By DORIS E. WILSON

Gray County's total evaluation has been placed at $57,518,760 for 1969 according to a report given by J. Wed Davis of the Dallas firm of Thomas Y. Pickett at the Gray County's Commissioners' Court Wednesday.

Hospital District May Result In Lower Tax Rate

By GENE SCHNEIDER
News Staff Writer

Gray countyans will be offered a savings of approximately $74,000 in taxes if the proposed hospital district is approved in the Oct. 11 election. It was disclosed Wednesday afternoon at the first joint meeting of Gray County Commissioners and the Highland General Hospital Board of Directors.

Insurance Board Approves Increase Of 9.9 Per Cent

AUSTIN (UPI) — The State Insurance Board today approved a 9.9 per cent rate increase for passenger car insurance effective Nov. 1.

The rate increase — delayed from Sept. 1 by a governor's committee hearings into spiraling auto insurance rates — will cost Texas insurance buyers an additional $41.4 million in the next 10 months.

The insurance board followed the governor's committee recommendations in cutting the increase from its originally proposed 11.4 per cent to the 9.9 per cent level.

Chamber Postpones Election Of Directors

The scheduled election of 1969-70 officers for the Chamber of Commerce was postponed until early next week at yesterday's monthly meeting of chamber directors.

A report was made by Wesley Langham, Highland General Hospital administrator, and Gene Imel, member of the hospital board, on the upcoming Oct. 11 election.

The matter was turned over to the chamber's National and Legislative Affairs Committee to inform the voting public of facts in the proposed transition.

The board decided to take no action on the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad's petition to abandon freight service into Pampa. Instead, the chamber will seek assurance that the railroad's tracks be left intact in Pampa for possible future use.

Board officials said the chamber has been assured that freight service performed by the Fort Worth & Denver in the past will be continued via the Santa Fe Ry.

by the county for tax evaluation purposes. Davis said the 1969 figure represents an approximate loss of $117,185 compared with last year.

In connection with the evaluation report, Commissioners approved the tax roll in the amount of $988,294.85, which will be income from taxes for county operation during the new fiscal year beginning Jan. 1.

The low bid of the Frank S. Shaw Construction Co. of Pampa was approved for the re-construction of a bridge demolished by an oil company truck on the Johnson Ranch near Alanreed.

The Shaw Construction Co.'s bid, one of two submitted, was for $4,956,611. The other bid of $4,978,688 was submitted by the R. L. Garrett Construction Co. of Lubbock.

Commissioners directed that the following time deposits be placed with the county's depository, The First National Bank for a 90-day period in order to draw higher interest (See COUNTY, Page 2)

Conciliatory Gesture Made Toward Soviets

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China has sent the head of its trade mission back to Moscow in the first conciliatory gesture in years of Sino-Soviet conflict, Communist diplomatic sources said today.

It was the first tangible reaction to the recent Sino-Soviet summit in Peking between Premier Chou En-Lai and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Red China had called home its trade mission from Moscow several years ago.

Moscow is still waiting for a sign that Communist China is prepared to enter talks with the Soviet leadership on possible ways to ease their serious differences, the sources said.

The Soviet Union expects no easy or fast solutions even if Peking does respond to the Soviet initiative for limited, step-by-step conciliation, the diplomats said.

There was no prospect of any understanding in the foreseeable future in the sphere of conflicting Chinese and Soviet Communist ideologies. That much emerged clearly from the Peking summit, the diplomat said.

Chances appeared better the political conflict would be eased and an armed clash between the giants of communism prevented, they said.

China's apparently divided leadership was expected to reach a decision on the future course of relations with the Soviet Union sometime after the nation's 20th anniversary celebrations now in progress, the diplomats said.

In a broad sense, the events leading up to and surrounding the Peking summit developed on these lines, diplomats said: —The initiative for the summit came from Moscow and Peking's response was slow and reluctant.

—The first actual confrontation at Peking Airport between Chou and Kosygin after 4½ years was polite and both seemed embarrassed.

—Soon the atmosphere livened up with heavy mutual recriminations.

Diplomats said Kosygin put forward these suggestions as possible stages toward an improvement of mutual relations: —A general cooling off of mutual attacks in press, radio and by leaders.

—A halt to frontier clashes and mutual withdrawal of armed forces in critical frontier areas.

Nixon Asked To Drop Saigon Government

PARIS (UPI) — The United States today rejected latest Hanoi and Viet Cong calls on President Nixon to drop the Saigon government. It warned the Communists that no political settlement can be achieved without South Vietnam's approval.

U.S. chief negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge served notice Washington will remain inflexible in its opposition to any settlement that would be imposed on the South Vietnamese people other than through controlled, free elections.

Lodge said the Communists hoped to take over from a military standpoint following the withdrawal of U.S. troops and then take over from a political standpoint should Washington oust the Saigon regime.

"Seldom in history has there been in any diplomatic meeting an attitude so fundamentally extreme and so calculated to make any progress impossible," Lodge said.

Lodge directed his broadside at a reaffirmed North Vietnamese and Viet Cong determination to achieve the complete, unconditional withdrawal of all U.S. troops and their refusal to hold direct political talks with Saigon.

Addressing the 36th weekly session of the deadlocked Paris peace talks, Lodge said the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong sought, through their inflexible attitude, to achieve a total victory at the Paris negotiating table after being unable to score a total victory on the battlefield.

Lodge urged North Vietnamese deputy chief negotiator Col. Ha Van Lau and the Viet Cong's Foreign Minister Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh to consider Nixon's peace proposals calling for free, internationally controlled elections with the participation of all parties and groups.

The North Vietnamese representative turned a deaf ear to Lodge's remarks. Col. Lau reiterated North Vietnam's and the Viet Cong's charges that the United States was stepping up the war in both South Vietnam and Laos.

The Hanoi soldier-diplomat reiterated the Communist delegation's charges that U.S. policy was aimed at "prolonging the war and prolonging the U.S. military occupation of South Vietnam." He claimed that American policy was "doomed to failure."

Service Club Scandal Implicates Generals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two major generals were implicated today in mysterious moves to squelch investigations linking the Army's top enlisted men with service club scandals in Germany and Georgia.

A Senate investigations subcommittee source said other generals' names would surface in testimony about alleged slot machine "skimming," kickbacks, wine, women and lavish living — at the expense of draftees and other enlisted men.

A Pentagon source today confirmed reports former Army Provost Marshal Gen. Carl C. Turner had the name of Sgt. Maj. William O. Wollbridge stricken from a report on alleged service club thefts at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Turner, a major general, was retired from the Army. He took a high job with the Nixon administration this year as one of the U. S. marshals. The administration fired him last month as a result of the investigation.

Public Luncheon Set To Discuss Hospital Plan

Pros and cons in connection with the proposed Hospital District plan to be balloted on Oct. 11 by Gray County voters will be discussed at a public luncheon next Tuesday in Coronado Inn.

The Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the luncheon.

Ben Sturgeon, committee chairman, said purpose of the meeting is to bring facts on the election proposal to the general public.

Speakers will be there from the County Hospital Board and Gray County Commissioners Court.

The election has been called to decide if a hospital district should be established to combine Highland General and McLean hospitals as a separate self-governing entity with tax-leaving power. Currently both hospitals are operated by Gray County.

Immediately following discussion by speakers there will be a question and answer period, Sturgeon stated.

The luncheon will be open to chamber members and the general public. Reservations should be made at the chamber office in the Hughes Bldg. by 10 a.m. next Tuesday.

MALONE'S STATUS UNCHANGED

School Trustees Withhold Judgment Pending Trial

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Pampa school trustees Wednesday night re-affirmed their position relating to the morals charge brought against Dr. James F. Malone, 44, on Sept. 17 in Lubbock County Court-At-Law No. 2.

Issuing a joint statement following the two-hour executive session, the five-man school board agreed "pending further action in the case, Dr. Malone's status as superintendent of Pampa schools would remain unchanged."

Malone is free on a $300 bond following a ruling handed down Wednesday morning by Lubbock County Judge Denizl Bevers on a motion by Defense Attorney Travis Shelton that the superintendent's plea of "no contest" on a morals charge be overturned and a new trial granted.

Judge Bevers said Wednesday he had set no trial date but said "it would be soon."

Dr. Malone did not attend Wednesday's executive session. He was informed of the board's decision by telephone late Wednesday night.

It was the third official session of the board since the mid-September incident.

The first was held on Sept. 18, the date after Malone's arrest, when a member of the board was informed mid-afternoon of the charge by a Pampa Daily News reporter.

The second session was held on the following Sunday, Sept. 21 when trustees were called into a brief, special session to read a copy of the formal complaint on file in the Lubbock County court.

Dr. Malone was fined $100 and court costs by Judge Bevers following an undercover security police charge that Malone was guilty of immoral conduct allegedly occurring on the third floor of the Texas Tech Administration building around 3 or 3:15 p.m.

Dr. Malone has maintained his innocence to the charge; that he was harassed by the arresting officer; and that he did not fully comprehend the implication of his plea "no contendere."

Defense Attorney Travis Shelton entered a plea of innocent for his client following Wednesday morning's ruling by

Wildcat Strike By Garbage Collectors Threatens Prime Ministers' Household

LONDON (UPI) — A spreading wildcat strike by garbage collectors today threatened the prime minister's household with the same prospect of filth, flies and fire hazards facing four million other Londoners.

The garbagemen, known here as "dustmen," today won support from their colleagues in the old city of Westminster and the borough of Croydon.

More than 3,000 dustmen in 17 of London's 32 boroughs were demanding that the basic weekly wage be increased from $37.08 to $48 before they tilt another trash can.

Hardest hit by the 10-day walkout were the middle and low income boroughs of north London, such as Hackney and Islington, where the wildcat action began. Fire engines raced to more than 120 trash fires late Wednesday and early today. Residents walked the streets with handkerchiefs shielding their noses.

But spokesmen for the striking dustmen made clear the elite would not escape — not even Prime Minister Harold Wilson's family at 10 Downing Street.

The prime minister's residence is in the old city of Westminster, and a spokesman for the National Union of Public Employees said it would suffer the same as any other residence in that borough.

Judge Bevers. He has indicated he will seek a jury trial.

The formal statement issued by the board Wednesday night states: "Upon being informed September 18 of the develop-

Jury Acquits Two Bottomless Go-Go Dancers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — A predominantly male jury early today acquitted two bottomless go-go dancers charged with indecent exposure after a five-week trial in the municipal court of Judge Earl Warren Jr.

The jurors deliberated 11 hours before returning the innocent verdict in the trial that shifted from Warren's wood-paneled courtroom to two nightclubs and a movie theater to gather evidence.

Warren moved the trial first to the Pink Pussy Kat beer bar, where one of the girls performed the stark naked dance that got both of them arrested.

He then shifted it to another bistro for a performance by Carol Doda, the creator of the topless craze which eventually led to bottomless dancing.

And, lastly the roaming jurors visited a local movie theater to watch the controversial Swedish sex movie, "I Am Curious Yellow."

The defense sought to present to the veniremen what it claimed were acts of films reflecting contemporary community standards for sex and nudity in public.

Following the verdict, Warren, son of the recently retired U.S. Chief Justice, congratulated the jury for its perseverance through the lengthy trial.

Not Everyone Agrees With Arena

Not everyone in normally placid Edgartown agrees with Police Chief Dominick Arena's views on national exposure resulting from the tragedy on Chappaquiddick Island. Many here, especially those others connected to the Sen. Kennedy incident, see no profits at all in publicity.

Jared Grant, for one. He runs the ferryboat which connects Edgartown to Chappaquiddick Island, the boat which hauled Kennedy and companions on July 18.

"Profits?" he scoffs. "Sure, I suppose I've profited. We got a lot of ghouls around here this summer who wanted to go over to Chappaquiddick to see ghosts. I guess my ferry business went up about a fourth or more."

But...

"It hasn't been any big deal, carrying ghouls. I'd rather they stayed home. What are they looking for anyway? They took my charts, they took water in containers from Pogue Pond (where Mary Jo Kopechne died), they carved 'Mary Loue Ted' in the Dyke Bridge (where the car drove off). It's sickening. And I'm sick of answering questions about it."

Others here and about feel likewise. Among them:

Russell Peachey. He owns the motel where Kennedy stayed. He says he spent the summer dodging questions and accusations. Since he won't answer questions, the accusations are he's a Kennedy pawn. Peachey asserts he's fed up. "It's taken all the fun out of running the inn. It used to be I looked forward to the summer crowds. But this has been a nightmare."

F. Remington Ballou: He was vacation-fishing in Edgartown the night of the Kopechne death (his home is Providence, R.I.). He says he heard a motorboat cross over from Chappaquiddick about the same time Kennedy says he swam the span. "I reported what I saw," says Ballou, "but I've not been happy because of it. I wish my name would just be left out of all future publicity."

Helen Missud. She is the office manager at the edge-of-town motel where Miss Kopechne stayed. "At least a hundred times," she says, "people have asked me: 'Did you see her?' or 'Did you speak to her?' What can I say? I wouldn't have known her from Adam. But still, even now, when it's all dying down, they come out here and ask me those same old things."

John Farrar. He's the scuba diver who recovered Miss Kopechne's body. He said there was a "slim chance" the girl might have been saved had he been summoned sooner. For this he has been dismissed as "self-seeking" by some locals and laments, loudly, "I've been misquoted all over the place."

Jimmy Kelly. Age 10. He's not actually associated with the case; he's only a fatful bystander. He was at the accident scene when the car was recovered. Thus, he too has been on the griddle. "I don't want to say anything," he now tells newsmen, parroting his parents' instruction. "I don't understand anyway. What's all the excitement about?"

Christopher Look. He's the deputy sheriff who claims he saw Kennedy's car (or one like it) just before the accident. He says it looked as if there might have been two girls in it. Today, he has had his phone temporarily disconnected and his personal feelings are this: "I'm worn out. I'd just like to find a little peace and quiet again."

This latter statement, perhaps, best echoes the majority sentiment of the few thousand natives in the Edgartown-Chappaquiddick community.

Simply put, they seem exhausted. This is a region where the size of fish is normal conversational fare, where television sets are considered a nuisance, where a native's idea of a hot time is a toddy and stroll.

This summer, however, John Connelly's bathroom was rented by a wire service (at $15 a night) for photo developing. The maid in at least one hotel was propositioned by a visiting slicker. Air charters have charged $30 for a buzz over "the historic, tragic bridge." And even hippies with their marijuana have invaded the place.

A few, such as Police Chief Arena, have weathered the crisis better than others. Dr. Donald Mills, who was first to examine the Kopechne body, says he's been too busy to be

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I fight all the time. I have begged him to see a marriage counselor with me, but he refuses saying he doesn't need anybody to tell him how to run his life. We have three kiddies or I would have left him long ago.

I have spoken to my pastor, a marriage counselor, a lawyer, my family doctor, and I even went to a psychiatrist, thinking maybe it was MY fault. They all told me they couldn't help me unless my husband came in. And if he refuses to come in, I should leave him.

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: Some misguided wives who cling to an impossible marriage "for the sake of the children" should leave for that reason. If you have really tried, and I believe you have, I can't give you any better advice than the others.

DEAR ABBY: I am a transplanted Texan, having lived most of my life in Colorado. I like Texas, and wouldn't mind spending the rest of my life here, but I work for a company with offices spread all over the country and I have no guarantee that I won't be transferred.

I met a very nice girl here and the subject of marriage came up. She said she would marry me tomorrow IF (and here is where the problem comes in) I promised her we would never move out of TEXAS.

Abby, I told her I couldn't make her that kind of promise on account of my job, and she said, yes, I could. I could refuse to leave Texas, or take a job with another company if they tried to transfer me.

I've got a lot of seniority built up with this company, and I sure wouldn't want to lose it, but I really do like this little girl and don't know what to do. What do you say?

DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for a man to show off an engagement ring to his family, friends and co-workers before presenting it to his fiancée? I thought an engagement ring was a private, almost sacred gift to be placed on a girl's finger before others viewed it.

My fiancée lives about 100 miles from here and he's coming in this week-end and bringing me the engagement ring, but I have heard (from my girl friend who lives in his town) that his whole family and nearly half the town have already seen it.

How should I handle this situation? Should I refuse the ring? I am 24. He is 30, which is old enough to know better, wouldn't you say?

ANNNOYED
DEAR ANNNOYED: Your childish reaction shows you to be more in need of "growing up" than your fiancée. And if you would even consider refusing the ring for this petty reason, I wonder if YOU are old enough to be married.

How To Make New Candles From Bits Of Old Ones

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY- I am answering Elsa who wanted to know what to do with her old candle stubs. I sort them by colors, then melt each color separately in an enamel (only) coffee pot placed in a pan of hot water. When the wax is completely melted, I pour it through a tissue into metal tumblers. One well-known brand of tissues does not tear when doing this. By straining, the wax is completely dirt-free and just like new. When it is firm, slip out of the tumbler and wrap in plastic wrap. One-pound metal cake pans also could be used. With a supply of different colors on hand, simply melt the desired color of wax in the coffee pot when you want to make candles. No candle is too dirty or small to be saved to use this way—even the gold and silver-painted ones.

DEAR POLLY- I am answering a question about summer and all of their belongings had to be nametaged. It is a tiresome and time-consuming job. I found that instead of sewing on tags I could simply staple them to an inside label in a garment. This was quick and easy. The staples do not scratch or fall off as you might expect.

DEAR POLLY- To make a temporary low fence to protect new plants and bushes from dogs and children, I use wire coat hangers. Straighten the hook of the hanger and bend the remaining part into a triangle. Stick them in the ground side by side. This also serves as a reminder to anyone cutting the lawn so they do not mow over the new plants.

DEAR POLLY- Old window shades that are beyond repair for their intended use make fine blackboards for the children. Trim where torn, give them a coat of blackboard paint and fasten to the playroom wall. Each child can have one. You might even like to save one for a kitchen bulletin board.

DEAR POLLY- My four children went to camp this

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3
Your birthday Friday: Your success in the year depends on how well you cope with matters as they are. Your view of life becomes more simple as you learn to live and let live. Development proceeds easily according to the effort you make. Romantic interests may be active, perhaps stormy, but on balance, fulfilling. Friday's natives possess shrewd management talents.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Increased spending does not correct the basic problem, although progress is made. Put on your most pleasant, informal manner and float through the day. Relax early for Saturday.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Projects thrive despite criticism from outsiders. Everybody you meet has some notion which involves spending. Little point in trying to explain intricate matters Friday.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You attract misleading advice, so rely on your own. Your loved ones listen for your real feelings; everybody tends to be sensitive.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Brethren, co-workers, neighbors are helpful Friday. Expenses run higher, and your real goals seem harder to achieve. Avoid pushing too hard or overstating your case.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your feelings are readily aroused and may interfere in your work. Continue to consolidate your activities; eliminate any losses of time and money due to travel, duplication of effort.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Friday nobody really agrees with your opinions. Friends create needless expense in time, money. If you must decline, don't sulk.

LIERA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Extend yourself to be serene and philosophic. It is essential not to discard old ways before affirming the new. There is no readily available escape—you earn release the hard way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your contacts and dealings with institutions Friday increase, and your resources may be in greater demand. Be sure to take the trouble to show your loved ones your real feelings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): There is no getting away from the final responsibility of doing things yourself if you want them done correctly. You may have to take action to straighten things out, but don't let the action depend on your emotions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Make amends where you should, and go on with the search for cooperation. The evening leads itself to speculative thought.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Expect things to be uphill. Put forth your best efforts without complaint or reservation; reward does not come immediately; later the subtle differences will show up where they count.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Keep your mind alert since changeable conditions eventually settle to where they were at the beginning. Enjoy the turmoil, but try not to be carried away with it.

Demo Leaders Cheer Gains In Elections

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic leaders cheered their gains in special congressional elections today as signs of a national trend running against the Nixon administration.

More cautious party managers felt it was too early to forecast the national political climate at the time of the 1970 congressional elections. Even these more wary professionals were confident the Democrats would retain control of the House in the second half of President Nixon's term.

Victory in a special congressional election in Massachusetts Tuesday meant the Democrats had picked up three Republican House seats in voting to fill vacancies this year. The Democrats held one of their own in a special election in Tennessee, and the Republicans hung on to one of their electing Rep. Barry M. Goldwater Jr. in California.

But the Democrats could point to gains in special elections in Wisconsin, Montana and Massachusetts this year. However narrow the Democratic margins in 1968, Republicans won each of the three seats only last November by a margin of more than 60 per cent.

When the GOP elected President Nixon in November, it gained only four House seats and fell 26 votes short of winning control of the House. Now the Democrats have reclaimed three of those lost seats.

This will give the Democrats a 244 to 188 edge in the House. They control the Senate 57 to 43. "These elections are not isolated events," said House Democratic Leader Carl Albert. "I believe they represent a national pattern. They reflect a widespread dissatisfaction on the part of the American electorate with the performance of the incumbent administration and the Republican party."

Democrat Michael J. Harrington defeated state Sen. William L. Saltonstall, son of a former Republican senator and governor, in Massachusetts Tuesday. The young Harrington campaigned for an early pullout from Vietnam and against the Pentagon.

Photographer Charged With Harrassment Of Mrs. Onassis

NEW YORK (UPI)—A freelance photographer pleaded innocent in Criminal Court Wednesday to harassment charges arising from his taking pictures of Mrs. Aristotle Onassis and her son, John F. Kennedy Jr.

According to police records, the complaint against the cameraman, Ron Galella, was lodged by James Kalaratis, a guard for the former first lady.

Galella, 38, was released without bond by Judge Morris Schwab and is scheduled to appear for a hearing Oct. 16.

Galella told newsmen he had taken a number of pictures last Wednesday of Mrs. Onassis and John Jr. as they came out of Central Park on their bicycles.

According to Galella, Mrs. Onassis noticed him and yelled to three guards: "Break that man's camera!"

The guards, whom Galella identified as Secret Service agents, chased him to his car, but Galella said he was able to lock the camera in the automobile before the guards reached him.

Galella claimed they forced him into their car and drove him to a station house where they tried to argue him into giving them the film or face arrest.

Galella, who later sold his pictures to several New York papers, said at one point he leaped out of the car to find a policeman and the guards followed, throwing him against the side of the car several times.

U.S. Demands North Viets To Begin Talks

PARIS (UPI)—The United States demanded today that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong immediately start three-party talks with the Saigon government in an effort to settle the Vietnam War.

Chief U.S. negotiator Henry

Cabot Lodge also appealed to the Communist delegations at the 36th session of the Vietnam peace talks to consider President Nixon's latest peace moves.

Lodge disclosed his latest negotiating tactics as he entered the four-party conference.

Diplomats predicted Lodge renewed effort to get North Vietnam and the Viet Cong into direct talks with South Vietnam's negotiator, Pham Dang Lam, would fail.

Sources close to the Hanoi delegation said there was no hope of such direct talks. The sources said the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong have long written off President Nguyen Van Thieu's regime as a puppet of the United States.

SECOND SON BORN

ROME (UPI)—Queen Anne-Marie of Greece gave birth Wednesday to a son. An official communique said the Danish-born queen and the still-unnamed child were "in perfect health." The queen and King Constantine have two other children, Princess Alexia, 4, and Crown Prince Paul, 2.

Young Pampa Realizes Dream Of All Boys

Grant Johnson, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, 1841 Fir, realized a dream that almost every young boy has, he caught a fish almost as big as he is.

The youngster hooked a 19 and one-half inch trout last week near Stonevill, Colo. in a creek on the Cabot Ranch. Grant's catch is close to, or a record, for the longest trout ever caught in a creek.

His parents are having the fish mounted.

Tiger, Wheeler Battle Tops Area Schedule

Groom and Wheeler, White Deer and McLean face tough opposition, in each other Friday night in the two top area prep football attractions.

Groom (3-0) hosts the Mustangs (2-1) in what should prove a real all-out battle of a pair of good football teams.

The Tigers have knocked off three straight class A opponents while Wheeler has stopped Lefors and Stinnett and lost to Wellington. Wheeler edged Groom, 18-13, last year and this year's game should be just as exciting.

McLean (1-1-1) is at White Deer (1-2) and this will be a battle between two teams trying to get untracked before their district competition begins.

McLean is in District 2-A and White Deer in 1-A. The Tigers have lost to Shamrock, beaten Lefors and tied Boys Ranch while White Deer opened by bouncing Silverton but has been shutout in two straight games, by Clarendon and Panhandle. White Deer won last year, 13-8.

Lefors (1-2) plays tonight by being hosts to Perryton's B team. Last year the Pirates lost, 42-7, to the Perryton team.

Canadian, a 53-0 loser to Clarendon last year, plays host to the Bronchos Friday night and the Wildcates will hope to even their season mark at 2-2 after breaking a two-game losing streak last week, 20-0 over Follett.

Miami journeys to Balko, Okla. for an eight-man game and the Warriors are seeking their first victory against a loss and a tie. Balko won last year, 58-0.

Trevino, Moody Hit Cold Round Before Cup Play

SINGAPORE (UPI)—Texans Lee Trevino and Orville Moody, who make up the U.S. team in the 17th World Cup Golf Tournament, were eight strokes in Wednesday's final tuneup pro-am competition.

Trevino, saying he could have played "much better" if he had not been touring the course for the first time, fired a two-under-par 69. Moody, who had practice rounds of 67 and 66 earlier in the week, stumbled to a 77 in the pro-am.

"I think I ate too much and was not hitting well," Moody said. "My second shots were always short. But, I'll be okay Thursday."

Injuries, Illness Hits Harvester Players

By RON CROSS
Sports Editor

Playing Plainview is bad enough, having to play the Bulldogs without the services of Scotty King is even worse and with four players on the sick list and three others on the injured list things look bleak for Pampa, to say the least.

Harvester coach Swede Lee was still smiling Wednesday (but you could tell it hurt) although he had a makeshift lineup on hand for the first three days of practice this week and couldn't even guess at a starting lineup for the encounter with Plainview.

"We just don't know who'll start yet, it's too early to tell with all the sickness we have now and there's bound to be more," Lee said.

Besides King, tackle Micky Sims, tackle Jay Roth and Leslie Weatherly, who's on the kickoff and punt return teams, were on the disabled list with minor, but painful injuries.

Flanker Tommy Hawkins, split end Denny Johnson, halfback Don Willis, guard Chuck Lanehart have all missed practice sessions this week due to a virus infection that hit the Pampa camp.

"We feel there'll be more come down with this sickness before the week is over so I don't know how we'll stand Friday night," Lee said.

"I'm sure some of our boys will be back before Friday but all of them will still be weak and not in as good shape as usual, so we won't be at full strength," the coach said.

SPORTS

The Pampa Daily News

Of all the injured King appears the most doubtful starter and any team that loses their leading scorer, rusher and one of their top defensive men, is bound to feel it.

Add to all of this the fact that Monroe Woods, who filled in for King on offense last week and led the team in rushing, will not be at full speed due to a bruised thigh. Woods has been running all week but has not been his usual lightning fast self.

Pampa will be meeting a heavy and experienced team that claims a 2-0-1 record. The Bulldogs were tied, 16-15, by class AAA Vernon, a team that stopped Pampa, 3-1, in touchdowns in a scrimmage earlier in the year.

Offensively Plainview will start only two juniors and nine seniors, six of them returning starters from last year's team that blanked Pampa, 30-0.

The Bulldogs are strong across the line with both tackles, 185 pound Danny Mouser and 185 pound Dale Mouser, both returning starters. Center Alan Hale, 175 pound senior, also started last year as did 155 pound split end Mart Hanna, a 5'9 senior.

Tight End Fred Jackson, 6'2, 165 pounder is one of the juniors and the other is 185 pound guard, Bruce Sandlin. The other guard is senior Buster Watson.

All four backfield players are senior and Ronnie Fudge, 180 pound senior and fullback David Wooley, 195 pounder, are returning starters. Senior halfbacks Larry McCutcheon (175) and Albert Hill (170) saw plenty of action last season.

McCutcheon and Hanna are Fudge's favorite pass targets and both have caught two touchdowns each thus far.

Wooley is the club's top runner and leads the team in scoring.

The Bulldogs are set up well on defense with seven starters off the '68 team back to help with the tackling.

Plainview has won the last two meetings between the two clubs but trails Pampa in the series, 22-12.

If the Harvesters have to go with the lineup used in Wednesday's practice it would be Wyatt Earp and Steve Scarbrough at ends; Larry Kotara and Mike Albus at tackles; Loren Rice and Casey Cameron at guards; Moss Hampton at center; John Jenkins, Steve Scott, Woods, and Johnny Clark in the backfield.

WYATT EARP has regained the form that made him one of the District 3-4A's top punters in 1968. Besides his kicking duties Earp may start at tight end for the Harvesters Friday night when they meet Plainview in Plainview.

Beall Unsure On Baylor Quarterback For LSU

By United Press International

Steve Stuart got his feet wet as a Baylor quarterback last year in Baton Rouge's Tiger Pit. It was not the most auspicious of debuts.

Stuart did not start the next game last season, against Arkansas, but started every game after that.

"They're not sure this week," Stuart said Wednesday with a knot in his voice.

What happened when Stuart trotted out for his first offensive series against the Bengals of LSU in 1968 was he tossed a pass on the opening play. That wasn't too bad, but the pass was intercepted. Even that wasn't too bad, but the Bengal who intercepted the pass ran it back for a touchdown.

From such little seeds, mighty traumas grow.

This week the Bears return to the Tiger Pit to take on the Louisiana Staters again and coach Bill Beall, who last year was a member in good standing of the LSU coaching fraternity, has battered around the name Si Southall (a younger member of the Baylor Southall passing line) as the possible Bear starter.

With the third full week of conference action only a couple of days distant, other coaches scanned their rosters for possible last minute replacements. But nowhere was the search more desperate than at Arkansas where coach Frank Broyles claims tailback Billy Burnett is still doubtful for action this week.

Gene Stallings at Texas A&M said offensive tackle Allan Hanson would miss Saturday's game with Army, while at Rice the injury list is growing faster than the line of people waiting to see the nude photos in the university's yearbook.

EAGLES CONFIDENT FOR DALLAS

Philadelphia Worries Landry

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys' pass defense performance last Sunday against the New Orleans Saints should give the Philadelphia Eagles at least a mental lift, Cowboys coach Tom Landry feels.

"They ought to be confident after watching us on film," Landry told his press luncheon Wednesday, referring to the success the Saints' Bill Kilmer had hitting short passes in general and two for touchdowns that forced the Cowboys to come from behind to win.

The Saints hit 23 of 39 passes against a Cowboys' secondary that only a week earlier had clamped an impregnable defense against the St. Louis Cardinals' Charley Johnson.

"It wasn't too unusual," Landry said, "to do something real well one week and then come up with exactly the opposite performance the next."

Landry wasn't too perturbed by the fact Kilmer completed so many short passes as he was by the extra yardage the Saints' receivers got after catching the ball.

"It doesn't really concern us when they complete the short passes," he said, "but our failure to be there after the catch was the trouble. We had less tackling and we were less alert, and when you are that way you're in for trouble."

Landry, "encouraged" by the fact his club is 2-0 in the Capitol Division when it hasn't been at full strength, had high praise for the Eagles' offense.

"They look extremely good at moving the ball with Norm Snead throwing better, with Tom Woodshick running great and rookie Leroy Keyes apparently establishing himself," Landry said.

"Their defense has allowed 27 points a game, but they're fighting. If we're going to beat them up there Sunday our first concern will be to contain the pass

"Philadelphia and St. Louis (a season-opener victim) are a lot alike," Landry said. "Both have good receivers. And, the Eagles will keep you busy. They use a lot of multiple sets. They have good morale and are hitting and running."

Poverty And TV Sets

The proof that poverty is a relative term is illustrated, we believe, in a survey cited recently by Congressman Olin. The survey was made in one of the poorest regions of the United States, and it showed that:

- Eight families out of 10 lived on less than $3,000 a year.
 - That 37 per cent of those families owned washing machines.
 - That 48 per cent owned automobiles.
 - That 52 per cent owned TV sets.
- Compared with the middle class scale of living in Europe, not to mention Asia, Africa and South America — these U.S. figures are among the world's lowest.
- Furthermore, assuming that the subjects of the survey live in rural America, they may be well off compared with urban slum families who in the same costly items. This is nothing to do with income.

Lesson On Economics

Once again, making use of the old comparison, two different but related news stories provide the means of emphasizing an economic truth. The two items — the first a UPI story of Detroit and the second of Washington, D.C., dated September 29.

In the first item it was reported that General Motors had announced price increases for its 1970 model cars. The price increase, averaging $219 per car (including $38 for new equipment), was necessary, said GM Board Chairman James M. Roche, to recover increased costs of labor and materials which have gone up sharply.

The latter article reported that privately owned utility companies in 42 of the 50 states have applied to state regulating commissions for rate increases. It is granted, as no doubt most will be, the AP item continued that the nation's consumers will pay in excess of a billion dollars more in annual utility bills.

"So what?" it will probably be asked. "Both GM and the utility companies are private enterprises and, in both instances, it will be the consuming public that gets it in the neck."

And that is quite true, of course. However, there are vital differences in the two announcements and those differences revolve around the varying degrees of freedom still existing in the two areas concerned.

Comparatively speaking, GM is still operating in a relatively free and competitive market. It enjoys no government-bestowed competition killing franchise. In actuality, the announced increase in price is an asking price. There is no way in the world

Color Horror Stuff Green

"Invasion of the Green Slime" sounds like the title of a grade B Hollywood horror thriller. The film might go something like this:

Long shot of a small Lake Erie island resort. Move in for close-up of blobs of gelatinous green slime washing onto the beach. Flash to group of staiders anxiously examining their undrinkable drinking water, which has turned a bright yellow-green. Flash to health authorities anxiously examining samples of the green stuff.

Fade out on Lake Erie. Fade on Lake Tahoe, Calif. Superimpose newspaper headline screaming: "Green Slime Spreads Across Nation!" Medium-long shot of scientists anxiously readying a tiny research submarine they hope will give them the answer to what has turned the lake's formerly deep blue water to a lousy green.

A lousy script? It is, especially so residents of Elley's Island, near Sandusky, Ohio, who are living through it, or them, the story is not rational, but it is rather terrible. Authorities had no immediate

CAPITOL EYE:

No Instant Magic For Cities' Chaos

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The impatient ones who are shouting for instant magic to sweep away the strife, the distress and the chaos in the nation's cities are going to have to be impatient for a long time. The matters that concern them are going to get worse.

According to official estimates, within 16 years America's swelling suburbs will gain 54 million more whites but only four million blacks. Currently, about 500,000 whites are leaving the central cities for the suburbs every year. The exodus is expected to continue at reduced pace until at least 1985.

In the core cities, on the other hand, the white outflow, plus a predicted influx of 10 million non-whites, is going to alter sharply the racial and ethnic make-up by 1985.

At that date, the outlook is that 70 per cent of whites dwelling in U.S. metropolitan areas will be living in the suburbs, while 75 per cent of the non-whites will be in the central cities.

Since much urban distress and frustration today is concentrated among the black and other nonwhite young, an even more staggering prospect is that by 1985 school-age children (up to 15) in this category will have increased 92 per cent in the cities and young workers (15-44) by 112 per cent.

This probably means that unemployment, poverty and attendant crime will be more heavily focused in the central cities than now, when all these are regarded as staggering problems.

Today, 86 per cent of the poor people in the New York City metropolitan area live in the city proper. The ratio of poor in the corporate city is 75 per cent in the Chicago area.

To underline the intensifying magnitude of this dilemma, present trends — persistent over more than a decade — indicate that the suburbs will be the chief centers of metropolitan job creation.

The National Committee on Urban Growth Policy says 75 to 80 percent of new industrial and trade jobs are being developed in the country's suburban fringes. In the 1954-65 span, 63 per cent of all new metropolitan industrial buildings were erected in areas outside the core cities.

In 1960, about nine percent of city workers commuted to the suburbs for their jobs. The figures may be a little higher now, but not much. The jobs are fewest in the centers where the job needs are the greatest.

At the same time, the cities' capacity to cope with the mounting burdens imposed by these disparities is severely diminished. Thirty-five years ago, local governments were paid more than half of all the taxes collected in the country. Today they gather less than 30 per cent of all taxes.

In the interval, federal taxes have risen until now two-thirds of personal income tax revenues come from the 100 largest metropolitan areas. Inasmuch as they currently get back just 8 per cent of this take, the cities' interest in federal moneys is understandable.

The immensity of these enlarging problems is being grasped by only a relative few. An almost unmanageable tide is rushing at the cities. It will not be stemmed by the bodies of young protesters lying prone in the streets, nor diverted by their placards demanding new urban marvels NOW.

Government will not find the answer, either, in mere sandbags full of money.

A handful of already battle-weary urbanologists are arguing that government and private enterprise must undertake parallel or common endeavors far more inventive than any now employed if there is to be any hope of dealing well with the urban future. The compelling need is for fresh ideas.

Even if they are developed, they probably will yield only partial answers. Bigness, impersonality, complexity — high among the things the impatient protesters deplore — are destined to endure and grow.

PATRICIA YOUNG SAYS

A Strange Way To 'Free Mankind'

By PATRICIA YOUNG

VANCOUVER, B.C. — In my work with young people I get most new publications as they come out. They run the gamut from SCAN to Logos, Georgia Strait and NARP (Native Alliance of Red Power) to Jesus Strait, a religious publication put out by a young Vancouver lad who writes, prints and sells the publication alongside peddlers of the Georgia Strait!

One which arrived on my desk this week is the Student Federalist, a publication with headquarters in the U.S. which promises to "free mankind." Having read much of the literature of the World Federalists, I was interested in these youth activities. Unfortunately, the more I read, the more I realized that the Student Federalists ideas on the family of man living together in peace and harmony were somewhat different from my own. Theirs, for instance, is not so much the concept of individual nations working together within the U.S., but of a World Government backed up by world law, world courts, world police and a world army equipped and able to enforce its laws anywhere and everywhere and from which no country would have the right of secession!

Without revealing the political orientation of their World Government or how the captive nations were to be handled, the publication does tell of a summer conference held in Santa Barbara where topics included "Psychological Revolution — Pre-requisite for Peace," and an item titled "Effective Hell Raising!" which outlined the Student Federalist coalition with various "peace" groups. For a youth group which expects the U.S. to become subject to its world laws and world police, the content of their newsletter is oddly critical of the U.S. involvement in Vietnam and the draft. Stranger still is the statement of policy adopted by the June 1, 1967, Student World Federalist Assembly. To wit: "Guerrilla wars of national liberation, of whatever hue, are fundamentally democratic, and should be feared only by ideological fascists." For a movement supposedly interested in peace, justice and freedom, the Student Federalists have a strangely myopic view. For which reason this one can only go into my file marked: "Birds who fly on one wing — the left one!"

H. L. Hunt Writes

PATRIOTISM NOT DEAD

A friend told me recently of a thrilling experience enjoyed by a lawyer he knows in Washington, D.C. The lawyer, highly successful in his field, is a first-generation American, his parents having come to U.S. from Poland after World War I. As a young man, he served in the American Army in World War II. Afterward he worked his way through college and law school. Now, in his early forties, he and his wife have a family of nine children.

Not long ago the lawyer loaded the entire family into an airplane and went to New York City to attend a matinee performance of "1776," the musical play about events leading to the U.S. Declaration of Independence. On his return to Washington he reported to my friend that it was one of the greatest events of his life. At the end of the play all his children stood and cheered, and on the way back to Washington they talked excitedly about what they had seen and heard. "They'll never forget that play," the lawyer declared.

He said that "1776" played to a full house on that Wednesday afternoon. Like his children, the entire audience stood and cheered at the end, laughing and looking at one another with pride written on their faces.

Patriotism is not dead in America. If we can save freedom during the next five years, then it will be preserved for our nation to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the events portrayed in "1776" and in the foreseeable future.

The Almanac

Today is Thursday, Oct. 2, the 275th day of 1969 with 90 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1780 the British spy, Major John Andre, connected with Benedict Arnold's treason, was hanged in Tappan, N.Y.

In 1889, 16 Latin American nations were represented at the first Pan-American Conference in Washington.

In 1968 Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas, under increasing pressure withdrew as a nominee for chief justice. He resigned from the high tribunal on May 15, 1969, admitting that he had made a deal with the Louis Wolfson Foundation guaranteeing him $20,000 a year for life.

A thought for the day: Michel de Montaigne said, "Nothing is so firmly believed as what we least know."

Pentagon Mounts Offensive On Troops Drug Abuse

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon, while it discounts reports of widespread "pot" smoking in Vietnam, is moving to reverse a steady trend toward increased use of marijuana by GIs everywhere.

In its campaign against marijuana the Defense Department is cooperating with other federal authorities, including the Bureau of Narcotics and the Customs Bureau, which are currently trying to choke off supplies of "pot" bound for U.S. cities. The Army has even started a pilot program for training dogs to locate marijuana by smell.

In a fact sheet, issued at the end of May, the Pentagon reported that there is "virtually no addiction to the so-called narcotics" in service units. It described as "gross exaggeration" reports that as many as 50 per cent of the troops in Vietnam are regular users of marijuana.

The fact sheet said available statistics, admittedly no index of undetected marijuana use, show that drug offenses have been increasing among GIs since 1965. It reported, however, that the worldwide statistics for 1968 reflect that slightly less than 5 servicemen per 1,000 were then involved in marijuana investigations.

Additional army statistics were later presented to congressional committees behind closed doors. The rising narcotics trend was reflected in the number of completed drug investigations filed at the Army's investigative records repository.

In 1965, 379 such investigations were completed. The annual figure has increased each year to a total of 8,247 in 1968 — the high up to that time.

Figures for the first five months of this year, however, when projected to an annual basis, indicate that about 15,000 investigations will be completed during the current year.

"CRITICAL" PROBLEM — Lt. Gen. A. D. Conner, who presented the data in congressional budget sessions, included drug abuse with the rising tide of dissent in the military among the "most critical" of disciplinary problems for the armed services.

Within the past year the Army has increased training of criminal investigators in specialized courses in drug abuse and detection; distributed command information materials, including films, on drugs and described by some Americans as "witty Uncle Ho," "lover of children," "gentle philosopher" and even "another George Washington."

Harrison Salisbury in the New York Times wrote, "In the whole of Vietnam in 1969 Ho would have won any popular referendum honestly and fairly."

This evaluation conveniently ignores the lopsided population advantage of North Vietnam.

Congressman Edward Koch of Manhattan noted that to many Vietnamese Ho was "George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and John F. Kennedy."

Rep. Koch said, "We must recognize that he was above all a patriot in his own country." To which Ohio Rep. Wayne Hays replied, "So was Hitler."

That, to me, describes the fascinating inconsistency of a certain set of Americans who deride American patriots as "Flag-wavers," yet sound off with such respect for the "patriotism" of a Castro, a Mao Tse-tung or a Ho Chi Minh.

So much recent praise for Ho has cited nationalism and patriotism as commendable. Yet many of those who admire these qualities in this cruel Communist dictator appear to suspect or openly denigrate the nationalism and patriotism of South Vietnamese leaders — and Americans who put America first.

History says that patriotism, per se, is frequently misdirected. But if to some this quality is commendable even in a Ho Chi Minh, then surely they should themselves practice what they applaud.

Movie Career Of Blonde Texan Getting In Gear

ROME (UPI) — A 28-year-old pigtailed blonde from Texas came to Rome to make a teenage monster film. It never got off the ground, but she did.

Now Lucretia Love, born Lucretia Hickerson in Odessa, Tex., while her father was working for an oil company, feels her career is starting to take off.

"I feel married to what I'm doing," she said.

And for a good reason. Husband Mauro Parenti is directing and co-starring in her latest film, "Zensabel," a costume comic opera set in 16th century Tuscany.

It could have been vastly different.

Rome was filled once with hopeful startlets from the states, their days spent walking from agent to agent, their nights spent walking up and down the via Veneto hoping to catch an influential eye.

Things Looked Bad
It looked for a while like Miss Love would be strolling along with them.

She was working in New York four years ago, doing entertainment odds and ends, when she was offered a role in what then was a money making idea — pictures about teen-age monsters and misfits.

Miss Love flew to Rome, unpacked her bags and went to the studio to start work. There, she was told the film was off.

She did not repack. She decided instead to accept another offer, this one for a very forgettable film called "From Istanbul — Orders to Kill." Her co-star was an ambitious actor named Mauro Parenti.

They got married two years ago.

At about the same time, the couple decided to form a production company to give them control of their professional activities. They called the company ICAR (the initials stand for United Italian Film Artists.)

A Strange Title
They called their first picture "Ko... Go and Kill." It sank quickly out of sight. Then they did "phenomenal," which felt a little short of phenomenal but survived.

Now they have shaken out the kinks and "Zensabel," they think, is the break through.

The idea for the film came from Miss Love during an argument about women's rights.

TV Commercials May Be Helpful After All

Research indicates some children may learn the rudiments of reading from watching television commercials. So we interrupt now to bring you this special message from the letter "W":

"Wanda waved her wand and a washbasin filled with warm water."

The above is a spot announcement and is intended to promote the recognition of the letter "W." Accompanied by animation of Wanda the Witch and visual representations of a "W," the alliterative sentence is a humorous television teaching aid.

Such commercial-like spots are one of the ways "Sesame Street," a children's television series, will attempt to demonstrate the potential of television as a means of preparing preschool children for formal education.

"Sesame Street" will premier Nov. 10 on more than 160 educational television stations across the nation. It is a well-researched series developed by children's television workshop, operating with an $8 million budget—the kind of bankrolling that makes classy prime time programming on the commercial networks possible.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There's a saying that no man is a hero to his own valet. And it may be added that no woman is a fairy princess to her own personal secretary.

The latter point became clear with the publication of "My Life with Jacqueline Kennedy," a close-up look at the former first lady by her ex-secretary, Mary Borelli Gallagher.

Anyone who has read the book or the serialized can imagine how horrified I was to learn that Barbara Grey, a domestic who used to come to my house once a week to do my ironing, was planning to write a book about her experiences.

Friends of my family approached Mrs. Grey and tried to dissuade her. They pointed out that her position behind the ironing board was a position of trust that should not be violated.

Mrs. Grey was reminded that when she entered my employ she had agreed not to publicize or otherwise profit from her association with my ironing.

Mrs. Grey insisted, however, that any agreement she had with me was voided when I began buying drip-dry shirts and having my linen done at a Chinese laundry.

MILLION OF DOLLARS

Jordanian Farm Products To Perish Unless Watered

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Millions of dollars worth of farm products on the east bank of the Jordan River Valley will perish within a month unless vital repair work can be completed on the bomb-smashed East Ghor Canal.

This is the opinion of farm experts who have watched acres of banana trees wither for lack of water following Israeli air attacks on the $21 million U.S.-aided irrigation network.

With repair work only just started and the rainy season still a month away, Jordanian farmers are praying that engineers will win a race against time to save citrus groves, vegetables and seedbeds.

"It could be disaster," a government official said. "We've already lost the west bank in war, now there is no war we could well lose the east bank for any use it can be to us."

Experts agree that paralysis of the canal is the biggest single blow to the Jordanian economy since the June, 1967, war. An area of prolific production, it provided more than $5 million worth of fresh-produce exports alone in 1967. The Yarmouk River Project, of which the canal is part, was expected eventually to increase agricultural production by about $72 million over the $100 million total production figure of 1966.

But continuous fighting in the river valley which was the legacy of the six-day war has rendered most of the project impotent.

Angered by frequent Arab guerrilla attacks against their forces in the area, the Israelis launched their first strike against the Ghor Canal last June 23, when a commando unit crossed the river and wreaked widespread damage.

Jordanian announcements at the time played down the raid, but there was no doubt, the Israeli forces chose a sensitive spot.

Diplomatic reports in Amman said recently that the Jordanian government asked U.S. Ambassador Harrison Symmes to intervene with the Israelis to permit repair work to be carried out.

Last month, Israel had relented and Jordanian sources reported repair work on the canal had begun. It is a race against time.

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Federal Trade Commission has warned that a certain "very sheer" fabric, on the market since 1968 both as finished curtains and as material for women's apparel such as see-through blouses is dangerously flammable.

Introducing the private-recipe beer.

ENCORE

ENCORE was never meant to be sold. It was our brewmaster's private recipe—the beer he brewed a little at a time for his friends. They enjoyed it privately, on special occasions.

But word soon got around that this was an extraordinary beer. The secret was slow-lager ageing. A time-consuming, rather costly way to make beer. Only recently have we been able to make enough to offer it for sale.

Today, you'll find ENCORE in certain fine restaurants, good bars, and in leading take-home stores. Discover it soon, and see what sets ENCORE apart from all other beers.

What is "Quality"?
Quality is at once the most elusive and yet the most tangible thing in the world.

A Stradivarius violin has it... but to the sharp eye of a good carpenter, a ten-penny nail can also have it. Some ships have quality... some shoes, some books, some beers.

Quality is a thing impossible to define... and just as impossible to counterfeit.

There is no synonym for it... because there is no substitute for it.

ENCORE. Our brewmaster's own.
