TUESDAY, OCT. 14 YOUR BIRTHDAY TUES-DAY: You have two courses to follow- neither of them very clearly marked. You can strive to be expansive on everything from the most trifling detail to large decisions; or you can strive merely to consolidate you have, intensifying your inner experience, perhaps at the expense of your public image. Differences between these courses are subtle and depend on your own personal values and age.

ARIES (March 21-April 19); Personal plans, particularly those involving new acquaintances, tend to succeed, while romantic enterprises suffer setbacks. Make it an early evening of meditation.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Tuesday goes well except that subtle discrepancies may affect important relationships. Put in your positive share and be patient.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20); Tuesday and it's great fun, but don't tease your partner beyond reason. Presentations are well received. Offer your changes with good humor.

WORLD ALMANAC

The darter, a water bird which abounds in the freshwater swamps of Florida and Georgia, is often re-ferred to as the snakebird. The World Almanac says that the nickname is the result of the bird's long, slender, dark-green neck, which it coils and thrusts when spearing fish. The darter's likeness to a water snake is heightened by its habit of swimming submerged, with only its neck projecting out of the water.
