Red Ribbon Week promotes drug-free lifestyle

By MARILYN POWERS
Staff Writer
Pampa Independent School District will observe Red Ribbon Week Oct. 24-28 in conjunction with the statewide celebration Oct. 22-28.

The purpose of Red Ribbon Week is to promote a healthy, drug-free lifestyle, according to Deputy Commissioner Dr. Dave Wanser of the Texas Department of State Health Services, a sponsor of the week's observation.

"Red Ribbon Week is about encouraging kids to be drug free and marking the progress we've made," Wanser said. "The campaign provides communities a way to bring together parents, schools, and businesses as we look for innovative ways to keep kids drug free."

No classes will be held Monday at PISD schools, so most of the week's events in Pampa are scheduled for Tuesday through Friday.

Each PISD campus has its own scheduled activity per day. Many days feature wearing a designated color or type of clothing. Pampa High School students will wear Halloween costumes one day, and Travis Elementary School students will sport Hawaiian leis, provided by the school, one day during the week.

Pampa Junior High School students will have a chance to dress like their favorite super hero one day, and wear clothing designating their favorite college on another day.

Special activities are also scheduled on some campuses on designated days. Austin Elementary School students may bring canned goods one day, with the winning classroom earning a Coke float party. Wilson Elementary School students will plant red tulips one day. Pampa High School students will read to selected elementary school classes during the week to promote an anti-drug attitude.

Schools will be decorated for the special week. Community and school presentations and speakers are scheduled on various campus. "Red Ribbon Week is a chance to be visible and vocal in our desire for a drug-free community," said

Suzanne Pingel, PHS counselor. "Research shows that children are less likely to use alcohol and other drugs when parents and other role models are clear and consistent in their opposition to substance use and abuse."

Texas employment numbers continue to show gains

AUSTIN — Seasonally adjusted nonagricultural employment in Texas increased by 15,200 jobs in September and 226,200 jobs over the last 12 months, representing a 2.3 percent growth rate over the year. The nation as a whole has seen job growth of 1.3 percent during the same period. Texas employers have added jobs for 24 consecutive months and 37 of the last 38 months. A total of 676,700 jobs have been added since July 2003. The September seasonally adjusted unemployment rate dropped three-tenths of a percentage point to 4.8 percent.

The Midland Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA) experienced the lowest unemployment rate in the state at 3.3 percent (not seasonally adjusted). The Amarillo MSA was second at 3.6 percent, followed by College Station-Bryan MSA at 3.7 percent.

"The decline in the statewide unemployment rate combined with continued job growth speaks very well for the health of the Texas labor market," said Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) Chair Diane Rath. "Job growth continues to outstrip U.S. job growth, and the unemployment rate of 4.8 percent has not been seen in the last five years."

In September, hiring activities remained strong in Manufacturing. Employment in this industry experienced its second over-the-month job increase since July adding 3,400 jobs. This increase brings the total employment in the Manufacturing industry to its highest level in over three years. The annual growth rate rose from 0.6 percent in August to 0.9 percent in September, representing the addition of 8,400 jobs since September 2005.

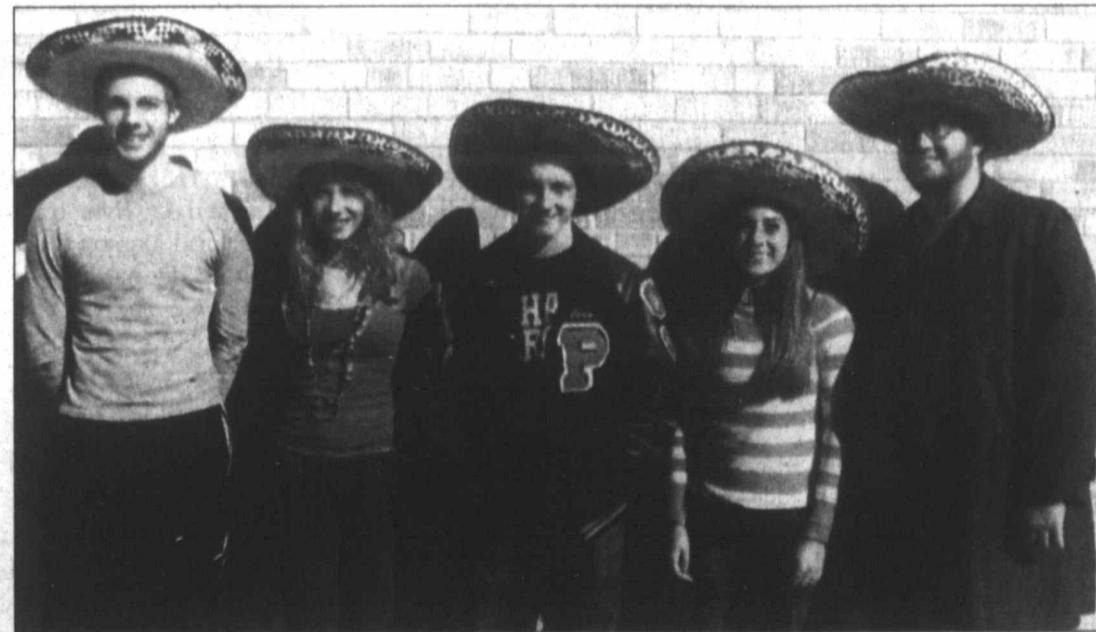

"For the first time in Texas history, nonagricultural employment reached the 10 million mark over the last two months," said TWC Commissioner Representing Employers Ron Lehman. "With a record of 10,020,400 jobs, expansion continues to be broad-based across many industries and geographic areas."

Financial Activities employment increased in September, with the addition of 3,300 jobs, continuing the industry's three-month streak of employment gains. The annual growth rate remained unchanged at 3.0 percent for a total of 18,300 jobs added in Financial Activities since

Signing deadline Dec. 15 for EQIP

By MARILYN POWERS
Staff Writer

Dec. 15 has been set as the 2006 deadline for signing up for the 2007 Environmental Quality Incentives Program and the Wildlife Habitat Incentives Program, both offered by the USDA - Natural Resources Conservation Service in Texas.

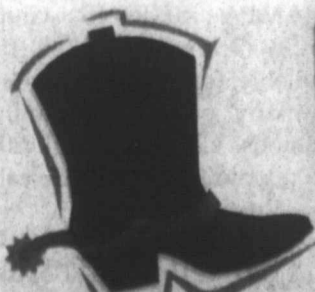

"The funds allocated for EQIP will help farmers and ranchers improve natural resources on private working lands in Texas," said Dr. Larry Butler, NRCS state conservationist for Texas. "The program provides conservation measures that help solve natural resource problems."

Natural resource concerns are established in each county by local work groups, who identify the most important natural resource issues in the area. Through EQIP, NRCS also funds projects that address special statewide resource concerns recommended by the Texas State Technical Committee.

The 2007 statewide resource concerns are animal waste, invasive species, plant condition, water quality, water quantity, and wildlife emphasis areas.

U.S. reaffirms commitment to defend South Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is reaffirming its commitment to defend South Korea, but the two countries' defense chiefs openly disagreed over the U.S. refusal to specify that it would reply to a nuclear attack on South Korea with a nuclear response.

It also was obvious Friday from a joint news conference that Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld and South Korean Defense Minister Yoon Kwang-ung are at odds over how quickly Korean soldiers should assume operational wartime command of the country's military and how the expenses should be shared.

In his opening statement, Rumsfeld said he and his Korean colleague had discussed North Korea's Oct. 9 underground nuclear test and reports that another might be planned.

"The United States reaffirms its firm commitment to the Republic of Korea, including continuation of the extended deterrents offered by the U.S. nuclear umbrella, consistent with the mutual defense treaty," he said.

Rumsfeld said that commitment "has sent a clear signal for over three decades" when it appeared in public statements issued after the joint ministers' meetings.

Later, Rumsfeld seemed slightly befuddled by a Korean reporter's suggestion that Yoon's delegation had wanted changes in the communiqué's discussion of the deterrent commitment.

"I guess I'm not in a position to respond very extensively," Rumsfeld said. "We've had language in the communiqué for a very long time. It's specific with respect to the nuclear umbrella. I don't recall hearing any proposal to change it ... or can I imagine how it could be improved upon."

Yoon demurred: "This morning, we had extensive discussions about the nuclear umbrella issue, as we did during yesterday's ... meeting. So I hope that when the joint statement comes out eventually, it'll have different language from years past."

RUMSFELD: "Oh, do you?"
YOON: "I think so."

RUMSFELD: "I see."
Yoon had said in his meetings with Rumsfeld that the statement should be more explicit about U.S. nuclear assurances, according to two American officials who participated in the talks and who would discuss the matter only on condition of anonymity.

Search continues for Amarillo symphony music director

Huang

Espinel

Rising star Eduardo Espinel takes the podium with the Amarillo Symphony on Friday and Saturday as the second finalist in the Symphony's search for a new music director.

Espinel arrives in Amarillo today to guide the Symphony through a week's worth of rehearsals before making his concert debut in the Globe-News Center for the Performing Arts. The program features a lineup of rich classical works by Falla, Grieg and Schumann, with a performance by Van Cliburn-winning pianist Chu-Fang Huang.

Espinel's audition is the second in the final round of finding a successor for Music Director and Conductor James Setapen, who announced in April 2005 that he would step down at the end of this season, his 19th with the Symphony. Two other finalists will also take the baton in hopes of being named to the position in Amarillo: Byung-Hyun Rhee on Nov. 17-18 and Joel Smirnoff on Jan. 19-20. Kimbo Ishii-Eto gave his audition performance Sept. 22-23.

"Our first concert of the season was an outstanding success, and the bar is set high for Eduardo and the remaining candidates," said Nathan Newbrough, the Symphony's executive director. "We are thrilled by the fantastic momentum that this search is already building, and we are certain that this process will result in us hiring the best possible conductor."

Tickets start at $18 ($15 for students and seniors) and are available at several convenient locations: through the Symphony at its 1000 S. Polk office, via phone at 376-8782 or its Web site, www.amarillosymphony.org; or through Panhandletickets through its several outlets, via phone at 378-3096 or its Web site, www.panhandletickets.com.

Espinel, a Venezuelan-born conductor who now works in upstate New York, said he hopes to bring the Symphony's musicians and audience members a fresh take of the classics.

"I believe in a chamber-like approach to conducting that is important in creating rhythmic stability and a uniquely blended sound," he said. "As I am presenting an interpretation to the orchestra, I am forcing them to listen intently to one another to create a musical dialogue similar to what you find in a chamber setting. Through new interpretations of the great masterworks, presentation of new compositions and innovative concert programs and formats, it is my hope that the audience will be excited to gain a further understanding of music."

And Amarillo is primed for such a transition, Espinel said.

"The Symphony and the city seem to be at the start of an artistic renaissance. With a new concert hall, new key players in management and in the orchestra, an exciting new era is coming," Espinel said. "I would like to be a part of and contribute to this exciting new energy. I also believe that I am at a stage in my career and musical development where I can effectively lead a professional orchestra."

Espinel has appeared as a guest orchestral conductor with the Canton Symphony, Fort Worth Symphony, Brevard Chamber Orchestra, Southern Arizona Symphony, Waco Symphony Orchestra, Branford Messiah in Connecticut, and has been active in Connecticut and Georgia as a guest choral director and trumpeter. During the 2004-05 season, Eduardo served as cover conductor for the Fort Worth Symphony. Recently, he made his international conducting debut with the Daejeon Philharmonic Orchestra in Korea.

A decision on who will be the Amarillo Symphony's new Music Director and Conductor will be made as quickly as possible by the 13-member committee that has led the search since May 2005. About 200 applications were received before the top four candidates were chosen.

Since 1924, the Amarillo Symphony has been filling audiences with an unbridled enthusiasm for the performance and discovery of great orchestral music. As the only professional orchestra in the Panhandle area, the Symphony employs 85 skilled musicians to perform for more than 2,300 subscribers each year.

In addition to its regular concerts, the Symphony offers an array of successful education programs, from youth orchestras to specialized music programs for underprivileged children, bringing the gift of music to thousands of young people throughout the Texas Panhandle each year. For more information, please contact Nathan Newbrough, executive director, at 376-8782 or via e-mail at nathan@amarillosymphony.org.

Ribbon

More than 200,000 Texas students participated in the 2004 Texas School Survey of Substance Use, the largest of its kind in the nation. Among the findings:

- Alcohol continues to be the most widely used substance among Texas students, with 68 percent of students reporting they had used alcohol at some point in their lives.

- Marijuana remains the most commonly used illicit drug among students. Thirty percent of all seventh through 12th graders in 2004 reported having smoked marijuana at some point in their lives. Past-month use of marijuana in 2004 was 12.6 percent, compared to 14.4 percent in 2002.

- Inhalant abuse declined for lifetime use but remained stable for past-month use. The overall rate for lifetime use in 2004 was 17 percent, and past-month use was seven percent. Like elementary students, both seventh and eighth graders showed an increase in inhalant use during the past two years.

The first Red Ribbon celebration was organized in 1986 by a grassroots organization of parents concerned about the destruction caused by alcohol and drug abuse. The red ribbon was adopted in honor of Drug Enforcement Administration Agent Enrique "Kiki" Camarena, who was kidnapped and killed in February 1985 while investigating drug traffickers in Mexico.

Camarena, then 37, had uncovered an alleged multi-billion dollar drug scam in which he suspected officers of the Mexican Army, police forces and government. As he left his office one day, five men appeared at his side and kidnapped him. His body was found one month later in a shallow grave; he had been tortured and beaten.

The U.S. Congress recognized Red Ribbon Week in 1988.

The DEA, the National Family Partnership and Students Against Drunk Driving are some of the organizations which support Red Ribbon Week.

For more information, call Pingel at PHS, 669-4800, or visit the web site <http://www.drugfreetexas.com/redribbon>.

"The funds allocated for WHIP will help Texas landowners restore and conserve native wildlife habitat," Butler said. "The program provides financial and technical assistance to producers applying approved conservation measures that help improve wildlife habitat."

State habitat priorities for WHIP are based on recommendations from the Texas State Technical Committee. At-risk and declining wildlife species are the primary targets for habitat improvement.

All counties within the state are eligible to participate in WHIP; however, funding priority will be placed on the Major Land Resource Areas that have experienced a notable decline in native wildlife habitat. These priority areas may be found in the Texas WHIP State Plan on the NRCS Texas web site at <http://www.tx.nrcs.usda.gov/programs/whip/>.

Through WHIP, NRCS will develop agreements with landowners to install conservation practices that best benefit the wildlife species of concern. Cost-share assistance will be provided for most of the needed practices.

Immediately following the end of the sign-up period for both EQIP and WHIP, all applications will be ranked. Producers with an approved application will work with an NRCS conservation planner to develop a contract and a plan, and they will begin implementing conservation practices next spring.

For more information, contact the local NRCS office at 665-1751 or go to the NRCS web site at www.tx.nrcs.usda.gov/programs/.

Jobs

September 2005.

"A declining unemployment rate and continued job growth are both positive signs for Texas workers," said TWC Commissioner Representing Labor Ronny Congleton. "Job gains over the month and over the year are both good trends for the Texas labor market."

Initial claims for unemployment compensation in September 2006 were 47,016, down 30.1 percent from September 2005.

Uncle Mort: A prophet in his own mind

My Uncle Mort's reach has exceeded his grasp for longer than anyone can remember — particularly when he's reaching conclusions. And he's standing by a conclusion reached a few weeks back concerning the Dallas Cowboys' most visible player.

He points "I told you so" fingers into faces of those who question his calling this a TOAD season. This is an acronym, he explains, standing for "Terrell Owens Absent Daily."

With the grid campaign nearing the half-way point, he figures the TOAD description applies even more, and he lists a bushel of options for the "A" part of the word. How about this: "Terrell Owens Angers Daily"? Or maybe antagonizes, amazes, alarms, anguishes, accuses, alienates, etc. Uncle Mort says Owens never saw a bridge he didn't burn. He may be exactly right, and the odds of TO shaping up are about the same as a homecoming mum making it through airport security ...

When Mort is wrong, it usually takes a long time to get him to the mat. For decades, he's poked fun at kinfolks trying to grub out a living in West Texas. "About all you can count on out there are the wind blowing and mesquite trees growing," Mort has kidded, urging them to join him down in the thicket.

Here lately, though, he's grown quiet. The wind he criticized is now producing electricity from wind turbines erected atop towers on the mesas, and researchers now believe that mesquite trees are potential automobile fuel sources. Uncle Mort says it'll seem strange calculating miles per cord instead of miles per gallon. Some of his West Texas relatives dream of cashing in on windmills and mesquite. And they're pondering the possibility of changing their neighborhood name — from Billy Goat Hill to Angora Knoll ...

Aunt Maude wheels Mort to take her to the senior citizens' center now and again.

She leaned on him heavily to go recently, mentioning that they could both do well to visit on "salad luncheon day."

Mort agreed, adding that he wanted to be on the safe side, so he'd ask them to "hold the E-coli." It may have been more than the prospect of salad that sealed the deal. It was also "nose and ear hair maintenance day." ...

About this time annually, Mort trots out his list of Thanksgiving blessings. Often they are "off the wall," and this year is no exception.

Though he's never flown and rarely even walks through airports, he's fascinated by security procedures, particularly the requirement for removal of shoes.

He realizes that Richard Reid, the so-called "shoe bomber" who smuggled explosives in his footwear, is solely responsible for this rule.

"I guess we should be thankful that he wasn't an underwear bomber," Mort said ...

O. A. (Bum) Phillips, coach of the Houston Oilers during the "Luv Ya Blue" era and later for the New Orleans Saints, has bounced back strongly from open-heart surgery last year.

The 83-year-old charmed folks gathered for the annual Gordon Wood Hall of Champions luncheon in Brownwood.

"I had thousands of fans who loved me in Houston," Phillips said, "Unfortunately, one of them was NOT the owner ..."

He spoke of a training session when star Earl Campbell stopped before completing a one-mile run.

A sportswriter asked Bum what he planned to do about it.

"I won't ask him to carry the ball when it's third down and a mile to go," the veteran coach answered ...

Charles Coody, a world-renowned golfer and one-time Masters champion, played at Stamford on high school football, basketball and golf teams coached by Wood in the 50's.

Coody, the team's punter, was instructed to notice if opposing linemen dropped back before the snap of the ball. If they did, he was to yell "Geronimo," and then run instead of punt. He did so in one game, gaining 39 yards.

Exasperated on the sidelines, Coach Wood modified his instructions for future games: "Jughead, I don't want you to try the 'Geronimo play' on fourth down when we need 40 yards," Wood warned.

When Coach Wood spoke, players listened. They knew that when he called them "Jughead," they'd made bonehead decisions that should be avoided in the future ...

Our readers write

Election day a day of reckoning ...

On Nov. 7, we will be faced with a day of reckoning concerning how our country is being run. We will all be faced with deciding if the folks that we have elected have represented us in a manner we agree with.

This decision will come at all levels of representation. Think about the quality of representation each candidate has provided during their tenure in office. I could go on forever with our leaders' quality of service, but the thing to remember is that we have the power to dethrone them at the ballot box.

Think about term limits when voting. There are many of them that need to join the ranks of unemployed so they can get in touch with the real world. Everyone needs to do two things prior to voting.

The first is to do research on the candidates. Check their voting record, attendance record and position on subjects that you feel are important.

The second is to discuss your research with friends, relatives and neighbors to get more people interested in voting.

I just pulled up a copy of Free Market Foundation's voter guide from their Web site www.freemarket.org/votersguide which contains all the candidates on the general election. Another good source of information is the League of Women Voters, who used to publish a non-partisan guide that I always found useful.

A final note of advice — rely on information you get by your research and not on the nonsense that our candidates call campaign ads.

Just remember, your vote on the ballot is the most useful tool we own to control those who are supposed to represent us. If you don't vote, then you are allowing me and others to decide who represents you.

Bringing closure to family of lost pet

I'm writing in response to the article in the Oct. 12 paper about Punkin the lost dog. It is so sad that someone in this town knows the whereabouts of this dog and hasn't come forward.

Whether you found the dog and kept it, or you hit the dog,

A sample of editorial opinion around Texas:

■ Oct. 16
The Dallas Morning News on abusive labor laws:

The United States has long opposed sweatshops around the globe. So who could possibly have a problem with China's plan to protect workers' rights in a nation where most live on the edge of poverty?

The answer is foreign corporations, including American ones, doing business there. Recently proposed labor rules, they contend, will increase wages and threaten additional foreign investment in China.

This reaction is troubling. China has a long legacy of economic and human rights abuses; less abusive labor laws are long overdue.

Economic globalism works when workers aren't solely low-cost production fodder. If workers become fodder, the backlash is clear and harsh. That's why recent World Trade Organization gatherings have ended in deadlock and confusion and why misguided protectionist sentiment is gaining momentum around the globe.

Rather than issue dire warnings, foreign corporations would be better served to shape a competitive strategy that doesn't begin and end with cheap labor. China is a heavy exporter, aided partly by its artificially strong currency.

But China badly lags as a consumer of foreign goods, in part because too many people are too poor to purchase them. China wants domestic consumer demand to play a greater role in economic growth. But that will be hard to accomplish without improving the purchasing power of average citizens, which includes giving workers a greater voice in their destiny.

Yes, China must live up to its obligations as a member of the World Trade Organization. The Chinese government, for example, must be held accountable for protecting intellectual property rights, developing a more transparent economic system and eliminating discriminatory trade barriers.

Those are serious impediments to an industrializing nation. But so is an abu-or you know someone who has the dog you should say so. Call the paper, call the pound, call a veterinarian and let someone know.

My mom's dog got out of her yard in April. We went door to door, passed out fliers, put ads in the paper, called the pound daily and had no luck. How is that possible? Dogs don't just disappear. We don't have that many stray dogs in Pampa and if we do Animal Control picks them up.

Some of you that have found dogs and kept them probably think, "Someone must not care enough about this dog, so he's better off with me." How can you think that? My mom's dog got out because someone mowing her yard left the gate open.

It's not your right to keep a dog that you find. You should do everything possible to find the dog's owner. Those of you that keep lost dogs have to realize that not only do the dog's owners miss them, so do others.

I am still explaining to my 3-year-old that Bailee is gone. He doesn't understand why he hasn't come home.

Lots of people pick up stray dogs. I'm glad about that. It helps protect the dogs. Most of those people do everything possible to find the owner. To those of you who have picked up stray dogs and returned them to their owner, thank you. If you have kept a lost dog, shame on you.

Do you know what it feels like to look down every street, alley or parking lot in hopes that you'll find your dog? I've been doing that for six months.

It's the feeling of not knowing where he is that hurts the most. I sure hope whoever has Punkin returns her to the Millers. It'd be nice for Bailee to come home, too.

The constitutional duties of legislators

The definition of insanity could be "doing the same thing twice and expecting different results." If I vote for a public official and his party does things he doesn't like and he still backs them, I say that could be signs of insanity.

If we understand our legislators' constitutional duty is to finance and maintain our public school system and if they fail, we should wonder if we have the wrong people in charge.

If we watch as a political party redistricts our voting precincts in the middle of the standard decade for changing them, using moneys illegally raised and we allow it, we are as guilty as the perpetrators. We allowed Tom Delay and crooked lobbyists to jeopardize our democratic government.

Our policy makers have been guilty of cutting all kind of funds that went to our youngest and our oldest citizens. More people are without health care all the time. Fees on all kinds of licenses have gone up, and fees that affect the poor even more so.

Knowing all this information is true, if you still vote for the officials responsible for these new laws, you could have symptoms of insanity. When we go national, it seems we really have a large number of suspects. Knowing all the lies "dub-yah" and his administration told us about Iraq and the arms race going on around the world, he still was re-elected. Now with the imploding of the Republican Party, with their culture of corruption and the Foley story, we don't know yet how many of the leaders overlooked and ignored it because of fear of losing a seat.

With all that's gone on, if people still vote for the GOP, we need to build more sanitariums. When I thought smaller government and a balanced budget was what they stood for I voted for the Republicans, then Presidents Reagan and Bush #1 had the biggest deficits on record. I realized then that it was all smoke and I changed back to the Democrats.

People who don't want to discuss politics should realize that the ancient Greek definition of idiot is "not caring for politics." We live under politics all our lives. The people who need to vote the most, seldom ever vote. You know them because they are working for minimum wage with no health care benefits. As long as corrupt public officials make the laws, don't expect any improvement. Just keep voting for the same people/party line and you'll keep getting the same results.

Hall of Fame: School officials do a 'superb' job

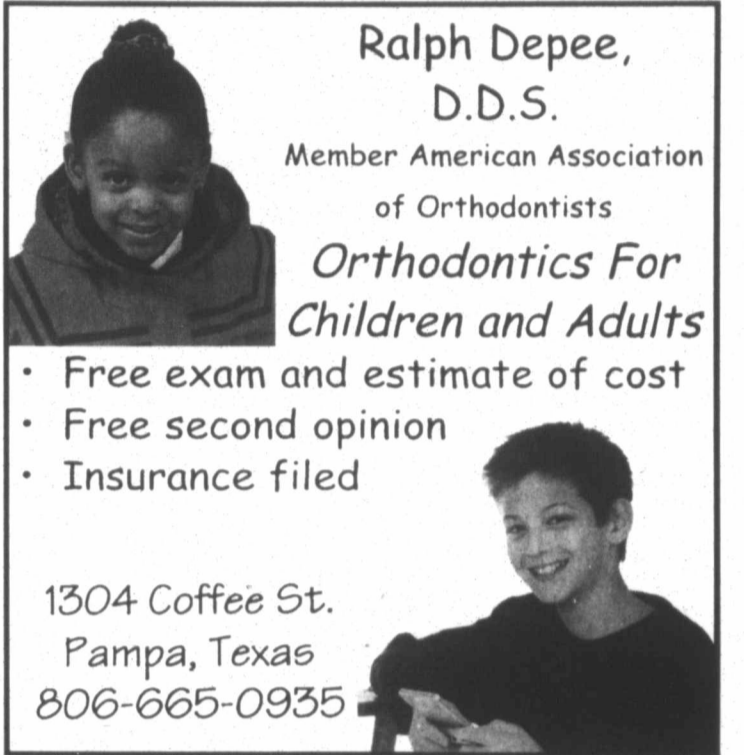

My husband and I want to express our deepest gratitude to the Superintendent of Schools, Barry Haenisch, and the Principal of Pampa High School, Danny Seabourn for the superb job they did with the Hall of Fame Ceremonies.

Special thanks goes to Karen Linder, who did such an excellent job of coordinating all of the events and gathering information over a period of the past few months.

The total ceremonies were beautiful and a memory for both of us that we will not soon forget.

Local Altrusan Lynn Switzer and Gray County Extension Agent Joan Gray-Soria prepare for the Free Child Safety Seat Checkup Event slated from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the parking lot of Coronado Shopping Center.

Child safety focus of 'checkup'

Gray County Texas Cooperative Extension and Altrusa International Inc., of Pampa are co-sponsoring a free Child Safety Seat Checkup from 10 a.m.-1:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 28, at the Coronado Shopping Center in Pampa.

Joan Gray-Soria, local county Extension agent, warns that motor vehicle crashes are the leading killer of children from age one and up. More than 50 percent of children killed in crashes are unrestrained.

Parents can take steps to prevent such tragedies. By using age-appropriate child safety seats and keeping children 12 and under properly restrained in the back seat of the vehicle, parents can greatly reduce the risk of injury.

Parents must be vigilant.

Children need to be properly restrained on every trip — not just the long highway trip to grandmother's house. Booster seats need to be used for older children who do not fit properly in the lap/shoulder belt.

Children usually fit the lap/shoulder belt system of the vehicle at around 8-years-old. This system works best when children are in the 80-pound weight range and are approximately 4'9".

To be sure that your child is riding safely, bring your child and their safety seat to the free checkup event. Be sure to weigh your child before attending the checkup.

Don't take chances with your child's safety. Buckle every child in the proper child safety seat or safety belt on every trip.

For more information, call the Texas Cooperative Extension office at 669-8033 and ask for Joan Gray-Soria.

Centramedia ranks fourth among WISPs

Centramedia, a Pampa-based regional provider of commercial and residential wireless Internet and computer networking services, is ranked number four among national wireless Internet service providers (WISPs), according to a study published in the a recent issue of Broadband Wireless Business.

The survey was conducted by Tim Sanders, president of TheFinalMile, Inc., a broadband consulting group, specifically for Broadband Wireless Business magazine.

Sanders conducted telephone calls and sent e-mails to WISPs across the nation, and the results of the survey rank the providers by their number of wireless subscribers. The publication notes that what emerged from their efforts was a glimpse of the variety of broadband wireless companies leading the industry.

Centramedia experienced strong growth over the past year. In 2005, Broadband Wireless Business ranked Centramedia at 13th with 4,200 subscribers. Today the company reaches 9,600 subscribers.

"Centramedia is positioned in the Texas marketplace to meet the needs of businesses and consumers alike," said Mike Williams, corporate officer of the Rice Companies of which Centramedia is a member. "Centramedia's wireless Internet options provide technology benefits, such as faster speeds and availability in rural areas, benefits which are not offered by other Internet solutions."

Centramedia provides wireless Internet access to the eastern two-thirds of the Texas Panhandle.

"Being nationally recognized as a leading Internet provider is excellent news not only for Centramedia, but for our customers and future customers as well," said Jaylene Watkins, Centramedia's marketing communication director.

Genesis House helps youth struggling with addiction

Genesis House is a local non-profit United Way agency that is governed by a volunteer board of directors and has been providing substance abuse treatment to adolescents for the past 35 years.

The facility has two homes, one housing males and the other females, which enables it to offer its clients a home-like atmosphere. The target population it serves is adolescent males and females between the ages of 13 and 17 who have a pattern of substance abuse and/or have come into contact with the criminal justice system.

Intervention of treatment must be mandated as an alternative to incarceration. Many of the juveniles served by the program are placed in the care of the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services due to abuse or neglect. Many of the teens have parents with poor parenting skills or who are struggling with substance abuse, chronic poverty, lack of impulse control or inability to deal with anger.

Others are placed at Genesis House as a result of their involvement in criminal activity. Educational groups are provided to the residents' family members during treatment at the facility. Genesis House conducts individual family counseling sessions to strengthen the family system and to identify problems within the family.

Genesis House gives its clients an opportunity to reverse destructive behaviors through education and development of positive and social life skills. The residents attend Pampa Junior High or Pampa High schools. The average length of their stay is four to six months.

Through the implementation of behavioral therapy, Genesis House incorporates the principle that unwanted behavior in adolescents can be changed.

Elizabeth was 17 when admitted to the facility. She came from a dysfunctional family and lived in a violent neighborhood. As a child, she had the traumatic experience of seeing her father murdered.

At about age 11, she became involved with a gang and began using crack, cocaine and marijuana on a daily basis. She had a history of running away and quit attending school.

Elizabeth was diagnosed as being low normal in intelligence and was also severely handicapped. Due to lack of impulse control, poor decision-making skills and drug addiction, she found herself the mother of two small children.

ATTENTION PRECINCT 4 VOTERS

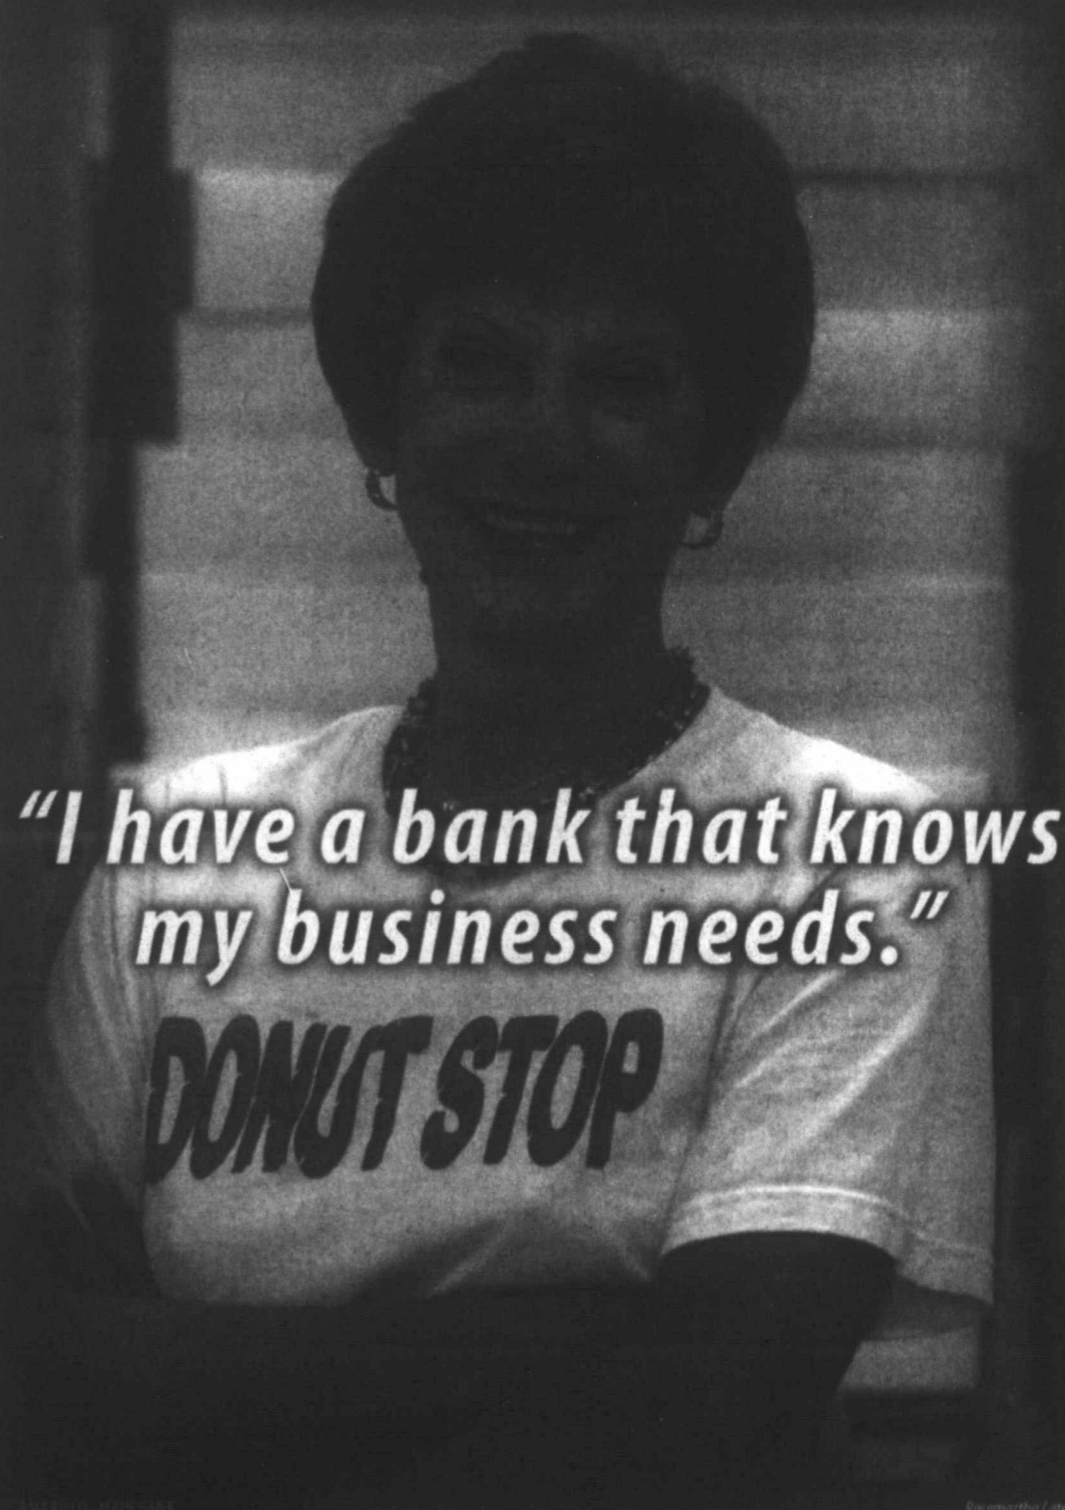

Two years ago I ran for Constable of Precinct 4 for the purpose of doing away with the position. I told the voters if elected I would resign the position to save the taxpayers 38 to 40 thousand dollars a year. I was elected, sworn in and resigned as I said I would. I was of the impression that would leave the job open for four (4) years, and in four years I would have to run again and resign covering the seven years. The Texas state legislature passed a bill that states " if the job is vacant for seven (7) years, it can be abolished". I think that overly intelligent groups in Austin, screwed it up and that allowed a candidate to run as a write-in candidate, so I had to run and pay $375.00 to run as a write-in. All voters agree we don't need the constable, except the one that wants it. Constables do not have to answer to anyone in the county, so that is why they want it. If the voters will re-elect me to the position I will be sworn in and then resign again to save the taxpayers 40 to 45 thousand dollars a year. If I had not entered the race the other write-in only needed one vote to be elected.

I am asking all voters who live in Precinct 4 to WRITE-IN DON FLETCHER FOR CONSTABLE OF PRECINCT 4.

Cattlemen's Boot Camp scheduled for December

Anniversary celebration

STILLWATER, Okla. — Cattle producers should plan to attend the Cattlemen's Boot Camp, Dec. 18-19 in Stillwater. The American Angus AssociationSM and Angus Foundation sponsor the event, hosted by Oklahoma State University. Industry experts will focus on all segments of the industry from production to meeting consumer demands.

This is the fourth Boot Camp conducted by the Foundation and Association at various universities across the country, and allows cattle producers the opportunity to enhance their knowledge of the industry and basic production skills.

The Boot Camp will begin at 1 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 18 on campus. An intense afternoon of discussion on end-product merit and consumer needs will kick off the event, and attendees will view actual carcass differences. A bull selection case study will fill the evening, giving the attendees an opportunity to use the information they have used in a mock sale.

The Boot Camp will continue on Tuesday, Dec. 19 with presentations on nutrition and reproduction and creating value in the cow herd.

An Angus Skills Lab precedes the Boot Camp on the morning of December 18 at the OSU Beef Purebred Center. Designed for new Association members, an overview of basic forms and procedures will be presented.

In addition, participants will learn basic information about artificial insemination, cattle handling, permanent identification and phenotypic selection. Skills Lab enrollment is limited to Association members, on a first-registered basis to allow for smaller group interaction.

The Boot Camp is just $75, which includes materials and meals. Register today by contacting Kris Sticken with the Angus Foundation at 816-383-5100 or by accessing registration materials at www.angus.org.

A block of rooms has been reserved at The Atherton Hotel at OSU. Make reservations by calling 405-744-6835, and be sure to ask for the American Angus Association block to get the negotiated rate.

For more information, contact Shelia Stannard, Association event coordinator, or log onto www.angus.org.

The American Angus Association, with headquarters in Saint Joseph, Mo., provides programs and services to more than 34,000 members and thousands of commercial cattle producers nation wide.

The Angus Foundation is a 501(c) 3 affiliate of the Association, and provides support to education, youth and research.

improving her grades in school and enrolling in an after-school tutorial program.

Elizabeth was agreeable to the treatment plan and said she wanted help so she could maintain custody of her children who were being cared for by a relative.

Elizabeth was enrolled in school and strived to make passing grades. She received individual and group counseling and always actively participated in the group counseling sessions.

Elizabeth and her mother participated in individual family counseling and family educational group sessions on Parents Day.

Parents Day is a significant part of the Genesis House program. Parents and family members receive education and counseling in an effort to help make the transition easier when the resident returns home.

Due to Elizabeth's handicap, consideration was given to her when the household chores were assigned. She never complained and willingly completed the assigned chores.

Elizabeth's willingness and constant dedication to her goals enabled her to complete the program in five months. With a discharge plan in place, she returned home to work toward obtaining a GED.

Youth like Elizabeth continue to receive help, partially as a result of public support for the Pampa United Way.

Genesis House is licensed by the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services as a Basic Child Care Facility, providing basic, moderate and specialized care, and the Department of State Health Services as a substance abuse residential facility as well as a Pampa United Way agency.

THC announces new program for local cemetery preservation

AUSTIN — The Texas Historical Commission (THC) announces the RIP Guardian program, the newest addition to cemetery preservation programs for the state of Texas. RIP stands for Record, Investigate, Protect and the new program provides volunteer organizations with specific guidelines to follow to preserve local cemeteries.

'To lose a cemetery is to lose a valuable part of local history.'

— Gerron Hite
Program coordinator

The RIP Guardian program is part of the THC's overarching RIP cemetery preservation initiative. Surveys were completed in 49 counties determining that approximately 37 percent of local cemeteries are at risk of becoming lost due to encroachment, vandalism and neglect.

"To lose a cemetery is to lose a valuable part of local history," said Gerron Hite, state coordinator of the THC's cemetery preservation program. "It takes a dedicated group of volunteers interested in all aspects of a cemetery, from preservation of individual grave markers to identification of historic and heirloom plants, to safeguard a cemetery from neglect or vandalism."

Residents in Hays, Hill and Uvalde counties are some of the first volunteers to take advantage of the new program to protect their historic cemeteries.

"We in Hays County share the same desire as all of our sister counties: preventing the potential loss and deterioration of our rural cemeteries," said Jim Cullen, cemetery coordinator for the Hays County Historical Commission (CHC). "The RIP Guardian program offers a comprehensive plan — a more-than-short-term answer to many of these vulnerable cemeteries' needs."

CHCs help cement the success of this new program by working with local RIP Guardian programs and gathering and maintaining information at the county level and making it readily available to the public.

The RIP Guardian program provides education, consultation and assistance to cemetery organizations and associations to preserve these important cultural resources in Texas. Volunteers selected to participate in this new program will have the opportunity to be trailblazers in cemetery preservation statewide and nationally.

"This is a wonderful opportunity to the forefront," said Larry Oaks, executive director of the THC. "We're looking forward to seeing local RIP Guardians become part of a much larger statewide network of Texans dedicated to saving history."

For more information on the THC's RIP Guardian program, contact Anne Shelton at (512) 475-4506.

Lighthouse Capital rep to address next investment series at WT

CANYON — Paul Horton of Lighthouse Capital Management will be the featured speaker at the Friday, Oct. 27 meeting of the WTAMU College of Business Investment Series. The lecture-luncheon begins at 11:45 a.m. in the main dining room at the Amarillo Club. Horton is a well-known contrarian investor, meaning his focus is investment areas that are out of favor with the investing public. He will share his philosophy of market analysis and talk about contrarian investing involving stocks and investing based on interest rate movement.

"Mr. Horton spoke at the Investment Series once before, and much of what he predicted has turned out to be correct," Dr. Anne Macy, associate professor of finance and director of the Investment Series, said. "I know that a lot of our members are looking forward to what he has to say this time."

The public is invited to attend the WTAMU Investment Series; however, seating is limited and reservations are appropriate. Contact Macy at 806-651-2523 or aterry@mail.wtamu.edu.

As an educational resource, the Investment Series provides a link between West Texas A&M and the business community. Quality lecturers provide valuable information to interested members of the community. Individual memberships are $200, and corporate or couple memberships are $350.

Finance majors gain useful practical experience with the Student Managed Investment Fund, which provides scholarships to deserving students.

Jags look for first road win against struggling Texans

HOUSTON (AP) - Jacksonville quarterback Byron Leftwich is well aware the Houston Texans are again struggling and that their defense is ranked last in the league.

But he also knows records and statistics can be thrown out when these AFC South foes meet.

"Records don't count, anything don't count, all that counts is knowing that the team is going to come out and play with a lot of emotion," Leftwich said. "They're going to come out with a lot of enthusiasm and we've got to make sure we match it."

He also isn't going to be lulled into believing that they can easily exploit Houston's defense, which is surrendering 418 yards a game despite the addition of top pick Mario Williams. "The difference in the team being undefeated in this league and the team not winning games is very few plays," he said. "We're not going to fall in that trap and understand and listen to what everybody's saying about those guys."

The Jaguars beat the Jets 41-0 for their second shutout of the season before their bye week. Houston is coming off of a 34-6 loss to Dallas in which the Cowboys scored 31 unanswered points to erase a 6-3 Texans halftime lead.

Jacksonville (3-2) is looking for its first road win of the season after dropping both of its previous away games. The Texans (1-4) have won just three of their last 21 games.

The series between the teams is tied at four, with the Jaguars taking both games last season. Houston's last win over Jacksonville was a 21-0 victory in 2005 that kept the Jaguars out of the playoffs and remains the Texans' only shutout.

Because Jacksonville is the only divisional opponent the Texans have had any real success against, some Houston players think of Jacksonville as their rival.

"It just seems like the fans and us, they take it to another level when we play this team for whatever reason," Texans quarterback David Carr said. "Maybe it's because we beat them in here one year on the last play of the game, and we beat them out there when they were trying to make a playoff run. It just so happens that there have been some big games the last few years when we met."

Houston will wear its seldom-used "Battle Red" jerseys this weekend for the third time against the Jaguars, a note that made Leftwich chuckle.

"I don't know if that's a coincidence or we're their homecoming game," he said. "But the jerseys don't matter."

While Houston's beleaguered defense could get a boost from the likely return of linebacker Kailee Wong and cornerback Demarcus Faggins, Jacksonville must deal with a key loss.

It will be the first time in three seasons that top tackler Mike Peterson won't start for the Jaguars. The middle linebacker, who had a team-leading 42 tackles, two quarterback pressures and an interception this year, is out for the season after tearing a pectoral muscle against the Jets.

The injury is the most recent blow to a defense that had already lost Reggie Hayward and linebacker Pat Thomas. Coach Jack Del Rio said Daryl Smith will move inside to take Peterson's place.

"We're going to continue to utilize the guys we have," Del Rio said. "Make sure that we're doing things that we think they can do well and continue to expect to play very, very strong defense. We're not looking for any alibis."

Of course the Jaguars remain one of the stingiest defenses in the league, ranking seventh. That could lead to another tough outing for Houston and its paltry running game.

The Texans are last in the league in rushing, averaging 68 yards a game. Houston running backs rushed for just 19 yards against Dallas.

Hereford in District 3-4A driver's seat following 48-13 win over Harvesters

By MICHAEL J. STEVENS
 Sports Editor

The Hostile Herd was just that Friday night as Hereford played an unkind host to visiting Pampa in what many believed to be the game that would eventually decide who would reign supreme in District 3-4A this year.

Those on hand to watch the game learned the Whitefaces are as good as their record indicates as Hereford was able to breach the Harvester's usually strong defense and come away with a 48-13 win.

The first quarter appeared to provide a hint of a toe-to-toe scoring match as both teams wasted little time in finding the end zone. Pampa's scores came quick. The first was an 80-yard run by Michael Robinson, followed by a 73-yard scamper by Chase Harris.

Hereford matched Pampa score-for-score in the opening period, leading the Harvesters 20-13 when the second quarter began.

That's when it appeared the Whitefaces were able to make some adjustments defensively, shutting down Pampa's offense while the Hereford offense turned up the pressure.

Hereford quarterback Casey Page was mobile and accurate (14-20-0) and spread the passing wealth around en route to a 244-yard night.

The Whitefaces held a 34-13 advantage at the half. They would add two more TDs in the third before sitting their starters.

The Harvesters finished the night with just over 250 yards in total offense, most of that on the ground. Hereford rolled up 423 yards in offense.

The loss drops Pampa to 3-4 overall, 1-1 in district, while Hereford improves to 6-1 (2-0).

The Harvesters host Randall Friday night.

Worth noting:

Pampa's Brett Ferrell was suited up and playing on the offensive line Friday night. Ferrell, Pampa's projected starting quarterback, broke his arm in the first scrimmage game of the season.

Harvey the Harvester joins the Pampa High School cheerleaders and those fans who made the trip to Hereford during the playing of the school song Friday night.

Barber, Jones present similar challenges for Cowboys, Giants

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Although Michael Strahan has never had to chase teammate Tiki Barber in a game, 10 years of practices have taught him what a challenge it is.

So Dallas Cowboys running back Julius Jones should consider it quite a compliment that Strahan calls him "kind of like a little Tiki Barber."

"He's quick," Strahan said. "He's fast. He gives us trouble."

It doesn't take trying to tackle those guys to notice how much they have in common. Some things will jump out to anyone watching the Monday night game between Jones' Cowboys (3-2) and Barber's New York Giants (3-2).

Start with their size. Both are 5-foot-10 and between 205 and 210 pounds, much of it muscle.

Their styles are similar, too. Quick and shifty, they excel at bursting past the line and into the secondary. While they lack breakaway speed, their strength makes it tough to bring them down.

Barber certainly sees the resemblance.

"Absolutely," he said. There also are some quirky similarities.

They wear the same uniform number, 21, and were both second-round draft picks. They also have brothers playing in the NFL: Ronde Barber in Tampa Bay, Thomas Jones in Chicago.

Thomas Jones is even the tie that binds these two. When he was a freshman at Virginia, he was roommates with Barber, then a senior. Barber didn't get to know Julius then, but he heard all about him.

Now Julius is in his third season with the Cowboys and starting to become as reliable and important to his offense as Barber has been to the Giants since his ... fourth season. (Oh well, it can't all line up perfectly.)

Jones has run for 100 yards his last three games, marking the longest streak of his career.

He was leading the NFL in yards rushing per game until last Sunday. Who passed him? Barber, of course, by gaining 185, the most by anyone this season.

"He is a tremendous player, probably the best player in the division ... up there with the top four or five in the league," Cowboys coach Bill Parcells said.

Parcells was so impressed with Barber's performance last Sunday against Atlanta that he told Jones to study that film.

"There's some good learning on it," Parcells said. "He's patient. He accelerates. He will run through tackles. You don't see him make a lot of 80-, 90-yard runs, but there are a lot of pretty 10-plus in there, which are a little unusual."

Barber had nine runs of at least 12 yards against the Falcons, who had been allowing only 69.3 yards per game, second fewest in the league.

Dallas has the NFL's stingiest run defense now, averaging 67.0 yards, but the Cowboys haven't faced anyone as good as Barber.

"He's a little guy, but he just plays big," linebacker Bradie James said. "I think Tiki is in his own league. He will block, he will run, get that tough yard, and if you don't lock him up, he'll get 20 yards and make you look bad."

Under Parcells, Dallas is 3-3 against New York. Barber's stat line is a perfect gauge for which team wins.

In the Giants' victories, Barber averaged 50.7 yards rushing and 35.3 more receiving. He's had at least 110 total yards in all three, scoring a total of three touchdowns.

In the Cowboys' victories, Barber averaged 50.7 yards rushing and 22.3 receiving. He hasn't cracked 100 total yards and hasn't scored.

Jones is 0-2 against New York, but played well both times. He ran for 74 yards and caught nine passes for 88 yards last season, and ran for 149 yards and a touchdown, plus had 46 yards receiving, as a rookie.

The most telling stat is the games played.

Until this year, Jones was always hurt the first time the Cowboys and Giants met. Now that he's made it through five full games, Jones could be developing the durability needed to become an elite running back capable of having a long, productive career - like Barber, who comes into this game with 9,319 yards, only 88 behind Earl Campbell for 20th in league history.

"If Julius can turn out to be what this guy turned out to be, then the Cowboys are going to be in good shape for a long time," Parcells said.

Coincidentally, Barber talked this week about retiring after this season and moving into a new line of work.

"I don't know if there is anything that would change my mind," he said. "I know that at some point, as all running backs do, it's not a gradual decline. It's like you step off a cliff, from 1,500 yards rushing to 400 yards rushing. ... I kind of want to go out on my own terms."

Cowboy's moves

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The Dallas Cowboy signed linebacker Junior Glymph off Pittsburgh's practice squad Friday and cut fullback Lousaka Polite to make room.

Glymph played three games for Dallas last season and was with the club in training camp. He also played three games for Atlanta in 2004.

Coach Bill Parcells said Glymph could be active Monday night against the New York Giants, in part because rookie defensive end Jason Hatcher is questionable with a sprained ankle.

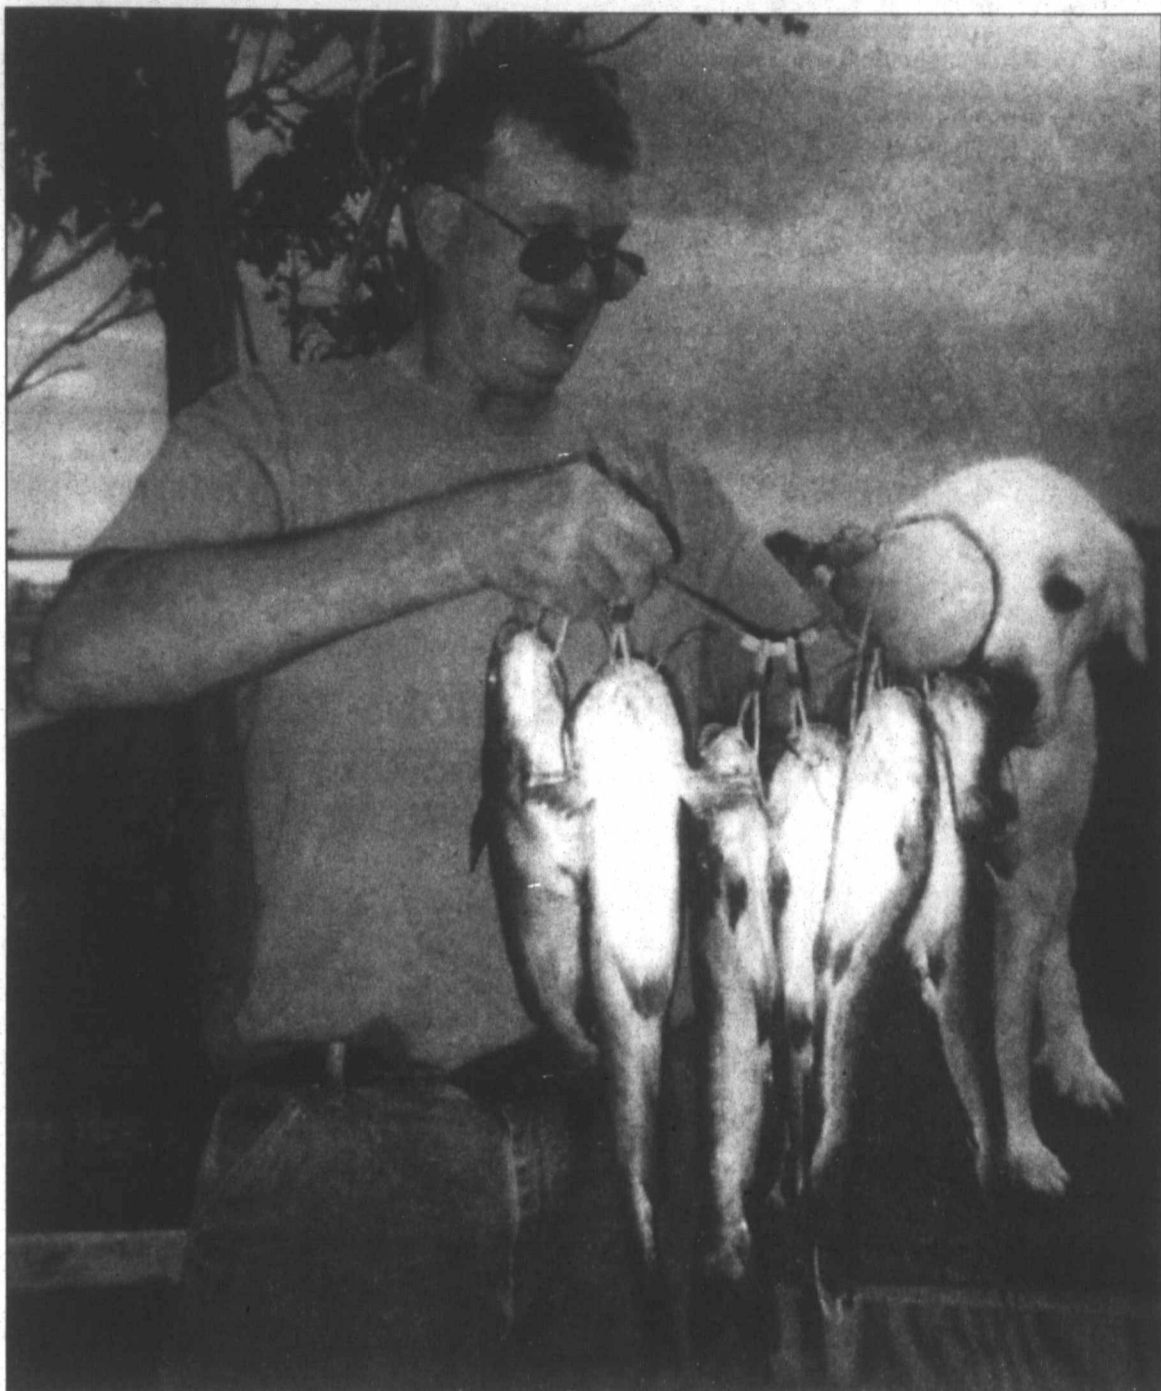

"I feel like I need a pass rusher, possibly," Parcells said. "I kind of like what I saw in preseason."

Polite played the first four games this season, then was inactive last week. He played 14 games last season and one as a rookie in 2004.

"He's smart, dependable, durable," Parcells said. "But this is his third year now. I didn't see what I need."

Without Polite, the Cowboys have no true fullback on the roster.

Burton can do no wrong

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) - Jeff Burton couldn't do anything right for five long seasons. Now he can't do anything wrong.

Burton has overcome late-race problems the past two weeks to widen his lead in the Chase for the championship standings, leading his rivals to wonder openly if the Nextel Cup title is his to lose.

"You can't break him. He's just there every week doing a great job," Dale Earnhardt Jr. lamented.

"If he keeps running great races, you're not going to be able to catch him. That's a really good team, and they're doing an awesome job," Kasey Kahne said.

So are these guys ready to hand over the championship? Or are these just mind games - the racer's version of trying to rattle a guy's cage?

If that's the goal, Burton said it isn't working.

"I just don't understand how somebody saying something good about you can be a head game," he said. "I just don't get into that. I take it as a huge compliment when somebody says something good about me or our race team. And that's all I take it as, as a compliment."

Burton is too smart and too savvy to take the bait. But the burden clearly is on him from here on out. At the midway point of the Chase, he holds a 45-point lead over Matt Kenseth.

The competition knows it should be much bigger. He was running fifth on the final restart at Talladega when his tire went flat, forcing him into the pits with nine laps to go. He wound up 27th, blowing a chance to open an enormous points lead.

And even though he finished third at Charlotte last Saturday night, Burton fell a lap down when he stalled his Chevrolet on pit road, and was a nervous wreck on the final restart because he thought he had a wheel loose.

Despite every challenge thrown his way, he's still able to hold down his spot on top of the leaderboard.

Kenseth thinks it's because Burton doesn't have any pressure on him. Unlike Kenseth, or Jimmie Johnson or Kevin Harvick, Burton's teammate, no one predicted the No. 31 team would win this title. In fact, it would be hard to find anyone outside the Richard Childress Racing team who even had Burton making the Chase when the season began.

"One of the things that he's really got going for him is that everybody has left him alone," Kenseth said. "He's just kind of doing his own thing and nobody is taking him serious. When the Chase began, he wasn't a favorite to win it. I never heard people picking him to win 10 weeks ago, and that's an advantage."

"There's not a lot of high expectations on him. He's really sneaking up on the deal."

But Kenseth also knows that it can fall apart at any time for Burton, starting with Sunday's race in Martinsville, Va.

Although Burton, a Virginia native, counts the tiny track among his favorites, he finished a dismal 33rd there in April. It's a volatile race track, where the potential is high for brake issues or other mechanical problems.

Tyson bores crowd

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) - Mike Tyson's return to boxing was no knockout. Not even close.

The former heavyweight champion and one-time baddest man alive opened his "World Tour" on Friday night with a ho-hum performance in a four-round exhibition against Corey "T-Rex" Sanders, a former sparring partner who out-weighted Tyson by 50 pounds.

Tyson, gasping for air during each of the 2 1/2-minute rounds, floored Sanders early in the first round and then had to hold up his opponent moments later after staggering him with a flurry of punches.

"It was fun, that's my first time boxing since my last fight," said Tyson, who retired last year after losing to Kevin McBride. "I didn't know how tough it would be."

Wearing his familiar black shoes, blank trunks and a sleeveless white T-shirt, Tyson entered the ring at 12:23 a.m. to a rousing ovation from about 4,000 fans in the 6,000-seat Chevrolet Centre, home of the Youngstown SteelHounds, a minor league hockey team.

The arena, which will hosted a concert by Disney's Doodlebops on Saturday, erupted as Tyson made his way to the ring.

But not long after Tyson knocked down Sanders, the warm buzz quickly faded.

'Phantom of the Opera' to be shown in live-cinema in Canyon

CANYON — The suspense will reach a crescendo in a live-cinema presentation of the 1929 classic "The Phantom of the Opera" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 29 in Northern Recital Hall at West Texas A&M University. The West Texas A&M Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Mark Bartley, assistant professor of music, will perform Gabriel Thibaudeau's 1990 musical score as audience members watch the silent film "The Phantom of the Opera" starring Lon Chaney. The presentation, just in time for Halloween, tells the story of a shadowy figure that haunts the rooms and stages of the famed Paris Opera House. The figure, known as the phantom, is actually a disfigured musical genius, who is in love with the opera house's young understudy. It's a story of suspense, vengeance, passion and love, and Thibaudeau's score adds a dramatic effect to the silent film. In addition to the orchestral accompaniment, Rachel Johnson, a senior music major from Canyon, will perform as Christine Daaé, the opera singer who is the object of the Phantom's desires. Tickets for the production will be available at the door and priced at $5 for general admission and $3 for students and senior citizens. For more information, call Bartley at 806-651-2830.

Even rock 'n rollers get thirsty trick-or-treating. To slake that thirst and fill up on their favorite chips, Jenna Gee and Marley Richardson made their way recently to "Hallowed Happening" sponsored by Hi-Land Christian Church in lieu of Halloween.

BOO-dacious treats

FAMILY FEATURES

Looking for some spook-tacular new Halloween ideas? Scare up even more fun this year with some sweet and chocolaty "tricks" in these creatively boo-dacious treats. When you shop, just buy a few extra bags of your favorite candies. Simply unwrap, chop and mix the candies into cookie and cupcake batter or readymade pudding. Add that finishing touch of chocolate crunch or drizzle to your sandwich cookie filling, jack-o-lantern masterpiece or parfait. Then, watch as all these goodies disappear... Spooky!

Check out these and other great Halloween treats, party ideas, and activities at brightideas.com.

Scary Ghost Cookies

Prep time: 10 minutes
 Decoration time: 25 minutes

- 1 (11.4-ounce) bag Twix Caramel Cookie Bars Fun Size
- 1 (9.5-ounce) bag M&M'S Minis Milk Chocolate Candies Halloween Mini Packs
- 3/4 cup peanut butter
- 1/3 cup confectioner's sugar
- 1 (16-ounce) container vanilla frosting
- 1 cup ground chocolate wafers (approximately 20 thin wafers)

1. In food processor or blender, pulse 10 graham crackers and 1 bag Twix until fine.
2. Transfer mixture to large bowl. Add peanut butter and confectioner's sugar to bowl and blend.

3. Divide mixture into 16 pieces. Shape each piece into ghost. If too sticky, add extra confectioner's sugar as necessary. Place ghosts onto waxed paper and refrigerate 30 minutes.
4. Heat frosting in microwave approximately 10 to 20 seconds, until thinned and looking slightly like whipped cream. Place ghosts on wire rack over sheet pan lined with waxed paper. Spoon heated frosting over ghosts until completely coated. If unused frosting begins firming up, simply reheat 5 to 10 seconds.
5. Place 2 M&M'S on each ghost for eyes. Sprinkle ground chocolate cookies on serving plate like "dirt." Nestle ghosts in "dirt."

Humongous Pumpkin Cupcakes

Prep time: 20 minutes
 Baking time: 15 to 20 minutes
 Decoration time: 25 minutes

- 1 (14-ounce) bag M&M'S Milk Chocolate Candies for Halloween
- 1 (11.4-ounce) bag Twix Caramel Cookie Bars Fun Size
- 1 (18.25-ounce) box devil's food cake mix
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1/2 cup oil
- 2 (16-ounce) cans vanilla frosting
- Orange food coloring

1. Preheat oven to 350°F. Line 3 (12-cup) cupcake cups with paper liners.
2. Beat cake mix with eggs, buttermilk and oil until blended. Roughly chop 2 cups (approximately 18) unwrapped Twix bars and fold into batter. Divide batter evenly between prepared cupcake pans.
3. Bake 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from oven, transfer to wire rack and let cool completely.
4. Tint vanilla frosting with orange food coloring. Arrange cupcakes snugly together into large pumpkin shape on 18-inch cake circle or platter. Follow this pattern — one row of 4 cupcakes, one row of 5, one row of 6, another of 5, another of 4. This leaves 2 cupcakes to be placed at pumpkin's top for stem (use photo as guide).
5. Spread orange frosting over cupcakes, covering completely to look like one big cake. Use black M&M'S to outline pumpkin and to make eyes, mouth and nose. Fill in remaining areas of pumpkin with orange M&M'S.

Creepy Creature Cookies

Prep time: 20 minutes
 Baking time: 12 to 14 minutes
 Decoration time: 30 minutes

- 1 (11.18-ounce) bag Snickers Bars Fun Size
- 1 (9.5-ounce) bag M&M'S Minis Milk Chocolate Candies Halloween Mini Packs
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 (18-ounce) roll refrigerated cookie dough
- 1/2 cup cocoa powder
- 1 cup marshmallow fluff
- Various tints vanilla frosting

1. Preheat oven to 350°F.
2. Knead cookie dough with cocoa powder and flour until smooth. (This will keep dough from spreading too much while baking.)

3. Roll dough to 1/2-inch thickness. Using cutters or template, cut out creepy shapes, cutting at least 2 cookies per creature. Transfer to nonstick cookie sheet and bake 12 to 14 minutes.
4. Once baked, remove and cool completely. Meanwhile, make creatures' filling.
5. Unwrap and chop Snickers, and combine with marshmallow fluff or peanut butter. Spread filling over one of each pair of creature cookies. Place matching cookie on top.
6. Frost tops of creatures with tinted vanilla frosting, and decorate randomly with M&M'S.

Makes 10 cookies

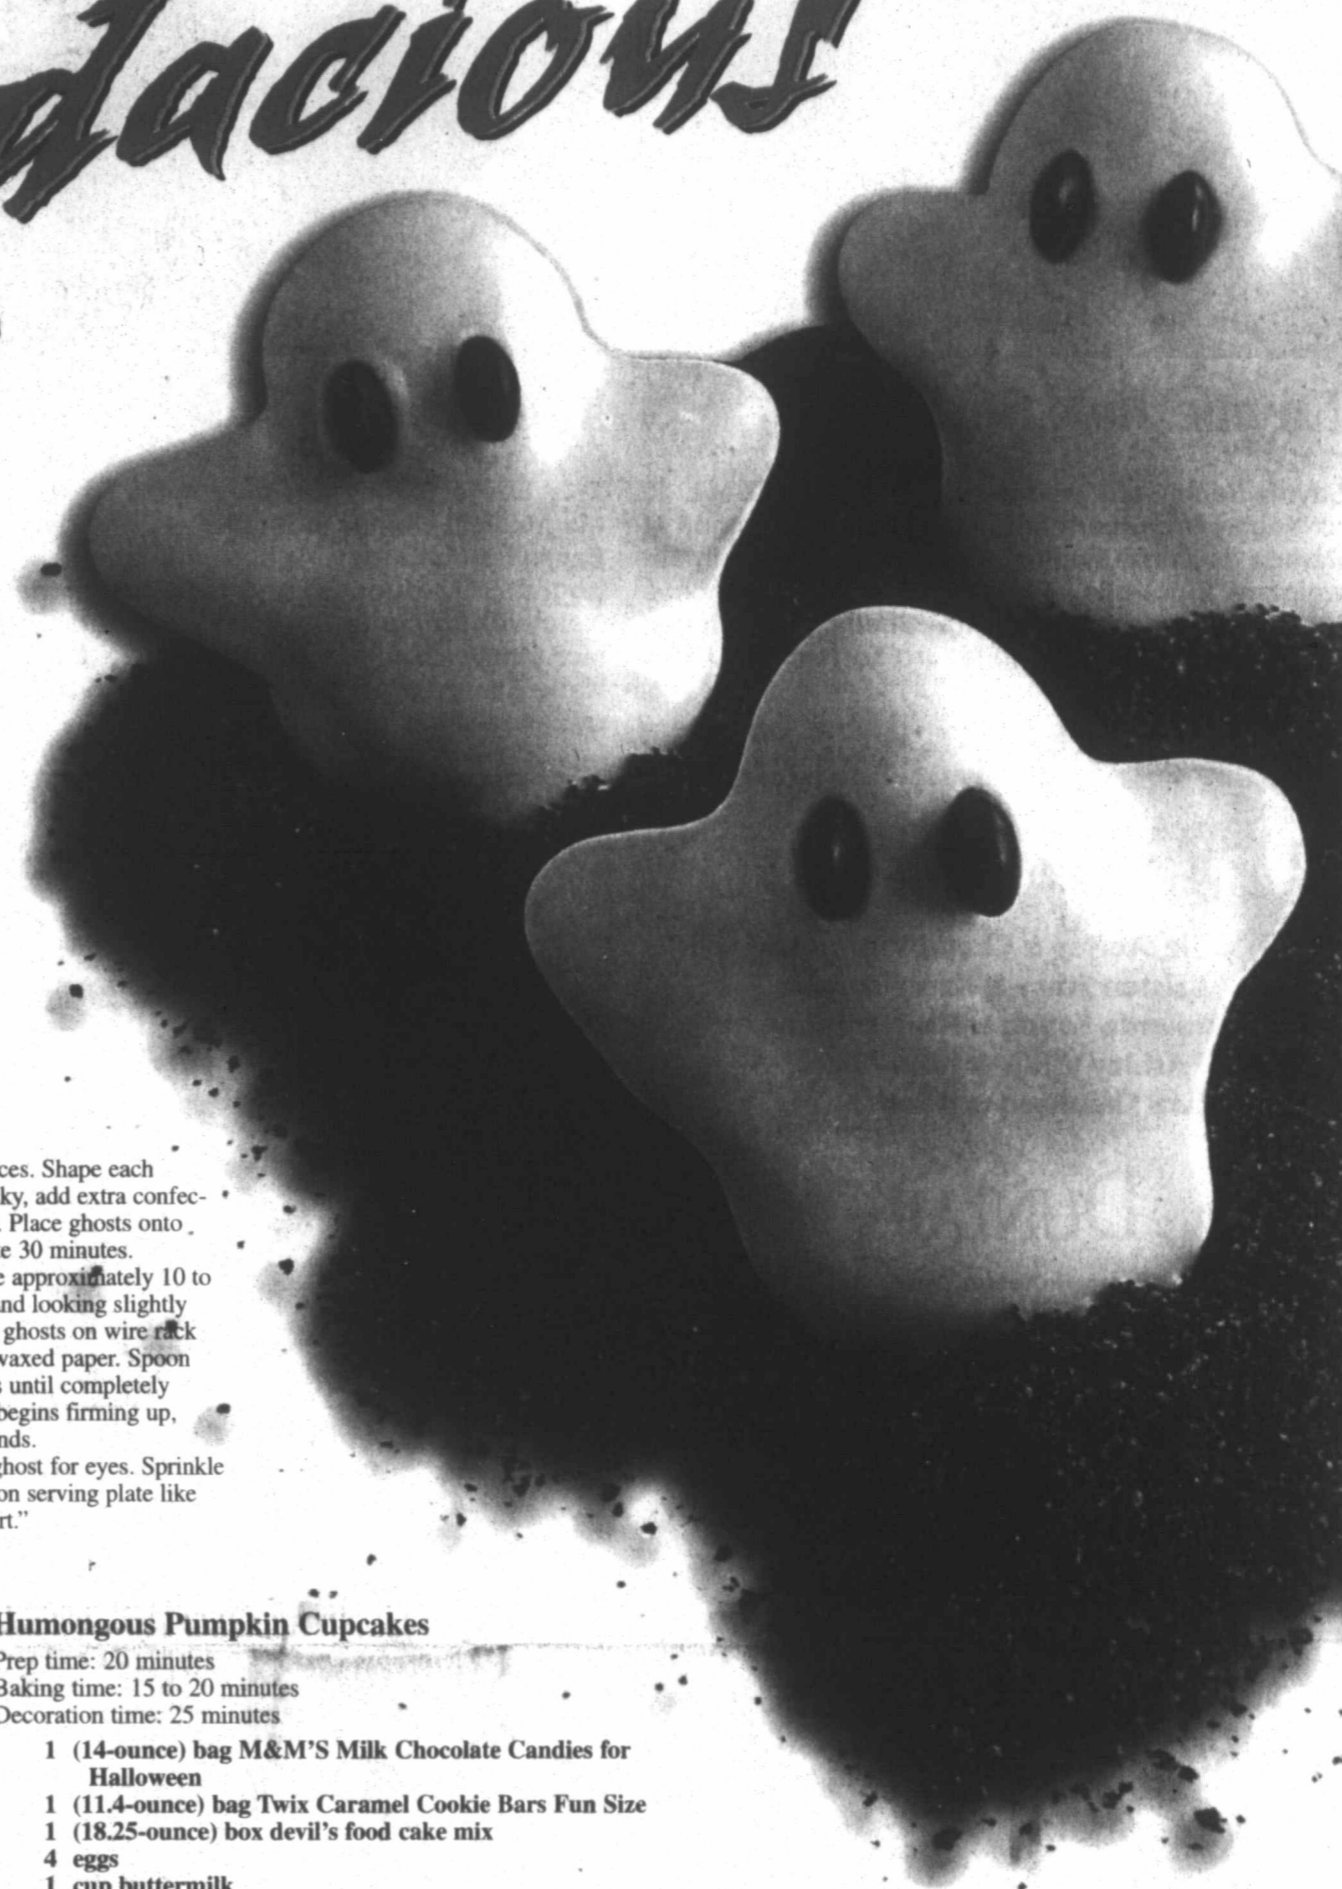

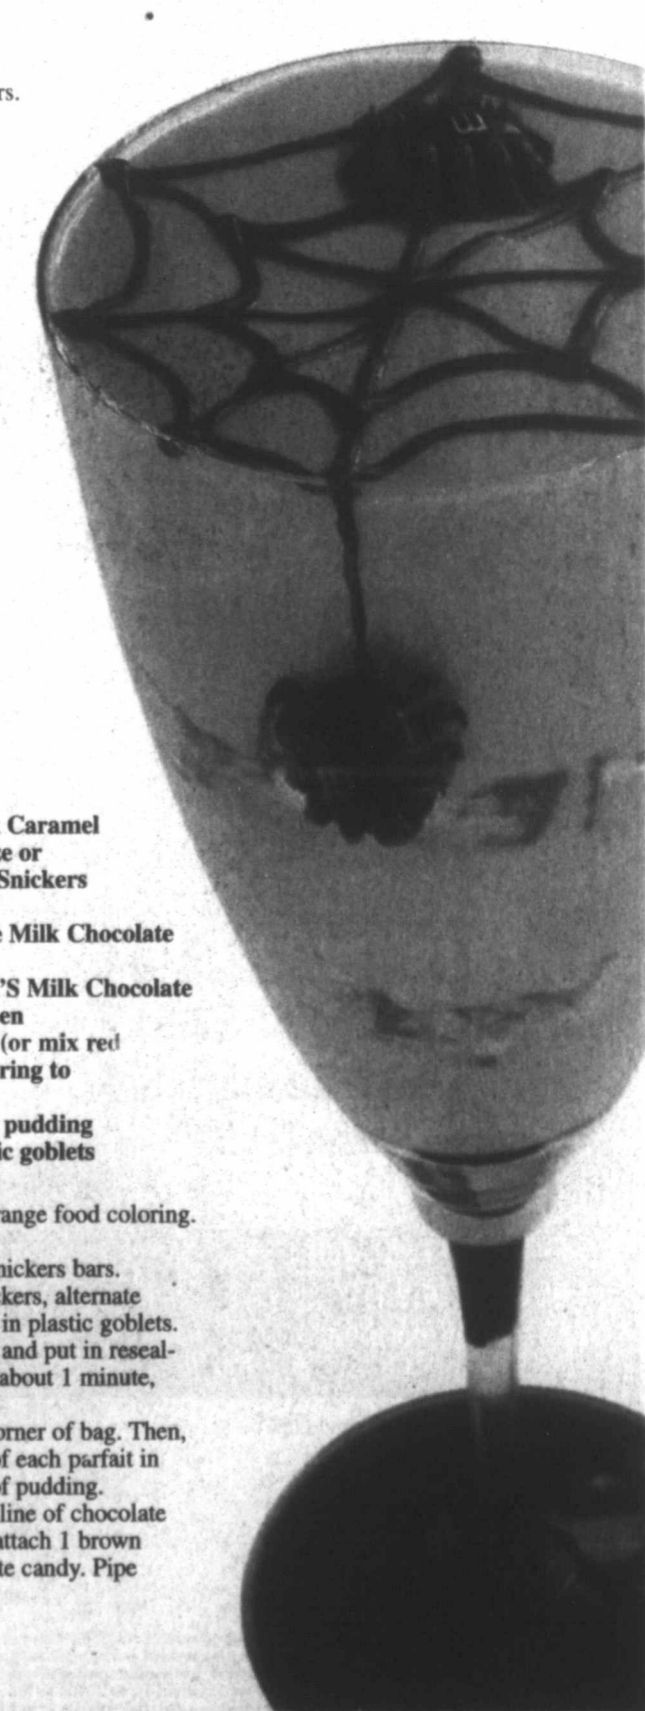

Wacky Web Cups

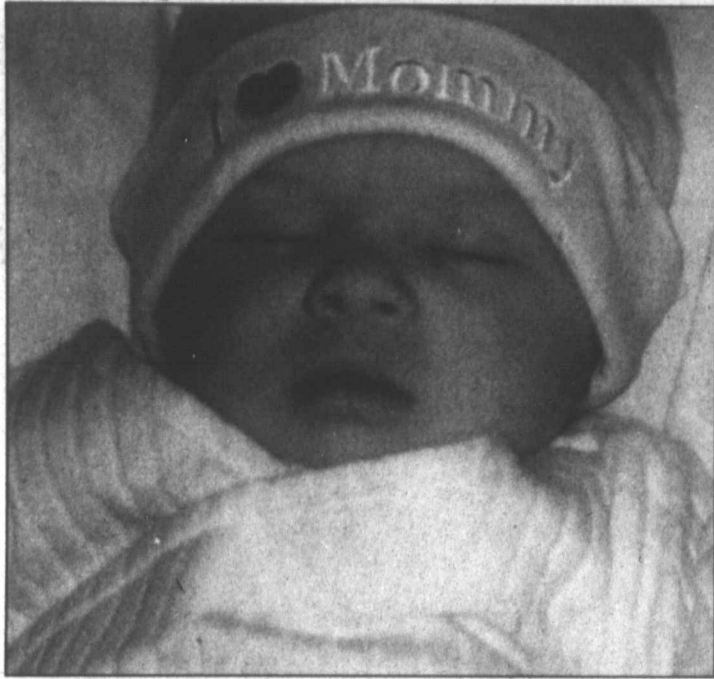

Prep time: 10 minutes
 Decoration time: 10 minutes

- 1 (11.4-ounce) bag Twix Caramel Cookie Bars Fun Size or 1 (11.18-ounce) bag Snickers Bars Fun Size
- 1 (10.5-ounce) bag Dove Milk Chocolate Fall Miniatures
- 1 (14-ounce) bag M&M'S Milk Chocolate Candies for Halloween
- Orange food coloring (or mix red and yellow food coloring to desired hue)
- 4 cups prepared vanilla pudding
- 6 (10-ounce) clear plastic goblets or cups

1. Brightly tint pudding with orange food coloring. Set aside.
2. Unwrap and chop Twix or Snickers bars.
3. Beginning with Twix or Snickers, alternate layers of pudding and candy in plastic goblets.
4. Unwrap 12 Dove chocolates and put in resealable plastic bag. Microwave about 1 minute, until soft.
5. Snip small hole in 1 lower corner of bag. Then, squeeze chocolate onto top of each parfait in shape of spider web on top of pudding.
6. To make spiders: Pipe short line of chocolate onto each goblet and use to attach 1 brown M&M peanut butter chocolate candy. Pipe "legs" onto M&M.

WACO — Michael Martinez of Pampa has been named to serve with a select group of other students at Baylor University. Martinez has been invited to join Student Foundation, an organization of only a hundred members.

Student Foundation recruits qualified students, raises scholarship funds and builds goodwill among alumni and students.

"Student Foundation members are recognized at Baylor as leaders in the classroom and beyond," said Chandra Sternau, the Troy and Betty Mays director of the foundation. "These students are the best and the brightest at Baylor and are hand-selected to represent the university to prospective students, alumni and the surrounding community."

During Student Foundation's nearly four decades on campus, the organization has awarded $3,639,000 in scholarship money, helping 5,079 students.

CANYON — More than 60 West Texas A&M University students will be recognized as new members of Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, Delta Nu Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha during a special Panhellenic presentation at 2 p.m. today in the Agriculture and Science Building, Room 101, on the WTAMU campus.

The ceremony is an opportunity for the university chapters to recognize new members from fall recruitment. The Panhellenic Council is the governing group for the four sorority chapters on the WTAMU campus.

Students recognized as recruits include the following: Ashlee Lucas, freshman animal science major, Delta Zeta; Stacianne Novian, freshman education major, Chi Omega; and Felicia Urban, freshman undeclared major, Delta Zeta.

Patton, Seideman Wedding

Ashleigh Patton and Jeremy Seideman, both of Amarillo, were united in marriage at West Amarillo Christian Church on Sept. 30 with Terry McAffrey of Amarillo officiating.

Stephen and Paula Smith of Pampa and Buddy and Lesa Patton of Arizona are the parents of the bride.

Debbie Seideman of Amarillo and the late Rick Seideman of Burleson are the parents of the groom.

Attending the bride was her sister and maid of honor, Shelby Patton of Lubbock.

The bridesmaids were Stefanie Caldwell of Stillwater, Okla., Jill Crawford, Leondra Beach, both of Amarillo, and Erica Seideman, sister of the groom of Burleson.

Standing up as best man was Derek Seideman, brother of the groom of Burleson.

The groomsmen were Clay Morgan, Adam Hamon, Reese Seideman,

Ashleigh Patton and Jeremy Seideman

son of the groom, all of Amarillo, and Nick Darnell of Seneca, Mo.

The flower girl was Kristen Stack of San Antonio, and the ring bearer was Harrison Steinberger of Rockwall.

Marissa Smith, sister of the bride of Amarillo, handled the guest book.

Music was provided by pianist/organist Donna Caldwell of Sulphur, Okla., and vocalist Kyle Ward of Canyon.

A dinner and dance was held following the service at the Party Barn in Amarillo. Serving the guests were Leslie Ward and Hilary Biggers, both of Amarillo.

The newlyweds honeymooned with a cruise to Nassau, Bahamas.

The bride graduated from Pampa High School in 2001 and earned a bachelor of business administration/management degree from West Texas A&M University in 2005. She is a loan administrator at Happy State Bank in Amarillo.

The groom graduated from Burleson High School and is a sales/finance associate at Gene Messer Cadillac/Mitsubishi.

The couple intend to make their home in Amarillo.

Hereford to host Women In Denim

HEREFORD — Women of rural America are invited to attend the second annual Women in Denim seminar, a one-day empowerment conference for any woman managing households, families, farms/ranches and businesses in agricultural settings.

Women in Denim will be Nov. 14 in the Hereford Community Center and is co-hosted by Texas Partnership for Farm Family Health and Safety Inc. and Texas Cooperative Extension of Deaf Smith County.

Participants will have the opportunity to increase their knowledge, develop skills and interact with local and regional experts in agriculture, business, and health care. Topics such as financial and estate planning, business hospitality training, agriculture risk management, farm conservation programs, and health and safety and community service will be the focus.

Dr. Teddy Jones and Sue Jane Sullivan will present "Your Community, Your Health and Well-Being," addressing the power of women to improve their own health and that of their community by combining awareness of health concerns, techniques for gathering information, use of existing resources, collaboration, communication, planning and persistence.

Audience members will actively engage in a simulated health improvement process. Dr. Jones and Ms. Sullivan have co-written a book, "100 Doses: Capsules of Wisdom and Advice For The Health and Well-Being of Farm and Ranch Women."

The motivational keynote luncheon speaker will be Nancy Robinson Masters, a pilot and cotton farmer, and author of numerous children's books.

Financial planning will be explained by Kevin Knight of Edward Jones. Courtney Morris and Sharon White with Underwood Law Firm will highlight what a woman needs to know about estate planning. Mike White, District Conservationist with USDA-NRCS in Hereford

Don't be misled - purchasing a casket from a casket store, cemetery, or on the Internet may or may not save you money. In fact, most funeral homes are very competitive with their casket prices. Also, be aware that delivery constraints could affect the timing of the funeral service. When choosing a casket, ask professionals who know the casket industry first. Then, make your decision as an informed consumer.

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: I am a 51-year-old woman dating a 39-year-old man. He is smart, funny, sexy, considerate and nice to me. I don't see much of my family anymore because they were abusive, and it's better if I don't. However, I am worried about what they and my other friends will think. Is the age difference too great to make a lasting relationship? What do I say to people who ask his age? Isn't it rude for them to ask? I was raised to believe that it's rude to ask people how old they are. What about other rude comments people may make? — LONELY AND LOOKING FOR LOVE

DEAR LONELY: As you've passed the half-century mark, the time has come to start living your own life and stop worrying about what other people "might" think. You and this man are both adults. If you like each other and want to spend some time -- or even lifetime -- together, it's strictly up to you. Should anyone ask how old he is, tell them to ask him. It's really nobody's business.

DEAR ABBY: I have a laughing problem that pops up only at school. I go into uncontrollable laughing fits in the middle of class. It has gotten me in trouble various times over the past couple of weeks. I have asked my mother for help with this problem. She said to think about other things and to pinch myself so I'll be distracted from thinking about it -- but neither of her suggestions seems to work for me. Can you give me any suggestions? — GIGGLES IN NAPLES, FLA.

DEAR GIGGLES: It would be interesting to know exactly what is setting you off. If it's eye contact with another student, then stop looking. If you have a learning problem of some sort that's keeping you from concentrating on the tasks at hand, talk with your teacher about getting help for it. But if it's sheer mirth that's causing your laughter, then I recommend you start thinking about the penalty that will follow if you continue disrupting the class, because I'm sure it won't be funny.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of the groom. It will be an out-of-state evening wedding. What is the correct attire for the mother? I can only guess at what the color of the bridesmaids' dresses will be -- which I have been told are shades of "moss." I certainly don't wish to conflict with the bride's mother, whom I have never met, nor have I met the bride. — LISA IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR LISA: Pick up the phone and call the bride's mother. Ask her what color she will be wearing, and if she would send you a small piece of the fabric so there will be no chance that you'll "clash." I'm sure she will not only be glad to help you out, she'll also be pleased that you reached out to her. Consider it the opening of lifelong dialogue between friends.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of your male readers. More than one person has come into my house and commenced going through my personal papers, my desk drawers, my checkbook and other personal items. I have been told that this is acceptable because I am unmarried. Is there some rule that states there are different rules for married and unmarried people? — TAKEN ABACK IN POCATELLO, IDAHO

DEAR TAKEN ABACK: The visitors you have described are rude and nosy, and no rule of etiquette validates their behavior. If you must entertain them in your home, then put your personal papers under lock and key.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Oct. 23, 2006.

You'll achieve what you want this year. You have drive and magnetism on your team. Be careful, as often others could see you as pushy or overly forceful. You don't want to appear that way. Be sensitive to others' needs, and don't step on their toes. Empathy counts and makes a difference. Express your dynamic energy in a manner that others can accept and join in. Sometimes others can be demanding and testy. Learn to bypass problem people. If you are single, meeting people will be easy; getting along with someone past the initial fire will be difficult. If you are attached, be willing to sometimes not be assertive. Remember, a relationship is a two-way street. SCORPIO reads you cold.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★★ Dealing with others on an independent level could make a huge difference. Listen to others and get down to basics. Your fire and action get results. Listen to the other person involved. Do what you need to do. Tonight: Togetherness is the theme. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) ★★★★★ Let others follow through; you need to sit on your haunches as a situation changes dimensions. You have a strong style and manner that draw results. Listen to someone, even if he or she is angry. Tonight: Say yes. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) ★★ Pace yourself. You might experience an energy surge and want to do otherwise. Know what needs to be done to change directions and draw different results. You have reason to smile, as you feel you are getting your life under control. Tonight: Easy does it. Take a break. CANCER (June 21-July 22) ★★★★★ You are all smiles. Others cannot help but respond to you. If you want something or someone's attention, you will find that the best path will reveal itself. Think positively and get past a problem. You don't need to stop at a roadblock. Tonight: Fun and games. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) ★★ Someone you care about might be difficult or touchy. You could easily discover what a handful this person can be. He or she also could be on the warpath for several months. Hold on tight. Listen to feedback more carefully. Tonight: Get into a home project.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) ★★★★★ You might want to think before you take a leap of faith. You will tend to want to shake up the status quo or get to the bottom of a problem. Patience can be amazingly beneficial. Review your options and reflect. Tonight: Make inquiries, not decisions. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) ★★ You might want to try a different approach financially, especially if you see your funds vanishing. Take positive action rather than get upset. Kick back and do whatever is necessary. Tonight: Laugh and enjoy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) ★★★★★ You might want to think before you leap. You are fiery and could jump at a desired goal or object without realizing the ramifications. Stop and think, then move on to a new level. Tonight: As you like.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Oct. 29, 2006.

This year you clear a new path and head in a new direction. Think before you take action or tread on someone else's turf. You often hit a problem, but it might be mostly of your own doing. Be responsible. Think. Reflect. Research. Back yourself up with facts and information. You might need to think before you leap. If you are single, you draw many people, though you are confused about what you want or who you want in your life. Tread with care. If you are attached, you might feel your domestic life is a sanctuary for you. AQUARIUS can be an anchor.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★★ Someone might have been evasive or touchy lately. Truth be told, you will figure it out — perhaps before this person is ready. News comes forth that, at the very least, will have you pondering recent activities. Tonight: Jump over hurdles or get some type of physical exercise. This Week: Aim for what you want Monday. Think and evaluate from Tuesday on. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) ★★ Just when you thought you had seen it all, you discover that isn't so. Someone could strut into your life thinking you should follow his or her leadership. Since this isn't the president of the U.S., you are likely to think this person has lost his or her mind. No, this person is just having temporary thoughts of grandeur. Tonight: Don't even think of an early bedtime — it isn't happening. This Week: Others seek you out. You'll get results. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) ★★★★★ Though you might attempt to take the high road, "attempt" is the operative word. So much can get tossed in your path that you cannot help but tumble. Pick yourself up and continue on the right path. A getaway — even a walk — will refresh the mind and spirit. Tonight: Put on a favorite piece of music. This Week: Stretch to find solutions. Run with them. CANCER (June 21-July 22) ★★ "Baffled" might be the only word to describe your reaction to someone's attitude and possible revelation. In some sense, what comes down could irritate you — don't let it. You are a bigger person than that. Tonight: Let others unfurl their true colors.

This Week: Work with individuals and look to a higher sense of detachment. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) ★★★★★ Sometimes you feel as if you have finally gotten it together, only to discover otherwise. Quite possibly, someone reveals a key detail that tosses rhyme and reason into the dust. Regroup and look at the hard facts, not wishful thinking. Tonight: Out for dinner or a movie.

This Week: Say yes. Allow others to run with the ball. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) ★★★★★ Just because you see a situation one way doesn't mean you have to change directions if someone radically disagrees. Read between the lines and get to the bottom of a problem. Tonight: Finish up a project rather than begin a new one.

This Week: Dive into your must-do's Monday, as you could easily be distracted. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) ★★★★★ Sometimes you might not be as sure of yourself as you would like to be. Make that OK, and you will smile. Your creativity and imagination could take you down a winding path. Make it OK to go for the experience without worrying about the end results. Tonight: Away you go.

This Week: Let your creativity flourish. Focus on work. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) ★★ You might be in a tizzy and quite upset. Realize you don't have to have all the answers. Still, because you are frustrated, you might beat yourself on the head. We ask you: Why? Avoid risking or
