AUSTIN, June 24. (AP)—A ruling that district office candidates who mail their applications before the deadline are entitled to a place on the Democratic primary ballot was disclosed today by the attorney general's department.

FDR May be Breathless For Speech

By EDDIE GILMORE, WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The "little cabinet" dinner for President Roosevelt tonight has turned into a digestive-automotive-speech-making race. The President either will have to bolt his food, break the speed limit, or be late for his "fireside chat."

Revelations of the wide-spread activities of spies from many foreign countries in America are contained in a series of articles—written for the News by Thomas M. Johnson, author of "Our Secret War," who is an acknowledged authority on international espionage. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Upper: Uncle Sam's Achilles heel, the Panama Canal so vital to our defense, is the prime objective of foreign spies. This air view of the Pacific side shows, in the foreground, a fortified island.

Table with 2 columns: Time and Temperature. Includes entries for Yesterday, Today, and Today's minimum.

Spies make the front-page headlines again—spies on American soil! . . . Thomas M. Johnson, noted journalist and author who is an outstanding authority on the subject of espionage, has written for NEA Service a four-part series that presents a broad and startling picture of the widespread activities of foreign spy rings in this country.

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON WASHINGTON, June 24.—There are more foreign spies from more foreign countries active in America today, than ever in our peacetime history.

Usually the ambassador does not know the real Master Spies, sent from the home office which, paradoxically, may be the foreign office. They may be ex-officers or diplomats, linguists, keen, courageous, unscrupulous, trained in spy-schools to endure double lives of pretense

AMARILLO GETS HUGE PWA HOSPITAL LOAN

ENTERTAINMENT ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

The summer festival committee of the Holy Souls Church wishes to thank all who contributed in any way to the success of the affair and to the public for its patronage on Wednesday evening.

The crowd was so much larger than those in charge had anticipated that it is felt that some might have gone away without being served. In the event that this did happen, the ticket committee will gladly refund their money for the holders of these tickets.

Committee chairmen in charge of the entertainment were Mrs. George Bunch, general chairman; Ed Bisset and Roy E. McKernan, tickets; M. F. Roche, fancy work; William Healy, food; J. O'Day, candy; F. J. Gill, fish pond; S. C. Jensen, soft drinks; and William Finkbeiner, bingo.

CREATIVE ARTISTS POSSESS VALUABLE COMMERCIAL ASSET

By MARIAN O'BRIAN

The practical business man can find no excuse for the existence of the flip-minded, besmoked, brush-waving artist.

This was as true 500 years ago as it is now. When Leonardo da Vinci, whom the layman recognizes as the painter of "The Last Supper," was a young man of 30 years of age and a newcomer in Milan, he applied for work at the court of Lod Sforza.

Da Vinci wrote a letter of ten paragraphs to the Lord, the first nine of which were applied to explaining various phases of his, Da Vinci's, knowledge of engineering in connection with war problems, his knowledge of cannons, bombardment of castles, draining of meads, and his inventions of a light bridge.

The tenth paragraph was to the effect that he could execute sculpture and paint murals and would be free to engage to execute a bronze memorial for the late father of the Lord.

Da Vinci had tact. The first nine paragraphs touched the subject of war that was the principal thought of the conquering Lord during the period and the tenth short paragraph, the meat of the letter for Da Vinci, was given to the Lord as an afterthought, like "Oh, yes, I'm an artist of a sort, too."

If the artist had appeared in Sforza's court highly besmoked and bereted, with a kettle of paint in one hand and brushes waving from the other, he would have been dismissed as an unwanted artist.

Leonardo da Vinci, in 1482, obtained a position because he had ideas as well as services to offer. Ideas have cash value. The artist, who can devise, invent, and create, has a commercial asset that will be respected and patronized by the masses as well as the artistic world.

Mrs. Nash Hostess To Nimble Thimble Club This Week

Mrs. A. M. Nash, hostess to the Nimble Thimble club this week, received a shower of towels and wash cloths from the members. A new member, Mrs. Evelyn Walker, was voted into the club.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Eife, Goldsmith, Rhea, Walker, Bryant, W. J. and A. O. Bartz, Frieda, Bartz and the hostess. One guest, Mrs. Gardner, attended.

ACTIVITIES OF CLASS PLANNED AT MEETING

Susannah Wesley Class of the First Methodist Church met yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Z. H. Mundy for work and a social hour.

Plans were made for the fall work and it was voted to discontinue the social activities of the class through the months of July and August.

The group completed a quilt and reported that a rug and picture had been bought for the class room. The class is taking care of an invalid and various other projects are underway.

Young People Entertained At Steak Fry

Members of the Young People's Class of the First Methodist Church were entertained with a steak fry last evening near Bowers City.

Kid games were played while the steak was being prepared by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Patrick. After the meal and ice cream were served, popular and semi-classical songs were sung and stories were told as the group sat around the camp fire.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Patrick, Misses Gloria Posey, Sarah De Woody, Louise Smith, Winifred McKee, Jessie Marie Gilbert, Grace Coffin, Marion O'Brian; Messrs. Reed Clark, Joyce McKee, Richard Winget, A. L. Patrick, Jr., Turney Mullinax, and Lawrence McKee.

All young people are invited to attend the Epworth League at 7:15 o'clock Sunday evening at the church.

Sixth Birthday Celebrated at Party in Park

Celebrating her sixth birthday, Neva June Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Crawford, entertained with a party at the park yesterday afternoon.

After games were played, refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served to Mary June Hunter, Carol Hunter, Eloise, Carl Joe, and Elda June Wyatt, Billie Jean Hollis, Melvin Miller, Rosamond Allen, Arlen Allen, John Les Bell, Billie Jean Prigmore, Bonnie Lee Gray, Bobby and Patsy Boone, Bertha Frances Smart, and Lois Crawford.

CHILDREN PLAY WITH VALUABLE BRACELET

BURLINGAME, Calif., June 24 (AP)—It's wonderful what a little polish will do sometimes.

Two months ago Jerry Govia, young gardener found a tarnished bracelet while cutting some grass. He gave it to his children to play with. Yesterday he tried a little silver polish on it to see what it looked like under the tarnish.

It sparkled so brightly he took it to a jeweler who said: "The bracelet contains 144 diamonds set in platinum. The whole bracelet is worth more than $1,500."

TAPS.
BURBANK, Calif.—Lee Teel called A. H. Pawwell, 60-year-old veterinarian, to treat an ailing horse. When he went to the barn later, Teel told Police Lieutenant W. L. Dixon, he found the doctor and horse dead. Dixon said Pawwell apparently died of a heart attack.

The ordinary range of human hearing is over nine octaves.

SHEARER AND GABLE TO PLAY ROLES IN 'WIND'

HOLLYWOOD, June 24 (AP)—The breeziest guessing game in movie history—who's going to play whom in "Gone With the Wind"—had an official answer today.

Norma Shearer, Canadian-born an Hollywood-reared, will be the Southern spitfire, Scarlett O'Hara, when the cameras start rolling late in the year (this year).

And that gentlemanly rascal of the south in Margaret Mitchell's long piece about Civil War times and morals, Rhett Butler, will be enacted by Ohio's Clark Gable, who has begun down south.

Both Gable and Miss Shearer were informed yesterday that the contracts giving them the year's best roles will be signed any minute.

Miss Shearer often was mentioned for the part, but David Selznick, who bought the rights for a $50,000 (peanuts in these parts), wanted an unknown. He knew that if he could find the right newcomer, he'd have a star when it was all over.

Selznick always wanted Gable, the fans' choice, but M. G. M. refused to loan him unless Selznick agreed to release the picture thru M. G. M. "Gone With the Wind" will be a M. G. M. picture in name and cast, although Selznick, who operates his own successful plant, will be in actual charge.

TWO CHURCHES SERVE SUBURBAN AREA HERE

Pampa's "Twin Churches," built during the same year and almost identical as far as physical equipment is concerned, lay claim to being the youngest churches in the city. And with the eager enthusiasm that goes with youth, they have carried forward a constructive, well-rounded program in the communities in which they are located—communities with a definite church need and an appreciative constituency.

McClough Memorial is located on the West side of town in the Talley Addition on the Burger highway at 1019 Alcock Street. Harrah Chapel serves the South side of town with the church building located across from Baker school at 713 S. Barnes.

There had been some talk of a church being built in the west part of town prior to 1934 but it was not until June of that year, under the pastorate of Rev. Gaston Poole of the First Methodist Church, that the dream became a reality through the gifts of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harrah and Mrs. Sam McClough. As McClough Memorial Church took form plans were being made for a second church to be built on the south side and as the first building was completed, work was begun on Harrah Chapel.

McClough Memorial was completed and the first services were held in June 1934 with the Rev. Lance Webb in charge. The church was organized with the following charter members: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Beard, Mrs. J. O. Dollard (deceased), Urenia Dollard, Mrs. E. L. Robertson, Lu Dean Scott, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Tolla, Mrs. Lance Webb, and Lewis Robertson.

Harrah Chapel was built during the summer of 1934 and a church was organized October 7 with the following members: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Buckner, Mrs. Jesse Bowerman, Mrs. Art Jaynes (deceased), Mrs. E. B. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Poterick, Mazie Perkins, Clyde Perkins, and Velma and Thelma Turner.

During the past four years over 300 members have been received, educational annexes have been built, church schools have been carried on with a total enrollment of 240; a Women's Missionary Society has been active and doing a splendid work; a Junior Church is conducted for the children and two very successful Vacation Bible Schools have been held this year.

Social service, fellowship and helpfulness are stressed to the exclusion of denominational lines. The churches are really community churches in that they follow out this ideal and strive above all else to serve the spiritual needs of the community.

Rev. Lance Webb was the first pastor of the churches, serving in that capacity from June 1934 to September 1936. At that time Rev. Hubert Bratcher, the present pastor, was appointed by Bishop Boaz to fill the vacancy.

One service is held at each church each Sunday. On the first and third Sunday morning services are held at Harrah Chapel and evening services at the McClough Mem-

MISS MELTON BECOMES BRIDE OF F. HAIDUK

In an impressive ceremony in the Sacred Heart Rectory in Pampa, Miss Edith Melton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Melton of Pampa, and Fred Haiduk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Haiduk of White Deer, were united in marriage Tuesday.

Rev. J. R. Zienta presided at the nuptial ceremony.

The rectory was decorated with pet plants. The fireplace, before which the ceremony was performed, was lighted with candles.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a floor length dress of white chiffon with jacket to match and long white gloves. Her finger-tip veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gladioli and baby breath.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Milton Harston of Pampa, who wore a floor length dress of blue chiffon.

The groom was attended by Conrad Urbanczy of Hereford.

At six o'clock, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Haiduk for 150 friends and relatives. The table was centered with the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a double arch, one branch of which held a wedding ring and the other white flowers.

In the evening a dance honoring the couple was held at the American Legion Hall in Panhandle. Mrs. Haiduk is a graduate of the Pampa High School. The groom received his education in White Deer.

THE NEW ORDER

AUGUSTA, Ga.—Reversing the usual order of a stamp on a letter, a would-be customer of the post office here put his letter on a stamp.

Postal clerks said the address and a message was written, legibly too, on the back of a regulation three cent stamp.

But it was refused. Too small, said the clerks, and might get lost.

And on the second and fourth Sunday morning services are held at McClough and evening services at Harrah Chapel.

The Social CALENDAR

FRIDAY
Royal Neighbors will meet in the American Legion Hall at 2 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

Busy-Donee Sewing Club will meet with Mrs. O. T. Lindsey, 310 North Davis street.

Girl Scout Leaders' Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock at the little house.

Girl Scouts of troop two will meet at 4 o'clock.

which include the northeast Panhandle. Prizes will include an archery set as grand prize, and varying amounts of theater tickets as the other prizes.

Six arrows will be shot by each contestant at a target placed over bales of hay at distances ranging from 60 to 20 feet; 60, 50, 40 being the distances for the adult divisions; and 40, 30, 20 being the distances for the junior rounds.

The public is invited to see the contest. The R. R. is sponsoring the shooting-match to promote interest in archery—it's cheaper, more thrilling, more profitable to shoot a bow and arrow. It's good exercise and it requires more skill than it does to shoot a gun.

The LaNora (Claude Motley and "Blackie" Yowell) are sponsoring the contest to advertise their famed movie, Robin Hood, starring Leon Errol, which will open at the LaNora Sunday. The picture is in technical color, and is supposed to be an improvement on the Douglas Fairbanks version of Robin Hood. An archery contest is a feature of the picture.

Battle Royal To Feature Monday's Wrestling Card

A battle royal will be staged at the Pampa Athletic arena on Monday night which will be the last chance for fans to see wrestling until September. Promoter Chuck Chambers has decided to close down for the summer months in order to renovate the arena and secure top grapplers for the winter season.

The six grapplers will square off at 8:30 o'clock with every man having to look out for himself. The six in the ring will be Referee John Neenan will be Don Hill, Gus Johnson, Blacksmith Pedigo, Sterling Davis, Jack Hagen and Abie Freeman.

First battler to have his shoulders pinned to the mat, thrown from the ring and a crowd of eager spectators will meet the second mattinger. The winner will be the man who is able to vanquish all the other grapplers. The next pair to be vanquished will be the semi-final grapplers with the last two in the ring coming back as the main event.

Nelson Wins 8th For A's As Reds Vanquish Giants

By SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Those experts who gave Connie Mack's Athletics the slightest consideration this spring decided early and unanimously that as a pitcher Lynn (Lefty) Nelson was a good ex-wrestler. They figured that a fellow who won only four games and lost nine for an earned run average of just short of telephone number proportions last season would do much better entertaining the folks in the bleachers with topkicks and air-kick spins than boring em down his "boom boom" balls at Shibe park.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT ENTRY BLANK

Pampa tennis players desiring to enter the City Open tournament to be sponsored by the Summer Recreation Program and the Pampa Daily News must sign an entry blank and pay 50 cents entry fee in each division entered. The entry must be filed at the Pampa Daily News by June 24. Play will begin on June 27.

Play this year will include men's and women's singles and doubles, mixed doubles, junior boys' singles and doubles and girls' singles. Age division is under 18 years.

JOE LOUIS MAY GO TO EUROPE IN JULY—WILL AVOID GERMANY

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Max Schmeling is in a hospital care of the street from Madison Square Garden—the same one in which Ernie Schaf died after a clubbing by Primo Carnera—and with the passing of the German as an active threat to the heavyweight title the fight game abruptly has hit a sort of "dead-center."

Two days ago, before Max walked into a crushing first-round defeat by Joe Louis at the Yankee stadium and received the spinal injury which probably has closed his big-time career, the boxing business was blooming better than Wall Street in the lush days.

Now, suddenly, the bubble has burst. Louis stands alone, with no opponent in sight except Max Baer, a man once whipped brutally by the tall young negro.

Promoter Mike Jacobs is negotiating for another Louis-Baer fight, either in September here, or next summer in San Francisco. But Mike doesn't have his heart in it, and Baer is willing to take the money again only because of the money involved.

Maxie made a pitiful showing the other time he was exposed to the Louis blasts. Since then he has done nothing more notable than get married, croon to his first-born and split two decisions with Tommy Farr. It may be extremely difficult to drum up big interest in another Louis-Baer scrap.

Avoids Schmeling
 Louis is back in Chicago today, starting to enjoy a long loaf. He and his wife are thinking seriously of making a boat trip all the way to Europe next month, though passing up Germany as a point of interest. Joe is not particularly anxious to fight in September, as Uncle Sam from now on will be taking an abnormally large cut of the champ's 1938 earnings. The income tax has been explained to Joe.

Although he and his entourage were in the mid-town sector all yesterday afternoon before boarding their train to Chicago, Louis didn't get around to visiting Schmeling at the Polyclinic. Neither did he evidence much interest in Max's conclusion, leading observers to the conclusion that Joe really was no more fond of the German than he had acted in the ring on Wednesday night.

Unless he shows exceptional recuperative powers, Schmeling will remain flat on his back at least until July 2 when he will be taken to the pier in an ambulance to embark on the Bremen for home. Dr. Robert Brennan, the distinguished surgeon who attended Max from the time he reached the hospital, said it would be advisable for him not to stir for three weeks.

The two terrible nights that Louis sank into the left side of Schmeling's back just before the first of the three knockdowns fractured the transverse process of the third lumbar vertebra. The process, it seems, is a small bone that protrudes on either side of the vertebrae and serves as support for the back muscles.

Dr. Brennan promised Brigadier General John J. Phelan of the state athletic commission he would prepare a full report of the injury, so that the General, "in fairness to Max," could let the public know that Schmeling had done no shaming.

Tennis Tourney Entries Should Be Filed Today

HAVE YOU ENTERED THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS-SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM TENNIS TOURNAMENT?

Tonight is the deadline for registering for the tournament unless the committee in charge decides to extend to deadline and no such announcement had been made up to early afternoon today.

Entry may be made at the Pampa Daily News. A fee of 50 cents for each event entered will be charged this year in order to secure the best awards possible. The prize list will be announced within a few days.

Brackets of play will include men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles, mixed doubles, boys' singles and doubles (under 18), girls' singles.

Winner and runner-up in each bracket will be presented with a trophy at the close of the tournament.

SEVEN TEAMS ENTER LEAGUE

Seven teams definitely entered the VFW Junior Softball League last night and two days will be allowed an eighth team to file for membership. It was decided at a meeting of the VFW committee and team managers last night in the city hall, Sandy Hall, president of the league, presided.

The teams already entered are the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sons of the American Legion, Kiwanis club, Rotary club, Hopkins, Knights of Columbus, First Baptist church.

Official play will begin about July 1 when a schedule will be released. Until that date teams will play exhibition games. This evening at 6 o'clock on the diamond south of Harvester park Hopkins and the Sons of the American Legion will play.

The schedule will call for two games a week, starting at 6 o'clock with the teams being allowed 15 minutes to have a full lineup on the field before a forfeit is declared. Days of play will be set later.

Any boy who does not reach his 17th birthday before June 30 will be eligible to play. Unattached boys may register at the Pampa Daily News.

Organization of an Intermediate league was postponed until a later date because of failure of several managers to appear at last night's meeting.

Moody and Budge Picked To Take Wimbledon Title

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 24 (AP)—Jacques Brugnon, of his 18 historic years at Wimbledon, today picked Helen Wills Moody and Don Budge to win the singles titles.

"When you ask yourself where are the really great players in this tournament, you cannot go beyond these two," he said.

"Mrs. Moody may not win. Alice Marble or Jadwiga Jedzejowska may beat her. But she will be at her best in the final and, though her best perhaps is not so good as it was, still I believe it will be good enough to win."

Puffing on his familiar pipe, the Frenchman who helped take the Davis cup from the United States at Philadelphia in 1927 said he believed the general standard of play is now better than it was 10 years ago.

"There are not the same number of superb players like Henri Cocchet, Bill Tulden and Ellsworth Vines all playing at the same time, but when I walk around the back court I see more good tennis being played than when I first came here."

Fishing Not So Good On Coast

(By The Associated Press)

The week-end outlook for favorable weather conditions on the Texas Gulf coast was spotty today. The report by areas:

Galveston—following several good days of mackerel fishing early in the week, southwest wind spread brace river mark over nearby fishing grounds. A few trout, reds and mackerel caught close in. Most fish minus—bontio and kings—caught five miles out in Gulf.

Port Arthur—fishing conditions best of year, especially for kings, mackerel and king at 10-mile light and whistling buoy. East Jetty much improved. Light to fresh southerly winds forecast.

Port Aransas-Corpus Christi—tarpon good at Port Aransas, and a few landed in Corpus Christi bay. Trout and red hauled in by tubful from Laguna Madre. Uncertain weather and wind predicted. Good catches of mackerel and kings by boat and shore fishermen. Prospects good if weather does not change.

Port Teabel-Boca-Chicoa—King fishing excellent all week in Gulf and if weather continues, fishing should be good over week-end. Bay fishing in Laguna Madre best of season, some reds taken from surf along island and at Boca Chico. Tarpon hitting early in the morning; first salting of season gaffed during week.

Trojans Slice Marshall's Lead

The Tyler Trojans sliced a game off Marshall's lead in the East Texas League last night, the Tigers losing, 11-4, while second place Texarkana downed Jacksonville, 8-4, and third place Henderson defeated Longview, 3-1.

Tyler hit hard in the late innings to crush the Tigers before a crowd of 2,300 who paid a dime each to see the game.

Texarkana swept the series with Jacksonville as Eugene Davis pitched stellar ball except in one inning. The Jax rallied for four runs in the eighth.

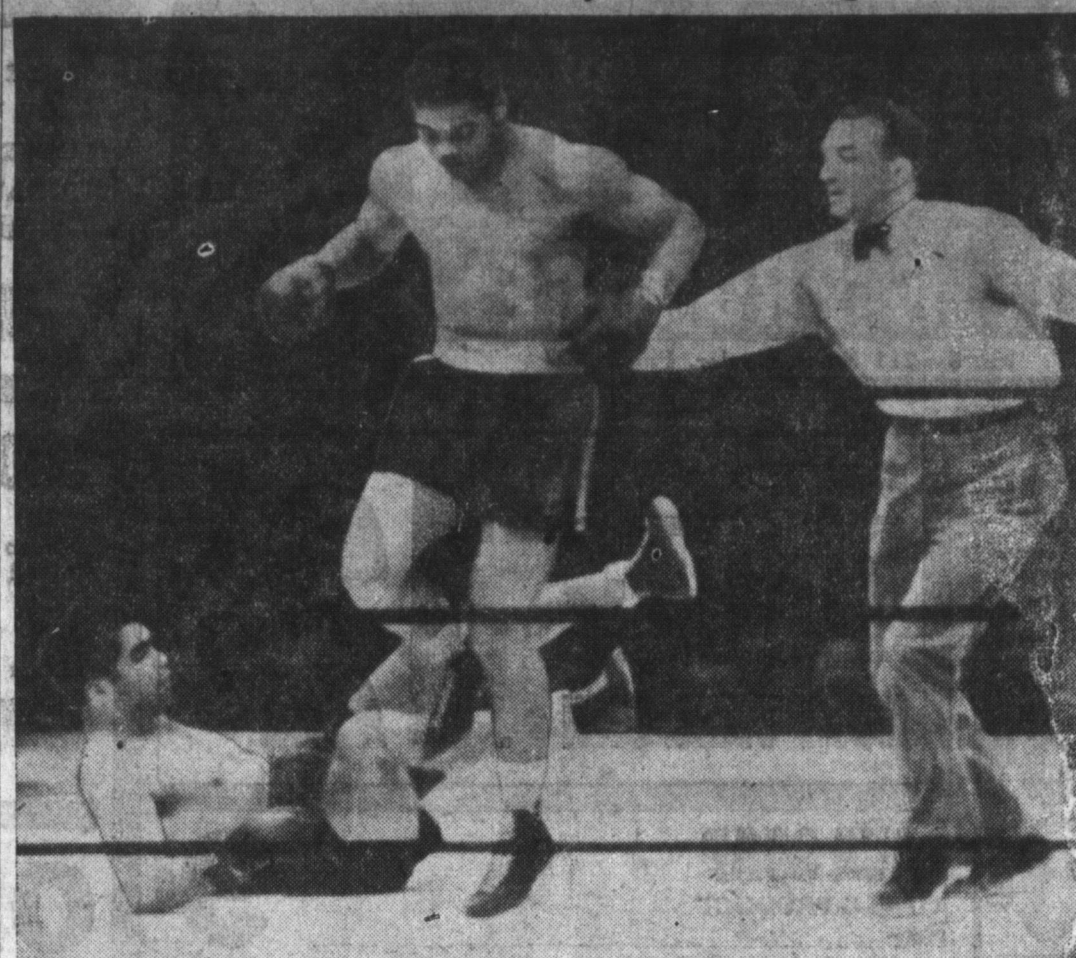

A sensational mound duel between Bob Thomas of Henderson and Harry Boyles of Longview saw only eleven hits on both sides, the Oilers getting but five of them but counting in the clinches.

Palestine beat Kilgore, 8-5, in a battle of home runs. Twenty-six hits were marked on the scoreboard during the battle.

DESERTED VILLAGE
 TITUSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Pithole, ghost town where 18,000 persons lived during Pennsylvania's oil boom, lost its last resident today at least temporarily.

Charles Biret, 86, was removed to a Titusville hospital with 20 gashes in his hand, bites of his pet dog. Pithole's last building, a church, was razed two years ago.

Louis Gains Victory—and Revenge

One of the shortest championship heavyweight bouts in history ended in the dramatic fashion shown above, with Max Schmeling, challenger from Germany, lying dazed and beaten on his back, while the grim and deadly Joe Louis steps across him to a neutral corner. The long-awaited fight, in which Louis wiped out the humiliation of a defeat by Schmeling in 1936, lasted only two minutes and four seconds, after which Schmeling's trainers threw in the towel to save the German, who was down for the second time. Over 80,000 saw the fight in New York's Yankee Stadium.

Jewelers Whip Barbers 9 To 8 As Phillips Loses

The Diamond Shop softball team climbed in the City League standing last night with a 9 to 8 victory over the high-stepping Mack & Paul Barbers. In the only other game scheduled, King defeated their old rivals, Phillips, 12 to 6, in an Industrial League battle.

With the score tied in the sixth, Emier, new Diamond Shop player, pulled a home run to give his team victory. Warner and McWright was the battery for the barbers with Cary pitching and Stephen and Maple receiving for the jewelers.

A new hurler, LaPrade, was badly battered by King in their victory over Phillips. Haddock, regular Phillips third baseman, was behind the plate. Brown and Sheridan worked for King.

One of the longest home runs ever hit at Recreation Park went to Haddock when he connected with a fast ball and drove it half way across the field. Nash and Sullins homered for the winners.

Three games are scheduled for tonight:
 6 p. m.—Skelly vs. Danciger.
 8:30 p. m.—Pampa News vs. Jaycees.
 9:30 p. m.—Supply Boys vs. Gray County Creamery.

Averill Gives Batting Credit To His Stance

CLEVELAND, June 24 (AP)—Why is Earl Averill—the guy you saw buried in the American League batting lists last year—topping both leagues at a dizzy 360 clip?

"You're allowed three swings and I'm taking every one," the Cleveland Indians' 35-year-old center fielder declared today. "I'm swinging at anything that looks good enough to hit."

"You think you're hitting because you've found the stance, but you don't know. But that's where it comes—in getting the right stance."

The price of little Snodgrass, Wash., refused, however, to even admit he'd wind up in the select 300 list. Last year he dropped to 299 but his lifetime average of .322 is one of the best in the business.

Averill, now in his tenth year in the league leader's middle pastures, has been one of the main reasons the Indians are clicking so well and refusing to fold up at mid-season.

Yale and Harvard Crews Will Meet On Thames Tonight

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 24 (AP)—Yale and Harvard, foes on land and water since the Stone Age of American college sport, renew their oldest rivalry tonight when their variety crews meet on the Thames river in one of the most brilliant settings of the post-war era.

Trained to a knife-edge, the two stalwart eight may well row one of their most stirring duels in the history of the Thames classic. Forgotten are the days when the bulldog and John Harvard had to take the wash of every crew in the country. Ivy rowing enthusiasts are sure there are no finer crews in the world that these two unbeatenights.

Barnum bought a white elephant in Stiam that cost him $200,000 by the time it arrived in this country.

RICHBERG AND HURLEY HELP OIL COMPANIES

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—American oil companies have called in former government officials to help them regain $150,000,000 worth of oil properties expropriated by Mexico more than three months ago.

Two have appeared at the state department so far—Donald L. Richberg, former NRA administrator, and Patrick Hurley, Secretary of War, under President Hoover.

Hurley held a long conference yesterday with Secretary of State Hull on behalf of the Sinclair Oil Company, which had extensive oil holdings in Mexico.

Richberg has seen Hull on behalf of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Officials said the state department believed the matter was primarily one between the companies and the Mexican government, and had no intention of adopting the belligerent attitude of the British government, which led to a severance of diplomatic relations between Britain and Mexico.

'OVER-FERMENTATION' IN SOCIAL WORK HIT

SEATTLE, June 24 (AP)—Mild-mannered Philip A. Parsons, head of the University of Oregon sociology department, warned the National Probation Association today that "social work has suffered from over-fermentation."

"This fact has prevented many men from entering that field," Prof. Parsons said in an address prepared for the opening session of the association's convention.

"But our neck is out, and we shall not invite disaster by going further into this question.

"The plight into which social work has fallen since 1929 is incomprehensible without an understanding of the plight of democracy. . . .

"Democracy is fighting for its life; and in those countries which have abandoned it. . . . the technique of scientific social work have been taken over bodily as aids to radical experiments."

HIGHER INCOME TAXES LIKELY SAYS SENATOR

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—A prediction that the next Congress will enact substantially higher taxes on incomes between $3,000 and $50,000 came today from Senator Connally (D-Tex.)

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the Senate Finance Committee said that "if business improves—and there are some little signs of improvement—higher taxes won't be necessary next year."

SHARING SERVICE WITH CHRIST Text: Mark 16:1-8, 14-16, 19, 23. By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance

From the tragedy of Calvary we turn to the triumph of the open tomb. From the despair and gloom of the disappointed and discouraged disciples, we turn to the revival of faith and hope, and the consciousness that the Master who had gone to the cross was living and not dead.

The glory of His resurrection, like the glory of His birth and the glory of that sad hour when His mother stood by the cross, is shared by women. What a remarkable place they occupy in all the beautiful story of the Master's life and death and resurrection—and all this coming out of a time when women had essentially an inferior social place and where, in general, they had little recognition. It is through the faith and courage of the women who went to the tomb and found it open that the disciples are rallied and brought into new faith and service.

And now that Jesus reveals Himself anew to these who had left all and followed Him, He gives them a deep and great commission. He no longer tells them to go into the villages of Galilee and Judea, but He gives them a great and wide commission.

There is a vision and purpose that even the discovery of new continents only expands. He said to the disciples, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation."

There have been great imperialisms of might and power, the imperialism of Greece, the imperialism of Rome, the imperialism of later empires; but here is the great imperialism of love, service, and salvation, an imperialism that contemplates the reaching out to the whole world and all creation with tax on corporations, he said, may be continued if it works satisfactorily. The levy was a compromise between the House and the Senate.

Congressional experts already have begun work on next year's tax measures and are laying the ground work for an inquiry into existing tax exemptions.

the good news concerning God, and with the salvation that is able to transform cursing into blessedness through lifting men from sin into righteousness.

Here on this large and triumphant note we leave the quarter's studies in the life and messages of Jesus, as found in the Book of Mark. It is the climax of all our study and the climax of all our thought and effort. In a sense, also, it is no climax, for when we attain a peak in sight, we see beyond larger peaks to conquer.

From these studies in the life of Christ, we turn back to the history of the early years of Israel. It was the heroic and prophetic life of Israel and its great leaders that prepared the world for the coming of the Messiah. In the study of the Old Testament we find the source and foundation of all that is best in the New.

The Old Testament scriptures were the scriptures that Jesus knew, and in which he was trained in that devout home in Nazareth in which he grew up, increasing in wisdom, and in favor with God and man.

FARMERS MAY OBTAIN WORK ON WPA JOBS

Destitute farmers may now obtain work on Works Progress Administration projects in rural areas, under a recent work relief bill amendment passed by Congress, according to a story in the Amarillo Times.

However, no information concerning the amendment has been received at the office of the Gray County case worker from the district WPA office at Amarillo.

Panhandle WPA officials have not said how many farmers in this section will get work under the arrangement. The amendment which makes employment of farmers possible was proposed by Congressman Marvin Jones.

Assignment of Gray County citizens to WPA projects are being more rapidly cleared from the district office at Amarillo than assignments were a month ago. Mrs. Willie Baines, county case worker said yesterday, even though investigation of relief clients is now more thorough than ever before.

McLEAN PLANS JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

McLEAN, June 24. — A softball game, parade, and rodeo have been planned for McLean's Fourth of July celebration. E. C. Crews has been named manager of the event. He will be assisted by the trade extension, livestock, and advertising committees of the McLean Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the celebration.

The softball game will be played at 9 a. m., followed by a street parade at 11 o'clock. At noon a chuck wagon dinner will be given the senior rodeo contestants and officials.

Following the rodeo, which will be staged south of railroad, there will be a polo game. All attractions will be free to public and no professional contestants will be allowed.

Deadline for contestants registration is Saturday, July 2. Events of the rodeo will be: junior calf roping, open to contestants from 12 to 15 years old, 25 cent prize for each contestant who rides, no entry fee.

Senior calf roping, two loops, entry fee $1; senior cowboy break-away cow roping, age limit over 45 years, entry fee $1; goat, wild cow milking, and cutting horse contest, $1 entry fee in each contest; junior goat roping, on foot, age 12 to 15, prize $1.

In all events where fee is charged the total fees for each event will be divided 50-30-20 among the three highest winners.

FASCISTS TO RESPECT NEUTRALITY OF SWISS

ROME, June 24 (AP)—Italy and Germany, Fascist partners and Europe's major non-league powers, today announced they had assured Switzerland they would respect her neutrality.

Both also congratulated the little republic on obtaining her freedom from obligations to take part in any future League of Nations sanctions—a freedom acknowledged by the League Council May 14.

Italy's assurance was given in exchange of letters with the Swiss government.

"The Italian government is convinced that the unconditional maintenance of the integral and perpetual neutrality of Switzerland constitutes an important factor for peace in Europe," wrote Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italy's foreign minister.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, wrote in similar vein.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES 901 North Frost Street "Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 26.

The Golden Text is: "The ransomment of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away." (Isaiah 35:10)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes; even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight." (Luke 10:21)

The Lesson-Sermon includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "As aforesaid, the spirit of the Christ, which taketh away the ceremonies and doctrines of men, is not accepted until the hearts of men are made ready for it." (page 121)

GRASSHOPPER WAR TO LAST UNTIL JULY 2

Not until July 2 will the services of 40 national guard trucks and men fighting in the Northwest Panhandle grasshopper war be no longer needed, according to a statement made Tuesday by Col. Nat Perrine, in command of the unit working in Dallam, Hartley, Moore and Sherman counties.

In Gray county the fight against the grasshopper invasion is expected to be over by the same date. Hoppers are being broken up into smaller groups in the counties north of Gray but it was pointed out by John S. Coleman, Hartley county agent, that just because the hoppers were in smaller bunches did not mean that the total menace is not as great as it has been.

Federal entomologists said hoppers began taking to the air Sunday, but their wings are still so small that they can fly only 30 or 40 yards. Within a week a ten days, they said, the hoppers will be ready to migrate unlimited distances.

LOYALISTS RETREAT AS INSURGENTS ADVANCE

(By The Associated Press) Japanese troops took the Oriental war to the south China mainland today, while on the opposite side of the world Spain's insurgents made new advances in the drive toward Valencia.

The insurgents closed in about the town of Sarrion, about 50 miles northwest of Valencia, and government forces retreated southward down the highway toward the Mediterranean city. Along the coast, the insurgents were able to advance a mile despite strong government defenses along the Seco river, 35 miles north of Valencia.

A Japanese South China force reached Chihlin after making a landing from Namos Island, 20 miles east of Swatow, under a heavy protective barrage. Swatow was bombed heavily.

Chinese retreated at first but in later counterattacks stalled the Japanese advance. On the north China front there was sluggish, ineffective fighting with the army of Nippon's drive toward Hankow slowed to a snail's pace.

MILESTONE OF DESTRUCTION

The annual report of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and subsidiaries for 1937 showed a net income after all expenses and charges of $24,531,606. The annual tax bill of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey for the year 1937 was in excess of $22,000,000, almost equal to the net income. In other words, the security owners who have invested their savings in this enterprise and carry all the risks of operation, are forced to divide the profits on a virtually 50-50 basis with the tax collector.

In a letter to the shareholders, the president of the corporation, Thomas N. McCarter, said: "New heights are reached in the seemingly ever-increasing assessment of taxes of various kinds and for a multiplicity of purposes." Despite the greatest volume of electric and gas sales in the history of the company, net revenues were slightly less than in 1936. Taxes alone amounted to more than $61,000 a day, or $42 a minute for every minute of the year.

Here is a sample of the manner in which the milestone of taxation threatens to crush all private enterprise. It is a sample of why unemployment is increasing, of why the investor is hesitant to put forth new capital for new undertakings. Moreover, the government's program to socialize the electric industry further depresses general confidence in what the future may hold for all private industry.

Until these vital issues are cleared up and assurance is given that the profit system is not to be scrapped, there can be no economic stability, no lasting recovery.

QUESTIONS FOR CANDIDATES

Mailing of questionnaires to candidates for office is an old system. It has been practiced for many years by many individuals or organizations. For years it was a favorite practice of some of the political organizations.

When a man or woman announces intention to seek office he or she immediately becomes fair game for every sort of question.

These questions usually scare the novice, but old campaigners generally ignore them.

As a variation in the question method, the League of Women Voters in St. Louis is going to try a new system this fall.

Personal interviews with every candidate are to be sought. The interviewer will ask the candidate a variety of questions.

Not only will the answers be noted down and later published, but the interviewer's personal comment will be attached, thus "interpreting" the answers by the candidate.

It is thought the candidate cannot well dodge a personal question and give no answer at all, as he easily could do in a mailed list. The net results of the new methods will be interesting to compare with those of the old. But the results at the polls are not likely to be changed to any considerable extent.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The job of administering the new wage-hour act is the most important one to be created here in a long time. But it definitely is not nice work even if you can get it.

The three men most seriously considered for the appointment don't want it. They are: Leon Henderson, present chief economist for WPA and former boss of research and planning for NRA, who forecast the current depression early in 1937 and has fed the President much of the factual material they have used in the last two years.

Isador Lubin, chief of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a brilliant economist and administrator who has built government statistical services up to a new high point of efficiency.

Amiable conferences between business men and administration officials continue much more frequently than any one publicly admits. Possibly the most significant things about them is that the industrialists continue to pay the checks.

"I've been at about a dozen of them in the last three months," says one brain trust, "and I've had some of the best meals I ever drank."

Lloyd K. Garrison, dean of the University of Wisconsin law school and chairman of a former National Labor Relations Board.

All Still Possibilities. Lubin and Henderson have both repulsed approaches with assertions that they would not accept. Garrison, who is Secretary of Labor Perkins' preference for the post, is said by friends to feel likewise. All three have

Tex's Topics

Several days ago I wrote here that I was shopping around for friends to accompany the Boy Wonder into the operating room when he went to have his tonsils snipped. . . It prompted a very fine letter from the mother of two sons and a daughter over at Canadian. She had read that the Boy Wonder's Dad didn't have gumption enough to stick it out with him in a trying moment, and she came to the conclusion that I had the wrong idea about things—and I guess she's right about it.

This is an excerpt from her letter:

"For his sake, let me beg of you to stay with him as long as he is conscious. I don't blame you for not wishing to watch the actual operation—in fact, I don't blame you for not wishing to be in the room at all, but I believe that if you could understand how much that little son will want and need you, you would find the courage to hold that little hand and say to him right up to the very last, 'Daddy's here, Sonny—everything's going to be all right.' If you'll just do that for him, it will mean wonders in quieting the fears that arise because he is too young to understand. After all, you are the one who is responsible to him and for him through these early years."

That letter got me. . . I hadn't thought about it in just that light. . . Well, the operation was performed yesterday. . . And, thanks to the Mother at Canadian, I found the courage to stay with him and hold his hand until the anaesthetic had become positive. . . At this point, the friends I mentioned, carried on through the operation proper. . . And, his mother and I were there to take his hand again shortly after he came out from under the ether. . . And, so I wish to thank the very thoughtful reader in Canadian who showed me where I was wrong. . . I'm sure I will always be glad for following her advice.

And, do you know—these surgeons work mighty fast. . . It took Joe Louis only two minutes and four seconds to dispose of Max Schmeling—a world record for heavyweight championship bouts. . . Well, sir, it took this surgeon exactly two minutes from the time he began until he had disposed of those tonsils and a set of adenoids thrown in—which must be some kind of a record in itself—to say nothing of being four second quicker on the trigger than the Brown Bomber. . . By way of information, the Boy Wonder was feeling pretty snappy today and not thinking much about his lost tonsils.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

A daily average of 10 cars of steel and two cars of bridge material for the new Santa Fe railroad under construction between Pampa and Cheyenne was being maintained here by a crew of 45 men.

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council were looking forward with much eagerness to the summer camp which was to be held at Camp Carl Freeman.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Gray County cotton farmers were becoming enthusiastic about the government's proposition that they abandon 25 to 45 per cent of their acreage with the result that they would likely decide to retire or plow up 4,000 acres or more.

Pampa's Welfare Association received funds totaling $15,144.49 during the period from December 19, 1930 and May 31, 1933, according to an audit made by W. D. Waters.

Ideas as to the nobility of public service, however, and none can be considered definitely out.

Roosevelt and advisers want both Henderson and Lubin to play strong parts in the forthcoming monopoly investigation, which reduces the chances that either will be forcibly drafted for the wage-hour post.

A fourth possibility is Richard H. Lansburg, an industrial engineer who was secretary of labor and industry in Pennsylvania under Gifford Pinchot and wrote an outstanding volume called "Industrial Management." He was assistant to Henderson in NRA.

Former Chairman John Winant of the Social Security Board, a Republican with some New Deal leanings, is being considered but seems to be barred by the fact that the labor and other departments recently sweated to strangle his election as head of the international labor office and that Winant is said to have promised to stay on that job three or four years.

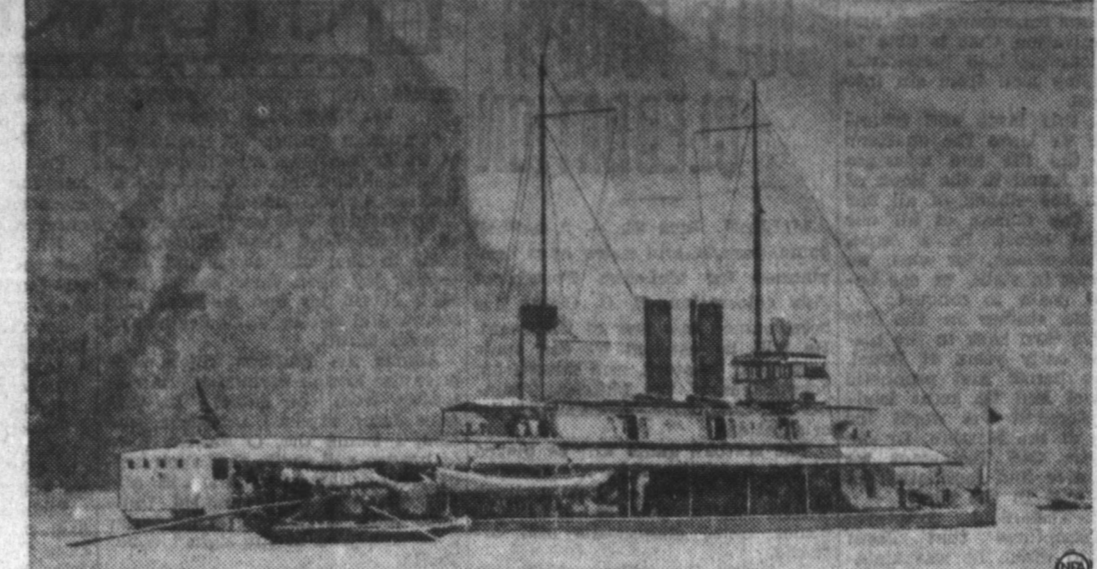

The President will avoid naming any man who has an organized labor background. He may have a flash of genius—or its opposite—and suddenly name someone not previously considered. But all hands agree that the job will be a terrible headache.

Politics in North Dakota. The primaries in North Dakota June 28 are largely a Republican show, featuring the effort of Gov. William L. Langer to beat Senator Gerald L. Nye for the G. O. P. nomination.

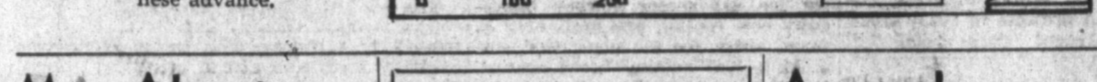

Nye is nationally known as chairman of the committee which exposed the American munitions industry and is backed by Senator Lynn Frazier and a national non-partisan committee headed by Charles A. Beard, plus endorsements of Senators Wheeler, Shipstead, Capper, Norris, Bone, Borah, and others.

Langer was once convicted of using relief funds for campaign purposes, but the decision was reversed and Langer has the advantage of controlling the state machine. Reports from North Dakota have indicated that the contest is close although suggesting that Nye has a slight edge on Langer.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Today was the best treat of all. . . Sick man's treat. . . But to explain, I'll have to go back. . . For a long time now Milton Caniff and Noel Sickles and this temporarily unhorsed trouper have made a study of the Civil War. . . We have read nearly everything on this subject that has been written. . . We have bought most of the recent books on it. . . The Lee books, the Jackson biographies, the whole dusty battalion of chronicles of Stuart and Sherman and Morgan and Beauregard and the others.

When we are together we talk in that lingo, and sometimes, as a gag, address each other as if we were aides attached to the staff of this officer or that.

Well, I became ill. . . And early this morning a courier raced up to this house and rang the door. He seemed strangely awed. When the door was opened he doffed his cap, bowed and whispered: "For the Colonel—a package for Colonel Tucker."

The package contained one of the finest water-colors I have ever seen. It was purely a personal gesture and could mean nothing to an outsider. Yet I can not let this opportunity go by without explaining what it was.

The sketch showed an abandoned house on a red clay roadside in Georgia, in the 1860's. . . Gathered in a circle in the center of the road was a group of Confederate officers. . . In the shade of some trees stood their tired, dusty mounts. . . A few soldiers were scattered here and there. . . Off to one side and so still they reminded one of frozen statues stood on an abandoned Mammy with her "passel" of young blacks. . . An ammunition wagon stood in yonder corner in the shade.

You can tell by the looks on their faces that something untoward was happening. . . Something you couldn't quite put your hand on, yet you knew it must be something of grave concern. . . And then you knew. For under the picture was a simple caption: "Colonel Tucker is ill."

Flattered! Of course I was. I could not get it framed and hung quickly enough. Noel Sickles drew it. And with a caricature of myself as a trooper in Col. Morgan's Virginia rifleman, drawn by Milton Caniff, to paste in the front of "Rabble in Arms," a chronicle of the wars of 1876. And with it this explanatory note:

"My dear T: Since we are abandoning this post on the morrow, I beg you to take this little sketch to insert as a frontispiece in your copy of the chronicles of our armies in the war against the British, as set down by Peter Merrill of Arundel.

"You being ill at the time the volume was sent you, and me being so far away in the woods, I was unable to put the drawing directly on the pages, as I had hoped to.

"One of General Farley's men has consented to carry this to you—and he is anxious to be off, I hope you soon will be well enough to rejoin your command to carry on in our glorious cause."

The letter was signed: "Yr. Ob't. Srvt. M. Caniff, Brevet-Major, New York Militia."

By ARCHER FULLINGIM. The following story somehow reminds one of the Fannie Mae, a candidate for a district office, who while electioneering up in Lipscomb county came to a farm house and began distributing his cards to members of the family. The family looked at him strangely. Then after an hour he learned that he was in Oklahoma. The story:

About 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the party living several doors up the street began preparing to listen to the big fight in the utmost comfort.

First they strung an extension cord from the house to their shady, grassy lawn. Then they brought out a table and put the radio on it. Soon they discovered they had to have an aerial. So they put up an aerial. Then they mixed up a big pitcher of ice-cold lemonade for the kiddies and beer for themselves. Then they arranged the drinks, sandwiches, cigars, on the table. By that time two hours had gone by and they hurried while they moved seats to the lawn. They hurried on the radio just in time to hear the opening gong. In less than two minutes the fight was over. The two men in the party looked at each other for a moment. Then they looked at the radio, aerial, etc., and this one did not blame them a bit for cussing. . .

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, June 24 (AP)—The question often is asked whether John N. Garner is too old to be a candidate for president in 1940. Persons promoting a movement to "draft" him for the Democratic presidential nomination say he is 79.

Born Nov. 22, 1868, Garner now is 69. He would be 72 when inaugurated, if he were nominated and elected, and should be re-nominated and re-elected four years later, he would be 80 on expiration of his second term.

Against the argument his age precludes his candidacy, these points are advanced:

- 1. He has rugged health, knows how to preserve it and long has consistently safeguarded it.
- 2. He is so well-known nationally it would not be necessary for him to make the strenuous campaign a younger man, but one less widely known, would have to make.
- 3. Many men of his years and beyond are very active in business, professional and political life.

A group of Indians invaded the conference room of the Texas Supreme Court recently. They were chiefs Tic-ca-itehe and Kina of the Alabama and Coushatta tribes and a brave named Ramond Ponce.

Full tribal regalia, they came to the capitol to invite Gov. James V. Allred to attend an Indian powwow at Livingston June 23, and paid an incidental visit to the Supreme Court.

Two white men who accompanied them, Glen Pahn, Jr., and Emmett Manning, both of Livingston, took them to call on Judge S. H. Sherman, member of the Supreme Court's commission, and while making this call they were observed by chief Justice C. M. Cureton, who would not be to the conference room for all the court to meet.

The head chief, Tic-ca-itehe, invited members of the court to the pow-wow and Justice Cureton thanked him.

So far as is known here it was the first time an Indian had visited the court.

About 90 years ago, in 1848, two chiefs of the Indians, who live on Texas' only Indian reservation near Livingston, came to Austin to ask Gov. George Wood to protect them against stock thefts by bad white settlers.

Gov. Allred accepted the invitation to the pow-wow and proclaimed June 23 Texas Indian day.

Political challenges of varying nature are not unusual in election years but here is one a little out of the ordinary. It involves the race for the place on the Supreme Court now held by Associate Justice Richard Critz.

Tom Smiley of Karnes City, one of two men opposing Justice Critz for reelection, has proposed to Dean Ira P. Hildebrand of the University of Texas Law School that if a check of district court records did not show that Smiley had tried two cases to Critz' one then Smiley would withdraw from the contest.

If the records did not bear out Smiley's claim, Critz should withdraw.

A further proposal was that Hildebrand select any county in Texas, barring Karnes and Williamson, and let an unbiased committee interview the "winning" 100 voters there. Williamson is Critz' home county.

"If they do not find that I am better known than your candidate, I will withdraw from the race," Smiley said. "If not, he must withdraw."

The challenge was directed at statements allegedly made by Hildebrand that Smiley was not an outstanding lawyer and not known outside his own county.

W. H. Davidson of Jefferson county also is seeking Critz' place.

Gov. Allred says he does not recall any important political campaign in which personalities were not injected.

At a press conference he noted that this year's campaign for governor was "winning up" and expressed the opinion there would be "plenty of heat" before it was ended.

He said he was enjoying his position of "sitting on the sidelines and watching the other fellows fight it out."

"As for personalities are concerned," he remarked, "a campaign nearly always starts out with the candidates saying they are going to talk only about principles and issues."

"But as they go along the situation is not unusual in election years but here is one a little out of the ordinary. It involves the race for the place on the Supreme Court now held by Associate Justice Richard Critz.

BARBARA STILL HASN'T HEARD FROM HUSBAND

LONDON, June 24 (AP)—A beautiful but sad-eyed and seemingly steel-willed slip of a girl paced the lonely halls of one of London's mansions today awaiting news from Paris that didn't come.

She was the blonde Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, who "took precautions," including circling her hite Regent's park mansion with guards and plain-clothesmen, because of a dispute with her Danish nobleman husband over the future of their two-year-old son, Lance.

At Bow Street Police Court, where the Countess two days ago obtained a court order to safeguard herself and son, the magistrate again waited for Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow to appear.

The magistrate yesterday was reported to have waited in vain after the usual court closing time.

The news the blonde American-born hives to the Woolworth millions awaited was from her father, Franklyn Hutton, who spent most of yesterday in Paris with the Count.

But so far as was known Hutton had not yet been able to call to tell his child that he had succeeded in straightening out her "argument" with the titled Dane.

She was known to be feeling the strain to such an extent that she called in Lord Horder, physician-ordinary to the King, yesterday. The possibility was he would make another call today.

Lord Horder is the famed specialist who waited upon the Countess in February, 1936, when she hovered between life and death after the birth of her son.

Only chubby little Lance appeared to be oblivious to the commotion which has upset the routine of Winfield house.

PARIS, June 24 (AP)—Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow, involved in controversy with his wife, left his Paris hotel today for an undetermined destination.

Friends said he might have gone to the country until the argument calms down, since it was believed he intended to remain in France for the time being.

HOLDUP HONEYMOON

BY EDWIN RUTT Copyright 1938, NEA Service Inc.

"You can't marry this guy Gilbert," said Joe. "You're going to marry me."

Yesterday, Joe wakes up after his wreck, finds himself facing a red-headed girl who she is on her way to Boston to be married.

CHAPTER II

DESPITE the riveting operations that were going on in his head, Mr. Joseph Sandham bounced to a sitting position. For some minutes now a great truth had been slowly dawning upon him. With Kelly's words it crystallized in his brain. This red-headed girl with the trick eyes was a cold knockout. He was a chump not to have perceived it right at the start. She had everything it takes and enough left over for a rainy day. And he, Joseph Sandham, was nuts about her. Completely nuts. Knocked for a loop in the first few minutes of play. Yes, realized Mr. Sandham, he was all wrapped up tied with a red ribbon and labeled "Property of Miss Kelly Archer."

"That's all you know about it, Gilbert is studying to be an archaeologist."

Joe snapped his fingers. "I'd have bet money on it. Just an inquisitive guy going around excavating things that don't belong to him. Why in Heaven's name is it that the world's most wonderful girls have to fall for fellows who crawl underground like moles? Besides, you, the last one I knew strangled his grandmother on a estacomb."

"What utter bilge. I suppose your profession, whatever it is, is on a far higher and nobler plane than archaeology."

"You're darn totin'," barked Joe. "It's a nice clean place with a future in it. No rats, no rot, no rust. We do things and go places, you guys."

"Well, what is your business? If I may be so presumptuous as to inquire?"

"I'm a candy salesman," said Joe. Kelly wrinkled the charming end of a charmingly tip-tilted nose. "Candy salesman? Good grief, it sounds too horrible."

"What is horrible about candy? Think of the joy it brings to little children and old ladies and church socials and . . ."

"Oh, for Heaven's sake, you think of it. I'm only interested in knowing whether or not you are going to be gentlemanly enough to drive me to Boston?"

"So you can marry that gumbol Gilbert. Well, I don't know. Of course I might be able to persuade you to see reason before we get there."

"You can try," said Kelly. "For all the good it'll do you."

Joe took a breath. "I guess we've got to plumb the ABCs. Listen, Miss Archer, don't you honestly see that the gods have been building up for this since two weeks before Time began?"

"Afraid I don't," said Kelly. "Well, what did you think that smashup last night was?"

"Just a plain ordinary garden variety of automobile accident."

"You're off your rocker. Why, gal, that was Kismet, Allah, Fate, Providence and a couple of other guys. Ain't you got no perception?"

"I perceive," said Kelly. "That you are an imbecile."

"Imbecile? Ha! Hard names won't get you anywhere. What you've got to do, young lady, is disengage yourself from this tramp Gilbert."

"That's what you think now. But wait'll you bask in my society a while. Gilbert will appear laughable to you."

"I don't intend to bask in your society. Per any longer than it takes you to drive me to Boston."

"Neatly folded on the chair by Gilbert is studying to be an archaeologist."

"Who folded them?" "I did, Mr. Spanish Inquisition Sandham. Who did you think?"

Joe heaved himself up, keeping under the protection of the bedcovers. "Attababy," he said. "You'll make a wonderful wife. Beat it now, while I dress."

TWENTY minutes later Mr. Joseph Sandham stood in the driveway belonging to Mr. Tyler Archer and surveyed his car. He was pleased to note that it had come thru the collision practically unscathed. The radiator was dented a little and the front left fender looked a little discouraged doughnut. Otherwise it seemed sound in wind and limb. Joe got in and drove it a few feet down the driveway. It steered well and the tires were okay. Satisfied he descended from the driver's seat and stood looking pensively at the side of the car which bore, in gilt and black, the legend:

CHANDLER and SANDHAM
Caramels
Without going around to port Joseph knew that the inscription there read:

Bonbons
CHANDLER and SANDHAM
Confections
From the house came the appetizing aroma of bacon, crisping in a fryingpan. Joseph lifted his head and sniffed, life a hound. And at this point Kelly popped her head out of a kitchen window.

"First and last call for breakfast," she said.

13 KEY JOBS TO BE FILLED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt will have 13 more key jobs on his "men wanted" list when he signs three major pieces of legislation now on his desk.

The civil aeronautics bill, the wage-hour bill and the amendments of the Maritime commission act will create new offices with salaries ranging from $7,150 to $12,000 a year. Other vacancies already waiting to be filled offer paychecks up to $17,500 a year.

Five board members and one administrator would receive $12,000 a year as officials of the proposed new civil aeronautics authority. Three air safety board members would get $7,500 each.

A wage-hour administrator would be paid $10,000, and three members of a proposed Maritime labor board would be paid $10,000 each.

The president can fill these jobs this summer subject to Senate confirmation after Congress convenes in vacancies which existed before Congress adjourned, however, appointees could receive no salary until confirmed by the Senate.

Highest-paid job in that category is ambassador to the Soviet Union, who will receive $17,500. Two other important diplomatic posts are open—Minister to Canada and Minister to Iran—at $10,000 each.

Good Jobs Vacant
Congress created 21 new federal judgeships during the last session.

Thirteen districts judges, who are paid $10,000 a year, and four circuit judges at $12,000 each are yet to be appointed in that group.

In addition, there are one circuit and two district court vacancies due to retirement and death.

Some of the best-paid jobs in the government have been vacant for long periods. The office of comptroller-general, with a 15-year term and $10,000 a year salary, has been vacant since 1936.

There has been no comptroller of the currency since May. The job pays $15,000 a year. The office of budget director, paying $10,000 has been unfilled for several years. A $15,000-a-year job on the federal reserve board is also vacant.

The President has not appointed a successor to Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, who was ousted from the board of the Tennessee Valley authority last spring. TVA directors get $10,000 a year.

Commissioner John W. Hanes of the Securities Commission has been appointed assistant treasury secretary, but has not yet resigned his SEC post. When he does, another vacancy will be created.

STORY

Mr. Sandham leaped like a speared grampus and the leap carried him all the way into the kitchen. Kelly was infesting his place, charming in a sea-green apron.

"In there," she said, indicating a breakfast-nook which held forth beyond the open door of the pantry. "Go make a beast of yourself."

"Gee, said Mr. Sandham, "you can cook? Fancy that."

"Of course, I can cook, said Kelly scornfully. "What do you think I am, an orchid?"

No suitable comeback occurring to him, Mr. Sandham went into the breakfast nook and overpowered a double orange juice. Just as it said: "Uncle" Kelly appeared, bearing shredded wheat. He crumpled this, buried it under sugar, powdered it in cream and took it in his stride. Followed bacon and eggs, the eggs scrambled to a beautiful pale-yellow consistency. Mr. Sandham went to work, swooshing this coccoction down with coffee which would have drawn commendation from a penitentiary Arab. Kelly stood over him, refilling the cup.

"This guy Gilbert," said Joe, with his mouth full of bacon and eggs, "would have lived high if I hadn't come along."

THE CHANGING SCENE

BUFFALO, N. Y.—New York relatives asked police to trace Mario Ventrioli, last heard from here 20 years ago. They gave his Buffalo home address, a favorite restaurant, favorite theater and the home of friends he frequented.

Police found: his home the site of Buffalo's skyscraper city hall; the restaurant replaced by an office building; a railroad terminal where he visited friends; and a parking lot where the theater stood.
