Action deferred on top items at county meeting

By MARILYN POWERS Staff Writer

No action was taken on three items on Gray County commissioners' agenda at their 9 a.m. meeting Friday in the second-floor courtroom of the courthouse, 205 N. Russell.

Action on an additional supplemental salary for the assistant 31st district attorney was deferred at the request of 31st District Attorney Lynn Switzer, according to County Judge Richard Peet.

Commissioners once again deferred action on changing the land lease rates at Perry LeFors Airport. A correct plat of the airport, including the hangars and numbered lots, was requested by commissioners before making a decision on raising the rental rate. The current hangar rental rate is five cents per square foot for non-commercial renters and 10 cents per square foot for commercial cus-

"I researched the rates, and found that in the 1930s and 1940s, it was four cents," Peet said. "In the 1950s, it went to five cents. I couldn't find when rates began to be differentiated between business and personal use.

"One renter I talked to has been renting close to 40 years and has never gotten a new contract in all that time," he said. "He had no problem with the rate being increased."

retirement rate for fiscal 2008 were also deferred, and will be revisited at commissioners' Oct. 1 meeting. The deadline for making changes with the county's life insurance company is on that date.

A resolution calling for a joint election between Gray County and the city of Pampa regarding 14 state constitutional amendments and a Pampa firefighters' election issue was approved. The resolution allows the 14 amendments and the firefighters' issue to be placed on the Nov. 6 general election ballot. The issue to be placed on the ballot includes giving city firefighters the opportunity

Any changes to the county's to engage in collective bargaining, Peet said.

A one-year software contract which notifies crime victims of the impending release of the perpetrators of the crimes from incarceration was continued. A copier contract for the county judge's and county attorney's offices was approved, as was the treasurer's report, commissioners' meeting dates for fiscal year 2008 and four line item transfers involving the district clerk's, country treasurer's and extension service offices and White Deer Land Museum.

sideration and possible action to approve multiple policies, and a report on the dress code violations at each campus are a few of the items on the agenda for a regular school board meeting for Pampa Independent School District to be held at 6 p.m. Monday at Carver Center, 321 W. Albert.

The public hearings will be held at the start of the meeting at 6 p.m. to discuss HB 621, which involves the exemption or taxation of goods-in-transit and the overview of Schools FIRST (financial integrity rating system of Texas) report and what rating PISD received. Public comments will be heard from audience members at 7 p.m.

Board members will consider and possibly approve local policy FNA, which deals with students' rights and responsibilities with Two public hearings, con- regard to student expression of religious viewpoints.

The board will possibly approve a revision to local policy FM, which would allow for junior high students to receive PE credit from outside structured physical activity programs if the student participates in at least 450 minutes of activity each 10-day period and the vendor conducts required physical assessments and provides the results to the school.

School administrators will give reports on dress code violations at each campus in PISD after the one-week grace period. The violations will be broken down into categories such as sagging pants, wording on shirts, other shirt offenses and second time violations.

Lord's Acre Harvest Festival set Saturday

By KERRI SMITH Staff Writer

St. Matthew's Episcopal Church is gearing up for their 3rd annual Lord's Acre Harvest Festival, which will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 22.

The event will begin with a silent auction of items donated by various individuals and businesses. People can look through the items and place bids on those they would like.

A number of children's activities will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be a bounce house, petting zoo, horse rides, mini-train rides, contests and face painting available to kids of all ages.

Under a big tent there will be a country store offering an array of homemade crafts and goodies from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Those attending the event can enjoy a free barbecue lunch with all of the trimmings from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Donations will be accepted and appreciated for the luncheon.

The last big event of the day will be a live auction starting at 1 p.m. under the big tent. An auctioneer will offer new and handmade items for sale to the highest bidder.

TDA awards funding for 39 projects across Texas

LUBBOCK - Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples has announced the Texas Department of Agriculture has awarded $1.2 million in grants to five Texas universities to fund 39 research projects designed to bolster and enhance the state's food and fiber indus-

"These projects, which range from reducing or eliminating trans-fats in food products to comparing modern cotton harvesting equipment to using goats in managing brush control, will provide an important boost to the state's economy and impact the lives of all Texans," Staples said. "Whether you are a cotton farmer on the High Plains or a family living in Dallas or Houston, your lives and livelihoods are constantly being improved by the benefits of food and fibers

Staples made the announcement at Texas Tech University's International Textile Center in Lubbock.

The grants were awarded through TDA's Food and Fibers Research Grant Program to the following universities:

• Texas Tech University, $457,315 for 15 projects such as evaluating the fiber properties of cotton; imparting antibacterial properties to cotton fabric; developing chemical warfare protective fabrics; and making peanuts a profitable such crop in West Texas where water is limited:

• Texas A&M University, $446,500 for 14 projects as broadening the genetic diversity of cotton; researching engineered systems for seed cotton handling, storage and ginning; and using goats to manage juniper:

 Texas Woman's University, $273,000 for eight projects ranging from using products containing cottonseed oil to increase the dietary intake of vitamins A and E to reducing or eliminating trans-fats in various food

· The University of Texas at Austin, $2,444 for transferring an agricultural database of research to Texas Tech University:

• The University of Texas at Arlington, $30,000 for a project that will study the effectiveness of using cottonseed oil to pro-

Each project is required to leverage about $2.75 for each dollar received from the state, bringing the total amount of research to more than $3.3 million.

"For 100 years, TDA has partnered with lexans and private industry to support our food and fiber industries," Staples said. "The projects funded for this year will not only go a long way in keeping Texas at the forefront of agricultural research and technology transfer, but will also have a positive impact and effect on food and fiber industries around the world."

Man arrested after high speed cha

By KERRI SMITH Staff Writer

A high speed chase Thursday near Vega ended with shots being fired. According to a report issued by Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper Daniel Hawthorne, troopers attempted to stop a vehicle east of Vega on Interstate 40 for a traffic violation around noon Thursday. The driver fled in his vehicle toward Vega and troopers initiated a pur-

The driver of the vehicle tried to hit officers in the pursuit and traveled through populated areas at a high rate of speed, which endangered the public. A trooper set up to deploy spikes to attempt and stop the vehicle. The driver of the fleeing vehicle avoided the spikes and traveled across the ditch at a high rate of speed passing near the troop-

Because of the driver's lack of concern for anyone's safety, a trooper fixed a sig shot from his duty weapon at the vehicle The round traveled through the fender and firewall of the vehicle and struck the vehicle's computer, which disabled the car and it came to a stop. Troopers arrested the driver without further incident.

Anthony L. Rucker, 22, of Amerillo was booked into the Oldham Country jail where he is being held on charges for evading arrest with a vehicle, possession of marijo na, possession of methamphetamines and fugitive warrants out of Potter County.

False obituary leads to arrest

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP) -Prosecutors are investigating whether a phony obituary was placed in a newspaper in an attempt to keep a convicted forger out of prison.

The obituary reporting the supposed death and cremation of Shawnda K. Hatfield was faxed to Delaware Circuit Court Judge Robert Barnet Jr.

But Hatfield, 41, was later found at her home in nearby Dunkirk and arrested. Barnet sentenced her Thursday to four years in prison for altering a check drawn on the account of White Feather

Matthew's Episcopal Church officials, the tradition of the Lord's Acre Harvest Festival began in the days of early western expansion in America when it was the custom of local farmers to donate the harvest of one of their acres of crop land to their church. It was through this harvest that funds were raised to help in the Lord's work.

While many people today are not as involved in agriculture as they once were, many congregations work throughout the year in preparation for a day in the fall when they contribute their talents and gifts in order to help raise funds for their church.

The members of St. Matthew's Church are continuing this tradition by hosting their own festival with the goal of raising funds for the enhancement of their youth program.

Schools

Also on the agenda are discussions regarding the possible purchase of school buses, allowing high school students to visit college campuses, adopting the prevailing wage rates, construction issues, students enrollment and college entrance exams and an AP performance report.

We were visiting in the office last week about how times have changed:

Colleague Marilyn Powers said she missed Johnny Carson, longtime host of The Tonight Show.

I agreed and said that I missed Steve Allen and Jack Paar, two hosts before Carson's reign.

I then related a particular Paar skit from years ago.

During his monologue he related the story about how it happened, but the censors got in the way.

He had just finished his shower in the morning and was drying off with a towel. He put his foot on the commode and it slipped, injuring him.

The problem was, he could not say "commode" or "toilet" on the air. As you can imagine, he got a lot of mileage out of that one while hilariously trying to explain how he hurt his foot without mentioning the offending

Censors later had a rough

Brothers television show. Tom and Dick Smothers pushed the envelope with their brand of humor.

The subject of censors brought about a discussion on Hollywood in the '40s and '50s when married couples on screen were not allowed to share a bed. They had to be portrayed as sleeping in twin beds.

That made for some entertaining bedroom scenes such as Nick and Nora Charles in The Thin Man series.

Wouldn't it be exciting if some of those censors were around now. They would be very busy with all the pottymouthed entertainers trying to act tough.

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Sunday, Sept. 16, the 259th day of 2007. There are 106 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History

On Sept. 16, 1810, Mexico began its successful revolt against Spanish rule.

On this date:

In 1498, Tomas de Torquemada, notorious for his role in the Spanish Inquisition, died in Avila, Spain.

In 1893, more than 100,000 settlers swarmed onto a section of land in Oklahoma known as the "Cherokee Strip." In 1919, the American Legion was formally chartered by an act of Congress. In 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed into law the Selective Training and Service Act, which set up the first peacetime military draft in U.S. history. In 1940, Samuel T. Rayburn of Texas was elected Speaker of the U.S. House of Representatives.

In 1966, the Metropolitan Opera opened its new opera house at New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. In 1967, the TV series "Mannix," starring Mike Connors, premiered on CBS.

In 1977, Maria Callas, the American-born prima donna famed for her lyric soprano and fiery temperament, died in Paris at age 53.

In 1982, the massacre of hundreds of Palestinian men, women and children by Israeli-allied Lebanese militiamen began in west Beirut's Sabra and Chatilla refugee camps.

DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL HOPEFUL, JOHN EDWARDS TODAY SAID THAT HIS UNIVERSAL HEALTHCARE PLAN WOULD REQUIRE THAT ALL AMERICANS HE NEEDS To see A PSYCHIATRIST.

Dress code: A look at the big picture

I am a grandmother who school. is very upset with Pampa Middle School. I went to the Interent and looked up the dress code for the school as a lot of parents did. It said that skirts and shorts couldn't be shorter than mid thigh.

So I went shopping for my granddaughter and bought her a skirt that was maybe two inches above her knee which is not mid thigh. So when she went to school on Sept. 4 she had to call her mother to bring her some different clothes.

Her skirt that was only two inches above her knee was too short. They had changed the dress code and she didn't receive the dress code book until they went to

Pampered kids miss full college experience

Boy, are college kids living like kings. I feel bad for

According to Associated Press, many universities are tearing down traditional dormitories in favor of upscale living quarters - posh facilities that offer private suites, granite countertops, designer furniture and satellite TV.

Today's college kids don't have to worry about much. Maid and laundry services are now available. Heck. kids don't even have to pack up the station wagon when moving in. Moving companies do that for them.

Why are universities pampering these kids? They have to attract students.

More than 90 percent of today's students had their own bedroom. They aren't used to sharing. They aren't used to working hard to attain things, either. Their dual-income parents gave them every nicety our prosperous civilization offers. My college experience was certainly different. To come up with my Penn

State tuition, my father worked overtime while I labored as a stonemason. Even Tom with college Purcell loans, I had just enough Columnist money to buy what I needed (a college education) but never enough to buy what I wanted (nice clothes, a car, even a Friday-night pizza).

I worked some unpleasant jobs in college - dishwasher, janitor, handyman, grass cutter. I worked as a bouncer, too, which involved kicking drunk people out of bars and mopping up that which some patrons couldn't keep down.

I sold my plasma. During the first semester of my junior year, I went to a medical clinic twice a week. They sucked out my blood, spun off the plasma, then gave me my blood back. Not only did I make 10 bucks every time I went, I noticed that one beer had effect three which translated into great savings at the pub. course, selling my plasma nearly killed me. When my mother discovered how I'd gotten so pale and gaunt, my father had to keep her from strangling me. To save money my senior year, I managed a rooming house. It was a big old dump of a place. It was allegedly haunted, too. A high school fellow who lived there shot himself in 1932 - in the same room I lived in. I never saw the ghost, though.

That job involved shoveling coal to keep the furnace going, picking up knockedover garbage cans to keep the rats and raccoons away, and settling disputes with some very colorful tenants who were always squabbling about something.

My parents visited me there once and when they saw my room, the centerpiece of which was a lumpy bed sitting on cinder blocks, and the bathroom I shared with 14 others (don't ask), my mother grew as pale as I was after selling my plasma twice a week for three months.

Yet I was WAY better off than today's college kids. It was by NOT living in the lap of luxury that I enjoyed many memorable experiences - experiences that helped me develop.

went up 68 percent from 2006 to 2007. I attended the meeting that Gary Willoughby arranged for his constituents. He invited Connie Rose from Susan Combs' office in Austin and she explained the tax laws. The law states that taxes can be raised only 10 percent a year and can increase only either yearly or no more than a three-year period. How did I get 68 percent?

I went to the Gray County Appraisal District and visited with a man who told me if I signed a waiver of protest they could drop my taxes from $168,000 to $159,000. This had nothing to do with my home value. It was dropping my land value from $4,000 per acre to $2,800 per acre. If I did not sign, they would stay at the 68 percent increase.

I had already signed a letter of protest. I did not sign the waiver and followed through on the protest. That meeting with the appraisal committee was a joke. It was obvious that their decision was already made. I was told that I was lucky to have my property appraised at only a 68 percent increase.

After some investigation, I found out there is a house on Highway 60 across from Earl Smith's land that is equal in size and almost the same acreage as mine. It is appraised at $91,240 versus my $168,000. You might or might not be surprised to 'find out who owns this land.

Amarillo; eight stepchildren;

My 7.5 acres of land is valued at $3,920 per acre. In the area, another person's two acres is valued at $250 per acre, another person's five acres is valued at $250 per acre and still another person's 251 acres is valued at $202.87 per acre. How is one's value so much more than others? Something is not right.

The house that sits right next door to me is worth $26,360. I thought appraisals were according to the area your house is in as well as the surrounding houses.

I believe everyone should be given a fair appraisal, not just a few. Also, there is no way anyone should have a 68 percent increase in the appraised value of their home in less than a year. That just seems wrong. Maybe we should evaluate how the appraisal district runs their business. If it has happened to me and a number of others this time, the odds are you are next.

Because I lived in a dump, I was forced to share a bathroom and kitchen with total strangers. I went on to become good friends with some of these people. I learned how to interact, socialize and get along - skills that have been helpful in the business world and in life.

I graduated from Penn State eager and hungry to succeed. I found a job as a writer and was able to buy my first brand-new car, a 1984 Pontiac Sunbird. There is no satisfaction greater than that.

Many of today's college kids won't enjoy any of these experiences. Too many, thanks to parents who lavished them with all kinds of stuff they didn't need, will remain spoiled, self-centered and full of self-importance.

When they finally go out into the real world, they won't be happy to find what reality has waiting for them. They'll have to learn a humbleness that I was able to get out of the way in college.

That's why I feel bad for them. Their college experience won't be one-tenth as valuable as mine was.

magnate Leona Helmsley had one last bombshell ... She left a bequest of twelve million dollars for her beloved white Maltese pooch, Trouble. Her brother, Alvin Rosenthal, also gets millions and is to care for the aging pet.

Upon her demise, Trouble (reported to have bitten numerous housekeepers) is to be interred next to her owner in the Helmsley mausoleum, overlooking New York City. ...

Look for little Trouble to luxuriate while she sorts through names of thousands of canines claiming to be "kinfolks," maybe even next of kin. This $12 million could take paternity suits and DNA to a new level. Attending vets may quake at the prospect of malpractice suits, and don't be surprised if the late hotelier's lawyers masquerade in dog suits, pawing/heeling/howling whatever it takes.

Two of the magnate's four grandchildren are in a snit because they get zilch - "for reasons known to them," the will states. The other two get $10 million each, but forfeit half of the bequests "if they fail to visit the mausoleum at least twice a year." Surely they'll work this into their schedules, along with witnesses and photographers.

A housekeeper is livid because she gets nothing; her chauffeur seems grateful for his $100,000.

Mrs. Helmsley, 87, was convicted of tax evasion in 1988, and subsequently was known as the queen of mean.

The preponderance of her estate, estimated in the billions, goes to the Leona M. and Harry B. Helmsley Charitable Trust. ...

Though too late for equal time in this epistle, a phone call from my Uncle Mort down in the thicket yanks us back to the world of people.

He can't believe all the Dallas celebrities in the sports world taking on dancing, or, as he puts it, "dancing may be taking them on." "It wasn't too many years ago that dancers could get thrown out of the church, and some tried to soften their brethren's scorn by calling it 'boot-scootin," mused. ...

He thinks celebrated Dallas Cowboy footballer Emmitt Smith got it started with his heralded "Dancing With the Stars" success on TV last year. Now, Cowboys owner Jerry Jones has dancing feet for Domino's Pizza, and Dallas Mavericks owner Mark Cuban is training to succeed Smith in the Stars' venue.

There are two other major sports teams in Dallas, both owned by Tom Hicks.

Don't expect Rangers/Stars mogul to be measured for dancing shoes. His probable response if asked? "These boots were made for walking. Any more questions?"

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: Our 13-year-old son, "Kirk," is monitored when he is online, he is given a curfew when visiting neighborhood friends, and he is overall watched like a hawk. However, we have let him play the video game Xbox Live (where kids all over the country play the same games). We recently found out that an adult (posing as a child) had promised Kirk a free pass and asked him to call to tell him where to send it. Our son, not knowing any better, did indeed call this man. Fortunately, he did not give him any information. But he didn't think to block the phone number, so PLEXED IN MICHIGAN now this predator has Kirk's cell phone number. (We are turning off the phone.) Abby, please warn parents that video games that allow children to play online should be supervised, too! We have had a long conversation with our son, as well as contacted the authorities in the state where this man lives. We are ... TRULY GRATEFUL OUR SON IS SAFE IN THE SOUTHWEST

DEAR TRULY GRATEFUL: I'm sure many parents are unaware that their children are vulnerable when they play online games. Of course, the best way to safeguard a minor who plays these games is to have not just one "long conversation" on the subject, but rather an ongoing dialogue about predatory adults who pretend to be someone they aren't.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 18 months and have tried to ignore something that has been bothering me in my marriage for a while. I have asked my husband about it a couple of times, but the last time I asked I told him it would be the last time I bring it up. I think my husband is gay. To be honest, my initial reaction when I met him was that he was. When I introduce him to family or friends, the first thing they ask me is, "Is he gay?" My husband also tells me that he gets hit on by a lot of men. Just the other day, he said a guy walked up to him and said, "Hey, hottie!" and he told him that he didn't swing like that. I don't know what to think or believe anymore. I don't know if this has to do with unresolved issues of my mom coming out when I was younger, or if I'm overreacting to the attention he gets from gay guys. - PER-

DEAR PERPLEXED: It's possible that you do have some unresolved issues regarding your mother. However, I can't help but wonder where it is that your husband is meeting all of the gay men that he brags are hitting on him. Could it be in gay bars? If that's the case, then he's gay.

DEAR ABBY: Please provide a public service to prevent people from looking foolish, specifically those who -- bless their hearts -- have made some drastic change in their lives or their attitudes, and say they have done a "360." I'm no math professor, but a circle is 360 degrees, which would put them right back where they started. I think the correct thing to say would be, "I've done a 180." What do you think? - RUNNIN' IN CIRCLES OVER RHETORIC IN FLORIDA

DEAR RUNNIN' IN CIRCLES: I think you are absolutely right, which is why I'm printing your letter.

Farm Service Agency announces upcoming referendum

Cotton producers and allows eligible cotton proimporters in favor of the USDA's Agriculture Marketing Service conducting a referendum on a cotton research and promotion program can register with their local Farm Service Agency now through Nov. 30.

No action is necessary if a continuance referendum is not desired.

"The sign-up period

ducers and importers to request a referendum for continuation of the 1990 amendments to the Cotton Promotion Act," and Matthew Street, executive director of Gray County FSA, said.

In March following a comprehensive mandatory fiveyear review, USDA endorsed continuation of the 1991 continuance referendum.

"If results of the sign-up period show that at least 10 percent (4,622) of the voting program participants request the conduct of a continuance referendum," Street said, "then a referendum will be held within 12 months of the sign-up period end date."

Changes to the program were approved in 1991 by a order amendments without a 60 percent majority of cotton producers and importers who voted and included, among others, an importer representation on the Cotton Board, assessments' levied on imported cotton and cotton products plus the reimbursing of government agencies that assist in administering the collection of assessments on imported cotton/cotton products.

According to Street, eligible producers are individuals 18 and above years of age engaged in the production of upland cotton during calendar year 2006. Eligible importers are those who imported upland cotton in excess of $2 per line item entry during calendar year 2006.

Other eligibility requirements may also apply.

EQIP promotes agricultural production and environmental quality. Through EQIP, farmers and ranchers receive financial and technical assistance to help install conservation practices and to implement management systems that promote conservation. Financial assistance is on a cost-shared basis with the producer. The technical assistance is provided at 100 percent of the cost by NRCS is adding another statewide resource concern to the program at the recommendation of the State Committee. Technical Funding will be provided in 2008 specifically for conservation practices that improve habitat for the pronghorn antelope in west Texas.

WT talent program gets boost

CANYON — West A&M Texas University's College Talent Search Program will continue its outreach services thanks to continued funding through a grant from the U.S. Department of Education. The funding represents a 3 percent increase over last year's grant for a total of $226,600.

The College Talent Search Program encourages disadvantaged students to graduate from high school and succeed in higher education. The federal program has been around since 1965, and WTAMU's College Talent Search Program opened its doors six years ago as the first of its kind in the Texas Panhandle.

"Our program reaches 600 middle school and high school students at target schools in the Texas Panhandle," Julie Arias, director of the WTAMU program, said.

Those involved in the program must be a firstgeneration student in grades 6-12 and enrolled in a target school.

WTAMU representatives from the program visit the schools.

Texas The Association of Chicanos in Higher Education recently recognized WTAMU in its TACHE Scorecard, which measures higher education services to Hispanic students. The proportion of Hispanic students enrolled at WTAMU matches that of the

KACV to air 'THE WAR'

AMARILLO - KACV, the Texas Panhandle's nonprofit PBS affiliate, is currently promoting a unique outreach project it calls "Texas Panhandle WWII Stories."

Intended to collect, preserve and educate Texas Panhandle residents about World War II experiences, the 18-month long project has generated considerable interest across the region, a news release from the station said, since its launch this summer.

Ken Burns' production, "THE WAR," has been the project's inspiration. This program tells the story of World War II through the eyes of everyday Americans who experienced the event from the front lines to the home front.

"THE WAR" premieres on KACV at 8 p.m. Sept. 23.

Kids Kitchen Corral Contest open to entries

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Agriculture kicks off the 4th Annual Kids Kitchen Corral Contest.

For contest details and an application packet, simply pick up a postage-paid entry card at select public libraries or in the produce aisle at your neighborhood Wal-Mart Superstore, while supplies last. You can also e-mail TDA at kidskitchen@tda.state.tx.us and request an entry card. TDA is accepting contest entry cards through the fall of 2007.

"It's great fun to see our young Texans cook up some creative dishes in the kitchen," said Texas Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples. "They're learning healthy eating and healthy cooking are something worthwhile with positive and long-lasting results."

The Kids Kitchen Corral Contest calls on kids from across Texas to submit their own unique healthy recipes for judging. Recipes have to be original, nutritious, easy to prepare and contain no more than 10 ingredients.

The contest is open to Texans 6 to 18 years old and enrolled in a Texas school that participates in the National School Lunch or Breakfast Program. Each qualifying Texan who submits an entry card will receive an entry packet with nutrition information and contest details.

Past winners have received a medallion, donations from Wal-Mart, Texas Monthly magazine and/or Whole Earth Provisions, including gift cards, cooking supplies and a backpack with school supplies, and a framed certificate signed by Commissioner Staples. Their recipes have been featured on printed recipe cards and book covers distributed to all Texas public elementary schools.

Almost 270 recipes – everything from granola mixes to wacky wraps to veggie pasta were submitted to TDA last fall for the third annual contest. TDA judges narrowed the recipe submissions to 12 finalists, and students from the Bowie High School Culinary Arts Program in Austin put them to the test by preparing and tasting each recipe, then choosing the four final winners.

Additional details can be requested by sending an e-mail kidskitchen@tda.state.tx.us. The deadline to enter is Dec. 15.

To view the winning recipes and to find more healthy eating tips, visit TDA's Square Meals Web http://www.squaremeals.org/ and click on the link "For Kids."

Harvesters defeated in fast-paced overtime

By JORDAN REAGAN Sports Editor

In what many Pampa fans will be reluctant to consider all-out loss, the Harvesters were defeated by the Amarillo High Sandies Friday night in overtime - for the first time in Pampa v. Amarillo High history.

The game started with Pampa kicking off to the Sandies, who didn't keep the ball for long.

In the fourth play of the game, a pass by Amarillo was picked off by Pampa running senior back Shavious Kelley on the 46yard line.

Three Amarillo penalties and a pass from quarterback Casey Trimble to wide receiver Heath Skinner later, the Harvesters found themselves on the 15-yard line.

The Sandies' defense kept the Harvesters from making their way to the endzone, and Pampa kicked a field goal to put the first three points on the scoreboard with just over 9 minutes remaining in the Amarillo's defense once again proved to be too much as Pampa was held back again and given no choice but to kick a field goal and tie the game at 19.

Back in the first quarter, Pampa's Colby Copeland kicked off to Amarillo High after the first field goal, and made the tackle on the play on the Sandies' 12-yard line.

Amarillo's drive proved to be unsuccessful, and when Pampa had the ball with less than a minute remaining in the quarter, the Harvesters fumbled and the Sandies recovered and took the ball to the Pampa 9-yard line.

"That's my first one in the big leagues," Murphy said. "I was happy to get the sign because I've been struggling. I know I'm a good bunter, and I know we had to score as many runs as we could since rough start but we came back. We those guys can swing it."

Sosa tied it 9-9 with a three-run homer off Santiago Casilla in the sixth, but Swisher put Oakland ahead to stay with a solo shot against John Rheinecker (2-2) in bottom half, Swisher's 21st home run of the season. Kurt Suzuki added an RBI single off Wes Littleton.

Sosa reached 20 homers for the first time since 2004 and the 13th time in his big league career.

"I fight for my at-bats and keep my mouth shut," said Sosa, who has had just 105 at-bats since the All-Star break. "I just go out and take care of business. I try to stay focused and patient. It shows I have something left in this body, and I may get another year or two.'

Andrew Brown (3-2) retired all four hitters he faced for the win, Alan Embree pitched a scoreless eighth and Huston Street finished with a perfect ninth for his 16th save in 20 chances.

"Brown came in and was ready to throw strikes," Suzuki said. "When someone can stop the bleeding and give the defense a break, it also gives the offense a chance to get rolling.'

Sosa entered with a .179 batting average at Oakland, his lowest at any current major league park. He hit a two-run single in the third before the homer, his first in Oakland since Sept. 18, 1990, for the Chicago White Sox against Mike Moore.

quarter, Amarillo kicked a field goal to tie the game at 3, and minutes later drove the ball down the field for a touchdown, putting Pampa behind on the scoreboard for the first time this season, 10-3.

With 5:47 remaining in the half, senior Adam Estrada intercepted an Amarillo pass, and made it to Amarillo's 37-yard line.

With 4:28 remaining, senior linebacker Jerrod Bivins made it into the end zone to tie the game again at 10 after the extra point. Just over a minute later, a field goal attempt by Amarillo from the 35-yard line was unsuccessful as the ball bounced from the bottom bar.

From there, Trimble threw a long pass to Kelley, which got the Harvesters to the 26-yard line.

Pampa closed in on the end zone, and senior receiver Wayne Parker scored a touchdown to put Pampa ahead 16-10.

Another opportunity arose for Amarillo to score in the time remaining, but with 6 seconds on the clock, and interception was thrown to senior Josh Humphrey to close the half.

The third quarter was almost scoreless, until a bad snap was thrown over the head of punter Brett Powell and into the Harvester endzone for an Amarillo safety, narrowing the gap 16-12.

Just over a minute into the fourth quarter, another Amarillo touchdown and extra point put the Sandies on top, 19-16.

At the end of the quarter, Pampa had a familiar drive to tie the game at 19, and the teams immediately went into overtime.

Amarillo had the ball first, and in just two plays scored a touchdown and kicked for an extra point to take a 26-19 lead.

When it came to be

Pampa's turn, a 12-yard scramble by Trimble put Pampa on the 1-yard line.

For the last time, Amarillo's defense kept the Harvesters out of the end zone, and a fumble by Bivins was made while trying to get through the pile.

The fumble was recovered by Amarillo to end the ing yard to Pampa's 85. Trimble barely racked up more yards passing than Amarillo, with 228 to their

O.J. Simpson named suspect in armed robbery, says he was trying to retrieve stolen property

LAS VEGAS (AP) — O.J. Simpson says he went into a casino hotel room only to retrieve memorabilia that he felt was stolen from him. But police are investigating it as an armed robbery and named the fallen football star as a suspect Friday in yet another surprising chapter to his legal saga.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Simpson insisted there were no guns involved and that he went to the room at the Palace Station casino only to get stolen mementos that included his Hall of Fame certificate and a picture of the running back with J. Edgar

"It's stolen stuff that's mine. Nobody was roughed up," Simpson told the AP.

Las Vegas Metro Police Capt. James Dillon said the confrontation was reported as an armed robbery involving guns. But he said no weapons had been recovered and stressed that the investigation was in its "infancy."

Simpson was questioned by police immediately after the incident Thursday night. Dillon said Simpson would not agree to a formal, recorded interview until his lawyer arrived, but did offer some statements about the incident. No charges had been filed and no one was in custody.

Simpson said auction house owner Tom Riccio called him several weeks ago to say some collectors "have a lot of your stuff and they don't want anyone to know they are selling it."

Simpson, who was in Las Vegas for a friend's wedding, said he arranged to meet Riccio at the hotel. Riccio had set up a meeting with collectors under the guise that he had a private collector interested in buying Simpson's items.

"We walked into the room," Simpson said in the telephone interview. "I'm the last one to go in and when they see me, it's all 'Oh God."'

He said he was accompanied by several men he met at a wedding cocktail party, and they took the collectibles.

Simpson said he wasn't sure where the items were taken.

A message left by the AP for Riccio was not immediately returned.

He told the Los Angeles Times he arranged the meeting after receiving a phone call about a month ago from a person who claimed to have personal items — including footballs, awards and photos — that had belonged to Simpson and wanted to sell them.

"Simpson was supposed to show up, identify the items and tell the men to either give the stuff back or he would call the police," Riccio told the news-

The plan unraveled after Simpson showed up with about seven "intimidating looking guys," at least one of whom had a gun, he said.

"We tried to peacefully reacquire these personal items, not for their monetary value, but for their family value. O.J. wanted to be able to pass these things down to his kids," Riccio said.

"They (Simpson and his companions) took the stuff, and they left. What can I say? Things went haywire," he Dillon said investigators were trying to untangle the web of ownership, and that some items had been recovered.

He did not say which ones.

"We do have some conflicting statements, there is legitimate information that part or all of the items possibly are the possessions of O.J. Simpson," Dillon said, adding that would not excuse a robbery.

One of the collectors in the room was Alfred Beardsley, a real estate agent and longtime collector of Simpson memorabilia, some of which he has been ordered to turn over as part of a lawsuit.

"I'm OK I'm shaken up," Beardsley told the AP by phone. He said Simpson's account of the incident was fairly accurate except that there were guns.

Simpson said: "I didn't see anybody with any guns."

Bruce Fromong, a collector who testified at Simpson's civil trial, said he was in the room when Simpson barged in with other men.

"Him and some of his guys come busting through the door," Fromong told the celebrity gossip site TMZ.com. "They came in with guns, hollering and screaming.

Fromong, who reportedly tried to sell the suit Simpson wore when he was acquitted of murder, described him as a former close friend and said he couldn't explain the behavior.

"O.J.'s in enough trouble. For him to come and do this kind of thing, I don't know what's wrong with O.J. This is stupidity." Simpson was released after he and several associates were questioned, and he remained in Las Vegas.

Bautista homers as Pirates continue dominance of Astros

Pittsburgh Pirates are saving their best plays for the end of the season.

Jose Bautista hit a tworun homer and Ronny Paulino added a run-scoring single in the eighth inning as the Pirates rallied to beat the Houston Astros 4-3 on Friday night.

Chad Qualls (6-5) started the eighth in relief of Houston starter Roy Oswalt and gave up a single to Freddy Sanchez. Adam LaRoche grounded to Berkman, who threw to second for the force out, before Bautista drove a 3-1 pitch off the foul pole in left field, the first runs given up by Houston's bullpen in 16 innings.

Steve Pearce singled to center and stole second before Paulino lined a single up the middle to put Pittsburgh up 4-2.

"You can have 10 good outings in a row," Qualls said, "and then you can have an outing like I did tonight and it doesn't matter."

Houston rookie Josh Anderson, recalled on Sept. 1 and making his first major league start, had an RBI single in the eighth off Pirates reliever Shawn Chacon. But Matt Capps pitched a scoreless ninth to earn his 17th

All the Pirates wanted to talk about after the game was Morgan's catch that got Pittsburgh out of a two-out, bases-loaded jam in the third inning.

Ty Wigginton, who doubled twice and scored a run for Houston, hit a high drive to deep center and Morgan sprinted to within a step of the wall before making a spectacular, over-the-shoulder grab.

"I try to catch every-; thing," said Morgan, recalled from the minors on -Sept. 1. "I was right on the wall. I just had to keep an eye on it. I just wanted to' make a good play."

The catch reminded Tracy of Willie Mays' famous catch in the 1954 World

"This may be as good as, you can witness," Tracy said. "That's pretty much an incredible play. That's as good a catch as you can possibly make." Houston lost to the Pirates for the 10th time in 13 meetings this season.

Two named to PHS Hall of Honor

Two Pampa High School graduates will be named to the PHS Hall of Fame during an induction ceremony at 10 a.m. Friday at McNeely Field House at Pampa High School.

Clarance Shillings, class of 1944, and James Crownover. class of 1948, have been named as two outstanding PHS alumni who have contributed significantly to the betterment of their professions and their communi-

The community is invited to attend the ceremony as well as a reception at 6 p.m. Thursday at the Pampa Junior High School library.

The announcement of the selection was made by Pampa Independent School District

Superintendent Barry Haenisch, PHS Principal Danny Seabourn and President of PHS Student Government Nick Dudley.

"The Pampa High School Hall of Fame has been and will continue to be a source of inspiration and motivation for our students and community," Haenisch said. "The Hall of Fame provides visible and tangible proof that there are many distinct pathways to excellence for those who are willing to pursue them. The students of Pampa High School will be proud to welcome these distinguished alumni into the Harvester Hall of Fame."

Col. Clarance E. Shillings

Clarance Shillings, USAF Ret., was born near Hooker, Okla., on Dec. 12, 1925. His father's work required the family to move frequently so that by the time they arrived in Pampa for his junior and senior years, he had attended 32 different schools in Oklahoma.

On Aug. 2, 1944, two months after graduating from Pampa High School, Shillings was drafted into military service assigned to the Army Air Corps. After basic training at Sheppard Field in Wichita Falls and teletype school at Chanute Field in Illinois, he was assigned to Batista Field, Cuba. A year later he was transferred to Borinquen Field, Puerto Rico, as a teletype maintenance man and cryptogra-

Upon his return to the States in 1948, Shillings was assigned to MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., where on Oct. 20 of that year he received a direct commission as a second lieutenant. He was transferred immediately to Biggs Air Force Base in El Paso as communications electronics officer and went TDY to England with the 97th Bomb Group as its ground communications officer.

In 1949, he attended communications officers school at Scott Air Force Base, Ill., and in 1950 was assigned to the 30th Communications Squadron at Offutt Air Force Base, Neb., as crypto and communications security officer. Two years later, he became staff crypto and communications security officer Headquarters Strategic Air Command. During his four years at SAC Headquarters, he earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Omaha by attending night school and one semester on the Bootstrap Program.

From 1954 to 1957, Shillings was on a joint services assignment in England as chief communicator for Field Representative Europe. He returned to Offutt Air Force Base with assignments as Officer in Charge of the communications center, the telephone flight and as executive officer of the Communications Squadron.

Two years of undergraduate engineering study at Arizona State University in the early 1960s were followed by an unaccompanied tour at Sidi Slimane Air Base, Morocco, where he was the last commander of the 975th Communications Squadron. He moved to Torejon Air Base, Spain, in 1963 as director of plans and programs and director of operations for the Spanish Communications Region.

Upon his return to the U.S. in 1966, Shillings was assigned to the Defense Communications Agency Washington, D.C., as plans and budget review officer and later as executive officer to the deputy director of plans.

From March 1969 until his assignment to the Far East Communications Region in March 1971, he was deputy commander of the White House

Col. Clarance E. Shillings

Communications Agency, where his duties were to perform command, staff and administrative functions in a joint agency responsible for providing all communications electronics functions for the President of the United States, the First Family, the Vice-President, Secret Service and other activities of the Executive Branch as directed and to function as the commanding officer in the absence of the commander. Support was provided within the White House on all trips and at all relocation sites.

Shillings was vice commander of the Far East Communications Region (AFCS) at Fuchu Air Station, Japan, a subordinate unit of the Pacific Communications Area. The Region's mission included the management and execution of Air Force responsibilities for communications electronics operations and air traffic control services for the Air Force and other federal and civilian agencies throughout the Far

He also served as Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff, Communications Electronics Headquarters, Fifth Air Force until his retirement in September 1972.

Throughout his military career, Shillings maintained his citizenship as a Texas resident by keeping his driver's license current and by voting in all general elections, so it was natural that he returned to Texas to retire.

After three years in the Hill Country, the cool nights and crisp mornings of the Panhandle beckoned.

During the following 28 years in Amarillo, he was a real estate broker, taught real estate courses at Amarillo College for five years and served on the Potter-Randall County Appraisal Review Board for three years and then on the Randall County Appraisal Review Board for five years.

Shillings married the former Allene McKinney of Pampa, also from the class of 1944, on June 1, 1944, and they have four children, Sharon, Teresa, Kent and Candace, seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. They now reside near family in Goldthwaite, Texas.

James Crownover

James Crownover was born in Marble Falls, near Austin, and moved to Pampa in 1942 with his parents and younger brother. He began the sixth grade at Pampa Junior High School, which was located at Cuyler and Francis Street at that time.

That year he also met his childhood sweetheart, Jeanne Hollis. They both graduated from Pampa High School in 1948 and were married three years graduation. after They raised a family of four children and eight grandchildren and were married 55 years until Jeanne's death in 2006.

Crownover attended the University of Texas in Austin and received a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1954. He also received his mas- the NASD Stock Exchange. ter's degree in electrical engifrom Southern neering Methodist University by attending night school.

Upon graduation, he moved to Dallas and worked for Collins Radio Co., where he was instrumental in the development of a weather radar for commercial airlines. In 1956, the engineering model was offered to Channel 5 TV, which made Channel 5 the first television station in the southwest to use radar in forecasting the weather.

He then assumed a position with Texas Instruments where he was in charge of the development of military night vision equipment, which was first used in Vietnam. He coined the acronym, FLIR, for forward looking infrared and patented the FLIR, which can be found on various military equipment and most modern police helicopters today.

Crownover's career as an entrepreneur began with his formation of Crown Design Manufacturing Corp. There he designed and produced products for the telephone industry. His design and patent of five items were manufactured and sold to telephone companies throughout the United States and Canada.

1969, he developed Spectronic Inc., which manufactured opto-electronic components and equipment for the military and electronic industries.

James Crownover

The company was one of the first to develop fiber optics for communication.

The company grew large enough in four years to become a publicly traded company on While serving as chairman and CEO, he was invited to sit on the Board of Control Systems International. He and other board members were featured on the September 1997 cover of Fortune magazine. Optek was later sold to an investment group in Chicago.

Following his retirement from Optek, Inc., Crownover formed Crown Ranch Properties, Inc., which is a real estate development company currently operating in the Texas hill country.

He then co-founded Zeecon Wireless Internet, which currently provides high speed Internet in the Texas hill country and is undergoing rapid expansion.

His career has been a notable success in the field of electronics. He has been featured by the Dallas Morning News and the late Dallas Times Herald.

He was selected as the High Tech Entrepreneur for Texas in 1989. He was Assistant Director of the American Electronic Association for the Texas region for two years and continues to be a member of the Engineering Advisory Board of University of Texas in Austin and the Engineering Advisory Board of the University of Texas in Dallas.

Crownover currently resides on a small ranch in central Texas near a resort area called Horseshoe Bay, located 50 miles west of Austin.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Sept.

16, 2007: You'll make headway this year, especially if you fine-tune your listening and talking skills. Sometimes you might feel despondent, like you have pushed too hard and are not getting the response you want. When you are looking for reacout of tions, center yourself. Though you are very sensitive, you often misread people this year. A change could occur professionally in which you finally greet your highest ideals. If you are single, that special person could appear anywhere from midyear on. This relationship will go into your history book. If you are attached, the two of you discover that the embers of love flare in 2008. Enjoy. SCORPIO helps you look at life differently

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

 You might want to use this day of rest just for yourself. Observe a tendency to be too indulgent. Just be aware that there are always ramifications. A conversation with a dear friend or loved one opens up possibilities. Tonight: Togetherness works.

This Week: Hope your shoulders are broad, as chaos seems to surround you. Others might dump a project or two on

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

 Someone might dominate in your life far more than you would like. Know when to pull back and nicely say ing this person. Be direct. In the long run, it will work better. Tonight: Let a loved one choose.

This Week: Use obstacles to open your mind. See where you have been closed

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

 Deferring might be the right action, but convincing others could be futile. Still, you can choose to go in your own direction. Claim your power, and you will feel much better far more quickly. Tonight: Know when to call it quits. This Week: You find relating touchy right now. Try to chill out. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

* Your romantic nature could be stirred easily if you are at the right place in life. Your creativity surges. There is no lack of ideas or suggestions around you. Know that there are answers to nearly everything, if you seek them. Tonight: Fun and games.

CHARLES POORE

This Week: "Control" needs to be a forgotten word when it involves others. Work on self-control!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)  Stay centered and invite others over for a relaxing lunch, dinner or barbecue. Get into the role of host or hostess with the most. Your perception of someone might not be accurate. Consider tossing the rose-colored glasses. Tonight: Happy at home.

This Week: Plunge into your work or projects. Fun might tempt you by Thursday

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

 Because you are distracted, whatever you start seems to go south. Stop and make time for those you want to be with, and let go of what no longer interests you. Listen to your inner voice and what you want. Tonight: Hanging out is fun.

This Week: Your imagination goes haywire, and so might you as a result.
Serious matters lurk, certainly by

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

 Once you let go, it might be difficult to rein yourself in. A child or loved one entices you to continue on a recent indulgence or fun happening that might want this? Tonight: Treat someone you care about to dinner.

This Week: You cannot glide into home plate without doing the necessary work, as you'll discover. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

* You smile, and others respond. With this type of magnetism, ask yourself who you want to be with and under what circumstances. A friend has important news waiting just for your ears. You will smile. Tonight: As you

This Week: Though it is important to express your thoughts, listening becomes equally, if not more important.

OYKV DTOHSCOO

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)  Know when to back off, and you might be a lot happier than hanging in for better or for worse. Don't look at this as running away, but more as a situation where you know to cool your jets.

Tonight: Get extra R and R. This Week: Deal with spending, budgets and expenses by Wednesday evening. You will have a lot to say!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)  Your friends push and pull to have you join them. They are so bold, you could scarcely call this behavior manipulation. It is clearly downright assertive. You are happiest with your pals. Tonight: Where the gang is.

This Week: Though you are "in the pink," others might forcibly let you know that they aren't. Now what? This might be an important decision.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)  Be aware that your choices impact many. Someone might look to you as a role model. He or she barely realizes just how confused you are. Be open about not knowing the right direction. Tonight: In the limelight.

This Week: You have experienced an awful lot. Digesting it will take some time, You perk up by Thursday. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Sept.

Others look up to you. Act in the manner of one with authority, knowledge and leadership skills. You might discover that this won't be an easy year, but at the same time, you will meet each challenge well. Others often criticize, but when asked to take the lead, they will back off. Trust yourself. If you are single, you will meet many people. Two people might come forward as potential sweeties. It will be your call. If you are attached, your life together might be challenging yet rewarding. The embers of love will flame. SAGITTARIUS can be an anchor and sometimes an albatross.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19) * How you see a situation could reflect your energy. If you feel energized, you are far more likely to tackle a situation head-on. Pressure builds, and you could spout a grumpy comment or two.

Tonight: Take in the big picture.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) * Your creativity and ability to zoom in on a problem emerge. Don't underestimate someone in your life. Your view might need a touch of insight and enlightenment. Not everything is as you see it. Tonight: Listen to a close friend or

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

 Emphasize accomplishment. Much might swirl around you like a whirlwind. Step out of the haze by prioritizing. If you are angry, try to exercise and work through the issue before approaching the other party. Tonight: Time to put your feet up. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

 You have more answers than you might be aware of. A situation might feel as if it is closing down on you, and it actually might be. Avoid risking, even if a friend seems to be pushing you in that direction. Be your own person. Tonight: Relax with a fun loved one. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

 If you can work from home, please do. You have much to clear out, which you will do efficiently. How you deal with a changing situation depends on your flexibility. Don't allow others to force a decision. Tonight: Happily a couch potato.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)  Don't react, even though others might push you hard. More information pours in, forcing you to regroup. How you deal with a situation could change if you get some space. Don't push. A brainstorming session draws diverse opinions. Tonight: Talk through an idea.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)  You might want to hold back, as it appears that wherever you go, you run up more expenses. Play it conservatively, even if a partner is pushing you very hard. Answers come to those who are willing to receive them. Tonight: Treat yourself to a CD or some other item that won't break the bank!

CERTIFIED TAM 112 Wheat Seed for Sale.

Harry Paul Haiduk dba Wider Horizons Seeds to offer for sale ed's TAM 112 wheat seed for the fall 2007 wheat planting season.

TAM 112 is a new, hard red winter wheat varie ty that has adaptation to the low rainfall areas the southern and central Great Plains of the U.S. It appears to be a good replacement for TAM 110. It is a red-awned wheat whereas TAM 110 is a brown-awned wheat, its appear ance in the field is striking.

TAM 112 has superior grain and forage pro duction compared to other hard wheat adapted to our region. Its a medium height, early maturing variety with tolerance to wheat streak mosaic. It has better test weight and ield potential than TAM 110.

Its yield compared to Cutter, Jagalene, and TAM 110 ranges from 10% to 25% more bushels per acre in 2007 comparisons, it showed significantly greater early and long term for age than cutter in limited trials in 2006/2007.

For more information or to place an order please call 806-674-7110 and leave a message
