumont mates, 4-1. Today Tulsa had an eight-point lead over San Antonio and 20 points over Beaumont.

Trout allowed five hits while Beaumont pounded out 11, mixing them with four walks and three errors on the part of the Missions to edge in with the victory.

Tulsa miscues helped Dallas greatly but the Herd also used 11 hits to advantage, scoring six runs in the first two innings to sew up the game early.

The Fort Worth Cats downed Oklahoma City, 7-4, Indian errors doing them a lot of damage and a dozen Panther hits doing still more. Joe Mowry, Cat outfielder, continued his noble work with the stick to move into second place in league batting with a .380 mark, just eight points behind the top hand, Garner of Beaumont, who was idle. Mowry got two hits in five tries.

Houston had a field night at the expense of the hapless Shreveport Sports, winning 14-6. The Buffs broke a 4-4 tie with a six-run spurge in the fifth. Houston got 16 hits, Shreveport 12.

Marshall Holds Lead in League

Marshall held the lead in the East Texas league today while the Texas Arkansas Liners, who had pulled up to a tie for the top, fell to third place and Longview took over the runner-up slot.

Marshall downed Jacksonville 13-7 last night, scoring nine runs in the fifth inning. Marshall got 16 hits, Jacksonville 11.

Steve Rachunk held Texarkana to seven hits while his mates blasted out 15 for a 15-5 Henderson victory. Langview hit 16 times in the first three innings in a 16-6 rout of the Kilgore Rangers.

Tyler downed Palestine 10-4, Carl Kentling leading the attack with two homers and a single to drive in six runs.

As Armstrong Whipped Ross for Title

Connie Fools 'Em Again With College Athletes

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer. They laughed when old Cornelius McGillicuddy hinted he might do something with his Apathetic Athletics this season. They laughed when he tossed a couple of ex-college boys into his lineup, and they wanted to know if he thought a Ph. D. or two could change a situation that looked like the cellar from Philadelphia to Moscow and back.

The latest was 9-5 thumping they handed Cleveland's league-leading Indians yesterday. Meanwhile the New York Giants, against their customary cousins, the Pittsburgh Pirates, looked pretty sour yesterday as they dropped a 4-1 decision with young Russ Bauers turning in a five-hitter.

Getting back to the A's, you find their sudden spurt dates back to two weeks, when Swingin' Sam Chapman, the All-America footballer, left the sunny California campus and showed up at Shibe park. Sammy supplied an extra punch. In 15 games, he has hit for .314 and driven in 14 runs, a power pace that makes up for the fielding experience he still lacks.

Then there's old Lynn (Line Drive) Nelson, who has proved a most pleasant pitching surprise. He went the route for the sixth straight time yesterday, turning in an effective job for his fourth win.

Since the Yankees also lost yesterday, Cleveland's pace-setting margin remained at three full games, with the A's eight games back. The Giants' lead, meantime, was shaved to two games over the Cubs, whose clash with Boston's third-place Bees was rained out. The Cardinals featured homers by Ducky Medwick and Encos Slaughter in walloping the Phillies, 9-4, and Johnny Vandermeer pitched a five-hitter to give the Cincinnati Reds a 4-1 victory over Brooklyn's Dofeul Dodgers.

Joe Cronin's home run with two aboard was enough for the Boston Red Sox to trounce the St. Louis Browns, 6-3. Buddy Lewis' ninth-inning single drove in the run that enabled Washington's Senators to score out the White Sox, 5-4.

ALEXANDER'S BOYS TO PLAY HUBER SUNDAY

BORGER, June 2—The rollicking, rambling, boisterous bunch of bearded baseballers who call themselves the House of Alexander, will make their appearances in this part of the country Sunday afternoon and Monday night at Huber stadium when they tangle with the strong Borger Hubers.

The whiskered wizards have been collected by one of the most famous of all the old-time baseball stars, Grover Cleveland "Old Pete" Alexander, and although this is only their second season as a team they are piling up an enviable record.

Alexander, who won his spurs as a pitcher for the Philadelphia National league club back in the days when baseball was for tough guys only, has probably more legends and stories being told about his color and amazing feats than any other living baseballer. And in collecting his ball club Alexander has shown his ever present flair for putting color into the game, for he has recruited his men from all walks of baseball, picking only unusual and outstanding players.

For instance, "Hambone" Olive, the famous centerfielder who has seen action with American Association and 31 league clubs and more recently with another bearded team, the House of David; Henry Bednar, the flashy first sacker who has seen much service in the Western league and the leading hitter on the club, and Big Johnnie Connors, the pitcher who struck out Rogers "Rajah" Hornsby with the bases loaded last year in the Denver Post tournament.

The Borger boys, baring blissfully along to victories behind blasting barrages of baseballs are due to be upset or at least closely pressed when they face the Alexanders. However, the Carbons have been working out daily and promise to put their usual good team on the field.

Fans all over the Panhandle were disappointed when the Huber's scheduled game with the House of David was cancelled a few weeks ago, but they are excited all over again at the prospect of seeing another bearded team, and what's more, a bearded team that has proved by its victories its supremacy over the Davids.

The Sunday afternoon game will start at 4 and the Monday night game will get underway at 8:30. The pepper games will be played between innings so that late-comers will not miss this extra added attraction.

Stanolind Beats Skelly For First League Win

GOLF TOURNEY PRIZE LIST BEST EVER OFFERED HERE

The best prize list ever offered in a single local golf tournament has been secured for the city golf tournament to begin over the Country Club course June 12. Qualifying will begin Sunday morning and last through Saturday of next week.

Up to last night more than 60 golfers from Pampa and immediate territory had entered. The entry fee is only $2 and each person entering will be allowed his qualifying round and at least two rounds of play or $2.50 in green fees.

Del Love, club professional, has the course in excellent condition. Fairways have been mowed and smoothed, greens have been resanded and the cups raised level with the putting service. To make play tougher, the drug must go five feet past the cup. The pro is now leveling the tee boxes as the last job before qualifying begins.

Prizes donated include: Jones & Roberts shoe store, golf shoes; Faulkner's Men's Wear, golf jacket; Murfee's Inc., golf shoes; J. C. Penney Company gladstone bag; McCarty Jewelry, belt set; Richards Drug, bill fold; Patherne Drug, one dozen golf balls; Cretney Drug, one dozen golf balls; Barnes & Hastings Grocery, one dozen golf balls; Kennerly Boehm, case of beer.

Flight prizes follow: Championship flight—winner, golf bag; runner-up, wrist watch; consolation, golf shoes.

Third flight—winner, gladstone and bill fold; runner-up, golf jacket and belt set; consolation, one dozen golf balls.

Fourth flight—winner, golf bag; runner-up, three months green fees; consolation, one dozen golf balls.

If enough registrants and qualify, a fifth and sixth flights will be added.

GUST JOHNSON WILL RETURN MONDAY NIGHT

One of the real favorites of Pampa wrestling fans will return Monday night when Gust Johnson, the likeable Swede, meets Sir Joseph Kopecky in the main event. Johnson has been on the Pacific coast for several months where he annexed the coast title, and a wife.

The semi-final will be just as spectacular as the main event with Andy Tremaine tangling with Blacksmith Pedigo, the little strong man from Kentucky. Both are clean, scientific wrestlers although Tremaine had to get rough and tough to hold his own with Kopecky last week.

As an opener, at 8:30 o'clock sharp, Promoter Cliff Chambers will field Sterling Davis and Soldier Thomas the soldier made a real hit last week when he downed John Nemanic, who will referee the bouts.

Johnson, who wrestles clear but who can take more punishment than anyone who has appeared here in many months, is tall and gangly like Kopecky. Both are leg artists of the highest order which means that fans will see plenty of action.

Reserve seat tickets are now available at Cretney Drug store at 65 cents, tax included.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas and Freddie Haas of New Orleans versus Frank Pennick and Leonard Crawley of England.

Eight singles matches on Saturday will complete the series in which the United States has won all nine previous competitions.

Heads-up softball games were played last night when Gray County Creamery eked out a 5 to 4 victory over the Supply Boys and the Diamond Shop downed the Christians 6 to 1 in City league games. Stanolind registered their first win of the 1938 season with a 9 to 4 victory over Skelly in an Industrial league game.

A home run by Gray with Campbell on base in the sixth clinched the win for the Creamerymen after the teams had been deadlocked. An outstanding feature of the game was the Supply Boys chalking up an errorless game. Each team collected seven hits.

Williams and Dickinson was the winning battery with Ivy and Whitten the battery for the Supplymen.

A home run by Speer with two men on base led Stanolind to their first win of the season as Chisum hurled his best game of the season, with Harding behind the plate. Twitler and Ray worked for Skelly.

Barfield of the Diamond Shop fanned 12 Christians and scored two runs to lead his team to victory. Only three men faced him in six of the seven innings, the lone Christian run coming in the sixth when six men went to the plate. Robbins was behind the plate. Helstak and Maples worked for the Christians.

Only two games will be played tonight, at Recreational park. At 8:15 p. m. Phillips will meet Danziger while Gulf-Cooper of Skellytown and Mack & Paul Barbers will tangle in the nightcap.

JUDGERS EARN MONEY EASILY ON WEDNESDAY

A total of $69 was paid 23 men in Pampa yesterday morning, for doing no more than responding when their name was called, listening to a brief speech, and then going into the district clerk's office to collect their money.

In all, not more than a half-hour was required for each of the men to earn $3, the fee paid jurors. The men had been called on a jury panel of 36 from which a dozen were to have been chosen as a jury in the case of A. C. Russell vs. Employers Liability Assurance Corporation et al, a compensation case.

Dismissal of the case eliminated any need of a jury and after a short talk by Judge Ewing, the jury panel was released and received checks from District Clerk Miriam Wilson. The case called for yesterday was the only one that had been set for this week, first of the May term. The first week of the district court term is customarily a busy one.

Members of the grand jury were in session again yesterday for their second day. No indictments had been made by the jury up to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

COURTESY TO DRIVERS URGED

Courtesy to motorists who travel over roads being repaired by Texas Highway Department workers was stressed in a talk made by J. W. Hill, of the insurance bureau of the Texas Highway Department, at a safety meeting held at 8 o'clock this morning at the maintenance warehouse.

Mr. Hill pointed out the dangers of motorists traveling at excessive speed over roads under construction, and said highway employees should exercise the greatest courtesy when dealing with the public in these situations.

Attendance at the meeting was 20, including seven from the local office, headed by J. C. Dingwall, resident engineer. Maintenance employees, of whom R. A. Scott is foreman, composed the rest of those who heard Mr. Hill's talk.

An excellent record in safety from the Pampa office was mentioned. Since Jan. 1, only one accident had been reported among highway workers in the counties over which the Pampa office has supervision. This accident was not a last-time accident and was only a sprained wrist suffered by a worker on an NRWR project.

From Pampa, Mr. Hill went to Canfield, where at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, he made another safety talk to highway employees in that city.

The meeting here was the first of two safety meetings the department holds each month.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT OFFICE ONE YEAR OLD

The Pampa office of the Texas Highway Department was one year old Wednesday.

It was on June 1, 1937, that the office was moved here from Panhandle. Six of the 14 employees have since with the Pampa office ever since it was established here.

The six are H. C. Foy, U. S. Sapp, J. C. Dingwall, the resident engineer, Vernon Reagan, L. K. Cantrell, and Ellis McCook. These employees were transferred to Pampa from Panhandle.

The Pampa office is a department center for six counties: Gray, Carson, Hutchinson, Hemphill, Lipscomb, and Donley.

Daughter of Huey Long Weds Doctor

BATON ROUGE, La., June 2 (AP)—Rose Lolita Long, vivacious daughter of the late Huey P. Long, and her young surgeon-husband, Dr. Osmyn William McFarland, were headed for New York today for a European honeymoon after taking martial vows at an impressive ceremony last night attended by many state notables who were associated with her father.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Late buying in utilities and sleeping stock market today and selected issues, after succumbing to earlier profit selling, got back on the rolling trail for net gains of fractions to a point or so. There was an assortment of losers, however, at the close.

Transfers were around 500,000 shares. Power and light company stocks drew support.

Strength came into U. S. government securities when Secretary Morgenthau disclosed the treasury would borrow no additional cash in its Feb. 15 financing. Wheat at Chicago converted losses into advances of 3/4 to 1 cent a bushel and corn jumped 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents. Steels were good in the morning, but eventually gave way and ended somewhat irregular. European markets took on a brightened tone after Great Britain inaugurated a move for peace on the continent.

Favored shares included Consolidated Edison, North American Electric Power, Elson, North American Electric Power & Light, Public Service of N. J., National Power & Light, Pacific Gas, Western Union, Columbia Gas, Republic Steel, U. S. Rubber, Texas Corp., Anaconda, Cerro De Pasco, Allied Chemical, National Biscuits, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Eastman Kodak and Philip Morris.

BRITAIN SEEKS ARMISTICE IN SPANISH FIGHT

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—Great Britain urged the non-intervention subcommittee to greater speed today on her proposal for withdrawing foreign troops from Spain, hoping to pave the way quickly for a truce in the Spanish civil war.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was reported to have ordered fresh diplomatic activity by Britain's representatives in Spain, Czechoslovakia, Germany and France to safeguard Europe's peace.

Britain has made no actual moves either toward Government or Insurgent Spain for a truce, but informed sources disclosed she was considering the possibility of bringing representatives from Barcelona and Burgos together.

One of the chief obstacles was the opposition of Soviet Russia to part of the plan for the withdrawal of foreign forces from Spain.

This withdrawal, it was believed, would simplify Britain's problem in arranging an armistice.

Her decision to make the attempt was influenced largely by the belief that Spain's war, now almost two years old, was the major threat to peace and other issues could be wiped clear of it were settled.

British officials disclosed a reply from Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco to London's protest over the bombing of two British ships, the Thorpehall and Penthames, in air raids on Spanish government ports.

The reply expressed regret and promised a "full investigation," but declared it was a "misapprehension" for London to believe British shipping was picked deliberately as targets for attack.

The cabinet was understood to have approved Chamberlain's two-fold plans:

1. To bring the Spanish government and Spanish Insurgents together in a roundtable peace conference, a course which unconfirmed reports said Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy already had approved.

2. Negotiation of a solution of the difficulties between the Czechoslovak government and its minority of sudeten Germans who have pledged "protection" of Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany.

The government's hope of mediating the Spanish civil war, which will have been drawn out for two years on July 18, was based on two factors:

1. The belief in influential quarters that many Spaniards on both sides of the conflict are sick of war and would welcome a peace parity.

2. Definite signs of progress toward obtaining withdrawal of foreign volunteers fighting in the war.

The latter question was scheduled for discussion again at today's session of the 27-nation non-intervention committee.

COMMUNISTIC ACTIVITY WILL BE DISCUSSED

A report of Communistic activity in the United States, based on a nation-wide study, will be made by Harry L. Cassey of Albuquerque, N. M., at the joint meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion at 8 o'clock tonight at the American Legion hut.

The talk is in connection with the Americanization problem, a prime objective of the American Legion.

Members of the committees of the American Legion 18th district convention, held here May 21-22, will give their reports at tonight's meeting.

PROPRATION HEARING TO BE HELD ON JUNE 20

AUSTIN, June 2 (AP)—The next statewide oil prororation hearing will be held June 20, the Railroad Commission announced today. The conservation agency will hear evidence on which to base a prororation order for July. Oil men are hopeful the statewide Saturday production shut-downs can be lifted by July 1.

SHALLOW PAY SAND TOPPED IN WILDCAT NEAR ARNETT, OKLA.

Word was received in Pampa this morning that shallow pay had been topped in the Fletcher Brothers wildcat test near Arnett in Ellis County, Okla. The lease is owned by a group of Pampa men and Frank Lard is drilling the well.

The oil pay, it was reported, was found at 682 feet but invasion of water shut off higher in the hole necessitated shutting down of the test and cementing of 6 5/8-inch casing.

The test is 105 miles northwest of Pampa.
