I Heard ---

That Paul Carmichael has started collecting unusual stones as a hobby. Last week he went on a hunting trip, way down state and there were thousands of nice stones. When Paul started out in the morning he began picking up stones and by noon he usually had a couple of pockets full. But as he neared camp at night the stones became heavier and heavier and Paul started dropping them faster and faster until he usually reached camp minus his stones. When he failed to get a deer he took a day off and went stone hunting, successfully.

Only Three Killed In Car Accidents Sunday

Hunting and home accidents exceeded traffic accidents as hazards to life and limb in Texas during the week-end.

Although post-holiday movements and major football games brought a heavy volume of travel, only three traffic fatalities were reported yesterday (Sunday).

Miss Nannie Standifer, 24, of Denison, was killed when a rear tire of an automobile in which she was riding blew out and the car overturned.

Monty Stratton, ace pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, suffered an accidental bullet wound in his right leg while he was hunting rabbits on his mother's farm near Greenville.

Mrs. Lula Hall, 65, near Temple, died of burns. Her night clothes caught fire as she stood near a stove. Dave Blackburn, about 65, burned to death in a fire which gutted a three-story untenanted building in Galveston.

Gas asphyxiation killed William Ferguson, 22, student at Texas Technological college, Lubbock. He was found dead in his apartment.

Miss Mary Bullard was burned slightly when a fire, blamed on a gas explosion, destroyed a clinic at Hughes Springs, Cass county. Four Dallas residents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto C. Rescue Forces Reach Hunters

BANGOR, Me., Nov. 28 (AP)—State police received word early today a unit of the rescue forces battling through heavy snow to the relief of 100 isolated hunters and C. C. C. youths near Aurora had reached its objective.

State Trooper Leonard Foster telephoned division headquarters from Aurora saying a truck crew had dug its way through huge drifts to deliver food and supplies to hunters at Mopang Lake, five miles east of Beddington.

Foster did not advise headquarters how many persons were at the lake or any of their names.

Meanwhile Trooper LaChance on duty at headquarters said word came by radio from the main body of the rescue party that a state plow followed by several army trucks was 10 miles east of Aurora on its way to Beddington and Eagle Lake, where women were among an isolated group.

It is expected that 200 more memberships will be secured for the roll call before the campaign is concluded and the final report made.

Danger Of Floods Grows

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28 (AP)—Southern California's calamitous series of brush and forest fires, conquered after a loss of $5,000,000 in property and denuded watersheds, sharply heightened today the danger of floods this winter. Approximately 37,000 acres were burned over in five counties since last Wednesday, the chief damage being in the Santa Monica and San Bernardino ranges.

Phantom Briton Hacks 11 Women In Seven Days

HALIFAX, England, Nov. 28 (AP)—Women of this grimy North England town today were ordered to remain indoors after nightfall because of a "phantom slasher" who strikes unseen along darkened byways.

The slasher added an eleventh victim to his list early this morning, slipping up behind Mrs. Constance Wood, a mill worker, only 100 yards from her doorway.

He knocked her down, hacked through her heavy coat to inflict two gashes in her left arm, and escaped.

Police have been unable to trace the slasher who has attacked eleven persons within the past seven days. All but two of the victims were women. None was seriously wounded.

Screams from one of two women who were slashed last night brought nearby firemen to the rescue. Crowds leaving church joined the hunt but without success.

It was feared the phantom, who so far only has wounded his victims with a harp-edged weapon, might suddenly turn murderer.

Women of this industrial town, at least those brave enough still to venture out at night, were arming themselves with large hammers, bags of pepper and walking-sticks for self-defense.

Patrols of Boy Scouts were pressed into service.

The only clue to the slasher's identity has come from one of the women victims who described him as having "staring eyes and a big mouth" which she said she would recognize again.

It was expected troops would be brought in soon if other measures fail to catch him.

AFL Attempt To Operate Yards Fails

CIO Pickets Keep Men From Moving Into Hume Plants

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—An attempt by American Federation of Labor workers to operate the Chicago stockyards in the face of a strike called by the CIO apparently failed today.

Thomas Devro, business agent of local 517 of the AFL livestock handlers union, had guaranteed to have between 150 and 200 men at work in the huge yards by 6 a. m.

More than three hours after that time, Orvis T. Henkle, general manager of the Union Stock Yard and Transit company, announced not a man had reported for work. Trading still was suspended, and livestock receipts less than a tenth of normal.

AFL headquarters claimed some men had slipped through the picket lines, but no stock was found moving in the yards, and William Hunter, chief of the stockyard police, said no working passes had been issued.

Striking CIO handlers had massed more than 250 pickets around the main gate of the yards and others patrolled four smaller entrances.

Their numbers were augmented by 100 policemen under the personal

USC To Represent West In Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28 (AP)—Southern California was officially named today to represent the Far West in the Rose Bowl football game January 2.

U. S. C. officials this morning met with stony silence reports that any team had been invited west. For weeks most of the Rose Bowl talk has centered on Texas Christian, and today leaders of the Texas State Society here promised that "10,000 Texans" would be on hand if the Horned Frogs from Fort Worth were invited.

Duke's chances soared when the Blue Devils from Durham, N. C., edged out Pitt, 7-0, and kept intact their season's record of never having been scored upon. Tennessee, the last of the undefeated tri-o champs, was likewise kept in the running with a thumping 46-0 victory over Kentucky last week.

Woodring Asks Canal Be Made 'Impregnable'

French Call Nation-Wide Union Strike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The War Department has summoned about 180 officers to a conference Thursday and Friday on its program for mobilizing industry in event of war, thus lending new emphasis today to the administration's accelerated defense program.

Other armament developments included:

1. Secretary Woodring's urgent recommendation that the Panama Canal be made "impregnable" by new reinforcements for that vital link.

2. Senator Clark, Democrat, Mo., served notice that advocates of an extended armaments program would encounter critical and determined opposition in the new congress.

War Department officials said the conference on industrial mobilization was the first of its kind nationally and would be attended by procurement planning specialists of the army, navy and marine corps.

They are the men responsible for detailed arrangements to obtain munitions and supplies.

Complete even to contract forms to avoid confusion and delay, the "mobilization day" procurement plans have been in preparation since the World war. They include the specific functions to be performed by about 10,000 plants.

Woodring's plea for strengthening the Panama Canal fortifications went to President Roosevelt in the secretary's annual report. Defense of the canal, the means by which the navy underlines to protect both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts with a single fleet, long has been a matter of personal concern to Mr. Roosevelt.

Safer Canal Urged.

Champion Steer Will Be Named

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—The mythical thrones of wheat and oil "king" already occupied, judges of the International Livestock Exposition today dusted off another royal seat—for the corn "king."

While judges inspected thousands of ears, growers and spectators paced the long halls of grain exhibits anxiously awaiting their decision.

Interest in the livestock judging also was heightened as open class competition started and a battery of experts cast appraising eyes in search of the eight finalists who will tramp the ring, probably Tuesday, when the Beef Baron, finest steer in the nation, will be selected.

Last year's champion was a short-horn steer owned by the Oklahoma A. and M. college which also won the 1936 championship with an Angus steer.

Although all livestock judging was suspended yesterday, the grain judges worked throughout the day and announced the "kings" of wheat and oats.

The Brothers Rigby, young Canadian farmers of Wembley, in the Peace River Valley of Alberta, carried off the coveted Premier Grain awards.

F. Lloyd Rigby, 23, ascended the throne as "Wheat King" and his younger brother, W. Austin Rigby, 22, moved on to an adjoining throne as the 1938 "Oats King." It was the first time in the history of the exposition that brothers had been awarded both crowns.

Iowa Will Be Democratic In 1940 Says U. S. Senator

War With Russia Inevitable, Says Jap Army Head

TOKYO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Declaring the Dulles-Smyth does not recognize "the changed situation in the Far East" and that a "Soviet-Japanese conflict apparently is inevitable," Lt. Gen. Eiki Tojo, vice minister of war, urged upon munitions workers today a rapid expansion of arms industries.

General Tojo and Lt. Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, war minister, addressed leading arms makers summoned to Tokyo to hear the government explanation of the necessity for expansion and for the invention of the national mobilization law—which has been invoked partially and which gives sweeping authority to the government in emergency.

"Japan must have sufficient armaments to fight a world war on two fronts," General Tojo said. "There is very possibility Russia and China may band together as soon as the Soviet completes preparations."

"There is no doubt that the Soviet is hastily replenishing heavy industries and bolstering armaments in preparation for a Soviet-Japanese conflict that apparently is inevitable."

He charged Great Britain was concealing enmity toward Japan and said "occasional gestures of friendship should be interpreted merely as protecting British rights and interests. They mean nothing."

While the United States' attitude was neutral, he continued, "I must call attention to the fact that the United States government is sticking to old treaties and is unwilling to recognize the changed situation in the Far East."

Weaver Rites Held At McLean

McLEAN, Nov. 28—Last rites for Charlie Frank (Blue) Weaver were held Sunday afternoon at the McLean Church of Christ, Elder Glenn A. Parks delivering the funeral sermon. Interment was made in Hillcrest Cemetery, with Mortician Rice in charge.

Mr. Weaver, resident of Skillet community (Donley county) for over 25 years, died at 4 o'clock Sunday morning. He had seemingly recuperated from an appendectomy given some few months ago, but Friday afternoon he suffered a stroke while in McLean. He was carried to his home but never regained consciousness.

The deceased was born Dec. 18, 1877 and was married to Miss Alma Waldrop in 1912. He is survived by his widow and three children: Marguerite, a student at W. T. S. C. at Canyon; Charles and Sybil, both of whom are at home; and two sisters, one living in Oklahoma and one in Tennessee.

Pope Takes Part In Special Prayers

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 28 (AP)—The ailing Pope Pius took part in special prayers in the chapel of his official apartment, this morning, opening a week of spiritual devotions at the Vatican.

The prayers with Cardinals and other Prelates, for a half hour, when the service was suspended for 30 minutes to resume at 11:30.

The Pope got out of his bed after his physician, Dr. Amintore Milani, paid a morning visit and found his condition satisfactory.

The Pope's physicians indicated that the injections which were administered after Friday's attack had been suspended, although Dr. Milani continues to visit his patient several times a day.

The pontiff still is on a liquid diet and drinks small amounts of coffee.

Convicted Doctor Claims 'Frameup'

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 28 (AP)—Charges of "frameup" and promises of a grand jury investigation today followed the conviction of Dr. Kent W. Berry, society physician, and three others in the torture-killing of Irving Baker, whom the doctor accused of attacking pretty Mrs. Berry.

The 54-year-old doctor, facing possible life imprisonment, charged he was the victim of a frameup and said he would appeal his conviction on first degree kidnaping charges. His three co-defendants likewise planned appeal.

Dr. Berry was accused of plotting the kidnaping and torture of Baker, handsome 37-year-old former coast guard officer, after alleging he raped Mrs. Berry, 27, following a July 4 week-end party. Baker denied attacking the woman.

Gunmen Abduct Michigan Pair

PAW PAW, Mich., Nov. 28 (AP)—Two Michigan men were abducted today by gunmen fighting their way across the southern part of the state in an attempt to elude a cordon of state police and sheriff's officers.

Those seized by the gunmen were Henry Matly, a Vicksburg farmer, and Claude Mennis, a gas station attendant employed near Vicksburg.

At least one of the fugitives was believed wounded. The chase began shortly after midnight when a state police cruiser crew spotted at Mottrill, Mich., near the Indiana line, a car for which they had been watching.

Instead of obeying an order to halt the occupants of the car opened fire on the police.

The fugitives were next heard from when Matly was abducted, his car taken and the original car abandoned.

The only possible clue to the identity of the persons sought was that Benny Dickson, 27, wanted for felonious assault, was headed into Michigan from Topeka, Kas.

Lobos Likely To Accept Bowl Bid

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 28 (AP)—An invitation to the University of New Mexico Lobos to represent the Border conference in the Jan. 2 Sun Bowl football game at El Paso, Texas, was scheduled for action by the school's athletic council today.

Before the council met, informal comment among several of its members indicated the bid would be accepted and Dean S. P. Nannings, council chairman, said acceptance was probable.

An opponent for the host team is yet to be selected. Most prominently discussed have been Western Reserve, Georgetown and Boston College.

Sam Houston Wins Second Place In Lone Star Loop

(By The Associated Press) The Sam Houston Beakets grabbed second place honors in the Lone Star conference Thursday afternoon at Nacogdoches where they defeated their arch rivals, the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, 13 to 6, in their annual Thanksgiving Day grudge battle.

Under the tutelage of their new mentor, Coach Patsy Wilson, the Beakets lost to only one league rival, East Texas, by a 14 to 6 count. In non-conference engagements the Huntsville machine won five of six starts.

Dropping one position from their standing of last season, the North Texas Eagles finished the conference race in third place, with S. P. Austin a notch lower and Southwest Texas in the cellar.

The East Texas Lions terminated their gridiron season Thanksgiving day by slaughtering Missouri State Teachers of Kirksville 53 to 0 at Commerce. The win over Kirksville was the Lions' eighth win out of nine battles this fall; their only loss being a 26 to 6 trimming at the hands of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys.

The last of the conference teams to wind up its schedule for the year, North Texas entertains the Kansas State Teachers College team of Pittsburg at Denton Friday night in an intersectional tussle.

It Wasn't Blood, It Was Just Red Paint

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 28 (AP)—Fireman William J. Denney yesterday was rushed, "bleeding to death," to a doctor's office by colleagues fighting a filling station fire.

The doctor wiped Denney's face with a towel and sent him back to his fire fighting.

A can of red paint had exploded in the fireman's face. Eighty-two out of every 100 persons under 60 years of age, and 23 of every 100 under 20 years of age, have defective eyesight, studies reveal.

Mighty Silence Reigns At Duke

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 28 (AP)—The football faithful in these parts, from Governor Clyde Hoey down, hoped today to see Duke in the Rose Bowl, but from Duke it self there was a mighty silence.

Coach Wallace Wade, the slow-talking Tennessee who guides Duke's football destiny, said a few weeks ago Duke wouldn't be interested in a Rose Bowl invitation. However, that was before Duke's 7-9 triumph over Pitt.

The Southern Conference, of which Duke is a member, has a rule prohibiting teams from playing post-season bowl games. The rule has been waived in the past.

However, Dean W. H. Wannamaker of Duke, who is president of the Southern Conference, said today that he had received no request this year that the regulation be lifted.

Educators Ask Direct System Of State Aid

A resolution asking for a more direct distribution of state aid educational funds was passed by the county superintendents' section of the state of Texas State Teachers association at their meeting Friday, on the second day of the three-day convention, held in Dallas.

W. B. Weathered, Gray county superintendent, was elected president of the county superintendents' section of the association.

Mr. Weathered said today that under the present system state aid funds have to come through many channels before they are received by counties, and the resolution passed aimed to eliminate "red tape" and place the distribution in the hands of the state department of education.

Main sessions of the convention were held at the fair park auditorium and section meetings were held at the Methodist, Baptist, and Christian churches and other buildings. Registration was in the automobile building on the state fair grounds. A school exhibit was held in the building at the time of the convention.

Place of the next convention of the Texas State Teachers association will be decided when the executive board meets in Fort Worth. The board will meet in January or February, Mr. Weathered said. San Antonio and El Paso are contending for the 1939 convention.

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—Information that Saturday and Sunday oil production shutdowns almost certainly would continue through four weeks of December came today from Railroad Commission circles.

Commissioner Lon A. Smith said his colleague, Ernest O. Thompson, submitted to him a proposed order calling for eight shut-ins next month. C. V. Terrell, the third commissioner, usually agrees with Thompson on commission policies.

"I told Colonel Thompson," Smith said, "that I would agree to five shutdowns next month but eight was too many."

Observers here believed Terrell would go along with Thompson on continuation of the two-day a week shutdowns except for the fifth Saturday in December. It was uncertain exactly when the production order would be issued.

Dies Wants To Continue Probe For Two Years

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Rep. Dies, Democrat, Texas, said today he would ask the new House to appropriate $200,000 to continue for two years his committee's investigation of un-American activities.

The committee originally received $25,000, and Dies has said it would be unable to study numerous phases of its subject unless additional funds are provided.

He made public a letter asking Secretary of State Hull to request justice department prosecution of the Communist party, the German-American Bund and other groups for alleged violation of the law requiring agents of foreign principals to register here.

Dies asserted that testimony before his committee clearly shows the Communist party in this country to be an agent of the Communist third international and indicated that the League for Peace and Democracy, the International Labor Defense, the Civil Liberties Union and other groups had similar ties with Moscow.

Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, described Dies in an interview here yesterday as the Communist party's best recruiting agent, declaring his committee had given the party $9,500,000 worth of free publicity.

Later, in an address commemorating the Soviet Union's twenty-first anniversary, Browder advocated a Washington-Moscow axis to offset the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact. Touching on the United States' defense program, he said that Communists, although traditionally opposed to armaments, would support the program "if it is used to stop Fascism."

Sculptor-Slayer Sentenced To 134 Years In Sing Sing

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Robert Irwin, eccentric young sculptor who pleaded guilty to the 1937 Easter morning triple-slaying of Veronica Geeden, attractive model; her mother, and Frank Byrnes, a boarder, was sentenced to 134 years in state prison today by Judge James G. Wallace. He will be taken to Sing Sing prison later in the day.

Trial of Irwin, specifically for murder of Byrnes, was interrupted by Irwin's guilty plea before the jury was completed. He pleaded guilty to second degree murder. Irwin's lawyer, Samuel Leibowitz, in offering the plea, told the court the sculptor was "crazy as a bed-bug."

Four husky attendants surrounded Irwin as he was led into the courtroom today. Standing before the bar, he made a futile plea to be heard before sentence was pronounced.

"This asking a prisoner whether he has anything to say before sentence is just a farce," cried Irwin. "I have something to say."

"You say you represent justice," he shouted at Judge Wallace. I say you do not. You represent a rich man's justice."

70,000 Children!

Seventy thousand children are alive today because back in 1922 a few citizens with courage and vision determined that the dangers of the machine age must be met by education.

This good news comes from the Center for Safety Education of New York University. With it comes another bit of information that should provoke real thought. In a publication entitled, "A Milestone in Safety Education," the Center says:

"Traffic accident statistics reveal two age levels on which special stress in safety must now be laid. In the period from 1922 to 1937, the death rate for children of school age decreased by 13 per cent, the rate for adult groups increased by an average of 160 per cent, and for pre-school children increased by 35 per cent. This indicates that these two age levels—adult and pre-school—are vitally important and will be considered in studies conducted by the Center."

What has been accomplished in the school classroom through safety education can and will be repeated in the home, on the streets and highways, in shop and factory, while the good work goes on with increased momentum and scope in our elementary and high schools. Such is the goal of the Center for Safety Education, which was established last July under a grant by one of the pioneers in the organized safety movement, the National Conservation Bureau of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives.

While the scope of the project extends over the whole field of safety education, the primary purpose is to train teachers to teach safety understandably, practically, thoroughly and effectively. Shortly the nation's accident prevention forces will be reinforced by increasing battalions of men and women who have been trained to teach safe living.

Thus America brings into play new and more effective weapons against that most ruthless of all public enemies—a killer who strikes at young and old alike, a wastrel who costs us more than $2,000,000,000 annually, a maimer who laughs at human suffering—the preventable accident.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

By JOHN T. FLYNN

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—By taking a nose dive into British economic and trade publications you get more of an idea why England was glad to take any step, such as the trade pact with the U. S., offering some offset against further German trade aggressions.

By a system of trade inventions that amaze the English, Germany is able to buy and buy and buy food, cotton and other raw materials, and sell her own manufactured articles to countries which England once considered her own customers.

An article in the London Economist points out some of the mechanisms by which Germany sews up trade. Suppose tobacco, oil and wheat are needed. All these are available in the Balkan countries. Germany offers to buy large supplies of these goods. She will pay aski marks, which are good only for purchase of German goods in return.

Maybe the Balkan countries don't like to be tied up to buying only German goods, so they object to the deal. Germany promptly offers to pay higher than the world market price. Farmers, eager for an opportunity to sell at a high price, insist that the deal go through. And since peasants in the Balkans outnumber everybody else, they have to be satisfied.

POWERFUL PERSUADERS That leaves the Balkan banks loaded with aski marks with which they can buy only German goods. Now if a Balkan importer has been used to buying British shoes or fabrics or steel, he will be persuaded instead to buy in Germany because the banks have to use up this German exchange. Thus Britain loses a customer.

There has been so much of this that the Balkans are loaded with aski marks. They can't spend them for anything except German goods. And Germany isn't always willing to sell them what they want. The Balkans may want steel building materials but Germany instead wants to sell toys and glassware. Yugoslavia was compelled to buy huge quantities of aspirin. Rumania bought thousands of typewriters, and Greece bought mouth organs by the hundred thousand.

BIG MUNITIONS MARKET In an effort to use up more of the growing supply of aski marks, many Balkan countries agreed to buy German munitions. Now why should Germany, engaged in any armament race, sell munitions? Simple, says the London Economist. Germany sells munitions which are growing obsolete for a first class power. They still are satisfactory for smaller countries.

Much of this same type of trade goes on with South America. Selling armaments to these countries is an especially good deal for Germany. It means that the countries which buy armaments from Germany must continue trading with her, because only Germany can supply spare parts and ammunition for the military equipment.

The London Economist is fearful that a tremendous source of minerals not yet developed in the Balkan countries will be opened up by German money and thus create for Germany a huge military asset which could not be cut off.

Some authorities in the commerce department here, however, suspect the estimate of these sources is excessive. But whatever develops, the Balkans as present are capable of supplying 20 per cent of Germany's raw material needs and there is little doubt that their ability will be swelled rapidly under German guidance and trade pressure.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

PRAY HEAVEN

Private business has some friends in Congress—one of them is Senator Bailey of North Carolina. In a talk made a short time ago he had this to say: "Why substitute government management for business management? The average politician is in politics because he was a failure in everything else. They do not believe in balanced budgets because they never had one. They do not understand finance because they never made a dollar. Their currency is votes, not dollars, their balance sheets are election returns, not book accounts, and their stock in trade is nostrums for people afflicted with a disease known as gullibility. It is bad enough that they must run the government. Pray heaven business may escape them."

Senator Bailey is our choice for President in 1940. He understands what makes good jobs possible.

Politicians who figure that the best way to attract votes is to attack the industries which provide jobs, taxes and opportunities in this country, should think that over, for after all, the taxes to maintain government and pay the politicians must come from private enterprise.

CREATING PURCHASING POWER

I wish to repeat a statement made by Samuel B. Pettengill in his book, "Jefferson, The Forgotten Man." It applies to the present administration, to the "Ham and Eggs," to the collective bargaining theory, to the misuse of bank credit and to all these reformers and humanists who pose as great benefactors and as great liberals. It is the best presentation of the impossibility of these reformers doing what they contend they are going to do that we have observed. We quote from Mr. Pettengill: "If government could 'create' purchasing power, taxation and poverty and debt would all have been abolished centuries ago. No party would ever lose an election if it could 'create' purchasing power."

Now that simply makes common sense. If Roosevelt can do what he says we will do—raise the standards of living and give security of jobs to the people by his so-called humanitarian laws, then no government in the past would have lost an election. But Roosevelt has no new ideas. His idea of liberalism is coercing other people into becoming his serfs—to do as he tells them to do. He sacrifices nothing himself in the line of depriving himself of the comforts of life, but he would take the tools and the machinery of those who make it really possible for the workers to be independent and earn more wages.

As the same author says, "Every dollar which the government has more is a dollar that the taxpayer has less."

RECIPROcity COMMERCIAL TREATY A CONSTRUCTIVE MOVE

Probably one of the most constructive moves made by the administration was the reciprocal trade agreement with England and Canada. This has been a move with the idea of reducing the tariff walls between nations so that there can be a more free exchange of goods between the countries. Since the war, there has been a tendency to build up tariff walls and attempt to make nations more or less self-supporting.

The Administration probably will be criticized for this move. I admire its courage for going ahead and attempting to reduce barriers between nations on exchanging commodities. The tariffs will be reduced or eliminated on at least a thousand articles.

The great majority of people believe that tariffs are necessary to protect the working man's standard of living. The working man, the manufacturer and every citizen's standard of living is high only because of exchanges, and the more people learn to exchange and to eliminate any interference with exchanges whether tariff walls, collective bargaining, prorate, arbitrary taxes, or misuse of bank credit, the higher the real wages of all workers will be.

Of course, it is absurd to eliminate exchanges of goods between nations and build up artificial barriers on goods and services between our local people. They both should be eliminated together.

Few people realize that foreign producers will not ship anything into this country unless we ship something in exchange to pay for it. And if we can get more for a given amount of labor by exchanging than producing the commodity here, the real wages of the country as a whole, are raised. People are greatly confused on the advantages of tariffs because they think they want work. It is not work at all that we want but it is higher wages for the work we have to do. And free exchanges both in our country and outside of our country, is the best way ever developed to raise the wages and the purchasing power and the standard of living of all the people.

The Nation's Press

THE COMMUNISTS ELECTED LEHMAN

(Chicago Tribune)

Earl Browder, the general secretary of the American communist party, says that his comrades elected Gov. Lehman and spared Mr. Roosevelt the humiliation of losing his own state on the issue he had participated in. Senator Wagner was safe enough in his own right but Mr. Lehman was the man persuaded by the New Dealers, including Albany's O'Connell and Tammany's Mr. Hines, to save the state.

There isn't much left of the New Deal politically but if Gov. Lehman had been defeated Mr. Roosevelt's political star would have been so eclipsed that the only thing conceded to him would have been the filling out of the remaining two years of his term.

The communists withdrew most of their ticket in New York in favor of their New Deal allies, but to preserve the legal form of a party they ran Joseph Amstel for congressman-at-large. Amstel polled more than 97,000 in New York City alone. The communists voted for him and then they moved over to the Democratic column and filled in the rest of their ballot.

Lehman won over Dewey by fewer than 70,000. When Browder says that the communists returned Lehman to office and saved the state for Mr. Roosevelt he has the figures back of him and can prove his assertion. Without the communist votes Dewey would be governor-elect and New York would have been added to the Republican landslide in the north. La Guardia and Tammany could not have turned the trick. If Browder had run a candidate for governor and if his party had been ordered to vote straight Mr. Roosevelt would have lost New York.

If the New Dealers want to point with pride to this salvage in the wreckage they should make handsome acknowledgments to their communist saviors.

DRAWING THE MAP OF EUROPE

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Some day Swing is passing out. But Hollywood doesn't believe it. Hollywood is set for a ride in a jittersbug. Hollywood is going to bring it back if it's gone. Or give it the coup de grace, if it's going.

For a long time now the "influence" has been apparent in pictures. Young ones, old ones—it's supposed to be especially funny when the old ones do it—have been trucking and Sully Q-ing either en masse or for single "characterizing" shots. (Venerable Harry Davenport does it effectively, in this manner, in "The Cowboy and the Lady," and so does Gary Cooper.)

The Dead End Kids did a little of it in "Angels With Dirty Faces." The Little Tough Guys, not to be out-trucked, are showing their stuff in "Society." There's a picture at Universal—with Ted Weems and his orchestra—called "Swing, Sister, Swing." There'll be swing in "Ice Follies," and swing (a la Ritz) in "The Three Musketeers." The movie, "St. Louis Blues," is full of it, with Matty Malneck and his boys providing the hot licks. Dick Powell's new one, "Always Leave them Laughing," is concerned with the transformation of a classical musician into a jittersbug. Maxine Sullivan has left her blue notes in several of the new pictures. "The Wizard of Oz" has a Jittersbug Song.

Which is all very well—for the swinglions. The rest of us can have our jittersbug jamboree in wait-time—in "The Great Waltz." That sequence showing how the Vienna villagers succumbed to a waltz is as frank jittersbugging as ever you'll see today—but in good waltz-time.

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers are doing nothing to contribute to the longevity of swing. Not this time. In "The Castles" they haven't even any new dances. Just the old ones that Irene and Vernon danced and made popular. The new dance, the Hermes Pan, who looks like Fred and helps with the Astaire-Rogers dance routines, says the "Texas Tommy" might catch on again. Also the Maxine—although that's more difficult. Irene Castle today thinks jittersbugging will pass. She doesn't like it. But if she said so she'd be thought a back number—which she isn't. She doesn't say so.

Hermes Pan, a tender-hearted guy, is having his troubles. The big chorus numbers of yesterday are gone from the screen. The other day he had to select 60 steps for a series of dance shots showing how Castle dancing influenced the world.

"Two years ago," he said, "the girls were so busy I couldn't have found 60. Today I ask for 60 and 500 girls apply." He knows most of the girls, but he has to look through them when he's selecting. He can't hire all of them. It breaks him up. He wishes the "big numbers" would come back, but thinks they won't—not soon.

The movie Castles—while most of Hollywood is on the jittersbug—will do the Tango too. Sonja Henie, a smart girl, is doing a tango on ice in her new touring show. She'll put it in her picture, and she'll be making it her picture. That ought to underscore the tango heavily.

Deer, reported to be the most common of all big game in the U. S., number about 1,450,000 in the national forests alone.

People You Know

By ARCHIE FULINGER

Pampa is the place where nobody walks, not even for fun, probably because there are no trees, but yesterday, being windless and coolly warm was a day for walking if there ever was one, so this one and a friend set out in a general northerly direction. Now when you walk here people can't believe you really mean it, and they become anxious about you; they think your car has broken down or something, and you can't blame them because you are that way yourself. So you reassured kind and friendly Peble Carter and Albert Combs who passed us near the cemetery in a car that we were really walking and did not want a lift. Three men riding fine sorrel and chestnut horses passed us and we stared at them and they stared at us because horse-back riders are as rare as people who walk—one of the riders was L. C. Childers, and we liked his horse the best. "I'll take that horse in the middle," I said. . . . When we reached the cemetery we decided to cut across to Red Deer creek and follow it, and not walk west because we would have to pass Harvester Park where a horde of boys were yelling and playing football, and we knew we'd probably end up by coaching or refereeing or playing. . . . We passed T. D. Eboart's monument and read again the apt inscription on it. . . . Then we started down the creek but we had no privacy because a yellow airplane kept circling low above us, as if we needed watching. We knew where a cave was so we said we would fool that pilot and get in the cave but the top was gone. We walked four miles (this one was counting the yards so we know how far we walked) before we came to a road. Then we started back to town, and the first one to offer us a lift was Nurse Carman of the hospital. "Thank you, Nurse Carman, we said 'but no.'" Then Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lyles came by, and we talked to them awhile, and we got home two minutes before sundown and we had walked exactly 15,000 yards which is around 8 miles. Oh, yes we counted every step!

How's Your Health?

PLASTIC SURGERY

It's unfortunate that the beauty phase of plastic surgery overshadows, in the public's mind, the excellent performance of this specialty. Plastic surgery's scope is broad. It repairs the defects and deformities present at birth and those acquired thereafter. Improvement of appearance and function are basic objectives in plastic surgery. It corrects to a degree almost beyond belief the ravages and destruction of disease and accident. Plastic surgery is a type of sculpture in which living tissue is used. The sculptor-surgeon is required to have a vast knowledge not only of the basic principles of surgery, but also of the peculiar characteristics of the body's tissues. Disfigurement in war, by the automobile and in industry have brought plastic surgery to the fore but the specialty is an ancient one. Some 2,000 years ago the Hindus used to reconstruct noses, cut off in punishment, by employing a flap of skin taken from the cheek or forehead. The early Greek and Roman physicians described plastic operations on the nose, eyelids, ears and mouth. An outstanding name in the history of plastic surgery is that of the Italian surgeon, Caspar Tagliacozzi (1545-1599), who wrote the first book on plastic surgery. From Tagliacozzi's time until early in the nineteenth century, plastic surgery advanced little. The modern plastic surgeon has a wide knowledge of tissue character and of wound healing. He has acquired great respect for living tissues and handles them with utmost gentleness. He has learned to be patient, and knows that time and care are his great allies. Formerly the application of plastic surgery to the correction of cosmetic defects (so-called beauty-surgery) was frowned upon by responsible practitioners. Today, however, they recognize its psychological value to those who are emotionally distressed by their objectionable features. The individual who believes that he requires plastic surgery should avoid the advertising and notorious-seeking practitioner. A safe procedure is to consult one's own physician who, if circumstances warrant, will refer you to a responsible plastic surgeon.

This is a bed-time story. . . . If you think you sleep like a log—you're crazy. . . . At least the scientists and bed salesmen think so. . . . They say there are scores of diabolical disturbers of sleep that keep you from going to sleep by devil you after you do, and cause you to be grumpy next day.

Of course they've devised gadgets to purge all the rascals. . . . The ordinary bed, it seems, is made of a rubbery, porous material. For some reason, it's called "foam rubber." It's a downy affair and for her spartan hubby, a firm, he-man one.

If mama and papa sleep in the same bed, their preferences are taken care of by a mattress hard on one side, soft on the other, and with an insulating bundling board in the middle produced by a slight center ridge. . . . But that's only one of the devices rounded up in the 1939 model sleep shops.

Pillows come in every shape but the one you've slept on for years. For instance, the "pancake" one is for people who like only a slight head-lift; the Japanese has a slot that preserves lady's coiffure; the dust-free pillow is for the sneezer. . . . Instead of burying yourself in a heavy layer of blankets you are to use a fluffy electric comforter on which heat can be regulated.

If you're a fraidy-cat in the dark, you use the faint flower-shaped neon light to reassure you. . . . Or if light bothers you, then you wear an eye-shade. Nasty noises are thwarted by a stopper and air by nose-filters and humidifiers. . . . When the lady decides to read while hubby wants to sleep, a clash is quashed by a spot light; and when she insists on hearing music while he craves sleep, there's the silent radio that whispers to her from under her pillow.

Researchers have saved their biggest thunder for outsmarting insomnia. Sleep-counting is out. To make you sleepy, they instruct you to soak for 20 minutes in 102-degree water, drink some warm milk, hop into bed and turn on the "lullabone." . . . Its drowsy hum is supposed to be the most soporific sound science can muster, has you yawning in no time. . . . Ho hum. Turn out the lights—I'm asleep.

Texans In Washington

By L. T. EASLEY

Associated Press Texas Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Stocky little Sam Rayburn of Bonham has a bigger job on his hands next year than last if he continues floor leader of the House for the Democratic party. This is the opinion of most observers here who point out that while there will be fewer Democrats to keep in the fold, a number of those returning may buck the traces with greater vehemence this year than they did last. Among those who seem likely to do this is a change in the Rankin-Rayburn-Boland triumvirate in the seventysixth congress. Speaker Bankhead and Rayburn are expected to be re-elected by their colleagues. The majority leader anticipates the whip and it is believed Rayburn would reappoint Pennsylvania's Rep. Boland to that post.

The whip works under the floor leader to determine the sentiment among the members on pending legislation. It is their duty to steer the administration's measures thru to passage by the House. When an important bill is approaching a vote, Boland directs a crew of assistant whips in a canvass of all Democratic members to learn their attitude toward the bill.

The result of the checkup is reported to the speaker and the majority leader. If the report shows the bill's chances of passage are doubtful, the assistant whips or the leading trio themselves then contact the traitor Democrats to see if they may be persuaded to support the administration. Sometimes objections are overcome by amending the legislation.

Should the next poll of party members show the legislation still in a precarious position, the whip may have to look into the possibility of getting a few favorable votes from the Republican side. These polls are not made accurate forecasts of action by the House for not all members are contacted and some decline to express their views. When an administration measure comes up for a vote, it is the duty of the whip to see that members favorable to it are apprised of the approximate hour the actual count will be made so that their absence won't cause defeat.

Often on such occasions the whip's office immediately contacts the assistant whips to let them know that a vote is about to be taken. The assistant whips, or their secretaries, contact the members assigned to them. Consequently it takes only a few minutes for the entire Democratic membership (now 261) to be notified.

The whip's organization will have 72 fewer Democratic heads to canvass the members assigned to them. The Progressive and Farmer-Labor party representatives, generally favorable to the administration, were handling young transients. AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—The problem of transient children is growing in Texas, says Mrs. Norma Rankin, director of state welfare services. A conference of child welfare workers recently considered the situation and substantially the state child welfare department decided to launch a statewide study to ascertain more accurately the causes and the extent of youthful transients as well as what should be done in dealing with it.

The conference disclosed that in one of the largest Texas cities 313 boys and girls under the age of 20 and classed as transients were accounted for between January and the end of September this year. Seventy-three were less than 16 years old, 195 were boys between 16 and 20 and 45 were girls in the 16-to-20 year group.

Some of the children were from various sections of Texas while many had come from other states. Quite a few were en route to California and Florida.

"If one city reported that many transient children in nine months it is reasonable to suppose that other Texas cities have a problem," Mrs. Rankin said.

"In my opinion it is a serious problem and one that is growing. It is worse than it was a few years ago."

She expressed the opinion the chief causes of child transients were, especially among the boys, natural wanderlust, and for both boys and girls, home conditions resulting from the depression.

"The depression caused a lowering of living standards in many homes, not in Texas alone, but throughout the country," Mrs. Rankin elaborated. "Food, clothing and other necessities became inadequate for many boys and girls. They wanted to get away from it all—and you can't blame them for their feeling of unrest and unhappiness."

"Many families were broken up, some having to live in one place, perhaps with relatives, some in another. There was no security for thousands of children."

"Children and their elders can stand a little bit of social disruption for a time without serious results, but the depression lasted longer, it lasted years."

"As long as five years ago persons who watched such conditions and can read the signs predicted that a problem among young people would develop. It has developed. Whether the peak has been reached I do not know."

Baptists Deplore Nazi Intolerance

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 28 (AP)—The Texas Baptist Training Union in a resolution Saturday deplored "the intolerant attitude of Dictator Hitler or any and all others who participate in any and all persecution of any groups, who are not allowed to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience."

The resolution was adopted at the closing session of the 48th annual convention. The union re-elected executive officers and named Austin as the 1939 convention site.

Resolution was also passed to wire governor-elect O'Daniel protesting against race track and legalized gambling coming back to Texas. Officers re-elected were T. C. Gardner of Dallas, general director and treasurer, R. O. Rothell of Dallas, president and Ed Ellis of Fort Worth, secretary. Executive board members who will continue until expiration of terms in 1940 included S. G. Posley of Austin, A. C. Miller of Belton, J. D. Riddle of Abilene, H. H. Hargrove of Waco.

Lon Smith To Be Commission Head

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—Two members of the Texas Railroad Commission and G. A. Sadler of Longview, Commissioner-elect, agreed Saturday that Commissioner L. A. Sadler would be chairman of the group next year. At an informal conference with the present chairman, Ernest O. Thompson, Smith and Sadler, Houston attorney, was his choice for chief of the Motor Transportation department.

Sadler will take office January 1, replacing C. V. Terrell, whom he defeated.

not deport children to Texas until the department or local officials had determined their homes were in Texas and they could be taken care of if they returned.

The department also is cooperating with other states in working out the situation. Some weeks ago Rep. Arthur Holland of Beikon asked the department if Texas had sufficient legislation to deal with the problem of child transients and especially child exploitation. He was concerned, for one thing, over use of children by grown persons in money making schemes. It is the opinion of the department officials that Texas has adequate laws if they are properly enforced, but, at the same time, it is checking up on such laws in other states, to determine whether Texas statutes could be improved.

Westerners Expected To Beat Tough Vernon

Tyler-Lufkin Battle Holds Top Interest

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Staff

Tyler's battle with Lufkin gets the top spot in intrascholastic league football this week as the field of contenders for the state championship dwindles to eight teams.

It is the only game matching undefeated, untied clubs and many critics predict a final, evenly matched result from this engagement.

Both have won ten games, and both have impressive records.

Ranking second in importance appears to be the Gainesville-Highland Park (Dallas) clash. Gainesville is undefeated, untied and Highland Park has lost only one game. Comparative records show the two clubs evenly matched.

Lubbock's Westerners, who finally unseated Amarillo in the Panhandle, face a tough customer in Vernon but have the advantage of already holding a nonconference victory over the Lions, although by only one touchdown.

Masonic Home's iron men face the unbeaten Bisons in another feature game. The Masons, who have about 15 men on the squad, were beaten by Sherman in an upset nonconference struggle but otherwise have a fine record, including a 7-7 tie with the 1937 state runner-up Wichita Falls team that was pushed out of the race by Vernon.

Temple's Wildcats, surprise conquerors of Waco's potent Tigers, apparently carry a slight edge over the Kerrville Antlers.

Corpus Christi, another unbeaten team, will be a heavy favorite to take out Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, which has lost two games and tied two.

Two district championships will be decided today. District committees have been called upon to select titlists where ties have resulted. Bowie (El Paso) and Odessa are deadlocked in District 4 and Comroe and Reagan (Houston) are tied for the District 13 championship. Breckenridge meets the District 4 champion and Port Arthur engages the District 13 representative in bi-district play this week.

Dates and sites for six bi-district games have been arranged. The other two await selection of champions in districts 4 and 13.

The schedule:
Friday afternoon — Lubbock at Vernon, Gainesville at Highland Park, Lufkin at Tyler; Friday night — Pharr-San Juan-Alamo at Corpus Christi.
Saturday afternoon — Masonic Home vs. Sunset at Dallas, Temple vs. Kerrville at Austin.

Cage Practice Starts Here

First basketball practice of the season for Harvester prospects is scheduled for 4 o'clock this afternoon. Football uniforms were tucked away last week and will not be re-lashed until spring training unless a two-year contract with Austin High of Chicago, Ill., can be worked out for post season games.

Supt. L. L. Sone and Coach Odus Mitchell sent a counter proposal to the Chicago school and if it is accepted a post season schedule may be arranged. Chicago wanted to come to Pampa for a game this fall. Pampa officials wanted a home and home series and wrote Chicago school officials. An answer is expected within a few days.

Coach Odus Mitchell will have only four lettermen back from his 1937-38 district championship basketball team. They are Bob Andis, Pete Dunaway, A. C. Miller and Grover Heiskell.

Several promising Guerrillas and Sophomores are expected to report. Coach Mitchell placed the basketball on the bulletin board this morning. He has scheduled a practice game with the Ferryton Rangers for Friday night.

Hull-Daisetta Has Won 33 Games, Lost None, Tied None

(By The Associated Press)
When they start checking up on football records, Hull-Daisetta, a Texas Class B team, can compare with any of them.

Over a period of three years Hull-Daisetta has won 33 games and there is not a tie or a loss on the Bobcats' record. In the last 59 games, Hull-Daisetta has won 44, lost five and tied one, scoring 1,209 points to 143 for the opposition.

The Bobcats will put that record on the block Saturday when they square off against Port Neches in a bi-district game in the Texas Interscholastic League Class B division. All 48 district representatives in the class B division have been named and this week marks the start of the play-off for regional championships. Twelve such titles will be decided. Regional titles end play in this division of scholastic football.

The pairings by regions (districts in parenthesis) are:
Region 1—(1) Tulla vs. (2) Panhandle, (3) Wellington vs. (4) Lockney.

Irish Will Go West To Play Trojan Team
By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Old Man Pigskin, co-starred with Miss Upset in the 1938 football drama, takes a couple of curtain calls this week although the play itself entered with last Saturday's climactic scene.

The curtain dropped on a cast that had only eight important members whose performances throughout the two-months' show was perfect. Duke and Tennessee of the south, Georgetown of the east, Notre Dame and Oklahoma of the mid west and Texas Christian of the southwest were the principal actors who suffered neither a defeat nor a tie. In the main supporting roles were West-Port Reserve and Texas Tech, both with perfect records. Villanova was tied once but unbeaten.

The other teams had unbeaten, untied seasons, but theirs were only walk-on roles.

The main roles in this week's curtain piece will be played by Notre Dame, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Texas Tech.

Volts Vs. Ole Miss
The fighting Irish, after a week off, go west to meet Southern California, co-champion of the Pacific Coast Conference and likely choice as western team to play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2. Oklahoma, winner of the Big Six title, meets an often-beaten Washington State team at Norman, Okla. Tennessee defends its Southeastern Conference crown against Mississippi. The Vols can't be beaten mathematically, but since the title is unofficial Coach Bob Neyland says he won't claim it unless the Vols beat Ole Miss, Texas Tech, 21-2 winner over Marquette, takes on Centenary.

Other outstanding contests listed this week are today's South Carolina-Catholic University game at Washington, postponed Saturday because of snow; Miami-Georgia Friday and on Saturday Florida-Temple. Rice-Southern Methodist to wind up the Southwest Conference season, and North Carolina State-Citadel in the Southern Conference finale.

The next task is the selection of performers for Rose, Cotton, Sugar and other year-end "bowl" games. The Pacific Coast Conference will name its Rose Bowl representative today. That team then must choose its eastern rival.

For that choice it appears difficult now to overlook either Duke or Texas Christian, which completed remarkable seasons last Saturday.

Frogs Hoping For Pasadena Phone Call

(By The Associated Press)
Two men with but a single thought will glare at each other as the referee barks orders tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena. The thought will be "I'm going to win any way, even if it's putting the referee under the ring." Big Train Clements will be the referee.

This sent him soaring past Gayton Smith of Southwestern (Tenn.), who did not play, and kept him well ahead of Sammy Roderer, the Franklin and Marshall fullback who took over the Eastern leadership with 107 points.

As compiled by the Associated Press, the leading individual scorers, by conferences, included:
Border Conference—Ken Heine-man, Texas Minns, 71.
Southwest Conference—Connie Sparks, Texas Christian, 60.

Bell Unashamed Of His Mustangs
By HAROLD V. RATLIFF.
DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Sad but unashamed, the Southern Methodist Mustangs trooped into their dressing room to consider in silence the 20-7 plastering they took from Texas Christian Saturday.

Nothing was uttered until Coach Matty Bell entered.

He signalled out several of the Mustangs with:

"Good game."
There was a mumble of voices but little talk about the game.

"And why shouldn't they have a great team?" Bell exploded when asked his opinion of the Horned Frogs. "They have everything it takes—a big, fast boys, passing, punting, running."

"Could they beat Pittsburgh? Well, I think so. They are better all around—maybe not as good on the ground but better in other ways."

"They just had really expected to beat them but they were too good. Of course we had had breaks against us but they had a better team. My boys did well—oh, they had the trouble sophomores always have—but I thought they played a great game."

Billy Dewell, who played a star game at end, said the Frogs were the best team he had seen since the TCU and SMU aggregations of 1935.

Center Raymond Pope said they were the best he played against. "I was in the Mustang lineup against Pitt. 'But,' he added as he pulled on a pair of striped overalls and headed for the door, "we'll get at 'em next year." Pope has two more seasons with the Mustangs.

After the TCU-SMU game is over, Billy Dewell is the Mustang MVP. "I had really expected to win but they had a better team. My boys did well—oh, they had the trouble sophomores always have—but I thought they played a great game."

History reversal itself today—maybe.

Sparks Leads Conference In Scoring Race

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Football's last big week gave the nation's individual scorers their worst or best, if you will, juggling of the season and moved Leroy Fry of Texas Arts and Industries back into the lead.

He accounted for 40 points in a game with the University of Mexico last Tuesday for a season's mark of 33 points, including 20 touchdowns and 13 extra points.

This sent him soaring past Gayton Smith of Southwestern (Tenn.), who did not play, and kept him well ahead of Sammy Roderer, the Franklin and Marshall fullback who took over the Eastern leadership with 107 points.

Fourteen district championships had been determined Saturday night in the Texas scholastic football campaign with two others to be named Monday.

Port Arthur defeated Galveston, 30-7, to clinch the district 14 title Saturday afternoon. The winner of the Houston district in the opening round next week. The Houston district drive finished in a tie between Comroe and John Reagan when the latter defeated San Jacinto 20-13 Saturday night.

The district 4 race ended in a tie between Bowie (El Paso) and Odessa. Austin (El Paso) was eliminated by El Paso high, 2-0, Saturday afternoon. Austin could have made it a three-way tie for the title with a victory.

Executive committees in both districts will decide the winners Monday. The interscholastic league rule is that champions are to be certified by the Saturday after Thanksgiving but the committees got permission to defer action until Monday.

Champions already determined are Lubbock, Vernon, Breckenridge, Gainesville, Highland Park (Dallas), Masonic Home (Fort Worth), Sunset (Dallas), Tyler, Lufkin, Temple, Kerrville, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo.

Lubbock plays Vernon, Gainesville meets Highland Park, Tyler engages Lufkin and Corpus Christi tangles with Pharr-San Juan-Alamo next Friday. Masonic Home and Sunset play Saturday. Port Arthur meets the Houston district champion and Breckenridge plays the district 4 titlist in the bi-district round. The Kerrville-Temple date and site will be determined Sunday.

PRINCE ALBERT THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Four years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Largent, the couple who scout for the Chicago White Sox, got wind of a promising player buried in the mediocrity of the Red River Valley League down here in Texas.

The first peek at the player proved the tip was a bum steer. They were about to leave the park when Largent nudged his wife.

"Look," he whispered. "A stringbean pitcher was warming up for Van Alstyne. Two hundred pounds of flesh clug tightly to his bony frame which rose six feet, five inches in the air."

Something about his delivery struck the Largents. It was smooth, distinctive. It wasn't the delivery of a nick pitcher in a once-a-week semi-pro league.

The Van Alstyne didn't think much of the 21-year-oldster, for he was doing relief duty. The Largents didn't even see him pitch, but they signed him up anyway.

On the contract he scribbled "Monty Stratton."

Last night Largent waited outside a hospital door. Monty Stratton, who in the four short years since the Largents found him had risen to the number one place on the White Sox pitching staff, was behind the door, facing a possible amputation of his right leg because of a hunting accident.

That, of course, meant his baseball career was over. Only 25 years old, he had been the ace pitcher for the Sox for two years. Last year he won 15 games in spite of being out a month with an arm injury.

Stratton was returning alone from a rabbit hunt on his mother's farm near Greenville, about 60 miles from Dallas, yesterday, when a pistol in the scabbard at his side discharged. The bullet cut into his leg, severing the large vessel behind the knee.

He crawled almost to the house before one of his brothers saw him. When an emergency operation at the Greenville hospital failed to locate the bullet, he was rushed to Dallas.

Iowa Youth Wins Honors In Meat Animal Project

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—An Iowa youth, Myron A. Johnson, 20, of Boone, won highest-honors today in the ninth annual meat animal project contest sponsored by the National 4-H Club Congress.

Sectional honors went to Texas, Montana, and Maryland.

Held in conjunction with the International Livestock Exposition, the contest drew entries from 36 states. Awards were provided by Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago packer.

Gordon Groe, 17, of Mason, Texas, won Southern sectional honors for the second time. Western sectional honors were awarded Joe W. Eismann, 18, of Fort Worth, Texas, and the Eastern award went to Roland H. Mullinax, 19, of Woodbine, Maryland.

Johnson successfully completed 10 years of livestock and five of corn projects in connection with his farm and school work.

An annual winner he was awarded a $300 scholarship which he plans to use in Iowa State College.

His projects included the handling of 18 baby weaves, 50 sheep, eight sows and litters and 11 acres of corn. He exhibited 115 entries at the county and state fairs and won $411.50 in prizes, including nine championships. Sales returns from his projects totaled $3,641.

Groe, who lives on a 960-acre livestock farm, has fed baby weaves exclusively for six consecutive years, handling 32 heats in all and making a record as a feeder fitter and exhibitor which club officials said was unequalled by any boy in the nation.

His total gross income for the six years was $1,471 from prizes and $7,944 from sales. He won second award in the national competition, a $200 scholarship, and Southern sectional honors.

Jap Arsenal Blown Up, Claim Chinese

SHANGHAI, Nov. 28 (AP)—Chinese today reported they had inflicted heavy damage through fire and explosion at a Japanese arsenal and munitions plants in China.

A huge arsenal at Mukden, Manchoukuo, was said to have been wrecked by a mysterious fire and explosion Nov. 20.

In addition to destruction of large amounts of munitions and aircraft, 200 Japanese and other workmen were said to have been killed and 60 Japanese military guards injured.

A second Japanese arsenal, Chinese reported, was blown up two days ago at Taijwan, in Shansi province, killing 300 Japanese soldiers and 100 Chinese.

Meanwhile, foreign apprehension over Japan's future course in China was heightened by Japanese construction of a huge military base near Woussing, at the mouth of the Whangpoo river downstream from Shanghai.

Two Lifers At Rock Get New Sentences

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 26 (AP)—A jury of business men today convicted two young Alcatraz convicts, James C. Lucas and Rufus Franklin, of murdering a guard during an escape attempt, but refused to send them to death in the lethal gas chambers.

The result was that Franklin 22 had another life sentence added to the two already standing against him and an indefinite amount of time was appended to the 30-year stretch the 26-year old Lucas is doing for Texas bank robbery and automobile theft.

In the few minutes between pronouncement of the life sentences and their start back to Alcatraz in shackles, the two convicts told reporters they expected Lucas, Franklyn, to be executed because of the "The Rock" where the government keeps 300 or more of its most dangerous prisoners.

Royal C. Cline, the guard, was beaten to death in the saw room of the prison's carpenter shop last May 23, shortly before Lucas, Franklin and another prisoner, Thomas Limerick, climbed to the roof of the building and rushed a guard tower in an attempt to flee the island.

The tower guard, Harold P. Sutes, fatally shot Limerick, drilled Franklin through both shoulders while other guards raced to the spot and ended the threat.

Socialist Asks Source Of Dies Committee Funds

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—Norman Thomas, Socialist Party chairman, wrote today to Senator Robert M. La Follette to ask his Senate committee on Civil Liberties "to ascertain if possible the source of the funds with which the Dies Committee is carrying on."

The Dies Committee, headed by Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.), has been investigating un-American activities.

"The Dies Committee, it was commonly understood, was operating for a specific task on the limited budget of $25,000," wrote Thomas. "Assuredly that budget has been spent, but the committee goes on with one of the most extraordinary inquiries ever staged in this country."

It jumps from the United States to Spain and back again and its intervention in the Spanish question serves only to aid the Fascist cause.

The methods of the committee, wrote Thomas, "utterly discredit the process of public investigation," and its proceedings "invite suspicion that its funds over and above the $25,000 appropriation which must have been exhausted long since, have been given or advanced by private interests with their own axes to grind."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Chairman Dies, Democrat, Texas, said today his committee investigating un-American activities "has not received a dollar from any source except the House."

Commenting on a request by Norman Thomas, Socialist party chairman, that the La Follette civil liberties committee investigate the source of the Dies committee's funds, the Texas legislator said:

"If he is so interested in investigating why doesn't he ask about the La Follette committee's expenditures? Why doesn't he ask whether any money has come to the committee from the CIO or the Garland fund?"

Dies described the Garland fund as one which makes donations to "radical" organizations.

Government To Train 225,000 Civilian Pilots And Mechanics

By DEVON FRANCES Associated Press Aviation Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—A plan for training 100,000 civilian pilots and 125,000 mechanics at government expense during the next five years to buttress the national air defense has been agreed upon by the Army Air Corps and the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

It must hurdle the scrutiny of President Roosevelt, to whom the scheme is scheduled to be presented late this week, and obtain the approval of the new Congress meeting in January before it could become effective.

Intended as part of the air rearmament program under contemplation by the administration, it would give the United States an air force reserve numerically approximating that which Germany is reliably reported to have at the present time.

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, already has mentioned the figure of 12,000 airplanes as a likely goal toward which the army will build in the equipment aspect of the air rearmament program. A force of 3,000 planes for the navy was authorized by the last Congress.

As worked out by the Army and the CAA, the civilian training program would be carried out at the rate of 20,000 pilots and 25,000 mechanics a year at approved commercial schools, with the government footing the entire bill.

The more promising graduates would be offered the opportunity of continuing their training—learning to pilot faster and larger Air Corps planes, instrument flying and the finer points of engine and airplane upkeep—as a special class of reservists on active duty.

Some 35,000 persons hold "student" flying licenses now. About 5,000 mechanics are enrolled in commercial schools. The two groups would be called over to obtain a nucleus for the proposed Civilian Air Corps.

The farmer N. T. Robinson, about 50, engaged Posey in a scuffle and shot the fugitive in the leg before subduing him.

Sheriff A. B. Carter of Fort Worth returned Posey to the county jail here where Hugh W. 24, Posey's companion and also a prison farm escape, is held on burglary and robbery charges. Posey also faces similar charges.

A recent survey indicates that less than a third as many Alabama residents have hookworm disease now as did 25 years ago.

SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE

COST OF CHARACTERS JUDY ALCOFF—admiral's daughter...

Yesterday, over and over in her mind Judy debates whether she loves Jack...

CHAPTER XIX

JUDY knew that she mustn't let go like this. It was probably nothing important...

Her mother opened the door, a negligee thrown hastily about her shoulders. "Judy!" she said, drawing the girl inside.

"Father, what is it?" Judy gasped, as he put down the telephone. His face was suddenly flint hard...

"What message?" Judy asked. "Oh, tell me!" He said slowly, "We have no information—no complete information."

"Was it the Enterprise?" she begged. "Please tell me! Was it an accident—something about the planes?"

Her mother tried to hush her. "Come, Judy." She led her from the room, back into her or a bedroom. She said, "Your father has told you all he knows, can't you see?"

"What is it?" she asked. "Don't worry him. He has so much to bear!" In her eyes was the memory of all the other times Admiral Alcott had been waked in the night by a cry of distress...

She was too keyed up, too shaken, to think coherently. Her mother said sharply, "This is silly, Judy! It might be any one of a half dozen more or less routine emergencies, and you know it as well as I!"

But Judy cried, "I tell you, I can feel this. I've been thinking about the Enterprise all night. Like a premonition of disaster."

Her mother said, "Nonsense!" She added, more kindly, "Every flyer's wife in the Navy has premonitions every time her husband takes off. And what do they amount to?"

Every flyer's wife. The words repeated themselves over and over in Judy's mind. She wasn't Jack's wife. Why was she carrying on like this? But he was her friend. Her best friend.

As if her mother's thoughts had followed her own, Mrs. Alcott said softly, "I know Jack is very dear to you. But even if your premonition is right, and the trouble has something to do with the Enterprise, remember there are many men aboard her. Dozens of other flyers. . . . It isn't Jack. It can't be."

Through her open window she heard the big car stop with a squeal of brake. The enlisted man who chauffeured it had lost no time in getting here.

Then, the front door slammed. Her father was gone. He would be driven swiftly to the Communications building at the foot of Broadway.

Somehow, somehow, she must live through this time. In the morning, she'd know all about it. But she couldn't bear the waiting. She said, "It's like that time at Lakehurst—everybody was crying in the commandant's house."

Her mother said, "It may not be the Enterprise." But she didn't sound very convincing. Judy cried, "You, you know! He told you!"

"Judy, you mustn't carry on like this." Her face was tired, too, and her mouth drooped. "He didn't tell me anything. I—I couldn't ask."

There was no sleep for Judy that night. She tried to control herself, she tried to remember that if anything had happened at sea, Naval Communications would be in charge. But wasn't he on the Pennsylvania? And on the Saratoga was the office of the man directly in charge of plane carriers?

She racked her brains, to remember the name of the officer on the station who worked with the airplane carriers. What officer actually would be called if it was actually trouble on the Enterprise?

Her mother said, "Nonsense!" She added, more kindly, "Every flyer's wife in the Navy has premonitions every time her husband takes off. And what do they amount to?"

A. & M. Prof Elected Head Of Teachers

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—A salt-water fisherman whose hobbies are growing flowers and making fine fishing rods became president of the Texas State Teachers Association Saturday.

George B. Wilcox, member of the Texas A. & M. faculty, was elected president at the district session of the association's sixtieth annual convention here. Approximately 12,000 teachers returned home as the three-day convention closed.

Wilcox attended Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville, and served as principal of high schools at Groesbeck and Wharton. He spent two years in the army during the war, attending A. & M. College for four years after the war. He began teaching there. Attending summer courses, he obtained an M. A. degree from Columbia University.

His successor, R. H. Bristor of Waco, retiring president. Bruce B. Cobb, Fort Worth, was re-elected secretary. Wilcox said a meeting of the association's executive committee would be held in Fort Worth soon to begin work on next year's program.

In the near future adult education will be made a regular part of the public school system, it was predicted by George L. Maxwell, Washington, D. C., assistant director of the WPA educational division.

He declared the world is changing too rapidly for the schools to prepare all students for the eventualities of life. Miss Bertha Jack of Stephen F. Austin college, Nacogdoches, was elected president of the Texas association of directors of physical education for college women. Miss Helen Byington, University of Houston, was made vice president, and Miss Mary Virginia Bales, Corpus Christi, secretary-treasurer.

Long Army Rule In Palestine Looms

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The Arab revolt in Palestine is showing signs of weakening under stern British military campaigns, but a long era of trouble is in prospect for Great Britain in her efforts to establish peaceful rule.

How long it will be necessary to keep a large army in the Holy Land to maintain order will depend to some extent on the outcome of an Arab-Jewish conference planned for early in the new year in London.

This will be a fresh British attempt to find a permanent solution for the mandated land to which both Jews and Arabs would adhere—but in government as in Jewish and Arab quarters optimism for its success is lacking.

And, whatever the outcome of the conference, a long army rule in Palestine is foreseen. The revolt against British policy in the Holy Land which found its origin in conflicting Arab and Jewish claims to Palestine as a homeland, has caused some 2,800 casualties, including more than 1,300 deaths in the past four months alone.

Clarendon Banker Dies

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26 (AP)—W. P. Cagle, Sr., 71, president of the Farmers State Bank at Clarendon and extensive land owner, died in a hospital here today after an illness of five weeks.

Mr. Cagle had lived in Clarendon 20 years. Prior to that he had resided in Memphis, Texas and once operated a grocery in Iowa Park.

U. S. Will Help Colombia Build New Defenses

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The United States government announced today that naval and military air missions would go to the Republic of Colombia soon to cooperate with that country in removing defensive forces.

The step symbolized, to some students of Pan-American affairs, growing bonds between the United States and Latin America for the common defense of the new world against any foreign aggressor. Five such missions already are on duty in other Latin American countries.

The action is of particular importance to the United States because of Colombia's proximity to the Canal Zone, a vital artery in the American defense system. The Panama Canal Zone, now owned by the United States, formerly was part of Colombia.

The announcement was accompanied by a friendly exchange of notes between President Roosevelt and the Colombian Senate. The Senate in a formal resolution expressed its gratitude to the President for his effective defense of his intervention to safe-guard peace within and without the continent, and for the loyal and constant carrying out of the good neighbor policy, which is based upon the respect of the sovereignty of all peoples.

Two Naval Fliers Killed At El Paso

EL PASO, Nov. 28 (AP)—A naval plane crashed from an altitude of about 50 feet at Fort Bliss army airport Saturday, killing two of its crew of three. Collapse of a folding wing was believed to have been the cause.

The dead were Aviation Cadet L. T. Rowe, pilot, and Machinist's Mate C. K. Wise, both of San Diego, Calif. Harold Willis, Filipino mess attendant, escaped with minor injuries. Willis was in the tail section of the plane, the only part not smashed, and he was able to jump free when the ship came to rest.

The ship did not burn after striking, but wreckage had to be cut away to remove the bodies of Wise and Rowe.

A naval board of inquiry is expected to investigate.
